Snow Storm Takes 40 Lives

Benson Calls For Slash in Dairy Props

By GARDNER L. BRIDGE
WASHINGTON (AP) — Formal orders for a slash in dairy price supports starting April 1 went out from Secretary of Agriculture Benson Friday.

The ink was hardly dry on a congressional resolution forbidding them.

BENSON'S ACTION re-emphasized his prediction that President Eisenhower will veto legislation clamping a one-year freeze on farm price supports, which was passed by the Senate Friday and sent to the White House.

Benson said last Dec. 18 that he planned to cut dairy price supports to the legal minimum starting with the new marketing year April 1.

His announcement set a national average support price of $3.03 per hundredweight for manufacturing milk and 56.2 cents a pound for butterfat. This compares with the present $3.25 and 58.6 cents.

The new support prices reflect 75 per cent of parity, a legal standard for farm prices said by law to be fair to farmers in relation to their costs. Manufacturing milk is now being supported at 82 per cent of parity and butterfat at 80 per cent.

Benson's announcement made no mention of the congressional resolution.

PRESIDENT EISENHOWER will have 10 days to act on the measure from the time it reaches his desk.

If Eisenhower carries out his expressed opposition to the bill by vetoing it, the action will come about the time that Secretary of Agriculture Benson's order for a reduction in dairy price supports is due to go into effect. This is set for April 1.

In order to beat the April 1 deadline, the Senate Democratic leadership moved successfully to accept the House stipulation of a one-year time limit on the price support-acreage allotment freeze.

Charge Benson's 'Book Burning' Hides Truth

WASHINGTON (AP) — A cry of "book burning" was raised Friday by some congressional critics of Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson.

Benson's department was depicted as having ordered the destruction of 2,500 copies of a recent farm census report because, in the words of Sen. Hubert Humphrey (D-Minn.), it showed the way "this administration's policies have ruined the farmer."

Humphrey, as do some other Congress members, said the suppressed edition was burned, but whether this was the actual method of destruction could not be learned.

5 Million Unemployed—Cost of Living Still Rising

By NORMAN WALKER
WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's living costs, moving contrary to the business decline, rose to another record level in February.

The rise of two-tenths of one per cent from January in the Government index represented the 16th time in 18 months that consumers' costs have risen.

FOOD, the main item of family budgets, again was the chief factor. This was due to continued bad crop weather in Florida and throughout the South — where most of the winter's fruit and vegetables are grown.

The Labor Department index rose to a mid-February level of 122.5 per cent of the index 1947-49 average. This is 3.2 per cent above last year. Food also was at a high, 4.5 per cent over the same time last year.

The gloomy living cost news, Senate Leader Lyndon Johnson (D-Texas), said, meant "stark tragedy" for the more than five million unemployed and for additional millions working only part time.

Ewan Clague, labor statistics commissioner, said in announcing the new living cost data that farm economics often operate differently from industrial economics.

Eastern Seaboard Storm Fury Abates

While Iowa City enjoyed spring weather, the most damaging snow storm in years tapered off along the eastern seaboard Friday night after two days of unabated fury. Up to three feet of snow buried some sections.

More than 40 deaths from heart attacks, exposure, electrocution and traffic accidents resulted from the storm and high winds. Damage ran into the millions of dollars.

In eastern Pennsylvania the snow damage was the worst in 40 years. The area was placed under a state of emergency as the storm cut everyday life to a crawl.

Some 300,000 telephones were knocked out from Virginia to New England. The American Telephone & Telegraph Co. called it the worst damage of the kind since a November 1950 storm — worse than any caused by recent eastern hurricanes.

By dusk Friday, the storm appeared over in all but northern New England. Government weather forecasters, caught short in advance predictions of the storm's severity, expected it to blow itself out off the coast of Maine by Saturday.

More than a million homes and business establishments were without electricity at some time during the storm from Virginia to Maine. Many were without heat, lights, radios, elevators, cooking facilities and other electrical devices for many hours.

THE RED CROSS was operating 29 centers in Pennsylvania, New Jersey and New York to provide food, transportation, shelter and nursing services for storm refugees.

Whole towns lay dark and cold, with food supplies spoiling in powerless electric refrigerators, with water supplies reduced to a trickle, with milk deliveries choked off. Among them were the Maryland towns of Havre de Grace with 8,000 residents and Aberdeen with 3,000.

