Adenauer Defends Decision On Post

BONN, Germany, (UPI) — Konrad Adenauer Thursday rejected opposition charges of power politics and said his decision to stay on as chancellor of West Germany was made "in the interests of the whole German people."

Opposition Socialist Party Leader Erich Ollenhauer, in opening a general political debate in Parliament, had accused Adenauer of playing a "frivolous game," by first accepting and then rejecting the presidential nomination.

He said Adenauer had "damaged confidence in democratic institutions" by his action. He charged that the real reason for Adenauer's change of mind was his inability to force his own candidate for the chancellorship on the party.

In reply, Adenauer said that he was certain the German people would believe his decision to stay on as chancellor was the right one. The debate, in which Ollenhauer, Christian Democratic Party Executive Chairman Heinrich Krone and Adenauer spoke was a far cry from the anticipated stormy session.

The language used was sharp. But there were no tumultuous scenes such as those that seemed almost a certainty a few days ago, when the first shock of the chancellor's decision and Economics Minister Ludwig Erhard's demand that his name be cleared by the chancellor and party were still fresh.

Adenauer repeated to Parliament the arguments he used in his own party, that his decision was taken because of a worsening of the international situation.

He specifically referred to the death of former U.S. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles and a deterioration of the Geneva Foreign Ministers Conference.

Adenauer read a letter from Dulles dated April 8, shortly after the chancellor had accepted the candidacy for the largely symbolic office of the presidency of West Germany.

In the letter, Dulles said he did not know the exact reasons for the chancellor's decision but that he had "full confidence" that they would continue their work in common.

The letter gave no indication of any attempt to persuade Adenauer to change his mind, and Adenauer again took the opportunity to deny that any foreign government or leader had any effect on his decision.

He told parliament that he had already given his cabinet, including Erhard, an outline of his thinking on May 14, at which time he had "90 per cent" decided not to run for the presidency.

Adenauer also insisted he had spoken twice to Erhard about the matter before Erhard left on his recent visit to the United States.

Erhard earlier told newsmen that he had talked to Adenauer before leaving for America but had not been tipped off about the chancellor's reversal of his decision to run for president.

Adenauer told parliament he had "followed my own conscience" in making his decision, a process he characterized as the essence of democracy.

Nixon, Rockefeller Avoid Mention Of Campaign

NEW YORK (AP) — Richard M. Nixon and Nelson A. Rockefeller, potential rivals for the Republican presidential nomination next year, met briefly Thursday — and carefully avoided any hint of politics.

Even a compliment by the vice president to New York's governor was kept nonpartisan by including a pair of Democrats in the praise.

Nixon was noncommittal on a report that Leonard Hall, former Republican national chairman, is to direct Nixon's campaign in 1960 for the GOP presidential nomination.

He and Rockefeller were here for a ceremony commemorating the 350th anniversary of discovery of the Hudson River. With them on the speakers' platform were Gov. Robert B. Meyner of New Jersey and New York Mayor Robert F. Wagner, who have been mentioned as Democratic presidential possibilities.

"We must give a great deal of aid and Wagner, said Nixon in his credit" to Rockefeller, Meyner speech, "for their contributions to urban development."

After addresses, the four went together by helicopter to the aircraft carrier Wasp, anchored in the river, for a brief inspection.

EYE ON DEBATOR—West German Finance Minister Ludwig Erhard, rear, eyes Chancellor Konrad Adenauer as latter debates in West German Parliament at Bonn Thursday. Adenauer told Parliament that he had informed Erhard in May that he was certainly not going to quit as chancellor. But Erhard said he got the impression that Adenauer would stand fast in his decision to run for the ceremonial post for presidency.—AP Wirephoto.

'Life' Uses Engle Poem Paying Homage To Frost

"Praise to a Man," part of a poem by Paul Engle, professor of English, paying homage to fellow-poet Robert Frost, is the subject of a two-page feature in the June 15 issue of Life magazine. Engle is director of the Poetry Workshop.

Engle, who has been called "the poet who has done most for young poets in the U.S.," wrote the poem on the occasion of Frost's visit to SUI April 13. The first part of the work was printed and distributed by the SUI Library at that time, while the second section was included in "West of Boston," a collection of verse by Poetry Workshop students assembled in booklet form to honor the 85-year-old dean of American poets.

Life, in publishing the second section of the poem, described it as "Engle's eloquent and discerning tribute."

The entire poem will soon appear in Professor Engle's "Poems of Praise," a new collection of poetry scheduled for publication in October.

The student booklet "West of Boston" was the inspiration of Gerald Stevenson, librarian of the Physics-Mathematics Library, and graduate student in the Poetry Workshop. In a privately printed edition, Stevenson handset 400 copies of the booklet at the School of Journalism Typography Laboratory. The poems were selected for publication by Donald Justice, lecturer in English.

Negro Rape Victim Testifies In Opening Of Florida Trial

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — A slender Negro coed testified Thursday that she wept and begged vainly while four white youths raped her repeatedly last May 2. She denied a defense suggestion that she consented to their demands.

In the soft fluid accent of her native South, the 19-year-old Tallahassee girl told an all-white jury and a crowded, segregated courtroom: "There wasn't anything I could do with four men with a knife and a gun but do want they said to do."

"I was begging them to let me go. I started crying and they said to shut up," she said.

The girl tried to explain that she expected the men to kill her if she didn't submit. Defense objec-

Defense Plan In Preparation For Congress

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Defense Department worked Thursday to fit dollars and weapons into an air defense Master Plan which must be handed Congress Friday.

Pentagon fiscal and missile experts held all-day sessions. Final details were left for conferences running into the night.

Instruction on the general nature of the plan which involves the rousing controversy between the Army and Air Force over missiles — were handed two days ago at a White House meeting.

