New York Teamsters Ask Courts To Block Elections

Social Flurry

IN WHAT HAS BECOME an annual flurry of excitement at Currier Hall, freshman pledges to SUI sororities make their way through a throng of boys to their respective houses for pledging ceremonies. At four-thirty yesterday afternoon Clinton street, in front of Currier Hall, was jammed by students gathered for the occasion. A total of two-hundred and fifty-eight girls pledged SUI's 13 sororities. Wednesday, one-hundred and ninety men pledged 16 fraternities. (More photos on page six).

IFC To Discipline Three Fraternities

By TOM SLATTERY
Daily Iowan Editor

Three fraternity chapters — Sigma Nu, Delta Tau Delta, and Beta Theta Pi — volunteered guilt of rushing rules infractions and have been referred to the Interfraternity Council (IFC), court for disciplinary action, the Office of Student Affairs revealed today.

"The IFC has been given the opportunity to prove that it is capable of dealing with its own disciplinary problems," Dave Dutton, A4, president of the IFC said.

In the past, the Office of Student Affairs has dealt with such infractions.

"This is an indication of the growing trust in the maturity of student groups on the part of the University Administration," Dutton said.

The infractions were brought to light when members of the rush committee — set up to supervise rush activities — overheard "exuberant" rushees in private conversation.

"There were no complaints," Dutton said, "so it would have been easy for the rush committee to keep the whole thing quiet.

"Instead, they decided to take action. The presidents of the organizations involved volunteered their guilt," he said, adding that "they feel the only way to stop such violations is to develop a sense of responsibility within the individual houses."

The IFC court, composed of 7 house presidents led by a "Chief Justice," will meet within a week to decide what measures to take against the offending fraternities.

Their decision will be final.

"Instead of a negative punishment, the IFC plans a constructive program designed to make the fraternity prove its worth to the IFC and the University. This program will include service-to-the-community projects," Dutton said.

The three houses involved cannot formally pledge rushees, but will be allowed to rush with the other fraternities after Oct. 1.

U.S. Hopes Armstrong Makes Tour

WASHINGTON (AP) — That sour note trumpeted by Louis (Satchmo) Armstrong brought from the State Department Thursday a soft song of hope he will tour behind the Iron Curtain as unofficial ambassador of good will.

The department said, through its chief spokesman, Lincoln White:

"Mr. Armstrong has made a tremendous hit wherever he has gone and we've always been pleased when he traveled abroad."

White stressed he had "no comment on such political overtones as there may have been" in Armstrong's outburst Wednesday.

Armstrong, a Negro, told newsmen in Grand Forks, N.D., he has given up plans for a Government-sponsored trip to Russia. He said "the way they are treating my people in the South, the Government can go to hell."

Armstrong also said President Eisenhower had "no guts" and is "two-faced," in commenting on school integration disputes in Arkansas.

In Sioux Falls, S.D., Thursday, Armstrong said "I got my feelings off my chest yesterday and I'm not saying anything more."

White told a news conference that a representative of Armstrong discussed with the State Department two months ago a possible Satchmo tour of Eastern Europe, including Russia, next spring.

Claim Hoffa Has 'Rigged' Outcome

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Federal court suit to block the election of new officers by the Teamsters Union was filed Thursday by a group of New York City area members who charged fraud.

THE PLAINTIFFS claimed that more than 80 per cent of the delegates to the union's convention, scheduled to start Sept. 30 at Miami Beach, have been handpicked by James R. Hoffa and other Teamsters officials to "rig" Hoffa's election to the Teamsters' presidency.

The suit asked for an injunction to bar convention election of new officers until such time as new delegates are chosen by rank-and-file members.

The suit was filed in behalf of the New York Teamsters members by the Washington law firm of Dodd, Kaplan & Schmidt.

HANDLING the litigation is Godfrey Schmidt, former counsel for the New York State Labor Department and the attorney who last year gave the Teamsters hierarchy its worst legal licking in memory.

Shcmidt represented Martin T. Lacey, president of the New York area Teamsters District Council, in a successful suit against counting votes of seven "paper" or phony Teamsters locals chartered with Hoffa's help.

Lacey, the incumbent, was opposed by John T. O'Rourke, backed by Hoffa. Although Lacey won the election when the "paper" locals' votes were thrown out, O'Rourke finally took over the job after Lacey resigned.

O'ROURKE RECENTLY invoked the Fifth Amendment in avoiding questions by the Senate Rackets Committee about the alleged effort to rig the election for him.

Schmidt said he expected to go to court today to seek a temporary restraining order against holding elections at the coming convention.

He said he will seek to have a receiver appointed to insure honest selection of a new batch of delegates.

Hoffa is the front-running candidate for president of the 1½-million-member union.

The court action came as convention managers, undaunted by AFL-CIO charges that the Teamsters Union is dominated by corrupt leaders, planned a hearts-and-flowers farewell for retiring President Dave Beck.

Hoffa, already in Miami Beach for a meeting of the union's Executive Board, said, "I still think I will be elected" despite findings by the AFL-CIO Ethical Practices Committee.

The committee Wednesday delivered what virtually amounted to an ultimatum to the Teamsters Union to rid itself of Hoffa, Beck and some other leaders or suffer expulsion from the parent labor federation.

Hoffa said the Teamsters have run their own affairs for many years and can continue to do so.

Beck, who is stepping down in the wake of charges before the Senate investigators that he misused large amounts of union money, said he expects to be exonerated at the union convention.

Boarding a plane in New York for Miami Beach, Beck insisted to reporters that he was innocent of any wrongdoing.

It appeared that he not only will continue to draw $50,000 a year from the Teamsters treasury but may also be given the honorary title "president emeritus."

Giving the 63-year-old Beck an "emeritus" standing would be against the explicit warning of the AFL-CIO.

Under the Teamsters constitution, a man retired with emeritus status continues receiving the same remuneration as while holding active office.

In Beck's case it is a $50,000-a-year salary, plus expenses.

But in any event Beck could get $50,000 retirement pay from a liberal union officers' pension plan.

Accident Scatters Cyanide Flakes In Street, Danger Past

THAMESVILLE, Ont. (AP) — An army of volunteers Thursday scraped away 25,000 pounds of poisonous cyanide flakes accidentally spilled through the center of town.

The 1,100 townspeople sighed with relief Thursday night in the midst of lingering but diminishing danger.

Neutralizing chemicals were being sped here under police escort to destroy the last menace to the town's water supply.

The sodium cyanide was spilled for more than 300 feet along the railroad right-of-way shortly before midnight Wednesday when a Canadian National Railways passenger train sliced through a tractor-trailer carrying the cyanide from the E. I. du Pont Co., in Buffalo to Detroit.

The engine crew received some burns. The truck driver received shoulder injuries.

But Thamesville feared the worst from the cyanide dust that heaped two to three feet high in some spots.

The villagers saw in the spilled flakes dust that would burn and choke, contaminate water supplies and send up lethal fumes.

It developed the danger was never as bad as suspected.

Dr. Grant Berry, Kent County medical officer, said the situation was serious because the chemicals endangered the area's water supply.

THE JUDGES WHO WILL RULE on the constitutionality of four Arkansas segregation acts met in Little Rock, Ark., Thursday to study the case, which was brought forth by ten Negro ministers who have challenged the constitutionality of the state laws. The judges are, from left, U.S. District Judge John E. Miller of Fort Smith, Ark.; U.S. Appeals Judge Martin D. Van Oosterhout of Orange City, Iowa, and U.S. District Judge Ronald N. Davies of Fargo, N.D.

