U.S., Canada Talk Joint Defense

5 Rooms Added to Jr. High Plan

Khruschev: Russia Victory Without War

Airmen Tell Story of MIG Attack

Goldfine Warned 'Get Set for Fight'

Cubans Free American, 33 Still Held

There is a special new column in the back of the book. This new column is about the Soviet Union. It is called 'Khruschev: Russia Victory Without War.'

Ike, Diefenbaker May Set Cabinet-Level Committee

Symphony Concert Tonight

Car Stolen

Work Progresses

CONSTRUCTION ADVANCED THIS week on the SIOUX CITY, IOWA, project. Members of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers (IBEW) had begun work on the project, which is expected to be completed in two years. The project involves the construction of a new high school building.

President Eisenhower flew to the Canadian capital Monday to meet with Diefenbaker on a wide range of difficult issues on the continent. The meeting took place in Ottawa, which was chosen because it offered an opportunity to work without the distractions of New York.

Event: Freedom of the Press

The Supreme Court has ruled in favor of the press in the case of New York Times vs. United States. The Court ruled that the government cannot restrict the press from publishing information that is of public interest.

The ruling is significant because it upholds the principles of freedom of the press and the right to know. It is a victory for journalists and media organizations around the world.

The case involved the publication of secret documents related to the Vietnam War. The government had sought to prevent the press from publishing the documents, arguing that they contained classified information.

The Supreme Court overturned a lower court decision that had ruled in favor of the government. The Court's decision is expected to have far-reaching implications for freedom of the press and the right to know.

Weather

Bill, who was worried about the weather, checked the forecast. It was a warm and sunny day, perfect for a day out.

President Eisenhower traveled to Canada for meetings with Canadian Prime Minister Diefenbaker. The meetings covered a wide range of topics, including defense, trade, and international relations.

Ike, Diefenbaker May Set Cabinet-Level Committee

Event: Freedom of the Press
From Our Exchange Papers

Is Hawaii Next?

The decision to add Alaska to the United States opens the questions of statehood for Hawaii. Statehood for Hawaii has been almost a permanent topic in newspapers for Alaska. Many, including George L. Hensley, a newpaper publisher in Anchorage, have been openly supporting statehood for Alaska and have felt that Hawaii should also be added first.

The battle for admission of Hawaii has now reached a great deal of battle for Alaska. First we passed our bill, only to have it dashed in the lower house.

Compromise in both houses of the state legislature has been talked about as a solution to this problem. When the bill to admit the state of Hawaii last year, the question of statehood for the islands had been brought forward by the people of Hawaii. Now we see that many people in Hawaii are ready to put the bill to a vote, and the bill may be passed in the lower house.

Editorial Comment—

Canadian officials now report that the United States will make a reappraisal of Canada—preferably without Mr. Dumas. It is the only way to maintain the current state of relations between the two nations. The United States has made efforts to promote Canadian industrial interests, but we must also understand that the United States is a country with its own problems to solve.

One Simple Rule Needed

Sherman Adams could have saved himself a lot of trouble if he had been a bit more reasonable. When Mr. Dumas visited Alaska, he said he would like to see the bill going to statehood for Hawaii. Whether this will happen or not is yet to be seen.

Canadian Officials

Officials in Canada are pleased with the United States' decision to consider Canadian interests. They believe that the United States will make a reappraisal of Canada and that the United States will not make a decision without considering the interests of the United States.

Exporting Graduates

When facts are published as recently appeared concerning the 56 medical schools of the United States, it poses a problem for some critics. It has been said that many young people who became medical students were forced to go to medical school because they did not have the financial means to support themselves. These critics argue that the United States should ensure that all students have the opportunity to study medicine and should not force them to take on a large debt in order to do so.

Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals

The Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals has published a report on the treatment of animals in laboratories. The report states that many animals are subjected to cruel and inhumane treatment in laboratories, and that the society will continue to monitor the situation and will take action to prevent such treatment.

University Edition Edition To Go To Each Paper in State

Full freshmen will get their first taste of the University by attending the University's traditional orientation activities. The activities will be held on August 25, 1958, and will include a series of events to introduce the new students to the University's life.

U.S. News & World Report

U.S. News & World Report will publish a special issue on the University on August 25, 1958. The issue will include articles on the University's history, past and present. It will also feature interviews with University faculty and administrators, and will provide readers with an overview of the University's future.

Prop State State

U.S. News & World Report will also publish a special report on the University's future, including a discussion of the University's plans for expansion and development.

Unit Reorganization

The University's reorganization committee has released a report on the University's current state and future plans. The report states that the University is in good shape, but that it needs to be more efficient and effective in order to meet the needs of its students and the community.

Music Graduates To Present 3 Recitals

Three U.S. students will present a series of recitals in the United States, including two in Nebraska and one in Iowa. These students are recent graduates of the University and have been selected for their outstanding musical abilities.

Robert F. Becker

Robert F. Becker will make a presentation on the University's educational programs, including its music programs. Becker is a well-known music educator and has been associated with the University for many years.

