Little Ones Out Of Big Ones

Sororities Start 'Rush Week' Today

Iowa City streets are lined with family cars bulging with shoe boxes, formal on hangers, radios and luggage as fraternity and sorority members at SUI unpack for the beginning of Rush Week which starts today for sororities and Saturday for fraternities.

SORORITY RUSH

Nearly 400 women will participate in activities which will begin at 7:30 p.m. tonight with a mass meeting in Macbride Auditorium and culminate with the signing of "preference cards" Wednesday. Invitations to pledge will be delivered by 4:30 p.m. Thursday, and those invited to membership will go immediately to the chapter house for the pledging service. Under this plan, each rushee will receive a schedule which will take her through every sorority on campus. Each rushee gets a chance to become familiar with sorority members, and permits each sorority to extend further invitations.

All women will live in Currier Hall while attending Rush Week activities. On Monday and Tuesday, rushees attend more parties, but the number of parties each rushee may attend is lowered.

In this way, each house can determine which rushees are most interested in their respective houses.

On Thursday, Sept. 19, an invitation to pledge will be delivered to the rushee's residence by 4:30 p.m. Those rushees who decide to pledge then go to the chapter house for the formal pledging ceremony at 5 p.m.

This year's rushing program is again under the direction of the Panhellenic Council, which is composed of the 13 presidents of SUI sororities.

Miss Helen Reich, assistant director of the Office of Student Affairs, serves as Panhellenic advisor.

The Panhellenic Council has set up the rushing schedule, provided a counseling system for the rushees and enforces Panhellenic regulations during Rush Week.

FRATERNITY RUSH

About 250 men are expected to register Saturday at the South Quadrangle Lounge for the fraternity "rush" program.

The men will tour the 19 social fraternities at SUI and spend Sunday, Monday and Tuesday getting acquainted with members of the organizations.

Invitations to join the fraternities will be distributed for acceptance or rejection Wednesday, with pledging to follow.

An orientation meeting, which all rushees must attend, is scheduled at 2 p.m., Sept. 14 in Macbride Auditorium. Following this program, rushees will begin their tour of all SUI fraternities.

In the evening from 7 to 11 p.m., a "bull pen" meeting will be held in the Fieldhouse. At this meeting, each rushee is given an opportunity to make formal dates with different fraternities.

The period from 8 p.m. to 12 a.m. Tuesday Sept. 17 will be a preference night, at which time rushees may go to the fraternity of their choice.

This gives each house an opportunity to determine which rushees are most interested in joining their fraternity.

All rushing activities will end at midnight, Sept. 17.

Each fraternity will then choose the men it wishes to extend invitations to pledgeship and turn them in at the Fraternity Affairs Office.

Bids will be distributed from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. on Wednesday in the Quadrangle lounge. Each man registered for rushing will receive an envelope containing the name of the fraternity or fraternities extending bids.

After receiving bids, rushees will be given time to decide which fraternity to pledge. Each rushee must indicate his acceptance or rejection to the IFC. Rushees are in no way bound by invitations.

Rush Week is annually scheduled to begin a week before the actual University orientation program, thus allowing rushees the opportunity to select their preferences, receive bids and move into their houses before the heavy schedule of orientation begins.

U.S. Hits Reds as 'Reactionary', Gromyko for Hurting Peace Hopes

ANDREI GROMYKO

WASHINGTON (AP) — In a blistering attack on Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko, the United States Thursday charged he is trying deliberately to destroy the "bridges of understanding" which sustain hopes for world peace.

The State Department issued a formal statement deploring Gromyko's accusations against the West of two days ago.

It called him a blusterer, a falsifier, intemperate and a follower of the tough Stalinist line which the Soviets themselves have rejected as hampering world peace.

"We had hoped for better things," the statement said.

Then, returning a favorite phrase of Soviet propaganda against the United States, it said:

"But it seems that the Soviet Communists are, in all respects, confirmed reactionaries who can only replay the old wearisome tunes of which the world has grown tired."

The statement said Gromyko is trying again "to frighten the free nations from taking action to reinforce their freedom," and asserted the attempt will fail, just as it failed before.

Taken together, Gromyko's denunciation of Western policy for Europe, the Middle East and the Far East plus America's reaction looked like opening salvos in what may prove to be a classic debate between Gromyko and Secretary of State Dulles at the United Nations General Assembly.

Dulles will address the Assembly starting its 1957 regular session next Tuesday. Gromyko is flying from Moscow in a Soviet TU104 jet airliner to attend the session.

The lines for the Dulles-Gromyko clash already are drawn.

Gromyko, apparently acting in part to take the sting out of accusations before the United Nations against the Red Army's crushing of the Hungarian revolt, attacked first.

In a Moscow news conference Tuesday he accused the United States of threatening to attack Syria, wrecking the London disarmament talks and blocking German reunification.

On the same day, Dulles tempered U.S. expressions of alarm over the Syrian situation.

He told his news conference he felt it could be settled peacefully.

This attitude, coming after urgent airlifting of arms to neighbors of Syria and expressions of deep concern, was interpreted as being aimed partly at undercutting possible Soviet charges before the United Nations that the United States was just as guilty of aggressive action in Syria as it accused Russia of being in Hungary.

The proposal put forward by Wang was that "the Government of the People's Republic of China and the Government of the United States of America agree to give permission, on an equal and reciprocal basis, for correspondents of the other side to enter their respective countries for news coverage in order to promote mutual understanding between the peoples of China and the United States."

U.S. Rejects Red Chinese Plan For Newsmen Exchange

WASHINGTON (AP) — Red China proposed to the United States Thursday a deal for exchange of newsmen.

If accepted, the proposal possibly could have been interpreted as a kind of back-door U.S. recognition of the Chinese Communist regime.

