Van Allen Tells Of Moon Rocket

In a talk before the 20th annual physics colloquium held at SUI, James A. Van Allen, professor and head of physics, said Wednesday night that the proposed rocket firing to the moon was pointless unless some scientific information were to be obtained.

Van Allen said the rocket would be instrumented to obtain further data about cosmic rays. One of the primary instruments aboard would be a Geiger counter, he said. The Geiger tube counts the cosmic particles, emitting a pulse as each particle passes through it.

The weight of the talk, "Observations with Two Earth Satellites," dealt with the information gained from Explorer III which carries the recorder designed by George H. Ludwig, G. Tiffin.

Van Allen recounted the problem of particles jamming the equipment so that no data could be obtained in certain areas. Slides of graphs were shown to "fill in" the blank spots. Most of the jamming occurred at distances 2,000 kilometers above the earth's surface.

After independent studies of the information received from the satellite by Van Allen and Ernest C. Ray, assistant professor of physics, theories were given for the lack of information. The answer to the jamming was that the Geiger counter could count only 128 particles per second. The huge number of particles which were entering jammed the instrument so it did not give any data, Van Allen said.

He said the "real" count, what is calculated, should be 30-35,000 per second.

A film on the firing of the first Explorer was shown after the talk.

New Building Too Close; Suit Brought

Work on the Iowa State Historical Society Building has been halted until Friday when a hearing can be held on a court order asking a temporary injunction to stop the construction.

Excavations for footings of the building, to be built at Gilbert Street and Iowa Avenue, have been dug to date.

A restraining order was handed down by Judge Harold Evans this week on the petition of Elmer and Catherine Paul, who own the property immediately east of the new building.

The injunction was asked on the grounds that excavation for the building has extended to the Pauls' west lot line and shrubs, flowers and portions of the lawn are in danger of dropping into the excavation.

The petition alleges the two-story building will cut off light and circulation of air to the Pauls' home. According to the petition the Paul home is two feet from the west lot line, while the new building is to be four feet from the lot line.

The plaintiffs have also asked a writ of mandamus directing the historical society to condemn the Pauls' property rights before construction may continue.

A hearing on the writ has been set at 10 a.m. Wednesday before Judge Evans.

Strontium 90

Warns of Danger in Nevada Test Area

LOGAN, Utah (U) — A scientist says that within 10 or 20 years those who dwell in the Nevada nuclear test region may collect a serious amount of strontium 90 in their bones.

Dr. Norman Bauer told 700 scientists meeting here that responsible Federal agencies have not furnished enough data on radiation fallout in the region to establish whether there is danger.

Bauer, a Utah State University chemistry professor, spoke Wednesday to the annual meeting of the Pacific Division, American Assn. for the Advancement of Science.

Weather

The law of averages is bound to catch up with the Iowa weatherman — he predicts showers again for today.

The forecast calls for occasional widely scattered thunder-showers, for today with little change in temperature.

Today's highs are expected to be from 75-85 degrees.

Cheers, Boos, for De Gaulle Speech

PARIS (UPI) — Leftist students and rightwing demonstrators clashed on the Champs-Elysees here Wed. night moments after Gen. Charles de Gaulle led a massive public ceremony commemorating his dramatic 1940 message rallying a defeated France to fight anew.

Police, who had been mobilized in force against Communist threats to turn the occasion into rioting, quickly broke up the fighting. They moved in with their leaded capes swinging to disperse the rioting students.

Police vans were drawn up elsewhere around the capital to head off violence in the wake of a Communist call for demonstrations to "strike back against fascism."

But at nightfall the factory gates, working-class quarters and the east-side squares where Communist demonstrations traditionally begin were quiet.

De Gaulle, defying the Communist threat, rode through the streets in an open limousine past hundreds of thousands of cheering Frenchmen who thundered "Vive De Gaulle" and "Algeria is French."

It was De Gaulle's first appearance before the French public since he took over as Premier June 1 to pull the nation back from the brink of civil war.

The soldier - Premier, in his World War II uniform, rode up the Champs-Elysees behind a motorcycle escort of 30 white-gloved republican guardsmen to the Arch of Triumph where he re-kindled the flame at the tomb of the unknown soldier. An estimated 200,000 persons looked on.

The occasion was the 18th anniversary of De Gaulle's London broadcast to the French nation on June 18, 1940, in which he told his countrymen that France had lost a battle but not the war.

While De Gaulle defied the Communists by his presence at the ceremonies, his Government issued a formal statement condemning Hungary's execution of Imre Nagy and other leading freedom fighters as "an act that nothing could justify."

"The French Government considers the execution of these men of courage and independence as an extremely grave event, the consequences of which will be profound," De Gaulle's Government said.

The huge crowd around the Arch of Triumph was noisy but behaved in perfect order until after De Gaulle left for Mont Valerien cemetery outside Paris to lay a wreath in memory of hundreds of resistance fighters shot by the Germans.

His route lay through the industrial suburb of Suresnes where Communist agitators had been hard at work all afternoon trying to drum up anti-De Gaulle demonstrations.

Hundreds of factory workers and their families lined the sidewalks of Suresnes — but only to shout "Vive De Gaulle" as the general drove past.

Water Level Falls Slowly In Reservoir

The water level in the Coralville reservoir crested about 11 a.m. Wednesday and then started a slow descent in the afternoon, George Roehr, resident engineer of the Coralville Dam said late Wednesday evening.

