CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — The Navy's Vanguard, a finely-tuned space rocket, fired the free world's second satellite into orbit around the earth Monday. Clicking like a fine watch in its arrow-true climb into the blue sky, the Vanguard hurled its tiny, radio-equipped aluminum "moon" into an egg-shaped orbit so ideal that it may travel through space 5 to 10 years.

Gay Selected School Board President

Newport Township Asks Merger Consideration

George L. Gay received a unanimous vote for president of the Iowa City School Board at its organizational meeting Monday night.

Gay, recently re-elected board member, received the largest number of votes cast for school board candidates at the election March 10.

OFFICIAL CANVASS of election returns showed: for three-year candidates: Gay, 2,809; Elwin Joliffe, retiring president, 2,167; Gordon Webster, 1,664; and William Knoke, 1,129 votes.

Election returns for one-year candidates were: Frederick Miller, 2,245; and Harry Crosby, 1,543. Official count for the bond issue showed 1,644 yes, and 2,781 no.

At the meeting Monday, the new Board heard reports by a group of citizens representing Newport Township, southeast of Iowa City.

Frank Schneider, county superintendent, introduced the group and stated that they were concerned with the re-organization of the schools in the southern half of the township.

THE NORTHERN portion of Newport Township has proposed a merging with the Solon School District. The proposal will be voted on March 28, and if accepted, would take effect July 1.

Robert Fries, spokesman for the group of seven, said that a survey of the people in the southern portion of the township indicated that 80 per cent of the people wished to merge with the Iowa City Community School District.

BOARD MEMBERS expressed the feeling that when action could be taken, they would be ready and willing to consider the merger.

The Board again discussed steps to hurry action on a bond issue for the construction of a new junior high school.

The Board will meet tonight at 7:30 with the executive committee of the School Study Council to discuss plans for the issue.

Indonesian Army, Rebels Both Claim To Hold Medan

SINGAPORE (AP) — President Sukarno's Indonesian army claimed Monday it had regained control of the airport and harbor at Medan in North Sumatra and that insurgents had withdrawn from the strategic city.

The claim was called false by the rebel radio at Padang in Central Sumatra, which Sunday announced capture of the island's largest city by troops who maintained against the Sukarno regime.

The city has a population of 300,000.

A Medan broadcast supported the Government announcement of the recapture of the city.

Neither the Medan broadcast nor the Jakarta Government announcement gave any details.

Although the rebels disputed the Government claims, they appeared convinced that Maj. Boyke Nainn Golan and the one mutinous battalion he led against the Government Sunday could not hold the city long.

They reported Capt. Pohan, who displaced the Jakarta-appointed military commander in Tapanuli Province in northwest Sumatra Friday, was leading three battalions to reinforce Golan.

Padang radio also reported, without giving details, that fighting was going on in the Langkat area north of Medan.

House Group Supports Farm Price Freeze

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Agriculture Committee overwhelmingly approved Monday a resolution calling for a one-year freeze on farm price supports and acreage allotments at or above present levels.

The vote was 25-8, with Republicans casting all eight votes against the proposal. Seven other GOP members went along with solid Democratic support for the resolution.

In the face of a threatened presidential veto, the committee softened terms of the resolution voted by the Senate last Thursday by limiting the freeze period to one year.

MINUTES AFTER the world's smallest but highest-flying satellite began its globe-circling journey the high-pitched whine of its radio signals was picked up by tracking stations.

Its voice joined that of Explorer I, the first U.S. satellite launched here Jan. 31 by the Army's Jupiter-C missile.

The third man-made moon now orbiting in space, the Soviet Union's dog-carrying Sputnik II, is silent.

The 1,120-pound Red satellite is losing altitude, and American scientists expect it to plunge to a fiery death in the world's atmosphere about April 14.

SPUTNIK I, first of the Soviet moons, disintegrated Jan. 4.

Dr. John P. Hagen, director of the Vanguard project, said the new American satellite is traveling at 17,000 miles per hour.

THE SOVIET GOVERNMENT in Moscow Tuesday announced an "overwhelming victory" for its single slate of party-picked, unopposed candidates for the Supreme Soviet — Russia's parliament.

The solid propellant that blasted Vanguard's satellite into orbit has all the power necessary to land a marker on the moon, Charles E. Bartley, president of Grand Central, and maker of the missile's third stage said Monday in Redlands, Calif.

STATE SENATOR J. T. Dykhouse (R-Rock Rapids) announced Monday night in Des Moines that he has withdrawn from the Republican gubernatorial race and will support Dr. William G. Murray of Ames.

CONSERVATIVE FORCES on Okinawa easily defeated anti-American leftists Monday in legislative assembly.

It was considered a big victory for the U.S. administration on the big Okinawa Pacific base island.

T. Rehder Explains —

Building Not Only Cost To Consider

By JOHN JONES Staff Writer

"There are more costs to be considered in building additional married student housing than mere building costs," T. M. Rehder, director of SUI Dormitory and Dining Services, said Monday in an interview comparing married student housing rates at SUI with rates elsewhere.

A number of new developments have arisen concerning the proposed $10 rent increase for married student housing. David Jones, G. Iowa City, at a Student Council meeting suggested abandonment of the present plans to build permanent housing and substitute plans to build more barracks-type housing.

Charles Manatt, Iowa State College Student Body president told a Daily Iowan reporter barracks housing at Ames rents for $26 per month plus an estimated $150 a year for utilities. SUI barracks housing rents for $52.50 monthly including utilities at the present.

An article appeared Saturday in the Des Moines Register stating the Board of Regents had approved plans for 100 permanent married housing units to be built at Iowa State College for $8,500. SUI officials estimate Hawkeye Apartments (182 units) will cost approximately $2.6 million.

Substandard housing can probably be built cheaper than fire-proof masonry housing, but long range operation and maintenance costs may make the substandard housing the more expensive in the long run, Rehder said.

He pointed out banks and insurance companies are more willing to give long-term loans at cheaper rates if the buildings are of permanent structure rather than temporary or substandard. "Costs of financing are larger than most people realize," Rehder said.

Virgil S. Copeland, manager of Dormitory Operations, said, "We use the total cost to the student, both immediate and future, as the criteria for our building plans." Copeland was present at the interview.

Rehder said, "If it were possible

Student Kidnapping a Hoax? Wants Temporary Duration Extension

A reported kidnapping of an SUI student was still being investigated by Iowa City police after midnight Monday, but police officers said that they "hoped and suspected" that the phone call reporting the kidnapping was a hoax to cover up an earlier purse-snatching incident.

The man phoned the police at 10:29 and said that a gunman had forced him to drive him west on highway 6 and that he had managed to escape by jumping out of the car and running through a cornfield. He gave his name as William Gurney but no such name is listed in either the SUI or the city directory.

