The Weather

More of the humid, seasonal temperatures prevailing yesterday will be in store for these parts again today. The high will be in the upper 80's. Light showers may sprinkle the terrain temporarily alleviating the situation.

Earthquake Damage Toll in Mexico City, 696 Injured, Dead

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Mexicans tackled demolition work in businesslike fashion Monday and weighed the damage wrought on one of their chief tourist attractions by Sunday's quake.

Leaning walls were knocked over and bulldozers plowed through mountains of mortar to clear away debris.

The known death toll stood at 46. Estimates of the injured rose as high as 650.

THE TOURIST BUREAU, interested in maintaining the flow of visitors from the United States and elsewhere, hastened to issue a statement that all was calm. It said few of the tourist sights had been damaged and that hotels, restaurants and transportation were about normal.

But tourists may brace themselves for a few changes.

The peace and calm they expect in a Latin American country will be missing in Mexico City as it bustles about to repair damage to buildings, homes, churches and streets. Prices may go up a bit.

Hotel service may be somewhat under par for a while. For example, the new Continental Hilton, badly damaged, is cutting down on its guest accommodations as it repairs plumbing and decorations on the upper floors.

THE GRACEFUL GOLDEN ANGEL pictured atop a slender 150-foot column in almost every Mexican tourist folder was tumbled and shattered by the quake. That angel, on Mexico's Statue of Liberty, will be the greatest tourist loss.

Mexico City's other major attractions were unharmed.

The quake, the most violent in the memory of residents of central Mexico, did nothing to the centuries-old pyramids.

The Xochimilco Floating Gardens, also centuries old, may have a few boats damaged, but the gardens are unharmed and in operation.

THE ULTRAMODERN UNIVERSITY City survived its first quake test.

The hotels of Acapulco, resort city on the Pacific, may be a bit like those in Mexico City, noisy with repairs, fewer accommodations and maybe some price hikes. But, though the sea recoiled 30 feet from the beaches when the quake struck, the damage there was slight by comparison.

Authorities have confirmed 46 deaths in six cities, 36 of them in the capital.

Mexico City, with a population of four million, was hardest hit, with about 50 buildings toppled by the force of the quake. Guerrero State was also hit hard.

DAMAGE WILL RUN into millions of dollars here, in the tourist center of Acapulco, the Guerrero State capital of Chilpancingo and other towns.

No tremors had been felt since Sunday. Reassured, the people of the capital calmly went about the task of cleaning up the ruins.

Schools resumed classes as usual.

Champ TKO's Jackson in 10

NEW YORK (AP) — Heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson floored game Tommy Jackson three times and handed him a vicious beating to retain his title on a technical knockout at 1:52 of the 10th round of a scheduled 15-round bout at the Polo Grounds Monday night. Patterson weighed 184, Jackson 192½. (See page 4).

Little Interest In Wisconsin Election Seen

By ARTHUR BYSTROM MILWAUKEE (AP) — Wisconsin selects nominees for the unexpired term of the late Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R) today, amid indications that citizens are more interested in farm harvesting or vacations than in voting.

Only about 25 per cent of the 2,200,000 eligible voters are expected to turn out for the primary.

On the Republican ballot will be seven candidates, while two Democrats are seeking their party's nomination for the election Aug. 27. The election will be for the term which expires in January, 1959.

Wisconsin's economy is geared to agriculture and the vacation business. Harvesting of oats is at full swing, as is the tourist trade. These factors, plus the shortness of the primary campaign and considerable apathy among city people, hint a very light vote.

Because of the expected turnout, political observers have been cautious in their appraisal of the results. Four Republican candidates all are given a chance, with former Gov. Walter J. Kohler and former Rep. Glenn R. Davis believed to be the frontrunners.

Kohler, who held office for three terms, is the only candidate avowedly supporting President Eisenhower's domestic and foreign program. Kohler's only disagreement with the President is on federal aid to education, which Kohler opposes.

In supporting Eisenhower's foreign policy, Kohler is running counter to the majority view of organization Republicans who have expressed themselves at state conventions as opposed to foreign aid and foreign entanglements.

Davis closely reflects organization Republican views on spending and foreign policy.

Davis was endorsed at the state GOP convention against U.S. Sen. Alexander Wiley, Chippewa Falls, last year but lost the nomination by 10,000 votes.

LL Gov. Warren Knowles, New Richmond, hopes to benefit from the split between Kohler and Davis. He is running as a conservative candidate and has kept out of the fight between the two leaders as to which is receiving the most support from industrialists.

Crowds Gather After Chicago Riot, Cars Are Stoned

CHICAGO (AP) — A milling crowd of about 1,000 persons concentrated at a busy intersection of the Calumet Park area Monday night and engaged in a brief tussle with cuo-swinging police who seized a teen-ager.

