De Gaulle Gets Chance, Faces Major Obstacles

Must Still Win Assembly Approval

Coty Acts Quickly, Fears Civil War

PARIS (UPI) — President Rene Coty called on Gen. Charles De Gaulle Wednesday night to take over as premier of France.

Coty dispatched the speakers of Parliament's two houses to meet the general at a secret rendezvous in Paris — the first formal step in bringing De Gaulle to the premiership.

An announcement from Coty's office said Andre Le Troquer, President of the National Assembly, and Gaston Monnerville, President of the Council of the Republic (Senate) were asked to contact De Gaulle "with a view to establishing with him the conditions under which the Government of the Republic would be formed."

It was doubtful that a final decision would be made known before today. Immediately after the announcement was issued by Coty's office, the presidential Elysee Palace closed for the night and a spokesman said no further announcements would be made.

Coty called De Gaulle to Paris in the Fourth Republic's greatest peacetime crisis despite Communist and left-wing opposition that erupted today in a mass demonstration by 250,000 persons.

Major roadblocks to a De Gaulle Government remained. Squabbling among the political parties threatened to head off the election of De Gaulle by legal methods in the National Assembly, but Coty was convinced that the country's choice was De Gaulle or chaos and perhaps civil war.

Leaders of the middle-road parties, whose support is vital to a vote of confidence in the assembly, have not agreed to approve De Gaulle as head of the Government.

The decision to have the two Parliamentary speakers consult first with De Gaulle was the latest in a series of political bombshells that have punctuated France's crisis in the past few days.

The Communists sought to block the wartime hero's assumption of power with a strike that fizzled, a mass demonstration that was remarkably peaceful and Communist calls for a "popular front" with the Socialists and Radicals. The Radicals spurned the bait. The Socialists were considering an appeal from Coty himself to forget their animosity to De Gaulle and support him, to help save France from chaos.

The Catholic Popular Republicans — Pflimlin's own party — and the independents pledged to Coty that they would support De Gaulle.

Coty was reported to have warned the socialists, independents and Popular Republicans at an unusual mass conference that the only alternative to De Gaulle was a Communist-led popular front, similar to the one led by Leon Blum in 1936.

General De Gaulle May Become Premier

In that case, the president was reported to have warned, he himself would resign and the fourth republic, hanging on the edge of civil war, would fall.

As he spoke, tens of thousands of communists, leftists and some anti-De Gaulle moderates massed at the Place De La Nation in eastern Paris.

Other crowds, along the road to Paris, had gathered to cheer De Gaulle as he swept past in his old Citroen limousine, trailed by a carload of Surete officers — the French F.B.I.

The communist labor unions, backed by some moderate unions, called a two-hour transportation strike geared to the rush hour — but timed so as not to interfere with the gathering of the demonstrators in eastern Paris. It failed, as did another red-sponsored strike yesterday. Most subway, trolley and buses ran on schedule.

Today, 15 days since the Gaullist campaign began in Algiers, the time had come for the final decision.

Coty obviously was working against time and trying to get the matter settled as quickly as possible before anti-Gaullist forces could rally and organize.

Rarely, if ever, had a president moved so quickly to end a crisis. Coty was making no bones about his fears of civil war if the issue were not brought to a head in short order, sources said.

Weather

Iowa City will again enjoy fair skies tonight, with temperatures climbing to the high 70's or low 80's.

The weatherman predicts warm temperatures through tonight, with scattered clouds this evening and Friday morning.

From a low of 44-48 Wednesday night, temperatures today will probably range from 78 in the northeast to 88 in the southwestern part of the state.

Stockport Girl Believed Missing Since Monday

Iowa City police Wednesday night were trying to learn the whereabouts of a 16-year-old Stockport girl believed missing since Monday.

Police were notified Wednesday that Melva Dean Rowe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Rowe of Stockport, left Stockport Monday for Iowa City, and had not been heard from.

Melva was traveling with a man and woman selling magazines or some book club to see if she liked the idea of traveling and selling, police reports showed.

The salesman and the girl were headed for Iowa City and Melva had received her mother's permission to make the trip, police said.

Stockport is located approximately 65 miles south and southwest of Iowa City in Van Buren County.

