Weak, Trembling Godfrey Leaves Hospital

NEW YORK (AP) — Arthur Godfrey left the hospital Friday, a weak, trembling man, movingly grateful to be alive. He broke down as he told how very narrowly he escaped death from a spreading lung cancer.

"The surgeon would have been perfectly within his rights in sewing me up and saying, 'I can't do a thing,'" Godfrey told an impromptu press conference at Columbia-Presbyterian Medical Center. His lips trembled and he dabbed at his eyes with a handkerchief.

The 55-year-old television and radio entertainer said the cancer not only had invaded his left lung but had wrapped around the aorta, the main artery to the heart.

His voice broke as he told newsmen: "But I got a break — he got it out, under circumstances so trying that one slip one way or the other and I wouldn't be here talking to you. I'm grateful for it and I'll do my damndest to deserve it."

Godfrey underwent a five-hour operation April 30 for removal of a part of his cancerous left lung.

According to generalized figures from the American Cancer Society, the chances are 25-1 to 50-1 against Godfrey's survival.

There is no immediate way of knowing whether the cancer spread. If it didn't, medical practice still regards a five-year period of freedom from symptoms before claiming a complete cure.

Godfrey will return to the hospital from time to time for X-ray treatments.

He'll rest for a time at home here and later go to his Virginia farm.

His return to television — on any regular basis, at least — appeared many weeks away. Presumably, he'll try to get back by Oct. 5, his 30th anniversary on the air.

About two months ago, Godfrey complained of a pain akin to indigestion. X-rays disclosed a tumor in the lung. He entered the hospital April 27, referring to his cancer-suspect tumor as "this horrible, skulking thing."

Then he was robust, ruddy, acknowledging only a normal fear of the eventual outcome of his operation.

As he came out of the hospital, he leaned on a cane. He appeared weary and unsteady, although he managed a grin as he slumped into a chair. His color was good and his face was not drawn.

Aides tried to shield him from newsmen but Godfrey raised a protesting hand and told them: "No. Wait a minute. I've got to tell them this."

He bowed his head for a moment, as though to collect his thoughts.

Then he told of the seriousness of his operation.

"Just like I told you when I came in, I feel fine. When I came in, physically I felt better than I had in years and I think except for the fact of overweight, I looked better. I told you that deep down inside was this—"

Godfrey put a finger to his chest, then for a moment he broke down again.

"Why I want to talk to you, you will take to the people the message from me which may be of help to others," he said.

"Inside I was afraid. The reason I was afraid, I didn't know. Like all aviators I'm not afraid of what I know about. Every time a flier pushes the throttle to the wall, he knows it might be the last time.

"He takes what we call a calculated risk. He's checked the engine, the airplane, and done everything he can to make sure of his weather and flying conditions.

"That's why we take off and land without qualms.

"When you come to something like this, when in apparent excellent health an x-ray shows a shadow on the lung and the doctor says 'I don't know what it is, let's go in and take a look at it.'"

Summing up, and paying heartfelt tribute to the doctors, nurses and hospital personnel, Godfrey said: "Thank God we live in a world like this."

YEARS OF UNCERTAINTY LIE AHEAD—Arthur Godfrey leans forward in the car that took him from the Harkness Pavilion hospital to his home Friday, following a recent lung operation for cancer. Chances are about 25-1 to 50-1 against his survival, and medical practice requires a five-year period of close observation before the operation can be termed a success.—AP Wirephoto.

Farm Funds Cut By House Committee

Ike And Benson Draw Rebukes From Group

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower drew a mild rebuke from the House Appropriations Committee Friday. His Agriculture Department was accused of violating the law.

While voicing disagreement in general with Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson's policies, the committee directed its major barbs at the Commodity Credit Corporation's failure to offer more of its farm surpluses for sale on a competitive basis in world markets.

The agency's failure to make world sales of surplus cotton, it charged, is in violation of law and "can only lead to further damage to the U.S. farmer, the Treasury and the taxpayer."

In a double-barreled action, the committee cut $142,199,365 from new farm funds for the fiscal year starting July 1 and made a token reduction of $270,000 in appropriations for some agencies operating under the Executive Office of the President.

But the committee approved the entire $10,255,500 which Eisenhower asked to run the office of the President, including one million dollars for the President's emergency fund. The committee said this should be used with the utmost restraint.

The President's emergency fund is one into which he may dip for unforeseen emergencies affecting national defense. The committee said the fund has been used on occasion "to initiate projects, committees and agencies which lend themselves to perpetuation long beyond the defensible pretext of emergency."

