U. S. Would Bomb Red China

More Schools Integrate Peacefully; Some Still Resist

First Time Negroes Enroll Some Places

Virginia Governor Still Advises 'No'

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Integration proceeded peacefully at Arkansas towns of Fayetteville, Bentonville, Charleston and Hoxie. At Hopkinsville, Ky., three Negroes enrolled at elementary schools, the first to do so since a gradual integration program started in that Kentucky city in September, 1956. There was no incidents.

Such cities as Great Mills, Md., and Winston-Salem, N.C., went ahead with enrollment of Negro pupils without incident. In Virginia, the principal developments involved legal technicalities.

Governor Advises 'No'

Virginia's segregationist Gov. J. Lindsay Almond advised the school board at Norfolk not to assign Negro pupils to white schools as the board said it planned to do under pressure of a federal court order.

The governor said his statement was prompted because of "some misconception" of the authority of local school boards in pending integration cases. His position, he explained, was that no court decree can require the state to operate public schools, whether integrated or not, and that the courts lack authority to make any specific pupil assignments.

At Alexandria, Va., a federal judge authorized Arlington County to open its schools Monday on a segregated basis. But Judge Albert V. Bryan said this ruling is subject to change after the Supreme Court has ruled in the Little Rock case now pending before it.

Applications Rejected

Thirty Negro students have asked to be admitted to white schools in Arlington County. The school board rejected their applications.

One of the minor mysteries of recent days in the integration activities was solved Thursday when the family of Negro minister Clennon King turned up in Woodbine, Ga. Whereabouts of King's wife and five small children had been undisclosed since they left their Gulfport, Miss., home a few days ago after reporting they had received a series of abusive and threatening telephone calls.

Mrs. King, at her parents' home in Woodbine, said she hoped to stay in her native Georgia and that no attempt would be made to enroll their 6-year-old daughter in a white Gulfport school.

However, King, who returned to Gulfport Thursday after a visit to New York, told newsmen he had not abandoned his plans to register the girl in the white school.

'57 Civil Rights Voting Law Used For First Time

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Justice Department's new civil rights division Thursday filed suit accusing officials of Terrell County, Georgia, with discriminating against Negroes seeking to vote.

The suit was filed in the federal district court at Columbus, Ga. The suit was directed against Terrell County's five election registrars and deputy registrars. It marks the first court use of the Civil Rights Act of 1957, adopted by Congress as a measure to protect voting rights.

The Columbus Court was asked to issue an injunction prohibiting Terrell County (1) from following different procedures in the processing of voting applications by Negro and white citizens, (2) from applying more stringent standards in giving a literacy test to Negro applicants, and (3) from refusing to certify a group of Negroes named in the suit as having passed the literacy test.

All of the Negroes named in the action live at Dawson, Ga., the Terrell County seat, where the Justice Department last month unsuccessfully sought to prosecute three Dawson policemen on charges they had engaged in brutal treatment of prisoners in their custody.

Students Demonstrate In Arkansas

VAN BUREN, Ark. (AP)—White high school students Thursday banded together to physically oppose racial integration and appealed to Gov. Orval E. Faubus for support.

"In behalf of Van Buren High School we are on strike here," telegram to Faubus said. "In order to stay integration we need your help."

Faubus, just back in his Little Rock office from a 2-day fishing trip, shook his head after reading the message signed, "Roger Williams."

"I don't know what to do about the Van Buren situation; I will have to check into it," said the governor.

No Outward Demonstration

A slowly swelling crowd of white boys milled about the high school throughout the morning and into mid-afternoon. They left at the end of the school day, making no outward demonstration — even when two Negro girls walked down side steps from the building and boarded a school bus along with white students.

"We will be back outside the school tomorrow and every other day for six days until the Negroes are removed," a leader said. "At the end of those six days, if the Negroes are not out, then we will put them out for good."

The youthful leader said more than 100 "strikers" would be on hand today.