Investigation by Iowa City Police showed that no permit had been issued and that the Iowa City Chamber of Commerce had no knowledge of salesmen of the type described in the city. According to city law, salesmen are required to obtain a permit to sell in Iowa City.

Melva is described as 5-feet 6-inches, 125-130 pounds, with brown hair (last seen in a pony tail) and brown eyes.

Recession Force Largely Spent—Ike

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Eisenhower said Wednesday the recession had "largely spent its force." But he awaited improvement in such things as sales of autos and other factory goods before predicting an upturn.

He told a news conference some economic indicators pointed to a general improvement but that "one swallow doesn't make a summer."

The President pointed to a continued decline in sales of autos and durable goods. He said he wanted to see "a few more things happen" before declaring that all economic indices "show a healthy upturn."

The President opposed any tax cuts that would increase the Federal deficit, as well as any peacetime attempt to control wages and prices. He said about all the Government could do to help control rising living costs was to fight them with its fiscal policies.

The President objected to labeling any tax cut as an anti-recession measure. He said he was not sure that would be the effect of a tax reduction and that he did not believe any large cuts were justified in light of increased Federal spending.

NO TAX CUTS
WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House Ways and Means Committee Wednesday approved a 12-month extension of corporate income and excise taxes at their present rates. The 21-2 vote was interpreted as closing the door on substantial tax reductions this year.

Rep. Thaddeus M. Machrowicz (D-Mich.) tried to get the excise tax on new automobiles reduced from 10 per cent to 7 but his amendment was defeated 19-2.

LABOR HITS IKE
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Organized labor apparently has tossed a stiff challenge at President Eisenhower's anti-recession advice to Americans to "buy now — buy anything."

It contends American families, especially in the middle and lower income groups, do not have the savings that Administration officials once thought they had.

The May statistical bulletin of the securities and exchange commission (SEC) reported net financial savings amounted to $16,300,000,000 in 1957.

The Commerce Department estimated gross personal savings for 1957 at $20,200,000,000, with a decline in the first quarter of this year to an annual rate of $18,900,000,000.

Figures such as these irritated labor officials. The current economic review of the AFL-CIO bitterly attacked the validity of SEC figures as a measurement of potential consumer spending power — the Labor organization's economists statistics indicate that spendable savings of unskilled and service workers averaged only $6 a man in 1957.

The AFL-CIO also cited Federal Reserve Board figures to show that 25 per cent of all American families — 14,000,000 — owned no spendable assets of any description at the start of 1958. According to the same figures, 10 per cent of America's 57,000,000 families owned or held 66 per cent of all liquid assets.

"Americans hardly need presidential prodding to encourage them to spend more," said the AFL-CIO in using its analysis of savings figures to urge Federal tax reduction as the most immediate method of spurring consumer demand.

House Approves Alaska State Bill

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House approved a bill Wednesday to make Alaska a state and add a 49th star to the flag. The measure now goes to the Senate where it is given a good chance of passage.

The House passed the bitterly contested measure on a roll-call vote of 208-166 after defeating two attempts to kill the bill by sending it back to the House Interior Committee which recommended it.

On the showdown, the bill was backed by 117 Democrats and 91 Republicans. Opposed were 81 Democrats and 85 Republicans.

The vote was a long step forward in Alaska's fight for statehood which began in 1916 when the first bill was introduced.

Absentminded

Bookworms Fail To Re-turn

DIDJA HEAR the one about the absent-minded professor? Well, there is now empirical proof that it's all true (students accused of weak memory habits, please note).

Although none have appeared — as traditionally portrayed in joke and cartoon — minus strategic items of apparel, many of our own at SU have acted, or rather, inacted, in ways thoroughly in keeping with the vulgar concept of scholarly single-mindedness: to wit; sloppy, careless methods of bookkeeping.

And other people's books at that! Dale M. Bentz, Acting Director of University Libraries revealed that some faculty members had forgotten to return books borrowed from the library and that letters reminding them that it's inventory time have been sent to them.

Faculty members may check out books for indefinite periods for teaching and research, Bentz explained.

Ask Lucads To Sell Land for Park Use

Edward Lucas, owner of some of the land involved in a current rezoning dispute, was approached Wednesday with a proposal that a portion of his land adjacent to Plum Grove Acres be purchased by the city and converted into a playground or park area. Lucas is the city attorney.