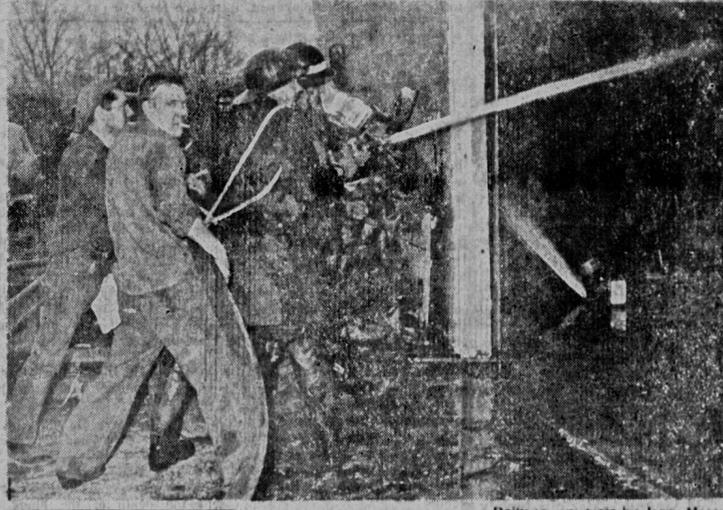

The purse-snatching victim, Mary Dee, 712 Dearborn, a student nurse at Mercy Hospital, reported that she was with two girl friends and was returning to her car near the Iowa Memorial Union when she saw a man slam the door to her car and run off with her purse. She gave chase; he doubled back to his car, parked in front of hers, and drove away.

She said that she caught up with the car at a Coralville stoplight. She went over to the car and demanded her purse back. The driver denied having it, but she pulled the door open and retrieved her purse from a man — the one she had chased — who was crouched down in the front seat. She then reported the incident to the police.

Miss Dee described the car as a '50 or '51 Dodge or Plymouth, and she also turned in the license number — but police report the number does not check out.

She described the purse-snatcher as a college-age fellow wearing a red and black Pendleton plaid jacket, dark haired, and wearing glasses, and the driver as a sandy-haired man, wearing something light.

Oh yes — there was no money in the purse. Miss Dee said she would not have lost much, but it just made her angry.

'No Favors' Says Mamie's Bro-In-Law

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mamie Eisenhower's brother-in-law, George Gordon Moore, swore Monday, he never asked or got government favors in the Miami TV Channel 10 case or any other case.

The former Army colonel acknowledged that "people have dropped my name in various places" and he said "I may have been used" in an airline venture with which he was associated six or seven years ago.

But he told the House subcommittee on Legislative Oversight his relations with the White House are "strictly social—in a family way."

And he added, in a laughing comment to reporters later, that as a business standpoint his in-law relationship with the Eisenhower family is more a liability than an asset.

Moore, 54, appeared voluntarily to answer a charge by the committee's ousted counsel, Bernard Schwartz, that he is a member of a White House clique engaged in machinations for big business.

In addition, A. Frank Katzenline, loser in a bid for the Miami TV license, has said he heard Moore engineered the award by the Federal Communications Commission of Channel 10 to a National Airlines subsidiary.

Moore, a gray-haired man with an affable, persuasive manner, said he never even discussed the channel 10 award and never heard of any White House influence clique.

$6,000 Fire Damage

Fire, presumably caused by a spark from a welding machine, caused an estimated $6,000 damage to the Kennedy Auto Market, 708 S. Riverside Drive, Monday afternoon.

"I don't know if that is an accurate estimate or not, because the 50 x 80 foot space which was damaged has not been completely checked," owner Paul M. Kennedy said Monday night.

"I do think the entire working area will have to be remodeled, including putting on new wiring and replacing much of the electric equipment," he said.

The garage is built of cement blocks but has a wooden roof and wooden partitions inside.

Kennedy said he was sitting in the front office around 4 p.m. when one of the mechanics yelled "Fire."

Firemen received the call at 4:11.

"We think a spark from one of the welding machines leaked through the wooden partition into the paint shop. Since no one was painting at the time, the blaze got underway before anyone noticed it."

"There was time to drive three cars out of the garage, but one car was on jacks and it was left in the building. This car received cracked windows; whether there is more damage will be determined tomorrow (Tuesday)."

"A car in the show room was also left in the building. It received smoke damage."

"We couldn't control the flames since they spread through the highly inflammable paint. By the time the firemen arrived we could not get in the building."

"The firemen contained the flames to the back of the building, and kept them from spreading to the front offices or the wooden roof. But as I said we will have to completely rework the interior of the building," Kennedy said.

He said it would be later today before a comprehensive estimate of the damage would be known. He did say Monday night that the paint in the garage was ruined.

He also thought that motors for the electrical equipment would have to be replaced, but added that some of the tools probably could be salvaged.

VAN ALLEN ADDRESS

An address by James Van Allen, professor and head of the SUI Physics Department, will be featured tonight during the initial meeting of the Wesleyan Associates, an advisory group for Iowa Wesleyan College, Mt. Pleasant. The meeting will take place in the John Wesley Holland Student Union at the college.

Weather

More below-normal temperatures and cloudy weather is expected at least through Wednesday by the weather bureau.

Last night's lows were forecast for the mid-20's. The high today is expected in the low-30's.

Wants Temporary Duration Extension

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower Monday invited nine Governors to meet with him Wednesday to discuss his plan for stretching out the period of payments to jobless workers.

The White House announced Mr. Eisenhower had sent telegrams to each of the nine members of the executive committee of the Governor's Conference.

The telegrams read in each case:

"I WOULD like very much to confer with the members of the executive committee of the governor's conference about a limited and temporary extension of the duration of unemployment compensation benefits."

The telegrams went out on a day that produced a report from the Federal Reserve Board saying that in February "industrial production, employment, incomes and retail sales again declined."

INDUSTRIAL production fell three points to 130 per cent of the 1947-49 average.

This was the lowest point since December 1954 and was 11 per cent below the level a year ago.

Presidential Press Secretary James C. Hagerty told newsmen Mr. Eisenhower would not discuss the Little Rock school integration problem with Faubus.

He said the meeting is strictly about the Eisenhower administration's plan for extending the period of unemployment compensation.

Most states pay unemployment compensation for 26 weeks. The national average is about 20 weeks.

When the period has expired, however, the jobless worker has no means of income, unless he manages to get work somewhere.

THOUSANDS of workers have been exhausting their benefits.

"Mr. Eisenhower will send his plan to Congress Thursday or Friday in the form of a message, Hagerty told newsmen.

But first, he said, the President wanted to get the views and advice of the Governors.

