East-West Parley Liked Now By Ike

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower said Monday his talks with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev about Berlin's future led to enough progress to wipe out many of his objections to a summit conference.

At a special news conference, Eisenhower strongly hinted a top level East-West parley is now virtually certain — but not until he consults with British, French, West German and other Allied leaders.

The President said that Khrushchev — who once had given the West six months to get out of West Berlin — has now agreed there will be no deadline for East-West negotiations to meet in seeking a peaceful settlement.

Eisenhower said Khrushchev has agreed these talks should not be "unnecessarily or unduly extended." He did not explain whether his meant negotiators would have days, weeks or months to talk.

"No one is under duress," Eisenhower said, when asked whether Khrushchev promised to ease pressure on the German capital.

"No one is under any kind of threat and, as a matter of fact, he stated emphatically that never had he any intention to give anything that was to be interpreted as duress or compulsion."

Eisenhower gave no clue to the kind of Berlin settlement that might be shaping up. The United States began giving detailed reports to its allies Monday on the Eisenhower-Khrushchev discussions. Deputy Undersecretary of State Livingston Merchant and acting Assistant Secretary Foy D. Kohler, who were at Camp David, conferred with Ambassadors Sir Harold Caccia of Britain, Herve Alphand of France and Wilhelm G. Grewe of West Germany.

A meeting of NATO ambassadors was arranged at the State Department for Tuesday morning so that Merchant and Kohler could report on the Camp David talks to all NATO Governments.

Khrushchev in reporting Sunday on his talks said he and Eisenhower found much in common in their search for a settlement of the Berlin crisis.

And Monday, back in Moscow, Khrushchev shouted to loud applause at a homecoming rally: "Long live American-Soviet friendship!"

Eisenhower set off a diplomatic furor by telling newsmen he could not guarantee that any settlement would uphold the previous vows to protect the freedom of West Berliners and to guard allied rights.

Within minutes, however, the White House issued a special statement insisting this answer "did not mean that the freedom of the people of West Berlin was going to be abandoned or that allied rights were going to be abandoned by any unilateral action."

The President said all he was trying to say by his reply was that he could not at this stage "give in

Miss SUI Will Reign Over Homecoming Events

For the first time in SUI history, an all-campus queen selected by the SUI male vote, will reign over this year's Homecoming festivities on Friday and Saturday, Oct. 9 and 10.

Twenty-three candidates have been selected from the various SUI housing units, and skits are being prepared as each housing unit gets ready for the Miss SUI Pageant, to be held this Saturday evening at 7:30 p.m. in the Main Lounge of the Iowa Memorial Union.

Following a hectic week of skit practice, picture taking and everything else that happens when a coed suddenly becomes a beauty queen, the 23 candidates will be interviewed from 8:30 to noon this Saturday morning by a board of experts selected by the Miss SUI Pageant Committee. This year's board consists of Howard Heathman, fashion coordinator at Armstrong's Department Store in Cedar Rapids, and Corrine Shover, director of the Corrine Shover School of Modeling and Self-Improvement in Cedar Rapids.

Each queen candidate will be presented in a skit at the Union presentation Saturday evening. The skits will last approximately five minutes, and will inform the males in the audience of each candidate's "charms." This is the only time the SUI student body will be able to see all 23 contestants at one time. At approximately 10 p.m. Saturday, the names of the 10 semi-finalists will be announced.

The SUI male will reign supreme on Monday until Wednesday night of Homecoming Week, for this is the time that supporters of the 10 semi-finalists will be "wheeling and dealing" for each male vote. Tiny favors, car caravans and verbal propaganda will be on the agenda, as each housing unit hopes to claim the new Miss SUI.

As the campaign tempo slackens, the SUI males take over, and on Thursday, Oct. 8, their votes will determine which of the ten semi-finalists will reign over Homecoming festivities.

Three polling places will be available. One will be located outside the Gold Feather Room of the Union, one inside Schaeffer Hall, and another in Macbride Hall. Votes will be cast from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Thursday.

The five top candidates will be notified Thursday night after votes have been counted. Each will ride in a Triumph at the Homecoming Parade Friday night, Oct. 9.

The five finalists will be presented at the pre-game show before the Iowa-Michigan State Homecoming Game on Saturday, Oct. 10. They will be presented in conjunction with the University Band.

Miss SUI will be crowned at the Homecoming Dance at approximately 10:15 p.m. in the Main Lounge of the Union Saturday night, and will reign over all University functions throughout the school year.

Members of the Miss SUI Pageant Committee, who were selected by the Pageant Board and are in charge of planning the Pageant Week activities are: Gary Dunahugh, A4, Cedar Rapids, unit presentation; Dennis Edwards, A2, Davenport, and Sharla Sonksen, A2, Waterloo, publicity; John Voigt, A4, Freeport, Ill., field campaigns; Sue Shriver, A2, Glidden, board of experts; Ruth Koelbel, A1, Iowa City, secretary; and Fred Glassman, A3, Iowa City, elections. Bill Sutton, C4, Red Oak, is director of the pageant and chairman of the Miss SUI Pageant Board, and George Stevens, associate director of the Iowa Memorial Union, is adviser to both the Pageant Board and Pageant Committee.

'Paddle Wheel' Locates New Radiation Belt

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. Paddle Wheel satellite has found a third, and previously undetected, band of intense and deadly radiation around the earth. It could mean added danger for the first man into space.

The discovery of this new 310-mile-wide radiation band, starting about 1,000 miles from earth, was announced Monday by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

At a news conference, NASA scientists also disclosed that a two-pound camera-type device aboard the satellite had taken the first crude picture of the earth and its cloud cover from a point 19,500 miles out in space. The picture was radioed back to earth.

The new radiation belt discovery and the pioneer space pictures of earth were among the scientific gains so far from the flight of the P2-pound Satellite Explorer VI. It is called the Paddle Wheel.

Explorer VI, launched at Cape Canaveral, Fla., on Aug. 7, is expected to stay aloft for about two years.

Earlier U.S. space vehicles had detected two doughnut-shaped bands of radiation — one extending between 1,400 miles and 3,400 miles from earth, the other starting at about 8,000 miles and stretching to about 12,000 miles. These are called the Van Allen bands, for Dr. James Van Allen, a physicist at the University of Iowa.

Drift In Atlantic—Plumber Tells Of Fighting Shark With Fishing Knife

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla., (AP) — Robert Walker, 30, a plumber, told Monday how he fought a hammerhead shark with a fishing knife while clinging to a buoyant seat cushion in the Atlantic.

Walker said the shark struck at dawn Saturday, more than 12 hours after his fishing skiff sank and he was separated from his companion, James Plouff.

"The shark ran into me by accident," Walker said from his hospital bed. "After he noticed me, he circled around for a while.

"I had my hands wrapped around the cushion that I grabbed when the boat went down. Then the shark came at me, bit onto both hands and pulled me about five feet under water.

"Please God, No!" I thought. "It was then I started praying."

The shark bit off part of the knuckle of Walker's left forefinger and severed several tendons on his right hand.

"I managed to shake loose, but the shark came back twice more," said the 220-pound Walker. "I pulled my knife out of my pocket and stabbed him on the top of his head, but the blade didn't even penetrate the skin."

He said the next time the shark came at him, he knifed it on the side and it swam away. Eight or 10 other sharks began circling him less than half an hour later, he reported.

"My eyes were bloodshot and bleary from the salt water but I knew I had to keep them open. The bites were painful, too, but all I could think of was fighting for my life.

"The sharks kept darting right up to my face," Walker continued. "I'd put my head in the water, see them coming and kick my feet to keep them away."

The sharks were still circling when Walker was picked up about noon Saturday by A. V. Francis of Hollywood.

An hour and a half earlier and several miles away Plouff, 45, was picked up by Capt. George Bransford of Fort Lauderdale, who was fishing in the area.

Number Of Disease Cases Now 15, Institute Reports

The number of cases of leptospirosis in an outbreak near Cedar Rapids has risen to 15, the SUI Institute of Agricultural Medicine announced Monday.

The Institute last Wednesday said that three cases of the disease had been found among persons who had reported illness near Beverly, a small community southwest of Cedar Rapids. Since that time 12 more persons either ill now or sick in the recent past have been confirmed as leptospirosis victims on the basis of symptoms, blood tests and records of having been exposed to the creek water.

Eisenhower Calls Strike 'Intolerable'

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower, calling the continuing steel strike intolerable, summoned industry and union leaders to the White House Wednesday. He plans to appeal personally for a quick settlement.

The President earlier told his news conference on Monday he was "getting sick and tired of the apparent impasse" in steel. He said emphatically the 76-day-old walkout must not continue.

Then Eisenhower put in telephone calls for Roger M. Blough, board chairman of U.S. Steel Corp. and top industry leader, and David J. McDonald, president of the striking Steelworkers Union.

