Ike And Warren Deny Rumors Of Rift In Friendship

President To Visit Mexico

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower will visit Acapulco, Mexico, Feb. 19-20 for informal talks with Mexico's President Adolfo Lopez Mateos.

The White House announced Wednesday night that Mr. Eisenhower has accepted an invitation extended by Lopez Mateos.

Press secretary James C. Hagerty made public an exchange of correspondence between Secretary of State Dulles and Mexico's new ambassador, Antonio Carrillo Florio.

Dulles wrote that it is Mr. Eisenhower's firm belief that the custom of such informal meetings "is of the highest importance as a symbol of the historical and cultural ties of friendship, cordiality and mutual confidence which unite the peoples of Mexico and the United States as well as their two governments."

Acapulco, a resort center, is located on Mexico's Pacific Coast.

No Job For Disappointed Negro Boy

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A 14-year-old Negro boy who came here from Chicago to accept appointment as a page in the House of Representatives learned Wednesday there was no job open.

Jimmie A. Johnson Jr. flew to Washington Tuesday night with his mother and younger brother, Fred. They had the idea Rep. Barratt O'Hara (D-Ill.) had obtained a page's job for Jimmie.

But key lawmakers said there was no vacancy to be filled. And if there were, they said, O'Hara wouldn't be entitled to fill it.

Blames Southerners

Jimmie, crushed by the turn of events, told a reporter "the Southern congressmen didn't want me."

However, Rep. Francis E. Walter (D-Pa.), chairman of the House Democratic Patronage Committee, said he advised O'Hara last Friday there was no vacancy for a page boy. He also denied any Southern intervention. He said no one had complained about the boy and that race was not involved. He said he never had heard the boy's name and did not know he was a Negro until he arrived in Washington.

O'Hara could not be found to clear up the situation.

Walter said House page boy appointments and other patronage for Illinois customarily were handled through the dean of the State's Democratic congressional delegation, Rep. Thomas J. O'Brien.

Week's Delay

Jimmie's aunt, Miss Ethel Payne, said O'Hara telephoned her last Thursday that the appointment was set. But he called back Friday, she said, and said there might be a week's delay and Jimmie should come to Washington about the middle of this week.

"That was the last official word that I have had from him," Miss Payne said.

Jimmie, who talked to newsmen on the Capitol steps, said his father told him before leaving Chicago that he should keep his "ears open and his mouth shut and learn about politics."

"What I've heard so far I don't like," he said.

Jimmie said he was "just sitting tight" waiting to hear from O'Hara.

"I think the Southern Democrats are trying to mix things up and sabotage things while he's away," the boy said.

Page jobs are among the patronage appointments parceled out among House members on the basis of seniority.

Ike Brands Scribe's Story 'Irresponsible'

Chief Justice Says 'Merits No Comment'

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Eisenhower and Chief Justice Earl Warren denied Wednesday that they were angry at each other.

The President said a newspaper story that his relationship with Warren had become "cold and distant" because of certain Supreme Court decisions was "irresponsible reporting."

Donovan An Authority

The report attracted considerable attention because it was written by Robert J. Donovan, chief of the New York Herald Tribune's Washington staff. Donovan wrote a book about Mr. Eisenhower's first term which was considered a semi-official account because he had access to minutes of cabinet meetings and talked to the President's official family in its preparation.

Ike Seemed Surprised

The President denied the story at his news conference. Warren's denial was in the form of a 100-word statement issued from his office.

Mr. Eisenhower seemed surprised when the Herald Tribune story was brought up at the news conference, interrupting three times to make sure he was getting the sense of the questions.

But he answered quickly and in a serious tone.

"Well, so far as I am concerned, here is some irresponsible reporting," Mr. Eisenhower said.

He reminded the newsmen that he never commented on Supreme Court decisions and went on to say: "I have regarded the Chief Justice as my personal friend for years, and I know of no personal rift of any kind."

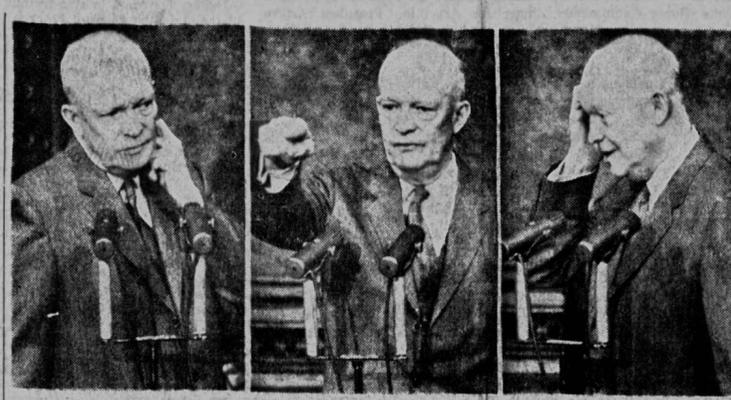

Mr. Eisenhower said if the Chief Justice actually was unhappy about the President's conduct on the school issue "I should think, and I am quite sure, that he is capable of telling me himself and doesn't have to take it to the public printer."

Cold And Distant

Donovan wrote that the association of the President and the Chief Justice since 1953 had passed from "heartiness and enthusiasm" to a "current relationship" that is "cold and distant and marred by disapproval on both sides."

The story said Mr. Eisenhower appointed Warren, then governor of California and a powerful force in Republican politics, because he felt their attitudes toward major issues were much alike.

It said when Warren began siding with the "liberals" on the high court on controversial cases, especially in the subversive control field, the President "began by expressing mild incredulity over the Warren position" and "finally wound up in a state of anger."

State Agents Checking For Unpaid Taxes

DES MOINES (AP) — The Iowa Tax Commission, stepping up its drive to uncover unpaid monies and credits taxes, said Wednesday its efforts are paying big dividends.

The commission said a special field representative assigned to Scott County added more than $18 million from Davenport to the county's monies and credits tax list in the last month. That check is continuing.

A second field representative will be assigned to Des Moines as soon as the present personal property assessments are completed.

May Add Personnel

"It may be necessary to add personnel for making more extensive checks on unreported taxable monies and credits," said Commission Chairman Leon Miller.

He recalled that a special field representative assigned to Woodbury County last year added more than $30 million from Sioux City to the county's monies and credits tax list.

"It is entirely possible that the commission will from time to time check again on monies and credits reported in some of the counties that its representatives heretofore checked on and added a considerable sum to the tax lists," Miller said.

Under Iowa Law, Property Subject To Taxation That Was Withheld, Overlooked, Or For Any Other Cause Was Not Listed And Assessed, Can Be Assessed Anytime Within Five Years From The Date At Which The Assessments Should Have Been Made.

Taxable Stock

The greater part of the extra collections, Miller said, came from unreported taxable monies and credits on shares of capital stock of corporations whose stock is taxable in the hands of residents of Iowa.

