Chamoun Regime Getting Shaky

Tighter SUI Student Loan Policy Asked

Auditors Also Note Less Per Student Costs

After checking SUI's books for the 1956-57 fiscal year, state auditors asked Friday that SUI give more attention to the collection of student loans.

The auditors also noted, according to an Associated Press report, that SUI students cost the state $15.18 less per student than they did the previous year.

Commenting on the collection of student loans, the auditors said the University had $72,867 in student loans outstanding at the end of the year and that it had charged off an uncollectible $1,432 in such notes.

"We believe that more attention should be given to the collection of student loan notes," the report said.

Elwin T. Jolliffe, SUI vice-president and in charge of student loan payments, was out of town Friday and unavailable for comment. M. L. Huit, dean of records, said SUI has a very good record for payment of student loans.

After figuring University expenses on a per student basis, the auditors reported that it cost the state an average of $929.46 per student to operate SUI during the last fiscal school year, or $15.18 less than the previous year.

The auditors noted without comment that University officials apparently reckoned the cash cost per student somewhat higher.

The report said the University, using the same formula as the auditors, came up with a per student cost of $936.54 as compared with $939.57 for the previous year.

The auditors said they included all expenditures for educational and general operations, repairs, replacements and alterations, in arriving at their per student figure, but excluded expenditures for research, extension and other activities not related to the instructional program.

SUI had receipts of $40,914,847 and spent $40,520,486 during the year which ended June 30, 1957, the report said. This resulted in an increase of $394,360 in cash and temporary investments of University funds.

Educational and general expenses at SUI totaled $10,271,563 and were broken down as follows: administrative and general, $1,069,103; instructional and departmental research, $7,126,070; extension division, $294,461; library, $581,465; physical plant, $1,200,442.

In addition to educational and general expenses and capital additions, expenditures included $6,148,645 for operation of University Hospitals and $3,316,186 for dormitory and dining services.

The auditor's report said total assets of the University amounted to $62,650,385, an increase of $3,887,108 from a year earlier. Funds available for future operations on the same date totaled only $7,997,837 as compared with $8,547,810 at the end of June, 1956.

The auditor's report commended SUI for setting up the new position of internal auditor.

Wayne Woodbury took over the position as SUI internal auditor on June 15.

"This action by the University," the report said, "should result in improved operations in stores and service departments as well as the athletic department, hospitals, physical plant, and various other areas of the institution."

Lucas Being Held On $7,000 Bond

Ralph Lucas, 67, who was accused of posing as a doctor and selling an Iowa City resident hay fever tablets for cancer cure, was being held in Johnson County jail Friday in lieu of $7,000 bond.

Lucas was granted a continuance at his arraignment in police court Friday on a charge of obtaining money under false pretenses.

Lucas was returned to Iowa City Wednesday afternoon from Duquoin where he was being held on a bad check charge.

Racial Agitator Freed

PRISON DOORS OPENED Friday for racial agitator John Kasper who walked through the main gate of the U.S. Penitentiary in Atlanta, Ga., to freedom. Kasper has completed a 1-year sentence for contempt of a federal court. He said he will carry on his racial segregation tactics and set out immediately for a rally at Tallahassee, Fla. — AP Wirephoto.

The Mighty Mushroom—

Can U.S. Pit Nuclear Fire Against Nuclear Fire?

By JOHN BARBOUR

NEW YORK (AP) — Can the United States, safely and effectively, fight nuclear fire with nuclear fire? That seems to be the question that erupted Friday high in the Pacific sky, 700 miles southwest of Hawaii. The Atomic Energy Commission (AEC) set off what may have been its highest nuclear blast ever, sending an atomic warhead aboard a missile perhaps four miles into the sky.

Why fire off an atomic weapon at that height?

The answer lies in the original AEC announcement that certain defensive missiles with nuclear warheads would be tested in the Johnston Island area.

15-Minute Notice
Missiles with nuclear warheads — How might such dangerous missiles protect against enemy nuclear attack?

The United States stands just across the Arctic Circle from Russia. A Russian missile carrying a nuclear warhead that could smash half a city could cover the distance in about half an hour.

The longest advance warning would be perhaps 15 minutes.

That is 15 minutes to stop a missile protect against enemy nuclear attack.

Perhaps the nuclear explosion over Johnston Island is one answer.

The AEC's experiment could be aimed at determining if the fireball and shock waves of a nuclear blast might destroy or otherwise block an enemy missile from delivering its cargo of nuclear fire.

As a first line missile defense, the United States might aim at building a waiting nuclear fence high up in the Arctic Circle.

To Intercept Rockets
Here nuclear missiles might streak into the sky at a moment's notice, exploding hundreds of miles over the top of the world, to intercept enemy rockets with their fire and shock.

The problems are fairly obvious. How great an area might be endangered by fallout in such a test? Is it effective as a means of defense?

U.S.-Britain Back Aug. 12 For Summit

Moscow Diplomats Predict Soviet Okay

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The United States and Britain drove Friday for an Aug. 12 Middle East summit conference in the United Nations. France wouldn't say yes, but diplomats in Moscow predicted Soviet acceptance.

Britain put in a formal request for a high-level Security Council meeting in just 12 days, and suggested Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld aid in consultations among Council members on arrangements.

Doubt Expressed
He acted immediately, calling in representatives of the big powers on the 11-nation Council for individual consultations. He said he would see the other Council members Saturday.

But despite the speed at which the diplomatic wheels were turning here, considerable doubt existed that the meeting could actually open on the target date Britain proposed. U.N. diplomats said Aug. 15 seemed more likely, and a delay until Aug. 18 was not ruled out.

President Eisenhower suggested on or about Aug. 12 in his letter sent Friday to Soviet Premier Khrushchev. Mr. Eisenhower lined up with Britain and committed himself definitely for the first time to attend a high-level Council meeting.

Hammarskjöld Consulted
The Council members talked with Hammarskjöld about the site for the summit meeting, the nations outside the Council to be invited, and how broad a range Middle East discussion will cover.