Faubus Ignores Court, Wants Davies Out

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — Gov. Orval E. Faubus, taking the offensive, struck back at the Federal Government Thursday with two last-minute legal actions before Friday's crucial court hearing on his use of the National Guard to bar Negroes from a Little Rock high school.

First, he refused to honor a federal subpoena summoning him to court as a defendant in a suit involving four recently passed Arkansas segregation laws.

A few hours later, his attorneys moved to disqualify U.S. Dist. Judge Ronald Davies — scheduled to hear the National Guard case Friday — on grounds that Davies is prejudiced against Faubus.

Davies himself will have to rule on the motion to disqualify.

Reporters asked Faubus if, having flouted one subpoena, he will obey the second, summoning him to court Friday.

"You just wait and see," the Governor replied.

He was smiling, almost casual in his manner.

At Newport, R.I., President Eisenhower's vacation headquarters said Thursday he is "deeply disappointed" that there has been no voluntary progress toward school integration in Little Rock this week.

Mr. Eisenhower's view was reported by Wayne Hawks, acting White House press secretary in answer to a news conference question.

Hawks said he had talked with Eisenhower earlier in anticipation of some questions about Little Rock.

The Arkansas Democrat reported in a copyrighted story Thursday that if Davies orders Faubus to withdraw the Guardsmen from Central High School in Friday's hearing, the Governor will obey.

Then, the Democrat said, he will wash his hands of all responsibility for any violence — which he has predicted from the first — that may break out in Little Rock.

He will also carry his fight to a higher court, the newspaper said, by appealing to the 8th Circuit Court of Appeals in St. Louis.

And if necessary, he will go all the way to the Supreme Court, the report said, in an all-out fight for the rights of the states as against the powers of the Federal Government.

The subpoena that Faubus defied ordered him to appear before a three-judge panel in a suit brought by 10 Negro ministers.

They asked the judges to set aside legislation, passed this year by the state Legislature, to preserve segregation in Arkansas schools.

The judges granted a motion to postpone the hearing on this suit.

A somewhat similar suit is due for a hearing in a state court.

They put back any further federal hearing, pending the outcome there.

In refusing to obey the summons to the hearing on the suit brought by the 10 ministers, Faubus told the court in a letter:

"Almost from the very beginning of our Republic, it has been uniformly held that the chief executive is not compelled to comply with a subpoena unless he chooses to do so.

"In this particular case, because of the obvious ulterior motive of those who obtained the subpoena, I do not choose to comply with it."

There was no immediate indication in Federal court as to whether action may be taken to punish Faubus for denying its authority to come to court.

U.S. Could Have Made Same Claim As Russ on ICBM

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Wilson said Thursday that the United States months ago could have made the same claim the Russians did last August — that they had launched an intercontinental ballistic missile.

Wilson said the Russian claim probably was true. But, he added, "It didn't say much,"

The Soviet announcement of Aug. 26 said:

"The missile flew at a very high, unprecedented altitude. Covering a huge distance in a brief time, the missile landed in the target area.

The result obtained showed that it is possible to direct missiles into any part of the world."

This claim created a sensation at the time and world concern about the Russian progress has continued.

In support of Wilson's attitude, it was noted at the Pentagon that the Russians used the vague term "a huge distance" without specifying miles.

"The United States could have said the same thing months ago," Wilson said.

He said he doesn't believe the Russians have such an ICBM in operational use but they will have some day "and so will we."

Students See Three Held In Red China

SHANGHAI (AP) — Some of the young Americans touring Red China visited three American prisoners and were chided by one Thursday for "breaking U.S. law."

Hugh Redmond of Yonkers, N. Y., serving a life sentence on charges of spying, told his visitors he thought they were violating American law by entering Red China in defiance of passport regulations.

The others visited were two Roman Catholic priests, Father Joseph Patrick McCormick, 64, New York City, the Maryknoll Mission, Ossining, N. Y., and Father John Paul Wagner, 50, of Pittsburgh.

Father McCormick has been imprisoned since 1953, charged with informing.

The sentences of both priests expire June 19, 1958.

They were cautious in what they had to say. They said they had no political interests.

Redmond, who with the priests lives in a house separated from the city prison, told the Americans he was badly treated at first and lost all his teeth from beriberi.

He said he had been better treated in the last year.

Redmond formerly a businessman, said he had not worked for the Central Intelligence Agency as charged by Red China. Redmond's white Russian wife lives in Milwaukee, Wis.

Dulles Says Russia Risks Mideast War

Syria May Charge 'U.S. Aggression'

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Secretary of State Dulles Thursday accused the Soviet Union of risking war by threatening Turkey and building up Communist arms in Syria.

He charged the Soviets with engaging in acts apparently aimed at impairing the freedom and independence of some Middle East nations, and called upon the United Nations to take up the situation.

Dulles made the statements in a major policy speech to the 82-nation U.N. General Assembly.

It dwelt mainly on the Middle East and disarmament.

Dulles said the Soviet Union had no monopoly on use of outer space — an apparent reference to Soviet claims of having the intercontinental ballistic missile.

"The Soviet Union has announced it has discovered ways to use outer space to wreak vast destruction anywhere," Dulles declared.

"That is no new discovery. The United States, too, knows how that can be done. Our task is to see that it is not done."

Dulles said Soviet actions in the Middle East constitute a violation of a U.N. resolution calling for member nations to refrain from intimidating other countries, and the General Assembly "ought at least to discuss it."

He added that the United States "reserves the right, in the light of that discussion, to introduce concrete proposals."

A U.S. delegation spokesman said the United States had no firm proposals ready at this time, nor any specific Middle East issue to submit for U.N. discussion.

Syria has said it may bring charges in the U.N. of aggression against the United States.

Jawdat Mufti, a member of the Syrian U.N. delegation, commented that his country "has no intention of threatening any of its neighbors."

SUI Fraternities Plan Leadership Retreat

Presidents and pledge trainers of the 19 social fraternities at SUI are attending a two-day Leadership Retreat which opened today at the Wapsie YMCA Camp near Cedar Rapids.

Serving as consultants to the 39 fraternity leaders in preparing for the coming year's activities will be Joseph D. Boyd, Dean of Men at Northwestern University, and Richard Fletcher, national executive secretary of Sigma Nu fraternity, Lexington, Va.

Dean Dewey B. Stuit of the SUI College of Liberal Arts will speak on "The Future of Fraternities at Iowa" at a dinner meeting this evening. Fletcher will discuss "The Task of Fraternities." Dean Boyd will be the luncheon speaker Saturday.

In 2nd Major Reduction, Wilson To—

Cut Military 100,000

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Wilson, to save money, Thursday ordered another 100,000-man cut in the military forces.

He said, too, that 35,000 to 40,000 civilians will have to be dropped from defense payrolls.

"We couldn't wait any longer," Wilson told a news conference.

"We are so close to the debt limit that the Treasury can't even borrow the money."

The legal limit on the national debt is 275 billion dollars, a figure set by Congress.

While he cited the debt limit as a pressing factor, Wilson did not seem concerned by security aspects.

He said the reduction can be achieved "without impairment of our national security."