The instant American response, however, was to turn the proposition down completely on the ground that no such deal is possible under American law.

At the same time the United States officially informed the Peiping regime that if any Chinese Communist news reporters apply to come to the United States each application will be "considered on its merits."

The Chinese action and American counteraction occurred at Geneva where U.S. Ambassador U. Alexis Johnson has been in periodic contact with Red China's ambassador, Wang Ping-nan, for more than two years.

The exchange appeared to leave the prospects for American newsmen getting to Red China in a stalemate. At least there was no indication of early compromise by either Peiping or Washington.

The proposal put forward by Wang was that "the Government of the People's Republic of China and the Government of the United States of America agree to give permission, on an equal and reciprocal basis, for correspondents of the other side to enter their respective countries for news coverage in order to promote mutual understanding between the peoples of China and the United States."

Syria-Egypt: '1 Army'

CAIRO, Egypt (AP) — Syria's army chief of staff announced Thursday that the Syrian and Egyptian armies are a single force under Egypt's supreme command.

The Syrian army leadership has been characterized as pro-Soviet. Forces of both Egypt and Syria are equipped with Soviet arms.

Brig. Afif Bizry, who made a dramatic appearance here Wednesday with his intelligence chief, Lt. Col. Abdel Hamid Serraj, ended what he said were very amiable talks with Egyptian leaders and prepared to return to Damascus.

In an interview with the Egyptian Middle East News Agency, Bizry said he came here on a pilgrimage to see President Nasser and visited Maj. Gen. Abdel the quarrel which has been going on for months.

An Interior Ministry report said a gendarme patrol encountered the band as it was crossing the border in a hilly district in northern Lebanon.

The band fired on the gendarmes when ordered to halt.

Interior Ministry officials said they still do not know whether the band comprised Lebanese or Syrians.

Negotiations To Halt Phone Strike Delayed

NEW YORK (AP) — Conferences among union leaders Thursday delayed a resumption of negotiations aimed at heading off a nationwide phone strike.

A bargaining session between the Communications Workers of America and Western Electric Co., manufacturing arm of the Bell Telephone System, was postponed several times and finally put off until Friday.

The CWA has called a strike for 6 a.m. Monday.

CWA President Joseph A. Beirne said Wednesday 54,000 CWA members would walk off their jobs unless the installers have a new contract.

Western Electric employs only 23,800 telephone installers.

Such a walkout, he said, would affect all states and the District of Columbia, except for Maine, Vermont and New Hampshire.

Beirne added that picketing exchanges in major cities would keep them from their jobs about 146,000 other telephone workers, including operators.

The strike would not have much immediate effect on local telephone service in communities with dial systems, unless equipment broke down.

Long distance phoning, however, probably would be crippled.

The dispute over a new contract centers mainly over wages and the length of the contract.

Beirne says the union wants an average wage boost of 11 1/2 cents per hour, but that the company has offered only 9 cents.

Court Edict: No Desegregation Interference

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Federal Judge William E. Miller issued a strongly worded temporary court order Thursday forbidding interference with officials carrying out his orders to desegregate Nashville schools.

Nashville city and school officials asked for the temporary restraining order to strengthen their hands against violence which has accompanied desegregation of first grades here.

The Clinton-type order forbids 12 individuals and anybody else acting in concert with them from interfering with school attendance in any manner.

The defendants include Northern segregationist John Kasper, who already has been convicted twice of violating similar injunctions during school integration violence in Clinton, Tenn., last year.

The move in U.S. District Court came during the second day of uneasy calm which has replaced the violence accompanying admission of 15 Negro first-graders to six formerly all-white schools Monday.

The violence reached its peak early Tuesday with a dynamite blast which ripped open one of the newly integrated schools.

The Negro first-graders were admitted in the first step of a desegregation plan approved by Judge Miller.

Judge Miller set a hearing for Monday at 1 p.m. on whether an injunction should be issued to replace the restraining order.

Cuba Tells U.N.: Sanction Russians, Expel Kadar's Men

CUBA TOLD THE UNITED NATIONS Thursday it should expel the present representatives of Hungary and consider sanctions against the Soviet Union.

The demand came as the special Assembly session headed toward approval by a substantial margin of a new 37-nation resolution condemning Soviet action in crushing the Hungarian revolt of last fall.

A vote is expected late Friday.

Cuba's Emilio Nunez-Portuondo expressed dissatisfaction with the resolution because it did not provide for sanctions against the Soviet Union for refusing to heed previous U.N. resolutions on Hungary.

Sanctions could mean diplomatic, economic, or military restrictions by U.N. members against the Russians.

Nunez-Portuondo said also the resolution was incomplete because it did not call for expulsion of representatives of the regime of Premier Janos Kadar from the United Nations.

He expressed hope that the 12th General Assembly opening on Tuesday would refuse to recognize their credentials.

Reis Malilie, delegate of Communist Albania, replied to the Cuban's denunciation of the Soviet Union by asking:

"Isn't it cynical to hear a man speak about civil rights who has for years spilled the blood of Cuban people fighting for their fundamental human rights?"

Kasper Released, Quickly Re-jailed

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — After "lunching on cabbage and cornbread," roaming segregationist John Kasper of New Jersey was turned out of the City Workhouse Thursday on a $600 appeal bond.

His freedom ended a few moments later, however, behind the County Jail bars where he was held on a state charge of inciting others to riot.

The city and state charges stemmed from Kasper's recent anti-integration activities here.

City officials said they will seek revocation of Kasper's $13,000 appeal bonds on two previous federal court convictions for anti-integration activities last year at Clinton, Tenn., High School.

The self-described "fable-rouser" went to the workhouse Wednesday when he couldn't pay a $200 fine in City Court.

