

U.S. Accused Of Provoking NATO Conflict

Controversy Discussed By Geneva Ministers

LONDON (UPI) — The Atlantic Congress Tuesday shouted down French President Charles de Gaulle's demands for a greater voice in NATO.

The deepening controversy among the Western Allies spread to the Geneva Foreign Ministers Conference where Secretary of State Christian A. Herter, British foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd and French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville spent an hour privately discussing the problem. They made no public statement.

A French spokesman at the Atlantic Congress accused the United States and Britain of provoking a NATO rift which could harm the West.

France proposed a resolution calling for global rather than regional strategy by the NATO powers. The 400 relatives shouted down the proposal in a voice vote.

The Atlantic Congress is a non-official organization. But it is supported by the governments involved and its decisions bear weight in official NATO councils. Cause of the furor was De Gaulle's demands for an equal say with the U.S. and Britain on global strategy, sharing of American and British atomic secrets with France and the question of stockpiling atomic weapons on French soil.

De Gaulle refuses to allow the weapons to be stockpiled unless the Western Big Two help France become an atomic power and unless France itself controls the atomic stockpiles.

U.S. Gen. Lauris Norstad, Supreme Commander in Europe, was considering removal of 200 supersonic jet fighters from French bases because of the quarrel.

France's Atlantic Congress delegate, Gen. Pierre Billotte, said the "crisis" in which France and the other NATO members find themselves was brought about by one thing; De Gaulle never received a reply to his memorandum to the U.S. and Britain last fall calling for a bigger French voice in NATO policy.

Billotte, De Gaulle's wartime chief of staff, said this was the reason France "could not accept" missile and atomic bases on its soil.

He admitted that American atomic bombers "must" be based in Europe.

"But no self-respecting government can afford to hand over to an ally, no matter how loyal that ally is, his share of the responsibility," he said.

The Congress rejected Billotte's resolution embodying De Gaulle's opinions. The French delegation sat stony-faced while the other delegates applauded for 32 seconds the rebuttal by British delegate George Brown.

He charged that France was trying "to make something of NATO that it is not."

U.S. Rep. Wayne L. Hayes (D-Ohio), an American delegate, said the French demand was "the big stumbling block in NATO."

But another U.S. delegate, retired Army Lt. Gen. James A. Gavin, said "we should share nuclear information with our NATO allies."

"Van Allen" Belt Makeup Found

The composition of the inner "Van Allen" radiation belt has been discovered by two University of California physicists.

R. Stanley White and Stanley C. Freed sent up photographic plates in the nose of a Thor-Able rocket last month and got readings which indicate that the inner belt is composed of high and low energy protons.

The radiation belts are named after SUI physicist James A. Van Allen and were discovered last summer by SUI radiation instruments in the Explorer satellites.

The discovery that protons make up the Van Allen belt confirm the theory that the band is formed by cosmic rays blasting apart the atoms of the earth's outer atmosphere.

Registration Materials For Summer Available

Summer session permits to register and registration materials will be distributed today through Saturday and next Tuesday in Room 105, Macbride Hall.

This is the schedule for distribution of materials: today, Thursday, Friday: 8:30 to 12 and 1 to 4:30; Saturday: 8 to 12; Tuesday: 7:30 to 3:30.

Students must present their University Identification Cards for admission to Room 105. A $35 deposit on fees is required before students can receive registration materials.

SUI 'Old Timers' Return For June Alumni Reunions

Alumni from all over the United States will return to Iowa City Thursday, Friday and Saturday, for reunions of SUI classes.

This year is the Golden Jubilee for the class of 1909 which will be observed by approximately 45 alumni, according to reservations returned to Miss Blanche Holmes, secretary of the classes. Members of this class will receive gold medals inscribed with the words, "For attendance at the 50th anniversary of graduation."

Fifty-year representatives returning to the campus include four from California, two from Washington, two from New York and others from New Jersey, New Mexico and all of the Iowa border states.

About 12 members of the Emeritus Club are expected, which would include classes of 1908 and earlier. The Emeritus Club was started in 1947 and at each reunion those who attend for the first time are inducted into the club. Nearly 300 alumni have received Emeritus Club certificates which look much like the SUI graduation diplomas.

One Emeritus Club member from the class of 1895 has indicated his plans to return for the reunion. Two graduates from the class of 1904 who live in Connecticut plan to attend.

Each year, the alumnus representing the earliest graduating class receives a cane made of imported black thornberry, a type of wood found only in Ireland. The woman representing the earliest class receives a set of SUI wedgewood plates.

Other special groups at the reunion will be graduates 10 and 25 years ago. Six other classes have requested reunions aside from the 10, 25, 50-year and Emeritus Club automatically promoted by the University.

Marcus Bach, adjunct professor in the school of religion, will give the alumni convocation address. Bach's speech, "Can Russia Challenge America's Faith," is open to the public and will be at 2:30 p.m. Saturday in Macbride Auditorium.

On Friday evening, the Emeritus Club dinner will be in the south dining room and the all-alumni buffet supper will be in the north dining room of Burge Hall. The Old Gold Singers will present a program for both groups.

Free bus tours of the campus and of Iowa City will be given

SUI Student, Family Of 5 Involved In 2-Car Accident

An SUI freshman and a family of five escaped injury in a two-car crash about 11 miles north of Iowa City on Highway 218 Tuesday night.

Driver of one of the cars was Daniel G. Robertson, 19, Reinbeck, a pre-medical student on his way home after finishing final exams. Ralph F. Wombacher, 43, 910 Kirkwood Avenue, was the driver of the other car.

Wombacher's wife, Ina Elizabeth, 38, and son, Mikel, 2, were taken to Mercy Hospital and released Tuesday night. Mrs. Wombacher suffered no apparent injuries while Mikel suffered abrasions when he was thrown from the car. Two other small children, Sue and David, were also in the car, but unhurt.

Both cars were traveling north on 218 about 7 p.m. The Wombacher car attempted a left turn onto Old Highway 218, when the Robertson car hit it from behind.