There Secretary of Defense Neil M. McElroy presented his proposal for a compromise which create a "mix" of both the Air Force Bomarc and the Army Nike-Hercules missiles, plus conventional in the interceptor plane defenses.

There was speculation that the Master plan included a cutback on the number of missile units for each and assumed that this could mean a corresponding saving in money outlay.

Pentagon officials, obviously awed by emphatic instructions from the White House about talking prematurely, had little to say. However, some counseled caution in predicting an immediate large savings, and were not too certain even about the extent of long-range economy.

McElroy is committed to handing the Senate Armed Services Committee the administration's plan by 10 a.m. Friday.

The job of reconciling the sharply conflicting proposals of the Army and Air Force while attempting to make at least token reductions in costs devolved primarily on two of McElroy's top aides — Wilfred J. McNeil, assistant secretary and comptroller; and William M. Holaday, McElroy's special assistant for missiles.

The Master plan had been worked over first by the military chiefs of the Army, Air Force and Navy. McElroy said last week that the Joint Chiefs of Staff had failed to reach complete agreement although the disagreement was "not as great as some people might anticipate."

1,340 Students To Receive Diplomas At Commencement

Some 1,340 students at SUI will receive degrees today at 9:30 a.m. during spring commencement exercises in the Fieldhouse. Candidates for these degrees represent 98 Iowa counties, 36 states, and 12 foreign countries.

Albert N. Jorgensen, president of the University of Connecticut, who received both master's and doctor's degrees from SUI and his bachelor's degree from Coe College, will deliver the commencement address, "Education and the World Community."

Jorgensen was associate director of the SUI Bureau of Research from 1925 to 1927. He also has been professor and director of educational administration and research at Michigan State Normal College, and professor of educational administration at the University of Buffalo, N.Y.

In 1956, the Connecticut State Bar Association presented its distinguished Service Award to Jorgensen "for being an outstanding citizen who has made a real contribution to society."

Jorgensen is president of the National Commission on Accrediting and is a past president of the National Association of State Universities. He is also on President Eisenhower's Committee on Rural Civil Defense and Committee on Scientists and Engineers.

SUI's President Virgil M. Hancher will also speak at the commencement exercises delivering the traditional charge to graduates and conferring degrees.

Robert Michaelson, professor and head of the School of Religion, will serve as chaplain during the exercises, and William Coder, coordinator of conferences at SUI, will be master of ceremonies.

Degrees to be awarded include 42 doctor of philosophy, 208 master's, 100 doctor of medicine, 52 doctor of dental surgery, 57 law, 41 pharmacy, 12 nursing, 128 engineering, 181 commerce and 517 liberal arts.

Professional and recreational marches and a short concert will be played during the exercises by the University Symphony Band under the direction of Frederick J. Ebbs, associate professor of music.

WSUI will broadcast the ceremonies with Orville Hitchcock, professor of speech, serving as narrator.

Committee Bill Requires Reducing Economic Gifts

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate Foreign Relations Committee Thursday wrote into the new foreign bill a requirement that the President come up with a plan for reducing and eventually eliminating outright gifts of economic aid.

The action was a partial victory for Senate Democratic Whip Mike Mansfield, (Mont.), who had proposed that such grants, as contrasted with loans, be ended within three years.

The committee eliminated his three-year target date.

Earlier the committee adopted another amendment requiring the Administration to remove some of the present secrecy wraps on aid spending. But the President still would have authority to decide whether disclosure of specific information would be "compatible" with national defense.

Another amendment, which could have a sharp impact on U.S. private investments abroad, would restrict the types of overseas investments that could be insured with foreign aid funds against loss from nationalization, confiscation or war.

But it increased the ceiling on government guarantees of such investments from $500 million to $1 billion.

ROCKET LAUNCHED

SYDNEY, Australia (AP) — A third Black Knight rocket was launched successfully by Britain at Australia's Woomera rocket range, the government announced Friday. The missile climbed to a height of 500 miles, officials said.

Some Democrats contended that interest rates in the open market have climbed because the Federal Reserve Board has followed a tight money policy. They maintain the rates could be held steady if the Federal Reserve pumped more money into the economy.

Golden Jubilee For '09— Alumni Return

Long-time graduates from all parts of the United States will return this weekend to SUI for reunions, a look at new buildings on campus tours, and a speech on the Russian challenge.

This is Golden Jubilee year at SUI for the class of 1909, and some 55 alumni of the class are expected to attend ceremonies and re-visit college friends today and Saturday.

Many will attend SUI spring Commencement exercises, to be held this morning at 9:30 in the SUI Fieldhouse.

Featured at the three-day event will be a speech by Marcus Bach, widely-known professor in the SUI School of Religion, on the topic "Can Russia Challenge America's Faith?" Dr. Bach visited the Soviet Union in 1957, and wrote a book on his observations.

Other alumni returning to SUI will include some 35 members of the Emeritus Club, made up of classes of 1908 and earlier. The alumnus representing the earliest graduating class will receive a traditional cane made of an imported wood found only in Ireland. The women representing the earliest class will receive a set of wedgewood plates.

Other groups at the reunion will be graduates of 10 and 25 years ago, and alumni from California, New York, Florida, New Mexico, Washington, D.C. and New Jersey.

All classes of 1934 will attend a Silver Jubilee luncheon Saturday in the lounge of Iowa Memorial Union at 12:30 p.m. The Golden Jubilee luncheon, for all classes of 1909, will be held in Burge Hall's South Dining Room at 6:30 p.m. Saturday.

Campus bus tours will be available to visiting alumni, and all spring Commencement activities will be open to the visitors.

Banking Official Opposes Demos

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The chairman of the Federal Reserve Board said Thursday that Democratic proposals for holding down interest rates by creating more money would turn the Federal Reserve System into "an engine of inflation."