Roehr said the level dropped about 1 1/2 inches Wednesday afternoon and was expected to decline at a slow rate for about two or three more days if no heavy rains fall in the area.

After two or three days the fall should be more rapid, Roehr said. "Right now we have a full river between Iowa City and Marengo. Once that passes the descent will be rapid," he said.

The control gates of the dam are being used to hold back the water so that Iowa City and other points downstream are not flooded.

The water stored in the reservoir will be allowed to pass downstream the next few weeks so that the reservoir area can dry out for completion of tree cutting around the lake.

Two Killed In Burlington Plant Blast

BURLINGTON (UPI) — A muffled explosion killed two workers and injured three others on an assembly line at an Army Ordnance Corps munitions plant here late Wednesday.

Officials said an artillery shell apparently exploded. The blast occurred in a 19-foot square room where workers complete 106-millimeter shells on a mile-long assembly line. The damage, estimated at between $35,000 and $40,000, was restricted to that one small room.

The blast blew part of the roof off of the one-story concrete building and blew out some windows. There was no fire.

One of the dead workers was Dolores Marlett, 40, Fort Madison. The second worker killed was identified as Max Bell, 22, Fort Madison.

Donald Scott, 22, Mount Pleasant, and Roy Barrow, 28, New London, were hospitalized in critical condition. Carroll Cosby, 26, Burlington, was injured less seriously.

The explosion occurred at the Iowa Ordnance plant of the Army Ordnance Corps. It is located on U.S. 34 about 10 miles west of here.

A spokesman said a board of investigation would be called to determine the exact cause of the accident. Lt. Rodney Lewis, acting commanding officer at the plant, said one or more of the artillery shells apparently exploded.

IN K SPLATTERED CARS
Iowa City police received a second report of a car being splashed with blue ink Wednesday. Leslie Dudley, 1037 E. Washington St. reported that blue ink was splashed on his car's left front fender. He says it won't wash off.

Tuesday, Clair Calmer, Rock Island, Ill., reported his 1958 car had been splashed with ink, staining the paint on the right rear fender. The fender will have to be repainted.

218 Closed For CR-IC Thru Traffic

SUI students commuting from the Cedar Rapids area on highway 218 will have to travel on a new route for a while. The highway between Iowa City and Cedar Rapids was closed to all traffic at 1 p.m. Wednesday by the state highway commission.

Traffic normally using the highway is being detoured from Iowa City on Highway 261 north to Highway 30 at Mt. Vernon, and west from there to south Cedar Rapids.

Construction crews began tearing out pavement on Highway 218 over a 3.2 mile stretch from one mile north of North Liberty to a point one mile south of the Iowa River immediately at 1 p.m. Wednesday.

The 3.2 mile stretch under construction is the only portion of the highway between Cedar Rapids and Iowa City that has not been widened and modernized to date.

Highway officials said that the roadwork is scheduled for completion Sept. 6, but if it is at all possible, the road will be opened to one-way traffic before that time to avoid the continuation of the lengthy detour.

Highway 218 traffic in Iowa City has been detoured from South Riverside drive east on Burlington St. to Dubuque St., north on Dubuque St. to Church St., east on Church St. to Dodge St., and north on Dodge St. along the normal Highway 261 route.

British Airlift 2,000 More Men To Cyprus Area

NICOSIA, Cyprus (UPI) — The British Government decided Wednesday to airlift 2,000 more troops to this strife-torn eastern Mediterranean island, within easy flying distance of Lebanon.

The announcement, made in London, gave no hint as to whether the extra troops were for internal security in Cyprus or for possible use in Lebanon if the need arose.

Earlier the British completed an airlift of 3,000 paratroopers to Cyprus to bolster the 20,000 British security troops on the island.

Mayors of six leading Greek Cypriot towns flew to Athens Wednesday for talks with Archbishop Makarios and there were reports they favored accepting a British plan for negotiating the future of Cyprus.

The Mayors took their independent action as the 15-nation NATO Council in Paris struggled to take some of the ill will out of the conflict among Britain, Greece and Turkey over the violence-torn eastern Mediterranean island.

Ike Claims Adams Was Imprudent But Honest

Senate Votes Down Tax Cut Measure

WASHINGTON (U) — The Senate late Wednesday beat down 65-23 a proposal of Sen. Paul H. Douglas (D-Ill.), to cut Federal income and excise taxes six billion dollars as a means of fighting the economic slump.

Sen. Harry F. Byrd (D-Va.), fought the proposal strongly, asserting it could mean a federal deficit of 18 billion dollars in the next year and shoot the national debt up to the 300-billion-dollar mark.

The Douglas amendment was offered to a bill to continue present rates on corporation income taxes and excise taxes on such things as autos, liquor and cigarettes.

The Senate had not been expected to adopt the Illinois senator's big tax reduction plan, the first amendment to be voted on in the floor fight.

The tax extension bill has the approval of the Eisenhower Administration and the support of both Democratic and Republican leaders of the Senate. If such a bill is not passed, the Government stands to lose $2,600,000,000 in annual revenue.

Byrd, chairman of the Finance Committee, told the Senate this would be a grievous loss since the government is facing a 4-billion-dollar deficit in the fiscal year ending June 30, and an 11-billion-dollar one the following year.

The bill has been passed by the House. It would head off these reductions among others:

A cut from 52 to 47 per cent on corporation income; from 10 to 7 per cent on autos; 8 to 5 per cent on auto parts and accessories; $4 to $3.50 per thousand on cigarettes; $10.50 to $9 per gallon on liquor; $9 to $8 a barrel on beer; and a variety of cuts on wine.