LYNDON JOHNSON, the Senate

Democratic leader, also raised the threat of evening sessions for the Senate if it drags out action on a highway bill estimated to provide 88,000 jobs.

Sen. Johnson did not discuss his plans in detail.

In other developments bearing on the economic slump:

1. HOUSE SPEAKER Rayburn (D-Tex.) announced the House will take up on Wednesday a housing bill that would provide an estimated 550,000 or more jobs.

2. THE REPUBLICAN national executive committee, Meade Alcorn, told a national conference of GOP women that the Democrats who control Congress have delayed action for three years on a plan of President Eisenhower's to give special aid to areas of chronic unemployment.

3. SECRETARY of the Treasury Anderson told the GOP women that the nation's economy is strong and vital. He said there is no simple answer to its economic problems and the Government should not proceed on the illusion that any single dramatic action is all that is required.

4. SEN. STYLES Bridges (R-N.H.) said he would propose to Mr. Eisenhower today that the Reconstruction Finance Corp. be revived on a standby basis. This Government agency, created in the Hoover administration, spent and lent $50 billions or more in finance various enterprises.

It went out of existence last June.

Special Town Men Meeting Wednesday

A special meeting of Town Men is scheduled for 7 p.m. Wednesday at 223 University Hall to discuss a possible new election of officers and Student Council representatives.

Only 68 of the 2,700 Town Men voted in Monday's election.

Ralph Prusok, off-campus housing advisor, said it is obvious the results of such an election cannot stand.

Jack Elkin, A3, Iowa City, newly elected president of Town Men Association whose office is now being contested, said officers elected in 1957 were determined by the votes of four men.

However, Elkin said, that election took place when the organization had only from 80 to 100 members.

Under the new Town Men Association constitution approved by the Student Council Feb. 20, the group can conduct elections in any manner it desires — just as the dormitories or Interfraternity Council.

The new constitution automatically extended membership in

Ten Acts Selected For Varsity Varieties

Ten acts have been selected to participate in Varsity Varieties to be held during Old Gold Days, April 25 and 26, it was announced Monday.

Winning acts in the small group division, according to Karen Christian, A2, Elmhurst, Ill., in charge of small group elimination, were: Dance Duet with Wilda Allen, A3, Leon, and Jim Kanealy, A4, Perry; Impersonations by Carolyn Moran, A3, Cascade; Mad Medics Pantomime with Edward Kagihara, M3, Marshalltown, Stanley Mills, M4, Joy Ill., John DeKock, M4, Oskaloosa, and Howard Denbo, M4, South Bend, Ind.; Singing Trio with Carolyn Wenner, A4, Des Moines.

Winners of the large group division, according to Sybil Norton, A2, Spencer, in charge of that division, were: Phi Delta and Kappa, a take-off on Little Red Riding Hood; Hillcrest and Currier, a take-off on Mickey Mouse; Sigma Alpha Epsilon and Alpha Delta Phi, an old fashioned melodrama; Sigma Chi and Delta Gamma, singing group; and Delta Upsilon, a minstrel show.

Mary Littig, A2, Mechanicsville, is general chairman of Varsity Varieties.

Top Court Gives Small Business A Break—

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court ruled unanimously Monday that "ordinary and necessary expenses" of operating in illegal bookmaking business may be deducted for federal income tax purposes.

IN ANOTHER unanimous ruling involving what constitutes deductible business expenses, the court held fines paid by truckers for violating state weight limitation laws do not qualify as deductions.

Justice Douglas, speaking for the court in the decision allowing bookmakers to deduct as business expenses rents and wages paid by them, cited a 15-year-old Supreme Court decision saying the "fact that an expenditure bears a remote relation to an illegal act" does not make it nondeductible.

Furthermore, Douglas said, regulations of the Internal Revenue

Bookies Can Deduct Expenses

Service makes the excise tax on wages deductible as an ordinary and necessary business expense.

"This seems to us to be recognition of a gambling enterprise as a business for federal tax purposes," Douglas wrote.

"The policy that allows as a deduction the tax paid to conduct the business seems sufficiently hospitable to allow the normal deductions of the rent and wages necessary to operate it."

THE RULING applied specifically to three Chicago bookmakers. The Internal Revenue Service disallowed tax deductions for rent and wages but the U.S. Court of Appeals in Chicago reversed this ruling.

In asking the Supreme Court to reverse the Appellate Court, the solicitor, J. Lee Rankin said "we do not believe that it is necessary to break the law or, in particular, that it is necessary to hire persons to commit crimes."

In Illinois, as is the case almost everywhere, bookmaking is against the law.

In the case of two trucking concerns which sought to deduct state fines paid by them for overloading, Justice Clark said allowance of the deductions would severely and directly frustrate a state policy. In other actions Monday, the court:

1. AGREED to hear an appeal of the International Boxing Clubs of New York and Illinois to determine whether they violated anti-trust laws in promoting championship fights. U.S. District Judge Sylvester J. Ryan of New York ruled the clubs monopolized title bouts from 1949 to 1953 and ordered the clubs dissolved.

2. REFUSED to rule on legality of a Tallahassee, Fla., bus seating assignment ordinance under which two Negroes and a white person were fined and sentenced to jail.

The three persons were charged with violating the Tallahassee ordinance by refusing to go to assigned seats in a bus and refusing thereafter to obey the requests of the driver that they leave the bus.

3. DENIED Jack Benny permission to burlesque the motion picture "Gaslight" with a television playlet called "Autolight."

Loew's, Inc., holder of the copyright on "Gaslight," blocked the TV showing of a parody by obtaining an order in federal court in Los Angeles.

The high court divided 4-4 on Benny's appeal. This affirmed the lower court ban.

Youth Hurt; Condition OK

Fourteen-year-old Anthony Gioimo, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry T. Gioimo, 803 S. Lucas St., was reported in good condition at University Hospitals Monday afternoon after he reportedly fell under the wheels of a wagon load of scrap wood Monday morning.

Police said that Anthony and five other boys were playing at the Rock Island Railroad yard. Anthony tried to jump on the wood wagon, owned by Francis Webster, 49, 1105 6th Ave.

However, he slipped as he jumped for the back of the wagon and fell under the left wheel. He was dragged about 12 feet before the wagon was stopped.

Gioimo received lacerations and abrasions of the right leg. It was first feared by hospital authorities that Anthony's leg might be fractured.