Thirteen Negro boys and girls entered Van Buren High Tuesday when the school began its second year of court-ordered integration. They marched past jeering white youths and derisive inscriptions painted on the sidewalks and brick walls of the building.

Will Not Return

One of the Negro students, Freddy Bell, 16, said Wednesday night that he and several of his Negro classmates would not return to Van Buren High because of threats and insults from white students. The school has a total enrollment of 635.

A group of about 50 white boys gathered outside the high school building early Thursday. They belligerently proclaimed that they would block entrances and take other, unspecified, measures to keep Negroes out.

A spokesman said 41 boys had organized a strike to resist integration. He indicated the group would not return to class until Negroes were permanently ousted.

School Supt. Everett Kelley, who arrived at the school about the time classes began at 8 a.m., took newsmen through a portion of the building.

Some Negroes in Class

Two Negroes, both girls, were seen in classrooms with whites. Kelley declined to say how many more Negroes might have been inside the school, which appeared orderly and normal.

The white boys, who loitered outside the building and sat under trees on the campus, said they had seen no Negroes and did not know how the girls had gotten inside.

Cars parked across the street bore signs which read, "Niggers go home, whites will come back" and "Chicken whites go to school with jigs."

"Our parents approve of what we're doing," one of the boys said.

Weather Forecast

Partly cloudy and warmer with scattered thundershowers are predicted for the third straight day in Iowa City. High temperature will be near 90. Mild temperatures and cloudy skies are the outlook for Saturday.

SUI Students At Fellowship Meeting

Five SUI students are among the two hundred delegates at the ninth assembly of United Student Fellowship meeting this week at Lancaster, Pa.

Early this week the assembly urged complete integration of all minority groups in dormitories, sorority and fraternity houses throughout the nation.

The delegates voted to urge members "to give special consideration and support" to those businesses in the community "which have made their facilities available to all."

The assembly further suggested a nation-wide study program of problems of segregation in both the North and the South, asking all member groups to subscribe to both pro-integration and pro-segregation publications and periodicals.

United Student Fellowship was formed in 1948 through national union of the student movements of the Congregational Christian Churches and the Evangelical and Reformed Church.

The organization is composed of college and university students of the two — or the united — faiths on all the college and university campuses in America.

SUI students attending the assembly include: Linda Moss, A3, Council Bluffs; Patricia Tiarks, N2, Council Bluffs; John Benbow, A3, Green Mountain; Lynn Johndahl, A3, Hampton; and Lynne Haussler, A3, Manhasset, N.Y.

Auto Workers To Pick Strike Date Wednesday

DETROIT (AP)—The United Auto Workers served notice that the union would pick a strike date and strike target Wednesday if a deadlock in negotiations is not broken by then.

UAW President Walter P. Reuther summoned the union's 23-man International Executive Board to a Wednesday meeting here.

Reuther said in a statement that the UAW "recognized that a strike is a serious matter and should be authorized only as a last resort when all methods of reaching an honorable agreement without a strike have been exhausted."

The union decision to pick one of the Big Three — Ford, Chrysler or General Motors — as a strike target came as new local strikes idled nearly 4,700 workers at two GM plants Thursday.

The Big Three had no immediate comment on the UAW maneuver.

There was growing belief among industry observers that GM, rather than Ford or Chrysler, would be the strike target and that the strike date — if the UAW deems it necessary — would fall within two weeks.

The industry is just getting under way on production of its 1959 models. UAW sources have said it was unlikely the union, which has been working without a contract since the old one ran out Memorial Day weekend, would permit the auto companies to get into full production before a new contract was agreed upon.

The speech amounted to a blueprint of budget policy for the administration, plus an advance peek at a new budget review for fiscal 1959, the year which ends next June 30. Stans said the review will be issued in about a week.

Have You Seen Ruth Byerly?

The search widened Thursday night for 17-year-old Ruth Byerly. The Calamus high school senior disappeared Tuesday noon from the farm home of her parents west of DeWitt.