He arranged for them to come to separate White House meetings with their respective industry and union allies Wednesday morning.

In New York, a spokesman for McDonald said the Steelworkers chief would be on hand. Leaders of union and management groups were asked to pass on the presidential bid to others on both sides.

The industry also announced, through a spokesman for Blough, that it was accepting Eisenhower's summons, which it referred to as an invitation.

Prime Minister's Death Promotes Security Moves

COLOMBO, Ceylon (AP) — The Government took new security measures today amid fears of religious strife stemming from the slaying of Prime Minister Solomon W.R.D. Bandaranaike by a Buddhist monk.

Bodyguards were assigned to all 15 Cabinet ministers and senators were posted at their homes. The guard at the official residence of the new prime minister, Wijayananda Dahanayake, was doubled. Soldiers and sailors augmented police patrols.

Though Ceylon is a predominantly Buddhist nation, feeling ran high against the monks. People were shocked and saddened by the assassination of Bandaranaike by a gunman clad in saffron robes at the prime minister's private bungalow Friday.

The monk accused of the slaying, 43-year-old Taluwa Somarama, is being held under heavy guard. Police said they have not been able to determine his motive.

Physician Warns Against Over Use Of Antibiotics

DES MOINES (AP) — A Pennsylvania physician Monday warned against excessive use of antibiotics.

Dr. George R. Fisher of Philadelphia said "the introduction of antibiotics has been a value to civilization comparable to the introduction of anesthesia or electricity, but it is subject to abuse."

Dr. Fisher spoke at the annual meeting of the Iowa chapter of the American Academy of General Practice.

"Many youngsters are getting antibiotics which are doing them no real good while making them immune to these same antibiotics later, when they may need them most," Dr. Fisher said.

Russians Read Of Praise For Nikita

MOSCOW (AP) — Pravda placed reams of America's praise for Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev before its readers Monday, including one message from former U.S. Vice President Henry A. Wallace and his brother James.

The Wallace brothers cabled: "We warmly welcome your visit to the United States and our region of Iowa. Full mutual understanding between the Soviet Union and the United States will strengthen world peace.

"We wish the meetings between you and President Eisenhower at Camp David and later in Moscow will inspire entire humanity with hope."

Zero Hour Set For Sometime This Morning

Coast Residents Move, Begin Long Wait

CHARLESTON, S.C. (AP) — Intermittent rains and rising winds buffeted the Georgia-South Carolina coast Monday night as the leading elements of powerful hurricane Gracie neared land.

With her howling winds of 125 miles per hour expected to churn up high tides and waves of dangerous proportions, residents along the coast from Savannah, Ga., to the Myrtle Beach-Georgetown, S.C., area were ordered evacuated. The full force of the storm was expected this morning.

There was particular danger to island residents and those in low level areas and the Weather Bureau advised them to evacuate before escape routes were cut off.

"This is an extremely dangerous hurricane and all safety precautions should be rushed to completion before midnight if loss of life is to be avoided and destruction of property kept to a minimum," the Weather Bureau warned.

In its Monday night advisory on Gracie, the bureau said the hurricane was centered about 205 statute miles southeast of Charleston with the leading edge of her gale winds only a short distance offshore. Gale force winds of 40 m.p.h. were expected to reach the coast during the night. The full force of the storm is expected to hit this morning in a 100-mile area from Savannah to Charleston.

Meanwhile, the Weather Bureau reported a new hurricane called Hannah, was spotted 1,500 miles in the Atlantic due east of Miami.

The Weather Bureau warned that Gracie's storm tides and high seas would flood coastal lands in the areas to heights of 8 to 11 feet or more above normal levels. Smashing waves 20 feet high were forecast.

The first signs of the storm came with intermittent rains and there was a noticeable increase in winds from the hurricane located at 5 p.m. Monday about 230 miles southeast of Charleston, moving west-northwest and northwest at 12 m.p.h.

Hurricane hunter planes reported winds in the center of the storm at 125 m.p.h. with hurricane force winds — 75 m.p.h. or more — extending outward 100 miles in the northwest semicircle and 50 miles to the southeast. Leading the advance were gale force winds of 40 m.p.h. extending about 200 miles in the northwest semicircle and 125 to the southeast.

Most residents of this coastal area, veterans of many a destructive blow, evacuated before escape routes are cut off. Others boarded up their homes and prepared to ride out the storm.

Thomas A. Carrere, Red Cross disaster chairman, said 20 shelters were designated in Charleston County. He said 250 such shelters were designated along the threatened coast from Cocoa, Fla., to Myrtle Beach.

The Weather Bureau warned that Gracie has grown into an extremely dangerous hurricane and all islands, beaches and waterfront areas must be evacuated if loss of life is to be avoided.

At Charleston, several ships berthed, seeking shelter from the storm and the Weather Bureau said small craft in all areas south of Cape Hatteras, N.C., to Stuart, Fla., should remain in port.

While winds quickened and tides crashed high against Savannah seawalls, all Civil Defense and Red Cross personnel of the area were asked to report to assigned stations.

In South Carolina, whose border touches the ocean just outside the Savannah city limits, the National Guard and Highway Patrol were alerted.

Ayurvedic vs. Allopathic—Ceylon Killing Explained

By ARON K. CHHABRA

Aron K. Chhabra is from New Delhi, India and a graduate student at SU in Journalism. He has worked as Public Relations and Information Officer for American Soybean Co., and has traveled extensively in Europe before coming to America.

Through the history of mankind, man has been the victim of fanaticism of man. This fanaticism assumed different forms in different times. In the "good old days" it was in the garb of tribal feuds; the middle ages witnessed it in the robes of a religious crusader. In modern times, it came first as an advocate of classless society and now its latest form is that of a medical emissary.

The Prime Minister of Ceylon has been shot dead and the assassin is not other than a specialist in the Eastern medical science. The motive for this assassination is said to be the old rivalry between the ancient eastern medical system, Ayurvedic and the new Allopathic system.

For quite a while this controversy has been going on in India, also. The government patronizes the modern system while the practitioners of the old claim parity with the other.

Compared to the Allopathic, the Ayurvedic system is very old. There is historical evidence that hospitals existed in India long before the Christian era. In the ancient Hindu Ramayana, which is a narration of the war between Lord Rama and the Ravana, the then king of Lanka (Ceylon), Lakshman, brother of Rama is brought back to consciousness by a maid (doctor) with the help of a mysterious herb. Its pharmacopoeia is enormous and is mainly vegetable. Charka in the 2nd century knew of 500 medical plants; Susruta mentions 760 kinds. Indian physicians were the first to describe diabetes mellitus when they observed that flies were attracted to the urine of those suffering from it. Rauwolfia Serpentina most extensively used in hypertension cases comes from India.

Hindus marvelled in the fields of surgery, also. For fractures and dislocations, special splints of bamboo, later adopted by the British army, were employed. There are hundreds of practitioners of this science in India as in Ceylon and they have specialized in many fields particularly in the cure of mild forms of insanity, hysteria, syphilis, piles and restoration of manly vigor. In fact, most of them are so confident of themselves and their system that they often treat not their cases on a guarantee basis. They usually do not carry any stethoscope nor a thermometer and yet diagnose correctly by just reading the pulse and looking at the eyes of the patient.

However, Eastern medicine has been, till now, lacking in formal analytical codification. The knowledge has mostly come down to this day from father to son or from teacher to disciple. No appreciable attempt was made to put it in written form. What had been gained probably through hit and miss was never verified in laboratories. No kind of research was ever undertaken. More or less it became a sort of frozen science. Recently many schools and colleges have come up where this science is being taught. But it mostly enables the students to practice it. As yet there are no signs of its further development through a regular research system.

Many Americans Travel At Home And Abroad In 1959

By CHARLES STAFFORD AP Staff Writer

More Americans are traveling than ever before. The travel industry estimates that by the end of the year the number of Americans who motored, sailed, flew, biked or hiked through the United States will reach 100 million, and 1 1/2 million more will have done the same in foreign countries.

This year's appetite for travel has the industry wallowing happily in statistics like these:

1. Of the 54 million families in the United States, 30 million have already or will take vacation trips.

2. The national vacation budget is about 15 billion dollars a year for domestic travel.

3. More than 1,400,000 Americans went overseas in 1958 and spent 2 1/2 billion dollars. This year the number is running 7 to 10 per cent higher.

Camping out is the newest rage in domestic vacations. Elmer Jenkins, director of the American Automobile Assn's National Touring Department, says requests for camping itineraries have increased 85 per cent in the last five years.

Travel to national parks is running more than 8 per cent above last year. Use of state parks is up anywhere from 10 to 25 per cent.

"The West is crawling with campers," says an observant Oklahoma City newspaperman, who took his family on a camping vacation this summer for the first time.

He feels two things are bringing about this "great return to nature."

