House Group Vetoes Highway Bill Truce

Rayburn's Compromise Voted Down

Reaffirm 1-Cent Per Gallon Tax Hike

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Ways and Means Committee Tuesday slapped down a compromise pushed by House Speaker Sam Rayburn (D-Tex.) aimed at ending the deadlock over financing the money-short interstate highway program.

The committee, by a 16-9 vote, reaffirmed its previous approval of 22-month cent-a-gallon increase in the three-cent federal gasoline tax. Rayburn's compromise to limit the penny increase to one year was beaten 13-12.

The committee, on a take-it-or-leave-it basis, also directed its chairman, Rep. Wilbur D. Mills (D-Ark.) to take the legislation directly to the House floor without referring it to the House Public Works Committee, as would be normal.

The two committees have been at loggerheads over how to keep construction of the 41,000-mile interstate network from coming to a standstill for lack of funds.

The Public Works group decides how federal highway money shall be apportioned to the states but the Ways and Means group provides the money. Their actions must mesh, since one can apportion only as much as the other provides.

Rayburn stepped in Monday, putting his leadership prestige on the line.

Failed in similar recent efforts to settle interparty differences in the civil rights and labor legislation fields, he persuaded Democrats to go along with his one-year compromise and the Public Works Committee accepted it, although reluctantly.

Then Rayburn insisted that the Ways and Means Committee take it up.

After his new setback, Rayburn's only comment was a grim: "That's more trouble."

The highway fund is in the red because of a construction speedup voted last year—taking the program off the pay-as-you-go basis—and a simmering House revolt against voting higher gasoline taxes just before an election year.

Housing Measure Moves Toward House Action

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Senate-passed billion-dollar housing bill moved a quick step Tuesday toward final House action.

A toned-down substitute for the $1,375,000,000 measure vetoed by President Eisenhower last month, it was approved by a 194 vote of the House Banking Committee in a matter of minutes. It passed the Senate Aug. 18.

Leaders immediately scheduled hearings Wednesday before the House Rules Committee for clearance to the floor and expected passage on Thursday.

Although House leaders gave it priority, the bill is not expected to reach Eisenhower's desk much before the closing hours of the session with Congress gone. The President then would have the choice of taking it in entirely or passing up any new housing legislation this year.

The four Banking Committee votes against the bill were cast by Republicans in protest against inclusion of authority for 37,000 new units of public housing.

The administration opposes new federal subsidies for public housing. This furnished some of the basis for Eisenhower's veto of the previous bill.

But the bill also contains features requested by the President.

Ike Will Not Be 'Taken In' By Khrushchev, Says Nixon

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon told free world nations Tuesday there should be no concern that their interests will be compromised during next month's Khrushchev visit to the United States.

He told the American Legion's national convention that President Eisenhower would not be "taken in or bluffed" by the Soviet Premier.

Nixon spoke to a Legion waiting to act on resolutions condemning Khrushchev's visit. Last year the Legion passed a resolution opposing visits to this country by Communist leaders.

"There is no doubt whatever that the interests of the United States and the free world will be vigorously, firmly and aggressively represented by the President in this meeting."

"We reject the concept that two great powers—the U.S. and the U.S.S.R.—should decide the fate of other peoples without consultation with them," Nixon told the legionnaires.

"While understanding alone will not bring peace, misunderstandings could provoke war," Nixon said, adding: "And because his visit can serve to reduce the possibilities of such misunderstanding, it could contribute to the chance that we can settle our differences without war and therefore deserve the approval of the American people."

He said it would be "naive and wishful thinking that the visit of Mr. Khrushchev to the United States will result in any basic changes in the Communist objective of world domination or their adherence to policies designed to achieve that goal."

During his talks with President Eisenhower and tour across the nation, Nixon said Khrushchev "will hear and see some things which will change his preconceived notions about the United States and which in turn will give him pause before he embarks on a course of action in the future which might be contrary to our vital interests."

Red Guerilla Tactics Pound Laotian Areas

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP) — Communist guerrillas were active Tuesday in eight of the 12 Laotian provinces.

But the only skirmishes reported were between royal Laotian troops and rebels near Pak Seng, 35 miles above the royal capital of Luang Prabang in central Laos. It is there the Communist Pathet Lao is trying to re-establish its political and propaganda machinery.

A Defense Ministry spokesman said a Communist company numbering about 130 men is using terroristic methods to panic villagers into withdrawing their support from government troops.

He said the insurgents had thrown bodies—some of them children with their throats cut—into the Nam Seng River. But he said there is little chance Laung Prabang would be attacked. Such an attack, he said, would take two full regiments.

Little fighting actually has been reported. The insurgents are operating in the provinces of Phong Saly, Sam Neua, Luang Prabang, Xienglohuang, Thakhek, Saravane, Savannakhet and Vientiane. In Vientiane they have been within 60 miles of this administrative capital of Laos.

Two enclaves of Red troops have almost surrounded the northern province of Sam Neua, the main theater of rebel activity. Royal forces are spread wide. The best troops, two paratroop battalions, have been committed to the fortress outpost of Muong Peun in Sam Neua. It would be difficult to evacuate them because the airstrip will take only small planes.

Informed sources said French military personnel have begun small scale training of Laotian army personnel. Under an agreement signed last month, the French are to train while about 100 American instructors teach them to use and maintain U.S. equipment.

No Secret Deals With Russia, Ike Promises

NIXON REASSURES LEGION — Vice President Richard M. Nixon offered assurances to the American Legion convention in Minneapolis Tuesday about the upcoming visit of Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev to the United States. President Eisenhower will not be "taken in or bluffed" by the Soviet leader, Nixon told the Legion convention. Nixon greets the Legionnaires before speaking. At his rear is Preston J. Moore of Stillwater, Okla., national Legion commander. —AP Wirephoto.

President To Visit Bonn, France, Britain

Flying By Jet For First Time

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower said Tuesday he is going to Europe both to repledge America's devotion to peace and to support the West in opposing any aggression, "by force if necessary."

That was the first major point in what amounted to a farewell statement in advance of Eisenhower's takeoff before dawn today.

It was designed to reassure the free world allies and to warn the Soviet Union that out of the President's forthcoming exchange of visits with Nikita Khrushchev there will be no secret, two-party deals undermining the Western position.

