Tighter Deadlock On Germany

Hoffa Threatens Nationwide Strike

Unions May Fight Congress On Antitrust

'Straighten Employers Once And For All'

BROWNSVILLE, Tex. (AP) — James Hoffa Tuesday threatened a nationwide strike of all labor if Congress harnesses unions with antitrust laws.

"They talk about a secondary boycott," the short, husky Teamsters president said in scorn.

"We can call a primary strike all across the nation that will straighten out the employers for once and for all."

The antitrust proposal came from Sen. John L. McClellan (D-Ark.) in a recent Senate speech, Hoffa said. Some business interests have proposed in congressional hearings that all unions be put under antitrust laws.

The 300 delegates to the South Atlantic and Gulf Coast district convention of the International Longshoremen's Union cheered wildly when Hoffa threatened severe reprisals if an antitrust law is passed.

"The only answer is that if such a law passes, we should have all our contracts ended on a given date," the turbulent Teamsters chief declared. From the context of his talk it was plain he referred to all unions, not just the Teamsters.

Such a uniform contract expiration would permit all unionized workers to strike at the same time.

In Washington, Sen. Pat McNamara (D-Mich.), himself a one-time Detroit union official, said any such strike "would be suicidal, just crazy."

Hoffa told a reporter after the speech. "They are trying to divide us so we can't win a fight."

"If their object is to divide us so we can't win a fight, and if this legislation passes and we're tied up, we'll have to have our contracts with a common termination date," he told the reporter.

Hoffa said the aim of the antitrust proposal is to prevent nationwide unions. But union workers must affiliate somewhere, he said.

Meany Calls Hoffa Talk 'Revolution'

WASHINGTON (UPI) — AFL-CIO President George Meany Tuesday indirectly accused Teamsters President James R. Hoffa of advocating "revolution" for proposing nationwide strike if Congress applies anti-trust laws to unions.

Meany also said the Teamsters never would be readmitted to the AFL-CIO so long as Hoffa heads the big union.

He was asked to comment on Hoffa's strike threat, issued at a regional convention of the International Longshoremen's Association (ILA) in Brownsville, Tex.

"That's a pretty good indication that we were perfectly right when we kicked him out," Meany said. "The AFL-CIO is dedicated to the American way of life and that includes our representative system of government," he said.

"When legislation is enacted that we don't like it's our policy to seek changes through that system and not through revolution."

Chairman John McClellan (D-Ark.) of the Senate Rackets Committee termed Hoffa a "would-be dictator." McClellan, who is working on the kind of legislation opposed by Hoffa, said he doubted that Congress would be intimidated by the Teamster boss.

Meany retorted quickly when he was told that Hoffa had said he wanted to get back into the AFL-CIO.

"He should live so long!" the AFL-CIO chief said. "We'll welcome the Teamsters back, but not with their leadership as presently constituted."

Inflation Spur Discussed At Steel Talks

NEW YORK (AP) — Top industry and union negotiators in the steel wage talks debated Tuesday the question of whether a pay increase would spur inflation.

They traded pointed remarks at a joint news conference after a bargaining session that produced no sign of progress toward a new contract. The talks will resume Wednesday.

R. Conrad Cooper, chief industry negotiator, said inflation was the country's number one problem and that the way to "combat it in steel" was to "combat rising employment costs."

David J. McDonald, president of the United Steelworkers, replied with some heat that, "inflation is a fictitious monster created by the steel industry."

The union is seeking "substantial wage increases." It contends the steel industry can provide them out of profits and productivity without raising prices.

The present three-year contract expires June 30. Failure to reach agreement by then could lead to a strike by half a million basic steel employees.

Cooper, executive vice president of the U.S. Steel Corp., opened the news conference by replying to a union statement that the steel industry was using a "false face of inflation" to "terrify the country."

The steel executive said there was "nothing phony about the facts of inflation."

He said that, since 1940, steel production costs per ton rose somewhat more than 6 per cent on an annual basis while employment costs rose 7.8 per cent annually.

These rises caused price increases, he said.

McDonald, in turning inflation "a fictitious monster" said "this is not a question of inflation but a question of who gets the money."

"It is a question," he continued, "of whether all the dollars are to be retained by management and stockholders or whether the workers are to get their fair share of the increased profits and some of the benefits of their increased productivity."

DALAI LAMA VISITOR

TOYKO (AP) — The Indian Embassy here has given the Dalai Lama's elder brother, Thubten J. Norbu, avia to visit the exiled Tibetan God-King at Mussoorie. As a stateless person certified by Britain, he avoided a requirement that Tibetans abroad must have Red China passports. He fled Tibet after the Chinese took over in 1951 and was given political asylum in the United States.

Riegger Views Composing—

Even Beethoven Toiled

By SANDRA KEYES
Staff Writer

American musicians are at a disadvantage as far as composing music is concerned, said Wolfgang Riegger, well-known composer.

Riegger is at SUI to attend the premiere performance of his composition "Quadruple Jazz," at the SUI Symphony Orchestra concert tonight.

"If I'd been born in New Zealand or Tasmania, my music would have been much more readily accepted by an American audience," he said. Americans like music composed by musicians from other countries, he added. However, he said he believed this trend is changing, and America is accepting its own composers' products more as time goes on.

Riegger's suggestion to the young composer who wants to write music is to "grit his teeth and go ahead and compose."

He also said not to worry too much about what others think of your music; if you think it is good, that's what matters. He further stressed that the student of composition should not strive to be original or sensational in their music. "That will come later," he said.