An amendment by Sen. George A. Smathers (D-Fla.) to repeal the 3 per cent tax on freight and 10 per cent tax on passenger fares had a fair chance of success.

Sen. Pat McNamara (D-Mich.) called up an amendment to repeal the 10 per cent excise tax on passenger cars and to cut in half the 10 per cent levy on trucks, retroactive to last March 1.

Tension between Moslems and Christians has been growing in Lebanon ever since the crisis began 40 days ago.

Informants reported that Justice Minister Beshir Awar has resigned from Premier Sami Solh's Cabinet.

Awar reportedly is angered at Lebanon's rejection of the Arab League resolution and Lebanon's insistence on going to the United Nations. Awar is the third Cabinet minister to resign.

The visit to Beirut will give Hammarskjold a first-hand look and a chance to inspect U.N. observer teams.

Death Toll Reaches 16 In Bridge Disaster

VANCOUVER (UPI) — The death toll climbed to 16 today in the collapse of a partly-completed 16-million-dollar bridge that sent 40 workmen plunging 145 feet into Vancouver harbor.

Two men still were missing. Skin divers probed the debris on the harbor bottom where their bodies were believed trapped.

Twenty survivors, rescued in minutes by boats that converged on the scene, were hospitalized.

The first battery of summer placement examinations for transfer students and freshmen planning to enter SUI this fall will be given Friday, June 20.

Tests are also scheduled for Aug. 8 and Sept. 12. The last possible date for taking the tests is Sept. 19.

To date, the Registrar's office has 2900 test scores taken by prospective students the first of April.

The freshman enrollment for next fall is expected to be close to this year's figure of approximately 1800.

Senate Votes Down Tax Cut Measure

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Concern that the Sherman Adams case has "hurt" the Republican party was voiced Wednesday at a campaign school here for state GOP leaders.

Robert Humphreys, GOP National Campaign Director, said there "certainly was comment that this has hurt — hurt politically." Humphreys denied this was the "consensus" but it seemed to be the view of most state leaders commenting publicly and privately.

The only leader he named was New Hampshire GOP Chairman William W. Treat, who backed Adams, a former governor, as "the most respected man in public life" in their state.

Outside the "schoolroom" there were "Adams ought go" comments by GOP Chairman Daniel L. Louchery, West Virginia, and William E. Cobb, North Carolina.

James F. Short, Oregon, said he had called for Adams' removal before President Eisenhower told a news conference he needed his chief aide.

William T. Brommhead, Rhode Island, said Adams' fellow New Englanders "will be satisfied with his answers" to the influence charges against him. Further backing came from Judson Morhouse, New York.

Nagy Death Met With Shock, Anger

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (U) — Demands mounted Wednesday for the U.N. to take action that will reflect grave concern over the executions of Hungarian ex-Premier Imre Nagy and Gen. Pal Maleter.

The first step would be an urgent meeting of the five-nation Special Committee on Hungary. The United States wants such a meeting and is consulting on it with other delegations.

Expressions of shock over the executions of the Hungarian leaders continued to pour in from western governments.

In Washington, President Eisenhower opened his news conference with a denunciation of the execution of Nagy and Maleter.

However, Communist China said the executions were welcome news. A Peiping broadcast heard in Hong Kong called Nagy "the chief culprit of the Hungarian counterrevolution."

In Belgrade, a Yugoslav Government spokesman declared the accusations against Nagy and his associates reflected "a new premeditated sharpening of the campaign against Yugoslavia."

White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty denied a charge by subcommittee chairman Oren B. Harris (D-Ark.), that Adams technically violated the law in getting Goldfine information from the Federal Trade Commission.

Hagerty said Goldfine had the data weeks before Adams got it.

The President said he believed with his whole heart that Adams, his right-hand man, was "an invaluable public servant, doing a difficult job efficiently, honestly and tirelessly."

He said he also was "admitting the lack of that careful prudence in this incident that Governor Adams yesterday referred to."

Adams Will Stay
Without directly saying so, Eisenhower made two points clear: he had no intention of firing Adams, and he thought Adams did a good job presenting his case to house influence - investigators Tuesday.

Adams conceded then he should have acted "more prudently."

At Brookline, Mass., Goldfine scheduled a news conference but later called it off on the advice of his lawyer.

The President was asked about complaints by some Republicans running for re-election that they were going to have difficulty facing the voters on the Adams-Goldfine issue. He was told they felt this way "in the light of this Administration's 1952 attacks on the so-called 'mess in Washington.'"

No Comment
Asked if he cared to comment, the President said "No, I think not."

"I have given you my statement," he continued. "It is what I believe is demanded and expected and needed in the circumstances."

In his statement, which he read with rapid-fire intensity, the President listed five "conclusions on the entire episode." They were:

"1. I believe that the presentation made by Governor Adams to the congressional committee yesterday truthfully represents the pertinent facts.

"2. I personally like Governor Adams. (Adams formerly was governor of New Hampshire.)

"3. I admire his abilities.

"4. I respect him because of his personal and official integrity.

"5. I need him."

'I Need Him' Newsmen Told At Conference

Terse Message Followed By 'No Comment'

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Eisenhower agreed Wednesday that Sherman Adams was imprudent in dealings with industrialist Bernard Goldfine but he brushed aside demands for his chief assistant's ouster by bluntly declaring: "I need him."