Special Transportation Needed for Iowa Bridge

The Special Transportation Needs for Iowa Bridge will be presented at the Iowa University on September 10, 1958. The event will feature a panel discussion on the needs for special transportation in Iowa, including the need for a new bridge.

The Daily Iowan | Page 3

Happy Fiscal New Year Uncle!

WEDNESDAY, JULY 7, 1958

Iowa City, Iowa

Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals

The Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals has released a report on the treatment of animals in laboratories. The report states that many animals are subjected to cruel and inhumane treatment in laboratories, and that the society will continue to monitor the situation and will take action to prevent such treatment.

University Edition Edition To Go To Each Paper in State

Full freshmen will get their first taste of the University by attending the University's traditional orientation activities. The activities will be held on August 25, 1958, and will include a series of events to introduce the new students to the University's life.

U.S. News & World Report

U.S. News & World Report will publish a special issue on the University on August 25, 1958. The issue will include articles on the University's history, past and present. It will also feature interviews with University faculty and administrators, and will provide readers with an overview of the University's future.

Prop State State

U.S. News & World Report will also publish a special report on the University's future, including a discussion of the University's plans for expansion and development.

Unit Reorganization

The University's reorganization committee has released a report on the University's current state and future plans. The report states that the University is in good shape, but that it needs to be more efficient and effective in order to meet the needs of its students and the community.

Music Graduates To Present 3 Recitals

Three U.S. students will present a series of recitals in the United States, including two in Nebraska and one in Iowa. These students are recent graduates of the University and have been selected for their outstanding musical abilities.

Robert F. Becker

Robert F. Becker will make a presentation on the University's educational programs, including its music programs. Becker is a well-known music educator and has been associated with the University for many years.

Special Transportation Needed for Iowa Bridge

The Special Transportation Needs for Iowa Bridge will be presented at the Iowa University on September 10, 1958. The event will feature a panel discussion on the needs for special transportation in Iowa, including the need for a new bridge.
Proposal Would Increase State Department's Power

WASHINGTON — The Eisenhower Administration proposed today to make the Secretary of State a member of the President's cabinet.

Citing the need for coordination in foreign policy, the White House said this would bring the Secretary of State on par with other key Cabinet officers. The proposal, which is expected to be introduced in Congress in the next session, has been under consideration for several months, according to administration sources.

Secretary of State Dulles called the move "an example of the need for an orderly passage at a mature stage of national planning."

The proposal was designed to give the Secretary of State greater authority over foreign policy. Dulles has long been critical of what he sees as the fragmented nature of U.S. foreign policy, and his proposal is seen as a response to growing international pressures.

Unit Reduction Announced for National Guard

WASHINGTON — The Army announced today that it plans to cut back the size of the National Guard by about 20 percent, in response to budget constraints.

The reduction, which is part of a broader effort to streamline the military, will result in a reduction of about 70,000 Guard members across the country. The Guard will continue to play a vital role in national defense, according to Army officials.

 Guild Accepts Pact Ending 38-Day Strike

PHILADELPHIA — Members of the American Newspaper Guild voted today to accept a new three-year contract covering the Philadelphia Daily News, ending a strike that lasted nearly two months.

The contract includes a pay raise, improved overtime pay, and better health care benefits for the 1,500 workers involved in the strike. The guild said the agreement was a significant victory for its members.

Eldora Chaplin Quits Disputes With School Policy

ELDORA — The president of a University of Iowa student council was ousted from her position after she refused to follow a new policy on student representation.

Chaplin said she was upset by the policy, which required student representatives to be enrolled in at least two courses. She had previously served on the council for six years and had been involved in a number of campus issues.

Rescuers Recover Body from Canyon

ANTONIO, GA. — The body of a University of North Carolina student was recovered from the mouth of a canyon on Tuesday morning, according to local authorities.

The student, 21-year-old John Smith, had been reported missing by his parents the day before. An extensive search was conducted using teams of rescue workers and helicopters.

Low Flying Pilot Charged With Reckless Flying

A low flying pilot was charged today with reckless flying after a near-collision with a commercial airliner. The pilot, 35-year-old John Doe, was operating a small private plane near a major airport when the incident occurred.

The Federal Aviation Administration said the pilot was flying too close to the commercial jet, putting both aircraft at risk of collision. The pilot was ticketed for dangerous flying practices.

Narcotics Charge Sworn Against Vito Genovese

NEW YORK — A narcotics charge was sworn against Vito Genovese, the reputed New York City gangster, in connection with a major drug trafficking operation.

Genovese is accused of running a nationwide network that supplies illegal drugs to various cities, including Chicago and Los Angeles. The operation is believed to be involved in the heroin trade.

VANDALISM REPORTED

One vandalism case was reported in the area, which involved the destruction of property on a residential street. The police are investigating the incident.

Young's Studio

The Young's Studio is a photography studio located in the downtown area. They specialize in portrait photography and offer services such as family portraits and senior portraits.

Classified Advertising Rates

Word Ad

One Day $5.00
Three Days $10.00
Five Days $15.00
One Month $20.00

For all inquiries please contact the Classified Department at 555-1234.
Baltimore Orioles in Game 25 of the World Series, shutout the Los Angeles Dodgers, 8-0.

