House Passes Labor Bill; Ike's OK Almost Certain

Compromise Approved By 352-52 Vote

End 2-Session Congressional Fight

WASHINGTON (AP) — By a lopsided vote of 352-52, the House Friday passed and sent to President Eisenhower a bill fulfilling his demand for stern measures to fight racketeering in labor unions.

This ended a battle that raged over two congressional sessions and saw some of the most intense lobbying ever conducted by union and management groups. The compromise passed the Senate 95-2 Thursday night.

On the final House vote, 211 Democrats and 138 Republicans voted for passage. Opposed were 51 Democrats and a single Republican — Rep. Paul A. Fino of New York.

To the bitter end, House members argued over whether the compromise — patterned along the lines of the original House bill — is a union-buster.

Rep. Robert P. Griffin (R-Mich.) co-author of the original House measure, told the House the compromise "is a bill which will permit honest unions to grow."

Chairman Graham A. Barden (D-NC) of the House Labor Committee said the compromise, as fashioned by a Senate-House conference committee, "will be approved by the American people, and it's going to be approved by the labor rank and file."

But Rep. John F. Shelley (D-Calif.), who unsuccessfully sponsored a bill backed by the AFL-CIO in an earlier stage of the fight, denounced the compromise as "skulduggery perpetrated by those who over the years have fought labor."

Rep. Roy W. Wier (D-Minn.) said "it is an antiunion bill, call it what you will."

Labor union leaders fought the original House bill and opposed the milder Senate version as well. And they are unhappy about the compromise, although it contains some things organized labor has sought. They contend it does not meet their test of anticorruption legislation without antilabor provisions.

Much of the impetus for this new labor control legislation came from Senate racket investigations which centered largely on the activities of Teamsters Union President James R. Hoffa.

After the House completed action on the bill Friday, Hoffa put out a statement saying: "The labor bill is the biggest hoax ever put across on the American worker. It claims to deal with corruption, but in fact it is primarily aimed at destroying the hard-won rights of American labor to win and maintain a decent standard of living."

There is little, if any, doubt that Eisenhower will sign the compromise, which comes close to his recommendations for strict labor control measures to cope with union corruption.

The bill as sent to the White House spells out new safeguards for the rights of union members, requirements for financial reporting by unions and employers, measures intended to insure democratic elections in unions, and other provisions aimed at preventing labor leaders from abusing their offices.

It also bans secondary boycotts involving neutral third parties in labor disputes, outlaws what is termed blackmail picketing, and restricts the practice of organizational picketing.

On another important point, it sets up a way for states to handle labor disputes that the National Labor Relations Board refuses to consider. These disputes, falling between federal and state jurisdiction in the past, have been called "no-man's land" cases.

58-36 Vote In Senate—

Ike's Housing Bill Veto Upheld

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower vetoed the second-try billion-dollar housing bill Friday as far too costly and once again the Senate upheld his veto.

The vote was 58 to override and 36 to sustain the veto. This was five votes shy of the two-thirds needed to override. It was Eisenhower's 145th veto; he has never been overridden.

The margin compared with the 55-40 vote on Aug. 12 to override Eisenhower's veto of a more costly bill, estimated at $1,375,000,000. That margin was nine votes short.

Friday's veto was on a bill trimmed to $1,050,000,000 by its sponsors' estimate and amounting to a potential $1,769,000,000 by the administration's figuring.

The Senate vote made House action unnecessary.

Eisenhower said, in a veto message rushed here from Paris:

"Clearly this bill, like its predecessor, goes too far.

"It calls for the spending of more than 1 1/2 billion of taxpayers' dollars for housing and related programs over and above the vast expenditures to which the federal government is already committed for these purposes."

The debate on whether to override was tinged with bitterness. Sen. John Sparkman (D-Ala.), the Democrats' No. 1 man on housing, declared before the vote was taken that if the veto were not overridden, "it is my earnest judgment that there will be no housing bill this year."

Sen. Clinton P. Anderson (D-NM) asked why Sparkman and other backers of the legislation kept on including items the President won't approve — "why keep bumping into a stone wall?"

"We've met him more than half way," Sparkman said. He added he felt at times a sense of absolute futility in trying to do business with Eisenhower on housing.

On the other hand, Sen. Frank J. Lausche (O-Ohio) said Eisenhower refused to accept "bad things in a good package and I commend him for it."

Eisenhower's veto message singled out two new programs proposed by the bill "at a time when critical national needs heavily burden federal finances" as certain to "cost huge sums in the future."

One would have the federal government make direct loans to colleges for classrooms and related facilities and equipment.

The other would have the federal government make direct loans for housing for elderly persons "despite the fact that a program is already in operation and working well."

India The Aggressor In Border Skirmishes, Argue Red Chinese

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — Red China has countered India's charge of border aggression by calling India the aggressor. Indian patrols, it declared, have entered Tibet.

Prime Minister Nehru disclosed this Friday and said, "There is a big argument over it."

He told Parliament his government will issue within the next week a White Paper — an official report — on the tense border situation, including correspondence with the Chinese. He said the countercharge was made in a fairly long note that arrived from Peiping Thursday.

"They accuse us of aggression against their — Tibetan — border," he said. "Obviously their version does not tally with ours. They have given the names of some places where they said the aggression took place and we are looking into it."

He said he fails to understand the Chinese border attacks.

"I don't know whether it is local aggressiveness to show us our place or something deeper," he said.

Among other developments:

1. A rightist political leader of Nepal, Rana Mrigendra, charged that Red Chinese agents are infiltrating that neighborhood kingdom by posing as Tibetan refugees. He said their assignment is to distribute Communist literature and combat the sympathy of Nepalese tribesmen for Tibetans.

2. Kushak Bakul, Indian Kashmir's minister for the affairs of Ladakh province, declared in Srinagar that the Chinese Communists have fixed November "for their advance on Ladakh." It is a frontier area first invaded by Chinese patrols in 1957.

3. From Leh, the Ladakh province capital, came a report that the Chinese are building bases, including airports, at the Tibetan towns of Rudolk and Gartok.

Under the plan, the union will bring to New York about 450 men who are its bargaining agents with the individual companies.

The 12 companies also will bring in negotiating teams to deal with their union opposite numbers in 12 separate meetings.

Perhaps coincidentally, the new procedure was adopted in the wake of two high-level pronouncements concerning the strike.

Charles M. White, chairman of Republic Steel Corp., said in Cleveland Friday the walkout may result in permanent loss as part of the domestic market to foreign producers — "at the expense of the American steel industry and American steelworkers."

Labor Secretary James P. Mitchell said Thursday night, also in Cleveland, that the negotiation had reached a critical stage.