For other activities related to the executive office the committee approved $3,083,000. It cut $250,000 from funds requested for "management" improvement and $20,000 from the subversive activities control budget.

Iowa Group Seeks Stronger Labor Bill

DES MOINES (AP) — The Iowa Manufacturers Association Friday asked Congress to "protect employers and business against unreasonable demands and pressure by labor unions."

In resolutions adopted by the annual convention here the association said it feels the Kennedy-Ervin labor bill the Senate passed April 25 should be "materially strengthened" by the House.

"Provisions of the bill," the resolution said, "are woefully inadequate to deal with the abuses and misconduct by certain labor unions, their officials and leaders, and by certain employers, disclosed before the McClellan Committee of the Senate."

The association also opposed provisions of the bill which sanction pre-hire labor contracts in the building and construction industry and permit workers on strike for wages or contract charges to vote in representation elections at former places of employment.

It said these have no bearing on internal labor union reform.

The resolution contended that a pre-hire labor contract would compel employees to join the union when subsequently hired in states that have no right-to-work laws.

The manufacturers commended the 1959 Legislature for continuing the "protection of the freedom of the working people from compulsory union membership."

Another resolution said the Legislature acted in "good faith and strenuous effort" to adopt a fair legislative reapportionment plan, although the efforts were unsuccessful.

G. W. Bird of Charles City, vice president and general manager of the Oliver Corp., was elected association president to succeed Irwin A. Rose of Newton, vice president of the Maytag Co.

Harry D. Linn, executive vice president of the association, described as liberal the "family plan" bill for increases in unemployment compensation as approved by the 1959 Legislature. Organized labor had opposed the plan.

Linn said, "It will help us in Congress to keep state control of the administration of unemployment compensation if the governor doesn't veto it."

Gov. Herschel Loveless has not yet acted on this legislation.

Senator Proposes Foreign Aid Curb

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Mike Mansfield (D — Mont) proposed Friday halting all foreign economic aid other than loans within three years. He also urged reductions in military aid and said secrecy labels should be stripped from the amounts given each country.

Mansfield, assistant Democratic leader, said "time is running out on foreign aid" and the program must be drastically curtailed if it is to continue.

Unless this is done, and economic aid is shifted from gifts to loans, he told the Senate, the next session of Congress "may well see a tide of public reaction so strong it will swamp the entire undertaking."

Most of Mansfield's proposal, except for elimination of secrecy classifications, would go into effect July 1, 1960, although it would be written into the bill carrying funds for the year starting next July 1. President Eisenhower has asked $3.9 billion for all foreign aid next year.

The principal proposal would require the administration to submit next year a detailed plan for progressive yearly reduction of grants or gifts for defense support and economic assistance. Mansfield specified such grants should reach "zero for each such nation over a maximum three-year period."

Military aid, for which the President is asking $1.6 billion for the year starting July 1, would be continued under Mansfield's proposal, but on a reduced basis.

Grants for defense supports, for which Eisenhower is asking $835 million for fiscal 1960, would be eliminated entirely by June 30, 1963. Defense supports are economic aid to enable countries to maintain forces larger than their own economies can sustain. Mansfield's theory is that their elimination would reduce pleas for arms aid.

Mansfield's amendments would transfer all military aid to the regular U.S. Defense Department budget. However, the secretary of state would be given authority over where the money goes to insure against conflict with foreign policy objectives.

Dulles' Condition Now Worsened

WASHINGTON (AP) — The condition of former Secretary of State John Foster Dulles has worsened, the State Department said Friday.

Dulles, suffering from cancer, developed last weekend what was described as a mild case of pneumonia.

The State Department press officer, Lincoln White, reported late Friday: "Mr. Dulles' pneumonia has not completely resolved. There has been some further decline in his general condition."

The 71-year-old former Cabinet officer is in Walter Reed Army Hospital.

Asks Prompt German Peace Treaty

Western Hopes Dim For German Unification

GENEVA (AP) — Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko called Friday for prompt signing of a peace treaty with each side of Germany. His demand ran directly counter to Western hopes for a phased reunification of the divided nation.

Gromyko rebuffed the Western 30-month package plan for solving the Berlin, German, and European security problems, which provides for a peace treaty with an all-German government after unification.

Speaking for 45 minutes at the Big Four foreign ministers conference, Gromyko declared attempts to handle these problems together would bring the talks "into deadlock from the very outset."