Eisenhower told his news conference he would urge a joint reiteration by Western heads of government that "regardless of pressure or inducement we shall never retreat from our ideals or principles or weaken in our resolution to remain secure as we continue the search for peace."

Flying by jet for the first time, Eisenhower is going to Bonn, Germany, to confer with Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, to London to meet with Prime Minister Harold Macmillan, and to Paris to consult with President Charles de Gaulle.

Later on, the President is going to the Soviet Union after Soviet Premier Khrushchev visits the United States for 13 days beginning Sept. 15.

As for his Soviet visitor, Eisenhower said the Soviet Foreign Ministry advised Monday night that Khrushchev will be coming here in effect as chief of state, not in a No. 2 role as head of government. So Eisenhower will welcome his visitor at the airport and presumably give him all the other recognition accorded the chief of a foreign nation. That would include a 21-gun salute rather than 19, and a state dinner at the White House.

Eisenhower displayed a little annoyance at criticism of his plan to return Khrushchev's visit.

He said it would be farfetched to say such a trip would erode the President's prestige and "I get a little weary about people" who take such a stand.

Questions and answers swung around to such topics as:

Legislation—Eisenhower had another statement ready. He said he earnestly hopes that before Congress quits it will avoid "serious repercussions to the country" by passing adequate bills dealing with interest rates and debt management, financing of highways, and continuing the federal home mortgage insurance program.

He said he also wants an effective labor reform bill, a civil rights program, and adequate funds to carry on "the imperatively needed mutual security program."

Carey—A questioner wanted to know what Eisenhower thinks of the tactics of James B. Carey, an AFL-CIO vice president, in threatening political defeat of members of Congress who voted for a stringent labor control bill.

Eisenhower said he assumes every congressman voted his conscience and he doesn't think any man "is going to surrender his conscience because of any kind of threat or implied threat that involves the polls."

Steel — The President still is keeping hands off the steel strike and calling on management and labor to solve their problems through free bargaining without fostering inflation.

Laos—The little Southeast Asia nation, battling against being gulped down by Communists, appealed to the United States Tuesday for money. Eisenhower said the bid is getting urgent attention.

Church Council Asks International Atom Agreement

RHODES, Greece (AP) — The World Council of Churches appealed Tuesday to all nations not to carry on nuclear tests without the permission of other countries.

The appeal was aimed at the resumption of nuclear tests by the United States, Britain and the Soviet Union, and at the launching of tests by France or any other nation that might be planning such experiments.

The council — grouping Protestant, Orthodox and Anglican churches with an estimated following of 180 million—said abolition of war must be the ultimate goal of all.

In other actions, the council's Central Committee approved a report denouncing racial discrimination and anti-semitism.

This report, by a social study division of the council, also said Christians should recognize the right of labor unions to strike, should take part in legitimate political parties with non-Christians and should be more sensitive to the economic gulf between the rich white Christian West and the poor colored countries.

Unhappy Irish Town—A Fire Burned It Down, 3 Million Was Lost In The Holocaust

LIMERICK, Ireland (AP) — Fire raced through a giant business block in the heart of Limerick Tuesday and brought nearly three million dollars worth of property crashing down in ruins within a few hours. The blaze started in the William Todd and Co. department store.

SHIPS MOVED

WASHINGTON (AP) — Six or seven Navy ships normally engaged in patrolling the North Atlantic will "move into certain positions" as a precautionary measure when President Eisenhower flies to Europe early today in a jet airliner.

White House press secretary James C. Hagerty gave this information to newsmen Tuesday. Hagerty said there will be no air patrol of the Atlantic flight course.

Inflation Inevitable If Federal Bond Rate Not Raised, Says Ike

WASHINGTON (AP) — Cracking the whip, President Eisenhower told Congress Tuesday it is inviting inflation and a higher cost of living by refusing to permit higher interest rates on federal bonds.

On the eve of his departure for Europe, the President sent two special messages to the Democratic-controlled Congress.

In one, he demanded approval of his proposal to eliminate the 4 1/2 per cent interest ceiling on long term government bonds, saying "no issue of greater importance has come before this session of Congress."

If the legislation is not enacted, the President told the House and Senate, "those in Congress who are unwilling to pass it must assume full responsibility for the possibly serious consequences."

In a companion message, Eisenhower applied new pressure for a boost in the federal gasoline tax to keep the giant highway building on an even financial keel, and to replenish the government's authority to insure home loans.

His direct approach came a few hours after he told his news conference these were among bills that "clearly demand attention before the Congress closes its doors."

Others in this group Eisenhower listed as:

"An effective labor reform bill, a civil rights program such as I urged upon the Congress, and adequate appropriations to carry forward the imperatively needed mutual security foreign aid program."

In taking the fight to Capitol Hill, Eisenhower hit particularly hard on the interest rate issue. He called "a grave disappointment to me" the action of the House Ways and Means Committee in shelving his proposal for this session.

The administration wants the power to go above the 4 1/2-year-old ceiling of 4 1/2 per cent in floating bond issues for five years or more. In the current market, the Treasury contends, it is impossible for government bonds to compete with other securities yielding more interest to investors.

At the same time, the Treasury wants to boost the interest rate on government savings bonds from 3 1/2 per cent to 3 3/4 per cent. Sales of these bonds have been slumping, also because better interest rates for investors are available elsewhere.

In his message on the gasoline tax, the President called "a step in the right direction" the recent action of the House Ways and Means Committee in approving an increase from 3 to 4 cents a gallon in the motor fuel levy for 22 months.

The President had sought a 1 1/2-cent-a-gallon increase for five years.

McDonald: Use Of Taft-Hartley Act Undesirable

NEW YORK (AP) — David J. McDonald, president of the Steelworkers Union, said Tuesday that use of the Taft-Hartley Act in the six-week steel strike would irritate labor-management relations and settle nothing.

"It would leave a festering sore that would scar and irritate labor-management relations in this vital industry for years to come," McDonald told a news conference.

Under the act, President Eisenhower could invoke a provision requiring workers to return to their jobs for an 80-day cooling off period while a fact-finding board studied the dispute.

The President reiterated Tuesday that he had no plans for government intervention unless the situation develops a threat to national security.

McDonald talked with newsmen as negotiations between the leading companies and the union continued without progress.