The South Side area was the scene of a racial outbreak Sunday in which 42 persons were injured. Extra police were assigned to the area Monday night to guard against further demonstrations.

The summery weather brought thousands into the streets but no untoward incident occurred until about 10:30 p.m., when a teen-ager threw a firecracker beneath a police car.

Police chased and caught the teen-ager and as they were talking to him to a squad car, the crowd surged forward. Some 60 policemen using clubs pushed the crowd off.

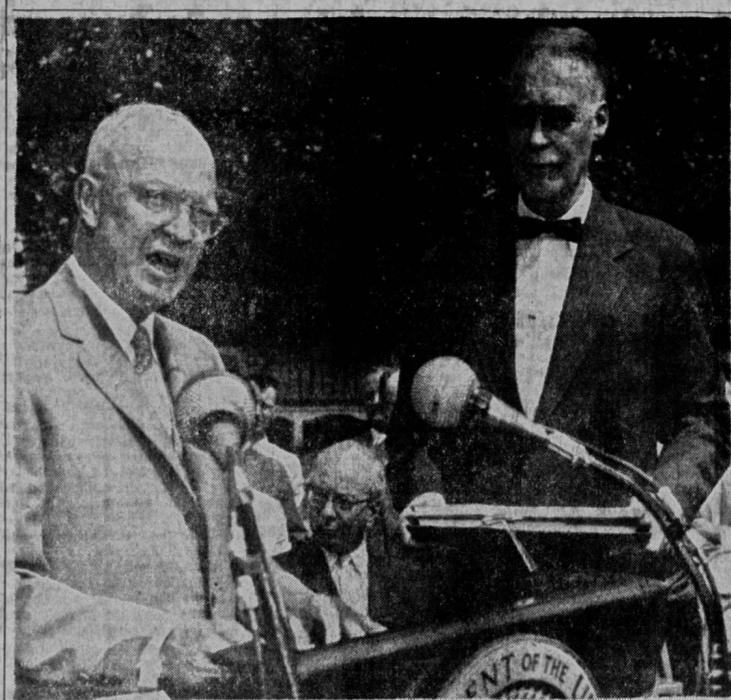

Four cars believed to be owned by Negroes were stoned. Many of the cars parked in the area or driven by whites bore make-shift white flags tied to radio aerials. Police said this obviously was done to indicate to the crowd that the owner or occupants were white.

HALSEY HAS STROKE NEW YORK (AP) — Retired Fleet Adm. William F. (Bull) Halsey Jr., 74, was admitted to Doctors Hospital Monday after he suffered a stroke. His chances of recovery were listed as "indefinite."

Halsey was vacationing on Fishers Island, N.Y., when he was stricken in mid-afternoon Sunday. He was brought to his New York home where his physician recommended hospitalization.

He commanded the U.S. 3rd Fleet in the Pacific in World War II. He retired from the Navy April 1, 1947.

U.S. Joins Atomic Energy Group

PRESIDENT EISENHOWER addresses a group of Congressmen and atomic energy officials Monday in the White House rose garden after signing a pact enrolling the United States as a member of the projected 80-nation International Atomic Energy Agency. Undersecretary of State Christian Herter, right, stands by, holding the signed instruments of ratification making the United States the 22nd nation ratifying the agreement. Between them is Lewis Strauss, chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission. The action opens the way for the President to enter into agreements with the IAEA under which uranium 235 will be made available for worldwide distribution for power development and other peaceful uses. The international agency developed out of Eisenhower's "Atoms for Peace" proposals of 1953. It will be established formally later in the year.

Anderson Named Treasury Secretary

WASHINGTON (AP) — Robert B. Anderson, who had a rough time financing the purchase of a $12 suit for his graduation from law school, Monday took charge of the vast and complex financial problems of the Federal Government.

The 47-year-old Anderson, a former Texas Democrat, was sworn in as Secretary of the Treasury in a brief White House ceremony. In the Cabinet room, President Eisenhower held the Bible on which Anderson placed his hand as Judge Warren Burger of the U.S. Court of Appeals administered the oath.

THE NEW CABINET officer succeeds George M. Humphrey, 67, who is returning to private industry after 4½ years as a strong man in the Eisenhower Cabinet.

No official announcement has been made, but Humphrey is expected to be named board chairman of National Steel Corp. sometime soon.

For a man taking on one of the toughest jobs in government, Anderson seemed remarkably at ease. Before the ceremony he sauntered around the cabinet room, one hand deep in the trousers' pocket of a dark blue suit, shaking hands and accepting congratulations from other cabinet officers and from members of Congress.

