$500 Silver Pitcher Reported Missing

A handwrought sterling silver pitcher, valued at $500 by the owner, was reported missing Friday night from an SUI art department studio.

David W. Jones, graduate assistant in the SUI Department of Art, told police the pitcher was taken from an office in the metal works studio of the Art Department sometime in the last week.

The pitcher was fashioned and is owned by Raoul A. Delmare, associate professor of art, who shares his office with Jones.

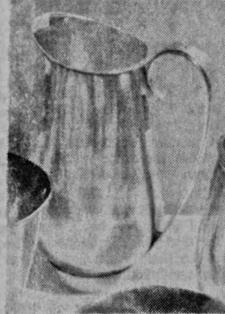

Jones said he first noticed the pitcher missing last Friday, but thought Delmare had taken it. He notified police immediately when Delmare told him Friday night that he did not have the pitcher.

Jones said that he had been showing the pitcher to some students, and that it was on a desk in the office with some other pieces of silver. A bowl containing approximately $25 of money students had paid for silver stock, as well as the other objects of art were not taken.

Jones said the thief must have had good taste.

The actual sale value of the pitcher would be about $250, but Delmare values it at $500 because of the circumstances under which it was made, Jones said.

The pitcher is 6- to 8-inches tall and has Delmare's script "R" engraved on the bottom, along with the stamped words, "Handwrought Sterling."

Gov't Finds No Trace Of Robert Alcock

The State Department said Friday night it had found no trace of a former Iowa Citian, Robert Alcock, or two other Americans reported beaten to death by a mob in Iraq during the recent revolt.

The other two men were Eugene Burns of Sausalito, Calif., and George Colley of San Francisco. Alcock was making his home in Aladena, Calif. He is the son of Mrs. N. G. Alcock of Iowa City, whose late husband was head of the urology department at University Hospitals.

The Associated Press reported a State Department spokesman said there was still no definite word on the fate of the three. An intensive effort to find their bodies is being made, he said.

A mob of about 50 Iraqi civilians attacked the Americans, and several other foreigners. The body of a German citizen was found.

L. J. Killian, a vice president of the Bechtel Co., of San Francisco, who has been in the Middle East many years, narrowly escaped being seized. He searched all hospitals and morgues in Baghdad after the mob incident. Killian has expressed belief the three Americans were buried in a common grave with about 15 Iraqi victims of the revolution.

McElroy Rapped By Sen. Johnson

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate's majority leader said Friday that if Rome had been built at the pace the U.S. Defense Department is moving the streets would still be unpaved.

"Where are the missiles, where are the satellites, and where are the other devices?" Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex.), demanded of Secretary of Defense Neil McElroy at a Senate meeting.

The session was held behind closed doors so that McElroy and his aides could describe a number of secret military projects they said would demonstrate that the nation's defense buildup is moving ahead.

"The examples definitely represent progress, much of which is substantial," Johnson reported after the two-hour hearing before his Senate Preparedness subcommittee.

"But if Rome had been built at the same rate of speed, the streets would still be unpaved."

"The secretary and his people are doing a good job. They have strengthened the defenses of the country and no one can question their dedication."

"But I believe the committee would have a greater sense of comfort if it felt there was a greater desire not just to improve our defenses, but just to catch up with the Russians, but to produce a preparedness program second to none."

"The plans are excellent. But plans are no substitute for military hardware and trained men."

To this mixture of praise and rather extravagant criticism, defense officials had no immediate reply.

Johnson said he remained unconvinced that the Defense Department is working with the "grim sense of urgency" required by the times.

It was McElroy's second appearance before the subcommittee in two days.

Eisenhower Stalls, Suggests Aug. 11 For Summit Talks

By JOHN SCALI

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower served notice on Nikita Khrushchev Friday the United States does not intend to be forced into the role of defendant at any emergency summit conference.

He also told the Soviet Premier the United Nations Security Council must set the ground rules for any summit talks if the council agrees the Middle East crisis justifies such meetings now.

Mr. Eisenhower in effect alerted Khrushchev to be prepared to face Western denunciations of Russia's threats to small nations if he shows up in New York for the emergency Security Council meeting Khrushchev has been demanding.

Mr. Eisenhower made clear this strategy in a letter which stressed that the permanent council delegates in New York should decide whether such a parley is generally desired and, if so, fix the date and makeup of the meeting.

If Khrushchev agrees to this procedure, the White House said, Mr. Eisenhower stands ready to attend the heads-of-government meeting.

"The date of July 28 is too early for us," Mr. Eisenhower said.

U.S. authorities said Aug. 11, a little more than two weeks hence, seemed to be a more acceptable time provided the British and French agree.

British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan and French Premier Charles de Gaulle would be the other top participants with President Eisenhower and Khrushchev, although De Gaulle has said he doesn't like the idea of coming to New York for such talks.

At U.N. headquarters in New York, Western sources said the Security Council probably will be called into session early next week to work out arrangements for summit talks.

What would Khrushchev say to Mr. Eisenhower's stipulation that the talks must be held within the established rules of the U.N. Security Council and the U.N. Charter?

"I'll have to ask him," Soviet Ambassador Mikhail Menshikov told newsmen with a shrug. Menshikov had just accepted the White House letter from Secretary of State Dulles.

