Will Hold Special Integration Session

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Supreme Court convenes once more today in a momentous special session on a nationally momentous issue—the speed of school integration at Little Rock, Ark.

A demonstration in front of a desegregated Kentucky school was broken up by police Wednesday on the eve of the Supreme Court's momentous special session.

Police and sheriff's deputies escorted three Negro children through a blockade set up by 10 women at the Pride Avenue Elementary School at Madisonville, Ky., then arrested two white men and two Negro men.

GOP Rapped At Iowa Labor Meet

DES MOINES — The Republican Party in Iowa and Secretary of State John Foster Dulles were blasted here Wednesday night at the Iowa Federation of Labor convention.

Gov. Herschel Loveless said the Republican Party in the current political campaign is carrying on an intensified anti-labor program. Loveless said the Republicans are defending Iowa's so-called right-to-work law as necessary for industrial growth in the state.

Dulles came under attack by Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn.) who accused the Secretary of State of "duplicitous of the worst kind — reckless, dangerous and unpardonable" in the Formosa situation.

Humphrey, a member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, expanded on his convention speech and said the Administration "has literally painted itself into a corner" in the Formosa crisis.

"Dulles at first said we'll defend the off-shore islands near the China Coast and three days later denied this and said there's no definite decision on that," the Minnesotan said.

Integration at Central High a year ago brought on violence, riots and the use of troops. The school opening date at Central has been postponed until Sept. 15 to give the Supreme Court time to reach a decision.

The Justice Department has not filed a brief this time. But Solicitor General J. Lee Rankin again will take part in the legal arguments — and again will stand side by side with the NAACP, as he did two weeks ago.

At Buffalo, N.Y., about 60 white and Negro mothers marched on city hall and asked the board of education for a 1-day suspension of classes in Buffalo's schools in sympathy with mothers in Little Rock fighting for school integration.

The mothers were members of an organization called "Mothers Alliance to Stop School Segregation." The board said it would consider their request. Buffalo police watched the peaceful demonstration and said later many of those taking part were not Buffalo residents.

In New Orleans, five additional Negro students registered in the freshman class at Louisiana State University. This brought to seven the number of Negroes enrolled since a federal district court ordered their registration Monday.

The State Board of Education at Nashville, Tenn., granted Memphis State University's request for a one-year delay in desegregation.

At Van Buren, Ark., U. Simpson Tate, NAACP regional counsel, filed two suits designed to restore racial integration at Van Buren High. The suits were filed in U.S. District Court at nearby Fort Smith. A noisy boycott by about 45 white pupils blocked Negro attendance at the high school Friday.

And at Washington, the Civil Rights Commission ordered investigations of complaints that Negroes have been denied voting rights in Florida, Mississippi and Alabama. A commission spokesman declined, however, to say where in each state the alleged violations occurred.

Integration Elsewhere

REYKJAVIK, Iceland — Fights with dead fish and ramblings at sea broke the calm Wednesday in Iceland's 10-day-old fish fess with Britain.

On the less rugged diplomatic front, Iceland rejected Britain's call for a settlement through a new conference of specialists on the law of the sea. Iceland said the matter should be settled by the U.N. General Assembly.

Iceland extended her territorial waters to 12 miles on Sept. 1. Britain contended this was illegal.

White House Denies Adams Has Resigned

Ouster Pressure Rages Since Maine Election

NEWPORT, R.I. — The White House denied emphatically Wednesday that President Eisenhower's chief aide, Sherman Adams, has resigned or has given any indication he will do so.

But the pressure was heavy on the Administration to dump Adams in the wake of the trouncing the Republicans took in last Monday's Maine election — one in which Adams' acceptance of expensive gifts and hospitality was an indirect issue.

Adams himself—reached at a remote camp in Renous, N.B., where he is on a fishing trip — declined comment on the resignation reports.

Says Rumors False

White House press secretary James C. Hagerty took note of the clamor by announcing at the start of a news conference that "there has been no resignation submitted in any shape, form or manner."

Asked if Adams, who often has been referred to by the President as his good right arm, has given any indication he might step out, Hagerty replied:

"The answer to that would be no."

The report of Adams' resignation was printed in the Laconia (N.H.) Evening Citizen.

Hagerty said Mr. Eisenhower is surprised by reports that Adams has quit or might quit as a result of disclosures that he accepted expensive gifts and hospitality from Boston industrialist Bernard Goldfine and also got in touch with federal agencies with which Goldfine was in trouble.

Influenced Election

Adams has said he did no more than make routine inquiries.

This matter figured in the Maine election in which Republican Sen. Frederick C. Payne — who, like Adams, accepted a vicuna coat from Goldfine — was soundly defeated by Democratic Gov. Edmund Muskie in a political upset.

Many Republicans, especially those up for election, have pressed the panic switch as a result of the Maine outcome and are urging that Adams quit or be fired.

Highlander Tryouts Set For Sept. 21

Auditions for prospective members of SUI's Scottish Highlanders will be held Sept. 21 according to Pipemaster (director) William Adamson.

The Highlanders, the world's largest bagpipe band and an all-girl organization, has toured 32 states and seven European countries. Because of its international fame for playing and performing traditional Scottish tunes and dances, some 350 to 400 freshmen are expected to attend the tryouts, Adamson says.

No Experience Needed

The auditions will not be based on the ability to play drums or bagpipes, but on the individual's music background, marching experience, high school grades and adaptation to Scottish music and dances.