THIS WAS AFTER he had ridden from the Treasury to the White House in an ordinary government sedan, seated nonchalantly in the front seat beside the chauffeur.

Anderson's primary concern as Treasury secretary will be to supervise management of the national debt — now about $273 billion. The Treasury last week refinanced $24 billion of the debt which matures in August and October.

HOWEVER, HE FACES an almost certain grilling by Congress on how he proposes to handle the huge debt and the ever-rising interest rates the Government is paying on borrowed money.

Anderson, hand-picked for his new job by Humphrey, has held two other posts in the Eisenhower Administration — Secretary of the Navy and deputy secretary of defense. He is a close friend of Texas Democrat Lyndon B. Johnson, the Senate Majority Leader.

Anderson resigned recently as head of Ventures Ltd., a large Canadian mining and industrial complex with headquarters in New York. He left the Government for that job in 1955 for a reported salary of $60,000 a year. His pay as a cabinet member will be $25,000.

Some things they recommended were more freedom from Government supervision to carry out their mobilization missions; coordination of Government information to determine critical needs and mobilization capabilities; Government guidance on the probable availability of manpower, machine tools and material at mobilization time; as little secrecy as possible so industry can be told its role and thereby plan intelligently.

Moderates In Argentina Near Victory

BUENOS AIRES (AP) — Moderate forces backing constitutional reform for Argentina nailed down 92 seats in the new constituent assembly Monday. They need only 11 more to clinch control.

The divided, mostly pro-Peron, opposition had 49 seats as the counting of ballots from Sunday's election proceeded under a complicated system. Half a million ballots remained to be counted.

While Peronists were banned as candidates, the ex-dictator piled up more than 1,900,000 blank votes.

The moderate parties' victory was a vote of confidence for Gen. Pedro Aramburu, president of Argentina's caretaker government since Peron's downfall in September, 1955.

Aramburu, who has promised a presidential election in February, was unshaken by the Peronista vote. He has readily acknowledged there are many Peronists in the nation, but has repeatedly expressed confidence they will abandon Peron in time and join the ranks of those backing his democratic program.

These diplomats have suggested, however, there may still be a good chance of agreement between the Eastern and Western power blocs on measures to guard against surprise attacks. Essentially such measures could be based on the Eisenhower plan for opening the skies on both sides of the Iron Curtain to international inspection teams.

The Russians have already accepted the idea behind the Eisenhower plan. They have offered to open big tracts of Communist-held territory, including some of their own, to sky and ground inspection if the West does the same.

The subcommittee must report to the United Nations General Assembly by Thursday on its round of meetings here since March.

Washington officials said that what Dulles learns in his consultations here may decide whether the negotiations should continue or recess.

Will Ask Senate To Tackle Backlog

WASHINGTON (AP) — Majority Leader Johnson (D-Tex.) announced Monday night he is going to ask the Senate to lay aside the civil rights bill for a day or two and tackle a backlog of other legislative business.

He will need a unanimous consent agreement to accomplish this. Johnson said he proposed to try for the agreement Tuesday. If he gets it, it will permit consideration of a long list of presidential nominations and final action on such other pending matters as the Defense Department and agricultural appropriations for the next fiscal year, which started July 1.

The Senate has been debating civil rights for the last three weeks. At least two more weeks of argument are in prospect, and it may last longer if southern Democrats elect to filibuster against the legislation.

GUARDS ARRESTED GUATEMALA (AP) — Eight palace guards were arrested Monday and accused of being involved in the assassination of President Carlos Castillo Armas.

The announcement said the assassin, guard Romero Sanchez Vasquez, 24, had been allowed to change places with another guard just before the shooting.

Larry Popofsky To Debate Abroad

Larry Popofsky, A4, Oskaloosa, will be one of two students representing the United States in a debating tour of the British Isles early next year.

Popofsky was awarded his position on the American International Debate Squad after vying with eight other contestants from all parts of the country at an elimination at Northwestern University earlier this spring.

"I feel it is a great honor to have been selected to represent the United States in this debate tour," Popofsky said, "and I am greatly indebted to SUI and especially to the Department of Speech for the training I have received and the opportunity to compete for this award."

Prof. Orville Hitchcock, head of the SUI Department of Speech, nominated Popofsky as a candidate for the all-expense paid tour, which will include debates with University debating teams.

As an SUI debater for the last three years, Popofsky won numerous honors including first place in the 1954 LaVerne Speech Contest and the 1957 Hancher Oratorical Contest. He is 1957-58 president of the SUI Forensics Association.

Co-winner of a position on the debating team was Spencer Stokes Jr., Seattle, a senior at the College of Puget Sound. Charles Manatt, student body president at Iowa State and Richard Rieke, Southern Illinois University, were named as alternates for the tour.