Accuse Man In Murder Of Widow

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Larry Lord Motherwell, charged with murdering an elderly, wealthy widow during a cross-country junket, went to jail Tuesday denying he killed the Washington, D.C., woman. He said he didn't even know she was dead.

Arrested just before boarding a plane for Cleveland, Ohio, Motherwell, 43, first tried to convince FBI agents they had the wrong man. He had been living in Atlanta several weeks under the name Craig DuBar Foster.

About eight hours after his arrest, he appeared before U.S. Commissioner Frank A. Holden. His hearing was interrupted and then postponed after Washington attorneys hired by Motherwell's wife telephoned and requested a delay.

Before the postponement he acknowledged he is Motherwell. He is under $50,000 bond.

Motherwell is charged with murdering Pearl Ida Putney, 72, widow of Albert H. Putney, one-time State Department official and university professor.

She had been missing a year and a day. Parts of her skeleton were found in Sierra County, Calif., Aug. 16. The FBI said the widow and Motherwell, neighbors in Washington, left together for what Mrs. Putney called "a last fling." She sold some property before leaving.

Mrs. Putney reportedly was carrying about $60,000 in cash and securities when last seen leaving a motel with Motherwell in Marysville, Calif. Marysville is about 60 miles southeast of the lonely wooded area where Mrs. Putney's bones were discovered. See picture, Page 3.

EXPLODED BOMB FOUND

LONDON (AP) — Bomb disposal experts Tuesday unearthed the fragments of an armor-piercing bomb, a relic of the World War II blitz, deep below ground near London's Tate National Art Gallery. They had searched for three weeks. When they got to the bomb they found it had exploded long ago.

Old Sidewalk On Its Way Out

WORKMEN ARE busily tearing up the 119-year-old sidewalk on the east side of Old Capitol to prepare the way for construction of a newer model. Nehru Warns Peiping: Keep Hands Off Indian Protectorates

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — Red China got a warning Tuesday from Prime Minister Nehru: India certainly will defend the Himalayan protectorates of Bhutan and Sikkim against any invasion.

And his government is fully alive to its responsibility for the preservation of the security of India, Nehru told Parliament.

He spoke against a background of worsening relations between Peiping and New Delhi, strained since Chinese troops crushed an uprising in Tibet last spring.

Few days pass without new reports in Indian press of Communist Chinese designs on the two protectorates or on Indian territories south of Tibet.

Parliament members questioned Nehru about growing fears in Bhutan and Sikkim that Peiping is massing troops to claim both for China.

"Any infringement of their border will be infringement of our undertaking to protect them and we shall certainly defend them against such intrusion," Nehru replied.

Bhutan and Sikkim adjoin each other, India's northeast frontier area is on the east and Nepal on the west. India took over their protection after gaining independence from Britain, their previous guardian.

Venezuela Asks Return Of Jimenez

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Marcos Perez Jimenez' extradition was sought Tuesday by Venezuela, which charged the former dictator with murder and embezzlement.

The plump, balding exile told newsmen "I am sure the charges are political and brought for political motives." He also said the accusations were "absolutely false."

"I have complete confidence in the high quality of American justice," the 45-year-old Perez Jimenez said as he left the Federal Building to return to the Miami Beach mansion he bought on fleeing Venezuela more than 18 months ago. He declined further comment until he has a chance to study the charges.

Perez Jimenez posted $25,000 bond in U.S. District Court on the extradition warrant pending further Venezuelan moves. Venezuela has 60 days in which to produce evidence.

Venezuela asked that the court consider holding Perez Jimenez without bond. Judge Emmett C. Choate turned this down.

The complaint accused Perez Jimenez, who came here 18 months ago, of murder, attempted murder and embezzlement. He was ousted as Venezuelan strong man in January 1958.

Bold Approach In Ike-Nikita Talk Urged By Demos

WASHINGTON (AP) — Thirty-six House Democrats urged Tuesday that President Eisenhower take a bold approach in his talks with Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev and invite Russia to join in building a free world community.

In a joint statement, the Democrats, including Reps. Merwin Coad and Leonard Wolf of Iowa said:

"We would not presume to advise the President on the conduct of his talks. But if the results of these talks are to be fruitful, the United States must bring to the table a vision of the kind of world we should like to see 10 years from now.

"If we have no vision of the world we seek, the talks can only be negative, bogging down in petty struggles for short run advantage. Indeed, if we have no vision of the world we seek, our policy will be the same — more reaction to outside pressure, the prisoner of events rather than their master."

The Democrats outlined the objective of their proposed vision as being a world of 1970 that is "secure and confident of continued peace . . . characterized by political freedom for all the nations of the world . . . and characterized by economic security."

Meanwhile, a Republican, Sen. Francis Case of South Dakota took the floor of the Senate to express belief that when Eisenhower flies to Europe Wednesday "The hopes and prayers, and the confidence of the American people will ride with him."

ADENAUER FLIES HOME

BONN, Germany (AP) — Chan. Konrad Adenauer flew home to Bonn Tuesday to begin a round of talks hower's arrival. Adenauer had been vacationing in Italy. He declined to discuss political questions with reporters who met him at the airport where Eisenhower is due to arrive 24 hours later.

SUI Professor To Address English Teachers

Richard Braddock, writing supervisor and assistant professor of communications skills at SUI, will speak to English teachers of Warren and Kossuth counties this week on plans for the coming school year.

Braddock will be in Indianola Thursday to speak on "Building Courses of Study in English" and in Algona Friday, where his topic will be "How To Stimulate Good Writing."

County institutes are held in various parts of the state each fall to encourage teachers to look ahead to the new school year and to acquaint them with new teaching procedures. At each institute there are several lectures as well as group discussions by subject where teachers have an opportunity to raise questions and exchange information.

Rescuers Remove Bodies Of Amateur Mountaineers

FRANCONIA, N.H. (AP) — The bodies of two young, amateur climbers were lowered Tuesday from the face of a thousand-foot White Mountains cliff.

Partial sunshine and mild temperature, which aided an expert Appalachian Mountain Club rock-climbing team in its grim mission, came a day too late to save the young men's lives.

Marooned on a ledge halfway up the cliff — lashed by gales and cold rain — they died of exposure Monday afternoon just as exhausted rescuers reached them.

