McDonald Conducts Cosmic Ray Experiment

Balloon Launched In Missouri

A gondola, launched by balloon under the direction of SUI's Frank B. McDonald, physics research associate, dropped to earth near Ellis, Kan., about 5:20 p.m. Friday, the Associated Press reported.

The balloon was launched from Moberly, Mo., at 4:47 a.m. Friday to study cosmic rays in relation to the sun spot cycles. Ellis is about 430 airline miles west of Moberly.

Tracked by Plane
A 2-engine tracking plane was sent aloft to follow the balloon, but its crew reported it lost the helium-filled plastic bag near Hill City, Kan., about 30 miles northwest of Ellis.

Miss Delores Helger, 21, of Ellis, reported by telephone she saw the gondola parachute to earth as she was driving home from work. Miss Helger walked half a mile through a field to the gondola and found on it instructions to telephone Moberly.

The crew of the tracking plane was instructed to pick up the instruments and take them back to the balloon's launching site.

The gondola and its parachute were suspended under the balloon and were released by a dynamite cap. The cap exploded by a timing device set to release the gondola at 4:30 p.m.

Goos Up 20 Miles
The 17-5 foot long balloon with a capacity of two million cubic feet was in the stratosphere approximately nine hours. It reached a height of 119,000 feet. Scientists estimated it took the gondola 50 minutes to float back to earth.

Most of the instruments that went aloft were from SUI, but the Massachusetts Institute of Technology and the University of Minnesota also had "hitch-hike" equipment aboard.

McDonald and an assistant, Louis Hinton, A2, Davenport, are scheduled to go directly to Minneapolis to re-launch the balloon and the instruments to determine the amount of cosmic rays at that latitude.

The project is sponsored by the Office of Naval Research.

Poorman Pleads Guilty; Paroled To Attorney

A former SUI student starts a four month parole today after pleading guilty to pilfering a parked car behind the Acacia fraternity house.

Gary Poorman, Waverly, appearing before Johnson County District Court Judge Harold D. Evans, was sentenced Friday to four months in jail.

The sentence was suspended and Poorman was paroled for four months to his attorney William B. Mooney, Waverly.

While students at SUI, Poorman and John W. Creach, Montebello, Calif., were surprised while rifling cars behind the Acacia fraternity house the night of March 6.

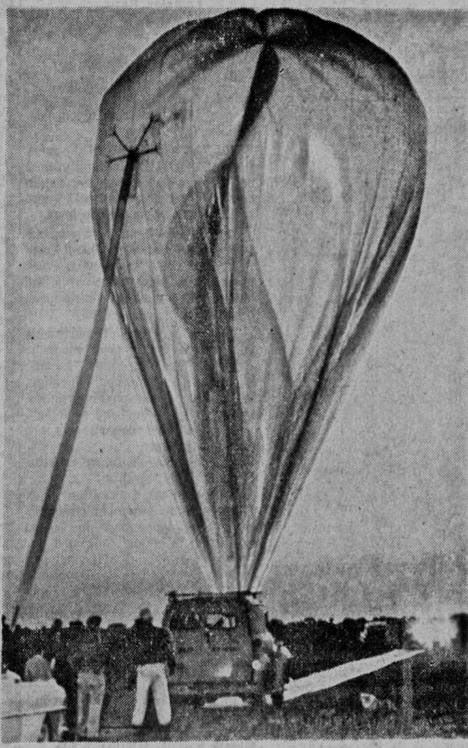

They were spotted by Roy M. Johnson, A3, West Liberty. When the pair started to run to Poorman's car, Johnson fired his .22 caliber high powered rifle and hit Creach in the left leg.

Creach's leg was later amputated at University Hospitals.

Creach, who pleaded guilty to the same charge of larceny in the nighttime, was given the same sentence by District Court Judge James P. Gaffney on April 9, and then paroled to Johnson County Sheriff Albert J. (Pat) Murphy.

After the larceny charges had been filed against the pair, Creach withdrew from the University. Poorman was suspended from SUI pending final action of District Court.

Dean of Students M. L. Huit said Friday that no final disciplinary action on Poorman's case has been made. However, the final decision by the University will be made shortly.

TWO HUNDRED POUNDS of scientific equipment from SUI were launched Friday in a thin-skinned balloon. The balloon (pictured above just before launching) was released at Moberly, Mo., under the direction of Frank B. McDonald, SUI physics research associate. —AP Wirephoto.

World Watch Requested For 'Moon' Death

The National Academy of Science Friday requested a watch throughout the world for the impending end of Explorer III.

The Academy asked that any observer of the satellite's fall inform the Academy in Washington, D.C. promptly and protect and preserve the remains if any.

The time and location of the fall should be noted and forwarded to the Smithsonian Astrophysical Observatory in Cambridge, Mass.

Explorer III carries instruments built by the SUI Physics Department.

Army scientists said the tiny man-made moon and its companion, Explorer I, have proved that man can control the temperature of space vehicles within ranges easily acceptable for human survival.

In radio broadcasts back to earth the Explorers also reported that cosmic radiation at higher altitudes is considerably more intense than had been anticipated.

SUI Instrumented
James Van Allen, head of the SUI Physics Department, is chief of instrumentation on the Explorer satellites.

George H. Ludwig, SUI graduate student, designed the tiny tape recorder for Explorer III which stored up information on cosmic rays and, upon radio command, transmitted it back to earth.

Friction with the atmosphere as it zoomed erratically through space doomed Explorer III to an early death, according to Associated Press reports.

Explorer I is expected to circle the earth for another seven years. Data from an entire orbit — nearly two hours — has been recorded by the tiny instrument in Explorer III and played back to receiving stations in five seconds.

To Use New IBM
Satellite information from the Explorers is expected to be analyzed by SUI's new International Business Machines computer this fall.

Explorer III was launched at Cape Canaveral, Fla., March 26. Its high elliptical orbit carried it as far as 1,700 miles from the earth, and as near as 117 miles in its early stages.

Explorer III transmitted four separate signals until its batteries died two months ago.

Alaska Backers Win 2 Skirmishes

WASHINGTON (AP) — Alaska statehood backers won the first two tests of strength in the Senate Friday, both by comfortable margins.

Leaders then abandoned plans for a night session, adjourning until Monday. Sen. Mike Mansfield (D-Mont.), acting majority leader, said he plans to keep the Alaska bill before the Senate until it passes — "Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday or if necessary later than that."

Backers of the measure appeared confident the Senate would approve the House-passed measure without change.

They turned back 53-28 a contention that a statehood measure includes an unconstitutional provision. The bill's supporters defeated 50-29 an amendment to give the territory commonwealth status instead of making it the 49th state.

The bill's floor manager, Sen. Henry M. Jackson (D-Wash.), predicted Senate passage next week.

Government Hard Pressed As Fighting Spreads In Lebanon

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Jet planes, artillery and armored cars thundered into action Friday against rebel forces slashing at Lebanon's hard-pressed Government. An army communiqué said rebel attacks were stopped on four fronts in a new spread of fighting.

The pro-Western regime of President Camille Chamoun was facing a heavy attack on Army positions on Mt. Tereol in north Lebanon, but were driven off after jet planes and artillery were thrown in to support the troops, the communiqué said. It claimed the rebels outnumbered Government troops 5-1 in that attack.