Western sources at the U.N. said they had been given a definite impression Moscow would go along with the Western terms on arrangements.

In his 700-word letter, Mr. Eisenhower served notice that the United States won't stand for a mere pro and con discussion of Khrushchev's charge that the United States and Britain committed war-breeding aggression by sending troops into Lebanon and Jordan.

Broaden Debate

Instead, he said, this country will insist on broadening the debate to include Western accusations that the real cause of the Mideast crisis is a Soviet-backed drive to topple independent governments in the area.

The Eisenhower message seemed deliberately aimed at cautioning Khrushchev to anticipate public denunciations of Russia's actions toward Hungary, the Baltic countries and Soviet European satellites.

Mr. Eisenhower also hinted he might accuse the Soviets of the "fomenting of civil strife" by its action in shipping huge quantities of weapons to Egypt, Syria, Yemen and other Mideast countries. He reminded Khrushchev that the U.N. General Assembly has condemned such subversive activities as "the gravest of all crimes."

Officials speculated that the prospect of a broad debate touching on such matters as Hungary, the satellites and the Baltic nations Russia grabbed in 1939 might cause Khrushchev to have second thoughts about the desirability of a meeting. Soviet leaders have been acutely sensitive to attacks on these issues.

The main purpose of Mr. Eisenhower's letter appeared to be to give him room for maneuver to strike back at Khrushchev's anticipated barrage of criticism of U.S. - British troop landings in the Middle East.

Mr. Eisenhower made clear he envisions no extensive backroom talks with Khrushchev to seek to settle such thorny problems as disarmament, German unity and East-West nonaggression pacts.

Closed Door Meetings

Khrushchev had laid great stress in his message to Mr. Eisenhower Wednesday on what he called "joint consultative talks in an unofficial manner" among summit leaders, outside the Security Council chamber.

Mr. Eisenhower made no mention whatever of such informal, closed door meetings, even though Britain's Macmillan has stressed such opportunities would be part of the New York meeting.

Mr. Eisenhower's answer also pointedly failed to agree with Macmillan's proposal — one which Khrushchev quickly accepted — that the emergency Council meeting discuss and not vote on the problems that come before it.

Young Love Wins and—

All's Well That Ends Well

LONDON (AP) — Dominic Elwes won forgiveness from his mother-in-law and mercy from a judge Friday for marrying under-age heiress Tessa Kennedy twice in defiance of a court order.

His mother-in-law, Mrs. Daska McLean, joined Elwes in appealing for his release from prison, where he has spent the last 10 days for contempt of court.

And Justice Sir Ronald Roxburgh said he would restore the penniless 26-year-old son of international painter Simon Elwes to his bride shortly, perhaps within a week.

The triumph of young love over the letter of the law came at a hearing on Elwes' formal petition for release.

"I cannot honestly say I regret having married, because I am married to someone I love deeply,"

he said in a letter read by his lawyer. "I very much regret that the circumstances of our marriage should have involved contempt of court."

Faced by opposition of her wealthy parents to their wedding, Dominic and Tessa fled from England to Scotland last November. Her parents countered with legal orders making her a ward of the London court and ordering both to return to its jurisdiction.

Instead, the pair hid off to Cuba where they were married Jan. 27. Later they went on to New York and on April 1 were married a second time, just to make sure the knot was firmly tied.

Young Elwes was popped into prison upon their return from America July 15.

His mother-in-law said Friday she was convinced her daughter, now 19, was truly in love with Elwes.

Rebels Battle Civilians In 3-Hour Clash

No Americans Involved in Outbreak

By EDWIN SHANKE

BEIRUT (AP) — Lebanese rebels and pro-Government civilians clashed in a sharp, 3-hour fight in Beirut Friday because a taxi failed to halt on a rebel command.

The fighting occurred in a section remote from the positions of American troops. They reported everything quiet in the areas where they are stationed.

On the political front, a rebel leader dealt a stiff blow to rising hopes that peace might return to this troubled little Mideast nation next week. Saeb Salam declared the rebels will not permit parliament to name a new president Thursday as scheduled.

The shooting involving the taxi broke out near the rebel-held Basta area after 20 armed rebels ordered the vehicle carrying a woman and child to stop. The driver kept going and the rebels opened fire. The pro-Government civilians led by Hanna Yazbeck returned the shots.

Cab Passengers Dead
The woman and child in the cab and a young man bystander were killed. Two of Yazbeck's followers were wounded. Rebel casualties were unknown.

It was the second day of skirmishing in Beirut and in the port city of Tripoli.

Yazbeck said four of his men were killed Thursday and another was wounded. The Government said three rebels were killed and seven wounded Thursday in Tripoli.

American military commanders, meanwhile, held a formal briefing at the U.S. Embassy. They said there now are 4,000 Army troops and 6,300 Marines ashore in Lebanon.

The political setback came as Salam declared his forces will not permit parliament to name a president as long as pro-Western President Camille Chamoun is in power and foreign troops remain in Lebanon.

Parliament is scheduled to meet Thursday to name Chamoun's successor. Hopes had increased that a candidate acceptable to both sides would be named, thus ending the uprising.

A spokesman at Salam's headquarters said the rebel declaration in itself would prevent a quorum from attending the scheduled parliament meeting.