There was extensive damage to the front end of Robertson's car and only minor damage to the Wombacher car. Howard Shapcott, highway patrolman, and Johnson County Sheriff's Deputies Dave Cook and Don Wilson were at the accident scene. Police said Robertson was charged with failing to stop before striking another vehicle ahead.

2 Trucks, 1 Frat Rush To Currier

Two fire trucks and a fraternity answered a Currier Hall false alarm at 12:30 a.m. Tuesday. Their arrival brought cheers from the coeds but gave no relief to the distressed counselors attempting to shut off the wailing alarm.

While several hundred Currier residents, disturbed from sleep, study, and bridge, waited outside the dormitory, a maintenance employee was called to silence the siren.

Erhard Threatens Fight About German Chancellor

DUESSELDORF, Germany, (UPI) — Economics Minister Ludwig Erhard said Tuesday he would force an open political fight over Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's decision to remain in office and would quit the cabinet if the issue was not settled to his satisfaction.

Erhard, who had been the popular choice of the ruling Christian Democratic Party to succeed the 83-year-old Adenauer, directly attacked Adenauer's decision to stay on because of his feeling the world situation had worsened.

Senate Okays Douglas Dillon For State Post

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate confirmed C. Douglas Dillon as Undersecretary of State late Tuesday, brushing aside Sen. Russell B. Long's one-man attack on Dillon's handling of the economic foreign aid program.

The Senate's okay came by voice vote almost a month after Dillon was approved 16-1 by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee to succeed Christian A. Herter in the State Department's No. 2 post. Long cast the only opposing vote in committee.

Long, referring to Dillon as a "Wall Street banker," charged in a 90-minute Senate speech that approval of President Eisenhower's nomination of Dillon would write a new chapter in "the book of American failure" to check the tide of Communism throughout the world.

He also charged that the manner in which Dillon administered the Economic Aid program made possible "the huge profits by political favorites and corrupt heads of government around the world."

But Dillon drew powerful support from both Democrats and Republicans. He was defended by Chairman J. William Fulbright, (D-Ark.), of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee; Senate Democratic Whip Mike Mansfield, (Mont.), and Sen. Frank Carlson, (R-Kan.), among others. Long centered most of his criticism of Dillon around a proposal to use $120 million worth of so-called counterpart funds piled up in Greece under the aid program for paying off the Greek debt.

Reds Bluffing In E. Germany Says Writer

(EDITOR'S NOTE: How far are the communists prepared to go in their efforts to force the West out of Berlin? To seek the answer, UPI correspondent Wellington Long visited East Germany this week. Following are his conclusions based on talks with the man-in-the-street as well as communist leaders.)

By WELLINGTON LONG EAST BERLIN (UPI) — The tough-talking Communist leaders of East Germany probably are bluffing when they threaten to squeeze the Western Allied powers out of West Berlin if the Big Four talks on Germany fail.

That is one of the impressions gathered by a Western newsman on a visit to East Germany and East Berlin this week from talks with people ranging from Communist (SED) Party Central Committee members to construction workers and railway ticket takers.

The indications are that the Communist Germans believe time is on their side, that sooner or later they will have a greater degree of influence over the activities of the Allied garrisons in West Berlin and their supply routes.

And it is evident that the communists are less confident about their control over the 17 million restive Germans in the Communist zone. But a repetition of the workers' revolt which flared in June, 1953, is considered unlikely. The Soviet tanks which saved the East German Communist Regime then still are in East Germany.

The East German Communists talk tough, when speaking for the record, on how the Soviets will back them in curtailing activities of the Allies.

But they talk with a lot more caution, when speaking to Western Newspapermen and not for propaganda purposes.

They say that if the Geneva Foreign Conference fails, East Germany will go ahead and sign a separate peace treaty with Soviet Union.

"When that would be, no one can say," Paul Verner, East Berlin's Communist party chief declared.

But there are indications that gains made in the international field have not been equaled domestically.

Heavy police patrols are evident in the streets of East Berlin. Factories are under heavy guard. No East German goes into the streets without his police identification card.

Robert B. Wylie, 89, Dies Tuesday; Head Of SUI Botany For 21 Years

Professor Robert B. Wylie, 89, who had been a member of the SUI faculty for 53 years, died early Tuesday morning at Mercy Hospital. His death resulted from complications following surgery on a hip injury suffered in a recent fall.

Head of the SUI Botany Department from 1912 until his retirement in 1940, Dr. Wylie continued work in research and writing until a short time before his death. He had held the title of professor emeritus since 1950. In 1953, at the age of 83, he was awarded a grant of $5,400 by the National Science Foundation (NSF) to support research on the way plants respond to wounds.

Funeral services for Dr. Wylie will be held at 2 p.m. Thursday at Beckman's Funeral Home. Burial will be in Oakland Cemetery.

The SUI scientist is survived by his wife, Ada Mary Blatherwick Wylie, by a daughter, Mrs. H. Floyd Phelps, Kingsley, and by two brothers — Clyde, Boise, Idaho, and Scott, Maquoketa.

Born in Maquoketa March 28, 1870, Dr. Wylie received a bachelor of science degree in botany from Upper Iowa University, Fayette, in 1897. He was awarded a Ph.D. degree magna cum laude by the University of Chicago in 1904. From 1897-1906 he served part-time as an instructor at Morningside College, Sioux City. In 1906, he joined the SUI faculty as an assistant professor, became a full professor in 1908, and head of the department in 1919.

He had been president of the Iowa Academy of Science and in 1956 was named an honorary fellow of the academy, an honor accorded to only one other person. Dr. Wylie had served as chairman of the general section of the Botanical Society of America for two years and was a vice president of the American Association for the Advancement of Science. He was a member of Sigma Xi, honorary scientific society, and Gamma Alpha, honorary organization in which membership is based on graduate scientific research.

In addition to his research on the way plants recover from wounds, the SUI botanist was widely known for his study of plant fertilization. An early study in this area dealt with the flowering aquatic plant vallesneria, which he found was fertilized by pollen floating on water in which the plant grows.

