Lebanon Election Set For Today

New Iraq Regime Assured of Recognition

Soviets Send Top Man As Ambassador

West Germany First NATO Power To Move

LONDON (AP) — Iraq's new republican regime, after being courted at first largely by the Communists and Arab nationalists, is assured now of broad world diplomatic recognition.

A rush built up Wednesday night in the West and among Iraq's pro-Western neighbors in the Mideast to recognize the Administration of Brig. Abdel Karim Kassem. He is the revolutionary leader who destroyed King Faisal's pro-Western government June 14.

While Western diplomatic mills ground toward an exchange of calling cards with Kassem, representatives of certain Communist and Arab nationalist nations were already on the ground floor.

The Soviet Union showed how it rates the strategic, oil-bearing nation by appointing a member of the Supreme Soviet as its new ambassador to Baghdad. He is Grigory Zaitsev, chief of the Mideast department in the Soviet Foreign Ministry since 1954.

West Germany extended its recognition Wednesday. It was the first of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization powers to take the step.

Arrangements were in the works for recognition by all Iraq's old partners in the Baghdad Pact — Britain, Turkey, Iran and Pakistan — and by the United States.

Radio Baghdad announced, in fact, that Iran extended recognition Wednesday. There was no immediate confirmation from Tehran.

Italy Backs Ike's Stand On Summit

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower's conditions for a summit meeting with the endorsement of Italy's visiting Premier Wednesday as consultations continued on a new message to Soviet Premier Khrushchev.

Vice President Nixon meanwhile was quoted as believing a summit parley will be arranged despite the current apparent deadlock over when, where and how to meet.

Nixon discussed summit prospects briefly while attending a dinner at the Italian Embassy to PARIS (AP) — France insisted Wednesday that any summit conference on the Middle East should not be held in the U.N. Security Council. Thus a sharp split apparently still remained between the French position and the U.S.-British position.

honor Amintore Fanfani, Italy's new premier, who has been discussing summit and Middle East problems with President Eisenhower.

Fanfani formally backed President Eisenhower's summit proposals in a speech Wednesday at a National Press Club luncheon. He said a parley within the 11-member United Nations Security Council offers "the most solid ground for orderly procedure."

Faubus Awaiting Judge's Decision

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — Gov. Orval Faubus, relaxing in pajamas at his mansion, said Wednesday he had further plans to deal with the integration crisis which swept him to a third term in a landslide Democratic primary victory.

But he said he preferred not to disclose the plans until the outcome of integration litigation in the U.S. Court of Appeals at St. Louis.

The case is an appeal from a recent ruling granting the Little Rock School Board's request for a 30-month delay in integration.

Wow, Whammo, Zowie, It's — One Big Huzzah

— For 'Madame Butterfly'

by ROBERT J. DIETZ

To those who have taken part in a college production of an opera there is probably no question about opera being, by far, the most complex composite ever devised for the theatre — a mere glance at the program for this current production of Madame Butterfly here at SUI should suffice to impress the audience, too, in this respect. But after hearing two performances of Puccini's masterpiece, this reviewer is convinced that it was only from that printed program that the audience was able to consider the individual contributors. The alliance of music and theatre was so convincing that the seams of the fabric as a whole were almost imperceptible.

Much of the success of this production is undoubtedly due to the fresh approach brought by all concerned to a work which has been a staple in the repertoire since the first decade of this century; the sets, costumes, and staging done specifically for this performance (not in the tradition of the major houses); the chorus, under the direction of Frank Pooler, singing with rhythmic certainty and, above all, in tune (again not traditional); and the orchestra, usually bored by the chores of opera, playing one of the most difficult of operatic scores with full and sensitive response to the conductor's demands (the disturbing attitude of the cellos toward ensemble among themselves in several dramatically delicate places cannot be easily overlooked, however).

In a production as obviously successful and satisfying as this it may be quite beside the point to mention flaws which must be relatively small or to try to probe the reasons for that success (but the temptation is compelling). Certainly the realization of the roles of Goro, sung by Norman Ames, Suzuki, sung by Leslie Eitzen, and Sharpless, sung by Harry Morrison, were among the principle reasons for the latter — Suzuki's last-act scenes were especially effective. It was unfortunate, in the light of this level of performance, the roles of The Bonze and Prince Yamadori, brief but exposed, were so vocally disappointing.

Lieutenant Pinkerton was treated rather poorly by the composer in terms of the amount of material but certainly not in terms of the kind of material given to him. While Richard Fulton may have portrayed this character as a wide-eyed midshipman on his initial cruise — sometimes turning lines of solid characterization into the laughable asides of a melodramatic villain — his voice was given wholeheartedly to the best Italian-tenor tradition of singing and emoting.

The heart of Madame Butterfly is, of course, in the part of the leading soprano. It is amazing that two such superb young sopranos were available here who could not only sing each subtle nuance of the musical phrases but who could also enact, just as subtly, each of those nuances. There is neither the space nor the desire here to discuss the comparative merits of Rosemary Raridon and Rolanda Ringo, both of whom, in this reviewer's opinion, were aware of the fine line (for today's audiences especially) between a sensitive and a sentimental portrayal of Puccini's Cho-Cho-San.

Since it appears that this is becoming one grand Huzzah! for Madame Butterfly at the State University of Iowa, we should also take special note of the air-conditioned inadequacy in which the Musical Director, Herald Stark, the Stage Director, Harrold Shiffler, and their colleagues produced this work. Bravo! Gentlemen.

'Explorer' Tapes Under Study at SUI

Nearly 2 Hours Of Data Received

A total of nearly two hours of unanalyzed information, in the form of 23 magnetic tape recordings, has been received in the SUI Physics Building during the first five days of Explorer IV's life, Iowa satellite scientist James Van Allen said Wednesday.

