Long Recommitted To Mental Hospital After Examination

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP) — Louisiana sheriff's deputies dragged a fighting and cursing Gov. Earl K. Long to the state mental hospital at Mandeville, La., Thursday night.

Long screamed, "God damn, God damn, God damn" as deputies pushed him into a big white sedan and sped eastward to the hospital, located on the shore of Lake Pontchartrain.

A court-appointed commission examined Long in the courthouse after he was intercepted at the East Baton Rouge Parish (county) line.

Long skipped out of Ochsner Foundation Hospital at New Orleans late Thursday afternoon and sped toward Baton Rouge, where he intended to return actively to the chief executive's chair.

Judge Fred Leblanc of Baton Rouge signed the order which committed Long to the Mandeville hospital.

The car that rushed Long away from the courthouse threaded its way through a crowd that gathered outside the courthouse.

Long talked quietly to the doctors who examined him. He had first refused to get out of the car that brought him to the courthouse.

A State Police lieutenant, assigned to the governor's mansion a few blocks away, came to help the others get Long out of the car and into the big white sedan.

"You-all look, you-all look," Long screamed at reporters and others forced to stand aside by the ring of officers that surrounded the governor.

He tugged and fought as officers overpowered him and shoved him into the car.

"Hell, I'm not going to get in there," he yelled and took a full swing at one man with his fist, but missed.

Forced into the car, he called out the window:

"Get this mob out of here."

Plain clothes officers brought in cars, apparently to clear the way. Soon afterwards, they rushed Long into a big sedan. Officers shoved and tugged yelling:

"Get across the street, get across the street. They're coming out."

Police arrested a reporter—Jim Hughes of the Baton Rouge, La., Morning Advocate — when he and several other reporters refused to get across the street.

The reporters stood on the sidewalk near the entrance to the basement.

Mrs. Margaret Dixon, managing editor of the Baton Rouge paper, yelled: "Get their picture" as officers led Hughes away.

Flashbulbs flared and police retreated. They did not move in on the 10 or so reporters until the sedan carrying Long roared away with a squeal of tires.

The governor glared, but did not speak as the machine moved off.

The sulphur-tongued, 63-year-old Long, who entered Ochsner late Wednesday night after arriving from Galveston, Tex., told hospital officials he wanted to leave for a "day or so" and return Sunday.

Reds Again Delay Reply 24 Hours

GENEVA (AP) — Western hopes for an East-West agreement to douse the Berlin powder keg dimmed Thursday as Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko put off for another 24 hours his reply to the Allied compromise plan.

Soviet diplomats privately spread word that Gromyko's eventual reply would be to insist on including a clause stipulating a time limit on the Allied occupation of West Berlin.

Revival of this Soviet demand, already branded by the West as unacceptable as a basis of discussion, probably would break up the six-week-old conference.

A dispatch from Geneva by the Soviet news agency Tass, broadcast by Moscow radio, said the Western plan was based on the perpetuation of the Allied occupation regime in Berlin.

British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd, fearing failure on the Big Four foreign ministers level, was reported in favor of taking up the explosive Berlin problem at a summit meeting.

U.S. Secretary of State Christian A. Herter and French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville, however, want a measure of agreement in the Geneva talks before arranging a meeting of government chiefs.

Gromyko sprang his request for a 24-hour postponement upon arrival at Lloyd's town house for lunch.

After the lunch, the U.S. delegation issued a statement saying that the discussion "brought no change in the current situation."

"Gromyko did not make clear why he wanted another 24-hour postponement," the U.S. statement said.

The foreign ministers will meet Friday afternoon at 2 p.m. at Gromyko's villa.

GENEVA (AP) — British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd is reported to believe Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev could "bulldoze" his way to an East-West summit parley even if the Big Four fail here to end the Berlin crisis.

Lloyd's view was expressed to a group of American newsmen at a private meeting Thursday.

Reporters who were present gave this account of Lloyd's views: He feels Khrushchev could, if he wishes, engineer an international crisis over Berlin almost anytime. In this way Khrushchev could compel Allied leaders to participate in a summit meeting that would have to be arranged under the worst possible psychological conditions.