The President, grim-faced and speaking in clipped tones, read at his news conference a 400-word prepared statement defending Adams' integrity but admitting the White House aide had made a mistake.

He then shut off — but not completely — any questions on Adams' acceptance of gifts from Goldfine or Adams' calls to Federal agencies on Goldfine's behalf.

Negotiations for Airmen Return Hit German Snag

BERLIN (U) — Nine U.S. soldiers arrested when their helicopter went down in East Germany seemed destined for a long stay in Communist hands. Negotiations for their release broke down Wednesday and no date was set for further discussion.

Official sources said satellite East Germany seemed determined to hold the Americans until the United States bows to its demands for full diplomatic rank in the talks.

The prisoners — eight officers and one sergeant from the 3rd Armored Division in West Germany — fell into East German hands June 7 when their helicopter strayed across the Iron Curtain.

Future Parking Lot

WORKMEN LAST WEEK began tearing down buildings between 17 and 25 E. Washington St., in preparation for the construction of a new 36-car city-owned parking lot. The metered lot will be located across the street from the south entrance to Schaeffer Hall. It is estimated that it will take about one month to raze the buildings and about two more months for the city to complete work. The lot will have meters at a rate of three hours for 25 cents and will be in operation from 8 a.m. until 9 p.m. The new lot will bring the total of off-street city-owned parking spaces to 607. —Daily Iowan Photo by Walter Kleine.

Goldfine's Hobby - Collecting Public Officials

BOSTON (UPI) - Bernard Goldfine's friends say he "collects" public officials the way some persons save stamps.

Goldfine, 68, is a millionaire many times over. He likes people - important people - and that is why he is in the news today.

He is a self-made man, in the true Horatio Alger tradition. Born in Kovno, Russia, Goldfine came to the United States with his parents when he was 8 years old.

Turned "Waste" Into Profit
While there, Goldfine noticed that a large amount of waste was being discarded by New England's textile mills.

As Goldfine mounted the ladder of success, he began moving in circles of more important people. He gained a reputation of being a big talker and big actor.

"B.G. collects public officials almost like a hobby, especially governors," a friend said.

In 1951, Goldfine financed an "anti-hard-times" economic conference at Montpelier, Vt., footing all the bills for two chartered planes to carry the guests.

Litigation is pending on a suit involving his financial obligations to stockholders in the Boston Port Development Corporation, a real estate operation.

Goldfine also is known for his generosity. He has made many charitable contributions.

A family man, Goldfine has put all four of his children through college, an accomplishment that helps him forget that he never finished high school.

Wabash Bursts Through Dikes; Flood Spreads

VINCENNES, Ind. (UPI) - The Wabash River's mighty flood crest smashed through three more levees Wednesday and powered its way toward the embattled, historic city of Vincennes.

In Washington, the Small Business Administration came to Indiana's aid by naming 11 Hossier counties flood disaster areas.

The counties were Grant, Madison, Miami, Parke, Tippecanoe, Vigo, Vermillion, Wabash, Fountain, Warren and Hamilton.

The Wabash still on the rampage after 10 days, went through dikes at Emison, Prairie, and Oaktown, upstream from Vincennes.

The Wabash has burst through levees at at least five points in 24 hours as its crest swept the 60-mile distance from Terre Haute to Vincennes.

Close to 75 Guardsmen were on duty in the danger zone, along with 50 Civil Defense volunteers.

A decision was expected in Washington Wednesday on Indiana Gov. Harold Handley's plea that his entire state be declared a federal disaster area.

Incomplete estimates showed the floods and accompanying storms had caused more than 20 deaths in Indiana, ruined crops through much of an 800,000-acre area.

The United States was represented by Col. Robert P. McQuail, chief of the U.S. Military Liaison mission to the Soviet Command in Germany.

East Germany Talks Termed Unsuccessful

BERLIN (UPI) - Negotiations for the release of nine captive American servicemen broke down Wednesday when the East German Communists refused to withdraw their "ransom" price of virtual diplomatic recognition from the United States.

U.S. Army officers spent 53 minutes at the East German Foreign Ministry vainly seeking freedom for the eight U.S. officers and one sergeant held in the Soviet zone since June 7 when their helicopter strayed across the iron curtain in a storm.

U.S. officials feared the breakdown meant the Americans might be held for a long time as virtual Communist "hostages" in the East German bid for U.S. recognition as diplomatic equals.

Despite the deadlock, East German Communists said the door was not closed to future meetings.

American officials, however, refused to comment on the Communist confidence that further negotiations would be held.

In Wednesday's East German session - the third in the negotiations that began Saturday -

Proposed Military Shift Enforces Secrecy; Solons

WASHINGTON (UPI) - Two senators said today the Administration's drive to reorganize the Defense Department already had deprived members of Congress of information they wanted from the Army, Navy and Air Force.

The complaints were voiced by Sens. Margaret Chase Smith (R-Maine) and Henry M. Jackson (D-Wash.).

McElroy insisted the objective in centralizing information activities was not to deprive Congress of needed information.

McElroy said "mild" steps had been taken to put the changes into effect in advance of Congressional approval of a defense reorganization bill.

He assured the senators he had "no hesitation at all" about promising them the shifts would not interfere with the flow of information from the individual services to members of the House and Senate.

