

Fire Guts Two Keokuk Stores, Damages Third

KEOKUK (AP) — A major fire broke out in downtown Keokuk Monday night and burned out of control in two buildings and spread to a third store.

THE FIRE first was discovered in the basement of the Ford-Hopkins Drug Store on Main Street.

Authorities said a store employee tried to put it out with a fire extinguisher but the flames shot up a shaft and spread throughout the store.

Flames fanned out to the adjoining H. L. Green five and ten cent store and the Linquist Bros. furniture store.

FIRE CHIEF John Breheny said the interiors of the drug store and Greens were burned out.

Firemen fought the flames in the four-store furniture store.

Radio station KOKX, located two stores away from Greens, evacuated some of its equipment.

Other stores in the block were expected to suffer smoke and water damage.

Student Wins Tune Contest

The wheel of chance stopped on the right number for Jim Young, G. Waterloo, when Bill Haley's "Peggy Sue" hit the top recently as a best selling record across the nation.

The new hit tune bringing added fame and fortune to rock'n'roller Haley also increased Young's fortune when he correctly predicted the record's success as part of a national contest sponsored by the network program "Wheel of Chance."

The SUI student is now richer by a three piece set of luggage, a Polaroid Land camera, electric shaver, twelve blouses (girl type), and a silver serving tray given by the network to the disc jockey correctly predicting one of the three top tunes in the nation and submitting a 60-second tape-recorded introduction to the song.

Young, whose three hour disc jockey show "Rhythm Room" is aired Monday through Friday over radio station KCRG, Cedar Rapids, had good luck with "Peggy Sue" and is now in the second stage of the contest.

Program rules state that anyone who picks three winning songs in a row wins a 1958 automobile. The Royal Teen's record "Short Shorts" is Young's second bet.

The 25-year-old disc jockey, who is working on an MA in Public Relations received his BA degree in radio journalism at SUI in 1953. He was narrator of "Army Hour" while stationed in the Pentagon in 1955 and announced for the Armed Forces network while serving in Frankfurt, Germany. Before coming to KCRG in October, 1957, he spent one year at KWLL in his hometown of Waterloo.

We Might Live in Doughnut-Shaped Universe: Physicist

NEW YORK (AP) — Our universe is most likely shaped like a doughnut, a physicist said Monday.

And quite possibly there are at least several universes rather than just the one in which we live.

These theories were described Monday to the Institute of Aeronautical Sciences by Dr. Winston H. Bostick, physics professor at Stevens Institute of Technology, Hoboken, N.J.

The doughnut shape could be expected because of the way hydrogen gas behaves, he explained.

All the billions of stars in the universe make up only one one-thousandth of the total material.

The rest is hydrogen gas, and it's at least partly ionized or electrically charged.

Such gas seems to have an uncanny knack for generating its own magnetic fields, Dr. Bostick continued. Under this magnetic influence, it could form the doughnut or ring shape.

Schedule For Registration

Registration materials for the second semester will be available Tuesday, Feb. 4, in University Hall, the Registrars' Office said Monday.

The first half of the alphabet, A through M, will register Monday, Feb. 10, and the second half of the alphabet, N through Z, will register Tuesday, Feb. 11.

The orientation program for new students will begin Monday, Feb. 10, at 7 p.m. in Shambaugh Auditorium, with a meeting of new students and faculty members.

Loren Hickerson, director of Alumni Records, will be the main speaker.

At 7:30 p.m. new students will form small groups and visit faculty homes. Kay Lund, A2, Dixon, Ill., co-chairman of the orientation program, said.

There will be a dance for the new students in the River Room of Iowa Memorial Union, Tuesday, Feb. 11, from 7:30 to 10 p.m. Gary Bain and his orchestra will provide the music.

U.S. Will Back Middle-East

ANKARA, Turkey (AP) — John Foster Dulles pledged to anxious Baghdad Pact allies Monday that the United States stands ready to strike back against aggression to save the Middle East from "the scourge of invasion."

"In relation to the Middle East," Dulles said, "the Congress has authorized the President to use armed forces to assist any nation or group of nations in the Middle East — and the Baghdad Pact constitutes such a group — requesting assistance against armed aggression by any country controlled by international communism."

But he warned the Allies they must have their own forces of national defenses.

"There is no push-button substitute for this," he said. "Furthermore such forces, with reinforcement where needed of mobile power, can save people from the scourge of invasion of perchance the deterrent failed."

Windows Broken in Frat Snowball Fight

An inter-fraternity snowball fight on N. Riverside Drive Saturday ended with several car windows being broken. SUI officials said the fraternities involved have agreed to pay for damages.

M. L. Huit, dean of students at SUI, said Monday that Sigma Chi and Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternities had been mentioned as being involved but thought others also were implicated. The group was estimated by police as including more than 150 men.

Before the battle ended, police had been called five times by irate motorists.

One driver complained his windshield was broken and another that the window next to the driver's seat of his car was cracked after being pelted with snowballs.

Dean Huit said disciplinary action has been referred to the Inter-Fraternity Council Court.

No estimate of the total damage is immediately available.

KADAR RESIGNS

BUDAPEST, Hungary — Janos Kadar, installed as Hungary's chief of Government when Soviet troops crushed the 1956 revolution, resigned as premier Monday, but retained the job of first secretary-boss of the ruling Socialist Workers Communist party.

PANIC AT FIRE

DES MOINES — Panic was listed Monday night as a factor in the deaths of five men in a $100,000 fire at the Olympia Hotel here.

Four of the victims were elderly. The fifth was a man about 35, still unidentified more than 12 hours after the tragedy.

The fire at the walkup hotel, which rented rooms for $10 a month, was discovered about 2:40 a.m. Thirty-seven residents escaped.

Several of them were removed by firemen.

Coroner R. Corwin Johnson said only one of the victims was burned. The others died of suffocation.

The identified dead were Everett D. Martin, 75; Joe Ingersoll, 69; Orien Immel, 60, and Melvin Gilmer Allen, about 85.

JUNTA SECURE

CARACAS, Venezuela — Venezuela's revolutionary junta Monday apparently stamped out any serious threat of a counter-revolt by supporters of ex-Dictator Marco Perez Jimenez.

Junta sources said peace has been restored to 95 per cent of this oil-rich Latin republic. Perez Jimenez supporters who had broken up into small bands of machine gunners were being wiped out.

The nation's armed forces were solidly backing the junta.

Would Help Stop Costly Duplication

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Eisenhower Administration asked Congress Monday for authority to give U.S. allies hitherto secret atomic weapons information, as well as raw materials and weapon components.

