Ike Enroute To Acapulco Parley

Ceremony Will Welcome 1st Ozark Flight March 1

Eisenhower Makes Stop At Austin

To Get Acquainted With Mateos

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI)—President Eisenhower stopped off in his native state of Texas Wednesday night en route to Mexico after a five and a half hour flight from Washington which he devoted largely to chatting with Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson.

Johnson, whose home is about 50 miles from Austin, and Rep. Homer Thornberry (D-Tex.), rode south aboard the Columbine III at Eisenhower's invitation, Johnson said the trip was "very delightful."

Mr. Eisenhower also invited House Speaker Sam Rayburn and Rep. Bruce Alger (R-Tex.) to make the trip to Austin, but they were unable to accept.

Mr. Eisenhower stopped here to spend the night at Bergstrom Air Force Base before continuing on early today to Acapulco, the colorful Mexican resort on the Pacific Coast where he will be the guest of Mexican President Adolfo Lopez Mateos.

Governor, Mayor There

Gov. Price Daniel of Texas and Mayor Tom Miller of Austin were on hand to give the President a warm greeting as the Columbine pulled off the 2-mile long runway at the big Strategic Air Command Base.

Johnson continued on his way to his home at Johnson City, but Daniel hopped into the car with the President and accompanied him to the air base quarters reserved for distinguished visitors.

The Senate Democratic leader who has been a secret conferee of the President on at least two occasions this year at the White House, said the subjects discussed during the trip covered a broad range of items, with particular attention to Mexico and Johnson's recent visit with Lopez Mateos.

Get-Acquainted Meeting

After the President reached his quarters on the base, he, the Governor, Mayor Miller and the President's brother chatted briefly in the chief executive's sitting room, then Mr. Eisenhower turned in early to get as much sleep as possible before his jam-packed schedule in Mexico today.

The President and Lopez Mateos will get acquainted on a yacht ride over sparkling Acapulco Bay and over a lunch and two dinners in two of the most elegant hotels in this hemisphere. Lopez Mateos has been in office only a fairly short time and Mr. Eisenhower has not met him.

Secondly, they hope to have talks of a general nature. Mr. Eisenhower told his news conference it would be "quite natural to expect that we would be talking about a number of things of common interest." But he said the "basic purpose" of the visit is to "pay my respects to the president of a great neighboring republic."

Airline, City Officials To Participate

To Cut Ceremonial Ribbon At 8:30 A.M.

By JIM DAVIS
Staff Writer

A 20-minute ceremony is planned to welcome Ozark Airlines to Iowa City on Sunday, March 1. The first Ozark plane, to arrive in Iowa City at 8:53 that morning, signals the beginning of Ozark's service to this area.

Mayor Phillip Morgan, City Manager Peter Roan, the president of the Chamber of Commerce, and a representative of the University will be on hand to welcome the flight, according to Sam Robinson, publicity chairman for the Chamber of Commerce.

City council members and Iowa City airport commission members will also be attending the ceremony.

Ozark officials, superintendent of stations, Charles Mounts; superintendent of reservations, Connie Mounts; director of public and interland relations, Paul Rogers, and Ozark manager for Iowa City, Jimmy Williams, will assist in cutting the ceremonial ribbon opening the way for Ozark service to Iowa City. Starts At 8:30 a.m.

The ceremony is expected to start at about 8:30 a.m. March 1, Williams said. This is 20 minutes before the plane is due. Officials said it would stay on the ground only a few minutes.

The Chamber of Commerce said it plans to serve free coffee and doughnuts to spectators after the ceremony.

The flight arriving at 8:53 a.m. Sunday will be the first of Ozark's scheduled flights; it will depart east-bound at 8:56 and arrive in Chicago at 10:30 a.m. The other east-bound flight leaves Iowa City at 4:02 p.m. and arrives in Chicago at 5:26.

The first flight west-bound from Chicago will leave at 11 a.m., arriving here at 12:34. The second daily flight leaves Chicago at 5 p.m. and arrives here at 6:34.

Use It Or Lose It

Late last year the civil aeronautics board granted Ozark authority to serve Iowa City on the Des Moines-Chicago route. The authorization was granted on a temporary "use it or lose it" basis.