Gromyko declared the Western package would make the German problem insoluble.

The draft treaty introduced by Gromyko would:

1. Provide for the conclusion of peace with the Bonn Republic and East Germany on the basis of their borders as of last New Year's Day. This would amount to official German reunification of Eastern German territories now administered by Poland and the Soviet Union and keep the present Eastern German boundary on the Oder-Neisse line.
2. Provide for the withdrawal of all foreign troops from German territory and limit the size of the national German forces.
3. Call for the absolute neutrality of West and East Germany, forbidding them to be members of either the North Atlantic Alliance or the Warsaw Pact.
4. Look to negotiations between the two German states for German confederation. Until unity was achieved, West Berlin would have the status of a "demilitarized free city," which would mean the withdrawal of Western garrisons.

Doggone Joke

Ike Leaves Text To Get Big Laugh

NEW YORK (AP) — President Eisenhower turned on his prepared text Thursday night to tell a joke. He got a big laugh from his audience of top scientists.

His joke concerned a man who named his hunting dogs after members of a college faculty. The faculty wives complained, so the man named the dogs with academic ranks.

A man from Chicago rented a dog named "Instructor" from the man for $2.50 a day.

The next year the fee jumped to $5. The man explained the dog had been promoted to assistant professor.

The next year the fee jumped to $7.50. The dog now was an associate professor.

The next year the fee jumped to $10. The dog had become a full professor.

The next year the man was unable to rent the dog at all.

The President explained that the dog had been made a college president and that all he did was "sit around and howl and bark and bark and he ain't worth shootin'."

Steel Wage Talks Continue; Down To Basic Issues Now

NEW YORK (AP) — Steel wage talks that could have a strong bearing on the nation's economy got down to bedrock issues Friday.

"We're really in basic discussions now," said David J. McDonald, United Steelworkers president, after a two-hour bargaining session between four-man management and union teams.

R. Conrad Cooper, chief industry negotiator, said the teams had "good exploratory discussions."

But as the talks recessed until Tuesday, neither would elaborate on what was discussed.

The union announced at the beginning of the talks May 5 that it would seek substantial wage increases and shorter working hours among other proposals.

Failure to reach an agreement by June 30 when the present three-year contract expires could lead to a strike by half a million steelworkers and cut off 90 per cent of the nation's steel production.

President Eisenhower has counseled against any settlement that would spur inflation through steel price increases. The industry has proposed a one-year freeze on wages and other benefits to hold the line against inflation. The union contends wages could be increased without increasing prices.

McDonald will attend an AFL-CIO Executive Council meeting Monday in Washington. He said

Monument Entrees Due By Friday

Those wishing to enter designs for this year's corn monument contest have until Friday to meet the extended deadline.

The final date was pushed back because of poor response. Only one design had been turned in before the original deadline.

Gordon Mehaffy, E3, Mediapolis, reported that response has been improving, with ten entries so far. He urged more people to enter the contest, because "with the small number of designs that have been entered, chances of winning are very good."

First prize in the contest is $15. The second place winner will receive a prize of $10.

Entries should be turned in to the Dean's office at the Engineering Building. They may be in the form of sketches, drawings or models. Anyone may enter a design.

Judging will be based on theme, originality, ease of construction, and completeness. A budget of $300 is allowed for the building of the monument.

Tickets Available For Final Concert Of SUI Symphony

Free tickets for the last SUI Symphony Orchestra Concert of the 1958-59 season are available for students and faculty today at the information desk of the Iowa Memorial Union.

The concert will be Wednesday night at 8 in the main lounge of the Union.

Riegger, who is at SUI for the Midwestern Student Composers' Symposium which ends Sunday, will attend the concert.

Open House Set For Sunday

Coeds Get Burge Hall Ready

About 80 Burge residents are frantically showing shoes under their beds, dusting off their desks, and in general, are putting their second floor rooms in "apple-pie" order in anticipation of the Burge Open House Sunday from 2 to 5.

The second floor will be open for inspection, in addition to other main floor and basement level facilities.

The coeds are not alone in this whirl-wind preparation. Workmen were busy until 1 a.m. Friday installing the main lounge carpeting. And members of the dormitory staff are rushing around with sheafs of papers in hand—checking last minute details on arrangement of furniture, dining hall preparations, and guided tour plans.

The interior decorator, W. D. MacKenzie, of the W.D. MacKenzie Company, Cedar Rapids, has combined colorful Flamingo Pink, Parakeet Blue, and Tern Gray in first floor tiling; vivid aquas, reds, and violets in main lounge furnishings; and Cameo Pink and Cloister gray on the fifth floor walls and doors.