NEW YORK (UPI) - The defense rest of case Wednesday in the retrial of Teamster boss James R. Hoffa and two other defendants on charges of conspiring to wiretap telephones at the union's headquarters in Detroit.

Hoffa is on trial with Owen Brennan, President of Teamsters Local 337 in Detroit, and professional wiretapper Bernard Spindel.

The last witness called was Steven Riddle, Hoffa's uncle, who testified that he met Hoffa and his wife at the Willow Run Airport in Detroit on July 11, 1953, when they returned from Seattle.

Riddle did not testify at the first trial which ended in a hung jury last December.

The U.S. negotiators refused to accept a Communist-drafted "agreement" outlining terms for release of the Americans.

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles had said the United States would negotiate with the East German "kidnappers" but would not recognize the Soviet Zone puppet regime.

Russian Crack-Up Friction Behind the Iron Curtain

By J. M. ROBERTS Associated Press News Analyst

Trying to assess the meaning of Communist actions these days is like sitting before an open fire. You're likely to be too warm on one side and too cold on the other.

In one day the Reds have made two announcements calculated to produce mixed emotions both at home and abroad, and there are diplomatic reports of a third development which seems to be closely tied in.

1. They announced the execution of Imre Nagy and three of his aides in the 1956 Hungarian revolution.
2. The Kremlin demolished the secrecy of the summit conference negotiations by publishing some of the exchanges against a background critical of the West.

3. Diplomatic reports reaching Paris say the Central Committee of the Communist party is meeting to consider explosive parts of Nikita Khrushchev's domestic program.

It stands as a warning to all deviationist Communists.

The toughness of this line - a throw-back all the way to Stalinism - cannot escape connection with the summit matter, which Western foreign offices have accepted as upsetting the whole program and diminishing the chances for any meeting at all.

The meeting of the Central Committee has been quickly linked by outside observers to the struggle between Khrushchev and the Stalinists in domestic matters, such as the decentralization of industry and turning over the machinery stations to the farm collectives.

It all leads to wonder whether warnings against deviation within the Communist bloc and attacks on the West are designed to cover serious internal trouble and misdirect the attention of the Russian people.

But on the side away from the fire there are shivers, too. For none can predict what risks an authoritarian regime may be willing to run abroad when it begins to crack up at home.

First Appearance Since Todd's Death - Liz Taylor Announces Movie Plans

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) - Screen star Elizabeth Taylor, at a unique Hollywood-style press conference, broke her silence Wednesday regarding her acting future by announcing she will make at least one more motion picture.

It was lovely Elizabeth's first public appearance since the death of her producer husband, the late Mike Todd, who with three others died when his private plane crashed in New Mexico last March 22.

Scene of the press conference was a suite in the swanky Beverly Hills Hotel. At her side around a table loaded with microphones sat her 28-year-old stepson, Mike Todd, Jr.

A radio telephone circuit, encompassing Hollywood, San Francisco, Chicago and New York, had been set up for the occasion.

along with the score or more newsmen sitting and standing in the room.

The slim, dark-eyed, black-haired, 26-year-old Miss Taylor glided into the room accompanied by young Todd. She was attired in a shocking pink panting suit, with full skirt and double-breasted pocket.

Dangling from her ears were long pearl earrings. She carried a white kid purse and white gloves. On her left hand was a thin gold wedding ring.

Miss Taylor smiled demurely as she and young Todd faced the interviewers. Observing a huge, glistening diamond on her right hand, a reporter asked: "How many carats?"

Young Todd quickly took over the interview. He thanked everybody for coming and then announced - as Miss Taylor nodded concurrence - that she will star in "Busman's Holiday," the first film to be made under the auspices of the new Elizabeth Taylor-Mike Todd, Jr., Production Company.

Shooting of the picture, he explained, will begin August 1 and it will be in color. It will be a romantic comedy, based on an actual incident, he said.

In 1947 a New York bus driver named William (Bill) Cimillo attracted nationwide attention when he succumbed to a spring-time urge and took off for the open spaces. He drove all the way to Hollywood, Fla., without being apprehended, and was found only when he telegraphed his employers for gas money to return home.

Cimillo was exonerated by his company and returned to his job.

Wisconsin Democratic Party Split Over Election of Negro Housewife

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (UPI) — The Wisconsin Democratic Party split wide open Wednesday over the election of a Negro housewife as the state's national committeewoman.

Two Democratic Party workers quit over the issue and angry Democratic leaders charged "racial prejudice in reverse."

Sen. William Proxmire, the political "wonder boy" who became Wisconsin's first Democratic senator in decades last year, was accused of ramming through the election of Mrs. Vel Phillips as national committeewoman at the State Democratic Convention in LaCrosse last week.

Compromise Rivers and Harbors Bill Passed by the House of Representatives

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House Wednesday passed, 374 to 17, a $1,555,746,000 revised version of the Rivers and Harbors Bill which President Eisenhower twice vetoed.

Both Republican and Democratic lawmakers were confident the President would sign the new bill. If so, it would break a logjam that has blocked

Rayburn Says House Leaders Will Press For Passage of Labor Reform Bill

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Speaker Sam Rayburn said Wednesday House leaders would press for passage of the Senate's moderate labor reform bill or one similar to it. But prospects for such action were not too bright.

Rayburn declined at a news conference to comment on chances for passage of such legislation. But he left unchallenged reporters' suggestions that any labor bill at this time was likely to wind up gathering dust in the Labor Committee.