Head-On Crash Near Oxford Kills Three

TWO Waterloo girls — on their way to register at SUI — and a Davenport man were killed Thursday morning about 10 a.m. in a head-on collision on Highway 6 near Oxford.

Dead are Linda Easley, 18, driver of one of the cars; Jean Lee Hartman, 18, and Leo A. Otten, 55, inspector for the Army Corps of Engineers, driver of the other car.

Jo Ann Collins, 18, St. Paul, Minn., and Marilyn M. Meeker, 17, Waterloo, passengers in the Easley car, were reported in fair condition at University Hospitals late Thursday night. Both are suffering from leg fractures and other injuries.

The four girls were on their way to Iowa City to take entrance classification tests Thursday afternoon and Friday prior to enrolling as freshmen at SUI.

Otten was alone in a government car en route to Newton to work on an engineering project.

Authorities investigating the accident said the eastbound Easley car apparently attempted to pass a slow-moving pick-up truck on the right hand side and hit a soft shoulder, throwing it out of control.

The car swerved over to the left side of the road where it collided almost head-on with the Government car. Both vehicles were virtually demolished.

The pickup truck driven by H. F. Schwab, Iowa City, was not involved in the accident.

James Hagerty Refutes Story Of Capitulation

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP) — The White House announced Thursday President Eisenhower has called two top aides here for his Saturday morning conference with Arkansas Gov. Orval Faubus on the Little Rock, Ark., school integration crisis.

Presidential press secretary James C. Hagerty said Atty. Gen. Brownell and chief White House assistant Sherman Adams will fly here from Washington in connection with the Eisenhower-Faubus meeting, which could affect the future of integration in the South.

Word came from Little Rock, meanwhile, that Faubus will be accompanied by Rep. Brooks Hays (D-Ark.), a personal friend of the President.

Indications were the President would talk privately at first with Faubus at their 9 a.m. meeting Saturday.

Hagerty took sharp exception to a broadcast report quoting White House aides as saying Faubus had "thrown in the sponge" in the federal-state deadlock by seeking the appointment with the President and saying he would go as far as he could toward resolving the impasse.

"Completely untrue," Hagerty said.

In Little Rock, Ark., a source close to the governor said Faubus is coming here "to confer, not capitulate."

President's Duty To Uphold Law—Truman

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Harry S. Truman said Thursday night when a Governor cannot enforce federal laws "it is the sworn duty of the president of the United States to enforce them."

The former President, without mentioning specifically the segregation issue or any governor by name, made the statement at a news conference shortly before he boarded a plane for New York.

He is returning to New York to resume a visit with his daughter, Mrs. Margaret Truman Daniel.

Truman said: "When the Governor of one of the great states of this great Federal Union takes his oath of office, he swears on the Holy Bible to support and defend the Constitution of the United States and the constitution of his own state.

"Laws passed under these constitutions must be enforced by the state chief executive, just as they are enforced by the president of these United States.

"No Governor can nullify the Federal Constitution or the laws passed and approved by the Supreme Court under it.

"When a Governor cannot enforce these laws and decisions it is the sworn duty of the president of the United States to enforce them."

When Gov. Won't, It's The—

Previously Truman had refused to comment on the impasse at Little Rock.

Truman broke off his New York visit to return to Kansas City and dedicate a suburban shopping center being built on the Truman family farm near Grandview, a Kansas City suburb.

THE QUEEN'S ENGLISH
LONDON — Queen Elizabeth II, smiling and composed, Thursday made her first public speech since Lord Altrincham criticized her speaking as a school-girlish "pain in the neck."
"A splendid delivery," said the London Evening Star. "She followed her text closely, uttering every word clearly and strongly."
The Queen spoke before nearly 2,000 at the opening of the Inter-parliamentary Union Conference. Both the government and commercial TV and radio carried the ceremony to millions of Britons.
Altrincham was not available for comment.
American delegates were impressed.
Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.) said, "It was certainly a lot better than some of the speeches I've heard in the Senate."
Approval came also from Prime Minister Harold Macmillan in a later speech to the conference.
The Queen seemed more relaxed than she often has been in the past.

GOOD LOCKS BUT WRONG MENTAL INSTITUTION
MILWAUKEE — The first students to take up residence in Marquette University's elaborate new 3½-million-dollar men's dormitory made a somewhat disconcerting discovery last week.
They could get into the building but, once inside, they couldn't get out.
That was when university officials discovered that the manufacturer of the main entrance aluminum doors had mistakenly installed locks intended for a mental institution.
Temporarily, brass locks have replaced the too-secure latches.

HUSSEIN HOME
AMMAN, Jordan — King Hussein returned Thursday from a six-week vacation in Turkey and Spain.

KRAUT KING
FORRESTON, Ill. — Richard Boyle, 27, Thursday successfully defended his sauerkraut eating championship for the second consecutive year at the 38th Annual Kraut Festival. Boyle, a Rockton, Ill., farmer ate 4½ pounds of kraut in four minutes.
His prize? A trophy and his weight in kraut — 175 pounds of it!

RELEASE FLU VACCINE
WASHINGTON — Release of 1,724,672 doses of Asian flu vaccine was announced Thursday by the Public Health Service. The total consists of 1,338,272 doses for civilian use and 386,400 for armed services.

This was the largest quantity announced at any one time since the vaccine first became available Aug. 12. A total of 5,430,442 doses has now been released.
The Health Service estimates there have been 50,000 cases of Asian flu in this country.

SHOCKED AND CURIOUS
ST. LOUIS — A city water division employee, operating a pneumatic jack hammer, cut into a 13,000-volt electric cable Thursday. He was shocked — but not to the extent you would imagine.
"I remember seeing a flash and then everything went black," said William Keeling, 23.
When he regained consciousness Keeling found himself three feet from the excavation and overwhelmed with curiosity.
He climbed back into the hole "to see what I had hit."
Police hauled him out. An examination at City Hospital revealed no apparent injuries and Keeling refused to stay there. At his demand, the police took him back to work.