"It is well known that unless prior agreement is reached between the opposition and the Government there will be no election," he said. "Now that we announce a boycott of the election, there cannot possibly be a quorum on July 31."

He said the rebels would not have to use force to prevent the election.

Threaten Shutdown
The Lebanese Association of Industrialists was equally adamant on the other side. It called for a 3-day shutdown of industry and commerce in Lebanon unless a new president is elected by Thursday.

A spokesman for the association said a meeting of the group decided to begin the shutdown Aug. 1. "During the 3-day shutdown the association will meet again to decide on a future course of action," the spokesman said.

The industrialists want a new president elected to end the crisis that has badly damaged Lebanon's economic life. The shutdown would throw thousands out of work, deepening the depression already gripping the country.

Conceivably, Parliament could meet despite Salam's threats. He is holed up in the Moslem quarter, surrounded by Government security forces.

But it is generally assumed the election will be called off unless there is a prior agreement between the Government and its enemies on a compromise candidate.

U.S. Undersecretary of State Robert Murphy, sent to Beirut from Washington as a troubleshooter, has been seeing leaders on both sides, reportedly in an attempt to help find a candidate.

Miss U.S.A.

Miss United States, Eurlene Howell, of Bossier City, La., was one of 15 semifinalists in the Miss Universe contest being held in Long Beach, Calif. The 15 were to be judged Friday night.

The other semifinalists were the Misses Brazil, Chile, Colombia, Denmark, Germany, Greece, Hawaii, Holland, Israel, Japan, Peru, Poland, Surinam, and Sweden.

Okoboji Workshop Will Assist Community Theatres

Iowa's community theatres will receive a boost next week when a 3-member team from the SUI Department of Dramatic Art conducts a community theatre workshop at the Iowa Lakeside Laboratory at Lake Okoboji.

"There is lots of evidence to indicate that community theatres are doing better all the time," according to Ronald C. Gee, SUI assistant professor of dramatic art who will be in charge of the workshop, which will run from Monday to Saturday. Willard Welsh, assistant professor of dramatic art, and Rosemary R. Stevens, graduate assistant from Iowa City, also will work with Gee.

Persons interested in community theatre work may register for the workshop at the Lakeside Laboratory on Sunday or Monday, Gee said. The fee is $8, and room and board for the week will be $27.

Iowa has 23 community theatres now, Gee said, but the potential is 90. He based his estimate on the fact that Iowa has 90 towns with 2,500 or more population.

"Just one highly motivated person in a smaller community could start a theatre group," he pointed out.

Emphasis in the Okoboji workshop will be on acting and directing, with workshop members proceeding from play analysis through all steps in staging a production.

Judging a Play
Play analysis is vital, Gee noted, because "people not trained in the theatre must learn how to judge a play in terms of production problems and staging, as well as acting." Community theatre personnel are making better selection of plays now than in the past, he said.

Workshop members will not produce a play during their week-long study, but will work on scenes which the SUI team has selected to demonstrate points brought out in discussions. Some of those scenes probably will become part of a program which will be presented Friday night to the public.

Man Charged With Breaking, Entering

A man listed by police as Earl Engalls, Iowa City, was charged Friday night with breaking and entering the Nall Motors used car lot office.

Police said a man came into the police station Friday night and told them he saw someone tearing at a screen on the office. He said he stopped and looked at the person, who stopped tearing. When he went on, the person went back to work on the screen, he said.

Police said they caught Engalls at 6:50 p.m. on the used car lot.

They reported he had a large ring of keys from the office, and said Engalls had broken a side window in the office to get in.

Police said they took from Engalls a pint of whiskey and a quart of wine, each partially empty, and a long screwdriver, among other things.

Engalls is slated to go before police court this morning.

House Group Votes For More Social Security

WASHINGTON (AP) — More than $280 million in additional federal assistance to the states for aid to the aged, blind, disabled and dependent children was voted Friday by the House Ways and Means Committee.

The committee also voted increased assistance for state maternal and child welfare programs, and new benefits for dependents of disabled workers.

All of these were put into a bill increasing Social Security benefits generally.

Scouts End Tour Of Europe Sunday

Twenty-six Iowa City homes which have been a little quiet this summer, are going to return to normal again Sunday when Girl Scouts from Cardinal Council return from a trip to Europe.

Sunday dinner will be something special, too, featuring favorite dishes the girls have missed in their quick trip on the continent.

The girls left Iowa City in June and are expected to return by bus Sunday noon.

According to many of the letters received by the girls' families, there will be many gifts to show and exciting anecdotes to tell when the girls arrive.

Many of the girls have sent packages "not to be opened until they arrive," but several have hinted that their purchases include accumulation of Florentine leather boxes, dressing veils from Switzerland and exciting surprises from Italy.

The letters indicate that England has apparently been the favorite country of the trip, though Switzerland and Germany were subjects of many enthusiastic paragraphs on the closely written airmail stationery.

Several of the girls commented on the "bobby pin" curves of mountain roads in Switzerland. The bus on which the group traveled was the first of its type to make the trip through one mountain pass in Italy.

Many of the girls have written about eating more food than usual on the trip, because they had to try "one each" from the varied selections offered in each country.

Rempel Says Work Helps Age Problems

Work still is the best solution to many of the problems of aging, Peter P. Rempel, assistant professor of psychology, told employment service counselors who are midway through a five-week workshop at the Iowa Center for Continuation Study.

