Rape Testimony: 'Premeditation'

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — A teen-age witness testified Friday that one of four white defendants in the rape of a Negro coed told him hours in advance that he was going out to get a Negro girl.

As the state neared the end of its case against the four white youths, Jimmy Cooper, a crew-cut red-haired youngster in blue dungarees, took the witness stand. He said he encountered defendant David E. Beagles, 18, on a Tallahassee street at 9:15 p.m. May 1.

In the course of their conversation Cooper testified: "He said he nigger —"

It was about four hours later, according to the state, that Beagles and three companions raped the Negro girl repeatedly after abducting her from a car where she was sitting with her Negro escort.

Other defendants are Willson T. Collinsworth, Patrick G. Scarborough and Ollie Stoutamire.

Cooper admitted under cross-examination that he had disagreements in the past with Beagles over an unidentified girl and over remarks Beagles accused him of making about the latter's sister.

Late in the afternoon the 12 jurors and two alternates, accompanied by the defendants, the judge and the attorneys for both sides were taken to the scene of the alleged crime. It is a tiny clearing beside a dirt road that winds snake-like through a lonely woods. It is there that the coed says she was raped seven times by the defendants.

Earlier the Negro rape victim was quoted as telling Beagles during the alleged attack "If you won't tell anybody, I won't tell anybody."

"I just want to go back to school," the girl said according to a confession made by Beagles after his arrest and placed on the court record in the testimony of Deputy Sheriff Raymond Hamlin Jr.

Excerpts from the confessions were related by Hamlin and another deputy who interrogated the white youths after their arrest May 2, despite vigorous defense objections. Tape recordings of the confessions were brought into the courtroom but they were not played because the court held they were repetitious.

Hamlin said Beagles told him that when the white youths came upon the Negro girl, her date and another couple in a parked car "the couples in the car were having intercourse." This has been denied by the coed and her companions from the witness stand.

Beagles was quoted as saying that one of the Negro girls ran away but that the other got into the defendants' car after he pushed her "just once, not hard."

Hamlin testified: "He — Beagles — said he had intercourse with the girl one time" and "that the others had intercourse with the girl, and that she did not cry out."

Hamlin then turned to the confession of the eldest defendant, Willson T. Collinsworth, 23, and testified: "He said he saw all the others have intercourse with her and that he had intercourse with her only once. I asked him what she said when they were alone, and he said that she asked him if they were going to hurt her and he told her, 'no, sir.'"

Regarding Stoutamire, 16, Hamlin said of the time when the white defendants first seized the coed: "Ollie said he told them, 'Turn that girl loose and let's get away from here,' but nobody paid any attention to him. He said that girl didn't cry out in the woods, that the others had intercourse with her and he twice. I asked him what she said and he said that the first time she didn't say anything" and that "the second time she asked him if they were going to hurt her and he said, 'No, they are not going to hurt you.'"

Steel Stalemate Stiffens; 'No' To Individual Talks

NEW YORK (AP) — Positions stiffened Friday in the already stalemated steel industry dispute, casting doubt on when and how negotiations might be resumed.

With talks broken off for the second day in a row, both sides held directly opposing views as to the United Steelworkers of America demanded that future talks be with individual companies. Discussions in the past during current negotiations have been on an industry-wide basis.

The 12 major steel companies gave a flat "no" answer to the individual talks.

"No company representatives will attend," said an industry statement, after a poll of the separate firms.

The conflict left prospects for new meetings uncertain, with the expiration of the labor contract for half a million Steelworkers on June 30.

A new strategy huddle of the union's 171-member Wage Policy Committee authorized negotiators to "take whatever steps they deem necessary" in the snarled dispute.

Union President David J. McDonald said the industry obviously was trying "to force a crisis," and if the mills are shut down by a strike, the responsibility "will rest clearly on the steel industry."

"Our people are united as never before in the face of the arrogant position of the industry," he said. In Washington, Federal Mediation Director Joseph F. Finnegan said he expected to talk with representatives of both sides independently later this month, when they are in Washington for conferences with senators.

Should a strike come, it would close plants producing 90 per cent of the nation's steel, a major segment in the American economy. For weeks, negotiators have been at loggerheads over the union's demands for wage increases.

Thursday, the industrywide talks, with four-man teams representing each side, were recessed indefinitely. The union insisted on company-by-company talks.

second day in a row, both sides held directly opposing views as to the United Steelworkers of America demanded that future talks be with individual companies.

Tempers Fly In German Parliament Rift

BONN, Germany (UPI) — Economics Minister Ludwig Erhard Friday contradicted Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's version of his about-face decision to remain in office and touched off a parliamentary uproar in which Adenauer was accused of lying.

The accusation that Adenauer lied was made by an opposition socialist after Erhard gave his side of the story to the Bundestag (parliament).

Erhard told the deputies that the Chancellor's version might have given them the impression that he should not have been surprised by news that Adenauer had decided to remain as Chancellor.

He insisted, as he had previously, that he had no reason to believe Adenauer would change his mind about running for the presidency.