The last time she was seen, Ruth was hitchhiking west toward Iowa City and Cedar Rapids. Her father, Ralph Byerly said he has no idea where she may have gone.

The Wapsie River was searched Thursday near where she was last seen trying to get a ride, but nothing was discovered to indicate she had been at the river.

Anyone who sees Ruth Byerly is asked to call the Iowa City or Cedar Rapids Police immediately.

She is described as 5 feet 5 inches tall, 130 pounds, brown hair and eyes. Mr. Byerly said her hair is longer than when the picture at right was taken. She had received a permanent just before she disappeared, he said.

She was wearing a dark blue dress when she left and took no other clothes with her, he said.

Officials of several counties and the Iowa Highway Patrol have joined the search.

The cast includes as: Sakini, Gary Williams; Sergeant Gregovich, Charles Thayer; Col. Wainwright, Richard Paulus; Captain Fishy, Joseph Mauck; Old Woman, Miss Roberta Sheets; Old Woman's Daughter, Mrs. James Levis; Ancient Man, Thomas Koehler; Mr. Hokaida, Arlen Hansen; Mrs. Seiko, Gary Binning; Miss Higa Jiga, Miss Margaret Cutler; Mrs. Oshira, Michael Velez; Lotus Blossom, Miss Martha Chapman; Captain Mas Lean, David Beuter; Ladies League for Democratic Action, Miss Edith Moellering and Miss Emma Sue Phelps.

Stribling said Thursday there are still some small parts open for casting. Anyone interested should call David Beuter at 4946.

"Tea House of the August Moon," by John Patrick, was a recent Broadway hit, and an equally popular movie. It's situations are mainly concerned with the U.S. Army, who during their occupation of the Pacific Island, Okinawa, did not foresee the amazing wit and practical mindedness of the native Okinawans.

U.S. Will Use Military Force To Save Isles

Statement Issued At Ike-Dulles Meeting

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP)—The United States warned China Thursday this country will move in with "timely effective" military force — including possible bombing — the Red Chinese mainland, necessary to save the island essential to Formosa's defense.

A top-level statement likens said this country's acquisition to the use of "naked force" threaten peace everywhere.

President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles issued a statement following an hour 45 minute conference at the White House. It said Mr. Eisenhower would not hesitate order U.S. fighting forces action if Red China makes an out effort to conquer Formosa's offshore islands.

Not Prelude to Invasion
Dulles, who flew here Washington to discuss what called a serious situation in Far East, at the same time the Communist bombardment offshore Quemoy is not necessary to achieve territorial ambitions.

He also gave Peiping a back off by saying: "The United States is not pursuing the Chinese Communist war will not again, as in the case of Korea, defy the basic principle upon which world order depends — namely that armed force should not be used to achieve territorial ambitions."

He also urged that the Communists pursue their territorial claims, "however ill-founded peaceful means."

Farthest U.S. Has Gone
Thursday's Eisenhower meeting, the first ever held in the farthest this country gone in expressing U.S. intent to halt Communist aggression the Formosa Strait.

The statement which Mr. Eisenhower authorized Dulles to make did not mention specifically that U.S. planes might bomb Chinese mainland. But a top official said, when asked bombing of concentrations mainland might be a part defense of Formosa: "It became so, if Formosa was ed or imminently threatened those airfields."

Russia Sights Enter
This same spokesman, as Russia wouldn't come to the aid of the Chinese Communist country intervened in the peninsula, "They might or not think it was expedient to the aid of China those circumstances."

Dulles arrived by helicopter from the Newark Quonset base at 10:27 a.m. — three hours before the scheduled conference — and left immediately after reading his statement to newsmen.

About 70 reporters and TV representatives crowded a conference room a few feet from Mr. Eisenhower's office to hear the secretary — grave, but indicating confidence in this country's ability to maintain the status quo.

The Eisenhower-Dulles statement stressed the U.S. government believes the Chinese Communists can handle any threat to their territory in this country would step in the Nationalist defenses — well supported by this country's proved inadequate.