Where formerly hobbies were considered the answer to such problems of aging as loneliness and lack of feeling needed, now gerontologists emphasize the value of work throughout life, Rempel said.

With the percentage of the population over 65 having increased 35 per cent from 1945 to 1955 and still going up, the need to help the aging to keep usefully occupied cannot be glossed over, the SUI speaker said. According to a U.S. Department of Labor bulletin, the U.S. population had 10,500,000 persons over 65 in 1945 and 14,100,000 in 1955. The bulletin estimated there will be 17,400,000 in this age bracket in 1965.

Rempel started at 40s to help their clients start at 40 to get ready for retirement. Many professional people can plan to continue in their life-time occupation, reducing their load somewhat, he explained. Others might plan to start a business of their own from money saved in salaried jobs.

Persons in professions tend to have a more stable employment pattern throughout their lives than those in unskilled fields, Rempel said, with one study finding 85 per cent of those in professions stabilized in their positions rather than shifting frequently from job to job.

Counselors can help their clients best if they can create a warm, permissive atmosphere in which the clients feel free to express any feelings they may have, no matter how socially unacceptable, without fear of condemnation, the SUI professor told the workshop.

The person with a problem will be helped to face it by the very fact that he can associate something pleasant with it for the first time in the counselor's willingness to accept his feelings about it, Rempel explained.

Sponsored by the U.S. Employment Service with the cooperation of SUI, the workshop for employment counselors will include a week of supervised practice in counseling.

To Discuss Health Projects for Year

The Johnson County Health Council will meet Monday, Aug. 4, at 7:30 p.m. in Iowa Memorial Union, Pentacrest Room.

All interested persons are urged to attend a round table discussion of health needs in the county and projects to be considered by the health council during the coming year.

1-Man Art Show By SUI Prof

A one-man show of recent paintings by Byron Burford, associate professor of art at SUI, will open at Walker Art Center in Minneapolis Thursday.

Burford is currently attending the University of Minnesota as a visiting professor.

Although this is his first one-man show in Minneapolis, Burford is well-known in art circles. He has been represented regularly in Walker Art Center's biennial regional exhibitions, winning first prizes and purchase awards in 1950 and 1956.

Burford's Minneapolis show will include 29 oils completed during the past two years. The majority of the show is of studies of British Isles' landscapes including Cornwall and Scotland.

Several flower studies and still lifes are also included in the collection.

Burford received his B.F.A. degree from SUI in 1942, his M.F.A. in 1947. In 1948 he traveled extensively in the British Isles, Mexico and Canada with a Julius Rosenwald Fellowship.

4 Men in Texas Gubernatorial Race Saturday

DALLAS (AP) — Texas Democrats nominate a governor, senator and four U.S. representatives Saturday along with hundreds of local and other district candidates.

Technically, the GOP nominates at the same time. But only a scattering of Republicans seek office and most face no opposition.

Gov. Price Daniel, seeking reelection, faces three candidates. They are: W. Lee D'aniel, former governor and U.S. senator, running on a conservative platform; Henry B. Gonzalez, first man of Mexican descent to run for Texas as governor, and an integrationist; and Joe Irwin, real estate and insurance man.

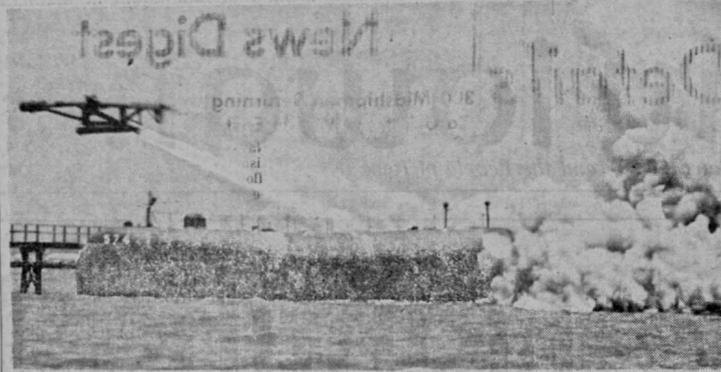

Sen. Ralph Yarborough faces William A. Blakely for the U.S. Senate nomination. Yarborough, an attorney and former district judge, won the office in 1957 in a special election. Blakely is a wealthy Dallas oilman, rancher, banker and businessman, running on a conservative platform. He was interim senator by appointment for four months in 1957.

Eighteen of the state's 22 U.S. representatives have no opposition in the Democratic primary and will have no GOP opponent in the general election.

Crippled Children To Get Boat Rides

Senate Okays Farm Supports

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate gave loud voice vote approval Friday to a compromise system of minimum price supports for cotton, rice and corn.

The compromise, which developed rapidly as the Senate worked toward final action on its new farm bill, would permit future price supports at the highest of these three levels:

1. $1.10 a bushel on corn, 30 cents a pound for middling lint cotton and $4 a hundredweight on rice.
2. 90 per cent of the average price in three recent years.
3. 60 per cent of parity.

The third alternative was proposed after various senators complained that the first two, set out in a bill submitted by the Senate Agriculture Committee, abandoned the parity concept, used for many years.

Parity is a standard declared by law to give farmers a fair price in relation to the cost of things they must buy.