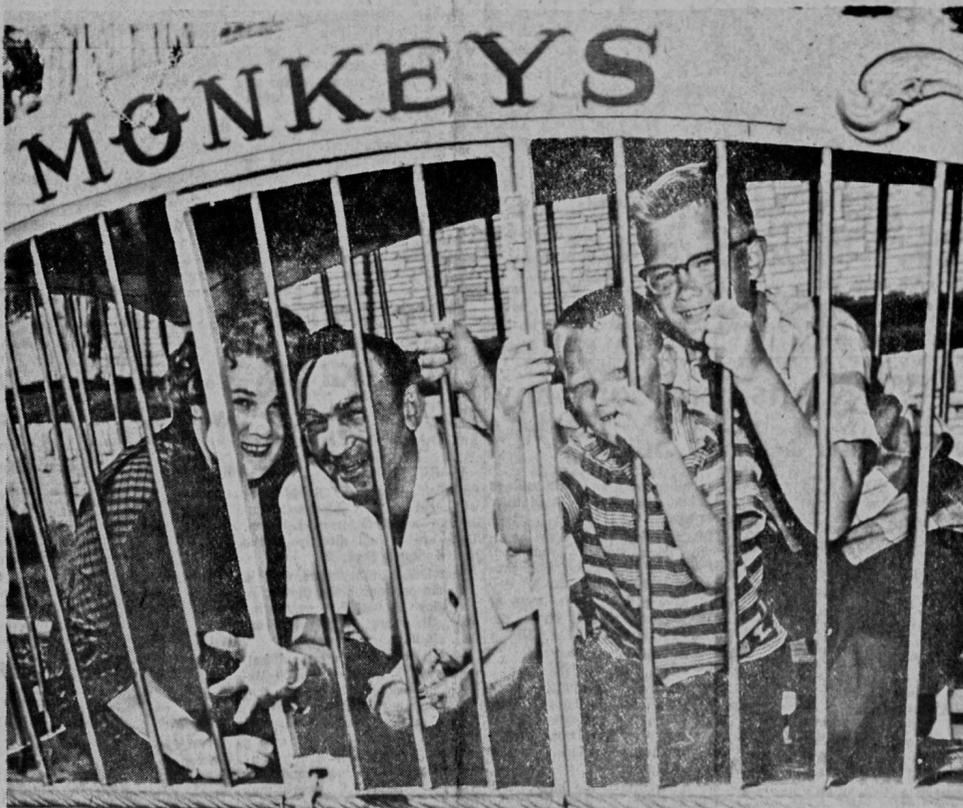

Those students accepted for membership in the Highlanders receive instruction in marching, dancing and playing the instruments used. Most members have become proficient in these arts without any previous training after practicing ten hours weekly during their freshman year, Adamson says. They then may be accepted for regular membership and perform with the group during home football games and one "away" game and on the Highlanders' tour throughout Iowa.

Afternoon Auditions

The auditions will be held in the afternoon of Sept. 21 the date on which some 1,700 freshmen are scheduled to arrive on the SUI campus to attend a week of orientation.

Returning to the campus will be 90 regular members of the Highlanders who have worked with the group for at least one year. These members will elect their officers on Sept. 21 for the Highlanders' governing body, Adamson says.

These regular members will begin rehearsals Sept. 22 and will make their first appearance of the season at the Iowa-Texas Christian football game in Iowa City Sept. 27.

Mexico Deporting Communists After Wave of Disorder

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Many known Communists, including prominent and wealthy North Americans with headquarters here, are being deported by the Government in a crackdown after a wave of strikes and disorders.

The Ministry of Interior said it had proof that Communist agitators had master-minded the riots and had given "money and technical assistance" to teachers, students, telegraphers, and railway workers.

Greeks Busy With Pre-Rush Activity

By DONNA BLAUFUSS Society Editor

Vacant houses are coming to life this week as sorority and fraternity members return to Iowa City for pre-rush week workouts.

Coeds have been arriving en masse since the beginning of the week. As baggage laddened students and parents began sorting and stacking.

As one gal put it, "It isn't the moving that I mind so much, it's finding a place to put all of this junk!"

However, getting settled is only the start and soon comes skit practice, costume and prop hunting, glue and scissor sessions to finish decorations and name tags and reviewing the songs that have been put aside for the summer.

The week of preparation will come to a hurried end Sunday, Sept. 14, when formal rush officially begins for the 13 sororities and 20 fraternities.

The sorority rushees, now totaling close to 500, will attend a required mass meeting in Macbride Auditorium Sunday at 1 p.m., and then will begin a tour of the houses under a Merry-Go-Round Party plan.

In this system, each rushee gets a chance to meet sorority members by following a schedule to visit the various houses. It also enables each sorority to extend future invitations after meeting the girls.

Following the Merry-Go-Round program that includes Sunday and Monday, each sorority invites rushees to attend their parties.

Tuesday and Wednesday the number of parties each rushee may attend is lowered. In this way, each house can determine which rushees are most interested in their respective houses.

Thursday morning each house has two parties scheduled. Again the rushees are required to narrow their choice of houses. These parties and the ones on Wednesday include skits and refreshments.

Thursday night is preference night and each rushee is allowed to attend parties at two houses. After the parties, the girls meet in the Iowa Memorial Union where they sign their final bids.

U.S.-Guarded Convoy Sails For Quemoy

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — A third American-escorted convoy of Nationalist supplies was on the way to Quemoy this morning after a raging storm which cut off the beleaguered island.

It was the first convoy to set out for Quemoy since Monday, when Communist artillery fire hit and blew up a Nationalist ammunition ship unloading on Quemoy's Satao Beach and forced a second supply ship to turn back. The first daylight escort mission was last Sunday.

American officials said the third convoy already was within Communist radar range when they announced it. They have made clear that the 7th Fleet will retaliate in an unstated manner if the Communists fire at the U.S. escort vessels.

Associated Press Correspondent Gene Kramer reported from Quemoy that many wounded soldiers were dying because of a lack of medical supplies. But he said there appeared to be plenty of food stocks.

Kramer quoted Dr. Kuo Chin as saying 20 of 230 Nationalist wounded soldiers died before they could be evacuated.

"Our mortality rate among the wounded is high. Medical supplies must get through to us if we are to care for casualties properly," the doctor added.

Peiping radio charged that Nationalist artillery on Quemoy seriously damaged Amoy University Wednesday. The Red broadcast said more than 30 shells hit the university's main hall, library and dormitory. Amoy is on an island about five miles from Quemoy.

Special Exhibits At SUI Library During School Year

Beginning with an exhibit of books by Iowa authors in October and ending with a display of cartoons in June, the SUI Library will feature nine different special exhibits during the coming months.

All of the exhibits are open to the public and visitors to the University as well as to student, faculty and staff members. Last year more than 500 junior and senior high school students and persons from other groups saw the different library exhibits while on guided tours of the University.

Science Books

Now on display in the main exhibit hall is a group of books entitled "Books for Young Scientists." Sponsored by the Smithsonian Institution, the exhibit includes 100 up-to-date volumes on physics, mathematics, natural history, astronomy and general science, designed to capture the interest of boys and girls in elementary and secondary school. The exhibit will be on display until Sept. 22.