RADIOACTIVE FROGS?
AMSTERDAM — Weirily deformed frogs were found in a ditch into which the Amsterdam Nuclear Research Institute deposits its waste, the weekly Vrij Nederland reported Thursday. The paper said Dr. D. Hillenius, a biologist, listed among frogs brought him by an employee of the institute:
"Frogs with extra legs, frogs with three legs and a fourth leg with 15 to 20 toes, frogs with reversed hind legs."
The paper said Dr. Hillenius suggested the frogs had come in contact with the radioactive waste.

STOCKS UP
NEW YORK — The stock market made it two in a row on the upside Thursday, scoring its best gain in nearly two weeks and reaching the two-million-share level again.

Pipe's Prisoner Freed

MUSKOGON, MICHIGAN, FIREMEN dig with bare hands and shovels Thursday to free the concrete base of a two-inch pipe that holds Teddy Holdren, 3, a prisoner. The boy's mother, Mrs. Norman Holdren (right), comforts Teddy while a neighbor supports him. When the concrete was freed, firemen poured a hastily-prepared batch of soap suds down the pipe and his arm slipped free.

Outspoken, But Sincere— Defense Secretary Wilson To Retire Next Month

By D. HAROLD OLIVER
WASHINGTON — Sometime next month Charles E. Wilson goes home to stay — to walk the rolling, wooded grounds of his Bloomfield Hills, Mich., estate with his dogs romping before him.
Behind, he leaves 4½ years of service as defense secretary — more than any of his four predecessors — and a political Washington that will not soon forget him.
Even as he goes, Washington marvels at his impulsive frankness and what many agree was a fairly good job in a tough assignment.

WILSON'S STINT in Washington didn't come cheap. The former president of General Motors, whose annual salary topped half a million dollars, may have sacrificed as much as four million all told.
It will be a long time before anyone can plead the poverty of Government employment without being reminded of Charlie Wilson.
On top of that, he took on a lot of headaches, some of which he made for himself.

His outspoken ways made him a primary target in the Eisenhower Administration. But at this leaving even many of his foes concede that there passes an honest man.
Even Democratic Sen. Neuberger of Oregon took the floor recently to salute the 67-year-old, tart-tongued Detroit.

Neuberger said that Washington is a town where "evasiveness, double-talk, straddling and the quick shift often pay off — unfortunately," but that Wilson "has never been such an official."
He credited Wilson with the courage to speak his mind before congressional committees, even though such groups consisted of men "who were not above bullying or browbeating a witness."
The Oregon senator, who differed with Wilson on some defense policies, said the secretary had not hesitated to "offend powerful groups politically."

THIS MAY ALLUDE to Wilson's remark May 1 that it gave him a pain to hear "my friends in the Chamber of Commerce . . . squawk about the level of defense spending in a time of high prosperity."
Or it may allude to any of dozens of Wilsonettes during the stormy term of the Pentagon chief. Wilson himself conceded that he had made inept remarks now and again.

He once said he got in hot water by "sticking my neck out." At another time he guessed he hadn't been "properly housebroken."
President Eisenhower called one of the Wilson remarks "unwise." It was the Wilson flat statement that the National Guard was a refuge for draft dodgers during the Korean War. Wilson later apologized for his remarks, but he stuck to his guns in demanding a six-month training program for Guard recruits, against the 15 weeks proposed by Guard leaders.

This was the occasion too for the entry into the Washington battle of Mrs. C. E. Wilson, his wife of some 45 years. She publicly reproved the President for criticizing her husband.

THE WILSONS have 3 sons, 3 daughters and 15 grandchildren. They have come a long way from the day in 1912 when Jessie Ann Curtis, daughter of a construction engineer, married Charles E. Wilson, an $80-a-month electrical engineer.

Early in his Washington career, Wilson divorced himself from GM when a number of senators said that his GM stock would be a violation of the conflict of interest laws, because General Motors is a prime defense contractor.

He sacrificed at least $4,201,500 on paper and before taxes. Actually, Wilson's loss was less. The four-million-dollar total would have to be reduced by the profits and dividends he received on reinvestment of the money from his sale of his GM investment. He's never revealed what he put the money into.

Taxes have not been figured into the total either. Wilson paid out several hundred thousand dollars in capital gains tax on the sale of his GM stock.

HIS GOVERNMENT salary was raised last year to $25,000 from $22,500, only a nibble of his GM salary of well over half a million dollars.
Despite divorcing himself from most of GM's income, he never quite got away from the company's influence. He organized the Defense Department along lines of a big corporation, with a whole battery of deputies and assistants. In a corporation, they'd have been called vice-presidents.

And there was, of course, his quote about what's good for General Motors is good for America. That was when the opposition first discovered he might make a good target. He didn't disappoint them.

In addition to what he said about the National Guard, there was his comparison of ambitions and lazy dogs, which roused the anger of the labor unions. He made excellent fodder for newspaper cartoonists and editorial writers.

Last spring, when he received a miniature golden doghouse from a group of cartoonists as an emblem of his foot-in-mouth troubles, Wilson summed up his political attitude with:
"If a dog starts to run, all the curs in town will take after him."
Whatever they remember about Charlie Wilson, they'll never recall that he ran from anything.

New AEC Commissioner

JOHN S. GRAHAM TAKES his oath of office as he is sworn in Thursday by Chairman Lewis Strauss as a member of the Atomic Energy Commission. Graham is one of two former Truman Administration officials recently appointed to the AEC. The other, John F. Floberg, is on vacation and will be sworn in next month. Graham served as assistant secretary of the Navy from 1949 to 1953.

