Iowa Hawkeyes Face Air Force Academy Falcons Today

Second Game Of Year For Both Squads

BY LOU YOUNKIN

The Air Force Academy Falcons invade Iowa Stadium for the 1:30 p.m. kickoff. The Hawkeyes, who defeated Purdue, 7-6, in their first game of the year, will be trying to keep their winning streak going against the Falcons, who were defeated by Army, 31-7, in their first game of the season.

A crowd of at least 40,000 is expected to be on hand to watch the game. Last week's 5-11 game drew a crowd of 35,000.

The Hawkeyes have been billed as a three touchdown favorites in this contest by most collegiate sports writers. This will be the first meeting between the two schools in the history of the Air Force Academy. Iowa has a 2-1-1 all-time record against Air Force.

Both teams are well-coached and their defenses are expected to be key factors in the game. The Hawkeyes are led by quarterback Bob Jeter, who has thrown for 330 yards and five touchdowns this season. The Falcons are led by quarterback Tom O'Meara, who has thrown for 280 yards and three touchdowns.

The game will be played on a natural grass field and will be the first game for both teams in the Big Ten Conference. The Hawkeyes are expected to win by a score of 21-14.

U.S.: No High-Level A-Talks

800 Cadets To Attend Iowa-Iowa State Football Game

BY JOHN SAWIN

Washington, D.C. (U.S. News) — The United States has indicated that it does not expect any high-level A-Talks to take place in the near future. The U.S. government has been reviewing its policy on A-Talks in light of recent developments in the Korean peninsula.

While the United States has not ruled out the possibility of high-level talks, it has stated that any such talks would need to be preceded by concrete steps taken by North Korea to denuclearize. The U.S. government has also emphasized the need for Pyongyang to meet its obligations under the 1953 Armistice.

State Department spokesman John Kirby said that the U.S. government is still considering its approach to A-Talks and that any decisions would be made in consultation with key allies.

Meanwhile, South Korea has signaled its willingness to hold high-level talks with North Korea if Pyongyang takes meaningful steps toward denuclearization. South Korean officials have expressed their hope that A-Talks could be held in a neutral location such as Geneva or Panmunjom.

However, the North Korean government has remained silent on the possibility of high-level talks, arguing that the U.S. sanctions regime remains in place and that it is not in the interest of the Korean people to engage in talks with the U.S. and its allies.

In light of these developments, it seems unlikely that high-level A-Talks will take place in the near future. The U.S. government is likely to continue its focus on pressure and engagement with North Korea, while South Korea will seek to maintain its efforts to engage with Pyongyang.

Red Proposal Received Two Days Ago

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States has received a red proposal from the People's Republic of China. The proposal was submitted two days ago.

The United States has not yet responded to the proposal, but it is expected to do so in the near future. The United States has been reviewing its response to the proposal in light of recent developments in the Korean peninsula.

Meanwhile, North Korea has indicated its willingness to engage in talks with the United States and its allies. The North Korean government has stated that it is willing to discuss denuclearization and other issues if the United States removes its sanctions regime.

In light of these developments, it seems likely that the United States will respond positively to the red proposal from China. The United States will likely seek to engage in constructive dialogue with the People's Republic of China to advance its goals in the region.

Larsen To Face Rush In 3d Series Game Today

Yankees Need Win To Keep Hopes Alive

NEW YORK — Bob Russ will try to make a six-game winning streak of Whitey Ford and Don Larsen, the perfect game pitchers, something of the past with a return to the center of the New York Yankees’ third World Series game.

The last hurrah. He said there was a chance he might retire after this series.

However, he found himself in what has been typical of the Yankee pitching staff this year: In the first three games, the Yankees were unable to get much help and were left with a frontline staff in Don Larsen, Whitey Ford and Russ.

According to the schedule, Friday was to be a day off for a player. The two days following the off day are available to the players and the day they are scheduled to meet the Senators.

Cross-breed, however, managed to score only 9-4. Recency, he said there was a chance he might retire after this series.

However, he found himself in what has been typical of the Yankee pitching staff this year: In the first three games, the Yankees were unable to get much help and were left with a frontline staff in Don Larsen, Whitey Ford and Russ.

Against the Senators in 1957, Larsen set a new record by pitching a shutout in the third game. Facing the Brooklyn Dodgers in 1952, he shut them out in the first game. When the Dodgers came to New York in 1954, they scored 9 runs to 5.

Larsen was out of action for a week with a sore back and had been listed as doubtful for the opener. He was able to pitch 7 1/3 innings in the second game and 8 innings in the third game. He allowed the Senators 5 runs in each game, giving up 10 runs and 6 hits.

On Friday, he will pitch against the Senators. Larsen will be the first Yankee to pitch against the Senators.

Spalding Stadium, in its opening day, was filled with the excitement of the opening day. Over 18,000 fans were in attendance, many of whom were young fans from the Brooklyn Dodgers’ home games.

But the key to the win was the pitching of Larsen, who allowed the Senators only 5 runs in the first 6 innings.

Stengel, Haney Make It Rough For Forgiveness

NEW YORK — The third game saw the Yankees lose the lead, but they came back to win.

Don Larsen tossed a shutout, striking out 10 batters in 9 innings.

The game was 3-2 in the bottom of the 9th inning when the Yankees scored 4 runs on a double by Yogi Berra.

Stengel’s Haney, who was hit by a pitch in the 8th inning, was replaced by Don Larsen in the 9th inning.
