Riots Renewed Despite Ouster Of Old Regime

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP) — Roving civilian mobs unleashed their fury against police and Government buildings in a renewal of violence in this Venezuelan capital late Friday. They ignored Government appeals for order.

Police headquarters in downtown Caracas, homes of former Government officials, the Ministry of Education building and the Dominican and Nicaraguan embassies were targets for the crowd.

THE CROWDS threatened to attack two embassies in a belief that Argentina's ex-dictator Juan D. Peron was in hiding there.

Shortly after national guard and army troops rescued police from the headquarters building, the governing junta dissolved the security police.

It also announced that Col. Roberto Casanova and Col. Abel Romero had resigned from the junta which was formed Thursday to rule the country after dictator Gen. Marcos Perez Jimenez was ousted and fled to exile in the Dominican Republic.

Both had held high posts in the Perez Jimenez regime, Roberto as commander of the air force and Casanova as governor of Guairico State.

THE GOVERNING council also announced, as the mobs continued to defy the fire of soldiers, that Friday night's curfew would begin at 5 p. m., two hours earlier than Thursday night's.

Rene De Sola, new minister of justice in the "cabinet of experts" set up by the junta, drove to police headquarters in a police car equipped with loudspeakers and begged the rioters to disperse.

He appealed to the furious crowd to prove that "the Venezuelan people don't have to be ruled by the machete" — the flat bladed weapon with which police are armed.

BUT THE RIOTERS continued to race through the streets. Most appeared to be men in their teens and 20s.

In other sections of town, the mobs looted homes of former Government officials, carrying away furniture in taxicabs.

The new outbreak came in the wake of the civilian rebellion that cost about 300 dead and 1,000 wounded.

Earlier in the day it appeared that Caracas was returning to normal after the 3-day wave of violence.

The removal of Casanova and Romero from the junta appeared to be one measure meeting objections of the civilian rebels' group to the strong military character of the junta. University students specifically demanded their ouster in a manifesto which accused them of being too close to Perez Jimenez.

REAR ADM. Larrazabal, 47-year-old career officer, and the four colonels who formed a Government Thursday, named two civilians of the ruling junta and a Cabinet composed almost entirely of civilian technicians.

But Fabricio Ojeda, youthful newspaper reporter who heads the Patriotic junta that sparked the civilian strike and revolt, declared his group had not yet decided to support the new Government.

The civilian group declared in a statement it was indispensable that the provisional Government be made up of men not considered lieutenants of the ousted dictator.

Mob Takes Cover

RIOTERS SCAMPER FOR COVER as security police fired at mobs during rioting in the Venezuelan capital. Despite the successful ouster of dictator Perez Jimenez, roving mobs yesterday unleashed new attacks against police and Government buildings in Caracas. Armed forces tried to put down what they termed plain vandalism.

Says Nickle Mail Could Pay For 700 IRBM's

WASHINGTON (AP) — The price of postage stamps became intertwined with ballistic missiles Friday at a hearing before the Senate Post Office Committee.

Postmaster General Arthur Summerfield, pleading the case of nickel-letter mail, presented the committee a chart showing how much military hardware could be bought with the money his department is losing every year.

Right now, Summerfield said the Post Office Department is operating at a loss of $700 million a year. He said a two-cent increase in letter postage and other proposed rate increases would yield about $700 million.

Summerfield's chart showed this kind of money would buy any one of these military packages: 8 nuclear cruisers, 17 nuclear submarines, 350 intermediate ballistic missiles, 700 intermediate ballistic missiles, or 87 B52 jet bombers.

Pitching his plea for higher postal rates to the perils which face the nation today, Summerfield told the senators that further delay would be unthinkable.

"It is useless and dangerous to talk or even think of 'subsidies as usual' while the present threat of international tension hangs over our heads," he said.

"If we are to maintain a balanced budget and an adequate defense posture, we must face realistically the task of reducing the burden of postal deficits and the federal budget."

The Post Office Committee decided to call Summerfield back for questioning some other time.

FRENCH SEEK LOAN
WASHINGTON (AP) — France has applied for $131,250,000 in emergency assistance from the 64-nation International Monetary Fund.

French economic chief John Monnet submitted the formal request late Thursday, officials said with a pledge that Premier Felix Guallard's government will move vigorously to carry out financial reforms at home.

Sons to Stay, Chou Informs U.S. Mothers

HONG KONG (AP) — Premier Chou En-lai told three American mothers who journeyed all the way to Red China that he cannot free their sons from prison, but he held out hope of future clemency.

Peiping radio reported Friday the frustrating end to the mothers' weary trip, made possible when the U.S. State Department lifted its ban on travel to Red China and permitted them to visit their imprisoned sons.

THE MOTHERS had been led to hope a personal plea to Chou would free their sons, long jailed on charges of spying — charges ridiculed by the United States.

Friday night they packed their bags in Peiping for the trip home. They leave today via Canton.

The mothers are Mrs. Ruth Redmond of Yonkers, N.Y.; Mrs. Jessie Fecteau of Lynn, Mass.; and Mrs. Mary Downey of New Britain, Conn.

William Downey, another son who came with Mrs. Downey, was quoted as saying the mothers were not too tired.

HUGH REDMOND, former businessman in Shanghai, was sentenced in September of 1954 in Shanghai to life imprisonment. He was caught with other Americans in Shanghai when the Communists seized the big port in 1949.

John Downey was sentenced to life, and Richard Fecteau to 20 years in Peiping in November of 1954.

The mothers did not get to see Chou. They met with Mrs. Li Teh-chuan, health minister and president of the Chinese Red Cross, and presented a joint letter.

