Heinrich Luebke Is Elected President Of West Germany

Was Former Minister Of Agriculture

Reds Protest Berlin Convention

BERLIN (AP) — Heinrich Luebke, the hand-picked candidate of Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, was elected president of West Germany Wednesday.

The election by the 1,038-member Electoral College went off without incident despite the threats and protests of the Communists. The Reds had warned that holding the convention in West Berlin, 110 miles behind the Iron Curtain, was a dangerous affront to East Germany.

The voting demonstrated that the 83-year-old Chancellor, despite recent grumbling over his whip-cracking tactics, was still very much in command of his ruling Christian Democrat party.

The 64-year-old Luebke, a short-wiry man little known except for his record as agriculture minister for the past six years, was elevated to the ceremonial presidential job on the second ballot. He ran up 526 votes, six more than needed.

Carlo Schmid, the scholarly 62-year-old Socialist candidate, was second with 386. Max Becker of the Free Democrats received 99. The first ballot followed party lines, with Luebke polling 517 votes, one vote more than there were Christian Democrats in the electoral body. Schmid got 385 and Becker 104.

More than a score abstained on each ballot. The Socialists and Free Democrats had hoped to slip one of their candidates in the electoral body. Schmid got 385 and Becker 104.

A winning candidate needed 520 votes, an absolute majority, on the first or second ballots. Had a third ballot been necessary, the candidate with the most votes would have won.

Public Hearing On School Budget Set For August

A public hearing on the proposed $2,101,532 budget for the Iowa City community school district for the 1959 school year was set for August 11 by the board of education Tuesday night.

Of the total budget $1,807,215 will be raised by taxes. The remainder will come from tuition and other sources. It is estimated that a levy of 59 mills will be needed to meet the proposed budget, Robert T. Davis, board secretary said.

The estimated increase of nearly nine mills in the levy is the result of an additional three and one-half mills needed to cover debt services increased by the present construction program. The rest of the increase is the result of rising operating costs.

He pointed out that the estimated mill levy increase is based on the 1958 district valuation, and the actual increase might not be that high.

The district completed the fiscal year ending June 30 with a cash balance of $134,922.18. The annual report was accepted by the board.

A low bid of $3,845 for installation of new, folding bleachers for the City High gymnasium was accepted. The bid was submitted by Haldeman-Homme, Minneapolis.

The bleachers will replace the old, knock-down type now in use and will increase seating capacity slightly. Original estimates on the cost of the bleachers obtained last February ran as high as $5,500, Davis said.

Laverne Kuehl, former head carpenter for the district, was named acting director of the physical plant. The board also approved a contract with SUI for the services of John J. Jenks as temporary supervisor on the junior high construction projects.

Other appointments were B. A. Hauber, high school custodian, and L. G. Sanger, central junior high custodian.

Near 30,000 Workers Idle In Strikes Across Nation

WASHINGTON (AP) — A sudden wave of strikes, several of them unauthorized, idled upward of 30,000 workers across the country Wednesday.

Wildcat walkouts in the steel industry accounted for about 25,000 workers who stayed off the job in three steel plants despite an agreement to extend their contract to July 14. Later, however, some 7,000 called off the strike at one plant.

The strikes erupted as negotiators for the United Steelworkers of America and 12 major steel firms strove in New York to reach an agreement on a new contract. The old contract would have expired at midnight Tuesday.

The union termed the strikes unauthorized and directed the workers to return to their jobs.

About 7,000 workers at U.S. Steel Corp.'s big Fairless works at Morrisville, Pa., acceded to the union's demands and called off the work stoppage they had engineered earlier.

But wildcat strikes continued at two other steel plants. Around 13,000 production workers were idled at the Jones & Laughlin Steel Corp. Plant in Aliquippa, Pa. Pickets displayed placards proclaiming "no contract—no work."