U.N. diplomats expected that a meeting of the Council attended by the representatives now here will be held by the middle of next week to formalize the preliminary arrangements.

In Moscow, diplomats from Western and neutral nations predicted Khrushchev would accept U.S. and British insistence that the summit meeting be held under council procedure. They saw Geneva as the most probable site.

Hammarskjöld favors New York but informed sources said political pressures might result in selecting Geneva despite admittedly better physical facilities existing at U.N. headquarters in New York.

The French View
French Ambassador Guillaume Georges-Picot saw Hammarskjöld after receiving the formal request from Harold Bealey, Britain's acting permanent U.N. representative, for the Aug. 12 meeting.

He received the request because France's delegate to the Security Council president for August. If Premier de Gaulle attends a Council meeting he would occupy the presiding chair.

Georges-Picot told a reporter he was obliged to call a Council meeting since a member had requested it. But he said he would seek clarification of the British letter and talk to other Council members about a date before he acts.

Tickets Available For All Plantings Of 'Chalk Garden'

Tickets still are available for the three performances of Enid Bagnold's "The Chalk Garden," the final 1958 summer presentation by the SUI Dramatic Arts Department.

A teen-age girl "right out of Freud" and her relationships with the other people who live in her grandmother's home form the basis for the play, which will be presented at 8 p.m. Thursday through Saturday.

Tickets may be obtained at the East Lobby Information Desk at the Iowa Memorial Union Monday through Friday from 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. and Saturday from 9 a.m. until noon.

Students may obtain free tickets upon presentation of their student ID cards. Admission to the public, staff and faculty is $1.25.

The SUI production will be directed by Oscar G. Brockert, assistant professor of dramatic arts, and Andrew Doe, G. Iowa City.

Back from Venezuela

Winnie Says Television Proving Boon to Education

"Educational television has been 'born' in Venezuela and this communication infant comes as a boon to a country that has a pressing need for more learning," John R. Winnie, associate professor at the SUI Television Center, said Friday. Winnie returned to Iowa City this week after spending six months in the South American country working with the Venezuelan National Commission for Educational Television, helping the group to organize a television teaching program.

Two Purposes
"Our aim was to establish an educational television program that could be used for both teaching children in the schools and for in-service training of teachers," Winnie said.

"Like the rest of the world, Venezuela suffers from a shortage of trained teachers, but in a more severe way," he said. "Television can be an answer, and our pilot demonstrations showed that it can be used effectively to up-date teachers."

Winnie's work was sponsored by the Broadcasting Foundation of America (BFA) with a grant from the Creole Foundation. The Creole Petroleum Corporation is a U.S. firm which is the largest oil producer in Venezuela.

More Progress Than U.S.
"In one sense, Venezuela has made more progress on a national level in educational television than has the U.S. where educational television experiments are all locally sponsored. Five months ago, in-class television did not exist in the country; today, high schools in Caracas have been exposed to experimental telecasts and the Government has plans to institute educational television in all primary and secondary schools," Winnie said.

A 2-week demonstration of educational television broadcasts to high schools in Caracas was the first of its kind in South America. Students, teachers and the general public viewed daily 1-hour programs in biology, chemistry, mathematics, sociology and teacher training. Similar programs will be broadcast during the coming school year over the government-owned television station.

Continue to Help
BFA will continue support of the program and Winnie will act as a consultant throughout the duration of the project. U.S. experts will work with Venezuelan educators during the coming year and several Venezuelans will be brought to this country to get a first-hand view of educational television experiments and receive training in educational stations.

Winnie's wife Mary Jane and their two children, Penelope and Cheryl, accompanied him to South America. In 1951, Winnie made a similar journey to 16 European countries as a consultant to the U.S. Department of State on the uses of television for government and education.

New Foundation Being Built For Crandic Railroad Bridge

A new foundation and general strengthening of the Crandic Railroad Bridge is underway just north of the Iowa Avenue bridge.

The Amos Meiberg Construction Co., Cedar Rapids, was awarded the contract with a bid of $78,000.

Bill Snyder, Superintendent of Crandic Railroad, said new steel pilings are being driven down around each pier and abutment to the bedrock 38 feet below the surface.

On the new steel pilings there will be a reinforced concrete pier which will enclose the two old piers, Snyder said. The two concrete abutments on either end of the bridge will be reconstructed as combination piers and abutments.

The old foundation consisted of wood pilings which rested on a large layer of sand and gravel.

Snyder said the space now occupied by the timber approaches to the bridge will be removed and replaced with an earth fill.

He said he expects the work to be completed by September 30. The Crandic train will continue to travel the bridge during the construction period.

Same song, fourth verse — cloudy skies and scattered showers. The highs today are expected to be between 85 and 90 in Iowa City. Further outlook for Sunday calls for warmer temperatures and more cloudy skies.

SUI to Get $65,000 In Gifts, Grants

With more than 80 per cent of the total to be used for a variety of medical research projects, the finance committee of the State Board of Regents has accepted $65,145 in gifts and grants for SUI.

Largest single grant was $35,000 from the Iowa Tuberculosis and Health Association for a fellowship and six research projects relating to pulmonary diseases or physiology.

For Pulmonary Research
Grants for pulmonary research were made to Drs. George N. Bedell, assistant professor of internal medicine; Richard A. Tjalma, assistant professor of agricultural medicine; Ian Maclean Smith, assistant professor of internal medicine; William B. Bean, professor and head of internal medicine; Wayburn S. Jeter, associate professor of bacteriology, and Henry G. Cramblett, assistant professor of pediatrics.

Dr. Bean also received a $2,500 grant from the Nutrition Foundation, Inc. to continue research on human pantothenic acid deficiency. Pantothenic acid is a vitamin in the "B" complex.

