Red Chinese Slash Production Targets

TOKYO (AP) — Red China slashed its 1959 production goals Wednesday with a confession that its boasts of record-breaking output from farms and factories last year were based on false statistics.

Production figures on China's "great leap forward" in agriculture and industry in 1958 erred seriously on the high side, the Communist party Central Committee disclosed in a broadcast report.

As a result of these errors, plus damage this year from floods and drought, targets for coal, steel, grain, cotton and other industrial and agricultural items are to be adjusted accordingly.

The National People's Congress assented to the revisions, laid before it by Premier Chou En-lai.

The ambitious 525-million-ton grain program for 1959 was slashed almost in half. The new goal is 275 million tons.

Steel production, index of the country's industrialization, drops from its original 18 million tons to 12 million. The committee admitted the highly touted program of making steel in backyard furnaces has been a failure and will be dropped. It said the 3,000,000 tons of steel they turned out "met the requirements of local areas," but not of industry.

Miners got word that 335 million tons of coal will do, instead of the original quota of 360 million tons. Cotton shrank from a quota of 4½ million tons to about 2½ million.

The country's total industrial output value will be adjusted from 165 billion yuan to 147 billion yuan, Chou said. The Chinese consider the yuan worth about 40 U.S. cents.

Investment in capital construction will be reduced from 27 billion yuan to 24,300,000,000 yuan.

The number of big projects to be built this year will be 877 in stead of the planned 1,092.

The Central Committee, meeting in central China earlier this month, blamed inexperience and wrong guesses by state statistical agencies for the enormous errors.

The committee disclosed that Chairman Mao Tze-tung's revolutionary peasant communes project has been attacked within the party itself as "petty bourgeois fanaticism."

Calling for a new campaign to search out and correct his critics, the committee declared "the principal danger now confronting the achievement of a continued leap forward this year is the arising of right opportunist ideas among some cadres."

County's New 'Death Curve' Claims Life In 2-Truck Crash

Johnson County's 12th traffic death of the year was recorded Wednesday when a Des Moines trucker was killed in the head-on collision of two semi-trailers east of Iowa City.

Wayne Lowe Sr., 34, died in the accident which took place on Bothell's Corner, nine miles east of Iowa City on Highway 6. An Iowa City man, Edward P. Organ, 53, 9 E. Harrison St., was injured in the crash, but was listed in good condition by hospital officials late Wednesday afternoon.

Dr. George D. Callahan, Johnson County coroner, said Lowe's death resulted from a skull fracture and other fractures, a lacerated groin and severance of a forehead laceration.

A Super-Value truck driven by Lowe was headed west to unload at Coralville, Organ, driving for Watson Brothers Transportation Company, was traveling east from Iowa City.

The cabs of the two trucks were demolished from the 11 a.m. collision on the corner which was slick from rain.

After the collision, the trucks jackknifed into a grove of trees on the north side of the highway where they came to rest almost touching. The two trailer units tumbled into the highway blocked

Red's Menshikov Optimistic About Ike-Nikita Talks

WASHINGTON (AP) — Soviet Ambassador Mikhail Menshikov said Wednesday "everything is moving in the right direction" in talks on the forthcoming visit of Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

Menshikov gave this report to newsmen after a 20-minute session with Undersecretary of State Robert Murphy.

It was the second meeting between the two in the last 24 hours. They are making precise arrangements for the 13-day Khrushchev visit starting Sept. 15.

To Extend U.S. Nuclear Testing Halt

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower has ordered that America's suspension of nuclear weapons tests be extended beyond Oct. 31 to the end of this year.

Eisenhower acted in view of the six-week recess announced earlier in the day by the Big Three atomic powers negotiating at the Geneva conference on a nuclear test ban.

There has been strong support in some U.S. government quarters to get going again on the tests.

In announcing Eisenhower's order, the State Department did not say whether it now expects a speedy agreement on an international test ban or whether the United States intends to resume tests after Jan. 1, 1960.

The self-imposed halt in U.S. tests was announced Aug. 22, 1958. It was to last one year from the time the Geneva talks between the United States, Britain and the Soviet Union got going. The talks began Oct. 31.

The Soviets have not fired off any atomic shots that Washington has detected since Nov. 3, 1958, shortly after the Geneva parley got under way.

Ike Arrives In Bonn; Meets With Adenauer

Crowd Of 300,000 Greets President

BONN, Germany (AP) — The Germans Dwight D. Eisenhower conquered in 1945 welcomed him back Wednesday night as a stalwart defender and crusader for honorable peace.

For two hours, 300,000 of them cheered the American President along 20 miles of road from Wahn Airport into Bonn. Here he is starting vital discussions among Europe's leaders just before his meeting in Washington with Nikita Khrushchev.

This is perhaps Eisenhower's most critical trouble-shooting mission of all, the crowning effort of his long military-administrative career that will end with his retirement from the presidency after next year.

The German thousands gave him a tumultuous reception and welcomed his renewed pledge that the United States will stand by West Berlin against Communist encroachments.

"I like Ike... I like Ike," the crowds yelled.

The first U.S. president to visit West Germany called the welcome "overwhelming and magnificent."

Cheering thousands massed in the streets of Bonn and its suburbs and lined the road in the open country to the airport where the President's jet liner landed from Washington.