The 5.45 million dollar building is modern in every detail in dining room facilities, lighting, furnishing, and recreation facilities.

The SUI advisory committee to the director of dormitories which has been instrumental in the general planning of the new dormitory, will be on hand Sunday to assist as hosts and hostesses. Officers of the SUI women's dormitories, and sorority presidents will also help the Burge Hall residents show their new dorm.

The dormitory advisory committee studied the initial plans and features of the building, and then made recommendations in the general areas of operation, finance, and construction.

Members of the committee include Walter F. Loehwing, dean of the Graduate College; Dewey B. Stuit, dean of the College of Liberal Arts; M.L. Huit, dean of students; Dr. Chester I. Miller, associate director of the SUI department of health; F. Eugenia Whitehead, professor of home economics; M. Gladys Scott, chairman of women's physical education at SUI; and T. M. Rehder, director of dormitories and dining services and chairman of the committee.

Big 10 Student Union Meeting Begins With Banquet At SUI

Twenty-five Union Board members, representing eight of the Big Ten universities, checked in and began activities Friday at the sixth Big Ten Student Union Association Conference got underway.

A noon lunch will be served followed at two o'clock by a leadership school in the Pentacrest Room. The leadership school will be divided into two sections. The first section will be a discussion by the executive council of Union Boards from Wisconsin, Michigan, Iowa and Ohio State. They will discuss Union Board problems, and what should be done to solve these problems.

The second section will be a business meeting for the purpose of ratifying the operating rules for the Union Association. These rules were drawn up at the first Big Ten Student Union Association Conference but have not yet been approved by all the schools on certain points. The operating rules must be acceptable to both the student board members and the union directors before they can be adopted.

Universities represented at the conference are Iowa, Illinois, Ohio State, Minnesota, Michigan, Michigan State, Indiana and Wisconsin. Purdue University sent no delegates to the conference, and Northwestern has no student union on its campus.

Minnesota Scores Two In 9th To Edge Iowa, 3-1

Rudeen Bows On 3d Safety By .188 Hitter

Hawks Make Last Home Appearance Today In 2

By LOU YOUNKIN Staff Writer

Iowa's Roger Rudeen and Minnesota's Fred Bruckbauer hooked up in as tight a pitching duel Friday as has been seen on the Iowa Diamond for some time with Bruckbauer and the league-leading Gophers edging to a 3-1 win on the strength of two ninth inning runs.

John Erickson opened the fatal ninth for the visitors by working Rudeen for a base on balls. It was issued by the Iowa righthander. Neil Junker then blooped a two-bagger down the left field line sending Erickson to third.

Two-Run Single
Dick Alford, who entered the game with an anemic batting average of .188, then shot a ground single to right field past the Hawks' drawn in infield scoring both runners and for all intents and purposes, that was the ball game.

It was Alford's third hit of the day and he was the only Minnesotan in the lineup with a bat mark under .285.

Rudeen, pitching his finest game of the year, went down to defeat for the seventh time this year against two victories. Iowa's record now stands at 8-16-1 with a Big Ten mark of 3-7.

Bruckbauer's 9th Win
For Bruckbauer it was win No. 9 compared with two setbacks. The Gophers have now won 17 of 21 games this year and lead the conference with a 8-1 record.

The curvballing righthanded Bruckmaster limited Iowa to only four safeties—singled by Paul Bonstead and Dick Weatherly and two by Fred Long.

The Hawks took the lead in the only inning in which they could muster two hits—the second. Bonstead opened with a single to left and Long moved him to third with a one-bagger to left center. When Weatherly bounced into a double play, Bonstead came home with the only Iowa tally of the afternoon.

Minnesota knotted the count with an unearned run in the fifth. Ron Causton singled to center with one out and after Martin Nelson hit into a force play for the second out Dave Pilepson looped a single to right.

Jerry Mauren relayed the ball to shortstop Les Kewney who fired to first base where Pilepson had made too wide a turn. Bonstead, however, let the ball get away from him and Nelson pranced in from third with the tying run.

Smoke But No Fire
The Hawkies threatened twice after that, but couldn't quite get the job done. In the bottom of the fifth Weatherly singled and Kewney walked with one out, but Rudeen and Mauren popped out.

In the seventh frame Iowa loaded the bases on a single by Long, which dropped among three Gophers while they were flipping a coin to see which would catch it, and walks to Mike Bougdanos and Rudeen. Mauren, however, ripped a 3-2 pitch to Eckickson at second base to end the inning.

