

'Big Klu' Erupts, Sox Coast To 11-0 Win

2 Home Runs, 5 RBI's Pave Way For Wynn

Snider Sets Error Record

CHICAGO (AP) — Musclemann Ted Kluszewski, a refugee from the National League, drove in five runs with two homers and a single for Chicago's hitless wonders Thursday while Early Wynn and Gerry Stanley blanked Los Angeles in an 11-0 opening World Series victory.

Big Klu, obtained on waivers from Pittsburgh Aug. 25, knocked out both starter Roger Craig and relief man Chuck Churn with drives into the right-field stands.

The Go-Go Sox, who usually depend on speed, clobbered Craig and Churn, two recalled farmhands from Spokane, for seven runs in the third. They started hitting in bright sunshine. When they finally finished dark clouds had rolled in, obviously dispatched from the West Coast.

Kluszewski opened his assault on Craig with a single to right in the first, knocking in Jim Landis with the first of two Sox runs in the inning.

During the big third he finished Craig with his fly ball that just barely made it into the lower stands in right, once again scoring.

Dodger Manager Walt Alton has named left-hander Johnny Podres to face Bob Shaw in the second game of the series today.

Podres (14-9) was the hero of the Dodgers' victory over the Yankees in 1955 — the only year the Dodgers have taken a world championship.

Shaw (18-6), a right-hander acquired from Detroit last year after he asked to be traded instead of returned to the minors, has been the surprise of the White Sox season.

After today's game there will be a one-day travel break, with the series resuming Sunday in Los Angeles.

ing Landis. His second homer was a 400-foot power smash into the upper deck in right in the fourth with Landis once more trotting home in front of him.

This eye-opening performance by a man no National League team wanted, tied the series record for runs batted in, held jointly by Tony Lazzeri and Bill Dickey. They set the mark on the same day, Oct. 2, 1936 when the New York Yankees were thumping the New York Giants 18-2.

As the score mounted the press box authors thumbed busily through the record books, looking for the most lopsided shutout. They had to go way back to the seventh game in 1934 when Dizzy Dean of the St. Louis Cardinals threw an 11-0 clincher against the Detroit Tigers.

Wynn, top winner in the majors with 22 victories, was removed in the eighth after leadoff man Junior Gilliam singled. It was the sixth Dodger hit. The losers got eight in all. Word from the dugout was that Wynn's right elbow had stiffened slightly and Manager Al Lopez did not want to risk any further damage.

Gerry Staley, the dependable bullpen ace, took over.

The Dodgers played as if they were the old Brooks of the Babe Herman era in the third when 11 men went to bat. The White Sox had two singles, three doubles and a homer in the inning and the Dodgers chipped in with three errors.

In the big inning, Duke Snider set a World Series mark for errors in an inning by an outfielder when he was charged with two on a dropped fly and a wild throw. Second baseman Charlie Neal also erred with a wild peg to the plate on an easy change.

Chicago had scored two on Craig in the first inning on a walk to Nellie Fox, the first of Landis' three singles, Kluszewski's single and Sherm Lollar's 400-foot sacrifice fly to deep center.

There was one gone in the third when the sky began to fall on the Dodgers, to the vast entertainment of most of the capacity crowd of 48,013. The White Sox fans who had waited 40 years for a series, chanted "go-go" like a college cheering section as the score mounted.

Fox started it all with a double that bounced off the dark green wall in right field. Landis sent him scooting home with a single over Neal's head to right center.

THOSE DECALS!!! — That was the reaction of Ken Manger, 41, Omaha, Neb., as he attempted to place car registration decal on side window of his car. In case you forgot — car registration decals were to have been affixed by Thursday to all cars belonging to University students, instructors or administrators. Decals are to be placed on the lower center of back window or, in the case of convertibles, on the left hand corner of the windshield. But Manger is not affixing his decal to either place. He got so confused by the directions that he decided to put it on a side window. — Daily Iowan Photo by John Hardy.

Find 11-Year-Old Body Stolen From Grave, Police Hold Man

SIoux FALLS, S.D. (AP) — The body of 11-year-old Jean Pensyl, stolen from its grave three weeks ago, was recovered Thursday from an old basement excavation where the graverobber buried it.