The Ozark office at the airport has been accepting reservations since Monday.

United Airlines, which has been serving Iowa City, will discontinue service Feb. 28. United has been serving Iowa City with one flight East and one flight West daily.

Dave Killinger Named To SUI Traffic Court

One of two vacancies on the Student Traffic Court of Appeals was filled Wednesday night at a special session of the SUI Student Council in the Union. The new court justice, Dave Killinger, A4, Iowa City, will represent Interfraternity Council on the court.

The addition of Killinger to the court brings its membership up to four: one short of a full staff. The present court includes Don Lindholm, A3, Burlington, Dave Coppin, C3, Elmhurst, Ill., and Pat Smith, A2, Elmhurst, Ill. Miss Smith is the newly elected chief justice of the court replacing Keith Burgett, L3, Guthrie Center, one of two justices who have resigned.

Killinger said his reason for wanting to serve on the court is it will be good experience for him as he is entering law school next year. Killinger apparently had some doubts about his new position. When Council members congratulated him on his good humor, he replied, "Let's hope I don't lose it by the end of the year."

In other action Wednesday night the Student Council voted to include in the All-Campus Elections ballots the candidates for five positions on the proposed Student Liberal Arts Advisory Board. This inclusion is subject to the approval of the new board by the College of Liberal Arts, March 4.

Four SUI students will take part in the performances in the City High School Little Theatre.

The plot of the play evolves around Richard Sherman, a young publishing house executive played by Donald W. Stribling, G, Iowa City. Sherman becomes bored with life and seeks an escape by dreaming he is a ladies man.

Other students in the play are Sandy Miller, A3, Davenport; Sharon Brady, A3, Grand Junction; and Nancy Roberson, A4, Iowa City.

Ferrell, Simms To Repeat Carnegie Concert At SUI

BY KAY LUND
Staff Writer

Two SUI faculty members, John Ferrell, violinist, and John Simms, pianist, will give a repeat performance Sunday of a concert they presented in Carnegie Recital Hall, New York, on Dec. 15.

The concert, sponsored by the Student Union Board, is to be held at 3:30 p.m. in the Main Lounge of the Iowa Memorial Union.

The program will consist of the Brahms "Sonata in G major, Op. 78", Stravinsky's "Duo Concertante", a Debussy "Sonata", and the Bartok "Rhapsody No. 1."

Both musicians were warmly praised in the reviews of the Musical Courier magazine for their Carnegie Hall concert.

The review stated, "John Ferrell and John Simms created as beautifully molded, gentle, and fine boned a Brahms's Sonata in G (Op. 78, as one is likely to hear. Without flashy dynamic contrasts, the conception and execution were yet so consistent that this listener was completely persuaded. . . . The Debussy Sonata, too, was susceptible to a similar approach and warm tone. . . . Mr. Simms was a skillful partner, and the two seemed well suited to chamber music in the real sense of the word."

Ferrell, a member of the SUI faculty since 1954, is a graduate of the Eastman School of Music where he studied with Andre de Ribaupierre. At SUI Ferrell is a member of the University String Quartet and the University Symphony Orchestra.

Simms, head of piano instruction at SUI, has been a member of the faculty since 1947. He holds a bachelor of music degree from the Curtis Institute of Music, Philadelphia, and a master of fine arts degree from SUI.

Simms has appeared as soloist with major symphony orchestras throughout the United States. With Rafael Druian, concertmaster of the Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra, Simms recorded 15 sonatas for violin and piano. One of the recordings was named by Time Magazine among the ten best records of 1955.

Sunday's concert is free of charge and open to the public.

Political Leader Should Practice Controlling His Mind: U Thittila

By CORKY STERLING
Staff Writer

"The political leaders of the world need to practice controlling their minds," U Thittila, Burmese scholar and Buddhist holy man, said in a lecture sponsored by the Graduate College, School of Religion, and Oriental Studies Wednesday at Old Capitol.

U Thittila said the mind, when properly developed, can influence people and bring them to a peace and understanding of the world. "When the minds of political leaders aren't controlled," he said,

"they can bring harm and destruction of lives and property."