Erhard's statement touched off angry cries from the opposition Socialists.

Socialist party whip Karl Mommer shouted: "Liar-Chancellor!" and it took several minutes for the speaker to restore order in the chamber.

Opposition Socialist Deputy Heinrich Deist challenged Erhard to explain why he had not corrected Adenauer on the spot Thursday.

Erhard, replied that he had chosen the time and manner of his move "in order to clear up the past — because I do not look to the past — I look to the future."

Demand Summit Meet, Berlin Ultimatum Stands

In Technological World, Says Speaker—

Self-Command Is Needed

It is the fate of educators today to "stick our necks way out and keep them out," the commencement speaker told some 1,340 new SUI graduates at the Fieldhouse Friday morning.

A. N. Jorgensen, president of the University of Connecticut, told Iowa graduates and their families that higher education, rather than stick to the rear of an advancing society, should work at shaping "a decisively influential community of people around the world who can and do talk to each other, who have enough sense to see the other fellow's sense, enough knowledge to acknowledge their own ignorance, and who guard the continuity of history and the divine spark in man from the dark legions of Chaos."

While at present it is important for this country to achieve a position of scientific and military parity with Russia, Jorgensen said, when we get there, we must keep in mind that no marvels of technology, no new bombs, no new groupings of the Joint Chiefs, no crew-less submarines firing at unseen targets can compare with the "wise self-command which prevents the same bombs from falling on the tender skin of our own green earth."

In discussing the American system of education, Jorgensen said that because it is a democratic system, it runs certain risks, just as does a democratic political system. For instance, he said, there is the risk that some students will waste their education. Still others, in whom education has stimulated ambition which circumstances or lack of talent will keep them from realizing, may become embittered or self-pitying and come to think of themselves as the "Lost Generation" or the "Beat Generation."

But this nation believes that there is no greater risk than the attempt to eliminate risk, Jorgensen said, and we should never undertake to frame a system where failure would be inconceivable.

Concerning the challenge of specialization to democratic education, the speaker pointed out that — particularly in a Republic — a man is a citizen in addition to whatever else he is, hence is partly responsible for the whole group, whether or not he is active politically.

So it is the responsibility of the educator to point out that a man's duty to life is not fulfilled when he has mastered his craft, business, or science, Jorgensen said.

Jorgensen, who earned his bachelor's degree at Coe College, Cedar Rapids, and both master's and doctor's degrees at SUI, spoke about "Education and the World Community." Degrees were conferred by President Hancher, who also delivered the traditional charge to graduating students.

President Hancher pointed out that the new graduates will have an opportunity not only to witness, but also to direct, fantastic new developments in the next few decades.

"Your years at the University should have stirred within you a divine discontent with the average, the indifferent, the mediocre, and should have created in you a consuming desire for all that is good and excellent," the SUI president said.

U.S. Ambassador And Castro Meet

HAVANA (AP) — Prime Minister Fidel Castro and U.S. Ambassador Philip Bonsal conferred Friday on what a brief official announcement called matters relating to the ambassador's duties.

Informed sources said the subjects included two U.S. notes delivered in the last three days and relating to Castro's chief economic project — agrarian reform.

Graduation By The Family Plan

Faubus Hits Racial Issue News Stories

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (UPI) — Arkansas Gov. Orval Faubus accused the national press Friday of surrounding the truth of the race issue with a "paper curtain."

Faubus, an outspoken segregationist said "pseudo-intellectuals and fuzzy-minded leftwingers control most of the magazines and newspapers in the world."

He said reporters "swarmed across the state of Arkansas like locusts" during the past year "but they did not write the facts as they saw them or their editors deleted the facts."

Faubus charged newspapers were "printing the news the way they want it to happen and not the way it occurs."

In a 55-minute address to the joint session of the Alabama legislature, the Arkansas governor described "Time as the magazine for people who can't think and Life for the people who can't read."

His speech was repeatedly interrupted by wild applause and cheers. Faubus explained why he could not accept "token integration, moderate integration, controlled integration or intelligent integration — all the terms that are now used freely in Little Rock."

He said he should not surrender just as the United States would not give up in Berlin, Iran, Vietnam and Korea.

Mother Of 'Dozen'— Dr. Gilbreth Here June 23

Globe-trotting, 81-year-old Dr. Lillian M. Gilbreth, an international authority on management who is probably best known to most Americans as the mother in the "Cheaper by the Dozen" family, will speak at SUI June 23.

Dr. Gilbreth, president of the New York engineering firm which bears her name, will address 29 of U.S. industry's younger men in executive and supervisory positions attending the SUI Management Course. The two-week course, which will open Monday, is sponsored by the SUI College of Engineering.

To speak at a dinner meeting at Iowa Memorial Union, Dr. Gilbreth will be making her 15th appearance at the 20th annual management course. Also participating in the course will be Walter L. Daykin, SUI professor of labor and management and authority on labor relations, and J. Keith Loudon, executive vice-president of Lebanon Steel Foundry, Lebanon, Penn. The three "alumni" were on the staff teaching the course when it began in 1939.

