

Homecoming Pits Hawkeyes Against Northwestern Today

By LOU YOUNKIN
Sports Editor

Iowa and Northwestern, a pair of undefeated teams, clash today at 1:30 p.m. at Iowa Stadium in the 47th annual homecoming game. Both teams are tied with Ohio State at the top of the Big Ten standings with two victories.

Iowa was rated seventh in this week's Associated Press football poll with Northwestern one notch back in eighth place.

Northwestern has come from a winless 1957 season to its present 4-0 record on a 29-28 win over Washington State, a 28-0 shutout of Stanford, a last-minute 7-3 nod over Minnesota, and last week's eye opening 55-24 romp over the Wolverines of Michigan.

Iowa has defeated Texas Christian, 17-0; tied Air Force, 13-13; downed Indiana, 34-13; and last week whipped a powerful Wisconsin squad, 20-9.

history. The game has been a sellout since Sept. 29 and Iowa officials estimate the crowd will hit the 59,400 mark—easily surpassing the record 58,147 fans who saw the Hawks down Wisconsin, 21-7, in the 1957 homecoming game.

It will be the third record breaking attendance game in which Iowa has played this season. In the TCU opener 54,000 fans were on hand to set a new Iowa first game mark and last week 65,241 people witnessed the Iowa-Wisconsin game to smash the Camp Randall Stadium mark by over 8,000.

Today's game will be the 28th between the two schools with Iowa holding the lead in the series that began in 1897 with 16 wins, eight losses and three games ending in ties.

Won 4, Lost 1, Tied 1 With Evy

In their 46 homecoming encounters the Hawks have won 22, lost 20 and played four ties. Under its great coach Forest Evashevski Iowa has won four, lost one and tied one in six "welcome back grads" games. It was just six years ago today that Evy directed a many-

The Daily Iowan takes a great deal of pride in announcing that Andrew Byerly's column, "This Was SUI," will be a regular feature in the Iowan beginning with this issue. One of our most popular columns last year, "TWSUI" was also a demanding chore for its author, and we're highly pleased he allowed us to persuade him to resume the column on a weekly basis. RAF Jet Bomber Crashes In Detroit

DETROIT (AP) — A sleek delta wing Vulcan bomber of the British Royal Air Force exploded and crashed into a Detroit residential district Friday as the pilot apparently attempted to hit the Detroit River. The plane was believed to have six men aboard. No one survived. Portions of bodies from the aircraft were strewn among the rubble.

Amazingly, no serious injuries were suffered by residents in the area.

The plane exploded with a tremendous roar and smashed through tree tops as it disintegrated. Portions hit one house, glanced into another and went up in smoke.

Like Bomb Blast
The scene, just two blocks from the fashionable Grosse Pointe Park suburb northeast of the Detroit business district, looked like a powerful bomb had scored a direct hit.

Three homes were burned and blasted to the ground. A dozen more were set afire and 15 to 20 more damaged in varying degrees.

The largest piece of wreckage recovered was a lump about three feet in diameter. It plopped on the doorstep of a home otherwise undamaged.

Otto F. Ewald, 72, and his 65-year-old wife, suffered third degree burns about the face and back. They were hospitalized.

No one else was hurt enough to require more than first aid.

One blazing piece of wreckage plowed a furrow 50 feet long and up to 15 feet deep through the Ewald home.

The crash scene is surrounded by canals. Tremendous traffic jams developed as rescuers tried to rush into the area.

The plane was en route to Lincoln Air Force Base, Neb., from Waddington Air Force Base, near Lincoln, England. It carried a message of goodwill from the mayor of centuries-old Lincoln to the mayor of the Nebraska city.

The crash and explosion sent wreckage flying over a 3-block area. Concussion shattered windows and rattled dishes in nearby homes.

Bits of wreckage fell on the playground of the Guyton Elementary School, crowded with children being dismissed for the day.

No Kids Hurt
None of the children were injured.

The scene of the crash is just southeast of Lakeshore Drive, location of dozens of luxurious homes of Detroit society.

All of the three homes destroyed were 2-story frame dwellings.

An Ewald neighbor, Michael Durkin, 40, raced to the home and helped Ewald free his wife and dog.

"I heard the plane coming and I just opened my door when the smoking plane plowed into their lot," Durkin said. "The explosion knocked me flat."

"Mrs. Ewald was trying to fight her way out of the house but her husband couldn't get the screen door sprung. She was screaming. We pried open the door and got her out."

Crackdown On Motorists Will Continue

Johnson County Area Under Close Watch

Highway patrolmen continued to crack down on improper or inadequate equipment and moving violations in the Iowa City Friday night.

Although there was no official estimate of the number of tickets issued Friday night, patrolmen were reported to be checking all secondary roads in Johnson county.

Forty tickets were issued during the safety crackdown on rural roads Thursday.

With the 1958 Johnson County fatality rate at an all time high of 16, highway patrolmen announced that the crackdown would continue for several weeks.

Secondary and rural roads, in particular, will be carefully checked and patrolmen have warned that radar units and patrol planes will be used in several areas.

During the past nine months, nine persons have died on rural roads in Johnson County. Five of the nine fatal accidents have been single-car accidents. The other four were involved in 2-car collisions.

DES MOINES — Iowa highway patrolmen and sheriff's officers, acting in the wake of a sudden upturn in the number of traffic deaths, manned approximately 50 check points across the state Friday night.

In the first six hours of the license and motor vehicle check, officers checked about 17,000 vehicles, the State Safety Department said.

They issued 246 summonses, 1,890 faulty equipment tickets and 109 warning tickets.

The checks started at 4 p.m. and were expected to continue until at least 2 a.m. Saturday. The patrol's two airplanes were used during the daylight hours and radar also was employed to check speeding.

He pledged anew that the Eisenhower Administration backing Nationalist China, would "stand against retreat in the face of armed aggression" to foil the Red strategy.

Dulles made the remarks in a statement issued at the White House after he reported to President Eisenhower on his three days of talks with Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek in Formosa. Dulles returned to Washington early Friday.

Dulles said the Chinese Reds' new bombardment of Quemoy, ending their own cease-fire, is designed to "throw roadblocks in the way of stabilized tranquility."

"We returned confident that the Chinese Communist will not gain their ends either through military efforts or their propaganda galle," he said.

Dulles in effect invited the Peiping regime to match Nationalist China in renouncing the use of force to achieve its objectives.