Shortly after the compromise developed, Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, the Senate Democratic leader, won unanimous consent for a limitation on debate.

The committee bill provided for present supports for two more years for rice and cotton. After that they would be shifted to 90 per cent of the average market price for the past three years, but not less than 30 cents a pound for one-inch cotton and $4 per hundredweight on rice.

The bill would abandon acreage controls on corn for future years and provide a support of the average farm price for the past three years, but not less than $1.10 a bushel. Supports of other grains would be tied to that of corn.

Anamosa Judge Nominated For State Court Position

DES MOINES (AP) — District Judge J. E. Heiserman, of Anamosa, was nominated without opposition at the Republican state judicial convention Friday for the short term post on the Iowa Supreme Court.

An interim vacancy, presently filled by a Democratic appointee, was created with the death of Justice W. A. Smith, of Dubuque, last month.

Heiserman, who is an SUI graduate, had a clear field as the GOP nominee for the November election when Franklin Jaqua, Humboldt attorney, withdrew his candidacy.

The convention renominated by acclamation the other three Republican members of the high court who are running for new six-year terms. They are Justices Theodore G. Garfield, of Ames;

Ralph A. Oliver, of Sioux City, and Charles F. Wennerstrom, of Charleston.

The term of Justice Smith to be filled in November will expire Dec. 31, 1950.

After Smith's death Gov. Herschel Lovelless appointed Luke Linnan, Algona Democrat, to serve until the election. Linnan said he will not be a candidate for the nomination to be made by the Democratic judicial convention Aug. 9.

Heiserman, 53, has been judge of the 18th Judicial District since 1939. Married, and the father of four daughters, he formerly practiced law at Monticello.

Meanwhile, the new Republican State Central Committee met here Friday and re-elected L. L. Jurgemeyer, of Clinton, as GOP state chairman.

Good Listening— Today on WSUI

FRITZ KREISLER, the violinist-composer, wrote many melodies which he attributed to other composers because of his embarrassment at seeing his own name listed so often on music recitals. Some of these melodies will be heard this morning on Saturday Serenade from 8:30-9.

DO-IT-YOURSELF has hit Cue, WSUI's Saturday service program from 10 a.m.-12 noon. An especially prepared recording of "John and Martha" with one of the characters omitted will be played during Cue for the benefit of those listeners who may wish to enact the missing role. ROCK 'N ROLL will receive its weekly coup de grace, there will be interviews with golfers participating in the Western Junior golf championship, and the usual news reports, weather and highway bulletins, and good music will be heard.

LAST YEAR'S CRISES will be recalled on WSUI's A Year Ago Air This Week which returns to the air after an absence of two weeks. Researched and scripted by Program Assistant Emma Sue Phelps, A Year Ago This Week is heard every Saturday at 1:15 p.m.

COUNT BASIE, imminent eminence (his orchestra is playing in Cedar Rapids tonight), will be the well-spring for much of Tea Time Special this afternoon from 4-5:30. Original recordings of the Basie band, in ensemble and solo performances, will be followed by vocal duplications of same with lyrics added by the Dave Lambert Singers, whose astonishing vocal pyrotechnics are offered under the title, "Sing a Song of Basie". Jim Wilkie will m.c.

MADAME BUTTERFLY, the opera to be produced locally next week, will enjoy a brief run on Opera PM this evening at 7 singing leading roles in the recorded version of Puccini's work are: Clara Petrella, Ferruccio Tagliavini, and Giuseppe Taddai. Unlike the Iowa City performances, which will be in English, tonight's recording is performed in the original Italian, with chorus and orchestra of the Rome Opera House.

WOODY HERMAN sings tonight on Trio at 9 p.m., sandwiched between the Ken Hanna Band (dance music) and Lemmie Niehaus' jazz.

4 Seminary Students Work At Psychopathic Hospital

For their summer vacations, four students from the Seabury-Western Theological Seminary in Evanston, Ill., are working at the SUI Psychopathic Hospital.

Each year Episcopal seminary students are sent from the school to the hospital to become familiar with psychiatric treatment and to be able to recognize people in their future parishes who need psychiatric help.

Regular Attendants
The students are working as regular ward attendants. Their job is only to supervise the patients, they attempt no diagnosis or therapy.

The Psychopathic Hospital is designed to acquaint medical students with many different kinds of mental ailments, in addition to its service function.

Besides their regular ward duty, the seminarians have a 2-hour seminar each week with staff members. During these meetings they discuss clerical-psychiatric cooperation.

Live at Quadrangle
The theological students live in the Quadrangle and pay for their own meals out of their salaries of a dollar an hour. The work week for them is 40 hours though they often work overtime.

According to Dan Hanna, a seminarian from Aurora, Ill., the students like their assignments and find the hospital a pleasant place to work.

The three other students are Harry Firth, Kansas City, Kan.; Austin Cooper, Coral Gables, Fla.; and Karl Marsh, Battle Creek, Mich.

Loveless Claims Limited Influence On State Agencies

DES MOINES (AP) — Gov. Herschel Lovelless said Friday the influence of the governor on state commissions and agencies is limited sharply because most of the agencies and commissions are not directly responsible to him.

He spoke as a member of a 3-man panel at Drake University's Institute on State and Local Government. Others on the panel were Rep. Clark McNeal (R-Belmond), and Dr. John C. Brown, Cornell College.