Religion Today— Evangelist Notes Changing Religious Approach In U.S.

By HERMAN R. ALLEN
Associated Press Feature Writer

The editor of a rising evangelical journal points to the success of his magazine as one of what he says are many indications that the evangelical approach to Protestantism is winning steadily wider acceptance in America.

Carl F. H. Henry, of Christianity Today, published in Washington, said in an interview the magazine was on target with 40,000 paid subscriptions at the end of its first year. The second-year goal — which he expects to meet — is 80,000.

AS EVIDENCE of its wide appeal, Henry cites the sale of several full pages in recent issues to a variety of advertisers — insurance companies, even a couple of vitamin manufacturers — apart from the usual run of hymn book publishers and church furniture houses generally patronizing religious publications.

Henry said the clergy of a wide variety of denominations are among subscribers, including many representing groups not usually regarded as evangelical, such as the Protestant Episcopal Church. Two Episcopal ministers are among Henry's contributing editors. So is evangelist Billy Graham.

Aside from the success of his magazine, Henry pointed out other indications of a growing acceptance of Bible-based evangelism.

"Leaders of the National Council of Churches (NCC) and the World Council of Churches (WCC) have let evangelists go their way," he said, "but now they are taking another look."

As evidence of this he cited the fact that he himself was asked by the NCC to serve as a consultant at the conference on church unity, sponsored by the WCC, NCC and Canadian Council of Churches, which closed at Oberlin, Ohio, this week. Henry is an ordained Baptist minister.

HENRY SEES today's Protestant lineup like this:

1. "The radical right" — the extreme fundamentalists.
2. The left or liberal wing, as represented by some individual clergymen of certain bodies which are members of the national and world councils.
3. In the center, the evangelicals. The fundamentalists call for literal interpretation of the Bible. So do the evangelicals, but Henry says the evangelists place more stress on "the application of the Christian ideal to culture and learning."

He says, "Much extreme fundamentalism is anti-intellectual." Liberalism, on the other hand,

"shies away from revealed biblical doctrine," in Henry's words, and tends to "dismiss mass evangelism as lacking in intellectual content."

However, he sees evangelism's real opposition on the other flank. THIS OPPOSITION comes, he says, not from extreme liberalism but from what evangelists call neo-orthodoxy.

No airtight description of a neo-orthodoxist is possible, however, because some members of this school of thought may accept some parts of the Bible as true. In general they accept the bodily resurrection of Christ, but some deny the virgin birth and others dismiss the large parts of the old testament as myth.

The evangelical position, Henry laid down as this:

"The world desperately needs the personal acceptance of Jesus Christ as Savior and Lord. Regenerate Christians — men born again — can introduce new meaning and worth into our chaotic world by applying Christian conditions into the social sphere."

By WHITNEY MARTIN

BROOKLINE, Mass. — The surveyors, the greens inspectors and the ant counters are afflicting golf with a creeping paralysis which already has forced the USGA to cut the Open field from 175 to 162 and threatens a similar curtailment of the National Amateur qualifying list.

"We're thinking seriously of cutting the amateur field next year," Joe Dey, Jr., executive secretary of the USGA said. At that moment Charley Coe, captain of the Walker Cup team and a former amateur champion, came up to request a delay of his starting time for his second match of the day because he had just come in from his first match. Dey agreed to 3:30 p.m. instead of 2:57.

"It's ridiculous," Dey continued. "Here is a contender starting his fourth round match in the National Amateur at 3:30. He'll be lucky to finish before dark. The past two days the last players just finished when they couldn't have played another shot."

The glue-footed, wavering-minded players who make each shot a technician production, particularly if they have a gallery of two men and a wayward dog, and crawl about greens on their hands and knees trying to find out if the grass grows this way or that way or the surface slopes toward the Atlantic or the Pacific are ruining the game for faster players and spectators at that.

"Not only tournaments are affected by slow play, but club foursomes are developing the delaying habit. The situation seems to be getting worse instead of better."

In the current amateur tournament at The Country Club here the younger players seem to be more at fault than the older players. Like little kids bang-banging about the house with their toy pistols after watching a western on TV, the younger golfers seem to have been watching too many pro tournaments and think the only way to make a shot is with deliberation.

Golf Tee-Vee NO RUBBER-NECKING AT DALLAS OPEN

DALLAS — With $40,000 on the line in the Dallas Open to tighten golfers' nerves, the shooters may be free of one hazard.

That's the spectator who knows he — or she — is prone to sneeze just before a critical stroke.

At this Open, which starts today, the spectator can tuck himself into an arm chair in the air-conditioned clubhouse and enjoy his golf, too.

For Glen Lakes Country Club has installed a closed-circuit television system connected with the clubhouse for the tournament.

The Dallas Open sponsors say this is the first time such a circuit has been used at a tournament.

Newly modified TV cameras have been spotted strategically around the course.

MILWAUKEE — Rookie Danny McDevitt whose wildness dimmed a great pitching performance put the deciding run on base with a walk in the ninth inning Thursday night and Del Crandall drove the runner home as the National League leading Milwaukee Braves defeated the Brooklyn Dodgers 2-1. McDevitt had held the Braves on only two hits until the ninth when he walked Johnny Logan. The second major argument of the game developed as Wes Covington came to bat and hit into what appeared to be a double play. McDevitt had started his delivery, and Covington appeared to step out of the box, but the pitcher came through and Covington rapped a bouncer to second base for what appeared to be the twin out. However, umpire Dusty Boggess had called for a time out, and the play was nullified. Covington came back with a single to send Logan to third, and after Nippy Jones, batting for Del Rice, had forced Covington, Crandall smashed a single into right scoring Logan. It was only the fourth hit of McDevitt.