Lloyd was seeking to explain why Britain thinks summit talks should be arranged even if the foreign ministers here fail to solve the Berlin problem.

BARRYMORE PROFILE—Famed Actress Ethel Barrymore, who died Thursday, joined her brothers in showing the Barrymore profile in this photo in 1933, when all three appeared together in the movie, "Rasputin and the Empress." Ethel appeared as Czarina, Lionel, left, as Holy Devil and John as Prince Paul. Lionel died in 1954, John in 1942.—AP Wirephoto.

Ethel Barrymore Last Of Family— Theater's 'First Lady' Dies

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Ethel Barrymore, queen of the great acting family and a star for 58 years, died Thursday. She would have been 80 Aug. 15.

Miss Barrymore joined her brothers John and Lionel in death at 9 a.m. Present in her Beverly Hills apartment were her son, Samuel Barrymore, Colt, and a nurse, Anna Albert. They had sat by her bed through the night.

Dr. Clay Barton pronounced the actress dead. Invalided with a heart ailment, her condition worsened in the last two weeks.

Last rites were administered by a priest of the Roman Catholic Church. Miss Barrymore had been a Catholic all her life and never rewed after her unhappy marriage to firearms heir Russell Griswold Colt ended in 1923.

In her last days, the actress was bedfast, but kept a lively interest in her beloved show business through TV. She especially liked the baseball games, having been a fan since youth. "I never could get interested in football because I was always playing Saturday matinees," she often explained.

She had been unable to take acting roles for a year and a half. Her last film was "Johny Trouble" in 1957. In November 1957, she appeared on a TV show to receive tributes from such friends as Tallulah Bankhead, Frank Sinatra, Casey Stengel and Roy Campanella.

A broken arm in January 1958, caused her to withdraw from a Playhouse 90 film.

Her passing ended a glorious career unmatched in the American theater. Heiress to generations of tradition on the stage, she and her brothers became the top stars of their era. The Barrymores were the royal family of the American theater, and Ethel was unquestioned queen.

Her very manner was regal. Audiences were awed by her beauty and poise from the time she became a star at 21 in "Captain Jinks of the Horse Marines."

Each of the three great Barrymores was unique. Ethel was the most versatile, playing light comedy or tragedy with equal skill.

John was flamboyant, a star in the headlines as well as the theater. Lionel was introspective, not as highly charged an actor as his brother and sister, but an accomplished artist and musician.

The trio appeared together only once—in the movie "Rasputin and the Empress" in 1933.

Miss Barrymore was born in Philadelphia to Maurice Barrymore, a footloose actor, and George Drew, daughter of the Irish actor John Drew.

The actress will be buried Monday in Calvary Cemetery, alongside the tombs of the other great members of the dynasty, John and Lionel.

McElroy Scoffs At Plane Controversy

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Neil H. McElroy Thursday termed ridiculous the hubbub over a Navy patrol plane's lack of firepower to fire back at Communist MIGs that attacked it last Monday.

McElroy told a news conference he didn't feel there is any significance in a reported lack of spare parts which crewmen of the plane said prevented them from using some of their guns.

"There is too much preoccupation with the type of gun with which you are not going to knock off a MIG anyway," he said.

The defense chief was referring here to the plane's forward turret which the Navy said was designed for firing at submarines, not aircraft.

After reports of missing gun parts aroused members of Congress and President Eisenhower, the Navy ran a check with Navy officials in Japan. It then announced that the forward and top turrets had been dismantled when the plane was converted from antisubmarine duty to reconnaissance work.

The patrol plane had a brace of guns in the tail, but these were knocked out before they could be brought into play. The tail gunner was badly wounded by the Communist jet fighters that struck over the Sea of Japan, off North Korea. The badly damaged U.S. ship got back to Japan with the other 13 crewmen unhurt.

McElroy said the nationality of the red-starred MIGs has not been definitively established. But the direction from which the two jets came suggested they were "more than likely North Korean," he said.