Plum Grove Acres is a housing development in the southeast part of Iowa City. The Lucas property is directly west of the housing area and is zoned for industrial use.

A committee of Plum Grove residents and Robert Lee, director of the Iowa City Playground and Recreation Commission, went to Lucas to ask him if he was willing to sell part of his property to the city for park or playground use.

Lucas declined to commit himself. Lee said the Playground and Recreation Commission recommended last spring to the City Council that part of the Lucas property be purchased for recreational use. The City Council took no action on the matter.

"There is a real need for a playground or park area in that part of town," Lee said.

The proposal will probably be discussed Monday at a public hearing concerned with a petition by Wilbert Frantz to rezone some property south of the Lucas property and west of Plum Grove from Class A Residential to Business, Louis Loria, mayor of Iowa City, said.

Loria also said a city playground or park is needed in the southeast part of Iowa City.

Petitions have been circulated by residents of Plum Grove pro-

Zoning Group Checks Need For Changes

Members of the Johnson County Zoning Commission are busy today checking with residents in their townships and towns to find out what zoning restrictions are needed in the county.

The agreement to find out the facts as soon as possible came after a commission meeting held in the County court room earlier this week.

At the meeting the group voted to contact the Harland Bartholomew and Associates, St. Louis, Mo., about running a survey of Iowa City for rezoning. They also requested the company to have a representative at the next meeting to explain the steps to be taken in county zoning. No date has been set for the next meeting.

Attorney William M. Meardon was named chairman of the commission and Willis Musser, Scott township, secretary.

Members of the committee include one representative from each of the twenty-one townships, one from each of the nine towns and two from Iowa City.

Johnson County Attorney William M. Tucker, who served as moderator, told the members that they should survey their own townships and towns to make a complete county wide zoning system to be presented to the Board of Supervisors.

Tucker said that other counties are working on the problem and that Linn County had already set up zoning with different classifications for residential, resort, business, light industry, heavy industry, and rural areas.

He explained a rural zone would limit the use of an area to homes and farming, but keep business and industry out.

Tucker pointed out that the adoption of zoning can keep undesirable areas from expanding further and the zoning could be changed at any time.

Clayton Singleton, Penn township, said the area between North Liberty and the new Coralville dam is being taken over by squatters. He said a regulation there would be of value for the future.

Frank Ziskovsky, Jefferson township, said some type of regulation was needed to stop some of the families moving into his area, that are working in Cedar Rapids.

Student Council Recommends Discrimination Investigation

The SUI Student Council, in their last business meeting of the year, voted unanimously to accept the recommendations of the Minority Group Sub-Committee, Wednesday night.

The race relations recommendations are divided into four groups: housing, employment, social and professional fraternities and sororities, and business and off-campus housing.

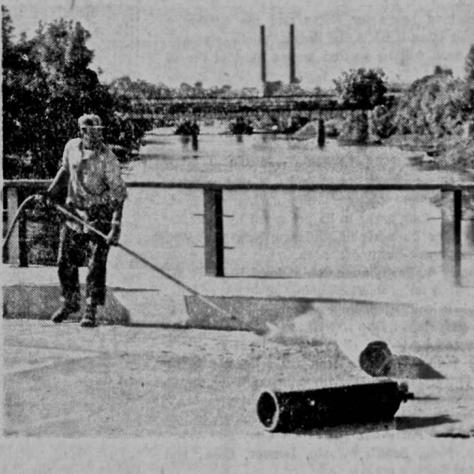

The council recommended that the committee investigate matters of discrimination in employment, refer the problem to the office of Student Affairs, and as a final measure, pass petitions discouraging discrimination among the student body.

The approved recommendation

New "Bridgework"

TRAFFIC JAMS DURING SU's home football games will be eased next fall with the completion of an eight-mile long stretch of paving and a new bridge over the Iowa River. The Iowa Highway Commission announced Wednesday that bids would be taken June 24 for paving the Highway 6 by-pass of Iowa City. The new highway extends from the junction of Highways 1 and 218 in the southwest part of Iowa City to the Scott Church corner southeast of the city where it will join with the present route of Highway 6. Grading on the new highway was completed last summer but the project was delayed because of lacking funds. Work was restored after a measure providing additional highway funds was passed by Congress. The work on the new bridge (above) will carry the highway over the Iowa River advanced Wednesday when workmen brought in air hoses (right) to clear the debris. — Daily Iowan Photos by Jerry Goldstein.