The victory stretched Milwaukee's first place hold over the idle second place St. Louis Cardinals to five games and dropped the third place Dodgers eight games back. It was only Milwaukee's third victory in eight games.

Bucs-Cubs

The scheduled double-header between the Pittsburgh Pirates and the Chicago Cubs was rained out Thursday.

Hawks Resume Daily Double of Hard Grid Drills; Injured O.K.

The Iowa Hawkeyes resumed the prescribed routine of one hard workout taken twice daily when they met Thursday morning and engaged in scrimmage.

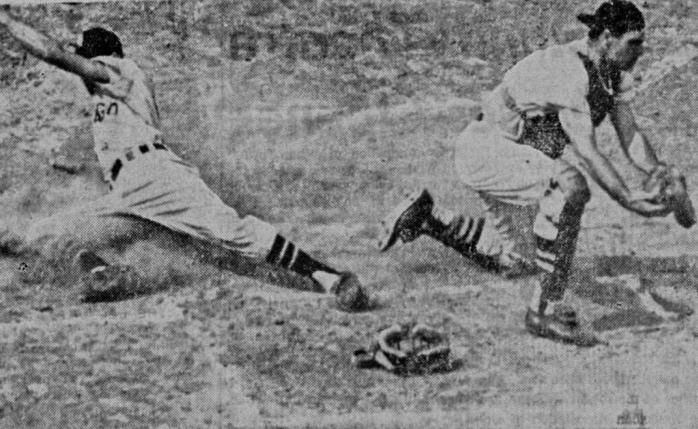

The afternoon was spent in the same manner; the drills in the afternoon outdid those of the morning session by about one half hour, the team worked at contact for about 30 minutes in the morning but spent well over an hour going over the same workout in the afternoon. The rest of the drill was dummy work.

Of particular interest in the practice session Thursday was the move of Kevin Furlong from the ranks of the reserves into the number two left halfback position behind Bill Gravel.

During the scrimmage, Furlong showed up particularly well in the position that he seems willing to adopt as his own.

Other players who turned in outstanding performances were, Randy Duncan who was passing and running very well in the first team quarterback position and Gravel who continues to look very good.

The report on the injured players was that all have improved to the point where they could engage in heavy contact work if it were necessary, but Coach Evashevski said that since they know their duties, they are being withheld from strenuous workouts as a precautionary measure.

Wilson Hurls 14th Victory for Chisox

BOSTON — Righthander Jim Wilson finally pitched his 14th victory Wednesday and it couldn't have come at a more appropriate time for the Chicago White Sox who whipped Boston 7-1.

The victory inched the runnerup Chicagoans to within five games of the front-running Yankees whom they meet in the opener of a critical series in New York tonight.

Wilson had tried on four other occasions to win his 14th.

The winners scored once in the opening inning, added two in the fourth, Lu Aparicio hit his third homer for the fourth Chicago run in the fifth and a cluster of three runs in the seventh nailed down the decision.

The Red Sox scored an unearned run in the seventh. Ken Aspromonte, who had doubled, scored as Ted Beard dropped pinch hitter Mickey Vernon's sinking liner.

Frank Sullivan lasted until Aparicio belted his homer. Sully lost his 10th against 13 victories.

Tigers 8, Nats 5

WASHINGTON — Ray Boone and Frank Bolling crashed home runs Thursday night as Detroit defeated Washington, 8-5, to sweep a three-game series and deal the Senators a fifth straight loss. Duke Maas, who required help from Harry Byrd, posted his tenth win.

Chuck Stobbs, who lost his 19th decision, was betrayed by his defense. A pair of errors accounted for six unearned runs among the seven the Tigers scored against him, with rightfielder Neil Christley letting three runs score in the seventh when he dropped Harvey Kuenn's fly.

A's-Orioles

BALTIMORE — A rainstorm shortly before game time forced the cancellation of Thursday night's game between the Kansas City Athletics and the Baltimore Orioles.

Oriole officials said that, since this was to have been the last meeting between the two teams this season, the game could not be played at a later date.

Foursome Cards 1-2-3-4

CHARLOTTE, Mich. — A Charlotte golf foursome reports this 1-2-3-4 finish on the fifth hole at the Charlotte Country Club: Kurt Genalsy sank the ace with a five-iron on the par three, 165-yard hole. Maurice Keyser followed with a deuce. Jack Cook holed out in three. And William Davis completed the action with a bogey four.

Yankee Injuries May Be Flag Race Stumbling Block

NEW YORK — Although the New York Yankees held a comfortable lead with only 14 games to play injuries to key men plagued Manager Casey Stengel as he prepared to open a two-game series with Chicago today.

Mickey Mantle, Yogi Berra and Bill Skowron are on the questionable list as Yankees starters. Mantle spent a few days in the hospital as the result of shin splints and Berra and Skowron have been out of action for almost a week.

Mantle hasn't played the outfield since Sept. 3 although he did make two appearances as a pinch hitter. Berra has been nursing a sprained right thumb and Skowron hurt his back while reaching for a screwdriver in his apartment.

The Yanks, of course, are in a good position with a solid lead at this stage of the game. Chicago can't afford to settle for a split in these two final games with the Yanks. New York holds a 13-7 lead in the season series.

"We'll have to knock them off in both games to be in a good spot," said Al Lopez, Chicago manager, before Thursday's game with Boston.

ISC Coach Lauds Des Moines Back

AMES — Terry Ingram of Des Moines, No. 1 tailback on the Iowa State football squad, put on a pleasing performance for Coach Jim Myers on passing offense Thursday.

Expecting Denver to take to the air extensively against the Cyclones in Iowa State's opener here Sept. 21, Myers concentrated on passing defense as well as his own aerial attack during the day's drill.