The statement referred to joint resolution of Congress authorizing Mr. Eisenhower troops not only for defense of Formosa but for the security protection of such relations and territories of the now in friendly hands and now of such other measure judges to be required or private in insuring the defense of Formosa.

JETS TO NORWAY
STAVANGER, Norway
Two American F100 jet streaked in to a landing Thursday night to complete first nonstop jet flight from the United States to Norway. The jets started from Beach, S.C., Thursday

It would ignore the limits announced by Peiping.

The Defense Department in Washington, asked specifically if 7th Fleet units would remain outside the 12 mile limit announced by the Communists, said:

"The United States does not recognize any claims to a territorial sea of 12 miles. It is the United States view that under international law the limit of the territorial sea is three miles, and that states adhering to the 3-mile limit have no obligation under international law to recognize claims to a greater area."

The new challenge to the United States came as an American Sabre-jet unit flew in to help President Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalists on Formosa who already are equipped with American weapons.

S. 7th Fleet in the Formosa Strait presumably represent the American aid promised to the Nationalists Wednesday by Vice Admiral M. Smoot, chief U.S. commander here.

In Washington, the Defense Department said it has halted transportation of U.S. servicemen's dependents to Formosa as a normal precautionary measure.

President Eisenhower warned China that he would not hesitate to order U.S. fighting forces to action if the Communists make all-out effort to conquer Formosa and offshore islands.

The president's position was set forth Thursday by Secretary of State Acheson after a conference at the Eisenhower vacation headquarters in Newport, R.I. While not specifying just what offshore islands are meant, the statement said, "We have recognized that the serious and protecting of Quemoy and Matsu have increasingly become related to the defense of Formosa (Formosa)."

No Decision

Dulles added that the President would not hesitate to conclude that Formosa would be threatened in an attack on the offshore islands, which nestle right against the Chinese mainland. But he said he had decided to commit U.S. troops to Formosa only if necessary.

The Reds new sea line, replacing the old 3-mile limit, starts from a baseline connecting the mainland coast with its offshore islands. It takes in Quemoy and Matsu, which is about 18 miles from the nearest point on the mainland. The Communists said Matsu is within the Chinese Inland Sea. The announcement warned that foreign ships and planes must have Peiping's permission to cross the new 12-mile line. This would give them the pretext to regard an invasion attempt to break through a blockade of Quemoy.

The Reds charged that "U.S. military occupation of Formosa is illegal and violating Chinese territory and sovereignty."

China Crisis

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dulles, back from a conference with President Eisenhower at Newport, R.I., said Thursday he assumed Red China will read about the new U.S. statement on the Formosa crisis.

Arriving in Washington aboard a U.S. Navy plane, Dulles was asked how Red China's attention will be drawn to the statement. "They make public communications we read, and I expect they read our," Dulles replied. He said there is no plan to transmit the declaration officially.

U.S. Hunts Plane Downed Near Russia

ADANA, Turkey (AP) — U.S. Air Force search plane crews scanned the mountainous country about 110 miles from the Soviet border Thursday for a military transport that disappeared two days ago with 17 men.

The C130 Hercules turbo prop transport, on a mission studying radio waves, last was reported over Trabzon, a Black Sea port in northeast Turkey, at 8:42 a.m. Trabzon is about 100 miles from Batumi, on the Soviet border.

The pilot's next radio report was due about an hour later over Lake Van in eastern Turkey, about 110 miles from the Iranian border. No report was made.

Six mountains of 10,000 feet or more altitude are within a radius of 50 miles of the lake.

The transport took off from the Adana base Tuesday morning and was scheduled to return the same evening.

Search operations were veiled in secrecy, but an Air Force statement from Germany said that 4-engine aircraft were being used to cover the vast area and that two parachute medical teams were included in the search party.

Col. Theodore P. Tatum, deputy commander of Atlantic Air Rescue Service at Ramstein in West Germany, was en route here to coordinate the search.