During October, library visitors will have a chance to see many of the 3,000 books from the Iowa Authors Collection. Tentatively scheduled for display are two famed manuscripts: Meredith Willson's "The Music Man," a top Broadway hit, and MacKinlay Kantor's prize-winning Civil War novel, "Andersonville."

Eisenhower To Discuss Far East

NEWPORT, R.I. — President Eisenhower will fly back to Washington today to make a major address by radio and television on the Far East situation.

The summer White House announced that the President would interrupt his vacation to report on the dangerous situation — as both this country and the Soviet Union have described it — in the Formosa Strait.

The President will speak from 9 to 9:30 p.m. Eastern Standard Time.

The ABC radio and television networks Mutual Broadcasting System and CBS radio network announced they would carry the address at the time of delivery. NBC television will handle a delayed broadcast at 10:15 p.m. EST.

The CBS television network also said the speech would be carried starting at 10:15 p.m. There was no immediate announcement concerning the NBC radio network.

Mr. Eisenhower, he said, will broadcast "a major report to the American people and, for that matter, to the world on the situation as it now exists on the Taiwan Formosa Strait."

Hagerty said the talk was not prompted by any specific development, but he declined to say whether it was being delivered because of an emergency situation.

Mr. Eisenhower plans to fly back here Friday morning to resume the visit he began Aug. 29.

and the South will be featured in the November exhibit. Sponsors of the traveling show are the South-eastern Library Association and the Midwestern Books Committee.

In December, the library will show 70 hand-painted copies of details from the richly colored frescoes of a beautiful 14th century Hungarian church. The frescoes re-create scenes from the life of Christ. This is another Smithsonian Institution exhibit.

Reprints of articles and books by faculty members will form the major portion of the January exhibit. The reprints will come from the University Archives.

Honor Lincoln

February's exhibit will honor the 150th anniversary of the birth of Abraham Lincoln. All of the items on display will focus on the life and times of the 16th president of the United States.

Tentatively scheduled for March is a showing of art of the Spanish southwest. Sponsored by the American Federation of Arts, the major part of the exhibit will be made up of watercolor paintings.

April's exhibit will be another regional display of books, featuring volumes published in the West. The collection will come from the Western Books Committee. Other material to call attention to National Library Week (Apr. 12-18) will also be displayed during April.

Shakers Exhibit

Examples of the expert craftsmanship of the Shakers, a dwindling religious sect, will be shown in the May exhibit. Members of the Millennial Church, the Shakers were popularly named from movements in dancing, originally a part of their worship. This exhibit also will come from the Smithsonian Institution.

Many of the 7,500 original drawings given to the University by Jay Norwood "Ding" Darling will be on display in June. Cartoons by Darling, a Pulitzer Prize-winning cartoonist for the Des Moines Register, now retired, are reproduced above the doors of the University Library. The cartoons portray a whimsical history of knowledge from the cave man to the present-day college student.

8-Year-Old Boy Admits Stabbing Parents to Death

NEW YORK — Eight-year-old Melvin Nimer Jr., who first said a white-masked intruder stabbed his parents to death in their Staten Island home, has said he killed them himself, Dist. Atty. John M. Braisted Jr. said Wednesday night.

Braisted emphasized to reporters, however, that he was "not satisfied" that the boy's statement had explained the entire case and young Melvin was not being put under arrest.

He said authorities would move to have Melvin undergo further psychiatric examination.

The child's parents, Dr. Melvin Nimer and his wife, Lore Jean, both 31, were stabbed to death in their Staten Island home Sept. 2.

At the time, young Melvin told police they were knifed when they came to his aid as a man with a white mask stood over his bed trying to choke him.

UAW Warns Ford Company Of Strike Set for Sept. 17

DETROIT — The United Auto Workers Wednesday night said it would strike Ford Motor Co., Sept. 17 unless it has a new contract by then. But the union added it was hopeful of a settlement without a strike.

The decision and the statement came out of a day-long meeting of the UAW's international executive board.

The union did not say why Ford was chosen as the strike target rather than the larger General Motors or the smaller Chrysler Corp. Register, now retired, are reproduced above the doors of the University Library. The cartoons portray a whimsical history of knowledge from the cave man to the present-day college student.

In an optimistic note, the UAW said that "for the first time in five months we can begin to see equitable settlement on a new contract without the necessity of strike action."

Ford Vice President John S. Bugas, head of the company's bargaining team, said the UAW decision came as no surprise to him. "This is an assumption we at Ford reached long ago," he said, "and we have proceeded on this basis throughout these negotiations."

He said Ford would continue to strive for an agreement that is fair to employees, stockholders and the general public, "whether it comes before or after the deadline."

General Motors and Chrysler declined immediate comment.

Murray Claims $5,000 Offered For Campaign

MARENGO — William G. Murray, the Republican candidate for governor, told the Marengo Kiwanis Club Wednesday he has turned down a $5,000 campaign contribution because of strings attached to the offer.

Murray told the Kiwanians: "I've found that I've been able, up to this moment, to avoid getting into situations that could be embarrassing. People have made propositions, however.

"One party told me there would be $5,000 for me if I would agree to something in advance — verbally, nothing written. But you don't have to get into those situations."

After the meeting, Murray said the $5,000 offer was an attempt to buy an appointment. He was supposed to agree to appoint a certain person to a position if elected governor.

Jack Parr To Leave NBC-TV

NEW YORK — Jack Parr, the low-keyed comedian who conducts one of the high-key television programs of the current season, said Wednesday night he is quitting his NBC-TV program next July.

"If they will cut my one hour and 45 minutes to an hour and a quarter, I'll stay," said Parr. "But they say they won't and so I am going out."

Parr has a five-year contract with NBC. He will have completed two years of his contract in July.

"How will he break it?" "If necessary, I'll get a doctor's certificate," Parr said.

"I'm doing more television than Gleason, Gobel, Allen and Berle combined. No, I don't want more money. I just want less time."

"There's no pique or temperment in this. If there were, why should I say I'll continue until next July? That's the long way out, but I'll stick it out somehow."

Parr's program runs from 11:15 p.m. to 1 a.m. EDT five nights a week, Monday through Friday.

No NBC spokesman was available who would comment on Parr's statement.

More Marines To Withdraw From Lebanon

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Another battalion of 1,700 U.S. Marines will begin boarding ships next Monday to withdraw from Lebanon. They are to sail directly to the United States Sept. 19.