In a third engagement, rebels struck at a garrison at Rashaya in the Bekaa Valley of southern Lebanon. The attackers were driven off in a sharp exchange of gunfire, the communiqué said.

The rebel forces made another attack at the north Lebanese port of Tripoli. The Army said they penetrated to within 50 yards of army positions before they were driven off in a heavy exchange of fire.

The rebel national front claimed it now controls three-fourths of Lebanon and rebel spokesman declared the fighting will go on until Chamoun quits as president. Chamoun has admitted the rebels dominate at least 25 per cent of the country.

Chamoun had predicted earlier the rebels would begin an all-out drive against the Government.

But as clashes continued sporadically it seemed that the rebels and the security forces were sparing to test each other's defenses. A spokesman for the rebel-na-

Cuban Rebels Kidnap Ten Americans

By GEORGE KAUFMAN

HAVANA, Cuba (AP) — Fidel Castro's rebels swooped out of their mountain hideouts and kidnaped 10 American and two Canadian engineers in a 2½-hour gun-blazing raid on the Oriente Province city of Moa Thursday night. Three men were killed.

A rebel leader told Mrs. John Schissler, wife of one of the kidnaped men, they were taking the group as a reprisal. The rebel chieftain charged the United States was allowing Cuban army planes to refuel and load bombs at the U.S. naval base at Guantanamo, 40 miles from Moa.

Castro's rebels have been fighting the Government of President Fulgencio Batista for months and Castro contends the United States has been aiding Batista.

Mrs. Schissler said the rebels told her the men would be held for a few days, would be well-treated, and then released.

Formal Complaint Lodged
U.S. Ambassador Earl E. T. Smith lodged a formal complaint with the Cuban government and ordered U.S. Consul Park Wollan to fly from Santiago to Moa to investigate.

Smith said Wollan was to make a full report but not to attempt to deal with the rebels. He said the Cuban Government was doing everything possible to get the men back.

The ambassador said he "expects the men will be released fairly soon and unharmed."

He added: "The kidnaping was a useless defiant gesture which will boomerang against the perpetrators. If this is a publicity act, it is an unfortunate one."

Moa Bay Mining Co. officials were reported to have gone into the hills Friday night to digger for the release of the engineers. They also expressed confidence they would get a quick release of the men when they pointed out to the rebels that the publicity in the United States would be bad for the rebel cause.

Three Killed
Two civilians and one rebel were reported killed in the attack on the Moa Army post, and three soldiers were wounded. Earlier reports said three soldiers were killed.

In addition to emptying the hospital of medical supplies and the commissary of foodstuffs, the rebels took 19 vehicles and a 2,500-gallon gasoline tank truck.

The attack on the city was the first major rebel outburst since Castro's offensive to crush Batista fell flat last April.

Hall Says Newspapers Must Help Educate

Newspapers and schools are partners in the broad field of education, for "information, enlightenment, education are the core of newspapering," an Iowa editor said in a lecture at SUI Friday night.

W. Earl Hall, editor of the Mason City Globe-Gazette, spoke to high school teachers attending the workshop, "The Newspaper in the Classroom." He declared that "the one highest compliment that could be paid a newspaper" is to consider it an educational medium.

"If our world is to be saved, education must be the key," Hall said in speaking on "A Newspaper's Responsibility in the Modern World."

He emphasized his belief in this journalistic credo: "If newspapers will help light the path, the people of our representative democracy will find their way."

Hall stressed also his belief in the importance of interest in this country in world affairs.

In pointing to the disappearance of isolationism as "a comforting policy for American newspapers and Congress," Hall commented, "maybe we could have gone serenely on our isolationist ways if we had been content to be a second-class nation."

fairs "more local and personal for most of us" than hometown news, he said. The surest possible safeguard against aggressive war is education which leads to democracy.

"No popular government in our world today could get away with launching a war. To do so would be to affront the deepest instinct in human nature—the instinct for peace," he declared.

Fox Swears Goldfine Bought House For Adams

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Boston financial mogul John Fox swore Friday that Bernard Goldfine had told him of buying a Washington house for Sherman Adams and regularly sending Adams checks over "long periods of time."

The White House, where Adams serves as President Eisenhower's chief assistant, immediately and hotly accused Fox of ridiculous lies.

FOX, FORMER publisher of the defunct Boston Post, also told a House subcommittee that in the 1952 Massachusetts election campaign for the U.S. Senate:

He originally supported Republican Henry Cabot Lodge, concluded Fox had "been soft on Communists," swung his backing to the successful Democrat, Sen. John F. Kennedy, and later on obtained a $500,000 loan from Kennedy's father, Joseph P. Kennedy.

A White House description of this as "fantastic testimony" covered Fox's statements about the house, checks, and Lodge, who now is U.S. ambassador to the United Nations.

LOGGE HIMSELF said of the testimony by Fox: "No comment. My record speaks for itself." Lodge's statement was issued through the U.S. delegation at the U.N. in New York.

From the White House, from Adams and from Congress criticism erupted against the House subcommittee for allowing itself to become a public forum for such testimony.

In New York, the elder Kennedy's office said the loan Fox mentioned was not discussed or contemplated at the time the Post endorsed the son.

"THE LOAN . . . was made," a formal statement said, "after the election as a purely commercial transaction — for 60 days only with full collateral, at full interest and was fully repaid on time — and was simply one of many commercial transactions in which this office has participated."

Fox himself said the Kennedy family did not know in advance of the Post's endorsement of John Kennedy and that the loan was made in December — after the November election — and was secured and repaid.

ADAMS DENOUNCED Friday as "another malicious falsehood" a statement by Fox that Goldfine once said in the presence of Adams and Fox that Adams was intervening for him in a trade commission difficulty.

Fox had sworn that Goldfine had said: "Those so and so's at the Federal Trade Commission (FTC) are giving one of my mills and my son and some of my other people a hard time, and Gov. Adams is going to take care of that for me."

Adams said in a statement: "This is another malicious falsehood. I deny it ever happened."

Also Stress Financial Needs of State Institutions

By FRED HAWKER
Staff Writer

The Johnson County Democratic County Convention Friday night went on record as condemning President Eisenhower for "condoning Sherman Adams' conduct in the Adams-Goldfine debacle."

They also called for the necessary financial support of Iowa state supported schools, congratulated SUI satellite-physicist James Van Allen and SUI for accomplishments in scientific exploration and other fields of higher education, and called for additional support and reorganization for Iowa's state hospitals.

'White Wash'
The resolution condemning President Eisenhower stated that the "moral tone of the Republican Administration . . . is quite well illustrated by President Eisenhower's 'white wash' of the Adams-Goldfine debacle."

They charged that Adams broke Federal law when he gave Goldfine, Boston industrialist, information concerning a pending Civil contempt case against Goldfine and his firms.

Goldfine also was charged with breaking Federal law.