The competition is sponsored by the Institute of International Education and the Speech Association of America.

City Council—

OK's Water Rate Hike

Despite a protest from the League of Women Voters, the Iowa City Council approved a hike in the water rates at the regular monthly session Monday night.

Public hearings were held on both the water rate increase by the Iowa City Water Company, and the 1958 City budget.

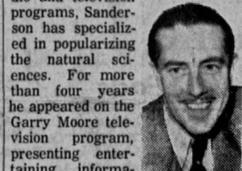

The hearing on the proposed water rate increase was closed near the beginning of the session but was reopened in order to record the protest of the League of Women Voters.

City Manager Peter F. Roan, explaining the City's stand on the proposed increase, said that a 6 per cent return on the company's investment should be considered fair.

The water company had asked for a 30 per cent increase in rates, stating that they were now earning only 2.52 per cent on their net investment.

The proposal approved by the City will result in an average increase of 11.6 per cent in rates. Recommendations for this increase were the result of a study of the profits and investments of the Iowa City Water Company for the past five years, made at the request of the City.

Shipping a pink elephant through New York City, tattooing a buffalo in Wichita and hunting a whale in California are among the "Adventures of a Roving Zoologist" to be related by Ivan T. Sanderson at 8 tonight in air-conditioned Macbride Auditorium. Sanderson's will be the final lecture of the SUI Summer Lecture Series.

Through his books, lectures, radio and television programs, Sanderson has specialized in popularizing the natural sciences. For more than four years he appeared on the Garry Moore television program, presenting entertaining information on rare animals.

He initiated the first natural history program on television in 1949 and presented the first regular color telecast in history in 1951.

Twenty-five years of exploration in the pursuit of strange animals has led Sanderson to Africa, the Orient, Central and South America and the Arctic.

Political Science, asked the Council if the rate increase was justified.

Roan, in answering, said that the company was hampered in expanding its service—as the city expanded—by the fact that it had no large water users in Iowa City and that it must make allowance for many expenses that it cannot charge for.

Police chased and caught the teen-ager and as they were talking to him to a squad car, the crowd surged forward. Some 60 policemen using clubs pushed the crowd off.

Four cars believed to be owned by Negroes were stoned. Many of the cars parked in the area or driven by whites bore make-shift white flags tied to radio aerials. Police said this obviously was done to indicate to the crowd that the owner or occupants were white.

SUI Parking Group Meets: No Action

A meeting of the University Parking Committee was held Monday afternoon. Topics of discussion included parking sticker application forms and a study to be made utilizing the information gained from these forms, which student car owners will fill out during fall registration.

Dean M. L. Huit, chairman of the committee, said the application forms will be designed to provide basic information on both the student and the automobile.

From this information, the committee hopes to determine what use a student makes of his car—whether he drives it to class, uses it for social affairs, or reserves it for weekend trips home.

Dean Huit said no definite action was taken at Monday's meeting. The student council recommended freshman-sophomore car limitation proposal was not discussed.

Another meeting has been scheduled for next Monday.

By MURRAY FROMSON Associated Press Newswriter

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaya — On Aug. 31 the Union Jack will be lowered here and its place taken by the flag of an independent Malaya.

The day will mark the end of 133 years of British colonial rule, interrupted by the four-year Japanese occupation in World War II. Malaya as the 10th nation to join the British Commonwealth is the first constitutional monarchy to recognize Queen Elizabeth II as head of the Commonwealth.

Malaya will have its own king, a Paramount Ruler to be selected Aug. 3 from among nine sultans.

Actually, governing falls to another member of the Malaya royalty, Cambridge-educated Prince Abdul Rahman, a younger brother of the sultan of Kedah.

Prince Rahman must keep harmony among Malaya's 6,300,000 people. His own Malay race numbers three million. Then follow the Chinese, with 2,300,000; Indians, Pakistanis, Ceylonese, Eurasians and Europeans. More than a half dozen tongues are spoken.

He will need ability to steer a middle course and pacify extremists — discontented Chinese on one hand and Malay jingoists who want to suppress the Chinese, on the other.

Responsible Malays say it is only a matter of a few years before the prolific Chinese surpasses them in numbers.

Despite the near equality of Chinese and Malays in numbers, three out of four civil service jobs will, by law, be reserved for Malays.

A knowledge of the basic Malay language has been required to qualify for citizenship. The new constitution waives this requirement for those who apply for citizenship within a year.

The catchword is "apply." Only half the Chinese have applied. The rest are illiterate or ignorant of the laws. Some are in regions remote from registration offices.

Those who come to register may give up in anger after a brush with Malay bureaucracy.

"In short," said one Chinese businessman, "this is independence for the Malays, not the Malays."