The Atomic Energy Commission (AEC) offered proposed legislation to carry out the President's recommendations for building up the free world's atomic defenses and avoiding duplication of scientific work among allies.

AEC Chairman Lewis L. Strauss proposed that the President be given discretion to exchange any atomic weapon information with an ally which is making substantial and material contributions to the national defense and security.

The authorizations provided by AEC's proposed amendments to the atomic energy act would stop short of providing for transfer of complete atomic weapons to other countries.

Strauss said "it is not the intent to promote the entry of additional nations into the atomic weapons field." The proposed legislation is worded to encourage exchanges of information with nations already active in the field — presumably Britain and possibly Canada and France.

Rep. Carl T. Durham (D-N.C.), chairman of the Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee, and Sen. John O. Pastore (D-R.I.), chairman of its subcommittee on international agreements, said the legislative proposals were referred to the subcommittee and will be considered at executive sessions Wednesday, Thursday and Friday. Public hearings will be held later, they added.

Mr. Eisenhower emphasized in his State of the Union Message Jan. 9 what he termed the importance of removing restrictions on exchange of scientific and technical information with friendly countries. He said this would mean that all the efforts of the free world could be mobilized to stay ahead of the Soviet bloc in technological war readiness.

Soviets Okay 'Life' Trade

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States and Russia Monday agreed on a momentous 2-year swap of films, radio-television broadcasts and about 500 experts in everything from ballet dancing to horse doctoring.

Soviet Ambassador Georgi Zarubin, who signed the agreement with U.S. negotiator William S. B. Lacey, called it the most important achievement of his five years in Washington.

PRESIDENT EISENHOWER applauded the accord, saying he hoped it would be carried out in the same spirit which has animated negotiations.

The State Department also issued a statement hailing the agreement as a significant first step in improving mutual understanding.

CONSPICUOUSLY absent from the agreement were the two things the United States most wanted: An end to Kremlin jamming of Voice of America Russian language radio broadcasts to the Soviet Union, and regular uncensored radio-TV commentaries on world events.

The radio-TV broadcasts agreed upon will include discussions of international political problems. But these will be at no fixed period and will be subject to a veto — hence, censorship — by either government.

THE RUSSIANS did not get everything they sought, either, in the painstaking talks which started Oct. 28.

Like the U.S. proposals, these were deferred to possible later negotiations.

Chief Soviet goals not agreed to were: 1. Creation of direct Moscow-New York air service; 2. Swapping visits among members of the U.S. Congress and the Supreme Soviet, and 3. Holding joint conferences of interparliamentary groups and U.N. associations.

The negotiations are an outgrowth of the 1955 Geneva summit conference.

Ike Presents Education Plan To Congress

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower Monday gave Congress his plan for a four-year crash program of federal aid to education. He asked prompt enactment in the essential interest of national security.

The science-slanted blueprint, designed to spur U.S. technology in its race against the Soviet Union would cost about $1.6 billion spread over the next four years. The Federal Government would pick up $1 billion of the bill, states and local communities the remainder.

Mr. Eisenhower's plan was first announced in detail last Dec. 30 by Marion B. Folsom, secretary of health, education and welfare. Basically it calls for Federal aid to the various states for strengthening the teaching of science and mathematics, and Federal scholarships to bright students.

"Our immediate national security aims — to continue to strengthen our armed forces and improve the weapons at their command — can be furthered," Mr. Eisenhower said, "only by the efforts of individuals whose training is already far advanced. But if we are to maintain our position of leadership, we must see to it that today's young people are prepared to contribute the maximum to our future progress."

"Because of the growing importance of science and technology, we must necessarily give special attention to education in science and engineering."

Republicans on Capitol Hill praised the program as "very heartening," "effective," and "sound and sensible."

Weather

Little temperature change and cloudy skies are predicted for Iowa Citizens today after a snowy blowy week-end. Low Monday night was expected to be near 22 degrees and highs today will reach the 28 degree mark. Little change is expected Wednesday.

Syracuse Educator To Talk Feb. 13

A versatile educator, T. V. Smith, professor emeritus of poetry, politics and philosophy at Syracuse University, will speak in the Main Lounge, Iowa Memorial Union, Feb. 13, sponsored by the University Lecture Series.

For 25 years Smith taught at the University of Chicago. While there he founded CBS's book program, "Invitation to Learning," and the University of Chicago Round Table. Radio programs of his include "Philosophers in Hades" and "This Godly Earth."

Smith was director of education in Italy for one year. After that he laid foundations for educational redirection of Germany. He also helped train military governors for Japan and reoriented German prisoners of war.

Smith is author of more than 20 books on philosophy and political science, including "Democratic Way of Life," "Life Without Fear," and "Lincoln; Living Legend." He also has edited the magazines "Ethics."

In addition, Dr. Smith served four years in the Illinois Senate from his Chicago district.

Free tickets for the lecture will be distributed to SUI students upon presentation of ID's in the East Lobby, IMU, beginning at 1 p.m. Feb. 10. Any undistributed tickets will be available to the general public at 8 p.m. Feb. 13.

The President's Pentagon Visit

The President seems to be matching the deed with the word on reorganization of the Defense Department. Witness his surprise and practically unprecedented visit to the Pentagon Saturday for the first of a series of conferences with Defense Secretary McElroy.

problem of both importance and immediacy. There has been a great deal of comment on the President's lack of leadership - and much of it seems supported by fact - but in this particular case, possibly because he is a military man and therefore at home in military organization, he is acting the part of the leader.

By taking this step, President Eisenhower has enormously increased the possibility of a successful reorganization of the Defense Department.

And successful reorganization of the Defense Department should reduce inter-service rivalry, cut down on waste, and put all military activity on a better integrated basis.

New Labor Legislation Needed

Corruption, shady deals, dubious connections, questionable activities and patterns of violence - although not as prominently publicized as last spring - seem to be widespread enough to require regulatory legislation of some sort.

Long Island Local No. 138 officials charged with taking payoffs, using dictatorial methods, beatings, etc.; San Francisco Local No. 3 officials charged with misuse of funds by witnesses and Philadelphia Local No. 542 "goons" are alleged to have tortured and beat a man for "opposing the operation" of the union.

Couple this with the unpleasantness associated with the huge Teamsters union - recently ejected from the A.F.L.-C.I.O. - and its defiance of Congress, criticism and country, and the need for such legislation seems imperative.

Yet the public seems already to have lost interest in the affairs of these unions - whether a numbing effect has set in or the novelty has worn off - the speculation seems to be that no union legislation will be introduced this year barring new sensational revelations impossible to ignore.

There is a definite need for union legislation and it will be unfortunate if it is delayed too long. For if it is postponed until new scandals are uncovered, the legislation is likely to be too stringent, culminating in emasculation of the unions rather than the necessary control.