Board Chairman William McChesney Martin told the House Ways and Means Committee the proposals actually would force an increase in interest rates and could lead to a severe collapse of the economic system.

Martin urged approval of President Eisenhower's requests for authority to raise the public debt ceiling, eliminating the ceiling on savings bond interest and wipe out the 4 1/2 per cent limit on big long-term government bonds.

The President offered the plan to open up the market for government bonds, which have found few buyers recently. He said the government financing maneuver was needed to help federal securities compete with those now paying more interest.

Some Democrats contended that interest rates in the open market have climbed because the Federal Reserve Board has followed a tight money policy. They maintain the rates could be held steady if the Federal Reserve pumped more money into the economy.

Soviets Asked: End Demands On Occupation

GENEVA (AP) — The Western Big Three warned the Soviets Thursday that the Geneva conference might collapse "in a few days" unless they dropped their insistence on a one-year deadline for ending the occupation of West Berlin.

Secretary of State Christian A. Herter, in a tense secret meeting, made it clear to Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko that the West would refuse to bargain under "threats of duress."

A U.S. spokesman disclosed Thursday that Gromyko assured Herter that the Soviet proposals presented Wednesday did not constitute an ultimatum.

Apparently unconvinced that Moscow was ready to drop its time limit demand entirely, Herter told Gromyko that the Western powers intended to go ahead with the Geneva talks on a day-to-day basis.

Herter told Gromyko that his plane was ready to leave for Washington on four hours' notice if the Soviets refuse to bargain reasonably.

Exerting maximum diplomatic pressure, American officials said Gromyko's one-year time limit proposal does not even form "a basis for discussion."

They reported that the Soviet foreign minister listened in a stiff and formal manner as Herter, as spokesman for the Western powers, warned him they took a serious view of the latest Soviet move.

Although familiar with English, Gromyko insisted on a running translation of Herter's statement into Russian.

Western officials declined to disclose Gromyko's reaction. Presumably he intends to communicate with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev before giving a definitive reply.

Khrushchev, who is visiting the Latvian capital of Riga, meanwhile lashed out at the West for rejecting the Soviet proposals and pursuing what he called a power policy.

The Soviet leader said Gromyko's proposals "would lower tensions in Europe and liquidate forever the remnants of World War II."

He expressed regret that the United States, Britain and France were refusing to end their occupation of West Berlin, which he described as "one of the hottest spots on earth."

At a formal Big Four session today in the Palace of Nations, Gromyko presumably will have a chance to reply publicly to the Western complaints that he is trying to make them negotiate under "threats and duress."

In presenting his proposals Wednesday, Gromyko insisted that they were not in the form of an ultimatum and could be negotiated.

Under the Gromyko plan, the U.S.S.R. would suspend for one year its demand for an immediate end to the occupation rights of the United States, Britain and France in West Berlin. The Soviets also would guarantee the Western right of free access to the isolated city.

Union Threatens Steel Industry

NEW YORK (AP) — The steel union threatened legal action Thursday against 12 major steel companies unless they start bargaining individually with the union next week on new wage contracts.

The industry, which rejected the individual negotiation proposal Wednesday, said it would discuss the situation further with the union.

Four-man teams representing the industry as a whole and the union have been negotiating for the past six weeks without apparent progress.

The nation is confronted with a strike that would cut its steel production 90 per cent unless agreement on contract terms is reached by June 30 when the present three-year pact expires.

The union contends it has a right to bargain with the companies individually under the National Labor Relations Act.

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Bob Buhl, 30-year-old Milwaukee right-hander, blanked the St. Louis Cardinals on five hits Thursday as the Braves salvaged the final game of a three-game series 8-0.

Buhl, lifting his season record to 6-3, struck out 8 and walked 4. The only time the Cardinals advanced a man to third was in the sixth when Ken Boyer and Joe Cunningham rapped successive singles.

The loser was Wilmer Mizell, now 7-3. The Braves touched the lefty for an unearned run in the second inning. Joe Adcock's double was followed by first baseman Bill White's error and an infield out.

Casey Wise hit his first major homer in the fifth, scoring behind Buhl, who had singled.

Lane Faces Ortiz In Bout Tonight

NEW YORK (AP) — Kenny Lane and Carlos Ortiz, two men on the trail of lightweight champion Joe Brown, will settle for a crack at the junior welter crown tonight when the 140-pound class is revived at Madison Square Garden.

Lane is a slight favorite over the Puerto Rican-born New Yorker. A crowd of about 5,000 is expected to see the nationally televised (NBC radio and TV) 12-round match, scheduled for 9 p.m., EST.

Both the New York State Athletic Commission and the National Boxing Assn. have sanctioned the title contest in a division that has been inactive since Tippy Larkin successfully defended against Willie Joyce in the Garden, Sept. 13, 1946.

Six-ounce gloves will be used and the automatic eight-count and three-knockdown rule have been waived by the commission. Two judges and a referee will score the fight by rounds, using a supplementary point system in case of even rounds.

When Lane and Ortiz fought in Florida, Dec. 31, the southpaw from Muskegon, Mich. scaled 137 and Ortiz 137 1/2 pounds. In that 10-round scrap, Ortiz piled up an early lead but Lane rallied in the late rounds.

Lane is the No. 1 contender and Ortiz the No. 2 for Brown's lightweight crown.

Lane, 27, has a career record of 56-6 for 62 pro fights. Ortiz has a 29-2 mark with one no-decision match among his 32 starts.

Royal Orbit Logs 1:40 Mile During Belmont Workout

NEW YORK (AP) — Royal Orbit, the Preakness winner and one of the big three in Saturday's $125,000-added Belmont Stakes, worked a handy mile in 1:40 flat Thursday.