Monday's incident has prompted demands in Congress that the Pentagon take steps to make sure U.S. planes don't go into dangerous areas without means to defend themselves.

There were reports from congressional sources that fast jets would be sent out on future reconnaissance missions to guard the relatively slow-moving, lightly armed patrol craft.

But the Pentagon said there were no plans to do this.

Ambassador: Pakistan Firmly On Western Side

By WALTER HURT Staff Writer

"We have cast our lot with the West, and we shall stay firmly on this side."

This was the answer given by His Excellency Aziz Ahmed, ambassador of Pakistan to the United States, at a press conference in Cedar Rapids Thursday when asked about the political situation in his country.

"We are not going to flirt with Russia," he said. "We will leave that to Mr. Nehru."

The ambassador told reporters that he feels the recent revolt in Tibet "has highlighted the Communist movement we see converging on Pakistan and other countries of Southeast Asia."

He said there has been considerable Communist activity in Pakistan's neighboring country, Afghanistan, during recent years, and this had caused considerable concern in Pakistan.

Ahmed said he sees India and Pakistan jointly defending themselves against Communist influence or attack. Concern for the mutual protection of the two countries was heightened, he said, by the Communist invasion of Tibet. As for problems between the Governments of Pakistan and India, he contended that "Our differences with that country (India) are for all practical purposes, resolved."

At the outbreak of the Tibetan revolt, Pakistan offered to band together with India, but Prime Minister Nehru's Indian Government refused.

"However," he said, "In the future I see India and Pakistan working together to defend themselves from the avalanche of Communism."

Moving on to other subjects, the ambassador said the chief internal problem of Pakistan is its low standard of living.

He maintained that "every other problem is based on this; low national income, low productivity, poor health and illiteracy."

The problem, he said, is to develop the country's resources and raise the standard of living. He added that plans are now underway for that needed economic development.

Cited as reasons for the low standard of Pakistan's economy were the terms of international trade which have moved heavily against that country during the last 10 years. "We have to export twice as much raw materials now as we did 10 years ago to buy the same amount of manufactured goods," he said.

Ahmed said he led a trade delegation to Russia in 1957, and at that time the Russians made "some very attractive offers" to encourage trade with Pakistan.

However, he said, Pakistan has already aligned itself with the Western powers and intends, to stay there.

Ahmed officially became Pakistan's ambassador to the United States March 23, when he presented his credentials to President Eisenhower. He is in Cedar Rapids to address the sixth annual Pakistan Students Convention, which began Thursday at Coe College.

Philadelphia's Dock Street To Be Razed

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Old Dock Street, a teeming, picturesque and pungent part of Colonial America, Thursday became a thing of the past.

Few wistful, sentimental tears were shed as a large assembly of officials, topped by Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson, intoned the obituary of a marketing area as old-fashioned as powdered wigs and jeweled snuffboxes.

When Benjamin Franklin came to town, if historians are right, he trod the cobblestones of this waterfront expanse, intent on making a name and a fortune. His first tramp up Market Street became all the more memorable because a girl — the one he married — was in stitches at the sight of frugal Ben strolling along, a loaf of bread under one arm.

Benson made some timely remarks about Franklin and his astuteness. Noting that Franklin was a founder of the Philadelphia Society for Promoting Agriculture, Benson said that if Franklin were alive "he would surely support what you are doing, and, in all probability he, not I, would be making these remarks at the dedication of this wonderful new market."

The secretary was speaking of the $100 million food distribution center replacing Dock Street. The first section was dedicated with flag-raising ceremonies by the Marines, band music and speeches.

Dock Street, no more than a mile from Independence Square, is part of the first tract of a huge redevelopment project that will transform the old city area from a down-at-the-heels commercial district into a neighborhood with class.

Expect Speedy Court Action On Slayer's Petition

WASHINGTON (AP) — Supreme Court attaches said Thursday they expect the court to act speedily — certainly before it adjourns for the summer — on the petition for a review of the case of Charles Starkweather, condemned Nebraska slayer of 11 persons.