He noted that both sides recently took a five-day recess to reassess their positions and said he believed the talks Thursday and Friday would produce "some movement or forward progress toward a settlement."

Neither R. Conrad Cooper, U.S. Steel executive vice president and top industry negotiator, nor David J. McDonald, president of the Steelworkers, commented on the possible significance of the new bargaining procedure.

The industry wants a one-year freeze on improvements in wages and benefits. They contend an increase in labor costs could lead to an inflation-spurring increase in steel prices.

The union has asked a substantial but unspecified wage increase and other benefits. It contends they could be provided out of profits and productivity without a steel price increase. Prestrike earnings averaged $3.11 an hour.

Decision Of The Moment

Ike Invites De Gaulle To America

TURNBERRY, Scotland (AP) — President Eisenhower went golfing in Scotland Friday after renewing an invitation to French President Charles de Gaulle to visit the United States "before too long."

The invitation was contained in a letter Eisenhower wrote just before he left Paris to fly to Scotland in the morning.

In a gesture of extreme warmth toward De Gaulle, Eisenhower followed the letter with a message radioed from his jet plane saying: "We in the U.S. government will deem it a great privilege to maintain close contact with you and your government."

Texts of the letter and radio message were disclosed by White House press secretary James C. Hagerty in Scotland.

While Hagerty was holding a news conference in Ayr, the President was finishing his first 18 holes of golf at the Ailsa course in Turnberry.

The President shot an 89, 18 over par. It was the first time he had seen the tough championship course laid out along the edge of the Scottish coast.

The President flew to Scotland, and another big welcome from the people for three days of rest and golf after a strenuous set of conferences in West Germany, Britain, and France. The talks were a prelude to his coming exchange of visits with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

He moved into a 16-room apartment at Culzean Castle, lavish rooms which were given to him for life by the Scottish people for his leadership in World War II.

Hagerty said the President plans to start the return flight to Washington Monday morning.

Senators Cross Swords Over Civil Rights Commission Report

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senators crossed swords Friday over a report of the Civil Rights Commission that has not yet been officially released.

Sen. Strom Thurmond (D-S.C.) said proposals made in the report would have "the federal government further rape the rights of the states and the people."

But Sen. Kenneth B. Keating (R-N.Y.) said "the commission's part are very moderate."

He called the report "a balanced, well-documented analysis of the legal and moral problems in the way of realizing equality under the law."

Both Thurmond and Keating issued statements that disclosed some of the proposals in the report, which the commission has scheduled for release next Tuesday.

Some members of Congress obtained advance copies of the commission's controversial findings and recommendations amid growing signs that Senate leaders have given up hope of fighting out the civil rights issue before adjournment.

One well-placed source said the strategy now is simply to try to extend the life of the Civil Rights Commission and put off a battle over other proposals until Congress returns next January.

Thurmond said the report makes recommendations in the field of voting, education and housing but that it is not unanimous.

"The most obnoxious and vicious proposals do not even carry the support of a majority of the commissioners," he said.

The commission, created by the 1957 Civil Rights Act, is composed of six members — three from the North and three from the South.

Emergency Force Asked To Halt Reds

North Viet Nam Called Aggressor

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold Friday night started setting up a U.N. Security Council session Sunday or Monday on Laos' request for emergency force against Communist aggression.

A U.N. Spokesman announced the action a bit over seven hours after Laos officially accused Communist North Viet Nam of aggression and asked for a U.N. force to stop it.

Hammarskjold acted in Rio De Janeiro, where he stopped midway of a hurried flight back to New York from a curtailed South American tour.

He dealt with the 11-nation council through his American executive assistant, Andrew W. Cordier.

The spokesman met correspondents shortly after 5 p.m. and told them: "The secretary general cabled from Rio before his departure instructing his executive assistant, Mr. Cordier, formally to approach the president of the Security Council, suggesting that the president consult with his colleagues on the council with a view to calling a meeting of the council Sunday or Monday."

The council president this month is Ambassador Egidio Ortona of Italy.

"Mrs. Cordier talked with Ambassador Ortona a half hour ago on the telephone," the spokesman said, "and is sending him a letter confirming the conversation."

Foreign Minister Khamphan panya submitted Laos' request to Hammarskjold through the Laotian delegation. He asked "the appropriate procedure against actions of the Ho Chi Minh regime, which is not a N.N. member."

Hammarskjold, visiting Brazil, arranged to fly back to New York overnight. He will arrive late Saturday, 24 hours earlier than the scheduled windup of his two-week South American tour.

If the Soviet Union should veto Council action, the General Assembly could be called into emergency session within 24 hours by a vote of any seven of the 11 Council members.

The Assembly is empowered to recommend that member countries use armed force to maintain or restore international peace.

Thephathay Vilaihoons, of the Laotian delegation, handed his foreign minister's letter to Cordier.

It said that since July 16, foreign troops with "reinforcements from outside in personnel and in supplies of food and ammunition" have been fighting royal Laotian army garrisons on the northeastern frontier, forcing them to abandon many posts.

"On the 30th of August," it went on, "a new attack surpassing in violence those previously encountered was launched against the posts of Muong Het and Xieng Kho with the participation of elements coming from the Democratic Republic of Viet Nam and supported by artillery fire based on the other side of the frontier."

"In the face of this characterized aggression, for which the Democratic Republic of Viet Nam bears full responsibility, Laos requests the assistance of the United Nations organization of which it is a member."

"In particular, the royal government requests the sending in the shortest possible time of an emergency force in order to stop the aggression and prevent it from spreading."

The U.S. delegation here said it is conferring with the State Department, "which is giving the matter urgent study."

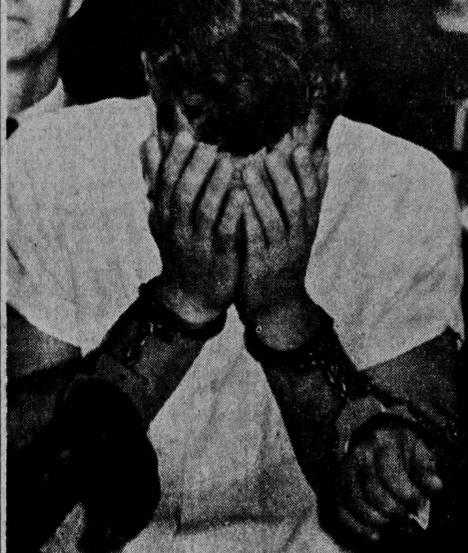

A State Department press officer at Washington commented: "Our support for the Laotian government is clearly evidenced, but I can not say what form it will take at this time."

The United States is now giving Laos light military equipment and helping train Laotian troops.

In London, a Foreign Office spokesman said Britain is not prepared to discuss what attitude it will take when the matter comes up in the U.N.