Minnesota got Erickson, who doubled, to third base with two out in the sixth, but Rudeen picked him off with a quick throw to Don Peden.

Double Plays Hurt Hawks

The Gophers, who lead the Big Ten in double plays, pulled Bruckbauer out of jams with three twin killings, but the oddest double play of the day was pulled off by the Hawks.

With Alford on first and one out following his game-winning blow in the ninth, Causton lifted a high pop fly to Peden. The ball popped out of Peden's glove, however, and a quick throw to Bougdanos forced Alford who was still standing on first. Causton, meanwhile, after reaching first, turned around and headed back for the dugout. Bougdanos' loss to Bonstead completed the bizarre double out.

Iowa and Minnesota will play two games today beginning at 1:30 p.m. It will be the last home appearance for the Hawks who close their season next Friday and Saturday at Michigan and Michigan State.

Iowa coach Otto Vogel will go with Bob Pearl in the opener and Dick Clauson, Al Bachman or Al Klinger in the nightcap. Dick Siebert, Minnesota coach, is expected to throw his son, Dick Jr., in the first game and either Saxe Roberts or Howard Nathe in the finale.

Hawks Host Quadrangular Meet Today

The Iowa track team will host this afternoon to Minnesota, Wisconsin, and Northwestern in the final home meet of the year. This is the first quadrangular meet held here in many years. The field events will start at 1 p.m.

If there are preliminaries needed in the high hurdles the running events will start at 1:10 p.m.; if not, the first event, the mile run, will start at 1:20 p.m. The last event, the mile relay, is scheduled to start at 2:55 p.m.

Iowa coach Francis Cretzmeyer said "It should be a pretty good battle between Iowa and Minnesota, with Minnesota being the favorite. Minnesota beat Northwestern and Wisconsin in dual meets the past couple of weeks by pretty good scores." Minnesota has also beaten Iowa State and two New Mexico schools in dual meets.

Cretzmeyer is hoping that the Badgers and Wildcats can cut in on the Gopher points, thereby helping Iowa's cause. Neither Northwestern nor Wisconsin seem to have all around strength to threaten for first place.

"Minnesota's Bill Erickson is a real good miler," said the Iowa coach. "Hill (Jack) beat him in the quarter." Cretzmeyer also listed quarter miler Ivar Kauls, who has run the distance in :48.5; Buddy Edelen, two-mile outdoor champ; and hurdlers "Skip" Pederson and Dave Odegaard as other top Minnesota performers.

One of the best men for Northwestern is Wilmer Fowler, half-back on the Wildcat's football team. Fowler has run the 100-yard dash in :9.8 and is defending Big Ten champ. Pole vaulter Ron Nelson was also listed by the Iowa coach as one of the Wildcat's best performers.

Jesse Nixon in the quarter and Dan Lanphear in the shot put were two of the best men on the Wisconsin team listed by Cretzmeyer. Other top Badgers listed by the Iowa coach were hurdler Bob Guerts, Rechord in the sprints, McKinney in the quarter, half, or both; and shot putter Heineke.

The Hawks will be counting on Capt. Tom Burrows in the 100 and 220, quarter miler John Brown, broad jumper Bob Warren, and Jack Hill in the mile for good scoring. Burrows has :09.8 in the 100 and :21.2 for the 220. Brown has run the quarter in :48.5 and Warren has jumped 23'6". Other top Hawk performers are basketball star Nolden Gentry and Carl Anderson who have cleared 6'4" in the high jump; Harry Olson, 1:55, in the half mile, and discus thrower Herb Marske.

Five Iowa seniors will be participating for the last time before the home fans today. They are Burrows, Anderson, Ray Hermeier, Frank Dotseth, and Bob Fletcher.

"It should be a good close meet with all the events being close," said Cretzmeyer. "The best events from everybody's standpoint should be the mile, the mile relay, and the dashes," said the Iowa coach.

Four places will be scored in each individual event on the basis of 5, 3, 2, 1. Relay points count 10, 6, 4 and 2. Several track and field records made May 2 in the first meet on the new Iowa track are likely to be broken.

