West Offers Berlin Truce Plan

Plan Includes Freezing West Forces

Russia Would Insure City's Freedom

GENEVA (UPI) — The United States, Britain and France Wednesday offered Russia a new, five-point Berlin truce proposal. The proposal would include a freeze on Western troops in West Berlin in return for Russian guarantees for the isolated city's freedom.

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko made no immediate reply. First Russian reaction described Soviet Diplomats as being interested in the new proposal. But it was not expected to produce any swift agreement.

Secretary of State Christian Herter and his Western colleagues put the "break-through" proposal to Gromyko in an attempt to break three and one-half weeks of East-West deadlock at the foreign ministers' conference here. The offer was made in a Western "aide memoire" submitted during a secret session at Herter's villa.

The proposal offered a ceiling on the West's 10,000-man troop garrison in West Berlin if the Russians would specifically guarantee Allied rights in the city located 110 miles within the Soviet Zone of Germany.

Authoritative sources said the truce plan included these other points:

1. Western rights within and access to West Berlin would be reaffirmed under the terms of previous agreements to which the Soviet Union was a signatory.
2. Germans — both East and West Germans — would be called on to assist in dealing with access to and from West Berlin. This would give the East Germans a nominal voice in traffic matters without infringing on unlimited Western rights.
3. Russia, the United States, Britain and France would issue a joint declaration promising to avoid propaganda and subversive activities on a reciprocal basis.
4. Present arrangements covering West Berlin would continue unchanged until Germany is reunited and Berlin again becomes its capital. In other words, West Germans would remain free until all Germans are independent.

Western sources said that the West previously had sounded out Gromyko informally on a tentative sixth idea: that of a commission of Big Four representatives plus East and West Germans to conciliate any disputes arising over the access routes to Berlin and propaganda and subversive activities that arise tension in the former German capital.

British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd was reported willing to consider eventual troop cuts in West Berlin if the stand-still agreement works out.

Western officials said, however, that for the time being there was not the slightest intention of trimming the Western troops in West Berlin. The outpost force now consists of about 5,000 Americans, 3,000 British and 2,000 French.

Informed sources said the western "aide memoire" was offered in reply to a memorandum put to the West by Gromyko at Monday's secret session. The Soviet memorandum was billed as a "statute for the free city of West Berlin."

The Soviet's six-clause memorandum included a proposal that the "free city" status should be supervised by a commission of the Big Four plus East Germany, with no executive powers.

High U.S. officials emphatically denied reports, credited to British and French circles, that the Western Allies might consider a reduction of their troops' strength in Berlin as a price for a Russian guarantee of their present status.

American officials said Wednesday's memorandum, or "aide memoire," was one of several the Russians and Americans have exchanged in an effort to find some way of achieving an "interim" deal on Berlin that would justify holding a summit conference.

Before it passed the huge money bill, the House knocked down by lopsided votes a series of attempts to amend it. The key amendments would have provided money for a 30,000-man increase in the Army and deleted all funds for procurement of the Air Force's Bomarc air defense missile.

The bill contained $17,228,506,000 for the Air Force, $11,025,103,000 for the Navy; $9,208,905,000 for the Army and $1,387,825,000 for the office of Defense Secretary McElroy.

Mouse-Carrying Rocket Fails In Orbit Attempt

VANDENBERG AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (UPI) — The Air Force fired the Discoverer III rocket into space Wednesday in an attempt to orbit four plump "moon mice" and then recover them alive, but the life-capsule satellite apparently failed to orbit.

The Air Force issued an official statement shortly after 9 p.m. (CST) which said that the study of 13 minutes of telemetered information recorded during the launching is still underway.

"Based on information presently available, it is believed that the Discoverer did not achieve an orbit," the statement said. Further refinement of the telemetry will be required to determine the point of re-entry of the Discoverer into the earth's atmosphere," an Air Force spokesman said.

Thirteen minutes after the launching, radio signals were no longer received. A telemetry ship 1200 miles downrange picked up the last signals.

The spokesman said there was no information available about the four black mice. He said there would be no further information until today.

Three hours after the big 78-foot Thor-boosted rocket swooshed into the sky, the Air Force said orbiting signals had not been picked up.

Although the launch was called a "success," the Discoverer failed to check in with the all-important Alaskan tracking stations — Annette Island and Kodiak. It was fired to the south to achieve a north-south orbit.

Last radio reports came from the downrange tracking ship, in the Pacific 1200 miles south of this coastal missile base. The Air Force said it could not be determined from those reports if the four black, pink-eared, pink-tailed mice had survived the blast off.