His regular jockey, Bill Harman, was aboard as Royal Orbit's owner, Mrs. Halina Braunstein of Beverly Hills, Calif., watched.

Brookmeade Stable's Sword Dancer and the King Ranch's Black Hills, the other two highly-regarded colts in the 91st running of the 3-year-old classic, put in their final serious drills Wednesday.

The size of the field for the mile and one-half test probably won't be settled until the entry box closes this morning and owners pay the $1,000 starting fee.

Seven horses were on hand, and W. M. Ingram's Scotland arrives from Monmouth Park in New Jersey early today.

Muddy Jolley, who trains Duncan for the Clairborne Farm, said a final decision on the colt would not be made until today.

Others expected to start are Howard Keck's Bagdad, Emil Dolce's Manassa Mauler, and P. H. B. Frelinghuysen's Lake Erie.

This will be the richest of all Belmonts with a gross pot of $144,500 if eight start.

Ben Hogan Tied For Top Spot After U.S. Open's 1st Round

MAMARONECK, N.Y. (AP) — The ever formidable Ben Hogan and a trio of young touring pros — Dow Finsterwald, Gene Littler and Dick Knight — fired one-under-par 69's Thursday to share the opening round lead in the 59th U.S. Open Golf Championship.

None other in the 149-man field was able to whip Winged Foot's card of 35-35-70.

The four pace-setters had a one-stroke edge over Hillman Robbins of Memphis, former National Amateur champion who had an even-par 70. Nine players, including some of the biggest names in the game, were bracketed at 71. Scores soared skyward from there.

Tommy Bolt, the defending champion, came in with a scatter-shot 75 and Sam Snead shot 73 in the favorite's role.

The 71 bracket included Gary Player of South Africa, runner-up to Bolt last year; Cary Middlecoff, two-time winner; Arnold Palmer, Lionel Hebert, Ted Kroll, Don Fairfield, Billy Casper, Bo Wininger and Don January. Charlie Coe of Oklahoma City, the Walker Cup captain, was the best of the amateurs with 72. He was tied with a handful of pros.

Hogan, looking like the killer hawk of old and a man bent on winning his fifth Open championship, toured the front nine in 32, three-under par, and then scrambled magnificently on the tough finishing holes.

He uncorked spectacular recoveries on the 16th and 17th only to three-putt the 18th from 30 feet when he topped the ball.

Finsterwald, 29-year-old Professional Golfers Assn., champion from Tequesta, Fla., knocked in half a dozen putts of from 10 to 18 feet for his 35-34.

Littler, 28, from Eo Cajon, Calif., blasted out of four sand traps for pars in putting together similar nines.

Knight, 29, little-known Nebraskan now registering from San Diego, Calif., also used a hot putter for his 35-34.

Dean Beman, the new British Amateur champion from Bethesda, Md., playing in the threesome with Hogan, skied to an 80. Dick Mayer, 1957 Open champion, in the same group, had a 77. Ed Furgol, another ex-champion, shot 81 and Julius Boros, highly-regarded 1952 winner, took a 76. Ken Venturi had a 78.

All may have trouble making the cutoff Friday when the field is sliced to the low 50 scorers and ties.

OPEN SITE SET — MAMARONECK, N.Y. (AP) — The 1961 National Open Golf Tournament will be held at Oakland Hills in Detroit June 15-17. The 1960 Open is slated for Cherry Hills in Denver, Colo.

Willie Mays Benched Again

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Star outfielder Willie Mays of the San Francisco Giants was benched again Thursday as the Giants played the final game of a four-game series with the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Manager Bill Rigney said he benched Mays because he hadn't been hitting up to par and needed a rest. Mays is suffering from a bruised hip — injured in hard slides at Milwaukee and Cincinnati.

GRACELAND COACH NAMED — L. D. Weldon, Tucson, Ariz., high school coach and teacher, Thursday was named director of athletics and chairman of the department of physical education at Graceland College.

Pirates 12, Giants 9

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The Pittsburgh Pirates defeated the San Francisco Giants 12-9 Thursday in a contest marred by 12 errors, 7 by the Pirates and 5 by the Giants.

Roy Face, the star reliever, was given credit for the victory — his ninth without a loss this season. He hasn't lost since May 30, 1958. His victory Thursday came as the Pirates roared back from the brink of defeat by scoring five runs in the last of the eighth with the help of two errors.

Face relieved starter Bob Friend in the eighth with two men on and none out. The little relief artist got Leon Wagner on a fly but gave up a home run to pinch hitter Willie Mays. That put the Giants ahead 8-7. Face got out of further trouble but was relieved in the bottom of the eighth for a pinch hitter.

Dodgers 11, Phils 0

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Johnny Podres, backed up by a 19-hit barrage by his Los Angeles teammates, including two homers by Don Demeter, hurled a two-hit 11-0 shutout against Philadelphia Thursday night for his seventh victory of the season.

The Dodgers' batters made mince meat of starter Robin Roberts in the first two innings, pounding him for six runs before he was replaced by Jack Meyer.

Junior Gilliam opened the attack with a single, and after two outs, Duke Snider tripled him home. Gil Hodges walked and Demeter cut loose with his 11th homer of the season for the fourth run of the inning.

Reds 8, Cubs 0

CHICAGO (AP) — Big Don Newcombe won his fifth straight Thursday as he hurled the Cincinnati Reds to an 8-0 triumph over the Chicago Cubs.

Newcombe gave up 9 hits, walked only 1 and struck out 4 as he beat the Cubs for the 20th time in 26 decisions.

Newcombe's one walk went to Dale Long leading off the ninth. It was Newcombe's sixth win of the year. He has lost four.