Dangerous Precedent
They questioned how "any intelligent and honorable Chief Exec-

Thomas McCorkle, assistant professor in the SUI Institute of Agricultural Medicine, drew a laugh from the Democratic County Convention by stating that vicuna wool comes from a "dwarfed camel" not a "mountain goat" as originally stated in the "Adams-Goldfine debacle" resolution.

utive could "condone such chicanery on the part of his first assistant and [Adams'] old friend" Goldfine," and charged that this "Adams-Goldfine mess" may set a dangerous precedent for all other members of the Executive Department.

The Democrats then went on record condemning the corrupting of public officials as practiced by Bernard Goldfine and the moral laxity and weakness exhibited by the First Presidential Assistant.

The convention stated that it is "vigorously in favor of the financial support of our state-supported institutions . . . [support] necessary to enable them to meet the needs" of Iowa and its youth, and affirmed its support of Governor Loveless in developing short- and long-term means of financing the institutions.

SUI Improvements
The delegates congratulated SUI and Dr. James Van Allen, and pledged their support for "progressive improvement of the personnel and physical plant of SUI."

They also recommended additional financial support to state hospitals and a "reorganization of control, administration, personnel and program necessary for their efficient operation."

Other resolutions:
Called for reappointment of the Iowa Senate by a constitutional amendment to provide for "representation according to population rather than territory."

Denounced the "Right-to-Work" law and favored legalizing the union shop in Iowa.

Supported Governor Loveless' stand against the three per cent sales tax.

Ike Says Foreign Aid Slash Could Be Disastrous

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower reported himself Friday to be deeply distressed over a House Appropriations Committee slash of $872-million from the foreign aid funds he asked.

Saying he hoped and believed that this cut would not stand up the rest of the way through Congress, Mr. Eisenhower added in a statement that if it did: "I fear there will be important losses for the free world and a serious decreasing of the security of the United States."

THE COMMITTEE recommended $3,078,092,500 in new funds for the program for the fiscal year beginning next Tuesday. Its action preceded by only an hour House passage of a separate bill authorizing a $3,675,592,500 aid program for the year.

Later in the day, the Senate

GOP Backs White House, School Aid

The case of Presidential Assistant Sherman Adams received attention in the form of a resolution adopted at the Johnson County Republican Convention Friday.

The resolution regarding Adams said: "We are confident that if it is reasonably established that such activities are not only imprudent but improper, his association with the White House will be terminated."

Adams has been under fire in Washington as a result of charges that he accepted gratuities from Bernard Goldfine, and allegedly intervened for Goldfine with various federal agencies.

Prompt Action
In another resolution, the county convention urged prompt action and increased appropriations for capital improvements at Board of Regents operated institutions.

The convention called for a continuation and expansion of state aid to schools until 25 per cent of expenditures are from state sources.

Condemning Governor Herschel Loveless for his veto of capital improvements legislation in 1957, the convention passed a resolution charging Loveless with placing Iowa institutions two years behind in its building program and with taking an estimated $15,000,000 to $18,000,000 in state aid away from local schools.

Raise Salaries
The Republicans approved increases in appropriations for public institutions to bring salaries in line with competing Midwest universities.

Among other considerations, the convention supported the Iowa right-to-work law, urged the construction of a new McChaffey Bridge, and supported Congressman Fred Schwengel's bill for tax relief for parents of college and university students.

Local Man Hurt In Motorcycle Mishap
A young motorcycle rider underwent surgery late Friday night after an accident on a county road west of Iowa City.

Mercy Hospital authorities could give no indication of the injuries suffered by Michael Donovan, 21, of Rt. 7.

Donovan was thrown from his motorcycle about 9 p.m. Friday when it flipped over twice and landed in the ditch on the Rhet Road, four miles west of here.

A witness told Sheriff Albert J. Murphy that Donovan had apparently lost control of his machine before it went into the ditch.

A witness told Sheriff Albert J. Murphy that Donovan had apparently lost control of his machine before it went into the ditch.

similarly passed the authorization bill, sending it to the White House. THE AUTHORIZATION measure merely sets a ceiling and the terms for expenditures, which are determined by actual appropriations. Congress often authorizes bigger programs than it eventually finances.

Mr. Eisenhower originally had asked for $3,950,092.50 in new aid funds. The authorization bill reduced this by $274½-million, and the Appropriations Committee lopped off another $597½-million.

DESPITE the sharp reductions, the Appropriation Committee's allotments would leave the aid program with a total of $3,273,094,500 for use during the coming year. This is so because of large carryovers of previous appropriations. Most of these have been obligated for specific uses although not spent.

2 Jets Set Atlantic Speed Record, Unaware 3rd Plane Crashed Killing 15 Men

WESTOVER AIR FORCE BASE, Mass. (AP) — A jet Stratolifter crashed and exploded seconds after takeoff early Friday on a projected speed test nonstop round trip to London. The 15 men aboard perished in the flaming wreckage.

Two sister jets, which took off minutes earlier, reached London in record time, their passengers unaware of the tragedy. A fourth plane, poised on the runway, did not take off because of the mishap.

Newsmen Killed

The dead included Brig. Gen. Donald W. Saunders of Athens, N.Y., airborne commander in charge of the operation, and six newsmen assigned to cover the flight.

The official Air Force statement on the accident said:

"It has been established that the aircraft broke ground at exact prediction on the runway. The aircraft was airborne.

"Observers who witnessed the takeoff said the aircraft was apparently flying in normal flying altitude when it broke ground. The weight at which the aircraft was operating was less than the weight of aircraft flown regularly in normal training operations."

Joint Investigation

Westover officials announced later a joint U.S. Air Force-industry accident investigation board will probe the cause of the crash.

Maj. Gen. Joseph B. Calbara, director of the directorate of USAF flight safety research, will head the investigation.

The board will be comprised of technical specialists of the aircraft industry and the best investigating talent available, the Air Force said.

These will include experts on flight operations, structures and aerodynamics, hydraulic, electrical and electronic systems, power plants, fuel and oil systems and maintenance.

A spokesman said a preliminary investigation started immediately after the crash.

Tankers Refuel Jets

The tankers, built by Boeing, are used to refuel airborne jet bombers and fighters of the Strategic Air Command. Air Force authorities call them vital in keeping the United States ahead of the Soviet Union in world air power.

The plane snapped power lines 70 feet above the ground and then plummeted. Its cargo of fuel-estimated the equivalent of three-and-a-half railroad tank cars or 35,000 gallons—broke into an instantaneous inferno.

The blazing craft sliced through the Massachusetts Turnpike — a new east-west toll road that crosses the state—and blew up with a thunderous roar in a confined.

Wreckage Scattered

Wreckage was scattered over the 30-acre farm of Kazimierz Machowski.

The two planes that broke records in the transatlantic flight that ended at Brize Norton Air Base, England, sought to demonstrate the Air Force capability to send high-performance jet tanker aircraft to strategic points anywhere where in the world.

The first plane landed in an elapsed time of 5 hours, 27 minutes, 42.8 seconds, the National Aeronautics Assn. reported. The elapsed time of the second craft was given as 5:29:37.4.

Break British Record

Records set in 1955 by a British Royal Air Force Canberra bomber were 7 hours 29 minutes from London to New York, and on the return flight, 6 hours 16 minutes.

The plan of the two jets to return from London to New York, after a brief stop, was abandoned.

The first plane to arrive in London — dubbed Alpha by the Air Force — had six newsmen as passengers. The second, Brava, had one.