It was exhumed after the father of Willard Beckstrom, Sioux Falls house painter held in the case, reported to sheriff's officers.

The remains of the young Holland, Minn., leukemia victim were brought to a Sioux Falls mortuary. The body was found in the partially filled old basement section of a house that was moved closer to the street some time ago. The site is in the city's west end, about a mile from where Beckstrom lived.

Beckstrom, 36, a former state hospital inmate, was jailed Monday. Investigating officers declined to be quoted on details until a later conference. There was no new statement from Beckstrom, who earlier admitted viewing the body at the funeral service.

It was reported that no one but Beckstrom's father, Willard S. Beckstrom, a Sioux Falls hospital X-ray technician, had been told where the body was buried. Attendants said Jean's body must have been stolen from the Holland, Minn., cemetery the night of Sept. 8, a few hours after burial. The theft was discovered last

World Bank Creates New Loan Agency

WASHINGTON (AP) — Without a dissent from any of its 68 member nations, the World Bank ordered creation of the International Development Association (IDA) Thursday to make loans on easy terms to poorer countries.

The bank's governors, in annual meeting here with the International Monetary Fund, approved a resolution — offered and pressed by the United States — to set up the billion-dollar agency.

This nation agreed to put in $320 million, more than any other, but Congress must first approve U.S. adherence and provide the money. IDA may start making loans next year.

The vote did not commit any individual country to join the new agency. IDA will come into existence when a specified majority of the bank's members vote to adhere.

The resolution instructs the bank's 18-member board of directors to draw up a charter for IDA as a bank affiliate, specifying how the new agency will make and administer loans for industrial projects in underdeveloped lands.

Saturday after a caretaker noticed a depression in the earth above the grave. A 400-pound slab over the grave had been smashed and the body stolen.

There was speculation by police that the graverobber was attracted to the girl by stories of her plight that appeared in the newspapers before she died.

Officers said hours of questioning Beckstrom failed to turn up any hint of a motive.

5 SUI Coeds Selected For Dolphin Final

Five SUI coeds were chosen as Dolphin Queen finalists in a second elimination judging Thursday night.

Finalists selected were Jacquie Baker, A3, Glasgow, Mont.; Betsy Beattie, A1, Des Moines; Karen Harris, A1, Marshalltown; Kay Lannon, A3, Mason City; and Lois Rathje, A1, Wheaton, Ill.

The girls were chosen for their aquatic ability demonstrated by performances in the Field House pool. Selection of the queen will be announced at the opening Dolphin Show Thursday, Oct. 8.

The five finalists were chosen from a field of 10 candidates picked by Dolphin Club members Tuesday in the preliminary judging of the 22 coeds representing campus housing units.

The 1959 Dolphin Show "A-Lad-In-Arabie" is the 37th annual production of the honorary swimming and gymnastics fraternity. It will feature diving, aerial acts, and water ballet.

Performances will be given at 8 p.m. Thursday, Oct. 8; 8:30 p.m. Friday, Oct. 9; and at 7 p.m. and 9 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 10. Reserved seat tickets will be sold for $1.50. A limited number of general admission tickets will be available at $1.

Peiping Holds Military Show For Nikita

TOKYO (AP) — Mao Tse-tung paraded his tanks, guns and warplanes before Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev at Peiping Thursday in a thunderous celebration of Red China's 10th birthday. The site was the great plaza named the Square of Heavenly Peace.

The visiting Soviet Premier, who has called for avoidance of force in settling disputes, witnessed a display of Chinese instruments of force that Radio Peiping called the biggest military parade since the Communists took over the China mainland in 1949.

Khrushchev had another closed-door talk with Mao, chairman of the Chinese Communist party, before they headed to the reviewing stand. Radio Peiping announced they had met with their top aides for the second such session in as many days. The broadcast gave no details of what they discussed. It was presumed Khrushchev gave Mao a fill-in at their first meeting on his historic talks with President Eisenhower.

The parade was the highlight of the anniversary celebration. Rumbling across the square were 144 big artillery pieces and 99 tanks, all described as made in China. Overhead flew 155 jet planes — bombers and fighters.