Shortstop Roy McMillan, hitting his second homer in as many games, powered the Reds into a 3-0 lead in the second. His ninth homer of the year hit the left field foul line marker after Gus Bell and Ed Bailey singled.

ChiSox 3, Senators 1

WASHINGTON (AP) — Bill Pierce Thursday night pitched the fourth one-hitter of his American League career but it took a two-run double by Jim Landis in the top of the ninth inning to give the Chicago left-hander a 3-1 victory over Washington.

Only a clean double inside the left field line by Ron Samford in the third inning separated Pierce from a no-hitter. Samford later scored Washington's run, when, with two out, Pierce walked Renato Bertoia, Bob Allison and Marmon Killebrew to force Samford home.

Losers were Cuban right-hander Camilo Pascual who gave up a run in the third as Landis singled, Pierce sacrificed and Nellie Fox doubled Landis home.

Pierce, picking up his seventh win against six defeats, fanned five and walked five.

A's 9, Yanks 5

NEW YORK (AP) — Kansas City routed Bob Turley in a five-run fifth inning Thursday and hammered New York pitching for 15 hits in a 9-5 victory. A sensational back-hand catch by center fielder Bill Tuttle on Bill Skowron's 450-foot drive to center field in the sixth was one of the best fielding plays seen this season at Yankee Stadium.

Despite home runs by Norm Siebern, Marv Throneberry and Mickey Mantle, who hit No. 12, Ned Garver won his fifth with relief help from Russ Meyer in the ninth.

Tuttle's catch on Skowron had little effect on the outcome for the A's had opened up an 8-1 lead. The center fielder caught the ball back hand with his glove about hip high while running full tilt toward the bleachers in center field. Only the open glove faced the diamond as the ball was caught near the monument in center.

Tigers 8, Bosox 1

BOSTON (AP) — The Detroit Tigers combed rookie Ted Willis and reliever Mike Fornieles for 15 hits — including a two-run homer by Al Kaline — and an 8-1 victory over the last-place Boston Red Sox Thursday.

The Tigers broke open a 1-1 tie in the seventh with a three-run uprising and chased Willis, who suffered the first defeat of his major league career, with four more in the ninth.

Kaline, who had four hits Wednesday, continued to pace the free-swinging Tiger attack. In addition to his ninth-inning homer, his 12th of the year, he contributed two singles and drove in three runs.

His first hit came on a run-producing single that broke the tie in the seventh. That was followed by a two-run double which Bob Wilson lined off Ted Williams' outstretched glove in left field.

Rocky Colavito, still going strong at the plate, banged out a run-scoring double in the eighth inning Thursday night that gave the Cleveland Indians a 2-1 victory over the Baltimore Orioles.

Colavito's game-winning hit, coming on the heels of the four successive homers he hit Wednesday night, moved the Indians into second place, a half-game ahead of the Orioles.

Long Will Fight Family's Move For Declaration Of Insanity

GALVESTON, Tex. (AP) — Gov. Earl K. Long of Louisiana — an unwilling patient in a mental clinic — decided Thursday to fight any move to declare him insane.

The governor's decision set the stage for what could be a bitter family wrangle. Several members of his family, including his wife, asked a Texas court to detain Gov. Long.

Adrian S. Levy Sr., former Galveston mayor and one of Long's three court-appointed attorneys, made public Gov. Long's determination to fight.

Levy said the 63-year-old Louisiana governor planned to appear in person for a sanity hearing next Tuesday before Probate Judge Hugh Gibson.

Long will demand a jury hearing, Levy disclosed.

Levy also said the governor may contend the state of Texas has no jurisdiction over him since he is the sovereign head of Louisiana. But, Levy added, the possible challenge to the jurisdiction of the Galveston County Probate Court — which ordered the sanity hearing — has not been determined.

The announcement ended all speculation that Long might agree to submit to psychiatric treatment voluntarily and eliminate the need for the sanity hearing.

The governor's wife flew from Baton Rouge, La., to Galveston Wednesday to try and persuade Long to agree to the treatments.

Long was flown here in a Louisiana Air National Guard plane May 30 following a blowup in a legislative meeting at Baton Rouge, where he laced his explosive remarks with a good measure of profanity.

Mrs. Long signed commitment papers asking Judge Gibson to order Long into the protective custody of John Sealy Hospital. She claimed he was exhausted — both mentally and physically — and Dr. Titus Harris, head of the hospital's psychiatric clinic said Long's confinement was necessary.

Urge Judges' Removal From Politics

DES MOINES (AP) — The newly-elected president of the Iowa State Bar Assn. says it's important to pass legislation which would take Iowa judges out of politics.

Carl F. Conway, 52, of Osage, was named president Thursday at the opening session of the group's two-day meeting in Des Moines.

He emphasized the need for passage of the proposed constitutional amendment which would make the naming of Iowa district and supreme court judges basically appointive.

The amendment was approved by the 1959 session of the legislature. It must be passed by the 1961 session before it can go to the people as a referendum.

Conway denied that the amendment is "special interest legislation" for the legal profession.

Present methods of election, in which judges are elected with party labels, are "bad for the people and the profession," Conway said.

Conway is a native of Garner. He is a graduate of Coe College and the State University of Iowa.

He has practiced law in Osage since 1931.

In other action Thursday, Patrick D. Kelly of Des Moines was elected president of the junior bar section of the Iowa State Bar Assn.

Other new officers are Thomas M. Collins of Cedar Rapids, vice president, and Gordon Darling of Winterset, secretary.

Atom Spy Fuchs To Be Released

LONDON (AP) — Britain intends to free Dr. Klaus Fuchs, the super-spy who helped the Soviet Union become an atomic power, at the end of the month. He can go to the Communist East if he wishes.

Home Secretary Richard A. Butler told the House of Commons Thursday of the impending release of the mid-mannered, German-born nuclear scientist and said he will be permitted to stay in Britain or go abroad — whichever he likes.

