SUI Begins 104th Year Of Instruction

Hancher Administers University Pledge

About two weeks ago the life in Iowa City started to change — SUI students drifted in for rush and registration, the parking meters started to jingle, and activities in general seemed to set the pace at a slightly faster speed.

But it was Thursday's induction ceremony that put the official stamp on the 104th academic year at SUI.

On the west approach to Old Capitol, hundreds of students and faculty members gathered briefly as SUI President Virgil M. Hancher welcomed the new students and administered the traditional oath of fealty to the University to all gathered.

Brief Band Concert

Prior to the President's message the SUI Band, under the direction of Frederick C. Ebbs, played from the Old Capitol steps for 15-minutes as the crowd gathered. During this time the deans and administrative heads, dressed in their academic robes, filed in.

Robert S. Michaelsen, director of the School of Religion, delivered the invocation and Orville A. Hitchcock, professor of speech, introduced President Hancher.

President Hancher told SUI students to "Use your time wisely while you are here. The days will pass quickly, and they can never be recalled.

Do not expect life to begin or become more real at some later time, perhaps on the day of graduation. You are beginning a new life today, and the patterns of living which you establish here will follow you into later life.

Learn to Work

"Learn to work effectively. You are here not only to acquire knowledge but to learn ways of working which will enable you to achieve maximum results with the greatest economy of effort."

He added that a test of accomplishment was not the number of hours worked but the mastery of the undertaking.

The students were encouraged to lead a full and balanced life. "Work, play, worship and friendships are the ingredients of a good life — see that each day has its reasonable and honest quota of each," President Hancher said.

Administered The Pledge

At the end of his remarks the President asked all present to recite the SUI pledge:

"Here, before Old Capitol, symbol of the vision of the pioneers who founded this state and this University, I pledge: my loyalty to the State University of Iowa—

I pledge: myself to this University's traditions of high scholarship, moral character, right and justice, and service to the cause of freedom—

I pledge: my constant efforts to the increase of the University's greatness as a teacher of the truth, as a pioneer in the advancement of knowledge, and as a faithful guardian of the highest ideals of the people of this state and this nation."

Council Asks Formation Of Local Teen-Age-Driver Club

The ground work for a safe drivers club for Iowa City high school students was started by the School Study Council Thursday night.

Preliminary plans for the new club call for the cooperation of students at City High, University High School and Regina High School.

The club — to be called the "No Acs" or "No Ax" club — would be organized with rules to be drawn up by the high school students with adult supervision.

Student Council

Each individual would organize club membership as the students desired. Early plans call for a student court of honor system or jury to determine club membership.

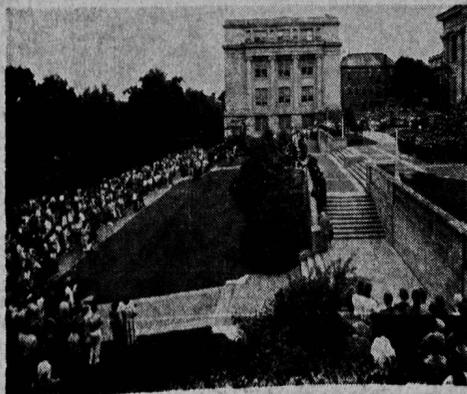

The Council discussed the possibility of issuing membership cards and colored car stickers to students in the club, and also suggested that the city might sponsor a banquet for club members every spring.

Final plans for the club were referred to the next Council meeting the middle of October. The Council agreed to talk to students in the three schools for more suggestions.

Discusses Redistricting

The Council also discussed redistricting of Iowa City Schools and noted that estimated figures for the 1958-59 school year show a 250-pupil increase in school enrollment.

The Council's estimated enrollment figures for the 1958-59 school year showed a total school enrollment of 4,255. The actual enrollment for the 1958-59 school year is 4,300.

MSH To Get New Traffic Control Signs

'Drive Slowly' To Replace Speed Limits

Traffic safety on the street of the nine married student housing areas at SUI will be aided by the erection next week of 86 new traffic control signs.

Sixty-five new signs warning motorists to drive slowly because children are playing in the areas will be set up, replacing 5-mile-per-hour sign, and steel stop signs will replace wooden ones now in use. Howard J. Yambura, manager of married student housing, said Thursday.

Smooth Traffic Flow

The new traffic control program, coupled with strict enforcement of driving regulations within the areas, is aimed at promoting safety for pedestrians, especially children, and at smoothing traffic flow along the streets of the housing areas.

In addition to the replacement of all old stop signs, some will be erected at new points in some areas. A new sign will halt south-bound traffic at the intersection of 417 Stadium Park and the street which borders the railroad tracks. West-bound traffic will be halted by a new sign at the intersection to the same street at 408 Stadium Park.

New 1-Way Rule

Due to 1-lane traffic, the street from 117 to 122 Pinkbine Park will be converted to a 1-way street, with traffic moving from north to south.

As a part of the new traffic program, University traffic officers will tighten enforcement of regulations in the area and "ticket" motorists for careless driving or violating housing area traffic regulations.

The new program is an outgrowth of discussion and study by married student housing residents and University housing and safety officials in further efforts to protect children in the housing areas, Yambura said.

Deadline Corn Monument Designs Due Saturday

Now is the time to get those ideas down on paper — there is only one more day before the deadline for design entries for the Homecoming corn monument.

Entries are due at the office of the Dean of Engineering, Room 100 Engineering Building, by 5 p.m. Saturday.

Anyone connected with the University is eligible to enter the annual contest. Winners will be announced Oct. 1. First prize is $15.

The cost of the corn monument must not exceed $300 and must be in keeping with the Homecoming theme. Engineering students build the monument.

Prospective contestants are reminded that this year's Homecoming opponents are the Wildcats of Northwestern whose colors are purple and white.

SUI coeds should note that the contest is not just open to the fellows — last year's winner was Marilyn Mickey, A3, Creston, the second coed in 44 years to win first prize.

The corn monument last year was a yellow "I" for Iowa rising out of a red "W" for Wisconsin. The 20-foot-high structure was burned in traditional fashion when Iowa beat the Badgers in the Homecoming game.

Macmillan Says He Doesn't Dare Buck U.S.

LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Macmillan said Thursday night that if Britain publicly criticized U.S. policies in the Far East crisis it would be playing in the hands of the Communists.

He told trade union leaders Britain will help in any way to negotiate the Formosa dispute. He said the whole international community should condemn the use of force in the Formosa area.

Constitutional Issue —

No Ruling On School Leases

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A U.S. district judge Thursday sidestepped a far-reaching decision on legality of Arkansas, anti-integration private school plan because a constitutional question is involved.

Judge John E. Miller declined to advise the Little Rock School Board whether it legally could lease four high school buildings for use as private, segregated schools because "this court is without authority to rule on the matter."

He said the question involves constitutionality of recent state anti-integration laws which should be resolved by a three-judge federal court.