5 DIE IN FIRE

SAUMUR, France (AP) — Five firemen perished in a fire that blazed across hundreds of acres of forest and scrub near here Friday. The fire started when a farmer started burning dry grass.

Anybody Know John Doe?

His arms are chained to the arms of two other prisoners. He has refused to give his name since he was arrested two months ago on a charge of transporting a stolen car from Carlisle, Pa. Since then he has been called "John Doe," the name traditionally used in legal matters for unknown persons. He is about 6 feet tall, muscular and has dark hair. —AP Wirephoto.

Government Enters Packers' Negotiations To Halt Strike

CHICAGO — A federal mediator called union and management negotiators into session Friday in a final effort to keep a strike in the meat industry from spreading.

The strike, against Swift & Co., the nation's largest packer, halted operations at the company's plants in 34 cities. Some 17,000 union packerhouse workers struck to enforce demands for higher wages and other benefits.

A strike against Wilson & Co., another major packer employing 6,500 union members, was set to commence at 12:01 a.m. Friday along with the strike against Swift but a short time later was called off for 24 hours to permit further talks.

Commissioner Douglas D. Brown of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service went into a meeting with representatives of Wilson and the two unions involved, the United Packinghouse Workers of America and the Amalgamated Meat Cutter and Butcher Workmen, to try to effect an agreement.

The unions are seeking a new contract with Swift and Wilson patterned after one signed with Armour & Co. Monday that granted increased pay and benefits totaling 22 cents an hour for 14,000 workers.

Wilson has plants in seven cities. Late Friday the unions announced signing of an agreement with Oscar Mayer Co. covering 4,500 workers in plants in Madison, Wis., and Davenport, Iowa. The agreement, the unions said, provides at least the same benefits as those in the Armour pact plus some other improvements.

Contract talks with the nation's packers started in July. Only Swift and Wilson, among the major packers, have not reached a settlement with the unions.

Major packers with whom agreements were signed are Armour, Cudahy Packing Co., John Morrell & Co., Rath Packing Co., Hygrade Food Products Corp. and George A. Hormel Co.

Texas Man, 116, Claims To Be Last Civil War Vet

AUSTIN, Tex. — Texas officials stood solidly Friday behind Walter Williams' claim that he is the last surviving veteran of the Civil War.

"They'll have an awfully hard time trying to prove he wasn't a Confederate veteran," said Charles Morris, veterans affairs commissioner in summing up sentiment here.

"Those Yankees just think they've killed all us Confederates off," retorted Miss Ethel Everitt, who heads the Confederate Pension Fund here.

Williams, 116 by his calculations, is in a near coma in Houston. A writer for Scripps-Howard Newspaper, Lowell K. Bridwell, said Williams is "a Confederate veteran only in his memory-clouded mind."

State officials point trustingly to a yellowing document submitted in 1932 by Williams and a county judge. It put him on the pension rolls at $25 a month for himself and his wife. Texas now pays him $300 a month.

The sworn document states he was born Nov. 14, 1846, served about five months with Gen. John B. Hood's Texas Brigade and about six months with Quantrill's Raiders before the war ended.

Williams' daughter, Willie Mae Bowles who lives with him, said she had 40 or 50 letters from people who said their fathers served in the Confederate Army with Williams.

Radio Series On Safety Made Here

"Car Sense," a new dramatic series of radio programs on traffic safety, has been produced by radio station WSUI in cooperation with the Iowa Department of Public Safety in an effort to reduce the highway accident toll. The four programs have been distributed to every radio station in the state.

Each of the five-minute programs dramatizes a traffic safety message. One is an interview with a young man whose life has been completely changed as the result of an accident. The 25-year-old, who is paralyzed from the collarbone down, tells of the "social pain" as well as the physical suffering he has experienced during his eight years in a wheelchair.

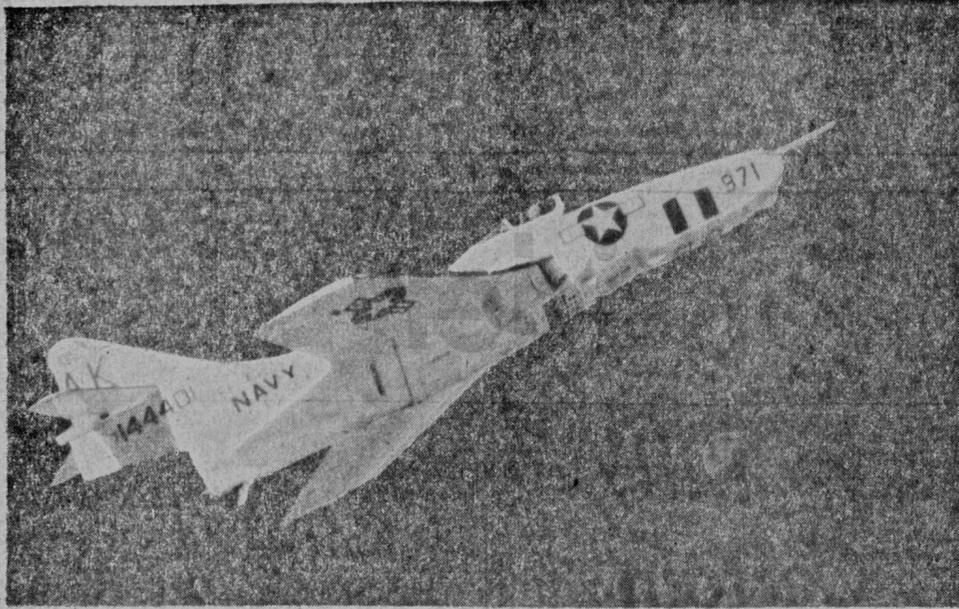

Another is an interview with Dr. W. D. Paul, who supervises the rehabilitation unit at University Hospitals and attempts to make life liveable for those who have been injured on the highway. Dr. Paul stresses the effects of injury on the family of the person injured as well as on the individual himself. The program warns, "The life you save may not be your own."

A third program is an interview, done in a jail cell, with a man who recently led peace officers on a wild and extremely dangerous chase. He tells why he feels lucky to be alive — even in jail — and warns, "Reckless driving can wreck your life."

In the fourth program Ansel J. Chapman, Iowa City police court judge, presents the address he traditionally makes to offenders before him at the opening of court. He reminds listeners of the 40,000 killed and near million injured on America's highways last year.

"The tragedy is not that these things happen but that they happen needlessly," says Judge Chapman, suggesting that "to obey the law is to protect your life."

This is the third consecutive year that WSUI has produced a series of traffic safety programs. The station won the National Safety Council's 1957 Public Interest Award for exceptional effort in traffic accident prevention.