Emergency utility repair crews were shunted up and down the coast to repair poles and lines laid low by heavy snow and high winds.

Lighting companies from as far north as Upstate New York and as far west as Ohio sent crews into Pennsylvania. Boston shuttled repair crews into Rhode Island. New York City gave Long Island a hand.

Badly crippled by the savage storm were the great metropolitan areas of the East — Washington, Baltimore, Philadelphia, New York and Boston. Schools were closed throughout most of the area.

Airline traffic in the East was at a virtual standstill for hours. President Eisenhower was unable to fly out of Washington for a ceremony at the U.S. Military Academy at West Point.

Trains were either canceled or plowed along hours behind schedule. Bus service was painfully sketchy.

HIGH TIDES slammed the coast, forcing evacuation of low lying areas. Rivers overflowed their banks.

On the tempest-tossed Atlantic Ocean 120 miles east of Cape Cod, a Coast Guard cutter battled 20-foot seas to aid a New Bedford, Mass., fishing vessel with disabled engines and 11 men aboard.

COL. CAHLAN DJAMBEK, rebel interior minister, said in a broadcast he had reason to believe Soviet ships had arrived at Jakarta with arms last Wednesday.

uation held out little hope that living costs will come down appreciably in the months ahead. He said his main hope is they won't keep climbing.

The only major categories of price decline in February were transportation, mainly because gasoline prices dropped an average 2.7 per cent from January; and clothing, the result of post-Christmas sales continuing into February. Dairy prices declined seasonally.

A further drop in buying power was indicated. The Labor Department said factory worker earnings declined a bit in February.

A WORKER with three dependents had spendable pay, after taxes, of $73.71 a week from January was due to reduced working hours. Factory worker buying power was down 5 per cent from a year ago.

The higher living cost level means a pay raise of one or two cents an hour for about 100,000 workers in aircraft, metal-working and local transit companies under their labor contracts.

Clague, the government's chief expert on the consumer price situation, said most of the other ordinary consumer costs — rents, services, haircuts, streetcar fares, utility rates, doctor bills — have just kept on edging up slightly month by month. He said the recession is being reflected a bit in somewhat lower prices for autos, appliances and clothing.

Indonesian Army Traps 300 Rebels

By A. L. MCINTYRE

SINGAPORE (AP) — The Indonesian army claimed Friday it had 300 rebels trapped against a lake-shore in North Sumatra and that rebel forces were being deeply whittled by death and desertion.

THE REVOLUTIONARY regime, on the other hand, announced over its radio at Bukittinggi that it had formed a fledgling navy and put it into action against a government blockade.

A rebel leader also charged that Soviet ships had arrived at Jakarta, capital of President Sukarno, with arms shipments for the government forces.

Army spokesman Lt. Col. Rudy Pirngadi said in Jakarta that Maj. Boyke Nainn Golan, leader of a mutiny in the North Sumatran capital of Medan last Sunday, was pinned against the east side of Lake Toba with 300 of his men.

Golan had no boats to escape across the lake, a resort about 50 miles southwest of Medan, the spokesman said.

THE GOVERNMENT radio at Medan said government forces occupied Pratap on the eastern shore of the picturesque lake, and killed 19 rebels and captured 10 in a clash between there and Pematantiar, about 10 miles to the east.

Pirngadi reported hundreds of fleeing rebel troops have surrendered north and west of Medan in a pursuit by government ground forces and fighter-bombers.

The Dutch liner Orange landed 520 foreigners from Medan, here Friday. Among them were 122 Americans, mostly families of employees of the Goodyear and U.S. Rubber companies.

Two more ships were scheduled to bring other foreigners from Padang because of the possibility of a government attack there. Arrangements also were reported being made to remove 30 foreigners from Rengat, a center of the U.S. Stanvac Oil Co., 100 miles southeast of Pekanbaru.

CHAMPAGNE'S APPEARANCE was sandwiched between testimony of witnesses called in the committee's current inquiry into the four-year-old Kohler Co. strike.

The new probe will get under full steam when the Kohler investigation is concluded.

Robert F. Kennedy, committee counsel, said it will deal with employer associations in Chicago and elsewhere, their relations with labor unions and the employment of attorneys to settle strikes by "unusual methods."