According to the director of the course, J. Wayne Deegan, professor and chairman of the Department of Mechanical Engineering, these "alumni" will be able to give personal testimony to the changes in management during the past 20 years.

'Time To Think' Proposed By Ike

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Eisenhower said Friday he hopes to submit to Congress a government reorganization plan designed to give top officials more time to sit back and think.

"Not only can our government afford such a move," the President said, "it cannot afford to ignore it."

Speaking to senior officer graduates of the State Department's Foreign Service Institute, Eisenhower recalled that former Secretary of State John Foster Dulles often spoke about the lack of opportunity for "contemplation."

He said Dulles, who died of cancer last month, felt strongly that there should be some reorganization "in the very highest echelons of the executive departments so that there could be more time to think about the job."

The President added that before he left the White House he hoped to lay before Congress a plan "that will do something of this kind."

Eisenhower noted that Dulles spoke with the same enthusiasm for the institute's school, where foreign service officers and others take specialized courses to improve their general understanding of world and national affairs.

cently returned from a ten-week lecture tour of Europe. She attended graduation exercises of three of her grandchildren this month, besides participating in various roles in four other commencement exercises.

In 1953 and 1954, as a consulting engineer "shuttling back and forth" between the Philippines, Formosa, Australia, India, Brazil and England, she said she found considerable evidence that the "use of the resources of nature and human nature for the benefit of mankind is fast becoming a universal code of management."

Dr. Bean Speaks To A.M.A. Group

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. — Dr. W. B. Bean, professor and head of internal medicine at SUI and chairman of the American Medical Association (A.M.A.) section on internal medicine, presented the chairman's address at the section's annual meeting which ended Friday.

Dr. Bean's talk was presented as the principal speech at the observance of the section's 100th anniversary. The meeting was held as part of the 1959 A.M.A. convention in Atlantic City.

Reds Want Summit Meet Regardless

Ministers To Meet In Secret On Monday

GENEVA (UPI) — Russia's Andrei A. Gromyko Friday refused to withdraw his Berlin ultimatum and demanded a Summit meeting on Moscow's terms. Gromyko's sledgehammer speech seemed to smash any hope for agreement at the Big Four foreign ministers conference.

American officials said Gromyko's insistence on a Summit conference regardless of what happens at the ministers talks indicated the Soviets were preparing to "write off" the conference.

One American official said it appeared "Gromyko was saying the requiem for this conference."

Diplomatic sources said it is possible there would be a long "recess" by the end of next week rather than an outright break-off of the talks, with the possibility the ministers could meet again at a later date.

U.S. Secretary of State Christian A. Herter quickly convened an extraordinary session of the Western Ministers to discuss the situation caused when the Soviet Foreign Minister blandly said he was giving neither "ultimatum nor Diktat" — but the Allies must get out of West Berlin. He demanded that the Geneva meeting place "no obstacles" in the path of a summit parley. Both sides agreed to a secret meeting on Monday, which will take the conference into its sixth week. But the West showed it had little or no hope. French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville admitted he felt "discouragement and weariness."

Russia's proposals "do not offer a basis for discussion," said Assistant Secretary of State Andrew W. Berding, the U.S. spokesman.

Herter, Couve De Murville and British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd had a private lunch with West Berlin Mayor Willy Brandt who arrived at Herter's invitation to discuss the Berlin crisis and Russia's demands that the Western powers clear out.

At the semi-public plenary session of the ministers, Gromyko started out by saying solemnly that his demand of Wednesday that the West to get out of Berlin in one year was "not an ultimatum."

Then he proceeded to present this apparently rock-bottom Russian stand:

— The Soviet Union "would never sign any document which would mean the perpetuation of the occupation regime in West Berlin."

— Russia insists on its proposals, already rejected by the West, giving the two Germanies one year to write a peace treaty and giving full equality to the Communist East German regime.

— The West must agree either to get out of West Berlin after these All-German negotiations, or get out now.

— "The Soviet Government considers that the summit conference should not be made a subject of bargaining."

'Just Skin, Bones' Say Russian Gals Of Dior Models

MOSCOW (UPI) — The House of Christian Dior today staged its first fashion show in Moscow with the pencil-slim Paris mannequins drawing almost as much comment from hefty Russian women as the dresses and suits they modeled.

"Just bones, they must not eat," said a Russian woman at a special preview for 1,000 views of Russian officials. One model, named Kouka, drew excited murmurs every time she appeared. Her dramatic face, powdered white, with heavily made up eyes and framed by straight black hair, was watched carefully.

Her stylized walk, her body tilted backwards and arms outstretched, brought open gasps of astonishment.

"A typical French girl," said one Russian woman. Kouka is an Argentine.

The clothes the mannequins wore brought rounds of applause from the Russian women and the wives of foreign diplomats.

House Passes Bill Friday To Curb Wheat Surpluses

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House overrode administration protests Friday and passed a bill designed to curb costly wheat surpluses by raising price supports and cutting plantings. It squeaked through by a vote of 188-177.