For Medical Research
Grants totaling $10,800 were accepted from the Iowa Heart Association (IHA) for research in the College of Medicine. A $6,000 IHA grant will be used for a research fellowship for Dr. Arthur W. Horsley, resident physician in internal medicine, who will study bodily mechanisms connected with shock conditions and congenital heart failure. Directing the research will be Dr. John W. Eckstein, assistant professor of internal medicine.

Blood Cell Research
Recipient of a $4,800 IHA fellowship in cardiovascular research will be Dr. Chen-shu Chang, resident physician in internal medicine, who will study the mechanism of red blood cell destruction in patients with congenital heart disease. Dr. Raymond F. Sheets, associate professor of internal medicine, will direct the project.

GRANTS—

Summer Students Spared Rigors Of Finals Week, But—

Summer school does have its advantages—and one of the best is the fact that there is no final examinations week.

The Registrar's Office said Friday there will be no final week for the summer session and the time for final examinations will be left to the discretion of the individual instructors.

Don't start packing your suitcases too soon, however, for the Registrar's Office has advised all instructors that classes will be continued until 5 p.m. Wednesday, Aug. 13.

Students who wish to have their summer term grades sent to them must leave self-addressed, stamped envelopes at the Registrar's Office. Grades are expected to be available in University Hall during the last week in August, the Registrar's Office announced Friday. At that time, grades will be sent to those who have provided envelopes.

Balloon Launched In Missouri for McDonald

MOBERLY, Mo. (AP) — A balloon carrying highly technical equipment for the study of cosmic rays was sent aloft here Friday.

Finance Chief Pierre Edde Quits His Job

Premier Sami Solh May Be Next

By EDWIN SHANKE

BEIRUT (AP) — Political pressures mounted Friday against the lame duck Government of President Camille Chamoun, whose term ends Sept. 23. More American troops arrived meanwhile by ship from Germany.

Finance Minister Pierre Edde quit his job — the first open break in the Lebanese Cabinet since Army commander Fuad Shehab was named president-elect by Parliament Thursday.

Ministers loyal to President Chamoun worked to persuade Premier Sami Solh to remain in office until Chamoun's term expires.

Solh was said to be embittered by the election of Shehab, a long-time political foe, and there have been rumors that Solh's resignation is imminent.

Reliable informants said Edde, a member of the midroad National Bloc, resigned because he felt Shehab should be given some authority immediately although he is not scheduled to take office until Sept. 24.

Cabinet Refuses
The Cabinet at a meeting Friday refused to take such a step.

Informants said pro-Chamoun Cabinet ministers had talked Solh into postponing any resignation and perhaps staying in office until Chamoun's term ends.

If Solh should resign, it would leave Chamoun in an increasingly difficult spot. He would find it almost impossible to get anyone else to form a Cabinet for the few weeks remaining until Sept. 23. And if Chamoun should be left without a Cabinet, the pressure would be increased for him to resign before his term ends.

Cairo and Damascus have urged Shehab to dump Chamoun and get American forces out of Lebanon.

The opposition National Front declared its 84-day-old general strike will continue until Chamoun resigns.

The calm that followed Shehab's election in Parliament was broken by the rebels with an explosion that wrecked two stores near the main post office. At least one person was killed and 10 were injured.

It was the rebels' reminder that the crisis is far from over although they backed Shehab.

The United States has landed more troops in Lebanon. These were a transport load of support units for troops already here. The U.S. Embassy said more are on the way. While they are not combat units, it seemed obvious they would not be landing now if a quick U.S. withdrawal was in prospect.

No Hint of Future
Shehab, the 56-year-old non-political general, has given no hint of his future course except to say he does not intend to resign from the Army until Sept. 24, the day he is scheduled to take office.

Asked for comment he said: "I am still a military man."

Chamoun said he thought U.S. troops might withdraw "when peace is complete in all the country, or when American troops are replaced by U.N. forces."

U.S. Demands Iraq Free Captured Marines

BAGHDAD, Iraq (AP) — The U.S. Embassy demanded Friday the release of two American Marines seized here Wednesday by Iraqi military police near a blazing oil storage tank.

The Marines, members of the embassy guard, were picked up along with about 40 Iraqis found in the vicinity of the fire, an Iraqi government spokesman said.

The Marines were identified as Sgt. George C. Hamilton of Century, Fla., and Sgt. Philip C. Smith of West Palm Beach, Fla. The demand for their release was made by Ambassador Waldemar Gailmann.

New Schedule For Mail Departures

A revised schedule of mail departure times has been distributed to Iowa City homes and posted in the Post Office.

East bound air mail leaving time has been changed so it now leaves the airport at 1:05 p.m. daily except Saturday. On Saturday it will leave at 12:30 p.m.

West bound air mail leaves at 2:30 p.m.

All air mail must be at the Post Office a half-hour before these times to assure being on these planes.

Air mail is forwarded to the nearest air stop by train after dispatch of regular air mail trips.

Regular east bound mail leaves the Post Office at 3:04 a.m., 3:18 p.m., and 10:31 p.m. Effective Aug. 4, mail will leave at 8:41 a.m. also.

Regular west bound mail will leave the Post Office at 2:15 a.m., 5:09 a.m., 5:54 p.m., and 9 p.m.

Regular mail must be in the Post Office 15 minutes before the leaving time.

AWAITING HIS RETURN TO FORT MADISON PENITENTIARY, Harold Plude, 42, Des Moines, stands behind bars in the Polk County Jail Friday. Plude's parole was revoked by the Iowa Parole Board for helping James Herbert Slater, 25, who fled from the Clive Prison Farm a week ago.—AP Wirephoto.

Plude's Parole Revoked For Aiding Escapee

DES MOINES (AP)—Prison doors are going to close again on a 42-year-old Iowa convict who reformed his life, got married and raised a family in Connecticut following his escape eight years ago.

Harold Plude, 42, of Des Moines, a parolee, didn't turn to crime again but he reluctantly extended a helping hand to another prisoner who escaped last week.