Officials familiar with the highest tribunal's practice said it is more or less routine for it to expedite such petitions. Present indications are the court will adjourn about June 29.

The Starkweather petition was distributed to the court justices Thursday for their consideration.

Starkweather's execution has been stayed pending action by the Supreme Court on the review petition.

Senate Deals Direct Blow To Ike's Prestige

Nomination Carried President's Full Support

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate early Friday rejected the nomination of Lewis L. Strauss, to be secretary of commerce. The vote was 49-46.

Voting against confirmation were 47 Democrats and two Republicans — Mrs. Margaret Chase Smith-Maine and William Langer of North Dakota.

Voting for him were 31 Republicans and 15 Democrats.

The only senators not voting were Mike Mansfield (D-Mont.), Milton R. Young (R-ND) and J. William Fulbright (D-Ark.)

Mansfield was present and was opposed to confirmation but withheld his vote in a pair with Sen. Young, who was flying back to Washington but did not make it in time. The Democrats agreed in advance to give Young a pair.

Fulbright had been present earlier in the evening but was not on hand for the vote.

The outcome of the long, bitter battle over the nomination was a defeat not only for Strauss but a blow to the prestige of President Eisenhower.

Eisenhower had thrown his full support behind the nomination, which he submitted to the Senate Jan. 17. In the face of the controversy over it, he said he would not withdraw it even if Strauss should ask him to do so.

Not since 1925, during the administration of Calvin Coolidge, had the Senate rejected a Cabinet nomination.

At that time the Senate rejected Charles B. Warren to be attorney general in a dispute over a conflict of interest charge.

Together, in the history of the nation, only seven Cabinet nominations have been turned down by the Senate.

Strauss now will have to relinquish the Cabinet post in which he has been serving since last November under a recess appointment made while Congress was not in session.

James C. Hagerty, Eisenhower's press secretary, said on being informed of the vote:

"There will be no comment from the White House at this time."

Eisenhower selected Strauss for the cabinet following his retirement last summer as chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission, a post which brought him into dispute with some powerful Democratic senators.

SCHOOL LAW VOIDED

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — A three-judge federal court dealt Gov. Orval E. Faubus a telling blow Thursday in his fight against racial integration of Little Rock's public high schools.

It declared a state school-closing law unconstitutional and the Little Rock School Board moved quickly with plans for reopening the four schools in the fall.

Compromise Housing Bill Agreed Upon

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate-House conferees late Thursday agreed on a compromise $1.3 billion omnibus housing bill. The amount, less than either the House or Senate had voted earlier, was trimmed in an obvious effort to avert a veto by President Eisenhower.

Sen. John Sparkman, (D-Ala.), head of the Senate conferees, said the measure also was below the total originally asked by Eisenhower and that the President should sign it. But he said he had no word on whether Eisenhower would do so.

Some Republicans disputed this and insisted the compromise went well beyond what the administration wanted. They refused to sign the conference report.

On the other hand, two Democratic senators, Joseph S. Clark of Pennsylvania and Paul H. Douglas of Illinois, said they were inclined not to sign because not enough authority was provided for slum clearance projects.

The conference cut down the totals in the bill largely by reducing the number of years the various projects are authorized to continue. Their work was part of a general drive by congressional leaders to cut back various economic bills in order to blunt Republican charges of wild spending.

If Equal Time, No Politics At All, CBS Executive Says

WASHINGTON (AP) — CBS President Frank Stanton said Thursday the people will be blacked out from political news on radio and television if all candidates must be given equal time on newscasts.

There just isn't enough time to go around to all the fringe candidates, he told a Senate Commerce subcommittee. Therefore not even the major ones could get any time.

The subcommittee is considering legislation that would overcome the Federal Communications Commission decision requiring equal time on news shows, as well as on regular political broadcasts.

Stanton recalled there were 18 parties with presidential candidates in 1956.

He said his network assigned about 20 per cent of its news time to the Republican and Democratic candidates, and it would have been impossible to do the same for all the parties.

Colonel Kirk is commandant of the ROTC staff at SUI.