Fronzizi Gives In To Army Threat; Reinstates General

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina — President Arturo Fronzizi bowed to the demands of dissident army leaders Friday and brought back as army commander-in-chief the general who was fired three days ago.

The reappointment of Gen. Carlos Toranzo Montero apparently quelled a threatened revolt by military chiefs.

The fast reshuffle also brought the resignation of Elvio Anaya as secretary of war. He was succeeded by Gen. Rodolfo Larcher, a friend of Toranzo Montero and his army supporters.

Toranzo Montero Thursday night defied Anaya's orders with the backing of what he claimed was 95 per cent of all Argentine army officers.

The stocky, 57-year-old general said he would order only "normal measures" in reasserting his post. He added that a few military chiefs would be retired.

A worn-looking Fronzizi declined to talk with reporters when he left Government House late Friday.

Several commanders of interior army garrisons who were backers of Anaya moved to resign their commissions. They are to be replaced by commanders considered close to Toranzo Montero, thereby bringing about the reshuffle he demanded and which caused his dismissal.

Winnie Nominated For New Theater Group Secretary

John R. Winnie, associate professor of speech and dramatic arts at SUI, has been nominated by the University to succeed Ronald Gee as executive secretary of the newly formed Iowa Community Theater Association (ICTA).

Gee, who has served as executive secretary of the association since its founding last September in Des Moines, has accepted a position at Western Illinois University at Macomb.

Each of the 13 member groups of ICTA has been invited to send three delegates to the first annual meeting to be held at the Des Moines Playhouse Sept. 18-19. Following a play reading by the Des Moines Community Theatre and the Des Moines Drama Workshop, the board of directors will act on the nomination of Winnie and elect officers and directors for the coming year.

The object of the association is to provide means for improving work of existing community theatres in the state and to offer help in establishing new theatre groups to individuals in any Iowa community wishing to promote such a project.

Though plans for the meeting in Des Moines are not complete, sessions are scheduled on community theatre organization, technical production and design, play selection, staging for the arena theatre, directing, and recruiting theatre personnel. Arnold Gillette, professor of dramatic art at SUI and director of the University Theatre, will give an illustrated lecture on stage design.

Winnie is a graduate of Cornell College, Mt. Vernon, and Mason City Junior College and received a master of fine arts degree from SUI. He also studied dramatics at the Royal Academy of London. Prior to his appointment to the SUI faculty in 1950, Winnie was a member of the faculty at the University of California at Los Angeles.

Born in Clear Lake, Winnie has served as director of little theatre groups in Des Moines, Mason City, St. Paul, Minn., Williams Bay, Wis., and Youngstown, Ohio.

Iowa's Carter Under Treatment At Naval Hospital

WASHINGTON — Rep. Steven V. Carter (D-Iowa) reported Friday he has had two blood transfusions to build up his strength. He also has received X-ray treatments on the back of his neck.

The X-rays, he said, are part of the regular treatments given any patient who has suffered from cancer such as himself. They were not, he said, given because of a new outbreak of the disease.

The 43-year-old Iowan entered Bethesda Naval Hospital last week for a blood test and remained for treatment when it was found that his blood platelet count was low. Platelets control the ability of blood to coagulate.

"I feel a good deal stronger than I have all summer," Carter said in a telephone interview from his hospital room.

He reported that doctors have given him two pints of whole blood in transfusions in addition to dextrose and vitamins to build up his strength.

He was hospitalized more than two weeks at the same hospital in February for a series of deep X-ray treatments for cancer. He originally was treated for cancer in 1957.

Carter returned to the House floor on Wednesday to cast his vote to override President Eisenhower's veto of the public works appropriation bill. The vote was one short of the required two-thirds majority needed to override. He then returned to the hospital.

Carter said he probably will remain in the hospital until next Tuesday.

Harding, Ex-Head Of Anesthesiology At SUI, Succumbs

Dr. Lewis W. Harding, 93, organizer and long-time head of the Department of Anesthesiology at University Hospitals, died in Lexington, Ky., Tuesday after a long illness.

Dr. Harding graduated from the SUI Medical School in 1890 and began his practice in Solon. He came to SUI in 1912 and headed the Anesthesiology Department until 1930.

At the time of his death, he was living in Lexington with his son, Dr. Donnan B. Harding.

Survivors include his son; a daughter, Merle Harding, New Orleans, La.; three grandchildren and three great-grandchildren. His wife preceded him in death in 1918.

Funeral services were held in Lexington. The body was cremated and the remains will be returned to Iowa City for burial.

BATISTA TO EXILE LISBON, Portugal — Fulgencio Batista, former president of Cuba; will leave for Madeira, his island of exile, Monday. He has booked passage for himself, his family and members of his suite.

Rock Island Tollman Pleads Guilty

ROCK ISLAND, Ill. — The first assistant chief toll collector on the Rock Island Centennial Bridge pleaded guilty Friday to a part in an alleged wholesale embezzlement of tolls.

Ten other collectors have asked dismissal of charges against them.

The U.S. Government alleged the collectors conspired to defraud the Government and pocketed between $100,000 and $750,000 in tolls over a 20-year period.

The assistant chief collector, Thomas M. Downs of Rock Island, pleaded guilty in U.S. District Court and the judge referred the plea to the Federal Probation Department for investigation.

The heavily-traveled toll bridge links Rock Island with Davenport, on the other side of the Mississippi River.

Build Underground Missile Shelters

The Defense Department in Washington Friday released this picture of construction on deep silo-like underground shelters being constructed at Vandenberg Air Force Base, Calif. They will be used to house Titan intercontinental missiles. The missiles are about 90 feet in length. The huge circular units are designed, according to the Air Force, to protect the missiles in case of enemy attack on the base. Each silo holds one missile. —U.S. Air Force Photo via AP Wirephoto.

Senate Money Group Approves House-Passed Gasoline Tax Bill

WASHINGTON — The Senate Finance Committee Friday approved the House-passed bill raising the federal gasoline tax from 3 to 4 cents a gallon to keep the nation's road-building program going. The only change the committee made in the measure was to change the effective date of the tax increase to Oct. 1 this year. The House bill carried an effective date of Sept. 1.

Girl Saves Life Of 'Only Little Sister She's Got'

ST. PAUL, Minn. — A girl, 10, applied mouth-to-mouth respiration to save the life of her baby sister Thursday night.

Joyce Gibson, 2, ill with a high fever, stopped breathing and became limp following a convulsion. Her sister, Linda Kay, breathed into the tot's mouth for five to 10 minutes.

"Once in a while she'd gasp a little and then stop breathing again so I kept it up," Linda Kay said. "I was crying a little bit but I kept telling myself, 'Joyce is the only little sister you've got.'"