Blame Angle Rocket Shot For Vanguard's Failure in Flight

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (UPI) — The Navy said Wednesday its Vanguard rocket failed a second time to put a full-scale satellite in orbit because the little moon was shot into space at too steep an angle. Scientists said the 20-inch, 21½-pound sphere blasted aloft in the nose of the Vanguard Tuesday night, climbed some 2,000 miles above earth, but then curved back into the atmosphere and burned instead of entering the expected elliptical orbit.

President's Military Budget Hike Okayed By House Appropriations Committee

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House Appropriations Committee voted Wednesday to boost President Eisenhower's military spending budget to $38,310,561,000 to provide extra funds for rockets and atomic-powered submarines.

While the committee ordered some cuts in the President's defense program, it voted an overall increase of $113,614,000 in his already stepped-up military spending plans for the fiscal year starting July 1. It said the world situation justified the increase.

Two Presbyterian Denominations United Becoming Fourth Largest Protestant Group

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — A joint procession of Presbyterian elders, marching cheerfully through a steady downpour of rain, Wednesday sealed the merger of two long-divided denominations to form the United Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A.

The new church, which will be the nation's fourth largest Protestant body, officially came into being at 9:58 a.m. (EDT) when two soaking-wet ministers shook hands on a rain-drenched street corner opposite the University of Pittsburgh's skyscraper campus.

Four Pennsylvania Miners Killed In Slate Fall; 200 Men Escaped

WHARTON, Pa. (UPI) — Four miners were killed Wednesday and two were injured in a slate fall at the Wharton No. 2 mine of the Eastern Gas and Fuel Associates at nearby Barrett.

The section of slate that fell was 36 inches thick and 100 feet long. About 200 men were in the mine when the fall occurred. The mine, which employs 450 men on all shifts, is located 40 miles south of Charleston in southern West Virginia coal fields.

Jerry Lee Lewis Flies Home With Child Bride To Validate Marriage

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UPI) — Rock and roll star Jerry Lee Lewis flew home with his child bride Wednesday and said he would "remarry her 100 times if necessary" to validate their marriage.

turned home to "get this mess straightened out." The "mess" Lewis referred to started when the entertainer revealed his third marriage, to Myra, while in London. Records showed that she was only 13 and that she married Lewis five months before his second marriage was terminated in the courts.

Stritch Given Final Rites in Eternal City, Body Returning to Chicago Today

ROME (UPI) — Thousands of Romans paid tribute to Samuel Cardinal Stritch Wednesday in an hour-long funeral procession that wound through the streets of the Eternal City to the Church of St. Ignatius.

Persons lining the street made the sign of the Cross as the gold-trimmed hearse carrying the Cardinal's body from the North American College where it had lain in state Tuesday and Wednesday.

Pope Pius XII sent a cable to Roman Catholics of the Chicago Archdiocese expressing his "deep sorrow" at the Cardinal's death.

The body will be buried in Chicago. Cardinal Stritch died early Tuesday morning after a circulatory ailment first forced the amputation of his right arm and then caused fatal heart damage.

Late Washington News—

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House by overwhelming voice vote agreed Wednesday to permit substitute for the President's liberal trade program. Floor debate and showdown voting are scheduled next week.

The protectionist substitute measure is designed to provide more tariff-raising than tariff-cutting.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate Wednesday handed President Eisenhower a smashing victory by giving final Congressional approval — unanimously — to a bill to extend jobless payments to workers who have exhausted their benefits.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Congressional Atomic Energy Committee Wednesday approved President Eisenhower's plan for sharing weapons data and nuclear materials with free world allies — but included a provision for Congressional rejection.

Salute to Slats

Amazing, isn't it? We're speaking, of course, of the tribute paid to Tom Slattery in the Letter to the Editor printed on this page.

That a man can create such strong sentiment in this many members of the University community is, in itself, a measure of his worth to the community and to the newspaper of which he was editor.

