

Special Capital Improvements Issue—Repeating Problem

Iowans, SUI Face Critical Problem

Capital Improvements is one of the most important problems that SUI — and Iowa — has to face. Little has been constructed in the way of classroom, laboratory, and other necessary facilities at SUI in the past two decades.

Enrollment trends promise to render inadequate not only present facilities, but also the relatively modest additions that would have been provided by the last legislative session — had the appropriation not been vetoed.

A year has passed since that veto, and as yet, no action on Capital Improvements is in the offing.

The Daily Iowan is presenting this special summary and picture page of the problem both to emphasize the fact that there is an imperative need now, and that ignoring it can only make the ultimate solution more difficult.

MS Continue Protests But Sign Leases

The married student protest against a $10 rent increase and $2.6 million construction of additional married housing continues despite a recent mass signing of leases.

Married students representatives are to meet Thursday with the Board of Regents in Cedar Rapids for a half hour. Governor Herschel Loveless had officially requested the meeting to permit the students to present their position.

Richard C. Clark, G. 204 Finkbine Park, appealed Monday evening to Iowans to make their feelings concerning the issue known to the Board of Regents. Clark had been invited to appear on a newscast at KWLL-TV, Waterloo.

Clark said, "Perhaps the most fortunate thing about this country is that we are free citizens, living in a free society where we have the right to make our feelings known to those to whom we have entrusted our institutions."

The Iowa Young Democrats adopted unanimously Sunday a resolution supporting the Married Housing Protest Group's position and suggested the resolution be made a part of the senior party's platform for this year's elections. Richard Greenwood, A3, Iowa City, said copies of the resolution have been sent to Jake Moore, state Democratic chairman, each member of the Board of Regents, SUI Pres. Virgil M. Hancher, the governor and the State Board of Education.

Greenwood, co-chairman of the SUI Young Demos resolution committee, said it was proposed to the governor and Board of Regents that an unbiased committee be appointed to investigate the entire problem of SUI married housing.

The resolution criticized the method of financing the proposed Hawkeye Apartments and said possibly a more economical solution could be reached by changing plans or sites.

Weather

Highs between 62 and 72 are forecast for today by the weatherman. No appreciable wind and cloudiness are also predicted.

If the weather bureau is correct a week of cool weather is predicted for Iowa as a result of a Canadian cold air mass scheduled to enter the state. The long range forecast through Saturday forecasts temperatures to average four to seven degrees below normal with highs in the 60's and lows in the high 40's.

At Young Democrats Convention—

Student Elected Vice-President

SUI Young Democrats returned Monday from a weekend convention in Des Moines with a new state vice-president in their midst. Harvey Andersen, C4, Brayton was elected second vice-president of the state Young Democrats.

Andersen received a unanimous vote of the convention.

Arthur Hedberg, assistant Polk County attorney, was elected president of the state organization over Charles Manatt, former student body president at Iowa State College (ISC).

At the 2-day convention 20 SUI delegates heard state and national political notables show optimism for gains in both the state and national legislatures but at the same time warn the convention against overconfidence.

An Editorial—

A 'Capital' Failure

It's disgraceful!

Iowa's institutions of higher learning — and other state institutions — are severely handicapped in the discharge of their duties by the failure of the State Government to provide for necessary capital improvements.

Capital Appropriations for the three educational institutions and the Iowa Braille and Sight Saving School, the School for the Deaf, and the State Sanatorium have one major justification: need.

It would not matter much that Illinois, Michigan, and most of the other midwestern states have outdistanced Iowa in investment in education IF we had adequate facilities.

No one can seriously contend that we have an adequate physical plant and few could persuade themselves that there is no need for higher education in Iowa. And these would be the only justifiable grounds for refusing to make funds available for capital improvements.

SUI needs a long-postponed addition to its law building, the storage of volatile chemicals here is inadequate and unsafe, more library space is needed, and laboratory facilities need improvement. ISC needs a library addition, power plant equipment, more classroom space, animal industries building, and a food processing building — the latter two very important to Iowa's basic agricultural industry. Teachers College needs heating plant improvements, a health service building, a music education building, a garage and storage building, and land. The other state institutions are also operating with a physical plant twenty years or so behind the need.

And this need is clearly established. We need no recourse to comparison of Iowa's efforts with those of other states, as valid or as telling as they may be.

The story of facilities years behind the need would be serious enough without the rapidly increasing enrollments, the presently overextended facilities, the growing need for research, the growing demand for services to industry, schools, communities, farming, food processing, family living, etc. These factors promise to strain new facilities and certainly can not be adequately handled by the physical plants now in existence at Iowa Institutions.

The veto of the Capital Improvements Appropriation about a year ago and the subsequent failure of the Legislature and the Governor to work out a solution has complicated an already all-but-impossible situation.

Time is rapidly running out. Iowa can only hang its head in shame at the way she has handled these important functions — higher education and service to her handicapped.

WASHINGTON (UP) — Gen. Omar N. Bradley Monday belittled Congressional fears that President Eisenhower's defense reorganization plan would lead to a Prussian-type military general staff system.

He declared that a reorganization plan such as the President proposed was essential to national security. As for fears it might lead to a military dictatorship, he said it was a corporal — Adolf Hitler — who became dictator of Germany, not a general.

Bradley told Chairman Carl Vinson (D-Ga.) of the House Armed Services Committee in a face-to-face meeting that a general staff was "absolutely impossible under our system of Government."

less and Jake More, Democratic state chairman, all spoke at the convention. Several congressional, state and county candidates were also present.

The convention was unanimous in adopting resolutions calling for a committee appointed by Loveless and the Board of Regents to investigate rent boosts on married student housing at SUI.

Other resolutions adopted asked a greater proportion of the tax load be provided by state income tax, local option for liquor by the drink, and no sales tax above 2 per cent.

SUI and the ISC delegation teamed up at the convention against four non-college groups and supported Manatt, against Hedberg in the presidential voting.

It looked for a while as if the convention, which unofficially was kicked off Friday night, would not have any presidential candidates.

when Hedberg announced his candidacy.

Manatt made his announcement about two hours later.

Manatt has been repeatedly urged in the past few months to run for the post, but had refused because of his unsureness about military service.

He entered the race, he said, as "a protest against the domination of the state organization by one club." Manatt charged that Polk County, which has held the state presidency since 1954, "has not activated and organized the rural areas. This is why the convention has dropped from 22 clubs in 1956 to 6 this year."