Meanwhile, President Eisenhower said the closing of schools to avoid integration can have disastrous consequences to the students and eventually to the nation.

In a letter to the chairman of a Virginia committee to keep public schools open, the President said he regrets the action of Virginia and Arkansas in closing schools "that are subject to integration orders of the federal courts."

"The direct consequences to the children in those schools and the eventual consequences to our nation could be disastrous."

Miller's action at Fort Smith, Ark., came in the face of a "memorandum law, filed in Washington by Atty. Gen. William P. Rogers which called the plan illegal and a "sham."

As a "friend of the court," Rogers asked Miller to instruct the school board that the proposed lease would violate court orders. It was evident that Rogers was voicing Administration opposition to the private school plan wherever it might be planned.

The Little Rock board did not advocate leasing the schools but rather anticipating such a plan, asked if it would be in contempt of court. The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People also asked for clarification.

Football Rally Erupts Into State Line Riot

TEXARKANA, Ark. (AP) — A football rally erupted into a riot Thursday night. Two hundred students attacked cars of Negroes and whites, police reported.

The outburst was centered on the border between Texas and Arkansas. Police dispersed the students and drove them across the state line into Texas.

A newsman at the scene said the students were milling about on the Texas side yelling curses and taunts at the Arkansas officers.

He said the students were ripping radio aeriels and mirrors off autos, mostly of Negroes, and smashing car windows. He said only one officer was present on the Texas side, adding that the Texas city has a relatively small police force.

The trouble began about 8:30 p.m. when students of Texarkana and Arkansas high schools—both all-white — gathered for a rally.

Limited Law In Lebanon

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — The 2-day-old government of Lebanon's President Fuad Chehab maintained peace at gunpoint Thursday. A new pullout of American military equipment was announced, meanwhile, and withdrawal of U.S. troops may follow in October.

The Christian President's new premier, Rashid Karami, a Moslem, went into the Moslem rebel resistance center in Beirut on a peace mission and conferred with two leaders of mountain guerrilla forces.

Karami announced afterward that Government security forces will begin today to take over from rebel resistance forces all over the country.

He bolstered his peace appeals to rebel leaders with his first called on his former rebel comrades to "lift your barricades. A new era which will bring you the fruits of revolution has begun."

He told those who had taken part in the revolt: "Open the roads. The crisis is over. The revolution is over."

Claim Republicans Using Smear Campaign

DES MOINES (AP)—Iowa Democrats asked the National Fair Campaign Practices Committee Thursday to investigate Republican tactics in the current political campaign.

In a telegram to the committee, Democratic State Chairman Donald (Duke) Norberg said headquarters of Dr. William G. Murray, Republican nominee for governor, had issued a press release "charging, by insinuation, that Greenlease kidnaping ransom money has been used in the Democratic campaign in this state."

"Iowa newspapers, editorially, have termed the release a violation of the Fair Campaign Practices Code and have called upon Dr. Murray to withdraw it," Norberg's wire said.

"Dr. Murray has not only refused to repudiate the statement, but has threatened further exploitation of alleged rumors," the telegram added.

Republican State Chairman L. L. Jurgemeyer said late Thursday he is convinced the Greenlease statement was "well intentioned" but he was frank to admit that it was "subject to construction which was unfortunate."

"Before this campaign is over, evidence already produced will be combined with future evidence to leave no doubt in the minds of decent citizens of Iowa as to the strings which the 17,500 thus places upon the Democrat Party. The influence of Hoffa, Baker and Lew Farrell will continue to be revealed."

"And before this campaign is over, Loveless' constant response of 'dirty politics' will no longer obscure truth."

However, Jurgemeyer said the "obligation of the Democrat Party in Iowa to the Hoffa-type element" affects Iowa and he issued this challenge:

"Neither Duke Norberg's threats nor anguished words will stop our continued investigation of the unsavory Democrat connections in the area of their effect on state government."

The statement issued by Murray's headquarters said the Republican State Central Committee had found no evidence that ransom money from the Greenlease kidnaping had come into Iowa politics.

It said the "indication or evidence" that the money might have come into Iowa consisted only of the fact that testimony has linked Teamsters organizer Barney Baker with knowledge of the disposition of part of the missing $300,000 in ransom money, and that the Teamsters had contributed to the 1956 campaign of Democratic Gov. Herschel Loveless.

—Claims Misinterpretation
Murray said Thursday the statement was an attempt to lay at rest rumors he said are circulating in Iowa. He said he regretted that the statement "was subject to misinterpretation."

"None of these rumors originated with the Murray headquarters and the release was an attempt to state that fact emphatically," he said.

The Republican candidate declared that "several other rumors of a rather startling nature which may or may not be true are being circulated in the campaign" and he said these too probably should be denounced.

The Des Moines Tribune suggested editorially that the statement be withdrawn and Norberg also said Murray should repudiate the release, but Murray did not do so.

Comments From Other Campuses

THE DAILY KANSAN UNIVERSITY OF KANSAS

Saturday we are going to have a football game, our first of the season. Friday night a rally will be held before the team leaves. There is not a student on this campus who should miss it.

Sure, football means a lot around here. A good team helps us to be a little prouder of our alma mater. Everybody seems a bit happier when the Crimson and Blue knock off an opponent. It provides an interest within the University which could easily have been diverted elsewhere.

But if a good football team goes out every day and beats out its brains without any support or acclaim from the student body, it soon loses interest and enthusiasm for its main goal—bringing honor and glory to the school. Then it becomes a poor team. In the last few years, some of our less successful teams received more criticism than praise. It is quite probable that treatment of that type only helped the teams a little further down the ladder.

THE INDIANA DAILY STUDENT INDIANA UNIVERSITY

The resignation of Sherman Adams, President Eisenhower's right hand man for the last six years, brought to a logical end the controversy about the Goldfine episode.

A veteran in public life for more than 17 years, the 59-year-old New Englander fell the victim of one of the game's basic — if capricious — rules: to retire from public life if under extensive criticism which might hurt the party. The question of whether he was or was not guilty of peddling his influence in the Government to his wealthy business friend, Bernard Goldfine, is of secondary importance in this case.

We can only hope that after Mr. Adams' resignation, both parties will refrain from further agitating the matter for it is indeed a poor issue for the American people to base their decision on in November.

THE DAILY ILLINI UNIVERSITY OF ILLINOIS

The increase in University enrollment this fall can almost be solely attributed to the increased housing facilities on campus, one administrator commented last week.

His words indeed are true in view of the opening of the three new Men's Residence Hall units to graduate and undergraduate men students this fall.

One problem that bothered the University earlier this year was what would happen if this fall's enrollment did not fill up the new units. Once these buildings were completed, they had to be rented out immediately in order that the interest on the bonds used to finance the buildings can be paid off in time.

The problem has been solved in two ways. The first was the availability of housing which caused more men to enroll at the University rather than going to other schools.