In his study of leaf response to injuries, Dr. Wylie discovered that conduction takes place in the epidermis or skin of the leaf after veins have been cut. When other scientists questioned his conclusion, Dr. Wylie cited the maidenhair fern, whose leaf in part is simply an upper and lower layer of epidermis, with no veins. He clinched his point with publication of his findings in the American Journal of Botany, at the age of 78.

His grant from the NSF enabled him to summarize and publish contributions of more than 50 research papers which he and a number of his graduate students wrote.

SUI President Virgil M. Hancher said of the SUI botanist's death: "On behalf of the faculty and students of the University, I extend sympathy to Mrs. Wylie and her family upon the death of Professor Robert B. Wylie, a distinguished member of the faculty for more than 50 years. His teaching and research and wise insights enriched the lives of many generations of students and endeared him to friends and colleagues within and outside the University. They constitute a rich contribution to the life and thought of this institution, which he loved so well and served so faithfully. Many of us feel a deep sense of personal loss today."

"Dr. Wylie was the third head of the Botany Department, following Professors Thomas H. Macbride and Bohumil Shimek. During his long term as head of the department, Professor Wylie further developed its excellent reputation. He was a man of great personal charm and unusual generosity and took a warm interest in his students, both graduate and undergraduate. His passing represents a great loss to the University and to the community."

USSR Asked To Decide Or Go Home

Herter Pessimistic But Not Packing Bags

GENEVA (UPI) — The Western Big Three Tuesday handed Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko an ultimatum to give way on Berlin or go home empty handed without a summit talks agreement. Gromyko delayed his answer for 24 hours, and the Geneva Conference went into the crisis stage.

Secretary of State Christian A. Herter and his British and French colleagues called the showdown in the 30th day of the foreign ministers' conference during a 2 1/2-hour secret session at Herter's villa. Gromyko renewed Russia's demands that the Western Allies clear out of West Berlin and that it be turned into a "free demilitarized city."

"Tonight, the impression of the Western powers is one of pessimism," U.S. Assistant Secretary of State Andrew W. Berding told newsmen.

Communist officials began spreading word that failure of the Geneva conference would make a summit meeting even more imperative. Observers said Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev appeared determined to get to the summit, at no cost to Russia.

At a Swedish reception in Moscow, Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan told newsmen that Russia is optimistic about the outcome of the foreign ministers conference but "we cannot be optimistic too long." He declined, however, to estimate how long the conference would continue.

The West was agreed there was no point in continuing the talks unless Russia was willing to guarantee Western rights in Berlin.

They were further agreed that there could be no summit talks — which Russia wants — without this Soviet guarantee.

Gromyko stalled. There was some evidence that his re-statement of the Russian demands was intended to be a new proposal. But the West rejected it as "unacceptable."

At the end of the meeting, Herter, British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd and French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville left it up to the Soviet Foreign Minister to say whether he wants to keep the conference alive.

He did so by asking a semi-public session today, at which he can speak for the public record. None of the ministers made a move to have any more secret meetings.

Western delegates talked freely of a crisis.

"The fact of the matter is, we have had a series of meetings without any progress," said Berding, the U.S. spokesman.

"It is anyone's guess how much longer the conference will last under this situation — that is without any progress being achieved."

Berding said the Western powers came to Berlin five weeks ago under a spirit of willingness to negotiate.

He said they "still have that willingness. We expect that spirit from the other side, but so far have detected no such willingness."

There have been 10 secret meetings with Gromyko and 15 semi-public sessions.

Apparently appreciating the fact that the conference had reached the moment of decision where every word counted, Gromyko stopped speaking in his fluent English and spoke in Russian. A translator gave the Western ministers his every word.

After he departed, Lloyd and Couve de Murville remained behind in Herter's villa for a 40-minute discussion of Western strategy.

Court Upholds Denial Of Passports By U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The State Department's authority to deny passports to Americans to travel to areas it regards as potential trouble spots, such as Red China, was upheld Tuesday by the U.S. Court of Appeals.

The court's decision was a 2-1 ruling in favor of the State Department's position. The majority opinion was written by Chief Justice Warren.

The case involved a challenge to the State Department's refusal to issue passports to a group of Americans who wanted to travel to Communist China.

The court held that the State Department's authority to deny passports is derived from the Espionage Act of 1917.

The court also held that the State Department's refusal to issue passports was a valid exercise of its authority.

The dissenting opinion was written by Justice Brandeis. He argued that the State Department's authority to deny passports is limited to cases of national security.

The court's decision is a significant victory for the State Department's position on passport denials.

The court's decision is expected to have a major impact on the State Department's passport policy.

Treasurer's Wife Christens Ship

GROTON, Conn. (UPI) — The first polaris-missile submarine, USS George Washington, was launched Tuesday with the "prayerful hope" of President Eisenhower that it never will have to unleash its tremendous destructive power against an aggressor nation.

The first of nine fleet ballistic missile subs, which will patrol the oceans of the world with all major military targets within range of their 1,500 mile two-stage rockets, the George Washington is the second heaviest submarine ever to be built.

Mrs. Robert B. Anderson, wife of the Treasury Secretary, smashed a bottle of domestic champagne against the blunt bow of the 5,400 ton craft as it moved down the launching ways at the electric boat yard of General Dynamics Corp.

"I christen thee USS George Washington," she said in the traditional salute as the silver-encased bottle hit the hull and the most deadly submarine in the world raced down the ways and into the Thames River.

As it slipped into the water, eight five-ton blocks of cement suspended from the sides of the 380-foot sub were cut loose to slow the speed and prevent her from heading into the mudbanks of the opposite shore.

Her 41-year-old skipper, James B. Osborn of Stockton, Mo., was aboard for the launching ride. Because the sail had only six inches clearance from the overhead steel framework of the launching ways, Osborn and some of his officers and crew who will man the Washington with him, were stationed on the upper deck.

The George Washington, he said, carried an appropriate name because she is "the first of a new class of ship which will add greatly to our ability to preserve the peace."