He also protested "the commitment of votes before presentation of a candidate's program."

Other officers elected by the convention were Patrascha Forrest, Des Moines, first vice-president; Sonny Owens, Davenport, third vice-president; Marvin Shirley, ISC, secretary; and Robert Pctit, Council Bluffs, treasurer.

Demos: Ike To Resign

Butler Says Nixon To Start After Elections

Predicts Health Will Be Given as Reason

WASHINGTON (UP) — Democratic National Chairman Paul M. Butler predicted Monday night that President Eisenhower would resign after the Congressional elections this year to be succeeded by Vice-President Richard M. Nixon.

The Chief Executive has denied any such intentions barring a new incapacitating illness, but Butler said he believed there was some basis for his belief that Mr. Eisenhower would step down.

"The President, himself, shows no particular zest for the responsibilities of the Office of the Presidency," the Democratic chairman said.

Butler's forecast of an Eisenhower resignation developed during questioning on the Mutual Broadcasting System radio program, "Reporters Roundup."

Butler said he attached little significance to the President's recent press conference statement that he felt no necessity to groom his successor.

"I have a feeling myself that I have not publicly expressed before," Butler said. "That all of this talk and conversation and gossip here in Washington about some deal having been made by the President and the Vice President with respect to a possible resignation by Mr. Eisenhower after the 1958 elections indicates that where there is so much smoke, there must be some fire or at least the smoldering embers of some fire."

I would venture to guess that prior to the 1960 conventions, Nixon will be occupying the White House as the President."

When and if the President steps out voluntarily, Butler said, it would be under circumstances indicating "that he feels physically unable to continue to discharge the responsibilities and duties of the Office of the Presidency."

Asked if the Democratic Party had factual reason and something more than gossip on which to base such a forecast, Butler said he knew it was something "very difficult to prove."

Certainly there has been so much talk and conversation about it in official circles and particularly among the Washington press corps, that it would appear that there is some basis for it," he added.

Meantime, it was known that Butler for some time had been considering such a public statement and picked the radio show as the vehicle for his prediction.

Mr. Eisenhower has said repeatedly that he has no intention of resigning; that he was not considering such a move. He has said, however, that should he become unable to perform the duties of his office, he would step aside immediately.

Mr. Eisenhower also has said that he and Nixon have a firm understanding as to how succession would take place if it became necessary.

The chairman, commenting on what he termed the President's lack of zest for his job, said Mr. Eisenhower recently had shown a willingness to fight for only one particular thing, defense reorganization.

Asked to speculate on the impact that might result from an Eisenhower resignation, Butler said there would be "considerable reaction" if the President had to quit because of his physical condition.

"The American people are not always informed and don't always have the means of being fully informed as to the actual condition of the health of the President, because I think that at many times during the past five and one-half years, the President has been in a more serious physical condition than the American people were ever allowed to know."

Starkweather Trial Begins; Jury Sought

LINCOLN, Neb. (UP) — Gunman Charles R. Starkweather, dapper in a tan suit, white shirt and brown figured tie, came to trial in Lancaster District Court here Monday for first degree murder.

The charge stems from one of 11 slayings in which he has admitted involvement.

The court was concerned Monday with the tedious task of selecting 12 jurors who will measure the 19-year-old redhead's guilt, and prescribe a penalty if convicted as charged. Death in the electric chair or life imprisonment are the alternatives on conviction.

First normal step of Starkweather's court-appointed lawyers was to change his plea from innocent to innocent by reason of insanity.

Highlight of the initial court day however, was the out-of-court disclosure by defense attorneys of a note Starkweather scrawled on a jail cell wall three months ago, just after his capture.

In the note, the bandy-legged five-foot-five Starkweather took the blame for nine killings but attributed two others to his 14-year-old girl friend and traveling companion on the late-January killing spree, Caril Ann Fugate.

Caril also has been charged with murder, but prosecution has been stalled by a legal battle over whether she should be tried in District Court, which can assess the death penalty, or in Juvenile Court, which can only detain to the age of 21.

Both Caril and Starkweather are charged specifically in the death of Robert Jensen, 17, of Bennet, Neb., whose body was found in an unused storm cellar near Bennet Jan. 28.

Caril apparently will not be called as a prosecution witness. County Attorney Elmer Scheele, as chief prosecutor, read to prospective jurors Monday the names of 26 witnesses he plans to call and Caril's name was not among them.

'58 Winners Of Pulitzer Prizes Named

NEW YORK (UP) — Coverage of the explosive integration crisis at Little Rock's Central High School won three separate 1958 Pulitzer Prizes in journalism Monday.

They went to the Little Rock (Ark.) Gazette for meritorious public service; the newspaper's executive editor, Harry S. Ashmore, for editorial writing; and Associated Press correspondent Relman (Pat) Morin for his eyewitness account of mob violence outside the school Sept. 23.

Morin was one of two winners this year for national reporting. The other was Clark Mollenhoff of the Des Moines Register and Tribune, who was cited for his investigation of labor racketeering.

It was the 41st annual award of prizes established by the late publisher, Joseph Pulitzer. They are made annually by the trustees of Columbia University on recommendation of the Advisory Board on the Pulitzer Prizes.

Other press awards included: The Fargo (N. D.) Forum, for local reporting under pressure of edition time.

George Beveridge, a reporter for the Washington (D.C.) Evening Star, for local reporting without edition time pressure.

The New York Times for international reporting.

Bruce M. Shanks of the Buffalo (N. Y.) Evening News, in cartooning.

Girl Scouts Plan Flight to Europe

Twenty-eight teenage Iowa City girls are getting ready to go on a flying 6-week trip to Europe.

The trip, under the sponsorship of the Iowa City Cardinal Council of Girl Scouts, will be the result of several years of personal sacrifice and saving by the girls.

Under the supervision of Mrs. Hugh F. Carson, executive director of the Iowa City Council and leader of Troop 1, the group will leave June 17 on a chartered bus to New York City. They will leave New York International Airport June 19, arriving at Amsterdam June 20.

The girls will spend three days in Holland, then travel through Germany, Austria, Switzerland, Italy, France and Belgium, the British Isles, and Ireland. The group will leave for home from Shannon, Ireland, July 25, arriving in New York July 26.