The recorded "passes" thus far average about five minutes in length and come from eight ground stations, all so far within the U.S. — at the Army Ballistic Missile Agency, Huntsville, Ala.; Goldstone Lake, Calif.; Patrick Air Force Base, Cape Canaveral, Fla.; Ft. Stewart, Georgia; Collins Radio Co., Cedar Rapids, Iowa; Blossom Point, Md.; Ft. Monmouth, N.J., and Riverhead, N.Y.

World Center

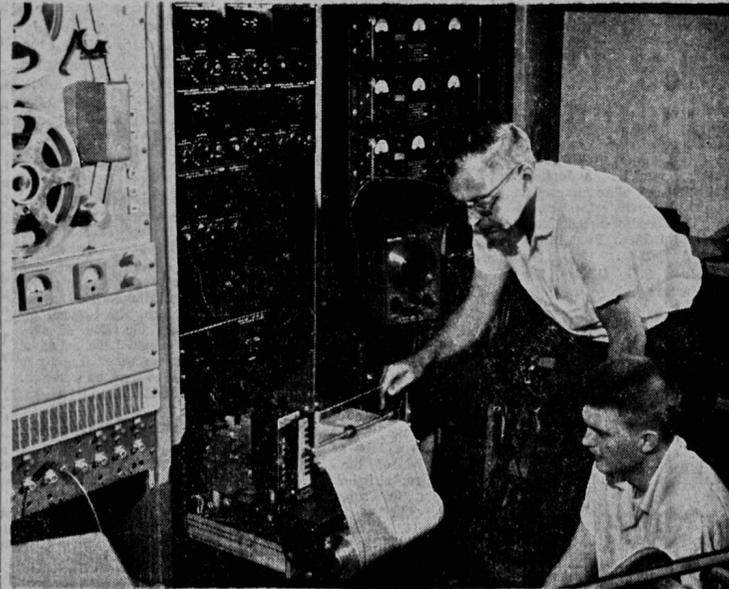

With Explorer IV now in orbit, the SUI Physics Building has become the world center for the long and arduous task of "reading," decoding and interpreting the hundreds of magnetic tapes just beginning to be mailed in from a network of ground stations extending from California to Australia.

Van Allen said Wednesday that early glimpses of the tapes suggest "satisfactory and interesting data appearing to confirm some of the findings of Explorers I and III." The major scientific report of Explorer IV's new knowledge will not, however, be ready for at least several weeks, he said.

McIlwain's Brainchild

Following discoveries this spring of unexpectedly intense radiation beyond 600 miles up by Explorers I and III, the SUI physics laboratories became a "crash program" designing and assembling center for Explorer IV's instrument bundle. The newest Army-launched satellite carried into space last Saturday a 4-detector scientific apparatus developed by Carl McIlwain, SUI graduate student from Houston, Tex.

George H. Ludwig, Van Allen's chief assistant on satellite projects for International Geophysical Year, engineered and assembled the overall scientific payload, the electronic nest around the radiation detecting "heart."

MAGNETIC TAPE RECORDINGS of Explorer IV findings have been arriving at the SUI Physics Building daily. Herb Sauer, G. Irvington, N.J., and Donald Goedeke (lower right), G. Independence, Mo., looked over the radioed data, on magnetic tape, as it was fed through electronic devices Wednesday for a visual recording of cosmic ray bombardment of the satellite. — Daily Iowan Photo.

Claims Iowa Property Tax Not Needed

DES MOINES (AP) — Iowa probably will wind up next June 30 with more money in its general fund than when the current biennium started July 1, 1957, State Comptroller Glenn Sarsfield estimated Wednesday.

The comptroller said it now appears the unencumbered balance at the close of this fiscal year will be around $40,262,530 compared with $39,769,643 at the start of the current biennium a year ago July 1.

"I have certified to the state treasurer," Sarsfield said, "that we will not need to levy a property tax for state government operating funds."

Under Iowa law a property tax must be levied if it appears the state is running out of money.

Sarsfield credited Iowa business prosperity, good farm prices and generally higher individual income for Iowa's rosy revenue picture.

Both political parties have been closely watching state revenue figures since Gov. Herschel Loveless vetoed the Legislature's major money bill last year.

Effect of the veto was to let the Iowa sales tax rate fall back from 2.5 to 2 per cent, and the individual income tax from 80 per cent to 75 per cent of the full rate.

Sarsfield said that despite the lower tax rates, state revenue has been running well ahead of his estimates.

The income tax this year at the 75 per cent rate produced more money than the 80 per cent rate brought in last year, and receipts from the 2 per cent sales tax were well above the estimates, Sarsfield said.

Tickets Available For Final Play Of Summer Session

Tickets are now available for the final play of the SUI summer session, "The Chalk Garden," to be presented August 7, 8 and 9 in the University Theater, at 8 p.m.

Reservations may be obtained at the East Lobby desk, Iowa Memorial Union, Monday through Friday from 9 a.m. until 4:30 p.m. and Saturday from 9 a.m. until noon.

Students must present their ID cards to obtain free tickets. General admission for staff, faculty and the public is $1.25.

Local Defense Unit Has—

No Way to Warn IC of Air Attacks

A practice aircraft warning alert—to be held sometime this afternoon—has been termed virtually useless. Although the Iowa City Ground Observer Corps (GOC) will go through the motions, they have no means of warning this city in case of a real attack.

Clinton Barnes, Supervisor of Civil Defense in Iowa City, said "Our hands are tied when it comes to giving any sort of warning."

"We have a $5,000 mobile hospital unit from the Government, 100 volunteers signed up, other equipment ready for use, and training—but we lack the thing that makes all this work of value — a device to warn the people."

Barnes said the steam whistle on the Iowa City power plant has too little volume to be of use and added that local residents are too familiar with its sound anyway.