The second solution the University came up with was to open one of the units to graduate students by turning the rooms into singles and doubles instead of doubles and triples.

A Pledge Is A Pledge — Or Is It?

By GEORGE DIXON King Features Syndicate

A matter of three weeks ago, Charles P. Taft, chairman of the Fair Campaign Practices Committee, lured Democratic National Chairman Paul M. Butler and Republican National Chairman Meade Alcorn to a subterranean chamber in the Sheraton Carlton Hotel here. The underground meeting was kept secret that only newspapermen and television cameras were admitted.

Under the hypnotic eye of Mr. Taft, the pair of political overseers signed a solemn compact that they would counteract no smears in this Fall's political campaigns. Butler and Alcorn then shook hands again, counted their fingers to make sure none had been gerrymandered, and broke clean, promising to stay that way.

A Running Box Score

Since then I have kept a running box score. Day by day the noble no-smear oath has been kept as follows:

Out in California, the Democrats accused Mrs. Helen Knowland, hard-campaigning wife of Sen. William F. Knowland, of being in league with Joe Kamp, the notorious smear artist and anti-Semite. Mrs. Knowland, whose husband is running a desperate race with Attorney Gen. Edmund G. (Pat) Brown for the California Governorship, retorted that this was smear in itself.

GOP Chairman Alcorn made a speech in Asheville, N.C., in what is often considered Democratic territory. He declared that the Democratic Party is cracking up. He said he could see the fissures.

The Democrats held a meeting in Omaha and a couple of days later a Republican "Truth Squad" followed them into town "to correct the misstatements." Of the Democratic rally, the ubiquitous Republican chairman said:

"When those boys get together, the truth takes an awful kicking around."

Not Smeared — Just A Mess

This, of course, might not be deemed a smear—in the political or Pickwickian sense—but in that case the Democratic retort couldn't be termed one either. The Democrats didn't say the Republicans were smeared. They just said they were a mess.

Alcorn countered with a charge that the Democratic-controlled 85th Congress was too soft on gangsters. Butler telegraphed Referee Taft that the Republicans were running out on the oath.

Alcorn spoke favorably of the "Eisenhower Team" and declared it was working in the best interest of both capital and labor. Butler did not answer this one in person. He left the retort to Sen. Robert S. Kerr, of Oklahoma. The Oklahoman went, of all places, to Indiana, and precipitated new "smear" charges and counter-charges, by saying:

"Now there is a highly-touted team in Washington—the Eisenhower Team—but it has no plans, no team work. It does not even know where the goal is. Its quarterback 'putts' when he should 'punt'. Its captain, Sherman Adams, calls the signals from the bench. Its star end, John Foster Dulles, jumps offside, blocks out his own teammates, and then tackles his own ball carrier."

The Senator Became Poetic

Senator Kerr took a no-smear whack at the defeat of GOP Sen. Frederick Payne, in Maine, with this endearing comment:

"I was shocked by the apparent indifference of Adams and Ike to such acute pain in Maine until I remembered something that my father used to say, 'Where there is no brain there's no pain.'"

Alcorn and Butler met again in Kansas City and engaged in debate. They argued about Walter Reuther. Butler said he welcomed the Auto Workers President into the Democratic Party. Alcorn retorted that no union boss could walk into his office and tell him or his party what to do.

And thus the noble no-smear campaign continues. Let's hope that after Nov. 4 some of the victims can find spot movers.

In A Free Country — The Press Sticks To Facts

By J. M. ROBERTS Associated Press News Analyst

George V. Allen, director of the U.S. Information Agency, says the primary responsibility for informing the world about the United States rests with the press services.

Allen, experienced both as a newspaperman and a school teacher, was not running down his own job. His primary vehicle is the Voice of America, broadcasting news, music and cultural programs which would reach every part of the world except for Communist jamming.

Incidentally, he mentioned that this Red jamming program costs them perhaps $100 million a year. That's in addition to an official propaganda program which would cost the United States from $500-$750 million a year to match. The United States spends less than $100 million all told.

The need for non-government help in putting America over is therefore obvious.

The implications, too, are tremendous, though now widely recognized.

But the press services do not disseminate just what the United States would like the rest of the world to hear. They operate strictly on a basis of what is news.

If press media began to report only the good things about people or nations they would not only fail to attract interest, but soon would be distrusted.

If press media are responsible so for the impressions of the world the U.S. people and Government need to act constantly with consideration for that impression.

The Little Rock story, for instance has been told all over the world. And all over the world editorials have asked how people can have faith in America if its democracy doesn't work any better than that.

Just as long as there is color prejudice in the United States, so long there will be suspicion of the United States among the world's colored majority.

The Sherman Adams case has attracted attention everywhere because it affects a Government administration which influences all other governments.

The London Times welcomes the housecleaning but regrets that President Eisenhower will lose a needed helper. The Scotsman of Edinburgh says, "The attitude seems to be widespread in Washington that one must know the right people to get anything done. Attempts to acquire influence are seen as normal . . . and suggest a need for spring cleaning all through American public life."

A free press can't do a job of propaganda, in the ordinary meaning of that term. It can only mirror, unless it is to be discredited as are the controlled presses of dictatorships.

The picture the American press presents to other peoples will be good only if the people make it so.

Sheep Caught In Fashion Maze

By ARTHUR EDSON

WASHINGTON (AP)—Here we were, half a dozen men at a woman's style show, and only four of us looked sheepish.

The exceptions: Herve Alphant, the ambassador from France, where style is a profitable business; and Pierre Cardin, a 32-year-old French designer who is reported to be a red-hot article these days in Paris couturier circles.

The four sheep were reporters, guests of the Women's National Press Club. And for a baffled male reaction to this almost exclusively feminine rite, let's look at some notes furtively scribbled down on the occasion.

Roaring Start

Affair off to hilarious junior-grade start. Lee Walsh, club president, gave tidbits on Cardin's life. "He knew what he wanted to be at the age of 8," she said. Well, American boys do, too, but there are so few openings for cowboys.

Every time Mrs. Walsh mentioned Cardin's name, he'd jump to his feet. Turned out the fellow isn't too hep in English. Each time he heard his name, he figured, "This is it," and popped up, causing considerable merriment. By the time Mrs. W. finished introduction, Cardin looked winded, like a man who has done pushups too fast.

"He's cute," said lady reporter on the right.

Cardin got to make his speech, at last. Notes barren here. Allegedly it was in English, but Cardin has a pronunciation all his own.

"He's cute," said lady reporter.

Big Parade Begins

Voila! Here came the girls. Had seat next to the runway. What a fortune this would be worth in the old days of burlesque. First girl stalked in. Real attractive. Nice smile. Nice figure. Nice legs. Finally remembers to look at dress just as she was leaving. Caught glimpse of attached price tag. Couldn't make it out.

