

Minnesota Takes Early Lead In Big Ten Wrestling Meet Here

Iowa, Michigan Tied For 2nd 7 Points Back

Gophers Show Strength At All Weight Divisions

Minnesota takes an early lead into the Big Ten championship wrestling finals to be held in the Fieldhouse starting this afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Minnesota placed only two men in the finals, but sent five in the consolation finals, scoring 19 points Friday. Iowa has four men in the championship finals, but failed to place anyone in the consolation bracket. The Iowa team scored 12 points, as did Michigan, who has three men in the finals and two in the consolation finals.

Michigan State and Illinois are behind Iowa and Michigan with 11 and 9 points respectively. Leading the Hawkeye team was Gene Luttrell, defending Big Ten 137-pound champ, who advanced into the finals with three victories, one a fall over Indiana's Don Morrison, in 5:08. Other wins posted by Luttrell were a 7-0 decision over Forest Devor, Illinois, and 5-2 decision over Minnesota's Charles Coffee. Luttrell's opponent in the finals will be Don Woehrl, Northwestern.

Vince Garcia, Hawkeye 123-pounder, advanced to the final round with a 7-5 decision over Bill Bane, Indiana; and a 11-1 decision over Purdue's Stan Henderson. Garcia will go against Michigan's Mike Hoyles in the finals.

Jim Craig, 177, and Gordon Trapp, heavyweight, were the other two Hawk grapplers to reach the finals.

Craig scored a 9-0 decision over Dave Hull, Ohio State, and a 4-1 win over Tom Troussil, Illinois. Bill Wright, Minnesota, who has split with Craig in two earlier meets this year, will be his opponent in the finals.

Trapp pinned Ohio State's Bill Sexton in 4:11, and then outpointed Minnesota ace Pete Veldman 4-1, to advance into the finals against Tom Woodin, Michigan State.

Iowa 130-pound ace Larry Moser lost a 4-0 decision in the championship bracket, and bowed 2-0 to Larry Murray, Michigan, in the consolation match. Werner Holzer took an 8-0 win over Brian Kenyon, in the 147-pound class. Kenyon lost the consolation match to Northwestern's John Heintz, 2-0. Tom Halford lost to Bill Popp.

MERC Week To Give Aid To SUI Men

In just three days SUI males will be kings for a week — at least MERC Week.

"Men's Economic Recovery Week," a campus-wide turn-about week sponsored by the Associated Women Students, will begin Monday.

Its purpose — to relieve SUI men of financial strain by turning the responsibility for dates over to the coeds. "This time the girls will be doing the asking," said Colleen Singley, A4, Fairfield, chairman of MERC Week.

MERC Week will be climaxed Friday with the 1959 version of the Spinster's Spree dance, "Off on a Spree." Sponsored by AWS and Central Party Committee, the dance will be from 8 p.m. to midnight in the Main Lounge of the Iowa Memorial Union. Jack Payne and his orchestra will play.

Tickets will go on sale Monday for $2.50 a person at the Union Information Desk and Whetstone's. Although Spinster's Spree is presented annually, MERC Week is new to SUI this year.

Election Meeting Today For SUI Campaign Heads

All campaign managers for candidates running in the All Campus Elections should attend a meeting today with the campaign and publicity election committees at 3:30 p.m. in the Pentacrest Room of the Iowa Memorial Union. The meeting was announced by Larry Krueger, C3, Iowa City, chairman of the Elections Committee.

Managers will be required to submit general campaign plans and platforms to the committees at this meeting. The meeting is an important one, said Krueger, and it will benefit all campaign managers to attend.

Managers should also bring pictures of their candidates to today's meeting, said Krueger. These will be used in the Daily Iowan on the All Campus Elections page.

Snowstorm Leaves Iowa

Winds Slow Clearing Job On Highways

Up To 20 Inches Of Snow Hit State

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Iowans started shaking off the effects of winter's mightiest haymaker in 10 years Friday.

But like a boxer coming off the canvas after a nine-count, they were finding it slow work.

Traffic, paralyzed by wet snow ranging to as much as 20 inches, started to move haltingly and with about as much assurance as a baby learning to walk.

Winds Hamper

Highway crews were slowly gaining ground on the mountainous drifts that clogged the roads. But continuing winds of around 30 miles an hour were hampering their efforts.

There was no accurate count of the extent of damage done by the storm, but it was bound to be considerable.

At least 12 persons were dead as a result of storm-connected mishaps. Two of the dead were George Cotton, 29, of Adel, and his 3-year-old daughter, Carolyn, whose strength gave out after they left their stalled car to seek shelter in a farmhouse near Waukeo. A highway patrolman found their bodies huddled in a snowbank.

Farm Fires

A number of farm fires also were reported, and in each case the story was the same — Firemen either couldn't get there at all, or were delayed too long to prevent heavy damage.

At least six expectant mothers were stranded in stalled automobiles while the blizzard raged around them. Some of them never did make it to the hospital.

One of these was Mrs. Ivan Wray farm wife living near Plano. Her husband's car got stuck in a drift two miles north of Plano and Mrs. Wray gave birth to a daughter before help could reach her. Mother and daughter were reported in good condition at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Valentine in Plano.

Mrs. Marvin Stamek of Manchester took refuge in a farmhouse when she found she couldn't get to the hospital and a doctor went there to deliver her child.

Limited Travel

The State Highway Patrol reported that by midafternoon some travel was possible on Iowa highways, but they didn't recommend it.