He singled out Ingram for his work and Dwight Nichols, another tailback, also looked good.

Ohio Short On Talent, Long On High Jinks

By JERRY LISKA

COLUMBUS, Ohio — Ohio State's Buckeyes will be down on talent but up on trickery this Big Ten football season.

Coach Woody Hayes conceded Thursday the "duh" but effective split T attack of past Buckeye teams will be dressed up with more passing and a more diversified ground attack.

Just what the departure will be from the yardage-grinding format of former Ohio State teams, Hayes guarded with a sly grin.

"We got to diversify some, open up our attack a little bit," said the man starting his seventh Buckeye head coaching season.

"I don't know about my club this season. There are too many new faces. We have about four fine football players. That's not many compared with past years."

The nucleus mentioned by Hayes included co-captains Leo Brown, end, and fullback Galen Cisco; halfback Don Clark, the team's lone breakaway threat; and guard Aurelius Thomas.

Six regulars are missing from the 1956 Buckeye team which had a 6-3 over-all record and a Big Ten mark of 4-2 for a fourth-place tie with Michigan State.

While Ohio State has a depth problem at guards and tackles, the big question mark may be at quarterback. The job rates a toss-up between Frank Kremblas, 198-pound junior, and Andy Okulovich, 188-pounder, returning after two years in military service.

Hayes is proudest of his three-deep fullback situation. Cisco, 203 pounds, heads the trio. Sophomore Bob White, 207, from Covington, Ky., is good enough to dispute Joe Trivisonno, 214, a senior, for the No. 2 spot.

The end department is strong with Brown and either junior Russ Bowermaster or soph Jim Houston, a fine 216-pound prospect, rating as starters.

Expect 35 Lab Technicians For Parasitology Seminar

Laboratory technicians from Iowa hospitals, private clinics and municipal laboratories will begin three days of intensive study Wednesday in the Medical Laboratories of SUI's College of Medicine.

About 35 technicians are expected to attend the "Seminar on Parasitology for Medical Technologists," which is designed to acquaint the laboratory workers with new techniques and diagnostic procedures.

THE LECTURE and laboratory sessions will be devoted to the study of the problems of diagnosis of intestinal protozoa — microscopic, one-celled parasites that sometimes invade the human body.

Specific attention will be given to one type of parasite which causes a disease known as amebic dysentery. This disease, once thought to exist only in the tropics, has been found all over the world, according to Prof. Kenneth MacDonald of the Department of Hygiene and Preventive Medicine at SUI.

Amebic dysentery, transmitted most frequently by contaminated water supplies occasionally caused by breaks in plumbing, is a chronic type of disease, but the probabilities of cure are good with a proper laboratory and clinical diagnosis and treatment, Dr. MacDonald said.

DR. MACDONALD and Dr. Irving H. Borts, director of the State Bacteriological Laboratory and Professor of Hygiene and Preventive Medicine, will direct the seminar, which is being given at the request of the Iowa Society of Medical Technologists.

Assisting in the course work will be Robert Evans, Assistant Profes-

Little Rock 'School Dance'

'RELAXED TENSION' PREVAILS at Little Rock's Central High as Arkansas' Gov. Orval Faubus heads for personal consultation with President Eisenhower at Newport, R.I. White students quickly turned to their normal forms of entertainment, staging an informal street dance in front of the school while National Guardsmen look on.

Classify Civil War Data 'Secret' Reasons Given By Wilson Called 'Absurd'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. John E. Moss (D-Calif.) said Thursday that Secretary of Defense Wilson has barred House investigators from the security clearance files of a Civil War book review.

"Absurd" was the way Moss described the Defense Department's citation of the constitutional separation of powers between Congress and the executive branch as a reason for refusing access to such files.

In a letter to Asst. Secretary of Defense Murray Snyder which Moss made public, the congressman also requested information on Defense Department censorship of speeches by some of the nation's top military leaders.

Justice Black Marries

A SURPRISE ANNOUNCEMENT Thursday disclosed the marriage of Justice Hugo L. Black, second oldest member of the U.S. Supreme Court, to his 49-year-old secretary, Mrs. Elizabeth Seay DeMeritte.

The 71-year-old jurist quietly obtained a marriage license Wednesday at the courthouse in Alexandria, Va., and was married in a 5 p.m. ceremony in the Black home in Alexandria.

The wedding was performed by the Rev. Dr. A. Powell Davies, of All Souls Unitarian Church of Washington.

It was the second marriage for both the jurist and his aide. Justice Black's first wife died in 1951. They had been married 30 years.

Mrs. DeMeritte and her first husband were divorced some years ago.

Detroit Mayor Cobo Dies of Heart Attack

DETROIT (AP) — Albert E. Cobo, 63, Detroit's mayor since 1950, died Thursday night of a heart attack.

The attack was the second he had suffered in five years.

The mayor collapsed at his home at 9:30 a.m., shortly after the arrival of a doctor he had summoned because of recurring chest pains.

He had returned to Detroit only Wednesday night from Washington, where he had testified in a gas case before the Federal Power Commission.

He was the unsuccessful Republican candidate for governor last year.

Dr. Basil B. Hunter said Cobo told him he felt chest pains in Washington but did not consult a doctor there.

The mayor was removed to Henry Ford Hospital at 12:45 p.m. in critical condition. He died at 8:18 p.m.

He suffered his first heart attack, a severe one, April 24, 1952.

Louis Miriani, City Council president took over as acting mayor at Cobo's death.

Miriani himself won nomination Tuesday for mayor and will oppose John Beck, who ran a poor second, in a Nov. 5 election.

Cobo declined to seek re-election.

Wealthy Reformer Commits Suicide

NEW YORK (AP) — Clendenin J. Ryan, 52, wealthy and tempestuous campaigner for political reforms, shot himself to death Thursday.