★ ★ ★

The reduction was approved by President Eisenhower, the secretary reported.

Last July 16, Wilson ordered a 100,000-man cut in the military forces. That reduction, coupled with the new one Thursday of the same size, would save an estimated one billion dollars.

The Defense Department is trying to keep all spending within 38 billion dollars.

The two cuts together would bring the total armed strength down to 2,600,000 instead of the 2,800,000 which had been authorized for the fiscal year which began last July 1.

Wilson, who is retiring next month, said it would seem fair to assume that another cut will be attempted, perhaps in connection with budget plans to be submitted to Congress in January.

Thursday's 100,000-man cut is to be put into effect as soon as possible and not later than next June 30.

Wilson said the services ought to be able to take it in stride, since they are already working out the first cut, with a deadline of Dec. 31.

Wilson said the newly ordered 100,000 manpower cut among the services will mean that the Air Force will have to drop at least four wings, the Army will have to deactivate one additional division and the Navy will have to lay up more ships.

AP Wirephoto

SECRETARY OF DEFENSE Charles Wilson tells newsmen of an additional cut in armed services of 100,000 men. At left, assistant secretary Wilfred J. McNeil — in charge of department's budget — notes that the cut is based on available money. The Air Force will lose four wings, Army one division, and Navy will "mothball" more ships. An additional 35,000 to 40,000 civilians will be dropped.

Hold Radiation Underground In A-Bomb Blast

ATOMIC TEST SITE, Nev. (AP) — History's first full scale underground atomic bomb test was conducted Thursday with puffs of dust and falling rocks the only surface effects.

Nuclear scientists, who hoped to show the world that A-weapons can be tested without liberating potential harmful radioactivity, had reason to cheer.

Earthquake specialists, who had hoped to learn new secrets about the earth's interior, will get less than expected — probably new data only on its rocky crust.

The small bomb — with a force equal to between 1,000 and 3,000 tons of TNT — was fired in a chamber 800 feet from the top of a lonely desert mesa.

Scientists at more than 600 earthquake recording stations around the globe had looked forward to the unprecedented test, hoping the blast's shock waves would race to the earth's heart and encircle it via its rocky outer crust.

But the mesa sopped up the waves like a sponge and a leading quake expert said he doubts even the most sensitive instruments could have detected them 1,000 miles away.

Atomic Energy Commission scientists announced after the dust settled that absolutely no radioactivity had escaped.

School Daze

Principal Of The Thing? No — His Son

MORLEY (AP) — Thirteen-year-old Thomas Greenawald, was back in school in this Jones County town Thursday with two weeks of trouble behind him.

His misfortunes began when he was burned about the hands and face while helping his mother who was cooking a roast. A short time later he fell off his bicycle into a barbed-wire fence.

While nursing injuries from that mishap he had tonsilitis. He had recovered from that ailment when he went to bed with bronchial pneumonia.

The boy is the son of Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Greenawald. His father is superintendent of schools here.

Cooler Man, Cooler

An unseasonably cold air mass poised over Montana and the Dakotas the past few days, pushed rapidly southeastward Thursday to cover all except southeast portions of Iowa.

Temperatures fell rapidly in most areas and winds turned northerly, dropping temperatures as low as 52 degrees at Sioux City.

At mid-afternoon, however, southerly winds still prevailed in the southeast to keep the mercury at warm levels.

Much cooler temperatures are forecast for today with the mercury ranging generally in the 50s.

Lows 39-45, highs in the 50s.

The outlook for Saturday is for partly cloudy skies and cool temperatures.

Pilot Dies In Flight

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — A Northwest Orient airliner with 62 passengers aboard made an emergency landing at Madison's Municipal Airport Thursday with the plane commander dead in his seat.

First Officer Arthur J. Steadman Jr., 33, of Farmington, Minn., landed the aircraft safely while the passengers expressed a mild curiosity over what was leading them to an unscheduled stop.

Fatally stricken in the air was Capt. Alfred H. Lohmar, a 51-year-old veteran of 18 years with Northwest.

Steadman said that the four-engine DC6B was on automatic control in bright September weather, somewhere between Lone Rock, Wis., and Rockford, Ill., on its Minneapolis-Chicago run, when the life and death drama began.

Capt. Lohmar, who was from Minneapolis, said, "I feel hot."

A moment later the pilot asked for oxygen, which the flight engineer, Frederick Staudt, 35, also of Minneapolis, administered.

Shortly thereafter he slumped over in his seat and died.

Capt. Lohmar, married and the father of a 17-year-old son, had logged more than 16,000 hours in the air for Northwest.

The line said he had no history of physical ailments.

'Maybe They'll Let Me Crawl Into It!'

While The World Watches

The United States Government has lost the support of one of its staunchest friends — one Louis "Satchmo" Armstrong. In a strong statement to the press, "Pops" cancelled a goodwill tour to Russia for the State Department and said the Government could "go to hell."

Yet it seems only yesterday that he was in England answering questions on racial troubles in the U.S. by explaining that when a few Southerners got hold of some of that bad whiskey, "something was bound to happen."

Satchmo's appearance in Europe and on the African Gold Coast are generally admitted to have done more to create good will in these countries toward the United States than any amount of dollars in aid could have.

Yet now, "Pops" has decided that he doesn't want anything more to do with the U.S. Government because of "the way they are treating my people in the South."

If a man who has done so much for his country against such inherent adverse circumstances — if such a man can become so embittered, we hesitate to imagine the effects the Governor of Arkansas' actions are causing in Africa, Syria, China, India, Japan, Israel, Malaya —

In this cold war of propaganda, Communists have not hesitated to use the situation in Arkansas to their advantage.

Since it is a fact that actions speak louder than words, the only way the United States will regain some measure of the stature it is already certain to have lost is to deny Red "persecution" charges with refutation by positive action.

The responsibility for this course lies with the Federal Government — and with President Eisenhower.

Gesundheit, Goodbye!

Well, they've done it.

A couple of days ago the only way to combat the common cold was to let it get worse until finally pneumonia set in — the doctors could cure that.

This was a cherished topic of conversation, a sort of homespun bon mot that gave everyone a chance to exhibit his sense of humor. It was almost a part of our American heritage.

But now they've done it.

A Johns Hopkins scientist claims he's developed a vaccine effective against the common cold virus. This type of thing goes against the grain.

The next thing you know, someone will actually DO something about the weather.

Iowa City School Study Council Schedules First General Meeting

The School Study Council will hold its next meeting at 8 p.m., Sept. 25 in the Junior High School auditorium. This will be the first general meeting since the organization of the Council in May.

Many of the Council committees have been active during the summer and two of them — Finance and Plant — will give reports at next week's session.

Prof. Jerry Kollros and Mrs. L. Swails are co-chairmen of the Finance committee and Robert Alderman is chairman of the Plant committee with Mrs. Richard Carfrae as vice-chairman.

Since the Council meeting will call for a number of significant decisions relative to the activities of the organization, all members are being strongly urged to attend.

The Council was organized to study the Iowa City public school system and to recommend and support needed improvements in the community's educational facilities.

STOP TEST

TOKYO, Tuesday (AP) — Japan asked the United States Tuesday to cancel its planned 1958 nuclear tests in the Pacific, for humanitarian reasons.

The United States refused saying that without an east-west agreement on disarmament the tests are essential to security of the free world.

MIDGET MARAUDER?