The 50-foot rope and homemade pitons — iron spikes — carried by the dead youths, Alfred Whipple Jr., 20, of Gales Ferry, Conn., and Sidney Crouch, 21, of Ledyard, Conn., were as hopelessly inadequate as the thin summer clothing they wore when they started the hazardous climb on Sunday.

The tragic drama was enacted almost within the shadow of the great stone face of "The Old Man of the Mountains."

Wants Khrushchev To Inspect D.M. Educational TV

DES MOINES (AP) — Russian Premier Nikita Khrushchev has been invited to visit the Des Moines schools' educational television station, Supt. of Schools John H. Harris said Tuesday.

Dr. Harris told the Des Moines teachers orientation meeting he has written Gov. Herschel C. Loveless suggesting the visit be included in Khrushchev's Iowa stop-off Sept. 22 and 23.

Loveless wrote back saying he would forward the suggestion to the State Department in Washington, D.C., Dr. Harris said.

"We've been hearing so much about what the Russians are doing in education, and now we would like Khrushchev to see what we're doing," the superintendent explained.

Prowler May Have Killed U.S.C. Coed

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Police investigating the slaying of a brunette coed said Tuesday she may have been killed by a campus prowler known to have stalked women in the past.

Linda Martin, 21, graduate music student at the University of Southern California, was stabbed to death Sunday night in her fiancé's apartment near the campus. Her nude body was found at the foot of a 13-step stairway.

Detective Sgt. Gordon Swatsworth discounted an earlier theory the victim knew her assailant.

"At this time," he said, "we are inclined to believe the man we want was not one of Miss Martin's acquaintances."

Robert Kinzie, 27, her fiancé, a bearded instructor in ceramics at USC, told police he was having coffee and a sandwich with friends at a Hollywood lunch stand at the time Miss Martin was killed.

Detectives said a lie detector test, taken voluntarily, confirmed Kinzie's account.

Kinzie said Miss Martin stayed overnight at his flat Saturday, adding that although she lived with two roommates 10 blocks away she frequently spent time in his lodgings.

Police believe an intruder killed her just after she had taken a bath.

Astronaut Makes Mock Satellite Takeoff, Return

JOHNSVILLE, Pa. (AP) — Air Force Capt. Leroy G. Cooper Jr., one of the seven Mercury astronauts, made a simulated satellite takeoff, orbit and return to earth here Tuesday night.

Fifty newsmen witnessed the demonstration, first of its kind, at the Navy's huge centrifuge.

After the simulated flight, Cooper told his audience it had been a "very normal launching and orbit, the same type we have been practicing—quite good simulation of what we think the real thing will be."

Two other astronauts, Navy Lt. Cmdr. Alan B. Shepard Jr. and Navy Lt. Malcolm S. Carpenter, also witnessed the demonstration and took part in a news conference later.

The men said they felt their training for the first manned flight around the earth was going along well and they said nothing had been discovered yet that would require changes or improvement in equipment.

Asked if their personal lives had changed much in the months since they were selected for the first venture into space, the men said they felt no great personal differences.

SUBS TO SAIL

HAIFA, Israel (AP) — The Israeli naval chief, Commodore Samuel Tankus, reports the two submarines Israel bought from Britain will sail here within the next few months. The neighboring United Arab Republic's navy has Soviet-made submarines.

Sulowan Studies Development Of Sex-Role Preferences

How early in life do girls display an interest in things decidedly feminine? When do boys begin to show a preference for the masculine role?

To answer these questions, Elsie Zook, Wellman, an M.A. candidate at SUI, made a study of sex-role preferences in 161 3- and 4-year old children drawn from four nursery school populations in Iowa City and Des Moines.

The children were given an "it" figure, a sexless drawing of a child. One group received the "it" figure with instructions that "it" was a child known by the name "it." A second group was told that the sex of the figure was the same as their own and a third group received the "it" figure as a boy or girl with the same name as their own. The children were then shown a series of pictures with four pictures in each group and asked each time which one of the four "it" liked best.

Results indicated that sex-role differentiation begins very early in life, with strong sex differences in "it" scores existing as early as age 3.

Boys showed a stronger preference for the masculine role than girls for the feminine role, Miss Zook found.

The over-all pattern of a stronger same-sex preference for boys than for girls might be indicative of the greater socio-cultural advantages and more consistent rewards for sex-type behavior accorded the male, according to Miss Zook. It may indicate a less clearly defined sex-role for girls, fewer rewards for being a stereotyped female and relatively few punishments for adopting behaviors characteristic of males, Miss Zook noted.

Boys seem to move steadily and progressively toward masculinity. This suggests that boys receive consistent reinforcement and pressure to adopt a relatively unambiguous sex-role all through early and middle childhood, according to the SUI study.

Development of sex-role preference in girls is much more complicated. Girls begin during the preschool years with basically feminine choices, then switch to masculine choices in later childhood. Girls may be femininely oriented at three or four due to a basic identification with their mothers, but later exposure to the masculine-oriented culture breaks down or covers over this identification in the years of middle childhood, Miss Zook explained.

The effects of the instructions were significant for the group as a whole. Girls responded with a lower score (more feminine) when the sex of the "it" figure was identified. Boys responded with higher score (more masculine) when the "it" figure was known by the same sex and name as that of the subject.

After a 60-day time lapse, Miss Zook re-tested the subjects. The boys were relatively unchanging in their scores, 3-year-olds indicated slightly more feminine choices, and 4-year-old girls were significantly more feminine on re-test. This may have been due to increased learnings about sex-roles during the interval between tests, said Miss Zook.

One might speculate that children who have older brothers and sisters would differ from only children in their sex-role preference scores — but test results indicated otherwise. Birth order appeared to have no relation to the acquisition of sex-role preferences.

Miss Zook, who will be head teacher of the 4-year-old group at University Pre-school next year, did her thesis under the direction of Willard Hartup, SUI associate professor of child welfare.

British Girl On Rotary Grant To Study Here

A 24-year-old English coed will do graduate study in history at SUI during the coming academic year under a Rotary Foundation Fellowship.

She is Dinah Burford of Wimbledon, Surrey, England. Miss Burford is one of 131 outstanding students from 35 countries named for Rotary Fellowships for graduate study abroad during 1959-60.

After attending Wimbledon High School, Miss Burford entered New Hall, the third foundation for women at Cambridge University. She held a Surrey County Major Scholarship and was graduated in 1957 with a bachelor of arts honors degree in history. The English coed has attended vacation courses at the Sorbonne, at the University of Florence and at the University of Innsbruck.