Although the Air Force spokesman here were "doubtful" that the satellite had orbited, tracking stations around the world still searched for Discoverer III. It was fired at 4:09 p.m. (CST). No other radio signals had been received at 8:15 p.m. (CST).

But one source would not discount the possibility that Discoverer III served the same fate as did Discoverer I. The initial Discoverer shot was "a doubtful" for some time, but finally was declared in orbit when sporadic radio signals were heard. The radio, that time, did not work properly when the satellite apparently tumbled end over end in space instead of maintaining a stable flight.

But the spokesman said that "so far we have much less information from III than we did from I, at the same stage of the operation."

Col. Richard D. Curtin told the post launch briefing that not enough information was available to establish the cause of the failure, if in fact, 85 actually had failed.

Col. Curtin said the Vandenberg-PT information is being studied. He said it was the "only" information received from the satellite after launch.

He said he hoped that the "little" information received would be able to determine the Discoverer's trajectory — and establish if the mice were alive at the time.

Col. Curtin said that the Air Force "doubted" if the satellite had achieved orbit. It was established, shortly after launch, that the satellite had separated from the booster stage and fired as planned towards its journey into orbit.

However, that was the last heard from the mouse-carrying missile.

Legion Head Hits Castro, Hoffa, Supreme Court

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Preston J. Moore, national commander of the American Legion, Wednesday sharply criticized Cuba's Fidel Castro, Teamsters President James Hoffa, and the Supreme Court.

Moore accused each of failing in varying degrees to show enough concern about Communist subversion. Moore spoke at the graduation exercises of the FBI's National Academy.

"The record so far indicates that in Fidel Castro the Red missionaries have found a made-to-order help mate," he said. "The racketeering leaders of the Teamsters Union, have displayed an utter lack of concern about the Communist records and activities of dominant officials of the International Longshoremen and Warehousing Union."

As for the high court, Moore said "the accent in that quarter seems to be on knocking down what was built up."

Commission Lets Highway Jobs

AMES — Contracts for more than $2.5 million worth of paving on Interstate Highways 35 and 80 and the Des Moines Freeway were let by the Iowa Highway Commission Wednesday.

Fred Carlson Co., Decorah, was the successful bidder on paving 6.516 miles on Interstate 35 and 80 from Merle Hay Road in Des Moines east to the 35-80 interchange. The bid was $2,275,666.

Arthur H. Neumann & Bros., Des Moines, was awarded a contract for paving on the Des Moines Freeway — known as Interstate 235 — on his bid of $219,530.

Possible 'Leak' Causes Change In Final Exam

Students in the second semester Western Civilization classes were surprised Wednesday morning at eight when they were given a final examination that consisted of one comprehensive essay question.

The test as originally planned consisted of three essay questions. Lawrence J. McCaffrey, visiting lecturer in history, said Wednesday night, McCaffrey said that he heard Tuesday night a student had told an instructor of having one of the questions from the test.

The question the student had was not identical to the one on the test, McCaffrey said, but he and Arthur P. Mendel, assistant professor of history, decided to change the test. It was then 11:30 at night.

Ray Explains Function Of SUI Board Of Athletics

The SUI Board in Control of Athletics meets the standard of full and complete faculty control of athletics required for membership in the Big Ten, Robert F. Ray, SUI Big Ten Faculty Representative, said Wednesday night.

Although members are not elected directly by the faculty, the Board's organization does not raise a question of faculty control in terms of the conference bylaws, Ray told SUI members of the AAUP.

The board includes 12 faculty members and 2 alumni representatives appointed to indefinite terms by President Hancher, Ray said. Along with similar faculty groups at all Big Ten member universities, the board reserves the right to accept or reject rules adopted by the conference, he explained.

If a Big Ten member rejects a rule, the conference must reconsider it, Ray said. If the rule is then passed by a two-thirds vote, the objecting institution must abide by the rule or withdraw from the conference, he said.

Big Ten eligibility rules and general policy are enacted by a committee of faculty representatives from each member institution, Ray said.

The athletic directors of each institution are responsible for the general conference regulations which include game rules, television policy, and NCAA provisions, Ray explained.

The presidents of the member universities compose the Council of Ten, which hears the annual report of the conference commissioner appointed by the faculty representatives. The Council also meets with the faculty representatives to discuss conference policy, Ray said.

The Big Ten was organized by seven universities who formed the conference in 1896 to solve mutual problems in the management of intercollegiate athletics. Members agreed to replace student and alumni control of athletics with organized faculty control, said Ray.