The lineup listed by the Iowa coach is:
Mile run—Hill, Dotseth and Hermeier
440 — Brown and Dougherty
100-yard dash — Burrows and Tom Hyde
Hurdles — Jack McDonald and Bill Orris
800 — Olson, Denny Rehder, Leighton Betz, Fletcher
220 — Burrows, and either Brown, Dougherty or Hyde
1 mile — Eric Clark, Bruce Trimble, and Bill Boyd or Hermeier
High jump — Anderson and Gentry
Broad jump — Warren and Brown
Pole Vault — Tom Herzberg and Bob Hanson
Shot put — Marske
Discus — Marske and Jim Rauker.

Expect 11 Starters In Preakness Today

BALTIMORE (AP)—No surprise horses found their way into the entry box for the 83rd Preakness Stakes at Pimlico this afternoon. As expected, 11 owners put up $500 apiece to enter the richest three-year-old race in history. If 11 start, the gross purse will hit $190,000.

However, as the minutes ticked away toward the 3:45 p.m. (CST) post-time, the feeling grew that this famed Maryland classic was going to be a duel between Willie Shoemaker on Sword Dancer and Eddie Arcaro piloting First Landing.

If "The Shoe" fits Sword Dancer, it would be the initial Preakness victory for the 27-year-old Texan. He can make racing history by being the first jockey to win the Kentucky Derby and Preakness in the same year on different horses. Shoemaker rode Tommy Lee and nosed out Sword Dancer with Bill Boland up in the May 2 derby.

Pierce Blanks Yanks 6-0; 7th In Row For White Sox

NEW YORK (AP)—Little Billy Pierce blanked New York on six singles Friday night as Chicago's second place White Sox whipped the Yankees 6-0 and stretched their winning streak to seven games, longest of the season in the American League.

It was the third shutout of the season suffered by the Yankees, and the first time they've been blanked by a left-hander in a regular season game since Cleveland's Herb Score did it Aug. 2, 1956.

Pierce, who has allowed only one run in his last 16 innings, walked but two and struck out seven for his fifth victory against two defeats. It was his second success over the seventh-place world champions, who haven't scored against the stubby southpaw in 13 innings.

BOSTON (AP)—Jim Perry relieved Jim (Mudcat) Grant in the ninth inning and preserved a 4-3 victory over Boston and Cleveland's half game lead in the American League.

Grant, 22-year-old righthander, was sailing along on a three-hitter going into the ninth before Frank Malzone looped a single to left and Jackie Jensen lashed his ninth home run into the left field screen.

Perry strode in and retired Dick Gernert and Pete Daley on grounders and pinch hitter Bill Renna on a long fly to center.

Rocky Colavito and Minnie Minoso hit home runs in the winning cause.

Colavito hammered loser Tom Brewer's 1-1 changeup delivery in the second inning for his ninth homer. A walk to Colavito preceded Minoso's fourth homer to the same quarters in the third which sent the score to 4-0.

Orioles 2, Tigers 1
BALTIMORE (AP)—Bob Nieman's dramatic ninth inning home run with Bob Boyd on base lifted Baltimore to a 2-1 victory over the Detroit Tigers Friday night.

Nieman's smash over the right field fence nullified what had shaped up to be a brilliant shut-out by the Tigers' Don Mossi.

The Detroit lefty had subdued the Orioles on only three scattered singles before Boyd opened the ninth with a single. Then Nieman came through with his timely blow — his fifth homer of the year — to hand Mossi his second defeat. He has one victory this season.

WASHINGTON (AP)—A three-run homer by Hector Lopez in the seventh inning Friday night gave the Kansas City Athletics a 4-2 victory over Washington.

Washington starting pitcher Russ Kemmerer took a 2-0 lead into the decisive seventh and had permitted no Kansas City runner beyond second base. However, he walked leadoff man Hal Smith and with two out he walked Whitey Herzog. Lopez followed with his fourth homer into the left field bleachers.

Winner on a five-hit pitching effort was Ray Herbert.

Cards 8, Phils 2
ST. LOUIS (AP)—Mizerly four-hit pitching by Wilmer (Vinegar Bend) Mizell, coupled with a lousy 12-hit St. Louis barrage — including three home runs and his own two-run triple — buried Philadelphia 8-2 Friday night.

Solo homers by George Crowe, Ken Boyer and Bill White added icing to the cake as the Cardinals opened a four-game series in which they hope to drop Philadelphia into the National League basement spot the Cards now hold.

Mizell's own muff enabled the Phils to end a 23-inning scoring drought. With one out in the fifth, he dropped George Anderson's pop fly. The next man up struck out but Jim Hearn followed with a walk and Richie Ashburn singled loading the bases. Granny Hamner smashed a double to bat in two unearned runs.