In Cleveland, some 2,700 day shift workers struck at Republic Steel Corp.'s Independence Road plant, forcing the shutdown of two open hearths. The firm employs around 9,300 production workers on three shifts.

A company spokesman said the plant would be shut down completely if succeeding shifts stayed off the job.

In another phase of the steel picture, some 3,700 Great Lakes sailors began leaving their jobs on iron ore carriers at various ports. The seamen are members of the Steelworkers Union. They transport raw material to steel mills.

The seamen's strike was sanctioned by Local 5100 of the U.S.W., with headquarters in Cleveland. Officials of the local said it was not a party to the contract extension in the basic steel industry, although its members are covered by the over-all agreement.

Elsewhere, the Public Service Co. of Indiana was hit by a strike of some 1,400 members of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers in a contract dispute. The utility serves the southern two-thirds of the state. Company officials said there would be no interruption of service to its 360,000 customers despite the walk-out.

Another contract dispute idled 2,500 production workers at Cessna Aircraft Co. in Wichita, Kan. The strikers walked out of the plant after their contract expired and while union and management negotiators were striving to reach a new agreement.

In Texas City, Tex., about 1,300 members of the Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers Union left their jobs at the American Oil Co. in a dispute over a new contract. The old one expired at midnight Tuesday.

Senate OKs Nuclear Sub House Had Voted Down

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Senate Appropriations subcommittee Wednesday about-faced on a House action and approved funds for the Navy to build its second big nuclear-powered aircraft carrier. It would cost $380 million.

Sen. Dennis Chavez, (D-NM), manager of the Pentagon's annual money bill in the Senate, told reporters that the subcommittee made the decision in a closed-door session.

The House had knocked out all carrier funds. Chavez said the subcommittee decided to approve a nuclear-powered one even though top Navy officials had said they would be happy to get carrier with conventional power.

The Navy's first atomic-powered carrier, the 80,000-ton, four-reactor Enterprise, is now under construction at Newport News, Va. It is scheduled for delivery in 1961 at a cost of $393 million.

The House, in passing a bill authorizing nearly $39 billion in defense spending during the year starting July 1, had denied $260 million asked to start a conventional-powered carrier. Instead it voted about $255 million to increase the Navy's antisubmarine forces.

Chavez said the Senate subcommittee knocked out the anti-submarine funds, restored the carrier money and added $120 million to give it nuclear power.

Nixon-Kozlov Lock Horns In Lively Debate

Discuss U.S. Relief To Reds In 1920's

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon Wednesday night took on Soviet Deputy Premier Frol R. Kozlov in a rough and tumble foreign policy debate. Before it ended the Soviet leader conceded he was wrong in claiming the United States made the Soviet Union pay for starvation relief after World War I.

The unexpected exchange took place at a formal diplomatic reception sponsored by Nixon in the President's guest house. Secretary of State Christian A. Herter at one point joined Nixon in giving Kozlov a lesson in history.

Nixon and Herter joined forces in a frank give and take with a slightly shaken Kozlov as perspiring guests, including newsmen, eavesdropped, and a Marine band played sweet music.

Kozlov, it was learned, had complained a few hours earlier to President Eisenhower that the American attitude toward the U.S.S.R. was reflected in U.S. relief shipments to the Soviet Union just after the Bolsheviks took power over 40 years ago.

The United States at that time forced the Soviet Union to pay in gold for the food needed to fend off famine, he claimed.

But when the argument ended Kozlov had conceded there was no dispute that the United States shipments of food for starving Russians represented an outright gift approved by Congress.

"The question is not one to be discussed, it is not disputed," Kozlov finally acknowledged.

During the spirited hour-long discussion, the Soviet first deputy premier never lost his smile. Neither did Nixon or Herter. Nixon was Kozlov's main antagonist in the debate. Herter joined in briefly.