Fuchs, now 47, was sentenced March 1, 1950, to 14 years in prison for giving British and American atomic secrets to the Russians while he was top scientist at Britain's Harwell research station.

Butler contended Fuchs has been out of the main stream of scientific research so long that he no longer is dangerous and that it would be wrong to hobble him.

Scotland Yard agents arrested Fuchs at the Harwell Laboratory nine years ago on a tip from the FBI. Fuchs had seen the World War II A-bomb assembled in the United States. He worked with American scientists at Oak Ridge, Tenn.

PHYSICS DEMONSTRATION—Prof. Julius S. Miller, El Camino College, California, who will speak Wednesday at SUI at the Colloquium of College Physicists, is shown presenting his television program, "Why Is It So?" Miller is among 12 lecturers who will speak at the annual meeting being held at SUI Wednesday through Saturday.

Physics Meeting To Hear TV Lecturer Wednesday

A nationally-known physicist who is renowned for his brilliant and dramatic television shows will speak at SUI Wednesday evening.

Prof. Julius S. Miller of El Camino College, California, will speak at 8 p.m. at the 21st annual Colloquium of College Physicists on "Some Exciting Demonstrations in Physics." His CBS television shows, "Why Is It So?" have been widely acclaimed for their simplicity in presenting complex principles of physics.

Eleven other lectures will speak at the colloquium, which is expected to draw some 150 physicists from 30 states and 70 colleges to the SUI Physics Building. The meetings will begin Wednesday at 2 p.m. with a lecture by Ned Ashton, Iowa City consulting engineer, on a 140-foot radio telescope he designed for the National Radio Astronomy Observatory at Green Bank, W.Va.

Professor James A. Van Allen, professor and head of the Department of Physics and discoverer of the twin radiation belts in space, will speak at 11 a.m. Friday on his radiation findings. Following the colloquium lectures, Thomas Gold, a prominent astrophysicist from Harvard College Observatory, will conduct the annual Associated June Lectures Friday afternoon and Saturday morning on "Magnetic Fields and Particles in the Solar System" and "The Large-Scale Structure of the Universe."

Sponsored by the National Science Foundation, the colloquium meetings are open to the public free of charge. Although the program is designed for teachers of college physics, Professor Miller's demonstrations are expected to be of general interest.

Among his simple displays of elementary principles of physics is one showing the absolute weight of atmospheric load. Taking a wood slat, Professor Miller places it flatly on a desk with several inches hanging over the edge. Then he puts a single sheet of newspaper over the long end lying on the desk.

When he hits the short end with his fist, the slat snaps instead of the newspaper flying through the air. The atmospheric weight spread out over the single sheet of newspaper is heavier than the weight of the fist coming down, he explains.

Summerfield Bars Novel From Mails

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield Thursday barred the unexpurgated version of D. H. Lawrence's novel, "Lady Chatterley's Lover," from the U.S. Mail on grounds it is an "obscene and filthy" book.

He said any literary merit the book may have is "far outweighed by the pornographic and smutty passages and words."

"The book is replete with descriptions in minute detail of sexual acts engaged in or discussed by the book's principal characters," Summerfield said in his finding. "These descriptions utilize filthy, offensive and degrading words and terms."

Summerfield acted after a hearing had been held in New York last month on the shipment of the newly published edition by Grove Press Inc. The judicial officer, Charles D. Ablard, reported details of the hearing to Summerfield.

Grove Press announced it would "immediately take all necessary steps to obtain a reversal of the post office decision." It said the ban involves "fundamental issues of freedom under the constitution."

"In effect, a department established to carry the mail has set itself up as a censor and has arrogated to itself the function of telling the public what it may and may not read," Barney Rossett, president of Grove Press said in New York.

Grove Press filed motions in Federal Court Wednesday asking for a temporary injunction against New York Postmaster Robert K. Christenberry preventing him from interfering with the distribution of the book.

Summerfield said he read the transcript of the hearing as well as a copy of "Lady Chatterley's Lover" which has been barred from the U.S. Mails since 1928.

Lawrence's novel is regarded as an English language classic by some critics. The author wrote three versions in his efforts to portray an English noblewoman's love affair with her gameskeeper.

Khrushchev Will Visit Norway

Prosecutor Accused By Rackets Probe

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate Rackets Committee accused Chief Deputy Prosecutor Metro Holovachka of Lake County, Ind., Thursday of being "an operating part of the criminal syndicate which conducted vice and gambling" in the county.

Chairman John L. McClellan, (D-Ark.), denounced Holovachka's official conduct in a statement read for him at the windup of the committee's investigation of pinball machine gambling and prostitution in the Gary, Ind., area near Chicago.

The final hearing also produced testimony that former Gov. John S. Fine of Pennsylvania issued a "pre-dated pardon" that apparently helped Sicilian-born John La Rocca, reputed boss of the Pittsburgh underworld, escape deportation in 1954.

La Rocca was pictured as an associate of Anthony Pinelli, veteran Chicago mobster who organized the syndicate operations in Lake County, which is near the Illinois border.

Haled before the committee, the 56-year-old La Rocca, who said he wanted to become a citizen "as much as I want to live," either said he did not know or invoked the Fifth Amendment's protection against possible self-incrimination when questioned about the pardon.

He said his attorney in the 1954 deportation proceedings was the late Charles J. Margiotti, former Pennsylvania attorney general. The committee said the pardon eliminated one of the two crimes of moral turpitude needed to oust La Rocca from the country.

McClellan's closing statement was read by Sen. Carl E. Mundt, (R-S.D.), a committee member. McClellan, who has been troubled by a kidney ailment, entered Bethesda, Md., Naval Hospital Thursday for a check-up.