The third and ill-fated plane, was called Cocco. Its pilot, Lt. Col. Broustas, was described by the Air Force as its most experienced KC135 pilot. It was the first KC135 log showed 8,126 hours in Air Force planes.

In the KC135 he had 135 hours, more than any other Air Force man. Pentagon records show planes of the KC135 type have flown more than 7,800,000 miles.

An identification team from Wright Patterson AFB, Ohio, was flown to the scene to handle identification of the crash victims.

Westover officials said it probably would be Sunday or Monday before remains are released to next of kin.

Prof. Jauch To Research At Geneva

Joseph M. Jauch, SUI professor and theoretical physicist, will do research at the European Center of Nuclear Research (CERN) at Geneva, Switzerland, for the 1958-59 academic year. Jauch and his family left Iowa City Thursday.

The SUI physicist was granted a leave of absence after receiving an invitation from CERN, an international atomic research center, to do research at Geneva and lecture on nuclear physics at European universities.

A native of Switzerland, Jauch completed the equivalent of bachelor of science and master of science at the Federal Institute of Technology at Zurich, Switzerland. He received a Ph.D. from the University of Minnesota in 1940, and then went back to Switzerland.

In 1942 he returned to the U.S. and taught at Princeton. In 1945 he became a naturalized American citizen and the following year came to SUI.

"Electronic Brain" Makes Possible—

3 New Computing Courses

At least three courses in electronic computer methodology are planned for the SUI curriculum next fall, according to Dean Walter F. Loehwing of the SUI Graduate College.

Courses in operating an electronic computer are now made possible, Dean Loehwing said, since SUI will install an "electronic brain" on the campus. The IBM computer, which can "memorize" 20,000 digits, is expected to be in operation by Sept. 1, he said.

Before the fall semester opens, IBM will train a selected group of graduate students and faculty members so the machine may be put into operation immediately, said John P. Dolch, who will serve as director of the SUI Computing Center.

Name 3 Courses

Dolch, now systems engineer in the Iowa Testing Program, said the three courses planned to teach the operation of the computer will be Scientific Computing Operations, Numerical Analysis, and Business Data Processing.

Instructors already qualified to teach the classes are Dolch and Norman Kallaus, assistant professor of business education.

Dean Loehwing said it has been estimated that 170,000 specialists will be needed to operate the 10,000 electronic computers in the U.S. by 1966. He said training these specialists is a serious problem facing educational institutions, business and industry.

Complex Research

"Modern research now requires the extensive use of these highly complex machines," Dean Loehwing said. "It is of considerable importance that SUI graduates in research fields be able to exploit every possible technological development."

With the installation of the computer, SUI will join a family of 40 universities throughout the nation now using such equipment. There are 11 similar machines in Iowa.

In addition to teaching the operation of the computer, Dean Loehwing said that "practically every phase of university work will find use for the computer as a research tool."

SUI Colleges and Departments which already have problems to be fed into the machines include chemistry, commerce, education, engineering, geography, hydraulics, physics, psychology and sociology, and many other departments are expected to have research involving the machine in future months, Dean Loehwing said.

9-Member Committee

The initial 9-member computer committee, appointed by Dean Loehwing to study the need for such a machine at SUI, included Professors Harold P. Bechtoldt, chairman, psychology; E. F. Lindquist, education; Norman Baenziger, chemistry; Royce E. Beckett and Louis Landwehr, mechanics and hydraulics; Edwin N. Oberg, mathematics and astronomy; James A. Van Allen, physics; and C. Frank Smith, general business; and Joseph P. Kasper, instructor in physics.

The SUI Computer Center will occupy 1,000 square feet of floor space in Room N1, in the northwest wing of East Hall. The center will be composed of the computer console, an input-output machine that reads and punches cards, and the power supply. Accompanying instruments will include a tabulator and card reproducer, a card sorting machine and key punch equipment.

Bartlett To Give Woodwind Recital

Loren W. Bartlett, G. Russellville, Ark., will present a recital of music for woodwind instruments Wednesday at 2 p.m. in Macbride Auditorium.

Accompanying Bartlett on the piano will be Norma Cross, SUI associate professor of music.

Opening the recital will be Bach's "Sonata in B minor for flute and piano." Continuing, Bartlett will present "Sonata, No. 3, for bassoon and piano," by Johann Galliard, and "Rhapsodie for E-flat Saxophone" by Claude Debussy. The program will close with Paul Creston's "Sonata for E-flat Saxophone, Op. 19."

The program will be presented by Bartlett in partial fulfillment of the requirements for the Ph.D. degree in music literature and performance.

What They Are Doing

THE NEWMAN CLUB will sponsor a coffee hour immediately after 9 a.m. Mass Sunday at the Catholic Student Center.

Cowboy Casanova Nearly Swindles Clergyman's Wife

ST. LOUIS (AP) — A clergyman and his wife were reconciled Friday after she had been nearly romanced out of a $203,000 inheritance before her cowboy Casanova was arrested.

"There will be no divorce," the Rev. James A. Doubleday said. The 39-year-old rector of the Grace Episcopal church in suburban Kirkwood added a reconciliation had been effected.

In Reno 4 Months

Mrs. Barbara Fox Doubleday, 33, had gone to Reno four months ago to divorce her husband.

Acquaintances of Mrs. Doubleday said she decided — after receiving the inheritance last spring from her grandfather — to live independently as a career singer.

She was a soprano in the church choir here and at Brunswick, Maine, where her husband held a rectorate five years until 1954.

Married 11 Years

But Mrs. Doubleday, married 11 years and the mother of two, met Raymond Lewis Headspeth, 37, a ranch hand who neglected to tell her of his police record.

She and the husky cowboy started a romance. She converted into cash the bonds from her inheritance and they left for a motel at Tucson, Ariz., last Friday.

Saturday, Barbara found the cowboy had silently broken camp. Her money was gone, too.

Tipped that a free-spending Westerner was at a Miami hotel, the FBI arrested Headspeth Thursday. He said Barbara had given him the money.

The FBI said the cowboy had bought at $9,000 foreign car and

Speech Meet Ends Today

An innate neural lag or slowdown in the functioning of the nervous system was advanced Friday at SUI as the fundamental cause of stuttering in about one-half of the people who develop this speech defect.

Jon Eisenson, director of the speech and hearing clinic at Queens College, New York, explained that some of the lag or "perseveration" is found in all of us to a degree and said some authorities contend it is normal for some situations.

Eisenson, president of the American Speech and Hearing Association, spoke at the Weekend Conference on Stuttering Therapy.

Suggest a Pause

Some authorities believe that a medium degree of perseveration, or tendency to pause before taking action following a stimulus of some type, permits the individual to size up the whole situation confronting him and so act more wisely, Eisenson explained.

The fact that both perseveration and stutering are relatively higher in about the same degree in men than in women seems another indication that this neural lag is the basis of many stutters' problem, the Queens professor said.

Joseph G. Sheehan told the conference that stuttering seems essentially a matter of role conflict within the individual. Sheehan is in charge of the speech clinic at the University of California at Los Angeles.