Another model. Good looker, too. Male reporter whispered, "I like this. It's one time I can stare at a pretty girl and not feel self-conscious." Both of us stared. He was right. Neither of us felt self-conscious now.

Model came in wearing blue coat. Lady reporter said "this is the most famous coat in Paris. It's a mushroom coat." Couldn't figure out why it was most famous coat in Paris. Couldn't figure out why it was a mushroom. Couldn't read price tag.

Distractions

Girl came in, in red. Hat pulled down over her eyes so she could not see. Figured if she tripped she'd land squarely in my lap. She didn't, though. Sure-footed little thing.

Style show over. Realized sadly I couldn't describe a single dress or coat, and hadn't seen a single price tag. Question period for Cardin. This time, he spoke in French, through an interpreter.

What a wonderful climate this is for talkativeness! Asked about hems. Cardin responded with torrent that would have been a credit to Strom Thurmond (D-SC—the Senate's filibuster king).

Felt it only right to check up on what Cardin was wearing. Think it's fair to say he had on a nondescript suit, unimaginative tie and badly needed a hair cut. Either barbers are on strike or they wear their hair hemlines long in Paris.

Mentioned this to lady reporter. "He's cute," she said.

It's The Most!

FASHIONABLE WOMEN will admire this wide-wale corduroy tunic-length suit, but Arthur Edson who seemed lost amid the models at a current fashion show would probably neglect to see its real worth. This dress of high fashion features a tapered coat with graceful back fullness in striking contrast with a slim skirt. Corduroy is the rage this year and can be seen in everything from formal to pajamas. Fur trim and accessories are also very popular this year. Another fashion feature of this outfit is its many uses. Matching coats and jackets are appearing again, giving the fashion-conscious woman a chance to wear it for travel, dinner, office or date. Price, Mr. Edson? Sorry, we don't know all of the facts.

The First Game

An expected record opening day crowd of over 50,000 people will jam Iowa Stadium Saturday. The weather is forecasted for warm and sunny so a colorful, shirtsleeve crowd will be on hand.

With both teams in the locker rooms prior to game time a semi-hush will fall over the throng. Then the Black and Gold clad Iowa team will charge through the entrance to the field, the band will strike up with "The Iowa Fight Song," and over 100,000 eyes will take in the thrilling game.

Captains Meet

Iowa captain John Nocera will meet at midfield with Texas Christian captain Dale Walker, then both men will return to the sidelines for last-minute conferences with coaches Abe Martin of TCU and Forest Evashevski of the Hawks.

The drums will roll as the kicker approaches the ball followed by a "boom" as his foot strikes the pigskin and sends it hurtling down field to the awaiting safety men. The deep man will gather in the kick, his blockers will form in front of him and the 1958 Iowa football season will be underway.

Watch The Line

And the Iowa fans will be watching not the flashy halfback, the glue-fingered end, the smashing fullback or the tricky quarterback nearly as much as the Hawkeye line. For this season the line holds the cards whether Iowa will be one of the nation's high ranking teams or just another "good backs — no front line" team.

The Iowa backfield is excellent. It is deep at all four positions with such returning stars as Randy Duncan, Nocera, Ray Jauch, Bill Gravel, Kevin Burlong and Don Horn plus such promising newcomers as Willie Fleming, Jerry Maurer and Mitch Ogiglio.

The first-string interior line of John Burroughs, Mac Lewis, Hugh Drake, Gary Grouwinkel and Bill Lapman is better than adequate. The question lies in whether the second team line, untested in major college competition, can hold off the charge of a TCU attack which gained 528 yards at Kansas last week—351 of them on the ground.

Iowa Favored

Surprisingly enough, the Hawkeyes have been named the favorite in their lid-lifter despite the Horned Frogs outstanding debut at Kansas. I have yet to see a forecast pick TCU to win. The predicted margin has been close in all cases though, from four to seven points. I would suggest that spectators get to the game a little early. Last season a few dribbled in at a time and then about 15 minutes before the kickoff, whom, hundreds were stacked up at the gates and many missed as much as half the first quarter before finding their seats. I know — I was one of them.

Get there early and watch the teams warm up and get acquainted with the numbers of the players. The whole game loses its flavor when you miss the opening kickoff.

CARDS HIRE STANKY

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Fiery Eddie Stanky, coach of the Cleveland Indians the past two seasons, was given a front office job Thursday with the St. Louis Cardinals — a team he once managed.

Stanky will scout and evaluate minor and major league playing talent, General Manager Bing Devine said.

Iowa Grid Opener Draws Near

Expect Hawks To Start Vet 11 Against TCU

Saturday is the big day! The Horned Frogs of Texas Christian University will be in town to face the Hawkeyes at Iowa Stadium in the first game of the year for coach Forest Evashevski's Iowa squad. TCU opened its season with a 42-0 win over Kansas last Saturday.

The Hawkeyes will probably start the team that was named the No. 1 unit on the opening day of fall practice Sept. 2. That would find Curt Merz and Don Norton at the ends; John Burroughs and Mac Lewis, tackles; Hugh Drake and Gary Grouwinkel, guards; Bill Lapman, center; Randy Duncan, quarterback; Ray Jauch and Bob Jeter, halfbacks; and captain John Nocera fullback. All are veteran lettermen.

Strong Reserves

In their opening win over Kansas, the Frogs showed great strength in the reserve units when the second team pushed over three touchdowns against the Jayhawks and the first, third and fourth scored one apiece.

Second team quarterback Larry Dawson, a sophomore, connected on five of six passes for 73 yards and two TDs as TCU passers hit 12 of 24 passes with Hunter Enis

John Nocera
Iowa Fullback and Captain completing 4 of 10, Rode Gonzales two of three and Don George one of five.

Texas Christian showed a strong pass defense in limiting Kansas to 30 yards on two completions in 12 attempts with the Frogs intercepting a pair. The Jayhawk ground game was limited to only 107 yards.

Spikes Main Ball Carrier

Harry Moreland, TCU's 170-pound sophomore, averaged 7.2 yards per carry when he gained 43 yards in 6 attempts. Jack Spikes carried the ball the most times — 15 — and netted 67 yards for a 4.5 average.

But second string fullback Merlin Priddy was the running star with 97 yards in five tries for a phenomenal 19.4 average per carry. One of Priddy's runs was a 53-yard touchdown jaunt.

Evy put his team through a short sweatclothes workout in the Stadium Thursday during which both offense and defense were stressed. All hands, with the exception of halfback Geno Sessi, are in shape and ready to go. Sessi underwent a knee operation last week and is lost for the season.

Freshman coach Bill Happel had his team working out Thursday for the first time this year when 43 candidates turned out. Happel and his assistants, Mel Knotts and Jon Janda, put the frosh through conditioning drills in their first look at the 1958 Hawkeyes.