Iowa became a member of the Big Ten in 1899. "The advantage of being a member of the conference is that it brings some regularity and consistency to the management of athletics in the ten member institutions," Ray said.

"The NCAA relies to a large degree on conference enforcement of its rules," Ray said. "The NCAA compares to the federal government in relation to the states."

NCAA legislation takes precedence over conference rules, Ray explained. The Big Ten cannot pass rules which are less restrictive than the regulations adopted by the NCAA, he said.

3-State Alert Sounded For Four Convicts

100 Officers In Search Of Armed Escapees

FORT MADISON (UPI) — Four armed convicts, led by a pint-sized "ruffian" cop killer, sawed their way out of the Iowa State Penitentiary Wednesday while holding two guards captive at knife-point.

Authorities in three states were alerted for the convicts, who were armed with knives and blackjacks. Lt. C. G. Cole of the Iowa Highway Patrol said the convicts probably "stayed holed up until dark" and then began to move.

Authorities appealed to the public to report "anything suspicious," such as dogs barking or strange noises. Cole also warned that all cars and buildings should be locked because the escapees will want transportation and clothes to replace their prison blues.

More than 12 hours after the smoothly executed "blowout," a woman reported seeing two of the escapees, still dressed in prison clothes, dodge into a wooded area near Wever, Iowa.

About 100 highway patrolmen, sheriff's deputies and police from five cities ringed the woods, located eight miles northwest of Fort Madison. After searching nearby homes and farm buildings, the officers staged a side-by-side search of the 260-acre woods.

But the officers, walking only six feet apart, completed the walk through the triangle-shaped area without turning up a trace of the two convicts.

No further search of the woods, covered with dense undergrowth, was planned. But authorities set up a tight patrol of roads around the area. They speculated the two convicts were either still hiding in the woods or had managed to slip through the ring of officers.

"It's a waiting game now," said Highway Patrol Lt. C. G. Cole, who directed the search.

Bellevue Boy 'Fair' After Fall From Stock Truck

A 10-year-old rural Bellevue boy, Robert Piel, was reported in fair condition at University Hospitals after he allegedly fell from the back of a stock truck earlier Wednesday.

Authorities said the boy's mother found him lying unconscious in a roadside ditch just outside of Bellevue about 2 p.m. some time after he had left on the truck.

He was taken to Memorial Hospital in Bellevue and later transferred to the hospital here.

House Approves Spending $39 Billion For Defense

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House overwhelmingly approved a $38,848,399,000 defense spending bill late Wednesday after refusing to add or subtract a penny from amounts recommended by its Appropriations Committee.

The bill, which now goes to the Senate, carried $399,861,000 less than President Eisenhower requested. It also would reshuffle his requests to beef up long-range missile power and bolster defenses against Russian rockets and submarines.

The measure, which would finance the military service during the 12 months starting July 1, was approved by a roll call vote of 393-3. The measure, drafted by the Appropriations Committee after five months of consideration, would give the President extraordinary "blank check" authority to spend

Ike: Tension Must Ease For Summit

Washington (UPI) — President Eisenhower demanded Wednesday that Russia show signs of easing East-West tensions — including a guarantee of Western rights in Berlin — if it wants to meet him at a summer summit conference.

Denouncing recent threats by Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev, he said no head of a self-respecting government "can go to an international conference in response to anything that can be interpreted as a threat."

He warned that the foreign ministers conference at Geneva had made no "detectable progress" so far that would warrant holding a later summit meeting.

The President sounded the warning in a news conference at which he also vigorously defended Commerce Secretary Lewis I. Strauss in his Senate confirmation battle, criticized Mine Union Boss John L. Lewis and spoke out warmly for the U.S. workingman.

Appealing for labor-management cooperation and passage of labor reform legislation to protect workmen, he said that "every last workman, down to the lowliest" is just as important as the manager or "capitalist" who invests in a firm.

He rejected as "completely untrue" a charge by Lewis, head of the United Mine Workers, that he was basically against the United Steelworkers Union in the deadlocked steel wage negotiations. Eisenhower said his interest in big business men was "very, very little" compared to his interest in the working classes.

The news conference produced these other major developments:

1. The President said no decision had been reached on asking Congress to permit an increase in the interest rate on long-term government securities. But he said it was obvious the Government had to do something to avoid financing too much of the public debt with short-term securities.

2. In the dispute over rival Air Force and Army anti-aircraft missiles, he is standing on defense plans he sent Congress early this year pending completion of a new study of the missile program by Defense Secretary McElroy.

