Ohioan Named New Head Of SUI Art Dept.

Frank Seiberling
To Take Over Sept. 18

DES MOINES — Appointment of Frank Seiberling, professor of art history at Ohio State University, as professor and head of the SUI Art Department was approved Friday by the Iowa Board of Regents meeting in Des Moines.

A native of Akron, Ohio, Seiberling will take over the SUI position Sept. 18, at the beginning of the fall, 1959, semester. Earl E. Harper, professor and director of the SUI School of Fine Arts, will continue as acting head of the Art Department until the arrival of Dr. Seiberling.

Replaces Longman
Harper has been acting head of the department since Lester Longman resigned to accept a post as head of the art department at the University of California at Los Angeles last summer. Longman had been head of the SUI department since 1936.

Seiberling has been a member of the faculty at Ohio State University since 1946. He served as director of the School of Fine and Applied Arts there from 1948-1953. He had previously been head of the education department of the Toledo, Ohio, Museum of Art and assistant editor of the Art Bulletin. He served with the U.S. Army in Italy during World War II.

Ph. D. From Chicago
The Ohio professor received an A.B. degree with a major in history from Princeton University in 1931 and a Ph. D. degree with a major in art history from the University of Chicago in 1948. He held a graduate fellowship while at the University of Chicago.

Seiberling studied two years abroad as a graduate student from 1933-35, nine months of the time being spent in Munich. He has written widely for art publications and is the author of a book entitled "Looking into Art," which will be published in the spring by Holt and Co. At present he is at work on a book on 20th century art.

Seiberling is married and has four children.

McClellan To Offer Bills To Correct Union Malpractice

HOUSTON, Tex. (UPI) — Sen. John L. McClellan of Arkansas said Friday night he will introduce in Congress within a few weeks a bill to curb the "cruel, corrupt and contemptible" practices of some Union leaders uncovered in the past year by the Senate.

McClellan, in a speech before the 38th annual conference of the Texas Manufacturers Association, said the Senate Committee on Improper Activities in the Labor and Management Field had uncovered a "staggering amount of lack of integrity prevalent in labor-management relations."

YOU

Must Be 21
And Prove It—Somehow

A novel — though rather confusing — answer was offered to the old legal age question at a local pub.

"I would be 21, a bright little thing explained to the waitress, "but I was sick for two years."

Icy Winds Invade Midwest

High winds — up to 40 miles per hour — whipped icy blasts through Iowa City Friday, accenting the frigid trend of Midwest weather. Some measure of relief was forecast for today and Sunday.

High readings locally today are expected to be near the 25 degree mark with partly cloudy skies. The overnight low was near the zero mark. The outlook for Sunday is for mostly cloudy skies and slightly warmer temperature readings.

Iowa was not the hardest hit by the cold front. A near-blizzard paralyzed South Bend, Ind., Friday with a foot of snow which closed down factories, schools, stores and offices. The mayor declared a state of emergency.

Mayor Edward F. Voorde acted after five hours of driving snow, powered by winds approaching 40 miles per hour. Workers were sent home by the thousands and the city approached isolation as drifts and crippled trucks blocked the main highways.

The South Bend storm was the high point of a vast wintry onslaught which froze the Midwest in zero and sub-zero temperatures, chilled the Southland, and piled up snows six inches deep or more through Ohio, Western Pennsylvania, Southern Michigan, and Upstate New York.

Warnings of heavy snow continuing through the night were issued for a wide area, including South Bend, within 50 to 100 miles of Lake Michigan.

Oswego, N.Y., buried under marathon snows last month, had a half foot of snow and more coming. Upstate New York's snows followed fog so dense that planes were grounded in near-zero visibility.

You Star The Headline For This One!

SAULT STE. MARIE, MICH. (UPI) — Alcohol so concentrated in the blood stream that it literally acted as anti-freeze, may have saved the life of a man found "frozen stiff" on Drummond Island, Mich., Friday.

William Korbi, 55, was "stiff as a board" when he was found in zero weather beside a road where he had been lying for 12 hours before being discovered. Rushed to War Memorial Hospital here, he was pronounced in "fair" condition after emergency treatment.

Dr. William F. Mertaugh, who treated Korbi said that if he lives "I give alcohol the credit for saving his life."

Whistle-Bait Togs For Spring

By DOROTHY ROE
AP Women's Editor

NEW YORK (AP) — Spring clothes of 1959 will draw wolf whistles instead of catcalls.

That's the consensus of 200 American fashion editors after a week of spring showings to the press by the New York couture.

On the final day, editors applauded the impressionist collection of Jane Derby, who showed a flattering and feminine group of suits, coat costumes and dresses.

Her fashions all recognize the natural lines of the figure, yet none are tightly fitted. Fichus and flounces give a flutter of movement, and often big soft collars frame the face.

Ben Gershel, of coat-and-suit fame, shows a group of almost fitted suits which define the curves of bust and waistline, slender, easy and definitely flattering. His coats have armholes deep enough to slip on easily over a suit, are sometimes loose and sometimes belted, and there is a suggestion of the raised waistline in some.

Vera Stewart shows a group of American classics—the simplest possible shirtwaist dresses and easy-fitting sheaths in handsome but restrained fabrics, often with fur-collared cashmere sweaters dyed to match.