CHOU'S REPLY was relayed through Chi Feng, assistant director of international relations for the Chinese Red Cross. Chi visited the mothers at the Peiping hotel where they have been staying.

"The Premier fully understands the feelings behind your appeal," Chi said, "but your sons have violated Chinese laws and must be dealt with accordingly."

Fecteau and Downey have been held since Nov. 29, 1952. The Reds said they were aboard a plane shot down over Manchuria while trying to pick up an agent. The two were U.S. Army civilian employees.

Makers Lend TV's To Ike 'for News'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said Friday the White House has six television sets — two of them color models — on loan from manufacturers.

Hagerty said the TV sets have been placed in the White House by the manufacturers as a convenience for President and Mrs. Eisenhower and their guests and to help Hagerty and others at the White House keep abreast of news developments.

He said he saw no difference between the manufacturer's making the sets available than the practice of The Associated Press and The United Press in providing teletype machines for news reporters without cost to the White House.

Hagerty's remarks were in response to a request for comment on whether he sees any impropriety in members of the Federal Communications Commission receiving color TV sets on loan from manufacturers.

Parents Beat Son With Stick

LEBANON, Mo. (AP) — A half-starved, 3½-year-old boy lay in a Lebanon hospital Thursday munching a cookie while the illiterate father and his common law wife took turns accusing each other of beating the child with a stick of stove wood.

Little David Lee Blackburn, a mass of bruises and with one toe and a finger cut off, asked for neither of his parents. He asked only for his grandmother who brought him to the hospital. Doctors said the little boy had a possible skull fracture also.

Sheriff Neil Brown found the father, Bert Blackburn, 26, alone in the home, the cupboard almost bare. Blackburn said his wife, Velie Davis, 24, had beaten the little blond boy.

The mother, found visiting at a nearby house, said Blackburn had whipped David with a stick of stove wood and a fire shovel.

When officers returned to the Blackburn home, the father had skipped out. He was found at the home of an acquaintance in Lebanon and arrested.

The mother also was lodged in jail and both were charged with mistreating a child — a felony.

Nixon Keeps Talks With Russia Going

Experts Disagree Sharply On ICBM Development

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of the Army Brucker says he thinks the United States is just about on a par with the Soviet Union in the development of intercontinental ballistic missiles.

This is a more optimistic view than that taken by the Senate Preparedness subcommittee, which said Thursday that most experts who have testified before it believe that the Soviet Union is out in front.

DEPUTY Secretary of Defense Quarles told a Norfolk, Va., audience that in the field of long-range missiles "we are in a nip-and-tuck race in which neither side could, with assurance, be said to be ahead."

Quarles said the Government is concerned with the rate of progress behind the Iron Curtain but that the United States still has a qualitative lead in weapons technology. He spoke at graduation exercises at the Armed Forces Staff College.

BRUCKER appeared before the House Armed Services Committee last Tuesday and a heavily censored version of his testimony was made public Friday.

"There isn't any doubt about the fact that the Soviets have fired at least one and possibly two long-range, that is, intercontinental ballistic missiles," he acknowledged. The rest of his testimony on this point was delivered from the published transcript.

The secretary may have gone on to discuss recent test firings of a U.S. intercontinental missile, the Air Force's Atlas. The latest Atlas test was made at Cape Canaveral, Fla., Jan. 20. The missile was believed to have traveled several hundred miles, far short of its designed range, but the test was pronounced a success.

Brucker said he thinks this country is not only on a par with the Soviet in ICBM development but ahead in the general field of shorter-range guided missiles.

LT. GEN. James M. Gavin, who has disagreed publicly with the Pentagon's research and development policy and is retiring from the Army March 31, testified at a closed session of the House Armed Services Committee Friday.

Gavin is chief of Army research and development.

In prepared testimony released by the committee, Gavin said that while all the services need missiles while the Army troops deployed overseas have a special need for them.

"THESE ARE the forces confronting a potential Soviet foe, well equipped, which the Russians demonstrated so well in the Nov. 7 parade," Gavin said, referring to the Moscow parade in observance of the 40th anniversary of the Bolshevik Revolution.

"And these are the forces, in the event of another Korean-type action, that would be first engaged and very likely take the heaviest burden of firing."

He said that while the Army "has operational a few first generation surface-to-surface missiles... there is much work to be done if we are to keep ahead of the potential foe."

Weather

High Today Mid-30's; Cloudy Weekend

Considerable cloudiness is predicted for today, the Weather Bureau reported. Highs are expected in the mid-30s.

The outlook for Sunday is partly cloudy and little change in temperatures.

Forecast for next week is temperatures between 35 and 44 degrees until Wednesday, then colder the later part of the week. Light snow is expected late in the week.

$50 Million Strike Fund Voted by Auto Workers

DETROIT (AP) — Walter P. Reuther said Friday his United Auto Workers are not strike happy but that they will fight to the limit to back up their 1958 contract demands including the controversial profit-sharing proposal.

His speech climaxed the UAW's special 3-day convention, and came moments after the 3,000 delegates had approved plans for a $50-million strike fund.

"We will do all humanly possible to resolve our problems at the bargaining table," he said, "but unfortunately these big corporations already are heating up the cold war of propaganda against us."

"WE ARE NOT flexing our muscles — we have no chips on our shoulder as we approach the bargaining table," Reuther, the UAW president, said.

The UAW, which had $24 million in a strike fund Jan. 1, will raise an additional $16 million by a special $3 a month increase in the regular $3 dues for three months.

The international union will borrow $10 million more from UAW locals to bring the fund to $50 million.

IN ADDITION, the UAW got delegate approval for plans to borrow from other unions and to mortgage UAW properties to raise additional money if needed for the strike fund.