Civil Rights 'Dead'

The emasculated Civil Rights bill is currently going through the final farcical stages of the "Rodgers-Hammerstein type production" that so many political writers predicted that it would become.

Both the Democrats and the Republicans made as much political capital of verbal support as safely could be done—and then one-by-one abandoned the provisions that gave any meaning to the bill.

It is argued—and perhaps rightly—that the bill as originally drafted could never have passed. Some compromise seemed necessary; the continuing extension of rights that have been denied to U.S. citizens would be left to other years and perhaps better, or at least, more enlightened men.

But the bill as it stands now is not a compromise—it is an out-and-out victory for the White Southerners.

The enforcement powers were stripped from the bill with the exception of those covering voting rights. This was bad enough; now the indications are that the jury trial amendment will be voted into the final version of the bill. The greatly weakened bill carried at least the promise of some progress. The right to vote—to participate in the political decisions of the community—has enabled "second-class citizen" minorities to bring themselves toward acceptance as "first-class citizens."

But with acceptance of a jury trial amendment, the final excuse for consideration of the bill will have disappeared. Better to let the thing die—and admit that Civil Rights is a battle yet to be won, or even fairly fought—than to point smugly to a meaningless jumble of words as "proof" that our precious heritage of equality is important enough to protect.

The present civil rights bill does little—and with a jury trial amendment, will do nothing—to indicate that it does.

Loser Again

From the New York Times

The Federal school aid plan originally proposed by President Eisenhower has again been sunk. It went down in the House of Representatives with an anti-segregation clause tied to it, but it might have been defeated, anyhow. Even with the support of a President who every now and then reasserts his fervent belief in doing things with the cooperation of the Federal, state and local governments and private enterprise, the proposal to help provide decent classrooms for children who do not now have them has met with studied resistance.

Some highly intelligent citizens were afraid that this kind of aid might lead to a harmful interference by the Federal Government in the conduct of the schools. This intention was explicitly disavowed, but for the time being the proposed new school buildings, with some Federal bricks and plaster in them, will remain a dream.

Last year the anti-segregation anvil was tied to this bill by Representative Adam Clayton Powell of Manhattan. This year the same function was performed by Representative Stuyvesant Wainwright, a Republican from Long Island. The appended clause would have forbidden the use of Federal funds to build school buildings in any local district where schools were being conducted in disregard of the Supreme Court's anti-segregation decision of May, 1954. The principle of this amendment was one that all liberals and all those who respect the Supreme Court have been glad to sustain. But its sole effect, aside from some possible political dividends for those who voted for it, was not to promote integration but to defeat the bill. In this connection it may be noted that Mr. Wainwright subsequently voted 'no' on the whole measure.

As the fall-out from this perennial contest is once more precipitated, it is easy to see who loses. The losers are not the 126 Democrats and 77 Republicans who voted for the measure. The losers are the public school children of America.

'P-s-s-t! ... Where Do I Fit Into the Picture?'

Mexican Rail Plan Nearing Completion

WASHINGTON, D.C. — As the result of a six-year modernization program now drawing to a close, Mexico looks forward to having one of the best overland rail transportation services in the Americas by 1958.

Now nearing completion is a face-lifting operation involving new sleepers, ballasting, and grading of the 1000-mile route between Irapuato, the industrial and agricultural center in Guanajuato, central Mexico, to Ciudad Juarez, opposite El Paso, Tex. This is one of the principal rail arteries of the National Railways of Mexico. Also nearing completion is the first phase of the "Dieselization" of the National Railways, which calls for putting 400 Diesel-drive locomotives on the lines. Eventually, 700 Diesels will replace steam-driven locomotives. All traffic on the National Railways—San Luis Potosi, Cardenas, Gulf, Monterrey, Monclova, Chihuahua and Torreon divisions is being drawn

'Be Fair To Freshmores' Reader Suggests Finding More Parking Space Is Suitable Solution

(Readers are invited to express opinions in letters to the Editor. All letters must include handwritten signatures and addresses — typewritten signatures are not acceptable. Letters become the property of The Daily Iowan. The Daily Iowan reserves the right to shorten, select representative letters when many on the same subject are received, or withhold letters. Contributors are limited to not more than two letters in any 30-day period. Opinions expressed do not necessarily represent those of The Daily Iowan.)

TO THE EDITOR: In your newly launched crusade for a solution to the student parking problem you appear to have concluded that the "freshmores" are a horde of non-human, unsophisticated, inferior lot of young hot-rodgers who are too lazy to walk to school. Being underclassmen, they seem to offer an excellent opportunity for scapegoating (along with the Student Council).