Physicists Told Odd Antenna 'Hears' Sputnik

Some fast work converting some "trash parts" into a workable radio antenna helped American scientists gain valuable research information from the first Russian Sputnik satellite, Professor George W. Swenson, Jr. said Thursday at SUI.

The University of Illinois scientist said that the conversion occurred during the night when they heard the report of the first Sputnik launching and successful orbit. Since the shop with all of their equipment was locked, they began "scrounging" for material to construct an antenna to pick up the "beep, beep" radio signals transmitted by Sputnik.

Dr. Swenson described the very important results achieved with the make-shift receiving equipment at the 21st annual Colloquium of College Physicists being held at SUI.

The Illinois scientists' frantic search for materials paid off and they hastily constructed an antenna with a discarded piece of coaxial cable, "broomsticks, sealing wax and other odd bits of material" which they set up in the quadrangle on the college campus.

Medical Meeting Begins At SUI

Medical educators from 26 foreign countries began arriving on the SUI campus today to attend the Conference on Medical Education for Foreign Scholars in the Medical Sciences.

Dr. Norman B. Nelson, dean of the college of Medicine, will address the group Sunday evening in Hillcrest Dormitory.

SUI President Virgil M. Hancher will welcome the registrants at 9 a.m. Monday in the Medical Amphitheater of University Hospitals. The meetings will continue through noon Wednesday.

The purpose of the conferences is to give foreign physicians and educators general information about medical education and medical school administration in the United States.

West Lucas Vote Officials Chosen

Judges and clerks for Monday's school merger election in West Lucas township were announced Wednesday by Frank J. Snider, county superintendent of schools.

Judges for the election, which will be held at the Blackstrap School, are Richard H. Davis, William Cameron and Robert Zeithamler. Clerks are Fremont Isaacs and Floyd Pirkil.

Residents of the township will vote on a proposal to merge the present rural school district with the Iowa City Community school district. The Iowa City district and the county board of education has approved the merger.

Approval of the merger would place all of West Lucas township, except the Coralville independent district, in the Iowa City district. The small district operated only the first six grades at the Blackstrap school during the past year. Children above the sixth grade attended the Iowa City schools.

Polls will be open from 1 day to 7 p.m.

Brigitte Bardot Weds Amid Sobs, Giggles, And Muffed Lines

PARIS (AP) — Brigitte Bardot, married Jacques Charrier Thursday in a hectic atmosphere of comic oper. The sexy French movie star alternately sobbed and giggled.

The pouting little pony-tailed blonde, whose undressed movie scenes have furrowed the brows of censors all over the world, was furious when photographers appeared.

The ceremony was finally performed in the cramped little office of Mayor Fernand Guillaume in suburban Louveciennes.

Guillaume, nervous after a shouting match with Brigitte's father, muffed his lines while reading the French civil code governing marriages. Jacques and Brigitte, cuddling closely with her head nestling on his shoulder, giggled.

Proposal For $19 Million Airfield At Academy Revived By Report

WASHINGTON (AP) — A proposal to build an airfield at the Air Force Academy to teach cadets how to fly has been revived by an advisory group. The project would cost about $19 million.

Cadets at the new Colorado Springs, Colo., academy now are taught many things about airplanes—but are taught to fly elsewhere after their graduation.

A report by the Board of Visitors for the academy, made to President Eisenhower recently, urges that an airstrip be built and flying instructions included among the courses.

Eisenhower has turned the report over to Secretary of Defense Neil H. McElroy who has passed it along to Secretary of the Air Force James H. Douglas.

Miami Tornado Injures 100 Persons, Leaves Estimated $5 Million Damage

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Thunderstorms and 60 m.p.h. wind gusts lashed Miami Thursday in the wake of a tornado which injured at least 100 persons and did damage estimated at $5 million.

The Miami Weather Bureau recorded 6.40 inches of rain from 7 p.m. Wednesday night to 1 p.m. Thursday. The downpour showed no signs of slackening as weary Red Cross workers gave aid to over 1,000 stricken families.