Kennedy said it will also concern the employment of gangsters and hoodlums to effect settlements and the use of shake-downs and similar tactics.

Champagne refused to say whether he was employed by the Chicago Restaurant Assn. to settle a strike against an unidentified restaurant chain. He turned over a file of correspondence with the association but declined to give the committee his personal financial records from 1950, saying that to do so might incriminate him.

KENNEDY FIXED the dates of Champagne's employment by the association as from September 1953 to July 1954.

The lawyer invoked the Fifth Amendment when asked whether he had been earning $10,000 a month when he went to work for the association.

Champagne also refused to say whether he got the job because of his association with what Kennedy called "certain of the underworld of Chicago."

He remained silent when asked whether he knew Tony Accardo or was a close associate of Vincent "the Saint" Insierro and Mooney Giacanna. These men were not identified.

New Probe!

Claim Labor, Management Inproprieties

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Rackets Committee began an investigation of alleged shakedowns and other improper labor-management practices Friday but propitiously ran into an uncommunicative witness.

Anthony B. Champagne, a Chicago lawyer took the Fifth Amendment a score of times when asked whether he settled a strike for the Chicago Restaurant Assn. and whether he knew certain underworld characters.

CHAMPAGNE'S APPEARANCE was sandwiched between testimony of witnesses called in the committee's current inquiry into the four-year-old Kohler Co. strike.

The new probe will get under full steam when the Kohler investigation is concluded.

When it became plain that Champagne wasn't going to talk, Chairman McClellan (D-Ark.), remarked that the AFL-CIO has a code of ethics condemning the use of the Fifth Amendment by labor officials. He told Champagne he would be interested to see what the Chicago Bar Assn. would do in Champagne's case.

Married Students Meet; Sign Lower Rent Petitions

By JOHN JONES
Staff Writer

Friday night a large group of married students living in SUI barracks housing set a plan in motion which could result in a large number of leases for the coming academic year not being signed by married students unless the university either abandons its present plan to build Hawkeye Apartments, or does not go through with its plan to increase the present barracks rental rate $10 per month.

MORE THAN 100 married students at the Friday night meeting signed copies of a letter to the Dormitory Assignment Office which said in effect they were willing to lease their barracks units at the present rental rate of $52.50 but would be unable to lease the units at the increased rent of $62.50 per month. Reasons for the refusal to pay the increased rent are to be presented in a cover letter.

David Jones, G. Iowa City, leader of the meeting, asked for a show of hands of those willing to sign the letters in order to be certain there would be at least 25 other signers. Nearly all of those present in the Pentacrest Room raised hands.

Jones passed the letters around to those present and got back about 110 signed letters. Students from each of the married housing areas volunteered to distribute the letters to those not present at the meeting.

Jones, who made the proposal, said he felt the action taken would force the SUI administration into an untenable position because of embarrassing and unfavorable publicity.

He said copies of the cover letter, which will be written by a committee, will be sent to the major state papers, national circulation magazines, state representatives, Board of Regents, the wire services and various other groups.

Jones said the proposed Hawkeye Apartments which would rent at an estimated $85 per month plus utilities would not fill the need of low cost housing for married students.

Leases for married student housing are to be signed by April 30 in order for the student to legally remain in his present unit. The student agrees to pay the requested rental rate at the time he signs the lease.

Suggestions of reasons to be included in the cover letter were made at the meeting by those present. The committee writing the cover letter was elected by voice vote to remain in force as an executive committee until all action is terminated.

The reasons given by the married students for their opposition to the rent increase ranged from inability to pay to a feeling the increase amounts to discrimination against married students.

The Hawkeye Apartments proposed are to be financed by SUI dormitory and married housing funds. This is required by state law. Jones suggested pressure be put on the state legislature to change the law to allow tax funds to be used for financing such housing.

He said he was quite gratified at the large turnout at the meeting and the response of the married students. A number of students were unable to get into the crowded Pentacrest Room and had to stand outside.

Late News

ACCIDENT. Three SUI students and a youth were being held late Friday night at University and Mercy Hospitals for observation after a two car collision on a bridge about one mile north of Iowa City on old Highway 218.