The novice composer should compete with himself, not with his fellow composer's work, Riegger said. He should also compare what he is doing at the present with what he has done in the past in order to see how he is progressing, he added.

Hope Gone For Weapon Suspension

GENEVA (AP) — The Soviet Union Tuesday dashed Western hopes for a quick break-through toward Big Three agreement on a suspension of nuclear weapons tests.

Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko refused to commit his government to a proposal of the United States and Britain for a broad scientific study of the technical problems involved in any suspension.

However, the three atomic powers agreed to keep in contact for a further exchange of views.

U.S. Secretary of State Christian A. Herter and British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd presented the case for the three-power scientific study at a midday meeting in Gromyko's villa.

The Westerners wanted an investigation of the problems of policing high-altitude and underground atomic and hydrogen weapons explosions. They also sought the establishment of a technical standards of judgement as to when an on-site inspection of a suspicious disturbance would be warranted.

Gromyko endorsed only one part of the proposal — the part dealing with blasts at high altitude. This was in line with the position taken by Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev in recent letter to President Eisenhower and Britain's Prime Minister Harold Macmillan.

After the 80-minute meeting, a U.S. delegation spokesman said: "The meeting was inconclusive."

West Accuses Reds Of Harsh Peace Treaty

Compares Proposals To Versailles

GENEVA (AP) — The West accused the Soviet Union Tuesday of trying to impose on Germany a peace treaty on the harsh lines of the World War I settlement at Versailles.

French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville said it would "drive the German people to despair."

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko countered with a proposal in the Big Four conference that the United States, Britain and France drop their drive to reunite Germany and accept a Soviet blueprint for a peace treaty with each of the German states, East and West.

Couve de Murville and British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd led the Western attack against the Soviet Union project.

Lloyd declared that the Communists draft "would have to be imposed" if it were to cover the 72 million Germans now divided by the Iron Curtain.

"What the Soviet government is doing in effect is to show that they wish to impose terms on Germany as was done at Versailles," Lloyd said.

"To suggest harnessing Germany in advance of reunification with imposed terms have not been consulted holds out an unhappy prospect. At any rate that is the lesson of history."

The Versailles treaty, signed June 28, 1919, stripped Germany of hundreds of square miles of border territory and all its colonies, and provided for heavy reparations. The terms have been blamed for the rise of Hitler, who repudiated the treaty and reparations agreements after gaining power in 1934.

Couve de Murville delivered a 30-minute condemnation of the Soviet plan in hard-hitting French.

"Such a treaty would do nothing to solve the problem facing us," he said. "It would do one thing only: Set the four powers' seal on the division of Germany."

Gromyko retorted coldly that the Western peace plan for a phased reunification of Germany would permit unlimited German rearmament. He said: "Its slogan is Germans go ahead and arm. This is not 1945 but 1959."

This was a session of words. Neither East nor West budged during the 3-hour, 22-minute session on the pivotal problems before the conference—the future of Germany and Berlin. The second session of the second week of the Geneva parley pushed the opposing sides into a tighter deadlock.

American informants disclosed that the United States has warned the Soviet Union that President Eisenhower will refuse to attend a summit conference if Moscow sets some new deadline for the West to get out of West Berlin.

There were these other developments:

1. Top Western diplomats accused Gromyko of what amounted to a diplomatic double cross on U.S. Secretary of State Christian A. Herter. As chairman, they said, Gromyko called on Foreign Minister Lothar Bolz of Communist East Germany to speak first, when Herter was supposed to take the floor first.

2. Western officials said Gromyko has suggested to Lloyd that the East-West clash over West Berlin might be settled with an agreement to send neutral troops there. That's an idea once advanced by Premier Nikita Khrushchev for replacement of the Allied garrisons now stationed there.

West Germany's Wilhelm Grewe delivered his first speech of the conference Tuesday — a sweeping indictment of the Soviet proposal for a treaty with the rival German states.

Grewe, heading the West German delegation in the ministerial sessions, declared: "Only a peace treaty freely negotiated by a government authorized by the entire German people will have the morally binding power to create stable conditions for a long time to come."

The Soviet project, he said, would contribute "to the rise of new conflicts and breed new hotbeds of crisis."

An Enriching Experience For SUI

This evening's SUI Symphony Orchestra Concert will mark the end of George Dixon's distinguished stay at SUI. Mr. Dixon, who has been the conductor of the SUI Symphony since 1954, will leave to become conductor of Boston's New England Conservatory Orchestra, the oldest conservatory orchestra in America.

paper, Vima, has remarked that: "Our guest, Mr. Dixon, is one of the most distinguished conductors of the younger generation in America."

A native of Estherville, and a graduate of SUI, Mr. Dixon was the conductor of the 7th Army Symphony Orchestra in Germany before returning to Iowa. For his work with the orchestra, he received the Elizabeth Sprague Coolidge Medal.

It is with reluctance that we see Mr. Dixon leave. Discussing his new post recently, he remarked that: "It has been an enriching and rewarding experience to work with the SUI Orchestra and to know the musicians in it." His stay in Iowa City has been no less enriching and rewarding for the many SUIowans who have availed themselves of the opportunity to enjoy the excellence of Mr. Dixon's inspired directing.

Khrushchev's 'Personality Cult'

Since 1956 when Khrushchev assailed the Stalin Era in Russian history and the "personality cult" that had grown up around Stalin, it has been the Red claim that cults would not be permitted to enshroud Russian leaders, raising them to a level above their fellow countrymen and obscuring in legend the facts about them and their leadership.