The debate broke like a sudden squall in the midst of the usual polite diplomatic exchanges. It was the nearest Washington equivalent to date of the lusty give and take exchanges which have marked parties in Moscow under Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

Long Says He Will Adopt 14-Year-Old Texas Youth

COVINGTON, La. (AP) — Gov. Earl K. Long of Louisiana Wednesday night announced plans to adopt a 14-year-old Texas boy who will live with him at his wifeless mansion in Baton Rouge.

In an exclusive six-hour interview with The Associated Press, the 63-year-old governor said huskily: "I've always wanted a son. Well, I've wanted a daughter, too, but I can't chaperone one under the present circumstances."

This new plan came a few hours after Gov. Long said his wife, Blanche, tried to buy his assassination for $5,000. He changed his viewpoint a few hours later by saying: "I doubt if it's true."

Gov. Long said the boy is David Rankin of Texas City, Tex., that David was a patient at John Sealy Hospital in Galveston, Tex., during Long's stay at the hospital's psychiatric clinic, and that the boy's parents have agreed to the adoption.

In Texas City the boy's father, F. H. Rankin, was asked how he felt about the governor's plan to adopt the boy. Rankin said, "No comment." He said he had heard some talk of the governor's plan but hadn't paid much attention to it.

Rankin, asked the nature of David's illness during his sojourn in the same hospital with Long, repeated "no comment."

Rankin said David and the governor took a fancy to each other. Some hours earlier Wednesday, Gov. Long described the assassination as a "no-good wife beater," as a "bullshooter" and said "I wouldn't trust him around the corner."

The story of the alleged assassination purchase came originally from the man Mrs. Long is supposed to have approached and reached the governor through a trusted political associate.

The associate denied to The Associated Press that he ever told the governor this story.

But earlier in the morning, Gov. Long told The Associated Press his wife offered a man $500 as down payment on murder or mayhem. But, he said, the man backed down. For this, said Long, his wife called him "yellow because he wouldn't do it."

David Ben-Gurion Wins Showdown Vote In Israel

JERUSALEM, Israel (AP) — Prime Minister David Ben-Gurion won a showdown test in Parliament Wednesday on the government's decision to sell arms to West Germany, the hottest domestic issue in Israel's short existence.

Despite bitter Israeli hatred of the Germans for their mass extermination of the Jews, Parliament voted 57-45 against a motion to cancel the contract to sell 250,000 Israel-made grenade launchers to West Germany. Six deputies abstained.

The next step for the 72-year-old Prime Minister, who has guided Israel for most of its 11 years, is to purge his coalition Cabinet of ministers from the two parties opposing the arms deal. To do this, Ben-Gurion will resign and form a new Cabinet without them. Any new government would serve only until this fall. Parliamentary elections are due in November.

The time of Ben-Gurion's expected resignation is uncertain. An official source said it might not come for a few days.

Congress Also Asked To Cut National Debt

'Inflation Will Be Major Election Issue'

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower demanded of Congress Wednesday not only a budget in the new fiscal year but a surplus permitting some reduction in the record national debt.

Telling his news conference inflation will be a major election issue in 1960, Eisenhower said he would be delighted if Congress can find proper ways to cut spending below his $77 billion budget.

In effect, he was serving notice on the Democratic-controlled Congress that the Republicans expect to pre-empt inflation as their own issue in the presidential election year.

He recalled that 1958 brought a Democratic sweep in the congressional elections despite his campaign against "irresponsible spending," leading him to believe that people were "not too much concerned by inflation."

"But I think they have changed their minds," he added.

Seemingly unbothered by either the sweltering heat of the crowded conference room or by a barrage of questions ranging from foreign policy to his own 43rd wedding anniversary, Eisenhower told newsmen:

He'll keep hands off the choice of a 1960 Republican presidential nominee: He hinted he has a preference — and few doubted it was Vice President Richard M. Nixon — but Eisenhower vowed he'll stay neutral both privately and publicly.