They waved flags and banners and sent up thunderous explosions of applause. The route from the airport became so jammed that the arrival program lagged 45 minutes behind schedule.

Chancellor Konrad Adenauer greeted Eisenhower at the airport and they rode together in an open car into the capital city.

At the airport Eisenhower told the West German leader: "The American people stand by your side."

Adenauer said in these "dangerous and trying times all my countrymen regard the United States more than ever as the standard-bearer of freedom." He expressed thanks to Eisenhower for visiting Bonn.

Crowds broke through police lines during the drive into Bonn and tried to shake the President's hand. He stood up much of the two hours, beaming and waving at the people. At the end of the drive, the car floor was filled with bouquets.

Hundreds of thousands of flags, waved by men, women and children, fluttered in the streets, from buildings, homes and the upper floors of apartments as the motorcade passed.

Along the route, scores of banners and signs — some obviously homemade — met the President's eye.

"Sieburg thanks Ike and Konny (Adenauer)," said one in that town.

"We like Ike and Konny," said another.

Huge photographs of Eisenhower at his desk and others showing him shaking hands with Adenauer stood in store windows.

The flags of the United States and West Germany waved together from light posts.

When the President's silver-and-orange military jet airliner rolled to a halt at the airport, German howitzers nearby began firing a 21-gun salute, the first time any visiting dignitary to Germany has received it.

Eisenhower is the first American president to visit the federal republic. President Harry S. Truman attended the Potsdam conference in 1945 before the republic was formed. Potsdam is in what has become Communist East Germany.

As the President appeared, an explosion of cheers and clapping welled up from the spectators massed around the scene. Eisenhower took off his hat, with a sweeping flourish, and waved. His famous grin flashed and the crowd roared even louder.

In spite of his 9½-hour flight, he looked fresh and rested.

The visit by Eisenhower to West Germany is the first leg of his person-to-person diplomatic venture in Bonn, London and Paris.

Probable Dead In Earthquake Raised To 13

WEST YELLOWSTONE Mont. (AP) — The number of probable dead in southwestern Montana's Aug. 17 earthquake was increased to 13 Wednesday.

The change came when a Red Cross official said it appears Mr. and Mrs. Sydney D. Ballard and their son Christopher, of Nelson, B.C., were engulfed by the tremor-triggered mountainside at Rock Creek campground.

Bodies of nine victims have been recovered. Mrs. Thomas Stowe of Sandy, Utah, also is missing and presumed dead.

Seven persons whose names have been on the unreported list were located alive and safe, the Red Cross said.

They were Mr. and Mrs. Harold Goodman and two sons, listed only as from New York City, and Mrs. Beryle Johnson and sons John, 16, and Peter, 13, of Trenton, N.J.

The Goodmans reported in from Carroll, Iowa, enroute home. Dr. John F. Johnson said at Trenton he had learned his family was in San Francisco at the time of the quake.

The unreported list was cut to 32.

The Red Cross said the number of inquiries at its Bozeman office had dropped to almost none.

Segregationist Alfred's Election Proclaimed Valid

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Dale Alford (D-Ark), Little Rock segregationist, was held Wednesday to have unseated former Rep. Brooks Hays (D-Ark) by a 1,438-vote margin in last November's congressional election.

The House Elections subcommittee, through its chairman, Rep. Robert T. Ashmore (D-SC), reported that after a check of the ballots it found Alford received 30,247 votes to 28,749 for Hays.

It thus slightly increased Alford's winning margin since the official canvass in Arkansas after the election showed Alford winning 30,739 to 29,483 — a margin of 1,256 votes.

Alford, pitching his campaign on the theme that Hays was not firm enough for racial segregation, ran as a last minute write-in candidate. His supporters widely circulated gummed stickers bearing his name and an "x" mark which many voters attached to the ballots.

Hays did not contest the election but said he thought it should be investigated in view of charges of irregularities made by John Wells, publisher of a Little Rock weekly newspaper.

Wells, among other things, challenged the legality of the stickers.

New Mississippi Governor Maps Segregation Plans

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — Gov. — elect Ross Barnett planned segregation strategy conferences with Southern leaders and legislators as he rested Wednesday from a gruelling campaign.

The 61-year-old Jackson attorney, whose uncompromising stand for racial segregation brought him a comfortable victory in Tuesday's Democratic runoff, met with key advisors, but issued no statement.

Barnett hopes to weld Dixie states into a solid group to fight for racial segregation, which he calls divinely instituted and necessary for the preservation of the nation.

BELGRADE (AP) — With an exchange of letters between U.S. Ambassador Karl Rankin and Yugoslav Undersecretary Srđja Prica, the last technically Yugoslav aid to Yugoslavia was completed this week.

Housing Bill Sent To House Floor; Effort To Push Approval

WASHINGTON (AP) — A housing bill President Eisenhower doesn't like was sent to the House floor Wednesday with a take this or nothing tag on it.

The blunt talk came from Rep. Albert Rains (D-Ala.), chairman of the House subcommittee on housing, in asking a go-head from the Rules Committee for floor debate on the Senate-passed measure.

"If we don't pass this bill, there won't be any" housing legislation this year, Rains said, "in spite of what the President says."

However, when the bill comes up Thursday a stiff fight is in prospect over efforts of administration supporters to fashion the measure more to Eisenhower's liking. The committee sent the bill out under procedure permitting unlimited amendment and no more than two hours general debate.