Ford, Spahn Appear As Hurlers In Game No. 1

By The Associated Press

As the World Series approaches it becomes apparent that Whitey Ford will be the New York Yankees' probable starter in Wednesday's opening game at Milwaukee while Braves' manager Fred Haney hinted strongly Thursday that Warren Spahn will hurl the opener for Milwaukee.

Touchdown Tendency

By ALLEN N. SMITH

Iowa Favored By 6 Over Texas Christian

Ohio State, the team now favored to retain its Big Ten title, and Southern Methodist's Southwest Conference powerhouse collide Saturday in what promises to be the top game in a banner weekend of college football.

The Buckeyes are favored by the Smith Touchdown Tendency System of Ratings to annex a 10-point win over Southern Methodist's Southwest dreadnaught in what may be the best intersectional contest of the year.

In one of the week's top intersectional billings, Iowa rates a 6-point advantage over Texas Christian.

The feature tilt in the Midwest finds Notre Dame and Indiana trading punches, with the Irish given a 34-point advantage. Purdue can paste Nebraska by 15.

In some of the week's other intersectional battles, the System likes Wisconsin over Miami (Fla.) by 6, Texas by 14 over Tulane, Army by 6 over South Carolina, Minnesota by 13 over Washington, Illinois by 13 over UCLA, and Rice by 13 over Stanford. Michigan is a 7-point selection over Southern California and Oklahoma is expected to clip West Virginia by 14.

A close one is forecast in the Southeastern Conference where

If you would like Smith's predictions of teams other than those listed below, write the sports editor, The Daily Iowan, Communications Center. They will be printed the following week.

Auburn is regarded as a 1-point favorite over Tennessee. Louisiana State should master Alabama by 13, and Mississippi can overcome Kentucky by 6. Duke gets a 6-point margin over Virginia, and Clemson is a 7-point selection over North Carolina. Florida is selected to throttle Miss. State by 7, while Georgia is downing Vanderbilt by 7.

In the Southwest, it's Arkansas by 13 over Tulsa and Oklahoma State by 6 over North Texas.

Regina Handed 20-7 Defeat By Regis At Cedar Rapids

Iowa City's Regina High School went down to its third defeat of the season in three starts Thursday night at Cedar Rapids when Regis High School took a 20-7 decision over the Regals.

Both teams are playing their first season of football and for the Regals it was their first win of the season after two setbacks.

Regina's only touchdown came in the third quarter when on a fourth down situation, Phil Carmody flipped a 3-yard pass to Dave Reid for the score. Carmody carried the ball into the end zone for the extra point and narrowed the Regis lead to 13-7, but a fourth period TD by the home team iced the contest.

Regis scored touchdowns in the first and second quarters and held a 13-0 edge at halftime. Two of the Cedar Rapids team's markers came on runs and the other on a forward pass.

Kaline OK After Beating, May Play In Last 3 Games

Protective Helmet Saves Star From Serious Injury

CHICAGO (AP)—Al Kaline's protective helmet saved him from possible serious injury Thursday when the Detroit outfielder was struck by a pitched ball in the Tigers' 7-1 victory over the Chicago White Sox.

Kaline was hit on the back of the head by a pitch Bob Shaw threw in the sixth inning. He never lost consciousness but was carried from the field on a stretcher and taken to a hospital.

X-rays proved negative and Dr. Joseph Coyle, White Sox physician, said Kaline could leave with the Tigers for Cleveland Thursday night.

The Tigers have three games remaining and Dr. Coyle said Kaline may be able to play before the season ends.

Detroit hammered four Chicago hurlers for 13 hits in the one-sided triumph. Dick Donovan was the loser.

Jim Bunning held the Sox to six hits while recording his 14th victory and fourth over Chicago.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Barney Ross swears he never had the pre-fight fidgets in his time as a world's champion. But now, as a manager he says, "Man, I got butterflies."

Bowdry Improving After TKO By Ray, Heat Exhaustion

CHICAGO (AP)—Light heavyweight boxer Jesse Bowdry of St. Louis was pronounced in good condition at a hospital Thursday after a technical knockout Wednesday night left him apparently delirious.

Dr. Irving Slott, Illinois State Athletic Commission physician, said heat exhaustion probably caused Bowdry to rant for some 20 minutes after he was stopped by Sonny Ray in the ninth round of their nationally televised Chicago Stadium bout.

welter champion, in a nationally televised (NBC, 8 p. m. CST) 10-round bout at Capitol Arena. The bout will be televised in the Iowa City area by KWVL-TV, Channel 7, Waterloo.

Ross, who won both the light and welterweight titles in the '30s, admits to no qualms over his first protegee. Ryff, who used to cut easily, has won five straight since having a job done on his scar tissue last year.

Barney's qualms are over Barney. "Now I know what Sam Plan and Art Winch went through," he confessed Thursday. Plan and Winch managed Ross in his glory days.

Ryff has been made a 7-5 favorite over Kerwin, who has run hot and cold for the past year.

Kerwin, of Valley Stream, N. Y., won the Canadian welterweight crown with a 12th round TKO over Cliff Fidler Sept. 4. Against lightweight Ryff, Kerwin has agreed to make 140, give or take a pound.

Kerwin has won 28-seven by knockout — lost seven and drawn one. Ryff's record is 26-5-0. He has kayoed three, all in 1951, his first year as a pro.

Dulles: Russia Can Solve China Crisis

NEW YORK (AP) — Secretary of State Dulles said Thursday night Russia could, if it wanted to, make possible a peaceful solution of the Formosa crisis.

Dulles said Red China, aided and abetted by Soviet supplies of arms and moral support, is "threatening war against us in the Formosa area."

The secretary pledged no "indecision or weakness in the face of this challenge."

U.S., China Decide To Continue Talks

WARSAW, Poland (AP) — The United States and Communist China decided Thursday to continue diplomatic negotiations aimed at easing Far East tension, despite gloomy reports of deadlock.

Diplomats expressed doubt that either power had shifted position enough to make a quick agreement possible but they said neither Washington nor Peiping wanted to take responsibility before world opinion calling the talks quits.

U.S. Ambassador Jacob Beam and Red China's Wang Ping-nan met for an hour and 46 minutes in a Polish palace, their fourth session of the current series. They arrived looking grim and silent, and there was no noticeable difference when they left. They meet again next Tuesday.

What the situation would be by Tuesday was the top question here. Would the steaming tension around Quemoy boil over? What new focus would President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles give American policy in public statements expected shortly?

Another question was what Peiping would do during the interlude. The role of Moscow was also subject of intense speculation here.

General feeling in the Warsaw diplomatic corps—Communist and non-Communist—was that the Chinese were playing the role of a great power and not asking the Kremlin's permission before making a move. They felt, instead, that Moscow was backing up Peiping when it had to.

Fears were expressed that this was much more dangerous than the usual jousting between Washington and the Kremlin. The two centers of world power, the theory ran, knew just how far they could go and had always pulled back from the brink before the explosion. Would the Chinese behave this way too, they asked, or go a step too far?