For the good of the country and the union member, unions must be both responsive to their membership and conscious of a social responsibility.

A Program for Stabilization in 1958- Economic Outlook and Review

By GEORGE KAUFMAN Graduate Student in Economics at SU

The economic picture facing us today is not a pleasant one. Inflation with its rising prices is still present while recession and unemployment have also made their appearances on the scene.

ECONOMISTS HAD BARELY succeeded in convincing most Americans of the possible ill effects of the balanced budget, and the advantages of a budget surplus during inflationary times with a budget deficit during periods of unemployment.

AS IN ANY EMERGENCY, the only force powerful enough to act both quickly and with sufficient strength is the Government. The latter must take immediate responsibility for pulling the nation out of its present crisis and placing it on the road to recovery.

A FAST AND EFFICIENT method open to the Government is through government expenditures. How these are financed is of importance, but for simplicity's sake, let's assume complete deficit financing, the most expansionary method.

general public, except for these few favored labor union members and industry stockholders, is sufficient to insure full capacity production? The trouble therefore lies in a greater than usual unequal allocation of our resources.

THE REASONS FOR THESE discrepancies are quite obvious - monopolistic behavior on the parts of both business and labor. Industries that are marked by high prices and excess capacity simultaneously are those where price competition no longer exists.

Though one should not believe in overnight miracles, I do think a bold program to reallocate the real resources and purchasing power of the economy away from the monopolistic industries and towards the depressed areas, industries and people is putting the best foot forward in our march to recovery and stabilization in 1958.

From The Littered Desk

Slattery's Slants

Everytime the world seems to have settled more or less into understandable patterns, my stream-of-consciousness suddenly encounter diverting forces, like boulders in mid-torrent, that deflect the evolution of my attitudes and opinions and result in my discarding ideas and "facts" in the little eddies and backwaters of the diverted stream.

One such force has been John Scott, assistant to the Publisher of TIME, an extremely well-read, intelligent and perceptive man, author of Political Warfare, and Beyond the Urals, who was on campus last Wednesday.

To talk to the man is to wonder why more of this type of thinking and understanding is not reflected in the pages of TIME, an interesting aside, but not particularly relevant to the logic of Mr. Scott's ideas and beliefs.

Competitive coexistence is the only real choice that Mr. Scott sees open to us at the present. So with this as a beginning point, he suggests that we become more skillful in the waging of "Political Warfare."

One thing Mr. Scott recommends seems to me to be of paramount importance - dispelling our illusions.

The first one to go should be the naive, almost-mythical belief in the overwhelming superiority of Western over Russian technology. We have a larger industrial base and could probably outstrip the Russians in almost any undertaking - if we were willing to submit to drastically lower living standards, and provided we are not already too far behind.

But once we recognize that empirical laws can be discovered by the "bad" guys as well as the "good" guys - and take steps to ensure sufficient basic research and development, we are on the way to successful competition with the Russians - and without sacrificing much of our high standard of living.

Another important point Mr. Scott makes is the different way the Russians look at things like agreements and compromises. The Russians see agreement as the "expression of a constellation of forces, just as, in mechanics, an arrow on a blackboard represents a vector whose length, direction and force are determined by several smaller arrows.

Mr. Scott illustrates the word "misunderstanding" with the story of a mixed commission which met in Trieste to determine the fate of that city. The Russians insisted that three railroads ran east from the city, the Americans claimed there was only one - and obtained aerial photographs to prove it.

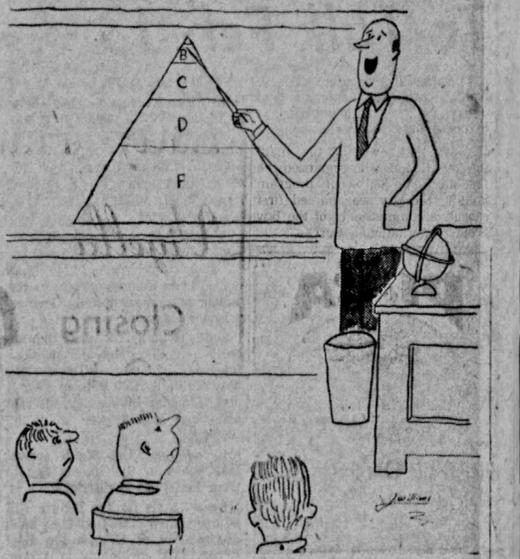

But for me the most illuminating subject Mr. Scott touched upon was the attitudes - and importance - of the Afro-Asian peoples, and of how often Americans bungle the job of carrying our story to them. I came away with the distinct impression that it is precisely with these people that the fate of the world lies - we cannot afford to lose them.

The Lighthouse must be an exceptionally good place to prepare for finals, as an instructor friend of mine met several students there who had made positive statements to the effect that last weekend and the next are for studying only.

Die Deutschen Turner (German Gymnasts) will be displaying their Tuetonic muscles, skill and whatnot in the Fieldhouse tonight (mit Beautiful Fraeulein). According to my sources, here unnamed, they are Wunderbar.

Made an interesting discovery the other day in a Philology periodical - you can't call a person by his name, only by the name of his name. So go ahead, call me names, you're only insulting my name, and that's something I do myself from time to time.

LESSON FOR THE WEEK: Don't take Life so seriously; after all, it's only a magazine.

The final will be graded on the pyramid system

Letter to the Editor

Discussion of a Weedy Metaphor

TO THE EDITOR:

The Iowan probably put its finger on something - or into something - with the cocklebur editorial chiding the touchiness of some campus rebels. On the other hand, its staff writer ignored two facts about cockleburs and weeds generally. The rebels could make a case for themselves, though they haven't yet.

In the first place, one cocklebur or any other irritating thing does not stand only for itself, it stands for the irritation it causes. Cause and effect are made indistinguishable by the mind which first associates them and then uses the effect to symbolize the cause.

together themselves in them.

In the second place, one cocklebur commonly suggests the presence of others. And that, when one finds that there are others indeed, is very annoying. Or, instead, there may be other weeds in the patch: thistles, say. Since weeds are weeds, one very likely carries out against the administration thistles in the same breath against the fraternity cockleburs and the Currier stichtights. (I speak hypothetically.)