LOWELL, Mass. (AP) — Police are looking for a filling station thief, two of whose dimensions are less than 8 by 12 inches.

He got a few cartons of cigarettes, a pair of pliers and small change from the cigarette machine.

Police say the thief entered by prying a grill from an 8 by 12 inch ventilator and crawling through it.

Former Resident Of Iowa City Writes New Book

Betty Baxter Anderson, former women's editor of the Iowa City Press-Citizen, is the author of a new juvenile book, "Alabama Raider."

Material for this — her eighteenth book — was gleaned from an inheritance which included a 10 volume "Photographic History of the Civil War" and 10 bound volumes of "Harper's Illustrated Weekly, 1861-1870."

"Alabama Raider" tells how the Confederate ship, Alabama, spent two years destroying or capturing almost half of the Union merchantmen until she met her match in a spectacular sea battle off Cherbourg in 1864.

Mrs. Anderson's work is included in the "Iowa Authors" room at the SUI Library.

Local Community Chest To Open Drive Oct. 7

The 1957 Iowa City Community Chest Fund Drive will be conducted Oct. 7-12, E. R. (Stub) Williams, 525 S. Lucas, fund drive chairman, announced.

The major effort of the drive to raise more than $39,000 will be aimed at a house-to-house canvass of all residents of the community. Separate solicitation campaigns are planned to cover professional persons, business establishments and the Veterans Administration Hospital.

The business, professional and VA Hospital drives are expected to provide nearly $20,000 and a quota of $20,000 has been established for the residential drive, Williams said.

"This is approximately three dollars for every family living in the community," he pointed out, to emphasize how easily the Chest goal could be realized.

Three additional vice-chairmen are needed to complete the fund-raising crew, Williams said. Two are needed to supervise the contacting with business firms in Iowa City.

Donald Rhoades, 1538 Rochester Ave., will conduct the drive in the residential areas west of the Iowa River. Vernon Naggatz, 407 Bowery St., will have responsibility for the residential area east of the Iowa River and south of Iowa Avenue.

Dr. William Spector, 1215 Melrose, and Fred Fluegel, 521 East College St., will contact professional persons in Iowa City. Glenn Jablonski, 1105 Ginter Ave., will take charge of the campaign in the city schools.

Robert Rollins, 103 Grove St., will contact national firms operating in Iowa City, and George Bell, 1425 Franklin, will head the drive in the VA Hospital.

No solicitation of State University of Iowa employees at their place of work is planned. Recently announced policy of the State Board of Regents banning fund drives in institutions under its control, authorized the administration to make exception for a united or Community Chest fund drive. However, in order to avoid unproductive double solicitation of university staff members, the exception has not been made.

In a letter to the Community Chest Board of Directors on Sept. 6, President Virgil M. Hancher said, ". . . the possibility of a dual solicitation in past years has in itself created a good many problems because some families find to their chagrin that they have contributed twice, and others, we strongly suspect, hide behind that shield to make no contribution at all . . .

"I think you will find the University faculty and staff as generous as they have been in the past, and we shall make our mailing service available to your organization at cost for the disseminaton of any announcements you wish to make once prior to or during your campaign."

New Hall for West Berlin

AMERICAN-DESIGNED CONGRESS HALL, partially financed with American money, was formally opened in West Berlin Thursday. The gleaming white convention hall, with an ultra-modern upswept roof, stands within a few hundred yards of Soviet-run East Berlin. Its $4,800,000 conference facilities are comparable to the United Nations building in New York City, although less than half in size.

Training Dates Set For Girl Scout Heads

Basic Leaders Training for new Girl Scout troop leaders will begin Sept. 30 at 1:30 p.m. at the Iowa City Girl Scout Office, according to Mrs. Hugh Carson, executive director of Cardinal Council of Girl Scouts.

Additional leaders are still needed for Brownie and Intermediate troops in grade schools, Mrs. Carson says. Leaders need not have a child in a troop. Times for later meetings in the training course will be set at the Sept. 30 session to suit the convenience of those participating.

A course to prepare trainers of troop leaders will begin Sept. 24, with instruction to be given by Mrs. Kirby Webster, Girl Scout Community advisor from the Kansas City, Mo., branch office of Girl Scouts. Mrs. Carson will assist Mrs. Webster.

The 5-day course will be open to Girl Scout troop leaders or past leaders who can give some time to the training of other leaders. Meetings will be held Sept. 24, 25, 26 in Muscatine and Oct. 8 and 9 in Iowa City.

Training for administrative personnel of Cardinal and Muscatine Councils will be given by Mrs. Kirby Webster, Oct. 7, at 7:15 p.m. the local Girl Scout office.

October 29 has been set by the Board of Cardinal Council for the annual fall meeting of the Council. It will be held at Longfellow School in Iowa City, with Mrs. Doyle O'Rear, second vice-president, in charge of the program.

Last Orientation Leaders School Set For Saturday

A final training school for Orientation leaders and assistants will be held Saturday at 9:15 a.m. in the Chemistry Auditorium. This meeting is definitely required for all Orientation workers, according to Sandy Swengel, A4, and Don Sherk, A4, general chairmen.

At 11 a.m., the leaders and assistants will meet with their respective new student groups in designated rooms around the campus.

Educator Tells Of Critical Shortage Of Therapists

DES MOINES (AP) — A "critical" shortage of trained personnel is the major roadblock in providing adequate programs for handicapped children in schools, Iowans were told Thursday.

D. D. Lange, supervisor of special education for the Iowa Public Instruction Department, pointed up the teacher problem at a conference of city and county special education supervisors.

About 70 Iowans from throughout the state attended.

O'Malley Resumes Negotiations With L.A. Officials

Dodger Boss Doesn't Expect Aid Approval

NEW YORK (AP) — Walter O'Malley, tired and fed up by what he calls "vacillating action" on the part of New York City's Board of Estimate, has resumed negotiations with Los Angeles as the final step toward moving his Brooklyn Dodgers to California.

Dodger officials and Los Angeles officials held a long, private powwow in Los Angeles Thursday, evidently trying to put down in black and white the legal and technical terms of the Dodgers-to-Los Angeles deal. When they adjourned for the day, they said they would meet again today.

Henry J. Walsh, Dodger attorney, said after the meeting:

"They made us an offer and we went over it just like any group of lawyers would."

O'Malley Wednesday informed New York City Mayor Robert Wagner that the Los Angeles offer is "very fair and attractive." It offered land, money and oil and mineral rights to O'Malley if he would bring his team to the California city.

"If I had to bet," the Associated Press informant said, "I'd bet that the Dodgers will go to Los Angeles."

The truth is that O'Malley does not expect the Board of Estimate to approve the plan offered by millionaire Nelson A. Rockefeller Wednesday whereby he would lend financial aid to the city and to O'Malley in the Dodgers' efforts to get land in downtown Brooklyn on which to build a new stadium.

"The board has had 24 hours to consider the proposal," the informant said, "and so far it has done nothing. O'Malley is tired and fed up with this kind of vacillating."

O'Malley's current resentment stems from the statement made late Wednesday by Mayor Wagner that the Board of Estimate had merely had exploratory discussion of the Rockefeller plan.

Benny Adds Weight To Small Line

LIBERTY, Mo. (AP) — The William Jewell College football line gets just a little snug when Benny Disselhoff gets the nod from the coach's bench.