Evy At The Pep Rally

AN ESTIMATED 2000 HAWKEYE FANS cheered Iowa coach Forest Evashevski Friday night at a fiery pep rally at the corner of Clinton Street and Iowa Avenue after the Homecoming parade. An expected crowd of some 59,000 will watch the undefeated Hawkeyes do battle with the undefeated Wildcats of Northwestern. Also Revise Schedule For Fee Payment Appointment of four new members to the SUI faculty was approved Friday by the State Board of Regents during the Board's October meeting, held at SUI. Three leaves of absence and three changes in appointment also were approved during the meeting.

William T. Reid was named professor and head of the SUI Department of Mathematics and Astronomy, effective next September. At that time he will succeed Lloyd A. Knowler, who has served as professor and executive officer of the department since 1946. Knowler will return to full-time teaching and research in the department.

Other Appointments
Drs. Richard D. Eckhardt and John S. Hunt were named clinical associate professors of internal medicine in the SUI College of Medicine, and Helen Porteus was named assistant director of social service at University Hospitals.

In other actions the Regents approved revision of the SUI student fee payment plan, heard reports on completion of work performed under several contracts, and authorized final payment for such work.

Under the newly-revised regulations, to take effect next semester, a single $50 payment will be required from all new undergraduate students, students living in dormitories, and all students admitted to medicine, dentistry, physical therapy and dental hygiene at the time any such student submits an application for a dormitory room or within two weeks after notification of admission to the University, whichever is earlier. All other students must make an advance payment of $50 (or the full fee if less than $50) before registration materials may be issued.

Modifies Present Plan
(This plan modifies one adopted earlier this year, which called for advance payments of $50 or $100. The new plan also makes it unnecessary for a student to pay a separate $35 fee in advance for a dormitory room — the $50 advance payment will now cover both registration for University courses and reservation of a dormitory room).

As with the present system, the balance of fees not paid at the time of registration will be billed to students or their parents in three monthly installments, with payment to be made within 12 days after the billing date. Penalties for late or non-payment of installments remains the same — $5 for each day after the 12th day.

Students may get free tickets by showing their ID's at the East Lobby Desk in the Iowa Memorial Union. Faculty and staff may get tickets for $1.25 at the desk, open today from 9 a.m. until noon and Monday from 9 a.m. until 4:30 p.m.

One of the largest throngs of celebrants in recent Iowa City history crowded sidewalks, rooftops, fire escapes and store windows to get a better look at SUI's gala Homecoming parade Friday night.

Official estimates of the size of the crowd ranged from 45- to 50-thousand as football fans and friends of SUI converged on Iowa City from all parts of the state and the nation.

Over 65 colorful units including floats, bands, fire engines and shivering campus beauties wound their way along the 12-block parade route.

Drums Beat Cadence
A chilly fall breeze did little to stifle the enthusiasm of either spectators or participants.

Highlights of the annual parade included the usual fine performance of the SUI Marching Band and the Scottish Highlanders. With pulsating drum beats reverberating between buildings along the way, the SUI band set the mood for the hour-long procession.

Outstanding high school bands kept up the rhythm, pausing only long enough to treat the reviewing stand at the corner of Clinton Street and Iowa Avenue to a few bars of "On Iowa" or "We're From Iowa."

Outstanding floats included a steam thrashing machine, the likes of which has not been seen on Iowa farms for thirty years, tooting out a plea for the Hawks to steam on to victory.

Good Grief!
Other noteworthy results of last week's frantic crepe paper stuffing included a smiling paper mache Charlie Brown and his dog Snoopy, "hula hooing" it up for Iowa, and a Northwestern Wildcat losing his head every few seconds to the thump of a menacing spirit guillotine.

As the last floats and bands passed the noisy throng of students, alumni and band members who had already completed the parade circuit moved toward the reviewing stand to hear and cheer pep talks by Coach Forest Evashevski and Dave Peshkin, president of the SUI Alumni Society.

In other areas of the city, traffic, halted by the crowd, began to crawl slowly as pedestrians dodged through jams at many downtown corners.

Back at the pep rally, enthusiastic Iowa supporters made their way toward numerous "pre-victory" celebrations. Few spirits were dimmed by Coach Evy's quip: "Now that it's over you can go home, have a drink of milk, and go to bed."

Special Rules In Effect For Today's Traffic

Visitors to Iowa City today will find walking the easiest way to get around. Thousands of cars driven by SUI alumni, parents, guests and football fans will flood the city for Homecoming weekend.

The map on Page 7 shows SUI parking lots available for visitors' cars. Most restricted and reserved lots will be open all day, but the reserved areas in the vicinity of the Engineering Building, Communication Center, and University Hospitals will be closed until noon.

Visitors walking will probably find it easier to leave their cars on the east side of the Iowa River rather than struggling to find a parking place near the stadium. Residents of Iowa City are urged to leave their cars at home and walk to the game.

City parking lots (metered) are located at East Washington Street between Gilbert and Van Buren Streets, East College Street between Linn and Gilbert Streets, and East Burlington Street between Gilbert and Van Buren Streets.

The "I" Club will supervise parking on the old SUI golf course northwest of the stadium off Highway 6. In addition, many residents in the Fieldhouse-stadium area will be renting their lawns for parking.

Traffic Broadcasts
The University's radio station WSUI, 910 kc, will broadcast traffic bulletins for several hours before the game to help out-of-town motorists pick the least congested routes. Information will be relayed to the station from an Iowa City Flying Club airplane cruising the area.

Grand Avenue, east of the Fieldhouse, will be closed to all traffic except busses and taxicabs beginning at 12:30 p.m.

After the game, Melrose Avenue will be 1-way for eastbound traffic from the south gate of the stadium to Riverside drive, and Grand Avenue will be 1-way westbound from Riverside drive to the Fieldhouse.

Don't forget that the little white signs reading "No Parking" and "No Parking 3:00-5:00" means business, even on Homecoming weekend.

Weather Forecast

It will be a brisk 60-some degrees today with fair skies, perfect football weather. The weatherman also promises fair skies throughout the state Sunday with highs in the mid 50s in the north-west, and lows in the 40s in the south. No precipitation is expected over the weekend.

Iowa coach Arthur Knipe telephoned a doctor at 1:30 Thanksgiving morning in 1900.

"My football players are sick!" Coach Knipe told the doctor. The doctor soon arrived at the St. James Hotel in Davenport, where the Iowa team was staying before playing Northwestern on Thanksgiving day at Rock Island, Ill. Iowa players lay moaning in their beds.