"One is economic," he says. "For a family of four like mine it takes a minimum of $40 a day to travel. Knock off $12 to $15 a night for a motel and you can go a lot farther."

"But the biggest reason for the camping rage, I think, is a nostalgic need for the family to do something together."

It took about $150 to outfit this man's family with a tent, sleeping bags, stove, air mattresses and the other equipment. The going rate for a camp site at a state park is $1 a night. The park usually furnishes wood, toilet facilities and, in some cases, showers.

The camping rage apparently hasn't hurt the resort areas.

Atlantic City is experiencing its best business year since the end of World War II. Collections of the city's 3 per cent luxury tax, a reliable barometer of business conditions, totaled $823,523 through Aug. 10 compared with $663,151 for the same period last year.

Ike Intervenes In Steel Strike; Industrials Climb

By ED MORSE AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—A nervous and uneven stock market rallied late Monday on hopes that President Eisenhower's personal intervention in the steel strike would bring the mills back into operation.

The drooping industrials snapped out of a ragged decline well enough to give the Dow Jones industrial average a boost of 3.88 to 636.47.

Rails, whose earnings have suffered drastically during the 76-day steel shutdown, perked up and showed a sizeable gain.

Motors and steels were very active but mixed. Coppers, rubbers, oils, chemicals, tobaccos, drugs and electronics went higher. Aircrafts and airlines were irregular.

Based on the rise in The Associated Press average, an estimated $1,800,000,000 was added to the quoted value of stocks listed on the New York Stock Exchange.

News that Eisenhower had called into conference leaders of both sides in the steel strike was enough to improve sentiment visibly late in the day. Khrushchev's departure from the United States and the generally friendly tenor of his remarks in Moscow also were reassuring.

The AP 60-stock average rose $1.40 to $221.40 with industrials up $2.20, rails up $1 and utilities up 60 cents.

Of 1,157 issues traded, 649 advanced and 347 declined. There were 11 new highs for the year and 32 new lows. Volume was 2,640,000 shares compared with 3,280,000 Friday.

American Stock Exchange prices generally were higher on volume of 840,000 shares compared with 990,000 Friday.

Jazz Society Starts Year Of Promise

The SUI Modern Jazz Society will swing into another year Sunday with live music.

The society will hear the Joe Abodeedy Quartet, currently playing at the Picadilly Room in the Roosevelt Hotel in Cedar Rapids, at 3 p.m. in Macbride Auditorium. "A few surprising musicians" will also lend their talents, Society President Greg Morris, A2, Iowa City, said.

The society was organized last fall and had about 68 members last year. It was formed principally to "exert a mild influence strong enough to get more and better jazz on campus, to provide a classroom for learning about jazz, and to prove to non-believers that jazz is not beatnik music, and a person does not have to be way out in left field to appreciate," Morris said.

The society worked with Central Party Committee last year in planning some of the SUI concerts. The society was in contact with jazz groups on other campuses last year, Morris said, and intends to increase activities this year.

"We would like to start a jazz festival here," he continued. "Many other schools have such a festival. Notre Dame chooses a winning music group during its festival which gets a booking in Chicago and a recording contract." SUI members attended a festival last spring at ISTC.

"We aren't trying to force jazz on anyone," Morris explained. "We want people to realize jazz is an art form, straighten out misconceptions about jazz, and enable people to decide for themselves. We want to show them what jazz really is; for instance, some think Elvis Presley is a jazz singer."

The group usually meets on Sunday afternoons, but the group will be asked at their first meeting whether this time is convenient. "The Sunday sessions were begun because this time seems to be a lull for most SU'owans," Morris said.

The society is interested in anybody interested in them, Morris said. They don't have to know anything about jazz, he added.

Anyone having questions about the society may call Morris at WSUI from 4 to 5:30 p.m. daily.

SUI Republicans Have Schwengel As First Speaker

Fred Schwengel of Davenport, Iowa's First District Congressman, will be the featured speaker and leader of the focal topic when SUI Young Republicans hold their first meeting of the year Thursday night. Schwengel has been invited to address the group in the Senate Chamber of Old Capitol at 7:30 p.m. Larry Gilcrest, L3, will speak on the right-to-work law as it affects Iowa politics.

Anyone interested in learning more about labor problems — one of today's hottest subjects for discussion — will be welcome. Young Republican members especially are urged to attend and bring their friends. This first meeting of the year is being planned by the Young Republican Executive Council.

Says 'K's' Procrastination Will Bring Further Crises

By J. M. ROBERTS Associated Press News Analyst

The cards are all stacked now for new trouble between the people of East Germany and their Communist rulers.

Although he specifically declined to put words into the Soviet Premier's mouth, President Eisenhower makes it pretty clear that Khrushchev has put off into the indefinite future any showdown over Berlin.

A year ago the Premier was promising the East German regime that it would soon be given control over communications between the Western powers and their occupation forces in Berlin.

He proposed to make Berlin a free city, cleared of Western forces. This would have meant a Berlin isolated within East Germany, subject to pressures which would ultimately give the Communists control there.

The Allies steadfastly refused to accept any such solution. They said, in effect, they would fight first.

Khrushchev soon began to back down. He just wanted, he said, to negotiate a new arrangement. The Allies, he said, should realize that it is time for a peace treaty with East Germany, and recognize two German states until the situation permitted the Germans themselves to arrange unification.

The Allies wouldn't go for that, but hopped on the negotiations idea. They began to talk, they have been talking ever since, and now the chief upshot of the Eisenhower-Khrushchev conferences is an agreement to continue talking.

When the Allies adopted the talk-talk policy it became evident that it would lead to a four-power summit conference, despite American, German and French reservations against British enthusiasm. Now that appears to be the next step.

In the process, the East German regime's position was first inflated, even to the point where its representatives were admitted as observers at the foreign ministers conference in Geneva. Now it has been deflated to the point where negotiations over its powers revert entirely to the Kremlin.

This makes it even more clear to the German people, East and West, just how the East German Communists are merely a marker in the Soviet game.

East Germany has been getting some share of the general prosperity which is sweeping Europe. Pressures are different and less urgent than when its people once attempted open revolt.

But the government has been undercut, and because its authority has not been increased, it is now lessened. It will now have to adopt tactics to reassert itself, and so will widen its differences with a people who increasingly doubt its potency.

Good Listening—Today On WSUI

CHANGES HAVE OCCURRED at WSUI, but they are not monumental and were not designed for revolutionary effect.

For example, the week's programs are now previewed at 5:00 p.m., daily except Saturday, and the spot formerly devoted to Program Previews (5:45 p.m.) is now given over to a variety of news background programs, following the news at 5:30 p.m. On Mondays, there will be a different, evening edition of Editorial Page (also heard at 12:45 p.m. on Fridays); on Tuesday at 5:45 p.m., the magazine articles program, "It Says Here," will be resumed; the same slot on Wednesdays will be occupied by the Child Welfare Department's "Know Your Children" series, on Thursdays by Canadian Press Review, and on Fridays by a second version of the News Background program heard regularly at 12:45 p.m. each Monday. If you think YOU are confused, well...

WITH THE RESUMPTION OF FULL SCHEDULE, WSUI's guide to serious music has infinitely more significance. If you have not received the current edition, good through October, a simple postcard, directed to WSUI, Iowa City, and containing the address to which you wish the guide to be sent, will be sufficient to bring it to you now and throughout the academic year. While you are waiting, you may depend on this column for an occasional reminder. Today, for example, at 6:00 p.m., on Evening Concert, you may hear the music of Beethoven, Rachmaninoff, Turina, Sibelius and a youngster named Mozart. The latter's 40th Symphony is a principle item of business.

ON THE BOOKSHELF, in case you haven't been paying attention, the current selection for reading is the last of Theodore Dreiser's novels, The Bulwark. Published posthumously, the plot concerns the waywardness of the children of a strict, Quaker family and the confusion and anxiety which follow for the head of the family. Daily, at about 9:30 a.m.

FREQUENCY MODULATION ENTHUSIASTS, used to the best possible reproduction of recorded music, still have a week remaining in which to ready equipment for the Fall debut at KSUI.

Rush Week

This morning, a spy we have been telling us stories about sorority and fraternity rush. A veteran of two or three seasons, she chatted on unconcernedly as the tinkling of a mountain rill, while we in our naive sat struck dumb as a stone.

If innocence is soiled by knowledge, then after learning about the machinations of rush week we fear for ourselves. On the other hand, it may be knowledge that purifies inexperience, as in "Chatterley," and in that case we must have benefited considerably from her account.

We do not intend a crusade directed at abuses in the system of selection for fraternity and sorority membership. That would smack of self-righteousness and besides, such a crusade is none of our business. No one, we imagine, is more aware of the unfortunate aspects of rush week than Greeks themselves, and we hope that no one is working harder to improve the situation.