Highway mail service was resumed Friday as snowflakes opened the way. But Greyhound Bus Lines said their buses were traveling only between Ames and Des Moines. The dispatcher's office said, however, that the company was planning to try a run west on Highway 6 later in the evening.

The highway patrol said blowing snow was reducing visibility to zero at some points. There was considerable one way traffic on the roads that were open and the patrol urged motorists to use chains if they simply must travel.

Highways Blocked

It reported these highways blocked: Highway 6 east of Des Moines; 30 at Colo; 60 north of Des Moines; 64 south of Highway 30, at Bondurant, east of Grimes and near the junction with 169; 69 south of Indianola; 92 east of Indianola; 2 near Corydon and west of State Center; 14 near Corydon; 34 east of Osceola.

North and south roads and most east-west roads in Humboldt County; all highways in the Mason City area; most roads in the Allison, West Union and Oelwein areas; 150 west of Walker; 30 west of Cedar Rapids; 218 between Vinton and Highway 30; 261 between Anamosa and Martelle; 92 east of Oskaloosa and 34 west of Ottumwa.

Even railroads were having their troubles with the heavy drifts. The engine of an Illinois Central passenger train was derailed as it tried to buck through a snow-filled cut east of Webster City. None of the 35 passengers was injured and the train continued on its way after a five-hour delay.

Giant Snow Woman Causes Both Hot And Cold Remarks

A buxom miss was sculptured from two 5-foot snowballs and then well watered and iced to preserve her sedate beauty on the west approach to Old Capitol.

Prompted by nearly a foot of snow in Iowa City, the men of Hillcrest's Fenton House worked from 7 to 11 p.m. Thursday to construct the SUI lady.

The men reportedly had trouble getting the top snowball in place, but under skillful leadership, the statue was carved with no supports hidden inside the snow.

Fourteen men worked in shifts so the young lady would be ready to welcome visitors to Old Capitol this weekend.

Daily Iowan took the picture above and transmitted it on the Associated Press Wirephoto network Friday morning. A few hours later the AP sent the following message on their teletypes:

"Wirephoto Network Points: Please eliminate Iowa City woman sculptured in snow on basis it is not in good taste."

The requests for the lady's measurements began to pour into the Iowan newsroom.

So Iowan reporters Jim Davis, A4, Greenville, Ill., and Ben Blackstock, A3, Kankakee, Ill., went to measure her. Measurements reported are 34-49-36.

Congressmen Pledge— Bipartisan Support

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Congressional leaders of both parties gave President Eisenhower a virtual wartime pledge of support in the Berlin crisis Friday after he briefed them on his firm refusal to yield to Soviet threats.

Speaker Sam Rayburn (D-Tex.) laid it on the line for Moscow and the whole world to hear when, upon emerging from a 90-minute White House conference, he declared:

No Parties

"The upshot is that we are united — we don't have any parties in this thing."

Said Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson: "The Communists will discover this country and our free allies are determined to preserve the free world."

Johnson said there was no thought of yielding to pressure from Russia, but that "every honorable avenue for peace will be constantly explored." Senate GOP Leader Everett M. Dirksen and House Republican Chief Charles A. Halleck echoed the Democrats' words.

Macmillan Coming

The President conferred with the Democratic and Republican leaders shortly after the White House announced that British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan would arrive here March 19 for a Big Two meeting with Mr. Eisenhower on the tense Berlin deadlock.

The United States and Britain are united in their determination to stand firm against Russia's threat to turn over its sector of Berlin to the East German Communists — a maneuver calculated to oust the allies from the old German capital.

One Difference

But the President and Macmillan have at least one difference — the Prime Minister apparently wants a summit meeting with Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev, while Mr. Eisenhower sees no profit in it unless there is some hope for agreement.

The State Department said Macmillan presumably also will confer with Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, who is in Walter Reed Army Medical Center with cancer. Macmillan will be accompanied by Dulles' British counterpart, Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd.

The pledges of support given the President by the Congressional leaders were reminiscent of the stand taken by both parties in the Formosa-Quemoy crisis, in last year's Mideast troubles and in the early days of the Korean War.

Must Be Firm

"We want the world to know," said Rayburn, "that we are united when it comes to Foreign affairs and in getting ready to do the things that ought to be done. We think with the President that we must be firm and remain so."

White House Secretary James C. Hagerty said the President expressed his appreciation for the bipartisan pledge of unity.

The leaders said the President did not ask for any Congressional resolution or other action backing him up, and Johnson said he would be opposed to any such move. The idea seemed to be: Why belabor the obvious.

House GOP Leader Charles A. Halleck agreed that the United States would stand firm, but that all roads to peace would be explored "and anything that can be done with honor will be done to maintain the peace."

No Yielding

Johnson said it would be foolish for the Congressional leaders to try to pretend they were not concerned about the Russian threat. But he and Dirksen stressed there would be no yielding, although, as Johnson put it: "We are going to stand ready and willing to explore . . . every avenue for peace."

The Congressional leaders were given a briefing on both the military and diplomatic aspects of the Berlin situation, and presumably heard some secret intelligence reports.

Among those attending the conference, called on less than 24 hours notice, were Director Allen W. Dulles of the Central Intelligence Agency; Defense Secretary

Neil H. McElroy; Undersecretary of State Christian A. Herter; Vice President Richard M. Nixon and members of the White House staff.