According to your editorial, it would appear that a college student is too irresponsible to have a car on the campus unless he has experienced the customary two-year bombardment of math skills, communication skills, etc. After attaining all of this wisdom, he could "graduate" from "non-campus-car-driver" to "campus-car-driver."

IF FRESHMEN and sophomores are too immature to drive (and park) their cars in Iowa City, they are immature because they have postponed adult responsibility in the "cold cruel world" to get what Americans proudly eulogize: a liberal education. From this point of view, juniors and seniors and graduate students have no more right to driving privileges than the lower-classmen. Such an authoritarian policy of 100 per cent restriction would undoubtedly completely solve the parking problem if a local unit of storm troopers were set up to enforce it.

But since this is, supposedly, a democratic institution of higher learning, it seems that restricting freshmen and sophomores—or any of the students for that matter—of an inferior, undesirable and hostile method of "keeping the student in his place." Authoritarianism is also evident in your view that the student is here because of special "privilege."

ON TOP OF ALL this, it isn't the fault of the freshmen and the sophomores or anybody else that students' pocketbooks through the sale of food, clothing, gas, etc., and maybe, in a few cases, even cars.

THIS IS NOT to say that the University should let the parking problem go to pot. But if nothing constructive can be done, it would be best not to meddle. Students who are beaten down and have nothing to say about the matter may find a way of reciprocating by staging a few more raids on girls' dormitories or other immature methods simply because they have no direct mature method of maintaining their rights as young adults.

This is not to imply cause and effect, but it does imply a way that the student can express some of his hostility at being chained down to the University's rules. If the student is to be recognized as an adult, he should be treated like a child, he should be expected to act like one.

Your "crusade" may be admirable in that it leads to a reduction in the number of cars in the city and on the campus. But it is not a positive approach except from the standpoint of learning to write "crusading" editorials.

The way out of the parking problem is either to provide more parking space or just forget the whole thing and let bad enough alone. Scapegoating "freshmores" and parking meters is a poor substitute for the freedom the students have at the present.

If there were enough genuine interest in the positive approach, if enough people care enough and were reasonable enough to spend their precious time in finding an answer to the space problem, then the badly needed space would probably materialize. It might be new parking space on the main campus, or, if this is impossible, it might be elsewhere. The important point is that it wouldn't terminate in expelling students from the school; nor would it require that they dispose of their cars to avoid expulsion.

Whatever is decided, it seems that there are undoubtedly enough intelligent people here to find some other solution than such a crude method as restriction.

Breakfast With Ike

Congressmen Profit From Food—Not Facts

By GEORGE DIXON King Features Syndicate

WASHINGTON, D.C. — For the longest time I clung to the naive belief that President Eisenhower was having all those Republican members of Congress to breakfast so he could stuff them with hog hominy and Administration ideology. But I've been forced to the reluctant conclusion that Ike is feeding them solely so they can go back to Capitol Hill and pound out food columns.

The actions of the mutinual freeloaders after leaving the White House would seem to leave no other conclusion. They seldom go forth and do battle for his programs. But practically every one of them plunks his ungirded loins before a typewriter and turns out a newsletter on how it feels to have breakfast with the President.

They describe every morsel that Mr. Eisenhower provides, even down to the exact browning point of the toast. Every last one of them writes about the "heaping platters." This would seem to point to one of two alternatives. They've either thwarted cooking page conductors, or gluttons.

From the stuff they send back to their constituents, apparently they don't care a thing about what the President says at breakfast, only what he eats. His policies can't even begin to compete for their attention with his potato pancakes. They describe their own actions and reactions down to the minutest detail, but apparently all that ever gets through to them at these early morning feedings is that the President has a fine selection of jams.

From their newsletters, they must go to 1600 Pennsylvania Avenue at dawn with the determination not to miff a muffin. Moreover they must all sit on each other's lap.

This latter paragraph is inescapable to any one who has read even the opening paragraph of their "I just had breakfast with the President" compositions. There hasn't been one yet, that I have read, who didn't "sit right next to Mr. Eisenhower."

At recent breakfasts, Rep. Pat Hillings of California, "sat right next to the President." So did Rep. C. Ostertag of New York; Sen. Karl Mundt, of South Dakota; Sen. Charles Potter, of Michigan; Rep. Ken Keating, of New York and minority leader Joe Martin. From what I have been able to gather the only Republican who hasn't sat right next to Mr. Eisenhower is Mrs. Eisenhower.

Danger!

Bedroom Is Treacherous

The most dangerous spot in the American home isn't the bathroom, as you may have heard, but the bedroom.

Nearly a third of all accidental home deaths occur there, a survey by the National Safety Council shows.

"Falls are the main hazard in bedrooms," said Ralph Kuhl, assistant director of the Council's home safety division. "And four out of five falls there aren't from ladders, or down stairs, but tumble on the same level.