Chosen as one of the 15 founder members of New Hall, Cambridge, Miss Burford was among the first presidents of the Cambridge University Women's Union.

The scholarships provided by The Rotary Foundation of Rotary International give outstanding students a chance to live, study and travel abroad for one year, serving as good will ambassadors promoting international understanding in their host lands and in their own countries later.

Averaging more than $2,600, this year's all-expense fellowship grants total some $354,000. Since the program was established in 1947 as a memorial to the founder of Rotary, Paul P. Harris, 1,200 young men and women from 67 countries have held Rotary Fellowships for study in 44 countries.

Wherever they study, the students are in direct contact with some of the more than 10,200 Rotary Clubs throughout the world. The students attend Rotary Club meetings, visit the homes and places of business of members, and travel as much as possible during holidays, seeing how people of their host country live.

The Rotary Fellows are chosen from candidates sponsored by the Rotary clubs in their own towns.

Predict Satellite Death In October

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — Smithsonian Astrophysical Observatory said Tuesday that by its latest determination America's satellite Explorer IV is due to come down in October.

Previously the 38.43-pound bullet-shaped satellite had been expected to fall into the earth's atmosphere in late August or early September.

An observatory spokesman said the orbit is not decreasing as fast as had been estimated.

Explorer IV was launched July 26, 1958.

University Bulletin Board

University Bulletin Board notices must be received at The Daily Iowan office, Room 201 Communications Center, by noon of the day before publication. They must be typed and signed by an advisor or officer of the organization being publicized. Purely social functions are not eligible for this section.

THE SUI FORENSICS ASSN. will hold its first general meeting Tuesday, September 30, in Room 121A Sheaffer Hall. Next year's program in debate, discussion, oratory and extemporaneous speaking will be discussed. All students, freshmen especially, who are interested in forensic work are welcome.

THE UNIVERSITY COOPERATIVE BABY-SITTING LEAGUE book will be in charge of Mrs. Neil Hari from Aug. 15 to Sept. 1. Phone her at 7634 if a sitter or information about joining the group is desired.

LIBRARY HOURS: Monday-Friday, 7:30 a.m. to 5 p.m.; Saturday, 7:30 a.m. to noon. Service desks: Monday-Friday, 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday, 8 a.m. to noon. Reserve desk: Monday-Friday, 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.

VETERANS: Each PL 550 veteran must sign a V.A. Form 1996A to cover his attendance from Aug. 1 to Aug. 12. A form will be available in the basement hallway of University Hall on Wed. Aug. 12 or at the Veterans Service reception desk on weekdays on or after Aug. 13. Office hours are 8:30 a.m. to noon and 1 p.m. to 4:30 p.m.

Sixth Fort Madison Escapee Recaptured Near Burlington

BURLINGTON (AP) — A mosquito bitten and poison ivy covered convict waved the white flag Tuesday, ending a two-day attempt at freedom from the Iowa Penitentiary.

Archie Harrison Eliot, 25, serving 10 years for robbery, gave up meekly to officers. He was the last of six convicts who sawed their way out of the Fort Madison prison and fled Sunday morning.

Eliot stumbled from a cornfield on the Harry Jacobs farm south of here, pulled a white rag off a fence and began waving it. Three peace officers and a volunteer searcher took Eliot into custody and returned him to the penitentiary.

The fugitive said he managed only five hours sleep—all Monday night—since he and five companions fled the penitentiary Sunday morning.

A farmer in the vicinity of Eliot's capture, John Brockelman, said he saw the fugitive laying between some bales of hay in a barn on his farm Tuesday morning.

Eliot leaped through a barn window and fled before the farmer could return with a shotgun. Brockelman said when he sought to notify authorities he found the telephone wires had been cut. His wife drove to a neighbor's house and called officers.

Mrs. Jacobs said she watched Eliot, still dressed in a prison shirt but wearing blue jeans, emerge from the cornfield on her husband's farm.

The fugitive, tired from running, offered no resistance and was ill from poison ivy and mosquito bites, officers said.

The escape of the six prisoners was the second large-scale breakout at the penitentiary in three months. Four convicts similarly cut bars on an east wall window and escaped in June. They also were recaptured.

The others who escaped with Eliot, of Dubuque County, were Charles R. Wallerick, 25, McCausland; Charles W. Carlyle, 30, Portawattamie County; Ronald Clark Bessler, 22, Webster City; Samuel Parras, 40, Des Moines; and Wilbur Bihain, 28, Linn County.

Mayor Raps Municipalities League Head

BURLINGTON (AP) — Max Conrad, executive secretary of the Iowa League of Municipalities, Tuesday criticized the Sioux City mayor and a Davenport councilman for their attitude toward the league's operation.

Mayor W. W. Wilson of Sioux City Monday suggested reforming the organization from within and "dispensing with Conrad and family."

Others have criticized the league contending the bigger cities in the state were not adequately represented, but were paying a bigger share of the dues.

Conrad said, however, the criticism is not new and branded Wilson and Davenport Councilman Ted Lorenzen as troublemakers.

"Only a handful of cities have followed these fellows," Conrad said. "To date, 742 cities have paid dues and many have written letters of commendation to me and to the league, stating what a fine service we have been rendering."

"This matter will be resolved in all probability in Des Moines this week when statistics and facts will be made available to the entire membership," he said.

Conrad, a former Burlington mayor, said there have been many distortions of the truth concerning the league operation. He said they include statements that large cities have not had enough to say about league affairs.

"The facts are that in the 15 years I have been executive director, the presidents have been from large cities 11 years, from small cities one year and from towns three years."

"Also," Conrad said, "the cities have had a controlling majority on the league board each of those 15 years with the exception of 1951."

He said Wilson and Lorenzen have been quoted in newspapers as having made allegations that the cities are paying a majority of league dues and that towns pay minor amounts — "all of which is untrue."

Dues for the past fiscal year, Conrad said, totaled $40,000. He said towns, representing 230,000 persons, paid $26,000 — or 65 per cent of the total. Small cities, representing 414,000 persons, paid $9,000 or 22½ per cent, and large cities, representing more than 800,000 persons, paid only $5,000 or 12½ per cent.