Now the staff writer may call this sort of thinking muddled and I should have to agree. Very few editorials or letters, however, seem to go beyond this peripheral carping into an analysis of the human traits and social or administrative arrangements that create the irritations. The Iowan editorials are presumably intended to shape or influence thought and opinion, as well as to give evidence of having thought. It seems to me the cocklebur editorial ended where it should have begun, with analysis of what annoyed the angry young man. It was not only vague and wandering in its structure, it seemed to me futile in its reference to externals, the Braque prints and the cigaret-smoke, which do not define anything. It was quite as foolish as mere scoffing at Ivy-league buckles. Neither the sporty boys nor the rebels will change their habits because someone derides; it is more important to know why they adopt such mannerisms. It is most important to know whether chiding or derision is justified, in terms of a set of values, before undertaking to judge. And so muddled or superficial thinking has its dangers no matter who does it.

Down with Space Stations

By GEORGE DIXON King Features Syndicate

WASHINGTON - I took off my junior space man's helmet at the Senate Preparedness Subcommittee hearing the other day because I thought my ears were disintegrating. I imagined I heard a witness testify that a space program is rapidly becoming old hat and that if we want to be really up to the minute we should be thinking of an anti-space program.

I only wish my hearing had been playing me false, but unfortunately it was registering accurately. I checked - and established that the witness, Thomas G. Lanphier Jr., actually had said that what we should be working on now is a project for riding space of space machines and space men.

Col. Lanphier is a vice president of Convair, in charge of intercontinental ballistic missiles, but he used to be in the Air Force. He is the ace who shot down Admiral Yamamoto in World War II. By the end of his examination he looked as if he would prefer to be shooting down senators.

He said that if an unfriendly power, by which he may have meant the Lumbee Tribe of North Carolina, gets a manned space station into space we should have the means of shooting it down. This, of course, would be a long shot, but so was Mark Anthony in the seventh at Hialeah last Monday.

The testimony started me muttering to myself. I listened to what I was saying and this is what I heard:

"Well, we haven't shot a man into space yet, but already we're figuring on shooting him out. If we work out a scheme for doing this, the next step will be to invent a missile to shoot down the anti-space missile that shoots down the space missile. This is apt to become a vicious circle, as Sputnik II may have remarked to a meteorite it passed for the 300th time."

This space business is tough on the mundane mind because it seems so spacious. It has expanded the heads of the senators on the Preparedness Subcommittee to the point where they issue statements that sound as if they were churned in the Milky Way. If you would like to propel yourself into a state of lunar frenzy just try to reconcile some of the statements that have been torn from our ionospheric investigators.

The subcommittee chairman Majority Leader Byrdon B. Johnson, declared dramatically:

"The ground has been swept away from beneath us."

A Republican confere on the subcommittee, Sen. Leverett Saltonstall, of Massachusetts, stated:

"We must keep our feet on the ground."

Democratic subcommittee-fellow, Sen. Stuart Symington, of Missouri, asserted:

"We must leave no stone unturned."

I challenge you to put those three statements together without being seized with a mania to shoot yourself down from an unmanned platform. If the ground has been swept away from beneath us, how are we going to keep our feet on it, and go around turning over stones?

School To Expand Education Program

Four new classes will be added during the first week in February to the Iowa City Community School District's program of distributive education.

The program is designed to acquaint high school students with the opportunities available in business and to supply young trained employees to Iowa City stores.

THE CLASSES, Retail Advertising, Speeded Reading, Creative Thinking and Law for Laymen are just part of the total program which the school district has been building for four years, Ralph Wahrer, coordinator of distributive education, said.

This program, Wahrer said, will be of value to anyone in the distributive business. This includes retailing, wholesaling and advertising as well as many others, he said.

The program has a high school section in which seniors receive instruction in retailing. This class includes class room work with texts and 2 hours on the job training in Iowa City stores each week.

THIS TEACHES the students the fundamentals of store layout, advertising, retailing and selling, Wahrer said.

The adult section of the project is open to anyone already in distribution or planning to go into the field, he said.

Following are descriptions of the four new classes to be taught in the Iowa City High School.

SPEEDED READING will use SUJ reading films. This is a series of 14 films consisting of replica of a printed page.

Only a given part of the print can be seen at any one time; the rest is blotted out with a black bar. As the pupil reads the page the bar moves, uncovering the same amount of print each time. As the student continues through the series the speed of the bar shifts, and the amount of space visible in creases.

The instructor for this course will be Walter Hill, G. New London, a reading clinician at SUJ. There will be seven sessions, beginning Feb. 4 in Room 115. The sessions will be held on Tuesdays and Thursdays.

CREATIVE THINKING, or "brainstorming," is designed for men interested in increasing their ability to solve or make solutions creatively.

Wahrer said "brainstorming" (giving full reign to imagination through group discussion) assumes imagination to be a skill found in varying degrees in all individuals. This skill, as any other, can be improved through practice, he said.

There will be a text book, but 40 per cent of the class time will be spent in creative thinking, Wahrer, who will teach this class, said. Fourteen sessions are scheduled for Tuesday and Thursday, beginning Feb. 2 in Room 100.

LAW FOR LAYMEN will cover the aspects of law with which the average layman is more likely to come into contact.

Topics will include contracts, deeds, abstracts, promissory notes, mortgages, taxes, and general commercial law. This course will be taught by an Iowa City attorney and former Johnson County Attorney, William Meardon.

Eight sessions, beginning Wednesday, Feb. 5, will be held in room 115.

RETAIL ADVERTISING is primarily for persons engaged in retailing.

Each session will be devoted to a different media, with an expert in the media as instructor. The final session will be taught by a retailer with experience in advertising. Media presented will include newspapers, radio, and specialty.

Five sessions are scheduled, beginning Wednesday, Feb. 5 in room 111.

Persons wishing to register for any of the courses should contact Ralph Wahrer. His telephone number is 7526.

'Rose of Delta Sig'

THE ROSE OF DELTA SIG, alias Katy Ketelsen, N2, Iowa City, was crowned by Jack Nielsen, C3, Burlington, president of the Delta Sigma Pi, national commerce fraternity, at the club's formal last weekend. Miss Ketelsen was chosen by the fraternity from a field of 17 nominees from the women's housing units on campus.

Girl Scouts Schedule Vote On Expansion

Members of Cardinal Council of Girl Scouts will vote tonight on whether to expand the Council's area to include Jones, Linn and Muscatine Counties.

The annual business meeting of the Council at which the voting will take place is scheduled for 8 p.m. Tuesday at Longfellow School, Iowa City.

A committee made up of members of Muscatine and Cardinal Councils has made a detailed study of the proposed merger, according to Mrs. Norman Baenziger, president of Cardinal Council, and has recommended to both councils that the new larger area be created.

Both Mrs. Baenziger and Mrs. Hugh Carson, executive director of Cardinal Council, are urging that as many adult members of the Council as possible attend the Tuesday evening meeting. Cardinal Council now covers Johnson, Washington and Iowa Counties and one-third of Linn County. Any adult in the area interested in work with Girl Scouting is eligible for membership.

discussion of "Medico-Legal Aspects of the Trial."