View Book Week Exhibit

OBSERVING NATIONAL LIBRARY WEEK in the SUJ Libraries are Verlie Dix, A1, Larchmont, N.Y., and Nancy Dancy, A1, Pekin, Ill. The two girls are viewing one of the week-long exhibits emphasizing the theme "A Reading Nation is a Leading Nation." National Library Week is a campaign for wider and wiser use of books. Surveys indicate that 60 per cent of the nation read no book other than the Bible in 1957, giving the U.S. the lowest rank in number of readers among the English-speaking nations. Other exhibits will include books which are currently popular with SUJ faculty and students, and a display of pictures of the SUJ Library throughout the years.—Daily Iowan Photo by Darel Hein.

Expect 400 Prep Students At Music Shop

Some 400 Iowa high school music students are expected to attend the Brass and Woodwind Workshop Saturday at SUJ.

Discussion leaders for the workshop will be Daniel B. Tetzlaff, instructor in brass instruments in the public schools of Minneapolis, and George E. Wain, instructor in woodwinds in the Oberlin College conservatory of music, Oberlin O. Tetzlaff was formerly a trumpet player with the Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra. Mrs. Tetzlaff, the former Jane Spencer of Iowa City, an SUJ music graduate, is now a cellist with the Minneapolis orchestra. Tetzlaff was a member of the U.S. Navy Preflight Band during World War II.

Wain played solo clarinet in the SUJ Band and Symphony Orchestra while he was a student at SUJ. A native of Cedar Rapids, he has a son, Ronald Wain, who is now a graduate assistant in music at SUJ.

A concert of chamber music by wind ensembles from the SUJ Music Department at 1:30 p.m. will be open to the public, as will a concert at 4 p.m. by the SUJ Symphony Band under the direction of Frederick C. Ebbs. Both programs will be given in North Music Hall.

The Saturday workshop will be the third of four in the 11th Annual Music Workshop Series sponsored by the SUJ Music Department to give expert evaluation to young Iowa musicians and their teachers.

Record Gate Expected For Basilio-Sugar Ray Re-match Middleweight Title Bout Set For March 25

CHICAGO (AP)—The International Boxing Club said Monday it already has $201,000 in the till for the March 25 middleweight title bout between Champion Carmen Basilio and challenger Sugar Ray Robinson, and the expectations are the fight will draw a record gate.

"The $5 and $10 seats are gone," said IBC secretary, Truman Gibson. "There remains the $15, $30 and $40 seats. We'll have to wait and see how the more expensive seats go. After all, there seems to be a lull in what people are spending for entertainment these days.

"However, I look for a gate that will top the indoor record of $422,918 set at Chicago Stadium by Tony Zale and Rocky Graziano in 1947."

Gibson said another $300,000 is expected in theater television receipts and $30,000 from radio. Chicago will be blacked out on TV but will have the radio broadcast. Robinson and Basilio will split all proceeds $0-30.

At last reports, Basilio was an 8-5 favorite in New York and 2-1 in Chicago.

Asked what he thought of the odds, Basilio said:

"I never pay any attention to them."

Basilio arrived in Chicago Monday wearing a St. Patrick's Day pin and a wide grin that reflected confidence in his March 25 re-match with Robinson.

"About all I want to say about the fight right now," Basilio volunteered, "is that I know what to expect from Robinson. And he certainly knows what to expect from me. I also hear that he is supposed to be 30 per cent better than he was when I defeated him. I don't believe that—not for a man of his age. If he were younger I could understand that he might be better."

The champion said he weighs about 153½ pounds, and that he will box only three rounds a day instead of six or seven.

"I weigh about the same as when I met Robinson the last time and will come in at the same weight," he added. "Mainly, I want to get in road work this week."

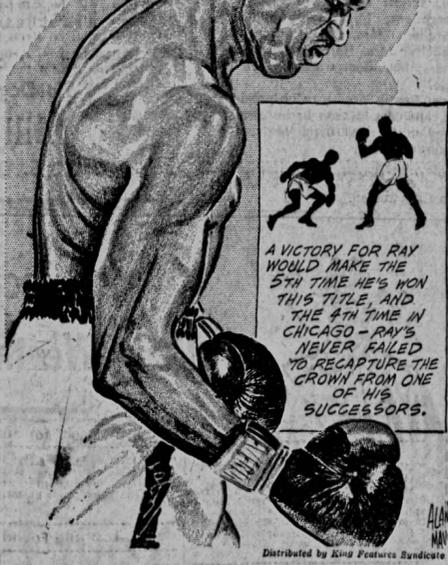

Robinson, who first won the middleweight crown in Chicago and twice regained it in the Windy City, is due in Tuesday with an entourage of 14.

FENCERS IN N.C. MEET

A fencing squad of three men probably will represent Iowa in the National Collegiate tournament at Lubbock, Tex. Friday and Saturday. Dave Dittmer, Big Ten champion in epee, heads the Iowa group. Iowa finished third in the conference meet, best spot ever earned by a Hawkeye team.

Big Ten Gymnastic Meet To Be Held Here March 28-29

Defending champions in six events, three sessions of competition and eight other teams attempting to keep Illinois from winning its ninth straight title; those are important items in connection with the Big Ten gymnastics meet at Iowa March 28 and 29.

Held here for the fifth time but—the first—since 1950, the 50th annual meet will have teams from every conference university except Purdue. The Boilermakers do not include the sport on their program.

The eight-event meet opens Friday, March 28 at 1:30 p.m. with preliminaries in individual events and finals in the all-around and continues that evening, starting at 7:30 p.m. Ten men will qualify for the final in each individual event.

Finals in the individual events occur Saturday at 2 p.m., with ten places to be scored on the basis of 11, 9, 8, 7, 6, etc. Events are free exercise, horizontal bar, parallel bars, side horse, trampoline, still rings and tumbling.

Abe Grossfeld of Illinois, 1956 U.S. Olympic team member, will defend his title in the horizontal bar and free exercise events and his joint title in all-around. From Michigan comes Edward Gagner, 1957 winner of the parallel bars and sharer with Grossfeld of the all-around honor. Edward Cole of Michigan, trampoline; and Frank Hailand of Illinois, tumbling, are the other defending champions.

Illinois started its team domination of the championship meet in 1950, last time the affair was held at Iowa. This year Iowa and Michigan have a chance to break the Illinois string of eight titles.

Top-Seeded Dayton in 1st NIT Game

NEW YORK (AP)—The first and second seeded teams, Dayton and Bradley, make their first appearances today in the National Invitation Basketball Tournament at Madison Square Garden.

Bradley, defending champion but seeded No. 2, plays Xavier of Cincinnati in the opening game. Dayton opposes Fordham in the second game.

Winners advance to Thursday's semi-finals. The Bradley-Xavier victor goes against third-seeded St. Bonaventure, 79-75 winner over St. Joseph's (Pa.) last Saturday. The Dayton-Fordham survivor opposes St. John's of Brooklyn which upset fourth-seeded Utah 71-70.