The U.S. Military Command in Lebanon announced the movement Thursday. A battalion numbering about the same was pulled out Aug. 14-15.

Withdrawal of the second battalion will leave about 10,000 Marines and soldiers in the force that began landing here July 15 at the request of President Camille Chammoun's government.

There was no indication of any further mass withdrawal and Chammoun said the U.S. troops may remain here until the end of October.

Adm. James L. Holloway, commander of U.S. forces in Lebanon, announced the new move shortly after U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold conferred here with Chammoun and other Lebanese leaders on Hammarskjold's Mideast peace program.

Hammarskjold's key assignment is to arrange for the withdrawal of American forces from Lebanon and British forces from Jordan.

Chammoun told reporters after his 1½ hour Wednesday night with Hammarskjold there might be some small withdrawal from Lebanon, but "certainly American forces are not going to leave before the end of September and perhaps even the end of October. It all depends on agreements made between the American and Lebanese governments."

The government of President-elect Gen. Fuad Chehab will succeed his Sept. 24.

The first withdrawal was made on the eve of an emergency session of the U.N. General Assembly called to discuss the Middle East crisis involving Lebanon, Jordan and the United Arab Republic.

The second withdrawal is scheduled the day before the U.N. Assembly begins its annual session next Tuesday.

Road Commission In Iowa Operated In Red Last Year

DES MOINES — Because of increased spending for primary roads, the Iowa Highway Commission paid out more than it took in during the fiscal year that ended June 30, 1957, a state auditor's report showed Wednesday.

The commission's total cash receipts amounted to $94,952,224 while disbursements came to $103,675,266, the report observed.

That left cash on hand at the end of the period of $38,251,658, as against $46,974,701 on July 1, 1956.

Primary road fund income from all sources amounted to $69,373,318 and farm-to-market road fund income was $21,051,364 during the fiscal year.

That's a decrease of $11,492,399 from the previous year in primary road fund revenue, but an increase of $2,769,356 in farm-to-market funds.

Expenditures from primary road funds totaled $80,294,970, and farm-to-market expenditures were $18,293,708.

Ike Picks 2 New Aides, Promotes Other Assistants

NEWPORT, R.I. — President Eisenhower picked two new White House aides, including a chief speechwriter, and promoted two present aides Wednesday.

Announcement of the new assignments at the President's vacation headquarters came shortly after press secretary James C. Hagerty had denied a published report that Eisenhower's top assistant, Sherman Adams, had resigned.

The $20,000-a-year job as presidential speech writer went to Malcolm C. Moos, political science professor at Johns Hopkins University, Baltimore, Md. Moos, who is taking a leave of absence from the university, succeeds Arthur Larsen who resigned recently to go to Duke University.

Both Moos and Larsen are authors of books on the Republican party.

Union Offers To Rent Out Works of Art

If you have any interest in art and recognize the names Picasso, Degas, Van Gogh, Gogon or Grand Wood, you will realize that the Iowa Memorial Union is offering a unique service by renting out reproductions by these artists.

Each fall the Iowa Memorial Union's art rental service offers more than 200 reproductions of famous works on a first-come first-serve basis.

No Private Use All sororities, fraternities, church student centers and University offices have access to this service. However, the reproductions are not for private rental.

Available rental reproductions will be on display in the Main Lounge of the Union today and Friday from 9 a.m. to 12 noon and 1 p.m. to 5 p.m.

Under the direction of Earl E. Harper, director of the Union, high quality reproductions of famous paintings are available at a rental fee of $1.50 per picture each semester.

Exchange Pix The rental may be renewed during the second semester and for the summer session and people can bring the pictures back and exchange them at anytime.

All paintings must be returned after the summer session. During the past month, all of the paintings have been checked and re-conditioned where necessary. The rental fee helps pay for the maintenance, Harper said.

Most of the reproductions have been imported and frames have been designed to suit the individual pieces of work.

Valuable Frames "One thing that is unique about the framing is that each picture is framed as if it were an original," Harper said. "Sometimes the frames are more valuable than the pictures."

The SUI Art Department offers a similar rental program. Graduate students' pictures and a few pieces of sculpture are also available through the Art Department for use in University reception rooms and public offices on the SUI campus.

There is no charge for the use of student paintings obtained through the Art Department. The graduate art projects are part of the students' thesis requirements.

No Plans Made For Schools Closed By Integration

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Welfare Fleming said Wednesday his department has no plans to carry on public education in the event schools are closed because of the integration controversy.

If such schools are closed and the state pays tuition for private schooling, Fleming told a news conference, there would be no legal basis for the federal government to contribute.

Fleming said federal payments to school crisis areas during the school year 1957-58 were as follows: Arlington County, Va., $1,125,840 or 13 per cent of the county's total school receipts; the City of Norfolk, Va., $1,295,652, or 11 per cent; and the City of Little Rock, Ark., $64,820.60, with the percentage not available.

East Germans Threatening West with Another Blockade

By J. M. ROBERTS
Associated Press News Analyst

The East German Communists have just reminded West Germany and the world that there was an attempt one time to blockade West Berlin and that there could be another.

You'd expect the Communists to be the last ones to want to bring it up. But who can tell why at Communist acts and thinks as he does?

The latest threat is in connection with East German efforts to get West Germany to be more liberal with its trade. Germany's former breadbasket has been having a pretty rough time compared with the booming prosperity in the Western sector. It wants machinery with which to build up its industry.

Ten years ago the Communists attempted to get the Western Allies out of Berlin.

They closed the canals, rail lines and highways through the Soviet zone that supplied West Berlin.

Years before, the Communists had watched the rising Nazis make the Western Allies lie down and play dead while they ripped up the Versailles treaty.

But the United States was not a power in Europe then.

In 1948 the United States reacted, with the moral backing but small physical help of the European allies.

West Berlin is an Allied enclave by treaty, she said, and no unilateral abrogation will be permitted.

She was a little slow to act, allowing the Soviets to get control on the ground instead of pushing convoys through during early negotiations.

But in the air it was different. The Allies controlled two air corridors into Berlin by agreement. The Soviets, having only a primitive air transport system at the time, didn't realize what could happen.

The boys in the C47's poured in the coal and the food, and the steel for reconstruction.

The West Berliners kept their tails up and used the supplies with typical German efficiency.