— He cannot agree with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko that the stalled Geneva conference of foreign ministers has made any progress that justifies a summit meeting. The Soviet Union still must prove by deeds, Eisenhower said, that it wants a summit session to further world peace.

— This country will not try to pacify the unrest and uprising in Central America; it is up to the Organization of American States to take whatever action is needed.

— He expected some more serious talks here with visiting Soviet Deputy Premier Frol R. Kozlov — more serious, that is, than the nonpolitical words they exchanged at the opening of the Soviet National exhibition in New York Monday.

The question whether the White House will intervene again in the deadlock steel wage dispute, if that seems necessary to head off the strike threatened July 15, never got asked.

Despite his hands-off policy in labor-management conflict, Eisenhower last week obtained a two-week delay for further bargaining. Several reporters tried to get the question in Wednesday, but Eisenhower's nod always went to someone else.

Laughter greeted the first question: Whether, in spite of his rule against discussing personalities, he would give his formula for "43 years of successful marriage."

Grinning, Eisenhower said he had no formula, but could state it was a happy experience.

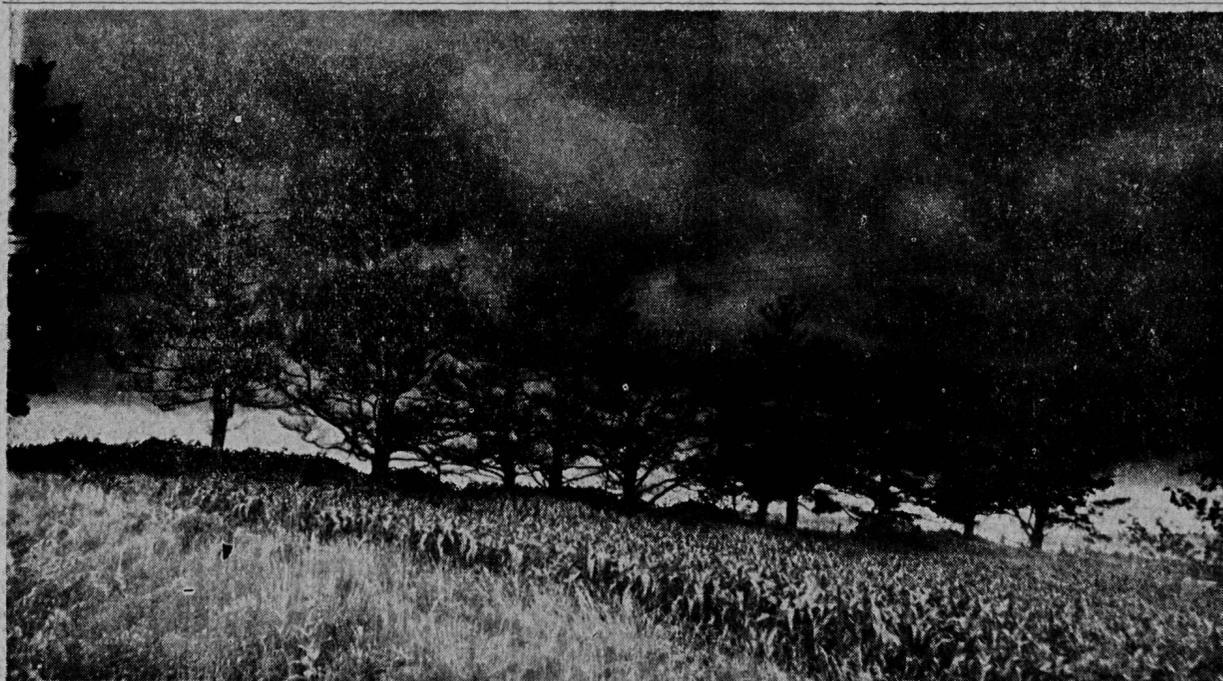

"A successful marriage, I think gets happier as the years go by, that's about all," he added.