By noon a crowd of Iowa fans had gathered outside the hotel. People waved banners and yelled at the Hawkeyes to come out. Inside the hotel the doctor told Knipe his team couldn't play.

"These men have food poisoning," the doctor told Coach Knipe. An Iowa player walked toward the doctor and Knipe.

"We're going to play," the player said. "Don't tell anyone we're sick," another player told the doctor. The Iowa team walked past the doctor and into the street. Iowa fans cheered.

At 2 p.m., across the Mississippi River from Davenport, 8000 people waited for the game to begin at the Rock Island football field.

The Northwestern team ran onto the field, and 3000 Illinois fans waved and stamped. The Hawkeyes ran out and 5000 Iowans cheered and jumped.

"We'll win this one easy!" Iowa fans laughed. This was the last scheduled game for the 1900 Hawkeyes, who hadn't been defeated. Iowa had scored 306 points against a total of only 7 points by opponents, and was rated the best team in the Midwest.

The game began and bewildered Iowa fans watched weakened Hawkeye players stagger around the field.

"They aren't even trying," muttered Iowans who didn't realize the Hawkeyes were sick.

In the first half, desperate Iowa players held Northwestern scoreless and made a touchdown, which was worth five points in 1900. But Iowa fans shook fists at Coach Knipe and yelled at the players to try harder.

The second half began and sick, tired Iowa players failed to score. The Hawkeyes stubbornly kept Northwestern away from the Iowa goal line, but Northwestern kicked a field goal — which also was five points in 1900.

The game ended in a 5 to 5 tie, and Illinois fans carried Northwestern players off the field. But no one carried Iowa players. Disappointed Iowa fans quietly went home.

"We weren't beaten," Knipe said. "We just lost."

Cane Code

Canenapping, Desertion
Caneicide, Dueling

By TOM BURROWS
Staff Writer

Have you seen the men on campus with black canes? No, they're not trying to start a new fad — they're seniors in the SUI College of Law carrying out an old tradition.

The 87 law seniors are complying with the "Code of the Cane," a set of rules written in the style of the Iowa Code pertaining to the canes of law seniors.

According to the code, Chapter 687 — Public Offenses, "It shall be a public offense for a senior law student to be without cane at any Iowa home football game or at any time during Homecoming Week."

The code continues that commission of the above offense may be punished with death or in the discretion of the court, by imprisonment in the Iowa Law School for life.

Kangaroo Court

Law students accused of violating the "Code of the Cane" will be tried by the law school's Kangaroo Court later in the semester.

Kangaroo Court is defined by Webster's dictionary as being: "An irresponsible, unauthorized, or irregular tribunal, or one in which, although conducted under some authorization, the principles of law and justice are disregarded or perverted. Or (B) — a mock court held by vagabonds or prisoners in jail."

Other chapters of the code deal with canenapping, self-defense, dueling, bigamy, canenapping, arson, desertion, and others.

Chapter 690 — Caneicide

Chapter 690 (Caneicide) reads: "Whoever canes any human being with malice aforethought is guilty of canicide. ADD: 'Human being' has been interpreted as not to include dental students or engineers."

The chapter on dueling says that students convicted of taunting other students for not accepting a duel with canes "shall be denied access to the Men's Rest Room for not more than six nor less than two months."

Canenapping: "If any person willfully and without lawful authority, forcibly or secretly confine or imprison any other law student's cane against his will; or forcibly carry or send such cane out of the city, such person shall have his G.I. Bill and/or his right arm cut off."

False Pretenses, Frauds, and other Cheats: "If any person not a senior law student, desiginedly and by false pretenses, carry a cane, such person shall be placed in pillory and scourged at public meeting."

Must Sleep With Cane
Other possible punishments according to the code include denial of access to a seat on law school steps; be required to sleep with cane for period not more than one year; be imprisoned in the Torts Class for not more than 30 days, etc.

No one seems to know exactly how the tradition of carrying canes and the Kangaroo Court all began. Clarence M. Updegraff, professor in the College of Law, said that he thought the cane carrying started back around 1916 or 1917 when the law students sponsored the Law Jubilee.

Tradition has it that the canes are carried to point to the distinction of the law profession.

Law Student Association members elect Kangaroo Court members and members of the class drew up the code.

TIME & LIFE Building

New York 20, N.Y.
Sir:

This refers to your pseudo rating of the top ten football teams, "Disbelief and Disaster," page 59, TIME, October 27, 1958.

1. Ohio State (4-0)
2. Army (4-0)
3. Wisconsin (3-1) — upset by a scrapping Iowa team 20-9, but still rated above the Hawkeyes because quarterback Dale Hackbart had a bad day, setting up two Iowa touchdowns with fumbles.
4. Iowa (3-0-1)

I feel that your 4th floor janitor is not doing a good job of rating football teams. Why don't you assign this work to someone better acquainted with the sport? Perhaps even, somebody who is able to attend some of the games? It would be helpful if he could read, write, and count to 100.

The reasoning and logic in TIME's third and fourth choices could also be applied to Northwestern (55) and Michigan (24), thus: "But Michigan is rated higher than Northwestern because the Wolverines had a bad day against the Wildcats with a few unfortunate fumbles and intercepted passes. Too, three Michigan regulars did not play because of injuries. Besides, Michigan's stadium seats over 100,000 people."

In rating Wisconsin over Iowa I think your janitor must have followed some mysterious formula known only to himself, such as: "Why is a cow when it gallops? It's easy . . . the higher the fewer or hurrah for the doughnuts. Either is correct."

Today On WSUI

HOMERCOMERS' WELCOME awaits visitors to WSUI today from 9 a.m. to game time. A warm greeting and a hot cup of coffee have been added to an exciting series of events programmed this morning. FOOTBALL necessarily dominates WSUI's Fall Saturdays, and at 9:30 a.m. today the football theme gets rolling with a radio review of highlights of Big Ten action last week. Games included are: Ohio State-Indiana, Michigan State-Purdue, Northwestern-Michigan, and Iowa-Wisconsin. Tom Koehler, producer of the program, has edited hundreds of feet of tape in order to give the listeners a fast moving survey of all the action in four of the five West- ern Conference football games played last Saturday.