Russia Ends Diplomatic Talks Concerning Summit Conference

MOSCOW (UPI) — The Soviet Union has ended the current round of secret diplomatic talks concerning an East-West summit conference, western observers said.

However, the observers said the Kremlin had left the door ajar to further diplomatic exchanges on the subject with the

House Committee Votes To Delay Action on Hawaii Statehood Bill

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House Interior Committee voted Wednesday to delay action on the Hawaii Statehood Bill despite protests that the move would kill any hope of getting the measure through the House this year.

Chairman Clair Engle (D-Calif.), ruled that the bill had lost its place at the top of the committee's agenda because the committee failed to meet to consider it last week.

The committee then voted 14 to 8 to take up the controversial Frying Pan-Arkansas reclamation project ahead of Hawaii statehood.

Rep. John P. Saylor (R-Pa.), called the action a "fraud."

Dominican Republic Gives Up U.S. Aid And Ends Missile Agreements With U.S.

CIUDAD TRUJILLO, Dominican Republic (UPI) — The Dominican parliament Wednesday voted to give up U.S. military aid and end agreements with the United States on the operation of a missile range and radar stations on Dominican territory.

The action appeared to be in retaliation of U.S. criticism of Lt. Gen. Rafael Trujillo Jr., the dictator's son, who failed to receive a diploma from the U.S. Army's Command and General Staff College because he spent most of his time in Hollywood giving lavish gifts to movie queens.

President Eisenhower ordered George V. Allen, director of the United States Information Service, to fly here to inspect the American exhibit.

Officials Silent on U.S. Fair Exhibit

BRUSSELS (UPI) — American officials at the Brussels world's fair refused comment Wednesday on a 17th century engraving in the U.S. pavilion entrance which shows Indians roasting parts of a human body over a spit.

The engraving, which caused a flareup in the White House, drew scant attention from visitors entering and leaving the pavilion.

President Eisenhower ordered George V. Allen, director of the United States Information Service, to fly here to inspect the American exhibit.

Newspaper's Role in School To Be Topic

The use of newspapers in classroom teaching will be the subject of a two-week workshop to open Sunday at the SUI Center for Continuation Study.

Practicing newspapermen, SUI faculty members and a retired professor who has studied the Soviet system of education will lecture and lead discussions during the SUI workshop, the first of three workshops on "The Newspapers in the Classrooms of a Free Society" to be held in the U.S. this summer.

Financially supported by the International Circulation Managers Association, the workshops are sponsored by the National Education Association and the National Council for the Social Studies.

The participants are high school and junior high teachers of social studies, English and journalism, administrators and curriculum builders.

George S. Counts, professor emeritus of education at Columbia University, will speak on "How the Russians Educate their Youth" and on "The Challenge of Soviet Education."

John Haefner, professor of social studies education at SUI, is director of the SUI workshop.

Newspapermen lecturing during the sessions will include Harry Boyd, editor, Cedar Rapids Gazette; Henry B. Hook, publisher, Davenport Morning Democrat; Gene Thorne, managing editor, Waterloo Daily Courier; W. Earl Hall, editor, Mason City Globe-Gazette; H. A. Schwartz, Milwaukee Journal and Edward Lindsay, publisher of the Decatur, Ill., Herald Review.

One day will be devoted to a tour of the Des Moines Register and Tribune and the state bureau of the Associated Press.

The other 1958 workshops on Newspapers in the Classroom will be held later in the summer at Syracuse University and the University of California at Los Angeles.

Replacement Appointed to Stritch's Post

VATICAN CITY (UPI) — Pope Pius XII Wednesday appointed an Armenian cardinal to replace the late Samuel Cardinal Stritch of Chicago as director of the Roman Catholic Church's missionary work.

The appointment as Pro-Prefect of the Sacred Congregation for the Propagation of the Faith went to Gregoire Pierre XV Cardinal Agagianian, 62.

Cardinal Agagianian was born in Akhalkalake, Armenia, which was absorbed by the Soviet Union in 1920. He speaks several languages and is a high official of the Sacred Congregation for the Oriental Rite of the Church.

Cardinal Stritch, Archbishop of Chicago, came to Rome last April to become Pro-Prefect — Assistant Director — of missionary work.

But Cardinal Stritch never assumed his duties. He was hospitalized with a circulatory disorder, his arm was amputated and then he suffered a cerebral stroke. He died 34 days after arriving in Italy.

Says Dope Addicts Leave State After Supply Is Cut Off

Recent arrests of dope peddlers in Iowa are forcing many of Iowa's estimated 100 drug addicts to leave the state, according to R. A. Windrath, state narcotics agent.

Windrath said that state agents recently have been able to purchase heroin in Des Moines but that arrests have caused many addicts to move on to other states when their supply was cut off.

The narcotics agent spoke to law enforcement officers attending a week-long Peace Officers Short Course being held at SUI.

Windrath explained to the officers the ways in which dope sellers obtain their drugs, the various kinds of drug addicts, and ways to identify them by their actions. He also showed the officers samples of barbiturate drugs, known as "Goof Balls," and warned them to be on the lookout for users of these easily obtainable drugs.

Home Ec Seminar Being Held at U-High

A three-week seminar in home economics curriculum development is being offered at SUI this summer.

The course, under the direction of Geraldine Clewell, associate professor of home economics at SUI and head of home economics at University High School began Wednesday and will continue through July 3. The class meets for three and a half hours a day.