Pruning Plum Grove

The proposed rezoning of an area of land adjoining Plum Grove Acres will be discussed at a public hearing next Monday night.

It seems to us that in the best interests of not only the residents of Plum Grove, but of the rest of Iowa City the proposed rezoning should be voted down by the City Council.

If Iowa City is to realize its growth potential, there should be some act of faith by the City to assure purchasers of sites in new developments that adjoining tracts will not be rezoned to the detriment of the residential area.

Plum Grove is now an attractive and desirable area, but its value as a residential tract will be unquestionably reduced if business and industry are allowed to locate too closely.

And if this happens to one development, future potential purchasers of sites in new additions will be justifiably hesitant about purchasing such a vote of appreciation from the people he served.

Print the Truth

Almost everyone in Iowa — and the rest of the country for that matter — seems to be in favor of banning billboards from the highways.

Evidently, however, this only pertains to privately financed billboards, since a member of the Iowa Development Commission has revised the idea of "welcoming" travelers to the Corn State via the billboard route.

Possibly taxpayer-financed billboards are easier to see through and don't distract drivers as much as do the commercial type.

Whatever the case, if the billboards go up, we'd like to suggest some pithy slogans to put on them. The promotions the state put on their old billboards (circa 1946-1952) were a little dull:

"Center of the Nation's Food Supply . . . and Land of Industrial Opportunity."

A much more realistic approach would be to publicize the glorious truth about Iowa. Such as:

"Iowa . . . Land of the Big Drinkers . . . We Buy It By The Bottle . . . We Have To."

We might even get the WCTU to help finance that one since they seem to be the group behind the booze-by-the-bottle business.

Or if that isn't suitable, how about this: "Settle On An Iowa Farm . . . and Get Three Shares in the Legislature for Every One Share the City Slicker Gets."

On second thought, that one probably wouldn't be too popular since we're trying to attract industry to the state.

As you can see, there are a lot of things to think about before we begin blowing our horn about Iowa. Perhaps the best sign after all is the honest, safe, simple "Iowa . . . Speed Laws Strictly Enforced."

TO THE EDITOR: In view of the fact that Tom Slattery, past editor of The Daily Iowan, did not receive a gold key for services to the newspaper as did other staff members;

In view of the fact that the editor-in-chief of a newspaper is responsible for his paper;

In view of the fact that The Daily Iowan has, for the past year, been exciting and often provocative;

In view of the fact that Tom Slattery brought vital issues to light on the editorial page;

In view of the fact that Tom Slattery initiated a review board that brought writers and ideas of merit to the attention of this campus;

We, the undersigned, wish to thank Tom Slattery publicly for the service he has given to his paper and his school.

TO THE EDITOR: In view of the fact that Tom Slattery, past editor of The Daily Iowan, did not receive a gold key for services to the newspaper as did other staff members;

In view of the fact that the editor-in-chief of a newspaper is responsible for his paper;

In view of the fact that The Daily Iowan has, for the past year, been exciting and often provocative;

In view of the fact that Tom Slattery brought vital issues to light on the editorial page;

In view of the fact that Tom Slattery initiated a review board that brought writers and ideas of merit to the attention of this campus;

We, the undersigned, wish to thank Tom Slattery publicly for the service he has given to his paper and his school.

Business Slump Not Hurting SUI Grads

A general downswing in business has caused some changes in the employment outlook for college-trained applicants, but most SUI June graduates are finding that they still have a chance at several job opportunities.

Placement personnel at SUI say it is difficult to fill positions open in some fields. Ermina Busch, director of the educational placement office, said that students receiving doctorate degrees in education are getting more offers than in 1957.

At the college teaching level, she reports, there is a shortage of mathematics, chemistry and physics instructors. More openings also are available this year for women's physical education instructors. Salary ranges for teachers at all levels are about the same as in 1957, with some increases, she said.

Top students in engineering have been getting as many job offers this year as ever, said J. Wayne Deegan, SUI professor and coordinator of engineering placement, and salaries offered are just a "shade" higher than last year.

A slowdown in business activity apparently caused some larger industrial firms to pass up a chance at this year's engineers, but many smaller firms which previously did not try to compete with the "giants" moved in to fill the recruiting gap, Deegan said.