Finally the Communists had to give up. It was one of the greatest defeats they ever suffered in the cold war, and a great victory for Allied determination.

You wouldn't think the Communists would ever want to hear it mentioned again.

Admits She Fed Arsenic To Husband

DES MOINES — A Burlington woman admitted after a lie detector test Wednesday she fed her Russian refugee husband arsenic in his coffee on three different occasions, the State Bureau of Criminal Investigation said.

The woman was identified as Mrs. Theresia Solotko, 34, mother of two daughters, 7 and 11. Officers said Mrs. Solotko also took small amounts of the arsenic herself.

The husband, John Solotko, about 53, has been released after twice receiving hospital treatment for arsenic poisoning. He suffered partial paralysis of his feet and fingers.

Asst. Police Chief Paul Bruhl of Burlington said charges will be filed against Mrs. Solotko.

The lie detector test was given to Mrs. Solotko at the offices of the state bureau Wednesday morning by State Agent R. K. Carmichael.

Bruhl said Mrs. Solotko did not give a definite motive for her act but hinted family troubles were involved.

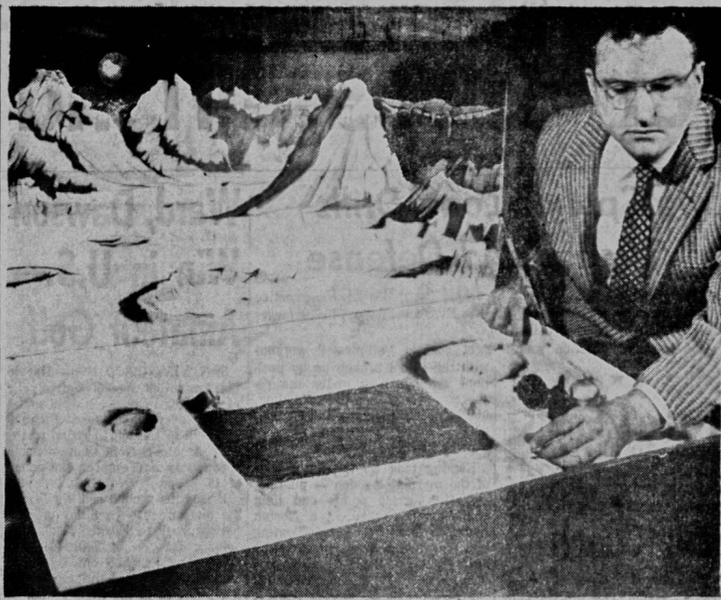

Bruhl said Solotko was a displaced person from Kaukas, Russia, on the Black Sea. Mrs. Solotko comes from Legau, Bavaria, Germany.

They met at a displaced persons camp in Germany and were married there after World War II. They came to the United States nine years ago and found work as farmers near Burlington.

Later they moved into the city where they bought a home. Solotko has been employed as a machine operator at the Burlington Railroad shops. Mrs. Solotko also has been employed in the city.

Bruhl said Solotko became ill the first time on July 4. His doctor diagnosed the ailment as arsenic poisoning and notified police. The case has been under investigation ever since, Bruhl said.

In her statement, Bruhl said, Mrs. Solotko admitted she swallowed small amounts of arsenic in some medicine she was taking, in order to divert suspicion from herself.

Top Yields Expected In Iowa

DES MOINES — Record per acre yields of corn, oats and soybeans were in prospect for Iowa this year.

This was indicated Wednesday in the government forecast of crop conditions as of Sept. 1.

Iowa's corn production was estimated at 647,010,000 bushels with a record yield of 63 bushels an acre. This compares with 616,200,000 bushels and 60 bushels a month ago.

The record production is 677,056,000 bushels established by the 1948 crop. But the previous high per acre yield was 62.5 bushels for the 1952 crop.

The Iowa Crop and Livestock Reporting Service said the effects of the frequent July and early August rains were responsible for the excellent condition of the corn.

However, progress of the crop toward maturity still lags behind last year but no danger to the corn is expected, the agency said.

Soybean production will be at an all-time high of 82,026,000 bushels and a yield of 27 bushels an acre. This is approximately three million bushels higher than the Aug. 1 estimate and compares with the 72,592,000-bushel crop last year.

The previous high soybean yield was 26.5 bushel in 1954. Last year it was 26.

The forecast called for 221,536,000 bushels of oats, far below the 1948 record crop of 273,870,000 and 4 million bushels above the 1957 harvest.

The indicated yield of 46 bushels an acre is well above the 41.5 bushels obtained a year ago and the record 45 bushels established by the 1948 crop.

Demos Record Vote Gains In Several Western States

By The Associated Press

Returns from Tuesday's primaries in 10 states showed Wednesday that Democrats recorded vote gains in several Western states. Stiffer intra-party races could have played an important part in the show of strength.

Also, these late tabulations decided two contests that were still unsettled Tuesday night.

Close Victory
One marked up a close victory for Rep. Cova Knutson (D-Minn.), in her bid for a third-term nomination. Her opponent, Marvin Evenson, ran with the support of Mrs. Knutson's husband, who had tried without success to get her to quit politics.

The other decision gave Gov. Ernest W. McFarland of Arizona the right to oppose the man who defeated him for the Senate in 1952, Republican Sen. Barry Goldwater. The latter had no primary opponent.

Easily Defeated
McFarland, in his effort to return to the Senate, easily defeated National committeeman Stephen Langmade for the Democratic senatorial nomination.

The Democratic turnout in Tuesday's far-flung primaries was particularly pleasing to party chiefs in Utah, Wisconsin and Minnesota. It helped add to the elation already felt by national party leaders as a result of big Democratic gains Monday in the Maine election.

But primary voting is not always a good barometer of what may come in November.

Third Term
Utah Democrats showed unexpected strength in choosing attorney Frank E. Moses to oppose Republican Sen. Arthur V. Watkins in November. Watkins, a strong supporter of President Eisenhower, easily won nomination to a third term in a contest with attorney Carvel W. Mattsson. Moss defeated Brigham E. Roberts. The total vote in the Democratic primary topped that in the Republican.

In Wisconsin, Democrats outdrew the Republicans in total votes cast for the first time in this century, but by a slim margin.

They also had more contests to help them bring out the vote. A big turnout in the cities, mainly Milwaukee, boosted the Democratic total.