Of course, few persons in the Free World have taken this claim seriously, realizing full well the advantages offered Red leaders and the manner in which they must be praised by all media of communications in the Soviet Union.

The claims of the Russians on this issue seem to have been revealed as false by the making public recently of a biography of Khrushchev at the Soviet embassy in this country. The book clearly shows that the "personality cult" is being built up around Khrushchev in manner reminiscent of the praise heaped upon Stalin when he was living.

Khrushchev is referred to in the biography as a speaker "you think is speaking aloud and putting your own ideas into words."

Citing Khrushchev's speech of February, 1956, in which he "exposed" the "evils of Stalin," the biography boasts that this is a symbol of Khrushchev's complete frankness with the masses, even in cases involving extremely complex political problems.

ing the lily," the book completely ignored the fact that neither the speech nor its contents have even been made public in the Soviet Union.

Rising to a height of eloquence for the leader, the biography contends that "It is hard to over-estimate the contribution made by Khrushchev in the past few years to the cause of world peace, to the relaxation of international tension and the struggle to end the cold war."

Overestimation in this instance consists merely in making the statement that he has made any such contributions whatsoever. — The Columbia Missourian.

Zero Average

The 1959 Legislature was confronted with one major assignment when it convened in January. That was doing something about legislative reapportionment, a responsibility long deferred.

After huffing and puffing over this matter for 110 days, the Iowa lawmakers last week decided to go home. Their accomplishment on this one major task was exactly zero.

A situation like this isn't exactly designed to engender confidence in the future of self-government in our broad land, is it? The Mason City Globe-Gazette.

June Graduates Can Expect Tight Employment Conditions

'Body Snatching' Boom Definitely Over Despite Gradually Improving Economic Conditions

EDITOR'S NOTE: The following article is reprinted from the May 18, edition of the Wall Street Journal. It will appear on The Daily Iowan editorial page as a 2-part series. Tomorrow's article will discuss various elements of recruiting procedure, and the effects of economic conditions today upon recruiting philosophy.

By RAY VICKER Staff Reporter of the Wall Street Journal

Many of the 320,000 college seniors who will walk down the aisle next month to receive their diplomas will have a tough time getting a job in the field they want or in related work, despite the recent general rise in employment and the upturn of business activity this year.

Jobs will be somewhat more plentiful than a year ago but nowhere near as abundant as in the "body-snatching" boom earlier in the 1950's, when quantity-minded recruiters were wooing even the poorer students to accept a place on corporate pay rolls. Despite the greater number of jobs, hiring will be even more selective than in recession 1958, partly because there will be a record number of graduates competing for jobs.

This year, according to a Wall Street Journal survey of more than 75 college placement officials and two dozen major industrial concerns, nearly all the graduates probably will find a niche somewhere. But for many in the bottom half of the classes, it may be late summer or fall before they'll be able to make a connection, and at a starting salary considerably below those offered by recruiters on their spring visits to the campuses.

Though the size of this year's crop of graduates is partly responsible for tighter hiring policies, the lessons of cost-cutting and efficiency earned during last year's recession also apparently are having an effect. Recruiters say they have refined their interviewing techniques and are concentrating on "quality" and getting men fitted to specific jobs much more than in past years.

"Last year accomplished a lot of good because it made companies figure more closely on just what they needed in the way of personnel," says Gordon G. Sikes, Princeton University's placement director.

Salary Higher Salary offers being made by industry representatives this spring average about 3 per cent to 5 per cent higher than a year ago. A survey by Frank S. Endicott, Northwestern University's placement director, of more than 60 colleges indicates a general range starting at about $425 monthly for non-technical graduates and running to $490 to $500 for holders of engineering bachelors' degrees. Some jobs, he says, are bringing only $325 while others run higher than $600 for a few specialists.

Mr. Endicott adds a word of caution, however: "Starting salaries reported always are higher than final averages: Those first offerings are to men who are eagerly sought by companies. The graduates who have to find their own way to the companies during the summer will take less than these initial offerings."

Supply, Demand Differ The supply and demand picture, of course, varies widely among different industries. Not surprisingly, the strongest demand is coming from companies specializing in electronics and missiles, according to placement men. Insurance firms and retailers are also accelerating their recruiting. But the hiring pace is slower for petroleum, textiles and transportation companies, and the chemical and drug industries are not taking on nearly as many new men as college officials anticipated earlier.

Strong demands for certain types of engineers is continuing much as in former years, placement officials report, even though the nearly 40,000 men receiving such degrees this year are almost 5,000 or 14 per cent more than in 1958. However, despite the hullabaloo about science and the higher-than-average salaries that present engineering graduates are getting, undergraduate enrollment at engineering school dropped 5 per cent during the current school year and the number of incoming engineering freshmen declined even more so — a hefty 11.8 per cent from the year before. So possibly some of today's salary premiums may be due to fears about an acute shortage in the future.

Real Competition "There is presently very real competition for the electrical engineers and the more able metallurgical engineers, but more room for selectivity among civils, mechanicals and industrial, with mechanicals and aeronauticals falling in between," says H. P. Catlin, head of the student aid department of Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute, Troy, N.Y.

Engineers, however, account for only slightly more than 10 per cent of this year's graduates and their relatively attractive job outlook is not typical of the rest of the college population. "The number of offers to engineering and scientific seniors outnumbered those to non-technical graduates by about three to one," comments Mrs. Geraldine M. Wyatt, placement director at the University of Delaware, Newark, Del.