Helen M. Barnes, director of business and industrial placement and coordinator of University placement services, reported more than 300 companies scheduled interviews this spring with upcoming graduates. She explained that the student "who is just a cut above average" still has many opportunities, but that those below are having to do a better job "selling" themselves to prospective employers.

Murvin Perry, director of placements for the SUI School of Journalism, said there are more job opportunities for journalists than the school can meet—a disparity he predicts will exist for five years.

Biggest demand in journalism is for reporters, with salaries of $80 to $90 a week being offered, he said.

More job opportunities exist than can be filled by graduates of the SUI College of Pharmacy, reported Dean Louis C. Zopf. In addition, salaries are higher—between $100 and $140 a week—and graduates are getting a wider choice of jobs in hospitals, industry and other pharmaceutical fields, he says.

Janet Way, administrative assistant in the SUI College of Nursing, said graduates of SUI's 4-year program in nursing have a choice of several jobs, with starting salaries of from $3,300 to $3,600 a year.

She reported that SUI graduates have the opportunity to enter varied fields of nursing, such as public health, industrial, hospital staff and public school nursing.

A few law students are still awaiting special jobs or locations, but most of this year's graduates already have jobs, according to Dean Mason Ladd of the SUI College of Law.

Most of the new lawyers will go into practice in Iowa law firms, Dean Ladd reported, with a smaller number taking jobs in industry and business. Salaries are about the same as those of last year, he said.

44 VA Personnel To Get Awards

Forty-four awards will be made today at the Veterans Administration Hospital Employees' Recognition Program at the VA Hospital.

Cash awards ranging from $10 to $50 will be made to Gilbert Engelhardt, Robert Henderson, Celia Breyfogle, Fred Shafer, William Martin, Leonard Curtis, Jack Figgins, Ross Sloan and Paul Laurs.

Dr. Edgar Brinthal and Robert Seward will receive 10-year service award pins.

Margaret Eagle, Benjamin Hill and R. H. Denning will be received as new members in the 1000-hour Sick Leave Club.

Awards will also be made to other personnel for special training courses in the Nursing Service and Supply Division. Certificates will be given to personnel who have completed the supervisory training in job instruction and job relations.

A special panel discussion will follow the awards on the topic "What the Incentive Awards Program Means to Me." Frederick Hansen will be the moderator with Evelyn Tobin, Anna Colner, John Frajman and Alfred Kleinmeyer serving as panel members.

Hansen will also speak on group awards and superior performance awards. Tony Yeater, assistant personnel officer, will serve as chairman of the program.

11 SUI Engineers Get Scholarships At Faculty Lunch

Eleven SUI engineering students were presented awards Wednesday at the Engineering Faculty Luncheon Club meeting.

The awards and recipients were: Norman H. Hansen, E3, Kanawha, electrical engineering (EE)—Western Electric Scholarship ($220 plus $100 for books); Norbert R. Malik, E3, Cedar Rapids, (EE)—Collins Radio Scholarship ($150); Gert Aron, E3, Iowa City, civil engineering (CE)—B. J. Lambert Scholarship ($150); John H. Rump, E3, Burlington, mechanical engineering (ME)—Maytag Scholarship ($200); Carl T. Egger, E3, Monticello, CE—Monsanto Scholarship ($500).

The Fred Stebler Scholarship was awarded to three students who will receive $250 each. The recipients were David H. Monk, E2, Iowa City, EE; Paul J. Rausch, E3, Rock Island, Ill., ME; and Frank O. Sebolt, E2, Davenport, CE.

James P. Young, E3, Iowa City, ME, was given the American Society for Tool Engineers Award ($700). Richard L. Rosenberger, E3, Iowa City, CE, was given $300, and Charles L. Swanson, E3, Mediapolis, CE, $400 from the Iowa Master Builders Scholarship Award.

City Band Sets Concert For Sunday

The newly formed Iowa City Community Band will present its first concert Sunday, with SUI band director Frederick C. Ebbs as guest conductor.

The initial concert and four others scheduled to follow during the summer will be presented in lower City Park beginning at 4 p.m.

Ebbs will make the selection of music for Sunday's concert and Kammermeyer to read paper at German Meet.

Karl Kammermeyer, professor and head of the SUI Department of Chemical Engineering, will participate in the European Congress of Chemical Engineering beginning Saturday in Frankfurt, Germany.