About half the newsmen shed dignity and coats on entering the ornate news conference room. They scribbled away in shirt-sleeves. Eisenhower wore a vest with his gray business suit.

He burst into laughter, however, when a reporter asked how it was that this country can send submarines under the North Pole and put monkeys and mice into orbit but "can't find anybody who can air-condition this room."

The President's reply indicated he wasn't as cool as he looked. "I think you people can make yourselves one pressure group that I'd have great sympathy with," he said.

His new attack on spending, debt and inflation followed a question whether he agrees with Nixon that inflation will be the main issue in the 1960 election. "Certainly, it will be one of them," Eisenhower replied.

Do We Understand Nehru? Lack Of Willingness To Understand One Another's Background A Flaw In International Relations

The writer of the following article is Dr. Blaise Leval, who is going post-doctoral work in the School of Journalism this summer in mass communications. Dr. Leval is vice principal of Voorhees College, near Madras, India, where he and his wife have spent the last 12 years.

By BLAISE LEVAL A graduate student at SUI recently began a barrage of questions: "Is Nehru a Communist? If he isn't, why is he so sympathetic toward the Red Government? Why does Nehru dilly-dally? How can he walk a dangerous plank of so-called peaceful co-existence when the moment calls for decision? Nehru is 70; India is starving and the Communist Party in Kerala won the last elections. After all, hasn't Nehru had his chance?"

These questions are being asked by many Americans. Don't such questions have a ring of prejudice? This article is about bias. It is not the ordinary bias we read and hear about in our nation's news-coverage regarding racial tension.

Basically the problem of prejudice is intensified by our bungling divisions in comprehension. A lack of willingness to understand one another's background is perhaps most felt in international relationships. America has never taken the time to understand India which is a world in herself.

When Arnold Toynbee spoke in India at the University of Madras, he appealed to the educated leaders of the new India to continue a courageous and obedient following up of the insights India had gleaned from past history.

Dixon To Appear In Final Concert With SUI Symphony

James Dixon, instructor in music, will conduct the University Symphony Orchestra in concert for the last time Wednesday at 8 p.m. in the Main Lounge of the Iowa Memorial Union.

Dixon is leaving SUI in the fall to join the staff of the New England Conservatory of Music as orchestra conductor and director of ensembles.

Dixon became Symphony Orchestra conductor in 1954, following the death of Phillip G. Clapp, longtime head of the Music Department, whom Dixon had served as an apprentice.

Wednesday's concert will be considered, in part, a tribute to Clapp, since the orchestra will play "Symphony No. 8 in C Major," written by Clapp, and two works which were favorites of the late director: "Harold in Italy," a symphony in four movements, by Hector Berlioz, and "Theme and Variations from Suite No. 3 in C Major, Op. 55," by Tchaikovsky.

William Preucil, instructor in music, will be viola soloist in the Berlioz selection.

Stuart Canin, associate professor of music, will be the violin soloist in the Tchaikovsky number.

Dixon, a native of Esterville, received a B.M. from SUI in 1952 and an M.A. in 1956.

He also studied under Dimitri Mitropoulos, conductor of the Metropolitan Opera Orchestra, and former conductor of the New York Philharmonic Orchestra.

In 1952, Dixon entered the Armed Services, becoming an instructor at the Band School at Fort Riley, Kan., and at the U.S. Naval School of Music in Washington, D.C. He also spent some time in Germany as the conductor of the famed Seventh Army Symphony Orchestra.

In recognition of his achievements with this group, Dixon was granted the Elizabeth Sprague Coolidge International Award in conducting in 1954.

Tickets for the concert are available at the Information Desk of the Iowa Memorial Union from 8 a.m. to 10:30 p.m. daily. The concert is open to the public.

East-West Highway May Get Priority

AMES (AP) — The new Iowa Highway Commission took a long look at the Interstate highway program Wednesday and gave tentative approval to a plan to concentrate on the east-west road, Interstate 80, in the next five years.