CUE BEGINS AT 10 a.m. with a sequence of interviews, special reports and football features right up to game time. In order of appearance listeners may hear Flying Club members, Homecoming monument and pin designers, Dolphin Queen, SUI Band Director Ebbs, Highlander Director Adamson, Northwestern athletic publicity director, Walter Paulson, Iowa coach Evashevski, and "Sports Roundtable," direct from the press box overlooking Iowa Stadium. Live music is expected to be available for sandwiching between special and regular segments of CUE. Visitors are welcome and those from faraway places may be asked to step before the microphone and say a few words to the folks back home.

FOOTBALL, PLAY BY PLAY, will originate at WSUI beginning at 1:15 p.m. and will serve a network of some fifteen radio stations throughout the state. Paul Eells and staff will handle, and with luck, there will be interviews at halftime direct from the playing field.

FOOTBALL SCORES will be reviewed during Tea Time Special following the game until 5:30 p.m. FOOTBALL'S FIFTH QUARTER, a complete round-up of scores nationwide with game details, may be heard at 7:30 p.m. following "EVENING CONCERT."

UNWIND TO MUSIC this evening from 8 p.m. until the NEWSCAST at 9:45 p.m. Tom Keeton is host for Saturday evening dance, pop and jazz music for nearly two hours.

WSUI Again Uses Traffic Spotter Plane

The 2-way radios which WSUI first used two weeks ago in communicating with its traffic-spotter airplane on football Saturdays are working fine. Larry Walcoff, WSUI assistant program director, said.

The radio station has been broadcasting reports of highway conditions leading into Iowa City on home game days.

The reports are received from a Piper J-3 aircraft, donated by the Iowa Flying Club and flown by Roy Pollock, E4, Mt. Auburn, and Gibb Cuplin, A3, Iowa City.

Prior to the Indiana game, the fliers had been writing their radio reports on small cards, which they dropped in plastic bags in the vicinity of the Walcoff home, 1003 Finkbine Park. The reports were then telephoned into the station.

This Saturday, Walcoff said, the radio station will have a man posted with a walkie-talkie on top of the Engineering Building keeping in constant touch with the airplane.

'Tot Tending' Available Free At Concert Monday

Tot tending, a service sponsored by the Iowa Memorial Union Board will give married students an opportunity to attend the Danish National Orchestra concert Monday at 8 p.m. while their children are being cared for by student nurses.

The Tot Tending service, available for all lectures and concerts in the Union, will be held in the East Lobby Conference Room.

"At each of the past two sessions," said Sue Campbell, N4, director of the service, "only four parents have taken advantage of Tot Tending."

If more parents do not make use of the service, she said, further sessions will have to be discontinued. Parents are requested to bring at least one toy to reach child. In order that children not yet able to walk may be cared for, parents are asked to bring a stroller or buggy.

The Tot Tending service, which is free of charge, will begin shortly before 8 p.m.

For any questions about the service, parents may call the hostesses at the Union.

WHISKING AWAY the dirt surrounding some bones, Charles Keller, 44, Long Beach, Calif., uncovers one of eight Indian skeletons recently discovered in Bear Creek Valley, midway between Decorah and McGregor. Ten students and faculty members took part in the excavation. Reynold J. Ruppe, SUI archeologist, says the find was significant because little information has been uncovered on this particular culture of Indians—the Oneota group—who lived in the period 1625-1725. Beads, pottery fragments and stone tools were also recovered at the site.

SUIowans Uncover Indian Skeletons

Skeletal remains of eight Indians of the Oneota culture, a little-known group that lived in Iowa between 1625 and 1725, were recently uncovered in Bear Creek Valley, midway between Decorah and McGregor, by an archeological team from SUI.

Reynold J. Ruppe, SUI archeologist who headed the excavation, termed the find significant because there is little information on the Indians of the Oneota culture, the predecessors of the Iowa Indians. Although the area is "rich in sites," Ruppe said, many have been destroyed by road work and relic collectors.

The discovery added new information on the burial practices of the group, who hung the bodies of some of their dead on scaffolds until they were decayed and then buried the bones, the SUI archeologist said.

"There also was clear evidence that older graves were disturbed when new bones were buried," he said, explaining that the older bones were removed from the grave, the new bones placed on the bottom and covered with new dirt, and then the old bones were replaced and the grave covered.

Besides four complete and four incomplete skeletons, blue Venetian glass beads and copper beads were recovered from the burial site. Bits of pottery and stone tools also were found in the excavation of six fire pits at the old camp site.

A definite key to dating the skeletons was provided by the Venetian beads, which were used for trading purposes by the Indians, Dr. Ruppe said.

French explorers introduced the beads in the Great Lakes region and they moved west as the Indians traded them. The culture had disappeared by the time the first explorers entered Iowa, Ruppe said.

There was an ironical note to the latest "dig" by SUI archeologists, proving that archeologists can choose campsites as well as the Indians. Last year while excavating a cave in the area, the group chose the Oneota site as a camping area, unaware that it was on top of the old Indian village.

The burial site was uncovered by Iowa Highway Commission workmen, who immediately notified SUI archeologists of the discovery.

failure to pay an installment within 12 days, or dismissal from the University for failure to pay within 20 days after the billing date.

As is the present practice, the advance payment of $50 will be forfeited in any case where a dormitory application is not withdrawn prior to Aug. 1 (for the first semester) or Jan. 7 (for the second semester). The present schedule requires that the deposit would also be forfeited if a student fails to cancel his application for admission to the University prior to Aug. 1 (for the first semester), or Dec. 1 (for the second semester), but the new plan moves these deadlines back one month in each case, to Sept. 1 and Jan. 1. Extenuating circumstances may result in the University's waiving this forfeiture.

Refunds
Refunds of fees for students canceling registration after classes are under way will be made on a sliding scale, beginning at 90 per cent of total fees assessed for cancellation within the first ten days of the semester and diminishing at the rate of one per cent per day.

Leaves of absence were approved for Dr. Hans Zellweger, research professor of pediatrics; C. C. Wylie, professor emeritus of mathematics, and Eugene Ludins, associate professor of art.

The Regents approved changes in appointment for associate professors Chester A. Morgan, labor and management, and John R. Winnie, television-radio-film; and Slow S. Persons, professor of history. Morgan, Winnie and Persons will serve as acting heads of their departments for the 1958-59 academic year.

Authorized Pay
The Regents authorized final payments to two contractors, the Robbins Electric Company of Moline, Ill., and the Carstens Plumbing and Heating Company of Ackley, for work completed at Burge Hall, new dormitory for women.