"We need a distinctive sound that can be heard throughout the city," Barnes said. He estimated it would take about eight to ten thousand dollars to get an adequate system.

Barnes went on to explain

Wednesday that an adequate warning system could have many uses, including dispensing weather warnings.

Barnes said the entire city could be alerted to an approaching storm within five minutes after the GOC was contacted by the weather bureau — if they had an adequate signalling system.

So sometime this afternoon, GOC crews will man stations on the seventh floor of East Hall, scan the skies for planes, and report sightings to the regional Air Force headquarters at Springfield, Ill., by direct telephone hook-up.

But in the event of a real attack, the people of Iowa City would go about their business, unaware of the approaching danger, because of the lack of a local warning system.

CHICAGO (AP) — The Pabst Brewing Co. announced Wednesday it has acquired for approximately $14.5 million the business and assets of the Blatz Brewing Co.

Hundreds of Scientists Begin IGY Conference in Moscow

MOSCOW (AP) — Several hundred scientists of the IGY—in a worldwide checkup on everything from Sputniks to earthquakes—began a 10-day conference Wednesday with predictions, problems, and a mystery.

The mystery, still unsolved, is whether scientists from Nationalist China are here or will attend.

IGY is the International Geophysical Year, actually an 18-month period of cooperative check-

Several scientists predicted fabulous human benefits from weather control and saw in it a key to human advantage in space flights.

One problem is whether to continue IGY for another period. Soviet officials formally proposed such an extension at the opening of the fifth assembly of the Special Committee of IGY.

Other delegates favor continuing some phases, such as antarctic explorations, but question whether the full IGY program could be carried on in view of financial and scientific problems.

Another problem is how best to share and analyze all information being gathered by 10,000-plus scientists in a dozen IGY fields.

As to the mystery of Nationalist China's delegates, Dr. Marcel Nicolet of Brussels, secretary general of the assembly committee, told a news conference he does not know who is here or coming. A list will be compiled soon, he promised.

Army Chief In Line For Presidency

Hopes of Peace Center on Gen. Shehab

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Parliament expects to elect Gen. Fuad Shehab as president today, hoping Lebanon's top soldier can bring peace to this troubled land.

Sick of the 82-day rebellion, most legislators have climbed on his bandwagon, ready to throw into his lap all the troubles that threaten to tear the little republic apart.

Adel Ousseiran, speaker of the 66-member body, said the session definitely would be held. He predicted the nearly unanimous election of the amiable 56-year-old Army chief.

The new president will succeed pro-Western President Camille Chamoun, prime target of the rebellion. Chamoun's 6-year term is up Sept. 23, but the rebels want him to get out now.

Pre-Election Congratulations So sure were many of the deputies of Shehab's election that they went around to congratulate him beforehand.

Even the four deputies of the National Front, the main rebel coalition, were reported disposed to vote for him. The National Front declared Tuesday it would not support any candidate unless he demanded immediate withdrawal of American forces.

Shehab has not answered the demands, but the group has threatened to carry on its rebellion unless he bows to its terms.

Robert Murphy, President Eisenhower's envoy who has been interviewing many political figures here, said to Jordan to visit King Hussein. The King is under mounting pressure from the same kind of terrorism and infiltration which has beset Lebanon.

A time bomb wrecked the inside of the British library and information office in the Jordan capital Tuesday night and another exploded outside the garage of a British banker.

Compromise Candidate The Jordan Army announced another clash with infiltrators near the Syrian border and said one of the band, a man from Syria, was captured along with a store of arms.

Shehab has been accepted by the Lebanese as a compromise largely because he has kept his mouth shut.

President Nasser of the United Arab Republic has referred to Shehab as the man supported by most of the population.

Premier Sami Solh again urged that the election be postponed. He argued that the attempt on his life Tuesday showed that conditions were not calm enough for an election. He is personally opposed to Shehab.

But Chamoun was said to have agreed with U.S. recommendations that the election be held as scheduled in the hope of reaching an early solution of the crisis. American troops might then be able to pull out.

Weather

An already well-moistened Iowa City apparently is in for more rain today.

Temperatures will remain about the same as Wednesday's, with afternoon highs of 75-85 degrees and lows tonight of 57-65 degrees.

Suchy Files $75,000 Damage Suit

Donald J. Suchy, captain of Iowa's 1956 Rose Bowl team filed a $75,000 damage suit in Johnson County District Court Wednesday on behalf of his daughter, Angela, who was injured in an accident in Finkbine Park, Nov. 14, 1956. Defendants in the action are Mr. and Mrs. James Nolan, owner and driver, respectively, of a car that struck the 2½-year-old girl. The petition claimed that the child suffered skull fracture, cuts, bruises, burns, and was partially scalped, resulting in permanent disfigurement. Suchy said a depression in her skull has developed that is not protected by a bony structure, which will make necessary extensive medical care. The petition charged that Mrs. Nolan, a neighbor of the Suchys, was negligent in causing the accident. D. C. Nolan of Iowa City is Suchy's attorney.

Models of SUI's Satellites And Rockets To Be at Fair

A 20-foot model of a Jupiter-C rocket with a satellite attached to the top will dominate the SUJ exhibit in the Board of Regents Booth at the Iowa State Fair in Des Moines, Aug. 22-31. SUI, Iowa State College, Iowa State Teachers College, and other Board of Regents institutions will combine their exhibits and call the display the "Age of Science." The SUI part of the exhibit, called "Iowa Satellite Rocket Research," is being managed in the SUJ Extension Division under the supervision of Lee W. Cochran, executive assistant of the Extension Division, and Director of Visual Arts Instruction, and Ted Kramer, manager of the graphic section in the Extension Division.