Benny weighs 341.

The 20-year-old sophomore from Kansas City fills the spot at center. His mates on the line will average about 185. They are faster over the distance, but Benny can move those 341 pounds surprisingly fast in a dash.

Benny loves to eat. A typical breakfast for him includes two glasses of fruit juice, four scrambled eggs, three pieces of toast, four pieces of bacon, a quart of milk and two bowls of cereal. Other meals are on the same scale.

Football gear was a little problem. The college had to have several outfits made to order to cover his over-stuffed 6-foot-2 frame.

Benny is majoring in physical education and plans to go into coaching.

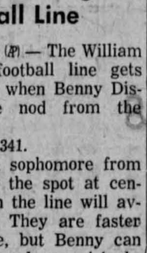
In high school, he played the tuba, an instrument to which he gives lots of credit for developing his wind.

"There are lots of parts when you are playing the tuba when you have to go a long ways without taking a breath," he explained.

Moore Puts Light Heavyweight Title On Line Tonight

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Archie Moore, the distinguished antique of the ring from California, puts his world light heavyweight championship on the line for the sixth time tonight and it might just happen that boyish Tony Anthony of New York will take it.

The two go into the ring at the Olympic Auditorium for 15 rounds or less in a nationally televised fight (NBC). The time: 8 p.m. (CST).



MOORE

Archie, a remarkable man of more than 40, will be engaging in his 186th professional match. Anthony, who has had but 35 pro fights, was not quite 2 years old when Archie stepped into the ring for the first time.

The two will probably answer the bell at about even money, with Moore possibly a slight favorite.

The 10-point-per-round scoring system will be used — the winner of a round gets 10, the loser 9 or less.

Moore won the light heavyweight championship in St. Louis Dec. 17, 1952, in 15 rounds from Joey Maxim.

LEAPING NELLIE FOX of the Chicago White Sox leaps over sliding Senator outfielder Jim Lemon in Thursday's game at Washington. Fox forced Lemon at second but his throw was too late to get a double play. The White Sox beat the Senators, 7-3, in 13 innings, on homers by Fox and Minnie Minoso. The Sox still trail the league leading Yankees by six games.

White Sox Keep Hopes Alive, Beat Nats in 13

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chicago tore loose for four runs in the 13th inning Thursday and finally overcame the Washington Senators 7-3 to keep their hopes burning faintly in the American League pennant race.

Nellie Fox and Minnie Minoso slammed consecutive homers to account for three runs in the last inning of the marathon struggle with the seventh-place Senators.

With the other clubs idle, the second-ranked Chicago crept up a half-game on the leading New York Yankees but still remained six games behind.

The magic number in the waning days of the season stayed at four. Any combination of four Yankee wins and White Sox defeats will clinch the pennant for the New Yorkers.

FOX

The White Sox employed 20 players, including 6 pitchers, to outlast the Senators in a game played in near silence before 957 paying customers. The paid attendance was smallest of the year in either league.

Sherm Lollar, pinch hitting in the ninth, singled in the 3-all run that sent the game into overtime.

The Sox now need only one more triumph to sew up second place, but they have only 10 games to press their seemingly hopeless case against the Yanks. New York has 8 left.

Great Finish Gives Torpid Jug Victory

DELAWARE, Ohio (AP) — Storming through the dusk from fifth-place, sensational Torpid Thursday won the 12th annual $73,528 Little Brown Jug for three-year-old pacers by taking the rain-delayed third heat at the Delaware County fairgrounds.

The bay son of Knight Dream took the two-division classic in straight heats, winning the first in 2:00.4 and the deciding one in 2:03.2.

Meadow Lands, driven by Del Miller, won the second division heat in 2:01 with the five leaders in each division coming back for the payoff jaunt.

Johnny Simpson, driver of Torpid, became the first ever to win the classic in successive years and the second ever to capture the Hambletonian trot and the "jug" the same season. He won the 1956 pace with Noble Adois and this year's Hambletonian with Hickory Smoke.

Thursday's victory added $27,205.41 to Torpid's two-year earnings which have now reached $182,793.41. In 39 heats, the fast-stepping colt has won 36 times, losing three to Adios Express which finished fifth and second in Thursday's two heats for fourth place in the over-all picture.

After Torpid had taken the first heat and Meadow Lands the second, the runoff was delayed more than two hours because of a heavy rain.

Torpid, in hanging up his sensational win, had to come from behind in both heats. He was away third in the opener behind Morris Eden and Grat Adios, but took the lead at the half from Rober Lee Frost. A driving finish in the stretch gave him the win over Morris Eden by a length.

Karras Outkicks Prescott In Drills

Coach Forest Evashevski paired his first two teams up against each other Thursday as the Hawkeyes worked on their offense, defense, and kicking games.

The second team, under the direction of quarterback Gene Veit, outscored the first team, 12-6, in the half-hour scrimmage. Veit and first string quarterback Randy Duncan both looked sharp in their passing game.

Evy spent considerable time working on punting, punt returns, kickoffs, and extra points.

In the extra point department, tackle Alex Karras, kicking for the first team, outkicked last season's regular kicker, Bob Prescott. Karras kicked five of five, while Prescott converted four out of five times.

Thursday's drill was quite spirited as the first and second teams went all out to beat each other in the various drills.

U-High Entertains Wapello Tonight; City High On Road

University High's Bluehawks open their 1957 Eastern Iowa Hawkeye conference season tonight when they entertain Wapello, while City High's Little Hawks travel to Dubuque in their second Mississippi Valley encounter of the year.

Last week, in the season's openers for the two schools, U-High blasted Kalona, 39-7, and City High tied tough East Moline, Ill.

Starting time for University High is 7:30 on the Iowa practice field north of the stadium. City High is scheduled to meet Dubuque at 7:45 (Daylight Savings Time).

Spirited Cyclone Drill; Play Denver Saturday

AMES (AP) — Members of the Iowa State football team engaged in a spirited drill Thursday on their offensive and defensive games.

Coach Jim Myers cut the session to an hour and a half.

The Cyclones will take a 20-minute workout Friday and then go to Marshalltown to spend the night at the Tallcorn Hotel. They will leave Saturday morning in time for their season opener here against Denver.

Hawks Only Bowl Winner Idle Saturday

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Seven of the 10 college football teams who played in the major bowls last January, including 4 of the 5 winners, are losing no time cashing in on the popularity they gained by playing in post-season games.

The seven swing into action this weekend as the 1957 edition of the intercollegiate gridiron football unfolds with major games in every section of the country. Only Clemson, which dropped a 27-21 decision to Colorado in the Orange Bowl, is not meeting a major opponent. The Tigers take on little Presbyterian.

Iowa, 35-19 conqueror of Oregon State in the Rose Bowl, is the only winner which will wait another week before opening the season. Tennessee, which lost to Baylor 13-7 in the Sugar Bowl, and Syracuse, 28-27 loser to Texas Christian University in the Cotton Bowl, also are idle.

But Georgia Tech and Pitt, who played a 21-14 humdinger in the 'Gator Bowl with the Engineers winning, Colorado, Baylor, TCU and Oregon State all step right into the middle of things.

Georgia Tech, again rated a power in the Southeastern Conference, takes on a Kentucky eleven of unknown quality in the first half of an unusual day-night doubleheader at Atlanta. The Engineers and the Wildcats play in the afternoon. Under the lights, the Texas Longhorns meet Georgia.