The SUI Board in Control of Athletics reported to the Regents that it recently entered into an agreement to borrow $135,000, the money to be used in helping to meet costs of constructing the new stadium pressbox and baseball bleachers. The loan is to be repaid from athletic receipts within two years, the athletics board reported.

Nixon Looks To President Race In '60

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Vice President Richard Nixon looked forward openly Friday to the 1960 presidential campaign, while Nelson Rockefeller said he has no interest in any race that far ahead.

Nixon didn't come right out and say he would be running for the Republican presidential nomination two years hence — everybody expects him to — but he called for all GOP eligibles to get into the swim.

"All of us current national figures," he said, "will be helped by developing other national figures, no matter who the candidate is in 1960."

The Nixon and Rockefeller comments came in New York, after these two leading Republicans had discussed, among other things, Rockefeller's effort to take the governorship away from Democrat Averell Harriman.

It is generally agreed that if Rockefeller should win over Harriman on Nov. 4 — a possibility scoffed at by the Democrats — he would be a top contender against Nixon for the Republican No. 1 spot in 1960.

But Rockefeller insisted: "I have no interest in the presidential nomination. All that I am interested in is becoming governor."

Nixon, campaigning across Wisconsin, later indicated he thinks Rockefeller might change his mind if he becomes governor.

Adopting an air of the more-merrier, Nixon volunteered that President Eisenhower had told him in 1955 that the President wanted to develop more presidential timber within the party.

This year's most active campaigner for the Democrats, former President Harry S. Truman, took it easy after another of his slambang speechmaking tours and said he has finished his efforts for all practical purposes.

"The feeling of the country is for the Democrats" was Truman's appraisal.

He told reporters in New York he plans to attend the traditional Democratic campaign windup in St. Louis Nov. 1.

President Eisenhower, who has been making sharper attacks against the Democrats this fall than ever before, has a date in Pittsburgh Monday night. He will attend a Republican rally there and make a campaign speech over an 11-state television network.

The White House said Mr. Eisenhower would also include in some political activities Tuesday in New York, their nature undisclosed at this stage.

The SUI Chapter of the American Association of University Professors (AAUP) will hold its first meeting of the year Tuesday at 8 p.m. in the Senate Chamber of Old Capitol.

Each speaker will give a 20 minute talk on the topic "The Needs and Costs of High Education in Iowa." A question period will follow. Anyone may attend.

Weeks Resigns Commerce Post; Ike Appoints Strauss To Succeed Him
WASHINGTON (AP) — A change of command at the Commerce Department was announced by the White House Friday.
Secretary of Commerce Sinclair Weeks has resigned, and President Eisenhower has appointed Adm. Lewis L. Strauss, former chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission, to succeed him.
Weeks will leave his post not later than Nov. 10. In an Oct. 22 letter to Mr. Eisenhower, he said he was resigning reluctantly "and only because of pressing business, personal and family considerations, which seem to me to make it imperative that I return to Boston and my interests there."

Oil Barges Catch Fire On Mississippi

ALBANY, Ill. (AP) — Two big fuel oil barges caught fire Friday night at an oil terminal on the Mississippi River.
Gerald Stewart, manager of the terminal, said one barge broke loose about 8 p.m. The unloading hose parted, he added, and heat or a spark from the motor on a pump touched off the blaze.
Stewart said the barges had been loaded with 1½ million gallons of fuel oil, but that some of it had been pumped out before the fire began.
Flames shot up hundreds of feet and the countryside was lit as if it were day. The fire could be seen as far away as Clinton and Port Bryan, Ill., about 15 miles south of here.
One burning barge was adrift on the river and as it floated near the shore some trees were set on fire. Firemen following along the shore extinguished the fires as they broke out.

Fresh Rumors That 400-Year Tradition Of Italian Popes Will End

VATICAN CITY (AP) — A brief conclave and a new Italian Pope of the Roman Catholic Church were generally predicted Friday night as 52 members of the College of Cardinals prepared for the solemn ritual.

Talk of breaking the 400-year-old tradition of Italian Popes gave rise to fresh rumors about the pre-eminence of Gregory Peter Cardinal Agagianian, Patriarch of Cilicia of the Armenians, as the outstanding candidate.

But at the same time, other speculation has been centering about Angelo Cardinal Roncalli, well-liked Patriarch of Venice, among several Italian cardinals.

New Method Of Taking Tuberculosis Vaccine — You Inhale It

CLEVELAND (AP) — A new method of taking anti-tuberculosis vaccine was described by a scientist Friday night. You inhale it.

The technique has been given the name "airborne vaccination" by Dr. Gardner Middlebrook, 34, director of research and laboratories for the National Jewish Hospital at Denver.

Because the vaccine used in this method has one serious drawback, it may not be used very much in this country.

87 Trapped In Mine; Little Hope

SPRINGHILL, N. S. (AP) — Barriers of rock and gas held 87 men captive or dead Friday night in the crumpled depths of a coal mine. It so far has yielded six bodies.

Hope was all but abandoned for those still missing of the working shift of 174 caught by a sudden, shattering shift of rock, coal and earth Thursday night in North America's deepest coal mine.

Eighty-one men came out, some staggering to safety, others on stretchers. Seventeen of them were injured.

If the worst fears are realized, the upheaval will have taken 93 lives, the greatest toll in any Canadian mine disaster since 193 died at Hillcrest, Alta., in 1914.

Rescue workers fought deadly gas and rock slides. For a time the gas was so bad it endangered even those with respirators. Several survivors were suffering from gas poisoning.

Women and children, weary from a long vigil, stood quietly around the mine entrance waiting for word.

Queen Elizabeth II sent a message to Gov. Gen. Vincent Massey expressing her concern and asking to be kept informed of developments.

Figures on the night shift, originally reported to number 166, rose to 174. Mine officials summed up Friday night: 81 survivors, 6 bodies recovered, 87 still missing.

With tears welling in his eyes, a mine official told reporters all hope is gone for men trapped in two lower levels of the mine, named Cumberland No. 2. He held out only a glimmer for the rest on a third level.

Iowa Favored Over Wildcats By One Touchdown

Hawks No. 7 Team In Nation, Northwestern Rated Eighth

touchdown underdog Iowa team to a stunning 8-0 upset over Ohio State in a homecoming battle.