Editors attending the week's showings are almost unanimous in their verdict: There's nothing startling, nothing grotesque and nothing distorted about the American fashions for spring. They're just the kind of clothes women can wear and men will like.

... And Chicken Wire Hats

ROME (UPI) — The hats made of chicken wire and a Roman translation of traditional Japanese costumes took star billing at the second day of the Italian high fashion shows Friday.

Designer Luciani jolted an almost all-female audience of fashion experts with his chicken wire hats.

Silver chicken-wire, entwined with violets, was shaped like a bee-hive. Then came the straw birdcage hats—uninhabited. Luciani added a surrealist touch with little hats that gave the illusion flowers were growing out of the top of the model's head.

Antonio de Luca is the man who gave Kimonos, Samurai robes and the obi sash the Italian treatment.

He took the basic themes and lines of Japanese costumes and produced elegant European clothes without a hint of "fancy dress ball" in the whole collection.

The waists were firmly marked by the wide obi sash—sometimes a suede belt, sometimes a band woven into the fabric of the dress. Skirts and bodices were wrapped over kimono fashion.

Coats, always fastened by diamond-shaped buttons, had the severe formality of ancient court robes. But the fabrics were ultra-modern—tangerine mohair and loose weave oatmeal wool.

Suit jackets were worn at an angle, as though you had started to shrug your arms out of a jacket and then changed your mind.

Coad Named To Coveted Ag Committee

First Demo To Post
In Past 75 Years

WASHINGTON (AP) — Iowa Democrats have gained a coveted place on the House Agriculture Committee for the first time in 75 years.

The House Democratic Committee on Committees recommended Friday that Rep. Merwin Coad of Iowa be assigned to the Agriculture Committee.

With the addition of Coad, Iowa, one of the nation's leading farm states, would have two members of that important committee. The other is Rep. Charles B. Hoeven, a Republican.

Not since 1883 has Iowa had a Democrat as a member of the Agriculture Committee. In that year, Luman L. Weller, a Greenback Democrat, served on the committee.

Other recommended House committee assignments for Iowans include:

Reps. Neal Smith, Democrat, government operations; Steven V. Carter, Democrat, House administration and veterans; Leonard G. Wolf, Democrat, space; Ben F. Jensen, Republican, appropriations; Fred Schwengel, Republican, public works; and H. R. Gross, Republican, Merchant Marine and fisheries and post office and civil service committees.

It's An Ill Wind ...

HIGH WINDS in Atlanta, Ga., toppled over a tree which fell across and partially wrecked the home of Robert Henderson Friday. Henderson, his wife and their five children were asleep in the house but all escaped injury. The tree crashed about dawn, providing a rude awakening. ## 600 High Schoolers Here — SUI's Old Gold Days Gets Off To A Flying Start

By NIKKI PETERSON
Staff Writer

About 600 outstanding high school juniors and seniors are here this weekend for a program in their honor, Old Gold Days.

One high school senior from Cedar Rapids explained the program well: "I came to learn all I can about SUI."

Learn—and see—they will, during the weekend geared to give them a taste of the life they will lead as collegiates.

The students took their career interests and questions to a Carers Conference Friday afternoon, where they talked with faculty members about the programs available in 10 broad areas.

Most of the students came with a general idea of the college program they plan to follow.

"I have an interest in history, and quite a few questions already," 16-year-old Pat Lonning said before the Careers Conference. Pat, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Lonning of Iowa City, is a junior at City High School.

Today they will visit the exhibits set up by 40 SUI colleges and departments in the Main Lounge of the Iowa Memorial Union, as a partial answer to the frequent question, "what can I study at SUI?"

The students will take bus tours of the entire campus this afternoon — "Bigger than our whole town," one girl exclaimed.

High school leaders will exchange views on the thorny ques-

Iowa Griddler Furlong Faces OMVI Charge

Kevin M. Furlong, A4, Detroit, Mich., a halfback on the championship Iowa football team which played in the 1959 Rose Bowl, was released from police custody Friday after posting a $500 bond.

Furlong was charged with operating a motor vehicle while intoxicated. The 22-year-old Iowa griddler who lives with his wife at 2130 Muscatine Ave., was arrested Friday about 1:45 a.m. in Coralville as he was driving on Highway 6. County Attorney Ralph L. Neuzil said Furlong was arrested by Coralville police for "driving erratically."

Police Judge Ansel Chapman said a preliminary hearing has been continued until the results of a blood test have been received, probably next week.

Rebels Also Want Back Batista Funds

Bonsal Accepted
As New U.S. Envoy

United Press International
HAVANA — Fidel Castro demanded Friday night that the United States return for trial "war criminals" of Fulgencio Batista's overthrown regime who fled when the July 26 revolutionary movement seized power Jan. 1.

Castro also demanded the return of money he said the Batista followers took from the Cuban treasury.

Castro made the demands in a speech to 10,000 workers and students massed outside the Presidential palace after it was announced that six leading U.S. banking and business firms had advanced the new Government more than $1,500,000 to help consolidate its financial position.