Pitt figures in what probably is the game of the week. The Panthers play host to Oklahoma's all-conquering Sooners, the nation's No. 1 team the last two years with 40 straight victories.

Colorado, the only team which offered the Sooners much of an argument last year, opens at Seattle against Washington. Baylor's Bears, who are being overlooked in the Southwest Conference where the Texas Aggies are tabbed as the top eleven, entertains Villanova. TCU is at home for a night game with Kansas. And Oregon State also plays at night, meeting Southern California at Portland, Ore.

The Texas Aggies get a chance to show a national television audience why they are highly regarded. They play crippled Maryland in the NCAA's TV game of the week (NBC-TV, 3 p.m. CST) at Dallas.

Minnesota Boasts Veteran Squad, But Will Play 8 Big Ten Teams

By JERRY LISKA

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — It may be "hats off to thee," indeed, at the University of Minnesota this football season.

Virtually the same Gopher team which finished in a second-place Big Ten tie with Michigan is back this season to assail an unprecedented eight-game conference schedule.

Coach Murray Warmath, starting his fourth Minnesota season, has a whopping big club, two lettermen deep right down the line and quarterbacked by a potential All-American — spirited Bobby Cox.

Minnesota's only loss last season, in nine games, was a 7-0 defeat by the eventual conference and Rose Bowl champion, Iowa's Hawkeyes. The two arch-rivals meet this season Nov. 9 at Iowa City.

Hampered somewhat last year by lack of backfield speed, the Gophers this year have a swift sophomore, Willie Martin, a 182-pounder from Chicago, who could provide the break-away touch needed for a title march.

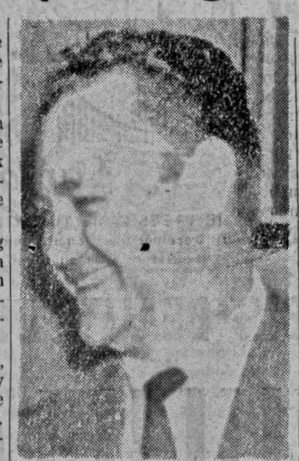
After a non-conference opener with Washington Sept. 28, the Gophers swing into eight straight conference games, meeting every member except Ohio State. The parade comes in this order: Purdue, Northwestern, Illinois, Michigan, Indiana, Iowa, Michigan State and Wisconsin.

"I don't mind the eight-game league schedule too much," said Warmath. "If you lose only one game, you have a percentage edge over the rest of the challengers who might also lose one game."

Among other top-ranked contenders, Ohio State and Michigan play seven conference games and Michigan State and Iowa six.

"I'm delighted that some people rate us No. 1 in the Big Ten," said Warmath, "but I'm surprised, too. Folks are looking into our kitchen, but they don't see what goes into the apple pie."

Warmath undersells the Gophers a little in size. The first six ends average 210 pounds. The two top tackles, Frank Youso and Norm Sixta, weigh 255 and 235 respectively. The four top-ranked guards average 210, and the No. 1 and No. 2 centers are Bill Jukick, 210, and Bernard Svendsen, 200.



Murray Warmath
Delighted in Rankings

Warmath's split T attack may throw off more passing sparks. Cox, Dick Larson and Jim Reese at quarterback can throw the ball well. And Warmath admits he has three sophomores who are good receivers, including two soph ends, 6-5 Jerry Friend and 6-2 Tom Moe, and the speedy Martin at halfback.

Besides quarterback, Warmath concedes he has "real" depth at fullback with Bob Blakley, Rich Borstad and Rhony Tuszka available.

At ends, guards and centers, Warmath admits only to "reasonable" depth. At ends are veterans Jon Jelacic, 215, captain, and Perry Gehring, 200, backed by lettermen Bob Schmidt (215) and Ken Schultz (200), and sophs Moe (200) and Friend (220).

Other tackles include lettermen Jerry Wallin (205) and Dave Herbold (225), and sophs Mike Wright (225) and Arnold Osmundson (250).

Top guards are veterans Dave Burholder, a 215-pound linebacker, and Bob Rasmussen, 205-pound middle guard. They are supported by lettermen Everett Gerths (215) and Paul Barrington (203).

With exception of sophomore Martin, Minnesota will have lettermen halfbacks, including Bob Soltis, Bob Schultz, Bill Chorske, Ken Bombardier, Dave Lindblom and Norm Anderson.

AEC Granted Permission for Atomic Plants

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Atomic Energy Commission (AEC) Thursday was given permission to contract for construction of two atomic power plants.

The congressional Atomic Energy Committee waived a 45-day waiting period to permit early signing of contracts for reactors planned by Consumers Public Power District of Columbus, Neb., and Northern State Power Co., of Minneapolis.

Consumers proposes a 75,000 kilowatt sodium graphite reactor at Hallam, Neb. It is the first public power nuclear project in the nation to reach the contract stage with AEC.

The project would cost $68 million of which AEC is expected to put up $51½ million.

The Northern States Project is estimated to cost $29,800,000, with AEC putting up $7 million and the company the remainder.

The site for the 66,000 kilowatt boiling water reactor hasn't been selected but it will be somewhere within either Minnesota, North Dakota or South Dakota.

Three Iowa utility companies are sharing in the costs of research and development associated with the Northern States project.

They are the Iowa Power & Light Co. of Des Moines, Interstate Power Co. of Dubuque and Iowa Southern Utilities Co. of Centerville.

Pleads Guilty To 3 Rape Charges; Gets 120 Years

KEOKUK (AP) — Phillip Myers, 27, Keokuk, pleaded guilty in District Court Thursday to three charges of rape and was sentenced to 40 years on each charge or a total of 120 years in the State Penitentiary at Fort Madison.

Two of the charges were indictments returned by the grand jury Monday and the third was a county attorney's information.

Sentence was pronounced by Judge G. L. Norman.

Two of the cases involved girls who were taken away from their escorts at gunpoint last June.

Authorities said Myers accosted young couples in remote parking areas, locked the escorts in the trunks of their cars and molested the girls.

The third case involved a Keokuk woman who was attacked after she left a supermarket in her car.

Myers, who is married, escaped from jail last June but was recaptured a short time later in Missouri.

Deputy County Attorney Robert Dickey said Thursday Myers had been taken to the Mount Pleasant State Mental Health Institute recently and had been declared sane by officials there.

2nd Iowa Income Tax Payment Due

DES MOINES (AP) — Income tax time is near at hand again for 40,000 Iowans who are paying their 1957 state tax in two installments.

They must make their second payment by Oct. 30.

About 4,000 other Iowans have already paid their second installment.

The tax commission said Thursday it will send reminders to the 40,000 during the last week of September.

Second-half payments amount to $3,330,000 of the $25,097,000 expected to be collected on 1957 returns.

Expiration Jan. 1 of the current installment rule may make it "easier" for many to pay the state tax income tax next year.

The current rule is that an Iowan may pay his tax in two installments only if it amounts to more than $50.