Close in November
The Minnesota primary produced Democratic totals substantially higher than the opposition in most contests, possibly promising a close race in November between Republican Sen. Edward Thyne and Democratic Rep. Eugene McCarthy, chosen Tuesday as Thyne's opponent.

Rental Reproductions
Rental reproductions will be on display in the main lounge of the Iowa Memorial Union building Thursday and Friday, Sept. 11 and 12 from 9 a. m. to 12 p. m. and 1 p. m. to 5 p. m.

They are available for rental at $1.50 per picture per semester. Sororities, Fraternities, Church Student Centers, and University offices are eligible to rent these pictures.

48 Colleges, Universities Participate in Fall Testing

All of the colleges and universities in Iowa will cooperate this fall in the statewide Iowa College Scholarship and Placement Testing Program, according to Ted McCarrel, SUI registrar and chairman of the program's advisory committee.

This will be the second cooperative testing program conducted in Iowa. In April, 20 colleges and universities participated in the first such program and 8,240 potential college students took examinations at 75 different testing centers.

Forty-eight colleges and universities, including all junior colleges, will participate in the program this fall, McCarrel said. Tests will be given at 34 centers around the state on Saturday, Oct. 25 and at 44 centers on Saturday, Nov. 1.

On Saturday
Testing dates were changed to Saturday this fall to provide more suitable accommodations and also to eliminate the necessity for high schools to disrupt their regularly scheduled programs. Test administrators will be provided by each of the participating institutions.

Participating colleges will use test data for admission, placement in freshman classes and granting of scholarships, McCarrel said. Students intending to take the tests will be required to file a registration form and pay a fee of $1 in this fall's program. Registration forms and material explaining the program have been mailed to all Iowa secondary schools and junior colleges.

Tests which will be given this fall will include a test of this ability, tests of English composition, reading comprehension and mathematics ability.

Process Explained
The process to be followed for filing scholarship applications with Iowa colleges or universities will be explained at the testing centers, and application forms will be distributed at the close of the testing session. Scholarship applications must be completed by March 15, 1959.

Reports of the test scores for individual students will be sent to as many as three of the participating institutions indicated by each student being tested. Test scores will not be sent to out-of-state institutions, however, McCarrel said.

Norman Baker, 74, Former Cancer Clinic Operator Dies

MUSCATINE — Orchid and purple shirts and ties distinguished him on the street. Controversy surrounded him at all times.

That was the life of Norman Baker, the one-time "radio doctor" of Muscatine who operated a cancer clinic, entertained political ambitions and served a prison sentence.

Baker, 74, died of jaundice at a Miami, Fla., hospital Tuesday. He had lived there in recent years on a 3-story houseboat.

His purple bound biography states he was "one of America's outstanding self-made successes, for all of his present predicament."

That came out when he was campaigning for the Republican nomination for U.S. senator in 1936.

Two years later he was barred by court order from practicing medicine in Iowa so he moved his cancer hospital staff, equipment and 140 patients to Eureka Springs, Ark.

He had established the cancer clinic here, his hometown, in 1929.

It was the next year that controversy between him and the medical profession over his cancer cure claims first flared. Baker later brought a half million dollar libel suit against the American Medical Assn. because of articles published in the association journals.

During the trial, physicians testified that analysis of a fluid allegedly used by Baker in treating cancer was composed of equal parts of carbolic acid, glycerine and alcohol, with a trace of oil of peppermint.

At various times he had a magazine, a newspaper and retail stores as well as his clinics.

In 1940 he was convicted in Little Rock, Ark., of using the mails to defraud in the advertisement of a cancer treatment. He was sentenced to four years in a federal prison.

Baker sought in 1946 to return to Iowa and establish a Baker Research Foundation. His request for approval was denied by the secretary of state.

Dixon Compares TV Quiz, Ike's Press Conference

By GEORGE DIXON
King Features Syndicate

WASHINGTON — I don't care what they say about those quiz shows in New York, I hold it to be self-evident that our quiz shows here are on the level. Anyone who has watched such weekly or bi-weekly contestants as Dwight Eisenhower and Johnny Dulles struggle with our questions must be convinced that the answers just couldn't have been planted.

We do not need District Attorney Frank S. Hogan, of New York County, probing into our quiz programs as he is probing into "21" and other TV giveaways. For all of us, he can concentrate on wrestling for the New York Senatorship with Rep. Kenneth B. Keating. Our shows are so simple pure that the contestants frequently don't know the answers, before or after.

We claim, of course, that our quiz programs are absolutely unique. Our shows are the only ones in which a contestant is not disqualified for answering. "Now you're telling me something I never heard of."

Never Coached
Herbert Stempel, the ex-convict blowing the whistle on the New York quizzicalisthenics, charges he not only was given the answers but coached on how to bite his lips, wrinkle his forehead, and other dramatics to build up the suspense. I make the flat statement that there has never been a time when we coached our contestants in registering emotion.

We may have inadvertently stung them into it. But I swear on the Radio and TV Code of Good Practices that we have never rehearsed them. Not once have we ever resorted to the trick imputed to other quiz shows to make the contestants burst into perspiration — put them in an isolation booth and shut off the air conditioning.

We don't even have a sign that flashes "Right" when they answer a question the way we think it should be answered.

Questions-Answers
I submit that any fair-minded observer would know our quiz programs were on the up-and-up, even without the answers. The majority of our questions are so tortuous they couldn't be planted in anything except a boa constrictor. Here are a couple of actual questions and answers from our most recent quiz show, on Aug. 26:

Q. Mr. President, Arlington, Virginia, looks like it will have to close its schools in the integration crisis and at any rate the State money is going to be cut off. They may let the counties run the schools on their own. The Federal Government contributed money to the support of the schools there because of the great number of Federal workers in the area. I was wondering if you would favor increasing, in case they do, the counties are left to run the schools, increasing the Federal contribution to bring it up to its current budget level?

A. I couldn't give you an answer right off from the hip, shooting from the hip that way, on that one. I hadn't thought of it, but I'll say this: Whatever we would do in any other area, it seems to me, would have to be done by the Federal area, but the Federal Government, in any other area, and there, regardless of local action, I think the Federal Government must be — must observe an equality of treatment any place.

Q. Could you tell me, Mr. President, what is the area of discretion of local commanders in the use of tactical atomic weapons, if they have any discretion?