40,000 GM Pickets Demonstrate

DETROIT (AP) — General Motors and the United Auto Workers reported some progress in contract negotiations Thursday night within hours after two picket line incidents marked demonstrations by 40,000 GM workers across the country.

The UAW sternly warned its members against any incidents and sent two investigators to check the reported violence at the Cadillac plant in Detroit and the GM technical center in suburban Warren.

Pickets Swarm Car
The company said some 150 pickets swarmed over the car of Dr. Douglas J. Wood, Cadillac medical director, as he tried to leave the division's executive garage. He was not injured but the car was damaged extensively. At the technical center where pickets formed a human chain to block cars, salaried workers said the hoods of their cars were opened and wires pulled from spark plugs.

Police broke up the disturbances in both cases. No formal complaints were filed. GM and union sources who declined use of their names, confirmed that considerable progress was made Thursday in matters involving hospitalization insurance, sickness and accident insurance and death benefits.

Unresolved Matters
The UAW source said, however, "There are still several important unresolved matters in our clauses involving pensions."

Talks between GM and the UAW bargaining teams centered on supplemental unemployment pay. Walter Reuther planned to move into the talks Friday.

Meanwhile, wildcat strikes continued to plague the auto industry and threatened Chrysler Corp. with a complete shutdown.

Both GM and Chrysler blamed the shifting wave of walkouts on UAW leaders in Detroit, saying they are calling the signals in an effort to bring pressure in the contract negotiations.

The UAW contends the strikes are the result of local disputes which the companies refuse to negotiate. It has urged its GM employers to stay on their jobs.

make no retreat in the face of "force or the threat of force." But, he added, "our position is otherwise flexible."

"We could find acceptable any arrangement which, on the one hand did not involve surrender to force or the threat of force, and, on the other hand, eliminated from the situation features that could reasonably be regarded as provocative or which were, to use President Eisenhower's words, a 'thorn in the side of peace,'" Dulles said.

Dulles spoke out in a speech prepared for the Far East-American Council of Commerce and Industry.

The secretary assessed U.S. Far East policies on trade, especially involving Red China, and other questions such as economic development, U.S. refusal to recognize Red China or agree to admit the Peiping regime to the United Nations membership.

On these points, Dulles said: Trade — U.S. trade with South and East Asia, now totaling nearly $5 billion, is growing steadily and will continue to increase.

China trade — The United States continues its total ban on trade with Red China. Further, Dulles said, "It seems clear that even if trade were today permitted between Communist China and the United States it would be of insignificant proportions."

U.S. recognition — "Were the United States now to extend general diplomatic recognition to the Chinese Communist regime," Dulles said, "this would be of immense help to them in carrying out their Asian policy."

United Nations — "If the Chinese Communist regime were brought into the United Nations," Dulles said, "they would have shot their way in."

Hurricane Helene Swirls Sluggishly Toward Carolinas

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Hurricane Helene, a growing monster of 30-mile-an-hour squall winds and gales spanning a 350-mile path, swirled sluggishly northwestward in the direction of the Carolina coast Thursday, but a 50-50 chance remained she would swerve and miss the mainland.

At last report, the weather bureau reported the sprawling center of the storm was about 410 miles east of St. Augustine, Fla., and moving ponderously on toward the Carolinas, some 350 miles distant.

"The eventual path of Helene still remains very uncertain," the weather bureau advisory warned. "Interests along the Carolina, Georgia and extreme northeast Florida coasts should keep in close touch with future advisories and bulletins."

Meanwhile, Hurricane Ilsa, a storm which was first detected only Wednesday and developed hurricane-strength winds of 75 miles an hour Thursday, was lashing the Atlantic east of the Leeward Islands. The Leeward and Virgin Island groups and Puerto Rico were placed on "hurricane watch," meaning that everyone was warned to keep an alert watch for actual hurricane warnings within the next 36 to 48 hours. Gordon Dunn, chief storm forecaster in Miami, expressed belief that Ilsa will become a more violent storm than Helene.

Nationalists Claim New Air Victory

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — A nationalist Chinese air force source said Friday nationalist Sabre Jets downed a Red Chinese MIG off Swatow just before dusk Thursday night in a battle between four Sabres and 16 MIGs.

Swatow is on the mainland 130 miles south of the Nationalist outpost island Quemoy and near the Red China mainland air base at Tengchi.

Second Victory
It was the second victory claimed by Nationalist fliers in two days against what they termed heavy odds. Nationalist fliers claimed to have downed 10 Red MIGs Wednesday in a fight between 32 Nationalist jets and 100 Communist planes.

The battle for Quemoy entered its 35th day with another apparent lull in Red shelling of the offshore islands.

Communist China Friday claimed damaging one Nationalist F86 Sabre Jet and two C46 transport planes Thursday.

A radio Peiping broadcast said Communist air force units damaged one of four Nationalist F86 fighters which intruded into the air space over Changpu area in Fukien Province "to carry out harassing activities."

The C46 transport planes were damaged by Communist anti-aircraft while flying over Quemoy to aid supplies to the Nationalist defenders, the broadcast said.

Batteries Break Lull
Communist mainland batteries broke a brief lull Thursday with some of the heaviest barrages of the offshore island war.

Hundreds of explosions on Little Quemoy were clearly visible from the rooftops of Quemoy City, on the larger island, during the murderous evening barrage.

The Nationalist Defense Ministry reported 1,234 rounds fell in a 10-minute period, making the brief afternoon shelling as heavy as any in the 34-day offshore island war.

$3½ Billion In U.S. Securities To Hit Market

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government announced Thursday it wants to raise about $3½ billion in new cash next week through sales of short term securities.

The treasury said it will offer on Monday about $1 billion of 13-month treasury notes to yield 3½ per cent interest.

It also will offer for cash subscription about $2½ billion of 219-day special treasury bills to be issued at a fixed price which will yield interest of approximately 3½ per cent per year.

Treasury officials said they were more or less forced to offer short-term securities because of the recent decline in the Government bond market.

Mack, Whiteside Indicted In Miami TV Channel Scandal

WASHINGTON (AP) — Richard A. Mack, a former Federal Communications Commission member, and Thurman A. Whiteside, a Miami attorney, were indicted Thursday on charges of conspiring to defraud the Federal Government.

A federal grand jury accused Whiteside of buying Mack's vote in an attempt to get TV Channel 10 in Miami for Public Service Television, Inc., a subsidiary of National Airlines.

The FCC voted 4-2 in February 1957 to award the channel to Public Service. Mac voted with the majority. Under court orders, the FCC is now reviewing the award. Mack called the indictment ridiculous. "I haven't seen the papers yet and feel I shouldn't provide any more comment," he added.

ed at his home in Fort Lauderdale, Fla.

In Miami, Whiteside said "I am not responsible for results of Washington politics. At any trial my complete innocence will be proven." He declined to elaborate.