Still, there are several questions we should like to ask, and they are not simply rhetorical questions. We would like to know, what is the place of fraternities on the campus of an American university? What is the purpose of a fraternity? And who is and who is not qualified to belong?

This would be a good time of year for those questions to be answered. Any volunteers?

V.S.P.O.

Late last night we stopped in at the local V.S.P.O. with a letter to stamp and post. We came away feeling eminently satisfied, and thinking also that any institution having so special a virtue as the Iowa City Post Office ought to be articulately appreciated.

First, you ought to know that the Iowa City Post Office is open all the time. Not the postal windows, mind you, but the main hall—where the windows are. (Not that we mean to slight the windows, which stay upon until a far more obliging hour than the windows of a bank.) But the point is simply, that both of the large main doors are open all the time.

Many is the time when, sleepless at 3 a.m. and yawning for civilization, we have tramped the dark and brooding streets of Iowa City happily to light upon the bright intelligence of the U.S. Post Office. On these occasions, as we stepped into the main hall we were always greeted by the cheerful strains of a small radio playing in the back room. The voices of the night clerks resounded across the partition, and there before us on several round, elbow-high tables was pen and ink ready for as many addresses as we could imagine. Against the wall between the windows were modern aluminum scales accurately waiting to weigh our letters, and there were stamp machines too, which didn't change an extra penny.

In short, the United States Government was there ready. The United States Government, far and above the petty complexities of Iowa City, far and above the involvements of those dark neighborhoods.

We neglected to say that when we entered the post office last night the first thing we heard was a cricket, even before the radio. This didn't disturb us at first, but now that we think of it, we wonder whether even our Sanctum sanctorum has been violated by the provincial and the common. Perhaps there is no escape.

And in the event that the above smacks of too much welt-schmerz for the early morning reader, we will end on a brighter note by congratulating Coach Evashevski and his football team. We ourselves were once an athlete of a sort, if only in the sense of having once owned a hound, a bay horse and a turtle dove.

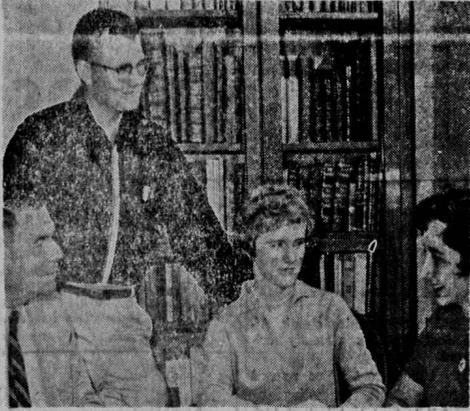

While we believe that other forms of learning are more important in the academy, we do not wish to slight the disciplines of competitive football. Competitive sports were an integral part of the civilization which produce Socrates, Aeschylus, Sophocles, et al, and we think that it is not for us to shun the Greek ideal of the balanced life.

What is objectionable, of course, is that too few compete and too many watch, so that we are unnecessarily a flabby nation. Certainly we are a more complex civilization than Greece, but is that a good excuse here? We would say no.

At any rate, we wish to express again our congratulations to the coach and the players. Keep up the good work.

Honor Students Chat

Professor Names Members Of '59-'60 University Chorus

Ike Inks Combo Bill, Including Civil Rights

WASHINGTON (AP) — A combination bill carrying $3.2 billion for foreign aid and extending the life of the Civil Rights Commission two more years was signed Monday by President Eisenhower. In either case he did not get from Congress what he asked for. The aid sum was $704 million below the amount he asked. The commission extender was only one of seven civil rights proposals he made to Congress. Eisenhower's desk now is clear of all bills sent him by the recently adjourned Congress. There were 156 bills there when Congress quit for the year on Sept. 15. The bill signed Monday, carries money for activities other than foreign aid, including $500,000 for the Civil Rights Commission, $359 million for the highway trust fund, $2 million to help the Labor Department administer the new labor controls law and lesser items. In all, the bill's total was $3.6 million or $1.2 billion less than Eisenhower asked. Eisenhower may ask clearly in the new Congressional session for some supplemental aid money. The Civil Rights Commission was set up to investigate and report on complaints of citizens being deprived of their rights. It was primarily aimed at alleged violations of Negroes' voting rights in the South.

Ike Asks Creation Of Loan Agency By 68 Countries

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower and Secretary of the Treasury Robert B. Anderson urged the finance ministers of 68 free world nations Monday to create an easy-term lending agency to help underdeveloped countries. The U.S. leaders addressed the opening session of the five-day annual meeting of the governing boards of the World Bank and International Monetary Fund here. They appealed to the bank's governors to approve a U.S.-backed resolution to create a billion-dollar affiliate of the World Bank, to be called the International Development Association. The IDA would make "soft loans" — loans with low interest rates and long repayment periods, and repayable in part at least in the currency of the borrowing country. This would assist nations which could not finance even sound development projects, Eisenhower said, if borrowers had to meet credit standards of the World Bank for private lenders.

FCC Gets Day Station Request For Iowa Falls

Nixon-Rocky Unbeatable?

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Republican national chairman from Kentucky's Blue Grass country said Monday that a Nixon-Rockefeller ticket in 1960 would be like running Man O' War and Round Table in the same race. Sen. Thurston B. Morton told a news conference he would "have to assume there'll be a contest" between Vice President Richard M. Nixon and New York Gov. Nelson B. Rockefeller for the presidential nomination. But he emphasized he was not putting one man ahead of the other. While Rockefeller has not yet indicated he will actively seek the nomination, Morton said: "The governor's friends have been urging him to run and sometimes it is difficult for a man to decline." Morton said the two key issues in next year's election will be domestic prosperity and leadership in foreign affairs.

Nikita Goes East To China's Fete For Communism

TOKYO (AP) — Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev turned eastward Monday after his momentous American journey and hailed Red China's revolution as one of history's great events. He pledged eternal friendship between Moscow and Peiping. The occasion for his bow to the East was the opening ceremonies of the 10th anniversary of the Communist regime in Peiping. His words for China were read out as a message, pending his arrival in time for the anniversary day — Thursday, Oct. 1. The message was broadcast by Red China radio within hours after Khrushchev returned to a hero's welcome in Moscow. After the brief pause in Moscow, Khrushchev is going on to Peiping presumably with the private word for the Chinese on his talks with Eisenhower and his first-hand views of America.

Curtain Up Late; Pianist Oversleeps

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — The start of a performance of "Carousel" at the Shubert Theater here was held up 35 minutes Sunday night. The associate conductor and pianist of the orchestra, who is supposed to see to it that all the musicians are on hand, overslept.

Ireland, Malaya Ask U.N. Debate On Tibet

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Ireland and Malaya asked Monday night for a full-scale debate in the U.N. General Assembly on Chinese Communist oppression in Tibet. They asked that the situation be put on the Assembly's agenda for this session. Sources in the Irish delegation said they expect the Assembly's Steering Committee to approve it, probably around midweek. It would still need approval by two-thirds of the 82-nation Assembly.

Orthopedics Prof Writes Chapter In Food Yearbook

A research professor emeritus at SUI is one of 72 authorities on nutrition who contributed to Food, the 1959 Yearbook of Agriculture. Dr. Genevieve Stearns, of the Department of Orthopedic Surgery in the College of Medicine, contributed a chapter entitled "Nutrition of Infants and Toddlers." The chapter emphasizes nutritional needs at this age level. Dr. Stearns has been at SUI since 1920, with the exception of two years at the University of Michigan. She is also a former research professor in the Department of Pediatrics. The new Yearbook of Agriculture can be obtained for $2.25 from the Superintendent of Documents, Government Printing Office, Washington 25, D.C.

Iowa City Voters To Decide Today On Gas Franchise

Whether or not to grant a 25-year franchise for gas and electric service to the Iowa-Illinois Gas and Electric Company will be decided by Iowa City voters today. Polls for the special election will be open from 7 p.m. to 8 p.m. in the nine precinct locations used in municipal elections. The franchisees contain general provisions for the sale of gas and electricity to residents of the city. They also grant to the company the right to use streets and alleys for its distribution system. Voters will receive a single ballot, but there will be spaces to vote on each of the ordinances separately. The franchise ordinances were approved by the City Council in August, but under Iowa law, they cannot become effective until the matter passes a vote of the citizens. Three changes from previous ordinances are incorporated into the new measures. One change requires the company to file with the city a map showing the location of existing gas mains and future extensions in the distribution system. Another change provides that franchisees may be re-negotiated at the end of 15 years. The other change provides that any rate or service study sought by the city shall be made at the expense of the company. Previously, such studies were made at city expense.

Roseboro Homer, Sherry Relief Work Halt Braves

Scene Shifts To Coliseum For 2nd Game

Drysdale vs. Burdette In Today's Contest

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Young Larry Sherry's brilliant relief pitching and John Roseboro's sixth-inning home run gave the arosed Los Angeles Dodgers a 3-2 victory over Milwaukee Monday in the opener of a best-of-three playoff series for the National League pennant.