War Doubted By Khrushchev

LEIPZIG, East Germany (UPI) — Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev said Friday that he did not believe there would be a war, but he reiterated his threat to sign a separate peace treaty with East Germany — a move that would push the Berlin crisis to a showdown.

He said Russia and other Communist states would settle with East Germany separately if the Western allies continued to turn down the all-German peace treaty which Russia has proposed.

Khrushchev warned that a separate East German peace treaty would mean the end of the occupation regime in Berlin.

Disarmament Gain In Talk: Macmillan

BELFAST, Ireland (AP) — Prime Minister Harold Macmillan said Friday he and Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev canvassed "possible ideas of disarmament" in their Kremlin talks and made some progress.

There exists a vast chasm between East and West, however, "on the great issues of European security, of Germany and of Berlin," he told a meeting of political supporters.

"The immediate result of our visit to the Soviet Union," Macmillan continued, "may be said not to have been very great."

"I would not myself claim more than that we have much improved our knowledge of each other's points of view and so perhaps paved the way to negotiation in a wider circle."

11.5 Inches Of Snow Fell In Iowa City

Roads To Be Open; But To Limit Traffic

By CORKY STERLING
Staff Writer

No chains could be purchased in Iowa City Friday as residents and visitors tried to dig their way out of the worst snow storm in eight years.

Roads that were impassable Friday will be open today for limited traffic. Students are advised to spend the weekend in Iowa City unless it's necessary to leave town.

Slightly warmer readings are expected today, with a high of 34 to 38 degrees. Readings will average near to slightly below normal in the next five days.

11½ Inches

The official snow total for Iowa City was 11½ inches. The heavy snows temporarily halted almost all transportation to and from Iowa City, but today limited transportation will be possible.

Trains Friday were running three hours late, but are expected to be on time today. Buses that were stranded in Iowa City started running as soon as they could get through. They will be on schedule today for roads that are open.

Air Service in Iowa will be resumed today if the wind ceases so runways can be cleared. Terminals in Iowa City, Des Moines, Cedar Rapids and Clinton have been unable to have any flights for two days because of weather and field conditions.

City snow removal crews started late Friday night to clear the snow remaining in the downtown district. Residential districts will be cleared as soon as possible.

24 Trucks Used

S. W. McAllister, street superintendent, said that 24 trucks were being used to haul the snow away. By today he expects to have 60 per cent of the residential district cleared.

Most SUI events were held as scheduled Friday. The St. Ambrose Choir was unable to present a scheduled concert.

The University play, "Beyond Our Control," which was cancelled Thursday night, opened Friday. A special performance will be given Tuesday in place of the cancelled show Thursday. Both the military ball and the Art Guild Film "M" were held as planned.

Debate Postponed

The International Debate, part of the annual Intercollegiate Forensics Conference, is postponed to Wednesday at 8 p.m. in Macbride.

The debaters from London are stranded in Decorah, where they debated Wednesday. The luncheon for the conference will be held at noon today in the main lounge of the Union. Only 9 out of 23 schools registered for the conference made it to Iowa City Friday.

The Big Ten wrestlers finally all reached Iowa City for the meet being held this weekend. The group from Wisconsin was stranded in Mt. Vernon most of Friday, but the road opened for one way traffic in the afternoon.

Held Other Events

Other athletic events — fencing, track and basketball — scheduled away from Iowa City, all took place as planned.

Normal service to Iowa City should be resumed today. Mail will be delivered to both rural and local areas. Postal authorities said Friday that local delivery is not likely to be late, but rural mail may be later where roads are not cleared.

Milk deliveries were two hours late in some places Friday, but are expected to be on time today.

Girl Scout Party Sunday Afternoon

A birthday party in the SUI Fieldhouse, Sunday afternoon, will be given by the Cardinal Council of Girl Scouts as their first activity in celebration of Girl Scout Week. The party, honoring the 47th anniversary of the founding of Girl Scouts will be held from 2:30 p.m. to 4 p.m.

About 240 girls of the Cardinal Council, which includes Iowa, Johnson, and Washington counties, will attend the party. Parents and other interested adults are invited to attend.

News Digest

Philippine Navy To Release Five Russian Fishing Trawlers

MANILLA (UPD) — Foreign Minister Felixberto Serrano Friday ordered the Philippine Navy to release five Russian fishing trawlers detained since they entered Philippine waters a week ago.

Serrano said a special Defense Department Intelligence Team had found the reasons offered by the Russians for intruding in northern Philippine waters to be "satisfactory." The fishermen claimed they anchored in Diriqui Bay last Friday because one trawler developed engine trouble on the high seas.

The Soviet fishing flotilla which had refused to be escorted to the Poro Point Naval base for interrogation, was expected to sail shortly for Vladivostok. Serrano's order followed by less than two hours the suggestion of President Carlos Garcia that caution be employed in the handling of the case.

British Troops Arrest 30 Nairobi Nationalists

NAIROBI, Kenya (UPI) — Security forces Friday arrested 30 African nationalist leaders and suspended publication of two newspapers to prevent the spread of nationalist uprisings to this British colony still bearing the scars of Mau Mau bloodshed.

The roundup of the nationalist leaders occurred at dawn amid reports that the 1st Battalion of the King's own royal regiment outside Nairobi had been placed on a six-hour alert. The authorities in Nairobi were determined to head off any extension of the nationalist uprisings that have erupted in the last several weeks in Rhodesia and Nyasaland.

Shortly after the arrests, two extremist newspapers were ordered to suspend publication. One of the papers was Uhuru (Freedom), the voice of African political leader Tom Mboya, 28. Uhuru has made a national hero of the imprisoned leader of the Mau Mau, Jomo Kenyatta.