Mrs. Eugene Gibson, the girls' mother, meanwhile was on the phone calling police and a doctor. By the time help arrived, Joyce was breathing regularly.

The penny-a-gallon increase would be in force until July 1, 1961. Before approving the bill, the committee rejected five alternative financing solutions offered by its members.

Sen. Albert Gore (D-Tenn.) said some of these would be pressed when the measure is taken up in the Senate, probably early next week. Gore opposes the gas tax increase, preferring instead his plan to divert a portion of all appropriations to the highway program.

The higher gas tax would yield an estimated one billion dollars more for construction work on the projected 41,000-mile network of superhighways.

The Senate group voted on the bill after a one-day hearing in which Eisenhower administration officials accepted the bill although they objected to some of its provisions.

New Playground Director Named

Khrushchev To Visit Peiping After Return From U.S. Trip

MOSCOW (AP) — Premier Nikita Khrushchev disclosed Friday night he is going to Peiping Sept. 29, the day after he returns from his visit to the United States.

His aim clearly is to keep Red China's Communist government fully informed of his talks with President Eisenhower.

Khrushchev told of his plans for the trip, without discussing the purpose, in a chat with Poland's Premier Jozef Cyrankiewicz and other officials at a reception opening the Polish industrial exhibition in Moscow.

This will be his second visit to Peiping in little more than a year. His four-day conference with Mao Tse-tung there last summer was followed by a switch in Soviet tactics toward a summit conference.

Khrushchev had accepted a Western proposal for a meeting of government chieftains within the framework of the U.N. Security Council on the 1958 Mideast crisis.

He appeared ready to go to New York for such a meeting.

After his return from Peiping the Soviet Union unceremoniously shifted ground to put the crisis in the hands of the U.N. General Assembly. Western diplomats regarded this as a major retreat and Khrushchev's first serious public setback.

They said they saw in it a strengthening of the position of the Soviet Union and within the Kremlin who advocated a tougher line toward the West.

House Passes Bill To Raise Bond Interest

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Friday passed a bill allowing the Treasury to increase the interest rate on "E" and "H" savings bonds from 3 1/4 to 3 3/4 per cent.

The measure now goes to the Senate.

By its action, the House went along only partly with President Eisenhower's request for legislation in this field.

Eisenhower asked also for lifting of the present 4 1/2 per cent ceiling in the interest rate on marketable government bonds maturing in five years or longer. He said this should be done so the Treasury can compete against other borrowers for funds in the money market.

Although the bill merely authorizes a rise to 3 3/4 per cent on savings bonds, the Treasury has announced it intends — if given the authority — to make that rate effective as of June 1 for the 40 million holders of 50 billion dollars in outstanding bonds.

The bulk of outstanding savings bonds are of the "E" variety, bought at a discount and maturing at a stated period. Hundred dollar bonds, for example, are bought at $75.

Legislative Group Finishes Hearing On Social Welfare

DES MOINES (AP) — A legislative committee to study social welfare problems in Iowa including the nursing and custodial home situation—completed two days of hearings here Friday.

Earlier, Sen. Jack Schroeder (R-Davenport) had asked the committee to investigate the licensing of the state's nursing and custodial homes and whether these institutions met safety and sanitation requirements.

"We've done more in the last two days to clear the air on Iowa's welfare programs than has been done in the past 10 years as far as the Legislature is concerned," said committee Chairman Jake Minkes (D-Ottumwa).

"I feel we're headed in the right direction," he said.

Committee members heard reports from various officials of the State Social Welfare Department, plus a talk by A. E. Poe of Kansas City, regional representative of the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

Minkes said three subcommittees were appointed — to study nursing and custodial homes in Iowa, and problems of aid to dependent children, aid to blind and old age assistance.

The committees also will study the cost of administering these programs in Iowa.

The committee scheduled its next meeting for Oct. 2 in Davenport.

Smith To Head Business Professors

C. Frank Smith, SUI professor of general business, was elected president of Business Professors of Electronic Data Processing last week at Endicott, N.Y. He was named to the post at the close of a two-weeks special school in electronic data processing conducted by International Business Machines Corporation at Endicott, N.Y.

Forty-six university faculty members interested in data processing who attended the special school represent universities and colleges in all parts of the United States and Canada.

Smith spoke at a banquet held for the group and for more than 100 business executives from various parts of the country.

Before attending the special school at Endicott, Smith served as visiting professor of statistics during the 1959 summer session of the University of North Carolina. He joined the SUI faculty as an associate professor in 1948 and now teaches statistics in the SUI College of Business Administration.

Smith is a member of the American Statistical Association and the American Society for Quality Control.

He is also a member of the American Society for Management Science and the American Society for Operations Research.

Smith is married and has two children. He is a member of the SUI faculty since 1948 and has been a member of the American Statistical Association since 1954.

Pig Production Survey Underway In Nine States

WASHINGTON (AP) — Are farmers slowing down on the production of hogs now that prices have dipped sharply from a year ago and forecasts point to even lower prices next year?

This question is being posed in connection with an Agriculture Department pig production survey being made in nine midwestern states. Results will be disclosed Sept. 17.

The answer to this query is loaded with political and economic implications. It will give a cue to future farm income prospects for livestock farmers. Furthermore, it could have a big bearing on next year's presidential and congressional elections.

A similar survey in June indicated this year's fall crop of pigs would be 9 per cent larger than the 1958 fall crop. Such an increase would come on top of a 12 per cent increase in this year's spring crop over that of a year earlier.

There has been talk that if farmers carried ahead with these plans, hog prices might drop to as low as $10 a hundred pounds next year. Such prices could react against the Republicans. A year ago hogs were bringing $20. In mid-August the price had dropped to $14.

The Missouri Farmers Assn. said in a recent issue of its magazine that farmers may be easing up on production plans.

"The reasoning for such a statement," it said, "is based on:

1. The short corn supply not tied up under government price supports this summer has made it costly and discouraging to those hog feeders who had to buy corn;

2. The certainty of below-cost prices for hogs next year has been especially well publicized; and

3. Corn under price support loan at $1.12 a bushel is an attractive alternative to feeding it to hogs that might bring $10 to $12 a hundredweight."

The magazine said a leveling off in the rate of hog production is not likely to bring much of a price increase—if any. But, it added, it certainly would lessen the possibility of a market as low as $10.

Self-Attitudes Of Students Subject Of Report By Kuhn

Persons who have developed a stable concept of themselves are less likely to change their self-attitudes as a result of critical experiences than those whose self-concepts are disturbed. In fact, those who have disturbed self-concepts seem actually to go through more extremely critical experiences.

These ideas were presented Friday morning by Manfred Kuhn, SUI associate professor of sociology and anthropology, at a session of the American Sociological Society's annual meeting, being held in Chicago. He reported findings of part of a study of self-attitudes of several hundred University students.