The Hawkeys won last year's contest at Evanston by the narrow margin of 6-0 in a game played under the worst of conditions. Rain, mud, snow and sleet made the field a quagmire and a fourth quarter pass from Randy Duncan to Kevin Furlong accounted for the only score on the cold, miserable day. Furlong and Northwestern halfback Ron Burton played a breathtaking game of "I got it, you got it" with Duncan's aerial before the Detroit halfback secured the ball and broke away from the slipping, sliding Burton for the TD. All three of these men will be in action today.

The last Northwestern win over Iowa came in 1936 when the Wildcats handed the Hawkeys a 17-7 licking. Northwestern has already scored over twice as many points this season as the 1957 club counted during the entire dismal 1957 campaign. The '58 edition has put 119 points on the scoreboard, last year yards on 27 rushes this year, will be the starting fullback. Capt. John Nocera, who sat out the Wisconsin game with knee injuries, is ready to go again and will back Horn.

Both teams have come up with surprising lines this year. The main weakness of both clubs was supposedly in the defensive line, but as yet neither the Wildcats or Hawkeys have shown any sign of letting down from their rugged defensive stands.

All-American Candidate

One feature of today's game will be linemen mentioned in some circles as candidates for the All-American teams. They are Northwestern center Jim Andreotti and Iowa guard Gary Grouwinkel.

Andreotti is the first junior in Northwestern history to be named co-captain and has averaged over 50 minutes of play a game. Wildcat coach Ara Parseghian labels the 195-pound Andreotti as having all the qualities of a great center.

Grouwinkel has come into his own this season after lettering two years behind men like Frank Bloomquist and Bob Cummings. The 210-pound Wapello senior is one of the best blockers on the team and his defensive play has been outstanding.

The Wildcats will hold a 5-pound edge per man up front if the men slated to start are in for the opening kick off. Northwestern's two tackles, Andy Cvercko and Gene Gossage at 225 and 233 pounds respectively, outweigh any Iowa starter. The Hawks biggest starter is end Curt Merz who tips the scales at 219 pounds.

Andy Cvercko
Northwestern Tackle

Raise Average

Mac Lewis, 305-pound tackle and Bill Lapham, 235-pound center played great ball against Wisconsin last week and their insertion in the Iowa lineup will raise the average weight considerably.

Northwestern's starting guards are Joe Abbatiello, 197, and Russ Asala, 202. Doug Asad and Elbert Kimbrough are the starting ends with the teams leading pass receiver, Fred Williamson in reserve. Albert Kimbrough, Elbert's twin brother is a reserve halfback on the Wildcat squad.

Cvercko and Fowler are the only seniors in the rebuilding Northwestern starting lineup. When fall practice opened in September Parseghian had only 25 juniors and seniors to count on for the 1958 season among a squad of 65.

4 Sophs, 5 Juniors

Kimbrough, Asala, Thornton and Stock are sophomores while Abbatiello, Andreotti, Gossage, Asad and Burton are juniors.

Grouwinkel's running mate at guard will be 173-pound Don Shipanik. One of three non-letter men juniors in the starting line, Shipanik makes up for his lack of weight with tremendous desire.

Center Lloyd Humphreys, 206, and tackle John Sawin, 211, are the other two non-lettermen juniors in the Iowa line. Shipanik, Humphreys and Sawin, who line up shoulder to shoulder, are all from Chicago.

John Burroughs, 218-pound veteran, opens at left tackle for the Hawkeys. A senior, Burroughs is a steady performer who gives 100 per cent all the way.

Norton, Merz At Ends

Don Norton, the team's leading pass receiver with 12 for 133 yards and one touchdown, and Merz will again open at the end positions for Iowa. Merz has hauled down nine passes for 136 yards.

If Wisconsin can defeat Ohio State at Columbus today, the winner of the fracas here will be alone in first place in the Big Ten.

The Hawkeys travel to Ann Arbor, Mich. next week to face the Wolverines—a team they have not beaten since 1924. Northwestern returns home to face Ohio State.

Three Big Ten Elevens Risk Perfect Marks

By JERRY LISKA
Associated Press Sports Writer

Iowa and amazing Northwestern take before a record Iowa City crowd today in a pivotal Big Ten football contest.

This showdown between two unbeaten conference contenders will produce the chief challenger to also undefeated Ohio State's title defense.

Ohio State, also with a 2-0 league record, has a stern test today against invading Wisconsin, upset Saturday by Iowa.

Two other conference battles are on tap, Michigan State at Illinois, and Minnesota at Michigan. In non-loop action, Miami of Ohio plays at Indiana and Purdue visits Notre Dame.

Blue chips really are riding on the Northwestern-Iowa game which will be viewed by a Hawkeye homecoming throng of 59,400, largest in Iowa history.

Whichever team wins it will have to meet Ohio State in what probably will be the battle for the championship being defended by the Buckeyes. Northwestern is host to Ohio State a week from Saturday, while the Buckeyes play at Iowa on Nov. 15.

Ohio State, conqueror of Illinois (19-13) and Indiana (49-8) in Big Ten play, is picked by six points over Wisconsin's stout defensive club. A sellout crowd of 83,000 will watch the Badgers strive to score their first victory at Columbus, Ohio, since 1918.

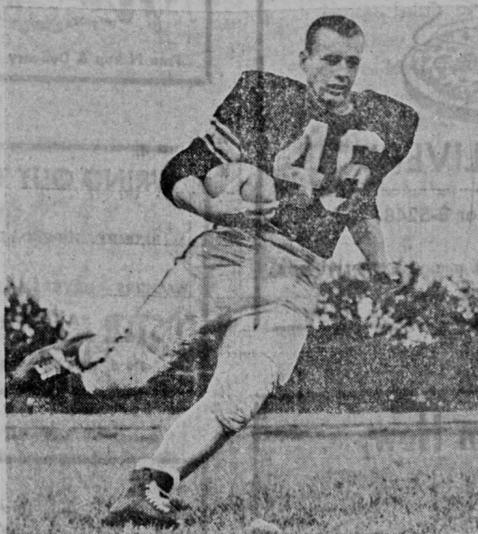

Michigan State is regarded a six-point favorite over Illinois, but it's Illinois homecoming which traditionally means trouble for any invader. The Illini snapped a three-game losing streak with a 20-8 Big Ten victory at Minnesota last week. Michigan State has failed to win in two conference starts, tying Michigan 12-12 and losing at Purdue, 14-6.