3. The President said he was disturbed over the six-year failure of the Republican party to win control of Congress and score nationwide victories even when it sweeps the Presidency.

Council Hears Long-Range City Plans

Resolving traffic congestion across the Iowa River, providing for long-range expansion of Iowa City, and retaining the city's natural beauty were three interrelated problems discussed at a special meeting of the City Council Wednesday night.

The discussion grew out of a report from a citizen's subcommittee concerned with community growth. The group reviewed a preliminary study of the possible population increase submitted by Elridge Lovelace of the Harland Bartholemew and Associates city planning firm of St. Louis. Lovelace's report predicted that by 1985 the population of Iowa City will have reached 70,000 mark, and that student enrollment will climb to 15,000.

City and university expansion on the west side of the river would add to congestion on the two major bridges and the streets leading into the city unless more bridges and arterial streets are provided, said members of the committee. They also felt that a bypass on the west edge of the city would alleviate traffic on the overloaded highways and streets.

Prof. J. W. Howe, chairman of the zoning and planning commission, said that expansion of the southwest portion of the city would create a symmetrical pattern centered around the downtown area. To prepare for future expansion, said Howe, it is more important to know where the growth will take place than when the increase will be realized.

The committee's report stated that "the growth of aesthetic beauty of our city cannot be stressed enough." One member, Prof. Norman Meier said he would like to see developments carried out in unity. "Iowa City has tangible assets in its university and its beautiful topography," he said.

Officials Deny Wage Hike To Head Off Steel Strike

NEW YORK (UPI) — A steel company official said Wednesday there was a "possibility" that the industry might thaw its wage freeze stand in bargaining with the United Steelworkers Union, but the industry's chief negotiator denied such a move was in the works.

The source, an official of one of the 12 companies involved in the negotiations, said a token increase of perhaps 10 cents an hour was "not beyond the realm of possibility" if it meant averting the sixth major steel strike of the post-World War II period.

But R. Conrad Cooper, head of the four-man bargaining team conducting the negotiations for the industry, said there was "no truth whatsoever in the statement attributed by UPI to an unnamed source that the steel companies may offer a wage increase in order to head off a strike."

"This erroneous report sounds like a hopeful trial balloon sent up by the United Steelworkers on the eve of their executive board meeting Thursday," Cooper said.

"As the companies have repeatedly made clear in their offer to continue present wages and benefits without change for another year, they are thoroughly convinced that that is the only proper course to follow in the best interests of all concerned."

The industry source said a 10-cent increase might be acceptable to USW President David J. McDonald. The source said any new contract also would include an additional 17 cents an hour which the Steelworkers have received since 1956 under a cost-of-living clause in the expiring three-year contract.

"In a sense," he said, "we would be offering the union a 27-cent increase over and above what they won at the bargaining table in 1956."

This industry spokesman told United Press International that productivity studies made by Dr. John W. Kendrick, of George Washington University, have shown that productivity has gained an average of more than two per cent a year. On this basis, the industry

"might be willing to grant a package increase running up to 10 cents an hour to the union in an effort to avoid a steel strike this summer," he said.

However, the source emphasized that no such proposal had yet been made to the union and that there was no guarantee that the rest of the steel companies would go along with any such increase. In addition, he said, "We have no idea what McDonald will accept or what he will reject."

This spokesman told a reporter that he still felt "the odds strongly favor a steel strike at mid-year."

Ike Calls Anti-Semitism In Strauss Fight Tragic

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Eisenhower said Wednesday it would be "indeed tragic" if the question of anti-Semitism were injected into the Senate fight over his nomination of Lewis L. Strauss to be Secretary of Commerce. The President told his news conference such a development would be completely unwarranted on the basis of Strauss' character and ability.

He also rejected the idea that Strauss' effectiveness in the cabinet post might be seriously impaired by the opposition charges against him.

The President Tuesday said he has no intention of withdrawing the appointment expected to reach the Senate floor sometime this week, probably today.

One Senate Republican leader predicted that the nomination would be confirmed even if it is finally opposed by Senate Democratic leader Lyndon B. Johnson.

One intimate said Johnson was keeping "hands off" the Strauss fight. Like some other Democrats, this source said, Johnson was still trying to decide how he will vote in the showdown.

The question of Strauss' Jewish faith was brought up in the Senate Tuesday by Sen. Wayne Morse (D-Ore.), a Strauss foe who has threatened to talk at length against the nomination.

Hustling Home? Study Sessions? No, Just Bridge

Large black metal trunks and various sized suitcases, labeled "Oberlin," "Paris," and "Handle with care" are crowding the corridors of Currier — part of flurried preparations for journeys home and to summer jobs or vacation spots.