The short course, designed for graduate home economics students and high school and college teachers, includes discussion of course material and equipment for a home economics program.

Auditing the course will be Miss Kirsten Nielsen, a supervisor for the Danish government in home economics. Miss Nielsen is visiting the U.S. under a four-month Kellogg Foundation Scholarship.

Miss Roostini and Miss Soedji Latifa, two teachers from Indonesia, are also attending the seminar.

First Missilemen Leave the States

HUNTSVILLE, Ala. (AP) — The first U.S. field artillery unit equipped with large ballistic missiles moved out toward a secret destination in Western Europe Wednesday.

To martial music and farewells of wives and children, members of the 40th Field Artillery Group boarded trains for Hampton Roads, Va. They will sail from there Thursday for France.

The missilemen will fire the 200-mile-range Redstone, a giant rocket which can carry a nuclear warhead. It will add a mighty wallop to the battle punch of West European ground forces.

Yanks Edge Cleveland 3-2; Giants Pester Pirates 2-1

CLEVELAND — First-inning home runs by Hank Bauer and Elston Howard accounted for all New York's runs Wednesday night as the Yankees defeated the Cleveland Indians 3-2. Art Ditmar pitched hitless ball for 5 1/3 innings then gave up all three Tribe hits before Ryne Duren relieved him. Bauer, the first batter of the game, laced into a 3-1 pitch from Jum (Mudcat) Grant and hit it over the left field fence. After the next two batters went out, Bill Skowron singled and Howard followed with a shot over the center field fence. Ditmar gave up a pair of walks and hit Minnie Minoso with a pitched ball in the first, then retired the next 14 batters in order. The Indians finally broke through in the sixth, picking up two unearned runs.

Orioles 5, Athletics 3
KANSAS CITY — Baltimore, fighting to climb up the American League's shifting standings, handed Kansas City its second straight defeat Wednesday night 5-3 behind the combined 8-hit pitching of 19-year-old Mill Pappas and Arnold Portocarrero. Pappas, who gave up only 5 hits and 2 runs in his 7-inning stint, got credit for the win, his fourth against one defeat. Murry Dickson, 41-year-old knuckleballer, who was shelled for 9 hits and 3 runs in 5 1/3 innings, took the licking. It was his third against five victories. The Orioles picked up one run each off relievers Jack Urban and Bob Grim.

Red Sox 13, White Sox 9
CHICAGO — Chicago pitching which had spun 33 scoreless innings crumpled under Boston's five-homer attack Wednesday as the Red Sox rallied for six runs in the eighth and a 13-9 victory over the White Sox. Although each club slammed 15 hits, Boston's homer power wrecked Chicago's bid for a fifth straight victory. Marv Keough, subbing for the benched Jim Piersall in center, hit his first major league homer and a two-run triple to drive in three Boston runs, as did Ted Williams and Don Buddin. Boston ... 150 011 100—13 15 1 Chicago ... 010 030 410—9 15 0 Brewer, Delock (7) and Kieley (9) and White, Daley (8); Moore, Keegan (4), Shaw (6), Staley (8), Quatters (9) and Lollar, W-Delock, L-Staley (11), Buddin (5), Jensen (17), Williams (8), Malzone (6), Chicago, Boone (7).

Giants 2, Pirates 1
PITTSBURGH — White Lockman looped a single to center in the 10th inning Wednesday night to score Bob Schmidt from second and give the San Francisco Giants a 2-1 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates. Schmidt opened the 10th with a single to center and moved to second when Paul Giel walked. Giel, who earned his first victory against one defeat by the Pirates, allowed Pittsburgh four hits. From the fourth inning until the ninth, Giel retired 16 Pirates in a row. San Francisco ... 100 000 000—2 9 0 Pittsburgh ... 001 000 000—1 4 1 Giel, Grissom (10) and Thomas; Schmidt (9); Friend and Folles, W-Giel.

Reds 6, Cards 1
CINCINNATI — Don Newcombe, with a brilliant, tight six-hit pitching performance, went all the way Wednesday night to his first victory this season, defeating St. Louis' Cardinals, 6-1, in his first mound appearance as a Cincinnati Redleg. The Redlegs stacked up 10 hits in the victory that boosted Cincinnati into the National League's No. 3 spot. Newcombe had a three-hitter going into the ninth when Gene Reen caromed a single off the leg of Red third baseman Don Hoak. Curt Flood and Hal Smith followed with singles that crammed the bases. But the big former Los Angeles Dodger got pinch-hitter Irv Noren to hit an easy pop fly and Hobie Landrith grounded out to end the game. Cardinal starter Larry Jackson lasted only until the fourth inning. He filled the bases on walks before turning the job over to former Redleg Bill Wight who promptly disposed of the problem by getting slugger Frakie Robinson to fly out and end the inning. St. Louis ... 100 000 000—1 6 1 Cincinnati ... 102 010 200—8 10 0 Jackson, Wight (4), McDaniel (3) and Smith; Newcombe and Bailey, L-Jackson. Home runs — St. Louis, Musial (12), Cincinnati, Bell (5).

Dodgers 3, Phillies 0
PHILADELPHIA — Catcher Joe Pignatano clubbed a two-run homer that provoked Philadelphia fans to throw beer cans Wednesday night and paced Los Angeles to a 3-0 victory over the Phillies. Pignatano's roundtripper, his first of the season, came in the fifth inning after Robin Roberts walked Dick Gray. The umpires ruled that the ball hit above the 334-foot mark in left field and bounced back into the playing field. Rip Repulski grabbed the ball and ran with it toward the infield, but the umpires ruled that it was a home run. Los Angeles ... 000 021 000—3 8 0 Philadelphia ... 000 000 000—0 4 0 Williams and Pignatano; Roberts and Sawatski. Home run — Los Angeles, Pignatano (1).