Air Force authorities would not comment on the possibility that the plane had strayed into Soviet territory. Last June 27, a U.S. transport plane flying from Cyprus to Iran was shot down by Soviet fighters when it flew accidentally over the Soviet border.

Its nine crew members were held for 10 days.

The area in which the plane disappeared is remote and mountainous.

The plane, attached to the 7406th Support Squadron based in Frankfurt, Germany, was commanded by Capt. Paul E. Duncan of Washington, D.C.

Russians Offer Aid To Red China If U.S. Interferes

LONDON (AP) — The Soviet Union said Friday it will give Red China "every kind of aid" if the United States steps in to defend Quemoy and other offshore Chinese islands.

Radio Moscow broadcast the warning published in Pravda and distributed by Tass.

Pravda charged again that the United States is planning large scale military action against Red China and said Quemoy has been given the role of springboard for the attack on the mainland, with Formosa serving as the main base.

The conflict would not be restricted to Formosa and the offshore islands, Pravda added.

Predicts End of Housing Segregation

OMAHA (AP) — The imminent end of residential segregation of Negroes in large American cities was predicted Thursday by Dr. Irene B. Taeuber of Princeton University, a population research expert.

Dr. Taeuber, in a paper prepared to keynote the annual conference of the National Urban League here Sept. 6-11, also predicted the end of migration of southern Negroes from farm areas to North and South industrial centers.

Dr. Taeuber was co-editor of a population index for 20 years and is a past president of the Population Assn. of America. Since 1936 she has been research associate in the office of population research at Princeton.

The key to future Negro advances, she said, is the improved educational opportunity available in the large cities.

She predicted educated urban Negroes, "freed from the drag of continuing increases of the unskilled and uneducated from the rural South," will begin to find acceptance into the general population according to their abilities.

Teamster Loss

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate rackets probes heard testimony Thursday that the Teamsters Union probably will lose about $650,000 on a loan to Detroit land speculators.

The committee was exploring the trail of a million-dollar loan from the Teamsters' Michigan welfare fund which seemed to have disappeared in a welter of deals, hidden fees and milk cows.

Walter H. Henson, an accountant for the Senate Rackets Committee, estimated the loss.

Henson said George S. Fitzgerald, a lawyer for the Teamsters and former Detroit International Harvester Co. official, had been seemingly cast-iron safeguards without protest from Teamsters bosses including James R. Hoffa and never paid back a cent it borrowed.

Henson said $20,935.75 of the loan was used to buy 19 cows, a bull and some farm supplies.

He gave no further explanation of this use of the money, which he termed a diversion.

British Emergency Talks On Race Riot Crisis

LONDON (AP) — Britain Thursday night set up emergency talks in London with nonwhite colonial leaders over the nation's race riot crisis.

Jamaican Premier Norman Manley was flying to London to get first-hand reports. The violence which had flared daily in London this week showed no sign of abating. In London's Notting Hill district a homemade gasoline bomb was tossed into a basement apartment occupied by colored people.

It damaged the room, but hurt no one.

Manley and his deputy, Dr. Carl Lacorbiniers, reach London today. Another Jamaican leader, former Premier Sir William Alexander Bustamante, messaged Queen Elizabeth II demanding her personal intervention to protect West Indians against what he called "barbarous attacks on defenseless workers."

Manley is expected to meet Home Secretary Richard A. Butler and possibly Prime Minister Macmillan.

Three race rioters — two white men and a Negro — were given 4 to 6-week jail terms for their part in Wednesday night's disturbances in Notting Hill.

Red China's Sea Limits May Make Russ Unhappy

By WILLIAM RYAN AP Foreign News Analyst

Red China's announcement of what she considers her sea limits may be an attempt to push the Soviet Union into an uncomfortable position.

The Russians may prove to be unhappy about the move. In theory, it draws a no-trespass line outside the offshore islands and apparently around Formosa itself.

The gesture would seem all but meaningless unless it had an ulterior motive. Possibly the motive lies in the Russian's position with regard to the Formosa situation.