Democratic farm leaders had to quell a revolt by city Democrats to put across their plan. Its passage was a rebuff to President Eisenhower and Agriculture Secretary Ezra Taft Benson, who opposed increasing price supports to hold down the nation's mounting stock of surplus wheat.

The showdown, which followed three days of maneuvering, found 176 Democrats and 12 Republicans voting for the bill. Opposed were 63 Democrats, most of them from cities, and 114 Republicans. There were 70 absentees whose votes could have been decisive either way.

Just before final passage, the House rejected 223-141 a compromise plan offered by Republicans and backed by the Administration. It was backed by 113 Republicans and 28 Democrats. Thirteen Republicans broke party ranks to join 210 Democrats in voting it down.

The Senate earlier passed a different bill and a House-Senate conference committee now will try to hammer out a compromise. The President also opposes the Senate plan, however, and the final version almost certainly will be unacceptable to him.

Both bills carried limitations on price support payments to individual growers. The House set a $35,000 ceiling on 1960 wheat payments. The Senate approved the same dollar limit, but applied it to all the crops of any one farmer.

Agriculture Secretary Ezra T. Benson attacked both the House and Senate bills. He said in a statement they would only "compound the difficulties and further delay the day of reckoning which must surely come — and soon."

The 12 Republicans — all from grain producing areas — who voted for the Democratic bill were Reps. John B. Bennett (Mich.), H. Carl Anderson (Minn.), Odin Langen (Minn.), Alvin E. O'Konski (Wis.), H. R. Gross (Iowa), E. Y. Berry (S.D.), Don L. Short (N.D.), Phil Weaver (Neb.), William L. Springer (Ill.), William H. Avery (Kan.), Wint Smith (Kan.), and J. Edgar Chenoweth (Colo.).

Six of the 12 — Bennett, Chenoweth, Short, Springer, Berry and Avery — voted first for the Republican plan and when that was defeated supported the Democratic plan.

The House Bill would reduce wheat acreage allotments 25 per cent for the next two years and raise price supports from 75 per cent of parity to 90 per cent.

The Senate bill, also for two years, would give each grower a choice of three plans. Price supports would range from 65 to 80 per cent of parity, depending upon how much land the farmer decided to take out of production.

Congressional Democrats were confident a compromise would be worked out and sent to Eisenhower as a reply to his repeated demands for legislation to cut the wheat surplus.

Air Defense Plan Outlines 5-Year, $1.5 Billion Cutback

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Defense Secretary Neil H. McElroy Friday unveiled a new air defense plan calling for a five-year $1.5 billion cutback in defense against manned bombers and heavy nuclear missiles on protection against enemy missiles.

The plan reflected the Government's apparent conviction that any enemy attack on this country would be launched by intercontinental missiles rather than manned planes. However, defenses will be maintained against both for at least five years.

McElroy outlined the new "Master plan" at a closed-door meeting of the Senate Armed Services Committee. An account of his report later was made public, apparently at the insistence of Chairman Richard B. Russell (D-Ga.) and other committee members.

Russell said McElroy's plan called for a cutback in both anti-aircraft missiles involved in the current Army-Air Force feud — the Army's Nike-Hercules and the Air Force's Bomarc. The Bomarc would take the biggest percentage cut, at least for now.

At the same time, research and development on the Army's Nike-Zeus, an anti-missile missile, will be stepped up "considerably" with the spending of an additional $157 million in the 12 months starting July 1. Russell called the Nike-Zeus the "hope for the future" in defending against enemy rockets.

When perfected, the Nike-Zeus will be capable of carrying nuclear warheads for the destruction of oncoming missiles in or above the atmosphere. Development of this weapon may call for much greater defense spending in years to come. Russell said it could run into "billions."

As outlined by Russell, McElroy's plan called for a cutback of $25 million in spending on the Bomarc and a reduction of $82 million for the Nike-Hercules in programs previously authorized by Congress.

Each program also would be reduced by about $35 million in the next fiscal year. By the time the two anti-aircraft missiles complete their life span in 1965, the programs would be reduced by a total of $1 billion.

Although the Nike-Hercules program would take the biggest dollar cut, Russell said the smaller Bomarc project actually would bear a greater proportion of the reduction — by a ratio of about eight to five.

Russell was not completely sold on the new plan. He said he generally approved of keeping both the Nike-Hercules and Bomarc but would have preferred deeper cuts in both programs. He also said the program did not have the unanimous support of the joint chiefs of staff.

Morgano Jailed On Bribery Charge After Vice Hearing

VALPARAISO, Ind. (UPI)—Tom Morgano, branded by the Senate Rackets Committee as a top agent of the Chicago Crime Syndicate, was jailed Friday on charges of trying to bribe a lawyer.

Morgano's arrest late Thursday night near the campus of Valparaiso University was a direct outgrowth of the Senate Committee's investigation of vice in Indiana's Lake County.

Citizens' groups meanwhile pressed demands for a cleanup in the steel-rich county dominated by the cities of Gary and Hammond. Proposals included a demand by the Lake County Council of Churches for a special session of the legislature, but Gov. Harold Handley turned it down.