This meeting is of a series which the bar is having with other business and professional groups. Earlier meetings have been with the Johnson County Bankers Association and real estate and insurance men.

Attorney Emil G. Trott, Iowa City, program chairman for the bar association said the panel will discuss different types of trials in which medical testimony takes place.

One example of this type of trial, Trott said, is an automobile accident suit where it is usually necessary to determine how seriously a person has been injured or how much a person is disabled.

The idea of the series is first, to get acquainted with the different groups which will lead to mutual understanding of each other's problems and second, to learn something about other groups, he said.

Speaking of the banking conference, Trott said, "There are legal problems in banking as there are banking problems in law." This idea can be applied to all the groups, he said. These discussions will benefit the clients as well as the lawyers, Trott said.

Patterson Set To Defend Title In London

British Champ Joe Erskine Probable Foe

NEW YORK (AP) — For the first time in 25 years a world heavyweight title boxing match will be held outside the United States when Floyd Patterson defends his championship in London in late June. The probable opponent is Joe Erskine, a Welshman who holds the British Empire crown.

Erskine, who was 24 Sunday, has lost only once in 31 pro fights. He was stopped in the first round by Cuba's Nino Valdes last February in London.

To clinch the Patterson match, Erskine must defeat Ingemar Johansson of Sweden, the European champion, in a Feb. 21 bout in Sweden.

Promoter Harry Levene of London and Patterson's manager, Cut D'Amato, Monday issued a joint statement after reaching "an agreement in principle." No financial terms were disclosed but Patterson, undoubtedly, will get a hefty guarantee.

Both Levene and D'Amato refused to be pinned down on what would happen to the match if Erskine should lose to Johansson.

The last time a heavyweight champion put his title on the line outside the United States was in 1923 when Primo Carnera went home to Italy and fought Paolino Uzcudum in Rome. Carnera won a decision in 15 rounds.

The 23-year-old champion, who won his title by knocking out Archie Moore at Chicago, Nov. 30, 1956, defended twice in 1957. Patterson stopped Tommy (Hurricane) Jackson in 10 rounds at New York, July 29 and stopped Rademacher in six rounds, Aug. 22 at Seattle. In 31 bouts since he left the amateurs after the 1952 Olympics, Patterson has lost only once, a disputed decision to Joey Maxim in eight rounds in 1954.

Erskine was unbeaten until he met Valdes, who never gave him a chance to get started. Big Nino dropped Joe twice before the referee stopped it.

According to the Ring Guide, his record for 34 starts is 31-1 with 10 knockouts.

Wilt Silent Don't Know Nothin From Nothin

WICHITA, Kan. (AP) — Sports writers spotted University of Kansas basketball players Wilt (The Stilt) Chamberlain and Ron Londecki at Sunday's National Industrial League Basketball game here.

Pete Lightner, sports editor of the Wichita Eagle, said both insisted there was no significance to their presence at the game, in which Wichita defeated Bartlesville 102-97.

"Looking him straight in the belt buckle," wrote Virgil Quinlisk in the Wichita Beacon, he asked Wilt about various things, including Cincinnati's Oscar Robertson, the only player who tops Wilt in the National Collegiate scoring race. Quinlisk reported the conversation went thus:

Quinlisk: "You down here for something special?"
Wilt: "Ball game."
"You a guest of Wichita?"
"Nope."
"Bartlesville?"
"Nope."
"Whatta you think of Robertson?"
"Nothin'."
"Whater you gonna do about him?"
"Nothin'."
"You gonna be down here while?"
"Nope."
"Anything else you'd like to say?"
"Nope."

NFL To Complete Drafting Today

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The National Football League opens its four day annual meeting here Tuesday with the player draft the first order of business.

Commissioner Bert Bell will bang the gavel to start the 10 hour job of player selections by the 12 pro clubs.

Bell confirms that the final 26 rounds of the annual draft — the first four were held Dec. 1 — are on the schedule, but says there is a possibility the owners may decide to cut the process five rounds. It would take unanimous consent to make the move.

Iowa Swimmers Win; Wrestlers Lose Second

Iowa's swimming team got back on the winning trail Saturday, defeating Minnesota, 63-42.

The Hawkeyes now have a 2-1 record for the season, all against conference foes. They defeated Wisconsin and lost to Michigan State in earlier meets.

Three Iowa records and two pools marks fell in the Iowa dominated victory. Gary Morris swam the 50-yard freestyle race in 22.2 seconds, erasing the old pool mark of 22.4 set by Fred Westphal of Wisconsin in the last home meet and his own Iowa record, which was 22.4.

Bob Pratt, Jim Davidson and Jim Coles teamed with Morris in the 400-yard freestyle relay to break the pool record set by Michigan in 1951. The Iowa record, set in 1949 was also bettered. The quartet swam the distance in 3:27.9.

The third Iowa record was broken by Earl Ellis in the 440-yard freestyle. His time of 4:50.4 broke the old record which he set in 1956.

Morris was the only double winner for Iowa. He won the 100-yard freestyle to go along with his record in the 50.

The next meet for the swimmers is against Michigan Feb. 8 in the Fieldhouse pool.

Iowa's wrestling team suffered its second defeat of the season Saturday night at the hands of highly rated Oklahoma State, 18-6. The Hawkeyes have won six dual meets.

Iowa could manage only two decisions against the Cowboys. Larry Moser in the 123-pound class and Gary Kurlmeier at 177-pounds scored the Iowa points.

Moser, the scrappy Waterloo junior, scored four points on a reversal and a near fall in the last seven seconds of the bout to give Iowa a brief 3-0 lead. This was Moser's sixth victory against no defeats for the season.

Kurlmeier defeated Dick Beattie, a member of the 1956 Olympic wrestling team, to complete the scoring for Iowa. Kurlmeier was awarded the deciding two points of the match when Beattie was called for stalling. A wrestler is warned once, then is penalized two points the second time he is called for stalling. The victory gave Kurlmeier a 6-1 record for the season.

Ralph Rieks, Iowa's 137-pounder was defeated for the first time this season. He had won seven straight victories. Ted Pierce dished him, 3-2.

One of the bigger disappointments of the meet for the Hawkeyes was Simon Roberts in the 147 pound class. He was dished 3-0 by Shelby Wilson. Roberts was national 147 pound champion in 1957. His record for the year is 4-2-2.

Oklahoma State was warned three times for stalling during the meet. Of their six decisions, the largest score was only 7-3 in the 130-pound class where Bobby Herald defeated Vince Garcia.

The next home meet for the Hawkeyes is February 8 when they entertain Northwestern.