Stuttering typically starts at the age at which the youngster is just beginning to define his role in the groups of which he is a part, Sheehan pointed out. The fact that boys tend to be pushed earlier than girls into roles for which they may not be ready may account for the larger number of stutters among boys, he suggested.

Meeting Closes Today

The weekend conference will close at noon today following a panel discussion on "For What is Therapy Needed." Panelists will include Drs. Eisenson, Sheehan, Williams, Oliver Bloodstein of Brooklyn College, Wendell Johnson of SUI, and James V. Frick of Pennsylvania State University. Frederic L. Darley, associate professor of speech pathology at SUI, will serve as moderator.

Committee Set To Run United Fund Campaign

The Iowa City Chamber of Commerce has taken action to get a United Fund campaign underway by setting up a committee, headed by Attorney Robert Osmondson.

The Chamber of Commerce committee was established following a survey of Chamber members in which 95 per cent expressed that they were in favor of a local, community-wide United Fund.

It is hoped that the first drive may be held this fall. However, this committee will not be responsible for conducting the campaign but will retire when a new board of directors is elected.

The Chamber committee is primarily interested in getting the campaign organized.

Other members of the Committee are Robert D. Marsden, Robert K. Sorensen, the Rev. John G. Craig, Robert Ettinger and James R. Jordan.

Speech Meet Ends Today

The fact that both perseveration and stutering are relatively higher in about the same degree in men than in women seems another indication that this neural lag is the basis of many stutters' problem, the Queens professor said.

Joseph G. Sheehan told the conference that stuttering seems essentially a matter of role conflict within the individual. Sheehan is in charge of the speech clinic at the University of California at Los Angeles.

Stuttering typically starts at the age at which the youngster is just beginning to define his role in the groups of which he is a part, Sheehan pointed out. The fact that boys tend to be pushed earlier than girls into roles for which they may not be ready may account for the larger number of stutters among boys, he suggested.

Meeting Closes Today

The weekend conference will close at noon today following a panel discussion on "For What is Therapy Needed." Panelists will include Drs. Eisenson, Sheehan, Williams, Oliver Bloodstein of Brooklyn College, Wendell Johnson of SUI, and James V. Frick of Pennsylvania State University. Frederic L. Darley, associate professor of speech pathology at SUI, will serve as moderator.

Government Documents, Records Filed in Library

What was the direct testimony Sherman Adams gave to a House investigating committee? What are the Federal specifications on manufacturing an airplane?

These questions and many more can be answered in the Government Documents Department in the SUI Library.

The department receives material from state, national and foreign Governments, along with publications from international agencies, such as the United Nations.

Over 455,000 volumes and 50,000 maps are made available to students at SUI.

Workshop Students Visit

High school students in the Speech and Dramatic Art Summer Workshop, have visited the department all week getting material for their speeches and reports.

During the regular school year, graduate students and Communication Skills students use the department regularly. Many students, though, are unaware of the type and volume of material available in the department.

The Government Documents Department has House and Senate committee hearings that go back to the 51st Congress in 1890.

Bills and Reports

The bills and reports introduced by the last two U.S. congresses are also available.

It's Delightful

BOATING, SWIMMING AND GOLFING FEVER swept through Iowa City Friday as temperatures hit the middle 80s for the first time in two weeks. The boat dock at City Park was crowded all afternoon and early evening as nautical enthusiasts took advantage of the warm weather. Golfers at Finkbine Course reported that many SUI pro were polishing their woods on the 18-hole course, and for the first time in many days the City Swimming Pool was crowded. —Daily Iowan Photo by Robert Malone.

Probers Told Union Head Stole Funds

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate probers were told Friday that William L. Hutcheson, late president of the Carpenters Union, embezzled union property worth $250,000 and left it to his heirs.

As the charge was outlined before the special Senate Rackets Committee by Robert F. Kennedy, its counsel, Hutcheson's son Maurice sat poker-faced in the witness chair.

Refuses To Testify
Maurice Hutcheson succeeded his father as president of the union. He refused to tell the Senators whether he had used union money to "fix" a Lake County, Indiana, grand jury investigating Indiana highway scandals.

The younger Hutcheson also refused to say whether he had an arrangement with James R. Hoffa, president of the Teamsters Union, under which Hoffa was to have made himself useful to him in return for Hutcheson's support "on the question of his (Hoffa's) being ousted from the AFL-CIO."

This was the closest the committee came to asking Hutcheson about allegations by Kennedy that Hutcheson and Hoffa had conspired with Max Radock, publisher of a Flushing, N.Y., labor paper, and others to fix the Lake County grand jury.

Possible Contempt
Chairman John L. McClellan (D-Ark.) told newsmen he would ask the committee to consider whether Hutcheson's attitude was in contempt of Congress.

The Lake County grand jury did not return any indictments, but another one in Indianapolis has charged Hutcheson and others with making an illegal profit of $78,000 on a $20,000 investment in lands sold to Indiana for highway rights of way.

The embezzlement accusation against the elder Hutcheson stemmed from the 1930 purchase of 50 shares of stock in the Adams Packing Co., an Auburndale, Fla., company now liquidated.

Kennedy and Harold Ranstad, a committee investigator, placed in evidence a statement that the stock was split profitably on two occasions and that the elder Hutcheson had received $5,300 in cash and an orange grove in Lakeland, Fla., worth at least $160,000 for his holdings.

Formed Company
A new company known as Adams Packing Co., Inc., was formed later, the statement said, and the Carpenters Union voted 250 shares of stock in it plus $7,000 in cash. The statement alleged that the elder Hutcheson had transferred some of the new stock to himself and that it now has a book value of $92,000.

The Senate group's inquiry into Max Radock's activities and the Carpenters Union have halted temporarily. Hoffa is expected to be interrogated later.

McClellan said the hearings had shown that Radock had perpetrated a $185,000 fraud against the union in a book publishing deal. He said Hutcheson and other union officers must bear some of responsibility for the fraud.

McClellan further said the testimony indicates that certain high officials of both the Teamsters and Carpenters Unions, with the assistance of Radock, were involved in a conspiracy to subvert justice in Indiana.

'Snark' Guided Missile Fired By Military Troops for First Time

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—A Snark guided missile, the nation's only weapon to travel intercontinental range, passed a big hurdle in its test program Friday when it was fired for the first time by military troops.

The 69-foot missile, expected to become operational by 1959, streaked aloft with a blast of orange flame on what reportedly was a 5,000-mile trip over the Atlantic test range.

The highly advanced Northrop weapon was fired by troops of the 556th Missile Squadron of the Strategic Air Command. The unit had been training for this particular job for months.

The objective of the test was to evaluate the capabilities of the unit as well as the missile.

The results of the test would not be known for some 24 hours, the Air Force said. It takes a Snark 10 hours to complete an intercontinental trip.

LeMay Goes to Belgium To Represent U.S. at Air Show

The tests are part of the Hardtack nuclear weapons tests series now under way at the Eniwetok proving grounds.

3 Men Kidnap, Rob Polish Diplomat in Washington

WASHINGTON (AP)—Police reported Friday that three men kidnaped and robbed a Polish diplomat and later dumped him into Rock Creek.

Police Capt. Nunzio Bonaccors said Marian Dobralski, 35, first secretary of the Polish Embassy, was seized early Friday morning, blindfolded and taken on a wild ride through city streets.