The finals are scheduled Saturday afternoon.

Dayton goes into the Fordham game with a 23-3 season record and memories of a one-sided 64-35 victory over the Rams during the campaign. Fordham's record is 15-8.

Dayton has a well-balanced squad with no single outstanding scorer, Jack McCarthy, the 6-6 center, averaged 14.3 points a game during the season.

Bradley (20-5) enters the tournament with virtually the same team which won the title a year ago. Its hopes have been strengthened by the return of six-foot-seven Barney Cable, who averaged 13.1 points during the season.

Bradley's top scorer is Shellie McMillen, averaging 16.6. Bradley is one of the few teams to beat powerful Cincinnati (79-73) this year.

Eddy Edges O'Connor for Top Coaching Job—Gunther On Big Ten Sports Editors' Team

Special to The Daily Iowan

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. — Iowa's Dave Gunther was named to the Big Ten College Sports Editor's All-Conference basketball team released Monday by The Daily Illini. Hawkeye coach Bucky O'Connor narrowly missed being selected as having done the best job of coaching during the past season.

Named with Gunther to the first team were Archie Dees, Indiana; Johnny Green, Michigan State; George Kline, Minnesota; and Don Ohl, Illinois. Dees and Kline were the only unanimous selections.

Dees narrowly edged Green in the balloting for the Big Ten's outstanding player. The Hoosier center who guided Indiana to the Big Ten championship received 13 votes to 12 for the Spartan junior.

Purdue coach Ray Eddy was selected as having done the best job of coaching this season by the conference's college sports editors. The Purdue mentor, who directed the Boilermakers to second place, their highest finish in years, polled five votes to four for O'Connor. Bill Rohr of Northwestern received one vote.

Nine different teams were represented on the first two teams with only Purdue landing two men, Harvey Austin and Willie Merriweather, both on the second squad.

Including the third team, all ten conference teams were represented with no one dominating the all-league selections. Iowa, Purdue, Michigan State, Indiana and Michigan each had two players while the other five conference teams each had one selection.

Named to the second team with

Austin and Merriweather were Frank Howard, Ohio State; Pete Tillotson, Michigan; and Joe Ruklick, Northwestern.

Clarence Wordlaw of Iowa was named to the third team with Bob Anderegg, Michigan State; Pete Obremsky, Indiana; M. C. Burton, Michigan; and Walter Holt, Wisconsin.

Seven players named to the teams are juniors. They are Gunther, Green, Ruklick, Austin, Merriweather, Wordlaw and Anderegg.

The Big Ten College Sports Editor's poll was formerly an annual affair, but was dropped for several seasons. It has now been renewed and will be taken following the coming football season.

Each player named to the first team received three votes, while two points were awarded to those named to the second team, and one point to the third team members.

For the league's outstanding player, the first choice received two points while second choice received one point.

Impossible? Golfer Hits Ball Off Floating Plate

MEXICALI, Mexico (AP)—May-be Aaron Quick didn't win the fifth annual Cotton Golf Tournament but he's certainly a candidate for the title of the year's luckiest golfer.

Quick, of Calipatria, Calif., missed the 16th green Sunday. His ball rolled into a lagoon and bounced up on a floating paper pie plate. Quick took off his shoes, waded into the water and with a wedge smacked the ball off the plate and onto the green. He then sank a 15-foot putt to get a par on the 180-yard hole.

Temple's Rodgers Has Back Injury

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Temple University's All-America basketball star, Guy Rodgers, is being treated for a "low back sprain" in Temple University Hospital Monday, but should be able to play by Friday in the semi-final round of the National Collegiate Tournament at Louisville.

A hospital spokesman said X-rays taken of Rodgers back were negative. He said Rodgers can play by Friday but "may not be at full efficiency."

California loses Star to Los Angeles

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP)—The Los Angeles Dodgers signed Earl Robinson to a rich bonus contract Monday and the University of California lost its star baseball player.

No one was talking exact money figures, but enough hints were given at a press conference to indicate an amount "over $50,000."

IOWA OPENS MARCH 31

Iowa's schedule of spring sports opens March 31 when the baseball team plays Arizona at Tucson, first of 30 scheduled games. The track team will meet Arizona there April 3 in its first outdoor meet. Tennis and golf teams start much later: tennis vs. Kalamazoo College there April 18 and golfers vs. Western Illinois State at Iowa City April 21.

SOME FACTS ABOUT IBM

The growth of the company has been spectacular since its inception in 1914. This has been especially true in recent years, as business, industry, science and government have turned increasingly to automation through electronic computers.

Such growth naturally provides many opportunities for advancement to well-qualified college graduates. IBM company policies and practices lay a firm groundwork for rewarding, enjoyable and secure careers.

At IBM, for example, individual merit is quickly recognized by increased responsibility and remuneration. Through "small-team" project systems . . . cordial employee-management relations . . . excellent financial rewards . . . outstanding company-paid benefits . . . the potential exists for well-established careers. IBM-sponsored educational and training programs are among the most advanced in the American business world today.

IBM laboratories and manufacturing facilities are located in Endicott, Kingston, Owego, Poughkeepsie, Yorktown, N. Y.; San Jose, Calif.; Lexington, Ky.; and Rochester, Minn. Sales and service offices in 198 principal cities throughout the United States.

Lambda Chi Alpha—Fraternity Officially Exists Now

A "new" social fraternity now has official existence on the SUI campus. The Committee on Student Life has granted the Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity probationary status retroactive to the first of the year, W. R. Roskens, SUI fraternity adviser said.

To attain full standing the fraternity must satisfy the requirements stated in the Code of Student Life including adequate housing and a membership of at least 30.

The fraternity may not petition for full standing until the probationary period of two academic semesters has ended.

The fraternity was actually formed Nov. 1956 and has been attempting to meet the requirements for formal recognition of new fraternities since that time, Roger R. Hughes, A4, Indianola, president of the group, said.

The requirements for meeting probationary status are stated in the Code of Student Life:

THE GROUP petitioning for probationary status as fraternities must have an alumni sponsoring committee of at least three persons. One member of the sponsoring committee must live in the Iowa City area.

MEMBERS MUST all have grade point averages of at least 2.0, half of them at least 2.5, and 15 per cent at least 3.0 grade point averages.

THE GROUP must have no unsettled financial obligations and must submit a proposed operating budget for the probationary period on forms provided by the Fraternity Affairs office.

Hughes said the group now has 15 members. He said they have no group living quarters as yet, but are looking for a place. The Code of Student Life requires housing to be acquired before a fraternity will be granted full standing.

"One barrier to our becoming a fraternity with probationary status earlier was a SUI policy stating no new fraternities would be considered until the total SUI enrollment became greater than 10,000," Hughes said.