The total, Conrad said, is $7,000 below anticipated dues revenue for the present fiscal year. Under the new arrangement, he said, small cities will pay an additional $4,000 and large cities $3,000.

City School Registration Is Next Week

Registration for children attending schools in the Iowa City Community School District will be held next week. Schools are scheduled to open Sept. 8.

Elementary registration for children new to the Iowa City system and those who are transferring to other schools within the system will be held Monday from 1 p.m. to 4 p.m. in each elementary school. Kindergarten pupils who did not register during the Kindergarten Spring Round-up should also report on that day.

Book and supply lists for elementary pupils will be available to parents from Monday afternoon until the opening of school. Parents may obtain these lists from the schools which their children will be attending.

Students entering the Iowa City Junior High School from another school system will register Monday from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Students registering should bring last year's report cards with them. Students who attended Iowa City Public Elementary Schools last year and have been promoted to seventh grade do not need to register.

An orientation program for seventh grade students will be held Sept. 3 at 1:30 p.m. in the Junior High School Gymnasium. Parents of seventh graders are invited to attend an orientation meeting at the Junior High School Sept. 3 at 7:30 p.m. Plans and programs for junior high school will be discussed.

High school students transferring from outside the Iowa City Community School District may register in advance Wednesday at 1 p.m. at City High School. Other students planning to attend Iowa City High School will register in the High School Cafeteria Sept. 2 at times specified on the registration schedule.

2 Hoosiers, Heat Capture 3 Airmen Toy Six-Shooter

COLUMBUS, Ind. (AP) — A quick-drawing 8-year-old armed with a toy six-shooter turned in three captured Texas airmen for a bounty of a $25 savings bond each.

He owed big assets to the Indiana heat and his father, a sharp-eyed, quick-moving and fast-talking Hoosier construction worker.

The three were among 10 members of the all-Texas 433rd Troop Carrier Wing who were taken 20 miles from Bakalar Air Force Base and told to make their way back without being captured. Residents of the area were offered the bonds as rewards for catching them.

A touch constituted capture. The airmen were simulating the experience of survivors parachuting from a crippled plane.

The three, Maj. John W. Anderson, Capt. Pelman N. Norris and Capt. James W. Kumpf, all of Dallas, were equipped with survival rations, a compass, and an aerial map. They built two rafts and tried to float down Little Blue River, but shallow water spoiled that effort. They set out on foot.

Richard D. Drake, 30, Shelbyville, spotted them trying to hide in weeds. He said he tagged one and talked the others into surrendering because of the intense heat. The temperature was in the middle 90s.

Drake's 8-year-old son, Douglas, kept the captives covered while Drake drove them back to Bakalar. Their superiors released them.

The wing, a reserve group, is in summer training at Bakalar.

Reservoir Level Still Under Mark

The Coralville Reservoir is still about four feet away from its summer conservation pool level, the Army Corps of Engineers reported Tuesday.

It was estimated that another month would be required to fill the pool unless weather conditions brought heavy rain. The level has risen about one-tenth of a foot per day during the past few weeks. The level now is 676.22, while the summer conservation and recreation pool level is set at 680 feet above sea level.

Teachers To Be Oriented At— Iowa City Staff Workshop

New teachers in the Iowa City Community School District will be officially welcomed Friday.

Orientation for these teachers is scheduled for Friday and Monday with a staff workshop for teachers new and old to follow. The workshop will end Sept. 4.

Teachers will be welcomed by such persons as Mrs. Stephen Darling, president of the Board of Education; Harold Parker, president of the Iowa City Teachers Association; and A.H. Arneson, president of the Iowa City Chamber of Commerce.

During the workshop, teachers will meet with principals and supervisors and will be addressed by Superintendent of Schools Buford W. Garner. High school teachers will supervise student registration Sept. 2 from 8:15 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Staff meetings for junior high school teachers and elementary teachers and departmental meetings for high school teachers will be held.

A potluck on the City High School grounds will be sponsored Sept. 2 by the Iowa City Teachers Association.

Companion Of Dead Widow

A NATION-WIDE MANHUNT for Larry Lord Motherwell ended Tuesday with him behind prison bars in Atlanta, Ga., on a charge that he murdered Mrs. Pearl Ida Putney, 72, wealthy widow of Washington, D.C. Carrying about $60,000 cash, she left Washington with Motherwell about a year ago on a trip she called "a last fling." Her skeleton was found in Sierra County, Calif., Aug. 16. Panic Grips Indonesia As Trade Stops

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — Confusion and panic gripped Jakarta Tuesday in the wake of financial measures announced by President Sukarno.

Business was at a standstill. Small and big banks and stock exchange institutions were closed.

Sukarno devalued 500 and 1,000 rupiah notes ($43 and $87) by 90 per cent of all bank deposits exceeding 25,000 rupiahs ($2,187). The measures are designed to curb inflation and channel capital into development projects.

Finance Minister Djuanda ordered banks to list fixed and current deposit accounts exceeding 25,000 rupiahs. Police guarded all banks.

Some businessmen refused to accept the devalued currencies. Most tradesmen closed their shops after the announcement.

Information Minister Maladi said the Government did not intend to devalue the 100 rupiah and lower denomination notes, but many refused to believe him.

He said the Government felt that with the exception of few persons, the devalued currencies were not held by the majority of the middle and poorer classes "so that these community groups would not be hit by the measures."

But many observers said that almost 80 per cent of the nation's millions of people would be adversely affected by the devaluation.

However, Indonesia's newspapers generally agreed that the devaluation is the kind of sacrifice the nation must make in the interests of its future.

Butler To Request Rule To Bar All Uncommitted Delegations

WASHINGTON (AP) — National Chairman Paul Butler will ask the Democratic National Committee to readopt a 1956 rule which conceivably could bar from the 1960 nominating convention any state omitting names of party nominees from its ballot or electing uncommitted electors.

Several southern states have taken steps through legislation or within state Democratic organizations to omit names of the presidential and vice presidential nominees and to choose electors committed to no one.

The idea is that if the state's Democratic leaders do not approve of the party's nominees they would withhold support in the Electoral College and, if no candidate received a majority there, throw the election of the president into the House of Representatives where each state has one vote.

A spokesman at the national Democratic headquarters said Tuesday that Butler at the committee's Sept. 16 meeting in Washington would ask re adoption of the rule which was approved by the committee prior to the 1956 convention.