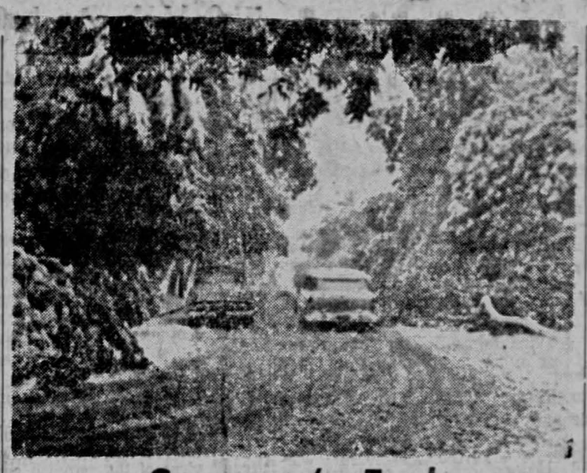
The last Legislature did not reenact this rule.

Next year the state will revert back to the old provision that lets a taxpayer pay in two installments if his tax is more than $10.

THUMB FISHING

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — Here's Beck Looper's account of how he caught a 6½-pound blind bass at Lake Catherine:

He noticed the fish trapped in a deep hole near the shore, waded to the spot, stirred the water above the hole, then stuck his hand into the hole. The bass bit Looper's thumb and Looper pulled the fish out, still clinging to the thumb.



Summer's End

THE TREES CAME TUMBLIN' DOWN in Helena, Montana, as that city received its fourth heaviest snowfall on record Wednesday. Mother Nature unleashed her wintery flurry and dumped 13½ inches of white downy flakes on the Montana capitol city. Proud of its beautiful tree-lined streets, Helena saw hundreds of limbs come tumbling down, some atop parked cars. This was the heaviest snowfall for Helena since 1900.

In Group Discussion—

Disagreement is Healthy, Prof Says

Some disagreement in group discussions is healthy, Prof. Orville A. Hitchcock of the SUI speech faculty told 40 registrants for a conference on discussion techniques Thursday at the Iowa Center.

Part of the SUI Continuing Education Program, the one-day conference was set up at the suggestion of the Iowa City League of Women Voters for leaders of organizations in the area.

A group cannot move ahead without encouraging honest expression of opinion from its members, Prof. Hitchcock explained. And this is bound to mean some disagreements. Discussion used ethically can become a good means of acquainting people with a new idea or program or for tackling problems honestly. But it should not be used to hammer home some preconceived idea of a leader.

The discussion leader needs to realize that he cannot expect to get unanimous approval of the group's final decision. "Most real solutions are compromises, which leave no one completely happy but everyone reasonable happy," Prof. Hitchcock pointed out.

Summarizing recent research on the effectiveness of discussion groups, Prof. Hitchcock said one study had found that management can remove the resistance of labor to new plans by getting across the need for change through discussion groups and involving the workers themselves in carrying out the change.

A study at the SUI Hospitals found that mothers who learned in discussion groups the value of feeding orange juice to their children put the knowledge to use to a much greater extent than those given individual instructions. Only 55 per cent were feeding orange juice after four weeks of individual instruction, while 100 per cent of those who had participated in group discussions during the same period were including orange juice in their children's food.

Another study pointed up the extreme suggestibility of a large percentage of the population, Prof. Hitchcock stated. Done at Harvard University, the study involved groups of people asked to look at three lines of varying lengths drawn on a sheet of paper.

All but one person in each group were asked to agree that the shortest line was closest to the length of the longest line, instead of the line which was actually of medium length.

The one person not "in" on the agreement was then asked which line he thought was closest to the longest line in length. Only one-third of the "lone" subjects in these groups were consistently independent, disagreeing with the rest of the group because they could not be influenced to "go along with the crowd." Another one-third went with the majority one-half or more of the time.

The tendency to conformity in our society today has become so strong that it is a matter of real concern, the SUI speaker stated.

This tendency means that discussion which can mould opinion becomes a powerful tool for leaders.

Chief purposes of discussions are to secure understanding on the part of the group of a concept, point of view or policy and to solve problems, Prof. Hitchcock explained. One of the main faults of discussion groups is the tendency to try to cover too much ground in one session.

Problems to be considered should be narrowed and taken one phase at a time, the SUI professor advised.

SUI Lab Study Ends Today

Three days of intensive study in the Medical Laboratories of SUI will end today for some 50 laboratory technicians from Iowa hospitals, private clinics and municipal laboratories.

The course work was devoted to the study of the problems of diagnosis of intestinal protozoa—microscopic, one-celled parasites that sometimes invade the human body. Specific attention was given to one type of parasite which causes amebic dysentery.

Veterans Administration Hospitals technicians attending the conference were: William E. Davis, Betty Deane, Gladys Downey, Jean Felix, Jean Gloppen, Alfred Kleinmeyer, Mary Ann McNeil.

Patricia O'Donnell, Martha Ollivier, Roberta J. Pohl, Bonnie Reid, Marcia Richards, Ann Risk, Alice Schrody, Sally Shook.

Mabel Huey attended from University Hospitals.

Rubber Workers Meet Sat., Sun.

A three-state educational meeting of the United Rubber Workers of America (URWA), AFL-CIO, will be held at the SUI Continuation Center Saturday and Sunday under SUI's Continuing Education Program.

Iowa participants will include union representatives from Des Moines, Cedar Rapids and Keokuk. Others will come from Illinois and Nebraska.

Jack Flagler, program director for the SUI Bureau of Labor and Management, will conduct sessions on community relations, including labor's stake and contributions in the industrial expansion of Iowa and neighboring states. A mock legislative session is also scheduled to acquaint participants with lawmaking processes.

Other leaders of the two-day meeting will include Bill Abbott of Akron, O., assistant U.S. educational director for the URWA, and Jack McCoy, Des Moines, executive vice-president for the Iowa Federation of Labor.

Iowa College Heads, Deans To Meet

Presidents and deans of Iowa's 25 public and private colleges and universities will meet Monday through Wednesday at West Okoboji for the Iowa College Presidents Association (ICPA) annual workshop on the problems of higher education in Iowa.

Dr. J. W. Ylvisaker, president of Luther College at Decorah and president of the ICPA, said this year's program will feature discussions of the problem of increasing enrollments, common to all Iowa institutions, and a demonstration of audio-visual aids to teaching ever-larger numbers of students.

President Eugene Garbee of Upper Iowa University, immediate past president of the ICPA, will introduce a discussion on "Utilization of Auxiliary Aids in College Teaching," and audio-visual specialists from several member institutions will demonstrate such teaching aids as closed-circuit television.

Governor Herschel Loveless is scheduled to address the group's first dinner meeting Monday evening. The general workshop will get under way with a luncheon Monday noon, although presidents of Iowa Intercollegiate Athletics Conference schools will be in session most of Monday morning.

David Cassat, president of the Interstate Finance Corporation of Dubuque and chairman of the Iowa Study Committee on Higher Education (ISCHE), will report at the Tuesday dinner meeting on the status of a study being conducted by the ISCHE.

Public relations officials from the Iowa institutions will also attend the conference, meeting in special workshop sessions to discuss problems of particular significance in their area of work.

Discusion chairmen will include presidents Howard Bowen of Grinnell College, Henry Harmon of Drake University, Conrad Becker of Wartburg College, Charles S. Ball of William Penn College, and Russell Cole of Cornell College.

The workshop will convene at Crescent Beach Lodge, near Arnold's Park.