Hughes said the group has met once a week since Nov. 1956 with very few exceptions.

"Our constitution contains no racial restrictions on membership," Hughes said. Roskens said the Code of Student Life makes no constitutional requirements for fraternities.

The officers of the Lambda Chi Alpha are: Hughes, president; George Welding, A4, West Point, secretary; Roger R. Ohde, C4, Manning, treasurer; Thomas U. Kelsay, A4, Red Oak, social chairman; Laurence W. Smith, A4, Cedar Rapids, pledge trainer. The alumni adviser is R. J. Thiele, Iowa City.

Prisoners Rehearse for Stage Show

"More than a hundred prisoners are singing and dancing behind the walls of the Iowa State Penitentiary," according to a prison release.

The men are rehearsing for the all-inmate stage production, "Laf-A-Rama."

The production is to have a professional touch. Former professional entertainer, Hal Rapp, now a prison inmate, is producing and directing the show.

Said Rapp, "Prison shows have become stereotyped. We're going to get away from the old pattern, even if every dancer has to break a leg."

"Being different is what got us in here in the first place. We should be able to make that 'difference' work to our benefit on the stage."

The prison spectacular is to be presented at 8 p.m. April 15, 16 and 17. Tickets may be ordered from Iowa State Penitentiary, Fort Madison, Iowa, or purchased at the prison's front gate on show evenings.

Traffic Charge Involving Accident Dropped by Police

A charge of failing to yield the right of way to a pedestrian was dismissed in Iowa City police court Monday against Thomas L. Carson, 1318 Marcy St.

The charge was filed following an accident Feb. 24 at College and Dubuque streets. Carson's car struck and slightly injured a pedestrian in the accident.

Police Judge Ansel Chapman upheld a defense plea that the code section cited in the filing of the charge was in error and upheld a motion by Carson's attorney, Emil Troit, for a directed verdict.

Weekend Breakin At Me Too Market

Thieves got away with an undetermined amount of cartons of cigarettes and six-packs of beer sometime Sunday evening in a breakin at the Me Too Super Market, 26 S. Van Buren St., Iowa City police said.

The exact amount taken will not be known until a complete store inventory is made, Me Too officials said.

Entrance was gained through a false skylight by kicking out a two foot extension of fiber ceiling material. The thief then dropped to the floor of the building, crushing several boxes of breakfast cereal.

A small amount of cash left in the open cash register was apparently not disturbed. No large amounts of cash are ever kept in the store overnight, store officials said.

Currier Accepts Proposed Inter-Dorm Constitution

A newly proposed inter-dormitory Constitution has been accepted by Currier Hall general council and will be voted on by the other five SUI dormitories within a week.

The constitution proposes an inter-dormitory committee, designed to plan and coordinate inter-dorm activities and provide representation for dormitories in campus activities as well as be of service to the University and student body. If passed, the committee will be composed of the presidents of the various dormitories plus an elected member at large from each unit.

"There will not be a president or elected presiding officer," said Charles Shank, A3, Cedar Rapids, president of Quadrangle. "The committee's monthly meetings will rotate among the dormitories; with the president of each dorm serving as presiding officer when the group meets in his respective dorm."

Secretary and treasurer will be elected from the committee and serve in those capacities for a year.

As the constitution stands now there will be four standing committees—social, parking, publicity and radio stations—directly responsible to the Inter-dormitory Committee.

To Elect Married Student Representatives March 26

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the first in a series of articles designed to acquaint the student with the coming all-campus elections Wednesday, March 26.)

A newly reorganized SUI Student Council with 21 members will take office following elections this month. Three of the members of the Council, those representing the married students on campus, will be elected in the all-campus elections Wednesday, March 26.

THE STUDENT Council, which for the past three years has consisted of only 18 members, underwent reappointment changes during the past year. In the coming session, each electorate will receive one delegate, plus an extra delegate for every 6 per cent of the total University enrollment. No one body, however, can have more than three delegates.

In addition to the three married students, the Council will consist of the following members: three from Town Men, one from Town Women, two from Inter-fraternity Council, two from Panhellenic, two from Hillcrest, two from Quadrangle, one from South Quadrangle, two from Currier Hall, one from Westlawn, one from Commons, and one representative from the professional fraternities.

THE AIMS of the student council are stated in the constitution: "To improve the status of student life on campus and to present student attitudes on matters of student affairs affecting students in their roles as students which are now not within the jurisdiction of other properly constituted groups."

Previous to 1955, the Council was composed of an unwieldy 28-man group, and was often criticized for "doing nothing." Following the streamlining, the council has put added meaning into student government.

AMONG THE most recent of Council work is a partial sponsorship of Old Gold Days, which will be held on the campus for the first time this spring. Old Gold Days will give prospective SUI students a chance to view the campus first hand and to learn about the various phases and happenings in student life.

The Student Council also sponsors the annual campus chest drive, which consolidates charity drives into one collection. Previous to its formation, SUI students were plagued with a series of collections by various agencies.

THE PRESENT Student Council

has initiated a series of student opinion polls which, in their essence, find out how the students as a whole feel about campus and city problems. These polls have resulted in the formulation of a number of recommendations from the Council.

Students who have bought or sold books at the book exchange at the beginning of each semester have come into contact with the Student Council. The Council takes 10 per cent of the sales price set by each student to cover its expenses. This service gives the students a chance to buy second-hand books at reduced prices.

AT THE PRESENT time, the Student Council is working on a plan for a local discount service, under which local merchants would give all students under this service a 10 per cent discount on purchases. It is expected that the new Council will further investigation of this project.

Among other things, the Council has aided Associated Women Students in publishing "Herky Hints," has helped the Hawk-I Pep Club, has secured a revision of the no-ut rule before vacations, and has submitted plans for both the parking committee and football seating.

Two Students Pay Fines for Securing Beer

Two University students found guilty of securing beer as minors have paid their fines in Iowa City police court. The fines amount to $20 each, plus an additional $5 for court costs.

Miss JoAnn Evjy, A3, Spencer, paid her fine Monday afternoon. Terry Wobken, A1, Sioux City, paid his fine Saturday. The third student found guilty of the same offense, Robert McCleary, A2, Linden, has not yet paid.

Emil Trott, Wobken's lawyer, said that his client "just wanted to get the situation settled." Newman Toomey, attorney for Miss Evjy, said only that he had discussed the situation with his client.

Scott Swisher, handling the case for McCleary, said that he hadn't discussed paying the fine with McCleary, but thought that his client would wait until court action of the remaining two bartenders, on trial for allegedly selling beer to the trio, had been completed.