The nearly unanimous delegate support for the strike fund added emphasis for the UAW's demands on the industry's Big Three — General Motors, Ford and Chrysler — for a share of the companies' profits to be divided among the workers.

BARGAINING with the "Big Three" generally sets the pattern for other UAW contracts.

Current three-year contracts with the "Big Three" run out about June 1 with negotiations on new ones to start about April 1.

Wildcat Strike Stalls N.Y. Rail Traffic

NEW YORK (AP) — Rebellious conductors pulled a wildcat strike against the New York Central Railroad Friday, stalling mainline operations along a key stretch of track. A Federal court mandate ended the walkout after eight hours and service gradually returned to normal.

IN COURT, the Central asked $2½ million in damages from the striking Independent Order of Railroad Conductors. Layoffs provoked the walkout, which had been temporarily forestalled eight days ago.

Ten of the railroad's major trains were stranded by a strike bottleneck concentrated between Buffalo and Albany.

The 20th Century Limited was held up more than 5½ hours in Albany as 150 passengers fumed.

OTHER NAME trains stranded included the Montreal Limited, the Wolverine, the Commodore Vanderbilt, the Ohio State Limited and the Pacemaker, all bound for New York City.

The strike began at 4 a. m. with between 200 and 300 conductors taking part. About 500 other Central employees refused to cross their picket lines.

THE IMMEDIATE target of the strike was the mainline tracks between Buffalo and Albany. But passengers as far west as Cleveland, alerted to the bottleneck, sought alternate transportation.

The strike was called by Val Simons, general chairman of Division 54 of the conductors' union. Originally planned for Jan. 16, it had been called off just before that deadline on orders from national union officials in Cedar Rapids, Iowa.

EDUCATION MESSAGE
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower plans to send Congress a special message next week urging action on the administration's four-year, one-billion-dollar program of aid for education.

Tornado Rips Georgia Town

COCHRAN, GEORGIA, was hit by a sudden tornado Friday afternoon, damaging an estimated 100 residences and causing an estimated half-million dollars in damages. At least four persons were hospitalized, but there were no fatalities.

Douglas Hurt In Car Wreck

WASHINGTON (AP) — Justice William O. Douglas of the Supreme Court suffered a slightly wrenched back and a bloody nose in an auto mobile collision Friday.

He was being driven to work in a court automobile, operated by chauffeur Westley J. Pittman, when the auto was struck by a passenger car driven by a 15-year-old boy. The boy's name was not disclosed.

Douglas, 59, was thrown against the front seat. Pittman was knocked unconscious momentarily.

ZETA Makes H-Energy, British Think

HARWELL, England (AP) — Sir John Cockcroft told the world Friday of the giant step his team of scientists has taken toward taming the fury of the hydrogen bomb.

The director of Harwell research station unveiled ZETA, a machine shaped like a doughnut.

ZETA is believed to have fused hydrogen atoms, producing power in the laboratory for peaceful use.

Cockcroft said he was 90 per cent certain a controlled H-bomb-type reaction had been produced in a ZETA-zero energy thermonuclear apparatus.

One thing that has excited British and U.S. scientists in these tests is they use a heavy hydrogen known as deuterium. And that can be obtained in bountiful supply from the seas.

ZETA'S HEART is a tube of aluminum shaped like a doughnut.

The doughnut is a little more than 3½ feet across. The tube itself is 39 inches in diameter.

Deuterium in the tube is given a powerful electric charge, stripping the atoms of their electrons. Magnetic force contracts the gas, keeping it away from the aluminum walls which otherwise would disintegrate in the great heat.

THE PARTICLES that are left collide at high speed. The scientists believe two of them fuse and form an atom of helium. This would release a neutron and considerable energy, duplicating the process of the sun.

Temperatures of five million degrees centigrade have been produced in ZETA.

Cockcroft said that with modification in ZETA he was sure that within a year Harwell will produce temperatures of far more than 15 million degrees centigrade. This is the calculated heat of the sun's center.

Flying Boat Crashes After It Set Record

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — An 80-ton Tradewind flying boat, with a gaping hole below the waterline and one set of propellers gone, piled up on a rocky breakwater at Alameda Naval Air Station Friday.

Twenty-one Navy fliers aboard escaped with facial cuts, bruises and, in a few cases, chock.

Flying to Alameda from Hawaii on a training mission, with two crews aboard, the $2 million aircraft was crippled some 350 miles from the mainland. Two counter-rotating propellers were thrown by one of the 5,500-horsepower jet turbine engines.

The massive blades slashed a hole in the hull. The plane, then at 21,000 feet, dropped 6,000 feet in three minutes. The cabin was depressurized immediately. The rest of the trip was made at 15,000 feet.

A radio request at 7:33 a. m. for escort brought a Coast Guard plane out from south San Francisco. The Coast Guard plane told Ragsdale his seaplane had a hole below the waterline.

As they reached the coastline two hours after the 1,200-pound propellers flew off, Lt. Cmdr. Elbert B. Binkley was at the controls. He eased down over San Francisco Bay, cutting his speed and holding the plane's nose as high as possible.

While crash boats stood by and helicopters hovered over the air station's outer lagoon, the ponderous flying boat touched down about 100 yards from the aircraft carrier Midway.

Then more trouble struck. A treacherous cross wind and damaged controls to No. 1 engine prevented slowing it down or cutting it off. The big craft swung around and crashed into the breakwater. Its bottom was all but ripped out on the sharp rocks.

The pileup, taken in stride by the airman aboard, was watched by wives of three crewmen from the air station pier.

Despite flying the last 350 miles on three engines and with a damaged hull, the Navy said the Tradewind set a Hawaii-to-mainland record for propeller-driven planes of 5 hours, 54 minutes. The old record was 6 hours, 45 minutes, also set by a Tradewind.