"The excessive number of agencies in the state makes coordination difficult, almost impossible," the governor said. "The only real area of control of the office is in the influence that the governor can lend to an operation or agency."

McNeal said the office of governor is overburdened with too many unnecessary tasks. He said there should be a definite separation of power between the executive, legislative and judicial branches.

Brown cited executive organizational laws as outdated and said a strong governor "who can give orders and be responsible for their execution" is needed.

STOCKS AT NEW HIGH
NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market rode up to another new high for the year Friday in the most active trading of 1958. The high speed ticker tape was late both at the start and again at the close as volume swelled.

Capenart Asks Investigation Of Loan Firm-Roosevelt Link

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Homer Capenart (R-Ind.), formally demanded Friday an investigation of why a Maryland firm, fighting a bill before Congress, put Rep. James Roosevelt (D-Calif.) on its payroll.

Raising a question of ethics, Capenart mentioned a House inquiry into whether White House aide Sherman Adams exerted official influence for his gift-giving friend Bernard Goldfine, and quoted an old saw: "What's sauce for the goose is sauce for the gander."

The California congressman is the son of the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Capenart made his demand for an investigation to a Senate Banking subcommittee headed by Sen. John Sparkman (D-Ala.). Sparkman said he would put the matter up to the subcommittee later.

The subcommittee is considering a bill to forbid savings and loan association from advertising that their deposits and securities are insured, unless they are insured by the federal insurance agency.

The firm which hired Roosevelt to be chairman of its board, at $6,000 a year for part-time services, is the Family Savings Assn. of nearby Silver Springs, Md. It carries insurance with a Panama firm.

Roosevelt testified against the bill Thursday. Capenart said "We want to know who is paying you for this attack" and Roosevelt retorted that "I am not being paid for testifying."

Friday, with attorney Sherman Cohen on the stand for Family Savings, Capenart demanded to know why Roosevelt had been hired as board chairman. "He lives in California," the senator pointed out.

Cohen replied: "He has a national reputation as one of the leaders and champions of small business." The lawyer said he and others recommended that Roosevelt be hired, soon after he became honorary president of an organization made up of independent building and loan associations.

Cohen added that Family Savings had been threatened with extinction by big competitors.

Security Council Meets Next Week—

To Set Summit Meet Details

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The Security Council is expected to meet next week to build the foundation for a summit meeting on the Middle East crisis.

U.N. headquarters in New York Aug. 11. Council to Plan Details The 11-nation Council will be summoned to consider details as to participants, the place and the opening day for the meeting.

U.N. diplomats said the Council would make arrangements for private meetings of the big powers and possibly India. These could be held outside New York, but the most likely place appeared to be the private offices of Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld on the 38th floor of the U.N. Secretariat Building.

Wife, Six Children Swept Away In W. Virginia Flood

SPENCER, W.Va. (AP)—Disastrous John Willoughby, 45, was under sedation at a hospital here Friday. A freak mountain flood churned his home to bits and carried away all seven members of his family.

The Willoughbys lived at a creek-ford in an isolated section near Newton, about 30 miles southeast of Spencer. The waters of both creeks came up Thursday night as suddenly as opening the flood gates of a dam.

Mid-Air Plane Collision; 14 Aboard Unhurt

KENORA, Ont. (AP)—Two float planes coming in for a landing smashed together in the air Friday and plunged upside down in Lake of the Woods. All 14 persons aboard—12 American tourists and the two Canadian pilots—escaped serious injury.

A fleet of small boats put out from this northwest Ontario town and brought the crash victims ashore. The planes were about 20 feet above the lake when they collided.

City Mails Dutch Elm Pamphlets

Seven thousand copies of a pamphlet concerning Dutch Elm tree disease have been mailed to Iowa City homes and commercial establishments. City Manager Peter F. Roan said Friday.

Printing of the pamphlet, entitled "We Can Save Our Elm Trees," was authorized by the city council last month. Dutch Elm fungus is said to be capable of destroying the life of an elm tree in 20 minutes.

The aircraft were single-engined Norsemen, chartered by fly parties to Kenora from outlying camps. The Ontario Central plane was coming from Tide Lake, about 50 miles north of Kenora, and the Parsons plane from Malachi, 25 miles northwest.

Avoid Big Power Veto

The big powers would agree in advance that no voting take place. They would issue a summary in the way of a report to the full Council at the end of their deliberations. The idea is to avoid the big power veto—used by the Soviet Union on 85 previous occasions.

'Legal Work Not Adams Won Rebate'

WASHINGTON (AP)—The former president of Raylaine Worsteds, Inc. said Friday it was not Sherman Adams' influence but hard legal work that won the mill a $41,284 rebate of wartime contract penalties.

Rule, Smith in Western Junior Final Today

James Downed In 23 Holes By Goldstrand

By DICK LYNES
Sports Editor

Iowa's leading junior golfer, perhaps one of the top junior amateurs around, Jack Rule Jr., Waterloo, will meet C. A. Smith of Jackson, Mich., today in the final of the 41st Western Junior golf tournament.

The pair will shoot 18 holes this morning starting at 8:30 and then set out again about 12:30 in the afternoon for the final 18.