For that he must go back to the Iowa Penitentiary to finish out 18 months of an original 25-year sentence for a Des Moines service station holdup. His parole was revoked Friday by the Iowa Parole Board.

In 1950 Plude walked away from the Clive State Prison Farm near here. He reached Bridgeport, Conn., where he led a good life, married and became the father of two

GRANTS—

An American Chemical Society grant of $4,800 will be used by R. E. Kallio, associate professor of bacteriology, for a fundamental research project to determine how bacteria breaks down hydrocarbons.

The Procter and Gamble Fellowship for 1958-59 was established with a sum of $3,500 from the Procter and Gamble Co. The fellowship will be used for research in product development by the SUI College of Pharmacy.

The Ethyl Corporation, Detroit, Mich., renewed their $2,660 research fellowship in chemistry for 1958-59. Holder of the fellowship will be Helmut M. Gilow, Cedarburg, Wis., who is working toward a Ph.D. in chemistry. He will receive $1,800 and $260 for tuition and fees. The Department of Chemistry will receive $600 to defray costs of Gilow's research.

For Pharmacy Research
A sum of $2,500 was accepted from the Upjohn Pharmaceutical Co. to establish the Upjohn Educational Grant in the Department of Pharmacology. The money will be used for research as the department directs.

A continuing project on preventive psychiatry in public schools will use an $1,800 grant from the Iowa Mental Health Authority. Ralph Ojemann, professor and director of the preventive psychiatry research program at the Iowa Child Welfare Research Station, is directing the research.

The Iowa State Policemen's Association, Iowa Association of Chiefs of Police and Peace Officers and the Iowa State Sheriffs' Association gave $200 each for the support of the annual Peace Officers Short Course at SUI. More than 80 Iowa law enforcement officers attended the week-long course in June.

L. Herbert Tyler, LeClaire, gave $500 to help defray the costs of an educational film on design being produced at SUI. The 29-minute color film will show several aspects of teaching used in SUI design classes. Tyler is a former design student at SUI.

Hospital Equipment Fund
The Royal American Shrine Club gave $250 to the Shrine equipment fund at the Hospital School for Severely Handicapped Children. The fund, founded by the Iowa City Shrine Club, provides special equipment which is loaned to handicapped children. The Royal Shrine Club operates a circus which tours the country and visits Shrine hospitals.

Other gifts to the Hospital School included $10 from Mrs. C. W. Momm, Cedar Rapids, and $5 from George Hayes, Davenport.

A sum of $200 was accepted from the A. E. Staley Co., Decatur, Ill., to be used for travel to professional meetings by faculty members of the Department of Marketing in the College of Commerce.

Florence Dunkle, Chicago, Ill., gave $20 to the Kate Daum Scholarship Fund. The fund is used to aid needy graduate students in the department of Nutrition. The late Kate Daum was head of the SUI Department of Nutrition from 1927 until her death in 1956.

3 KILLED IN FLOOD
KLAGENFURT, Austria (AP)—A cloudburst in the mountains sent torrents of water pouring down on three unsuspecting lakeside resort towns near here Thursday night. At least three persons perished and several dozen were injured.

Woman Braves Gangland Threats

WASHINGTON (AP)—Pretty Nancy Dawson braved gangland threats Friday to testify at a Senate inquiry into charges that racketeers have muscled into Detroit's lucrative laundry business.

She was praised for her courage by Chairman John L. McClellan (D-Ark.) of the Senate Rackets Committee, and a witness who denied part of her story was threatened with a perjury charge.

The witness was Joe Lehr, a partner in the Star Coverall Supply Co. of Detroit. Committee investigators say Star is controlled by mobsters.

Was Threatened
Mrs. Dawson is president of a competing firm, the Dawson Industrial Laundry Co. A blonde in a sunny white dress, she said she had been threatened with disfigurement or worse if she testified.

Before she talked with committee investigators this summer, she said, Lehr invited her to a restaurant for a cup of coffee, accused her of squealing and in response to her denials warned her: "Sooner or later I'll find out, and when I do you'll get a letter."

Mrs. Dawson said she took this as a childish taunt until she was told the expression "getting a letter" refers to the fact "it was quite common to send a picture of a hand in an envelope—that's supposed to indicate that's it."

There have been previous references to the Mafia, the Sicilian Black Hand society, in the Senate probe.

Lehr, testifying later, said it was true he had asked Mrs. Dawson to have a cup of coffee with him. But he swore he never threatened to write a letter to her if she testified.

"I never had any reason to threaten Mrs. Dawson," Lehr said.

Orders Transcript
But McClellan refused to believe him and ordered that a transcript of the testimony be turned over to the Justice Department to see who was telling the truth.

"I believe this witness has perjured himself," the Senator said of Lehr, "and I'm going to ask the Justice Department to pursue this with all diligence."

Lehr said he talked with Mrs. Dawson after he heard she was going to testify.

Laundry Business
"Her husband told me she was going to testify on the laundry and linen business," he said. "I was shocked."

Insisting there was nothing she could say about wrongdoing in his firm, Lehr told the committee: "She was mad at everybody in the industry."

Lehr protested he never threatened anybody in his life.

Texas Oilman To Testify About Gambling Syndicate

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—A Texas oilman reputed to be one of the world's richest men has been subpoenaed to testify here in a Federal grand jury investigation of a defunct gambling syndicate in Terre Haute, Ind.

The name of H. L. Hunt of Dallas, head of the Hunt Oil Co., appeared Friday on the list of prospective witnesses released by Federal authorities.

Returned subpoenas in the Federal court clerk's office showed Hunt was served July 29 at the offices of his company in Dallas.

U.S. Dist. Atty. Don A. Tabbert declined to discuss the relationship of any prospective witness with the gambling syndicate beyond saying those subpoenaed were believed capable of producing evidence in favor of the Government.

Tabbert had said earlier there were no plans to prosecute any of the witnesses unless evidence showed some law violation on their part. He indicated the witnesses either were bettors or in a position to know something about the operations of the syndicate.