Stewart Allen, A2, Glenelg, Ill., driver of the car containing the SUI students, was not injured.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Atomic Energy Commission announced Friday night the detection of two more Soviet nuclear weapons tests. "The first occurred Thursday at the usual Siberian testing grounds and the second Friday, north of the Arctic Circle," the AEC said.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The long and violent history of the Kohler Company strike indicates a need for new labor laws, Senators Goldwater (R-Ariz.) and McClellan (D-Ark.) said Friday. Both agreed that Congress should enact some guidelines, defining clearly and precisely what kind of a boycott is a proper labor practice and what kind is not.

The Sea Gull -

After Opening Night

— by Anton Chekov

—ROBERT MEZEY Review Board Chairman HIC: Well, what did you think of it? ILLE: It was pretty good. I'm surprised - after that Lorca fiasco, I didn't think they could handle a play as subtle and difficult as "The Sea Gull." Did you like it?

ILLE: I agree. But who are the three exceptions? HIC: Ah! Margaret McPherson as Mashra, Ruth Farstrup as Pauline, and Abraham Shevelof as Medvedenko. ILLE: You mean you didn't like them? HIC: On the contrary; I thought they were magnificent. It's a pity that Miss Farstrup has such a small part; her scene with the doctor in Act II was brilliant. It made everything that had gone before seem less good than it was.

ILLE: Yes, terrific, the best piece of business in the play. And the sets were beautiful, the best sets I have seen in two years; and the lighting was good. HIC: Except for Act II. Chekov says it is midday and hot; the lawn should be bathed in sunlight. ILLE: Many of the details were bad, but they are easily corrected. Couldn't they get hold of a better-looking sea gull? Their sea gull looks like a loaf of bread or a rock. And Constantine is too well dressed for the first half of the play; he looks like Clark Gable ready for a big night at the gaming tables.

Get Comparative Figures for Other Midwest Schools

The SUI Student Council has sent for and obtained comparative housing figures from other Midwestern universities and colleges.

William Teter, L.S. Student Council president, said the Student Council sent for the information to provide a basis for comparison of SUI housing policies with other schools.

The questions asked in the council survey were:

1. Name of college or university?
2. Total student enrollment?
3. Approximate number of married students enrolled?
4. Approximate number of college-owned housing units for married students?
5. How many of the above are permanently occupied?
6. Approximate number originally constructed as "temporary" or considered as "barracks" housing?
7. Present rental price on "Temporarys," — 2-bedroom, — 1-bedroom?
8. Approximate number of "permanent" apartment housing?
9. Present rental price on "permanent" apartments — 2-bedroom, 1-bedroom?
10. Source of construction funds — self-financing, tax sources, or both?
11. Are dormitory and married housing rents lumped together for purposes of financing future building?
12. Is your school planning more student housing?
13. What will be the proposed rents for such units?
14. Do you wish the results mailed to you of this survey?
15. Do you wish any or all of these answers to be confidential? Asterisk indicates utilities included in rental price.

Union Board and YWCA Guide Host of Activities

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the fifth in a series of articles designed to acquaint the student with the coming all-campus election Wednesday, March 26.

The Union Board and the Young Women's Christian Association (YWCA) are two of seven campus groups which will take part in the all-campus election March 26.

Eight members of the Union Board and officers of the YWCA will be elected.

Three men and three women from the College of Liberal Arts and one man and one woman from the College of Commerce will be elected to the Union Board.

Liberal Arts students will elect the six representatives on the Union Board from their college and Commerce students will pick the two from their college.

YWCA members will elect a president, secretary-treasurer, finance chairman and freshman Y advisor, and vote on a proposed revised constitution.

The Union Board is composed of 16 members, each of whom serves a 1-year term. The eight members of the board who will not be elected March 26 will be selected by the Colleges of Dentistry, Education, Engineering, Law, Medicine, Nursing, Pharmacy and the Graduate College.

A student must be at least a junior and have served on a Union Board Committee to be eligible to serve on the board.

The Union Board has charge of a wide variety of activities throughout the school year. Its purpose is to initiate, promote and control student activities in and around the Iowa Memorial Union.

The activities include billiards, bowling, and bridge tournaments, sponsoring the Homecoming dance with the Central Party committee, displaying traveling art exhibits, sponsoring post-ballgame parties and dances, coffee hours and open houses, and Sunday night movies.