For several years the commission has reported from time to time its special efforts to collect the monies and credits taxes due. It is no secret, state officials and some legislators say, that there is widespread evasion of the monies and credits tax in most counties.

There have been unsuccessful attempts in recent sessions of the Legislature to repeal the monies and credits tax.

Ozark Airline To Begin Service Here March 1

WASHINGTON (AP) — United Air Lines notified the Civil Aeronautics Board (CAB) Wednesday it plans to suspend service temporarily at Iowa City on March 1.

United said Ozark Airlines has given notice it will start Iowa City service on that date. The CAB ruled in its 7-states area proceeding Dec. 8 that United could suspend service at Iowa City when Ozark inaugurated service there.

Schwengel Among GOP Urging End To Proxy Voting

WASHINGTON (AP) — Three Republican congressmen including Rep. Fred Schwengel of Iowa Wednesday called for an end to proxy voting in 13 House committees which permit the practice.

"To encourage absenteeism," they said, "is to encourage the incomplete — hence the inefficient — use of congressional brainpower."

Reps. Schwengel, William Broomfield of Michigan and William Cramer of Florida issued the statement after two motions to outlaw the practice were defeated at the first meeting of the House Public Works Committee Tuesday.

They said of the 19 House committees, 13 allow proxy voting of some type.

"In other words," they said, "less than one third of our committees have seen fit to withhold this dubious, unwarranted privilege from its membership."

Rules of the House, they said, forbid voting by proxy and therefore committees shouldn't permit it either.

The three said they are aware that short cuts must be found to enable congressmen to cope with all the demands made upon them.

A Little Pear-Shaped—

Vanguard Shows Earth Not A Perfect Sphere

By ALTON BLAKESLEE AP Science Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Old Mother Earth is actually a little pear-shaped. She's a bit bulgy in the south, and pointed in the north.

This hidden truth was discovered by tiny Vanguard, the grapefruit-size U.S. satellite launched last St. Patrick's Day.

Vanguard's discovery was announced Wednesday to the American Physical Society by Dr. J. A. O'Keefe, Miss Ann Eckels, and R. K. Squires of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

Vanguard permitted scientists to draw an accurate new picture of the earth because the satellite travels so high above the earth's air, and in a very precise, trustworthy orbit.

But there are little wobbles in her flight—caused by variations in the earth's shape with consequent differences in the earth's tug of gravity on the satellite.

These showed that sea level at the North Pole area is about 50 feet higher than had been thought but some 25 feet lower outside the polar cap area in the Northern Hemisphere.

But at the south polar cap, sea level is lower by 50 feet, and 25 feet higher than formerly presumed in the Southern Hemisphere in the polar area.

The earth has been pictured before as nearly a sphere with a bulge around the equator.

The extra height in the north represents a tremendously heavy load there on the earth's crust. It's more weight than the thin crust presumably could support, Dr. O'Keefe and Dr. Robert Jastrow, also of NASA, explained to newsmen.

This indicates the earth's interior is not so plastic as many scientists have assumed.

Some mechanical strength is needed to support the pear-like dome in the north, and the bulges in the south, the scientists said.

Slow convection currents moving through the mantle—the material between the earth's liquid core and the upper crust—might be an explanation for the shape.

Air Force Rear Ends Expanding

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Measurements around the seat of pilots' pants are proof that human problems are never completely solved, a professor of rural sociology at Ohio State University told the 40th annual Ohio Pastors' Convention here Wednesday.

"In 1952," said Dr. Everett M. Rogers, "Air Force pilots began to complain in increasing numbers about plane seats. They were uncomfortable—too hard and too narrow. I was called in to investigate."

"Ten years before, we had measured the width of about 10,000 Air Force rear ends. They averaged 22 inches wide and we designed plane seats accordingly."

"But during the 10 years, pilots' measurements had changed. Whether from better nutrition, older age or just less work, our pilots' bottoms had increased in width from 22 to 24 inches."

Blames Poor Driving

"Last year was a year of bad driving in this county. It wasn't because of the roads, but the poor driving."

"We have gotten off to a poor start this year, but all we can do is hope for a better record through the remainder of the year," Murphy added.

Police Chief O. A. White, when asked to comment on Herrick's statements, pointed out that Iowa City has had only two traffic fatalities in the last five years.

The Gold Feather Room —

Coffee, Cokes, And Chatter

By KAY LUND Staff Writer

Although it's not one-tenth as large as the SUI Library, there's one place on campus that rivals the library in attendance and most likely in popularity — the Gold Feather Room of the Iowa Memorial Union.

Over 20,000 SUI students file through the Gold Feather Room weekly and consume 6,000 cups of coffee to make it the most popular "break time" place on campus.

From 9 a.m. until closing the room is never empty of bridge players, coffee drinkers, and scholars studying to the tune of rock 'n roll. At 10:30 p.m. the crew usually must give gentle hints — like sweeping around your feet — to evict the reluctant stragglers.

When plans were drawn up for the new addition to the Union, Earl Harper, director, specifically requested a "snack center" which would be a gathering place for students in the heart of campus.

The Gold Feather Room was first named Herky's Hideaway. However, in order to add an air of dignity, the 1955 Student Union Board changed the name to Gold Feather — "gold" being one of SUI's colors and "feather" from Herky and Hawk. The idea was taken from the gold Herky lamps on the walls.

The Gold Feather crew is kept busy brewing 800 to 1,000 cups of coffee daily for their customers — most of whom drink it black.

Dishwashing Chores

It would seem that washing cups and saucers fast enough to keep up with the students would be the biggest problem. However, Robert Froeschle, supervisor of the room, said, "The Gold Feather Room has 1,500 cups and saucers, so few dishwashing problems are encountered."

Hamburgers are high on the list of popular items at the snack bar. During the noon hour alone, 200 hamburgers come off the grill. One man does nothing but work the electric dishwashing machine all day.

Business at the snack bar was especially rushed last Friday. In one of the rush hours, a busboy handed a hamburger customer his order. With a puzzled look the student said, "I don't want to complain, but could I have a hamburger on the bun?"

This year self-service was initiated in the Gold Feather Room for Coca-Cola, coffee, hot chocolate, lemonade, and orange juice. The change was made to provide speedier service through the line, Froeschle said.

Colorful Decor

The Gold Feather Room is decorated complete in modern design. A definite attempt was made to give variety in color so that wherever a person looks, there is a different color, Froeschle said.

The wall-length mural behind the snack bar picturing mountains of different-flavored ice cream was created by Bryan Burford, associate professor of art.

The mural is a little misleading. Many students, looking at the multi-colored mural with the tempting ice cream ask, "What flavors do you have?" They have three: chocolate, vanilla, and strawberry.

Improvements continually are being made in the Gold Feather Room. Over Thanksgiving vacation sixteen new speakers were installed in the room for the stereo-phonie high-fidelity juke box.

The Gold Feather Room employs a crew of six full-time workers and 45 students.