Most Ineligible Contest

The Interfraternity Council and the Quadrangle Student Council acted wisely Thursday night when they voted to withdraw support from campus MEBOC (Most Eligible Bachelor on Campus) contest, scheduled by the AWS for April 17-21.

Though disappointed, AWS bowed to the men's wishes and canceled the event this spring, but AWS President, Linda Gamble, A4, Fairfield, held out hope that the contest was not dead permanently. If enough support can be obtained she said, AWS will reschedule it for 1959.

We think AWS should forget about MEBOC - let it be buried as gracefully as possible.

If seven years is enough, the MEBOC contest can be counted a campus tradition - but not a particularly worthwhile one. MEBOC week has run something like this in the past: the men's housing units choose candidates, skits are placed in dormitories and store windows, banners are strung over city streets, the women students vote, and Mr. MEBOC is crowned at the Spinster's Spree dance.

In other words, a good time is had by all - theoretically. Unfortunately, this light frivolity was largely lacking last spring - and there were touches of unpleasantness and ludicrousity.

Mid-way in MEBOC week, one of the candidates was disqualified after an impromptu skit at Currier Hall. Some cries of "unfair" were heard. About the same time, a graduate student decided to get in on the fun and entered his pet, Mico the Honey Bear (a kinkajou from southern Mexico). Mico was escorted through town with a 30-piece brass band the eve of the election and the next day got enough votes to put him - unofficially - in the top ten. Much louder cries of "undignified" followed the publicity given of his success.

All this goes to show, we think, that the real purpose of the MEBOC event - good clean fun - has been obscured by the rivalry among housing units. The competition last spring became so hot that competitors could not stop and laugh at a harmless honey bear.

Then, too, MEBOC represents the type of fun that is more at home in a high school atmosphere. Many mature students have looked at the event with disgust.

The Spinster's Spree dance will be held this spring, as it has since 1938 and we think it should, but we are hard pressed to find an excuse to hold the MEBOC contest.

In withdrawing its support, the IFC presented plans to devote the time it would have spent on MEBOC to the newly founded Old Gold Days.

We urge AWS to do the same.

Letters to the Editor

Majority Not Always Wrong

TO THE EDITOR: It is clear now that you and I belong to that minority group which is willing to admit that the Majority isn't always wrong, and that that Ole Debil Tradition isn't necessarily going to bring about the ruin of civilization, come what may.

Having once been an angry young thing myself, however, and having just left the campus of an institution of learning where small, intense discussions were expected to resolve the problems of the world, I cannot be too harsh with our hot-headed friends.

They have thought only half way around the circle; give them time and hope they don't give up the struggle at this point.

The world isn't rotten; it isn't even going to the dogs, in spite of Elmer. The world is full of people who have enough sense to know that although Truth and Right may not always prevail, it is just as certain that nobody knows all the Answers, no matter how many group meetings he has attended or letters he has written to The Editor. What is the hated Majority made of, if not of minority groups? Every man cares about something, even if it is not caring. The coal miner and the philosopher, yea, even the miserable newspaperman belongs to some special interest group, although he may not find this cause enough to beat his head against the brick wall of Society.

Every one of our rebels against it will have to admit that at one time in his life Society rebelled against him.

To the angry young "artist" I must say this: no man who is an artist can be angry. For what is his meaning in life, if not to create beauty? And how can he create beauty if he cannot see beauty, even to the last moment of existence? Beauty can only be the child of love - without love there can be only construction. Never creation.

And so, my friend, although I smashed my rose-colored glasses and burned my prayer book one stormy day after psychology class, I have found that sunshine and Greek tragedy are even more beautiful without the red fog, and there are still moments when I wish I knew who to thank for the nineteen years of existence - awareness - it has been my good fortune to know.

Gerber To Attend English Conference

John C. Gerber, SUI Professor of English, has been chosen to attend a 3-day conference of English teachers in New York next week.

Gerber will be a member of a 25-man committee, representing four groups of U.S. educators, which will discuss the professional problems facing English teachers.

This conference is the first of three meetings made possible by a preliminary grant from the Ford Foundation with the purpose of defining and clarifying the problems involved in English education, Gerber said.

The committee will also make recommendations for further action to "step up and strengthen" teaching in English from elementary school through graduate school, he said.

The conference will meet at Ardsley-on-Hudson, New York.

The student string quartet includes Sherry Gregory, A2, Cedar Rapids, Ruth Nybakken, A2, Solon, violins; Louita Goode, A4, Lamoni, viola, and Shirley Strohm Mullens, G, Clinton, cello.

They will play Beethoven's sixth string quartet (Op. 18).

Recital Hall will be broadcast weekly on Saturday until the end of the spring semester, with SUI music students performing. Marvin Thostenson, assistant professor in the SUI Music Department, is coordinator of the program.

Four coeds in the SUI Department of Music will present the second Recital Hall program of the current academic year today at 10 a.m. over radio station WSUI.

Practice Grenade Reported Missing

A practice hand grenade has been taken from the SUI army within the past several days, reported Capt. John C. Deaschell, member of the ROTC staff.

The grenade, which is believed to have been taken as a prank, is not real and not extremely dangerous, Deaschell emphasized. It does, however, contain a fuse and a small powder charge equivalent to a large firecracker.

"If handled improperly or detonated in a confined area," Deaschell said, "it could be injurious to the hands or eyes."

Practice grenades are normally used by the ROTC department for demonstration purposes.

The missing grenade is blue and resembles in all respects a real grenade, Deaschell said. If anyone has any information, they are asked to contact the SUI military department.

Wayne Lumpa, 20, object of an extended search in 1955 after he escaped from the Johnson County jail, is again being sought by Iowa authorities.