Though military shows are a fixture of various Communist holidays, the size of this turnout looked almost as if it had been designed to answer Khrushchev's declaration at a Peiping reception Thursday night that world differences must be solved through negotiations.

"We, on our part, must do everything possible to preclude war," Khrushchev had said.

But Defense Minister Lin Piao dispelled any idea the Communists may abandon the use of force in the Formosa area.

He cried in an order to the day: "The aspirations of the Chinese people, in one way or another to liberate their own territory of Taiwan (Formosa) and the coastal islands and to achieve the complete unification of the great motherland must be realized, and no foreign countries are allowed to interfere with this."

U.S. Treasury Will Borrow $4 Billion

WASHINGTON (AP) — The treasury said Thursday it will borrow $4 billion in new cash this month — half of it at the highest interest in 30 years.

Steel Negotiators Show No Optimism, Decline Comment

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Steel negotiators, feeling the pressure of President Eisenhower's request for an early settlement of the 79-day-old steel strike, met twice Thursday but gave no signs of nearing a solution.

There was some speculation that the industry may have softened its position on a one-year wage freeze, but nothing said or done by the negotiators tended to confirm such optimism.

The four-man negotiating teams for the United Steelworkers of America and the nation's 12 biggest steel-producing firms met for an hour and a half before lunch and then resumed talks in mid-afternoon for another two hours. In contrast to earlier negotiating sessions held in New York, when each side often issued statements critical of the other, the negotiators now were reluctant to comment.

At the end of the afternoon session, Steelworkers President David J. McDonald, head of the union negotiating team, and R. Conrad Cooper, a U.S. Steel Corporation executive and chief industry negotiator, met briefly with newsmen and issued this joint statement:

"We have considered our problems and will meet again tomorrow at 10:30 a.m. We do not desire to answer any questions."

After that brief statement, which was read by Cooper, the two left the newsmen, declining to say any more about the day's activities.

McDonald and Cooper seemed in good spirits. They exchanged jokes with newsmen before getting down to business against the backdrop of some of the nation's largest steel mills.

Attending the meeting with McDonald for the union were Howard R. Hague, USW vice president; I. W. Abel, USW secretary-treasurer; and Arthur J. Goldberg, the union's general counsel.

Representing the industry in addition to Cooper were R. H. Larry, a U.S. Steel Corporation vice president; H. C. Lumb, a Republic Steel Corp. vice president; and John H. Morse, Bethlehem Steel Corp. general counsel.

Car Caravans Lead To Rally At Old Capitol

Car caravans will weave through Iowa City streets tonight transporting SUI students to the first pep rally of the year at 7 p.m. on the west approach to Old Capitol.

The various caravans will pick up passengers at all housing units at approximately 6:50 p.m.

This year a traveling trophy will be awarded the housing unit which contributes the most cars to the caravan. The trophy will be awarded at the Iowa-Notre Dame football game Nov. 21.

All students interested in participating in the car caravan should assemble in front of the Main Library at 6:30 p.m. on Friday nights of home games. The cars should bear a visible sticker giving the name of the housing unit represented.

Would-Be Bandit Hit, Then Flees

A would-be bandit is probably thinking of easier and more honest ways to make a living after attempting to hold up an SUI student here early Thursday morning.

According to Iowa City police, a middle-aged man threatened Gary Todd, A4, Waterloo, and tried to get his billfold, but fled after Todd hit him twice in the face, knocking him down.

Todd, an employee of the Airliner tavern, said he was walking home from work about 12:20 a.m. when a man jumped out from behind a bush in the 100 block of East Church Street, about one-half block from the house of SUI Pres. Virgil M. Hancher. Todd said the man grabbed his arm and threatened, "I've got a knife. Give me your billfold."

Todd said he followed his first impulse and swung at the man, hitting him squarely. A second blow knocked the hold-up man off his feet and sent him scrambling through the bushes to safety. Then Todd continued to his residence at 729 N. Dubuque St. and called police at 12:28 a.m.

The student said he didn't get a very good look at the man, but described him as about 30 years old, shorter than 5 ft. 10 in. and wearing a blue denim jacket.

Todd added that the man must have some marks on his face, because, "I had bruises and blood on my hands after hitting him."