Only a few classifications, such as accounting, library science, teaching and a handful of other specialties, are as eagerly sought after as engineers.

as a deterrent resulting from the belief that the last two world wars would not have started if the United States had been believed ready to fight.

New Power There are signs of a new power developing in Western Europe, through various European unity moves such as NATO and the European commercial community, which promises changes in the present world division of power with a new role for Germany.

There is world sympathy for the people of the Eastern European satellites, and an urgency on the part of the Soviet Union to solidify her position there. The picture of thousands of East Germans fleeing into West Germany is a disturbing influence throughout the Soviet bloc.

University Is Not A Place To Train Educated Illiterates

To the Editor: In your editorial of May 14, in which you commented adversely on the use of the Communications Skills Department's Orange Ticket plan, you remarked "If an economics instructor, for instance, feels that a particular paper is poorly written in terms of writing ability (sic)," by using an Orange Ticket he can save "the time required to pencil grammatical criticisms on the margins of student papers."

You concluded that this plan will "cut the student short in terms of the actual criticism to which he is entitled."

Leaving aside the pros and cons of the plan itself, your editorial is significant in that it tacitly admits a state of affairs that would be ludicrous but for the fact that it is deplorable. You make it clear that the student recognized that instructors in economics or other subjects receive papers that are badly written and that you expect instructors to write grammatical criticisms "to which the student is entitled," in the margin.

Despite Professor Braddock's contention that the plan was not put into effect because poor writing is a major problem, your editorial, the requests for 700 of the slips in the first few hours after the plan was announced, and the remarks of the professors your reporter interviewed show that it is.

Professor Bush said that "often the written work turned in to him by juniors and seniors is very poor." Professor Hase said he has students who in essay tests "lack the ability to organize and express their thoughts." Captain Maple and Professor Saunders also referred to students' poor written work. Their experiences are not unique. Talk to any teacher at this university and you will hear the same complaint over and over again.

The deplorable thing about this state of affairs, quite apart from the fact that it exists, is the lack of amazement with regard to it. No one seems to find it other than normal that a student editorial expects an economics instructor to have to make grammatical comments on student work. I contend that it is fantastic that at a major university, which is by anybody's definition supposed to be an institution of higher education, such grade-school comments should be necessary. I contend that it is equally fantastic that there should be a department at such an institution, primarily concerned with instilling the rudiments of communicative methods into students who should be completely familiar with such elementary matters before ever embarking on university work (or high school work for that matter). A university is not a place for producing educated illiterates. "This was sometime a paradox; but now the time gives it proof."

Take Ten

MINNESOTA has a time problem — half the campus is on CST time and the rest is on daylight time. This caused one student to remark: "Do not tend to know for whom the bell tolls, it tolls for thee, at two and three — Simultaneously."

THE CHI PSI's at Colorado State decided to keep the favors usually intended for their dates, at their recent formal. The favors: Martini mixers. The reason for the non-conformity: "We like them!"

OHIO STATE has decided to answer a question that is, no doubt, puzzling all of us. Part of a $12 million grant has been set aside to build a laboratory to find out what makes a good Bologna. This is called dedication to your chosen field — even if it is Bologna research.

THE INDIANA Daily Student tells of a professor who has encountered five different kinds of dumbness. It is incredible that a prominent man like that has met so few people.

ONE FINAL note on the Minnesota time change: One professor managed to make his class although it was an hour earlier, but only by missing breakfast. As a result, he held class in the Union and treated everyone to coffee and rolls. The bill wasn't very large as many students hadn't heard about the time change and didn't show up for class.

Political Prisoner Discussion Asked By U.S. Group

GENEVA (UPI) — A Hungarian "political prisoners committee" petitioned the Big Four foreign ministers Tuesday to discuss the deportation to the Soviet Union of Hungarian freedom fighters.

The petition was sent to U.S. Secretary of State Christian A. Herter, Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko, British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd and French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville.

It was signed by Dr. Bela Fabian, chairman of the "Federation of Hungarian Former Political Prisoners," with headquarters in New York.

"Since 1957," Fabian said, "the federation has submitted a large number of memoranda to the United Nations asking for intervention on behalf of our unfortunate compatriots, who after the suppression of the Hungarian revolution, were deported to the Soviet Union... imprisoned in jails and concentration camps in Hungary."

Fabian asked that "the question of the people now suffering in consequence of Soviet occupation and mass deportation be raised and remedied at the conference."

TONIGHT'S CONCERT, the last by the SUI Symphony Orchestra this season, will be broadcast this evening at 8 p.m. by the combined facilities of WSUI and KSUI-FM.

Given in honor of the distinguished American composer, Wallingford Riegger, who is a guest on the campus, tonight's program will be notable for several reasons: it marks the premiere presentation of the work, Quintuple Jazz for Orchestra, which Mr. Riegger was commissioned to write by the SUI Old Fund; there will be a performance of Riegger's Fourth Symphony written in 1956; and finally, the infrequently heard Mahler First Symphony (Titan) will conclude the concert.

A note of interest to listeners: Mr. Riegger will be heard in an intermission interview giving his views on the status and prospects for modern American composers and their compositions.

J. FRANK DOBIE, a story teller from the Southwest, will read his own today and tomorrow at 5 p.m. on the Children's Classics Program. On Friday, Mary Martin and Cyril Ritchard may be heard in excerpts from "Peter Pan". These are just an interlude between books in Jules Verne's Twenty Thousand Leagues Under the Sea. ### Reid's Denial Ups Chances

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Ogden R. Reid picked up some strong support for his nomination as U.S. Ambassador to Israel Tuesday after declaring he had no intention of using the diplomatic post as a political springboard.