The grand jury investigation of the syndicate operation is expected to open Aug. 11 and may last several weeks. In all, 169 witnesses from throughout the nation have been subpoenaed.

WESTBROOK, Minn. (AP)—As Cal Hagard and Kenneth Hanson were uncaring a hay rake at an implement firm here, they found these words scrawled in pencil on a board: "Help! I'm being held prisoner."

They decided it was no hoax. The hay rake had been manufactured by inmates at the Minnesota State Prison.

Educators Attend Banquet Tonight

The Annual SUI Business Education Banquet is scheduled to be held at Bill Zuber's, Homestead, today at 6 p.m.

Jerry N. Kuhn, associate professor of education, is to speak on "Dynamic Education in the Jet Age."

About 60 people are expected including staff members and their families, graduates and former students of business education.

Charles Kuhn, brother to the speaker, is to be toastmaster. He is a February candidate for the Ph.D. degree in commerce.

The following students, who are to receive their M.A. and Ph.D. degrees this August, will be honored: Roger Atz, G. Riverside, Gerald Huston, G. Olds, Mary Sellers, G. Iowa City, Mina Johnson, G. Sioux City.

William J. Masson, head of the SUI Department of Business Education, will introduce the students.

Joint Conference Fails To Form Trade Program
WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate-House efforts failed for the time being Friday to resolve differences over extension of the reciprocal trade program.

After an all-day session, conferees suspended their negotiations until next Monday.

The House version, patterned after President Eisenhower's requests would extend the Trade Act five years and give the president authority to cut tariffs 25 per cent in negotiating mutual trade concessions.

Haitian President Accuses Coup Planned in U.S.
PORT-AU-PRINCE (AP)—Haiti's President Francois Duvalier Friday accused the United States of permitting Haitian exiles to plot on United States soil against the Haitian Government.

Duvalier Thursday won from the National Assembly the right to rule Haiti by decree for six months in an effort to protect the Caribbean Negro Republic from plotters.

Duvalier said the latest coup attempt—crushed Tuesday with the killing of three Haitian ex-army officers and five Americans—was international brigandage.

TOLEDO Ia. (AP)—William Holland 23, of Cedar Rapids who, police said, confessed the slaying of Fred L. Hober, 62, former Clutier grain dealer, was charged late Friday with first degree murder.

The charge was filed in the court of Justice of the Peace Harvey Fox at Tama by Willard Russell, acting Tama County attorney and Sheriff F. L. Flynn.

The sheriff earlier in the day had brought Holland here from Cedar Rapids. Holland was held in the county jail without bond.

Assassination Attempt Fails In Venezuela
CARACAS, Venezuela (AP)—Five men in an automobile fired five shots Thursday night into the home of Edgard Sanabria, member of Venezuela's ruling junta, in an assassination attempt.

Police captured two of the men, one of whom was wounded. One of Sanabria's guards was wounded in the attack on the home. There was no announcement whether Sanabria was at home at the time.

DISTANCE FLIER Marion (Pat) Boling steps from his plane in Pendleton, Ore., after setting a non stop solo flight record from Manila, Boling did not have enough fuel left in the tanks to circle the airport before landing.

New Nonstop Record Set From Manila to West Coast

PENDLETON, Ore. (AP) — What he called his last "eyedropper full of gas" carried veteran flier Marion (Pat) Boling to a safe landing here Friday, a new nonstop record for light planes.

Boling brought in his brilliant orange Beechcraft Bonanza at 2:52 p.m. after warning the airport control tower his tanks were dry and he could not circle for an approach.

He said afterward he used the overflow from the main tank in landing.

Epic Flight
This was the happy ending to an epic endurance flight which began in Manila 45 hours 42 minutes, 6,979 miles and 401 gallons of gasoline earlier.

The old nonstop, unrefueled record of 4,957.24 miles for single-engine plane had been set in 1949 by the late Capt. Bill Odom in another Bonanza.

Boling was wrapped in his wife's tight embrace the moment his feet touched the ground.

"Oh, honey," she cried, "I'm so glad you're here."

Son Stands By

His proud son, Kevin, 9, stood by, waiting his turn. The other two Boling children remained at their Palo Alto, Calif., home.

Boling's pretty wife, Joyce, said all she wanted was for Pat to get plenty of rest then return home.

She said she had never been concerned for his safety, and Kevin felt the same way "because daddy has never crashed yet."

Boling, 43, has been a United Air Lines pilot nearly 20 years with a perfect safety record.

Greets Old Friend

One of the first to reach the plane was an old friend, Pete Miller, airport manager here, who rushed up and shouted:

"What are you doing landing in Pendleton, you old goat?"

"What do you mean, old goat?" the tired but grinning Boling shot back. "I couldn't have landed anywhere else."

He told newsmen the only trouble he encountered on the long, 2-day Great Circle flight was over Cold Bay, Alaska, Thursday night and off the British Columbia coast Friday morning.

His plane began icing up near Cold Bay, where he broke Odom's distance mark, and he had to drop down from the 18,000 foot altitude at which he had been flying.

Police: Divorcee Killed Drug Exec

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — A pretty divorcee traced a handsome drug company executive to his new girl friend's apartment and shot him, then tried to poison herself, police said Friday.

Police Capt. Michael Smiley gave his reconstruction of the mid-night killing of Forrest Teel, 54, while doctors tried to save the life of Connie Nicholas, 42, a recent divorcee and physical culture enthusiast. She was still unconscious in General Hospital.

Capt. Fred Swego said a typewritten note in Mrs. Nicholas' car gave the name of Laura L. Mowrer, 29, as the woman Teel had been seeing for the last three months. Teel was married and the father of a 14-year-old son.

Secluded Lane
Mrs. Nicholas was found unconscious in her car on a secluded lover's lane near Fall Creek Thursday night, about 20 hours after Teel was shot fatally.

Miss Mowrer is a sales personnel secretary at Eli Lilly & Co.,

the huge drug firm for which Teel directed all marketing. Her attorney, David M. Lewis, said she will cooperate with the police.