There are last minute exchanges of summer addresses and telephone numbers, farewell coke dates, and final meal counts in the dining rooms. Articles ranging from hair rollers to records to clothes borrowed early in the semester are being returned.

Residents not fortunate enough to be going home early are frantically cramming for final exams, the only things left to bar the way to "freedom."

But where are the seniors amidst all this chaos? Studying picking up caps and gowns, job hunting? Good heavens, NO! They're playing bridge.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Republican National Chairman Thurston B. Morton made clear Wednesday that he expects Nixon-Rockefeller contests in next year's GOP primaries and predicted they would be "helpful" in picking a winning Presidential ticket.

The Kentucky senator also attacked the "won't do" Democratic controlled Congress. He said the GOP must do a better job of "pinpointing both failures and responsibilities" of Congressional Democrats.

President Eisenhower told his news conference earlier that he was disturbed over the GOP's six-year failure to win control of Congress and score nationwide victories even when it was sweeping the White House.

Eisenhower said this showed the need for a party overhaul and that he believes the necessary plans would be forthcoming soon. He declined to issue any advice for a possible GOP successor, saying it would require two hours.

Senate Hears Governor Long Could Recover In 3 Months

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Senate investigators Wednesday heard the recorded voice of a Chicago hoodlum offering a deputy sheriff a $50,000 bribe to let him open a brothel and gain a "corner to corner" gambling monopoly in Porter County, Ind.

The deputy, Harold D. Rayder of Valparaiso, Ind., told the Senate Rackets Committee he made the recording May 4 while conferring in an automobile with Tom Morgano, whom he identified as the Porter County representative of the Chicago crime syndicate.

Morgano, holding a cigarette between his teeth, listened from the witness chair to a playback of the conversation. With a heavy Italian accent, he then refused to answer all questions on grounds of possible self-incrimination.

Rayder, who testified in his police uniform, said Morgano offered to give as much as half a million dollars in payoffs to officials in order to gain a gambling and prostitution monopoly in the county, which is near Chicago.

Rayder said he made the recording of the last of several conversations he had with Morgano after he was sounded out on whether he would help the syndicate move into the county. He said he took office last January as part of a clean-up slate.

The committee disclosed beforehand that Rayder rejected the $50,000 bribe offer.

The recording showed Morgano telling Rayder he wanted "the county, corner to corner."

U.S. Art Work Done By Reds, Legislator Says

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Rep. Francis E. Walter (D-Pa.), said Wednesday that more than half of 67 paintings and sculpture sent to the U.S. fair in Moscow were done by artists with "records of affiliation with Communist fronts and causes."

Walter, chairman of the House Committee on Un-American Activities, told the house he doubted that Americans will "stomach this nonsense."

The art works are en route to Russia where they will be part of a six week U.S. exhibit, scheduled to open in Sokolniki Park July 25.

The United States Information Agency (USIA), which handled that part of the exhibit, said the art works were picked by a four-man jury headed by Franklin C. Watkins, art instructor at the Pennsylvania Academy of Fine Arts, Philadelphia.

State Department and USIA advisory committees on the arts picked the panel. The selections were announced from the White House last February with comments of approval by President Eisenhower.

MORE AUGUST DRAFTEES

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The army issued a call Tuesday for 7,000 draftees in August, 1,000 fewer than in July but 1,000 more than this month.

The August call will bring to 2,456,430 the number of men drafted into the military forces since the Korean War started. The Air Force and Navy will continue to rely on volunteers to keep their ranks at authorized strength.

Group OKs Keeping High Tax

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House Ways and Means Committee gave swift approval Wednesday to a bill to continue for another year present high tax rates on cigarettes, liquor, automobiles and corporations.

Only three members of the 25-man committee voted against the measure, which must clear Congress by June 30 to forestall a scheduled $2 billion annual revenue loss which would wreck President Eisenhower's hopes for a balanced budget.

The bill would continue until June 30, 1960, the present 10 per cent federal excise tax on new cars and the 8 per cent tax on auto parts and accessories. The rates were scheduled to drop to 7 per cent and 5 per cent respectively.

The measure also would forestall tax reductions of a penny a pack on cigarettes, $1.50 a gallon on liquor and $1 a barrel on wine. The federal tax rates now are eight cents a pack on cigarettes, $10.50 a gallon on liquor and $9 a barrel on wine.

The legislation also would continue the present 52 per cent tax rate on corporations, preventing an automatic drop to 47 per cent.