At least three homes were destroyed, more than 100 suffered major damage and about 500 were slightly damaged, the Red Cross said. Almost 100 business establishments were heavily damaged.

Women's Raid On Beer Hall Sets Off Rioting In South Africa

DURBAN, South Africa (AP) — Africans and police battled Thursday in rioting set off by a women's raid on a beer hall.

Officials said the women made the raid because they claim police a ction against home-brewing keeps their men from drinking at home.

Municipal offices, a car and a bus were set afire. Firemen who tried to put out the flames were stoned. Telephone lines were cut.

Guns, clubs and rocks were used on both sides in hours of clashes between several hundred policemen and nonwhites. The combatants included 3,000 African Women in Cato Manor, a slum area inhabited by Negroes, mulattoes and Indians.

St. Louis Newspaper Workers Strike To Appear Before Board Thursday

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Opposing sides in the nine-day-old strike that has shut down both this city's daily newspapers head for a National Labor Relations Board (NLRB) meeting Thursday.

There, a charge of unfair labor practices brought by the Pulitzer Publishing Co. will be discussed. Stereotype Local 8 President Leroy Selby said he was confident the NLRB would ultimately rule in favor of his union.

A strike of 44 stereotypers over the handling of plates which go under pictures touched off the dispute against the company, which publishes the afternoon Post-Dispatch and also prints the morning Globe-Democrat under contract. Both newspapers are separate in other aspects.

Good Listening—Today On WSUI

"LAKME" may resemble, to the uninitiated ear, the inquiry a southern belle makes to her boy friend; but that would be wrong. Quite the contrary, "Lakme" is a tragic opera by the French composer Leo Delibes, and WSUI will broadcast a recording of "Lakme" (complete and unexpurgated) tonight at 7:30 p.m. The plot concerns the daughter of a Brahmin who falls in love with an English soldier in India. She is Lakme; he is Gerald (let's keep THAT straight). Lakme's old man hates everything English and resolves, naturally, to kill Gerald, who is an English soldier. Finding Gerald (the English soldier wounded, Lakme hustles him off to the forest ostensibly to nurse him back to health. At first her singing might seem a questionable therapy, but ultimately it has the same effect on Gerald as the sound of Scottish bagpipes (he's English, you know) making him fighting mad. When Gerald recovers (you knew he would; wound, singing and all notwithstanding), he is persuaded by Frederick, a soldier friend (an ENGLISH soldier friend), that his duty must lie with the army and not with Lakme (which kind of makes you wonder about Gerry and Freddy, doesn't it?). Lakme realizes that her English soldierboyfriend, Gerald, is cutting out, so she eats a hol-house full of poisonous flowers

LORD BYRON'S LOVE LETTERS, an interesting combination of plot by Tennessee Williams and music by Raphael de Banfield, is the concluding opus on this morning's music segment, from 10:05 a.m. to noon; preceding it are "Facade" by William Walton, "Tasso" by Franz Liszt and Richard Yardumian's Violin Concerto.

EDITORIAL PAGE, a survey of opinion in the nation's press, is heard every Friday at 12:45 p.m.

EVENING CONCERT, tonight from 6 p.m. to 7:30, will have music by Corelli, Ives, Triggs, and Richard Strauss.

FM CONCERT tonight will include Schubert's Third Symphony.

Pirates Win In 13; Face Records 11th

CHICAGO (AP) — Pittsburgh's ace fireman Elroy Face recorded his 16th straight triumph Thursday as the Pirates scored two runs in the 13th inning and defeated the Chicago Cubs 4-2.

Face, undefeated since May 30, 1958, pitched the final five runless innings — his longest stint of the year — on a yield of just three singles and gained his 11th conquest of the season.

Bill Henry, Wednesday's winner for the Cubs' drew the loss — his third among eight decisions.

Dick Groat's single opened the fourth overtime inning. After catcher Danny Kravitz forced Groat, Ted Kluszewski singled to send Kravitz to second.

Bob Skinner singled, scoring Kravitz and when Moose Moryn's tardy throw bounced past the plate both runners advanced.