He will deliver a paper on "Modern Training of Chemical Engineers" and also will preside at the session on Heat and Mass Transfer.

Kammermeyer has also been invited to present a lecture on "Vapor and Gas Separations with Barriers" at the University of Marburg. Visits are also scheduled with scientists at universities in Munich, Karlsruhe and Bonn, Germany, and Zurich, Switzerland.

will conduct rehearsals this week. Other guest conductors for the summer concerts will be: William Gower, professor in the SUI Department of Music, June 22; Howard Robertson, Iowa City High School band director, June 29; Thomas Ayres, professor in the SUI Department of Music, July 13; and Laverne Wintermeyer, former conductor of the Iowa City High School Symphony Orchestra, July 27.

Thieves Attracted To Lawn Furniture

Green and white were the colors in vogue Tuesday night or early Wednesday morning as thieves picked up two pieces of lawn furniture in eastern Iowa City.

Mrs. Esther Clark, 506 7th Ave., reported to police Wednesday that someone took a $30 green and white chaise longue from her lawn Tuesday night. The lounge had a metal frame.

Mrs. H. T. Cochenour, 530 Iowa Ave., reported a green and white aluminum folding porch chair valued at $7 was taken the same night from the porch at her home.

Home Sweet Home

Apparently fencing has found a home, at least for another year, on the Iowa athletic agenda.

For awhile it seemed that fencing was apt to get the axe due to a number of reasons, the foremost of which was probably the fact that it was running perpetually in the red.

Well, at least one of the above seems to be rectified. According to David Hartman, the 1958 coach, the Board is considering a fellow by the name of Charles Simonian.

If he does get the job, Charlie's principle interest won't be in the $600 salary they offer him. He plans to continue his graduate education in some field of physical education.

Of the shortage in money, not much can be done unfortunately. They will go on in their own poor way spending as little of their $2,500 budget as can be done.

Whether anybody gives a darn about fencing is not the point. It does to the guys that spend every afternoon in the Fieldhouse working out.

WOULDN'T YOU KNOW that somebody would come up with the fact that Sharm Scheuerman isn't the youngest varsity basketball coach in modern history at Iowa!

It all depends on how far you can stretch the word "modern." Walter "Stub" Steward, a Des Moines attorney who served on the Iowa athletic board that chose Sharm for the job, served as head basketball coach at Iowa in 1910-11 when he was only 22.

SHARM'S APPOINTMENT as head basketball coach has apparently clinched at least two freshmen basketball candidates for Iowa according to Oscar Hargrave, sports editor of the Rock Island "Argus."

Don Nelson, 6-5 all-state center from Rock Island, promptly decided to enroll at Iowa next September after hearing about the announcement. Hargrave also quoted Joe Novak, RI's all-Mississippi Valley Conference guard as saying: "That's great. I want to play for Sharm if I can make the grade."

However, Iowa lost one of its top prospects when Mike McCoy, 7-foot center from Fort Wayne, Ind., reported that he was headed for Northwestern.

TWO FORMER IOWA athletes have been dropped, one completely, by major league farm teams. Bill Schoof, who played both basketball and baseball, at Iowa, was dropped by Rochester, Minn., of the Three-I League.

America's Noisiest Sports Event—

Cars, Loudspeakers Ready for 500

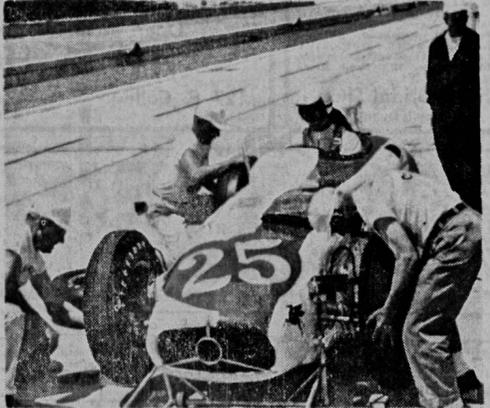

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Engineers tuned up 33 race cars and 250 loudspeakers Wednesday for America's noisiest sports event, the 42nd 500-mile auto race, and then closed up shop until the furious flying starts at 11 a.m. (CDT) Friday.