Calls Mass Meeting
Castro, speaking from the Palace balcony, called on the workers to mobilize a half million Cubans in the people's park here next Wednesday to emphasize demands for return of the "war criminals" from the United States for trial. He also appealed for solidarity in the ranks of Cuban workers in support of the revolutionary Government.

As Castro spoke, the new regime continued its program of "war crimes" trials and executions. At least nine more followers of Batista died before firing squads in the past 24 hours.

It was also announced by Foreign Minister Roberto Agramonte that Cuba had accepted the appointment of Philip Bonsal, now U.S. Ambassador to Bolivia, as the new U.S. Envoy to Cuba. Bonsal will take over amid growing protests in the United States against the "war crimes" executions.

Bonsal replaces Earl E. T. Smith, who resigned following charges by revolutionary spokesmen that he had favored the fallen Batista regime.

24 Released
The nine most recent executions occurred in three of Cuba's six provinces.

During the same period, twenty four other prisoners were released from jail in Santiago, capital of Oriente Province, because of insufficient evidence against them.

Dr. Enrique Menocal, the Finance Ministry's tax director, said the money given the Government was an advance on taxes due next March.

Menocal listed the American firms and their contributions as follows: United Fruit Co., $500,000; Nicaro Nickel Co., $375,000; Colgate, Palmolive Peet, $300,000; First National Bank of Boston, $150,000; International Harvester, $125,000; First National City Bank of New York, $100,000.

Wants Charges Dropped
In another development, acting President Manuel Urrutia announced Cuba was asking the United States to drop charges against Cuban citizens awaiting trial in the United States for helping Fidel Castro rebels.

Scores of Cubans were arrested in several American cities during the 2-year revolt for running arms or otherwise violating American neutrality.

The first of 77 Batista supporters who took asylum in foreign embassies in Havana were flown into exile Friday with permission of the revolutionary Government. Their departure was booted and jeered by a crowd at Havana's International Airport.

Applications Now Available For Week In Washington

As many as 20 Iowa college students may be awarded free trips to Washington, D.C., this spring, Robert F. Ray, director of the Iowa Citizenship Clearing House, announced.

Students who win the awards will be the guests of Iowa Congressmen and their families for a week in Washington. They will attend sessions of Congress, committee meetings and hearings, and meet national political leaders.

Application forms for the "Week in Washington" trips are now available at the political science departments of all 4-year Iowa colleges and universities, Ray said.

Feb. 2 is the deadline for filing application forms. The headquarters of the Iowa Citizenship Clearing House is at SUU.

The final selection of students who will be sent to Washington will be made by the clearing house's advisory board, a group of Iowa political leaders, college administrators and professors.

This is the fifth year the "Week in Washington" trips have been sponsored by the clearing house and the Republican and Democratic parties of Iowa, Ray said.

Iowa City Woman Held On Bogus Check Charge

Good Listening—Today On WSUI

ON CUE TODAY: Another on-the-spot, first-hand report from David Stell on tensions in Little Rock. Fear was the motif for the Christmas holidays in that Arkansas city—without schools, and that, who toured the South in this vacation time, has returned with a curious collection of data and anecdotes one would be unlikely to have discovered from any other source.

Still another who has been touring on a somewhat larger scale recently is John Scott, assistant to the publisher of Time magazine, whose answers to two different groups of questions from Professor William Porter deal with "Freedom in Russia" and "Soviet Education." Others who will be on cue are basketball coach Sharm Scheuerman, high school students attending Old Gold Days, Ken Nordine (recorded) and Larry Barrett (unrecorded). The usual news, weather, sports and music should stave off ennui from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m.

SATURDAY SUPPLEMENT, 1 to 4 p.m., resides in at least two worlds from time to time after noon as it (1) surveys the Beat Generation and (2) reminisces at Covent Garden. An essay, "Where is the Beat Generation Going?" (Podhoretz), thoughts on Juvenile Delinquency (Steinbeck) and readings from On the Road (Kerouac), the Covent Garden Royal Italian Opera House Centenary was observed in recorded form by the BBC. Such luminaries as Kirsten Flagstad, Bruno Walter, Rosa Ponselle, Lotte Lehman and Sir Adrian Boult take part. In addition, SS will have Cyril Ritchard reading from Alice in Wonderland, Anna Russell on "How to Do Your Own Gilbert and Sullivan Opera" and the concluding portion of "Taking the Miracle Out of Miracle Drugs."

OG Days First Aid

UK, UAR Financial Fight Solved

CAIRO (UPI) — Britain and the United Arab Republic solved their financial fights over the diplomatic relations.

World Bank President Eugene Black announced the agreement had been reached and would be signed formally within several days.

It was a momentous personal victory for the American. He had spent two weeks in Cairo, and a previous period in London, getting Britain and the UAR to agree to be friends again.

The text of the agreement was not made public but informed sources gave the general terms of it.

Britain is to release Egyptian funds in British banks. The fund, believed to amount to about $218 million, were frozen by the British Government the day after President Gamal Abdel Nasser nationalized the Suez Canal July 26, 1956.

In return, the U.A.R. will pay compensation for British business seized in Egypt.

Labor Committee Favors Bill Of AFL-CIO Backed Reform

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Jubilant pro-labor Democrats won decisive control of the House Education & Labor Committee Friday, almost insuring that the group will approve a labor reform bill satisfactory to leaders of the AFL-CIO.