Students with more highly changing self-attitudes showed less disturbance after undergoing critical experiences, the study revealed.

Other findings of the research included the following: Students who had made a definite choice of occupation and did not change it were more generally stable in their self-attitudes than those not "anchored" occupationally.

Close family ties tended to go with less change in self-attitudes. Anchorage (strong membership) in religion could not be related to stable self-concepts by the study, though this was indicated by findings.

At the outset of college, men are more likely to be disturbed in their self-attitudes than coeds are, Kuhn found. The freshman men are more likely to make such statements about themselves as these: I am a failure. I am lost. I am scatterbrained. I am a worrier. I am a small fish in a big pond. I say the wrong things at the wrong time. So far I've accomplished nothing.

At the end of the first two years of college this situation tends to be reversed as men solve their problems of occupational choice and women probably come under greater and greater pressure to make marital choices, Kuhn explained.

Of students who dropped out of school during the study, a high proportion were strongly anchored to groups of which they were members, seeming to indicate a rigidity which kept them from making

New Booklet Published By SUI Institute

A new program to assist local schools in teaching the principles of local government and citizenship was announced Friday by Robert F. Ray, director of the SUI Institute of Public Affairs.

Key to the new program is a new book—"A Citizen's Guide to Iowa Municipal Government and Elections"—published by the institute, Ray said. This book describes the structure functions of local government, and the citizen's role in nominating candidates and participating in local public affairs.

Copies have been sent to all city and town clerks in the state as a service of the League of Iowa Municipalities. Anyone can get a copy by writing to the SUI Institute of Public Affairs and sending 50 cents to cover costs of printing and mailing.

The municipal government book is a sequel to "Voting in Iowa," a book first published in 1956 which describes Iowa's election laws and political party procedures. Both books are intended to be used as supplementary texts in junior high and high school courses in government, civics, and social studies.

In addition, Ray explained, the institute is making available to schools its series of handbooks for local public officials. These books include handbooks for mayors, councilmen, and city and town clerks. "Students who wish to go into more detail about the powers and duties of these officials and how they deal with local public problems can refer to these books," Ray said.

The new program was started because of the widespread acceptance of "Voting in Iowa" by the schools of the state, Ray said. More than 16,000 copies of this book have been distributed.

RED RESEARCH SHIP

MOSCOW (AP) — The new Soviet research ship Voevokov left Odessa Friday for Vladivostok and the Pacific where she will make meteorological observations, the Communist party newspaper Pravda reported. The vessel can stay at sea for three and one-half months.

Most Young Iowans Won't Stay On The Farm, Poll Points Out

DES MOINES (AP) — Most young folks in Iowa won't stay on the farm, a poll by an Iowa magazine showed Friday.

From half to two-thirds of the young people in any farm community are going to pull out and get town jobs, the poll said.

The Wallace Farmer Poll asked parents of boys in high school or younger:

"When your boy grows up, would you like to have him (1) farm for a living? (2) take a town job? or (3) undecided.

"Only 27 per cent chose the farm category, 21 per cent chose the town job while 52 per cent were undecided.

Most of the undecided parents said the boys would have to choose for themselves.

Farm people with the highest incomes showed the least inclination to urge the boy to farm. They talked instead about college training for town jobs, the poll said.

Eighty-five per cent of the parents interviewed favored either trade school or college training for their children, while only 4 per cent said they didn't.

"I'd like to have our boy farm," a woman in Clayton County said, "but he should be able to make a decent living for the work involved."

The poll said that parents of many girls expect their children to marry farmers.

But 81 per cent of the parents felt their daughters should try for town jobs. But 66 per cent had no particular kind of town job in mind.

Ninety per cent, however, prefer that their girls go to college or trade school.

First Circus In Five Years Here Today

A trained hippopotamus, 21 elephants, lions, tigers, kangaroos, and monkeys are in Iowa City today as part of the Al G. Kelly and Miller Bros. circus.

The circus, billed as the largest tented circus now touring the United States, will give two performances, 2:30 and 8 p.m. today, at the Lucas Showgrounds in southern Iowa City.

The circus troupe includes 450 people, 67 semi-trailer trucks, and what the circus claims to be the largest touring menagerie in the country. Only the Ringling Bros. and Barnum and Bailey show is larger than the Kelly-Miller circuses.

Today's performances will be the first circus performances here in five years. Acts will be presented in the three rings of the main tent.

Mason New Student Aid Coordinator

Charlie Mason, native of Muscatine and athletic director at Oskaloosa High School since 1954, has been appointed coordinator of student aid at SUI.

In the newly created position, Mason will work in the Office of Student Affairs in coordinating and integrating the University's program of financial aid to students, including scholarships, loans and employment.

The new post will provide an all-University clearing center for information concerning financial assistance to students, Mason explained. "By coordinating information on employment, loans and scholarships, SUI will be better able to help the student seeking financial aid and to suggest various means by which funds may be obtained," he pointed out.

A Ph.D. candidate in administration, Mason received a B.A. degree from SUI in 1949 and an M.A. degree in secondary school administration from the University in 1951. As a senior at SUI, Mason was the leading scorer on the Hawkeye basketball team and was named "most valuable player" by his teammates to receive the Chicago Tribune Big Ten award.

Mason served as head basketball coach of Oskaloosa High School from 1949 to 1959, with the exception of two years spent in the Air Force during 1952-54. He was named athletic director in 1954. Mason was also a mathematics teacher and counselor at Oskaloosa. He resigned the coaching job last spring to accept the post of assistant principal.

Mason and his wife, the former Beverly Colleen Baggge of Fondra, have two children: Jeff, 4, and Julie, 2. Mrs. Mason attended SUI for one year and took nurse's training at Iowa Lutheran Hospital in Des Moines.

Meatcutters Union Reaches Accord With Large Firm

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — A company spokesman said a basic agreement had been reached Friday on a new contract between Oscar Mayer & Co. and locals of the Amalgamated Meat Cutters and Butchers Workmen of North America.

The firm employs some 2,800 union workers at its plant in Madison and another 1,200 at Davenport, Iowa.

A union contract with the company expired Tuesday, but work at the two plants has continued pending the outcome of negotiations.

"Although the basic economic items have been settled," the company spokesman said, "negotiations will be resumed next week to discuss further details of the new contract."

The agreed items, according to the company, include a general wage increase of 15 cents an hour over a two-year period, three weeks vacation after 10 years service, improved pensions, night shift premium pay, and other fringe benefits.

The company's current minimum wage is about $2.10 an hour.

U.S. Team Boosts Pan-Am Gold Medal Winnings To 67

CHICAGO (AP)—The United States captured five more gold medals in swimming Friday in the Pan-American Games, added two in yachting, and picked up an unexpected pair in shooting to draw further ahead of the 24 nation field.