The three students were found guilty March 5. Police Judge Ansel Chapman imposed fines of $100 on each defendant, but then suspended $80 of the fine.

All three lawyers immediately gave oral notice of appeal to District Court. By paying their fines, Wobken and Miss Evjy abandoned plans to appeal.

A charge of selling beer to Miss Evjy by Robert Borschein, Forest View Trailer Court, was dismissed. Two other such charges are pending.

Interest on Student Loans Is Lowered

Interest rates have been lowered from six to four per cent annually on loans made from 15 SUI student loan funds. M. L. Huit, Dean of Students said.

Although the total value of the 15 funds is $86,375, they have "turned over" many times, and a total of $769,000 had been loaned from these funds prior to the beginning of the current academic year.

Twelve other loan funds totaling some $46,775 in value will not be affected by the cut in interest rates, Dean Huit said, because of interest and repayment restrictions placed on them by the fund's donors. The University's student loan committee is legally and morally obligated to continue the original terms of these latter loan funds, he said.

Reduction of the interest rates was recommended by the University's Committee on Scholarships, Student Aid and Awards, headed by Dewey B. Stuit, Dean of the SUI college of liberal arts. The committee bases its recommendation in part upon the "excellent" history of repayment by students at a rate sufficient to sustain the principal of the funds even when less interest is charged, Huit explained. Fewer than two per cent of all student loans have ever been defaulted, a better repayment rate than is averaged by those making commercial loans, he noted.

Increasing numbers of students have been borrowing from the SUI loan funds in recent years, he said, citing the rise from the 40,750 borrowed by 378 students during 1952-53 to the $112,901 borrowed by 876 students in the 1956-57 academic year. So far this year some $101,000 has been loaned, he said, up 15 per cent over the $88,000 borrowed to this point last year.

"Many students actually need money to help them continue their education, but are reluctant to borrow, seeming to feel that there is a stigma attached to borrowing," Dean Huit said, continuing, "We tell them they couldn't find a more worthwhile reason for borrowing than to continue their educations."

Town Men

Town Men to all single men living in non-university housing. It includes both graduate and undergraduate men.

The organization formerly included only men who applied for membership and paid dues.

Prusok, off-campus housing advisor, said he does not believe the Student Council will accept representatives elected by only 68 men.

About six members are heading the drive for a new election to be scheduled March 26 with the all-campus elections, Prusok said.

Bill Teter, LS, Des Moines, Student Council president, said no formal complaint has yet been made to the Council.

Teter said he will know what action to take after the meeting Wednesday night. Both he and the Council election chairman plan to attend the meeting, he said.

Teter said some of the men have alleged fraud in the election. Prusok said he believed the election had been mismanaged.

Elkin said he was told by Prusok that the election was being contested because men running for election named polling stations.

Elkin said this was true because no other members of the association were available to serve at the polls. He said no objection had been raised before the voting to having candidates serve at the polls.

It was originally intended that the Town Men election would be held with regular campus elections. This is the first time an individual election has been held on campus since the Office of Student Affairs several years ago forced the combination of all elections to one day.

The policy was begun after elections became so numerous there was campaigning nearly every week.

Teter said the Student Council could take action only on the Council representatives elected, and has no jurisdiction over Town Men officers elected.

Neither does the Council have jurisdiction over the manner in which representatives are elected, Teter said. He explained that the Quadrangle representatives are chosen by the dormitory council, but at Hillcrest residents elect their representative.

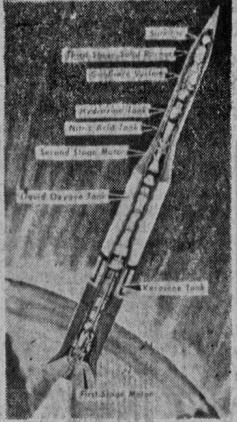

Prusok said he believed a new election could be called by a vote of the members at the meeting Wednesday night. He said he did not believe it would need to go through other official channels.

Prusok said the election was to have received more publicity and he blamed lack of publicity for the small vote.

Student Council representatives elected Monday were George Johnstone, A3, Boone; Richard Knudsen, E3, Linn Grove; and Allen Squier, P4, Iowa City.

Officers of Town Men Association elected are Elkin, president; George Johnstone, vice-president; Fred Hawker, A2, Tipton, secretary; and Thomas Ayers, E1, treasurer.

ing at a little better than 18,000 m.p.h. in an orbit that will swing it as far as 2,500 miles out in space and bring it as close to the earth as 400 miles.

Explorer I reaches a maximum distance of 1,575 miles from the earth. Sputnik II looped out 1,200 miles and Sputnik I only 580 miles.

The beautiful performance of the Vanguard overcame the Soviet numerical superiority in space, and helped heal the heartaches of its builders.

TWICE BEFORE, Vanguard launching attempts ended in fiery failure. The first blew up last Dec. 6 after rising only four feet off its launching pad. The second broke apart Feb. 5 after climbing 20,000 feet.

The Vanguard, its makers said, had been rushed into action before it was ready.

But now the slender gray-green rocket has made up for all past disappointments.

Its smooth, trouble-free journey into the skies after the blastoff at 7:16 a.m. brought wild cheers from personnel of the Navy and the Martin Co. the rocket's builder.

THE WEATHER was perfect, skies were clear and there was little wind when the Vanguard countdown started with the goal of a firing at 7 a.m., not long before zero hour, word came through that radio signals from Explorer I would be picked up in this part of the world between 6:50 and 7:10 a.m.

There was a possibility of overlapping radio signals from the two satellites. The Vanguard launching time was rescheduled for 7:10.

At 7:04 a.m. a "hold" was called. There was nothing wrong with the Vanguard itself. An instrument in the block house was not working correctly. It was repaired quickly.

At 7:16, fire belched from the Vanguard's tail and it began its slow, sure climb.

J. Paul Walsh, deputy director of the Vanguard project for the Naval Research Laboratory, described the takeoff by telephone to Hagen who was in Washington.

"It's beautiful, beautiful!" he said. "It's a beautiful takeoff!" Hagen sighed.

LONG BEFORE Eisenhower's announcement, observers here were certain the Vanguard had succeeded.

During the time it could be seen, its flight seemed so perfect there was little reason to doubt that it had done its job.

The Vanguard satellite is expected to take 135 minutes to circle the earth.

Procter And Gamble Cited By Who's Who

The Procter & Gamble Company was cited Monday for exceptional educational philanthropy by the Board of Editors of "Who's Who in America."

The awards are given every two years to individuals and corporations for their support to higher education.

Procter & Gamble has given about $1 million in its over-all program, including $20,000 a year to each of 10 universities which are centers of training for students who later are likely to staff the faculties of small colleges.