University Library To Remain Open Saturday Night

The University Library will remain open until 2 a.m. Sunday so students will be able to study there for finals Saturday night, said Judy Clark A3, Cedar Falls, Student Council vice-president, Wednesday. Usually the library closes at 5 p.m. on Saturdays.

The library staff agreed to keep the library open as a special service to students in response to a request from the Student Council.

Russian Basketball Team Crushes U.S.

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP) — Towering Russia crushed the United States 62-37 Wednesday night in their showdown game of the World Amateur Basketball Championships. The loss was the first for the U.S. team after three victories in the final round robin. The victory gave Russia a 5-0 record with one game left to play.

The romping victory could sew up the title for the Russians if they decide to go through with their final game against Nationalist China Friday night.

The Russians, however, have said they will not play the team from Formosa because "they do not represent a country."

'We Mean Business'

"An accident victim frequently experiences enough personal suffering, without need of added insult by law authorities," he said. "However, to prevent further accidents we must show drivers that we mean business."

He said the public safety commission, in an effort to reduce accidents, is asking the legislature for right-of-way signs at secondary road intersections, a compulsory driver education bill for juveniles, and some better method of controlling drunken driving.

Drinkers Drive Fast

Herrick pointed out that a "concentrated" law might help solve the drunken driving problem. The proposed law would require a driver to give permission when he obtained his drivers license, for a law enforcement official to give him a blood test any time he is suspected of drunken driving.

Herrick added that a "drinking" driver is usually more accident-prone than a "drunken" driver. "The intoxicated driver usually zig-zags at a slow speed, while a driver who has had only a couple drinks tends to drive fast," he said.

Other actions the safety commission is considering to curb traffic accidents include raising the speed limit of a vehicle towing a 2-wheel trailer from 40 mph to 50 or 55 mph, and enforcing a speed limit for secondary roads, Herrick said.

Foggy, Foggy Satchmo Sings About The Good Book

By HUGH MULLIGAN AP Newsfeatures Writer

'This train don't carry no gamblers No crap shooters and midnight ramblers. This train goes on to Glory, this train...'

When Louis Armstrong wraps his foggy, foggy voice around these incredibly rollicking and realistic lyrics, the result is incredibly relevant. For in 'Louis and the Good Book,' his latest Decca album, Armstrong demonstrates with power and conviction the tremendous paths inherent in Gospel songs and spirituals.

The beat may be low down and bluesy, the lyrics stark and at times even racy, but the overall effect is always one of musical communion with a living, personal God who understands the foibles of man and prefers to talk to him in his own language.

In what undoubtedly is one of the finest albums of his career, Armstrong sings, chants and trumpets his way through a dozen Gospel favorites like 'Swing Low, Sweet Chariot,' 'Didn't It Rain,' 'I'm On My Way Now,' 'Down By the Riverside.'

The lasting debt that jazz owes to Gospel music is always apparent in Armstrong's presentation, but he never reverts to a real jazz style, preferring to stick closely to the original slow beat of the music.

As always, Louis' trumpet solos are impromptu masterpieces of the moment that, were it not for records, would probably never be heard the same way twice. His voice, which certainly must be the despair of all singing teachers, somehow never keeps him from becoming a fine singer, gifted with pace style and great showmanship.

Fellow trumpeter Sy Oliver, a top arranger, directs a first-rate choir and orchestra that give Armstrong excellent backing throughout. The only drawbacks are Louis' occasional needless lapses into pop talk, but these are few and relatively inoffensive.

The Armstrong album is front runner in a growing collection of excellent hymn and Gospel albums. Mahalia Jackson, probably the greatest of the modern Gospel singers and one who refuses to compromise her art by singing in night clubs, has two new Columbia albums: 'Sweet Little Jesus Boy,' mostly Christmas songs, and 'Halleluia at Newport,' which was recorded at last summer's jazz festival.

Top Colleges Plan Grid Conference

Would Include 12 Leading Independents

NEW YORK (AP)—Twelve of the nation's leading independent football colleges have made plans for a national conference, according to an article published Wednesday in Sports Illustrated.

The article says the plans were crystallized at a meeting in Cincinnati early this month. The outline calls for a football conference "to challenge the increasingly popular pros for the public's support."

East And West Divisions
Sports Illustrated says the colleges involved are Army, Navy, Notre Dame, Pittsburgh, Syracuse, and Penn State, which will form an eastern division, and lists Southern California, UCLA, California, Washington, the Air Force Academy and possibly Stanford as members of the western division.

The article says Tom Hamilton, Pittsburgh athletic director, was unofficial chairman of the group which met in Cincinnati.

At the time of the meeting, during the National Collegiate Athletic Association convention, Hamilton told The Associated Press it was strictly a social gathering.

Not New
Discussions of such a conference, unofficially known as the American Conference, have been reported for several years.

The article points out that none of the institutions represented can be committed prior to getting approval of college presidents, but "athletic directors are now able to go to work on arguments and presentation to submit to the top executives."

Because of scheduling difficulties, conference play cannot begin before 1964 or 1965.

Falcon Athletic Head Says 'Nothing Definite'

COLORADO SPRINGS (AP)—The Air Force Academy is interested in a proposed nation-wide football conference, Athletic Director Col. George Simler said Wednesday.

However, he added, "I think it should be understood that the proposal is only in the preliminary stage."

"I did attend a meeting at Cincinnati when such a conference was discussed," Simler said, "but there was nothing definite or concrete about it."

BERRA SIGNS CONTRACT

NEW YORK (AP)—Catcher Yogi Berra signed his 1959 contract with the New York Yankees Wednesday, apparently taking a salary cut of about $2,500.

Berra, 33, reportedly received $50,000 in 1957, and last year it was understood he was cut to $45,000. It was believed he signed for $42,500 for the 1959 season.

Green Bay Coaching Job Goes To Vince Lombardi

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP)—Vince Lombardi, whose offensive coaching wizardry helped the New York Giants to National Football League success, won the nod Wednesday as head coach and general manager of the floundering Green Bay Packers.

Lombardi was named at a sometimes-heated luncheon meeting of the Packers' board of directors.

A few die-hards apparently held out for Earl L. (Curly) Lambeau, the club's founder and coach for the first 30 of their 40 years.

Reached in New York, Lombardi said he had agreed to a 5-year contract covering both jobs but refused to reveal his salary. He said other details would be worked out at a meeting in Green Bay with officials of the Packers Monday.

The 45-year-old football tactician, who once served as Red Blaik's backfield coach at West Point, succeeds Ray (Scooter) McLean as head coach and Verne Lewellen as general manager.

McLean resigned in December after a 1-10-1 season, worst in Packers history.

Lewellen was general manager the last five years.

Lombardi has served as Jim Lee Howell's first lieutenant on the

Giardello Loses To 'Tiger' Jones

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Ralph Tiger Jones won a split decision from Joey Giardello Wednesday night in a 10-round fight at Freedom Hall.