The Communists already claimed the offshore islands and Formosa. Thus, automatically, they would claim jurisdiction over territorial waters beyond. Whether this was 12 miles or 3 would not seem to matter at this moment. What would matter was whether the Red Chinese intended to try to enforce the claims.

This is where the Russians come in. Peiping is saying to the Russians and the outside world that the waters beyond the islands are Red Chinese. Therefore, Peiping is saying, if the United States sends military help to Formosa or breaks a blockade of Quemoy, Matsu or the other islands, the Americans are clearly guilty of invasion and aggression against Communist China.

The Soviet Union has a treaty with Red China committing Moscow to go to Peiping's help in the event of an aggression against the Communist Chinese. Soviet propaganda has been loudly claiming that Moscow is ready to stand by its big Communist partner in Asia against any foreign aggression.

Peiping does not seem prepared to go to war for Formosa. An attempt to prevent U.S. help from reaching Formosa or the Pescadores would risk war — possibly world war.

What, then, do the Chinese hope to gain by the declaration?

It seems wholly possible that the Chinese have gone a step beyond the plans outlined to Soviet boss Nikita Khrushchev at his meeting with Mao Tze-tung in Peiping a month ago. There is hardly any doubt but that the question of heating up the Far East situation came up then.

It seems possible one of the subjects of this was to force a summit meeting in which Peiping government would participate.

This declaration could well be an attempt to insure all-out Soviet assistance in this project.

More Claims Got Aid from

DES MOINES (AP) — Jake Harlan attorney and former executive state chairman, and Thursday that the Iowa Democratic Party wasn't the only to receive financial contribution from labor groups.

More told the Iowa Legislative Investigating Committee "it is understood" that Republican leaders have received similar support and that 1956 was the campaign in which Iowa Democratic candidates received funds from labor sources.

Thursday testimony disclosed that the United Auto Workers Union in Detroit contributed to Gov. Herschel Loveless' campaign fund — bringing $20,000 the total amount More said was received from labor in the campaign.

More and Mary Jane Free, former secretary of the Democratic State Central Committee, had asked by the legislative probe to produce all records in their session regarding contribution to the Loveless campaign.

But they said all records to July 1, 1958, had been destroyed, as customary. They said this was done to avoid pressure from party members as to the money was spent.

Rep. Clark McNeal (R-Beim) committee chairman, asked whether he had any evidence Teamsters Union money from the state had gone into public campaigns.

China Crisis

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dulles, back from a conference with President Eisenhower at Newport, R.I., said Thursday he assumed Red China will read about the new U.S. statement on the Formosa crisis.

Arriving in Washington aboard a U.S. Navy plane, Dulles was asked how Red China's attention will be drawn to the statement.

"They make public communications we read, and I expect they read our," Dulles replied. He said there is no plan to transmit the declaration officially.

MANILA — President Carlos P. Garcia Thursday said the Philippines was ready "to comply with treaty obligations" particularly use in the Philippines-U.S. mutual defense pact.

Garcia lauded the efforts of the United States and Nationalist China to deter Communist aggression.

LONDON — Marshal Sir John Slessor, retired, former chief of Britain's Royal Air Force, added the West Thursday not to let war over the China islands.

said Quemoy and Matsu — and British colony of Hong Kong — indefensible.

"We certainly ought not to allow prestige and the possibility of major war to hang on an attempt to defend the indefensible," Slessor said in a speech to the American Chamber of Commerce.

Russians Offer Aid To Red China If U.S. Interferes

LONDON (AP) — The Soviet Union said Friday it will give Red China "every kind of aid" if the United States steps in to defend Quemoy and other offshore Chinese islands.

Radio Moscow broadcast the warning published in Pravda and distributed by Tass.

Pravda charged again that the United States is planning large scale military action against Red China and said Quemoy has been given the role of springboard for the attack on the mainland, with Formosa serving as the main base.

The conflict would not be restricted to Formosa and the offshore islands, Pravda added.