A preliminary appraisal of Interstate work was presented to the commissioners by Chief Engineer John C. Butter and Traffic and Safety Engineer Carl Schach.

Schach told the commissioners that recommended new priorities of construction in the so-called five-year rural Interstate program could mean completion of the east-west road from the Mississippi to Missouri Rivers by 1964.

The new commission also gave tentative approval to keep Interstate road funds allocated on a 73 per cent rural, 27 per cent urban basis for the $428 million road program.

The original construction priorities for the 710-mile Interstate system were set up in March, 1958 by the previous commission. They had been sternly criticized by Gov. Herschel Loveless and other Democrats.

The previous commission had a Republican majority, and the Democratic majority comes now for the first time in 22 years.

According to the 1958 priority ratings, second place in the eight projects was given to four and one-half miles of Interstate 80 from the Scott County line west to Highway 218, northwest of Iowa City.

2 Hiring Agency Insitutes To Meet Here Next Week

Two special institutes for employment service counselors and managers will open Monday at the SUI Center for Continuation Study.

Both institutes, developed by SUI educators at the request of the U.S. Department of Labor's Bureau of Employment Security, will serve as models for institutes at other universities in the bureau's nationwide training program.

This will be the second year an institute for counselors has been held here. Curriculum for the five-week course was developed by Kenneth B. Hoyt, associate professor of education, and John E. Muthard, assistant professor and rehabilitation counseling psychologist in the College of Education.

The four-week institute for managers will be held for the first time this year. Curriculum for the management course was developed by Jack Flagler, program director of the SUI Bureau of Labor and Management, with the assistance of Edgar M. Swartz, research assistant in the SUI bureau.

'Gifted Child' Workshop Held

"The common assumption that because a child is mentally advanced he will also be maladjusted is false," Mildred Middleton, Cedar Rapids curriculum consultant, told registrants for the 10 day experimental workshop on "The Gifted Child" which closed at SUI.

The mentally advanced child may be a nonconformist, continued Miss Middleton, but this does not mean maladjustment. The gifted child is usually happy and able to adapt to many different situations, she added.

4th Of July Entertainment In Iowa City To Be Varied

Students remaining in Iowa City over the July Fourth holiday will find plenty to keep them busy — everything from all-star baseball (Little League style) to boat races and fireworks.

The Iowa City Junior Chamber of Commerce has planned a full day's entertainment in City Park for Saturday.

Little League baseball games will start at 9 a.m. Two games will be played in the morning and two in the afternoon. Four outstanding players have been selected from each team of the three local Little Leagues. These boys will comprise eight all-star teams.

Eight boat races, supervised by the local Coast Guard, will begin at 1:30 p.m. following a parade of boats at 1 p.m.

The races scheduled are as follows: first race: 10-20 h.p. or 12.5-20 cubic inches; second: novelty; third: 18-22 h.p. or 20-28 cubic inches; fourth: 25-30 h.p. or 37-44 cubic inches; fifth: novelty; sixth: 35-45 h.p. or 37-44 cubic inches; seventh: 10-20 h.p. or 12.5-20 cubic inches; eighth: open for all classes. Judges for the races will be T. M. Fairchild, Dean Frein and Mert Meyers.

The historic naval and marine Battle of Midway will be set to fireworks in the display beginning at 8:30 p.m. The display will also feature cartoon characters such as comical duck, feather mouse and cotton tail bunny.

The Jaycees began staging Fourth of July programs about 25 years ago. Through the years, the project has been expanded and last year about 9,000 people attended the program at City Park. Jaycee officials said they believed encouraging residents to remain in town, off the highways, will contribute to a reduction in the number of high way accidents.

Robert Cronk is the Jaycee officer in charge of the day's events and Robert Kacena is project chairman.

Cuban Leader Disappears

HAVANA (AP) — A bitter feud within Cuba's military high command came into the open Wednesday with the disappearance of the air force commander who resigned with a charge that Communists infiltrate the armed forces.