Eisenhower only Tuesday, in a special message to Congress, made a thinly veiled threat to veto the bill, if it is not changed, just as he did an earlier version. The new measure contains most features to which the President objected originally but the cost is pared down from $1,375,000,000 to $1,050,000,000.

The implied veto threat from Eisenhower was his request that Congress vote an increase in Federal Housing Administration loan insurance authority separately from other housing legislation.

"An increase in FHA's loan insurance authority should not be made contingent upon the possibility of approval by the President, after the Congress has adjourned, of legislation which contains features that the administration finds seriously objectionable," the President said.

Eisenhower got a rebuff in another field, his newest urgent request that Congress permit higher interest rates on long-term government bonds.

Speaker Sam Rayburn (D-Tex.) told reporters: he does not expect the House to consider before adjournment legislation, asked by the President, to repeal the 4½ percent interest ceiling on bonds of five years or longer maturity. The Treasury says it cannot compete with other borrowers, who will pay more, and is being forced to turn to short-term borrowing, where there is no interest ceiling.

3 Changes In Highway Routes OK'ed

AMES — The Iowa Highway Commission Wednesday approved applications for three proposed route changes on U.S. highways in the state.

The changes will be submitted to the American Association of State Highway Officials.

One of the changes is an alternate route for U.S. 6, between Dexter and Interstate 35-80, four miles west of Des Moines. The highway presently is designated as Highway 90.

Another change calls for the relocation of U.S. 6 from three miles east of Atlantic to Dexter, along the route of Interstate 80.

The third change is for the relocation of U.S. 75 from Sloan to the south limits of Sioux City, onto Interstate 29. The present highway passes through Sloan and Salix, and along the edge of Sergeant Bluff.

Deputy Chief Engineer L. M. Clanson told the commission that renumbering the roads would lessen the confusion of travelers through Iowa, and also divert more traffic onto the interstate system.

However, some commissioners said they felt putting more than one number designation on the road might lead to confusion, rather than lessen it.

LONG CELEBRATES NO. 64

NEW ORLEANS — Gov. Earl K. Long celebrated birthday No. 64 Wednesday with a visit to his doctors and some efforts to raise campaign contributions for his bid for another term. Long told newsmen in Baton Rouge Tuesday contributions for his campaign have been few and far between.

Quake Hits Mexican Coast; At Least 15 Believed Dead

MEXICO CITY — A heavily destructive earthquake hit the Mexican Gulf Coast area around Coatzacoalcos Wednesday, killing an unknown number and injuring many persons. Whole sections of some towns were demolished.

The town of Jaltipan, 37 miles inland from Coatzacoalcos, appeared to have suffered heavy casualties.

A report from Coatzacoalcos said between 15 and 20 were believed dead there.

Octavio Pavon Remon, mayor of Acayucan, said on his return from Jaltipan at least 60 were injured, an unknown number killed and the town was all but destroyed.

In his own town of Acayucan, the mayor said, 40 persons were injured and 20 per cent of its buildings collapsed. Acayucan is about 10 miles from Jaltipan.

At the port of Coatzacoalcos four docks were destroyed. Four others, twisted and cracked. City officials estimated eight per cent of the city was badly damaged. Seventeen persons were injured.

Seven others were reported hurt in Ninchital across the Coatzacoalcos River.

Man Accused Of Abducting Woman

KNOXVILLE, Iowa — Marion County authorities took into custody Wednesday a man they said forced a woman into a car with him at knife-point.

T. A. Thompson, chief of the State Bureau of Criminal Investigation said the woman was abducted about 3 p.m. Wednesday by a man carrying a knife.

Vern Jones of the Knoxville Police Department identified the woman as Vallora Byers of nearby Harvey. The man was not identified immediately.

Clyde Herring Approved For ICC Position

WASHINGTON — Clyde E. Herring, Iowa Democrat, was approved by the Senate Commerce Committee Wednesday for a place on the Interstate Commerce Commission.

But before his nomination was approved, he was handed an assignment by committee Chairman Warren G. Magnuson (D-Wash.), to find out about the status of a case now before the ICC.

Herring, like two other ICC members up for reappointment, said he had no objection to having members of Congress make inquiries about the status of cases under consideration by the quasi-judicial agency.

Questions about the practice were raised at a hearing on Herring's nomination and the nominations of Howard G. Freas and Abe M. Goff.

All three nominations were approved by the committee and sent to the Senate for confirmation probably Thursday.

A bill under consideration by a Senate Judiciary Subcommittee would bar anyone, including members of Congress, from any private contacts with such agencies. It is an outgrowth of last year's investigation by a House group of pressures on the Federal Communications Commission.

Before the hearing ended, Magnuson said that he had been asked by a prominent member of Congress, whom he didn't identify, to inquire about the status of a case before the ICC.

Magnuson said he had only the name of the case and didn't know what it was about. But he told Herring that he soon would be starting work at the ICC and he thought he would assign him to find out the status of the case.

Herring, a Des Moines lawyer, was the Democratic candidate for governor in 1954. His father was governor of Iowa in the 1930s and later a U.S. senator from the state.

Both of Iowa's Republican senators, Thomas E. Martin and Bourke B. Hickenlooper, supported Herring's appointment.

Herring was nominated to fill out the term of Richard F. Mitchell, of Fort Dodge, who resigned. It expires Dec. 31, 1963.