Impurities Of Mind

Impurities of the mind, like hatred and selfishness, occur when the mind is distracted, U Thittila said. Controlling the mind is the only way to make the mind a better power than man-made forces like atomic energy.

Defining Buddhism, U Thittila said, "It is religion of the heart that must be practiced." He said the application of Buddhism is done through education that is "not the mere acquisition of knowledge, but the use of it in developing strong personality."

Practice Over Theories

The practice and application of Buddhism is more important than its theories, U Thittila said. "An idea not followed by practice is like a bright flower that has no scent or bears no fruit."

"Practicing Buddhism, besides developing the mind, involves refraining from doing evil and doing what is good, U Thittila said.

Drink Takes Mind

Buddhists don't use intoxicating drugs for medical purposes, U Thittila said. The Buddhists believe in the philosophy "when a man takes a drink, drink takes a man," he said.

Doing good means to the Buddhist doing positive actions opposite of the evil actions he is to avoid U Thittila said. The truthful Buddhist who is kind and tries to be of service lives up to the theory of Buddhism.

The system for developing the mind has three stages for the Buddhists: morality, concentration or meditation, and wisdom, U Thittila said. "The ethical principles of morality are not enough. Concentration helps man to live rightily and wisdom is an application of control of the mind because "educated people with minds that aren't controlled are more dangerous than uneducated people, for they know how to create destruction."

"The mind," U Thittila said, "is a power to think or know." The mind, like electricity, is merely a power that is neither good or bad. The Buddhists believe in the man's learning," he said.

27 Per Cent Of Doctorates From Big Ten

Although they enroll only 7 per cent of all students in the U.S., the ten member universities of the Western Conference ("Big Ten") plus the University of Chicago award 27 per cent of all Ph. D. degrees granted in this country, Registrar Ted McCarrel of the State University of Iowa reported Wednesday.

Among them, the 11 universities grant 8 per cent of all bachelor's degrees and 15 per cent of all master's degrees. They award a total of 10 per cent of all degrees granted by American colleges and universities.

McCarrel cited a new report compiled for the Big Ten and University of Chicago Admissions Officers by C. E. Harrell, Indiana University registrar.

Considering all degrees granted by all institutions, said McCarrel, nearly one-fifth (19.02 per cent) of the nation's degrees in agriculture. The following percentages of all degrees were awarded in several other fields of study: library science, 16.07; health professions, 16.04; geography, 15.84; architecture, 14.85; fine and applied art, 14.08; forestry, 13.93; engineering, 12.64; biological sciences, 12.63; home economics, 12.27; psychology, 11.79; and law, 10.56.

In showing the extent of the educational contribution made to the nation by this group of universities, McCarrel said, the study may also surprise those who identify the Big Ten schools primarily in connection with their outstanding athletic programs.

Fifth Graders Do Minuet On Friday

Twenty-eight university Elementary School fifth graders will shed their modern school clothes and don colonial period costumes Friday to present a minuet commemorating George Washington's birthday. This is the 33rd annual presentation of the dance.

A student written play, "The Life of Ben Franklin," will be presented in the same program. The program begins at 2 p.m. in the University High School gymnasium.

Edwin Harbeston, fifth grade teacher, will direct both the play and the minuet. Music for the production is being furnished by a chorus of the fifth graders. The minuet was originated by Ruth Moscrip in 1926, then the fifth grade teacher. At first only two couples danced, but the minuet was so well received it was enlarged and became an annual affair, Harbeston said.

The "Promenade Party," with square dancing in the River Room and social dancing in the cafeteria, will be from 8:45 p.m. to 11:45 p.m. The Pine Creek Square Chords will accompany square dancing and Shirley Porter and his orchestra will play for social dancing. # Ike Says Dulles' Heart, Head Unaffected; Can Still Do Job

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower said Wednesday Secretary of State John Foster Dulles' cancer in no way impairs his basic ability to do his job better than anybody else could.

"The doctors have assured me," Mr. Eisenhower told a news conference, "there is nothing in his disease that is going to touch his heart and his head, and that is what we want."

Continuing Negotiations The President said he and Dulles decided in a talk at Walter Reed Army Medical Center Tuesday to go right ahead with previously arranged efforts to negotiate a peaceful settlement of the German crisis with the Soviet Union.