A. It has been a long time that I have gone through these, all of these directives, and many of them go into tremendous detail, I am not going any further than that, and if it is possible, I will take a look again, because there is one exception, but I don't believe it mentions atomic weapons: That if the United States itself, or any of its armed forces are under attack, that they can use any measures necessary for their defense, but I would have to make certain. My memory is not quite that good this morning.

Anyone who suspects our quiz shows are not honest has a suspicion mania.

10th-Inning Homer Gives Friend 20th Win

Stuart Blast Downs Giants By 6-4 Score

PITTSBURGH (AP) — A dramatic 2-run homer by Dick Stuart in the 10th inning Wednesday night gave Bob Friend his 20th victory as the Pittsburgh Pirates defeated the San Francisco Giants 6-4.

Friend, the first National League pitcher to win 20 games this year and the first Pirate to turn the trick since Murry Dickson did it in 1951, raced out to greet Stuart.

Stuart's blast, his 15th since coming up from the minors in midseason, came after Roberto Clemente tagged reliever Marv Grissom for a 2-out single.

Friend's record is 20-13, by far the best of his 8-year major league career, all of it with the Pirates.

Grissom who came on in the 10th in relief of Ramon Monzant, was charged with his fifth defeat against seven victories.

MILWAUKEE (AP) — The Milwaukee Braves continued their march toward a second straight National League pennant Wednesday night by beating the Cincinnati Redlegs 3-0 on the 3-hit pitching of 21-year-old left-hander Juan Pizarro.

The victory trimmed Milwaukee's magic number to eight and kept intact their 6½-game lead over the second place Pittsburgh Pirates.

In posting his first shutout in the major leagues, Pizarro claimed his sixth victory of the season against a pair of defeats. It was his second decision of the year and the third of his career over the Redlegs who have never beaten him.

The only successful Redleg batters were former Brave Pete Whisenant who singled in the first and fourth and Johnny Temple who banded a double in the eighth.

Senators 5, Tigers 4

DETROIT (AP) — Catcher Clint Courtney drove in four runs with his seventh home run and a double and sparked the last place Washington Senators to a 5-4 come-from-behind triumph over the Detroit Tigers Wednesday.

Charlie Maxwell slammed a bases loaded home run — the third of his career — and got the Tigers off to a 4-0 lead in the third inning. But the Senators swarmed back on the tight pitching of Russ Kemmerer and reliever Truman Cleveland and squared the series at one game apiece.

The only damaging blow Kemmerer yielded in six innings was Maxwell's 12th home run. Cleveland, credited with his ninth victory, pitched hitless ball over the last three innings.

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Philadelphia Phillies put down a ninth-inning rally to beat the Los Angeles Dodgers 8-6 Wednesday night in a wild contest that included homers by Dodger rookie Frank Howard and veteran Carl Furillo. The clubs committed seven errors between them and compiled a total of 23 hits against six pitchers.

Robin Roberts picked up his 15th of the year against 13 losses. When Furillo opened the final frame with his circuit clout, and Ron Fairly and Howard, both Dodger rookies, came through with successive singles, Roberts gave way to Don Erickson who promptly retired the side.

Fairly had singled in the Dodgers' fourth and came home on Howard's homer to give Los Angeles its first two runs. It was Howard's second time at bat in this, his major league debut.

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Vinegar Bend Mizell of the St. Louis Cardinals pitched a 4-hit ball game Wednesday night and backed by steady hitting downed the Chicago Cubs 3-1.

Mizell struck out seven and walked five. He was backed up by an 8-hit attack.

It was Mizell's third defeat of the Cubs in a row and the second time in two days the Red Birds have beaten Chicago.

It was the seventh victory in the last 10 games for the Red Birds, whose manager, Fred Hutchinson, reportedly will not be retained for next season. The victory moved the Cardinals into a fourth-place tie with Cincinnati.

Cub starter Taylor Phillips left the game in the seventh for a pinch batter after yielding three runs on seven hits.

CLEVELAND (AP) — To the disappointment of 50,021 Back-the-Indians Night fans, the New York Yankees drubbed Cleveland 8-3 Wednesday night, battering five Indian pitchers for a dozen hits and leading all the way. Only through Yankee errors and a cluster of walks could the Tribe score.

The crowd exceeded by 10,000 the largest previous home gate this year.

Rookie Zack Moore, who now has won four against one loss, put the Tribe down in order in three innings and got double play help in three other frames before he was replaced in the seventh. Ryan

Campy Holds Press Conference With Press

NEW YORK (AP) — Roy Campanella sat in a wheel chair with a collar brace around his neck. He moved both hands and talked cheerfully in his first full-scale news conference since his near-fatal auto accident, Jan. 28. Although he had lost weight he actually looked younger as he grinned at old friends.

"I felt very good the past week," he said into a microphone that transformed his high pitched voice into a baritone. "Better than I have felt since January. Ever since I went home last weekend I have felt very good. I hope to go home again very soon."

Campanella can't walk and has only partial use and control of his arms. He is just learning how to navigate his chair and how to slide, with help, into a car. When he went home to Glen Cove, N.Y., last week, he rode with his wife, Ruth, in a car, strapped with safety belts. But he no longer is strapped to a suspension frame and his bulky neck brace has been revised.

Although he is limited in the time he may sit up, Campy posed for pictures for 30 minutes, met with the press for about 45 minutes and then was interviewed by several radio and TV commentators.

Asked To See "Boys"

It must have been a tiring experience but he has asked to see the "boys." Only a few reporters, TV and magazine writers had seen him since the accident in which he suffered a broken neck and subsequent total paralysis from the neck down. He is listed as a quadriplegic.

Since May 5, the Los Angeles Dodgers' catcher, has been a patient at the Institute of Physical Medicine and Rehabilitation of New York University — Bellevue Medical Center in midtown New York. Dr. Howard Rusk, director of the institute, is excited about his progress.

"We feel Campy's improvement has really been phenomenal," said Dr. Howard Rusk. "We have 35 other boys with similar problems and he is way ahead of the average. Neurologically the improvement has been minimal but functionally, he has gained tremendously."

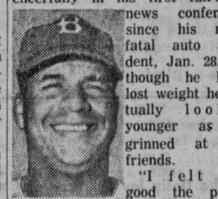

Spiritual Force

"I think he is going to be a great spiritual force in the rehabilitation program. Because of his disability, I think he will mean more to more people from now on than he did in baseball."