Then the Hoosier capital surrendered to carnival, with a round of balls and parties. Many of them honored movie star Shirley MacLaine, who will kiss the oil-stained winner Friday and give him the traditional Borg-Warner Trophy.

Indianapolis champion of 1911. Many of the more recent winners will be missing. Three of the Indianapolis champions since World War II — George Robson, Bill Vukovich and Bob Sweikert — have died in racing smashups.

Two drivers suffered relatively minor injuries in practice runs for this year's race. Drivers will be called together today for instructions and warnings from speedway officials, with a special session for the eight first-time starters to make certain they understand the various flags used by starter Bill Vandewater.

but the speedway counted on its fabulous weather luck. Rain has forced postponement of the 500 only once, in 1915. Jimmy Bryan, the national big car champion three of the last four years, remained the favorite in Sam Hanks' 1957 winning car, a novel horizontal-engine job combining the talents of engineer George Salih and body specialist Quinn Epperly. Hanks, now the speedway's director of competition, set a record of 135.601 miles an hour.

Voting Begins June 22 for '58 All-Star Baseball Game

BALTIMORE (AP) — Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick said Wednesday balloting will begin June 22 among major league players, managers and coaches to select the starting players for the 1958 All-Star game.

he is in favor of another club in addition to the American League Yankees in New York.

The Silver anniversary game, to be played in Baltimore July 8, will be the first since 1947 in which fans will not help select the players. It will be the first in which the players have a voice.

Memorial Stadium will have a capacity of 42,276 for the game and at least 30,000 tickets are expected to be available to the general public.

KANSAS CITY (AP) — The Kansas City Athletics Wednesday became the first team to defeat the New York Yankees twice in a row as they edged the league leaders, 4-3, behind strong relief pitching of Duke Maas.

CINCINNATI (AP) — Ernie Banks and Dick Drott combined their talents Wednesday night to lead the Chicago Cubs to a 6-4 victory over the Cincinnati Redlegs. Banks hit two home runs and drove in three runs. Drott allowed the Redlegs only six hits and also drove in a pair of runs.

Los Angeles (AP) — Tom Hennessey, an Irishman from St. Louis, Mo., won the American Bowling Congress Masters Tournament Wednesday night when he defeated Lou Frantz of Louisville, Ky., 789-749, in the championship match.

Maas took over in the fifth inning with the bases loaded, none out and the Yankees leading 2-0. He worked his way out of the jam while giving up one run on a wild pitch. Maas worked a total of five innings, gave up only one hit and faced only 16 batters.

Bob Purkey, Cincinnati's starting pitcher, didn't allow a Cub to get to base for the first four innings and Gus Bell's home run had given him a 1-0 lead when the Bruins finally started hitting.

Hennessey, rolling well but not spectacularly, clicked off games of 200-202-197-190. Frantz had games of 235-180-160 and 174.

In addition to his brilliant pitching Maas supplied the big blow in the fifth when the Athletics scored two runs. Maas doubled Harry Chitt home in that frame and scored himself on a single by Bob Martyn.

The Redlegs lost the services of young left-fielder Frank Robinson after the first inning. He was removed from the game, complaining of pain in his right side. Robinson was taken to a hospital where physicians said his condition did not appear to be serious. Further examination will be made Thursday.

Arguments Brewing After IAAF Bans Jumping Shoes

LONDON (AP) — A big row appeared brewing Wednesday over the International Amateur Athletic Federation's sudden banning of the built-up shoe for high jumpers.

this kind only in an emergency and I don't see all that urgency on this subject."

Jack Crump, secretary of the British Athletic Board, contended the rules change was made by the IAAF Council "even through the built-up shoe issue was on the agenda for the IAAF Congress meeting in Stockholm in August.

The IAAF Council is the executive body and the Congress includes delegates from each member country. Crump forecast several strong protests about the matter when the IAAF Congress meets in Stockholm.

"The Congress should not be bypassed in this way," he said. "The council should take decisions of this kind only in an emergency and I don't see all that urgency on this subject."

Crump argued that the IAAF should have waited until the Stockholm meeting before taking a decision and added: "We are far from happy about the new rule. We feel that no case has been made out to prove that the built-up shoe means better performances."