Morgano was picked up after Deputy Sheriff Harold Rayder signed an affidavit repeating charges he made last week before the Rackets Committee.

Rayder testified Morgano offered him $100,000 March 28 in return for a monopoly on prostitution and pin-ball machines in Porter County, which adjoins Lake.

The deputy sheriff said Morgano approached him as a representative of Chicago Mobster Sam (Mooney) Giancana.

Widow's Jail Sentence Set At 1 Month

LONDON (UPI) — An appeals court ruled Friday that a widowed mother of four children, three of them tubercular, must go to jail for a month because she earned $1.80 a week too much while drawing a government pension.

The court reduced the sentence of Mrs. Ethel Christos, a 39-year-old Greek-Cypriot, from two months to one. But it refused to wipe out the entire term on the grounds that it would condone breaking the law.

10th Polaris Launched; 'Operational' By 1960

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (UPI) — The Navy fired its 10th operational-size Polaris test rocket Friday to prepare for submarine-launched ballistic missile combat by 1960.

The rocket's first stage separated from the upper stage, as scheduled, about one minute after launching. Seconds later, however, radio contact was lost and it was uncertain what happened to the rocket.

Travelers Hold Sitdown Strike Aboard Ship

NEW YORK (UPI) — Hundreds of passengers whose European travel plans were torpedoed by a seaman's strike, threatened a sitdown strike of their own Friday aboard the stranded liner Giulio Cesare. But they abandoned their protest as soon as a fare-refund window opened.

The Italian Line issued checks to almost all of the 830 passengers who had stayed aboard the liner since Tuesday when its sailing was delayed by a worldwide strike by seven Italian maritime unions.

Danforth—Scene Of Many Commencement Weddings

June is known as the month of brides and weddings. Many of SU's June weddings are held in the Danforth Chapel across from the Iowa Memorial Union.

Of the approximately 35-50 weddings held in the chapel each year, more are held at commencement time than any other.

In one day at commencement there may be three or four weddings held in the chapel.

Located on the east bank of the Iowa River, the chapel is in the center of the campus. It is a brick building which will seat about 75 persons.

Primarily planned as a chapel for meditation, Danforth Chapel is also used for other purposes.

Tigers Still Hot; Nip Yanks, 3-1

Mossi Chucks 6-Hitter; 4 In Row Over N.Y. 7th Win In 8 Games For Tigers

NEW YORK (AP) — The Detroit Tigers jumped into a third place tie, within two games of the American League lead, by whipping New York 3-1 Friday night behind the six-hit pitching of left-hander Don Mossi, who now has taken four in a row from the Yankees.

It was the seventh victory in eight games and third in a row for the Tigers, lifting them into a deadlock with the Baltimore Orioles, whose game with first place Chicago was rained out.

The Tigers, who have lost only four of the last 19 in their surge from the cellar, wrapped up this one by getting five of their seven hits in the first three innings against right-handed rookie Jim Bronstad, who was making his first major league start.

Three consecutive singles — by Larry Osborne, Lew Berberet and Rocky Bridges — and a double-play gave Detroit two runs in the second inning. They got the other in the third when Eddie Yost led off with a walk, stole second and came in on Charlie Maxwell's one-out double.

The Dodgers had 17 hits and the Pirates 13. Los Angeles used seven pitchers with credit for the victory going to Danny McDevitt. The Pirates used six pitchers with the loss being charged to Bennie Daniels.

The game lasted 3 hours and 35 minutes, just eight minutes short of a National League record for a nine-inning game.

Maury Wills started the Dodgers' ninth with a double down the left field foul line. He took third on a wild pitch, and walks to Wally Moon and Duke Snider loaded the bases. Pinchhitter Norm Larker then punched a two-run single into right. Snider scored the final run on Jim Gilliam's sacrifice fly.

The Dodgers' Don Demeter hit a two-run homer over the left field scoreboard in the fifth. The blow chased the Pirates' starting pitcher, Harvey Haddix, to the showers.

Jim Gilliam collected four singles for the Dodgers. Charlie Neal had three.

Bob Skinner and Bill Mazeroski led the Pirates attack. Each had a double and two singles.

ST. LOUIS (AP) — George Crowe, pinch-hitting with none out and the bases loaded in the tenth inning, delivered a sacrifice fly to give the St. Louis Cardinals a 2-1 victory over Cincinnati Friday night.

A homer by Redleg Ed Bailey in the second inning tied the game 1-1 after the Cardinals had scored an unearned run in the first.

The Cardinals opened the tenth off relief pitcher Tom Acker with Bill White singling. Ken Boyer beat out an infield roller and the runners advanced on a wild pitch.

With the count 2-0 on Joe Cunningham, Acker was replaced by Jim Brosnan, a Cardinal until a few days ago when he was traded.

Cunningham eventually walked to load the bases and then Crowe hit the game-winning sacrifice fly.