His body was found in the bathroom of his mansion off Central Park. The grandson of the late financier, Thomas Fortune Ryan, was the third member of the family to take his own life.

His father, Clendenin J. Ryan, Sr., committed suicide by gas in the same five-story town house Aug. 21, 1939.

The younger Ryan's cousin, Joseph B. Ryan, leaped from a 22nd floor New York hotel window just seven years ago Thursday.

Clendenin Ryan served in the administration of reform Mayor Fiorello La Guardia in the 1930's and later unsuccessfully sought election on an independent ticket as Governor of New Jersey, where he also had a home.

A motive for his suicide was not made known immediately, but he had been in a nervous mental state.

Ryan had been named defendant in a $155,000 breach of contract suit brought by television producer Martha Rountree and Oliver M. Presbrey, her husband.

They alleged that Ryan had promised to back them financially in a magazine to be called "Know the Facts."

An attorney for Ryan pleaded that Ryan's mental state prevented him from testifying, but a judge ruled he must do so and a hearing was set for Oct. 1.

Ryan left notes to his wife and other persons but police did not disclose the contents.

Michael Graney, an attorney, was at the Ryan home at the time of the shooting and had conferred with him a short time before.

Graney told police that Ryan went to the bathroom about 7:30 a.m., asking the lawyer to "excuse me a moment."

The lawyer heard the shot, and a short time later found the body on the floor.

Ryan's head had been pierced by a single shot from a pistol. The notes were on the basin.

Besides his widow and son, Michael, Ryan is survived by four other children ranging in age from 19 to 1 1/2 years.

POLISH ARRIVE

AMES (AP) — A five-man delegation from Poland making a farm tour of the United States arrived here Thursday to start a first-hand study of agriculture in Iowa.

Dr. Jan M. Kielanowski, head of the delegation, said "the professors at your Iowa State College are very well known in Poland and we felt this was an ideal place to start a study to assist Polish agriculture."

SAFETY HONORS

CHICAGO (AP) — The National Safety Council Thursday honored 15 U.S. and Canadian railroads for outstanding public safety programs.

Iowa Colleges Losing Fewer Staff Members

DES MOINES (AP) — The stream of faculty members leaving Iowa's state-owned schools for higher salaries in other colleges has almost stopped, presidents of the institutions reported Thursday.

SUI President Virgil M. Hancher told the State Board of Regents that competitive losses from the university faculty this year are smaller than in previous years.

"I think we are about like the university," said Dr. James H. Hill, president of Iowa State College. "We have not yet lost any major faculty members this year."

President J. W. Maueker of Iowa State Teachers College, reported that the turnover on his faculty is "much improved."

The Board of Regents asked the 1957 Iowa Legislature for an 8 1/2 per cent increase in faculty salary budgets and the lawmakers voted almost the full amount.

Last year the board reported that faculty resignations were running about twice the normal rate. The loss of key staff members to other colleges and private industry due to economic competition was cited as the No. 1 major problem of the state schools.

Wisc. Senator Proxmire Asks Ike To Fire Benson

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Proxmire (D-Wis.) Thursday asked President Eisenhower to fire Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson.

This, Proxmire said, would be in accordance with the will of the people. He said this was demonstrated by his election victory last month.

In a telegram to the President, the freshman senator said a recheck of the Aug. 27 ballots "is an unmistakable repudiation of Secretary Benson and the farm policies which he has advocated."

"I promised to oppose him — Benson — with all my power," Proxmire said. "Farm voters endorsed my position by a landslide vote of 2-1."

Negro Withdraws Daughter From 'White' School

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP) — Dorothy Counts, one of four Negro children admitted to Charlotte schools last week, is withdrawing from Harding High School.

The Rev. H. L. Counts announced Thursday night he is taking his 15-year-old daughter from the previously all-white school where students have hounded her in the corridors and outside the building.

"It is with compassion for our native land and love for our daughter, Dorothy, that we withdraw her as a student at Harding High School," the minister told a reporter.

"As long as we felt that she could be protected from bodily injury and insults within the school walls and upon the school premises, we were willing to grant her desire to study at Harding."

"Contrary to this optimistic view, her experiences at school on Wednesday disillusioned our faith and left us no alternative."

J. P. Hobson, vice chairman of the Charlotte City School Board, commented:

"We've had no report from anybody that we have had any misconduct within the school confines that would give reason for withdrawal of any student."

While we sympathize with the girl and her parents, we do not feel there is justification for withdrawal . . .

Wednesday, Dorothy said, white boys hurled an eraser and then a sharp pointed piece of tin at her back.

One group smashed in the rear window of the Counts family car as Herman Counts waited for his younger sister to come out of Harding at lunchtime.

Last week, Dorothy's classmates spat on her and shouted insults she won't repeat.

But her mother said Dorothy didn't seem frightened until Wednesday.

"I just don't know what they might do," Dorothy said Thursday. "I thought they'd get adjusted to me, but . . . I just don't want anything to happen to me physically and I'd die if they hurt my parents."

Counts said frankly he made out the transfer applications for his children to go to white schools "for the cause."

"This separate but equal thing. It doesn't work. Segregation carries a note of second-class citizenship."

"We live very near Harding and far away from West Charlotte High — a Negro school."

"We felt we were the ones to take the step. The boys' applications were turned down."

"That left it to Dorothy."

"I expected opposition. But never anything like this."

Army Issues Draft Call For 7000 in November

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army Thursday issued a draft call for 7,000 men in November.

This is the same number previously announced for October, and is 1,000 under the September quota. The new call brings to 2,253,430 the total number drafted or earmarked for induction since the resumption of selective service in September 1950.

The Defense Department has indicated that draft calls will remain at about the 7,000 level for some months to come.