Rush 'Weak' Moments

Daily Iowan Photo by Jerry Mosey

"WELCOME TO THE CLUB . . ." Carolyn Walch, A1, of Cedar Rapids, displays sheer ecstacy outside Currier Hall after she received her bid to the Gamma Phi Beta sorority. Sherry Reemtsma, N3, Davenport (right), is doing her best to hold up her new sorority sister. The issuing of bids yesterday afternoon climaxed this year's fall rushing period which started last Saturday. The actual pledging ceremonies for the girls took place last evening at their respective houses. According to Helen Reich, Panhellenic advisor and assistant director of the office of student affairs, three-hundred and fifty girls completed rush week activities. A total of two-hundred and fifty-eight women received bids to pledge 13 sororities on campus.

SANDY ALLEN, A1, Des Moines, was the first girl out the door yesterday afternoon after sorority bids were opened at Currier Hall. All smiles, she headed through the assembled crowd of about five hundred students towards her newly adopted sisters at the Delta Delta Delta Sorority down the block. The crowd was so thick the Iowa City police were summoned to keep traffic lanes clear.

Russian Ships Pass 'Strikeback' Units

ABOARD CRUISER NORTHAMPTON (AP) — The Allied fleet is frequently passing Russian fishing craft in the northwestern Atlantic and the Norwegian Sea on the NATO exercise called Strikeback.

Some Soviet trawlers are accompanied by small tankers that refuel them.

Some come so close to the Strikeback ships that their names can be read.

No one is surprised, least of all the high command.

Vice Adm. Robert Pirie, director of the exercise, told newsmen Thursday this was a normal fishing ground for vessels of various nations.

However, the presence of Soviet craft amid the maneuvering warships obviously provides the Reds with opportunities to fish for fish or for information or both.

While newsmen visited Pirie aboard this command ship, planes reported yet another sighting of a Russian trawler.

But so far there has been no reported evidence of any snooper aircraft wandering over from Russia's own maneuvers off North Cape, 800 miles from the fleet.

Phone Strike Ends, Reach Agreement

BULLETIN

NEW YORK (Friday) (AP)—Agreement was reached early today to end the four-day old nationwide strike of 23,800 telephone equipment installers of the Western Electric Co.

Walter A. Maggiolo of the U.S. Mediation and Conciliation Service announced the strike's end shortly before 1 a.m. (EDT).

Agreement on a new contract between Western Electric and the striking Communication Workers of America (CWA) came after several hours of joint negotiations that began in mid-afternoon Thursday.

The strike, which began Monday morning, affected telephone equipment installers in 44 states and the District of Columbia. Unaffected were Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont and Montana where local companies maintain their own equipment.

JH Cold Vaccine Is Only 'Opening Wedge'

BALTIMORE (AP) — Dr. Winston H. Price said Thursday his vaccine for one strain of the common cold virus is "merely the opening wedge," not a cure-all, but it could lead to a complete preventive.

Dr. Price's isolation of the "JH virus," actually accomplished four years ago, was emphasized Wednesday night with his disclosure that he has developed a vaccine 80 per cent effective against that virus.

Named the JH virus because of its initial discovery during an outbreak of colds among a group of Johns Hopkins medical students and student nurses, it is the first "true" virus of the common cold. It is not related to influenza virus or any other organisms which cause upper respiratory ailments with symptoms similar to the cold.

Although it is the only common cold virus discovered to date, the Johns Hopkins scientist emphasized at a news conference Thursday that "there are at least one and possibly more viruses which must be isolated if we are to have the complete picture."

THE MIXTURE AS BEFORE

Today begins my fourth year of writing this column and, as before, I will continue to explore the issues that grip the keen young mind of campus America—burning questions like "Should housemothers be forced to retire at 28?" and "Should pajamas and robes be allowed at first-hour classes?" and "Should proctors be armed?" and "Should picnicking be permitted in the stacks?" and "Should teachers above the rank of associate professor be empowered to perform marriages?" and "Should capital punishment for pledges be abolished?"

Should capital punishment for pledges be abolished?

Philip Morris Incorporated sponsors this column. Philip Morris Incorporated makes Philip Morris cigarettes. They also make Marlboro cigarettes. Marlboro is what I am going to talk to you about this year.

Before beginning the current series of columns, I made an exhaustive study of Marlboro advertising. This took almost four minutes. The Marlboro people don't waste words. They give it to you fast: "You get a lot to like in a Marlboro . . . Filter . . . Flavor . . . Flip-top Box."

Well, sir, at first this approach seemed to me a little terse, a bit naked. Perhaps, thought I, I should drape it with a veil of violet prose, adorn it with a mantle of fluffy adjectives, dangle some participles from the ears . . . But then I thought, what for? Doesn't that tell the whole Marlboro story? . . . Filter . . . Flavor . . . Flip-top Box.

Marlboro tastes great. The filter works. So does the box. What else do you need to know?

So, with the Marlboro story quickly told, let us turn immediately to the chief problem of undergraduate life—the money problem. This has always been a vexing dilemma, even in my own college days. I recall, for example, a classmate named Oliver Hazard Sigafoos, a great strapping fellow standing 14 hands high, who fell in love with a beautiful Theta named Nikki Spillane, with hair like beaten gold and eyeballs like two tablespoons of forgetfulness.

Every night Oliver Hazard would take Nikki out to dine and dance, and then to dine again, for dancing made Nikki ravenous. Then they would go riding in the swan boats, and then Nikki, her appetite sharpened by the sea air, would have 8 or 10 cutlets, and then Oliver Hazard would take her home, stopping on the way to buy her a pail of oysters or two.

To raise money for these enchanted evenings, Oliver Hazard took on a number of part-time jobs. Between classes he cut hair. After school he gutted perches. From dusk to midnight he vulcanized medicine balls. From midnight to dawn he trapped night crawlers.

This crowded schedule took, alas, a heavy toll from Oliver Hazard. In the space of a month he dwindled from 260 to 104 pounds—but that, curiously enough, proved his salvation.

Today Oliver Hazard is a jockey, earning a handsome living which, combined with what he makes as a lymph donor after hours, is quite sufficient to curb Nikki's girlish appetite. Today they are married and live in Upper Marlboro, Maryland, with their two daughters, Filter and Flavor, and their son, Flip-top Box.

The makers of Marlboro take pleasure in bringing you this free-wheeling, uncensored column every week during the school year . . . And speaking of pleasure, have you tried a Marlboro?

190 Men, 258 Women—

Rushing Activity Ends With Formal Pledging

Five days of "rush" activity culminated in the pledging of 190 men and 258 women to 13 sororities and 16 fraternities on the SUI campus.

Pledging ceremonies took place Wednesday evening in the fraternity chapter houses and Thursday evening in the sorority homes.

Of 280 men who took part in rush week, 190 or 68 per cent accepted invitations to membership, according to Ronald Roskens, SUI fraternity advisor.

Some 350 women completed Rush week and 258 of this group joined social sororities, according to Helen Reich, Panhellenic advisor and assistant director of the office of student affairs.

Periods of informal rushing will be conducted later this year for those who might wish to pledge fraternities or sororities after school is under way.

IN HER EXCITEMENT at being accepted into the Delta Delta Delta sorority yesterday afternoon, Kay Phillips, A1, Remsen, bounded out of Currier Hall, lost her left shoe and then stumbled into the arms of Lance Blue, A2, Spencer, who was on hand at the door to greet her. Although bidding concluded formal rushing for this Fall, periods of informal rushing will take place later in the school year for those who might wish to pledge after school is underway.