Organization Of Schools Discussed

Many reorganized Iowa school districts have had more than one reorganization, John G. Shultz of the Iowa State Department of Public Instruction told school superintendents attending a conference at SUI this week. Shultz told the superintendents that of 85 Iowa school districts reorganized during the fiscal year 1957-58, 32 had been reorganized at least once previously. Shultz, a school reorganization consultant, blamed most of the troubles of reorganized school districts on the community's failure to resolve adequately their basic problems before the reorganization issue came to a vote. "The reorganization plan simply was not adequate from the start," he said. Attending the three-day Conference for School Superintendents at SUI are some 300 Iowa educators and state department officials who are discussing various school problems and the state department's tentative approval standards for Iowa schools. The annual conference is sponsored by the Department of Public Instruction and the SUI College of Education. "Let me admonish you to do a better job of realizing the factors which make up a cooperative school community before voters cast their ballots on reorganizing," Shultz said. The people of many districts do not have enough in common when they reorganize, he noted. They must examine thoroughly problems such as finances, shape and boundaries of the proposed district, location of buildings, transportation and religious and nationality differences before the issue comes to a vote.

Steel Front Spreads, Three More Boost Prices

NEW YORK (AP) — The steel price front cracked wide open Wednesday when three more steel producers — the nation's third, fourth and fifth largest — announced price boosts. An Associated Press poll found

Britain Opens East-West Trade Gate

LONDON (AP) — Britain announced agreement Wednesday by 15 allies, including the United States, to cut and revise curbs on trade with the Communist world.

The accord opened the way for greater East-West trade just when Europe is expecting the impact of the American recession.

The agreement was disclosed by the Earl of Gosford, undersecretary for foreign affairs, who told the House of Lords:

1. Details of a "substantial relaxation" of the allied controls will be announced Aug. 15. British officials have reported that almost half of the curbs—on nearly 100 items—will be swept away.

2. Britain's aim of banning items only of "real strategic significance" has largely been achieved. Informants said this involved easing the ground rules on allied trade with the Reds.

Behind the agreement lies a story of gradual American yielding over months to British, French, West German and Japanese pressure.

The United States was concerned primarily with keeping war-potential goods and materials beyond the Reds' reach. She argued, for instance, that the sale of slow ships which would have no naval use nevertheless would free Russian shipyards to work on warships.

SUI Sponsoring Audio-Visual Meet For 50 Teachers

Some 50 educators will represent 18 states, the District of Columbia and two foreign countries in the fourth annual Audio-Visual Leadership Conference Aug. 23-27 at the Iowa Lakeside Laboratory near Milford.

The national conference of specialists in those instructional materials which reinforce book-and-talk teaching is sponsored by the SUI Extension Division and the Department of Audio-Visual Instruction (DAVI) of the National Education Association.

Topic slated for major attention this year will be the education of prospective teachers in principles and applications of audio-visual materials. The Okoboji conference serves DAVI's national membership as a "sounding board for the development of new ideas and the formulation of policies," explains Lee W. Cochran, executive assistant of the SUI Extension Division and chairman of the Iowa committee for the annual conferences.

Other members of the Iowa committee are Dean Bruce E. Mahan of the Extension Division; John R. Hedges, associate director of the Bureau of Audio-Visual Instruction; and J. Patrick Kelly, instructor in the College of Education — all of SUI, Iowa City.

Ross Armstrong, audio-visual specialist, Iowa State Teachers College, Cedar Falls; Forest J. Moore, regional consultant, State Department of Public Instruction, Des Moines; and John T. Sewell, curriculum coordinator and audio-visual director, Fort Dodge; are also working on the committee.

Garner Man Arraigned On Bad Check Charges

James F. Papousek, 28, of Garner, was arraigned Wednesday in police court on three bad check charges. Over $250 worth of checks allegedly passed by Papousek have been produced, police said. None of the checks was for more than $20.

Papousek was granted time to consult an attorney, and the arraignment was continued under $300 bond set by Judge Ansel Chapman.

Police picked up Papousek in his room at a local hotel Tuesday. Previously, his car had been impounded by the police for $20 in parking ticket fines.

large steel users wondering how to absorb the added costs. Many said the increase would have to be passed on to the ultimate consumer, but probably not right away.

Joining Armco Steel Corp. in boosting prices were Republic Steel Corp. of Cleveland, third biggest; Jones & Laughlin Steel Corp. of Cleveland, fourth largest, and National Steel Corp., fifth ranking.

Increases Effective
The Republican and J. & L. increases are effective Thursday; National's on Friday.

The increases apply chiefly to sheet and strip mill products. They average about $4.50 a ton. Armco, seventh largest U.S. steel producer, touched off the 1958 round of steel price increases by announcing its new price schedule late Tuesday.

More Steel
Still to be heard from are the nation's largest producer, United States Steel Corp., and Bethlehem Steel Corp., second in size. U.S. Steel makes more steel than Republic, Jones & Laughlin, and Armco put together.

U.S. Steel and Bethlehem said late Wednesday they still are studying the price situation.

The intentions of other steel-makers were anything but clear.

Cannot Raise
In Chicago, President Joseph L. Block of Inland Steel Co. said, "The increases that were announced Tuesday were certainly conservative. Nevertheless, under present very competitive market conditions, Inland cannot raise its prices unless and until such action is taken by U.S. Steel Corp., our principal competitor. To do so otherwise would cause us a serious loss of business."

Timken Roller Bearing Co. said it is planning to raise prices of alloy steel but doesn't know how much.

The increases scheduled for Thursday follow an automatic wage raise that went into effect in the steel industry July 1. Steel executives figure that the wage boost with attendant fringe benefits upped their payroll costs by about 20 cents an hour and added anywhere from $4 to $11 to the cost of making a ton of steel.

Cause Alarm
The action by the nation's third and fourth largest steel producers touched off a ripple of alarm among steel consumers.