Dobralski reported he was robbed of $25, his watch and a belt before the trio stopped in Rock Creek Park, attacked him, and tossed him into the creek.

Capt. Bonaccors said the watch and belt were found in a car used by three men who had been arrested in connection with another robbery.

Police identified the three held for investigation of Dobralski's complaint as Jacob L. Watts, 24, of Washington; James C. Coale, 19, of Mount Tanier, Md.; and Bernard W. Anthony, 18, of Washington.

ELECTRICAL LOAN

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Rural Electrification Administration announced Friday it has granted a $4,967,000 loan to the Corn Belt Co-operative at Humboldt, Iowa, to expand and improve its rural power system.

ALERT ARREST

DES MOINES (AP)—Paul R. Davis, 38, Des Moines, was arrested and charged with forgery because of the alertness of a grocery store cashier, police related Friday.

The story goes like this: Davis attempted to pass a check for $60 on the account of a grocery company. The store cashier, Mrs. Ida Winnick, noted two irregularities. The company was owned by her brother but it has been out of business four years. The check was drawn on a Des Moines bank which closed in 1953 and later became a part of another bank.

PARIS Artists Paint Refrigerator Interiors

PARIS (AP)—Paris' swankiest art gallery Friday put culture in the kitchen — refrigerators painted by France's top artists.

If you're one of those people who have everything — but everything — here's your chance to pay up to $30,000 for a new electric icebox.

Bernard Buffet, the current rage of art collectors and richest of the young painters, used his usual blacks, mauves, dark blues in the series of still lifes to brighten his refrigerator and then added a brilliant pink fish.

Artist-writer Jean Cocteau gave the show at the Gallerie Charpentier its philosophical tone by saying painting on refrigerators "is a victory over the negative style of emptiness."

His own contribution showed a green-haired male nude and an orange-haired female one.

The French Government through its Division of Arts and Letters, patronized the show. The refrigerators will be auctioned off for the benefit of a home for youths in moral danger and for a maternity home.

How'd Ya' Like To Crack a Safe?

DETROIT (AP)—Police said Ralph Tucci, 24, made a mistake Friday when he broke into a postoffice and then went out to the street and asked a passerby to help him crack the postoffice safe.

The pedestrian, Dennis Highland, 29, declined to help in the robbery and instead started shouting for police. A passing patrolman grabbed Tucci.

Tucci, who was free on bond awaiting sentence on a burglary conviction, was held for investigation of breaking and entering.

Unemployment Hits 1958 Low; 9th Weekly Drop

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Government reported Friday that unemployment among workers insured for jobless benefits declined to a new 1958 low during the week ended June 14.

The Labor Department Employment Security Bureau said the total declined by 113,000 to 2,704,600. It was the ninth successive weekly drop. The bureau said all but three states reported job improvement and attributed it mainly to seasonal expansion in outdoor activities.

The data is tempered by the fact a growing number of workers have exhausted eligibility to further jobless benefits; an undetermined number of them are still unemployed and not showing up in the figures.

Insured unemployment is still more than double last year's total of 1,268,700 at this time.

The largest declines in insured unemployment were reported for the June 14 week by California 22,300, Ohio 15,000, Michigan 10,600, and New York 9,300.

Initial claims for jobless benefits, indicating new job layoffs, dropped by 13,800 to 318,500 during the week ended June 21. This was the lowest number for any week since mid-November last year. The 318,500 weekly total of new claims compares with 202,600 for the same week a year ago.

Bids Opened For Burge Equipment

Bids for the completion of dining service equipment and for miscellaneous completion services of Burge Hall, new SUI women's dormitory, will be accepted until 1:30 p.m. July 15.

George L. Horner, SUI Superintendent of Planning and Construction, announced Friday that bids would be accepted at his office for the Iowa State Board of Regents.

The sealed proposals for the completion of the construction projects will be publicly opened and read July 15 at 2 p.m. in Horner's office.

Horner said the dining service completion job would involve connecting kitchen equipment to plumbing, electric, steam water and gas lines, and installing some refrigeration equipment.

The other bid would be for connecting some utility mains to SUI service lines.

T. M. Rehder, Director of SUI Dormitories and Dining Services, announced last week that students who are now applying for rooms in Burge Hall will be temporarily assigned to the Commons Dormitory because of the possibility that food service could not begin at Burge until mid-October.

Rehder said however, that construction on the new 1,289-woman dormitory is proceeding on schedule.

Congress Holds Line On Tax Cuts

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congress held the line on taxes Friday except for a reduction of $485-million a year in freight shipment levies.

The House voted 365-9 in favor of a compromise bill extending the 52 per cent tax rate on corporate incomes and the present excise taxes on automobiles, cigarettes, whisky, and beer.

The compromise was approved by the Senate Thursday and now goes to President Eisenhower for his expected signature.

It averts a drop of $2,115,000,000 a year on Federal revenue. Corporate income tax rates and excises on many semi-luxury goods were scheduled to drop July 1.

Originally the House had voted for an extension of all current taxes, but last Friday the Senate approved elimination of $710-million a year in transportation taxes. The Senate proposed to repeal the 10 per cent tax on passenger travel and the 3 per cent tax on freight, both wartime measures.

In a Senate-House conference, however, it was agreed that the repealer be held to elimination on Aug. 1 of the excise on highway, rail, air, and water shipments and a few other transportation taxes.

Farm Prices Drop Off

WASHINGTON (AP)—Farm prices ended a 6-month advance in June, dropping off about 3 1/2 per cent. New crops of some products started moving to market in volume to ease scarcities and pull down prices.

These declines reported by the Agriculture Department Friday were chiefly in vegetables, wheat, cattle and potatoes.

Officials said the lower prices are beginning to be reflected in lower retail prices, particularly for vegetables and potatoes. Late winter scarcities of these items caused by freezes had forced their prices far above normal.

The downturn came at a time when Eisenhower Administration leaders were pointing to what they said were improved economic conditions in agriculture.

The farm price level still was 5 per cent above that of a year ago. Officials voiced confidence prices would hold such a margin in the remainder of the year.

A little of the decline was offset by a decrease of one-third of 1 per cent in prices of goods and services farmers use in production and in family living. This was the first such decline since July 1957. Nevertheless, the June level of such prices was 3 per cent higher than a year earlier.

The second half of the program will include "One Kiss" from "The New Moon" by Romberg; "Down South," Myddleton; "Russian Sailor's Dance" from the "Red Poppy," Gliere; "Jazz Pizzicato," Anderson; "Men of Iowa March," Van Doren; and "Semper Fidelis March," Sousa.

Sunday's program will open with the "Rolling Thunder March" by Fillmore, and the first half of the concert will include "Raymond Overture," Thomas; "Irish Tune from County Derry," Grainger; "The Deserted Ballroom," Gould; "Iolanthe Overture," Sullivan; and "Fairiest of the Fair March" by Sousa.

YOUNKIN— On A Limb

By The Daily Iowan's Own LOU YOUNKIN

Cincinnati's Slump

One of the oddities of the 1956 National League campaign is the sudden slump in home run production by the Cincinnati Redlegs.