"It's a real opportunity to promote international friendship," Mrs. Carson said. The trip is being arranged through the National Girl Scouts of America, New York office. It will cost each girl $750.

Mrs. Carson explained the trip is the result of five years of planning. "Each girl has worked and saved her money — 25 per cent have saved it all, and 75 per cent saved at least half and their parents will be paying the rest," she said.

The girls have been working at various jobs, such as clerking, camp counseling, and baby sitting.

Mrs. Clark Jones says her daughter Kathryn, 16, earned the $750 by working part time and weekends since July. Most of the money was made working as a bakery counter clerk.

Kathryn hopes to see a pen pal she has been corresponding with for three years.

Michelle Expected To Return Home

Michelle Girard, 14-year-old Iowa City girl, who disappeared March 28, was expected to be returned home sometime today. Her parents Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Wiltfang, RR 5, left Monday for Minneapolis, Minn., where they were to get their daughter.

Michelle was identified when she was picked up on charges of shoplifting by Minneapolis police. Minneapolis authorities said she had been working as a domestic servant there.

O. A. White, chief of police, said the only charge that could be pressed against Michelle because of her age would be that of delinquency, and that police here were not planning charges at this time.

Johnston County Probation officer, Mrs. Martha J. Welcher said Michelle will be allowed to stay at home.

British Novelist Gives Views at Shambaugh

Rosamond Lehmann, noted British novelist, says that she is dismayed by writers who have perfectly clear plans about the novels they are going to write, and who can relate the contents in rational sequence.

In a Humanities Society lecture Monday night in Shambaugh Auditorium, Miss Lehmann told her audience that when asked what a future novel was about, she usually replied, "Oh, I don't know, I suppose about people."

In every writer's experience, says Miss Lehmann, are sparks which suddenly and arbitrarily catch fire, and from these the process of creation begins to operate. "Writers should stay more patiently at the center," she says, "and allow themselves to be worked upon. Later on, when they finally emerge towards the circumference they may have written a good novel of love or war or the class struggle. Or they may not have written a good novel at all."

A question frequently asked Miss Lehmann is "Are your novels autobiographical?" Her answer, she says, is both yes and no, for personal references in a work often become obscured as the piece develops. "American critics often call her

Capital Improvements: The Story To Date

All State Educational Institutions Suffer While Legislature Remains Hung Up Over Issue

'It Would Be Down Hill From Here If You'd Help'

SUI's Major C.A. Difficulties

(From The Daily Iowan, September 26, 1957) Today the State University of Iowa faces an ever-increasing classroom space crisis — last year, for instance, resulting in a legislative attempt to limit SUI enrollment to 10,000 students. To meet the needs of the present enrollment it has been necessary to force into service inadequate, temporary, and obsolete buildings. Our campus is dotted with World War II barracks which are in constant use. Some 16 acres of floor space at SUI are in such temporary wooden and metal structures. These "temporaries" have already exceeded their estimated useful life by two to seven years. Obsolescence has also taken its toll. Some buildings are simply worn out (Old Dental, for example) and have been used beyond their physical efficiency and beyond the point of economic repair or remodeling. Many buildings, too, are many years behind their present educational uses. Remodeling to fit modern educational requirements probably would be uneconomical. But if enrollment remained at about the present levels, SUI might be able to escape the inevitable decline in educational standards which results when such conditions prevail. However, all available estimates indicate that enrollment will steadily rise through 1970, reaching the 16,000 mark by that date. When the Governor vetoed the capital appropriations bill he, in effect, wiped out the proposed building program for the next two years. Included in the $16,059,000 appropriation erased by the veto was $3,739,200 earmarked for the State University of Iowa. This sum would have been used to build a new center, a new pharmacy building and equipment, an addition to the library, land purchases, improvements at the Lakeside laboratory, volatile solvent storage building, equipment, and utilities. The Governor's concern over the entire situation has been genuine. He has publicly stated that he would only call a special session "if it produced positive results." The irony of the entire situation is that everyone agrees that the building needs of the state schools are critical. But to meet these needs is yet another matter.

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Close to all of us at SUI is the problem of capital improvements. This page and the next are devoted today to a summary of the problem to date. Below is reprinted an article from the Iowa Alumni Review of October 1957. "The state is years behind in campus improvement, new floods of students are dead ahead, and a political roadblock on tax policy has halted building construction at the University, the State College and the Teacher's College." For your information here is the story — editorially and pictorially.)

Last spring, the Regents requested that $16,251,085 be appropriated to institutional building during the present biennium. This amount at that time was particularly urgent, the Regents pointed out, to attack the accumulated backlog of needs at the schools. Such a program is the first step in a realistic building schedule. . .

IN HIS BUDGET MESSAGE to the General Assembly, Governor Herschel Lovelless recognized the state's stake in the future quality of the three institutions. He recommended the appropriation of $9,960,390 for immediate building needs, and urged legislative consideration of a long-term program of planned building at the schools, to be financed on a basis other than biennial dependence on appropriations from the state general fund.

The House of Representatives passed a bill calling for the appropriation of $13,600,390 for immediate building needs. The General Assembly ultimately appropriated $10,975,390. A long-term program also was considered. It passed the Senate, but died in the sifting committee of the House.

When the General Assembly adjourned, therefore, the long-time building program remained a matter for discussion, but almost eleven million dollars had been provided for immediate needs. The amount was about a million more than the Governor had recommended. It was some two and a half million less than the House bill had called for, and some five million less than the Regents had requested. But it represented the start of a program, the need for which had been recognized by everyone.

ON MAY 24, the Governor vetoed the building bill. His action was unrelated to the question of educational building needs. There had been no educational building quarrel, and differences only about the level of immediate appropriations. The Governor's action was the apex of a political party quarrel over tax programs.

The General Assembly's appropriations were predicated upon the continuation of the state sales tax at 2 1/2%. The Governor was unalterably opposed to this tax at this or any higher level. The Governor therefore vetoed the general revenue bill which called for continuation of the 2 1/2% sales tax, and that tax automatically reverted to 2% on July 1, under the provisions of prior state law.

IN THE GOVERNOR'S view of the state's resources, capital improvements could not then be provided on funds available during the biennium. He therefore vetoed the building bill.

The question neither party has faced is this: after the battle is over, who has won it?