Bees, Wasps More Deadly Than Snakes

NEW YORK — Afraid of poisonous snakes?

Bees and wasps actually carry a greater kiss of death for Americans.

Poisonous bites killed 215 Americans in 1950-54. Eighty-five died from stings of bees, wasps, hornets, and yellow jackets, compared with 71 killed by snakes. Poisonous spiders killed another 39. Scorpions, sting rays and others did in the rest.

The figures are reported by Dr. Henry M. Parrish of Burlington, Vt., who thinks that previous estimates of bites and stings by venomous animals and insects are far too low.

Many deaths from poisonous bites are very likely erroneously attributed to heart attacks, heart strokes, or other causes, he writes in the American Medical Association "Archives of Internal Medicine."

Rattlesnakes were the most dangerous single species, killing 55 persons, but bees were next most deadly, taking 32 human lives, he says. He analyzed sting and bite deaths recorded by the National Office of Vital Statistics.

2 SUI Seniors Win Scholarships

Two seniors at SUI have been named winners of Western Electric scholarships for the coming year, Helen Reich, SUI scholarship chairman, has announced.

Clark Christensen, a senior in accounting from Walnut, and John W. Ernde, a senior in electrical engineering from Iowa City, will receive $400 scholarships for 1959-60. The grants are based upon ability and need and are awarded upon recommendations of the deans of their respective colleges.

Both recipients are married and live in Iowa City housing.

This is the fourth year that Western Electric has provided two $400 scholarships for SUI students.

States Have Attack Laws, Hoegh Says

WASHINGTON — The Office of Civil and Defense Mobilization (OCDM) said Wednesday 34 states now have laws which provide for passing on government powers if a nuclear attack should cause heavy casualties among top officials.

Leo Hoegh, OCDM director, said similar legislation is pending in nine other states.

"An enemy attack upon us now would find a great many states prepared to survive and preserve their constitutional leadership," he said. "They were not ready a year ago."

Hoegh made the announcement as selected federal employees were winding up the annual Operation Alert civil defense drill at secret relocation centers outside Washington. This test has been in progress since April 17.

The purpose of emergency legislation is to set up lines of succession for officials, preserve essential records and establish relocation sites.

Among the states now having such laws are Illinois, Iowa, Minnesota, Missouri, Nebraska, South Dakota and Wisconsin.

2 Cities Seek Man Accused Of Confidence Game

MOLINE, Ill. — A man accused of operating a confidence game from hospital beds in two cities was sought by police Wednesday.

A warrant was issued for Kenneth Miles after several employees of Moline Public Hospital identified him from a circular as the man who came there earlier this month and said he had fallen from a horse and was in extreme pain.

While awaiting medical attention, the man telephoned separate jewelry stores and ordered a diamond ring, watch and radio. He paid for them with fraudulent checks that totaled $248.50 after they were delivered to his room. Then he checked out of the hospital.

Police in Rochester, Minn., said a man fitting Miles' description operated the same scheme Aug. 6 while he was a patient in St. Mary's hospital.

Miles also is wanted by the FBI and by Jacksonville, Ill., authorities on a charge of passing fraudulent checks in 1957.

SHIPS COLLIDE

Funeral For Fred Ambrose To Be Held Here Friday

Funeral services for Fred W. Ambrose, 66, who was secretary and business manager of SUI from 1944-54, will be conducted Friday at 10:30 a.m. at St. Mary's Catholic Church in Iowa City. Burial will be in the new section of St. Joseph's Cemetery.

The rosary will be recited at 7:30 p.m. today at the McGovern Funeral Home.

Ambrose died at 2 a.m. Wednesday at University Hospital. Cause of his death was severe pulmonary emphysema, complicated by bronchitis.

Ambrose relinquished his duties as secretary and business manager at SUI in 1954 in the interest of his health. Since Dec. 1 of that year he had continued to work for the University as chief of plant utilization and additions, concentrating on efficient and economical utilization of SUI's Physical Plant.

Before coming to SUI, Ambrose was co-architect and superintendent of building and grounds for the University of Wyoming, Laramie.

He held that post from 1926 to 1941. Ambrose served in the U.S. Army during World War I. He was a construction foreman and superintendent for several Wyoming firms before he joined the staff of the University of Wyoming.

Ambrose came to SUI in 1941 as superintendent of the University's Physical Plant.

A native of Stevens Point, Wis., Ambrose was a graduate of Stevens Point State Normal School and attended Stout Institute, Menomonee, Wis. He also studied architecture at the United YMCA Schools.

Ambrose was a member of St. Mary's Church and the Holy Name Society. He served on the Board in Control of Athletics at SUI for many years and on a number of University committees. He belonged to the Rotary Club, Triangle Club, Veterans of Foreign Wars and the Association of Superintendents of Buildings and Grounds. He was a member of the American Legion for 40 years.

Ambrose married Laura Agnes Kearney in Denver, Colo., April 21, 1920. She survives him, as do one son, John Frederic Ambrose of Alexandria, Va., and a granddaughter, Maria Ambrose, 11.

The average user of the mass media must begin to take an interest in the recruiting of new personnel for the media, if the public welfare is to be properly served, Leslie G. Moeller, professor and director of the SUI School of Journalism, said Wednesday in a panel on recruiting at the Association for Education in Journalism Convention at the University of Oregon.