Work on the Union Board is divided among seven standing committees: Publicity, special events, games, fine arts, post-ballgame parties, bridges, movies and television.

Two board members serve as co-chairmen of each committee. Only the president and secretary of the board do not serve as committee co-chairmen.

The new board will meet for the first time shortly after the March 26 election. At the organizational meeting, the new board will elect officers for the coming year.

The board operates on a yearly budget allotted by the University. Funds are appropriated within the board for the various activities it sponsors.

SUI's YWCA is one of the busiest organizations on campus with three service commissions and numerous service organizations.

The commissions that perform a large amount of the service are the Christian Heritage, Personal Life, and Nation and World.

The Christian Heritage commission presents programs on Christian thought and Bible study, and holds worship services in Danforth Chapel.

"Major in Marriage," a lecture series about the biological and psychological aspects of marriage, is the big project of the Personal Life commission.

The activities include billiards, bowling, and bridge tournaments, sponsoring the Homecoming dance with the Central Party committee, displaying traveling art exhibits, sponsoring post-ballgame parties and dances, coffee hours and open houses, and Sunday night movies.

Topics covered by the Campus Life group are personal family relations, family life, Christian vocations, religion in higher education, education of women and other campus issues.

The major job of the Nation and World commission is working with foreign students at SUI. The Hospital Service organization, which has the largest membership, sponsors group recreation programs at the Hospital School for Severely Handicapped Children.

A service provided by the Personal Service organization is the baby-sitting bureau. It gives YWCA members a chance to earn extra cash.

The Community Service group lists as part of its program teaching youngsters to swim, roller skate and play various types of games.

The major project of the public relations group is the production of a half hour radio show each week.

Iowa Bids For Top

Iowa athletic teams again rank very high in the overall Big Ten standings this season. In seven sports completed up to this time, Iowa ranks second, 5 1/2 points behind league leading Michigan State in the overall standings.

Iowa finished first in wrestling, second in cross country, third in football and fencing, fourth in swimming, and sixth in basketball and indoor track.

The Hawkeyes should pick up some points on the Spartans next weekend in the Big Ten gymnastics meet. Iowa easily defeated Michigan State in a dual gym meet earlier this season.

Chances for Iowa to finish at the top of the Big Ten heap looks good. Prospects for outstanding tennis and baseball teams this spring plus good potential in golf and outdoor track puts Iowa in good shape for the overall standings.

Should Iowa teams finish among the first two or three teams in the overall standings, as it certainly appears they will, it will be a continuation of outstanding athletic performances over the past four or five years.

During the last few years, Iowa teams annually have been near the top in the overall standings; but Hawkeye success hasn't always been that good.

In the all-time Big Ten championship competition, as of September, 1957, Iowa athletic teams rank a dismal ninth, and the one school having a worse record is Michigan State, which only entered Big Ten competition in 1951.

Iowa has 11 championships and 8 co-championships. Michigan State has been moving up on the Hawkeyes, having picked up a total of ten championships.

The all-time champion is Illinois. The Illini have captured 120 conference championships and tied for 23 others. Michigan, in second place, is the only team even remotely close to the Illini. The Wolverines have won 105 titles and tied for 24 more.

Iowa's 19 championships have been divided, baseball and basketball lead with five each, football four, indoor track two and gymnastics, swimming and wrestling one each.

I'm glad the trend for Hawkeye teams has been more successful—Iowa certainly needed some uplifting.

IT NOW APPEARS certain that a football game will be held between the Iowa varsity and former Hawkeye grid stars sometime this spring.

Forest Evashevski asked the Athletic Board to approve such a game, and as I understand it, the game will be approved if it has not been already.

Prospects are that the game will be played on Saturday afternoon, May 3. The Iowa coaches prefer the game be played on May 10, but the Iowa high school outdoor track meet is slated for that weekend.

The high school track meet would have no direct effect on the game itself, but Evashevski hopes to have a football clinic the same weekend of the game and he wants as many coaches as possible to attend the clinic.

Evy hopes to get Navy coach Eddie Erdelatz as the main speaker.

The game has the potential of being a tremendous contest. With all the former Iowa stars still around, the Old Timers should be able to form a tough club to throw up against the varsity, which will have the advantage of being in condition.