The fact of the argument is not related to higher education in Iowa. The effect of the argument is. If enrollments are restricted at the state schools, (and it may be essential to restrict enrollments unless the quality of state education in Iowa is to be considered of little consequence), the Iowa sons and daughters who will be denied admission will include the sons and daughters of both Republicans and Democrats.

If all high school graduates who desire to enroll are admitted, regardless of facilities, the students who will be packed together on campuses of which nobody in Iowa could possibly be proud will include young Iowa Democrats and young Iowa Republicans. . .

Clearly evident in the unyielding argument is the implication that "someone is going to eat political crow." But the quality of Iowa public college and university education is on the block as a result of this argument. Who will eat educational crow? The answer is the victors, as well as the vanquished.

THE SLOW PACE of capital construction on the Iowa public campuses spans biennium after biennium, during which each of the political parties in Iowa has been dominant in public affairs. Neither Democrats nor Republicans have evinced an historic determination to maintain first rate physical plants at the schools. . .

The nature of the capital needs of the three institutions in Iowa is well known, by private individuals and public agents alike. Is it too idealistic to expect that justifiable pride in Iowa institutions should be at all times reflected by others generate physical conditions which threaten the University, the State College and the State Teachers College. (Magazines, unlike the daily press, must prepare their copy a considerable time before publication, and the matter of a special session call of the General Assembly has been in a state of flux for several months.)

IF PLANS FOR a special session have not yet been announced, additional delay is in prospect, and the degenerate day will arrive that much sooner and last that much longer. About three years are required from the time funds are made available until a building can be occupied. The plant facilities at S.U.I., I.S.C. and I.S.T.C., inadequate now, can be hopelessly inadequate by 1960.

There is always risk that an organization closely identified with a university will overstate the institutional case, whatever the case may be. In this instance, any overstatement by the S.U.I. Alumni Association would be difficult. The building needs of the Iowa institutions are widely recognized as critical for present enrollments. In view of the numbers who will expect to enroll in the years im-

Slattery's Slants

SUI is only one of the state institutions that is facing unnecessary handicaps to adequate discharge of its duties and responsibilities to the people of Iowa. Just a year ago, when Governor Herschel Lovelless vetoed the $16,059,000 Capital Improvements bill — a minimal appropriation as far as needs go, he promised to call a special session IF he thought that such a session would not be used to raise public indignation without any real possibility of action. Evidently no reassurances were forthcoming and thus no special session has been called or seems to be in sight.

The sales tax issue is important to the state but it is unfortunate that Capital Appropriations — an entirely unrelated matter — has to be tied up in the skirmishes attendant to that subject.

Iowa has many problems that other states have to face — difference of legislative opinion as to how finances are to be raised and managed, re-apportionment squabbles (i.e., Illinois), and probably has no worse a record for handling many of them than other state governments. But few, if any of them, have failed to provide for higher education to a much greater extent — measured by comparative ability to pay as well as in terms of amounts of money invested.

Only three new facilities have been constructed with appropriated funds in the past twenty years — the library addition, the Women's Gym addition, and the Communications Center; scarcely a dent in the need.

Any way you look at it, Iowa has a long way to go just to catch up.

Philip Wylie has gone on record in favor of "Togetherness." His sentiments are summed up nicely in the title of his piece: "To Hell with Togetherness." I read a little about this subject in McCalls — togetherness in the kitchen — and felt a warm glow. . . I pictured the family working together, playing together, talking together, planning together. . . and all of a sudden flashes of this behavior in other rooms swept over me. . . togetherness in the pantry, the bathroom. . .

An English critic of American TV, whose name unfortunately I missed in the announcements following the program, said that the trouble with our TV is that there are too many cartoons for children (and not enough for adults?).

I am wondering if there is any iconoclastic symbolism associated with the presentation of "Oedipus Rex" on SUI's mother's day weekend?

LESSON FOR THE WEEK: Make sure that when you brag about "X" years of experience, you have not really had one year's experience "X" number of times.

Letters Reveal Frustrations—

Seeger In CSA; Letters In Private Files

TO THE EDITOR: I'm nuts. Can't adjust. Can't wear neckties. I feel, sometimes, rather than think, I'm not cautious or cool. I don't know my student number. I get excited over little things, like Big Brother.

Now I read where the University wants tip-offs on my condition. They want to preserve my letters-to-the-editor for a potential employer to read. Dear Potential Employer: I'm nuts. Can't adjust.

Maybe academic freedom IS a hollow phrase. Maybe freedom of speech and press IS a joke. Dean Huit's comment about his records helping the student is sadly true. If the student is rational, if he is not outspoken, if he pays his tuition then he dives into objectivity until diploma-day. If the University doesn't find out he is disturbed, or that anything disturbs him, if the University doesn't discover he has a conscience.

Tip-offs! Dean Huit sounds like a detective looking for privacy to invade. It's not Dean Huit's business who is "emotionally disturbed." It's not the University's business.

And what does the good dean mean by "emotionally disturbed?" Does he mean like old Charley Starkweather who gunned down plenty? Does he mean like Mr. Eisenhower "becoming angered" at a female reporter? Does he mean like President Hancher speaking against junior colleges?

Imagine, if William Faulkner was an SUI graduate he probably couldn't get a job.

The University seems to want a calm atmosphere, conducive to meditating. Careful about that stimulation, boys, it might create a controversy. Don't create a controversy, boys, that brings forth opinions. Opinions are all right, you understand, but let's keep them in texts and scholarly journals. If you want to say what you think, boys, suppress it.

This letter has just been read by a psychiatrist. He says it shows definite schizophrenic tendencies and obvious paranoid clatterings, plus rebellious attitudes, masochistic ravellings and sexual frustrations. He gave me a tranquilizer tablet, a Homecoming badge, and is having me sell my typewriter. I told you, I'm nuts.

TO THE EDITOR: May I express my gratitude to the private citizens who have made this evening's Pete Seeger concert possible?

Those who have heard Seeger's records know that particular artistry which has brought him enthusiastic and wide acclaim. But I believe only those who have had the experience of hearing him in person know that indefinite quality he possesses, to which his audiences respond with something close to devotion. One could call it, simply, humanitarianism.

It's rather a pity that the administrators of various extra-curricular aspects of this university seem so determinedly indifferent to artists such as Seeger, and the possibility of financial gain in like cases, when they have recently shown such diligence about where to spend and how to squeeze for what THEY deem to be advantageous to the student body. Consequently, the concert will take place in the CSA Hall which is unfortunately small and not conveniently located. Many who might have otherwise made a quick trip to campus, or "accidentally" discovered Seeger, while on campus for other reasons, shall miss a rather rare, and certainly memorable, experience.