The present tax rates were imposed during the Korean War to help finance fighting. The war ended in 1953 but Congress never has let them drop back to peacetime levels.

Senate Bill Puts Ceiling On Supports

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate Wednesday passed a $4 billion farm money bill providing for a $50,000 ceiling on price support benefits. A drive to water down the ceiling fizzled out.

The measure, approved by a roll call vote of 74-10 after two days of debate, now goes to a joint Senate-House conference committee to work out differences with the version passed by the House earlier.

In addition to the $4 billion in cash, the bill authorized but did not appropriate $294,315 million for permanent programs, mainly the purchase of surplus perishable crops, and $421 million for farm electrification and telephone loans.

Republicans cast all 10 votes against the bill, which carried about $166 million less than President Eisenhower requested. But $33 million more than the House provided. Voting for the measure were 52 Democrats and 22 Republicans.

Final debate was marked by a burst of Democratic irritation over recent GOP charges that Congress is to blame for failing to curb the accumulation of farm surpluses, thereby running up costs to taxpayers.

Sen. Paul H. Douglas (D-Ill.) said the blame rested with Agriculture Secretary Ezra T. Benson who is supporting prices of corn and some other crops without imposing production controls.

He offered an amendment to ban supports on crops which are in surplus unless production controls also are ordered. His proposal was ruled out of order.

The Senate rejected 48-37 an attempt by Sen. John J. Williams (R-Del.) to cut funds for the Soil Bank Conservation Reserve program from $450 million to $375 million, as sought by Eisenhower.

Good Listening— Today On WSUI

"OEDIPUS REX", the play by Sophocles with Douglas Campbell in the title role and members of the Stratford, Ontario, Shakespeare Festival Players, will be presented this evening at 8 p.m.

The most celebrated of recent productions with direction by Tyrone Guthrie, Oedipus Rex is the first of two classical Greek plays to be presented from WSUI in June. Two weeks from tonight, June 18, the BBC production of "The Peace by Aristophanes" will complete the duo.

FRAYED NERVES, the result of final week, no doubt, may find therapeutic treatment every afternoon at 4 p.m. on Tea Time. On Saturday, the usual hour-long show becomes an hour and a half in length which, you can see, gives us about another thirty minutes' worth.

EVENING CONCERT, from 6 p.m. to 8, will include Serenade for Small Orchestra by Cabello, Piano Sonata No. 3 by Haydn, Divertissement by Ibert, Cello Concerto in C by Miskovsky and the Sibelius First Symphony. FM: Dvorak Concerto in B Minor.

TOM KOEHLER returns today to Rhythm Rambles at high noon after a two-day hiatus safe from harm. His fast-paced presentation of popular music is a welcome change from the commercial DJ, "the host who loves you most", who "sees by the old clock on the wall" that it's time to wind up "this hassle of discs and data".

FRENCH PRESS REVIEW continues every Thursday at 12:45 p.m. as one of four news background programs heard each week following the news at 12:30.

These include Editorial Page on Friday, News Background on Monday, and the Review of British Weeklies on Tuesday.

A SMETANA TRIO, a Beethoven Quartet and a Haydn Symphony (No. 95) are among the items of music scheduled for presentation this afternoon between 1 p.m. and 3:55.

Between The Lines

By BILL SCHUSTER

THIS IS my final column. (Was that a cheer I heard?) I wish to tell all of you who thought that I meant everything I wrote—that you were absolutely correct!

IT'S THE usual procedure at this time, to give thanks to those persons who have aided me during the semester. So here goes: A big thanks to my fan club, especially its letter writers, led by August Dupont Dupin (whose silence speaks for itself).

And to the fraternities and sororities (although they are Greek to me). I am flattered to hear that they took time off from their banking to sneer at my column.

And to Hillcrest dormitory whose food (?) prepared me to eat anything and still survive between jobs.

And finally to the SUU School of Journalism, whose job of keeping my Daily Iowan award a secret would make government censors blush with envy.

PEOPLE I'LL never miss: The instructors whose grade curve consisted of giving the highest grades to the girls with the best curves.

The athletes who cheated in every test without getting caught. The students who never studied for finals and got "A's" in them.

The professors whose tests contained questions to which the textbooks and lectures gave different answers.

SITUATIONS I'LL always remember: The Student Council spending almost an hour at the end of one of its meetings discussing why its meetings last so long.

The Hillcrest advisers leading the boos at the Iowa-Northwestern basketball game.

The Highlanders the only time they ever kept their lines straight.