He said in his statement that Holovachka "obviously aided and abetted" two pinball syndicates to gain a county monopoly that brought in millions of dollars.

He called upon the citizens of Lake County "to take appropriate and effective action to rid their community of these elements including the removal and replacement of these public officials who have been unfaithful to their trust and responsibility."

Californian Says Yacht Attacked By Nicaraguans

GARDEN GROVE, Calif., (UPI) — A California building subdivider disclosed Thursday that his new yacht was strafed by a Nicaraguan fighter plane and later boarded by Naval authorities off the west coast of the embattled South American republic.

Builder Henry C. Cox told his business partner Fred Hewett, Newport Beach, Calif., that the attack and boarding took place last Thursday as he was ferrying the new $150,000 yacht from Florida to the West Coast.

Hewett released the details to the Garden Grove Daily News.

Hewett said the fighter plane continued to fire on the 83-foot boat even though crew members waved a white flag and stopped the engines.

It was not known if the boat was struck by the bullets, Hewett said. Later the boat was boarded by Nicaraguan Naval Officials and forced to put in at the port city of Corinto.

The Nicaraguans searched the boat, and Cox told Hewett the government had reports that two boats were bringing guns for the revolutionaries from Cuba.

The yacht and crew then was released and ordered to sail directly to Acapulco, Mexico. It is there now.

Psychiatrist Warns Against 'Quickie' Hypnosis Courses

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — A Baltimore psychiatrist warned the nation's doctors and dentists Thursday against quickie courses in medical hypnosis he said are being offered by some laymen and even doctors themselves.

Dr. Harold Rosen of John Hopkins University, who heads a new drive by the American Medical Association to assure proper and discriminate use of hypnosis in medicine, said such courses and any other incomplete training for the use of mesmerizing methods in treatment constitute playing with dynamite as far as patients are concerned.

He said so in an address to the 108th annual meeting of the AMA in which he also stressed that medical hypnosis, if properly and selectively used, has tremendous potentialities for good in a wide range of medical and surgical applications.

But he said hypnosis should be used only if a doctor, in addition to knowing the actual technique of hypnosis, is also trained for at least a period of several months in what he termed "psychodynamics" — that is, the understanding of the motivational bases of human behavior.

At a news conference, Rosen said he does not know of any instances so far whereby use of hypnosis by incompletely trained doctor-hypnotists had caused harm to patients. But he said there have been some cases in which patients might have been better off in the long run if hypnosis had not been used. He stressed that the potential for harm exists.

Concerning the quickie courses — of only three days' duration — Rosen said they are being offered by groups of individuals "sometimes including medical doctors and sometimes not." Some of these courses, he said, are being advertised "at race-tracks" — with free tickets of admission to the races as one of the inducements for doctors and dentists to sign up.

Turkish President Has Audience With Pope John

VATICAN CITY, (UPI) — Turkish President Celal Bayar had an audience with Pope John XXIII Thursday during an unprecedented visit that was expected to lead to diplomatic relations between Turkey and the Holy See.

Although Turkish Premier Adnan Menderes visited the late Pope Pius XII in 1955, Bayar was his Moslem nation's first chief of state ever to meet with a Roman Catholic pontiff.

Bayar's visit took place in a friendly atmosphere which contrasted with memories of bloody battles in past centuries between Turks and Christians. Pope John served as apostolic delegate to Turkey from 1934 to 1944.

Relations between Turkey and the Vatican have improved immeasurably since the Turks appeared on the European scene five centuries ago as a scourge of Christianity. The two states grew close after World War II in the face of the common danger of Communism.

Columnist Speaks In Liberace Case; Calls Pianist 'Preposterous Clown'

LONDON (AP) — Columnist William Connor admitted in court Thursday that he disliked Liberace's performances. He testified he had wanted to cut the American TV pianist down to size as "a preposterous clown."

But the 50-year-old newsman, defending himself against a libel suit, insisted nothing he had written in the tabloid London Daily seemed to imply that Liberace was a homosexual.

Attorney Gilbert Beyfus suggested Connor had displayed detestation for Liberace in a Mirror article three years ago.

"I did not detest Mr. Liberace," Connor replied. "In his personal capacity he was entirely unknown to me, but I strongly dislike what he does on the stage, in the concert hall and on television."

Develop Wholeness Of Self Michaelsen Tells Med Grads

Graduating medical students at SUI were urged Thursday night to develop a "completeness or wholeness" of self rather than falling into the single image of a doctor.

Robert Michaelsen, director of the School of Religion, pointed out that the students had supposedly acquired enough or nearly enough training and education to assume the responsibilities of their profession.

"But have you also acquired the integrity to be a responsible human being?" he asked, reminding that "integrity" means not only moral soundness and honesty, but also completeness or wholeness.

Michaelsen, speaking at the Medical Convocation, told the graduating seniors that society's tendency to categorize can be harmful to them if it leads to a doctor's being identified only by his academic degree and profession. The "doctor image" may act as a substitute for the development of your personal wholeness or integrity, he warned.

Michaelsen reminded the students that little of their training had been designed to develop "this integrity, this selfhood, this sharpness of personal identity." As a matter of fact, he said, it had been designed to help them conform to a mold. And this, within limits, is as it should be, the speaker added. All physicians must be with a certain body of knowledge; otherwise there would be no profession, he said.

"But physicians are also men and women with individual personalities, unique souls, minds and hearts of their own," Michaelsen told the group.

"Integrity of self requires that we remove all masks from time to time, to ask what it's all about, who we are, what there is in life that is most worthwhile, what it means to be a person—this particular unique person," he said.

Thursday's convocation was attended by families and friends of the graduating seniors, and by members of the medical faculty. The seniors, after receiving their medical degrees today, will serve one-year internships before entering practice or specialty training.