Seeger has been called the "tuning fork" of folk music; he is certainly one of the most musical and one of the finest "entertainers" alive today.

TO THE EDITOR: We, the undersigned, being in all probability emotionally disturbed, and preparing to depart from the University at the end of the semester, and dreading to leave behind empty dossiers in the Office of Student Affairs, would like to furnish material for said dossiers by means of this letter. Moreover, recognizing that these dossiers are "intended to aid the student," we suggest that copies of this letter be retained in ours until at least 1964.

already recognizing the immortality of my written work.

However, since I was not aware that the University was preserving my work until recently, I fear that several of my earlier pronouncements may have been carelessly phrased or faultily reproduced. Therefore, could you please note, and correct the following errors?

ERRATA: Letter concerning James Hedges, November 15, 1957: Change "this" in line three to "his." Typographical error.

Letter concerning Robert Mezey, March 15, 1958. Change the semicolon in paragraph two, line two, to a period. Enforces the emphasis.

Letter about student affairs, April 10, 1958. Strike the name Huit from line six of the first paragraph. Unnecessary personal reference.

I believe these corrections will clarify my position on certain issues. I wish to note here that these utterances have of course been copyrighted and cannot be reproduced either in whole or in part without the express permission of myself or the Dean of Student Affairs. I would also like to state that in view of my enlarged and perpetuated audience (for which I am most grateful), I shall be more prudent in the future. Thank you for your kind consideration in this delicate matter. Humbly,

Appropriation Always Too Little and Too Late

These pictures taken on the SUI campus are illustrative of some of the inadequate facilities that the University must keep in use because replacement is not possible at this time.

THE UNSATISFACTORY volatile chemical storage facilities the old and worn flooring in many other University classrooms, other buildings that require a lot of maintenance just to keep them in use, and the dark and cramped temporary barracks classrooms are a few of the other possible picture subjects that do not appear here.

THE STORY behind the antiquated buildings at SUI and her sister colleges can be seen clearly in the history of appropriations over the past 25 years (for all schools):

- 1929: $1,176,000 granted of $3,197,592 requested.
- 1931: $452,500 granted of $1,323,000 requested.
- 1933: nothing granted of $115,000 requested.
- 1935: $373,500 granted of $2,025,500 requested.
- 1937: $280,000 of $1,443,000 requested.
- 1939: $525,000 of $1,170,000 requested.
- 1941: $525,000 of $784,000 requested.
- 1943: Nothing granted on $150,000 request.
- 1945: $6,500,000 of $10,315,570 requested.
- 1947: $3,280,001 of $12,750,156 requested.
- 1949: $2,892,213 of $32,988,257 requested.
- 1951: $137,000 of $35,606,507 requested.
- 1953: $4,949,338 of $9,801,085 requested.
- 1955: $4,099,750 of $11,984,000 requested.
- 1957: $16,059,000 approved of $16,251,085 requested; vetoed.

Many of the structures that SUI and her sister institutions are keeping in service were expected to help handle the peak of G.I. bill enrollment, and be retired after 5 years. They are now 10 years old, becoming more costly to maintain, hard to heat, have inadequate ventilation, and are substandard in lighting. Many of these structures are fire hazards.

AN ESTIMATED 20 per cent of the total number of classrooms and laboratories in the three schools are temporary, are obsolete, or are hazardous structures.

The institutions are now running larger classes, offering fewer courses than they might prefer, are calling upon instructors for a heavier work load, and have done extensive remodeling — such as the dividing of the lecture room in the Chemistry building, and the extra classrooms (small) gained by sub-dividing rooms on the third floor of University Hall.

Complicating the space factor is the prediction of 100 per cent increase in the number of enrollments at the 3 institutions by 1970 (over the 1955 figures).

THIS FACTOR alone — in view of the three years or so it takes to complete construction — makes immediate action imperative.

Even if the Special Session were called tomorrow and the $16,059,000 capital improvements scheduled by the 57th G.A. were approved, the three Iowa higher education institutions would not be in a favorable position to do their respective jobs.

The Board of Regents has developed a 10-year program of the minimum building needs of the 3 state schools of higher education — requiring an average of $10,500,000 from each of the bienniums beginning in 1959.

WHILE DIRECT comparisons with other states are dangerous, it is noteworthy that Iowa has one of the lowest appropriation totals of states in this general area — and the difference cannot be explained or justified on the basis of financial strength alone.

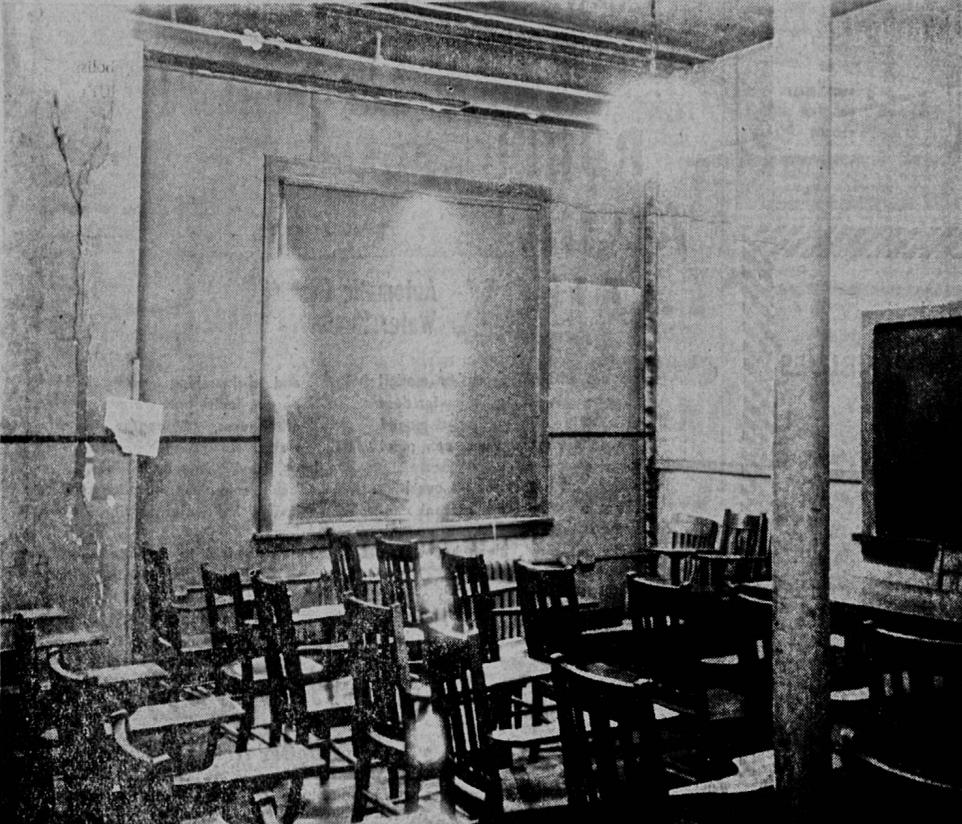

Not only does Iowa need the direct immediate appropriations, but also must develop a long-range method of financing educational buildings at state schools.