The upswing in beer sales during each spring thaw when Iowa City water gets that distinct flavor.

Report Rebel Invasion Force Headed For Nicaragua Revolt

MANAGUA, Nicaragua (UPI)—The Nicaraguan Air Force was instructed Wednesday to attack any unidentified vessels in territorial waters in the wake of reports that a three-ship invasion force had left Cuba with rebel reinforcements.

(Rebel radio broadcasting from Nicaragua and monitored in San Jose, Costa Rica, said that substantial reinforcements already had landed from two lumber vessels at Punta Mico, near Bluefields.)

There was no word Wednesday night regarding the three invasion ships which the Nicaraguan Foreign Ministry said earlier it had been "reliably informed" were en route from Cuba.

In land action, a government spokesman said that two separate rebel groups, totaling about 100 men, were fleeing through central Nicaragua's man-killing jungles pursued by loyal troops. He predicted the three-day-old revolution would be squelched within the next few days.

In the first government report which mentioned casualties, a spokesman said the invaders who landed on the plains of Olma Monday suffered 12 dead in a battle with Nicaraguan national guardsmen. He said the guard lost three dead.

The spokesman said two rebel columns, in full retreat before land and air attack, were pushing their way through snake-infested swampland which would force them to surrender in "three-four" days unless they are killed before then.

He said the rebels were spotted when Nicaraguan observation planes, flying through the valleys, were fired upon. The spokesman said both the Air Force and the pursuing ground troops had been instructed to respect any surrender signals.

Pilot Is Well On Way To Set Flight Record

NEW YORK (UPI)—Pilot Max Conrad of San Francisco reported Wednesday he was well on his way on his flight from Casablanca, Morocco, to El Paso, Tex., in an attempt to set a new distance record for light single engine planes.

Conrad messaged at 3 p.m. that he was over the eastern tip of Jamaica. He was expected to reach the Texas coast at about 1 a.m. today.

Pierce Drops Orioles Into Third Place

CHICAGO (AP) — Chicago's two smallest players slammed the big blows which led the sagging White Sox to a 6-1 victory over the Baltimore Orioles Wednesday.

The triumph moved the Sox back into second place ahead of Baltimore.

Luis Aparicio doubled and Nellie Fox tripled to drive in all three Chicago runs in the fifth and nudge lefty Billy Pierce to his sixth decision against five defeats.

Pierce's shutout bid was ruined by Gene Woodling's solo homer, — his fifth — in the eighth inning.

It was only Chicago's third victory in the past 11 games.

The loser was southpaw Billy O'Dell, who suffered his fifth setback against two victories. O'Dell quit after 6 innings, yielding 4 runs on 6 hits.

CLEVELAND (AP) — Washington's Bill Fischer set Cleveland down on only three singles Wednesday night while pitching a 4-0 shutout that shaved the slumping Indians' American League lead to a mere .003 over the runner-up Chicago White Sox.

Harmon Killebrew and Ron Sanford hit solo home runs for the Senators. The Indians now have lost 5 straight and 7 of their last 8 games. In the last 5 contests, they have collected only 25 hits and 8 runs.

Fischer didn't walk a man and struck out four. The only hits he surrendered were singles by Minnie Miñoso in the second, by Vic Power in the sixth and Billy Martin in the ninth. Cleveland had only four base runners.

The 28-year-old right hander won his fifth in six decisions. Herb Score, who pitched six innings, was tagged with his third setback to go with five triumphs.

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Bill Mazeroski boomed a triple to deep center field, driving in two runs and highlighting a four-run eighth inning Wednesday night as the Pittsburgh Pirates defeated the St. Louis Cardinals 5-3.

Roman Mejias started off the big inning after one was out by beating out a hopper. He went to second on a single by Dick Stuart. A single by Bob Skinner drove in one run and was followed by Mazeroski's blast. Mazeroski then scored on an infield out.

Bob Friend, starting pitcher for the Pirates, chalked up his second straight victory against seven defeats. He needed help in the ninth from Elroy Face, who set down the Cardinals in order after one man got on base.

The Cardinals had taken a 3-1 lead in the eighth.

Braves 7, Giants 4
MILWAUKEE (AP) — Eddie Mathews smashed a pair of two-run homers and Hank Aaron contributed a solo blast Wednesday night in helping the Milwaukee Braves to a 7-4 victory over the San Francisco Giants.

The first place Braves moved 3½ games ahead of San Francisco.

The first homer by Mathews was a tape-measure job which sailed some 450 feet into the bleachers in right after Casey Wise had led off the sixth inning with a walk. The blow tied the score at 3-3.