Big Ten Basketball

N'WESTERN 85, MINNESOTA 76
EVANSTON, Ill. (AP) — Phil Warren and Willie Jones powered Northwestern to an 85-76 basketball victory over Minnesota Monday night for the Wildcats' third Big Ten triumph in six games.

OHIO STATE 75, PURDUE 73
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio State moved into undisputed second place in the Big Ten basketball standings Monday night by stopping a last minute Purdue rally to nip the Boiler-makers, 75-73.

The defending Class B champions for the last two years were never behind. With all five starters scoring at least three points, the Ramblers moved to a 22-10 advantage at the end of the first quarter.

St. Mary's of Iowa City drilled in 30 points in the second period while holding the Cubs to only five and left the floor at halftime with a 52-15 bulge.

The Ramblers, whose fast break worked to perfection all evening, continued to pour it on in the third quarter as they outscored their visitors, 31-16, for a three-quarter margin of 83-31.

Coach Newell Breyfogle poured in his reserves in the final period and with 1 minute, 40 seconds remaining, Paul Brogla tossed in a charity toss to bring the score up to 100-41. Baskets by Bob Panther and Jim McGuire rounded out the Rambler total of 104.

Six Ramblers scored in double figures. Following Maher's 35 were Terry Klein with 17; Vic Belger, 14; Mike Blackman, 11; and Bill Reid and Mike Reid, 10. Mike McMahon was high for the Cubs with 15 points.

Steve Carlsson was the only double winner of the meet. He won the free exercise and the horizontal bar events. The wins gave the Swedish junior eight victories in nine events for the first three meets of the season.

Ted Segura led the scoring for the Hawkeyes. He scored 13 points by winning the still rings event and placing second in the free exercise and third in the horizontal bar.

Top German Women Star In Exhibition

A 13-member group of German gymnasts will demonstrate their athletic ability tonight at 8 o'clock in the Iowa Fieldhouse.

The first German gymnastics team to tour the United States since 1926, the group consists of seven men and six women. It is the first group of German women gymnasts to appear in America.

The athletes were selected from the best gymnasts in Germany. They are all members of the Deutscher Turner-Bund, a German gymnastics society totaling more than a million and a half members.

The movement has been part of German tradition since 1811 and has complete religious, racial and political neutrality.

The 13 athletes bring with them many championships and honors. Phillip Furst was the 1957 German champion in 12 different events.

Another member, Hardy Frenger, 35, a ripe old age for most athletes, has been a member of the German National Gymnastics team for more than 10 years. Karl Bohnenstengel is ranked sixth among the best gymnasts in his country.

Ursula Brian has been a member of the women's gymnastics team representing her country at the world championships.

Helga Stockel has been a member of the national team for four years, while Meinhold Hirling, a native of the Saarland region, competed for France in the 1952 Olympics and was a French representative to the world championships.

Iowa is one of several stops on a swing through the country. The gymnasts opened at the University of Illinois a week ago. They will perform at most of the Big Ten schools, winding up their U.S. tour at West Point before the Military Academy. They performed before more than 5,000 students at the Chicago branch of the University of Illinois.

The group travels next to Moline, Ill., to put on a show before the Turner Society there.

One of the objectives of the tour, according to information supplied by the group, is to promote physical fitness and gymnastics in the United States.

The presentation is sponsored by Phi Epsilon Kappa, national honorary physical education society, the varsity gymnastics team, and George Nissen, Cedar Rapids, a manufacturer of trampoline equipment.

Ticket prices are $1 for adults and 75 cents for students.

Drop in Workers Reported by Digest

The Iowa Business Digest reported that the average month in 1957, when compared to 1956, found 1,700 less people farming than working at other jobs, despite a decline in manufacturing jobs in 1957.

But toward the end of the year, the state's non-agricultural employment was on a slight downgrade which appeared to be more than seasonal, according to the SUI publication.

For instance, last November's off-farm jobs were 2,600 fewer, about 0.4 per cent less than in the same month of 1956.

On the other hand, Iowa construction had such a big November, 1957, jump that the upward line went over the top of the graph which the SUI Bureau of Business and Economic Research had prepared to chart the year. The November spurt brought 11-month figures for 1957 to a level 10 per cent higher than for the same period of 1956.

The new issue of the Digest also contrasts average manufacturing paychecks in Iowa and neighboring states. The typical Iowan earned in industry last September, for instance, $5 less per week than his counterpart in Illinois, but $6 more

Bank Robber's Life Sentence Cut by Judge

ELKADER (AP) — In an act of judicial clemency, District Judge W. H. Antes reduced the life sentence of bank robber Charles D. Greathouse, 26, to a term of 35 years following a hearing Monday.

The judge on Dec. 4 had sentenced Greathouse to two concurrent life terms in prison. Greathouse pleaded guilty to the Nov. 21 robbery of the Farmersburg Savings Bank and the June 25 robbery of the First Savings Bank of McGregor.

Judge Antes himself ordered the rehearing. He said doubt had arisen as to whether Iowa law still required a mandatory life sentence for entering a bank with intent to rob.

Judge Antes announced his decision after five character witnesses testified in behalf of Greathouse. They said he was a hard worker and had been a good youth. The representative of a bonding company said full restitution of the bank robbery loot had been made.

The judge said he was taking cognizance of the testimony in behalf of Greathouse. He also said that a change in the law made by the 1951 Legislature has been interpreted as giving the courts some latitude in dealing with bank robbery offenses.

County Attorney H. K. Roggensack told the court that in considering any modification of sentence, the state still believes Greathouse should be punished severely.

After the judge's decision, Greathouse was returned to Fort Madison State Penitentiary.

$8,400 Suit Filed Against Truck Firm

Charles F. Kister, Waukon, filed suit Monday in Johnson County District Court asking more than $8,400 in damages from Eldon Miller, Inc.

In his petition Kister states he has been damaged because the company failed to pay for the use of a semi-tractor under a Jan. 22, 1957, contract.

Kister states the sum of $2,226.57 is due him for use of the semi-tractor at 23 cents a mile. In addition, he said a $1,180 check given him by the company in April, 1957, was not honored.

Kister also lists $5,000 damage because the tractor was repossessed. He said profit from renting the tractor to Miller was to have made the $331.07 monthly payments.

Kister asked 65 per cent of demurrage payments collected by Miller, Inc., for delay in loading and unloading merchandise hauled to the company's customers. In the petition, Kister states the company collected these payments but did not turn over 65 per cent to Kister as their contract stipulated. Kister stated he did not know the exact amount of the payments.

Kister demands his right of jury trial.