Reid, youthful former president and editor of the New York Herald Tribune, told the Senate Foreign Relations Committee that reports that he intended to run for mayor of New York were "completely unfounded."

The 33-year-old scion of a well-known New York publishing family won the public support of at least one senator who had been opposed to his appointment and apparently ensured the votes of several other committee members who had taken no stand.

President Eisenhower's choice of Reid for the Israel post had been expected to run into opposition from senators who doubted the wisdom of sending a diplomatic tyro to a pivotal Middle Eastern nation.

Chairman J. William Fulbright, (D-Ark.), told Reid that his youth, his "complete lack of diplomatic experience and no experience in the Middle East" appeared to make a strong case against him.

But Reid, answering Fulbright's searching questions calmly and at length, replied that a "man's experience, willingness to listen, and maturity" were not always a matter of age alone.

35 Flee Fire In Whiteway; $50,000 Loss

Thirty-five residents were driven from their apartments when lightning started a fire in the Whiteway supermarket building about 6 a.m. Tuesday. Damage to the building and its contents was estimated at $50,000.

The building, at 212 South Clinton street, also houses the Beacon Electric Co. Lightning traveled through the wiring and set fire to a hallway area where the building's electrical system is connected. Firemen kept the fire localized in this area.

Actual flame damage was held within the second floor and a small portion of the third floor. Smoke and water, however, did extensive damage throughout the building.

Supermarket damage was due principally to water coming through the ceiling as firemen fought the blaze. There was only minor smoke damage to property in the electric shop.

The residents of the building were jolted from their beds by the lightning bolt and were forced into the rain outside, where they found shelter in cars. Most of the apartments were not badly damaged.

Football Seating In Council Plans

Resolutions concerning new plans of distributions of football tickets and card section seating will come before the Student Council at its meeting tonight at 7 in the Pentecost Room of the Iowa Memorial Union.

"All interested students should attend the meeting," said Council President Judy Clark, A3, Cedar Falls. "Our decisions will involve their ideas as well as those of the Council."

The Council will also consider a motion to abolish compulsory ROTC at SUI. The motion was referred to a study committee at the Council's last meeting.

Other business will involve a discussion of whether the student traffic court should remain operative during the summer session and consideration of a 10-member committee to study student government.

The door to Student Council meetings is always open. In fact, students and staff members are awarded every privilege of Council membership except the vote. These privileges include the right of debate and speaking, attendance at all meetings except declared executive sessions and presentation of views to the Council. The only constitutional restriction binds visitors to parliamentary procedure.

Council President Judy Clark, A3, Cedar Falls, said all visitors may learn what the Council will consider at its meeting from the Student Council office, Council members and printed notices in the Daily Iowan.

And non-Council members are entitled to include their views on the agenda for Council meetings. This may be done through the Council member representing the student or through the President. All business must be put on the agenda by 5 p.m. the day preceding the Council meeting.

"Every student has three methods by which he may present his views to the council," Miss Clark explained. "He may come to meetings, talk with the council representatives or serve on committees and commissions."

"If students do not come to the meetings and present their views, they have no legitimate complaint," Miss Clark continued. "This is their obligation if they want to express their views."

Journalism Profs Attend AP Meet

Three SUI School of Journalism professors will attend the Associated Press Managing Editors state meeting at Davenport today. They are: Leslie G. Moeller, director of the School of Journalism, Arthur M. Sanderson and Arthur M. Barnes.

Barnes will present a talk on the Freedom of Information Survey in which the school has had a part. The survey involves the experiences of mass media in Iowa in obtaining news of governmental activities at the city, county and state levels.

It is hoped that information analyzed in the survey will be useful in determining whether remedial legislation is needed or desirable.

Winners of the state-wide News Writing contest sponsored by the Iowa Associated Press Managing Editors will be announced by Sanderson at the meeting.

Workshops Announced For Summer

Twenty-eight workshops and special programs will be held on the SUI campus this summer, and four workshops will be held off-campus.

College counselors and teachers, high school students and teachers, school administrators, physicists, policemen, speech therapists, and industrial executives will be visiting SUI to take advantage of programs offered in their various vocational and interest fields.

At the same time, SUI students and faculty members will study off-campus in Iowa and two other states.

The Iowa Lakeside Laboratory at Lake Okoboji will offer courses in botany and zoology. Geology field courses will be conducted in the Black Hills in South Dakota and in the Big Horn Mountains of Wyoming.

Special courses in the teaching and testing of mentally retarded children will be taught at the Woodward State Hospital and School.

Two new on-campus programs are the workshop in the education of gifted children and a program of courses on the Far East.

The National Science Foundation is sponsoring two SUI institutes, one for teachers of high school science, the other for teachers of high school mathematics.

Other workshops include a colloquium of college physicists, with associated lectures; a short course for law enforcement officers, and an industrial management course for executives. All three will be held in June.

Additional information on the workshops can be found in the summer session catalogue, available in the Registrar's Office.

'59 Fashion Show In First Stage

Plans for next year's "Profile Previews" started this week with the naming of ten committee chairmen who will be responsible for the October fashion show.

In past years it has been the custom to select 90 co-eds to model their own clothes in "Profile Previews." From this group a board of judges selects a "Miss Perfect Profile." Ruth Ann Brenner, A1, Marshalltown, was selected "Miss Perfect Profile" at SUI last fall.