The Braves added another in the inning on a double by Aaron and a single by West Covington.

In the seventh Wise singled and Mathews followed with a 420-foot homer over the fence in right-center. Aaron watched the first pitch from relief hurler Al Worthington go over his head after the Mathews homer. Then he hit a curve ball on a line into the stands in left.

Brown Keeps Title On 9-Round TKO

WASHINGTON (AP) — Joe Brown saved his lightweight title Wednesday night by stopping baldish Paolo Rosi on severe eye cuts in a ninth-round technical knockout.

Two commission doctors examined Rosi's cuts after the bell ended the eighth round and advised Referee Charley Reynolds to stop the contest. Under National Boxing Assn. rules it went as a ninth-round TKO.

Brown was having a rough night from the ever-charging Rosi who applied steady pressure through the entire eight rounds.

Brown had opened cuts on the bridge of Rosi's nose in the third and alongside the left eye in the fifth but they appeared to be minor.

Midway in the eight, Brown slashed Rosi over the right eye and then landed a hard right to the cut on the outside corner of the left eye.

Blood gushed from the cut and streamed down Rosi's face.

The three officials were split on their scoring.

Referee Reynolds had Rosi in front 76-71. Judge Norvel Lee had it even 75-75 and Judge Harry Volkman thought Brown was out in front 77-75. The AP card had Rosi out front 77-75.

It was Brown's seventh defense of the title he won from Wallace (Bud) Smith in 1956.

"His control is something fantastic. He misses so few shots it is alarming."

Hogan, 46, next weekend will be seeking to break the three-way tie he has with Willie Anderson and Bob Jones as the winningest of all U.S. Open competitors. Each has won four.

"One day last week Ben had a 67 with a bogey on the last hole," Harmon said. "On another round he had 71, with a double bogey at the 17th."

Par for the 6,950-yard championship course is 70. Big Mike Souchak had a practice 66 before it was closed this week for final dressing.

Hogan is pretty tight-lipped about his present form, indicating he may be priming himself for an all-out bid.

Hogan Near Peak For Open Attempt

MAMARONECK, N.Y. (AP) — "Ben Hogan is at the peak of his game," Claude Harmon said Wednesday. "I would have to pick him to win his fifth Open next week."

Harmon, former Masters champion, is host professional at the Winged Foot Golf Club where the 59th U.S. Open Golf Championship will be contested June 11-13.

"Ben still is the best golfer in the world, and I become more convinced of it every time I play a round with him," the master of Mamaroneck added.

"I have been playing with Hogan and Jay Hebert, who is one of the top young pros and a leading money winner. It seems as if we

Basilio Agrees To Terms To Fight Fullmer For Title

NEW YORK (AP) — The already hazy chance of a Ray Robinson-Carmen Basilio bout for the world middleweight championship, New York version, practically was obliterated Wednesday. Basilio has accepted terms to meet Gene Fullmer in an NBA title fight.

The announcement was made by Norman Rothschild, Syracuse, N.Y., promoter. He said the bout would be held late this summer, with Los Angeles, San Francisco, Salt Lake City and Ogden, Utah, among possible sites.

Robinson, already stripped of his title by the NBA, still is considered champion in New York, the State Athletic Commission ruled Tuesday. The decision was based on recognition of the validity of a contract Robinson signed with Sam Rose of Philadelphia for a title defense against Basilio.

Marv Jensen of West Jordan, fighter. He didn't disclose the terms, but added the contract includes equal rights for Basilio, Fullmer and Rothschild in negotiation. Fullmer's manager, said that Basilio will get a larger percentage of the gate than his tiating television rights and determining the site.

Charley Segar, assistant to Commissioner Ford C. Frick, said player representatives Harvey Kuenn and Eddie Yost of the American League and Robin Roberts of the National League will meet with the commissioner next Monday. John Galbreath, chairman of the pension committee, also will be present.

Next Tuesday Frick will confer with National League President Warren Giles and American League President Joe Cronin to work out final details of the game.

Yanks 6, Tigers 5

DETROIT (AP) — Mickey Mantle hit a towering ninth-inning home run Wednesday night and gave the New York Yankees a 6-5 triumph over the Detroit Tigers.

Mantle's 10th home run dropped into the first rows of seats behind the 370-foot marker in right field and wiped out victory hopes for the Tigers, who had battled from a 5-1 deficit.

The Yankees batted out their old tormenter, Frank Lary, with five runs in the third inning but the Tigers, trying for their ninth victory in 10 games, nipped away and finally tied it in the seventh.