The nuclear submarine, when outfitted and operational next year, will carry 16 solid-fuel rockets with thermo-nuclear warheads stocked in vertical launching tubes, complex electronic computers will watchdog the missiles and keep them in constant readiness. An electronic brain with a memory section will have the missiles trained on pre-determined targets. The missiles can be fired while the submarine is submerged or on the surface.

Asst. Defense Secy. Wilfred J. McNeil, the launching speaker, said that the George Washington "with its polaris missile, is the first naval weapons system to be specifically designed for strategic employment against land targets and adds an entirely new dimension to our naval power."

He said that with the tremendous destructive potential of the lethal cargoes that will be carried by these submarines, no attacker could hope to escape retribution even given the chance of striking the first blow.

When there are enough of the polaris submarines to keep a constant patrol of every ocean, said Frank Pace Jr., chairman of the Board of General Dynamics, this country "will have a combined striking power capable of destroying the military and industrial power of our enemy in less time than we spend here Tuesday."

The Governor obviously picked Front Royal where staunch segregationists have proudly pointed out as a southern fortress of defiance to federal court integration decrees for his major pronouncement.

"We must improve our system of training and education and not permit its dissolution," he said. "Its abandonment would be promotion of surrender and acceptance of defeat. I shall continue with all of my energy the struggle for its survival."

He warned that Virginia's gravest mistake would be to "succumb to the blandishments of those who would have Virginia abandon public education and thereby consign a generation of children to the darkness of illiteracy, the pits of indolence and despondency, and the dungeons of delinquency."

Almond admitted some southern Virginia localities could not operate integrated schools and would have to turn to private education but made it clear he believed the Federal Courts would not uphold private segregated schools chiefly financed through the state's system of scholarships.

"I have taken my stand," he said. "We must save, sustain and support the cause of public education in Virginia. I call upon all Virginians who believe in... that position to rally to my support before it is too late."

Safety Certificate Awarded To City

Iowa City has been awarded an outstanding achievement certificate for school traffic safety education, according to G. C. Stewart, Executive Vice President of the National Safety Council.

The award was made by the Council for the city traffic program. Sgt. Fred H. Lewis of the Iowa City Police Department is the coordinator of the traffic safety education program.

Lawyers Ask Supreme Court To Stay Starkweather Execution

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Supreme Court was asked Tuesday to stay the execution of Charles Starkweather, convicted killer of 11 persons, who is scheduled to die Friday.

Starkweather's Washington attorneys, James F. Laughlin and Albert J. Ahearn Jr., made the appeal in a request filed with the clerk's office. They said a stay was needed to give them time to file a petition for a review of the case.

The Lincoln, Neb., killer was granted one stay by a lower court but it has expired.

Chain Reaction Rescue Attempt Fails; Three Construction Workers Drown

LOWER BURRELL, Pa. (AP) — A chain reaction rescue attempt failed today and three construction workers drowned in a sewage project 25 miles northeast of Pittsburgh.

The victims were Marty Falcon of New Kensington, Pa.; Mel Warfield of Wayne, Mich.; and Thomas Timura, 20, of Kinlock, Pa. All were employed by the George Tripp Construction Co. of Pontiac, Mich.

The men were making a final inspection of a 25-foot deep man-hole linking a sewer line. Falcon started to descend and apparently was overcome by fumes and fell into water about five or six feet deep. Timura went to his aid and he, too, fell into the water. Warfield, the foreman, went to their aid. He struggled with the men. All three then disappeared.

Firemen pumped for 20 minutes, getting the water level down far enough to recover the bodies.

Ike Gets Letter From Summerfield Which Traveled In Guided Missile

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Eisenhower Tuesday received a letter from Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield that traveled part of the way by guided missile.

The letter was one of 3,000 sent by Regulus I Missile from a Navy submarine 100 miles to a naval air station at Mayport, Fla. It was brought to Washington by conventional mail.

A local postman, Noble A. Upperman, 57, handed the letter to Eisenhower at a White House ceremony attended by Summerfield and other postal officials.

Expected Husband's Breakdown Says Louisiana Governor's Wife

NEW YORK (UPI) — The wife of Louisiana's Gov. Earl Long said Tuesday that she knew her husband's breakdown was coming eight months ago when he became so obsessed with running for a fourth term that he stopped eating and began to abuse his family and close friends.

Mrs. Blanche Long, in a copy-righted article in Life Magazine, said "it was just as plain as day" to her that her husband, brother of assassinated Huey Long, needed medical help long before he finally agreed to it.

"Any day I expected them to call me to tell me he had dropped dead in the street," she said.

Three More Infants Suffocate In Seemingly Harmless Bags

Widespread alarm mounted Tuesday over infant deaths, and adult suicides caused by seemingly harmless plastic bags.

The suffocation of at least three infants this week raised the toll from plastic bags this year well past the 40 mark.

In addition, at least 10 elderly persons have committed suicide with the filmy plastic material.

Parties Argue 'Financial Bind'

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Senate Democrats, stung by Eisenhower charges of irresponsibility, fired back Tuesday that the GOP administration has put the government in a "financial bind" that finds no market for U.S. securities.

Led by Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson, (Tex.), they accused the Republicans of putting out a lot of "political bunk" and "sabotage statements" in an effort to blame the Democrats for the government's fiscal troubles.

Johnson said the GOP had tagged the Democrats as "wild spenders." But he said it was President Eisenhower who is "advocating raising the debt ceiling to an almost all-time high and advocating the sky's the limit as far as interest rates are concerned."

Republicans retorted that the Democrats were to blame. Sen. Prescott Bush (R-Conn.) said the Democratic-controlled Congress "has lost control of fiscal affairs and has failed to act responsibly" in financial matters.

The row was touched off by President's speech to a GOP dinner Monday night, plus his request to Congress for authority to pay higher interest rates on government bonds and to boost the legal ceiling on the national debt.

Eisenhower told the Republican gathering that "it is the Republican Party that fights for responsible, sensible, fiscal policy in government."

Johnson, in a Senate speech, retorted that it was too late for the President to try to paint the GOP as the party of responsibility. He also charged that the Republicans are running for the 1960 elections solely on the hope that the Democratic congress will be a failure.