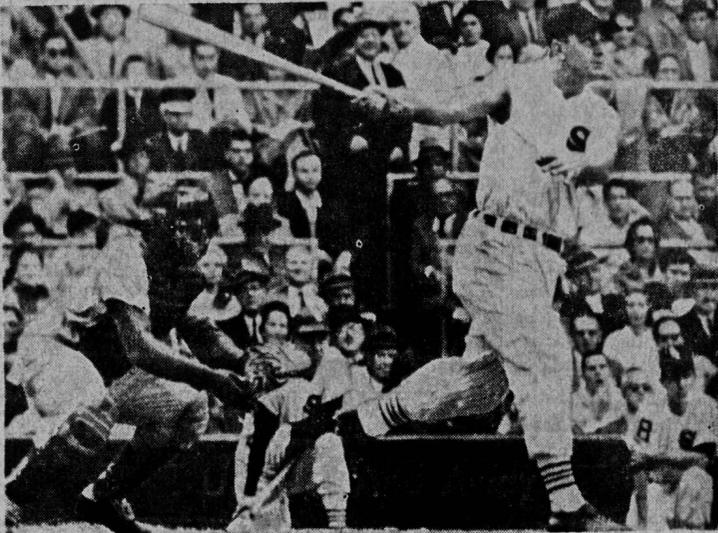

Total Eclipse Visible Today

SALEM, Mass. (AP) — The sun's most dramatic spectacle, a total solar eclipse, will be visible on the eastern horizon here Friday morning, weather permitting.

The moon will blot out the sun at 6:50 a.m., Eastern Daylight Time. The total eclipse, the period when the corona or fiery upper atmosphere of the sun shines like a great ring, lasts only 56 seconds.

Several hundred amateur and professional astronomers will study and photograph the eclipse from beaches and hills in this community 25 miles north of Boston.

Ground observers are hoping that former Hurricane Gracie, now a dilatory tropical storm, will move out of the area fast enough to clear the skies.

Dock Workers Ignore Pleas To Halt Strike

Injured U.S. Economy Suffers Effects

NEW YORK (AP) — Netted over contract negotiations, dock workers handling ship cargoes on Atlantic and Gulf coasts struck Thursday despite pleas of the government and wishes of their leaders.

As a result, shipping on two thirds of the American coastline was virtually brought to a standstill.

Hundreds of dry cargo vessels were tied up. Fuel tankers generally were exceptions because they are handled by other unions.

The strike meant further woes for a nation already suffering economic effects of a record strike by steelworkers.

There seemed to be no immediate chance to halt the new walkout by the independent International Longshoremen's Assn., which was kicked out of the AFL-CIO for alleged racketeer domination but was recently invited back to the fold. Developments came fast.

Among them:

1. Railroads halted movement of most freight to the two coasts to prevent huge pileups on unmanned piers. Excluded were a few items, such as military goods.

2. New York employers balked at attending a hastily called negotiation session set up by a federal mediator. The employers assailed the strike as illegal and angrily demanded that the union call it off.

3. Employers said they wouldn't do any more bargaining until the ILA leadership demonstrated it could control its men.

4. The ILA president, Capt. William V. Bradley, an old-time New York tugboat skipper, declared that "as far as I am concerned, the men will not go back to work until we get a full agreement."

Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell had appealed for a strike delay, saying it would seriously affect the nation's welfare.

Bradley and company representatives for this area then agreed to a 15-day contract extension, with a proviso that any benefits gained by the Union would be retroactive.

However, employers in some Southern ports rejected the retroactivity plan. With that, a big Manhattan union local voted to go ahead with the strike.

Red China Claims U.S. Has Policy Of Aggression

MOSCOW (AP) — Red China's Foreign Minister Chen-yi charged the United States Thursday with sticking to a policy of "aggression and war."

The statement in the government newspaper Izvestia contrasted sharply with the speech of Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev in Peiping who said he thought President Eisenhower was aware of the necessity for easing international tensions.

"The United States still pursues a cold war policy, rejects disarmament and continues to create military bases in various regions of the globe. It stubbornly pursues a policy of reviving West German militarism, actively arms Japan and continues to occupy Formosa," Chen-yi said.