Residents Protest Liquor Store

DES MOINES (AP)—Some 30 or 40 protesters against a proposal to establish a liquor store in Mount Pleasant have been received by the State Liquor Control Commission, Chairman William Housel said Thursday.

One objector, the Rev. James Proxel of the First Baptist Church in Mount Pleasant, appeared in person to present his protest this week. Commission members quoted him as saying the members of his congregation oppose having a liquor store in the county.

The commission has delayed until the end of this month a final decision on whether to open the store, which has been requested by a number of Mount Pleasant residents.

Air Force Leaves Nose Cone To Sea

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—The Air Force Thursday abandoned to the sea a small nose cone that harbors some of the secrets for shielding intercontinental-range nuclear warheads of the future.

A powerful Thor-Able missile carried the cone on a blazing 5,500 mile space flight over the Atlantic early Thursday. Recovery planes and ships watched the cone's fiery re-entry but were unable to locate it in the water. The search was called off after nine hours.

The Air Force announced that the recovery craft did not receive signals from tiny radios inside the cone. Nor were they able to locate a dye marker designed to aid recovery.

SUI Playwright Awarded First Prize In Contest

Richard F. Stockton, G, Los Angeles, has been awarded the $150 first prize in the H. K. Smith Memorial Playwright Award contest. Stockton, a graduate student in the Department of Speech and Dramatic Arts, received the award for his play, "The Litter Of Flowers," a two-act drama.

The contest is sponsored annually by the Little Theatre of Jacksonville, Fla., for original, unpublished and unproduced manuscripts of at least one and one half hours playing time.

The theatre maintains a one-year option to produce the prize-winning play without royalty if they decide to do so.

The Little Theatre of Jacksonville is considering "The Litter Of Flowers" premiere for next season.

Stockton's prize-winning play concerns a young psychiatric intern who develops an emotional attachment to a patient he is treating for suicidal impulses.

The patient reveals the incident which caused her guilt feelings—a crucial decision which she made as an Army nurse in World War II. The decision she believes, led to the death of two soldiers.

A reenactment of the war scene leads to a surprising discovery for the intern as to the identity of one of the soldiers.

Stockton had one play, "The Casket Maker," produced both in the Studio Theatre and by the Television Department last semester. Another full length play, "The Trial of Captain John Brown," has been scheduled for production as the first play in the University Theatre's summer series, beginning July 9.

Gelatt Appointed To Journalism Summer Faculty

Rod Gelatt, instructor in radio and television journalism at Washington and Lee University, Lexington, Va., has been named to a position on the School of Journalism faculty for the 1959 summer session, according to Leslie G. Moeller, director of the school.

During the summer session, Gelatt will teach radio news courses as a summer replacement for Ernest F. Andrews Jr., assistant professor and head of radio journalism and public relations, who will be on leave. Andrews will spend the summer as a member of the public relations staff of the United States Steel Corporation in New York under a grant from the Foundation for Public Relations Research in Education.

Gelatt received a B.A. degree in journalism from SUI in 1950. He was a member of the WHO radio and television news staff in Des Moines prior to his appointment at Washington and Lee in 1957.

House Votes Against Ike's Surplus Plan

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The House, by an almost straight party-line vote, Thursday voted overwhelmingly against an Administration-backed plan for curbing the nation's multi-billion dollar wheat surpluses.

After the tentative but top-heavy 168-114 vote, the House put off until today a final showdown on both the Republican proposal and a Democratic bill strongly opposed by President Eisenhower. The Democratic bill would raise wheat price supports 20 per cent.

The margin of Thursday's vote indicated the GOP plan would go down to final defeat. Democratic farm leaders said they believed they had the votes to push through their plan despite opposition by some big city Democrats who are irked at the cost of the farm program.

Should all legislation be scuttled, it would leave Democratic Congressional leaders without an answer to Eisenhower's challenge to the Democratic-controlled Congress to do something about the huge wheat surplus.

Before tentatively rejecting the GOP plan, the House voted to include in any bill a $35,000 limit on price support loans to any single wheat grower. The amendment was sponsored by Rep. George S. McGovern (D-S.D.).

It was opposed by Chairman Harold D. Cooley (D-N.C.), of the House Agriculture Committee. He said the House was being pressured by "flaming newspaper headlines" about support payments to big farmers.

The House had hoped to take final action Thursday on wheat legislation. But the showdown was put off until today when Rep. Clare E. Hoffman, (R-Mich.), demanded a reading of the complete bill, an automatic delaying maneuver.

Shortly before the vote on the GOP plan, Agriculture Secretary Ezra T. Benson came out in favor of it even though it fell short of the Administration's original program.

The Democratic plan would reduce wheat planting allotments 25 per cent and raise support prices to 90 per cent of parity.

The eight, five men and three women, were fined on charges of loitering after Iowa City police arrested them for swimming in the Iowa City Pool at 1:15 a.m. Thursday.

The men spent the night in jail, while the coeds were released on bond at 3 a.m. Two of the men were still dressed in bathing suits at the court appearance.

OTTAWA (AP)—Publication or broadcast of any admission or confession by an accused person during a preliminary hearing would be made illegal by criminal code amendments proposed to Parliament Thursday, to avoid prejudice to the accused.

State May Begin Elm Disease Fight

DES MOINES (AP)—State aid in combatting Dutch elm disease was asked by a group of Des Moines officials at a meeting with Secretary of Agriculture Clyde Spry Thursday.

Spry said the state couldn't provide money enough for a statewide spraying program.

But he agreed to explore the possibility of setting up and equipping a laboratory where elm wood samples from trees suspected of having the disease could be tested free of charge.

Under the proposal, the state would provide the laboratory and equip it. Des Moines would staff it.