It was the first time in three meetings that Jones, a 30-year-old middleweight, was able to earn a decision over Giardello, ranked fourth nationally among middleweights.

Jones, ranked No. 10, opened a cut over Giardello's left eye early in the fourth round and proceeded to pound away at the eye the rest of the nationally televised fight.

Giardello, who also suffered a cut over the other eye late in the fight, was unable to keep away from his stalking opponent.

Giardello weighed 162½, Jones 156½.

Referee Paul Machney scored the fight 48-43 for Giardello. Judge Tom Nuckles had it 46-45 for Jones and Judge Walter Beck gave it to Jones 48-47.

The fight, which drew nearly 5,000 people, was a bruising match from the opening round.

Giardello, managed to stagger the 28-year-old Jones several times in the seventh and eighth rounds but couldn't follow up his advantage.

Hawk Wrestlers Crush Wisconsin

MADISON, Wis. (AP)—Iowa's defending Big Ten wrestling champions won their fifth straight match Wednesday by trouncing Wisconsin, 29-3.

The winners gained four pins and three decisions in piling up their top heavy decisions. Lone Badger winner was Jim Innis in the 147-pound class.

League To Decide Cuban Baseball

MONTREAL (AP)—Frank Shaughnessy, president of baseball's International League, said Wednesday it's up to club owners to decide at the league's annual meeting Friday whether they want their teams to play in Cuba this season.

Shaughnessy was commenting on a report that Buffalo plans to oppose games on the island, where the Havana Sugar Kings have held an IL franchise since 1951.

John Stiglmeier, Buffalo general manager, said his club will go on the record against playing in Cuba if the issue comes up in the league meeting.

It was understood that other IL members also are in favor of continued play there.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

McDaniel In Comeback Try With St. Louis

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Von McDaniel—looking for a comeback at the age when most players are just breaking into professional baseball—signed his 1959 baseball contract with the St. Louis Cardinals Wednesday.

The 19-year-old bonus pitcher who started with the Cards last year then skidded to Houston, Tex., and Winston Salem, N.C., reportedly signed for about $8,000. That was believed a cut of about $1,000.

Von was a pitching sensation when he broke into the majors in 1957.

Cedar Rapids Golfer Third In PGA Seniors'

DUNEDIN, Fla. (AP)—Charley Burkhardt of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, shot a 68 Wednesday for third place in the second stage of the Professional Golfers Assn. Seniors' Tournament here.

Burkhardt was only 2 strokes off the pace set by Jack Isaacs, pro at the Langley Air Force Base in Virginia.

Bob Stuppel, another Cedar Rapids player, had a 73.

The day's competition was limited to 50-54 age group.

$25,000 Bonus For Colt Coach, Not Denied

NEW YORK (AP)—Carroll Rosenbloom, owner of the Baltimore Colts, Wednesday refused to confirm or deny published reports that Coach Weeb Ewbank had been given a $25,000 bonus for winning the 1958 National Football Championship. But he let fall solid hints that the story was essentially correct.

The Baltimore Evening Sun said Ewbank had been given a bonus and offered a three-year contract to replace one which expires at the end of the next season.

Hawks, Opponents Set Cage Records

The high-scoring games between the Iowa basketball team and Illinois and Northwestern produced numerous all-time records.

They are: most points, two teams, 200 (Illinois, 103, Iowa 97); most points, opponents, 103; most field goals, opponents, 43, by both Illinois and Northwestern; and Iowa's highest losing score, 97.

New Iowa field house record for most points for both teams was the 195 by Iowa and Northwestern (99-96) and Northwestern's total was the highest ever made in the field house by an opponent. The 43 field goals of the Wildcats also was a new mark for foes.

Cubs' Annual Income Up After 1957 Low

CHICAGO (AP)—The Chicago Cubs collected a net income of approximately $199,000 for 1958, compared with $357 the previous year, it was disclosed at the club's annual stockholders meeting Wednesday.

The increase came as the hard-hitting Cubs climbed from a last-place tie with Pittsburgh in 1957 to a fifth-place deadlock with St. Louis last season.

The increase income reflected a rise in home attendance from 670,000 in 1957 to 979,000 last year.

Exams Cut Iowa Sports Calendar To Two Events

With semester examinations beginning here Friday the sports program is cut to two events this week as the athletes concentrate upon their academic courses.

The basketball team plays Michigan on the Fieldhouse court Saturday at 7:30 p.m. in an effort to knock the strong Wolverines out of their present second place in the standing.

Colorado State University from Ft. Collins is the opponent of the wrestling team in the Fieldhouse Saturday at 2:30 p.m.

Looking ahead to February, however, Iowa athletes can see 34 sports events between Feb. 6 and 28. Sixteen of these contests will occur in the Fieldhouse.

Iowa has three February Saturdays with multiple events at home. On Feb. 14, the contests are Michigan wrestling, Indiana gymnastics, and Michigan State and Wisconsin fencing.

Ohio State basketball, Illinois swimming and Wisconsin gymnastics are the home events of Feb. 21 and Illinois basketball, Purdue wrestling and swimming are contests of Feb. 28.

Jones To Defend Title Saturday

Charles (Deacon) Jones, Iowa distance runner who has won major titles, will defend his 2-mile championship in the Millrose Games in New York's Madison Square Garden Saturday night. He won last year in 9:01.3. Opposing him will be a great field of runners: Alex Henderson of Arizona State, who ran 8:46.3, an American record, in winning the 1958 National Collegiate race with Jones second; Max Trux, several times under 9 minutes; and John Macy and Al Lawrence, Houston runners.

Almond Asks Tuition Grants; Hints Private School System

RICHMOND, Va. (UPI) — Gov. J. Lindsay Almond Jr. asked the legislature Wednesday for a state tuition grants program to permit Virginia parents to choose immediately between private schools or sending their children to racially-mixed classrooms.

Final Lecture

Unusual Student Tribute To Prof. K. H. Porter

Kirk H. Porter, professor and head of the SUI Political Science Department, finished giving the last semester lecture in his Constitutional Law course. The room was quiet.

Suddenly, the whole class rose and gave him a standing ovation.

This was his final lecture for over in this course. At the end of the school year he will retire after 41 years of teaching.

SUI Artists' Oil Paintings Win Prizes

Oil paintings by two members of the SUI art faculty have won purchase prizes in the 12th Annual Missouri Valley Exhibition of Oil Painting.

The awards went to James Lechay, professor of art, for "Still Life with Ultramarine" and to Byron Burford, associate professor of art, for "Cyclists." Both were purchased for the permanent collection of the Mulvane Art Museum, Topeka, Kan., where the exhibition was shown from Nov. 19 to Dec. 19.

The exhibition now is at the University of Nebraska Art Galleries, Lincoln, Neb., where it will remain through this week. Works of some 30 artists from all parts of the U.S. were chosen for the exhibition.