The price boosts so far are confined mostly to sheet and strip steel, used mainly by makers of appliances and cars. But there is widespread concern among consumers that the trend may spread quickly to other steel items.

SUI's Whitlock Accepts Position in New Hampshire

John B. Whitlock, assistant director of SUI bands and instructor in music, will become associate professor of music and chairman of the music education department of the University of New Hampshire, Durham, N.H., with the opening of the fall term. He joined the SUI faculty Dec. 1, 1952.

In his new post, Whitlock will direct teacher training in music, supervise the music practice teaching program, and teach courses in applied music.

Formerly director of bands and head of instrumental instruction at Loyola University, New Orleans, La., Whitlock will be awarded his Ph.D. degree in music at SUI's August commencement. His doctoral dissertation was based on a study of SUI's music education program.

Whitlock received his M.A. degree from SUI in 1941.

Local Lady Celebrates 100th Year

By CLARENCE TRAFFORD
Staff Writer

Mrs. Mary Plough, 409 S. Dodge St., is happily observing her 100th birthday in her home today with family and friends.

Mrs. Plough was born on a farm near Riverside, July 31, 1858 and can remember riding down Clinton Street in a horse drawn buggy.

The neat gray-haired elderly woman walks with a walker due to a hip fracture received six years ago when she stumbled and fell on a rug. Despite this, however, she is cheerful, composed and sharp-witted.

When asked to what she attributed her long life she said, "I actually don't know." Her father died at 101.

In discussing attempts to reach the moon, Mrs. Plough said, "I don't study about it. I don't think about it because I know they won't get there. I think they're trying to get ahead of God."

Although she was only 7 years old when Lincoln was assassinated, Mrs. Plough said she can "remember them talking about it."

She has had little formal education but likes to read newspapers and the Bible, but doesn't care for television. She likes any and all kinds of food and is not restricted to a diet.

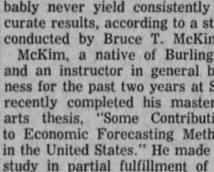

She received a birthday cake by express Wednesday from a niece in Marcus.

Mrs. Plough was married in Iowa City in 1882 and her husband died in 1932. Although she has only one daughter and no grandchildren, she has more than 25 great grand nieces and nephews. A close friend is her husky fox terrier, Skeeter.

Mrs. Plough lives with her daughter, Helen.

Can't Predict Buying Sprees Instructor Says

Although a necessary factor in all business planning, economic "peeking into the future" will probably never yield consistently accurate results, according to a study conducted by Bruce T. McKim, a native of Burlington, and an instructor in general business for the past two years at SUI, recently completed his master of arts thesis, "Some Contributions to Economic Forecasting Methods in the United States." He made the study in partial fulfillment of the degree, which he expects to receive at the SUI summer commencement Aug. 13.

Trolley Crash No Folley For Commuters; 25 Hurt

NEWARK, N.J. (AP) — A trolley crashed into the rear of another Wednesday just after it emerged from the city's underground transit system. Both were jammed with rush-hour commuters. More than 25 were reported hurt, none critically. Police said the first trolley stalled when its overhead power pole came loose from the power line. An eyewitness said the first car was jammed with standees and the second had several standing in the aisle. Police originally said as many as 150 were injured. A witness said many of the passengers panicked. Stretchers were required to remove some.

$40 Billion Defense Bill Unanimously Passed by Senate

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Wednesday night passed a money bill carrying a little more than $40 billion to run the defense establishment during the current fiscal year. The roll call vote was 71-0. The measure now goes back to the House, which previously had voted about $38½ billion to support the armed services and related services in the 12 months which started July 1. If the House does not accept the Senate figures — and it normally does not on a money bill of this size — the measure will go to a conference committee to reconcile differences. Any compromise version still will require approval by both branches of Congress.

One Man Killed, Damage Extensive As Elephants Tour Mexico City

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Five frightened elephants from the Miami Zoo roamed wildly for six hours through Mexico City's narrow streets early Wednesday, killing one man, and doing extensive damage. The largest elephant was finally shot. "A safari through a forest of stone and steel," said one newspaper. The elephants were gifts of the Miami Zoo to Chapultepec Zoo. They arrived Tuesday night after a five-day train trip from Florida. The shrill whistle of a locomotive frightened them, and they broke for their cages in the Central Railway Depot while being loaded into vans.

Reds Claim U.S. and Others Preparing To Attack Iraq

MOSCOW (AP) — The Kremlin charged Wednesday night that the United States and four members of the Baghdad Pact are sharpening their knives for an attack on the new Iraq republic. It warned that in the event of such an attack peace-loving peoples — a Soviet euphemism for the Communist bloc — "will come to the aid of the victim." Britain, Turkey, Iran and Pakistan remain active in the Baghdad Pact with the United States newly committed to aid them in defense against aggression in the Mideast. They are uncertain as yet whether Iraq will retain or junk the charter membership it obtained under the pro-Western regime of the late King Faisal.

Railroad Aid Bill Sent To The President

WASHINGTON (AP) — A compromise aid-to-railroad bill won final approval in Congress Wednesday.

The bill, a compromise between earlier Senate and House versions was sent to President Eisenhower.

The bill's main purpose is to authorize government guarantees of 15-year-commercial loans of up to half a million dollars for capital investment, equipment and maintenance. The guaranteed loans could total half a billion dollars.

When the legislation was being debated, there were statements that a number of railroads badly needed help, especially in the East.

Since then, some indirect help has been voted for all the roads — and other forms of transportation, too — in the form of repeal of the 3 per cent federal tax on the transportation of freight.

Good Listening— Today on WSUI

MOUNTAINEERS and vacationers will want to hear the talk "Mountain Country" to be heard at 11:45 this morning. According to the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation, which produced the program, "Mountain Country" is "a lively account of the mountains of British Columbia and their effect on the people who live among them."