Uhuru also pointed to the settlement of the Cyprus dispute as a model to be followed in the case of Kenya and other European colonies in Africa.

Labor And Business Have Tried To 'Buy' Him Off, Kennedy Says

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (UPI) — Robert Kennedy, counsel for the Senate Rackets Committee, said Friday that management and labor representatives have tried to "buy" him off with promises of political support for his brother, Senator John Kennedy.

Kennedy told newsmen there had been "a number of such offers," all within the past year. In two cases, the men who made the offers "could have executed them," he said. One of these two offers, Kennedy said, came from a management source.

Kennedy, here to attend the Midwest Democratic conference, would not reveal what kind of support had been offered for his brother, who is regarded as a front-runner for the Democratic Presidential nomination in 1960.

He also did not spell out what was asked in return, except to hint that the men who contacted him would have liked to see him let up on the pressure when the committee came to examine their affairs.

Good Listening— Today On WSUI

PRESIDENT VIRGIL HAN-CHER will be the principal guest for today on CUE. At approximately 12:05 p.m. he will read an award-winning editorial which first appeared in the National Education Association Journal. For "bringing about a better understanding of the American way of life" the editorial won the George Washington Honor Medal presented by the Freedom Foundation, Valley Forge, Pennsylvania. Other features on CUE, which is heard from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m., include Sports Roundtable (Al Grady, Lou Younklin, Larry Barrett), an interview with a professional Girl Scout worker, another with a navy scientist who helped in the preparation of the "Sidewinder" missile, songs by Julie Vernon with Bill Dell at the piano, and there will be the usual mish-mash; Rock 'n' Roll, good music, news, cheerful weather reports and recorded comedy.

SATURDAY SUPPLEMENT: Taking its cue (pardon the expression) from Robert Hutchins' recent commentary that "anybody who feels at ease these days is a fool" SATURDAY SUPPLEMENT today has as its theme a question, "What ails democracy?" Dr. Hutchins, now president of the Fund for the Republic, will be represented more fully on SUPPLEMENT as Larry Barrett reads Hutchins' speech, "Is Democracy Possible?" Dick Setterberg, WSUI program director, will supply excerpts from an earlier, more optimistic talk by Hutchins. Other dilemmas to be explored today include an analysis of "What Ails the Theatre?," drama critic Walter Kerr's recently-published essay, James Purdy, young American author, will discuss the difficulty of getting published in one's own country with Professor Warren Bower, director of the Writing Center at New York University. Relief from dead seriousness will be offered by British comedienne and monologist Joyce Grenfell, speaking of "The Need for Quiet."

TEA TIME SPECIAL: will begin at 3:40 p.m. to allow time for "Porgy and Bess." Participants will include Mel Torme, Frances Faye, arranger Russ Garcia conducting the Bethlehem Orchestra, Duke Ellington, The Australian Jazz Quintet and others.

Two State Hunt Continues For Alabama Fugitive

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (UPI) — Police from two states, aided by bloodhounds and a helicopter, searched houses, barns and woods in the hill country west of here Friday for a "dangerous" convict who kidnapped four hostages in a break for freedom.

William Smothers, a notorious Alabama felon who has spent almost half his 33 years in prison and has 150 more years to serve, kidnapped a highway patrolman, a prison trusty and a Birmingham couple Thursday. He freed them unharmed near the north Alabama town of Flat Rock early Friday.

Patrolman Otto Dees said he was taking Smothers from Kilby prison at Montgomery, Ala., to Birmingham to stand trial for another armed robbery charge when Smothers worked free from his handcuffs, choked Dees and grabbed the officer's pistol.

Smothers forced Dees and prison trusty Ted Eastley, who was driving the car, to drive him to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Noel T. Keith near Birmingham. There he forced Mrs. Keith to cook him a meal and then ordered all four into the Keith family car.

He abandoned the car near the Tennessee river town of South Pittsburg shortly after freeing his hostages at about 3 a.m. "We circled all over Sand Mountain and finally stopped about 8 p.m. Thursday night," Mrs. Keith said. "I don't know where we were, but we sat there from 8 p.m. until 3 a.m. Smothers talked very little."

"He started driving again, and the next time he stopped, he told us 'this is where you all get out,'" Mrs. Keith said Smothers told them "he wasn't going to take us across the state line because that carries a death penalty."

Carlos Pen Justiz, an attorney who had defended Castro after the rebel's abortive 1953 attack on a Cuban government garrison, told the five-man military tribunal its verdict could determine whether Castro emerged as a strongman in the Latin world.

Defense Minister Augusto Martinez Sanchez denounced Reina Justiz' statement as "infamous, ill-intentioned and counter-revolutionary."

Martinez Sanchez took over as prosecutor at the re-trial on Castro's orders. The acquittal of the 43 defendants at the first trial in Santiago touched off street demonstrations.

Pena Justiz said his warning was not "exaggerated." He said Porfirio Diaz of Mexico and Rafael Trujillo of the Dominican Republic "also were popular heroes when they assumed power, but they used force to keep themselves on top for 30 years."

In Havana, Castro commented indirectly on the statement of his old law counsel.

The 32-year-old premier said a "reactionary opposition" was building against him. He said there was "undoubtedly a relation between this reaction" and "certain lawyers in Santiago who engaged in the anti-revolutionary campaign."