'Irving's' Given For Theater Performances

Nine "Irving's" were awarded to Iowa City Community Theatre members for outstanding performances and services at their annual banquet Sunday.

"Irving's" are small gold statues similar to Hollywood's Oscars. Winners were selected by a committee of three Community Theatre season ticket holders picked by the president of the group.

Winner of the best actor of the year was Donald W. Stribling, G. Iowa City, for his performance as Richard Sherman in "The Seven Year Itch."

Best actress of the year was Sandra Skurov, A2, Cincinnati, Ohio, for her performance as Barbara Allen in "Dark of the Moon."

Miss Roberta Sheets, Iowa City, was presented an award for the best costumes during the year in the play "Tea House of the August Moon."

The best lighting award was given to Peter Vagenas, Iowa City, also for "Tea House of the August Moon."

For best director, Mrs. David Thayer, Coralville, was presented an award for her work in "Dark of the Moon."

The best supporting actor was David Beuter, Iowa City, for his performance as Preacher Haggler in "Dark of the Moon."

Best supporting actress was Mrs. John Schuppert, Iowa City, for her performance as Mrs. Allen in "Dark of the Moon."

An outstanding service award was also given to Beuter. Certificates of awards won at the last Iowa Play Production Festival were awarded to Mrs. George Zimmerman, Iowa City, for her original play, "The Last Tender Shoot," and Dr. Charles Thayer, Iowa City, and Miss Doris Wood, Oakdale, for their performances in the play.

New officers of the Community Theatre were also installed. The new officers are: Mrs. Arthur Kern, Iowa City, president; Frank Morrison, Iowa City, vice-president; Mrs. John McLaughlin, Iowa City, secretary; and Miss Marge Zumstein, Iowa City, treasurer. New Executive Board members are Mrs. Eloise Birkey, Iowa City, Thomas Koehler, Iowa City, and Arlen Wolf, Iowa City.

50 To Attend Special Course

Fifty teachers and counselors in secondary schools have been selected from some 350 applicants to attend a special eight-week Counseling and Guidance Training Institute here this summer. The institute will be operated by the College of Education under a federal contract authorized by the National Defense Education Act of 1958.

Kenneth B. Hoyt, associate professor of Education and director of the institute, said trainees will receive stipends of $75 a week, plus $15 a week for each dependent while in attendance from June 17 to Aug. 12.

The College of Education, nationally known for its counseling and guidance training program, was chosen by the U.S. Office of Education as a site for one of several such institutes which will be held in the nation this summer.

The institutes are aimed at improving the qualifications of counselors or of teachers preparing for careers in the guidance and counseling of students. All of the trainees selected for the SUI institute have had at least one graduate course in the field and all of them will be actively engaged in counseling and guidance work in their schools during the 1959-60 school year.

IKE CANCELS CONFERENCE

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Eisenhower has cancelled a news conference scheduled for today, the White House announced Tuesday. Press Secretary James C. Hagerty gave no reason. He said the President might meet with newsmen later this week.

Dorms To House Summer Guests

Housing regular summer session students is a big job at SUI, but this summer the dormitories will also be housing non-student dental assistants and music teachers as well as physicists and high school dramatic arts students. These people, in addition to many others, will be attending summer institute, conferences, and workshop sessions.

The largest groups requesting accommodations now is the All-State Music Camp. About 200 boys and girls in this group will be living in Currier and South Quadrangle from June 21 to July 3.

Approximately 175 students attending the High School Publications Workshop are living in Currier, Burge and South Quad until June 11. One hundred college physicists will live in Hillcrest from June 16-20. They will be attending a Colloquium of College Physicists.

New Burge Hall will house the largest share of people for the campus summer activities. The groups and the dates they will be here are as follows:

Iowa Association of Nursing Homes, June 15-16; Home Economics Communications Workshop, July 5-16; Gifted Child Conference for Teachers of Exceptional Children, June 21-July 1; Speech and Dramatic Arts Workshop for Teachers, June 14-July 17; Alpha Kappa Gamma (professional dental hygiene group), August 2-4; Radiodontic Techniques for Dental Assistants, June 14-18; Workshop in Instrumental Music Education, June 21-July 2; Teaching Children Music in Elementary Schools, June 21-25;

Governor Speaks For Public Schools

FRONT ROYAL, Va. (UPI) — Gov. J. Lindsay Almond, once the South's chief crusader for "massive resistance" to integration spoke out strongly Tuesday night against abandonment of public schools.

Almond, addressing the 97 graduates of a private school group which served as the rallying point for Warren County's refusal to support integrated schools, warned that segregated private schools were trading on this legal ice. "If public education is abandoned in any county or city, then public support for private education therein on a segregated basis becomes most precarious," he said.

The Governor's speech, his strongest since last fall when nine Virginia schools were closed, made it clear he considered school closures an unrealistic, ineffective and tragic way to meet the integration crisis.

He did not refer specifically to rural Prince Edward County, Va., which has decided to close its 21 public schools rather than accept integration.

He praised Warren County where the entire white student body of 800 boycotted the only county high school when it admitted 21 Negroes last February and remained in private classes set up last fall when the high school was shuttered.

But Almond urged Virginians to give up "wishful thinking" that integration could be avoided or the Supreme Court's desegregation ruling reversed.

"The only sure prevention of any integration anywhere in Virginia is the total abolition of every public school everywhere in Virginia," he said. "... I tell you now that we cannot succeed from the Union; We cannot overthrow the federal government, and we cannot reverse a final degree of a federal court."

The Governor obviously picked Front Royal where staunch segregationists have proudly pointed out as a southern fortress of defiance to federal court integration decrees for his major pronouncement.

"We must improve our system of training and education and not permit its dissolution," he said. "Its abandonment would be promotion of surrender and acceptance of defeat. I shall continue with all of my energy the struggle for its survival."

He warned that Virginia's gravest mistake would be to "succumb to the blandishments of those who would have Virginia abandon public education and thereby consign a generation of children to the darkness of illiteracy, the pits of indolence and despondency, and the dungeons of delinquency."