After Kluszewski scored on Bill Virdon's sacrifice fly, Glen Hobbie became the fourth Chicago pitcher and ended the assault.

BALTIMORE (AP) — Chico Carrasquel's bases-loaded single with two out in the ninth enabled the Baltimore Orioles to defeat Detroit 7-6 Thursday.

The Oriole shortstop also hit a two-run homer in the eighth as Baltimore battled back from a 6-1 deficit in the last two innings.

Gus Triandos' two-run round-tripper in the eighth and a solo home run by pitcher Jerry Walker in the third accounted for the other Oriole scores.

Detroit had picked up two runs in the first on one hit and a streak of wildness by Walker. The Tigers added three in the fourth on four hits, including Lou Berberet's two-run double, and scored once in the eighth on a wild pitch by reliever Billy Hoef.

Al Kaline, Detroit center fielder, was struck in the head with a thrown ball in the first inning. He suffered a fracture of the left cheekbone and was to undergo surgery Thursday night to reset the bone.

The decisive Washington rally came in the sixth inning. Behind 5-4 the Senators tied the score on singles by Jim Lemon, Reno Bertoia and Ron Samford.

Murray Dickson came in to pitch for Kansas City and was greeted by a run-scoring double by pinch-hitter Julio Becquer. After an intentional walk to Faye Thronberry filled the bases, Bib Grim relieved Dickson and walked Bob Allison to force another home run.

Orlando Cepeda led the Giant attack with four for five.

A strong behind at 67 were Bob Rosburg of Palo Alto, Calif., who finished second in the U.S. Open last week; Art Wall of Pocono Manor, Pa., the 1959 Masters champion and leading money winner; Don Finsterwald, U.S. PGA champion, and George Bayer, the power-hitter from Dallas.

To Form 3rd Loop Soon

NEW YORK (AP) — Baseball's third major league is a step closer to reality. A nucleus of cities, including New York, plan to announce the league's official formation by July 15. It expects to operate in 1961.

Bill Shea, chairman of Mayor Wagner's Baseball Committee called a press conference Thursday to reveal the names of the three groups of well-heeled citizens who will put up money for the New York club.

Shea refused to name the other member cities. "They should be coming out with their own announcements within the next few weeks. We expect to announce the formation of the league by July 15."

It was revealed that a nucleus of cities already has been admitted for all practical purposes. These five or six cities, in turn, will select others from several applicants.

Toronto, Houston, Fort Worth, Dallas, Minneapolis-St. Paul and New York were believed to be the basic cities with applicants from coast to coast.

Regents Okay $1.6 Million SUI Building

The first steps leading to construction of an Educational Data Processing Center at SUI were approved Thursday by the State Board of Regents during the Board's June meeting.

The Regents approved a $1.6 million preliminary budget for the project, named as architect the Dubuque firm of Durrant and Berquist, and gave the University authority to seek approval for the project by the Legislative Budget and Financial Control ("Interim") Committee.

The four-story, 60-by-80 foot building would be financed under terms of a new law, S.F. 148, which was recently passed by the 58th General Assembly and which permits the University and its sister institutions to borrow construction funds and repay them from earnings. It would be located immediately west of East Hall.

Interstate Survey Finished; To Begin Appraisal Soon

Surveying of the route of the interstate highway through the east six miles of Johnson County has been completed and appraisal of the land is expected to begin soon. The surveyed area lies across the entire width of Scott Township in a band on both sides of Highway 1.

The interstate route enters the county three-eighths of a mile south of Highway 1, crosses the highway and continues beyond it to a junction with Highway 261 one-half mile northeast of the Iowa City limits.

Design and right of way work on a six-mile interstate segment north of Iowa City has been slowed by difficulties in establishing lot lines and boundaries of property in this area.

The route north of the city will follow the section line dividing East Lucas and Newport townships, cross the Iowa River and curve northwestward from a point north of Coralville to an intersection with Highway 218.

This segment will include four interchanges and two overpasses, in addition to the river crossing.

The highway commission has indicated that it expects to have a contract in effect this year for grading the route. No appraisal work has been done in the county.