Mr. Eisenhower denied reports that Dulles had specifically offered to resign during his new illness or that the White House was sounding out Republican leaders on a possible successor to Dulles.

"As long as Secretary Dulles believes that he is in shape to carry on," Mr. Eisenhower said, "he is exactly the person I want."

Agree On Treatment The secretary's doctors have announced meanwhile they have unanimously agreed on a plan of treatment, starting with radiation therapy on Friday.

A medical bulletin issued by Maj. Gen. Leonard D. Heaton, hospital commandant in charge of the case, said:

"The secretary is continuing to get up. He is walking more and more each day and sitting up longer each day."

Lauds Dulles At the news conference, Mr. Eisenhower called Dulles "my closest associate . . . my principal assistant . . . my closest friend and confidant" in foreign affairs.

"I know of no man . . . in the world that has equalled his wisdom and his knowledge in this whole complicated business," the President said.

Luther College Group To Present Recital Here The Dorian Society of Luther College, Decorah, will give a recital at Macbride Auditorium February 25 at 8 p.m. The recital is part of an exchange program between the SUI music department and Luther College.

Included in the program will be "When I Am Laid in Earth," by Purcell, "Du Ring an Meinem Finger" and "An Meinem Herzen an Meiner Brust," by Schumann, and "Steal Me Away," by Menotti, with Norma Rigel as soprano soloist.

George Hueschen, euphonium, and Karan Evans, piano, will play "Piece en Fa Mineur," by Morel and "Grand Concerto," by Grafe. Walter Scavie, baritone, will sing selections from "Williams' "Songs of Travel" and "Mentre Ti Lascio," by Mozart.

The public is invited to attend the program. Students in the SUI Music Department will present a recital in Decorah for members of the Dorian Society on April 7.

Convict Tells Of Juke Box Loans To Underworld Figures

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A Sing Sing convict testified Monday that a New York juke box operation staked leading underworld figures to "many, many millions" in "shylocking" loans that bore interest rates as high as 198 per cent.

Irving Mishel, serving time in a stolen stock certificate case, gave the Senate Rackets Committee a loan-by-loan recital. A New York police detective cited the criminal history and prison records of the underworld clientele that literally ran from "A" to "Z"—from William (Willie Baker) Axelrod to Benjamin (Cockeye) Zuckerman.

Identifies Lenders Mishel identified Charles Bernoff, one of New York's major juke box operators, as one of the lenders. Bernoff, president of Regal Music Co. and an official of the Admiral Trading Corp., loudly invoked the Fifth Amendment when called to the witness chair.

After the committee heard Mishel's sensational testimony, it met behind closed doors to question Teamsters Union President James R. Hoffa.

Declines Comment Hoffa, emerging after more than an hour of interrogation, declined comment to newsmen.

Hoffa went before the committee with a two-foot-high stack of manila envelopes borne on a hand cart. He said they contained letters he had written to certain Teamsters locals, including some in New York.

Settling Score Mishel, a stocky man with straight black hair dressed in a grey suit, may have been settling a score in his testimony about the underworld loans. He was an associate of Bernoff's and others in what he called the "shylocking" (exorbitant and illegal interest) operation.

Mishel said Bernoff gave testimony that helped send him to Sing Sing. He said the lending business helped to finance underworld figures in gambling, prostitution and narcotics.

"It didn't make no difference," he said. "Money is money."

According to the testimony, some of the "shylocked" money went to a dress firm owned by Johnny Dioguardi—alias Johnny Dio—himself a belligerent, but uncommunicative rackets committee witness in the early days of its present inquiry.

Hawk-Cyclone Tilt Big Ten Violation

Brechler: Rules Forbid Forced Game

DES MOINES (AP) — Athletic Director Paul Brechler said Wednesday that Iowa would jeopardize its Big Ten conference membership if required by an act of the Legislature to meet Iowa State in a football game.

Brechler said: "There's a ruling in the Big Ten that control of each school's policies must be in the hands of its athletic council. Should outside pressure groups, or individuals, have the power or influence to set athletic policies, then the school involved would not have control of its policies."

Could Force Game
"I realize that the Iowa Legislature could force a game between Iowa and Iowa State, but at the risk of our school being expelled from the Big Ten."