"Take a look at your bedroom. Is there a hassock placed dangerously in a traffic lane? Are clothes or shoes strewn on the floor? If not, then you're to be congratulated on being neater than many."

Kuhl set down the main causes of bedroom deaths in this order: 1. falls, 2. fire, 3. poisoning (more in a bedroom than any other room),

4. choking on food, 5. poisonous gases such as carbon monoxide and 6. firearms.

"Twice as many persons are shot accidentally in their bedrooms than in any other room in the house," he said. "The reason? The 'unloaded' gun in the closet or dresser drawer."

Another reason falls are the number 1 killer in the home, he said, is the throw rug—a lethal weapon if unanchored.

"The ideal spot for a throw rug is right beside a bed—if you want an accident," said Kuhl. "Put a nonslip backing on it."

A handy bed lamp would cut down on the night-time toll from falls, Kuhl said.

To reduce the fire death toll, don't smoke in bed and install an extension telephone in the bedroom.

"It's a real lifeline to the local fire department," he said.

Comedy Starts Wednesday

THE BIG THREE examine stage sets for "Very Love," an original comedy to be presented at the University Theatre Wednesday, Thursday and Friday nights. Inspecting the designs by Lila Lewis, New York graduate student, are William Reardon (left), director of the production and assistant professor of dramatic art; David Larson (seated), author and Ph.D. candidate in playwrighting from Hollywood, Calif., and O. G. Brockert (right), faculty adviser and assistant professor of dramatic art. The comedy concerns differing attitudes which men hold toward love and is the final presentation of the summer season.

Award Chemistry Instructor Grant

Richard L. Hinman, SUI Chemistry instructor, was one of seventy scientists in colleges and universities throughout the United States to be awarded a Research Corporation grant during the second quarter of the year. Charles H. Schauer, director of grants, announced recently.

Hinman received the grant, aimed at initiating fundamental research in science, for study of the "Synthesis of Sulfonyl Analogs of Pyrimidines and Purines."

Hinman said the compounds pyrimidines and purines are similar to organic chemicals found in the body. These compounds will be studied by Hinman as potential disease cures.

Mason City Cement Co. Asks Rehearing of Case

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP)—The Northwestern State Portland Cement Co. of Mason City asked the Minnesota Supreme Court Friday either to rehear or reconsider its decision in the case in which the court ordered the company to pay Minnesota $102,556 in income taxes. The court ruled a few weeks ago in a 5-2 decision that the Iowa firm must pay Minnesota income taxes on the portion of its net income which is attributable to Minnesota business.

The company has taken the position it should not be required to pay Minnesota taxes because its business consists exclusively of interstate commerce.

Joseph Maun, St. Paul attorney who submitted the motion for a rehearing, said the decision will be appealed to the United States Supreme Court if his request is denied.

Fall Nursing Class Students Selected; Iowa Citizens Named

Names of 142 students selected as members of the 1957-58 freshman nursing class at SUI were announced today by Prof. Etta N. Rasmussen, chairman of the College of Nursing executive committee.

Students from Iowa City who are among the students selected are:

Jane E. Huey, entering as a sophomore, daughter of Mrs. Mabel P. Huey, 222 Highland Drive; Karen A. Hutchinson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Hutchinson, 821 Dearborn St., and Beverly J. Moore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James W. Moore, 828 Dearborn St. Admission to the college is based on motivation for nursing, past academic record, intellectual ability as shown by examinations, personal qualities and physical health, Prof. Rasmussen said. ### Ronald Tyree To Present Bassoon Recital

Wednesday will bring Ronald Tyree, SUI graduate student from Des Moines, one step closer to his Ph. D. degree in music. At 1 p.m., Wednesday in North Music Hall, he will present a bassoon recital in partial fulfillment of the requirements for the degree.

Tyree, who is majoring in music literature and performance, is a graduate assistant in SUI's music department and last week played in the orchestra for the summer opera.

His recital will include music of Handel, Mozart, Hindemith and Marcel Bitsch. Norma Cross, associate professor of music, will play piano accompaniment.

STOLEN PARTS

Richard Dobson, 320 1/2 E. College, reported to police Sunday the theft of four hub caps and two fender skirts from a 1953 Olds. The accessories were valued at $60.

PRODUCTION!

Oakdale Mercedes Dictator, a Holstein cow owned by the State Sanatorium at Oakdale, has now produced more than 100,000 pounds of milk according to an announcement by the Holstein-Friesian Association of America. This volume of production is approximately five times the lifetime total of the average dairy cow.

5 Dietetics Students Win Scholarship Prizes

Five dietetic interns in the department of nutrition at SUI Hospitals are finishing their work toward master of science degrees with awards won for high scholarship.