Some of the varsity players are pretty confident of winning, since they'll be in shape and the Old-Timers won't. But I can't see anyone running over a team built around Ploen, Gibbons, Karras, and the like.

WITH BASEBALL season rapidly moving into the limelight, many fans probably will be interested in the fact two major league exhibition games have been scheduled for Iowa cities.

Chicago White Sox fans can see their favorites in Davenport on Saturday afternoon, April 12, in an exhibition against the Washington Senators.

On the same afternoon in Des Moines, Willie Mays and the San Francisco Giants are scheduled to meet the Cleveland Indians.

Looks like a good chance for diamond fans to get a pre-season look at some of the top stars in baseball.

PREDICTION: Wisconsin basketball coach Bud Foster won't be at the Badger helm next year. He's been under pressure since the season closed, although the Wisconsin Athletic Board has taken no action and made no comment.

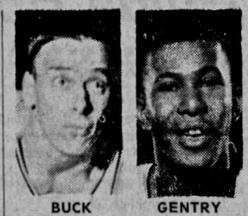

The Badgers had their worst season in history this year, winning only three while losing eleven.

All College Athletes Don't Take 'Snap' Courses

Contrary to popular belief, all college athletes don't easily slide through a series of "snap" courses. A look at the major field of many Iowa athletes reveals a fine cross-section of difficult subjects. And the athletes take their scholastic work seriously, otherwise they would not remain eligible for their intercollegiate competition.

Another popular misconception, that athletes are dumb, is also unfounded. The records of athletes compares quite favorably with records of all University students. Actually, the marks received by athletes represents a good cross-section of the University.

Because of their prominence in the sport, athletes' ineligibilities receive a great deal of publicity while "flunks" by non-athletic students receive no publicity. Only a very small number of Iowa athletes, about 5 per cent, failed a course during the first semester and became ineligible for competition the second semester.

Among the better-known athletes at Iowa, at least eight are in some field of engineering. John Liechty, one of Iowa's leading golfers, is in his third year of electrical engineering, while Michael Bougdanos, baseball, Curt Merz, football, and Keith Zastrow, swimming, are all in chemical engineering.

Gymnastic star Ted Segura and hurler Bill Orris are in the civil branch of engineering, while Bill DeBlonk, baseball, and swimmer Bob Pratt are seeking degrees in chemical engineering.

Pre-law is another popular field for Iowa athletes. Art Andrews, one of the greatest tennis players in Iowa history, has an outstanding record in this department. Basketball stars Nolden Gentry and Jim McConnell, along with football ace

Randy Duncan and Bill Hoppel are also lawyer aspirants.

Another athlete in pre-law is Gastonia Finch, a quarter-miler on the track team, while weight man Jim Young, a near straight "A" student is already now in the School of Law.

Clyde Feltus, a top golfer, is majoring in religion, while American John-Lewis, the 6-10 basketball center, is majoring in the difficult field of industrial design.

Bill Buck, second leading scorer on Dick Holzaepfel's unbeaten gymnastics team, and Ralph Lyle, an outstanding sophomore half-mile prospect, are two fine athletic scholars in mathematics.

In another complicated field are Big Ten epee champion Dave Dittmer, and track man Bruce Trimble. The two Hawkeye stars are majoring in the difficult field of physics.

Frank Bloomquist, the All-Big Ten guard in football last season and twice selected to the All-Scholastic team, will graduate in Accounting in June and expects to enter the Iowa Law School. Another commerce major is Glen Van Fossen, outstanding baseball player.

Journalism has attracted four fine athletes. Kevin Furlong and Del Kloewer, football stars, and track men Hugh Hines and Tom Bruck are planning on entering the mass communications field.

The field of sociology can claim three leading athletes in their particular sports: Dave Gunther, the baseball team's leading scorer and most valuable player the past two years; Simon Roberts, defending 1957 NCAA and new Big Ten wrestling champion; and Bob Bring, one of Iowa's leading fencers.

Baseball hurler Jack Nora is majoring in dentistry, while shortstop Tom Haye is in pharmacy. Lincoln Hurring, the Big Ten backstroke champion, is an economics major while golfer Frank Judish is in art.