The development also increased chances for later approval by the committee—although not necessarily by the House itself—of separate legislation to provide some of the changes sought in the Taft-Hartley Act by organized labor.

Northern Democrats

The Democratic Committee on Education and Labor, formed last week with the approval of Speaker Sam Rayburn (Tex.), filled all five Democratic vacancies on the committee with newly-elected Congressmen from northern industrial areas.

"It's terrific," exclaimed one liberal Democrat.

He predicted that on many issues the new line-up would give liberal forces an 18-to-12 edge over the Republican-Southern Democratic coalition which frequently forced a 15-15 deadlock last session.

Meantime, Rep. Carroll D. Kearns (R-Pa.), top GOP member of the labor group, announced he would sponsor President Eisenhower's labor program in the House. He said it contained "no union-busting tactics" and should be acceptable to both Democrats and Republicans.

Kearns said the proposals would protect union rights, tighten laws on secondary boycotts, protect union treasuries against irresponsible officials and provide for "true and responsible collective bargaining."

Labor chiefs foresee certain enactment of a labor reform bill this session.

GOP On Rules Committee

At the same time that Democrats were loading up the labor committee with liberals, Republicans made certain that conservatives would have stronger control over the House Rules Committee which controls the flow of legislation to the floor.

Democratic leaders laid the groundwork for giving the liberals control of the Labor & Education Committee last week by insisting that Democrats get 20 of the groups 30 seats. The ratio last year was 17 Democrats and 13 Republicans.

Plane Crashes Near Argentine Coast; All 50 Aboard Reported Killed

BUENOS AIRES (UPI) — A plane crashed into the sea off Mar Del Plata Friday night, and first reports said all 50 persons aboard were killed.

Mar Del Plata is a seaside resort on the Atlantic Coast at Cape Corrientes 230 miles south southeast of Buenos Aires.

The plane, a 2-engine Curtiss Commando 46, carried 46 passengers and four crew members. It was owned by Austral, a private airline. It was on a flight from Buenos Aires to Mar Del Plata when the accident occurred.

Pravda: Bulganin, Molotov, Malenkov Miserable Political Bankrupts

MOSCOW (UPI) — The Communist Party newspaper Pravda Friday denounced the ousted Bulganin-Molotov-Malenkov group as a "miserable bunch of political bankrupts" responsible for shortcomings in Soviet production last year.

Alford Gets Bottom Position On Minor House Committee

WASHINGTON (UPI) — House Democratic leaders gave Rep. Dale Alford (D-Ark.) the bottom position Friday on the relatively minor Post Office and Civil Service Committee.

Alford, a Little Rock, Ark. segregationist who beat veteran Rep. Brooks Hayes in a still-disputed "paste in" campaign last fall, was assigned to only one committee.

The committee's work is expected to attract even less attention than usual this session because it cleared out most of the important issues in its field last year.

Ousted Martin Ends Up With Newest Chauffeur-Driven Cadillac Limousine

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Ousted Republican leader Joseph W. Martin Jr. ended up better off Friday than all the Congressional leaders at least in one respect: he had the newest chauffeur-driven Cadillac limousine.

The shiny, new air conditioned, fully-equipped limousine complete with white wall tires and extras purred up to the capitol Friday. Congressional sources said it cost the taxpayers $11,000.

The House in an unusual gesture of generosity decided last Monday that Martin should continue to be provided with a chauffeur-driven car at taxpayer expense, even though Republicans had ousted him as their floor leader.

Arkansas Legislative Committee Brands NAACP Communist

LITTLE ROCK (UPI) — An Arkansas Legislative Council special committee Friday accused the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People of being a captive of Communism.

The statement was in a report of the committee publicized by Attorney General Bruce Bennett. He conducted a 3-day hearing for the committee last December. The report was based on the hearing.

"The NAACP appears to have been heavily infiltrated with subversives and, wittingly or unwittingly, is now a captive of the Communist apparatus," the report said.

Mrs. L. C. Bates, state NAACP president, denied the charge.

tion of leadership with campus leaders at the Leadership Training School at 9 a.m. today in Room 105, Macbride Hall.

A popular attraction on the agenda today is the SUI-Michigan State swim meet, with the Dolphin Club swimming exhibition following.

High school principals will meet with SUI freshmen who graduated from their schools this morning to discuss the problems of adjustment to college life. The High-schoolers and the SUI community returned home enthusiastically after the two performances of Varsity Varieties, SUI student talent show, Friday night.

"Almost professional," was the common acclaim. "It makes our high school talent look so amateur," one girl said.

The two remaining variety shows will be presented today at 7 and 9:30 p.m. in Macbride Auditorium. Tickets still are available for 75 cents outside the Gold Feather Room in the Union, at Whetstone's Drug Store and at the door before performances. High school students will be admitted to the shows free.

High school principals will meet and invited to dance to three bands at the "Union Showcase," today at 8:30 p.m. in the Union. The free dance is sponsored by the Student Union Board.

High school girls, who are the occupants in new rooms at Burge Hall, were impressed with the new dormitory, and especially, the phones in every room. Visiting girls will be honored at a tea from 3 until 4 p.m. today in the South Foyer at Currier Hall.