Almond admitted some southern Virginia localities could not operate integrated schools and would have to turn to private education but made it clear he believed the Federal Courts would not uphold private segregated schools chiefly financed through the state's system of scholarships.

"I have taken my stand," he said. "We must save, sustain and support the cause of public education in Virginia. I call upon all Virginians who believe in... that position to rally to my support before it is too late."

Ike's Brother, Nixon To Go On Russian 'Goodwill' Tour

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Dr. Milton S. Eisenhower, the President's brother and off-times U.S. "goodwill ambassador," will accompany Vice President Richard M. Nixon on his trip to Moscow next month, the White House announced Tuesday.

Nixon will open the U.S. Exhibit at a Moscow Trade Fair July 25. Afterwards he plans a trip of a week or more to other parts of Russia and Siberia. He probably will leave for Russia on July 22 aboard one of this country's new jet airliners.

Dr. Eisenhower, president of Johns Hopkins University, will travel with Nixon as one of three members of an advisory committee on the U.S. Exhibit.

Other members of the U.S. Advisory Committee are Harold Boeschstein, president and director of the Owens-Corning Fiberglass Corp., and Robert Dowling, of New York, chairman of the American National Theater and Academy.

The Nixon party also will include

Rebels Asked To Surrender In Nicaragua

MANAGUA, Nicaragua, (UPI)—Government planes showered surrender leaflets Tuesday on the Santo Tomas area, scene Monday of the heaviest fighting since Nicaragua was invaded nine days ago. The leaflets warned the Rebels to surrender or take the consequences.

There was no immediate report of the invaders' reaction to the government ultimatum.

(In Costa Rica Monday night, Nicaraguan Opposition Leader Enrique Lacayo Farfan said the invaders will insist on the unconditional surrender of President Luis A. Somoza's government. Lacayo was the chief organizer of last week's airborne attack on Nicaragua.)

Government troops, outnumbering the Santo Tomas invaders about three to one, pounded their positions around Laguna Hill for two hours Monday, using mortars and Browning automatic rifles to outmatch the rifles of the rebels.

There was no report of casualties on either side, but Gen. Anastasio Somoza, the President's brother, told newsmen Monday night that the invaders are out of ammunition and ripe for surrender.

Liberace In Libel Case; Admits To 'Pub Crawl'

LONDON — Liberace admitted in court Tuesday that he went on a round of pubs with staff members of a London newspaper that he accused of branding him as a homosexual.

The American pianist and TV entertainer spent six hours on the witness stand giving evidence in the second day of the trial of his libel suit against the London Daily Mirror and its columnist William Connor, who uses the pen-name, "Cassandra."

Liberace testified that he made the "pub crawl" with reporters and photographers of the Daily Mirror 10 days after the publication of the Cassandra column that called him "fruit-flavored," and "masculine, feminine and neuter."

He did so, he said, because many persons changed their opinion of him after they had met him personally.

"Many times reporters have said, 'I used to hate him; but now I can't hate him any more. I have met him and he's a nice guy."

Gerald Gardner, attorney for the newspaper, said that "all Cassandra is describing by saying that you are the summit of sex is the universality of your appeal."

Liberace turned to the jury and said:

"Members of the jury, I am a performer who travels in all parts of the world. On my word of God, on my mother's health, which is dear to me, this article means only one thing — that I am a homosexual — and that is why I am in this court."

Liberace has denied in court that he is a homosexual. Defense attorneys have denied that the Cassandra column contained any "suggestion" of homosexuality.

In Tuesday's testimony, Daily Mirror Attorney Gardner asked Liberace, "do you suggest that your publicity has nothing to do with sex appeal?"

Liberace replied: "I have never considered myself as a sex appeal artist."

Water Pollution Bill Passed By House, Ike Disapproves

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House passed a water pollution bill Tuesday that Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller likes, and President Eisenhower doesn't.

Over GOP cries of "budget busting," it passed and sent to the Senate a 10-year, billion-dollar bill to help municipalities solve their water purification problems.

The roll-call vote of 253-142 saw 27 Republicans and 226 Democrats favoring the bill and 114 Republicans and 28 Democrats opposing it.

Through the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, the Eisenhower administration had opposed the bill on the ground that future financing of antipollution projects should be the responsibility of the states and municipalities concerned.

The position of New York's Gov. Rockefeller, frequently mentioned as a likely candidate for the GOP presidential nomination next year, was expressed in a letter last April to Rep. John A. Blatnik, (D-Minn). Blatnik heads a subcommittee that drafted the bill passed by the House.

The increased aid provided in the bill, Rockefeller said, "will result in the initiation of many much-needed treatment projects which might not otherwise be undertaken."

Before passing the measure, the House beat down a Republican move to cut the size of the federal contribution to antipollution programs and to require states to pay part of the cost.

The states now pay nothing, while the federal government provides up to 30 per cent of project costs with municipalities putting up the remaining 70 per cent.

The bill would boost to $100 million annually the amount of federal grants to help communities finance water purification programs under the 30-70 matching arrangement. The present ceiling on annual contributions under a law enacted three years ago is $50 million.

The way for Nixon's trip was cleared when the State Department said it would approve a request by Soviet Ambassador Mikhail Menshikov that Koslov be allowed to make the U.S. tour.

Details of Koslov's visit will be worked out with Soviet officials when Nixon's trip is discussed. Koslov, No. 3 man in the Kremlin, may spend about nine days in the United States.

He is expected to remain in New York for about two days after his arrival in this country. He probably will spend two days in Washington.

His U.S. tour is expected to take him to major industrial centers in the north, most likely including Detroit, and then on to the West Coast.

'Coincidental' Home Fire Following KKK Criticism

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., (UPI) — Arkansas Secretary of State C.G. (Crip) Hall said Tuesday it was "coincidental" that somebody tried to burn down his home less than 24 hours after he criticized the Ku Klux Klan.