Track and football speedster John Brown is seeking a degree in history, while Larry Moser, Big Ten wrestling runner-up in the 123-pound class, has an outstanding record in general business.

This is by no means a complete rundown on all Iowa athletes, but a general cross-section of many of the diversified fields that Hawkeye athletes are majoring in.

Obviously, all athletes don't slide through college with a series of "snap" courses.

Kentucky, Seattle Win—Play for NCAA Title

Temple Loses Thriller; Seattle Blasts K-State

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Cinderella Seattle crushed title favorite Kansas State 73-51, and three-time champion Kentucky, winning 61-60, on Vernon Hatton's fielder with 12 seconds left, snapped Temple's 25-game winning streak Friday night and reached the finals of the NCAA basketball tournament.

Old hand Kentucky and the spectacular but solid Chieftains will play for the championship at 9 p.m. CST Saturday following a Temple-Kansas State game for third place beginning at 7 p.m.

Seattle, which has All-America Elgin Baylor and much, much more, will be the first at-large team in the national finals since City College of New York in 1950. CCNY went on to win the title that year.

This was a night of furious basketball in the Kentucky-Temple opener, and, on the other hand, an almost unbelievable runaway for unsung Seattle over touted K-State as a record NCAA tournament crowd of 18,586 watched at Freedom Hall.

The massive crowd, left limp by Kentucky's victory, just sat back and watched themselves a ball in watching the smooth-working club from the Pacific northwest humble the big, bruising outfit many thought was the team to beat.

So inept were the Big Eight champions from Manhattan, Kan. they went without a point for 9:29 at one stage of the second half. Baylor was tremendous, scoring 23 points, grabbing 22 rebounds and generally writing basketball's "how to do it" book.

Temple's All-America Guy Rodgers gave Kentucky its chance when he missed on a one-and-one free throw chance with 27 seconds left and the Owls from Philadelphia, leading 60-59.

Ed Beck, whose rebounding was a tremendous factor in the victory, tipped the rebound out to Adrian Smith and the Southeastern Conference perennial, hitting for a record fourth NCAA championship, called time-out. Kentucky came out with a set-play after huddling with Coach Adolph Rupp, and Johnny Cox fed Hatton beautifully as he drove to the basket. The fuzzy-haired Kentucky backcourt man cut easily past the Temple defense, under the basket, and hit with a lay-up.

It was old stuff for the Owls, who had lost to Kentucky last Dec. 7 thanks to a 47-foot set shot by Hatton that tied the score as the buzzer sounded ending the first overtime period. That was the first of only three defeats suffered by the Middle Atlantic Conference team this season and Kentucky, thanks to Hatton, bagged two of them.

Rock Falls, Aurora, Spalding, Marshall In Illinois Semi's

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP)—Top-ranked Rock Falls, Peoria Spalding, West Aurora, and Marshall of Chicago scored convincing triumphs here Friday to move into the semifinals of the Illinois High School Basketball Championship.

Five marks went by the boards as Rock Falls opened Friday's action with a crushing 101-76 win over Schlarman of Danville. In the second game of the afternoon, Spalding ousted Highland, 58-49.

West Aurora opened the evening play with a 59-48 win over Springfield, while Marshall made its bid to become the first Chicago team to win the championship with a 72-59 win over defending champion Herrin.

Semifinal action today will pit Rock Falls against Spalding and West Aurora against Marshall. The games will begin at 1:30 p.m., with the consolation and championship games set for tonight. The games will be televised.

Head-On Crash

A JARRING BLOCK by the Philadelphia Phillies' Chuck Essegian failed to knock the ball from Washington Senator catcher Steve Korcheck, who made the tag on Essegian in Friday's game at Clearwater, Fla. Baseball Talk So Frick Happy—Webb, Perini Propose Two Baseball Changes

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)—A pair of baseball moguls suggested changes and expansions of the major league picture Friday. They didn't agree and Commissioner Ford C. Frick, who would be involved in any such doings was happy "because they are talking baseball."

That was the commissioner's only comment on the suggestion of Del Webb, co-owner of the New York Yankees that the Kansas City Athletics and the Philadelphia Phillies should swap franchises.

The second proposal came from Lou Perini, owner of the Milwaukee Braves, who would have both major leagues expand to 10 teams by 1960 and then expand further to 12 clubs in about five years.