NEWS AT NOON, one of the most important news periods of the day, is heard at 12:30. Contrary to the increasing trend toward the five-minute newscast (the most graphic illustration that a little knowledge is a dangerous thing) WSUI presents four fifteen minute newscasts and one ten minute newscast, Monday through Friday.

"THE FRENCH PUBLIC is not very happy about this week's diplomatic notes exchanged between the West and Russia in preparation for a news Summit Conference." Thus begins today's French Press Review, a sampling of editorial opinion in France during the week just ended. By short wave from Paris.

BELA BARTOK'S String Quartet No. 5 will be featured on Mostly Music which begins at 1:00 this afternoon. The Parrenin String Quartet, an outstanding French ensemble plays.

TEA TIME TODAY, as always, is 4:00-5:30 with pop and jazz music prevailing. Introductions by Paul Belts.

SWIETEK'S SCHEDULE 9:15 m/e/11:30 p.m. 9:00-9:00 p.m. Feature work will be SCHUBERT: Symphony No. 9 in C.

Soviets Claim U.S. Plane In Red Area

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union Wednesday charged that a U.S. plane from Iran deliberately violated Soviet air space and said Soviet fighters forced the aircraft to flee.

The Soviet Government said it took a particularly grave view of the latest plane incident in view of U.S.-British "armed intervention" in the Middle East.

The Government handed protests to U.S. Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson and Iranian Ambassador Mostafa Samis. The notes charged that on July 26 a U.S. military plane flying from the direction of Iran crossed the Soviet border in the Caspian Sea area 130 miles southeast of the town of Astara.

In Washington, the State Department said the Soviet complaint would be investigated. Moscow's protest note was received there in mid-afternoon.

The protest claimed the plane strayed 15 miles inside Soviet territory before it was forced back. It did not say whether the Soviet fighters had opened fire.

The Soviet Government insisted that those guilty be punished and that effective measures be taken to prevent such incidents in the future.

The note to Iran said the Soviet Government "draws attention to the fact that such violation had also occurred before and that the facts do not tally with Iranian Government statements that no foreign troops will be stationed in Iran and that Iran will never be used as a base for attacks against the Soviet Union."

Soviet jets shot down a U.S. transport plane in Soviet Armenia June 27. The nine American crewmen who received minor injuries were released July 7.

Officials To Study Parolee's Future

DES MOINES (AP)—State officials wrestled Wednesday with the problem of whether to send Harold Plude, 42-year-old parolee back to prison.

Plude, his wife and two small children were picked up Tuesday night as they were returning to their home after driving James Herbert Slater, 25, an escaped prisoner from the Clive prison farm, to Ames. His wife and children later were released.

Plude himself escaped from the Clive farm eight years ago while serving a 25-year term for robbery. He led an exemplary life in Bridgeport, Conn., until he gave himself up last November. He was paroled last May.

Iowa Parole Board Secretary Russell Bobzin said he had sent a full report on the Plude case to the board which is meeting at Anamosa.

But he said the board hadn't yet received the report and couldn't possibly decide what to do with Plude before Thursday afternoon.

A parole board agent said the case must be studied carefully "because whatever we do will set a precedent for any cases like this that might occur in the future."

Officers quoted Plude as saying Slater, who walked away from the Clive farm last weekend, came to the Plude home Monday evening.

Plude said he tried to talk Slater into giving himself up but was unsuccessful. He said Slater remained at the Plude home overnight and all day Tuesday while Plude was at work.

That night, Plude said, Slater asked to be taken to Ames to see his former wife and promised that

Unborn Child Cannot Sue Rules Judge

DES MOINES (AP)—An unborn child cannot seek damages as the result of an auto accident, District Judge Carroll O. Switzer ruled Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Augustine Ortiz of Des Moines, the plaintiffs, also included the unborn child in the petition.

James L. McDowell Jr., attorney for the couple, said this was the first "unborn child" suit in Iowa to his knowledge. He added that similar suits have been upheld recently in Minnesota and other states. McDowell said another probably would be filed after the birth of the child.

The Ortizes named four persons as defendants in their suit totaling $71,500. It arose out of a two-car crash in Des Moines May 13.

The defendants are Gary Cunningham, 16; Patricia Leah Sims, 16; Robert Sims, father of Patricia Lewis and the Sims girl who was injured when the car driven by her father hit the Ortiz auto.

Cunningham was listed as owner of the car Lewis was driving. Robert Sims, father of Patricia is owner of the car she was driving.

"An unborn child has no legal existence in esse (re: denote in actual existence), and said defendants owe no legal duty of any kind to an alleged entity not in legal existence," Judge Switzer's ruling said.

The judge ordered that the unborn child's suit be dismissed. The Ortizes were seeking $15,000 damages for the unborn child, $6,500 for Ortiz, and $50,000 for Mrs. Ortiz.

SUI Student Sits on Supreme Court

A 17-year-old SUI student was chosen to sit on the U.S. Supreme Court, but only for a few days last week.

John Hayek, son of Will J. Hayek, 900 N. Dubuque, was given this honor while he attended Boys Nation in Washington, D.C. from July 18-25.

According to Hayek, the Supreme Court on which he sat did not get much done because sight-seeing got in the way.

The American Legion sponsors Boys Nation. Two representatives are chosen from every state. Hayek was chosen this year as one of the two Iowa delegates from boys attending Boys State in Des Moines.

The other delegate was Robert Hansen, Davenport.

At Boys Nation all the youths were divided into two parties, the Federalists and the Nationalists. Both parties elected federal officers, and John was chosen to be on the Supreme Court.

After the elections, the boys spent their time sightseeing and inspecting landmarks such as the Washington Monument and the Pentagon, Hayek said.

Hayek stayed on the campus of the University of Maryland, College Park, Md., along with other delegates.