At the end of daytime competition the United States had 67 gold medals, 43 silver, and 33 bronze. Its nearest rival was Argentina with five gold, nine silver and three bronze.

The swimming victories were spectacular. The United States has now won all 12 of the finals contested, and in 10 of these scored one-two-three sweeps.

Chris Von Saltza, 15, of Saratoga, Calif., picked up her second gold medal on the way to what she hopes will be five when she won the 100 meter freestyle finals in 1:03.8, a new game record.

Mrs. Laura Myers Pope of Los Angeles won the platform diving crown, also for a second gold medal.

Becky Collins, 15, of Indianapolis, edged out Nancy Ramey of Mercer Island, Wash., in 1:09.5, which is under the listed world record time of 1:09.6, but slower than Miss Ramey's 1:09.1 made in a heat.

Dave Gillanders of Royal Oak, Mich., won the 200 meter butterfly finals in 2:18, and Alan Somers of Indianapolis took the 1,500 meter free style in 17:53.2 — both new game records.

In yachting, the United States won the Flying Dutchman and 5.5 meter classes.

Unexpected medals were showered down in shooting when the committee decided to bestow gold, silver, and bronze medals for the three positions in Thursday's small bore rifle competition — as well as medals for individual and team.

As a result, James Carter of Columbus, Ga., was given first in the kneeling and standing positions. Gerald Oulette of Canada received first prize for the prone position.

At the same time the appeals committee of shooting called for a shoot-off in Wednesday's center-fire pistol event where the gold medal originally went to Aubrey E. Smith of Columbus, Ga.

Oscar H. Cervo of Argentina protested, claiming his score equaled Smith's 569, and the two were directed to shoot it off.

In rowing the United States qualified five of its shells for Sunday's finals. Argentina placed three, and Uruguay and Canada one apiece.

The defeated boats will have a second chance in what are known as repechages Saturday.

Down Indians 6th Time In Row— White Sox Do It Again, 3-2

CHICAGO (AP)—The Chicago White Sox made it five in a row over Cleveland Friday night, beating the second place Indians 3-2 and taking a 6½ game lead in the American League race in the opener of a three-game series.

The White Sox, playing before their largest home crowd of the year, 45,510, reduced their magic number to 16.

Four successive singles in the second inning counted for two runs, and the clincher came in the eighth on a pair of singles sandwiched around an error. The triumph was the 14th for the Sox in 19 games with Cleveland. It was also Chicago's 31st by one run in 40 such games.

Early Wynn, posting his 18th victory against nine defeats, needed all the help he could get from Chicago's iron defense.

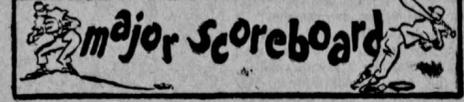

Cleveland went into the eighth trailing 2-1. After two were out, Minnie Minoso doubled to right center. Tito Francona then led a single to left but the speedy Minoso was thrown out at the plate by Al Smith.

Wynn gave up five hits before being lifted for a pinch batter in the eighth. Gerry Staley took over and yielded a meaningless run in the ninth on Rocky Colavito's double and a single by George Strickland.

The Sox got nine hits—all singles—off Jim Perry who took his seventh loss against 10 victories. Billy Goodman, Al Smith, Jim McAnany and Luis Aparicio hit safely for Chicago's two runs in the second inning. A single by Sherm Lollar which was fumbled by Francona in center field accounted for what turned out to be the winning run.

WASHINGTON (AP)—With their good luck charm, Vice President Richard Nixon, on hand, the Washington Senators Friday night defeated the Boston Red Sox, 4-3.

Tex Clevenger and Dick Hyde pitched a winning 8-hitter. The Vice President, at Griffith Stadium for the seventh time this year, saw the Senators win for the sixth time.

Clevenger singled to touch off a three-run rally in the fifth inning that clinched the ball game. Red Sox starter Frank Sullivan gave up a double to Lennie Green and a single to Jim Lemon that accounted for two runs. Reliever Jerry Casale walked Bob Allison with the bases loaded to force in the third run of the inning.

The Red Sox touched Clevenger for two runs in the second inning. Frank Malone singled home the first run and Sammy White's sacrifice fly brought in the other.

Clevenger, after striking out eight and walking three, had to withdraw in the ninth inning because of blistering fingers. Hyde completed the victory retiring three Red Sox.

DETROIT (AP)—Don Mossi, who

League's best hitter, drove in three runs, boosting his RBI total to 108.

It enabled the Braves, with 21 more season games to go, to consolidate a hold on the league's third place, four games back of front running San Francisco.

It was the eighth Milwaukee triumph over the Reds in 17 decisions this year. But for Spahn, who has a lifetime mark of 52 victories over Cincinnati in 71 decisions, it was the first victory in Crosley Field this season.

An unearned run in the first inning was the Reds' only score.

The pitching of Cincinnati's Bob Purkey was chopped up in the sixth inning and he was chased in the eighth after Ed Mathews singled and Hank Aaron doubled.

It was Purkey's sixth straight defeat.

Orlando Pena came on for the Reds in the ninth and Del Crandall greeted him with a double. Pena got two of the Braves out, but then Aaron doubled in Crandall and Ed Mathews, who had walked.

Phils 3, Pirates 0
PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The last place Philadelphia Phillies dealt the fading pennant hopes of Pittsburgh another crucial blow Friday night, capitalizing on shortstop Dick Groat's error for a 3-0 victory over the Pirates.

The Pirates, who sustained a devastating doubleheader loss to Cincinnati Wednesday night, were handcuffed by right-hander Jim Owens who allowed them only six hits in gaining his first major league shutout. It was Owens' 11th victory against 11 losses and his fourth triumph in his last six starts. Three of the Pirates' hits were by Don Hoak.

It was a tight pitching duel between Owens and left-hander Harvey Haddix until the sixth when Groat bobbled Richie Ashburn's grounder. After Joe Koppe popped out on a bunt attempt, Ed Bouchee doubled scoring Ashburn. Wally Post was given an intentional pass. Gene Freese hit a ground single to Groat's left, scoring Bouchee.

The Phillies chased reliever Roy Face in the eighth after he gave up a run on Bouchee's single, a walk to Post and Harry Anderson's single.

Red Blaik On Football

North Carolina Holds Key In ACC

I have been asked by many people interested in the Atlantic Coast Conference how I think the shocking death on July 23 of Jim Tatum, former North Carolina coach, will affect the chances of the Tar Heels this fall. I know from a phone talk with Jim, in which he evidenced interest in Army's lonely end offense, that he had high hopes for this team. Jim Hickey, who succeeds him, is, I am told, sound and well prepared. He has had head coaching experience at Hampden-Sydney.