Novotny Guilty Fined On OMVI

Milo Richard Novotny, 422 Brown St., was found guilty of OMVI in District Court Thursday and fined $300 and costs. His license was also suspended for 60 days.

Novotny, an SUI student for the past year, was arrested last December when the car he was driving ran into a curb on the wrong side of East Church Street. He pleaded innocent to the charge during a preliminary hearing Tuesday, and was bound over to District Court.

KING NEEDS REST

AMMAN, Jordan (AP) — King Hussein left the hospital Thursday after a checkup with medical orders to take a month's complete rest. A palace announcement said that on May 30 Hussein, 24, had inflammation in his breathing tubes and although the checkup showed "satisfactory improvement," he must take four weeks rest.

Reapportionment Group Asked To Continue Work

DES MOINES (AP) — The Governor's Action Committee on Reapportionment will be asked to continue working for fair representation in the Legislature, Gov. Herschel Loveless said Thursday.

Soviets Buzz Iran Plane Over Baltic

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP) — Two Soviet MIG fighters buzzed an Iranian airliner five times Wednesday when it strayed over the Baltic, an airline spokesman reported here Thursday night. The plane's co-pilot said it was a close call.

The plane later was also intercepted by two British jets over an air defense zone between East and West Germany.

The incidents occurred while the two-engine airliner, piloted by an American, Robert Chadwick, was on a ferry flight from Copenhagen to Teheran via Frankfurt, without passengers.

One of the Soviet planes was only 50 yards away before it turned off again, said co-pilot Adi Zahri. "I was not scared about shooting, but I really feared a collision."

He said winds forced the plan off course. After the incident the Iranian plane contacted the Hamburg airport, which guided it back to Western territory. It passed into the West over a 30-mile wide air defense identification zone and two British jets were sent up to investigate. They did not buzz the airliner, and left after identification was made.

The Second Allied Tactical Air Force, which watches this part of the Iron Curtain, said its radar unit tracked the Iranian craft and reported it well inside East German territory.

House Cuts Ike's Aid Bill; Shifts To Economic Help

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Thursday night passed a $3.5 billion foreign aid authorization bill. It represented a whittled down and partly redirected version of President Eisenhower's program.

Passage was by a vote of 271-142. The bill was cut $365 million below Eisenhower's recommendation.

In a surprise move Thursday, the House voted to knock out $100 million in loan authorizations.

Even without this added economic aid, the bill slants foreign aid more toward economic, and less toward military assistance. It provides for a powerful new office, outside the foreign aid administration, to keep a sharp watch against any waste or corruption in the program.

The bill now goes to the Senate, where a different version has been put together by the Foreign Relations Committee, but not yet acted on by the chamber itself.

Youth Injured In Car-Bike Mishap

James Brisbane, 12, Forest View Trailer Park, was reported in good condition at Mercy Hospital Thursday night after he suffered the loss of several teeth and possible internal injuries in a car-bicycle accident late Thursday afternoon.

Young Brisbane, son of the Ernest Brisbanes, was riding along Gilbert Street when something got into his eye. He said he tried to brush it out and lost control of his bike. He struck a parked car.

Reservoir Low For Construction

Reservoir Manager John Story, said Thursday that the Coralville reservoir is being held at an extremely low level while construction of low segments of two boat ramps is being done.

He said that for the past several days the reservoir has been operated at 662 feet above sea level, eight feet below normal level and 18 feet below the summer recreation pool level.

Story said that low areas of the ramps will be covered with crushed rock before the water level of the reservoir is raised.

Normal river flows, which slackened off during a dry period, are being allowed to pass through the control gates he said.

Methodists Dissatisfied With Remap's Failure

DES MOINES (AP) — Reapportionment, Red China and refugees sparked debates as the South Iowa Conference of the Methodist Church considered resolutions Thursday.

The conference voted to send an "expression of dissatisfaction" to Gov. Herschel Loveless and members of the Iowa Legislature over failure of reapportionment measures.

It called for "use of all legal means to achieve reapportionment."