He also accused the United States of provoking civil war in Laos and called for an international fight "against American imperialism."

Chen pledged that the Chinese people "together with the entire Socialist camp led by the Soviet Union," would struggle against American policies.

Fear Explosion In Oil Fire At Charleston

CHARLESTON, S.C. (AP) — Weary firemen Thursday night planned a move they admit is a gamble in an effort to control an oil company fire threatening millions of gallons of gasoline and diesel fuel.

The primary cause of concern is a million gallons of diesel fuel in storage tank some 300 feet from where a pre-dawn explosion ignited another tank containing two million gallons of gasoline.

Flames from the blasted tank have been lighting up Charleston's skies throughout the day and night.

Nine persons were injured and two homes destroyed in the thunderous explosion.

Throughout the day, firemen have played streams of water on the blazing tank, one of 32 fuel storage units nested on the grounds of the Esso (Standard Oil) Co.'s refinery on the outskirts of hurricane-Gracie battered Charleston.

Herman Pooser, North Charleston fire chief, said the plan is to rupture the burning tank by pouring cold water on it. Gasoline released by the rupture will be trapped from reaching the nearby diesel storage unit by the dykes which surround it.

Then, thousands of gallons of foamite will be poured on the gasoline released by the rupture. New York specialists flown here during the day believe this will free the nearby tank from further exposure to the searing heat, and that the adjacent unit will not explode.

Youngster Injured In School Bus Action In Solon

CEDAR RAPIDS (AP) — A school bus with nine children aboard overturned in a ditch near Solon Thursday, injuring one of the youngsters.

Larry Paduska, 8, of near Solon, suffered two broken arms.

The bus, whose driver was not immediately identified, had been backed into a ditch near Solon when it tipped over, police said.

Mahatma Gandhi: The Legacy Of His Life

By ARUN K. CHHABRA

"Whenever truth, religion or good is in danger, I shall be born," so promised Lord Krishna in the Gita, the Song Celestial.

Before the turn of the century, the Indian society was completely degenerated. Feudalism, caste, and untouchability, like termites, were eating into the vitals of the nation.

Hundreds of miles away from the homeland, in Africa, a young Indian lawyer had to suffer humiliation at the hands of the haughty English.

Up to the year 1914 he fought for the rise of the Indian people in Africa and it was during this struggle that he came out with the non-violent technique of passive resistance.

Dedicated though he was to the cause of India he was the first to realize the need for reform in the Indian society.

It was perhaps the greatest sin in the world of its time and Gandhi openly and with full force raised his voice against it.

In his journal, Harijan, he wrote "I would rather be torn to pieces than disown my brothers of the suppressed classes."

Reformation of the society thus became the corollary of the struggle for independence.

The people of India are the most religious people of the world, and by combining politics with religion Gandhi displayed a most realistic mind.

Truth, non-violence, love and fearlessness became the cornerstones of his movement.

Without sacrificing the basic ideals, he showed a great flexibility of mind and began to live by truth as he realized it from moment to moment.

We hope to include some regular weekly features, one of which will be "Campus Landmarks".

DES MOINES — Iowa county officials were warned Thursday that if they do not propose improvements in county government, someone else will do it for them.

The speaker was Ralph Keyes of St. Paul, Minn., executive director of the Minnesota Association of County Commissioners.

Keyes urged establishment of a central organization and a full-time staff for the county officers' organization.

The new football seating plan really alleviated the Monday morning crowds. At 8 a.m. the line of students waiting for tickets in the East Lobby stretched only as far as the New Lobby Information Desk.

reprimanded them, for secrecy he thought was opposed to the philosophy of truth. He even went to the extent of suspending his movement whenever he found that the people did not live up to the ideals of truth and non-violence.

Through Satyagrah (voluntarily courting arrest in the British prison), self-suffering and sacrifice, he finally in 1947 won the independence of his country.

Next day the nation mournfully cremated his body. The father of the nation was gone but his message remained and today, on the occasion of his 90th birthday, let us rededicate ourselves to his lofty ideals.

Letters To The Editor

On Fraternities

To the Editor:

In regards to your provoking editorial concerning the usefulness of fraternities, I have but one thing to say. Live and let live!