The series will continue today in the vast Los Angeles Coliseum with the Dodgers' Don Drysdale (17-13) trying to close it out in two straight. Lew Burdette (21-15) will work for the Braves. Game time is 3 p.m. CST.

Sherry, a 24-year-old right-hander from Los Angeles, came to the rescue of wild Danny McDevitt, the Dodger starter, in the second inning. Working with the coolness of a veteran, the young man who was brought up from St. Paul in early July allowed only four hits in the last 7 2/3 scoreless innings.

All this fine pitching in rain, fog and heavy dew would have been wasted if Roseboro hadn't slammed a 2-1 pitch by Carlton Willey over the right field fence for his 10th home run as he led off the sixth. The blow by the Dodger catcher, who is doing a man-sized job of trying to fill the ample shoes of Roy Campanella, fell five rows into the bleachers, about 375 feet from home plate.

Neal and Larker each had three of the 10 Dodger hits off Willey and relief man Don McMahon who pitched the last three innings. Roseboro's homer was the only extra base blow of the soggy afternoon.

It looked for a long time as though the game never would get started. Ten minutes before game time, it started to rain, gently at first and then harder and harder. The ground crew pulled the tarpaulin over the infield while the players sat down on the bench to wait it out.

Finally the rain let up and the umpires came out with President Warren Giles of the league to confer with the opposing managers. After a long discussion they ordered the cover off and the warm-ups started. The game got under way 47 minutes late.

It was played under lights from the very start. In the late innings a fog rolled in. Both teams played remarkably good ball under the circumstances but it was

Sherry Wins With Slider

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Last winter 23-year-old Larry Sherry learned to throw a slider in Venezuela and Monday the Los Angeles Dodgers went one-up on the Milwaukee Braves in the National League playoff. And there's a connection.

Larry's older brother, Norm, who caught him at Spokane before the boys came up to Los Angeles, told the slider secret in the Dodger club house. Larry was made into a pitcher by the baseball coach at Fairfax High School in Los Angeles, but he only threw fast balls, curves and a change-up.

Last winter, playing with Maracaibo, he taught himself the slider and perfected it at St. Paul this summer before he was called up from the American Association in July.

"It wasn't behaving for me all the way today," Larry said. "It started out all right, then I had some troubles with it in the middle innings. But it came back."

not one of those thrillers you will retell to your grandchildren.

The Dodgers, Los Angeles variety, did better than the old Brooklyn brand ever did in the first game of the playoff. The Brooks lost in two straight to St. Louis in 1946 and dropped the first to the New York Giants in 1951 before finally being knocked out in the third game by Bobby Thomson's "miracle" homer.

And they did it without their best hitter, Duke Snider, who was on the bench with a damaged knee. He was available only for pinch hitting duty if needed. The Dodgers got to Willey for a run in the first when Neal singled off Bobby Avila's glove behind second base, took second on Wally Moon's infield out and scored on Larker's single to right. Milwaukee forced Manager Walter Alton to give starter McDevitt a fast hook in the second. The little lefty got one man out and then walked Johnny Logan on four pitches. Haney: We're Not Quitting

MILWAUKEE (AP) — "We've been doing it from the back end all year long and now we have to keep doing it."

That was Milwaukee Manager Fred Haney's philosophical comment Monday after the Braves dropped a 3-2 decision to Los Angeles in the opener of the best-of-three series for the National League championship. "It's been uphill for us just about all the way," the little skipper said in the dressing room. "We're not quitting now. We're still thinking of coming back from Los Angeles as champions."

The Braves weren't so noisy and in such a joking frame of mind as before the game with the Dodgers. But they were far from discouraged.

"This is going to the end," said slugging third baseman Eddie Mathews. "It won't be able to go any farther. We'll just have to get them in the two games on the coast."

"We just got beat," Haney said with a faint smile. "You can't win ball games on six hits. We couldn't come up with the big one when we needed it."

Scheffing Quits Cub Post; Pilot Job Goes To Grimm

CHICAGO (AP) — "I'm as happy as a kid," said 61-year-old Charlie Grimm Monday as he succeeded Bob Scheffing as manager of the Chicago Cubs.

The resignation of Scheffing after three years as skipper and appointment of Grimm was announced by club President Phil Wrigley. The Cubs shared fifth place in the National League this season for the second straight year.

Grimm, who spends his spare time romping with his eight grandchildren and raising Shetland ponies on his farm near St. Louis, returned to the Cubs' managerial role for the third time.

He replaced Rogers Hornsby as Cubs manager on Aug. 4, 1932. He was succeeded by Gabby Hartnett on July 20, 1938. Grimm returned as manager on May 7, 1944, taking over from Jim Wilson. He was out again on June 10, 1949. Frankie Frisch replaced him.

Grimm guided the Cubs to pennants in 1932, 1935 and 1945. After leaving the Cubs, Grimm succeeded Tommy Holmes as manager of the then Boston Braves on May 31, 1952. He went with them to Milwaukee and was replaced by Fred Haney on June 17, 1956. After that he returned to the Cubs, serving as a vice president — a title he still will carry.

"Mr. Wrigley called me two days ago and asked if I would manage the team," said Grimm. "I thought it over and gave him my answer last night. It's on a year-to-year basis with no contract — the usual practice of the Cubs."

"A manager's job is a treadmill to nowhere. But I am very happy to be back. Being a manger is my first love. Scheffing will stay with us in some capacity yet to be decided. I'll sit down with him after the World Series and talk over the whole Cub picture."

Scheffing said he was not unhappy.

"I don't know what my new job will be, but it will be a pretty good one," he said.

'Delay Fouls Sox Plans,' Lopez Says

CHICAGO (AP) — The Chicago White Sox Monday worked out in Comiskey Park before watching the televised first playoff game between the Braves and Los Angeles Dodgers in Milwaukee.

"We'll have to work out every day," said Manager Al Lopez of the American League champions. "We'll have to try to keep sharp. The delay fouls up all our plans."

Sox pitcher Early Wynn said: "All we want them to do over there in the other league is to decide who is the champion. We don't care who we play."

Wills came up with Avila's sharp grounder in time to force Willey at second but Crandall scored on the play. The run, of course, was charged to McDevitt who had put Crandall on base. Los Angeles tied the score at 2-2 in the third. With one out, Neal collected his second straight single. Moon forced Neal, but Larker's second single off Avila's glove, moved Moon to second. Gil Hodges' single past Eddie Mathews drove in Moon. Sherry gave up two singles in the fourth but struck out Avila to end the threat. He walked Joe Adcock and allowed a single by pinch hitter Lee Maye in the fifth but made Logan ground out to end the inning. He retired nine in a row until Logan broke through for a two-out single in the eighth.

Harry Craft Fired As Manager Of A's; May Remain With Club

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Harry Craft was fired Monday as field manager of the Kansas City Athletics.

Parke Carroll, Athletics general manager, said Craft's contract would not be renewed.

"He has been offered a responsible position in our player development program," said Carroll, "and I hope he decides to remain with the A's."

Carroll said Arnold Johnson, the club owner, is in Europe. A new manager will be named after Johnson returns in mid-October, Carroll said.

The Athletics wound up in seventh place in the American League this season with 66 victories and 88 defeats.

Craft replaced Lou Boudreau as manager Aug. 6, 1957, when the A's also were in seventh place. They finished seventh that year and in 1958.

Kansas City fans entertained hopes of a first division finish this year, and in late July — when the A's put together an 11-game winning streak — these hopes soared. During that spurt, longest in the major leagues this year, the club climbed from last place to third. But the New York Yankees came to town and promptly put

Martin, Fleming Patch Up Quarrel

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Slater Martin of the St. Louis Hawks and Ed Fleming of the Minneapolis Lakers, who was accused of knocking Martin out of National Basketball Association playoffs last spring with a deliberate foul, have patched things up. Martin suffered a severe knee injury in a collision with Fleming.

Sports Editor Robert L. Burnes of the Globe-Democrat reported Monday Fleming apologized to Martin for the trouble it caused him, but wrote there had been no attempt at a deliberate foul. Martin replied in a "conciliatory" letter.

Start Title Defense Saturday—

Hawks Prepare For Wildcats

The swift leap into the defense of their Big Ten title will be taken Saturday by Iowa's Hawkeyes, with Northwestern as a powerful challenger in the opening home game.

A sell-out since early August, the game matches teams which last Saturday scored overwhelming wins in their openers— Iowa 42-12 at California and Northwestern 45-13 over Oklahoma.

The Hawkeyes were in high spirits as they drilled Monday afternoon. The bulk of the work was on defending the Wildcat attack which ran up six touchdowns against Oklahoma.