Two years ago the slugging Redlegs tied the major league record when they slammed 221 home runs and finished a close third behind the pennant-winning Dodgers and the Braves.

This year Birdie Tebbetts' charges have hit only 46 homers in 61 games going into Friday night's contest with San Francisco. Cincinnati is currently occupying fourth place, 4 1/2 games out of first. But they have lost 31 of their 61 games.

You might think the drop in home runs could be traced to the trades of Ted Kluszewski and Wally Post over the winter. Kluszewski, however, has hit only four round-trippers for Pittsburgh and Post has hit for the distance only twice for Philadelphia.

These three men, Kluszewski, Post and Jablonski, connected for 86 home runs in 1956, but only 11 so far this season.

Frank Robinson paced the 1956 sluggers with 38 home runs and is also pacing this year's crew. His 1956 total, however, is only eight.

George Crowe hit 10 homers in 1956 as a first baseman replacement for Kluszewski and in 1957 he topped the Redlegs with 31 circuit smashes. His total to date in 1958 is a mere five.

Jablonski hit 15 homers in 1956 before being traded. Don Hoak took over the hot corner for Tebbetts last year and surprised almost everyone when he hit 19 drives out of the park. Hoak's total in 1958 is three.

The Cincinnati outfield hit 103 home runs in 1956 with Robinson hitting 38, Post 36 and Gus Bell 29. Tebbetts' outfielders have hit 20 so far in 1958. Robinson has eight, Bell six, Jerry Lynch four, Pete Whisenant one and the now departed rookie flash, Vada Pinson one.

In the catching department, the totals have decreased from 40 homers in 1956, to 34 in 1957 and only eight so far this year. Ed Bailey drilled 28 round-trippers in 1956, 20 last year and only 5 so far in 1958. Smokey Burgess has hit 12, 14 and 3 from 1956-1958.

The Redlegs' batting average as a team went up three points from .266 in 1956 to .269 in 1957. The last average I've seen of this year's team showed them batting at only a .257 clip.

A sudden drop in the averages by a whole team is hard to explain. The slump of one or two players is common-place, but the Cincinnati hitters have all fallen off.

The manager surely isn't to blame in this case. In Tebbetts, the Cincinnati management has one of the best managers in the business. A graduate of Providence College with a degree in philosophy, Tebbetts was named manager of the year in 1956.

The big change in the Cincinnati statistics is in the standing of their pitching staff. In the hard-hitting year of 1956, the Redleg hurlers had a combined earned run average of 3.85 good for only fifth place in the senior circuit.

The last pitching averages I saw had the Cincinnati pitchers leading the league with an ERA of 3.73.

The fielding average of the Cincinnati representatives has been remarkably constant. In 1956 it was .981, 1957, .982 and so far in 1958 it is .981.

So it is only the hitting of the Redlegs that has suffered this season. And I doubt if the National League hurlers will go much longer containing the Cincinnati sluggers.

Crowe, Hoak, Temple and Lynch are either above or just under the .300 mark and one of these days I have the feeling the Redlegs are going to start ripping that long ball again.

If the Cincinnati hitters do catch up with their vastly improved pitching staff, the Redlegs will definitely be a team to look out for. With the addition of pitchers Bob Purkey from Pittsburgh and Harvey Haddix from Philadelphia, Tebbetts is finally able to give his over-worked ace Brooks Lawrence a deserved rest.

Tebbetts may have to use some of his college training in psychology, but a team like Cincinnati just doesn't figure to suddenly lie down and play dead at the plate.

All-Stars to Feature Righthanded Batters

Triandos Will Replace Yogi; Cerv for Ted

NEW YORK (AP) — Don't be surprised if New York's Bob Turley and Pittsburgh's Bob Friend — a pair of strong armed righthanders — are the starting pitchers in the 1958 All-Star Game at Baltimore July 8.

Managers Casey Stengel of the American League and Fred Haney of the National won't make their pitching staffs public until Sunday. It's a cinch, however, each skipper will stock his staff with righthanders. It happens the starting lineups of both squads, announced Friday, are predominantly righthanded. The starters must play at least three innings.

The failure of southpaw swingers Ted Williams and Yogi Berra to make the starting team leaves the Americans with only one left-handed batter besides the switch hitting Mickey Mantle. He is Chicago's Nellie Fox, who beat out Gil McDougald for second base by four votes.

Williams, who missed out only in his rookie year of 1939 discounting his service years, leads all American Leaguers with 14 All-Star selections. Berra had been named to ten straight All-Star teams. Kansas City's Bob Cerv beat out Williams for the left field post, 106 to 86. Gus Triandos, Baltimore's slugging catcher, topped Berra, as well as runner-up Sherm Lollar of Chicago.

The absence of such All-Star regulars as Red Schoendienst and Eddie Mathews leaves the National League starting squad with just two left-handed hitters, first baseman Stan Musial of St. Louis and left fielder Bob Skinner of Pittsburgh.

Musial, who will establish a mark every time he goes to bat, was named for the 15th time. He received the highest number of votes — 201 out of a possible 235 — from the players, managers and coaches participating in the poll. This is a change from the former fan vote method.

Frank Thomas, the league's leading home run and RBI man, won over Mathews for third base and Bill Mazeroski, Thomas' teammate at Pittsburgh outdistanced the field for second base. Schoendienst ran a poor fourth.

Other National League starters include Chicago's Ernie Banks at shortstop, San Francisco's Willie Mays in center field and Milwaukee's Hank Aaron in right field and Del Crandall behind the bat.

The American League starters, besides Cerv, Triandos, Mantle and Fox, are New York's Bill Skowron, first base; Boston's Frank Malzone, third base; Chicago's Luis Aparicio, shortstop; and Boston's Jackie Jensen, right field. Malzone, with 186 votes, was the leading vote-getter of the squad.

Under the rules, all 16 clubs must be represented on the All-Star squad. That's up to Stengel and Haney, who will announce the rest of the squad, including pitchers, Sunday.

The American League, a 6-5 winner in St. Louis last year, leads the over-all series which began in 1933, 14 to 10. There was no game in 1945.

Pierce Loses Bid For Perfect Game in 9th

CHICAGO (AP) — Veteran left-hander Billy Pierce pitched 8 2/3 innings of perfect ball Friday night and lost his bid for a pitching masterpiece when pinch hitter Ed Fitz Gerald doubled to right field as the Chicago White Sox defeated Washington 3-0.

Fitz Gerald belted Pierce's first rate 3-1 Friday night as they handed the Pirates their seventh straight defeat behind the fine pitching of Moe Drabowsky, who is being married here today to airline stewardess Elizabeth Johns.

Drabowsky yielded only three hits over the first eight innings, but he was tapped for singles by Ted Kluszewski and Roberto Clemente in the ninth with only one out. Bill Henry came on in relief and forced Bill Virdon to line into a double play to end the threat.

CINCINNATI (AP) — Second baseman Johnny Temple whacked a triple in the ninth inning Friday night good for two runs and a 6-5 Cincinnati Redleg victory over San Francisco's Giants. Jerry Lynch swatted a homer for the victors.

An error by Giant second baseman Ed Broussard helped set up the Redleg winning rally, allowing Gus Bell to reach first safely. Pinch hitter Walt Dropo drew a walk from reliefer Marv Grissom and then came Temple's big hit.