Unquestionably, a coach of Tatum's organizational gifts and accomplishments must be sorely missed. Yet — and I certainly do not intend this to sound callous — the death of any coach, no matter how talented and respected by his players, does not, after time has alleviated the shock, really have much psychological influence, one way or another, on a college squad. This is so because youth is resilient and, to some extent, selfish by nature.

I think that North Carolina's chances depend largely, as they would in any comparable situation, on how well the new head coach's assistants function under and with him in getting the football out of the players.

Certainly, this is an impressive Carolina squad, with satisfactory defensive scope and attack balanced between the pass and the run. Their split-T quarterback, Jack Cummings, is one of the best and he throws to two fine ends in John Schroeder and Al Goldstein. The backfield runners are led by Wade Smith at half and Don Klochak at full.

The schedule is mighty rugged, however, and the keys to it are the opener at home with Clemson, an ACC power of about equal strength, and the second game with always redoubtable Notre Dame at South Bend. The Tar Heels never have been able to defeat the Irish. If Carolina can handle this tandem, it can go a long way, although the Ten-

Hawks Wind Up 1st Week Today

The Iowa Hawkeyes will finish their first week of fall football practice today with a scrimmage in one of the two sessions scheduled.

Friday the Hawkeyes drilled on all phases, again holding contact to a minimum. A passing drill pitted the first unit against the second with the first unit having the better going.

The second unit had it all over the first late in the day however. The "wheelbarrow race" which wound up the days efforts was won by the second unit by a margin of several yards.

The first and second units again were on defense against a red-shirt offense. Bob Jeter and John Brown alternated at left half on defense with Brown seeing most of the action in the passing and running drills.

Sophomore quarterback Wilburn Hollis ran with the first unit in a punt return drill but Olen Treadway handled the No. 1 crew in the rest of the work.

Olmedo, Other Favorites Advance Easily In Singles

FOREST HILL, N.Y. (AP)—Top-seeded Alex Olmedo fidgeted through nearly an hour's delay and then breezed to an impatient 48-minute victory Friday in the opening round of the National Tennis Championships.

The University of Southern California student from Peru, seeking to add the U.S. title to his Australian and Wimbledon crowns, eliminated a last-minute substitute, Gerald Dubie of Hamtramck, Mich., 6-0, 6-1, 6-1.

The moody Davis Cup ace joined a dull and uninterrupted procession of international favorites, who advanced before a mere handful of spectators at the West Side Tennis Club.

Winners included Olmedo's chief threat in the lower half of the draw, Rod Laver of Australia, comebacker Dick Savitt of New York and such world tennis tourists as Mexico's Antonio Palafox, England's Tony Pickard, Spain's Manuel Santana and Guatemala's Adolfo Gomez.

The lone favorite in the men's division to experience trouble was Roy Emerson, Australian Davis Cupper and seeded No. 8, who had a brief scare before subduing John Skogstad of Coral Gables, Fla., 12-10, 6-1, 6-1.

Britain's third-seeded 18-year-old Christine Truman and seventh-seeded Sally Ann Moore of Bakersfield, Calif., led the women's first round parade.

The top-seeded Wimbledon champion, Maria Bueno of Brazil, and second-seeded Sandra Reynolds of South Africa were idle. They play Saturday.

Olmedo was supposed to take the stadium center court right after Miss Truman had won 6-4, 6-3 over Mrs. Dorothy Cheney, 41-year-old housewife from Santa Monica, Calif.

But the Peruvian's opponent, Australian Don Russell—the latter couldn't be found.

Finally it was discovered that Russell wasn't around at all but probably was back in Edinburgh, Texas, where he attends Pan American College.

Laver, seeded fourth, won 6-2, 7-5, 6-2 over Arthur Ashe, Jr., of Lynchburg Va.

Savitt smashed Martin Riessen of Hinsdale, Ill., 8-6, 6-0, 6-1.

Santana beat Bill Tully of Yonkers, N.Y., 6-3, 6-3, 6-2. Gomez downed Robert Posthast of Waukesha, Wis., 6-1, 7-5, 6-0.

22, 43 May Be Cal's Big Guns Again In '59

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP)—California football fans who thrilled when the combination of 22 and 43 clicked for big yardage last season may see it again in 1959.

Only the faces will be different. Last year quarterback Joe Kapp wore No. 22 and halfback Jack Hart No. 43. Both were seniors and were all west coast performers and big reasons the Golden Bears won the Pacific Coast Conference crown.

This season 22 is worn by Wayne Crow, a letterman halfback as a sophomore a year ago, while highly touted sophomore right halfback Bob Willis of Ishpeming, Mich., drew 43.

A 200-pounder from Corcoran, Calif., who stands an even 6 feet, Crow moved into the signal calling job in spring practice with Coach Pete Elliott hoping he will fill the bill.

Crow's brother Linden played at Southern California, graduated into the Pro ranks and now is with New York. Wayne was the team's top punter last season but hasn't proved himself as a passer. He missed last spring's scrimmage because of competition on the track team.

Crow considers the new job "the biggest football challenge I've ever had" and Coach Elliott declares, "there is no question he can adapt himself to the job."

Willis, who can run the 100-yard dash in 9.9 seconds, must win the right halfback job in competition with a group of veterans including letterman Steve Bates who won his letter as a sophomore last season. Still the 185-pound newcomer promises to give all a good run.

Also he has shown he can throw the ball, which might give Elliott a left-handed passer to vary the attack.

A standout high school star, Willis hadn't played the split-T until he enrolled at California, but he says he had no trouble adapting himself to that offense.

Orioles 3, Yanks 0

NEW YORK (AP)—Young Milt Pappas blanked New York on six hits, all singles, Friday night as the Baltimore Orioles beat the Yankees 3-0.

Pappas, 20, a right-hander struck out seven and walked one for a 14-7 record and his fourth shutout. Yogi Berra and Elston Howard each got two of the Yankee hits.

The Orioles beat right-hander Ralph Terry with two runs in the first inning on singles by Billy Klaus, Barry Strone, Gene Woodling and Bob Boyd, who had three of their eight hits. Two singles, an

Big Shots Are Only Little Shots Who Keep Shooting!

The great retail establishments of today did not grow by remaining idle. They grew because they anticipated buyers needs and continuously informed prospective purchasers of the merchandise they offered. The "famous" catalogues of earlier days were but one form of advertising and the firms who issued them are today's greatest newspaper space buyers.

TODAY the little merchant who desires to BUILD his business keeps shooting in the media that serve his community. In the Iowa City area, The Daily Iowan is one of these media. The Daily Iowan is the ONLY medium that reaches the ENTIRE university family.