Hayek graduated from high school last spring and is a special admissions student at SUI this fall.

Porter To Speak At Educational Journalism Meet

William E. Porter, associate professor of journalism, will speak at the opening general session of the annual Association for Education in Journalism (AEJ) convention Aug. 25 through 28 at the University of Missouri, Columbia, Mo.

He will discuss the impact and effects of the mass communications media on education. His address will be based on his book, "Mass Communications and Education."

The book contains chapters on the growth of mass communications, the impact of the mass media on society, and mass communications research.

About 300 members of the AEJ, the national organization of college level journalism educators, are expected to attend the convention.

Scrap of Paper Leads To Arrest of 2 Boys

DES MOINES (AP)—A scrap of paper in a wrecked car at Savannah, Mo., led to the arrest of two Des Moines youths who admitted a stolen car joy ride.

Detective Lt. Edward McCarthy said Dale L. Woods, 17, and Elmer George Martin, 16, admitted taking cars in Des Moines, Savannah, Mo., and Afton, Ia., on a round trip escapade.

The Des Moines car belonged to Kenneth Hergen and was wrecked at Savannah. McCarthy said a piece of paper with Woods' name on it was found in the car. This led to the pair's arrest.

The boys are held under $2,000 bond on car theft and burglary charges.

CIGARETTE CAUSES FIRE

A cigarette left burning was believed to have caused a davenport to catch fire in an upstairs apartment at 219 1/2 S. Linn St. Wednesday, according to the fire department.

Isabel Lukasky, who occupies the apartment, was not at home at the time of the fire. It was discovered by clerks in the Iowa State Liquor Store, located below the apartment, who smelled the fire.

Braves Regain Lead Over LA as Giants

Yanks Lose Second Straight to A's

CINCINNATI (AP) — Bob Purkey allowed San Francisco only five hits and knocked in two runs with a bases-loaded single Wednesday night as the Cincinnati Redlegs whipped the Giants 5-1 and knocked them out of first place in the National League. Walt Dropp and Pete Whisenant hit home runs for the Redlegs.

The defeat, coupled with Milwaukee's victory over Los Angeles, moved the Braves a percentage point ahead of the Giants. Johnny Antonelli was the losing hurler for the Giants.

The game was held up for an hour and 20 minutes in the second inning because of rain.

Purkey's mastery of the Giants continued even though they finally got a run off him. He had a string of 46 scoreless innings against the Giants — both the New York and San Francisco variety — when they finally got a run in the fifth.

Home runs — Cincinnati, Dropp (3), Whisenant (6).

and Bob Cerv smacked a double to right field. But a fast relay from Hank Bauer to Bill Skowron to Yogi Berra nipped Maris at the plate and the big Yankee pitcher escaped further damage until the fourth inning. In that frame doubles by Maris and Hal Smith produced a second tally.

Kansas City ... 100 100 — 2 4 0

Home run — Kansas City, Carrasquel (4).

Tigers 2, Red Sox 1

DETROIT (AP) — Righthander George Susce put down a ninth inning rally by the Boston Red Sox as the Detroit Tigers took a 2-1 decision Wednesday.

Gene Stephens, who accounted for the only Boston run with a homer in the seventh inning, hit a one-out double in the ninth, but was stranded when Susce got Sammy White to ground out and Don Budin fanned on three pitches.

Ike Delock took the loss for the Red Sox. It was his second straight loss after his 10-game winning streak was broken last week.

Boston ... 000 000 100 — 1 7 2
Detroit ... 001 009 010 — 2 7 0
Delock and White; Susce and Lau.
Home runs — Boston, Stephens (6).

Braves 4, Dodgers 3

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Lefty Warren Spahn, who hadn't beaten the Dodgers in nearly seven years, took his 13th victory Wednesday night by taming Los Angeles on six hits as the Milwaukee Braves took a 4-3 triumph.

In posting his first decision over the Dodgers since Sept. 25, 1951, the veteran Spahn survived a wild sixth inning in which two errors helped the Dodgers register two of their three runs. He had the help of home runs by Felix Mantilla, who drove in three runs, and Eddie Mathews.

The 37-year-old Spahn last started — and lost — against the Dodgers in June two years ago when he lasted only 1½ innings.

A's 2, Yankees 0

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Chico Carrasquel's home run scuttled the New York Yankees Wednesday night as the Kansas City Athletics won a 2-0 victory in a rain-shortened game.

A downpour in the last half of the fifth inning halted play. After an hour's delay umpire Jim Honochick decided further play was impossible.

The victory was the second straight for the A's over the American League champions.

The Athletics teed off early on Don Larsen. Larsen walked Roger Maris after Carrasquel's home run in 1955 and 1956 when he led the league with 198 and 176 strikeouts respectively. Then he was facing Cardinal teammate Stan Musial who Jones said "is tough on anyone. He hits them all." Last year Sam struck out 154.

Jones, 32, a native of Stewartsville, Ohio, has a no-hit, no-run game against the Pittsburgh Pirates in 1955 to his credit. In that same season he also chalked up a couple of dubious records. First he gave up 185 bases on balls, a modern National League record. He also hit 14 batters to lead the league in another department.

Jones credits a lot of his success to catchers Hobe Landrith and Hal Smith and to Cards' Manager Fred Hutchinson. Both catchers are excellent men behind the plate, says Jones, and Hutchinson taught him how to concentrate on the mound.

In the American League, bullet Bob Turley of the New York Yankees is the leader with 118 strikeouts.

Jones said he had no favorite pitch to use in a tight situation. "My best pitch is a fast ball or a curve, depending on who the batter is." If that batter is Gus Bell of the Cincinnati Redlegs, said Jones, he just throws and hopes. "He's the guy who gives me the most trouble," Jones added mournfully.