Failure to do this inevitably means denial of college education to many qualified young Iowans, and probably a deterioration in the quality of teaching, research and public service.

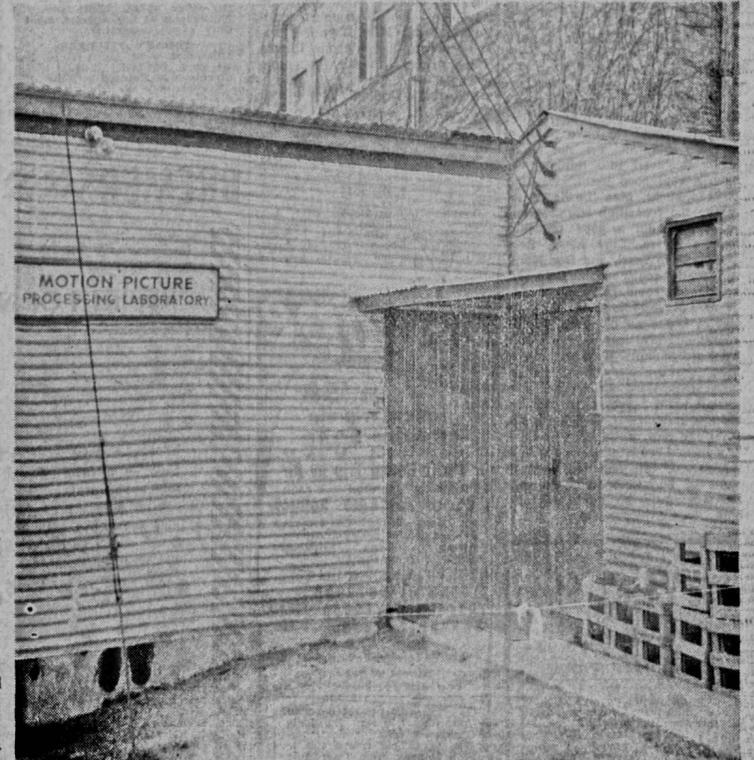

Iowa cannot afford to let that happen!

Successful Game

Saturday's Alumni-Varsity football tussle seemed to meet with the approval of everyone involved and it now appears the game definitely will wind up spring practice from now on.

A good crowd showed up for the contest, especially with threatening weather. And almost everyone stayed to the end.

The Alumni certainly liked the game, although they all felt they could have done better with a little more practice.

However, they all vowed to be back again next year.

And the Iowa Varsity and coaches all seemed pretty pleased with the game, especially with the Varsity winning, 28-24.

AS COULD be expected, the first game had a few bugs, none of which can't be ironed out.

The worst error was the handling of tickets. Several hundred missed the start of the game because of an inadequacy of ticket sellers, and one large group finally stormed through the gate.

This inadequacy in handling of tickets certainly cost a lot of money and was unfair to those who paid. Also, many of the Alumni who returned for the game, said they would play if any money made over expenses would be turned over to scholarship funds.

Another bad item was the poor playing condition of the field. A bad eyesore, it probably didn't impress many people, and certainly wouldn't attract many high school football players if they have seen the beautiful turfs in other Big Ten stadiums.

THE ALUMNI, who I felt played a very good game considering their lack of practice and being out of condition, all had high praise for the Iowa Varsity.

Harold Bradley, line coach of the Alums and a member of the Cleveland Browns, was high on quarterback Randy Duncan and the Iowa backfield as a whole.

"Duncan can throw with anyone," said Bradley, "and those backs can move." Bradley did note that the Varsity was hurting in depth in the line.

Em Tunnell, the New York Giants' great defensive halfback, liked the Hawkeye ends. "Those ends really ran some nice patterns," said Em, "and that Norton (Don) really ran a beauty on that touchdown."

"Those backs looked good, too," said Tunnell. "One time Horn (Don, fullback) jumped right out of my arms. And boy, has he got big legs!"

Kenny Ploen was also impressed with the ends, and had good reason with them rushing quite hard. Ploen agreed with Bradley that the interior linemen lacked depth.

HEAD COACH Forest Evashevski seemed quite pleased with Saturday's game and his own Varsity as well.

Said Evashevski: I can't really judge how good we were because I don't know just how strong the Alumni was or how much organization they had.

"I was very pleased with our passing attack. The Alumni had some excellent defensive men and I thought we did quite well against them."

"I thought the Alumni did quite well for the amount of practice they had. I was certainly happy so many could make it, as several of the players sacrificed quite a little in getting off work and coming out here to play."

"As far as spring practice is concerned, I was quite pleased with the progress we made. However, we know we have a lot of problems yet, and are not trying to be deceitful in thinking we have a real good team."

"I thought Mac Lewis, who made the transition from center to tackle, did a good job this spring. Also, Curt Merz, Bob Jeter, Geno Sessi, and Don Horn all made considerable progress as did our regulars. Gary Grouwinkel played this spring the way we've hoped all along he would."

"Defensively, however, we have a lot of problems. We have several men who are very weak on defense, especially in the line. Our second team linemen are hurting because they are weak defensively."

"Right now, we're going to have to wait and see what develops next season. If we have injuries to some of our first string interior linemen, we'll be hurting pretty badly."

Giants Score Nine Runs in 9th, Lose 11-10

Pirates Score Three in Top Of 9th To Win

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The San Francisco Giants pummeled four pitchers for nine runs in a wild ninth inning Monday but the rally was a run short as the Pittsburgh Pirates won 11-10 and gained a share of the National League lead with Chicago.