Tragedy on Broadway

ON A SIDEWALK in New York City were the bodies of Veronika Greubel, 23, and George Allen, 53, after he shot and killed the immigrant girl who spurned him. Then he pressed the sawed-off .22 caliber rifle to his own head and fired. The weapon can be seen under Allen's right leg. Allen died later in the hospital. Red China's Sea Limits May Make Russ Unhappy

By WILLIAM RYAN AP Foreign News Analyst

Red China's announcement of what she considers her sea limits may be an attempt to push the Soviet Union into an uncomfortable position.

The Russians may prove to be unhappy about the move. In theory, it draws a no-trespass line outside the offshore islands and apparently around Formosa itself.

The gesture would seem all but meaningless unless it had an ulterior motive. Possibly the motive lies in the Russian's position with regard to the Formosa situation.

The Communists already claimed the offshore islands and Formosa. Thus, automatically, they would claim jurisdiction over territorial waters beyond. Whether this was 12 miles or 3 would not seem to matter at this moment. What would matter was whether the Red Chinese intended to try to enforce the claims.

This is where the Russians come in. Peiping is saying to the Russians and the outside world that the waters beyond the islands are Red Chinese. Therefore, Peiping is saying, if the United States sends military help to Formosa or breaks a blockade of Quemoy, Matsu or the other islands, the Americans are clearly guilty of invasion and aggression against Communist China.

The Soviet Union has a treaty with Red China committing Moscow to go to Peiping's help in the event of an aggression against the

British Emergency Talks On Race Riot Crisis

LONDON (AP) — Britain Thursday night set up emergency talks in London with nonwhite colonial leaders over the nation's race riot crisis.

Jamaican Premier Norman Manley was flying to London to get first-hand reports. The violence which had flared daily in London

this week showed no sign of abating. In London's Notting Hill district a homemade gasoline bomb was tossed into a basement apartment occupied by colored people.

It damaged the room, but hurt no one.

Manley and his deputy, Dr. Carl Lacorbiniers, reach London today. Another Jamaican leader, former Premier Sir William Alexander Bustamante, messaged Queen Elizabeth II demanding her personal intervention to protect West Indians against what he called "barbarous attacks on defenseless workers."

Manley is expected to meet Home Secretary Richard A. Butler and possibly Prime Minister Macmillan.

Three race rioters — two white men and a Negro — were given 4 to 6-week jail terms for their part in Wednesday night's disturbances in Notting Hill.

Moore Named Legion Head

CHICAGO (AP) — The American Legion's newly elected national commander, Preston J. Moore of Stillwater, Okla., said Thursday America must take the offensive in the struggle between the free world and communism.

Moore, a 38-year-old lawyer, was named head of the Legion by an overwhelming vote at the close of the 40th annual convention.

Accepting the office, he said: "We must rid America of the defeatist, destructive philosophy that we can only defend against communism."

"... Clearly, we must seize the initiative if the cause of freedom is not to be lost ultimately and completely."

Fliers, Ranchers Warned Of Coming Atomic Tests

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Fliers, ranchers and prospectors were warned by the Atomic Energy Commission Thursday to stay away from its Nevada test site during tests late this month and throughout October.

There will be a series of 10 low-yield detonations at the site 90 miles northwest of Las Vegas, but the AEC says fallout danger will be low. Some of the shots will be fired in underground tunnels, others from under suspended balloons.

Results of the annual survey of starting salary rates for 1956 college graduates, conducted by MCPA's executive committee, will be released to members and to the general public on the last day of next week's conference.

Mullen wryly told police: "He didn't own anything. He owed me $40 or $50."

U.S. Position on Quemoy Mostly for Morale Reasons

By J. M. ROBERTS
Associated Press News Analyst

The United States has come very close to saying that she will fight the Chinese Reds over the Quemoy islands unless she can scare them off.

For three years President Eisenhower has held the position that the United States would help defend the offshore islands if an attack on them appeared to threaten Formosa and the Pescadores, 100 miles farther offshore.