The Mau-Maus, with Ed Trancygier and Tom Moore imitating Northwestern's Dick Thornton, ran Northwestern plays. Members of the first and second units were on defense. Curt Merz, who suffered a charley horse in the Cal game, confined his activity to a lot of running on the sidelines with Jeff Langston taking over the left end spot.

Although surprised at the size of the score, Coach Forest Evashevski said that he thought Iowa was not actually as strong as the 30-point victory margin over California indicated.

"The poise of the Hawkeyes pleased me. After yielding a quick touchdown on two plays, the team took charge at a time when a lack of poise could have caused it to fall apart," commented Evashevski.

He warns that Iowa still has problems and shortcomings which may be amplified by stronger opposition. The coach also declared that he hopes too high a standard has not been set and that the win will be accepted for what it is worth.

It's certain that Iowa will be well tested in the coming weeks; first by Northwestern, then in succession by Michigan State at home and Wisconsin and Purdue on the road from Oct. 3 to 24.

Evy still regards the quarterback situation as a problem and apologized for being so conservative. However, he praised the poise of Olen Treadway, the senior who actually before had played little. His ball-handling was deft and he hit 8 of 12 passes for 127 yards.

The No. 2 quarterback, Wilburn Hollis, featured good ball-handling and completed five of eight tosses for 50 yards and one touchdown. After he completely recovers from an ankle injury, he will run more.

Iowa used 34 players in the California game and some of the new men or ones who did not play much last year gained valuable experience. Evy points out.

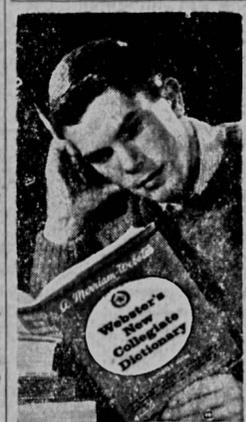

These included Hollis, Bernie Wyatt, halfback; Eugene Mosley, a junior fullback who had 42 yards on three carries; Sherwyn Thornton, guard; Al Hinton, tackle; Dave Watkins and Bill Whisler, ends. Evashevski said it will be "necessary for the sophomores to grow game by game."

After player losses from the 1958 team, it was encouraging that the diversified offense produced 475 yards, 298 rushing and 177 passing. Eight backs had big rushing gains, the largest being 83 yards by Ray Jauch, 70 by John Brown, including a 59-yard TD run, 42 by Mosley and 41 by Jeter.

Northwestern will present terrific problems for a defense which has yet to be proven. The Wildcats are led by Ron Burton, the sprinting halfback, and quarterback

Dick Thornton, whose passing and running are equally dangerous. A year ago at Iowa City, the Hawkeyes came out with a 26-20 win with the Wildcats scoring their 20 points in the second half.

Iowa has won four straight from Northwestern and leads in the all-time series 17 wins to 8, with 3 ties. However, the teams have met only four times since 1949 and before 1949 a ten-year gap in the series occurred.

He was tagged the boy wonder when at the age of 15 he teamed with Tilden to win the national doubles title in 1918. He and Tilden won it again in 1921 and 1922 and he paired with R. N. Williams to win it in 1925 and 1926.

For the last 20 years, Richards was vice president of the sports division of the Dunlap Tire and Rubber Co.

Recommended Sherry To Dodgers—

Ex-Pilot Corriden Dies

INDIANAPOLIS — John M. Corriden, 72, a former major league baseball manager and player, died Monday while watching the National League playoff game between the Los Angeles Dodgers and Milwaukee Braves on television.

Corriden, who managed the Chicago White Sox in 1950, suffered a heart attack while watching the game. As a Dodger scout, a position he held from 1951 until he retired in 1958, he recommended the hiring of Larry Sherry, winner of Monday's game for Los Angeles. A native of Logansport, Ind.,

Corriden broke into organized baseball with Keokuk, Iowa, in 1908. He was with the St. Louis Browns in 1910, Detroit in 1912 and the Chicago Cubs in 1913-14-15. Corriden managed Des Moines of the Western League in 1923-24.

Coach Says Oklahoma Made Too Many Errors

NORMAN, Okla. — Oklahoma football Coach Bud Wilkinson said Monday the Sooners "just made too many mistakes in a 45-13 loss to Northwestern Saturday."

"We relinquished control of the ball too often near our own goal line," he said. Wilkinson, now in his 13th season at Oklahoma, minimized pre-game illnesses of several players as a reason for the lopsided loss.

"In college football you play under whatever circumstances are available at that time," he said. "If you win, you do so with humility and if you lose you do it the same way."

Nightclub Owner Indicted By Jury For Bribe Attempt

PHILADELPHIA — Harold Friedman, part owner of a downtown supper club, was indicted Monday on a charge of trying to bribe Philadelphia Phillies pitcher Humberto Robinson into throwing a ball game.

Conviction carries a maximum sentence of not more than 10 years' imprisonment or $10,000 fine, or both.

SCORING STRING TO 57
By scoring in the California game, the Iowa game scoring string was stretched to 57 games. The streak started with the opening game of the 1953 season. Now, every game in which the Hawks score will move them one step higher in ranking among Big Ten teams for scoring streaks. If Iowa would score in the Northwestern, Michigan State, and Wisconsin games, the Iowans would then have the longest string.

Hoffa Not To Oust Officials Despite Demands By Court

WASHINGTON (AP) — James R. Hoffa said Monday he has no intention of bringing union ouster actions demanded by court monitors against three Teamsters officials involved in Senate Rackets Committee charges.

The Teamsters Union president said he has rejected removal charges against Joey Glimco, head of a Chicago taxi local; Harold Gross, chief of a Miami local; and Anthony Provenzano, head of New Jersey Joint Council 73.

"We have answered every one of the monitor charges in writing based on statements from the individuals involved," Hoffa told reporters.

Hoffa also denied charges brought recently in Federal Court here accusing Hoffa himself of mishandling funds of Detroit Local 299 which he heads.

The court appointed monitors, in bringing these complaints, have asked a federal judge to remove Hoffa from office or require a union trial to seek his expulsion.

The monitors contend Hoffa deposited more than $600,000 of the Detroit local's funds in various banks without interest to secure loans for financial operations in which Hoffa allegedly was involved.

Hoffa denied there was anything wrong in these transactions and said they were carried out with the knowledge and consent of the Detroit local's members.

He met reporters after a meeting of the Teamsters National Executive Board, which is to continue sessions all week.

So far, Hoffa said, he has found only five out of more than 10,000 Teamsters officials and employees disqualified by the new labor law ban against convicted criminals holding union office or employment for five years.

Hoffa declined to name the individuals but said their convictions all will be five years old next January. He said that meanwhile the five have been placed on leaves of absence.

Charges against Glimco include allegations he used more than $124,000 of funds from his taxi drivers Local 777 in Chicago to defend himself against extortion charges, that he received salary kickbacks from other union officials—and that he used union funds for personal purposes.

Gross is president of Local 320 in Miami. Charges against him were that while an officer of another Teamster local he was convicted of extortion and jailed for three years, and that he received payoffs from employers.

The monitors said there was testimony before the rackets committee that Provenzano received payoffs from employers to insure labor peace, and that he put his Local 560 in Hoboken, N.J., in debt to accumulate a pension fund for himself and other union officials.

Europe Hails Ike-'K' Talks As Successful

LONDON (AP) — With an air of relief, Europe hailed Monday the outcome of President Eisenhower's talks with Nikita Khrushchev as successful. There was general expectation of a summit meeting before Christmas.

Statesmen and newspapers detected historic significance in the Camp David declaration by the American and Soviet leaders that "all outstanding international questions should be settled not by the application of force but by peaceful means through negotiation."

Diplomats interpreted the statement as a definite agreement by the mightiest powers in the world not to go to war with each other in this H-bomb age.

Even before reading a detailed account of the top-level American-Soviet exchanges, Prime Minister Harold Macmillan jumped in to acclaim them as successful. Locked in an electoral battle for power, Macmillan also claimed personal credit for blazing the trail toward East-West understandings.

In Bonn, Chancellor Konrad Adenauer told his West German political supporters he warmly welcomes the position Eisenhower took in talking with the Soviet Premier. The President had not wavered in his support of West Berliners and West Germans.

Word came from the French foreign ministry that President Charles de Gaulle is ready any time to go to the summit, specifically on the Berlin issue. Officials noted that France fully backs the "no-war" pledge given by Eisenhower and Khrushchev.

U.S. Steel Head Dies After Stroke

HYANNIS, Mass. (AP) — Walter F. Mumford, president of U.S. Steel Corp., shut down by a 75-day-old strike, died Monday in Cape Cod Hospital of complications which followed a stroke. He was 59.

Mumford, who took over the presidency of the vast steel concern on May 5 at a reputed salary of $250,000 a year, had been under a physician's care for the past few weeks for nervous exhaustion and fatigue.