The color blue predominates in Lechay's still life. The idea for Burford's "Cyclists" was suggested by a scene he remembers from a trip through England in 1955. He had just completed the painting before it was hung in the Missouri Valley Exhibition. The work presents two figures standing with bicycles.

No U.S. Retreat On International Responsibilities

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower said Wednesday he favors new talks with the Soviets but that the United States won't "retreat a single inch" on its international rights and responsibilities.

As Mr. Eisenhower was saying this at a news conference, Secretary of State John Foster Dulles denounced all Soviet proposals put forward thus far as aimed solely at winning the cold war.

Dulles expressed readiness to meet with the Soviets to discuss East-West deadlocks over Berlin, Germany's future, and the problem of European security.

But he told the House Foreign Affairs Committee any talks must cover all three of these related issues and not just the Soviet proposal to make of West Berlin what Moscow calls a free city.

Both Mr. Eisenhower and Dulles cautioned the Kremlin against believing there is any split between the American people and their government on the need for a firm policy toward the Soviet Union.

Mr. Eisenhower said friends told him during Soviet Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan's recent U.S. visit that the Soviet leader professed to believe the American people and its Government were divided on Berlin and other foreign policy issues.

Dulles in talking with congressmen pledged to be vigilant in seeking what he called "every reasonable avenue to achieving a better understanding with those who are hostile to us."

But he made clear the Eisenhower Administration does not intend to invent new and weaker policies, as he put it, just because Soviet leaders are demanding new offers.

Gen. Twining Scoffs At Red's ICBM Mass Production Claim

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Gen. Nathan E. Twining, Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, scoffed Wednesday at Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's claim that Russia has intercontinental ballistic missiles in mass production.

"There's nothing to it," Twining told reporters after giving the House Foreign Affairs Committee a secret briefing on the world military situation.

Twining said neither Russia nor the United States has an intercontinental ballistic missile in the hands of actual combat units ready for firing.

Writer of 'Walkin' In The Rain' Paroled, Walks Out Of Prison

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (UPI) — Johnny Bragg, who wrote "Walkin' In The Rain," in prison, walked into the sunshine of freedom Wednesday.

The Negro convict faced almost certain imprisonment for life when he was sentenced to six 99-year terms for rape when he was only 17 years old. He spent 16 years in the Tennessee penitentiary here.

Wednesday he was paroled. Former Gov. Frank Clement, who had befriended and helped Bragg, commuted his sentence to life just before he left office earlier this month. With the time served and good behavior, Bragg became eligible immediately for parole.

Congressman Predicts Approval Of Hawaiian Statehood By Committee

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Rep. Leo W. O'Brien (D-N.Y.) predicted Wednesday that the House Interior Committee would stamp its overwhelming approval on Hawaiian statehood by next Wednesday.

O'Brien made the forecast at the close of three days of public hearings on the statehood bill. Statehood backers rested their case, and no opposition witnesses were in sight.

O'Brien, who presided at the hearings, predicted that only three opposing votes would be cast when the bill comes up for its final test in the 31-member committee.

East Berlin Mayor States Reds Won't Blockade Berlin

BERLIN (UPI) — East Berlin Mayor Friedrich Ebert declared Wednesday that Communist East German police would be placed in control of Western allied lines to West Berlin "in a few months." He denied, however, that this would mean a new Berlin blockade.

Ebert, speaking to the East Berlin City Assembly, said that the East German police would replace Russian soldiers under the Soviet Berlin plan to control western allied military traffic to the isolated city.

The mayor, in the speech reported by the ADN East German news service, denounced what he called Western "lies" that such a transfer of controls would mean a new blockade.

Hoffa's Insurance Agent 'Forgets' What Happened To $332,427

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A Senate Rackets Committee investigator said Wednesday the favorite insurance agent of Teamster President James R. Hoffa could not account for nearly one-third of a million dollars which passed through his hands in eight years.

Investigator John P. Findlay testified that Allen Dorfman, a Chicago insurance broker, cashed checks or made bank withdrawals totaling $332,427 in the 8-year period.

Committee investigators charged earlier that Dorfman got two huge Teamster welfare fund accounts during the same period.

Bickering Begins Over Ike's Labor Legislation Proposal

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower prescribed to Congress Wednesday a somewhat stiffer cure for curbing labor union-employer corruption than a remedy already backed by Democrats.

Capitol Hill immediately began bickering over the relative merits of the two sets of labor law proposals.

Actually they were so similar in most respects that prospects seemed bright for enactment of the first major labor legislation in a dozen years. But a fight was likely first on a few points.

The Eisenhower recommendations, like a bill offered earlier by Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.), call for strict accounting of union funds and measures designed to give rank-and-file members more control of union affairs.

The two proposals also would strike hard at bribery or collusion between employers and union agents or middlemen.

The key distinction between the Eisenhower and Kennedy versions is that the President recommends tight new bans on union secondary boycott practices and certain forms of union picketing. Kennedy's bill would make no change in current boycott curbs and would apply only limited restrictions on picketing practices.

The secondary boycott is one in which an employer not directly concerned in a labor-management dispute is subjected to union pressures designed to win concessions from another employer who is involved.

Picketing Proposal
In the picketing field, Eisenhower proposed barring such union action where another union already holds bargaining rights or where employees show they don't want to be represented by the picketing union.

The Eisenhower proposals in these fields drew sharp criticism from Kennedy and the AFL-CIO. Both said that mixing boycott and picketing provisions with anticorruption remedies endangers the prospects of getting any legislation. The AFL-CIO endorsed Kennedy's bill, suggesting a few changes.

Sen. John McClellan D-Ark, chairman of the Senate Labor-Management Committee, declined comment on the Eisenhower proposals. He is preparing labor legislation of his own.

Student Group Distributes New Records

Local record stores and radio stations have received the first records from a new student recording company, Gerry Jager, A3, La Grange, Ill., said.

Jager and Derk Simonson, A4, La Grange, Ill., joined forces in December with Dick Blessing, an arranger and guitarist from Cedar Rapids. The results were the Blessing Record Co. and the recordings of their own arrangements of "Sweet Lorraine" and "Beware."

The students had hoped to have the tape of multiple recordings processed by RCA soon after Christmas. There were some problems on the processing, however, and they did not receive the completed copies until last week.

According to Jager, copies now have been distributed in the Iowa City area, and sent to disk jockeys and record stores in New York, Detroit, Columbus, Chicago, Minneapolis, San Francisco, Miami, Phoenix, and Washington D. C.

Simonson, who also performs in a local dance combo called "The Chevrons," is vocalist for the recordings. Blessing provides a guitar background for the young singer.

Bill To Repeal 'Work Law' Sent To House

DES MOINES (AP) — A bill to repeal the Iowa right to work law was sent to the House floor Wednesday by the Labor Committee, but with no recommendation for passage.