Women Candidate To Meet Tuesday

Candidates for offices in four SUI women's organizations will be presented at a pre-election party Tuesday at 4:30 p.m. in the River Room of the Iowa Memorial Union. The sponsoring groups, whose candidates will be introduced, are the Home Economics Club, Women's Recreational Association, Y.W.C.A. and Associated Women Students.

Jean TePaske, A4, Orange City, president of AWS, said the party is being held for the first time this year.

The Adelaide L. Burge award will be presented at the party to a junior woman outstanding in leadership, scholarship and citizenship. Corley Hamill, A4, Des Moines, who won the award last year, will make the presentation.

Candidates for the award were nominated by their housing units and screened by the AWS executive committee.

The award, a $50 United States Savings Bond, is given by Miss Katherine LaSheck, sister of the late Mrs. Burge. Miss LaSheck is an instructor in the SUI Department of Music.

About 200 women have been invited to the event. They are officers, advisors and committee chairmen of the sponsoring groups; candidates for the award; dormitory unit chairmen; housing unit presidents and all election candidates.

One Killed In Nyasaland Uprising

BLANTYRE, Nyasaland (AP) — Fresh violence broke out Friday night in this British protectorate.

One African nationalist was shot dead and four were wounded in a noisy gathering of 600 who carried primitive weapons in a defiant stand against colonial forces.

The fourth consecutive day of fighting resulted to 36 the official court of nationalists killed in clashes with colonial police and riflemen.

The big outbreak was at Mponela where security forces opened fire on the 600 when they defied orders of a district commissioner.

One nationalist was killed and three were wounded.

A second incident occurred north of Mponela. An African was surprised there building a roadblock and fought a security force trooper with a knife. Another member of the security forces opened fire, wounding the African in the leg.

Troops and police earlier moved through the countryside clearing away roadblocks and repairing damaged bridges and telephone lines.

The entire protectorate was thrust into a racial uproar by the arrest this week of Dr. Hastings Banda, president of the African National Congress. His organization was outlawed.

Urges Stamp In Honor Of Masaryk

WASHINGTON (AP) — A postage stamp honoring the Czechoslovakian statesman Thomas G. Masaryk was proposed Friday by Rep. Leonard Wolf (D-Iowa).

In an address to the U.S. House of Representatives, Wolf pointed out that Saturday is the 100th anniversary of Masaryk's birth.

He praised the Czech leader as "a great champion and a symbol of human freedom" and the George Washington of Czechoslovakia.

Wolf told of Masaryk's work during World War I to gain independence for the Czech people.

Federal Suit Against Alabama Dismissed

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (UPI) — A federal judge ruled Friday the 1957 Civil Rights Act did not give the Federal Government authority to sue individual states accused of violating Negro voting rights.

Judge Frank M. Johnson, Jr., dismissed a Justice Department suit against the state of Alabama. State Atty. Gen. MacDonald Gallion promptly hailed the ruling as "the greatest decision made in the past five years" regarding the south's racial troubles.

The government suit, designed to force officials of Macon County, Ala., to let some 20 "qualified" Negroes register to vote, charged the county board of registrars systematically denied voting rights for qualified Negroes because of their race.

The suit asked a permanent injunction against the county board to prohibit alleged discrimination. It also tested, for the first time, the use of segregated facilities in the registration process.

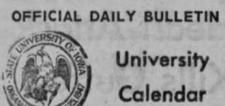

Johnson said a study of the legislative history of the 1957 Civil Rights Act showed it to be a "compromise measure and that the compromise reflected an intention on the part of congress to give

Eight Marines Die In Plane Crash

CHERRY POINT, N.C. (AP) — A Marine transport plane making an instrument landing approach in a wind and rain storm crashed into a lowland area early Friday and exploded, killing eight of the nine crewmen.

Rescuers who reached the area in driving rain found the only survivor lying in half a foot of water. Several feet above, cradled in torn tree branches perched the blackened shell of the RAQ flying boxcar, eight bodies inside.

The survivor, Sgt. Ralph J. Mauro, 22, of Hamden, Conn., was in serious condition at a Camp Lejeune hospital.

Nepotist Congressman Gets Crank Letters

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A 235-pound Congressman indignantly denied Friday that he totes a gun. But he conceded he has been getting "you bum . . . you crook" letters.

Rep. Randall S. Harmon (D-Ind.) said he has been getting the letters from "cranks" since it was announced that he put his wife and front porch back in Muncie, Ind., on the Federal payroll.

He said the letters had been coming from New York as well as California, but so far none had come from any one back home.

has the gun — or lack of gun — nothing to do with either his front porch, the letters, his wife or his payroll.

A published report said Harmon showed a gun to a newsman and said he carried it because he lived in a rough section of Washington.

Friday he denied the story and said he was able to take care of himself without firearms.

"I never bought a gun," he told a reporter. "I never borrowed a gun. I don't have a gun. I never even had a BB gun when I was a kid."

Travel Grant Awarded Lasansky's Art Exhibit

Mauricio Lasansky, professor of art at SU and internationally acclaimed printmaker, is one of 12 American artists selected by the Ford Foundation to present a traveling retrospective exhibition of his works. The 12 exhibitions will be financed by a Ford Foundation grant of $253,000, which will be handled through the American Federation of Arts.