A bill has been introduced in the Iowa Senate proposing a football game each year between the two state institutions. Iowa State athletic officials have indicated they would favor such a game.

Asked if Iowa on its own would consider renewing football relations with Iowa State, Brechler said:

Commitments Until '63
"Right now such a game would be out of the question as we have other commitments until 1963."

"And by 1964 we have to start arranging our schedules which will lead to a round robin conference schedule by 1965."

"In 1965 we'll be playing nine conference games and one non-conference game. Iowa, no doubt, will include Notre Dame, as it has in the past, on its schedule."

Pleasant Relations
"Iowa and Notre Dame have enjoyed pleasant relations and just about every fan would not want such a game terminated." Brechler also was asked why Iowa in recent years included Big Eight Conference schools on its schedule, other than Iowa State. The Iowa athletic director replied:

Paul Brechler Gives Warning

"We do not make it a policy to play Big Eight teams. It just so happened Iowa had an open date this year on Oct. 31 and Kansas State had one, too. So we scheduled Kansas State."

Brechler was in Des Moines for a speaking engagement.

Littler Favored In Texas Open

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Gene Littler, the hot-shooting blond from San Diego, drew most of the talk Wednesday as a field of 150 prepared to move out in the opening round of the $20,000 Texas Open Golf Tournament.

There were a dozen favorites but Littler, a former Texas Open champion and winner of the last two tournaments on the current pro golfing tour, appeared to be the man most likely to succeed in the 72-hole show that starts today over the Brackenridge Park course.

But there are plenty of par-breakers like Jimmy Demaret, Doug Ford, Julius Boros, Jack Burke, Mike Souchak, Chandler Harper, Marty Furgol, Jerry Barber, Al Beselink, George Bayer, Billy Maxwell and the 1958 Texas Open champion, Bill Johnston.

Veeck Continues Sox Buy; Court To Rule On Estate

CHICAGO (AP)—Baseball's rolling stone, Bill Veeck, Wednesday appeared destined to become a rock in the Chicago White Sox foundation.

What's more, the former ring-master of the Cleveland Indians, St. Louis Browns and Milwaukee Brewers, will have over $300,000 tied up in the Sox in which he and seven colleagues Tuesday pledged to buy controlling interest by March 31.

$2.7 OFFER
"I have as much of my own money invested in the club as anybody else," Veeck said of the $2,700,000 offer to purchase Dorothy Comiskey Rigney's 54 per cent Sox holdings. "I do not intend to move this club elsewhere," said Veeck, whose proposed purchase momentarily is complicated by a legal ruckus between Dorothy and her brother, Sox Vice President Chuck Comiskey.

Bob Pettit Top Professional Athlete For January; Billy Welu Second

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Bob Pettit, New York Hawks' scoring star, Wednesday was named winner of the January prize in the S. Rae Hickok pro' athlete of the year poll for 1959. The 6-9 basketball great accumulated 220 points in the balloting by a national panel of sports writers and sportscasters. ## Oklahoma State, Oklahoma—Wrestlers Meet 2

By GEORGE KAMPLING Staff Writer

Iowa's unbeaten wrestling team travels into the capital of collegiate wrestling this week-end, facing the defending N.C.A.A. champions Oklahoma State, Friday, and the N.C.A.A.'s number three team, Oklahoma University on Saturday. Coach Dave McCuskey said of the two teams, that Iowa will really have good competition this week-end.

Schoendienst In Operation; May Play
ST. LOUIS (AP) — A physician for Red Schoendienst said Wednesday "We are optimistic about Red's chances of playing baseball in 1960 but we can't state flatly that he'll play, even after tomorrow's operation."

The great Milwaukee Braves second baseman has tuberculosis and will undergo surgery for removal of a small diseased portion of his lung. Dr. William A. Werner, one of his physicians, said "we're still hedging about 1960." He added that Schoendienst's physicians haven't changed their opinion that Red probably won't be able to play this year.

First With The Most—Rebounds Aid Spartans
CHICAGO (AP) — It appears Michigan State's Spartans will rebound right into the Big Ten basketball throne room. Official conference statistics Thursday disclosed that the first-place Spartans lead only in the rebounding department. But they are doing a whole lot of other things.