The telephones at Burge also are popular with the high school boys, who are staying at Hillcrest and Quadrangle Dormitories.

In only a few hours, the weekend has already made the high schoolers anxious to come again. "I can hardly wait to graduate," one boy said. "I had no idea college was really this neat."

1 Dead, 20 Injured In Truck-Train Wreck

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — The Rock Island Railroad's crack Twin Star Rocket and a truck loaded with steel bars collided Friday night, killing the truck driver and injuring 20 of the train's passengers and crew.

The truck driver perished in the flaming wreckage of his truck. The train's baggage car overturned and eight of the 10 passenger cars jumped the track but remained upright.

Iowa Escapee Nabbed In Maine

PORTLAND, Maine (AP) — An escapee from Iowa State Penitentiary was nabbed here Friday in an apartment.

Louis F. Davis, 31, escaped from the prison at Fort Madison, Dec. 10. He has served six years of a 25-year sentence for armed robbery.

Portland Police Capt. Edward M. Kochian said Davis was taken unaware and offered no resistance. "I guess we just surprised him."

McElroy: U.S. Can Deter War

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Neil H. McElroy assured senators Friday the United States is strong enough to deter general war or cope with limited conflict. But some Democratic senators were unconvinced.

"I'm satisfied our over-all posture is adequate to provide deterrence to any kind of general war, if the Russians use good judgment," McElroy said.

The defense chief also said that in event of a local-type outbreak this country is ready to step in with the required force and necessary speed.

McElroy spoke with newsmen after he and Gen. Nathan F. Twining, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, emerged from a secret briefing they had given to the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

Several committee members said they weren't told anything new or more than they had read in the newspapers.

Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.) said after the briefing that he wasn't in complete agreement with Secretary McElroy on an over-all position.

State Printing Superintendent Dies At Work

DES MOINES (AP) — Sherman W. Needham, 77, state superintendent of printing and widely known newspaper publisher, died Friday.

Needham apparently suffered a heart attack at his desk in the Statehouse shortly after 9 a.m. while talking to George Marchi, head of the motor vehicle fuel tax division.

He was a member of a pioneer newspaper family in Iowa.

His father and uncle established the Oskaloosa Herald. The family later moved to Sigourney where Needham was born.

His father, W. H. Needham, was owner of the Keokuk County News at Sigourney at the time.

After his graduation from Iowa Wesleyan College, he became associated with his father in the Keokuk County News. He later published the Hardin County Ledger at Eldora and the Milepost at Ames.

He was named a Master Editor-Publisher by the Iowa Press Assn. in 1943.

UAW Strike At Harvester Nears End

CHICAGO (UPI) — The Harvester Council of the United Auto Workers (UAW) Friday night voted approval of a proposal to end the union's 64-day strike against International Harvester Co.

The more than 150 members of the Council, voting according to the union members they represented, approved the settlement by a margin of 14,926 to 12,564.

The last move to end the walk-out which has idled 13,000 workers at 15 Harvester plants in six states will come today, when rank-and-file union members vote on the proposal.

The Harvester Council approved the settlement, reached after a marathon bargaining session Thursday, despite the recommendation of the union's National Harvester Negotiating Committee against acceptance.

The controversy carried over into Friday's meeting, which lasted close to 7 hours before the decision was reached.

Duane (Pat) Greathouse, UAW International vice-president and head of the Harvester Council, drew boos when he rose to urge acceptance of the settlement.

The settlement calls for a 3-year contract including annual pay increases of 6 cents an hour or 2 1/2 per cent, whichever is larger.

$18,000 Stolen From Ford Plant

DES MOINES (AP) — Authorities pressed their search Friday night for the burglars who got about $18,000 in cash from a safe at the Ford Implement Plant here.

The money was taken early Friday from a safe in the employees' credit union office at the plant.

Mikoyan Offers Old Neutral Zone Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — Russian Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan dusted off for new inspection Friday an old Communist plan for a neutral zone across Europe. Administration officials eyed it suspiciously.

Mikoyan held two long discussions of East-West cold war problems during the day with Secretary of State Dulles. The first lasted nearly 2 1/2 hours; the second about 70 minutes.

Neither side provided any details.

Between the two sessions, Mikoyan was guest of honor at a luncheon given by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee. It was there that he trotted out the neutral zone proposal.

He was quoted as telling the senators Russia might be willing to withdraw its troops 500 miles east of the Elbe River if the Western Powers would withdraw 500 miles west. The Elbe divides East and West Germany.

Administration officials said privately the idea was only a slight variation of a proposal broached several times in the past and described as unacceptable by the West.

The Iowa gymnastics team completely dominated the Air Force Academy squad in a dual meet here Friday, winning 73-38. The Hawkeys took first places in all seven events.

Staffan Carlsson, competing in his last home contest, was the individual scoring leader for Iowa. He scored 29 points in winning four events and sharing a first place in the parallel bars competition with teammate Bill Buck.

Buck took two first and two second finishes, scoring a total of 19 points. Tim Joe added the other first place with a win on the trampoline.