He was admitted to the hospital last Wednesday suffering from an abdominal knife wound. Hospital Administrator Gerard A. Ouellette said Mumford apparently wounded himself while doctors were arranging to go to Boston with him for further treatment. The Mumfords had been staying at their 12-room Cape Cod summer cottage at Chatham.

Vera All Tuckered Out, But Death Toll Rises In Japan

TOKYO (AP) — The death toll from typhoon Vera, the worst to hit Japan in more than two decades rose to 1,544 Monday. National police fear it will go higher.

Many more bodies may be buried under debris in the ravaged industrial city of Nagoya. The confirmed death toll there so far is 170 but the City Assembly was told at an emergency meeting 1,000 persons are believed to have perished. An assemblyman said this was a conservative estimate.

National police reported another

1,293 persons missing, 6,615 injured and 1,143,715 homeless.

The worst previous typhoon killed 3,066 persons in Japan in 1934.

There was only one minor casualty reported among American military personnel from the typhoon that raged across Japan last weekend. An American serviceman suffered minor cuts from flying glass.

No American installations were directly in the storm's path, but the U.S. Air Force tentatively estimated a million dollars worth of damage was caused at Tachikawa Air Base, near Tokyo, by fringe winds up to 80 m.p.h.

Winds of more than 160 m.p.h. were reported at the typhoon's center.

About 7,000 residents of the Nanyo-cho district of Nagoya were still cut off from relief and 160,000 others in the central Japanese city of two million could be reached only by rowboat.

It is in the Nanyo-cho district that assemblymen believe most of the casualties occurred. They estimated that when the water receded, at least 600 bodies will be found there alone. The section is built on reclaimed land near the entrance to the port of Nagoya. The district is so badly flooded that only the second floor of two-story houses show above the waters.

The waterfront and harbor stand as mute testimony to the fury of the typhoon. A 13,500-ton cargo ship lies on a wharf. Fishing boats are in the streets, tossed there by the wind and waves. The harbor is choked with debris.

Senators Vary In Opinions Of K's Visit

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senators differed sharply Monday in their appraisals of the visit of Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev, but their reactions did not follow party lines.

Sen. Theodore Francis Green, (D-R.I.), chairman emeritus of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, described the Soviet leader's visit as a useful one opening the way for a lessening of world tensions.

Similarly, Sen. Thomas S. Kuchel, (R-Calif.), the assistant GOP Senate leader, said "all in all it was very helpful."

But Sen. Homer E. Capehart, (R-Ind.), a Foreign Relations Committee member, said "all we are doing is building up the prestige of Khrushchev and the Communists throughout the world."

Another committee member, Sen. Bourke Hickenlooper, (R-Iowa), said "I don't see any indication that Mr. Khrushchev has changed his ideas any."

"The most valuable part of the visit is that the American people here had an opportunity to see Mr. Khrushchev at first hand and to weigh him and his motives," said the Senate majority leader, Lyndon B. Johnson, (D-Tex.). "I do not think any Americans were converted to communism. I do think, however, that they were able to realize the force and the power of this man who is dedicated to the destruction of our system."

Ike Likened To Farmer Viewing Nikita's Squash

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower seemed like a farmer trying to size up the effects of a violent wind and rainstorm.

Did the wind whipped up by that incredible one-man cyclone, Nikita Khrushchev, do any damage? Or did enough rain fall during the mountain meeting at Camp David, Md., to give hope that, eventually, international crops will be better?

Like any farmer, Eisenhower was cautiously optimistic.

"I will say this, some good may come of it," he told his news conference Monday.

But when he was asked if any ice was melted in the cold war, and, if so, how much, he had no specific answers.

Obviously it's going to take a lot more sun before much ice is melted.

On one subject Eisenhower was specific. That subject was his guest.

"An extraordinary personality," Eisenhower said, "no doubt about that."

And the President showed that the Soviet Premier must act in private pretty much as he does in public — he could be negative one moment and then suddenly turn affable and genial.

That's the way he's been all along. Conversationally, Khrushchev is like a football runner who keeps reversing his field, but keeps his eye on the goal the whole time.

This was a curious news conference.

Since Khrushchev has been boiling out statements of all sorts, it seemed reasonable to assume that this conference, called two days ahead of the normal schedule, would bring a counter from Eisenhower.

Well, Eisenhower had a statement all right, but it was on steel, not Khrushchev. And if Eisenhower hoped to divert the conference away from his visitor and to home problems, he must have been disappointed.

Only one question dealt with the steel strike. All the others were directed to international problems and what he and Khrushchev said or didn't say, to each other.

Most of us, looking at the cold war, have one horrible fear — that this will build up until some mad action blows us all higher than Sputniks.

Well, Eisenhower and Khrushchev have the same fears. But Eisenhower disclosed that he and Khrushchev are also worried about the tremendous cost of eternal preparedness.

They discussed the matter for a little while, he said, without reaching any conclusions on who is spending the most.

It would be strange, indeed, if the real break in this ice jam came, not from the diplomats, but from two fellows in the rival accounting departments.

Miss Callas' Hubby Seeks Separation

BRESCIA, Italy (AP) — Opera star Maria Callas' husband, Giovan Battista Meneghini, filed suit Monday for a legal separation. He is 62, and she 35.

The breakup of their 10-year-old marriage followed a Mediterranean yacht cruise of the Meneghinis in August as guests of 55-year-old Aristotle Onassis and his wife.

Since then Miss Callas has been on another yacht cruise with Onassis and he has squirmed her around to southern European night spots. Both have denied they are romancing.

Mrs. Onassis recently has been in Paris and New York.

Unions Balk At Swift's Work Now, Pay Increase Later Idea

CHICAGO (AP) — A strike of 17,000 Swift & Co. employees passed its 25th day Monday with negotiations stalled.

Bargaining talks have been in recess since Thursday when the United Packinghouse Workers and the Amalgamated Meat Cutters rejected a company compromise proposal.

The unions Monday accused the company of attempting to scuttle contract negotiations by announcing that strikers were welcome to come back to their jobs in the 34 closed plants at increased wage rates pending a settlement.

Leaders of the UPWA and Meat Cutters said their locals reported failure of the back-to-work movement.

Swift has offered to meet the pattern set by the Armour & Co. settlement last month in terms of the 15-cent hourly wage raise during a 2-year contract, except in seven Southern plants.

The company, which says its wage rates in the Southern plants is already too high to permit profitable competition with other packers in the region, at first proposed no boosts in the seven plants.

Thursday, Swift offered to give its Southern workers a 2-cent hourly wage raise and continue a cost-of-living escalator provision. This was turned down by union negotiators.

The unions have charged also that Swift's position on fringe benefits does not meet terms of the Armour contract.

Swift's spokesman said, however "our offer is better than any other package." He said Swift workers averaged $2.86 an hour including incentive pay in April this year, compared with a $2.56 an hour average for the industry as a whole.

Algerian Rebels Ready To Discuss Cease Fire Now

TUNIS, Tunisia (AP) — Algerian rebel leaders announced Monday they are ready to sit down with President Charles de Gaulle to discuss a cease-fire and his promise of self-determination for Algeria. They said peace might come quickly.

But France has refused to recognize the rebel Government in exile and such talks still seemed remote.

The statement from the Government in exile was in reply to De Gaulle's Sept. 16 declaration charting a new course for the rebellious North African territory.

De Gaulle promised Algeria's nine million non-Europeans that within four years after fighting died down they could vote on Algeria's future. He listed three choices — independence, integration with metropolitan France and limited autonomy.

Ferhat Abbas, premier of the provisional rebel Government, called reporters together and read the three-page response to De Gaulle's plan.

detail the ultimate solution of the Berlin question.

But he specified: "Any agreement must be acceptable to the people of the area, including the most concerned — the people of West Berlin and the federal republic of Germany."

His earlier remarks at the news conference had said no such thing — to the astonishment of newsmen who felt Eisenhower might be backing down on his previous stand.

"I don't know what kind of solution may finally prove acceptable, as I say, but you must start with this," Eisenhower said. "The situation is abnormal."

"It was brought about by a truce, a military truce, after the end of the war, and it put strangely a number of free people in a very awkward position."

The word "abnormal" is the one Khrushchev and other Communist leaders have frequently used to describe the present four-power occupation of Berlin.

Further, Eisenhower said any new settlement must take into account the views of East Germans and Soviets as well as West Germans and allied countries.

The President made these other main points in replying to questions devoted 99 per cent to the results of his talks with Khrushchev:

1. The Soviet leader showed himself to be an extraordinary man. He appeared to be a passionate believer in the Communist system, switching from a negative and difficult attitude to geniality as he debated issues with the President.
2. He and Khrushchev both deplored the need to spend billions for arms. But no new start was made on the big problem of disarmament under proper controls.
3. V. S. Emelyanov, Khrushchev's atomic energy chief, said the Soviet Union and the United States must develop the peaceful uses of atomic energy together "because it is just too expensive for one country alone."
4. Khrushchev promised "as a friendly gesture" to take up with the Red China Government the prospects of freeing five American civilians now in Chinese Communist jails. Communist China was discussed, but neither side changed its conflicting views.
5. He delayed his good will trip to the Soviet Union until next spring because the weather will be too cold in the fall. Further, he and Khrushchev both have jammed schedules which include on Eisenhower's part visits by Italy's premier, Mexico's president and others.