Kimball's 156 Leads Women's Golf Tourney

EDAR RAPIDS (AP) — Judy Kimball, of Sioux City, a 20-year-old University of Kansas co-ed, posted a 36-hole score of 156 Wednesday to lead qualifiers in the Iowa Women's Golf Tournament.

Miss Kimball, who tied for the top spot at the halfway mark Tuesday with a 6-over par 78 at the Cedar Rapids Country Club, shot another 78 in her second 18-hole qualifying test.

Andy Cohn of Waterloo, had shared the lead with a 78 at the start of the day's play but slipped to an 80 on her second trip and finished in second place with a total of 158.

In third spot with 165 was Sharon Fladoos, of Dubuque, 15-year-old Iowa high school champion.

A total of 188 was enough to qualify for the 72-hole title flight which opens with medal competition Thursday and continues through Friday. There were 16 women after the championship yesterday.

Linda Cahill, Keokuk, 173; Mrs. Elliott Cobb, Cedar Rapids, 175; Mrs. Robert Van Horn, Des Moines, and Mrs. Bernard Price, Marion, with 176; Sandra Anderson, Fort Dodge, and Mrs. Robert Walker, Cedar Rapids, with 180.

Mrs. Ed Mueller, Davenport, 181; Jane Hawkins, Mount Pleasant, and Judy McCoy, Indianola, with 184; Mrs. John McGuinness, Des Moines, 185; Lois Penn, Des Moines, and Linda Jordan, Cedar Rapids, 186 and Pearl Van Eschen, Ackley, 188.

Durocher Backs Spitting Incident By Ted Williams

LOS ANGELES (AP) — It was wrong to fine Ted Williams $250 for spitting during a game at Kansas City the other day, says former major league manager Leo Durocher.

"I think he was perfectly entitled to spit toward the stands to show his displeasure with the fans," Durocher said in an interview.

"He didn't spit on anyone or insult any one person or throw dirt on them. He was just simply expressing disgust with those who were booing him for not running out a dinky roller when the ball had already reached the first base man."

"Unless you know Ted Williams you can't fully understand him. I have yet to hear one player knock this man, from either league. This is the most likable guy in baseball. He's unique, one of a kind."

"People pay to see him and, for some reason, to boo him — just like they used to boo Babe Ruth."

"Believe me, baseball should thank its lucky stars it has someone like Ted Williams. Fining him $250 was unjustified."

Webb Whips Szuzina On TKO in 7th Round

NEW YORK (AP) — Spider Webb, a substitute for Gene Fullmer, the former middleweight champ, stopped Germany's Franz Szuzina with a furious flurry of punches in 1:20 of the seventh round Wednesday night at Madison Square Garden. It was a technical knockout with Referee Harry Kessler stopping the bout to save Szuzina from punishment. Webb weighed 162½, Szuzina 161½.

Webb, the 3-to-1 favorite, drove home 12 straight punches as he backed the German against the ropes in the seventh. Szuzina's hands dropped and his knees sagged as Webb rained heavy punishment on him until Referee Kessler stepped in not a second too soon.

When the end came, Szuzina had sagged against the ropes with his hands down, almost sitting on the bottom strand. After Kessler ended it, Franz staggered across the ring and then dropped to his knees as his crew came to the rescue.

HALAS SEES 14-TEAM LEAGUE

RENNSEALER, Ind. (AP) — Owner-coach George Halas of the Chicago Bears believes the National Football League (NFL) will expand from 12 to 14 teams within the next two or three years.

Halas, chairman of the NFL's expansion committee, also said Wednesday at the Bears' St. Joseph College Camp "If a league of 14 teams does well, I feel that we'll then go to 16."

Folley Ranked Top Contender For Patterson

NEW YORK (AP) — Zora Folley, Chandler, Ariz., a fourth round knockout winner over amateurish Pete Rademacher, has taken over as the undisputed No. 1 contender for Heavyweight Champion Floyd Patterson in the new Ring Magazine ratings.

Folley had been bracketed with Eddie Machen of Redding, Calif., as co-holder of the No. 1 position before he fought Rademacher. His victory and Machen's inactivity broke the tie.

Roy Harris, the challenger from Cut and Shoot, Texas, who boxes Patterson for the title Aug. 18 at Los Angeles, was ranked No. 5 behind Folley, Machen, Willie Pastrano of New Orleans (whom Harris whipped) and Light Heavyweight Champion Archie Moore.

Iowa Historical Society Denied Use

The Iowa City City Council denied the Iowa State Historical Society's request for use of the society's new building on the west side of the city. The council's decision was based on the fact that the building would be within one foot of the sidewalk and three feet from the street.

The council denied the society's request on the grounds that it is contrary to city policy.

Second Property Transfer This is the second disbursement of property lines that the society has since construction began last month.

William J. Petersen, professor of history and superintendent, appeared at the council Monday night to present the petition. The petition was made by the earlier disbursement.

Last month Mr. and Mrs. Paul, 401 Iowa Ave., court action against the city claiming that the new building was too close to the property line. As a result of the building was moved to the west.

Must Redesign Entrance Petersen told the council that the building is on the society's property and that the petition was made by the earlier disbursement.

Petersen said that if the city denied it would be redesigning the entrance and greatly reduce the attraction of the structure.

Thursday afternoon the city also awarded a $23,450 contract to Knowing Brothers of Iowa for the installation of improvements on six streets.

'Tea House' Tryouts Slated Monday and Tuesday

Tryouts for the Iowa Community Theatre production of the August Meier play, "Tea House," will be held Monday and Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. in the basement of the Unitarian Church, 1010 E. Washington St.

The play has a large cast of predominantly male, and it is a comedy. It is the first of the "backstage" committee's productions.

"Tea House" of the August Meier play was a recent Broadway hit and an equally popular movie.