A stick of pine was propped against a wooden column of Hall's front porch early Tuesday. The wood had been laid on a piece of brown wrapping paper and the paper lit. Hall said wind and rain put out the fire after it burned away part of the column.

"If it hadn't been for the wind and rain, I guess the house would have gone completely up," Hall's wife said.

Hall said he was not blaming anyone for the fire. But he said "it is rather coincidental" the fire should occur the day after he told newsmen he would have not allowed the Ku Klux Klan to file incorporation papers in his office if there was any legal way out.

"I believe the work was of one or two factors in the Klan operation," he said.

But A. C. Hightower, Grand Dragon of the Arkansas KKK, said the Klan considered Hall its friend. Hightower filed incorporation papers for the Klan to do business in Arkansas with Hall's office June 4.

"We don't have people who would do such a thing as that," Hightower said. Hightower, a Little Rock barber, labeled such accusations against the Klan as "propaganda."

Orioles Blast Indians 7-3, Gain Tie For 1st

Carrasquel, Woodling Slam 2-Run Homers

Loes Stars In Relief Role

BALTIMORE (AP) — Gene Woodling and Chico Carrasquel each slammed two-run homers Tuesday night to lead Baltimore to a 7-3 victory over the Cleveland Indians before 46,601 fans.

The crowd — second largest in the Orioles modern major league history — also saw Billy Loes star in his relief chore specialty.

Loes came on in the seventh inning with no outs and the bases loaded. He got Woodie Held on a pop and struck out George Strickland and Minnie Minoso.

The veteran right-hander, who preserved Ernie Johnson's third victory of the season, also checked Cleveland without a hit in the eighth and ninth innings as the Indians dropped their ninth decision in 10 games.

The crowd — second largest in the Orioles modern major league history — also saw Billy Loes star in his relief chore specialty. Loes came on in the seventh inning with no outs and the bases loaded. He got Woodie Held on a pop and struck out George Strickland and Minnie Minoso.

Senators 7, ChiSox 4

WASHINGTON (AP) — Reliever Turk Lown forced in three runs in the eighth inning Tuesday night as Washington defeated Chicago 7-4, dropping the White Sox into a tie with Baltimore for the American League lead.

Three walks, a hit batsman and a balk, coupled with a single and error gave the Senators the tie-breaking runs.

Rookie Bob Allison clouted two home runs, his 13th and 14th of the season. His second, in the last of the seventh, came with a man on base and tied the score at 4-4.

Winning pitcher in a two-inning relief job was Tex Clevenger. He took over after Bill Fischer was lifted for a pinch hitter in the seventh.

Chicago . . . 100 100 200 — 4 12 2
Washington . . . 100 100 228 — 7 10 0
Shaw, Stanley (7), Lown (8) and Lolar, Fischer, Clevenger (9) and Porter, Courtney (5), Naragon (9), W — Clevenger (3-1), L — Lown (2-2).
Home runs — Washington, Allison 2 (14).

BoSox 5, Tigers 2

BOSTON (AP) — Boston's Red Sox combined a half dozen hits and a Detroit error for five runs in the opening inning and a 5-2 triumph Tuesday night.

Both Tiger runs registered on a lusty homer by Charlie Maxwell, a clout into the right field bull pen in the third inning.

The homer was Maxwell's 12th of the season. Jerry Casale, 4-4, yielded only four hits, struck out six and walked but three.

Casale held the Tigers in check except for Maxwell's two-run wallop. That was the only inning in which he faced more than four batters.

Detroit . . . 000 300 000 — 2 4 1
Boston . . . 500 000 002 — 5 9 0
Davie, Burnside (1), Schultz (6) and Berberet; Casale and Daley, L — Davie (2-2).
Home run — Detroit, Maxwell (12).

Cards 12, Braves 3

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The St. Louis Cardinals collected 16 hits Tuesday night and walloped the Milwaukee Braves, 12-3, behind Larry Jackson's seven-hitter.

Warren Spahn, who has beaten the Cardinals 53 times, suffered his 30th loss to them as his season was squared at 7-7.

The victory over the National League leaders enabled the Redbirds to climb out of the basement as the Phillies lost to the Dodgers.

Ken Boyer opened the scoring with a two-run homer, his 13th of the season, in the fourth inning. Spahn was kayoed in a three-run fifth featured by Bill White's two-run triple.

Milwaukee . . . 000 001 200 — 3 7 0
St. Louis . . . 000 225 028 — 12 16 0
Spahn, Jay (3), Hartman (6), Giggie (6), Trowbridge (7) and Crandall; Jackson and H. Smith, W — Jackson (4-5), L — Spahn (7-7).
Home runs — Milwaukee, Mantilla (1), St. Louis, Boyer (13), Cimoli (5).

Yanks 9, A's 8

NEW YORK (AP) — Hector Lopez bounced a ground-rule double into the right field stands and drove in the winning run Tuesday night as the New York Yankees defeated Kansas City 9-8 in 13 innings.

The victory — delivered by an ex-Athletic against ex-Yankee pitcher Tom Sturdivant — was the Yankee's 10th in their last seven. They haven't been as high as fourth, which they now share with Detroit after leap-frogging the A's, since April 26.

Rookie Jim Coates, the sixth Yankee hurler and 10th pitcher in the game, gained his first major league victory on the pop fly double by Lopez.

Kansas City 000 520 100 000 — 8 12 2
New York . . . 130 201 001 000 — 9 17 3
(11 innings)
Kucks, Dickson (2), Meyer (5), Sturdivant (7) and House; Ford, Terry (4), Bronstad (7), Shantz (8), Duren (10), Coates (11) and Herra, W — Coates (1-0), L — Sturdivant (1-3).
Home runs — New York, Siebern (3), Mantle (11).

Cub Headed For Spill

Giants 6, Pirates 2

PITTSBURGH (AP) — John Antonelli gave up only five hits Tuesday night in pitching the San Francisco Giants to a 6-2 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates.

The big southpaw fanned eight and walked two in picking up his eighth victory of the year compared to three defeats.