Americans Set Record Heights For Cigarettes

WASHINGTON (AP) — Americans are setting a new smoking record this year.

The Agriculture Department said Monday the number of cigarettes turned out in 1959 will set a record of about 485 billion. This is 15 billion above 1958.

The output of cigars and cigarillos, the small type cigar, this year will be more than 6 1/2 billion. This is about 350 million above 1958 and the highest since 1923.

The department said a further increase in smoking is expected in 1960 and, based on the number of persons of smoking age, cigarette output may rise by about 18 per cent by 1965 and 53 per cent by 1975.

Also, the department said its estimates of smoking in the future reflect trends in the 1955-59 period, "a time when the relation to smoking to health received widespread publicity."

This was a reference to yes and no statements as to whether tobacco smoking had any relation to cancer.

About 58 million Americans smoke regularly. This includes 35 million men and 23 million women. The total population is pushing 180 million.

Loveless Labels Results of K's Visit 'Intangible'

DES MOINES (AP) — Results of Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's visit to the United States are "quite intangible at the moment," Gov. Herschel Loveless said Monday.

"There might be a possibility," the governor said, "that Mr. Khrushchev now has a firmer understanding of the abilities of the United States."

"But I'm sure this is not going to deter him from promoting the Communist line, as was evidenced by his going-away speech."

Loveless said one of the impressions he received from the visit of Khrushchev was that "they (the Russians) are sincere about peace—that is, peace on their terms."

He termed the visit "strictly a salesmanship tour" by the Communist leader.

"It did have this value: It awakened a lot of people in the United States to the fact that Russia is not just a backward group of uneducated people. The Russian Government's top officials are shrewd and calculating, with considerable knowledge of psychology," he said.

The governor related that on the way from the airport to Des Moines, Khrushchev remarked that Iowa is the most productive agricultural area in the world, but added that the Russians are going to catch up.

"I told him that may be, but that America isn't producing at capacity by a long shot," Loveless said.

Khrushchev's tour may bring at least a "temporary warming up of the cold war," but not much else in the way of solid accomplishments, Loveless said.

"I'll have a lot of interest in seeing what approach he takes toward his forthcoming visit to Red China," he added.

No Intervention In Laos, Rebels Tell U.N. Group

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP) — The pro-Communist Pathet Lao rebels told U.N. fact finders Monday to go home because Laos cannot prove its charges of outside intervention by Red North Viet Nam.

In an open letter, the rebels suggested the committee "withdraw from Laos without wasting time, to safeguard the prestige of the U.N."

The U.N. committee was sent here from New York after the Laotian government charged North Viet Nam was actively aiding the rebels. The committee still is awaiting proof of the charges.

Meanwhile, pilots flying supplies to the army in the north said government troops had pushed the rebels across the Nam Ma River only five miles from the North Viet Nam border in Sam Neua Province. They said government forces recaptured Muong Het, at the head of the river valley 30 miles north of royal army headquarters at Sam Neua.

Birth Rate For Nation Increases During Year

WASHINGTON (AP) — More babies were born during the first seven months of 1959 than in the corresponding period of any prior year.

A total of 2,434,000 births were registered during the January-July period this year, compared with a previous high of 2,420,000 in the corresponding 1957 months, the Public Health Service reported Monday.

The estimated 378,000 live births in July, however, were not a record for any July though they exceeded the 1958 total of 366,000 by 3.3 per cent. The July record was set at 384,000 in 1957.

Marriages and divorces continued to increase during July, the service also reported.

Chicagoans Want Loveless To Help Get Series Ducats

DES MOINES (AP) — Some Chicagoans are asking Gov. Herschel Loveless to help them get tickets to the World Series.

"I'd love to see a game or two myself, but as of now I don't know how to go about getting tickets," the governor told his news conference Monday.

He added that "the way it looks now, if I get any tickets I'll use them myself."

The Chicago White Sox will be in the American League representative in the Series against either the Milwaukee Braves or Los Angeles Dodgers of the National League.

An exhibit of books and running commentary titled "Man's Quest for Fulfillment" will be on display at the SUI Library until the third week in October. The exhibit of books and landmarks of man's development is divided into ten sections: Early Years of Man, Coming of Christ, Growth of the Spirit, Rise of Democracy, Fight Against Totalitarianism, Brotherhood of Man, Inner Life of Man, Man's Environment and Activity, Looking Outward and Man and the Future.

The SUI Young Democrats will hold a get-acquainted coffee tonight at 7:30 in the Pentacrest Room of the Iowa Memorial Union. John O'Connor, Iowa City, first district committeeman, will speak to the group.

Members of the executive council will report on the various functions of the club. All students interested in participating in national, state and local party politics are urged to attend this meeting, said club president Robert L. Fulton, L3, Leon.

Club plans include two meetings each month, alternating between Tuesday and Thursday nights, according to Fulton. One meeting will feature a speaker and the other will be devoted to business matters and considerations of resolutions, he said. The next meeting has been scheduled for Oct. 13.

Approximately 30 SUI students have applied for Fulbright scholarship grants for the 1960-61 academic year. Only 5 weeks remain to apply for some 900 Fulbright scholarships for study or research in 28 countries. Applications are being accepted until Nov. 1.

Inter-American Cultural Convention (IACC) awards for study in 17 Latin American countries have the same filing deadline.

Recipients of Fulbright awards for study in Europe, Latin America, and the Asia-Pacific area will receive tuition, maintenance and round-trip travel. IACC scholarships cover transportation, tuition, and partial maintenance costs. The Institute of International Education administers both of these student programs for the U.S. Department of State.

General eligibility requirements for both categories of awards are: 1. U.S. citizenship at time of application; 2. a bachelor's degree or its equivalent by 1960; 3. knowledge of the language of the host country; and 4. good health. A demonstrated capacity for independent study and a good academic record are also necessary. Preference is given to applicants under 35 years of age who have not previously lived or studied abroad.

Applicants will be required to submit a plan of proposed study that can be carried out profitably within the year abroad. Successful candidates are required to be affiliated with approved institutions of higher learning abroad.

Students who are interested in obtaining a grant and are currently enrolled in the university should consult W. Wallace Maner in the Office of Student Affairs.

Other interested persons may write to the Institute of International Education, 1 East 67th Street, New York 21, New York. Requests for application forms must be postmarked before Oct. 15.

Audio-Visual Provides Tapes On Wide Variety Of Subjects

Information on topics ranging from table manners to help in landing of a job is available on tapes for teaching provided through the SUI Bureau of Audio-Visual Instruction. The current catalog lists some 2,600 tapes.

Covering subjects in 18 different categories, the taped programs have been developed to allow schools to acquire magnetic tape recordings that can be kept as a permanent part of their instructional material, available for use at the time desired by the teachers.

Instructors may select the subject of the tape from the 1959-61 catalog and send their own magnetic tape to the University for re-recording. After the program desired by the teacher is recorded, SUI sends the tape back to the school. This service is also available to churches, Scout groups and other organizations.

Last year more than 1,700 programs were re-recorded and sent to 41 Iowa schools and 12 colleges throughout the United States and Hawaii. Talks on general semantics delivered by Wendell Johnson, professor of speech pathology and psychology, were the most frequently ordered programs last year. Programs dealing with English literature were also much in demand.

Taped programs concerning art, conservation, psychology and writing are available at all levels of education, from elementary school through adult education classes. A series on government provides insight into the foundations of our democracy with such programs as "The Right to Know" and "Freedom of Speech." Fine arts classes may choose from tapes about well known composers, selections from the American Tradition in Art Series or dramatic adaptations of well known plays narrated by such persons as Raymond Massey, Ingrid Bergman and Walter Pidgeon.

Foreign language tapes are available in French, German, Latin and Spanish. Many of the programs originate from the SUI radio station, WSUI, as well as from other universities. Further information concerning the tapes is available through the SUI Bureau of Audio-Visual Instruction.

Doctor Says Men Take Fat Girls Over Thin

LONDON (AP) — Dr. R. W. Parnell, research physician at Oxford University, says a fat girl has a better chance of getting a husband than a lean one.

Dr. Parnell translates girls' figures into numbers ranging from 7 (very fat) to 1 (beanpole). He uses a similar scale for muscularity and another for height.

The 5-4-2 girl (fat, fairly muscular, short) has a 90 per cent chance of marrying, the 3-2-6 girl (thin, little muscle, very tall), a 60 per cent chance, Dr. Parnell says.