It's take your pick in the Purdue at Notre Dame game which will be televised regionally. Each club has a 3-1 record and has had the same trouble hanging on to the football. Both teams have fumbled 16 times and lost the ball 11 times. Further reflecting their equality, each team has scored 62 points in four games.

Indiana, after being buffeted by Iowa and Ohio State on successive Saturdays, figures to win its second victory of the season against Miami of Ohio. The Hoosiers earlier defeated West Virginia, 13-12.

Northwestern's starting guards are Joe Abbatiello, 197, and Russ Asala, 202. Doug Asad and Elbert Kimbrough are the starting ends with the teams leading pass receiver, Fred Williamson in reserve. Albert Kimbrough, Elbert's twin brother is a reserve halfback on the Wildcat squad.

Cvercko and Fowler are the only seniors in the rebuilding Northwestern starting lineup. When fall practice opened in September Par-

Busy Day For Collegians—

Football Powers Face Big Tests

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is a day unlike any other day so far during the 1958 college football season. Here, among other things, is what's going to happen.

1. A Lambert Trophy winner all but formally chosen.
2. A big step taken in picking the Ivy League, Big Ten, Skyline Southern and Southwest conference champions.
3. Some highly ranked teams forced to prove just how good they really are.

Pitt Poised

The Lambert Trophy, emblematic of Eastern supremacy, goes on the line at Pittsburgh where Army, the nation's top team, meets Pitt in a game televised regionally in the East.

The Cadets, with a 4-0 record, will have to play without fullback Harry Walters and with a highly curtailed Pete Dawkins, the star

Liston Scores Easy Triumph

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Charles (Sonny) Liston scored a unanimous 10-round decision Friday night over Bert Whitehurst, knocking Whitehurst out of the ring in the final seconds of the last round. Whitehurst was trying to climb back into the ring when the fight ended.

Liston took control of the fight from the start, working constantly on Whitehurst with his rapier-like left, which he kept jabbing to the face.

Whitehurst Tires

Liston's weight of 212½ pounds—22½ more than his opponent—began to tell heavily on Whitehurst in the seventh. Whitehurst appeared tired when he came out for the eighth. It was Liston's 20th victory in 21 fights.

Liston, formerly of St. Louis but now fighting out of Philadelphia, caught his Baltimore opponent with a sharp left hook early in the ninth and had Whitehurst in serious trouble.

Through Ropes

In the tenth Liston was in again midway in the round with his left. He caught Whitehurst directly on the chin. In a wild flurry of lefts and rights, Liston sent Whitehurst reeling through the ropes. Whitehurst lay on the apron as referee Harry Kessler began his count. He was trying to get back in the ring when the final gong sounded at the count of eight.

halfback with a charley horse. The Panthers, 4-1, are in good physical shape.

Ohio State No. 2 with a 2-0 Big Ten record, and 4-0 overall, meets powerful Wisconsin, 1-1 in conference play. Then to the west, unbeaten Northwestern No. 8 2-0 in the Big Ten plays Iowa No. 7, also 2-0. Ohio State and Northwestern are paired for the following week.

Tough Ivy Tests

In the East, the same situation exists. Harvard 1-1 and Dartmouth 2-0 in the Ivy League play each other, while Princeton travels to Cornell where their respective 2-0 records will be tested. Princeton and Dartmouth, who meet in their last game Nov. 22, are expected to decide the title then.

West of the Mississippi, Wyoming 3-0 plays New Mexico 2-0 with the winner the probable Skyline Conference titlist.

Texas No. 4 plays Rice in the Southern Conference. Rice is 2-0 Texas 1-0 in conference play, while idle Texas Christian No. 16 is also 2-0. The winner of the Texas-Rice game could begin looking toward the Cotton Bowl.

Bowl Game

Virginia Tech plays West Virginia in the Tobacco Festival Bowl and Virginia Military meets Davidson in Southern Conference games. All four teams have 1-0 records. The conference title could be postponed until Nov. 27 when Tech and VMI play if things go as expected. Now for those big boys who have to produce or leave.

Louisiana State No. 3 plays Southeast Conference rival Florida, while sixth-ranked Mississippi meets nonconference foe Arkansas. LSU and Mississippi could wrap up the title next Saturday.

Fifth-ranked Auburn, its 17-game winning streak broken with a 7-7 tie by Georgia Tech last week, plays Maryland, which has been shut out in three games this year.

Irish Try Purdue

Ninth-ranked Oklahoma plays Big Eight rival Kansas State, while Notre Dame No. 11 meets intrastate rival Purdue in their usual slam-bang affair. Purdue is ranked 15th and will face the Irish on a regional midwest television hookup.

Colorado No. 12 puts its high-powered offense against Nebraska in the Big Eight while that surprising Air Force Academy No. 14 plays Utah, whose Lee Crossup keeps the footballs flying high.

Georgia Tech No. 17 travels to Dallas to play Southern Methodist, still wondering if Mustang quarterback Don Meredith will play. Navy No. 18 after absorbing its first loss from Tulane last week, meets Penn's Quakers who won their first the same day. Mississippi State No. 19 plays Alabama in the Southeast Conference and Michigan State No. 20 plays Illinois in the Big Ten.

NFL Leaders Face Rugged Tests Sunday

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The only remaining unbeaten records in the National Football League — those of the Cleveland Browns and Baltimore Colts — should undergo severe strain Sunday.

The Browns, whose 4-0 mark leads the Eastern Conference, send their stout ground-gaining attack against the Chicago Cardinals' tricky "triple wing" offense at Chicago's Comiskey Park.

The Colts, leading the Western Conference with four straight, are at home with their formidable neighborhood rivals, the Washington Redskins 2-2.

In other league action, the Chicago Bears play at San Francisco, the winless Detroit Lions at Los Angeles, Philadelphia at Green Bay and Pittsburgh at New York.

Cleveland is banking on two of its ball-rushing stars, Jimmy Brown and rookie Bob Mitchell, to offset any of the wild shenanigans the Cards might try to pull off with their new wide open T-formation which Coach Frank Ivy brought down from the Canadian League.

Black Hawks Fined For Indifference

MONTREAL (AP) — A $100 fine was assessed against every member of the Chicago Black Hawk hockey team Friday by General Manager Tommy Ivan for indifferent play against the Montreal Canadiens Thursday night.