The company also maintains 240 active scholarships in 50 institutions and contributes to 39 state and regional associations of colleges, embracing 465 institutions.

It also gives to the National Fund for Medical Education, the United Negro College Fund, and many others.

SELF-APPRAISAL NEW YORK — Star Helen Hayes doesn't like the rising cost of Broadway theater prices. Her current play, "Time Remembered," has a top scale of $9.90, and Miss Hayes says, "I'm not worth that even with Susan Strasberg and Richard Burton playing with me. It makes me sad."

Centralize Space Control: White

DALLAS (AP) — Space must not become an uncoordinated "flying junkyard," Gen. Thomas D. White, Air Force chief of staff, declared Monday.

Efforts to explore and operate in space should be under centralized national control, he told an aviation conference sponsored by the American Rocket Society and American Society of Mechanical Engineers.

White said the Vanguard satellite itself cannot be tracked except through its radio signals because it is so small, the third stage of the rocket should be visible to observers in areas over which it passes at sunset and sunrise.

College Test Slated For Prep Seniors

Iowa high school seniors planning to attend any of 20 Iowa senior colleges and universities cooperating in a new testing program are being asked to take a battery of tests either April 1 or 2.

To be given at some 80 centers, the tests will provide data for three purposes — admission of students to the colleges participating, placement in freshman classes, and granting of scholarships. Individual institutions will determine use they will make of the scores.

Iowa City has been designated as a testing center.

The tests are being given co-operatively for the first time this spring by the 20 colleges and universities, with the Iowa College Presidents Association co-operating.

Serving on the advisory committee for the program are Arthur M. Cowan, Iowa State College; Daryl Pendergraft, Iowa State Teachers College; the Rev. Lawrence J. Cuter, Loras College; Dean O. W. Qualley, Luther College; and Milford Hughes, Parsons College.

High school principals have estimated the number of students from their schools who plan to take the tests and the centers at which they will take them, in order that needed testing materials and administrators can be provided April 1 and 2 at the test centers. The tests will be given by representatives of the participating colleges.

The program will eliminate what has been needless duplication of work in preparing tests and will ease the schedule for college freshmen at the opening of the fall semester.

Some of the institutions involved had already adopted a program to permit new students to take placement examinations during the summer, lightening the opening week of college and speeding placement of new students in classes.

Iowa State College, SUI and Iowa State Teachers College had been giving tests cooperatively during the spring for several years to scholarship applicants at the three institutions.

Reports of the test scores for individual students will be sent to as many as three of the 20 participating institutions indicated by each high school senior being tested. Test scores can not be sent to other Iowa colleges or to out-of-state institutions, McCarrell emphasized.

to cheaply build barracks on the 240-acre tract intended for Hawkeye Apartments and still maintain low rents, we would do so immediately.

He said, however, the "utility costs" of providing gas, water and electricity such a distance from town would not be cheaper for barracks than for the apartments. He said the "utility costs" represent a portion of married housing costs.

He emphasized the difficulty of financing the building of more barracks.

Rehder said approximately $1 million had been borrowed for financing the present SUI barracks operation. "There has not been enough income from married student housing to pay off the principal part of that loan discounting the interest," Rehder said.

He said it was two years before the barracks began making money. "During that time, it was supported mainly by the single housing operation," Rehder said.

Rehder said he could not give comparative information concerning married housing at SUI and Iowa State College as he did not have enough information to adequately explain the reasons for the difference in costs and rents at the two schools.

He said a number of factors would cause such differences including different wage levels, location of the housing projects and quality of the housing.

First Marriage Workshop Will Be Conducted

The first Iowa Marriage Counseling Workshop will be held at SUI Thursday and Friday, bringing together some 40 outstanding professional persons who are asked to give counsel regarding marital problems in the course of their professional activities.

DESIGNED TO PROVIDE help for physicians, clergymen, lawyers, nurses, social workers, teachers and others in giving advice on problems of marriage and family life, the workshop will also explore possibilities for further development of marriage counseling services in Iowa.

Janet Fowler Nelson, secretary of the National Association of Marriage Counselors, will be the principal discussion leader for the workshop, to be held at the Iowa Center, Dr. Nelson will speak at 9:30 a.m. Thursday on "The Scope of Marriage Counseling in Current Practice over the U.S."

A PANEL of practitioners to present "The Professions Look at Marriage Counseling in Iowa" at 10:45 a.m. Thursday will include an attorney, a physician, a minister, a social worker, a school teacher and a public health nurse.

Professor Harold W. Saunders, SUI chairman of the Department of Sociology and Anthropology, is chairman of the planning committee for the workshop. He will speak Friday on "Organizing and Planning for a Counseling Clearing House." Resources for marriage counselors will be outlined by Professors David Fulcomer and William Kenkel, both of Iowa State College, Ames.

Dr. Nelson will discuss "Developing Skill in Marriage Counseling" for the workshop registrants and will present proposals for developing marriage counseling services in the state. A graduate of Vassar and the holder of M.A. and Ph.D. degrees from Columbia University, Dr. Nelson is a charter member of the American Association of Marriage Counselors and is currently chairman of the organization's committee on training. She is editing for the association "Marriage Counseling: a Case Book," to be published soon.

Delta Gamma Wins Trophy For Grades

Delta Gamma sorority pledge class was awarded the annual pledge scholarship trophy during a Junior Panhellenic meeting Monday in Macbride auditorium. The group won with a 2.89 average for the fall semester.

"To my knowledge this is a new pledge class record," Miss Helen Reich, Panhellenic adviser said. "I do not have the exact figures since the records are kept according to the whole chapter average."

Kappa Kappa Gamma, with a combined pledge-average, attained the highest scholarship record with a 2.82. The actives had a 2.99 average; pledges, tying for third with Alpha Xi Delta in pledge competition, had a 2.51 grade point average.

Tying for second with Kappa Alpha Theta in pledge competition and third in combined active-pledge averages was Pi Beta Phi, with 2.62 and 2.75 averages, respectively.

The Theta combined active-pledge average was second with a 2.79 average.

The all sorority average for the fall semester was 2.58; the all women's average was 2.50, and the all university average was a 2.32.

Graduate English Society To Meet First Time April 2

The first meeting of the Graduate English Society will be held April 2, Eric LaGuardia, G, New York City, said Monday.

The society was organized to provide a situation in which graduate students can read to an audience papers they have written.

Papers will include term papers prepared for courses in literary history and criticism, critical or scholarly work done independently of class assignments, or papers prepared especially for the society.

Persons interested in presenting papers should contact LaGuardia, Ronald Di Lorenzo, G, Iowa City; C. Q. Drummond, G, Miami, Fla.; Ben Jones, G, Iowa City, or the English Dept. office in University Hall.