The co-eds who will be in charge of the show for next fall are Kathleen Gray, N1, Atlantic, art chairman; Suzanne Raymond, A2, Des Moines, and Patricia Bennett, A2, Burlington, styles committee; Bettie Bateson, A3, Eldora, hostess; Nancy Weyer, A3, Fort Dodge, publicity chairman; Marilee Olson, A2, Ottumwa, publicity committee; Barbara Bjornstad, A2, Spencer, general chairman; Judy Klemesrud, A2, Thompson, entertainment; Georgann Hansen, A1, Matlydale, New York, script writer and narrator; and Ruth Ann Brenner, A1, Marshalltown, last year's winner.

Big 10 Meets Set For 3 Iowa Teams

Iowa's spring sports teams have a busy weekend on tap this week as the golf, tennis and track teams participate in Big Ten Championships and the baseball team winds up its season with three games.

Ann Arbor, Mich., will be the scene of heavy action this weekend as the Big Ten golf and track championships will be held there.

Old Pro Picks Hogan, Snead To Win Open

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The two men most likely to win this year's National Open Golf Tournament are oldtimers Ben Hogan and Sam Snead, says Kansas City pro Jug McSpaden.

McSpaden is something of an oldtimer himself. But Jug insists he's not influenced by sentiment. McSpaden holds the competitive record of 65 for Winged Foot Country Club course at Mamaroneck, N.Y., site of this year's Open. He set it in 1946.

Taking note of a recent statement by another golf veteran, Gene Sarazen, that younger pros such as Art Wall and Arnold Palmer should win the Open, McSpaden said:

"I'll take Snead and Hogan to Palmer and Wall and what's more I'll back it up with a sizable bet."

McSpaden favors Hogan and Snead for four reasons: the player who drives well will win and Snead and Hogan are among the best; nobody is going to putt well on Winged Foot's massive, rolling greens; the key is mental, not physical stamina, because anyone who plays regularly can stand up under the 72-hole grind; the competition hasn't improved in recent years, judging by tourney scores.

Coach Francis Cretzmeier's track squad has high hopes of bettering its finish in the Big Ten indoor meet. Iowa finished ninth, scoring only four points.

The thincads have a 2-0 mark in dual meets and finished second to Minnesota last week in a quadrangular meet which also involved Northwestern and Wisconsin.

The golf team has a 7-6 dual meet record for the season, and won five of seven from Big Ten schools.

Coach Chuck Zwerner is pointing his squad for a first division finish. John Liechty, runnerup in the conference meet last year, is again expected to be a challenger for medalist honors.

The conference tennis meet is being held in East Lansing, Mich. Play will begin Thursday and continue through Saturday.

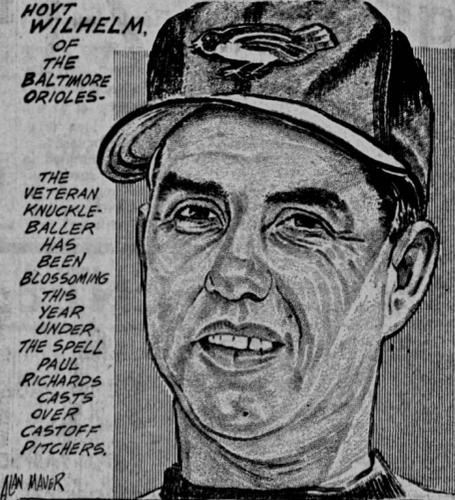

Iowa's defending Big Ten titlist may be hard pressed to retain its crown this year. The Hawkeyes have an 8-4 season record, winning five of six from Big Ten schools.

Art Andrews is again the favorite to win the No. 1 singles crown. Andrews won the title last year after finishing second to Michigan's Barry MacKay in 1957.

Iowa's baseball team will make a bid to escape the cellar this weekend in a three-game set in Michigan. The Hawkeyes play Michigan in a single game Friday, then travel to Michigan State for a doubleheader Saturday.

Iowa now stands at a 3-9 mark in conference play. The Wolverines are in seventh place with a 5-7 record, and the Michigan State squad is in a third place tie with Wisconsin with a 7-5 mark.

Machen 2-1 Favorite; Wary Of Vargas Upset Tonight

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Ranking heavyweight Eddie Machen rules a 2-1 favorite to beat Reuben Vargas when they battle over 10 rounds at the Cow Palace tonight, but he's wary of an upset.

The Redding, Calif., fighter lost his No. 1 contender's rating last Sept. 14 when he was 2-1 favorite to whip Sweden's Ingemar Johansson but instead lost via a first round knockout.

So Johansson gets a chance to battle Floyd Patterson for the heavyweight title while Machen must work his way back up after being dropped to the No. 5 contender spot.

The nationally televised bout (ABC) starting at 8 p.m. Iowa time matches contrasting styles. Vargas, a former AAU champion, rushes in throwing punches while

Tedore Gets D.M. Post

DES MOINES (AP)—John Tedore, 35, football coach at Oskaloosa High School, Tuesday was appointed to the same post at Lincoln High School in Des Moines. Tedore is a former SUI football and baseball player who was graduated in 1950.

A former football player at East High in Waterloo, Tedore played one year of football at Creighton University before World War II, and while at Creighton set a rushing record as a freshman.

Tedore coached at Belle Plaine and Clarinda before going to Oskaloosa. His base pay at Lincoln will be $6,080 annually, and he will begin his new duties Aug. 24. The Lincoln vacancy was created by the resignation of Jim Fitzimmons.