Lumpa is wanted at Dubuque on a forgery charge and at Tipton for a traffic violation, authorities here said. He has served two years of a seven year sentence on a charge of escape from the Anamosa reformatory. Lumpa has been working at Dubuque since he was paroled.

The Highway Patrol said Lumpa left Dubuque suddenly when patrolmen summoned him into court on a traffic charge. Authorities here have been asked to be on the lookout for Lumpa or his car.

Commission Chairman Leon N. Miller said failure to pay state income taxes or filing of a return with intent to evade the tax is punishable by a maximum penalty of five years in prison and a $5,000 fine.

A one-year prison term and a $5,000 fine is the penalty upon conviction for making false or fraudulent sales tax returns, he added.

"There are also criminal provisions relating to property tax assessments in Iowa," Miller said.

Moody, retired managing editor of the Burlington Hawk-Eye Gazette, received the Des Moines Press and Radio Club's "Bent Cane Award" for outstanding service to journalism in Iowa Friday night.

The award was made at a dinner meeting at the club's headquarters here.

Glenn Roberts, club president, said the award to Moody was for "outstanding service in combating secrecy in government in connection with a thorough reassessment of property in Burlington, and for his lifetime career in journalism in Iowa."

The award is the top honor extended by the club to an Iowa newspaperman annually.

W. Earl Hall, editor of the Mason City Globe-Gazette, addressed Friday night's meeting.

Clarence F. Haman, 60, Tiffin, and Mrs. Donald D. Lenz, 21, R.R. 2, Solon, were identified by the Highway Patrol as drivers of the cars.

Haman suffered a possible nose fracture in the mishap and Mrs. Lenz, her son, Randy, 2, and daughter, Pamela, five months, and two of her sisters, Doris Echrich, 20, and Rita Ann Echrich 18, both of Cosgrove, were shaken up and bruised.

They were examined by a physician and released.

The crash occurred about 4:30 p.m. on a country road south of Tiffin as Mrs. Lenz entered the bridge from the south and Haman entered from the north, the Highway Patrol said. Both cars were damaged extensively.

Car Collision Injures Six

A head-on collision on a narrow bridge just outside Tiffin caused slight injuries Thursday to the driver of one car and five persons in another.

Haman suffered a possible nose fracture in the mishap and Mrs. Lenz, her son, Randy, 2, and daughter, Pamela, five months, and two of her sisters, Doris Echrich, 20, and Rita Ann Echrich 18, both of Cosgrove, were shaken up and bruised.

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the fifth in a series of eight stories on your income tax. It lists the income you do not have to report. Be sure to save it for reference when you fill out your return.
By G. K. HODENFIELD
Associated Press Newsfeatures Writer
There are certain types of income which are tax-free, and which you don't even have to report in making out your income tax return. By taking advantage of these exclusions you may be able to whittle down your tax bill considerably.
On the other hand, you may have had certain income which you hadn't thought of as being taxable. The government wants you to exclude everything possible under the law, but the tax collectors also insist that every bit of taxable income be listed. This article deals with both types of income.
First, because it's more pleasant to think about, let's look at the income which you don't have to declare:

1. State and federal social security payments, benefits from the Railroad Retirement Act, and Workmen's Compensation benefits. This includes state and federal unemployment compensation.
2. Inheritances (up to $40,000) and death benefits from life insurance policies.
3. All government payments and benefits except interest on terminal leave bonds and retirement pay not connected with a disability.
4. Gifts. This includes money or anything of value for which you performed no service whatever.
5. Interest on state and municipal bonds.
6. Subistence and rental allowances to members of the armed forces.
7. Dividends on GI life insurance programs.

Any 1957 income you had which falls into one of these categories is beyond the reach of the tax collector. Just forget it while making out your return.
There are several other categories which have strings attached. Prizes and awards (as distinct from gifts) are exempt from taxes only if they are given in recognition of civic, literary, artistic, educational, scientific, charitable or religious achievement.
But these prizes and awards can't be excluded if you had to enter a contest as a condition of winning, and they can't carry with them the requirement of performing any substantial future service for the donor. This means that most prizes given on radio and television giveaway programs or quiz programs are not exempt and Uncle Sam awaits his share.
Generally speaking, payments made in the form of scholarships or fellowships are tax exempt. If the recipient is a candidate for a degree the entire amount is tax free and needn't be reported. If the recipient is not a candidate for a degree, the maximum amount which is exempt is $300 a month.

Income earned outside the scholarship, however, is taxable. For instance, a football player attending college on an athletic scholarship wouldn't have to report that he was given room, board, books, tuition, laundry and expense money. But he would have to report any income he might get from winding the eight-day clocks in the coach's office.
WITH SOME RESTRICTIONS, each taxpayer may deduct from his income up to $50 received as dividends during the tax year from qualifying domestic corporations.
All dividend income must be reported on Schedule A on page 3 of the form 1040. There's a place there to list all dividend income and take your exemption.
Remember, so-called dividends from savings and loan or building and loan associations and from credit unions are not considered true dividends by the tax collector. They're considered interest, and must be listed with your other income.
The tax laws also let you exclude from your taxable income part or all of your income received in the form of annuity or retirement pay. There are two general rules which apply:

1. UNCLE SAM FEELS you have a right of recovery, tax-free, as much as you have paid into your annuity or pension plan. For instance, if over the years you paid $3,500 into your company's pension fund, $3,500 of what you get back is tax-free.
2. YOU CAN'T EXCLUDE any part of the payments if you did not bear part of the cost. However, even if you made no direct contributions, you paid part of the cost if you were taxed for part or all of your employer's payments to the plan.
Page 13 of the instruction book with the Form 1040 tells you how to figure that part of your annuity or pension which may be excluded from your taxable income.
There's a chance for real savings by excluding your "sick pay" — pay received from your employer while you were off work because of illness or injury.
Here, too, there are certain conditions to be met, and certain limits on how much can be excluded.
The amount of sick pay you can exclude from your taxable income cannot exceed $100 per week and the plan must be financed by your employer.
If your absence from work is due to an injury, your sick pay exclusion begins with the first day you miss.
If your absence is due to illness, it generally begins only with your second week's sick pay. However, if you are hospitalized for even one day because of illness, the exclusion begins with the first day you missed, just as for an injury.