With the transfer of the New York Giants and the Brooklyn Dodgers to San Francisco and Los Angeles, respectively, since the close of the last season Webb pointed out "that it's a pretty long jump from Philadelphia" to the West Coast cities.

By transferring the Phillies to Kansas City the National League teams would have a logical jumping off place, Webb pointed out.

By returning the Athletics to Philadelphia, where they won fame for more than 50 years under the immortal Connie Mack, the western terminus of the American League would be at Chicago.

Perini said he felt Minneapolis-St. Paul, Fort Worth-Dallas, Toronto, Denver and Atlanta would be ready in a year or two for major league franchises.

To get talent for this expansion, Perini said each current major league club would have to place 20 of its 40 players in a draft pool and each new club would be permitted 18.

1957's MOST VALUABLE PLAYER The National League's Most Valuable Player of 1957, Hank Aaron of the Milwaukee Braves, led the league in three batting departments — runs 118, home runs 44 and runs-batted-in 132.

Iowa After 1st Undeclared Gym Season

18 Hawks In NCAA Mat, Swim Meets

Competition in the National Collegiate championship meets is just ahead of ten Iowa wrestlers and eight swimmers.

The wrestlers, winners of the Big Ten team title, will go to Laramie, Wyo., where the University of Wyoming is host to the title affair next Friday and Saturday.

Swimmers will compete in the University of Michigan pool in Ann Arbor, Mich. Thursday through Saturday in an attempt to place high in the final 1958 meet.

Coach Dave McCuskey of the wrestling team believes that his Hawkeyes can finish among the leaders. Hawkeyes will have Simon Roberts, the N. C. defending 147-lb. champion and Gene Luttrell, Big Ten 137-lb. winner.

Other strong Iowans are Gary Kurlendmeier, second in the Big Ten 177; Larry Moser, second in 123; and Jim Craig, third in heavyweight. Craig will wrestle in the 191-lb. class.

The Iowa lineup will be completed by Vince Garcia, 115; John Kelly, 130; Tom Halford, 157; Bob Riehm, 167; and Barron Bremner, heavyweight.

Gary Morris, who equaled the national intercollegiate record for the 50-yard freestyle and won the Big Ten title; and Lincoln Hurring, 100 and 200-yard backstroke conference champion, are the top swimmers. Morris, who has a mark of :49.4 for the 100-yard freestyle, will be a strong threat in this event.

Additional swimmers are Jim Coles and Bob Pratt, sprinters; Earl Ellis, 440 and 1,500-meters; Charles Mitchell, Jr., butterfly stroke; and Jake Quick, and Estel Mills, divers.

Jones Drops From Race, Macy Wins

CLEVELAND (AP)—John Macy, 28-year-old Polish refugee, outclassed the 2-mile run field here Friday night in the 18th annual Knights of Columbus track meet, winning in 9:02.4.

Charlie (Deacon) Jones of Iowa, who was ill with flu earlier in the week, pressed Macy for the first mile but had to drop out at the mile and a quarter. From there on Macy had only the cheers of 9,287 fans to urge him after the meet record of 8:51 which Greg Rice set 15 years ago.

AKINS WHIPS LOGART NEW YORK (AP)—Power punching Virgil Akins of St. Louis came from behind Friday night to floor shifty Isaac Logart twice and gain a technical knockout in 2:53 of the sixth round of their welterweight tournament semi-final. The victory earned Akins a shot for the vacant title with Vince Martinez in June.

13 Meet Season Is Scheduled For Iowa Tennis Team

A schedule of thirteen meets for Iowa's tennis team, including affairs with seven other Big Ten teams, will open April 18, Athletic Director Paul W. Brechler has announced.

Coach Donald Klotz's team, which may become the best in Hawkeye annals, will have only three meets at home. On two weekends, three opponents will be played in a new schedule arrangement.

This is the complete schedule: April 18, Kalamazoo at Kalamazoo, Mich. April 19, Western Michigan at Kalamazoo. April 25, Southern Illinois at Iowa City. April 26, Wisconsin at Iowa City. May 3, Illinois at Iowa City. May 9-10, Indiana, Notre Dame, Purdue at Bloomington, Ind. May 16-17, Michigan State, Minnesota, Ohio State at East Lansing, Mich.