The Canadians drubbed the Hawks, 9-1, in repulsing Chicago's effort to gain a first-place tie in the National Hockey League race. The irked Hawk general manager declared:

"That was a lousy effort on the part of players who call themselves major leaguers. Any time you get nine goals scored against you in one game, you know the fellows aren't putting out."

Spectacular 2-Hour Fire Damages Clinton Bridge

CLINTON — A spectacular fire raged out of control for nearly two hours across the Chicago and Northwestern Railroad drawbridge here Friday and caused extensive damage to the 300-foot span.

The blaze apparently was started by a welding torch being used by a workman on the bridge, authorities said.

All the railroad ties along the bridge were burned as strong winds whipped the flames.

Special Warning Given To Iowa Football Fans

DES MOINES — A special warning to football fans who will be attending games in various parts of the state this weekend was issued Friday by Iowa Safety Commissioner Russell Brown.

He warned that the Highway Patrol has orders to issue nothing but court summons from now through the end of the month where moving traffic violations are involved. No warning tickets will be given, he said.

Ankeny Girl Named Buena Vista Queen

STORM LAKE — Jo Ann Cowan, a junior from Ankeny, was announced Friday as the 1958 Homecoming Queen at Buena Vista College. She was chosen from a field of seven candidates in an all-campus election Thursday.

Herron Says ISC Fires Set Deliberately

DES MOINES — State Fire Marshal Ed Herron said Friday concerning two fires earlier this week in buildings at Iowa State College that he is "quite satisfied" they were set deliberately.

There was a fire in a cattle barn Sunday night and one in a horse barn Monday night.

Bus Companies Ask OK To Raise Fares

WASHINGTON — Major passenger bus companies operating east of the Mississippi River and in 12 north-central states Friday notified the Interstate Commerce Commission they plan to raise their fares, and would like to do so before the Christmas holidays.

Carriers want a 6 per cent increase and a similar increase is also planned by Greyhound Corp. of Chicago and Jefferson Transportation Co. of Minneapolis.

2,000 Alums, Students To Attend Dance

The Hawk's colors of black and gold will decorate the Main Lounge of the Iowa Memorial Union tonight from 8 p.m. until midnight at the annual Homecoming Dance.

Benny Goodman and his orchestra will provide the music for the festive party that is open to all SUI students and alumni. Both student and alumni tickets have been sold out for several days.

Because Goodman is known for his talent on the clarinet, the decorations will include a large gold replica of that instrument hanging from the ceiling in the Lounge. Record jackets with titles of famous Goodman recordings trimmed in black and gold will add to the decor.

Intermission entertainment will include a monologue by Jack Williams, A3, Waterloo. His talk, a discussion of campus life will also be built around song titles.

Other entertainment will include a skit by four coeds and four men who will sing alternating songs about "My Iowa Man" and "The Typical Iowa Coed."

Benny Goodman returned recently from the World's Fair in Brussels and will include only SUI and Indiana University as his college engagements this year.

Working with well-known musicians like Teddy Wilson and Lionel Hampton, Goodman came up with a style now popularly known as "chamber music jazz."

Leo Cortimiglia will play in the River Room during the evening.

Counselors From 7 States To Meet Here Next Week

New vocational rehabilitation counselors of seven states will meet at SUI Center for Continuation Study Monday through Friday of next week.

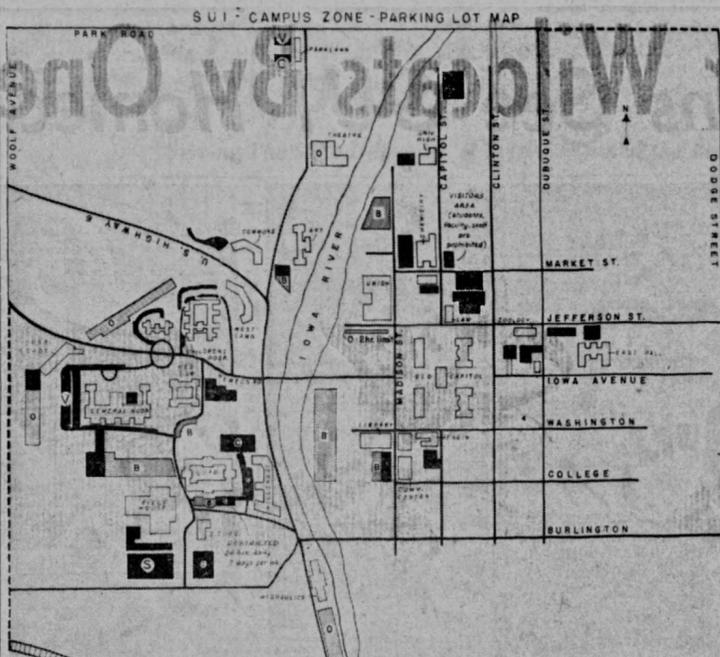

The conference will open Monday morning with a welcome from E. T. Peterson, dean of the SUI College of Education, and a review of the institute agenda by John E. Muthard, assistant professor and rehabilitation counseling psychologist, who is coordinator of the training institute.

Cecil Patterson, of the University of Illinois, will speak Monday afternoon on vocational rehabilitation, followed by Kenneth Jernigan, director of the Iowa Commission for the Blind.

Webber To Speak To Physics Groups

William Webber, of the University of Maryland Department of Physics, will speak at the SUI Physics Colloquium in Room 301 of the Physics Building at 4 p.m. Tuesday.

Dr. Webber's topic will be "Cosmic Ray Time Variations and Their Interpretations." A native of Cedar Rapids, Dr. Webber received his Ph.D. degree from the State University of Iowa in 1957.

SUI Parking Areas

MAP LOCATES SUI parking areas available for people attending Homecoming activities. See page 1 for explaining of SUI facilities, Iowa City parking areas, and special traffic regulations.

Mortar Board To Award Two Coleman Fellowships

Information and application forms are available for two $500 Katherine Willis Coleman Fellowships awarded by the National Council of Mortar Board.

Information and applications may be obtained from Miss Daisy Parker, Mortar Board Fellowship Chairman, Department of Political Science, Florida State University, Tallahassee, Fla. Requests must be made by Dec. 1, 1958.

One fellowship will be awarded to an active member of a 1958-59 chapter of Mortar Board who can qualify as a candidate for an advanced degree beyond the bachelors in an accepted university.

The other fellowship will be awarded to an alumna or an active member.

The alumna shall not have graduated from college more than two years prior and shall not have attended graduate school previously. Other requirements are the same.