Remember that $100-per-week ceiling. If your pay is over $100 per week, here's how to figure how much you can exclude: divide $100 by the number of working days in your normal work week. That gives you your maximum daily exclusion. Then multiply that amount by the number of days you were off work. That gives you your total excludable sick pay.
The next article will deal with business-connected expenses and expense accounts.

Mothers March On Polio
MONEY, MONEY, MONEY — and Mrs. Richard Oliphant of Iowa City had buckets of it after the Mothers' March on Polio Thursday night. The door-to-door canvas netted the Johnson County March of Dimes over $2,158, exceeding last year's "march" by quite a margin. Mrs. Oliphant's husband is co-chairman of the local polio-fight campaign.

World Traveler To Speak Sunday
If you've ever wondered how a mountain climber feels at the instant he slips or what a man's sensations are as he hangs from a rope 15,000 feet in the air, you'll have an opportunity to find out Sunday when Ted Bumiller speaks at SUI.
He will present a technicolor film, "By Jeep Around the World," at 8 p.m. in Macbride Auditorium.

Swimmers To Host Gophers In Dual Meet

By DALE KUETER
Daily Iowan Assistant Sports Editor

The Minnesota swimming team invades Iowa City today in hopes of avenging a loss suffered to the Hawk tankers last year, 59-46.

The Gophers, who finished the 1957 season with a 2-5 dual meet record, were beaten in their only conference meet this season by Wisconsin, 54-51. Iowa defeated Wisconsin earlier this year, 61-54. Minnesota's only win came Friday night against Iowa State.

Minnesota, led by Mike Chopp, has an outstanding backstroke team. Iowa's assistant coach Bob Allen said the Gophers "... have good depth in the backstroke."

Chopp, captain of the Minnesota team, also swims in the butterfly event. Last year he placed eighth in the Big Ten championships of the 200-yard butterfly.

The Gophers also have a strong contingent in the medley relays. Minnesota won the 400-yard medley race against Wisconsin.

Chip Peterson and Will Berger finished one-two in the individual medley against Wisconsin. The individual medley event could possibly be the best race of the day.

Leading the Hawkeyes will be the great backstroke, Lincoln Hurring. Hurring, 1956 Big Ten and NCAA backstroke champ, did not swim for the Hawks last year.

Gary Morris, Iowa's speedster from Clinton, might swim in any three of five events — relays, 50, 100 and 220 freestyles and the individual medley. Morris was beaten in both the individual medley and the 220 freestyles in the Michigan State meet last week.

Assistant coach Allen said the squad is in good physical condition. Allen said Estel Mills had a slight cold during the week but should be ready for the Gophers today.

In the diving event, the Hawkeyes will be led by Jake Quick and Mills. This Iowa combination has not been beaten this year. In all of Iowa's dual meets thus far, Quick has finished first and Mills second.

Allen said the Gophers are considerably stronger this year under their new coach Bill Heusser. The Gophers finished last in the Big Ten championships last year.

DOUBLE TROUBLE WILL FACE the Hawkeye matmen tonight in the form of Oklahoma State's identical twins, Duane and Wayne Murty. The Murty boys weigh 157 lbs. Wayne (right) wrestles in the 157 category, but Duane is in the 177 division. The Murty boys were helpful in State's 14-13 victory over defending national champions, Oklahoma.

Matmen To Meet Oklahoma State

By LOU YOUNKIN

The Iowa wrestling team, owners of a 6-1 record, will host the powerful Oklahoma State Cowboys tonight at 7:30 in the Hawkeye Fieldhouse.

Oklahoma State is undefeated in three meets. The Cowboys have shut out Kansas State and Colorado State U., and edged National Collegiate champion Oklahoma, 14-13. The Hawkeyes also have a decision over Colorado State U., a 25-2 victory, Jan. 4.

Coach Dave McCuskey regards tonight's meet as even more of a test for his team than most Big Ten dual affairs. Oklahoma State placed fourth in the National Collegiate meet last year and three men from that team are still in competition.

McCuskey, who coached the 1956 U.S. Olympic team, will send his team against the Cowboys who are coached by Myron Roderick, one of McCuskey's Olympic wrestlers. Another member of the 1956 Olympic team is Oklahoma State's 167-pound Dick Beattie.

The Hawkeyes, who have won five straight meets, have two undefeated wrestlers. They are Ralph Riels, 137, 7-0; and Larry Moser, 123, 5-0. Other Hawks with outstanding records to date are Gary Kirdeimer, 177, 5-1-1; Heavyweight Gordon Trapp, 4-1; and 147-pound Simon Roberts, 4-1-2.

The Cowboys have five men with undefeated records. Bobby Herald, 130, 3-0; Shelby Wilson, 147, 3-0; and identical twins Wayne and Duane Murty had identical 3-0 records at 157 and 177-pounds respectively. Heavyweight Earl Lynn is 2-0-1.

Iowa has won their only three non-conference meets, defeating Colorado State U., Colorado State College and Wyoming.