Doctors said it would be at least two days before Mrs. Nicholas can be questioned. A preliminary charge of murder was filed against her.

Three Bullets

A pistol found in her car was of the same .25 caliber as the three bullets that killed Teel.

Capt. Smiley said he believes Mrs. Nicholas traced Teel to Miss Mowrer's apartment Wednesday night, then waited for him outside in his white car until after midnight. He said the shooting apparently climaxed a bitter argument.

Smiley said he believes Mrs. Nicholas drove immediately to the secluded riverbank where she was found.

Hospital Care

She was given penicillin and intravenous feeding in treatment for barbituric poisoning.

Mrs. Nicholas was believed to have taken an overdose of sleeping pills.

Police said a typewritten letter to Teel found in Mrs. Nicholas' apartment said "our love is through." Capt. Smiley called her a "spurned woman," after a 15-year friendship with Teel.

Among the papers found in Mrs. Nicholas' apartment was a will and a note asking that her body be cremated in a blue negligee, and the ashes scattered over an airport. Teel had been taking flying lessons.

Three Non-Residents Fined in City Court

Three non-residents were fined in police court Friday.

Patrick E. Maguire, Fort Dodge, pleaded guilty to a charge of intoxication and was fined $25 and $5 costs. A charge of resisting arrest against Maguire was dismissed.

Larry K. Egger, Leon, was fined $10 and $4 costs on a truck speeding charge.

Harvey D. Rothenberg, Fort Madison, was fined $5 and $4 costs on a charge of failure to stop for a stop sign.

New Linotype Purchased By Iowan

The Daily Iowan Friday purchased a new $21,000 Linotype machine which will greatly enhance service to the advertiser and make room for increased news content and readership, Arthur Schmeichel, Daily Iowan shop superintendent, announced.

The 5,200-pound machine was bought to handle increasing news content and to help fill the growing Printing Service demand for composition, Schmeichel said.

The machine is a Blue Streak model 29 equipped with the latest safety devices including a Hyra-Quadder. It was bought from the Mergenthaler Linotype Co., Brooklyn, New York, and was delivered Friday by motor freight, Schmeichel said.

The machine came in 7 boxes ranging from 50 pounds to 2,800 pounds. The Daily Iowan now has five linotypes.

A representative from the Mergenthaler Linotype Co. will assemble the new machine during the next two weeks.

To Honor Music Instructor Sunday

Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Hobson will be honored at a farewell reception Sunday from 3:30 to 5:30 p.m. at the Congregational Church parsonage, 725 N. Linn St.

Hobson, SU1 instructor of music, has been director of music at the Congregational Church for the past six years.

The Hobson family will leave Iowa City in August for Kirksville, Mo., where Hobson has accepted a position as music instructor at Missouri State Teachers College.

Goldfine's Boston Company Fails To File Annual Report

WASHINGTON (AP) — An official of the Securities and Exchange Commission said Friday against East Boston, presidential assistant Sherman Adams made inquiries to the SEC about the case.

The official said failure of the company to file a report on its operations in the 12 months ended March 31 violates federal law and also a federal court order issued when the SEC acted three years ago against East Boston for failure to file regular reports.

During the earlier proceedings against East Boston, presidential assistant Sherman Adams made inquiries to the SEC about the case.

SEC officials denied in testimony during the House investigation of relations between Goldfine and Adams that the commission had gone easy on East Boston as a result of inquiries by Adams.

Counselor Will Help Solve Job Problems

You should not expect an employment counselor to find the answers to your vocational problems and hand them to you packaged as the ideal job, but you do have a right to expect help in learning to make intelligent vocational decisions for yourself.

The counselor needs to convey a feeling of understanding and complete acceptance of you and your problems before he can help you most effectively to achieve the self-understanding necessary in making such decisions, an SUI faculty member told employment counselors attending a 5-week workshop at the Iowa Center for Continuation Study.

Employees Leave Jobs

The factor most frequently responsible for employees' leaving jobs is not low salary, lack of "fringe" benefits or lack of opportunity for advancement, but the inability to get along with other employees, John Loughary, counselor at University High School, told the counselors.

Loughary is coordinator of the workshop, sponsored at SUI by the United States Employment Service as a pilot course for training programs to be given for employment counselors at other universities in the United States.

Free Counseling

Many persons coming to state employment service offices to look for new positions do not know that they can receive free counseling concerning problems which have arisen in their present jobs, Loughary pointed out. Hence, the employment service counselor needs to explain that his office is prepared to help its clients explore reasons for their present job problems, as well as to help them find new jobs.

Once the counselor has found that a client is releasing his repressed resentment in his job, he can help the worker learn that he is reacting to his superiors as he did to his father or teacher, Loughary pointed out. When the worker realizes this, half his battle in overcoming resentment of reasonable supervision is won.

Yocum Again Has Moving Troubles

House mover Max Yocum was blocking traffic in Iowa City for the second time in a little over a year Friday when a 2-story frame house failed to pass under a railroad bridge over Riverside Drive.

Yocum started moving the house on Riverside Drive from Grand Avenue to Benton Street early Friday morning. The Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific Railway Co. viaduct stopped the house and traffic until noon.

Only after cutting off the roof, lowering the house to rollers, and letting the air out of the mover's tires could the house be squeezed under the bridge.

In June, 1957, Yocum found himself in a somewhat similar position. At that time, another house, that he was moving, was stalled for nearly two days in the 200 block of Lexington Avenue.

Then, tree branches halted the move. The roof of that house, a one-story dwelling, was removed to — by the city in order to prevent damage to trees along the moving route.

Yocum was fined $50 and costs for the earlier move on a charge of moving a house without a permit. A new permit was granted to him shortly after that move.

U.S. Takes Slim Lead Over Polish Track Team

WARSAW (AP) — America's relaxed track and field men, touring Europe after the Moscow meet, were sorely pressed Friday to take a narrow 63-54 lead over a surprisingly good Polish national team.