As Secretary Dulles describes the President's attitude now, he is predisposed to consider an invasion at this time as automatically falling within that category.

The statement after the Dulles-Eisenhower conference in Newport may not have represented a change in policy, but it's a hardening in the light of new Red activities.

At the heart of the American position is fear that loss of the islands would cause a breakdown of Nationalist morale on Formosa and a progressive collapse throughout Asia of faith in the United States.

As the secretary and the President conferred they had before them the results of the 1948 collapse of the Nationalists in China which noticeably cooled the reliance on the West of India, Burma and other countries.

The loss of North Viet Nam aggravated the process, especially among the other Indochinese states.

On this premise the British are now going along with the toughening American line, despite their general long-term disapproval of support for Chiang Kai-shek, whom they evaluate not only as ineffective but also as unworthy.

British approval, however, represents more of a selfish expediency than a change of heart. It may be true that they recognize any defeat for the United States as a defeat for the West.

They also realize, however, that any form or recognition that the offshore islands are a natural part of China has a powerful bearing on their position in Hong Kong.

In addition to being a little closer to a fighting commitment, the Newport statement also represents a strong effort to establish a moral background for intervention if a break does come.

Dulles spoke at some length about the attempt of the United States to obtain agreement with the Reds on the principle that force should not be used to settle territorial arguments. He reminded that the American position had been taken without prejudice to the actual merits of the Chinese claims.

Jury Frees Youth in Pal's Death

DAVENPORT (AP) — A Scott County coroner's jury Thursday exonerated Robert Colgan Jr., 19, in the fatal shooting of a long-time Kentucky boyhood friend.

The jurors said they found no felonious action on the part of Colgan of Anchorage, Ky., in the death of Robert Walker, 19, Louisville, Ky., early Tuesday morning.

Walker, son of J. Leonard Walker, U.S. district attorney for western Kentucky, was shot once in the heart with a .22 caliber gun while the two youths debated the merits of whether a revolver or an automatic pistol shoots the fastest.

Colgan, Walker and William G. Gordon, 24, were employed as encyclopedia salesmen and had lived in a farmhouse at the edge of Davenport most of the summer.

The shooting occurred in the house.

Young Colgan, who sat throughout the inquest biting his nails, reiterated to the jurors the events of the shooting he earlier had told police.

He denied any argument with Walker had occurred before the shooting.

Edward Weir, assistant county attorney testified as to results of a lie detector test Colgan took. Weir said crucial questions put to the youth failed to show any sign of premeditation.

Colgan's father, Robert Colgan Sr., an insurance agent, was with his son at the inquest. He was not called upon to testify.

Colgan voluntarily submitted to the lie detector test. Afterwards police said the test bore out his story that the shooting was accidental.

Others who testified Thursday were Dr. William Pheplace, Davenport pathologist, Gordon, Davenport policeman Ted Hosper who investigated the shooting, and assistant County Attorney Ned Wehr.

More Claims Republicans Got Aid from Labor Groups

DES MOINES (AP) — Jake More, Harlan attorney and former Democratic state chairman, indicated Thursday that the Iowa Democratic Party wasn't the only party to receive financial contributions from labor groups.

More told the Iowa Legislative Investigating Committee "it is my understanding" that Republican leaders have received similar support and that 1956 was the first campaign in which Iowa Democratic candidates received any funds from labor sources.

Thursday testimony disclosed that the United Auto Workers Union in Detroit contributed $2,500 to Gov. Herschel Loveless' 1956 campaign fund — bringing to $20,000 the total amount More testified was received from labor for the campaign.

More and Mary Jane Freeman, former secretary of the Democratic State Central Committee, had been asked by the legislative probes to produce all records in their possession regarding contributions to the Loveless campaign.

But they said all records prior to July 1, 1958, had been destroyed, as customary. They said this was done to avoid protests from party members as to how the money was spent.

Rep. Clark McNeal (R-Belmont), committee chairman, asked More whether he had any evidence that Teamsters Union money from outside the state had gone into Republican campaigns.