$9 Million Issue Of Bonds Asked By Gas Company

An application for authorization to issue and sell convertible debentures in the principal amount of $9 million was filed Monday by Iowa-Illinois Gas and Electric Company with the Illinois Commerce Commission in Springfield.

Subject to Commission approval, the debentures will be offered to underwriting groups by competitive bidding procedures and re-offered by the purchasers to the public early in March of 1958.

Proceeds from the sale of the debentures will be used by the utility to repay about $4,885,000 in bank loans and help finance 1958 construction required in providing for the gas and electric needs of the area served.

Two Injured; $900 Damage In Car, Truck Collision

Joseph L. McGrane, Manchester, suffered a head injury, and George McAtee, Sand Road, received a leg cut in collision at 11:20 a.m. Sunday at the intersection of Burlington St. and Muscatine Ave.

The men were injured when a car driven by Clarence Stroberck, Manchester, and a truck driven by William C. Arr, 302 W. Benton St., collided head-on. McAtee was a passenger in the truck and McGrane a passenger in the car.

The accident tied up traffic at the intersection for about 45 minutes. Police estimated the damage to both vehicles at more than $900. A charge of failing to stop at a stop sign was filed against Stroberck by police.

Two other minor accidents occurred over the week-end.

Cars driven by Elmer Stalder, Washington, and Linda Bjurstrom, 326 1/2 N. Johnson St., collided about 4 p.m. Saturday at the intersection of Benton and Capitol streets.

Richard D. Brown, Cedar Rapids, was the driver of a car which was damaged at 10:50 p.m. Saturday in a one-car mishap in front of 1223 S. Riverside Drive.

Young's Death Prime Factor in Stock Trade

By ED MORSE
NEW YORK (AP) — The suicide of Robert R. Young, board chairman of New York Central and Allegheny Corp., was the dominating factor in the stock market Monday but the market withstood the shock well.

New York Central stock, though heavily traded, closed unchanged. Allegheny stock as a whole was mixed. Although the average of leading stocks was down a bit, there was virtually an even division between gainers and losers among all stocks traded.

Except for a few special situations, the gains and losses of key stocks were generally within a 1-point range.

Volume totaled 2,330,000 shares compared with 2,830,000 on Friday. Central's opening was delayed for an hour and a half as a large number of buy and sell orders were matched by exchange officials in the interests of an orderly market. The stock opened at 15 1/2, off 1/4 on 12,000 shares.

Central weathered the news about Young. Some coppers had a slight rise on word of higher copper prices abroad. Motors, aircrafts, rubbers and motion pictures were lower.

The ticker tape was late for two minutes at the opening. Prices were irregular at the start and remained that way.

Of 1,159 issues traded, gainers totaled 443 and losers 461. New highs for 1957-58 totaled 35. There were four new lows.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks fell 50 cents to $165.50 with the industrials down $1.20, the rails up 30 cents and the utilities unchanged.

Military Commission of 1776 Now on Exhibition at Armory

Spirit of '76

A second lieutenant's commission issued by the Massachusetts Bay Colony in 1776 is being shown to SUI students at the SUI Armory this month.

Capt. Roy L. Goodale, assistant professor of Air Science and Tactics, is exhibiting the commission as part of a drive to interest and attract qualified young men into the Advanced Air Force Reserve Officer Training Corps (AFROTC) program at SUI.

THE COMMISSION was issued by the "major part of the council" of the Massachusetts Bay Colony to Ebenezer Buck, maternal great-grandfather of Capt. Goodale and son of Col. Jonathan Buck, founder of the town of Bucksport, Maine.

Passed down through the family, the commission was in the possession of Capt. Goodale's grandfather, the late Brig. Gen. Greenleaf A. Goodale, who lived during 1856-57 in Mount Pleasant.

Capt. Goodale points out that despite changes in techniques of warfare and evolution in customs of the service, the military commissions issued today place the same emphasis as that of 1776 on character as the real basis for "reposing special trust and confidence" in the loyalty, courage and good conduct of the recipient.

"MODERN WEAPONS and global operations pose an even greater challenge on those seeking careers in the armed forces," Capt. Goodale explains. "Present-day aircraft speed and performance, together with the limitless opportunities in the Air Force for those willing to learn and dedicate themselves, provide a stimulating life for the person interested in travel, education and service."

The present AFROTC program began at SUI during the Civil War and is designed to assist and develop interested and qualified young men to obtain commissions in the United States Air Force.

Council Voids Al's Tavern Beer Permit

The Class B beer permit of Al's Tavern on N. Linn St. was revoked Monday afternoon at special meeting of the Iowa City Council.

The unanimous action of the Council followed an investigation of the alleged sale of beer to a 16-year-old youth January 10th.

No action was taken by the Council to revoke the bond which was put up when the license was issued. This action, according to City Attorney Edward W. Lucas, would require a hearing.

After the revocation of the license, Mayor Louis Loria asked that policemen make regular checks of local taverns in an effort to prevent further sales of beer to minors.

Reports were made to the Council by Detective Lieutenant Harland F. Sprinkle and the City Attorney before proceedings began.

Attorney Lucas said the revocation by the Council, under state law is "obligatory" if the Council is satisfied that a violation of the law had been committed.

He said that action concerning the tavern is in two phases:

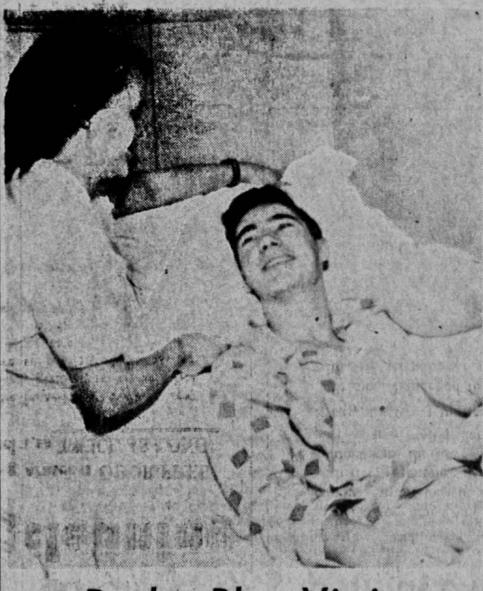

1. A criminal action against the employee accused of selling the beer;

2. A civil proceeding by the Council to revoke the permit. The Council was told by Sprinkle that police were called to St. Patrick's School the evening of Jan. 10 and found four minors involved in beer-drinking.

Questioning of the boys the following day revealed that the beer had been purchased at Al's Tavern, Sprinkle said. One of the boys told officers he had purchased the beer, and identified Mrs. Helen Wonick, wife of the proprietor, as the employee who had sold him the beer, Sprinkle said.