Rep. Clark McNeal (R-Belmond), committee chairman, said the action was by unanimous vote of the committee.

The measure, sponsored by Rep. Robert Conner (D-Ottumwa) and others, would repeal the Iowa law which prohibits closed shop and union shop contracts between employers and employees.

The bill also would repeal the law requiring a workers spouse to agree in writing before an employer could deduct the workers union dues from his paycheck.

Labor has been advocating repeal of the right to work law for a number of years. Union leaders contend the law is unnecessarily restrictive.

Similar measures have been introduced in each legislative session since 1949, but Conner said this was the first time the bill has got as far as the House floor. It was killed in committee in the 1957 session.

McNeal said the committee felt "the House members should have the right to debate the measure and express their feelings about it on the floor."

He said the committee had tentatively decided to ask that the bill be placed on the House calendar for debate next Tuesday.

Old Gold Fund Gives $15,150 To Aid Research, Projects

Year-end allocations totaling $15,150 have been made by the Old Gold Development Fund to support research and special projects at SUI, officers of the Fund announced.

During 1958, the Fund allocated $35,157 to support 25 specific University objectives. Allocations are made twice yearly so projects can begin without delay.

A total of $103,773 has been given to the Fund by alumni in the first three years of its operation. The Fund supports various projects of such a nature that they would not ordinarily be accomplished through state-appropriated funds.

An allocation of $1,200, plus a previous $500 grant from the Fund, will be used by the University Library to purchase a "Sky Atlas" to be used in research and teaching of astronomy at SUI. The "Sky Atlas" is produced by the University of California Institute of Technology.

The Department of Women's Physical Education will use $1,079 to complete a two-year study of the influence of physical activity on child growth and motor performance.

The Fund allocated $1,000 to the department of music to commission new musical works by established American composers, and designated another $1,000 to provide funds for travel of leading University scholars to off-campus libraries and other facilities having original source materials required in research.

Old Gold Development Fund Scholarships will be provided for deserving students who do not qualify for help from existing scholarship funds with a sum of $1,000.

Alumni also gave a total of $1,500 for seven other scholarship funds, including those in honor of Professor James Van Allen, head of the Department of Physics; the late Hawkeye basketball coach, Frank (Bucky) O'Connor; Dean Francis M. Dawson, of the College of Engineering; and two former deans of SUI colleges — Chester A. Phillips, Commerce, and Wilber J. Teeters, Pharmacy.

A $696 allocation will be used by the Humanities Society to bring eminent scholars and critics in all fields of the Humanities to the campus for the presentation of papers based upon original thought and research.

The SUI School of Religion will use $500 for a continuing project to finance a series of lectures on the inter-relationships between science and religion, with lectures to be delivered on the campus by competent scientists, philosophers and theologians.

A $500 allocation will further aid the University in the establishment of gardens and an arboretum, in connection with University Hospitals, for the improvement of the physical and mental well-being of hospital patients.

Work will continue on the development of a Code of Interlinguistic Communication with the help of a $500 grant from the Fund. At present, an English-Translingua dictionary and a textbook are being completed.

Other research allocations include: $200 for a field-study program which is assembling information on natural and cultivated vegetation in the state; $182 to purchase equipment for a study of the control of infections in hospitals, and $150 for engineering research equipment.

N.Y. Disc Jockey Goes 200 Hours Without Sleep

NEW YORK (UPI) — Disc Jockey Peter Tripp set a record of 200 hours without sleep Wednesday night and then headed for bed.

Tripp, who started his ordeal when he awoke at 11:14 a.m. EST on Tuesday, Jan. 20, pushed a button at 7 p.m. in a glass enclosed booth at Times Square to start a March of Dimes fund-raising campaign — the purpose of the stunt.

At 7:14 p.m. Wednesday, his sought-after record — eight days and eight hours without sleep under scientific observation — was reached.

He walked to the nearby Astor Hotel for a final scientific test and then a big soft bed.

At the end, the 32-year-old disc jockey was surprisingly energetic. He had no bags under his eyes and had gained about four pounds.

South American Adventure Film Slated For Sunday

A man whose taste for adventure has taken him on foot and over rough water through some of the most hazardous terrain in South America will be the next lecturer in the SUI Mountaineers Film-Lecture series.

Aubert Lavastida will present two of his films, with recorded background sounds, on Sunday, Feb. 8 in Macbride Auditorium. The first film, to be shown at 2:30 p.m., pictures the giant waterfalls, exotic tropical fish, aboriginal Indians, and strange animals of two English colonies in South America — the islands of Jamaica and British Guiana.

A second film, to be presented at 7:45, was taken by Lavastida and his wife as they made the first surface crossing of South America from the Pacific to the Atlantic Ocean.

The film catches the majesty of sights from mountains 18,000 feet high, as well as the hardship of rough treks through the Andes Mountains and along the dangerous river highways of the Meta and Orinoco, making this film an exciting record of a daring trip across the South American continent.

IT GROWS ON YOU

LONDON (UPI) — It took three announcers 6 hours and 15 minutes to broadcast via Radio Moscow Wednesday the complete text of Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev's address to the opening session of the 21st congress of the Soviet Communist party Tuesday. Khrushchev delivered his speech in 6 hours 5 minutes.

Educator Suggests: Group By Ability

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Dr. James B. Conant said Wednesday students in the nation's high schools should be grouped according to ability.

The bright ones, he said, should have a chance to develop their special talents. Some of the slower ones should be permitted to drop out and go to work.

Conant, former president of Harvard University, spoke before the National School Boards Association Convention here. He summarized the findings of a 2-year study.

At the same time he distributed for the first time copies of his book, "The American High School Today," which gives full results of the study financed by the Carnegie Corporation.

He also said he believes the number of small high schools must be drastically reduced.

Over 15,000 Iowans Attend SUI Conferences Last Year

Nearly 15,000 Iowans took time out from their jobs for further study at SUI under the Program of Continuing Education during 1957-58, according to a statistical summary released recently by William D. Coder, coordinator of conferences and institutes.

The 177 conferences held under the program drew registrants from all of the major professions and many businesses and trades, with total registration for all of the meetings more than 800 above that for the preceding year, when 156 conferences were held.

Registrations at conferences during the last five years has totaled more than 70,000.

Greatest Interest
Areas of interest which drew the largest numbers for refresher courses, institutes, and conferences last year were medicine, with 3,117 registrants; teaching and administration, 2,216; dentistry, 1,463; fine arts, 1,040; business and industry, 987; hospital administration, 623; nursing, 416; counseling and advising, 406; and newspaper work, 327.

Teaching and administration conferences had drawn the largest numbers of registrants during 1956-57, 1955-56 and 1953-54. High school students topped those attending conference during 1954-55.

The total attending conferences under the Program of Continuing Education has grown from 8,287 during 1952-53 to 15,497 for 1957-58.