The Americans swept first and second places in four out of 10 individual events for men and also won the 400-meter relay during the first day of the two-day meet.

The American girls moved into a 26-25 lead, which left them about five to seven points better than expected.

105,000 View Meet

A crowd of 105,000—the largest for a track meet since the Olympic Games in Melbourne in 1956—filled and then overflowed the 10th Anniversary Stadium.

The massive crowd got three big treats — a 45.5 clocking by Glenn Davis of Columbus, Ohio, in the 400 meters, a 6-foot 11-inch high jump by Charlie Dumas, and a Polish national hammer throw record of 64.41 meters (211 feet, 3.88 inches) by Tadeusz Rut.

Harold Connolly of Boston, who holds the world hammer throw record, finished fourth with a distance of 206 feet 1.29 inches.

Dumas Moscow Flip

Dumas was the biggest single disappointment in Moscow when he finished third. He had declined to follow orthodox training methods but said after losing that he was going to work.

If he had jumped in Moscow as well as he did Friday, the United States would have tied the Soviet Union in the overall scoring introduced by the Russians.

It was his tremendous leap, only an inch and a half short of his own world record, that gave the American men the lead Friday. They had fallen behind in the eighth event, but a sweep in the broad jump by Erni Shelby and Bill Jackson of Los Angeles and a victory in the 400-meter relay put the United States ahead again and Dumas cinched it by outjumping Poland's Zbigniew Lewandowski. The other U.S. sweeps came in the high hurdles, the 100-meter dash and the 400-meter run.

The Poles are scoring this meet as two separate dual meets — one for men and one for women — instead of lumping the scores as the Russians did. Points are counted on a 5-3-2-1 basis but only two points are awarded the losing relay teams instead of three as in Moscow.

Girls Improving

The American girls won three events against two for Poland and confirmed the improvement they showed in Moscow against the Russians.

Just before the impressive opening ceremony, George Eastmont of Manhattan College, the American men's head coach, commented "our team is completely relaxed after the various pressures on us in Moscow. I wouldn't be surprised if a world record or two went either today or tomorrow."

There were none Friday, although Dumas and Davis came close to world record performances. And the Poles showed up a big weakness in the American team by taking first and second in the javelin and 5,000 meters.

Meerdink Loses In USGA Meet

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP) — Barry Meerdink of Muscatine, Iowa, was defeated in the quarterfinals of the USGA Junior Golf Tournament Friday by Ken Finkle of Tucson, Ariz., 3 and 2.

Finkle shot a one-under 34 for a two up lead after nine holes and clinched on the back nine with two 26-foot birdie putts.

The Iowa boy entered the quarterfinals with a 1 up victory in 20 holes over Ralph Johnston of Garden City, N.Y.

Barry rapped in a 25-footer on the 17th to square the match and dropped a 14-foot birdie putt on the 20th.

American's Harridge Asks Rule Amendment

CHICAGO (AP) — Will Harridge, president of the American League, said Friday he has asked club owners to consider amending playing rules to permit the use of the same substitute player twice in one game.

Single Game Grid Tickets Will Go on Sale Monday

Individual tickets for Iowa's nine football games this season, six of them on the Hawkeye gridiron, will go on sale Monday at the athletic ticket office in the Fieldhouse.

Tickets may be ordered by mail or at the ticket office but no tickets will be sent to purchasers until the first of September.

Price of the tickets for all games, both home and away, is $4. Ticket information and order blanks are being mailed this week to prospective buyers, including those who received season ticket order blanks.

Buzz Graham, athletic business manager, says season tickets may still be purchased and will be available until such time as a sellout occurs for any single home game. He says, however, that season tickets purchased now may not necessarily have seats for all home games in the same location.

Graham anticipates an early sellout for the Iowa-Notre Dame game here November 22. He also expects tickets to move quickly for the games with Ohio State here November 15 and at Minnesota November 8.

Harris Won't Be Lonely While Training for Fight

ARROWHEAD SPRINGS, Calif. (AP) — The home of heavyweight challenger Roy Harris in Cut and Shoot, Tex., is not grossly elegant. Some whisper that it has only period furniture — a few old crates to sit on, period.

This may be promotion gossip, but when Harris walked into the living room of a sprawling bungalow at his training camp here Thursday he confided to his trainer, Bill Gore:

"Bill, this here rug is as tender as a filet mignon."

The place may resemble nothing quite so little as the old Cut and Shoot homestead, but the danger of homesickness is hardly acute. In five minutes here, you could get a quorum for a Harris family reunion.

First there are Ma and Pa Harris. They arrived Thursday with their youngest son, James Andrew, 3, to watch Roy get ready for his Aug. 18 title match with Floyd Patterson.

With them were Pa Harris' two sisters from Ajo, Ariz.

On top of that there's Roy's pretty wife, Jean.

Then there's his brother, Henry, 18. And his sister, Frances, 16, who gave a punching bag demonstration here and had the thing thumping like the pulse of a terrified rabbit.

And there are the two other sisters, Wynne, 13, and Patsie, 8 (who turned up for a family picture on press day in Cut and Shoot holding two rats by their tails).

Braves Nip Giants, 4 to 2; Lead National League By 2

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Mel Roach's second major league homer Friday night triggered a 2-run sixth-inning uprising that staked the Milwaukee Braves to a 4-2 victory over the San Francisco Giants who fell two games back in the frantic National League race.

The Milwaukee triumph in the opener of a 4-game series put the pressure on the Giants who must win the remaining three games to nudge the Braves out of first place during the stand.

The victory went to Milwaukee's World Series hero, veteran Lew Burdette who needed help in the ninth. The right-hander was tapped for 11 hits after holding the Giants hitless in the first three innings.

Pirates 2, Cards 0

PITTSBURGH (AP) — A 2-run Pirate rally in the eighth inning broke up a pitching duel between Bob Mabe and Ronnie Kline Friday night as the Pirates defeated the sagging St. Louis Cardinals 2-0.