Myers Fits Right In

Iowa Gymnasts Meet Chicago; Seek Third Win

By DICK LYNES
Daily Iowan Sports Writer

Iowa's gymnastics team will seek its third consecutive win this afternoon as it hosts Chicago University at 3:30 p.m. in the North Gymnasium of the Fieldhouse.

So far Iowa has scored easy victories over the Air Force Academy and Northwestern.

Coach Norman Holzapfel said that he knew little about the strength of the Chicago team but that he was under the opinion that it was considerably undermanned this season.

Only five athletes have been entered by Chicago and the entry list indicates that John Bowman is entered in six events. Bill Leicht and George Andros are also entered in several events.

Of the 14 events in the two meets, the Hawkeyes have lost only two. Staffan Carlsson, Iowa import from Sweden, has placed first in six of the seven events he has participated in.

Following the meet Saturday, the Hawkeye gymnasts take a week off for semester final examinations before beginning major competition.

On Feb. 8 they meet Ohio State and Wisconsin at Madison in a triangular meet.

Iowa's next home meet will be Feb. 22 when Illinois, Navy Pier from Great Lakes, Ill., and Minnesota will provide the competition.

Two Iowa Prep Stars Receive National Honor

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Two Iowans were given places on the 11th annual Wigwam Wisemen of America high school all-star football teams announced Friday.

Jerry Hillebrand, 205-pound center from Davenport, was named to the third team and Ben Fellows, 197-pound guard from Ames, was placed on the seventh team.

Other Iowans nominated were Jerry Schwarz, Burlington; Delmar Timm, Muscatine; Duane Marcellus, Humboldt; Sherwyn Thorson and Dave Church, Fort Dodge; Jack Helenthal and Bob Mecum, Keokuk; Jim Hoosman, Waterloo; Wendell Williams, Mount Pleasant; Dick Harris, Leon; Gary Gardner, Davenport; Jerry Shipman, Oskaloosa; Earl Jones, Sigourney; Dick Mann and Jon Welch, Vinton; Leon Jespersen, Grettinger; Jerry Lindberg, Cherokee; and Pat Clare, Sioux City.

Venturi Ties Demaret In Golf Tourney

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP) — Young Ken Venturi shot a spectacular 8-under-par 63 and Jimmy Demaret a 65 to tie for the lead at the midway mark of the $15,000 Thunderbird Invitational Golf Tournament Friday.

The fireworks left Demaret, 45-year-old three-time winner of the event, and San Francisco's Venturi with 36-hole scores of 133.

A year ago Demaret, Venturi, and Mike Suchak wound up the 72-hole tournament in a tie. Demaret, the old master from Kiamasha Lake, N.Y., defeated the youngsters in an 18-hole playoff.

Two strokes back of the co-leaders Friday night were Paul Harney of Worcester, Mass., and Dave Marr, Rumson, N.J., with totals of 135. Harney shot a 66 Friday, Marr a 70.

Marr and Fred Hawkins of El Paso, Tex., led in the first round with a pair of 65s. Hawkins dropped back with a 72 for 137.

Demaret had a first round 68. The 26-year-old Venturi led off with a 70 Thursday.

Three players were tied at 136. They are Don Fairfield of Casey, Ill.; Tommy Bolt of Chattanooga, and Howie Johnson of Akron, Ohio.

Hawk Cagers At Minnesota

MINNEAPOLIS — Iowa and Minnesota will renew one of college basketball's hottest rivalries today in the Minnesota Centennial Game before a nation-wide television audience. The Big Ten battle will begin at 3:30 p.m.

Although today's game lacks some of the importance that has characterized Iowa - Minnesota games over the past five years, both teams need wins to stay in the Big Ten race.

Iowa currently is in eighth place in the Big Ten race with a 2-3 record, while Minnesota is a notch below in ninth with a 1-2 mark. A win by either team will put them back into the loop race, but a loss will mean virtual elimination from title competition.

The TV contest will also include some colorful pageantry at halftime. The game has been designated Minnesota Centennial Game in observance of Minnesota's Centennial Year. The Minnesota Band will perform along with the Calumet Indian Dancers.

Iowa Athletic Director Paul Brechtler and Hawkeye basketball coach Bucky O'Connor will be given honorary citizens awards by the Centennial Sports Committee.

Iowa Athletic Director Paul Brechtler and Hawkeye basketball coach Bucky O'Connor will be given honorary citizens awards by the Centennial Sports Committee.

Today's game will pit two of the Big Ten's poorest shooting teams. Iowa is ninth in shooting percentages with .347, while Minnesota is only a little better, hitting at a .354 pace, which puts them in seventh place in the Big Ten statistics.

Free throw shooting has hurt Iowa even more. The Hawkeyes are ninth, hitting on 90 of 135 attempts for a mark of .667. Iowa has attempted more free throws than any team in the Big Ten.

In addition, the Hawkeyes have been charged with the fewest personal fouls. Iowa has averaged only 14 per game and in two contests, made only 11.

Iowa must stop the Gophers one-two punch of jump shooting forward George Kline and sophomore center Whitey Johnson. Kline single handedly whipped the Hawkeyes last year at Minneapolis, when he set a Gopher scoring record with a 40-point barrage in Minnesota's 102-81 win.

Early in the 1956-57 season, Iowa had handed the Gophers a worse shellacking, 89-46, at Iowa City. Kline ranks third in Big Ten scoring, with a 22.7 average for three games. However, Whitey Johnson leads the Gophers for the season with a 20-point average for 11 games.

Johnson, the highly regarded sophomore, is averaging 15 points per game in conference play. He trails teammate Roger Johnson, a sharp shooting guard, who has a 17-point average for three league contests.