Elaine Brasher, Huntington, Utah, was among the first recipients of the Mead Johnson award and was also the 1957 winner of a $50 award made by the Utah State Dietetics Association.

Wanda Chenoweth, Salt Lake City, Utah, was the 1956 winner of the Utah award. Elizabeth Fox, Cincinnati, O., is winner of a $200 award given each year by the Ohio State Dietetic Association.

Shirley Need, Detroit, Mich., is completing her internship on two scholarship awards. In 1956 her scholastic achievements as a senior student in food and nutrition won for her the $300 Borden Milk Co. award. She also won a $200 scholarship from the Michigan Dietetic Association.

Helen Flynn, formerly of Des Moines, is the 1957 winner of the Kate Daum Scholarship, a $75 award established by the late Dr. Kate Daum, long-time director of the department of nutrition at University Hospitals.

Hurricane Blows Out in the Tenth

Floyd Batters Jackson Until Ref. Stops It

NEW YORK (AP) — Champion Floyd Patterson gave Tommy Hurricane Jackson an unmerciful beating Monday night, dropping the No. 1 challenger three times before Referee Ruby Goldstein stopped the fight after 1:52 of the 10th round in Patterson's first defense of his world heavyweight title.

When the referee stepped between the two men, the Hurricane had been backed against the ropes near Patterson's corner from a tremendous barrage of punches. Jackson objected strenuously and Goldstein had to put both arms around him, pinning him from further action.

The 5-to-1 underdog put up a game battle against the 22-year-old champion but he couldn't cope with the heavy artillery of the boy wonder of the 1952 Olympics.

In the second round Patterson again floored the flapping Hurricane with another burst of fury. Jackson bounced up at about two but the official knockdown counter reached six while Jackson stood in a neutral corner.

Even the mechanical man who never tires began to run down as the bout passed the halfway mark. Firing away with both hands, Patterson drove two lefts and a right to Jackson's head and body for another knockdown in the ninth. The Hurricane was up at four, blood flowing from his nose.

Jackson came out punching for the 10th and what proved to be the last round but he ran into a left-right combination as he bounced off the ropes. Tommy kept pawing away only to catch another fierce barrage that drove him to the ropes and convinced Goldstein that Jackson had enough.

The slaughter was a shutout on all three official scorecards. Each official had it 9-0 going to the 10th. Bill Recht and Joe Agnello were the judges.

It was the second time Jackson had been stopped in 36 pro fights, both on technical knockouts. Nino Valdes dropped him three times in the second round for an automatic TKO, July 14, 1954. There was nothing automatic about this one for he took a fearful beating through most of the contest.

Big Ten Recruiting Probe Goes On After Dickens' Suspension

CHICAGO (AP) — Investigations of numerous rumors and allegations of recruiting violations are being conducted by the Big Ten, Commissioner K. L. (Tug) Wilson said Monday.

Announcement of continuous investigations came in the wake of the one-year suspension of Indiana University's football coach, Phil Dickens, for offering illegal payments to prospective athletes. "There are fewer complaints from Big Ten schools in general circulation under the new financial aid plan," said Wilson. "But there are more of them coming directly in to our office than in the past."

Wilson said each report or allegation is being investigated, adding that the rumors "involve every Big Ten institution."

"A number of rumors are being investigated to determine where they fall," said Wilson. "There also have been a number of discarded for lack of evidence."

The penalty against Dickens, former University of Wyoming coach who signed a five-year contract at Indiana for $15,000 annually only last January, is the most severe against an individual in Big Ten history.

Faculty men, in a special meeting in Chicago Sunday, held that Dickens had violated the financial aid plan adopted last Feb. 22. It permits aid only on the basis of computed need, and in no event may this aid exceed the costs of board, room, books, tuition and fees.

One (Two Three) O'Leary

THE FIRST TITLE DEFENSE of Floyd Patterson got off to a budding start as the heavyweight champ floored contender Tommy (Hurricane) Jackson in the first round of the contest at the Polo Grounds in New York. Patterson did it again and again to win the bout by a TKO in the 10th after putting Jackson to the floor three times.

Champ Says He's Set for Next One

NEW YORK (AP) — There wasn't a mark on Floyd Patterson in his dressing room after defense of his world heavyweight title Monday night against Hurricane Jackson.

The champ said he was ready for his title match with Pete Rademacher Aug. 22 and would leave for Seattle Aug. 12. He plans to return to training camp in a day or two.

Patterson said Jackson talked to him about five times during the battle. Each time he said "come on, and fight."

An observer wisecracked "the trouble was, Patterson did."

Explaining the knockdowns, Jackson said he "bent his leg" when he went down in the first round. "After that my legs got lazy."