The Tribe bunched four runs off loser Billy O'Dell in the third inning when Bob Avila homered after Ray Narleski singled and Colavito smashed his 12th home run of the year with Vic Power on via a triple.

Colavito's double, sandwiched between singles by Power and J. W. Porter, who replaced Russ Nixon as catcher in the sixth, produced the tying and winning runs.

Tommy Bolt Violates PGA Code, Fined

EAST NORWICH, N.Y. (AP) — Tommy Bolt, who recently got golf religion, Friday was fined $500 by the Professional Golf Assn. for violation of its code of ethics.

Bolt, the self-announced reformed club thrower who only two weeks ago won the National Open, picked up after playing nine holes Friday in the Long Island Open. He said he was ill and could not be reached for comment on the action by the PGA.

He threw two clubs during Friday's nine holes and took seven jabbing putts on his final hole.

Harvey Raynor, supervisor of the pro tour, announced the fine after Bolt left the course but said it had nothing to do with Friday's action by Bolt.

On Tuesday, Bolt's conduct before and after a benefit tournament at the Piping Rock Club was criticized by Frank X. Shields, the former tennis player who is directing the Long Island Open at the Pine Hollow Course.

It was claimed Bolt used abusive language to Shields who met him at the airport. Bolt reluctantly started play in the one-day charity event at Piping Rock but quit after nine holes. He said he was not feeling well.

Bolt has a long history of misconduct on the golf course. But two months ago, Bolt said he read a book by Bishop Fulton Sheen and since has fulfilled a card given to him by a friend. The card carries an inspiration religious prayer designed to forestall outbursts of temper.

It worked wonders for Tommy in the recent National Open. But Friday, the jut-jawed, tough-talking 39-year-old was in trouble again and it was not known if he would appear at Akron, Ohio, next week, the next stop on the pro tour.

Weather Halts Wimbledon As MacKay Trails

WIMBLEDON, England (AP) — Rain, wind, cold and darkness at noon wrecked the Wimbledon program Friday and caught American's Barry MacKay midway through the battle of his young life.

MacKay and Australia's Bob Mark—who beat MacKay the last time they met—were head-to-head in a fierce center court match. The score was 6-4 for the 21-year-old Aussie in the first set and count was 8-8 in the second when the weather did the impossible and got worse.

"I'll beat him tomorrow," said the 22-year-old Dayton, Ohio star when Wimbledon officials ruled that conditions were too bad to continue.

"The blister on my hand is better—much better," said the 6-4 MacKay. "It's hard now. I fell and slipped around a lot out there but it didn't hurt me."

Barry is seeded eighth. He is the only real hope Uncle Sam has for a victory in the men's single of this 72nd Wimbledon Championships.

There are three other Yank males left and two of them started battling against each other Friday.

Gardnar Mulloy, 44, of Coral Gables, Fla., had a slight lead over his young neighbor, Mike Green, 22, of Miami Beach. The veteran was ahead, 2-6, 6-4, 2-1, when the rains came. Mulloy played the second set in his bare feet on the soggy, slippery grass court.

Budge Patty, the 1950 Wimbledon champion from Los Angeles and Paris, was leading bearded Torben Ulrich of Denmark, 4-6, 7-5, 6-1, 0-1, when play was called off for the day.

Four American women, headed by defending champion Althea Gibson, still are in the running for the women's singles title. Althea and Mimi Arnold of Redwood City, Calif., are in the fourth round.

Mrs. Margaret DuPont of Wilmington, Del., and Karol Fageros of Miami, had hoped to reach that frame Friday. They'll try again Saturday, weather permitting.

Redbirds Fly High, Skipper Talks Pennant

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Fred Hutchinson, the normally stoical, tight-lipped manager of the St. Louis Cardinals, is beginning to talk of a pennant for his hot ball club.

"With a little bit of luck, we can win the pennant," Hutch said after the Red Birds made it six straight and 8 of 10 on an eastern trip by beating Pittsburgh.

It was perhaps the biggest sign of a change in the skipper's attitude.

Fred Hutchinson Says Cards Can Win

gle victory in the Cardinals drive because of a strong pitching job by Lindy McDaniel, who hadn't won a game in a month. A 15-game winner last year, McDaniel must come through if the light-hitting Red Birds are to win it all.

"I think McDaniel can do it and so does Al Hollingsworth, Card pitching coach," Hutchinson said. "And with just a little more thump, I'd say we had a good chance to win the pennant, not just a chance."

The Cardinal pitching staff has allowed only 11 runs in the 6-game streak and five of these came in one game. Larry Jackson, too valuable in relief now to be used as a starter, has pitched 12 straight scoreless innings since his return to the bull pen.

Despite a horrible start in which they lost 14 of their first 17 games

Crocker's 68 Sets New Open Mark

DETROIT (AP) — Fay Crocker of Montevideo, Uruguay, established a record for U.S. Women's Open play Friday, but her five-under par 68 failed to dislodge young Mickey Wright from the lead.

Miss Crocker, 43-year-old winner of the 1955 Open, burned up the Forest Lake Country Club course with a 35-33-68 despite a faltering start in which she bogged two of the first five holes.

The best previous single-round scoring in the Women's Open was 71. Both Miss Crocker and amateur Barbara McIntire of Jupiter, Fla., fired 71s in the 1956 classic; Patty Berg did it twice in the 1953 and 1955 Opens, and the late Babe Zaharias shot a 71 in the 1954 U.S. Open.

Miss Wright, protecting a one stroke lead after the first 18 holes, fired a steady 72 in the second round and her 146 total at the halfway point was a stroke better than Miss Crocker's.

Louise Suggs, twice a winner and twice runnerup, in this the biggest of the ladies' tournaments, stayed in a threatening position three strokes off the pace with a 74 that gave her a 36-hole total of 149.

The Cardinals now are only a game and a half behind Milwaukee.

Hutch said he regards the outfield as the biggest improvement. He praised rookie center fielder Curtis Flood and strong-armed Gene Green, another rookie, in right.

Hutch didn't say it, but one of the most encouraging factors to St. Louis fans has been the ability to win in recent weeks without much help from Stan Musial. The seven-time batting champ has just emerged from a long slump which has dragged his once sky-high batting average down to .358. Musial hit .529 during the club's nightmarish first 17 games.

Gordon Arrives In Cleveland, Eager To Start New Job

CLEVELAND (AP) — Joe Gordon made a flying trip here Friday to take over the helm of the struggling Cleveland Indians and immediately went into conference with General Manager Frank Lane.

The balding, 43-year-old Gordon, so eager at his first chance to manage a major league club he still has not talked contract terms, said he would have to confer with Lane and his coaches before making plans for the team.

The general reaction to the hiring of Gordon appeared favorable. Many fans remember him as the star second baseman on the Indian squad that won the world championship in 1948.

No one, of course, expects Gordon, replacing Bobby Bragan who was fired Thursday, to pull the Tribe up from sixth place to championship contention.

The new field manager had been selling insurance in Sacramento, Calif., since he left baseball after piloting San Francisco to a Pacific Coast League pennant last year.

He said he had turned down coaching offers from other major league clubs.