Iowa is still searching for more consistent scoring. Only veteran Dave Gunther has been able to score with any regularity, averaging 19 points a game which is good enough for fifth place in the Big Ten scoring race.

However, Iowa's sophomores have not kept pace with Gunther. O'Connor will again start four sophomores, namely Nolden Gentry, Larry Swift, Bobby Washington and Mike Heitman. Heitman was sick early this week but is expected to start. If he shouldn't another sophomore, Earl Nau, will open at guard.

The sophomores dominate the Iowa scoring department. Swift is second with a 12.8 average; Gentry, third, 9.3; and Washington is fourth, with a 6.4 average. However, none of them has shown any consistency in giving the Hawkeyes the needed scoring punch that they have lacked in early games.

Gunther led Iowa in scoring in every Big Ten game up until last Monday night when he was held to his season's low of only nine points against Ohio State. Swift led with 18 against the Buckeyes.

Iowa returns home to play a return game with Ohio State next Saturday, before laying off for a week for semester exams.

Other Loop Action Sees Cats Vs. MSU

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Semester exams have slowed Big Ten basketball activity to a walk, but Saturday's two-game conference program will shuffle the second division.

Iowa (2-3) invades Minnesota (1-2) for a regionally televised matinee, while Northwestern (2-2) is at Michigan State (2-2) Saturday night. In non-loop play, Illinois (1-3) faces Notre Dame on a Chicago Stadium twin bill, Marquette and Loyola meet in the opener.

The Michigan State-Northwestern winner will climb as high as a second-place deadlock with Indiana and Ohio State, each with 3-2.

Michigan State, defending champion, will be meeting Northwestern the second time within a week. The Spartans scored an impressive 83-78 victory over the Wildcats at Evanston, Ill., last Saturday, but stumbled at Wisconsin, 66-52, Monday night.

Braves, County Officials Agree on Rent Contract

MILWAUKEE (AP) — The Milwaukee Braves, who made a $725,000 profit last year, and the Milwaukee County Board of Supervisors Friday reached an agreement on a new five-year contract which will pay the county some $400,000 a year — twice last year's figure.

The board approved the agreement by a vote of 16 to 5 after hearing a report on the Braves' 1957 profits from one of its members.

Iowa State Athletic Council To Invite Several Prospects

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

AMES (AP) — The Iowa State Athletic Council, searching for its second head football coach in little more than a year, said Friday it will invite several candidates to the campus next week.

"No prospect will be invited to the campus until the matter has been cleared with the institution where he is located," council Chairman E. S. Haber said.

Names of those invited will be released as soon as invitations have been accepted, he said.

The council's sifting committee, set up to screen candidates, met in secret Thursday. Kenneth R. Marvin, committee chairman, said "We are determined to avoid a Texas A&M situation."

Iowa State Coach Jim Myers was signed Wednesday as Texas A&M football coach and athletic director after he had assured officials here of his intention to stay.

Two coaches most prominently mentioned for the job here are LeRoy Pearce, former assistant under Myers and now at Nebraska and Clay Stapleton, No. 1 assistant at Oregon State.

An Iowa State spokesman said Friday Stapleton was highly recommended for the position by his head coach, Tommy Prothro.

A petition favoring the return of Pearce has drawn more than a thousand names of students and Ames residents.

Dutra Leads in Seniors' Meet

DUNEDIN, Fla. (AP) — Smiling Mortie Dutra, using a revamped swing and putting stance, fired his second straight subpar round and remained out front Friday in the 19th annual PGA Seniors' Golf Tournament.

The 58-year-old teaching professional from Calexico, Calif., with a three under par 69 on the opening round, clinched the Bourne Trophy with his midway 140. The Bourne Trophy — original seniors' award — goes to the golfer 55 or over with the best 36-hole score.

Two 50-year-old golfers, two-time National Open champion Gene Sarazen of Germantown, N.Y., and Bert Montessoro of Sarasota, Fla., were tied for second at 144. Sarazen had a second round 71, Montessoro a 72.

Frank Lane Is Trying To Deal With Yankees

NEW YORK (AP) — General Manager Frank Lane dangled relief ace Ray Narleski before the New York Yankees and Detroit Tigers Friday, hoping for a deal that would bring a solid second baseman to his Cleveland Indians.

The new general manager of the Tribe has been dueling off and on with both clubs for several weeks. He hopes to bring matters to a conclusion over the weekend as baseball men gather for meetings and the baseball writers' annual dinner.

If Narleski goes to the Yanks, the Indians want second baseman Bobby Richardson and rookie pitcher Jim Coates in return. Lane thinks he has a better chance convincing Detroit that it must block the Yanks' bid for Narleski by giving up second baseman Frank Bolling for the pitcher in a multi-player deal.

Manager Billy Rigney of the San Francisco Giants said he was "pretty sure" of making some type of deal over the weekend. He wouldn't identify the other club because negotiations still were under way with a third team.

Tennis Meet Is Scheduled For Doctors

Doctors from the SUI hospitals will participate in an indoor ladder tennis tournament this winter it was announced by Dr. Don Klotz, physical education professor and tennis coach.

The ladder tournament is the first of its kind to be attempted by university personnel. Competition will continue throughout the winter Klotz said.

Matches are to be played on the concrete courts above the swimming pool in the Fieldhouse. According to Klotz the courts will be available six evenings a week and matches are to be arranged by competing players. Play will begin this weekend.

Klotz and Dr. S. Donald Greenberg, resident in otolaryngology, set up the temporary ladder. It includes:

- Dr. William M. Bean, head of department of internal medicine.
- Dr. William R. Wilson, resident, internal medicine.
- Dr. J. E. Buckwalter, surgery.
- Dr. George M. Owen, resident, pediatrics.
- Dr. E. C. Ferguson,