The grant is part of the Ford Foundation's program in Humanities and the Arts, a combined project to encourage the creative development of talented persons, prepare a comprehensive study of the economic and social status of the fine arts in the U.S., and support new avenues of thought in the arts as well as scholarship basic to the humanities in general. A recent $10,000 grant for individual study by James Clancy, professor of dramatic art at SU, was a part of this program. He was one of ten American theatre directors to receive such an award.

The retrospective art exhibits — selected from the artist's entire body of work so as to show the growth and development of his artistic career — will travel for approximately two years. For the first year, they will circulate among the museums, art centers, colleges and other institutions in the artist's own region. The second year, the shows will be available for exhibition in other parts of the country. Lasansky will not be traveling with his works.

Works in Lasansky's exhibit will include many prints now on the SU campus. The show is expected to be ready to travel by the end of 1959. His work can presently be seen at the Des Moines Art Center, Iowa State Teachers College, Cedar Falls, and the Cedar Rapids Public Library.

Other recipients of the retrospective exhibition awards were Milton Avery, N.Y.; Andrew Dasburg, N.M.; Jose de Creeft, N.Y.; Lee Gatch, N.J.; Carl Morris, Ore.; William Pachner, Fla.; Walter Quirt, Minn.; Abraham Rattner, N.Y.; Hugo Robus, N.Y.; Karl Schrag, N.Y.; and Everett Spruce, Tex.

'59ers' Cross Indiana; Alaska Bound

LA PORTE, Ind. (UPI) — An Alaska-bound "wagon train" of modern pioneers crossed Indiana Friday through 50-mile-an-hour winds and swirling snow squalls.

The caravan of Detroit "59ers" skirted one of the worst storms of the winter on the second day of its 4,300 mile trek to the Kenai Peninsula of Alaska and a new life. Not even "wagon master" Ron Jacobowitz, 23, was sure how many men, women and children were in his trail or, precisely which route they would use across Illinois and Wisconsin, where they planned to bed down Friday night.

Jacobowitz estimated there were "about 50" persons in the troupe—15 families including 15 children. He changed his travel plans whenever he saw a chance to avoid traffic pileups and big cities.

The wagon train, containing station wagons, mobile homes, pickup trucks and an antique moving van, bogged down at a State Park near Angola, Ind., after the first day's traveling from Detroit last night.

The 59ers spent the night repairing the moving van, which had broken down before it had traveled 100 miles, and set off westward at sunup Friday.

They traveled the northern Indiana tollroad without mishap, but turned off when they neared the Illinois border at La Porte.

First, the wagon train stopped by the roadside while the men women and children ate lunch. Then it checked through the toll gates and showed up in Gary, Ind. Jacobowitz did not reveal his travel plans, but apparently wanted to skirt south and west of Chicago traffic.

The caravan averaged close to 50 miles an hour on the tollroad, boosting the 59ers' hopes of making it to Alaska in three or four weeks.

At the end of the trail are 160 acres of unsettled land for each 59er and a chance for a fresh beginning on America's last frontier.

Pioneer IV Breaks RadioSignalRecord

WASHINGTON (UPI) American scientists lost contact with their Pioneer IV "Planet" Friday, but not before it broke the long distance radio transmission record claimed by Russia for its Lunik.

Scientists at the Goldstone tracking station in California's Mojave Desert last heard from their satellite of the sun at 10:24 a.m. A little later they calculated that the tiny space capsule was 416,000 miles from earth and traveling at 3,940 mile an hour.

Russia has claimed that its Lunik satellite broadcast from 370,000 miles in space before radio contact was lost. American scientists agreed the Lunik sent signals from at least 350,000 miles out.

Loss of radio contact with the 13.4 pound Pioneer was due to the increasing distance it put between itself and the earth as it hurtled toward a permanent orbit around the sun. In addition, its batteries steadily lost power.

Goldstone's tracking range is about 400,000 miles. Pioneer's battery life was estimated at 90 hours. The batteries were turned on five hours before it was launched 3 1/2 days ago, giving them a life of about 85 hours in flight.

The 85-hour period ran out Friday at 1:10 p.m. EST. It was possible that England's powerful Jodrell Bank radio telescope might track the satellite somewhat farther than U.S. stations. However, American scientists consigned it to a soundless — but permanent life in inky space.

The Government Space Agency had said the Pioneer already could be said to be orbiting the Sun on a path slightly "below" the one it will take up permanently. The agency said a permanent orbit would be established March 17.

Once in that orbit, there is no reason why it should not stay there just about as long as the universe exists.

Fred A. Stone, Early Star, Dies Friday

NORTH HOLLYWOOD, Calif. (UPI) — Fred Andrew Stone, famed early star of such Broadway hits as "Red Mill" and "Wizard of Oz," died Friday at his home at the age of 85.

A star in almost every phase of show business, from carnivals to the legitimate stage and motion pictures, Stone's career spanned more than 70 years.

One of his most famous early day roles was as the straw man in the original "Wizard of Oz" production.

Ill and in semi-retirement for many years, Stone made a brief comeback in revivals of "You Can't Take It With You" in 1942 and 1950.

The native of Valmont, Colo., and son of a cattle rancher, had star billing in such Broadway hits as "The Red Mill," "Stepping Stones," "Ripples" and other plays.

Funeral services will be Monday at 2 p.m. at Forest Lawn's Church of The Hills. Interment will follow at Hollywood Hills Cemetery.

Survivors include three daughters, Mrs. Dorothy Stone Collins, Encino, Calif.; Mrs. Paul Sloan, London, England, and Miss Carol Montgomery Stone, North Hollywood, and a brother, Paul Stone, of New York City.