Nation's largest mobile substation helps prevent electric service interruptions

Just recently delivered to our Company, this unit is a complete substation mounted on a semi-trailer. Its purpose is to replace large transformers which might be out of service because of maintenance work, storm damage or other emergency.

A special tractor with dual rear axles is used to haul the 32-ton unit quickly to the location in the Company's service area where it might be needed. By replacing or supplementing the large permanent substation, it eliminates the interruption of service which would otherwise result while necessary repairs are being made. It can also serve construction projects, help carry peak loads to supplement capacity of permanent stations or supply power to new developments until permanent facilities are constructed.

Valued at $100,000, the mobile substation includes a 69,000/13,800 volt transformer plus a high-voltage disconnect switch, low-voltage circuit breaker, lightning arresters and control panel. Overall, the equipment and tractor measure 45 feet in length. For highway travel the substation measures 8 feet wide and when in use it is expanded to 19 feet 4 inches.

The addition of this modern equipment is one more major step taken to help assure you of good, dependable electric power — in line with our statement of policy, "SERVICE TO OUR CUSTOMERS IS OUR PRIME OBJECTIVE."

New Programs Set For WSUI

Raido Stations WSUI and KSUI-FM will return to the air full-time Monday, WSUI's 14-hour daily schedule (except Sunday) will present some interesting changes.

More serious music, more carefully screened talk presentations and several entirely new programs will mark WSUI's return to the air. KSUI-FM will continue with three hours of fine music beginning at 7 p.m. every Monday through Friday.

The Fall trend in programming starts Saturday when the station will cover the Iowa-TCU football game. Beginning at 9 a.m. and running right up to game-time, the program Cue will be devoted largely to pre-game background and highlights, including interviews, weather reports, highways and parking conditions and a panel of expert predictors. Following the game, WSUI will have a continuous resume of scores of other football games in the nation. This Saturday only, WSUI will sign off at 6 p.m.

Serious Music

In addition to the expanded Cue, which will remain in throughout the football season, WSUI's Fall schedule will include five periods each day devoted to serious music. The times, Monday through Friday, are: 9:15 a.m., 10:05 and 11:15 a.m.; 1, 2:30 and 6 p.m. The serious music period beginning at 6 p.m. will continue for two hours daily.

Listeners who prefer to continue to listen to fine music, may switch to WSUI's sister station, KSUI-FM, for two additional hours of music. Classroom broadcasts will be presented every morning, Monday through Friday, at 8:30 a.m. Monday, Wednesday and Friday, Paul R. Olson, professor and head of the SUI Economics Department, will present, from the classroom, lectures in Foreign Trade. A series which WSUI has long sought to present, the Foreign Trade course will, it is hoped, help to increase the interest in the field of economics.

Classroom Presentation
On Tuesday and Thursdays at 8:30 a.m., WSUI's classroom presentation will be American Humor and Satire with John C. Gerber, professor of English.

Evenings at the Opera will be presented regularly every Friday at 7:30 p.m. Already scheduled for October are the following: "Vannessa," the new barber-Menotti opera, Oct. 3; "Falstaff," Oct. 10; Gounod's "Faust," Oct. 17; "The Marriage of Figaro," Oct. 24; and Igor Stravinsky's "A Rake's Progress," Oct. 31.

Thursday will be theater night on WSUI beginning at 8 p.m. Currently scheduled for presentation during October are the following: William Shakespeare's "King John," Oct. 2; "Richard III," Oct. 9; "The Tragical History of Dr. Faustus," Oct. 16; "A Midsummer Night's Dream," Oct. 23; and Congreve's "Way of the World," Oct. 30.

Saturday nights for two hours beginning at 8 p.m. WSUI will present a continuous program of popular and jazz recorded music suitable for customary Saturday night activities. Featured will be selections from the swing band era, quiet-cool jazz and live-sounding albums recorded in actual performance.

Special Interests
Efforts are being made to give more adequate publicity to items of interest to special segments of WSUI audience. Among these efforts, Program Previews will be presented throughout the day, and daily at 5:45 p.m. listeners will be informed of the events scheduled for broadcast that evening, the next day and the balance of the week.

FM listeners, too, may expect at 5:45 p.m. a complete listing of the music presentations to be offered that evening on KSUI-FM from 7 to 10 p.m.

New listeners will find WSUI at 910 on the standard AM broadcast band; KSUI-FM is at 91.7 on the FM band.

Picnic Is First SUI Production

Plays Offer Variety

Theater-goers attending plays given by the SUI Theatre during the academic year 1958-59 will be served dramatic-fare of the off-beat variety as well as often-performed works, on a drama program ranging from George Bernard Shaw to Armand Salacrou.

As curtain-riser for its 38th season, the SUI Theatre will offer William Inge's Pulitzer and Critics' Circle prize play "Picnic." Described by critic Brooks Atkinson of The New York Times as "a rich and fundamental play," "Picnic" is the story of a sleepy Kansas village, and how the unexpected arrival of a former citizen wakes it up. The drama will run Oct. 23-25 and Oct. 28-31.

Greatest Comedy

George Bernard Shaw's melodrama, "The Devil's Disciple," will be given Nov. 13-15 and Nov. 19-22. Believed by many to be one of his greatest comedies, Shaw bases his plot on the theory that true character reveals itself in crisis.

Time Magazine says that "Six Characters in Search of an Author," by Luigi Pirandello, "remains, after 30 years, one of the most fascinating of modern plays." This quizzical, philosophic comedy is to be presented Jan. 15-17 and Jan. 21-24 at SUI.

For a change of pace and insight into why radio station executives acquire ulcers as well as Brooks Brothers suits, "Beyond Controls" will be next on the play schedule. An original comedy by Frederic Sederholm, a University Theatre graduate student, the play concerns the trials of a station manager trying to obtain local television rights. It is scheduled for Mar. 5-7 and Mar. 11-14.

Long-Time Favorite

A long-time favorite of audiences the world over is "The Imaginary Invalid," the story of a hopeless hypochondriac dreamed up by the French humorist Moliere. Dates set for this sophisticated farce are April 2-4 and April 8-11.

Scheduled for May 14-16 and May 20-23 is Armand Salacrou's "The World Is Round." Salacrou, one of France's leading contemporary playwrights, molds his drama to show the age-old conflict between the spirit and the flesh in a setting of Renaissance Italy.

Season ticket books for the six plays are $5 and are on sale in the east lobby of Iowa Memorial Union. Individual tickets are $1.25. SUI students will receive reserved-seat tickets without charge upon presentation of their identification cards at specified times before each play.

Ma Ma

Baba, Dada, Dididid, Club-Club

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Two college professors who did research on baby babbling say sounds that resemble "ma ma" mean discomfort.

"It's an unhappy utterance," said Dr. Ray Bixler.

"A cry of distress," added Dr. Harold Yeager.