The media need personnel for their information-handling staffs, Moeller said, and most media are now having difficulty getting enough staff members of high capabilities. At the same time, media salary levels must be increased even more rapidly than they have in recent years, he said.

Journalism school enrollments continue relatively unchanged, Moeller said, while demand for graduates increases as new fields of employment open up, and while college enrollment is generally increasing.

SUI Geologist To Study At Moscow U.

Paul Randau, SUI graduate student in geology from Los Altos, Calif., will study in Moscow, Russia, during 1959-60 on an exchange studentship from the Inter-University Committee on Travel Grants.

Randau, who just completed a six weeks intensive Russian language course at the University of Indiana, plans to leave for Moscow in September.

At the University of Moscow he will study with V. E. Ruzhencev, one of the leading scientists on fossil cephalopods, according to William M. Furnish, SUI professor of geology, and A. K. Miller, head of the SUI Geology Department — both of whom are also doing work in this field.

Cephalopods are a subgroup of mollusks which were numerous in the past and are thought to have been the dominant form of life 400 million years ago. Shells of these animals are often preserved in rocks, the age of which geologists can estimate by study of the fossil forms.

One of the classic rock sections occurs in the Ural Mountains and Randau hopes to do work in this area, explained Miller. He will probably join a field group, collect fossil organisms and return them to Moscow for study there.

Randau, who received his B.S. in 1955 from Stanford University, will return to SUI after his year in Moscow to continue his studies of fossil cephalopods.

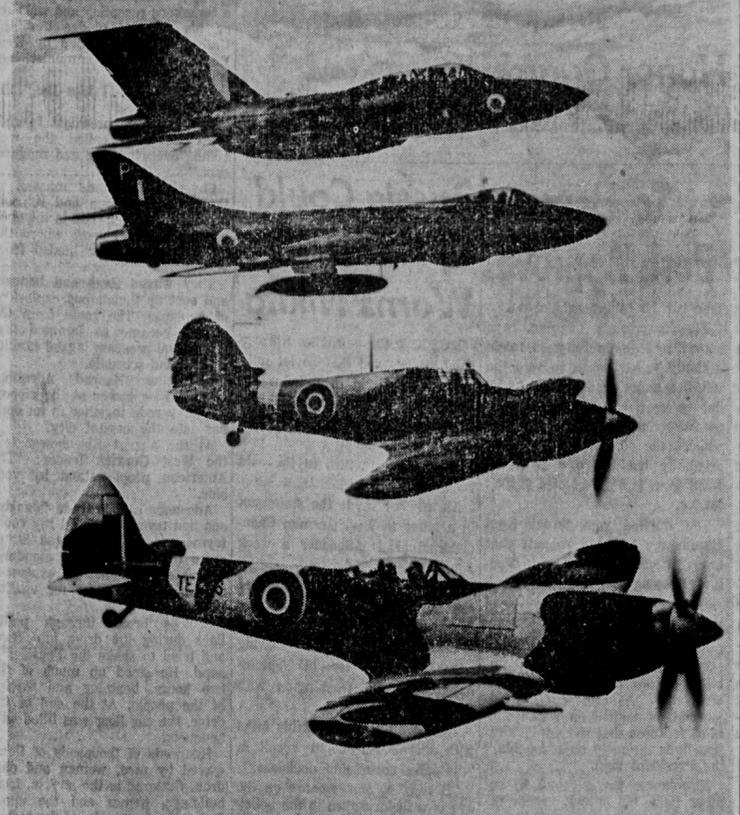

The exchange studentships are administered through Columbia University and last year 22 students from nine American universities studied in the Soviet Union.

Calls For Added Interest In Mass Media Personnel

The average user of the mass media must begin to take an interest in the recruiting of new personnel for the media, if the public welfare is to be properly served, Leslie G. Moeller, professor and director of the SUI School of Journalism, said Wednesday in a panel on recruiting at the Association for Education in Journalism Convention at the University of Oregon.

The media need personnel for their information-handling staffs, Moeller said, and most media are now having difficulty getting enough staff members of high capabilities. At the same time, media salary levels must be increased even more rapidly than they have in recent years, he said.

Journalism school enrollments continue relatively unchanged, Moeller said, while demand for graduates increases as new fields of employment open up, and while college enrollment is generally increasing.

Hoskins In Custody Of Iowa Officers

POTEAU, Okla. — Iowa law enforcement officers Wednesday took custody of Jack Hoskins and started back with him to Rock Rapids where the fugitive faces trial for murder of his estranged wife.

Hoskins, 32, of Ames, was one of three prisoners who broke out of the Lyon County jail at Rock Rapids Aug. 15. He was the last of the trio to be recaptured.

Hoskins was taken by officers south of here Monday. He was turned over Wednesday to Lyon County Sheriff Neal Krohn and other officials who started driving back with him, expecting to reach Rock Rapids late Thursday.

U.S. Answers Laos' Appeal For More Aid

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States met Laos' urgent appeal for more aid Wednesday and accused the Communist world of abetting the use of force against the tiny Southeast Asian kingdom.

The exact amount of new aid was not disclosed.

The State Department announced also an unusual session of the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization will be held here in late September.

While the Laos crisis may be discussed at this session, press officer Lincoln White said that so far as he knew the questions of sending of troops by the United States or SEATO to Laos has not arisen.