The Castro regime said it wants to bring Maj. Pedro Luiz Diaz Lanz to trial.

Lanz Lanz's successor as air force commander is Maj. Juan Almedia, one of Prime Minister Fidel Castro's right-hand men during the revolution.

Almedia accused his predecessors of treason, desertion, robbery and dealing with members of the deposed Batista dictatorship. Almedia said Diaz Lanz faces trial before a revolutionary court. The new air force chief, who is not a flier, added that others have been arrested as a result of Diaz defection.

Diaz Lanz' mother told newsmen she has no information on the whereabouts of her son or of his two brothers who served with him in the air force. Diaz Lanz' bride of a few months also was missing.

Other sources said they believed Diaz Lanz has fled the country. Those in close touch with revolutionary military affairs described the charges and countercharges as the climax of a contest between Diaz Lanz and Raul Castro, who commands Cuba's armed forces.

Terry Gets 1st New York Win On 4-Hitter

McDougald, Siebern Homers Provide Margin

BALTIMORE (AP) — Young Ralph Terry, winless for almost two months, gained his first victory for New York Wednesday night with a four-hit, 4-0 decision over Baltimore that moved the Yankees into third place in the American League race.

Home runs by Norm Siebern and Gil McDougald were the big blows for the Yankees, who have a .001 over fourth place Detroit. The champs had eight hits off loser Hec Brown (5-3) and reliever Billy Loes while dumping the Orioles to fifth place.

Terry, 23, making only his third start since the Yanks reacquired him from Kansas City May 26, walked only one and struck out six.

He didn't give up a hit until Billy Gardner, who had two of the Oriole safeties, doubled in the third. The other hits were singles.

Terry retired the last seven he faced for a 3-5 record and his first shutout since last Aug. 22.

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Chicago White Sox held off a Cleveland Indians' ninth-inning rally Wednesday night for a 6-5 victory that cut the Indians' American League lead to one game.

Earl Torgerson hit a home run and Luis Aparicio hit a two-run triple to lead the second-place White Sox. Woodie Held homered for the Indians in the bottom of the ninth, scoring pinch hitter Russ Nixon ahead of him.

Chicago Manager Al Lopez then sent in right-hander Turk Lown to relieve Gerry Staley with none out, and Lown set down three Indian sluggers in a row.

Starter Barry Latman (2-2) got credit for the victory, which gave the White Sox a split of their two-game series here.

DETROIT (AP) — Paul Foytack worked on a one-hitter for better than seven innings Wednesday but ran into gopher ball trouble and needed ninth-inning help from Ray Narleski before the Detroit Tigers subdued the Kansas City Athletics 5-4 in a game twice interrupted by rain.

Foytack yielded a lead-off triple

The Tigers provided Foytack with a 5-1 cushion going into the ninth. But Lumpe led off with a single and Hadley cracked his seventh home run into the upper right field seats. Foytack got the second out before Cerv poked a homer into the same section.

Narleski gave up a single to Frank House before getting Smith on a called third strike.

Senators 4, BoSox 1

WASHINGTON (AP) — Camilo Pascual pitched four-hit ball and Harmon Killebrew and Hal Naragon led an 11-hit attack Wednesday night as Washington defeated Boston 4-1.

The Cuban right-hander lost his shutout bid in the ninth inning after an error with two out.

The Senators, winning their third in a row, rattled out 11 hits, including three by Naragon.

The big blow for the Senators was a two-run double by Killebrew in the seventh inning. Naragon also singled home a run in the decisive seventh.

Washington had taken a 1-0 lead in the fifth on a pair of walks and a single by Jim Lemon.

Pascual had the Sox blanked with two outs in the ninth when Vic Wertz singled, moved to second as Killebrew threw high on Jackie Jensen's grounder, and scored as Frank Malzone singled.