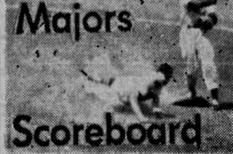

The Pirates got both their runs off Antonelli with home runs. Don Hoak belted his sixth of the year over the left field wall in the seventh, and Dick Stuart walloped his ninth of the year over the same wall in the ninth.

The only other hits off Antonelli were singles by Harry Bright and Dick Stuart in the first and a double by Henry Foiles in the fifth.

San Francisco . . . 100 002 300 — 6 11 0
Pittsburgh . . . 000 000 101 — 2 5 2
Antonelli and Landrith, Law, Blackburn (7), Smith (9) and Folles, L — Law (5-4).
Home runs — Pittsburgh, Hoak (6), Stuart (9).

Open Nears; Aches, Pains In Spotlight

MAMARONECK, N.Y. (AP) — Arnold Palmer's aching back and Sam Snead's subpar rounds provide the main talking points as golf's great and near-great tuned up Tuesday for the 59th U.S. Open championship.

The tournament starts Thursday over the lush Winged Foot Golf Club.

There are plenty of aching muscles and dislocated bones in the field but a staggering scarcity of complaints about the layout.

Even Snead, who put a blast on the course before he ever played it, has been converted by practice rounds of 69, 66, 67 and 68. Par for the 6,873-yard course is 35-35-70.

Snead, who has won 103 tournaments but never this one, has been tabbed as cofavorite with the young former Masters champion, Arnold Palmer, at 6-1.

Palmer checked in Tuesday with a hitch in his back which he blames on getting overheated and then riding in an air-conditioned car. The Latrobe, Pa., pro had to withdraw from the Eastern Open at Baltimore during the final round last week.

Ben Hogan, shooting for a record fifth Open, is trying to shake off recurrence of the shoulder injury which forced him out at Toledo two years ago. Masters champion Art Wall has a twisted ankle. Dick Mayer, the 1957 Open winner, has a bone chip in his left elbow.

Jack Burke Jr., has a bruised tendon in his left hand and can hardly grip a club.

Dean emeritus of the aches-and-ills club, Carry Middlecoff, acknowledged surprisingly that he felt wonderful. Middlecoff and Wall have been named second favorites at 7-1.

The defending champion, Tommy Bolt, is listed at 10-1 along with Hogan, Gene Littler and Ken Venturi. Prices are quoted on 43 players, going as far down as former National Amateur champion Harvie Ward, at 30-1.

Hart 8-5 Favorite Over Vet Logart In Match Tonight

CHICAGO (AP) — Garnet (Sugar) Hart of Philadelphia, No. 1 world welterweight contender, is an 8-5 choice over veteran Isaac Logart of Cuba in a Chicago Stadium 10-rounder tonight.

The bout, to be televised nationally via ABC-TV beginning at 8 p.m. Iowa time, will be scored under the five-point system.

Hart, 23, has half the pro ring experience of Logart, but has knocked out 21 opponents in his 32 bouts. The Philadelphian, former lightweight and welterweight AAU champion, has a 27-3-2 record.

Logart, making his 75th pro start, has a 55-12-7 record which also includes 21 knockouts. The Cuban scrapper, 26, is from Camaguey, the home town of former welterweight champ Kid Gavilan whose flashy style Logart imitates.

Logart is 10th ranked by both the NBA and Ring magazine.

A clearcut victory could give Hart a shot in the near future at Don Jordan's 147-pound title.

Future Of 2nd All-Star Game Hinges On Success At L.A.

NEW YORK (AP) — The second major league all-star game on Monday, Aug. 3 in Los Angeles was booked for a late afternoon start Tuesday, and Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick said "the future of this additional game depends on what happens then."

With the late afternoon start, the contest would be seen by television in the early evening by millions of fans throughout much of the United States.

"We don't expect any 25,000," said Frick. "If we get 65,000 or 70,000 to see the game in the Coliseum that would be fine." The Dodger's ball park has a capacity of 94,600.

The starting time of the second game will be either 4 or 5 p.m.,

Heavyweight Title Fight Official Now

NEW YORK (AP) — The Floyd Patterson-Ingemar Johansson heavyweight title is on for Yankee Stadium, June 25.

The last legal obstacle was cleared Tuesday when Federal Judge Irving Kaufman refused to halt the fight.

Kaufman denied an application by California contender Eddie Machen for an injunction to prevent Johansson of Sweden from fighting world champion Patterson.

Machen contended Johansson had agreed to give him a return bout before he met Patterson or anyone else. Johansson, undefeated European champion, had knocked out Machen, then the No. 1 contender, in the first round at Goteborg, Sweden, last Sept. 14.

Half an hour after Tuesday's decision, Patterson and Johansson signed the formal contracts at the New York Athletic Commission.

According to the contracts, Patterson will receive 30 per cent of the gate, and 80 per cent of the promotion's end of the receipts from the theater-television, radio and movies. The champion has been guaranteed a minimum of $300,000 and Johansson a minimum of $100,000.

Los Angeles time. The exact time will be set later.

Frick, who held a noon meeting with Presidents Warren Giles of the National League and Joe Cronin of the American, revealed that all-star managers Casey Stengel of New York and Fred Haney of Milwaukee each will be permitted to carry 28 players for the Los Angeles game, three more than for the regular all-star game in Pittsburgh on July 7.

The eight starters for the first all-star game will be named following a vote of the players, managers and coaches. Stengel and Haney select the other team members, including pitchers and coaches. For the second game, the managers will not be restricted in their starting lineups and will be permitted to use any of the players. Different coaches also will be named for the Los Angeles game.

The game will be broadcast and telecast by the National Broadcasting Company.

Weatherly Signs With Cardinals

Dick Weatherly, Iowa's regular catcher the past two seasons, has signed a bonus contract with the St. Louis Cardinals organization and will report this weekend to Dothan, Ala., of the Class D. Florida-Alabama League.

Weatherly was the Hawkeyes' leading hitter in each of the past two seasons. This year he batted .317 for the full season with 34 hits. In Big Ten play he hit .307 and hit safely in each of the conference games.