Rule, the 19-year-old Iowa Amateur champion of just three weeks, defeated Joel Goldstrand of Worthington, Minn., 1 up. Smith eliminated Don Stickey, Columbus, O., 3 and 1 in Friday's 18 hole semifinal.

Rule, a natural athlete who gave up football after junior high but went on to become an all-state basketball player in his senior year at West Waterloo, was two down going to the 13th tee, but he won three straight holes for a one up lead.

Goldstrand pulled even with a birdie on the 16th but a three-putt 17th cost him a hole. They halved the 18th. Both shot even par 72's.

The Iowa golfer, who has never taken a paid golf lesson in his career, moved into the semifinals with a 3 and 2 victory over Dave Daniels of Columbus, Ohio with a three under par 69.

Smith was a one up victor over Bob McDonald, Prospect Hills, Ill., in the quarterfinals. He got a birdie 3 on the 18th green for the victory.

The only other Iowan to play Friday, Frank James, Grinnell, an Iowa sophomore-to-be in the fall, was eliminated in perhaps the top match of the tournament, 1 up in 23 holes by Goldstrand.

James lost five of the first six holes but later caught Goldstrand. Both golfers shot bogie 5's on the

They will play 36 holes; 18 in the morning beginning at 8:30 and the last 18 about 12:15 p.m. Rule and Smith are the survivors of 130 entrants who teed off Tuesday when the tournament began. Smith shot a 147 qualifying score and in match play defeated Bill Hird, Bill Barnhardt, Bob McDonald and Don Stickey. Rule fired a 148 qualifying score and defeated Tom Grace, Steve Spray, Dave Daniels and Joel Goldstrand in match play. (Daily Iowan Photos by Bob Malone.)

Braves Increase Lead To One Game on Split

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Lefty Juan Pizarro, in his first start since joining the Braves, controlled the Chicago Cubs on nine hits as Milwaukee went a full game ahead in the National League with a 4-1 victory in the second game of a two-night doubleheader Friday night. The Braves lost the opener 5-4.

Pizarro's decision, his first of the campaign, helped the Braves increase their lead when the second-place Giants were beaten 10-0 by the Pirates at Pittsburgh. The Cubs remained six games back in third.

The Cubs out-homered the Braves to win the opener. Dale Long and Ernie Banks kept the Chicago attack rolling in the early innings. Sammy Taylor decided the game with his blast over the fence in the eighth.

MORNING ROUND
Jack Rule, Waterloo, defeated Dave Daniels, Columbus, O., 3 and 2. Joel Goldstrand, Worthington, Minn., defeated Frank James, Grinnell, 1 up in 23 holes.

AFTERNOON ROUND
Rule defeated Goldstrand, 1 up. Smith defeated Stickey, 3 and 1.

Yanks 6, Indians 0
CLEVELAND (AP) — Whitey Ford won his sixth shutout of the season for the New York Yankees Friday night — a 6-0 whitewash of the Cleveland Indians whom he held to four hits, Elston Howard's two-run homer in the sixth inning broke a scoreless tie.

Ford leads major league pitchers in shutouts this year and by getting his sixth set a one-season high for himself. Ford now has a 13-4 record and four decisions over Cleveland.

Norm Siebern was on base with a pass when Howard homered, and then Faye Throneberry walked and went around on Ford's single and Bob Avila's error.

Pirates 10, Giants 0
PITTSBURGH (AP) — Curt Raydon blanked the second-place San Francisco Giants Friday night on four hits as the Pittsburgh Pirates won their fourth straight game 10-0. Bob Skinner led the Pirates 16-hit attack with 3 hits, including a tremendous home run to the right field roof.

Skinner's blast came in the second inning and was only the fifth homer to reach or clear the roof in the history of Forbes Field. The distance to right field is 300 feet, but the roof is more than 40 feet high.

Both Skinner and Dick Groat had three hits apiece and both drove in two runs.

Dodgers 7, Phils 4
PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Los Angeles Dodgers exploded for five runs in the ninth inning Friday night to defeat the Philadelphia Phillies 7-3.

The Dodgers sent 11 men to the plate in their big inning. Their barrage forced Phillie pitchers Jim Hearn and Dick Farrell to the showers before reliever Jack Meyer quieted the uprising.

The Dodger's outburst came after the Phils tied the game at 2-2 in the eighth. Phil's pinch-hitter Wally Post hit his fourth homer of the season in the ninth to greet reliever Fred Kipp.

It was the Phillies' first loss since Manager Eddie Sawyer took over his duties on Tuesday replacing Mayo Smith.

Senators 4, Tigers 3
DETROIT (AP) — The Washington Senators rallied for a pair of ninth-inning runs and defeated the Detroit Tigers Friday night 4-3, sending the sagging Detroiters down to their fifth straight set back and their ninth loss in 10 games.

The Senators, breaking a 3-game losing streak, rallied on the strength of two pinch singles by Ed Fitz Gerald and Herb Plews. Plews drove in the tying run, and Bob Malkmus, a ninth-inning replacement for Eddie Yost, batted across for Sievers.

Roy Sievers slugged his 26th home run for the first Washington run in the second inning and drove across another with an eighth-inning single.

The Tigers got all their runs in the first five innings.

ChiSox 4, BoSox 0
CHICAGO (AP) — Right-hander Dick Donovan of the Chicago White Sox, backed by three double plays, turned back the Boston Red Sox 4-0 Friday night.