Longden To Retire At End Of Season

CHICAGO (AP)—Johnny Longden, the world's winningest jockey, said Tuesday he'll probably retire from competitive riding at the end of this season.

Longden, 49, departed for San Francisco after riding Fightin' Indian to victory Monday in Baltimore's Tri-State Stakes at Washington Park. The win was Longden's 5,292nd, the most any jockey still active has ever achieved.

Notre Dame To Televis Grid Games

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (UPI)—Notre Dame's complete 1959 football schedule will be televised nationally on videotape the day after each game is played, it was announced Tuesday.

The Rev. Theodore M. Hesburgh, president of Notre Dame, said that at least 115 stations coast-to-coast will show the Fighting Irish's 10 games next season. The telecasts will originate from WDNV-TV, the university-owned station.

This will mark the first time a college team's full schedule ever has been televised on a national basis for home consumption.

National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA) rules restrict the "live" telecasting of college games on Saturdays.

There are no restrictions, however, on the showing of videotaped games on a delayed basis.

Transmission and network facilities will be provided by Sports Network, Inc., of New York. The package will be produced by Newscap, Inc., of New York.

Sales and distribution of these telecasts has been assigned to United Press International.

Harry Wismer, one of the nation's leading broadcasters, will handle the play-by-play account of each game. Edward (Moose) Kraus, director of athletics at Notre Dame, will supply the color background and commentary.

No definite times for the telecasts have yet been determined, but according to Richard Bailey, president of Sports Network, Inc., most of them will be shown an hour before the telecasts of the Sunday National Football League professional games.

See More Football

Mims Thomason, first vice president and general business manager of UPI, hailed the television arrangement as one that "will enable fans to see more college football games this season than any year since the NCAA began restricting the live telecasts of college football in 1951."

"Now the fans each week will be able to see Notre Dame against one of the top teams in the country," he added.

Thomason also revealed that UPI also is planning other television sports programs in collaboration with Newscap, Inc., which is a subsidiary of Bert L. Coleman Associates, Inc., of New York.

Sorority Golf Tournament To Be Held This Weekend

Twenty-six golfers representing SUI's 13 sororities will compete Sunday in a golf meet sponsored by Delta Chi fraternity. Scheduled for 2 p.m., the meet is to be a nine-hole, medal play tournament at the Lower Finkbine Golf Course.

Two girls will represent each sorority. The house with the lowest combined score will be declared the winner. Awards will be given for both first and second places.

Members of Delta Chi are making all arrangements for the tournament and will act as scorekeepers and caddies for the girls. They will also be hosts to the participants at a picnic at City Park following the meet.

Delta Chi is sponsoring the tournament in hopes that it will become an annual sports event on the Iowa campus.

Girls who are scheduled to represent their sororities are: Mary Fennell and Donna Sweet, Alpha Chi Omega; Marietta Quinn and Sue Mathias, Alpha Delta Pi; Judy Hammon and Joan Thoma, Alpha Xi Delta; Mary Lou Carver and Kay Nye, Chi Omega; Mary Porter and Jean Richey, Delta Delta Delta; Sondra Anderson and Mary Sackett, Delta Gamma.

Worth in the Class AA Texas League. He has been used mostly as a pinch runner by the Cubs.

In another transaction Tuesday the Cubs sent rookie third baseman Don Eaddy to Lancaster, Pa., of the Class A Eastern League.

Orioles Drop ChiSox From 1st, 2-1

Pitcher O'Dell Wins Game With Homer

Pierce Loses 4-Hitter

BALTIMORE (AP) — Southpaw pitcher Billy O'Dell batted from the right Tuesday night and won his own baseball game for the Baltimore Orioles with an odd inside-the-park homer to knock the Chicago White Sox out of first place by a 2-1 score.

Cleveland, eased out of the American League lead Monday night by losing to the Orioles, moved back by beating Washington 5-2.

O'Dell raced around the bases for his second homer in five seasons with Billy Gardner in front of him in the second inning. Gardner had drawn a walk from left-hand pitcher Billy Pierce.

O'Dell punched the ball down the right field foul line. Right fielder Al Smith came charging in, the ball bounced over his head and caromed around the curving wall.

Pierce, taking his third loss against five victories, left in the seventh for pinch hitter John Romano, who singled. Louis Aparicio's single then drove home Bufa Phillips who had walked in front of Romano. O'Dell suffered a bruised calf fielding Nellie Fox's grounder to end the inning.

Indians 5, Senators 2
WASHINGTON (AP) — Jim (Mudcat) Grant, Cleveland's young right-hander, beat Washington for the seventh straight time Tuesday night. The score was 5-2, with his Indian teammates clouting three home runs.

Grant needed some relief from Dick Brodowski in the final two innings.

Home runs by Rocky Colavito, Jim Piersall, and Woody Held paved the way for Grant.

Colavito's homer, his 12th of the year, came in the second inning and touched off a three-run Cleveland rally which chased Washington starter Hal Griegs.

Piersall homered in the fifth and Held connected in the sixth, both off Cleveland.

In his seven innings, Grant limited the Senators to five hits.

Tigers 6, Yanks 3
NEW YORK (AP) — Rocky Bridges drove in three runs with a pair of singles Tuesday night as the Detroit Tigers, bidding to escape the American League cellar, whipped the seventh place New York Yankees 6-3. The Tigers can swap places with the world champions by winning the finale of the two-game series today.