After scoring four runs in the eighth to fashion a 5-5 standoff, the Cubs saddled relief pitcher Lindy McDaniel with his ninth loss by scoring the winning run with one out in the ninth.

Junior Golf State Title To Bollman

SPENCER (AP) — Seventeen-year-old Dave Bollman of Sheldon, kept ahead of the field all the way Wednesday and won the Iowa Jaycee Junior golf tournament with a four-over par total of 184 for 45 holes at the Spencer Golf and Country Club.

The Sheldon High School youth, who was co-medalist with a 73 in Tuesday's qualifying round, toured his second 18 in par 72 figures and added a three-over par 39 to beat his closest rivals by five strokes.

In contrast with rain that caused postponement of the scheduled Monday opener and continued to mar the proceedings in the qualifying tests, Wednesday's weather was bright and sunny but a little on the chilly side.

John Peterson of Iowa City, with 76-75-38, and Jerry Heinz of Waterloo with 77-73-39, tied for second with totals of 189.

Because places in the National Jaycee tournament were at stake they had to play it off "sudden death" and Peterson took the runnerup spot on the first hole. That left Heinz in third place.

Another playoff was needed between Mark DeVoe of Cedar Rapids and Bill Iverson of Clinton who tied for fourth and DeVoe won it in two holes.

In regular play DeVoe, co-medalist with Bollman had 73-82-36-191 and Iverson, winner of the Iowa Junior championship at Ames several weeks ago, finished with 80-75-36-191.

Bollman, Peterson, Heinz and DeVoe will represent Iowa in the National Jaycee tourney at Portsmouth, Va. in August.

Bollman was never in danger of being overtaken but with two holes to go his tee shot slammed into a fence. He had to play it away from the fence and his third shot came to rest under a bridge. This cost him a penalty stroke to get out.

Other contenders finished in the top 10 in this order: Rodney Bliss III, Des Moines, 77-76-39-192.

Tom McCarthy, Davenport, 74-77-42-193.

Bob Gitchell, Cresco, 79-77-37-193.

Bruce Byers, Keokuk, 74-82-38-194.

Walt Hodge, Dubuque, 78-82-35-195.

Wind, Rain Skyrocket British Open Scores

MURFIELD, Scotland (AP) — Two unknown British players, Fred Bullock and Arnold Stickley, Wednesday shot 68s for the lead in the British Open Golf Championship and then sat back and enjoyed themselves as high winds and rain sent later scores skyrocketing.

Bullock, a 40-year-old pro playing in only his second tournament this season, and 32-year-old Stickley got in their rounds before the 6,806-year, par 36-36-72 Murfield layout became a rough, tough test.

Olmedo Wins, McKay Loses In Wimbledon Semifinals

WIMBLEDON, England (AP) — Top-seeded Alex Olmedo marched ahead with machine-like efficiency but his U.S. Davis Cup Team-mate, Barry McKay, bowed out fighting in a marathon five-setter Wednesday in the semifinals of the Wimbledon Tennis Championships.

Olmedo, losing only one service and master all the way, erased Australia's No. 2 ace, Roy Emerson, in exactly 60 minutes, 6-4, 6-0, 6-4.

The storied center court, however, proved heartbreak house for McKay, the lumbering slugger from Dayton, Ohio, who gave it everything he had but still went down before Rod (The Rocket) Laver, a 20-year-old Australian left-hander.

Laver won 11-13, 11-9, 10-8, 7-9, 6-3, in a match which swayed back and forth for 3 hours and 45 minutes. The bitter, exhausting struggle reached its high point in the fourth set when McKay, trailing

2-5 at one stage, fought off five match points and finally won the set to level the match.

He shot ahead 3-1 in the decisive fifth set but confidence and control suddenly deserted him and Laver reeled off five games in a row.

"No excuses," McKay puffed later. "Laver was too good, that's all. I seemed to lose my confidence."