The Iowa squad will be at Champaign, Ill., today facing Illinois in a dual meet. The Illini have won nine consecutive Big Ten titles and have what may be their strongest team in several years.

Dope Article Brings Suit By Sooners

OKLAHOMA CITY (UPI) — A libel suit seeking $150,000 in damages from the publishers of True Magazine was filed here Friday as a result of an article alleging that University of Oklahoma football players were given narcotics.

Attorney Robert G. Grove, who filed the suit in Oklahoma County District Court, said he may file as many as 10 other similar suits, totaling more than a million dollars. Friday's suit listed Dennis Morris, former Sooners fullback, as the author of the article.

Defendants in the suit are Fawcett Publications Inc., Greenwich, Conn., and Midcontinent News Co., Oklahoma City, which distributes the magazine in Oklahoma. They will have until Feb. 15 to file an answer.

The suit grew out of an article in the March, 1958 issue of True entitled "The Pill That Can Kill Sports."

The author was Neal Wilkinson, no relation to Oklahoma Coach Bud Wilkinson.

The article discussed amphetamine, a drug banned from race tracks following widespread use to dope horses.

It alleged that several high school, college and professional athletic clubs, including the University of Oklahoma football team, were using it to "pep up" their players.

"During the 1956 season when Oklahoma was increasing its sensational victory streak, several physicians observed Oklahoma players being sprayed in the nostrils with an atomizer," the writer said.

He said that once during a televised game, "A closeup showed Oklahoma spray jobs to the nation."

Wilkinson and OU athletic trainer Ken Rawlinson emphatically denied that players had been given stimulants. Rawlinson explained that Sooners athletes' throats and mouths were sprayed with oil of peppermint, if they requested it, to relieve "cotton mouth," a lack of saliva brought on by heavy exertion.

Friday's suit said that reference to OU was "grossly untrue, vicious, malicious and damaging to the good character" of the plaintiff. The petition stated that the use of narcotics without prescription is a misdemeanor in Oklahoma, and since the statement imputes to the plaintiff the commission of a crime, it is libelous per se.

The suit said as a result of the article, "This plaintiff has been exposed to public hatred, contempt, ridicule and obloquy, and has been deprived of the public confidence which he heretofore enjoyed." It said the article was published "with reckless disregard to the rights" of the 59 members of the 1956 OU football squad.

The lawsuit asked for $100,000 general damages and $50,000 punitive damages.

Cagers Face Rugged Indiana Tonight On Hoosiers' Court

By LOU YOUNKIN
Sports Editor

The Iowa basketball team, currently tied for seventh place in the Big Ten, faces defending champion Indiana at Bloomington tonight in a pivotal battle for both teams.

The Hawkeys have lost their two conference games by a total of only nine points and need a victory to get into the thick of the pennant race. A win for Indiana would give Branch McCracken's cagers undisputed first place — at least temporarily — since co-leaders Illinois and Michigan have the night off.

Radio Coverage
Game time is 7:35 p.m. (Iowa time) with radio stations WSUI, Iowa City; KRNT, Des Moines; WHO, Des Moines; and WMT, Cedar Rapids airing the action in this area.

The Hoosiers lost their loop opener to Michigan State in a 79-77 thriller, but have racked up three wins in a row since then. They own a 77-69 decision over Purdue, a 76-69 victory over Northwestern and a 63-59 squeaker over Minnesota.

Iowa, after bowing to Northwestern, 80-77, thumped Michigan State, 80-68 and then was outshot 103-97 at Illinois. Their season record is 4-7.

Hoosiers Ready
Indiana, with a 6-5 record for all games, will not be caught with its guard down tonight according to McCracken. "I don't think we'll have to remind our boys that this is the team which beat Michigan State, which defeated us in the opener. We know what to expect from a team which scored 97 points against Illinois at Champaign," he said.

One of McCracken's worries is the squad's necessary pre-occupation with semester finals. Exams started Friday and most squad members are reported to have their tests Friday and today. The exam schedule also curtailed the Hoosiers to two practice sessions, Wednesday and Thursday, for the Iowa coach Sharm Schuerman will probably go with the same starting five that has begun all three league games. That would find co-captain Dave Gunther and

Gunther Top Hawk
Gunther is leading the Hawks in both scoring and rebounding. He has grabbed 130 missed shots and poured in 256 points for a 23.2 average. His shooting percentage of 42.6 is also tops. Wordlaw, who has been playing up to expectations since conference play began, is averaging 12 points per contest over the 11 games played — but ranks No. 4 in the league with a 22.3 mark.

Gentry will have his hands full with the towering Bellamy — and at 6'7" will be spotting the Indiana pivot man 3½ inches.

Gentry is second in rebounding with 127 and third in scoring with an average of 11.4 points.

Heitman, the shortest starter at 5'8", is scoring at a 7.4 point rate and is hitting .407 in field goal accuracy. Heitman makes up for his lack of size by playing a spirited floor game and is a constant threat from his defensive forward position.

The team's second best shooter is Washington with a 41.0 percentage, but the 5'10" junior has launched only 78 attempts in the 11 games. His average is 6.3 points a game.