Rep. Samuel S. Stratton (D-N.Y.) urged that Marines be sent to Laos and that a carrier task force be stationed in the area.

"This is just one more bit of the old nibbling process that was halted only temporarily in 1954 with the partition of Indochina," said Stratton, a member of the House Armed Services Committee.

The announcement of stepped-up aid came within a day of President Eisenhower's disclosure that Laos, whose northern jungle areas have come under guerrilla-type attack, was seeking more help. The President labeled the matter urgent.

The extended assistance to be speeded to Laos includes a wide range of supplies for Laos forces ranging from small arms to tents. Money also is expected to be earmarked for the pay of additional Laos soldiers.

The specific amounts of aid and types of equipment were not given out. It was reported unofficially that the sum would be sufficient to raise Laos' army from the present 25,000-man level to near the 30,000 men under arms at the time of the signing of the 1954 Geneva armistice ending the Indochina War.

U.S. aid is currently running at the rate of about $30 million a year, about two-thirds of this has been used to pay the Laotian army payroll. The new equipment will go also to the 16,000-man local militia who are used for internal security.

Union Chief Re-Enters Steel Talks

NEW YORK (AP)—Steelworkers' President David McDonald returned to negotiations in the steel strike Wednesday for the first time in almost three weeks but the slow pace of the talks appeared unaffected.

McDonald stopped attending the sessions personally Aug. 7, saying he could use his time better on other union business. Wednesday he met with the steel industry's top negotiators as the steel strike went into its 43rd day. After four hours of talk, federal mediator Joseph Finnegan told newsmen: "The parties promptly got down to a business-like review of the material which the subcommittees had been going over for the past two and a half weeks. By the end of the day a substantial portion of the material had been covered."

Finnegan referred to working out of technical contract language on issues of a non-economic nature. He added that he by no means sees any likelihood of an early settlement of the wage dispute.

Rock Island Duo Charged With Loan Firm Fraud

MOLINE, Ill. (AP)—A couple operating a loan company was arrested late Tuesday on charges of falsifying money—possibly as much as $300,000—from a Chicago finance company.

Frank Hearn, 64, Moline civic leader, and his wife, Blanche, 63, were arraigned before Police Magistrate Lester Eckstrom of nearby Milan and charged with obtaining money under false pretenses from Walter E. Heller & Co. of Chicago.

Each was released on $5,000 bond. The Rock Island County state's attorney, Bernard J. Moran, said the couple, operating Hearn Finance Co., falsified loans to the Chicago firm, which advances money to smaller finance companies on the basis of the securities they post against these loans.

Moran and Robert Greenberg, vice president and general counsel for Heller, said discrepancies were discovered several weeks ago. Greenberg estimated the Moline firm owed Heller Co. about $300,000.

Hearn has been active in a group trying to get a minor league baseball team into the Rock Island-Moline area.

Girl Calmly Faces Truck; Dies Instantly

COACHELLA, Calif. (AP)—A pretty girl in a black party dress stood on a lonely desert road and quietly watched death come.

Despite a warning yell from a motorist—who barely missed hitting her himself—Jean Elizabeth Wood stood in a lane on U.S. Highway 99 and watched a truck roar out of the darkness at her.

It hurled her 110 feet killing her instantly. "It was the worst thing I've ever seen," said the witness, James Frye, 25, of Torrance, Calif. "She just stood there, looking."

There was no car but Frye's anywhere near the desolate spot where Miss Wood, 26, was killed. There were no houses for miles. Coachella, the nearest town, is 20 miles north.

In her purse police found a key to a Riverside hotel room and a driver's license with a nonexistent Riverside address. Riverside is more than 100 miles northwest of here.

The truck driver, Frederick Widemann, Artesia, Calif., said he just felt a thud and stopped. "It happened so fast. Suddenly, there she was in front of me," said Frye. "I slid off the road and into the sand at the shoulder. I couldn't believe it—a girl there in the desert."

"What're you doing?" I shouted. "She just stood there, and sort of looked over at me. I started to get out and grab her, because I saw this truck coming. But there wasn't time. So I started blinking my lights at him."

"I guess he thought I was blinking because I was stuck in the sand. She didn't move. She was looking at the truck when it hit her. It was terrible."

"I couldn't go look at her. The truck driver found her. He wasn't shook up as bad as I was. But then he didn't see her get hit. I did."

16-Year-Old Girl Bleeds To Death In Boat Accident

WINONA, Minn. (AP)—A teenage girl bled to death Wednesday when she cut a boat loose from a dam, the craft bounced, and the knife she held stabbed into her mouth.

Mary Ann Streater, 16, Winona, had gone to the Mississippi River with two girl friends. They tied their boat in the locks while waiting clearance through the locks.

Dr. John Tweedy, coroner, said the boat apparently was tied too low. When the water started rising to allow the boat's passage, the bow was pulled under. Mary Ann leaned over the prow but found she couldn't untie the knot. She took a knife to cut the rope. The boat bounded to the surface and the quick motion thrust the knife into the girl's mouth.

Wife Of Airman Gives Birth To Twins—In Jet Airliner

GANDER, Nfld. (AP)—The 18-year-old wife of an American airman gave birth to twins Wednesday high above the Atlantic in a New York-bound jet airliner.

Airman William B. Stivers of Bethlehem, Ky., and his wife, Judy Ann, had not expected the birth so soon. And they certainly hadn't expected twins.