Their average of 62 rebounds per game in 10 league contests, 8 more than runner-up Indiana, has been a prime factor in the Spartans' march to a pacesetter 8-2 record in the championship race. Illinois despite a 5-5 performance, is the Big Ten's scoring leader with an 85.4-point average. Michigan State is next with 84.2.

Leading defensive team is Minnesota, tied with Ohio State for seventh in the standings, with an average yield of 69.4. Purdue 6-4 leads in field goal accuracy with a 42.5 percentage.

In the individual scoring race, Minnesota's Ron Johnson last week regained the lead from Michigan's M. C. Burton. Johnson has a 9-game average of 23.3 against 22.4 for Burton in the same number of games.

Burton, however, continues to lead in rebounding with 17.3 per game, compared with 16.9 for Michigan State's Johnny Green.

Other top scorers include: Willie Merriweather, Purdue, third with 21.7, followed by Dave Gunther, Iowa, 20.7; Larry Siegfried, Ohio State, 20.6; Green, Michigan State 20.2; Joe Ruklick, Northwestern, 19.7; Clarence Wardlaw, Iowa, 19.4; Wilson Eison, Purdue, 19.2; George Lee, Michigan, 19.1.

CHAMP WINS
TOKYO (AP) — World flyweight champion Pascual Perez of Argentina floored and decisively out-pointed Japan's Kenji Yonekura in a nontitle 10-round bout Wednesday night.

Leading defensive team is Minnesota, tied with Ohio State for seventh in the standings, with an average yield of 69.4. Purdue 6-4 leads in field goal accuracy with a 42.5 percentage.

Olmedo 2nd Seeded; Savitt 1st In Indoor

NEW YORK (AP) — If Alex Olmedo is the best amateur tennis player in the world, as many contend, he'll get another chance to prove it this weekend.

NEW YORK (AP) — Art Andrews of Iowa City meets Earl Buchholz Jr. of St. Louis in a first round match of the National Indoor championships tonight.

The 22-year-old U.S. Davis Cup hero will make his first U.S. start of the year in the National Indoor Championships, opening today at the 7th Regiment Armory.

Olmedo must face a strong international field, including cup teammates Barry MacKay and Earl Buchholz. But, more than that, he also probably must outlast the formidable Dick Savitt, who won the Australian and Wimbledon titles in 1951 and then quit bigtime competitive tennis.

He subsequently returned and won this tournament last year and is favored to repeat as the No. 1 seeded player.

Tournament directors had no hesitancy about subordinating Olmedo to the No. 2 spot despite his brilliant recent record of almost singlehandedly winning the Davis Cup and then scoring in the Australian National Championship.

The young Peruvian is not accustomed to hardwood play.

THE PEN IS MIGHTIER THAN THE SMOOCH

Back in my courting days (the raccoon coat was all the rage, everybody was singing Good Morning, Mister Zip Zip, and young Bonaparte had just left Corsica), back, I say, in my courting days, the standard way to melt a girl's heart was to write poetry to her.

I don't understand why young men today have abandoned this gambit. There is nothing like poetry for moving a difficult girl. What's more, poems are ridiculously easy to write. The range of subjects is endless. You can write a poem about a girl's hair, her eyes, her lips, her walk, her talk, her clothes—anything at all. Indeed, one of my most effective love lyrics was called To Maud's Pencil Box. It went like this:

*In your dear little leatherette pencil box
Are pencils of yellow and red,
And if you don't tell me you love me soon,
I'll hit you on top of the head.*

Honesty compels me to admit that this poem fell short of success. Nothing daunted, I wrote another one. This time I pulled a switch; I threatened myself instead of Maud.

*Oh, Maud, pray stop this drive!
And tell me you'll be mine,
For my sweetbreads they do shrivel
And wind around my spine.
My heart doth cease its beating,
My spleen uncoils and warps,
My liver stops secreting
Soon I needs be a corpse.*

When this heart-rending ballad failed to win Maud, I could only conclude that she was cruel and heartless and I was better off without her. Accordingly I took back my Hi-Y pin, bade her adieu, and have not clapped eyes on her since. Last I heard, she was working in Galveston as a Plimsoll line.