Perhaps you have hopes of starting a local insurrection with the result that the ivy covered fraternity walls will come tumbling down and five thousand oppressed and often abused independent students will be freed of the all-consuming fear of the "frat man"!

It seems you could find some topic to discuss which is not below our maturity level. Let the children play and someday they might grow up. It is far better to chastise a child in private than in public.

There are several advantages in belonging to a fraternity. As far as the scholastic advantages are concerned any instructor can enlighten you — old exams, class notes, themes and completed workbooks are a valuable asset to the studious "frat man."

The major advantage is that the harried student is relieved of the frightening burden of decision making. Approved dates are arranged, so all one must do is go "eeny meeny miny mo."

But what good can this ridiculous ranting and raving do? I shall go on just as I always have and so shall they. Perhaps some future generation will be mentally mature enough to forsake the use of the social crutch — fraternities.

Short Note On Long Letters

To the Editor:

May I enter a protest against the publishing of long, dreary, insipid letters like that entered by one Ralph Speas in this morning's Iowan?

I did not have the time or patience to read it but I believe it had something to do with queers. But I am convinced that what he had to say, if anything, could have been condensed into two or three paragraphs.

Prolixity in journalism or in any other field of communication is a deadly sin. Let's try to curb it. Give it free reign and you'll lower the literary standards of the Iowan beyond repair.

Market Up; Steels, Rails, Motors Gain

NEW YORK — Steels, motors and rails did a late turnabout Thursday and helped pull a declining stock market to a fairly good gain on average.

The rise was irregular but the change of trend was impressive, considering the losses that had to be erased before a rise could be posted.

Based on the gain in the Associated Press average, the quoted value of stocks listed on the New York Stock Exchange rose an estimated $1,450,000,000.

The JAZZ Scene

By Greg Morris

I'd like to begin this week's column by reminding you of the session to be held this Sunday afternoon at 3 p.m. in Macbride Auditorium. It's the first session of the year to be sponsored by the Modern Jazz Society, and promises to be a real "swinger."

I've received several phone calls from persons wishing to know how to join the MJS. I reserved an explanation until Sunday, at which time I hope to be able to explain our function, purpose, etc., to about 300 people (heh! heh! heh!) I will, however, say this much, we are interested primarily in entertainment and entertaining.

George Russell, a gentleman who for years has been a student of jazz, has come out with a new album entitled, "New York, N.Y." Narrated by Jon Hendricks, of "Sing Along With Basie" fame, this album combines some of Russell's own compositions, "Big City Blues," "Manhattan-Rico," etc., with some old standards, "Autumn In New York," etc., and comes out with a superb jazz suite.

Russell has also gotten together some of the top names in the jazz world, such as Farmer, Bill Evans, Barry Galbraith, and a host of others. From these tremendous musicians he obtains a fascinating sound.

Again from the grapevine, I hear that the entire album will be featured on "Tea Time Special" this Saturday afternoon. I also understand that later on in the year this same program will again feature the Miles Davis side "Kind Of Blue," for those who missed it last week.

Caught a real swinger last night at the Hawk Ballroom. Larry Barrett and his four fabulous sidemen provided some great music for two hours. The sidemen were Marv Lowe, tenor, Ed London, french horn, Tom Koehler, drums, and Allan Pike, bass, with Larry, trumpet. Also in on the swinging was vocalist Julie Vernon. Larry and his men have been providing fine sounds for jazz-starved SU'loans for some time. Let's hope that they continue to do so. If you missed their last set, be sure and catch their next one whenever it comes up, if you're able.

Gandhi's Birthday

The world has become so accustomed to power politics that the saying, "Might is right," is applicable everywhere. The first formative meetings of the United Nations in San Francisco in 1945 left many people shocked because of the transparency with which powerful countries maneuvered for position.

The United States keeps troops in Iceland against the will of the Icelandic people, and no one is surprised. Britain invades Egypt and Russia invades Hungary, when Egypt and Hungary attempt to win independence.

Force is the quality upon which Americans rely. Most Americans have so permeated their own thinking with the notion that military strength is one of life's necessities, that any other solution seems preposterous.