Zagar In Reserve
Ron Zagar, who was impressive with his 13 points and fine all-around play at Illinois Monday, is slated for relief duties in the backcourt. Others expected to see action for Iowa tonight are forward George Seaberg, 6'8" center Frank Mundt and guard Earl Nau.

Indiana will enter the fray with a height advantage of almost two inches per man and forecasters are quoting the Hoosiers as 7-10 point favorites.

In their only meeting last year, the Hawkeys took a 79-75 decision over the champions here.

Doc's Verdict Ends Career Of Atkinson

NEW YORK (AP) — The little professor, Ted Atkinson, decided to hang up his riding togs Friday on the advice of his physician, and retire from racing after 21 years that put him at the top of his profession.

Atkinson, now 42, left it up to Dr. Alexander Kaye, chief surgeon at Physicians Hospital, and the man who has cared for many riders.

Began Late
A chronic sacroiliac condition was the reason for the retirement of Toronto Teddy, who started to ride comparatively late as jockeys go. He rode his first winner May 18, 1938, at Beulah Park, near Columbus, O.

Ted, one of the most popular jockeys with the public and among his fellow riders, had been bothered with back pains for months. Friday the doctor gave the verdict after a 30-minute examination.

Only three other jockeys have ridden more winners than Atkinson — Johnny Longden, Sir Gordon Richards, and Eddie Arcazo. Longden, with 5,241 winners and Arcazo, with 4,206 still are active. Richards retired with 4,870 and Atkinson bowed out with 3,795.

$17 Million
Atkinson's mounts earned $17,449,360, of which Atkinson collected the usual 10 per cent.

Atkinson said the decision to call it quits was tough.

"It wasn't easy to say goodbye to what has been my life for more than two decades," he said. "After all, I lived out of a trunk for 21 years. You kind of get used to it."

Ted and his wife, Martha, have a daughter, Cathie, 17; and two sons, John, 13, and Mark, 3.

Atkinson said Marshall Cassidy, director of racing for the New York Racing Association which operates all tracks in the state, had offered him a job as an official.

Army's Chalmers Named ISC Athletic Director

AMES (AP) — Iowa State College ended a 2-year search for a new athletic director Friday by naming Gordon Chalmers of the U.S. Military Academy.

The appointment was made by the Iowa State Athletic Council with concurrence by Dr. James Hilton, president of the college, and the State Board of Regents.

To Replace Menze
He succeeds Louis E. Menze, who has been affiliated with Iowa State first as a head basketball coach and then as an athletic director for 30 years. Menze reaches 65 this summer, the age of retirement for Iowa State College administrative heads.

The search for a new director began in December, 1956, when Menze told the council to relieve him of his duties, preparatory to retiring.

Chalmers, 47, swimming coach and assistant athletic director at West Point, first came under serious consideration when council members invited him to meet with them at last week's N.C.A.A. meeting in Cincinnati, O. He was interviewed further on the campus here last Monday.

He originally was urged to apply for the job by Jack McGuire, Iowa State swimming coach. The two swimming coaches first met at an NCAA swimming meet in 1947.

Dr. Hilton said Chalmers will be paid between $13,000 and $14,000 a year. Menze received $11,000 last year.

In '32 Olympics
Chalmers was graduated from Franklin and Marshall College in 1935, was a member of the 1932 U.S. Olympic swimming team and later coached swimming at Lafayette and Lehigh before going to West Point in 1946.

He told The Associated Press

Wall 7 Under Par For Midway Lead In Crosby Tourney

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif. (AP) — Precision putter Art Wall shot a 7-under-par 65 Friday to grab the midway lead in Bing Crosby's $50,000 golf tournament with a 36-hole score of 134.

The 165-pounder from Pocono Manor, Pa., needed just 25 putts on the Monterey Peninsula course. He fired a 31 on the back nine, getting six birdies.

His second straight sub-par round gave him a 4-stroke bulge on the field with Jimmy Demaret of Kiamasha Lake, N.Y., and Jim Ferree of Winston-Salem, N.C., next at 138. Demaret scored the lowest of the day, a 64, also over Monterey Peninsula.

Ferree, who opened with a 70 at Pebble Beach, came on with a 68 at Cypress Point.

Deadlocked at 140 were Jay Hebert, 71-69; Gene Littler, 73-67 and Dow Finsterwald, 69-71. Hebert played at Monterey and finished with an eagle on the 18th.

Wall and his partner, U.S. Amateur champion Charlie Coe, carded a best-ball 60 for a 125 total to lead the field in that division of Crosby's 18th national pro-amateur event. Next at 126 came Demaret with California football Coach Pete Elliott and Wesley Ellis Jr., and San Francisco amateur Frank Tatum Jr. Demaret-Elliott shot 66-60 and Ellis-Tatum 63-63.

All-Star Bowling Lead To Welu; Hitt Now 5th
BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — Billy Welu of St. Louis romped into first place in the All-Star Bowling Tournament Friday on the basis of a sixth-round Peterson point total of 118-22.

He used a 4-game sweep over Bill Bunetta of Chicago, 889-765, to power his final burst to the top of the 16-man standings.

Lou Campi of Dumont, N.J. dropped Bob Hitt from first to fifth place and earned second place for himself in the bargain. Hitt, from Livonia, Mich., had been the fifth round leader, but he lobbed a tepid 763 series in the next stanza as Campi cut loose with 873 to sweep four straight.