It means mother should come running. A change may be in order, or it's dinnertime.

The University of Louisville psychologists did extensive research on the subject, even inquiring of foreigners.

"Baba, dada, gaga, dididid and club-club are happy sounds," they added.

Iowa Young Demos Will Meet At SUI

Young Democratic Clubs from throughout the state will gather on the SUI campus this Saturday, Sept. 27, for a pre-election workshop sponsored by the state Young Democratic organization.

Beginning at 9 p.m. at the Iowa Memorial Union, the workshop will advise and help Iowa Young Democratic clubs plan their election activities.

According to Charles Manatt, state Young Democratic official, nine new clubs have been formed in the state since May and have been invited to attend the meeting along with the other Iowa clubs.

Present to help conduct the meeting will be senior party officials Lex Hawkins of Des Moines and John O'Connor of Iowa City, along with State Young Democratic president Art Hedberg of Des Moines, Charles Manatt of Audubon, and Phyllis Thorson of Council Bluffs, national committeeman and woman of the Iowa Young Democratic clubs.

An afternoon session will be held for those not attending the Iowa-TCU game.

A banquet will be held at the Mayflower in Iowa City Saturday at 6:30 p.m. featuring Tom Dailey, 1st District Democratic candidate for Congress, Leonard G. Wolf 2nd district running-mate, and other state candidates are also expected to attend the dinner.

Books By Iowa Authors Featured In Library Exhibit

Books by Iowa authors—ranging from pocket thrillers to scholarly studies of profound subjects—are now on exhibit in the lobby of the SUI Library.

The books on display through Oct. 31 are a part of the 3,000 volume Iowa Authors collection housed in the Special Collections Room of the Library.

Featured in the exhibit are works by Meredith Willson, author of the current Broadway hit, "The Music Man;" copies of American and foreign editions of "Andersonville," the Pulitzer prize winning Civil War novel by Mackinlay Kantor; children's books; recent fiction; and other books written by such noted persons as Marquis Childs, James Norman Hall, Elsa Maxwell, William Shirer and Lee De Forest.

The Iowa Authors Collection was started in 1947 when Miss Grace

Wormer, former SUI librarian, received 20 volumes of the writings of Herbert Hoover.

Today there are more than three thousand books and three hundred manuscripts in the Library written by persons who were born in Iowa or lived in the state for 25 years or more.

Will Make Speeches In California, Chicago—

Ike Plans Campaign Talks

WASHINGTON (AP)—The White House announced Thursday that President Eisenhower will make two political campaign speeches in California next month and one in Chicago.

Other speaking trips will be announced later.

Plans for the 3-day California-Chicago trip were made public after Mr. Eisenhower held an hour-long conference with Republican National Chairman Meade Alcorn at the White House.

Press secretary James C. Hagerty said Eisenhower will speak in Los Angeles on Monday, Oct. 20, in San Francisco the following day, and in Chicago on Wednesday, Oct. 22.

Hagerty and Alcorn told newsmen the full extent of Mr. Eisenhower's participation in this year's congressional campaign is still being worked out.

Neither made any definite commitments about a presidential appearance in the East, but Alcorn said he certainly hopes there will be one. Mr. Eisenhower has accepted an invitation to speak in New York City Oct. 28 at a dinner launching the National Football Foundation and Hall of Fame, and the possibility was held out that he might work in a political speech on this trip.

Hagerty also indicated Mr. Eisenhower might make a nationwide television appearance or two before the Nov. 4 election, but he said plans are incomplete.

While details of the Oct. 20-22 trip are not final, Hagerty said the Los Angeles, San Francisco and Chicago speeches will be carried by regional television hookups. Times and places still are being worked out.

The Republicans are having a tough fight in California this year. Last June's primary election indicated a heavy tide running toward Democratic candidates.

The Republican candidate for governor is William F. Knowland, who is retiring as GOP Senate leader to oppose Edmund G. Brown, Democratic attorney general. Republican Gov. Goodwin J. Knight is backing Democratic Rep. Clair Engle for Knowland's Senate seat.

There are no Senate or governorship contests in Illinois, but Eisenhower's speech will be aimed at television viewers throughout the Upper Midwest who will be voting for House members.

2 U.S. Allies Push China Cease Fire

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Britain and France joined Thursday in supporting efforts of the United States to get a cease-fire as a first step toward resolving the Formosa crisis.

The two allies of the United States set forth their positions on the Far East in policy speeches before the 81-nation U.N. General Assembly.

British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd declared his Government's support for the United States "in their wish for a peaceful settlement." He called on both the Chinese Reds and the Chinese Nationalists to end at once their military activity in the Formosa Strait.

French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville said that if the talks fail in Warsaw between U.S. and Chinese Communist representatives, it would be the duty of the United Nations to attempt to resolve the conflict.

Most delegates expect the Formosa crisis to be thrown into the U.N. British sources denied that Lloyd had approached Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko on putting the issue before a foreign ministers' conference in advance of U.N. consideration.

Lloyd said the crisis was "immediately precipitated of Quemoy" by the Chinese Reds.

AF Missile Intercepts AF Missile—Test Success

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—The Air Force said Thursday its Bomarc air defense missile intercepted and "killed" another supersonic missile in a highly successful test.

The drone target on which the Bomarc scored a "near miss" for test purposes Wednesday was a North American X10 research vehicle.

The X10 was roaring toward the Florida coast at a speed of about 1,000 m.p.h. when it figuratively was blasted from the sky by the deadly Bomarc.

As far as is known, this was the second time that one missile had been used successfully against another. Once before a Navy Talos anti-aircraft missile was fired successfully at a Kingfisher Army rocket target.

Another Crosby Got Married . . .

THE CAKECUTTERS were Phillip Crosby, 24, and his showgirl bride Sandra Drummond, 20, and the place was the Tropicana Hotel in Las Vegas. The pair held a reception there following their wedding at St. Anne's Catholic Church Thursday. At their side was Felicia Atkins, another Tropicana showgirl who acted as Maid of Honor and has been dating Phillips' 25-year-old brother Gary. Phillip's twin, Dennis, also married a Las Vegas showgirl recently, Pat Sheehan. —AP Wirephoto

And Two Youngsters Had A Birthday

A Church Topped

THE 230-FOOT spire of the Evangelical Paulus church in Essen, Germany, tumbled to the ground as workmen demolished the war-damaged structure. Almost 5,000 tons of stone crashed Wednesday as the church tower was toppled in the heart of the city. —AP Wirephoto.

And Elvis Departed

AUTOGRAPH FANS besieged Pvt. Elvis Presley Monday as the rock 'n' roll singer prepared to sail from Brooklyn Army base for duty overseas. Presley and his tank unit arrived at the base earlier in the day from Ft. Hood, Tex., and then promptly boarded the transport Randall for Bremerhaven, Germany. —AP Wirephoto.