The winning pitcher, Lindy McDaniel, came on in the tenth after starter Ernie Broglio had pitched the first nine innings and held the Redlegs to one run and just four hits.

Cubs 9, Braves 7
CHICAGO (AP) — The Chicago Cubs kayoed starter Lew Burdette with three-run clusters in the first two innings Friday and then had to hang on to defeat the league-leading Milwaukee Braves 9-7.

A 5-run Milwaukee rally featured by Johnny Logan's 3-run homer in the eighth inning put the Braves within striking distance. But reliever Bill Henry kept them in check and saved the decision for starter John Buzhardt. Burdette, seeking his 10th triumph, had to settle for his fifth loss. It was also the fourth time in a row that the right-handed star has failed to go the distance.

With two out in the first inning, Lew Walls and Ernie Banks hit homers. Still another run came across on a single by Dale Long and Bobby Thompson's double.

The Cubs scored three more times in the second on Buzhardt's double and singles by Tony Taylor, Al Dark, an infield out by Walls and a single by Banks.

Milwaukee broke into the scoring column in the third inning on the first of two homers by Eddie Mathews and was blanked until the seventh while the Cubs pecked and two in the sixth to build up a lead away for a run in the fourth 9-1 lead.

Lane weighed 140, Ortiz 139.
Referee Harry Kessler called in Dr. Harry Kleiman as soon as the bell ended the second round. The last punch of the round, a sharp right to the head by Ortiz, brought a stream of blood from Lane's face.

Ortiz Stops Lane On TKO In 2nd Round; Takes Title

NEW YORK (AP) — Carlos Ortiz, 22-year-old Puerto Rican-born New Yorker, won the junior welterweight title Friday night by stopping Kenny Lane on a second round technical knockout because of a deep cut over Lane's right eye.

Lane weighed 140, Ortiz 139. Referee Harry Kessler called in Dr. Harry Kleiman as soon as the bell ended the second round. The last punch of the round, a sharp right to the head by Ortiz, brought a stream of blood from Lane's face.

Dr. Kleiman went to the Muskegon, Mich., boy's corner and notified Kessler that the fight would be stopped. The end came with startling quickness for the boys appeared just to be getting warmed up for a torrid go.

"It was a deep laceration over the right eye," said Dr. Kleiman. "It was almost to the bone and bled profusely. It could have been a slaughter if it continued."

The blow that broke open the cut landed just as the bell sounded to end the second. It went as a 2nd round TKO.

Lane had been down for a fourth count in the wild second round from a left hook to the head, followed quickly by a right.

Lane came back surprisingly strong and was banging Ortiz around until another hook by the New Yorker caught him on the chin.

Then came the right hand that ended the round and the fight. "It was a butt," said Lane in his dressing room "would have knocked him out. I was just getting to him. I would have stopped

Casper 1 Stroke Ahead In U.S. Open

MAMARONECK, N.Y. (AP) — Bill Casper Jr. charged in with a 2-under-par 68 Friday and seized a one-stroke lead at the halfway point of the U.S. Open Golf Championship. He had a 36-hole score of 139.

Tied at 140, even par for two rounds over the heavily trapped Winged Foot course, were a formidable trio consisting of Ben Hogan, seeking a record fifth title; Arnold Palmer, 1957 Masters winner, and South Africa's young Gary Player.

The punchy Casper, a consistent money winner from Apple Valley, Calif., missed sinkable putts on the 17th and 18th in a bid for a halfway record in this prestige event.

Had he made good on either putt, Casper would have tied the 36-hole Open record of 138, shared by Sam Snead, Hogan, Dick Mayer and amateur Billy Joe Patton.

USSR Seen Leading U.S. In Literacy Percentage

NEW YORK (UPI) — Dr. Arthur S. Adams, president of the American Council on Education, said Friday that Russia has jumped ahead of the United States in the battle against illiteracy.

"It is most astonishing that America, which has been devoted to the idea of education for all since the days of the Mayflower, has not taken the lead in the eradication of illiteracy," he said. "It is Russia that has taken our ideal and made it work."

Adams told the Conference on World Literacy that there was a "great desire and drive to overcome illiteracy" throughout the world, especially in the under-developed countries.

He cited statistics provided the conference by its sponsor, the foundation for world literacy, as an example of the U.S. lag. They showed that Russia had nearly complete literacy, while the U.S. was only 90 per cent literate.

The foundation has proposed national and international campaigns, utilizing television, to wipe out illiteracy. Headquartered in Memphis, Tenn., the foundation called the conference as an outgrowth of the literacy program sponsored by educational station WKNO in Memphis and the Commercial Appeal, a Scripps-Howard newspaper in Memphis.

The conference was opened by Frank Ahlgren, editor of the Commercial Appeal and vice chairman of the Foundation Board. The meeting also was attended by Mayor Edmund Orgill, of Memphis, and Col. Robert W. Pharr, Memphis attorney and Foundation secretary.

Adams said that television was an "important tool" in the fight against illiteracy, but not the final answer.

"All media of communications must be utilized and the campaign must be a long-term, follow-through effort," he said. "I think Americans are ready at this time to embark on such a campaign."