The smallest crowd of the season, 5,506, saw the most thrilling game here since major league ball came to the West Coast April 15.

Pinch hitters Jim King, Johnny Antonelli and Bob Speake crashed consecutive doubles to bring in five runs. Errors by third baseman Frank Thomas and shortstop Dick Groat, kept the rally alive.

Boston Wins 8-5

BOSTON (AP) — The Boston Red Sox made it seven victories in 11 home games Monday in thumping the Cleveland Indians 8-5 before 2,387 hardy souls who braved the dampness and 46-degree temperature.

The Sox put the game out of the Indians' reach in the sixth inning when they batted around for their final four runs.

The victory was credited to rookie southpaw Bob (Riverboat) Smith although he was helped over the final inning and two-thirds by Frank Sullivan, a right hander.

Tennis Team Drops From Undefeated

Iowa's tennis team, knocked from the unbeaten ranks last Saturday by Illinois, will try to get back on the victory trail this Saturday at Indiana.

Failure to win in doubles play cost the Hawkeyes their sixth straight win Saturday as the Illini took a 6-3 triumph.

Three Hawkeyes kept their singles records unblemished but two others met defeat for the first time this season. Iowa's top two players, Art Andrews and Bob Potthast, won to remain undefeated as did Don Middlebrook, the Hawkeyes' No. 4 man.

Andrews turned back Illini captain Carl Noble, while Potthast handed Al Holtman his first loss in 11 meets this season. Middlebrook whipped Roger Bielefield to gain Iowa's third point.

Joe Martin and Bill Voxman both had their undefeated marks go by the boards at the hands of Bob Brechenridge and George Gilmore, respectively.

Illinois won the meet by sweeping the doubles play. Only the Hawkeyes' No. 3 doubles team, Voxman and Milo Larimer, was able to win a set from Illinois, which gained its tenth win against a single loss.

Saturday's results:
Singles—Art Andrews (Iowa) beat Carl Noble 7-5, 6-3; Bob Potthast (Iowa) beat Al Holtman, 6-2, 3-6, 6-3; Bob Brechenridge (Ill.) beat Joe Martin, 6-4, 6-2; Don Middlebrook (Iowa) beat Roger Bielefield, 6-4, 1-6, 6-0; George Gilmore (Ill.) beat Bill Voxman 6-3, 2-6, 6-4; Joe Epkins (Ill.) beat Milo Larimer, 6-0, 6-2.

Doubles—Holtman-Noble (Ill.) beat Andrews-Potthast 6-4, 6-4; Brechenridge-Bielefield (Ill.) beat Martin-Middlebrook, 6-2, 8-6; Gilmore-Epkins (Ill.) beat Larimer-Voxman, 6-4, 2-6, 6-3.

Hawks Split Pair, Still In Cellar

Iowa's baseball team, still in the Big Ten cellar despite winning its first game of the season Saturday, will try to move up in the conference standings this weekend when the Hawkeyes travel to Illinois for a single game Friday and to Purdue for a Saturday doubleheader.

Sophomore Roger Rudean hurled a strong 4-hitter in Saturday's 7-inning nightcap to give Iowa a 1-0 win over Northwestern, after the Wildcats won the opener, 5-2. Iowa's Big Ten mark is 1-5.

Iowa could collect only three hits in the final, but put two of them together for the game's lone run. A double in the fourth inning by Fred Long and Allan Klingler's two-out single gave Rudean all the margin he needed.

In the opener, Tom Scheuerman, brother of Iowa's assistant basketball coach Sharm Scheuerman, hurled a sharp 4-hitter to grab a 5-2 win. Scheuerman, the Big Ten's leading pitcher last year, walked three and struck out five. Both Iowa runs scored off the Wildcat southpaw were unearned.

Bill Lapham Wins Spring Practice Award From Staff

Bill Lapham, center from Des Moines, has won the coaches' award as the University of Iowa football player contributing the most to spring practice.

Coach Forest Evashevski Monday announced that Lapham would receive a special watch, given each spring by the coaching staff, to the Hawkeye player so designated by the coaches. The award plan was started in 1952.

"Lapham did a very fine job this spring. He always was one of the first on the field for practice and his attitude throughout the sessions was excellent. Under the coaching of Archie Kodros he improved his play at center and we expect he will do an outstanding job for the team in the 1958 games," Coach Evashevski commented.

The center, who enters his junior year next season, is a 6-2, 230-pounder. He is 24 years old and came to Iowa in 1956 shortly after he left the armed forces. Lapham is married.

In winning the award, Lapham becomes the third center to be so honored. Others were Warren (Bud) Lawson, 1952; and Don Suchy, 1953.

Iowa Bows To Indiana Track Squad, 70-60

Iowa's track team scored only four first places as they were defeated by Indiana Saturday, 70 2/3 to 60 1/3, but managed to take nine second places, and tie for another.

First place winners for the Hawkeyes were Jack Hill in the mile run; "Deacon" Jones in the 2-mile, Rod Anderson in the high jump and Jim Young in the discus.

Two men were responsible for five of the Hoosiers' first places. Olympic broad jumping champion Greg Bell won the 100 and 220 yard dashes as well as his specialty. Willie May won both the high and low hurdle races.

Iowa finished first or second in all of the events except the 440 yard dash. Hoosier Harold Caffey won only four tenths of a second off the track record in this event with a time of 48.4. This was the only record which was approached because of a slow track resulting from an all night rain Friday night.

The Hawkeyes resume competition Saturday against Minnesota at Minneapolis.

Results of Saturday's meet:
Mile—1. Jack Hill (Ia.); 2. Naverne Wille (Ia.); 3. Charles Slesky (Ia.); 4.23.2.

Trades Not Good So Far For Chicago

NEW YORK (AP) — Credit the Baltimore Orioles and the Washington Senators with having made the most advantageous player transactions last winter.

And debit the Chicago White Sox for having made the least profitable trades.

That's the way it stands at the moment at least.

The Orioles obtained Jack Harshman and Larry Doby from the White Sox and gave up Tito Francona, Billy Goodman and Ray Moore last Dec. 2. Six weeks later they sent Doby to Cleveland and secured Gene Woodling.