Two Chinese doctors aboard, Dr. Clarence Ing and his wife, Isabel, attended the mother. Stewardesses Ellen Mandzig and Yolanda Sisto, both of New York, helped.

The pilot, Capt. Ronald A. Bell of Massachusetts, N.Y., radioed the news: "Twins born aboard."

At Gander, an ambulance took Mrs. Stivers and her babies to Banting Hospital. One girl weighed 5 pounds; the other 3 pounds, 7 ounces. Both were placed in incubators and were reported doing fine.

Many single births have taken place on planes landing in Gander, and twins have been born shortly after landing, but this may be the first time that twins have been born aloft.

Dr. J. G. Paton, Gander physician who met Mrs. Stivers, said the girls were half an hour old when they reached the air terminal. He said they were about a month premature, but was unable to say whether the air trip had prompted the early births.

Said Stivers in England: "I'm all shook up."

Regents Accept Sewer Bid For Hawkeye Apts.

DES MOINES (AP)—The State Board of Regents Wednesday accepted a low bid for extension of a sewer in the Hawkeye Apartments at SUI. The bid was $11,427 by Joe Schrader of Bellevue, Iowa.

Surfacing on central parking lot at Iowa State University; E. C. Henningsen, Atlantic, $12,771.80.

Iowa State's proposal to buy three tracts of land west of the school on Highway 30 for the new agronomy and agricultural engineering farm was approved by the regents.

New Small Car On World Market

LONDON (AP)—The British Motor Corp. today launched a new entry in the multimillion-dollar battle for the world market in small cars.

The car can carry up to five adults, go 70 miles an hour, and run 46 miles on a U.S. gallon of gas. It sells abroad for $980 with a fancier version at $1,060.

Two versions are being made, the Austin Seven and the Morris Minimizer.

Attorney General Boosts Barbers

DES MOINES (AP)—A part-time barber can't be denied a state license just because he works odd hours, the attorney general's office ruled Wednesday.

The opinion was in answer to a query from Clyde Kenyon, head of the state barbering division. He said some part-time barbers work such hours as to be unavailable at their shops during inspectors' working hours. This results in no inspection of some of these shops for a long time, Kenyon added.

3rd Pan-American Games To Begin At Chicago Today

CHICAGO (AP) — The third Pan-American Games open today at Soldier Field before 60,000 in this Midwestern metropolis, gripped by a relentless heat wave. From 24 nations — from Canada to Chile and Argentina — have come 2,152 athletes. Competition starts Friday. The United States, with the biggest team, numbering 406, is at Olympic-Games strength and must be favored in almost every sport. Today's ceremonies follow the Olympic pattern — the parade of athletes; the formal proclamation by Dr. Milton Eisenhower opening the games on behalf of his brother, the President; the lighting of the freedom torch by Chicago's Ronald Rodriguez, last Boy Scout runner in a month-long relay that carried the flame from Mexico City; and the release of 5,000 white doves. Chicago has now had eight days of 90-plus weather with considerable humidity and no relief is in sight. It's rough on athletes from South America where the Southern Hemisphere's winter now is in full force. Ray Norton, the San Jose State Negro who is bent on establishing his claim to the title of world's fastest human, will carry the American flag at the head of the host United States team. By tradition it enters the mammoth lake front stadium last of all. The United States never has had a more powerful team for Pan-American competition. The first games in 1951 at Buenos Aires came in what is the American winter time; the 1955 games in Mexico City were in early spring. This time, the American squad was chosen without conflict with college commitments. Among Americans certain to sparkle are Norton; Greg Bell who has come within less than an inch of Jesse Owen's world record in the broad jump; Don Bragg, who has vaulted higher than anyone else but has a heel infection; Al Cantello, who bettered the world javelin record this spring; and Perry O'Brien, the veteran champion of the shot put.

Veella Denies Association With Salerno

NEW YORK (AP) — Vincent Veella, president of Rosensohn Enterprises which promoted the Ingemar Johansson-Floyd Patterson fight, denied Wednesday he was a front man for Anthony (Fat Tony) Salerno and threatened a $5,000,000 damage suit. Veella returned shortly after noon with Jack Dempsey and others from Sweden where a return match between Patterson and the Swedish world heavyweight champion was arranged. "I am not a front man for anyone but myself," Veella, an east Harlem attorney, said. District Atty. Frank S. Hogan Tuesday identified Salerno as the underworld figure behind the June 26 fight won by Johansson. Hogan said Bill Rosensohn, ousted head of Rosensohn Enterprises, told him Salerno had declared that Veella would front for him in the promotion. Hogan said his office has been looking for Salerno for two weeks. Veella said that because of statements made by Rosensohn, he planned to consult attorneys about the possibility of filing a $5,000,000 suit against Rosensohn for defamation of character. He said he recently represented Salerno in a transaction in which Salerno bought a house and needed money, which was borrowed from a bank. Veella said he had saved the $25,000 used in the fight promotion himself since 1929 and withdrew it from a bank account. He said that if Salerno had anything to do with the fight, it wasn't through him.

CLEVELAND (AP) — Rocky Colavito, Cleveland's clutch slugger, slammed an eighth inning home run off New York's Ryne Duren to break a 4-4 tie Wednesday night and power the Indians to a 5-4 victory over the Yankees. It was Cleveland's eighth straight triumph.