The beer permit was issued to Elzear K. Wonick, proprietor of the tavern.

Mrs. Wonick waived to District Court when arraigned in police court Monday morning on the charge of selling beer to a minor.

Rocket Blast Victim

RONALD BRYANT, 15-year-old high school sophomore displays a big smile for his nurse Melba Matthew, Monday, in a Norfolk hospital. Bryant's left hand was mangled in an explosion of the fuel for a homemade rocket, which he and a friend were testing. Their rocket is one foot long.

Supreme Court Okays Standard Oil Actions

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court Monday upheld 5-4 the legality of Standard Oil Co. of Indiana selling gasoline to jobbers in the Detroit area, who also are area retailers, at prices lower than to other retailers.

Speaking for the majority, Justice Clark said Standard's price cuts to jobbers was in good faith to meet competition and fell short of discriminatory pricing as defined in earlier Supreme Court decisions.

In a dissenting opinion in which Chief Justice Warren and Justices Black and Brennan joined, Justice Douglas said the ruling "cripples enforcement of the Robinson-Patman Act against price discrimination... in an important area."

"It comes down to this: A big retailer gets one price; a small retailer gets another price," Douglas wrote.

The case reached the Supreme Court on appeal by the Federal Trade Commission from a decision by the U.S. Court of Appeals in Chicago in favor of Standard.

In another ruling Monday involving the trade commission, the court ruled 8-0 that the commission need not press discriminatory pricing charges against an entire industry merely because it proceeds against one or more companies within the industry.

Two auto parts makers, Moog

Industries, Inc., St. Louis, and C. E. Niehoff & Co., Chicago, contended commission orders against them should be held in abeyance until their competitors were subjected to similar orders. They contended they would be seriously damaged unless the FTC moved on an industry-wide basis.

In other actions Monday the court:

1. Gave the cold shoulder to two Communist leaders, Henry Winston and Gilbert Green, who sought reversal of their 1949 Smith Act conviction.
2. Ordered 6-3 still another court hearing on the plan of the Allegheny Corp. in which the late financier Robert R. Young, long was the dominant figure, to issue new preferred stock.

In sending the case back to a special 3-judge federal court in New York, the Supreme Court said the only question for it to consider was whether the preferred stock issue authorized by the Interstate Commerce Commission was in violation of the Interstate Commerce Act.

Soviet Boss: Little Problems Should be First

MOSCOW (AP)—Nikita Khrushchev proposed a summit conference at which the East and West could start with simple problems and work up to the tougher ones.

The Soviet Communist party chief said such a conference could begin with issues "we can agree on before tackling the tougher and more basic problems that divide" the East and West.

Khrushchev made his proposal, the latest in a series of Soviet calls for a summit conference, to a group of Western ambassadors at an Indian National Day reception.

He also reiterated his proposals for a non-aggression pact, an immediate halt to atomic and hydrogen bomb tests and a joint reduction of armed forces. He also said again that the Soviet Union will not return to disarmament discussions on a U.N. subcommittee level.

Khrushchev declared the deliberations of the subcommittee were hypocritical.

He dismissed the chief Western argument against an immediate halt to atomic and hydrogen bomb tests — the lack of controls — by saying the tests themselves are a form of control.

"They can be registered anywhere," Khrushchev said. "We ought to be friends." Khrushchev said. "Why cannot we sign a non-aggression pact? What's wrong with that?"

Banks Lower Reserve Rates

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Federal Reserve Board Monday approved reductions in the discount rate by the Federal Reserve Banks at Boston and Atlanta, bringing to nine the number of banks which have dropped their rate from 3 to 2 1/2 per cent in the past week.

The change in the rate at which the banks lend money to member banks of the Federal Reserve System is expected to help make credit easier and counter the business recession.

The other three banks in the system — Dallas, Minneapolis, and San Francisco — may make the move later but there is nothing to prevent the boards of directors of those institutions from continuing the 3 per cent rate if they believe a change is not justified by conditions in their areas.

KEOKUK FIRE—

were story and a half stores with false fronts. The Green store was remodeled after being damaged by fire last year.

The drug store also was remodeled recently.

BREHENY said it wasn't known how the fire started.

Although the stores were open for business Monday night, all customers and employees got out without injury.

Fire departments from Fort Madison, Montrose and Hamilton, Ill., joined the Keokuk department in fighting the fire.

FLAMES shot 30 to 40 feet in the air and most of the interior walls of the drug store and the Green store collapsed.

Heavy smoke also hampered firemen's efforts to get in and fight the fire at close range.

It was the third major fire in Iowa in two days.

Three children were killed Sunday when fire destroyed their farm home near Northwood and five men lost their lives in a hotel fire in Des Moines.

Empty Cash Box Foil's Week End Burglary Attempt

Crime didn't pay for the person who broke into the Capitol Implement Co., 702 Maiden Lane, over the week-end.

According to police, a small door to the shop area of the building was forced open to gain entrance, then the glass in an interior door was broken to get into the office.

Officers who investigated the break-in, after its discovery at 7:50 a.m. Monday, said the cash register had been pried open, but nothing of value was in the register and the would-be-thief went away empty-handed.

Aliens Have Week Left To Register In Iowa, Nebraska

Robert C. Wilson, District Director of the Immigration and Naturalization Service, Omaha, Nebraska said today aliens in Iowa and Nebraska have only one week in which to comply with the Federal law requiring that aliens report their address to the Government during January each year.

All aliens who have not yet complied should go to the nearest Post Office or Immigration Service office to file the report, Immigration officials said.

A Campus-to-Career Case History

Westport's "Mr. Telephone Company"

The Westport, Connecticut, office of Southern New England Telephone Company is managed by John F. Lehr, A.B., Yale, '52. In Westport, John is "Mr. Telephone Company."

"This job has everything," John says; "responsibility, independence, a chance to contribute to the community as well as the company. I have 8600 accounts in my office, and every one of those accounts is a person who has to be pleased with our telephone service. I'm in close contact with the town officials, and take part in many civic activities. Needless to say, it's a very interesting assignment.

"How I happened to choose a career with the telephone company tells you something about the business. After a dozen or so interviews with various firms, I picked the telephone company because it offered two things I was looking for—immediate opportunity, and long-range opportunity, too.

"You see, I was married in my senior year at college, so I wanted a career where I could start with a good salary, and get the training I'd need to advance in the shortest possible time. That's what I wanted immediately.

"The rapid expansion of the telephone business assured me of the long-range opportunities, because that expansion is creating more and more management positions to be filled. In fact, here I am, Manager in Westport, after only five years in the company. I don't know of another business where you can find more opportunities to get ahead."