Here's the way it's worked out so far:

Harshman, who reportedly had a bad back last season, has won four games and lost none. He's beaten Washington twice and Chicago and Detroit once each while compiling a 1.00 earned run average. Woodling has made a big hit with the Orioles' fans although he's batting only .262. Gene has hit one home run and driven in eight runs.

Goodman is hitting only .120. Francona an anemic .162 and Moore has no pitching decisions. Doby has collected only three hits in 15 tries for a .200 average for the Indians.

The Senators made a good deal by securing first baseman Norm Zauchin and outfielder Albie Pearson from Boston. They gave up Pete Runnels, who is batting .329 for the Red Sox. But Zauchin and Pearson have solved two of Washington's major problems and are largely responsible for the team's high position in the pennant race. Zauchin shows a .327 mark and Pearson is at .319.

The swap that moved Minnie Mino to Cleveland in exchange for Al Smith and Early Wynn also is working to the disadvantage of the White Sox. Smith has made only nine hits in 51 at bats for a .176 mark. Wynn has won only one of three decisions. Mino, meanwhile, has 21 safeties in 74 trips for a .284 slat. Minnie also has collected three homers and 11 RBIs.

Frick To Ask For Uniform Minimum In All New Parks

NEW YORK (AP) — Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick is asking the Playing Rules Committee to set a 325-foot foul line and 400-foot center field minimum for all new parks built or remodeled after June 1. This would in no way alter the present 251-foot left field screen at the Los Angeles Coliseum.

Although Frick admitted the short fence in Los Angeles had prodded him into action, he said his thoughts on minimum foul lines and uniform parks were not inspired by the Dodgers' playing field.

The three teams defeating the Hawks were: Indiana, 14-4; Northwestern, 10-8, and Illinois 12 1/2-5 1/2.

Scores for the Hawkeyes were: Clyde Feltes, 76; Bud Judish, 79; Steve Schwers, 80; Dale Hayes, 80; Russ Schrage, 82; and John Liechty, 84.

Ward, Former Golf Champ, Regains Amateur Status

NEW YORK (AP) — Harvie Ward Jr. of San Francisco, winner of the National Amateur Golf championship in 1955 and 1956, regains his amateur status today after serving a year's suspension for accepting unauthorized tournament expenses.

The announcement was made Monday by Joe Dey, executive director of the U.S. Golf Assn.

Harvie thus becomes eligible to try for his third National Amateur crown at the Olympic Club in San Francisco, his home town, Sept. 8-13.

In San Francisco, Ward said his reinstatement made him "very happy" and that he would start getting his game in shape for the National Amateur.

SHOULD HAVE STAYED IN BED

Goose Goslin of the Detroit Tigers had a day to remember on April 28, 1934. He came to bat four times and grounded into four doubleplays. His error accounted for the only Cleveland run, but the Tigers won, 4-1.

Speakers at the banquet will be Dayton Howe, chairman of the Retail Division of the Iowa City Chamber of Commerce, and John H. Haefner, professor and head of social studies education at SUI. Frank R. Kennedy, professor in the SUI College of Law will serve as master of ceremonies.

Myron Blaine of the Retail Merchants Division is serving as coordinator of arrangements for the leadership banquet, working with Keith Kafer, manager of the Iowa City Chamber of Commerce and officers of leadership groups at SUI.

A highlight of the program will be the traditional "tapping" of new members to Omicron Delta Kappa (ODK), national honorary society for upperclassmen. Present ODK members, wearing caps and gowns, will move through the banquet group designating the new members by placing their caps on the students who will comprise next year's chapter.

James E. Grier, L2, Ottumwa, president of the society, will be in charge of the tapping ceremony.

New members of Mortar Board, national honorary society for senior women, also will be introduced at the banquet.

Meet Subscriber's Needs Circulation Manager Relates

Newspapers are not pricing themselves out of business by increasing the prices on each copy, but they must continue to revise publishing habits to give the reader his money's worth, according to an Iowa newspaper circulation manager.

C. E. McDonald, circulation manager of the Council Bluffs Nonpareil, said that a 20-year study at the Nonpareil has shown that raising the price of home-delivered newspapers has not slowed circulation increases.

McDonald spoke to 43 newspaper circulation and business managers from nine states who attended the ninth annual Iowa Short Course on Newspaper Circulation held at SUI Sunday and Monday.

"In spite of ever-increasing subscription rates," the speaker said, "the Nonpareil has almost doubled its home-delivered circulation."

Newspapers must "stay in tune with the reader's needs" if they hope to increase circulation while also increasing prices. One way publishers can do this is to insure early delivery of their newspaper, McDonald said.

Kinnick Hopefuls Visit SUI Today

Sixteen candidates for Nile Kinnick Memorial Scholarships will arrive on the SUI campus today for personal interviews and a 2-day look at college life.

Nile Kinnick died in a plane crash in the Caribbean in 1942. The interviews will provide a basis for selecting five winners of the $1,000 awards, $750 of which will be provided through the Kinnick Scholarship Fund.

During their stay at SUI the candidates will stay in fraternity houses. An informal social hour will be held for the group tonight. On Wednesday faculty members and Kinnick scholars will attend a luncheon in Iowa Memorial Union.

Scholarships are made possible through contributions of alumni, friends of SUI and friends of Kinnick. They were established in 1945 by the Iowa State Junior Chamber of Commerce.

To be eligible for the scholarships, the candidates must graduate in the upper one-fourth of their high school class, be a leader in extra-curricular activities — particularly athletics, and possess personal integrity.

Scholarship winners must maintain a "B" average in SUI school work and continue athletic participation to qualify for renewal of the award.

Candidates for the Kinnick scholarships are C. Bruce Butters, Central City; Gary Lorenz, Clinton; David Maher, Iowa City; Bill Reif, Kalona; Dean Holst and Harold Ritscher, Keosauqua; Richard Ashbacher, Lansing; Victor Wilson, Muscatine; Norman Nichols, Osage; Jerry Shipman, Oskaloosa; Bruce Mitchell, Rockford; Glen Reynolds, Rockwell City; Dennis Niewoehner, Sumner; Dyrwald Haag, Thompson; Robert Mitchell, Vinton; and Clavin Roulson, West Union.

STUNTED AMBITION

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — A teen-age youth with ambitions of becoming a "private eye" suffered a slight setback the other day.

Police caught him and two other boys driving a stolen car. A search of the youth in question turned up a private detective's badge and a pair of handcuffs.

The would-be sleuth went to jail in his own manacles.