The victory was the fourth straight for Donovan and his fifth successive complete game giving him a 7-10 record for the season. He walked two and struck out six.

Cards, Pirates Split
ST. LOUIS (AP) — Bob Purkey of Cincinnati notched his 12th victory with a six-hit 3-2 victory over St. Louis in the second game of a two-night doubleheader Friday night. A bases loaded walk by the Redlegs' Don Newcombe in the ninth gave the Cardinals the opener 5-4.

The right-handed Purkey got some help in the form of a wild throw by Cardinal pitcher Phil Paine in the ninth inning of the second game.

Frank Robinson drew a walk from Chuck Stobbs and reached second on a sacrifice. Paine replaced Stobbs and, in fielding Don Hoak's safe bunt, threw wild to first, permitting Robinson to score the winning run.

Purkey, who has lost six, struck out three and yielded no passes. In the National League only Warren Spahn of Milwaukee, Roman Semproch of Philadelphia and Bob Friend of Pittsburgh have as many victories.

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Arnie Portocarrero was scrupulously careful to keep base runners off the paths while he pitched three home run balls Friday night and came out and 8-3 winner as the Baltimore Orioles won a swiftest from the Kansas City Athletics.

The big right-hander, who spent three futile years trying to win for the Athletics before being traded to Baltimore this spring, coasted in behind a home run barrage from teammates Gene Woodling, Gus Triandos and Bob Nieman.

Duren Undergoing Tests To Determine Head Injuries

Folley KO's Rademacher In 4th Round

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Zora Folley, 200-pounder, from Chandler, Ariz., knocked out Pete Rademacher, Columbus, Ga., 198-pounder in the fourth round of their scheduled 10-round fight Friday night, and once again the former amateur king's lofty hopes of winning fame were dashed.

The end came after 1 minute, 15 seconds of the fourth, with the 1956 Olympic king down for the second time in the round, and his fourth trip to the canvas during the brief battle.

Top Challenger
The 26-year-old Folley insured his position as a top challenger for world heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson.

Last August Rademacher in his first professional fight was knocked out in six rounds by Patterson. Folley publicly declared he hoped to better that mark and Friday night at the Olympic Auditorium, before a national television audience, he did it.

Pete Cut in Third
Folley opened a slit over Big Pete's left eyelid in the third and Rademacher came up with an ugly gash toward the middle of his forehead over the right eye when the two collided.

Referee Charley Randolph did not bother to finish the count on 29-year-old Pete on the last knockdown.

DETROIT (AP) — Rinold Duren, ace rookie relief pitcher for the New York Yankees, underwent a series of tests Friday to determine whether he suffered brain injury when hit by a pitched ball Thursday. Doctors said the answer wouldn't be known until today.

Dr. A. H. Whittaker, Duren's physician, said the pitcher suffered a concussion but didn't believe there had been brain damage.

Father Saw Accident
He said, however, Duren would be hospitalized several days and continued to bar visitors, except for the pitcher's father, Rinold M., of Madison, Wis., who for the first time was seeing his son pitch in the major leagues when he was hit.

The physician said Duren's condition was good.

On a rhabarb that developed over whether Detroit pitcher Paul Foytack deliberately beamed Duren, who has himself been accused of such tactics by some American League batsmen, Dr. Whittaker said:

No Resentment
"He's certain it was entirely unavoidable on Foytack's part. He bears no resentment."

Foytack said it was a pitch that got away from him. Detroit Tigers agreed, but some Yankees didn't.

Duren suffered a severe bruise on his left cheek and a cut that required several stitches. X-rays, however, showed no fracture.

The game, which Duren was credited with winning, went to the Yankees 10-7 and gave them a three-game sweep. Duren's record now is 5-3 and he is credited with saving 16 other games.

Braves' Johnson Will Go to Minors

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Ernie Johnson, relief pitcher placed on waivers by the Milwaukee Braves earlier this week, had a change of heart Friday after no one claimed him and said he would join the Braves' Wichita farm club.

Sickness Hampers U.S. Track Team

MOSCOW (AP) — A mild siege of sore throats and bad colds struck the U.S. men's track and field forces Friday. But none was serious and the team is expected to be at full strength for the giant two-day dual meet with the Russians, starting Sunday.

Shotputter Parry O'Brien and the squad's middle distance running ace, Tom Courtney, were among those given a shot of penicillin.

O'Brien, world record holder in the shot, did not work out Friday. Courtney worked out as usual as did two others suffering from colds — polevaulter Jim Brewer of Los Angeles and Jack Yerman, the quarter-miler from Woodland, Calif.

"No one is seriously ill," said Joseph Takach, the team physician from New York. "I expect all the boys to be in good shape by Sunday."

The American men, dominant in the sprints and hurdle events, are expected to beat their Russian rivals in overall scoring. But the U.S. women figure to lose to the harder Soviet females.

Each country will have two competitors in each event. Points will be awarded on a 5-3-2-1 basis.

Three of Top College Coaches To Testify
WASHINGTON (AP) — Three of the country's leading college coaches Friday were scheduled for appearances as congressional witnesses on sports legislation.

Bud Wilkinson of Oklahoma, Duffy Daugherty of Michigan State and Bowden Wyatt of Tennessee are expected to testify next Monday before the Senate Anti-monopoly subcommittee.