American Uses Bench Strength—

American Dressing Room—

American Dressing Room—

Pittsburgh's Ralph Kiner, a former National League star, returns to the American League after a year as a major league umpire. Kiner, a 37-year-old outfielder, is expected to make his debut in the Pirates' lineup against the St. Louis Cardinals at Forbes Field tonight.

Bananas—

The Baltimore Orioles were held scoreless for the first six innings of their game against the Los Angeles Dodgers at Memorial Stadium last night. The two teams play the final game of the World Series today at 2:30 p.m.

BENEDICT—

Frank Malzone, who had been a replacement at third base in the fall, was a third baseman in the post-season and was moved to first base by manager Fred Haney in the first game of the World Series. Malzone played third base in the second game.

Bengals—

The Baltimore Orioles were held scoreless for the first six innings of their game against the Los Angeles Dodgers at Memorial Stadium last night. The two teams play the final game of the World Series today at 2:30 p.m.

BENGALS—

Frank Malzone, who had been a replacement at third base in the fall, was a third baseman in the post-season and was moved to first base by manager Fred Haney in the first game of the World Series. Malzone played third base in the second game.

Bank—

The Baltimore Orioles were held scoreless for the first six innings of their game against the Los Angeles Dodgers at Memorial Stadium last night. The two teams play the final game of the World Series today at 2:30 p.m.

Bennnett—

Frank Malzone, who had been a replacement at third base in the fall, was a third baseman in the post-season and was moved to first base by manager Fred Haney in the first game of the World Series. Malzone played third base in the second game.

Bermuda—

The Baltimore Orioles were held scoreless for the first six innings of their game against the Los Angeles Dodgers at Memorial Stadium last night. The two teams play the final game of the World Series today at 2:30 p.m.

Bernays—

Frank Malzone, who had been a replacement at third base in the fall, was a third baseman in the post-season and was moved to first base by manager Fred Haney in the first game of the World Series. Malzone played third base in the second game.

Beverly—

The Baltimore Orioles were held scoreless for the first six innings of their game against the Los Angeles Dodgers at Memorial Stadium last night. The two teams play the final game of the World Series today at 2:30 p.m.

Beverly—

Frank Malzone, who had been a replacement at third base in the fall, was a third baseman in the post-season and was moved to first base by manager Fred Haney in the first game of the World Series. Malzone played third base in the second game.

Beverly—

The Baltimore Orioles were held scoreless for the first six innings of their game against the Los Angeles Dodgers at Memorial Stadium last night. The two teams play the final game of the World Series today at 2:30 p.m.

Bevel—

Frank Malzone, who had been a replacement at third base in the fall, was a third baseman in the post-season and was moved to first base by manager Fred Haney in the first game of the World Series. Malzone played third base in the second game.

Bevel—

Frank Malzone, who had been a replacement at third base in the fall, was a third baseman in the post-season and was moved to first base by manager Fred Haney in the first game of the World Series. Malzone played third base in the second game.

Beverly—

Frank Malzone, who had been a replacement at third base in the fall, was a third baseman in the post-season and was moved to first base by manager Fred Haney in the first game of the World Series. Malzone played third base in the second game.

Beverly—

The Baltimore Orioles were held scoreless for the first six innings of their game against the Los Angeles Dodgers at Memorial Stadium last night. The two teams play the final game of the World Series today at 2:30 p.m.

Bevel—

Frank Malzone, who had been a replacement at third base in the fall, was a third baseman in the post-season and was moved to first base by manager Fred Haney in the first game of the World Series. Malzone played third base in the second game.

Beverly—

Frank Malzone, who had been a replacement at third base in the fall, was a third baseman in the post-season and was moved to first base by manager Fred Haney in the first game of the World Series. Malzone played third base in the second game.

Beverly—

The Baltimore Orioles were held scoreless for the first six innings of their game against the Los Angeles Dodgers at Memorial Stadium last night. The two teams play the final game of the World Series today at 2:30 p.m.

Beverly—

Frank Malzone, who had been a replacement at third base in the fall, was a third baseman in the post-season and was moved to first base by manager Fred Haney in the first game of the World Series. Malzone played third base in the second game.

Beverly—

Frank Malzone, who had been a replacement at third base in the fall, was a third baseman in the post-season and was moved to first base by manager Fred Haney in the first game of the World Series. Malzone played third base in the second game.

Beverly—

Frank Malzone, who had been a replacement at third base in the fall, was a third baseman in the post-season and was moved to first base by manager Fred Haney in the first game of the World Series. Malzone played third base in the second game.

Beverly—

Frank Malzone, who had been a replacement at third base in the fall, was a third baseman in the post-season and was moved to first base by manager Fred Haney in the first game of the World Series. Malzone played third base in the second game.

Beverly—

Frank Malzone, who had been a replacement at third base in the fall, was a third baseman in the post-season and was moved to first base by manager Fred Haney in the first game of the World Series. Malzone played third base in the second game.

Beverly—

Frank Malzone, who had been a replacement at third base in the fall, was a third baseman in the post-season and was moved to first base by manager Fred Haney in the first game of the World Series. Malzone played third base in the second game.