Another speaker, Dr. Frank Laubach, an authority on the problems created by illiteracy, said there were 720 million illiterate persons in the world. He said the U.S. must begin to help them or risk losing a large percentage to Communist influence.

He said the illiterate nine-tenths of the population of Asia and Africa want the "secrets of the one-tenth on top who have it all." They are aware, he said, that the "secrets" are based on the ability to read and write.

"Even the one-tenth is no longer for keeping the people in ignorance — Communist agitation has seen to that," said Laubach. "We must help make the masses literate, then provide them with how-to-do-it literature that will help them out of their poverty and misery."

Dr. William S. Gray, of the University of Chicago, said the entire problem of teaching illiterates would have to be reconsidered in the light of television. He said TV instruction would have to be followed up with simply-written reading material so that the newly-literate person would be able to use his skill without becoming discouraged.

Mrs. Pauline Hord, director of literacy for WKNO, told the delegates that more than 2,000 illiterates in the Memphis area were participating in the station's TV literacy programs.

Nehru Denounces Communist China In Nepal Speech

KATAMANDU, Nepal, (UPI) — Indian Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru, in an obvious slap at Red China, Friday denounced countries that preach "peaceful co-existence" was the "greatest" casualty of the cold war.

Nepal, like India, has been worried by the Chinese Communists' ruthless suppression of the uprising in Tibet last March. Refugees from the Reds have fled into Nepal as well as India.

Nehru denounced "certain" countries which boast of practicing Panscheel but do not hesitate to violate it when it suits them.

Panscheel referred to the principles of peaceful co-existence laid down at the 1955 Afro-Asian Conference at Bandung, Indonesia. Red China participated in the conference.

Nehru urged Nepal not to follow "such a country but to join with India in all-round development."

"The countries in the shade of the Himalayas are one and they shall ever remain one in solving their problems," Nehru said.

Cancer Agents Found In Wax Milk Cartons

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A cancer research scientist reported Friday that small amounts of cancer-causing agents have been discovered in some types of wax on milk cartons.

Dr. Wilhelm Hueper, head of the environmental cancer section of the National Institutes of Health (NIH), said it was not yet known whether the presence of these cancer-inducing substances poses a major health threat.

But he said "wisdom would dictate their elimination from packages containing food." He added that a solution might be to use plastics instead of waxes as coating for food containers.

Hueper said discovery of the danger was made by two Chicago doctors, Phillip Schuik and W. Lijinsky, who have been conducting special tests on behalf of the petroleum industry.

Schuik and Lijinsky found particles of pathogenic hydrocarbons in 4 of 40 waxes taken from samples all over the country. Hueper told United Press International. The largest volume of hydrocarbon traces found was about one part in a million, he said.

Hueper said he requested the research when published reports indicated that certain waxes cause cancer in mice when injected into their bladders.

"The petroleum industry has been experimenting with refinement processes in an effort to eliminate the substances," he added, "and my guess is that they have achieved success."

2 Des Moines Boys Escaped Jail; Face 3 Charges

ALBIA (AP) — Three charges each were filed in Justice Court here Friday against two Des Moines boys who escaped from the county jail in Albia Thursday night, but were picked up again shortly after they fled.

The two youths, one 17 and the other 16, were being held on charges of car theft and breaking and entering, when they overpowered the wife of the Monroe County sheriff and fled from jail.

Within an hour after making their break, however they were recaptured less than a mile from the jail.

Each was charged Friday with assault to commit felony, malicious injury to a building, and escape.

Sheriff William F. Bagley, who was on duty in the county at the time, said the two used steel rods from their cots to dig through a wall leading to a stairway.

No Revivals In Moscow — Graham

MOSCOW (AP) — Billy Graham arrived Friday on his first visit to Moscow accompanied by a financial backer and some aides. The American evangelist said he plans no revival meetings here but will attend Baptist church services Sunday and meet Russian church leaders.

He was accompanied by W. R. Jones, a technical manual publisher from Los Angeles who has been here twice before. On his last visit Jones brought six autographed Bibles from Graham for Moscow Baptists. Graham said Jones conceived, arranged and paid for this trip.

Lakeside Lab Has Record Enrollment In 50th Session

A record registration for the fiftieth year of summer sessions at the Iowa Lakeside Laboratory at West Okoboji Lake was announced this week by Robert L. King professor in the department of zoology. King is director of the field biological station program.

Advance registrations already total ten more than the 30 persons registered for last year's sessions, King said.

The two five-week sessions, running from June 15 through July 17 and July 20 through Aug. 21, will be highlighted by a weekly lecture series. Topics will include the electron microscope, evolution, fish, birds, the Rocky Mountain National Park and the history of the fifty-year-old program at the Lakeside Laboratory.

Designed for students and teachers in biology, zoology and botany, the Lakeside Laboratory was established in 1909 under the leadership of Professor Thomas H. Macbride. It was the earliest non-commercial attempt to provide a place where the rich fauna and flora of the northern Iowa lake and prairie regions could be studied and conserved.