Buchholz Upset, Future In Doubt

ADELAIDE (AP) — Earl Buchholz, a beaten and dejected figure, pondered his future in competitive tennis Friday while three of his American Davis Cup teammates opened their bids in the Australian National Tennis Championships.

Buchholz, holder of the Wimbledon, French and United States junior titles, said he needed a long rest from tennis after bowing in the first match Friday to little-known Neil Gibson of Australia.

Three other American Davis Cup players, Alex Olmedo, Barry MacKay and Chris Crawford, are to play their first matches today after drawing byes through the first round.

Buchholz, an 18-year-old St. Louis high school senior, became so provoked over his poor play and the officiating in last week's Western Australian Tournament that he was blind with anger.

Friday his play was sluggish and lackadaisical.

He served 24 double faults. He broke two of his best racket-accidents, not in the heat of anger in losing 8-6, 6-4, 1-6, 6-1.

Later he said, "I want to go home and rest about six months." Instead he will remain here and continue in the junior tournament.

Buchholz showed great promise in the early stages of the Australian trip, then suddenly went sour — both in his tennis and his mental approach to the game.

"Unless he can lick this trouble he never will be any use to himself or the game," said Perry Jones, U.S. Davis Cup captain.

"He must learn to control his emotions."

Flyweight King Bows
TOKYO (AP) — Japan's Sadao Yacuta, a 4-1 underdog, Friday night handed world flyweight champion Pascual Perez of Argentina the first defeat of his pro career. The 23-year-old Japanese won a unanimous decision in the dull non-title 10-round bout.

Perez, 32, had compiled a record of 48 victories and one draw since he turned pro in 1952.

Packers Deny Seeking Evy

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP) — Further reports that Forest Evashevski, Iowa football coach, was being sought by the Green Bay Packers for their vacant coaching job, brought no confirmation Friday from Packers officials.

"I don't know a thing about it," said Dominic Olejniczak, president of Green Bay's professional team.

Reports have been made that Evashevski made a definite offer and rumors were that the salary for the job might be $40,000 a year or more.

Evashevski, who twice led Iowa to Rose Bowl championships, was in Columbus, O. Friday night for a speech to the Columbus Touchdown Club.

Earlier this week Evashevski said at St. Petersburg, Fla., he knew nothing about reports that Green Bay had contacted him. When asked if he would accept the job if offered he said:

"I have not thought about it. I would have to talk to the Green Bay officials first."

NCAA Nixed Poll On Sub Rule; Eliot

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP) — The NCAA Football Rules Committee spurned the free substitution rule for 1959 although 79 per cent of the nation's coaches favored it. Coach Ray Eliot of Illinois reported Friday.

Eliot, member of an NCAA subcommittee on rules changes, said he conducted a poll of members of the American Football Coaches Association.

"I took it upon myself to conduct the poll," said Eliot, dean of Big Ten football coaches, "because a lot of people wanted to find out how the coaches felt about the substitution rule."

Iowa Grad President Of NY Touchdown Club

Ario Wilson, who was graduated from SU in 1912, will be inducted as president of the Touchdown Club of New York at its 25th Anniversary Awards Dinner, Jan. 22.

Wilson is president of the Iowa Alumni Association of New York where he is secretary of a national trade association. In his collegiate days here, Wilson captained the Hawkeye track team during the 1911 season.

His brother, Eric Wilson, is Iowa Sports Information Director.

The Touchdown Club will award Earl (Red) Blaik with the 1958 Award as the individual who has made a contribution of permanent value to the sport of football.

Michigan State At Fieldhouse Pool At 2 p.m.

By DICK STUART
Staff Writer

Iowa's swimming team, fresh from an opening season victory over Wisconsin last Saturday, hosts the powerful Michigan State tankers today at 2 p.m. in the Fieldhouse pool.

The meet will feature four national collegiate individual champions. In the sprints, Gary Morris, Iowa's National Collegiate and Big Ten freestyle champion will face stiff competition in MSU's Don Patterson, who won the NCAA 100-yard freestyle in 1958. Morris was a double winner at Wisconsin last weekend, taking the 60 and 100-yard freestyle events.

Tied For First
In the NCAA meet last spring, Morris and Patterson tied for first with the identical 49.5 times, but the judges awarded the title to Patterson. Morris gained revenge in the Big Ten meet, winning in record time, while Patterson finished third.

Michigan state is blessed with two other National Collegiate champions, Billy Stewart and Franklin Modine. Stewart won the 40-yard and 1500-meter freestyle events in the National Collegiate finals, while Modine won the 100-yard breaststroke.

Record Against Cyclones
Earlier this year against Iowa State, the Spartans' only opponent to date, Modine swam the 220-yard breaststroke in the record time of 2:23.5.

Coach Bob Allen's Hawkeys have fair team balance, but the Spartans, who overwhelmed Iowa State 73-23, winning all but one first place, are favored in the duel meet. Iowa defeated Wisconsin 58-47.

Following completion of the varsity swimming and diving competition, the Dolphin Club, men's swimming fraternity, will present a show, which will be highlighted by an underwater race by freshmen members of the fraternity.