D'Amato Agrees On Aug. 18 for Patterson Bout
LOS ANGELES — Floyd Patterson's manager, Gus D'Amato, has agreed to compromise on August 18 as date for the heavyweight champion's title defense against Roy Harris. Al Weill, co-promoter of the bout with the Hollywood Legion, had flatly vetoed a later date than Aug. 4. But D'Amato's attorney, Julius November, now says the champion's manager is ready to accept the later date if the Olympic Auditorium promotion is willing to set the Art Aragon-Carmen Basilio go back to September. This bout has been scheduled for Aug. 28, and the Olympic already has set the Pete Rademacher-Zora Folley heavyweight bout for July 24. Clayton Frye, secretary of the California Athletic Commission, said the proposed switch in dates would be advantageous to the Olympic promotions. "There is no sense in promoting one out-of-door fight after another," he said. "It's not good business." The Olympic management has not yet made its position known on the proposal.

Mackay Gets Good Draw In Wimbledon Net Meet

LONDON — America's only hopeful in men's single in the 63rd Wimbledon championships, 23-year-old Barry Mackay of Dayton, Ohio, got a good spot in the draw Wednesday as pairings were made for the tournament starting Monday. The six-foot, four-inch American was placed in the third quarter of the draw, where there is no one expected to give him trouble before the quarter-finals. He drew Emilio Martinez of Spain as his first opponent. If play goes according to form, Mackay will meet third-seeded Marvyn Rose of Australia in the quarter-finals. Rose already has won both the Italian and French titles this year. The draw, made with traditional ceremonies at the All-England Tennis Club, presents few rough spots at the outset for the favored players in either the men's or women's divisions. Rose may encounter one. Monday's first-round match sends Rose against Wladyslaw Skonecki, a vastly underrated 35-year-old Warsaw player who has returned to Poland after several years of self exile. This appears to be the best match of the opening day, although seventh-seeded Sven Davidson of Sweden could have some trouble with Jean-Noel Grinda of France. Strength is more evenly distributed in the women's singles. Defending champion Althea Gibson of New York, who drew a first-round bye, is threatened principally by Shirley Blomer of Britain, whose play this season has been well below the standard she set last year. Miss Gibson lost to second-seeded Christine Truman last week in the Wightman Cup. Wednesday she said: "That defeat I had last week was the best thing that could have happened to me." Mackay loses to Laver in Queens Tournament

LONDON — Barry Mackay of Dayton, Ohio, America's brightest tennis prospect, lost in the second round of the Queen's Club tournament Wednesday to Rod Laver 6-3, 6-3. Mackay, who has been practicing with Jack Kramer and the professionals in America on hard courts, did not seem at home on the grass, the surface both at Queen's and Wimbledon.

Potthast Loses, Andrews Advances as NCAA Tennis Meet Enters Quarterfinals

Gunderson Upset in Golf Meet
AMES — Carole Pushing, a pretty 18-year-old Carleton College freshman, tossed a huge surprise into the Women's National Collegiate Golf Tournament Wednesday by upsetting National Amateur Champion JoAnne Gunderson 1-up in the quarter-finals. A 40-foot chip shot for a birdie 2 on the 153-yard 17th hole was the big swing for Carole. She had just blown a two-hole lead by missing three- and five-foot putts on the 15th and 16th greens and appeared to be reeling. The Olivia, Minn., girl's tee shot at 17 was 10 feet wide after JoAnne, a Kirkland, Wash., girl representing Arizona State, was on for a cinch 3. Miss Pushing's victory sent her into a semifinal match Thursday against Meriam Bailey, the defending champion from Northwestern.

One Iowa singles player advanced and another Hawkeye singles player lost during Wednesday's fourth round matches of the NCAA tennis tournament at Annapolis, Md. Art Andrews advanced to the quarterfinals with an easy 6-2, 6-1 victory over Carl Nobel of Illinois, the 11th seeded entry in the tournament. Bob Potthast, Iowa's second man, was eliminated 6-3, 6-2 by Don Dell, Yale, seeded No. 3 in this year's tournament.

3 Iowa City Boys to State JC Golf Tourney
John Peterson, Frosty Evashevski and Tom Walden are the three area golfers who will represent Iowa City at the state JayCee tournament June 23-24. Peterson, of Coralville, runner-up in the state junior golf tournament here last week, carded a par 70 at the Elks Country club course Tuesday afternoon.

SIGNS SPELL T-R-O-U-B-L-E!
NEVER PUT THEM ON POLES!

Folks would NEVER put a sign, clothesline hook or other object on a utility pole if they knew the trouble it could cause. You see, it's our linemen who have to climb those poles that we're thinking about. Using climbing spikes is tricky enough without having to contend with nailheads. Nails cause falls. Projecting signs tear clothes, catch on tools or equipment, and can cut the man.
The situation is especially bad at night, during storms, or under other emergency conditions — when your electric service depends on the speed and skill of the linemen.
So PLEASE. You'll be helping a fellow out — a man you depend on! He's an Iowa-Illinois lineman who wants to give you good electric service.
yours for better living