Conferences Increase
The number of conferences now being held has increased by an even greater proportion, growing from 81 in 1952-53, to 177 in 1957-58. This can be explained partly by the fact that enrollment limitations are being placed on an increasing number of sessions, Coder said, in order to give each registrant the greatest possible help during his stay on the campus.

Many of the conferences are held in the Iowa Center for Continuation Study, which provides living quarters for registrants as well as meeting rooms. The Center is now located in what is considered to be temporary quarters in the north half of Parklawn, married student apartment building.

Ultimate objective for the Continuation Center is a separate building.

Scientist Honored

PROFESSOR GEORGE CHARLES DE HEVESY will receive the $75,000 Atoms For Peace Award today. 73-year-old De Hevesy answered questions Wednesday at Rockefeller Institute in New York. The Hungarian-born chemist is now professor of organic chemistry in Stockholm. The award was based on his "pioneering concept of using the radioactive character of certain atoms in order to observe their movements and interaction."

Mars, Venus Space Trips In 10 Years

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Some of the world's top space experts predicted Wednesday that within 10 years man would land on Venus and Mars, head toward Jupiter, live in space stations and beam telecasts throughout the globe. One scientist, Dr. Eugene Sanger of the Technical University of Stuttgart, Germany, said that in 40 years man might be flashing through the cosmos toward the stars and galaxies at nearly the speed of light, 186,000 miles a second.

Sanger also forecast a possible death ray, or ultraviolet search light. It would exert a radiation pressure of "many tons" that could destroy flying objects several hundred miles away. He saw it as an effective weapon against any threat from the air or space.

56 Experts The futuristic forecasts were compiled in a report by the House Space Committee. They were made by 56 experts in the United States, Britain, Germany, Italy and the Far East.

The scientists did not always agree on the time it would take to realize the various projects. Furthermore, they based their predictions on the assumption that man would be willing to make the stupendous effort and pay the staggering costs.

The predictions followed the disclosure Tuesday night that the United States had started selecting the pilot for its first manned satellite. He may get his chance to write history in about two years. The House committee's report predicted such developments by 1969 as designs for rockets capable of boring through the earth, underwater cargo ships, manned orbital bombers, underwater missile launching bases, and accurate weather forecasting.

At Velocity Of Light It was through the use of such devices as thermal atomic rockets and "field-quantum rockets" that Dr. Sanger foresaw future trips to the stars.

Sanger said there were indications that new knowledge in physics gained during the last 30 years would permit such a rapid development that manned top-speed aircraft would approach the velocity of light by the turn of the century.

In the more immediate future, Dr. W. H. Pickering, director of the U.S. Space Agency's jet propulsion laboratory, said that within 10 years rocket engines with several million pounds of thrust could be developed.

Hold, cried some officials at the base in Toul-Rosiere, France. These officials pulled the rule book. They pointed to Air Force regulations which order the destruction of any dog found unfit for sentry duty.

Now enters the compassionate vet, again. He signed a death certificate for Blitz. That ought to have ended things.

But no. Here enters a military detective. He detected that Rhodes was still buying dog food.

Court-Martialled Clank, clank. The legal machinery went into action. Rhodes was found to have secreted Blitz, and a summary court-martial fined him $75 for "making a false official statement."

Rhodes already had paid $180 to have Blitz flown back to the United States on a commercial airliner.

Here's how things stand now: Blitz is fat and happy, but is still in France.

Rhodes has been transferred to the Continental Air Force station in New Mexico.

Student Arrested For Uncovering The Bare Facts

ST. PAUL, Minn. (UPI)—A University of Minnesota graduate student told police Wednesday he posed as a physician and examined three young women to get data for a paper on "The Psychological Aspects of Unexpected Phenomena."

Police said David Lee Thompson, 25-year-old husband and father of one child, admitted posing as "Dr. Sperman." He lured the young women to a hotel suite, and gave them "head to toe" examinations, police said.

Police said the young women came to his hotel suite in answer to calls inviting them to apply for positions with an X-ray machine manufacturing company.

Thompson told police he had lined up about 10 young women by culling their names from telephone books, calling them, and offering them $1.63 an hour jobs with a fictitious company.

He explained it was necessary for them to undergo complete physical examinations because of the danger in dealing with X-rays on the jobs.

The young women disrobed willingly and wrapped themselves in a sheet for the examinations, Thompson said.

He had examined three young women before police walked into his room on a tip from one of the girls.

Police said the tipster became suspicious when Thompson told her she had been referred by an employment service. She had not recently applied with such a service.

Thompson had several medical instruments, including a stethoscope in his suite, police said. He also had equipped himself with a deep fry pan in which to sterilize the instruments.

He told police he examined the women's eyes, ears and throats, listened to their heart beats, and took their temperatures and vagina smears. He denied any sexual intent, police said.

He also gave them a "psychological adjustment test," to test their reactions to the examination.

Thompson has a bachelor's degree in industrial relations and psychology.

Police said he probably would be charged with practicing medicine without a license, indecent assault, and false hotel registration.

Sparked Speculation This sparked speculation that the Atlas was intended to travel much farther than 4,500 miles—perhaps to the moon.

But Maj. Gen. Donald N. Yates, commander of the Air Force Missile Test Center, said in reply to a United Press International query that the shot "was not an attempt to go to the moon or anything like that."

"This was a perfectly routine test in the Atlas ICBM test series," Yates said. The Atlas is scheduled to be ready for assignment to troops by July.

Yates declined to discuss the test objectives or disclose the distance the Atlas hurled its nose cone. The weapon is designed to deliver a hydrogen warhead some 6,300 miles—full intercontinental range.

Net Fall Range In Washington, a Defense Department spokesman said the Atlas was not intended to fly the full ICBM range. Only once, on Nov. 28, has the Atlas made an ocean-spanning hop.

The spokesman said that "on the basis of early telemetry the test achieved most of the air force objectives." He added that it traveled the "programmed range."

The Department did not elaborate on what it meant by "early" reports. But in the past the Air Force has explained that it is usually not certain of all the details of a flight until data reports from a missile have been examined in detail.

Book Exchange Discourages Book Burning

Despite momentary urges to burn textbooks at the end of the semester, a good many SUI students reconsider and sell their books at the Book Exchange, sponsored each semester by the SUI Student Council.

The coming Book Exchange should be busier than the one last fall, since students won't want to store their books over the summer, Karen Lee, A2, Chicago, exchange co-chairman, said.

Students can bring their books to Room 21, Schaeffer Hall, from Feb. 9 to Feb. 12, Miss Lee said. As usual, the students set their own prices on the books they want to sell.

The books will be on sale from 9 a.m. to noon and from 1 p.m. to 4:45 p.m., Feb. 11 to Feb. 17.

The books at the Exchange will be arranged by courses this time, rather than alphabetically by authors, Miss Lee said. This arrangement should help eliminate confusion caused by students who in the past haven't been able to remember the author of the books they wanted to buy.