SUI, Iowa State College and Iowa State Teachers College have cooperated in furnishing faculty members to supervise the field-work-study program since 1947. A responsibility of the State Board of Regents, the Lakeside Laboratory's educational and scientific policies are determined by an advisory board composed of members from the three cooperating state institutions of higher learning.

Courses in botany, biology and zoology will be offered at each session. They are designed to supplement regular course work with study of plant and animal life under natural conditions. The laboratory uses the entire shore of one side of the lake as a natural collecting and experimental ground.

Students from any college or university may receive up to five semester-hours credit for work done during each five-week session. Students may register at the laboratory, the first day of each session, according to Dr. King.

Feelings For 'Severe Cut' In Foreign Aid Expressed

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Chairman J. William Fulbright said Friday discussion within the Senate Foreign Relations Committee so far had revealed considerable sentiment for "a very severe cut" in President Eisenhower's new foreign aid requests.

The Arkansas Democrat made the statement to newsmen as the committee decided to put off until Monday a showdown vote on how much to trim the President's $39 billion program for the 12 months starting July 1.

He said the committee discussion of the bill, already trimmed by the House, showed "a great deal of sentiment for a cut — a very severe cut."

Fulbright said he personally "questions the wisdom" of going beyond the $266 million reduction made by the House. He indicated such action might endanger the Senate's bargaining position when a House-Senate conference eventually is set up to work out the final version of the bill.

The committee spent a long day behind closed doors Friday clearing the way for action on the big issue of money.

The Senators disposed of several lesser amendments but Fulbright said the cut-or-not-to-cut question was postponed because too many members were absent and those who were present were weary.

Among other things, the committee revised its $96 million military aid to Latin-America by trimming bilateral military aid from $67 million to $65 million and boosting the earmarking of assistance to forces under the organization of American states by an equal amount. The latter would go from $29 million to $31 million.

It also rejected an amendment by Sen. Wayne Morse (D-Ore.) chairman of its Latin American Subcommittee, which would have denied military assistance to the Dominican Republic and Paraguay. It similarly rejected an amendment by Sen. Mike Mansfield (D-Mont.) to abolish the International Cooperation Administration as a semi-independent agency.

Earlier, the committee reversed itself and voted a little extra money to meet new administrative burdens of the air program — including a study on how to end economic grants.

Members were absent and those who were present were weary.

Mental Escapee Sought In Boston Station Bombing

BOSTON (UPI) — An escapee from a New York state mental hospital was sought by police Friday night for questioning in the bombing of a Boston rapid transit station in which 38 persons were injured.

Police said they wanted to question a young Air Force veteran with a known talent for construction of the type of bomb that was probably used in the blast which ripped open the station here Thursday.

The young man, whose home address several years was in Boston's Roslindale section, was seized earlier this year in New York City after police discovered an unexploded homemade bomb in a public place.

A picture of the man, who escaped from the Harlem Valley State Hospital at Windale, N.Y., earlier this week, was transmitted by New York police to Boston at the request of authorities here, the United Press International learned.

Police revealed they had set up an around-the-clock stake-out and would like "to ask a few questions of the suspect."

The Boston Daily Record-American-Sunday Advertiser, Hearst Newspapers, tonight offered a $5,000 reward "for the first information given exclusively to these newspapers leading to the arrest and conviction of the person or persons who planted the high explosive bomb that blew up the station."

Fraud Indictment For 4 Omaha Men In Insurance Case

DENVER (AP) — Four men were indicted by a Denver County grand jury Thursday on charges stemming from their attempt to form a fire and casualty insurance company.

The indictments charge them with attempted fraud and swindle in organizing the Mountain National Insurance Co. here in 1956.

Defendants in the case, facing prison terms up to 32 years and fines of $2,000 each on conviction, are C.A. Allen, 27, De' formerly of Omaha; Charles F. Newell, Omaha; and Ralph F. Lilley and Joseph D. Lilley both of the Omaha area.

Allen and Newell recently were indicted by a federal grand jury on charges of participating in a $150,000 stock swindle in Omaha.

Dist. Atty. Bert M. Keating, who directed the grand jury investigation, said he will extradite the suspects if necessary. Warrants were issued for their arrests when the indictments were handed District Judge H. Joe Rawlinson. The court set bail at $3,000 for each defendant pending trial.

The specific charge in the indictments involved a $500 transaction in which Charles Hilton, a Denver shoe repair shop operator, and his wife, Ida, said they were bilked.

$25,000 Wood Painting On Exhibit

"IS IT HANGING STRAIGHT?" asks secretary Mrs. Mary Newton of Professor Earl E. Harper, director of the SUI School of Fine Arts, as they examine Grant Wood's "Parson Weems' Fable" — currently on exhibit in the East Lobby of Iowa Memorial Union. A stylized interpretation of the George Washington-cherry tree legend, the picture was painted in 1939 while the artist was a member of the SUI faculty. Valued at $25,000, the painting has been loaned for exhibition by Mrs. J. P. Marquand, wife of the novelist.