The defeat, fifth and sixth games for the Yankees, was hung on southpaw Whitey Ford (3-3), who was chased in a four-run first inning. It was the first time Ford has been knocked out in the first inning in four years. The last time was April 27, 1955, in a 13-5 defeat at Chicago.

The victory was the second over the champs this year by left-hander Don Mossi, who gave up a dozen hits while his mates managed just eight off Ford and relievers Art Ditmar and Tom Sturdivant. The Tigers were blanked without a hit after Bridges' two-run single in the fourth.

CHICAGO (AP) — The Chicago Cubs scored three runs in the ninth Tuesday to defeat Philadelphia and former teammate Taylor Phillips 8-7. Wally Post's two-run pinch homer in the top half of the ninth had put the Phillies ahead 7-5.

The Cubs set the stage for their ninth one-run victory in 17 games when Al Dark singled to open the ninth. Ernie Banks also singled, and both runners advanced on a wild pitch.

Moose Moryn fanned for the first out before loser Phillips walked Earl Averill to fill the bases. Humberto Robinson, who reported Monday after his purchase from Cleveland, replaced Phillips and watched Dark score

Cards 8, Pirates 2
ST. LOUIS (AP) — Gino Cimoli's two-run homer and Bill White's three RBIs made it a lark for St. Louis pitcher Larry Jackson Tuesday night as he spaced nine hits in an 8-2 Redbird victory over Pittsburgh.

The Cards are in seventh place but winners of seven-out-of-11 on their current home stand.

Jackson came away with his second victory against five losses. Pittsburgh starter Ronnie Kline now 3-2, lasted four innings, blew a 2-0 Pirate lead, and was tagged for four runs and seven hits. R. G. Smith and Ron Blackburn worked in relief. Smith gave up two runs in the fifth and Blackburn single runs in the seventh and eighth.

Braves 8, Giants 1
SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — First inning home runs by Wes Covington and Del Crandall gave Joey Jay a four-run cushion which he never relinquished Tuesday night as the Braves smashed the Giants 8-1.

Covington's homer was a three-run blast and Crandall followed with a solo round-tripper.

Jay pitched a sparkling seventh-inning as the Braves upped their National League lead to 4½ games.

The Giants scored their only run in the fourth inning to make the score 4-1, but the Braves added two in the fifth and added two more in the seventh to make the final score 8-1.

3 Hawkeyes Qualify For Open Prelims

DES MOINES (AP) — Three SUI golfers qualified here Tuesday for the U.S. Open sectional eliminations to be held at Kansas City June 1.

The three were Jack Rule of Waterloo, Frank James of Grinnell and John Liechty of Iowa City. Joe Brown, a professional golfer from Des Moines, was the fourth qualifier.

Brown Sets Pace
Brown set the pace with his second straight 70 at Wakonda for a 36-hole total of 140, four under par. The golfers played 18 holes Monday, then finished the qualifying Tuesday after Monday's storm halted play after 18 holes.

Rule, former National Junior champion, fired a 75 Tuesday to add to his 73 Monday for 148. Rule is currently a student at SUI, having transferred at mid-year from Houston University.

He will be eligible to compete for Iowa next year and has two seasons of eligibility left.

Liechty had a 72 Monday and dropped to a 78 Tuesday for 150 and a third place finish. He is a senior and will compete for Iowa in the Big Ten Tournament at East Lansing, Mich., this weekend.

James Fourth
James, a sophomore at SUI, notched the fourth qualifying spot shooting a 74 to add to his 78 Monday for a 152 total. James is also a member of the Iowa golf team.

Ralph Compians of Des Moines was only a stroke off the pace with a 36-hole total of 153.

Jack Jones, Waterloo pro who was fourth after Monday's round, had other commitments Tuesday and was unable to complete the qualifying round.

YANKS LACK PUNCH
NEW YORK (AP) — Inept batting is one of the reasons for the seventh-place showing made by the New York Yankees this season. Bill Skowron is the only Yankee hitting over .300 and the slugging first baseman has been out since May 6, except for one pinch hit appearance, with a pulled leg muscle.

during a practice run at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway.

It was the sixth wreck this month at the old track in preliminary runs for the 43rd 500-mile race May 30 and the fourth involving a rookie driver. Cortner, of Redlands, Calif., suffered severe head injuries. He had completed his driver's test only Monday.

Henry Banks, director of racing for the United States Auto Club, posted an urgent appeal at the track after the accident asking for blood donors in an effort to save Cortner's life.

Many drivers and mechanics went to Methodist Hospital as donors for Cortner, who was placed in an iron lung, but efforts to save his life failed.

Jerry Unser, 26, Lakewood, Calif., was injured fatally May 2, becoming the 49th victim of the 50-year-old racing plant. The other four drivers were hurt only slightly in their accidents.

Johnnie Parsons of Los Angeles, 1950 winner of the race, was the official observer closest to the scene when Cortner's car smashed into the wall on the northeast turn.

Parsons said Cortner drove into the turn to high, was caught by a strong wind and spun into the infield. The car swerved back across the track and hit the concrete retaining wall almost headon.

Bob Cortner Midget Car Veteran

The new flat-engine car, owned and built by T. P. Cornis of San Bernardino, Calif., probably is beyond repair for this year's race.

Eleven drivers have been killed on the speedway in the steadily increasing speeds since World War II. Seven of them died in practice runs.

Last year's practice and qualifying period was without a fatality. However, Pat O'Connor of North Vernon, Ind., one of the nation's top drivers, was killed in a 15-car pileup on the first lap.