But I did not mourn Maud long, for after Maud came Doris—Doris of the laughing eyes, Doris of the shimmering hair, Doris of the golden tibiae! Within moments of meeting her, I whipped up a torrent of trochaic tetrameter:

*Oh, my sweet and dulcet Doris!
I love you like a Philip Morris
With its mild and rich tobacco
In its white and scarlet pack-o.
I'd swim from Louisville to Natchez
For Philip Morris and you and matches.*

Well, of course, the dear girl couldn't resist a poem like that—what girl could?—and she instantly became my slave. For the rest of the semester she carried my books, washed my car, and cored my apples. There is no telling where it all would have ended if she hadn't been drafted.

So, men, you can see the power of poetry. Try it yourself. All you need is a rhyming dictionary, a quill pen, and a second-hand muse.

Let's drop rhyme and turn to reason. The reason Marlboro has gone to the head of the filter cigarette class is simple: better "makin'"—a flavor that pleases, a filter that works. Marlboro—from the makers of Philip Morris.

Head-On Collision

It would remain to be seen whether primary bids would bring a head-on collision between Kennedy and Humphrey.

Rule Out New Jersey

This attitude presumably would rule out such states as New Jersey, where Meyner is expected to be a candidate, and California, where Gov. Edmund G. Brown will be at least a favorite son candidate.

Kennedy Labor Bill Goes To Full Committee

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A Senate Labor subcommittee approved Sen. John F. Kennedy's moderate labor reform bill Wednesday after voting to retain Taft-Hartley law changes demanded by union leaders.

The subcommittee, headed by Kennedy, defeated a Republican attempt to substitute a more sweeping anti-racketeering bill proposed by President Eisenhower. Further efforts to enact the President's proposals will be made on the Senate floor.

Kennedy said the measure, which he co-sponsored with Sen. Sam J. Ervin (D-N.C.), was approved unanimously at a closed-door session after the key votes on the Taft-Hartley changes and the Eisenhower program were out of the way.

The bill now goes to the full Senate Labor Committee which is expected to take it up soon as a prelude to Senate action.

The measure, which Kennedy has said would "take care" of Teamsters President James R. Hoffa, calls for the secret election of union officers as a key part of its program for ridding the labor movement of undesirables.

It also would require officials of local and international unions to make public reports of union finances. Persons acting as middlemen in labor-management relations also would have to file financial reports showing where their pay came from.

The bill would amend the Taft-Hartley law to broaden the definition of supervisors eligible for union membership. The U.S. Chamber of Commerce and other groups have opposed the change on grounds it would bring thousands of supervisors under union "domination."

Executive Secretary Ray J. Kauffman said that claims received by the board in Des Moines total 73,709. Payments averaged $245 since they began last year, Kauffman said. A total of 349 claims were disallowed through Wednesday and the balance of bonus funds on hand totals $16,722,100.

Doctors Hear McFarland Talk Tonight

More than 200 Iowa doctors will hear a lecture in Iowa City tonight by Kenneth McFarland, nationally prominent educator who has been described as "the teacher who has made the whole continent into a personal classroom."

The speaker, who is now educational consultant for General Motors Corporation, will address the physicians on "3-Dimensional Confidence."

The doctors are attending a four-day refresher course which the Iowa Academy of General Practice and the State University of Iowa's College of Medicine are sponsoring at the University Medical Center. Dr. McFarland will be the featured speaker at the Academy's annual banquet.

In addition to his position with General Motors, Dr. McFarland is a business man, farmer, stock raiser, civic and church leader, industrial advisor, personnel consultant and public relations counselor.

In a survey conducted by the U.S. Chamber of Commerce, Dr. McFarland was named "America's Number One Speaker." The National Sales Executives Clubs, in an international convention at Los Angeles, named the speaker "America's Outstanding Salesman for 1957."

According to Dr. McFarland, one of the "big needs of our time," is for what he calls "organized and usable information," and he looks upon speech as one of the best media for dispensing such information.

Changing Balance Of Power Main State Department Task

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the last of a series of three stories about John Foster Dulles.
By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
WASHINGTON (AP) — The great problem which John Foster Dulles — or his successor at the State Department — must face in the next two years is the changing balance of power between the Soviet Union and the United States. In industrial and space-age military production, the Soviet Union is moving up very fast.