Dr. Rusk said he was unable to say how much further improvement was to be expected.

"Time alone will tell," he said. "You can't say 'yes' and you can't say 'no' up to a year after treatment starts."

Campanella, who will be 37 on Nov. 19, according to baseball record books, said Walter O'Malley, Dodger owner, had offered him a job as a radio commentator and coach but he wasn't thinking about it at the present time.

Iowa Spends Long Drills On Offense and Defense

The Iowa football squad put in a long, hard day on the practice field Wednesday when coach Forest Evashevski put his charges through a pair of 2½ hour drills.

The morning practice was a light contact "all-phase" workout with the squad broken up by positions and working under the respective coaches on tackling, blocking, ball handling and running plays.

Horned Frogs Looking Good, Says Coach

FT. WORTH, Texas — Texas Christian coach Abe Martin summed up his Horned Frogs' first week of fall drills by saying, "We've made progress."

TCU will be the first opponent of the year for Iowa when the teams clash Sept. 27 at Iowa Stadium.

"Our kids took to their new assignments pretty well after the long summer layoff," said Martin. "We found out pretty quick that we should have a fine first team, but it's quite a drop to the next unit."

Gap in Pass Defense

Martin and staff spent most of the 2-day drills on the offense but emphasis also was placed on the pass defense where a huge gap is apparent with losses from the 1957 club.

The staff had kind words for the play of Hunter Enis, the spring sensation, at the quarterback post for the first eleven. Enis, the senior who has seen little action the past two seasons, was hitting his receivers well in drills. End Bubba Meyer and halfback Marshall Harris took most of his shots.

"Hunter is looking fine," said backfield coach Walter Roach. "He seems to have confidence in his work and that's what counts."

Sophs Behind Enis

Martin has two sophomores — Larry Dawson and Donald George — at the throttle behind Enis. Both moved their teams well and George is not far behind Enis in the aerial phase.

A battle is being staged for the tackle position which could be the strongest of all Martin's clubs. Joe Robb, regular at right tackle last fall, reported late because of a boil on his arm, thus, Martin promoted Junior Bill Roach to the No. 1 unit. The 235-pound letterman is having a time fighting off the challenge of both Robb and Sophomore Robert Lilly, a 240-pound giant who was a standout all week.

On the left side, Donald Floyd seems to have the spot locked tight. Insurance can be found in letterman David McSpadden and soph Bobby Prince. Both were impressive in scrimmages all week.

End Injured

Key injury belonged to Jimmy Gilmore, junior left end, who received a jolt on his left leg during dummy drills. Trainer Elmer Brown said the leg should be healed in time for the Kansas opener Sept. 20. Martin shifted Justin Rowland from the right side to Gilmore's No. 1 spot. The 182-pounder took to his new post well.

Others nursing wounds are tackleback John Bonnet and quarter Merle Littlefield. Both were expected back in full harness soon.

Martin staged a two and one half hour scrimmage Saturday and eight touchdowns were counted by the six teams. The first team Whites had two as did the second team Reds and the third team Blues. Also the Enis-led club didn't allow a first down during the long session.

Offensive blocking will be stressed during the second week. "We need some polish here, but we won't neglect our defense," explained Martin. Another "game-type" scrimmage is planned for Saturday afternoon.

Move Ball Well

On the offensive side the Hawks moved the ball consistently with Randy Duncan and Olen Treadway calling the shots. Horn, Ray Jauch, Willie Fleming and Kevin Furlong broke away for several long gains over scrummers and the quarterbacks hit Jeff Langston, Curt Merz, Prescott and Fleming for long gains via the aerial route.

Nocera was nursing a sore shoulder and did not take part in the heavy contact workouts. Horn filled the Iowa captain's spot during the drills with Fred Long moving up from the third team to take Horn's place.

Ernest Mielke, who reported for the pre-season practice late, saw some action with the first two teams at right tackle. A senior, Mielke is a 210-pounder from Chicago.

Ward, Dawson Win in U.S. Amateur Golf

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Harvie Ward rode his wooden-shafted relic of a putter to an exciting 3 and 1 victory over young Jerry Pittman of Tulsa in the fourth round of the U.S. Amateur Golf Championship Wednesday and entered the round of 16.

It was the second real thriller of the tournament's first day of double eliminations. Earlier 55-year-old Johnny Dawson of Palm Desert, Calif., had knocked out Billy Joe Patton, another of the top favorites, 3 and 2, in the third round.

Advance to Quarterfinals

Dawson went on to an easy 5 and 4 decision over George Griffith of Langley Field, Va., and joined Ward and 1949 Champion Charlie Coe in the round before the quarter finals.

Eliminated in the third round with Patton were the defending champion, Air Force Lt. Hillman Robbins; 68-year-old Chick Evans the champion in 1916 and 1920; Canadian Champion Bruce Castator, and Gene Andrews, former U.S. Public Links champion.

Ward, who broke Lawson Little's record of 15 straight match-play victories in the amateur with a 5 and 3 morning decision over Charles Leider of San Mateo, Calif., had a real job to make it 17 straight against Pittman.

Not Driving Well

He wasn't driving well and only superb chipping and putting kept him in the match until 20-year-old Pittman weakened under the pressure of the 16th and 17th holes.

Coe routed Bob Gardner of West champion, 5 and 4. He had just squeezed out a 1-up decision over Art Hoff of Lagrange, Ill., in the morning.

Two more 18-hole rounds will be played today, paring the field to four semifinalists.

Unorthodox Shooter

Robbins, playing unsteadily throughout the tournament, was the third-round victim of unorthodox but straight-shooting Martin Stanovich, the fat man from Niles, Ill., who took off 25 pounds to play in the tournament.

Stanovich, who started out in golf as a San Francisco public links player, has no record in the national championship.

Hutch on Way Out As Cards' Skipper

NEW YORK (AP) — Fred Hutchinson will not manage the St. Louis Cardinals in 1959. The Cardinal front office has decided not to renew his contract. The Associated Press learned Wednesday.

The announcement, originally set for the final day of the season, may be advanced because of the disclosure. Coaches Stan Hack, Terry Moore and Al Hollingsworth will be released along with the manager. All will be offered jobs elsewhere in the organization.

The Cardinal front office, while officially denying that any decision concerning Hutchinson has been reached, has been quietly sounding out candidates for the job.

The new manager is expected to be named after the World Series.