No money or books will be returned until the Exchange is finished, Miss Lee said. The dates for return of money or books which were not sold are Feb. 18 to Feb. 20.

The Student Council will receive ten per cent of the money taken in, Miss Lee said. This money will be used for publicity expenses and for salaries of the full time clerks. All money and books not claimed within 30 days will become the property of Student Council.

The Book Exchange is in charge of the Panhellenic and Interfraternity Council this year. Pledge classes from sororities and fraternities work at the Exchange.

Communist China Pledges Solidarity With Russia

MOSCOW (UPI)—The Chinese Communists Wednesday reaffirmed Russia's leadership of the Communist world.

China's Premier Chou En-Lai delivered a message of greetings to the 21st Congress of the Soviet Communist Party today in which he pledged the solidarity of China's millions with the Russians.

He said that attempts by American "imperialists" and Yugoslav "revisionists" to disrupt the unity between his country and the Soviet Union were futile.

The solidarity of the Communist camp was the dominant theme of the second day of the Moscow meeting of the world's Communist leaders.

The opening session Tuesday was devoted entirely to the 6-hour speech by Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev. Wednesday, foreign delegations from China, Poland, France, and Italy endorsed Khrushchev's statements.

The Soviet press and radio reported that peasants at rallies throughout Russia had pledged to carry out Khrushchev's program to outproduce the West.

The emphasis at the 20th Party Congress in 1956 was that there were "separate roads to Socialism." Nine months later came the Polish revolt, which swept the Stalinists out and restored Wladyslaw Gomulka to power and then came the Hungarian rebellion. But from the speeches Wednesday, it was apparent that the entire Communist world had swung behind the leadership of the Soviets and Khrushchev.

Khrushchev said Tuesday that the Chinese and Soviet Communist systems differed. The Chinese have adopted the commune system, the Russians have not.

Sioux City Man Dies After Auto Accident

SIoux CITY (UPI)—Gustave Kalpean, 64, of Sioux City, died in a hospital Wednesday night of injuries suffered Tuesday night when he was struck by a car while crossing a street in downtown Sioux City.

Police said the driver of the car, Rodney Henderson, 19, of Dakota City, Neb., previously had been charged with failure to yield the right of way to a pedestrian and driving without a license. Kalpean lived at a hotel here.

Fairfield Burglar Given 10 Years

FAIRFIELD (UPI)—Rollie Cook, 48, Gulfport, Ill., pleaded guilty to a charge of breaking and entering and was sentenced to the state penitentiary Wednesday.

District Judge Elmer K. Daugherty specified the term was not to exceed 10 years.

Cook was charged with breaking into a men's clothing store here last Sunday and taking a number of items and about $20 in cash.

Corn Grinder Injures Muscatine Farmer

MUSCATINE (UPI)—Fred Satterthwaite, 61, of rural Muscatine, was critically injured Wednesday when he became entangled in the starting system of a corn grinder at the farm of his son, Paul.

He suffered a punctured lung, fractured collarbone and ribs and lacerations about the body.

Love Of Dog Gets Airman In Dog House

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Our readers who love dogs and hate red tape probably will want to hear all about the case of Blitz and his soldier pal.

Everybody else might as well stop right now.

Here's the story, for you prodig and antibass people:

Back in August 1957, a German shepherd sentry dog named Blitz was bitten by a rabid fox in France. He recovered and was restored to duty with Airman 1. C. Tom Rhodes, who's from Indian Head, Mr.

Losing Smell In July 1958 Blitz was back on the sick list. He was losing his sense of smell and a veterinarian certified him as unfit. Let Rhodes have him for a pet, the vet suggested.

Hold, cried some officials at the base in Toul-Rosiere, France. These officials pulled the rule book. They pointed to Air Force regulations which order the destruction of any dog found unfit for sentry duty.

Now enters the compassionate vet, again. He signed a death certificate for Blitz. That ought to have ended things.

But no. Here enters a military detective. He detected that Rhodes was still buying dog food.

Court-Martialled Clank, clank. The legal machinery went into action. Rhodes was found to have secreted Blitz, and a summary court-martial fined him $75 for "making a false official statement."

Rhodes already had paid $180 to have Blitz flown back to the United States on a commercial airliner.

Here's how things stand now: Blitz is fat and happy, but is still in France.

Rhodes has been transferred to the Continental Air Force station in New Mexico.

Cuban Stand On Diplomatic Asylum Hit

HAVANA (UPI)—The foreign diplomatic corps delivered a serious rebuff to Cuba's revolutionary Government Wednesday for its refusal to live up to existing international agreements concerning the right of diplomatic asylum.

The entire diplomatic corps, under the leadership of its dean, Papal Nuncio Luis Centoz, boycotted a scheduled meeting with provisional President Manuel Urrutia this morning and later failed to appear at observances of the 106th anniversary of the birth of Cuba's liberator, Jose Marti.

At the same time, Havan's two leading newspapers, Diaro de la Marina and El Mundo, sided with the foreign diplomats and demanded that the Government fulfill its international obligations. It was the first major departure from the friendly editorial attitude of the Havana press towards the revolutionary Government.

The controversy arose last week when the Government announced that the cases of 86 political refugees, adherents of the fallen Government of Fulgencio Batista, remaining in foreign embassies here would be reviewed individually and decided on their own merit. It refused to grant mass safe conduct passes to the refugees.

The foreign diplomatic corps filed a formal protest against the government's action, charging that it violated existing agreements.

Rutia went ahead with the Marti Day observances in Havana's Central Park, ignoring the public rebuff from the foreign diplomats.

There were no new revolutionary trials of pro-Batista "war criminals" in view of the national holiday.

Johnson Anxious To Pass Bills, Fight Imminent

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson said Wednesday he is "very anxious" to pass a housing and perhaps an airport construction bill before Congress takes its traditional Lincoln Week holiday Feb. 9.

Senate GOP Leader Everett M. Dirksen (Ill.) has forecast a "big fight" if Democrats try to rush through the Senate a housing bill substantially increasing President Eisenhower's proposed outlays.

At the same time, Dirksen said he had no objection to a vote on the airport bill before Feb. 9. He said it would set the pattern in the fight over Democratic efforts to boost President Eisenhower's trimmed-down 1960 spending program.

Johnson made his statement after the Senate Banking Committee wound up five days of hearings on housing legislation. The committee scheduled a meeting Friday writing a bill from a variety of measures before it.

Meantime, a House banking subcommittee opened hearings on the housing issue. Chairman Albert Rains (D-Okla.) predicted it would finish writing a bill in about a week. All signs pointed to a showdown soon in both the House and Senate.

Civil Defense Draft Suggested

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Lt. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey said Wednesday men might have to be drafted for civil defense duties "if we are to get a civil defense plan that would be worthwhile."

Hershey, director of Selective Service, said it wasn't his job to recommend a draft-backed civil defense system but it was his responsibility to look ahead for possible uses of Selective Service.