Since the beginning of the cold war, United States political and military policy has been based on a power balance in favor of the Western Allies. The basic assumption has been that the Soviet Union would use its military power to promote political expansion if it dared, but it didn't dare. In January 1954 Dulles gave this concept a name: "massive retaliation."

Some Concern
About 18 months ago concern over the reliability of this doctrine as a mainstay of world peace spread through the Western camp. There were three reasons. In August 1957 the Soviet Union announced successful testing of an intercontinental ballistic missile. On the following Oct. 4 it launched its historic Sputnik, the first man-made moon. On Oct. 7 Moscow announced development of "a mighty hydrogen warhead of a new design."

The United States military response to these Soviet achievements has been to begin putting nuclear missiles into NATO territory in Europe, where Allied governments agreed to receive them, and to speed up missile and development production programs and ICBM bases in this country.

Disarmament
The direct answer to this condition of peril seems to be some form of disarmament backed up by international inspection against surprise attack. Dulles and President Eisenhower along with Allied leaders have tried to negotiate disarmament pacts with the Soviet Union. But all efforts have failed to date because Soviet leaders charge that any inspection system which would be effective in Western eyes is merely a device for spying in their country.

Gen. Alfred Gruenther Possible Successor

In meeting the 1958 Mideast and Quemoy crises Dulles followed a philosophy he expounded early in his term as secretary of state. It has come to be known as "brinkmanship" after he talked in a magazine interview about the necessity of going "to the brink" of war in order to make another nation back down when it threatened aggression.

The time may come," Dulles said at the 1955 Summit conference, "I believe it will come — when Russians of stature will patriotically put first their national security and the welfare of their people. They will be unable to have security and that welfare subordinated to the world-wide ambitions of international communism."

"If their point of view should prevail, then indeed these could be a basis for worthwhile negotiation and practical agreement between the United States and the new Russia."

Cannot Be Trusted
At a recent news conference, however, Dulles dealt with the other side of the coin. He said the move by the Soviets beginning last November to oust the Western Powers from Berlin demonstrated that they cannot be trusted to keep agreements. But agreements with the Soviets are acceptable if they can be made self-enforcing, he added, and the Western Powers must explore every opportunity for making such agreements as that.

Dulles has given United States foreign policy the deep imprint of these ingredients of his own thinking — long-range hope about winning out in the end, eternal vigilance against being lured into an unworkable agreement, and the will together with the arms to fight if the Soviet challenge ever goes that far. These fundamentals will carry over into the coming years whether his hand or another charts the course.

List SUI Enrollment By County; Linn Again Tops With 716

Seventeen counties in Iowa are represented by more than 100 students each at SUI this year, according to figures compiled by Registrar Ted McCarrel.

As in 1958, Linn County leads the list, with 716 students, and Johnson County is in second place with a total of 703 students.

The next 15 counties in order of the number of students enrolled at SUI are: Polk, 591; Scott, 342; Black Hawk, 287; Clinton, 221; Woodbury, 215; Cerro Gordo, 181; Muscatine, 172; Des Moines, 149; Lee, 149; Dubuque, 137; Marshall, 128; Wapello, 118; Story, 115; Webster, 110, and Jones, 104.

All counties with more than 100 students enrolled are among the top 18 in population, except Jones County, which ranked 43rd in the 1950 census. Woodbury County, though on the extreme western edge of the state, ranks seventh in University enrollment.

A correlation of .82, only 18 points short of perfect, exists between county population figures and the number of students enrolled, indicating that Iowa counties strongly tend to contribute students to SUI in direct proportion to each county's population standing.

McCarrel explains this calculation does not take into account the distance of various counties from Iowa City nor the location of other colleges within the counties. "If it did, an even higher correlation would have resulted," he says.

The report also reveals that students attending SUI come from all 49 states in the nation and the District of Columbia. Leading the roster of out-of-state students are Illinois, with 829 students enrolled and New York, with 153 students.

Among foreign students enrolled from 36 different countries are 31 from China, 26 from India, 19 from Canada, 18 from Korea and 17 from the Philippines.