Caribbean Film Slated For Mountaineers Sunday

"Islands of the Caribbean," an all-color film created by author-adventurer Nicol Smith, will be presented Sunday at 7:45 p.m. in the SU Mountaineers Film-Lecture series.

Making his ninth appearance in the Iowa Mountaineers film-lecture course, Smith has written five books. During the Second World War, he served as a secret agent in France and Thailand.

The Caribbean highlights which make Smith's film a unique experience include pictures of the colony of American millionaires at Mill Reef, coral sea gardens in Tobago, Limbo Dance sequences shot in Trinidad, as well as dazzling views of Jamaica, Grenada, Barbados, and other regions of the Caribbean.

Summit talks PARIS (AP)—Soviet Ambassador to France Serge Vinogradov Friday called on French President Charles de Gaulle to discuss possible East-West summit talks, diplomatic sources said. The meeting was arranged at Vinogradov's request.

Enemies Buy Arms In Miami, Castro Claims

HAVANA (UPI) — Premier Fidel Castro charged Friday that enemies of his Revolutionary Government "are openly buying arms in Miami" and that neither Miami authorities nor the FBI are trying to prevent it.

"We are not bothered about this matter because we are not worried about any landings by expeditionary forces," Castro said during a television appearance. "We would even lend our enemies landing ships because our government has a popular base and arms cannot prevail against us."

Castro described himself as still a revolutionary although he is a member of the new Cuban government. He said "the revolution" would fight to the last man "any minorities who arm themselves illegally."

The premier added that the "problems" arising from the retreat of 43 Batista airmen in Santiago in Oriente province were being made "a pretext for a first big campaign against the revolution because the reactionaries and the assassins are getting together."

"A campaign is underway to split Oriente province from the rest of Cuba," Castro said.

He said the 43 pilots who were absolved by a rebel tribunal in their first trial on genocide charges "do not deserve to be absolved."

In Santiago, an attorney for the 43 airmen being tried for their lives a second time on Castro's orders said Friday that Castro might become a "new Napoleon of the Caribbean."

LABOR DEMONSTRATION
WASHINGTON (AP)—The AFL-CIO has hired the biggest hall in the nation's capital and set April 8 as date for its big mass demonstration on unemployment. The federation said Friday the one-day affair will be held in the National Guard Armory, which holds 5,300. Thousands of unemployed workers are to join AFL-CIO union officials in demanding more administration and congressional action to aid the idle.

Exhibition Baseball To Begin Today

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The major league baseball exhibition season opens in Florida and Arizona today with all 16 clubs facing problems they hope will be ironed out in the next month.

Even pennant-winning Managers Casey Stengel of the New York Yankees and Fred Haney of the Milwaukee Braves have their work cut out for them before the start of the regular season April 9.

Stengel's anxiety is directed toward left field where Norm Siebern turned in a good-hit, no-field job in 1958. The Braves are seeking an adequate replacement for second baseman Red Schoendienst, stricken with tuberculosis and out for the season.

The Yankees kick off their exhibition schedule against the St. Louis Cardinals in St. Petersburg, Fla. The Braves meet Pittsburgh at Ft. Myers, Fla. In other Florida games, it's Cincinnati vs. the Chicago White Sox at Tampa, Philadelphia vs. Los Angeles at Sarasota, Baltimore vs. Kansas City at West Palm Beach and Detroit vs. Washington at Orlando.

In Arizona, San Francisco takes on Cleveland at Tucson and Boston goes against the Chicago Cubs at Mesa.

Let's look at some of the problems facing the big league teams along with their strong and weak points (teams listed in order of 1958 finish):

NEW YORK — Pitching mediocre. Blind Men To Top Spot In University Staff Bowling Loop

The Blind Men moved into first place in the University Staff Bowling League Wednesday by winning three of four points and gained a 2-point lead over the Spoilers. The Spoilers, who had been tied with the Blind Men, dropped three of four.

The Ions split four points and remained in third place — now five points behind the leaders. The Wrong Fords edged into a first division tie with the Pill Rollers picking up three points while the Pill Rollers were dividing four.

Cagers Seek Second Place; Face Spartans

Coach Sharm Scheurman's Iowa cagers wind up their 1958-1959 season tonight at East Lansing, Mich., when they face Fordy Anderson's title-winning Spartans at 7 p.m. Iowa time.

The Hawkeyes need a victory tonight to be assured of a first division finish. Going into today's final action, Iowa is tied with five other clubs for second place in the standings. Michigan State has already clinched its first crown since becoming a member of the Big Ten in 1950.

Iowa won the first game between the two teams, 80-68, on the Iowa Fieldhouse court, Jan. 5. The Hawks are 7-6 in the conference, Michigan State, 11-2.

Tonight will mark the last attempt by Dave Gunther to crack the all-time Iowa scoring record. The LeMars native needs 18 counter to break Bill Logan's record of 1,188. After a 37-point night against Ohio State two weeks ago, Gunther was held to only 4 and 15 by Purdue and Illinois, respectively, and fell to seventh place in the league individual scoring race with a 20.2 average.

Teaming with Gunther will be another high-scoring participant in his last college game — Clarence Wordlaw, whose 18.2 average places him 13th in the individual scoring.

Rounding out the Iowa starting lineup will be Nolden Gentry at center and Bobby Washington and Mike Heitman at guards. All three are juniors and will return next year.