The spokesman said the rule was drawn by a subcommittee of northerners and southerners and was designed to replace the so-called loyalty oath which had been in effect earlier and was somewhat more strongly worded. It was adopted by the 1956 convention.

SUI Grad Named ISTC News Head

An SUI summer graduate has been appointed director of the News Service at Iowa State Teachers College.

Isabel Myers, Sheldon, received a B.A. degree in journalism in August and will work as an assistant in the ISTC College Relations Office.

Miss Myers was managing editor of the Hawkeye, secretary of the senior journalism class and secretary and member of Theta Sigma Phi, women's professional and honorary journalism fraternity. She received the Iowa Press Women award for the outstanding junior woman in journalism in 1958.

New Director Of Wesley House Named By Bishop

Bishop F. Gerald Ensley, Des Moines, has announced the appointment of the Rev. William E. Van Valkenburgh, Delaware, Ohio, as director of the SUI Wesley Foundation, effective immediately.

The Rev. Mr. Van Valkenburgh succeeds the Rev. Robert R. Sanks and will have general supervision of the Methodist Church's student program at SUI. Last year there were more than 3,000 Methodist preference students and student's wives on the campus.

The Rev. Mr. Van Valkenburgh had been assistant director of religious activities at Ohio Wesleyan University. He holds degrees from the University of Oklahoma, Garrett Biblical Institute, Evanston, Ill., and Northwestern University.

Navy Rocket Has 2nd Stage Trouble

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — A Polaris test rocket shot over the Atlantic Tuesday but failed to achieve all its goals because of trouble in the second stage.

A brief Navy announcement said that although the missile launched successfully, "There is evidence that malfunction occurred in the second stage after separation."

The 28-foot missile, designed as a nuclear punch for submarines, is expected eventually to hit a target 1,500 miles away.

7 In Row For Tribe As Colavito Hits 2

CLEVELAND — Rocky Colavito hit a pair of home runs Tuesday night to lead his homer-happy Cleveland teammates to their seventh straight victory, a 6-3 decision over the New York Yankees before 36,143 fans.

The Yanks took a 1-0 lead in the first inning off Cal McLish (16-6), but the Indians rebounded with four in their half of the inning. Vic Power tied the score with a smash over the left field fence. Two walks followed and Colavito then drove a Whitey Ford pitch into the same sector for a 4-1 Cleveland lead.

Cleveland added two more in the fifth inning when Yogi Berra, playing right field, opened the door by dropping Power's drive for a two-base error. Minnie Minoso sacrificed Power to third, and he scored on Tito Francona's fly ball to center field.

Colavito, hitless in 10 trips going into the game and 1-for-17 in the last five games, then hit his 37th home run to tie Harmon Killebrew of Washington for the major league lead in that department.

CHICAGO — Billy Goodman's run-scoring double with two out in the tenth inning gave the league-leading Chicago White Sox an up-hill 5-4 victory over Boston Tuesday night.

The battling White Sox had to come from behind with two runs in the ninth inning to tie the game, and ultimately gain a victory which preserved their two-game lead over the Cleveland Indians.

With one out in the tenth, Jim Landis singled but was out at second on an attempted steal. Sherm Lollar then drew a walk and Goodman drove his double into the right centerfield corner.

It was the 30th one-run victory for the Sox who now have won 11 extra innings games against two such defeats.

Senators 3, Tigers 1

DETROIT — Chuck Stobbs snuffed out a ninth-inning Detroit threat and saved a brilliant pitching job by Pedro Ramos Tuesday night in Washington's 3-1 triumph over the Tigers.

Al Kaline hit Ramos' first pitch in the ninth inning for a single and Charlie Maxwell ripped a foul ball down the right field line.

Manager Cookie Lavagetto brought in Stobbs and the veteran southpaw retired Maxwell on a lazy fly to right field. He then got Frank Bolling on a pop fly and ended the game by retiring pinch

A's 6, Orioles 5

KANSAS CITY — The Kansas City Athletics rallied behind the fine relief pitching of John Tstouris and Tom Sturdivant Tuesday night and beat the Baltimore Orioles 6-5.

The Orioles took a 5-1 lead off Ray Herbert with a two-run outburst in the first, another pair in the third on home runs by Bob Boyd and Bob Nieman, and nicked Tstouris for another tally in the fifth.

But O'Dell couldn't hold the advantage. He gave up successive singles with none out in the sixth to Bill Tuttle, Wayne Terwilliger and Dick Williams before giving way to Brown. Another single by Bob Cerv and a fielder's choice netted three runs. After Brown left for a pinch hitter in the seventh, the A's jumped on Billy Loes for the winning runs.

Cubs 8, Reds 6

CINCINNATI — The Chicago Cubs moved into a fifth place tie with Cincinnati Tuesday night with a free-swinging 8-6 victory over the Reds.

An assortment of eight pitchers saw action and Irv Noren and Cal Neeman of the Cubs and Jim Pendleton and Jerry Lynch of the Reds, hit home runs.

Bob Purkey, who always seems to have trouble with the Cubs, was knocked out of the box in the fourth inning when the Cubs went ahead with four runs, and was charged with the loss. Reliever Bill Henry regularly a Cincinnati nemesis, got credit for the victory.

Braves 3, Cards 1

ST. LOUIS — Roy Boone, an American League castoff, saved Milwaukee with a two-out, game-tying pinch single in the ninth, then veteran Joe Adcock singled home the winning run in the 10th in the Braves' 3-1 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals Tuesday night.

Bob Gibson, the Cardinals rookie fireballer, held a 1-0 lead in the first in a duel with Warren Spahn. Eddie Mathews led off the 10th with his third hit, a double, and Adcock grounded a single to left, knocking out Gibson. Felix Mantilla's pop single off Lindy McDaniel added an insurance run.

Don McMahon, now 4-1, was the Braves winner in relief. He was in trouble in the ninth after Ken Boyer's booming triple but got pinch hitters George Crowe and Stan Musial to end the inning.

Giants 12, Pirates 5

PITTSBURGH — The league leading San Francisco Giants hammered Pittsburgh pitchers for 15 hits Tuesday night and trounced the Pirates 12-5. Giant southpaw John Antonelli went all the way, gave up 10 hits and socked a two-run homer for his 18th victory, tops in the majors.