Kline pitched a brilliant 4-hitter in posting his fourth straight victory and 11th of the season. He's lost nine.

St. Louis ... 000 000 000—0 4 0 Pittsburgh ... 000 000 02X—2 9 0

Home runs — Pittsburgh, Jones (8-7) vs. Law (8-7).

Chicago at Philadelphia — Briggs (8-7) vs. Simmons (8-7).

Los Angeles at Cincinnati — Williams (6-7) vs. Nuxhall (7-6).

San Francisco at Milwaukee — Gomez (6-9) vs. Willey (4-3).

Cus Not Happy With Patterson's Fight Condition

OCEANSIDE, Calif. (AP) — Manager Cus D'Amato said Friday Heavyweight Champion Floyd Patterson's condition is disappointing.

"He hasn't looked the way I would like," D'Amato said, "but I have no intention of asking for a postponement of the title fight Aug. 18 in Los Angeles with Roy Harris."

D'Amato blamed the champion's poor training camp showing on changing the date of the fight from Aug. 4 to Aug. 18.

"Floyd was pointing for the Aug. 4 date and then he laid off," D'Amato said.

"He's been slow in his training, but we have three weeks left."

"He'll be ready for Harris Aug. 18. He's always been ready for his fights."

Tigers 3, Orioles 1

DETROIT (AP) — Gal Harris, a National League castoff, drove in all the Detroit runs Friday night and Herb Mofford scattered five Baltimore Oriole hits in a 3-1 Tiger victory.

Harris socked a 2-run homer in the first inning and brought across an insurance run with an eighth-inning sacrifice fly. His hitting decided a tight pitching duel between Oriole southpaw Jack Harshman and Mofford, a veteran of many minor league seasons.

Indians 7-2, Red Sox 1-0

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Cleveland Indians won their fifth straight Friday night, defeating the Boston Red Sox 7-1 with a 7-run outburst in the sixth inning. It featured home runs by Minnie Minoza and Rocky Colavito, and a double by Russ Nixon. Cal McLish posted his 10th victory in the opener of a two-night doubleheader with a four-hitter.

In the second game, Rocky Colavito's 23rd home run with a man on in the seventh inning—only one of two hits Cleveland made off Boston's Dick Sisler — carried the Indians to a 3-1 victory over the Red Sox and a doubleheader sweep.

Selvy Quits Pro Basketball After Controversial Career

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Fabled Frank Selvy, one of college basketball's greatest scorers, quit professional basketball Friday after a brief career of controversy instead of fame.

Selvy, twice an Associated Press All-America from Furman University, told owner Ben Kerner of the world champion St. Louis Hawks that a service-caused knee injury partly prompted his retirement decision.

"It's a shame to lose a player of Selvy's potential," Kerner said. "I did everything I could to give the guy a chance." Kerner said Selvy had decided against having his knee operated on.

The 6-3 jump-shooting Selvy averaged 19 points in 1954-55, in his freshman season with the pros. And it seemed Frank was on the fringe of stardom. But in the fall of 1955 Frank went into the Army for a two-year hitch. That's where he sprained his right knee. And in the service, Kerner maintained, is where "Frank lost it."

"He didn't shoot enough after he came back from the service," Kerner said. Paradoxically, Selvy was known as a bullseye "gunner" in his college days. That's when he set 24 major scoring records and a multitude of minor marks.

Coach Alex Hannum, once Selvy's roommate when they played for Milwaukee, benched Selvy after his comeback.

Kerner didn't like it. Neither did the St. Louis fans and they told the Hawk's front office so in letters and telephone calls.

Eventually, Kerner put Selvy on the farm-out roster but recalled him when injuries crippled star backliner Slater Martin.

But Hannum still didn't play Selvy.

That's when the schism between Kerner and Hannum developed. To Hannum, Selvy belonged on the bench. To Kerner, Selvy belonged in the lineup.

Senate Group Tables Sports Anti-Trust Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Pro sports high-powered effort to shake out antitrust law restrictions collapsed Friday. Four senators knocked it out for this session of Congress.

The Senate Anti-Monopoly subcommittee, by a 4-2 vote, tabled a House-passed bill that would have given professional baseball, football, basketball and hockey many liberties under laws curbing ordinary businesses.

The vote to all intents and purposes ended the campaign for a sports bill this year. Only by extraordinary — and at this point totally unexpected — action could the measure be dragged out of the subcommittee's dead file.

Sen. Joseph C. O'Mahoney (D-Wyo.) moved to shelve the bill which had swept through the House without even a roll call. He was supported by subcommittee Chairman Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.), Sens. William Langer (R-N.D.) and Alexander Wiley (R-Wis.).

Sens. John A. McCarrall (D-Colo.) and Everett M. Dirksen (R-Ill.) voted to keep the bill alive.

Sen. Thomas C. Hennings Jr. (D-Mo.), seventh member of the subcommittee and a proponent of the House bill, was absent.

Ken Venturi Takes Lead in Chicago Open

CHICAGO (AP) — Ken Venturi, whose faulty putting has kept him in a slump for the past three months, snapped back Friday with a 5-under-par 65 to roll ahead in the first round of the $50,000 Chicago Open Golf Tournament.

Although par 35-35-70 was proving tougher than expected because the pins were set far back on the treacherous greens of the public fee Gleneagles course, the 27-year-old Venturi led a good-sized wrecking crew against it.

Bob Harrison, 29-year-old local pro who was the 1948 national intercollegiate champion while at San Jose State, belted out a pair of 33's for 66.

Venturi, who has been in the top 10 only twice in his past 13 tournaments after starting the year in spectacular style, hit 16 of Gleneagles' trying greens in regulation, strung out five one-putt greens, and strayed into the matted rough only four times.

His only bogey came on the 200-yard 17th when he three-putted and he finished the back nine in 34.

"I've been spending hours practicing putting," he said. "I knew it was about time the worm turned."