Michigan State will counter with its great center Johnny Green, who will be making his final home appearance. Green, one of the best rebounders in league history, is the No. 4 scorer in the Big Ten with a 21-point average. Forward Bob Andereg is 10th with a 19.6 mark.

Rounding out the Michigan State starters will be forward Horace Walker and guards Lance Olson and Tom Rand.

The Spartans will represent the Big Ten in the NCAA tourney beginning next week. Their opponent has not yet been named.

The Ions split four points and remained in third place — now five points behind the leaders. The Wrong Fords edged into a first division tie with the Pill Rollers picking up three points while the Pill Rollers were dividing four.

Ira Keefer rolled the high series with 598 pins. Dale Hughes' 563 was good for second high. John Mosier fired a 238 for high game. Ralph Massey had a 225-game for second.

NATIONAL LEAGUE
MILWAUKEE — In addition to getting Schoendienst replacement, Braves need better year from Ed Mathews. Can be stronger if Bob Buhl's pitching arm comes around.

PITTSBURGH — Frank Thomas' big bat may be missed although club still has powerful offense. Excellent pitching.

SAN FRANCISCO — Catching weak. Can go places if Jack Sanford pitches well. Great outfield depth.

CINCINNATI — Has lots of batting strength with pickup of Frank Thomas. Pitching potentially strong — depends on comeback by Don Newcombe and better year by Joe Nuxhall.

Boys' Basketball Tourney Postponed

DES MOINES (AP) — Iowa's worst blizzard in more than a decade caused postponement of the boys' championship high school basketball tournaments Friday.

The semifinals, originally scheduled for Friday, will be played today and the finals will be held Monday.

The postponement is believed to be the second in history.

Lyle Quinn, executive secretary of the Iowa High School Athletic Assn., said he recalls a session in a round-robin tournament being delayed "in 1923 or 1924."

The first announcement from the association concerned the postponement of the semifinals. This was made after it became apparent that the Lowden squad, stranded in a farm house all night, and thousands of fans would not be able to reach Des Moines.

Quinn then went into a huddle with Wayne Cooley, executive secretary of the Iowa Girls' Athletic Union whose championship tournament begins in the Veterans Memorial Auditorium here Tuesday.

Then came the announcement the boys' finals would be played Monday and that the girls' practice schedules for Monday would be rearranged.

Lowden had been scheduled to play College Springs in Class B at 1:30 p.m. Friday but snowplows failed to reach the squad in time at the Leon Johnson farm eight miles east of Grinnell on Highway 6.

The postponement created all kinds of problems for the athletic association but undoubtedly was a help, except for Lowden, to the competing teams. Only Des Moines Roosevelt didn't have some sort of travel troubles because of the storm.

The competitors gained an added day's rest and Davenport now may have the help of Dick Green, the No. 6 man for the Blue Devils who has been ill with the flu.

Green, who said he felt "pretty good," planned to leave by train for Des Moines Friday night.

Davenport, the defending Class A champion, meets Roosevelt, the favorite, this afternoon at 2:45.

A shift was made in the time schedule for tonight.

Roland's Class B champions will take on Calumet at 7 p.m. and the Sioux Center-Clarion game will start at 8:15 p.m.

Friday's tickets will be honored today and today's tickets will be good Monday.

Wolves Lead Track Meet

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — Sophomore Tom Robinson of Michigan Friday night stole the show in preliminaries of the Big Ten indoor track meet by matching two meet records.

The British Empire games 220-yard champion from the Bahamas topped 60-yard dash-qualifiers for today's finals with a :06.1 clocking. This equaled the record of Ohio State's Jesse Owens in 1935 and duplicated the next year by Michigan's Sam Stoller.

Michigan led the trials by taking 14 places in the big show at Wisconsin's Camp Randall — twice as many as defending champion Illinois. The two schools are favored to battle it out for the crown without much of a challenge from the rest of the field.

Landing other places in the prelims were Indiana with 8, Minnesota 7, Ohio State 6, Wisconsin 5, Michigan State 5, Iowa 3, Northwestern 3 and Purdue 2.

Grid Coach To Debate With Anti-Grid Prof

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (AP) — Brown University's athletic director and a new football coach will debate with a Brown instructor who has started a petition to abolish intercollegiate football from the campus.

The instructor, Wade C. Thompson, had claimed that football was "anti-intellectual" and of no benefit to a university.

Green, who said he felt "pretty good," planned to leave by train for Des Moines Friday night.

Davenport, the defending Class A champion, meets Roosevelt, the favorite, this afternoon at 2:45.

A shift was made in the time schedule for tonight.

Roland's Class B champions will take on Calumet at 7 p.m. and the Sioux Center-Clarion game will start at 8:15 p.m.

Jordan Ears Draw With Redl On TV As Sub For Ortega

NEW YORK (AP) — Eddie Jordan, subbing for injured Gaspar Ortega, came from behind Friday night and earned a 10-round draw with favored Stefan Redl of Passaic, N.J., in a television bout at Madison Square Garden.

Jordan, of Brooklyn, weighed 143½, Redl 146½.

When the verdict was announced, Redl's manager yelled, "Where's the commissioner? What kind of a decision is that?"

Judge Arthur Schwartz voted for Redl seven rounds to two with one even. Referee Al Berl had Jordan ahead 6-4. Judge Bill Reht had it exactly even, four rounds and four points for each with two rounds even.

Although he suffered a nasty gash under his left eye in the fourth round, Jordan finished powerfully to gain the draw. A fine final round just got him under the wire. He got the nod on that frame from all three officials.