Antonelli, who has lost seven, now has won four of his last five. He struck out six and didn't walk a man in this one.

Antonelli's second homer of the season was a long blow into the upper deck of the right field stands in the eighth inning.

Daryl Spencer socked his 10th homer of the year for the Giants off the scoreboard clock in left field in the fourth. It came with nobody on base.

Spencer also doubled, and Willie Mays chipped in with a pair of doubles for the Giants.

Dodgers 5, Phils 2

PHILADELPHIA — Homers by Gil Hodges and Duke Snider led the Los Angeles Dodgers to a 5-2 victory over Philadelphia Tuesday night and gave southpaw Johnny Podres his 12th victory.

It was the Phillies' sixth consecutive loss and a setback for righthander Robin Roberts who absorbed his 14th defeat against 11 victories.
Snider's first-inning homer, his 21st, brought in Wally Moon, who had doubled for the first of his three hits. Moon singled in the third and scored on Norm Larker's single. Then he doubled in the fifth, but was stranded.
Hodges led off the fourth with his 21st home run of the season. Los Angeles scored its final run in the eighth when Jim Roseboro doubled home Don Demeter.

In Move To Boost Power Output-

White Sox Get Kluszewski

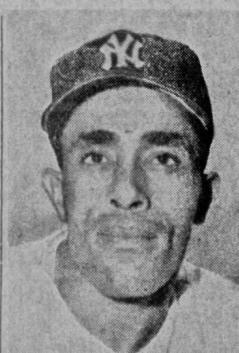

CHICAGO — Chicago's White Sox obtained Ted Kluszewski, the once-mighty National League slugger, from Pittsburgh Tuesday in a move that could make easier their efforts to win the American League pennant.

To complete the waiver transaction, the White Sox, with a team batting average of only .250 and a major league low of 76 homers, gave up outfielder Harry Simpson and Bob Sagers, an infielder with Indianapolis, a Sox affiliate in the American Association. Sagers immediately was assigned to Columbus of the International League, a Pirate affiliate.

Kluszewski, 34, appeared in only 60 games for Pittsburgh this season, mostly as a pinch-hitter. He had only two homers and 17 runs batted in along with a batting average of .244.

"It's a good move for me because it is going to give me more of a chance to play regularly," said the muscular Kluszewski when told of the deal. "I just didn't figure in Pittsburgh's plans. I hate to leave all my friends in Pittsburgh but I would rather play regularly. I'll leave for Chicago either late today or tomorrow."

For nine years with the Cincinnati Reds, Klu was a batting powerhouse. He led the National League in homers with 49 in 1954 threatening Hack Wilson's record of 56 until he faded in the final month. He hit 251 homers, drove in 886 runs and seven times batted better than .300 in a season.

In 1957, the former Indiana football star sprained his back and appeared in only 69 games. That winter he was dealt to the Pirates for Dee Fondy, another first baseman.

The White Sox, strong in pitching and afield, have maintained their slim lead over Cleveland with little help from their first basemen.

Earl Torgeson is hitting only .225 and Norm Cash .221. Both are left-handed batters. The Sox have used catcher Sherm Lollar at first base against southpaw pitchers. Kluszewski, who will be eligible for the World Series if the Sox participate, bats from the left side. The Sox have won 29 of their 74 triumphs by a single run.

Ingemar Signs Contract; Date, Site Undetermined

GOTEBORG, Sweden — A return bout contract estimated to be worth $1,000,000 apiece for heavyweight champion Ingemar Johansson and Floyd Patterson was signed Tuesday after three days of negotiations.

It called for the fight to be held "sometime between March 1 and June 15 next year" at a site to be determined later.

Jack Dempsey, the old Manassa Mauler and former world champion, was credited with breaking down the icy chill of

Fladoos Out As Goodwin Romps, 6-4

WASHINGTON — Joanne Goodwin, a trim little thing with a mound of curly brown hair, cut par to pieces again Tuesday in leading the way out of the second round of the U.S. Women's Amateur Golf Championship.

Miss Goodwin, 23-year-old daughter of a Haverill, Mass., pro routed Sharon Fladoos, 16, of Dubuque, the Iowa junior champion, 6 and 4.

She rapped 2 strokes off par for the 14 holes at Congressional Country Club. The performance subordinated the winning performances of defending champion Anne Quast and major contender JoAnne Gunderson, the 1957 women's titleholder.

For the 28 holes it took her to advance to Wednesday's third round, Miss Goodwin was 3 under par on Congressional's 6,457-yard, 37-37-74 tournament course.

Miss Quast, 21, of Maryville, Wash., was 1 under for 26 holes and Miss Gunderson, 20-year-old Kirkland, Wash., strawberry blonde, 2 over for 28.

Miss Quast again won easily, overwhelming 15-year-old Martha Painter of Corpus Christi, Tex., 7 and 6.

Miss Gunderson was 1 above standard covering 14 holes for the second straight day as she whipped Mrs. C. Lincoln Jewett of the home club, 5 and 4.

Basilio Favored Over Fullmer In Friday Bout

SAN FRANCISCO — Odds ranging from 2-1 to 7-5 Tuesday favored Carmen Basilio over Gene Fullmer on Friday night when they battle at the Cow Palace for the NBA world middleweight boxing title.

"All speculation concerning the date and site are meaningless," Dempsey said before Johansson affixed his signature to the dotted line.

However, with New York apparently out of consideration because of the suspension of the license of Rosenbom Enterprises, Inc., it was believed that Los Angeles had the inside track for the bout. Others thought it might go to Philadelphia, Houston or Miami. Johansson was said to have preferred Los Angeles with its 105,000-seat Coliseum.

"I have accomplished what I came for," said Dempsey who headed the six-man American delegation which flew here to confer with Johansson.

Johansson knocked out Patterson at New York's Yankee Stadium June 26 in the third round. A return bout within 90 days was called for, and was tentatively set for New York next month.

However, Johansson balked because he had not received a financial accounting for the June 26 bout.

16 SENIOR LETTERMEN

A new Iowa record for number of seniors among the football lettermen is set by the 1959 group: 16 of 17. The only junior is guard Mark Manders. It is this lack of juniors which worries the coaches when they look ahead to 1960. The entire squad to 63 athletes has 22 seniors, 11 juniors and the high total of 30 sophomores.