The 38th homer for Colavito gave him the major league lead in that department. It was his ninth round tripper against the Yanks, whom he beat with two homers the previous night.

The crowd of 31,800 fans went wild when Colavito's drive cleared the left field fence. The winning string is Cleveland's longest of the season.

Elston Howard drove in three Yankee runs with a home run and a double off Cleveland starter Gary Bell. Jim Perry came in with two out in the eighth inning and picked up the win. Duren took the loss.

The Yanks threatened in the ninth when pinch hitter Enos Slaughter led off with a double, but Perry retired the next three hitters.

Tigers 3, Senators 2

DETROIT (AP) — Eddie Yost's lead-off home run in the first inning provided Detroit with the margin of victory Wednesday in a 3-2 decision over the Washington Senators. Winning pitcher Jim Bunning needed some strong relief help in the eighth inning when the Senators scored both their runs. Bunning had yielded only one hit — a looping single to right field by Ken Aspromonte in the second inning — until he ran into trouble in the eighth.

A walk to Aspromonte started it. Jim Lemon's pinch single kept the rally alive and Bunning loaded the bases on a walk to Bob Allison.

Julio Bequer drove in a pair of runs with a single and routed Bunning. Southpaw Pete Burnside worked the Tigers out of the bases-loaded jam, and Dave Sisler, with an assist from Tom Morgan, got the side out in the ninth. Bunning struck out 11 and walked five. Washington ..... 000 000 020-2 4 0

CHICAGO (AP) — The Boston Red Sox reversed Chicago's dramatic script Wednesday night and nipped the White Sox 7-6, Cleveland's first place lead over Chicago to one game.

The White Sox, who had won 30 of 38 one-run games this season, were leading 2-1 going into the seventh inning behind their star hurler, Early Wynn, when Boston exploded for four runs. The White Sox never fully recovered.

Two more runs by the Red Sox in the eighth put the game out of reach for the White Sox, even though they crawled back in their half of the inning to within one run on Jim Rivera's bases-loaded double.

KANSAS CITY (AP) — The Baltimore Orioles blasted out a 6-3 victory over the Kansas City Athletics Wednesday night with home runs by Bob Nieman, Brooks Robinson and Willie Tasby.

Manager Paul Richards used two of his 20-year-old pitchers, Jerry Walker and Milt Pappas, to hold the Athletics in check. Walker started and got credit for his ninth victory against seven defeats. ## Olmedo Tangles With Fraser In Davis Cup Opener Friday

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP) — Peruvian Alex Olmedo, who almost singlehandedly wrested the Davis Cup from Australia last year opens the United States' defense of the famed Tennis Trophy Friday at the West Side Tennis Club.

The phlegmatic Wimbledon champion will meet Neale Fraser, Australia's experienced No. 1 performer, in the opening singles match. The second match sends Barry MacKay, the giant cannonballer from Dayton, Ohio, against the new whiz of Australian tennis, left-handed Rod Laver, runner-up to Olmedo at Wimbledon.

This is the way the names were drawn from the gleaming Davis Cup in the official draw Wednesday. Rival captains immediately predicted victory while conceding that the result of the three-day, five-match series may swing on the crucial opening match. "The winner of the first match will win the series," said the U.S. captain, Perry Jones of Los Angeles. "That, of course, will be Olmedo and I think he will go on to sweep the series, 5-0."

Harry Hopman, who has captained seven winning Aussie teams in the last nine years, was more reserved but not less assured. "I am confident we will win," he said. "I look for it to be 3-2."

The doubles will be played Saturday, with Australia's Wimbledon and U.S. champions Fraser and Roy Emerson favored over the United States' Olmedo and 18-year-old Earl Buchholz Jr., of St. Louis. In Sunday's final singles, Olmedo will play Laver and MacKay in that order.

CINCINNATI (AP) — Reliever Dave Hillman limited Cincinnati to two hits over the last six innings Wednesday night while the Chicago Cubs clobbered the Reds hurling corps for 17 hits and a 9-5 victory.

The triumph gave the Cubs undisputed possession of fifth place in the National League.

The Cubs' barrage of hitting included a triple and five doubles, two of them by the veteran Irv Noren who drove in three runs. Tony Taylor had two singles, a double and the triple.

The Reds shelled Cubs starter Glen Hobbie for a 5-2 lead in the first three innings but they were helpless against Hillman the rest of the way.

The Cubs knocked out Cincinnati's starter Jay Hook in the third but did their heaviest damage against relievers Orlando Pena and Brooks Lawrence.

Basilio Unworried Over 6-Pound Weight Deficit

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Despite all the talk about weight advantages in boxing these days, Carmen Basilio remains unruffled over the matter of a half dozen or so pounds. He's expected to be that much lighter than Gene Fullmer on Friday night when the two battle at the Cow Palace over a scheduled 15 rounds for the NBA version of the world middleweight championship. "I like to fight heavier opponents," insists Basilio who in the past has been holder of the welterweight and middleweight crowns. "The bigger guys provide a better target. They're not as fast nor as cute as welterweights." The union farmer from Chittenango, N.Y., says he expects to scale "somewhere between 153 and 155 but it doesn't make any difference." Fullmer, also a former world 160-pound titlist, probably will scale 159 for the weigh-in and then add a couple of pounds before the start of the nationally televised bout.