The dogma of force is not America's only dogma. There is also a deplorably provincial self-righteousness, which causes people to wear black arm-bands and to condemn the Chinese without reservation. This is the result largely of a lack of historical perspective.

Americans don't realize that all countries have periods of nationalism, or national hysteria, that we too appear to much of the world to be a threatener of war and a suppressor of peoples. Let all self-righteous Americans read about the Spanish American War, Andrew Jackson's treatment of American Indians, or the suppression of the newspapers under John Adams.

The point is that Americans, along with the rest of the world, are dogmatic about two things: the virtues of force and the righteousness of themselves. And here is where Mohandes Karamchand Gandhi, called Mahatma (Great-souled) is supremely important to us.

Gandhi was so convinced of the rightness, of his purpose that he knew it could be achieved by passive resistance, the very opposite of force. He believed that the end he sought was good and that he had only to be guided peacefully by his desire to achieve it.

Gandhi must have had great courage, since no man is without doubt, and the burden of the opposition to him was very great. He was opposed by the British and by many Indians at once, and it could not have been an easy thing to maintain his deep conviction.

The India of today is not politically perfect by any means. There is there now an hysteria similar to the MacCarthy era here, and economically, of course, there is much to be done. But the rich harvest of Gandhi's resort to peaceful methods is abundantly manifest.

In the last two major elections both men and women of every cast could be seen lined up together at the polls to cast their ballots, something which we have not achieved in this country.

But to the world, the India that Gandhi built means something else. It is a country determined that she is at peace with the world and that she is going to stay at peace. An army then is unnecessary in India. And it is a country which recognizes all other countries, however different they are, India is not self-righteous.

Americans may talk for hours about the need to keep up in the arms race, but the more they talk the sorer it sounds. The resort to force is an admission that that capacity which is peculiarly human, the power of reason, is insufficient, and that we must ultimately rely upon what is purely bestial in ourselves if we are to survive.

Mahatma Gandhi and his country provide instances in the modern world of large differences being solved peacefully. Gandhi has done as much as any man can, to keep alive our faith in the power of reason, sanity, and the primary goodness of humanity.

Sweaters Needn't 'Wear Out'

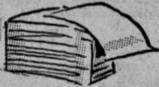

If you've ever said to yourself "Why don't I ever get a chance to replace my sweater supply?", then you know that it takes a long time for a good sweater to wear out.

This fact seems to account for the huge sweater collection of collegians. To keep in style, they buy new sweaters, but feel guilty discarding the old to make room for the new.

Proper care can do wonders for the life of a sweater—especially proper care in laundering or dry cleaning. The new textures, bold colors and stripes, and unusual designs may tempt one to send sweaters to be drycleaned rather than handwashed. The question to wash or not to wash is usually resolved with a glance at the care tag included with most new sweaters.

Handwashing needn't be a problem for the student if sweaters are easy to care for. Drying space won't even present a problem if only a few sweaters are washed at one time.

Buckeyes Seek To Reaffirm Big 10 Prestige

By The Associated Press

Ohio State, a perennial football power in the Big Ten, seeks to re-establish the slightly dented prestige of that conference tonight when it meets Southern California at Los Angeles.

The Big Ten, which takes pride in its contested reputation as the strongest college conference from top to bottom, managed to win only four of seven games against outside foes last week-end. Two of those were squeakers — Ohio State 14-13 over Duke and Wisconsin 16-14 over Stanford, Michigan lost to Missouri, Minnesota to Nebraska and Michigan State to Texas A&M. Northwestern over Oklahoma and Iowa over California were the only Big Ten winners in a big way.

Tonight's clash on the Los Angeles Coliseum turf, which becomes the scene of the World Series on Sunday, is one of the last opportunities for a Big Ten team to make a strong showing against an outside opponent. Ohio State is at full strength with the return of quarterback Jerry Field, hurt in the Duke game.

Southern California, generally rated the team to beat in the Far West Five, breezed past Pittsburgh 23-0 last Friday. A defense that blanketed Pitt for the first time in 20 years likely will give the Buckeyes trouble, too.

City High, Regina On Road — U-High Plays Here Tonight

By GEORGE KAMPLING Staff Writer

University High is host to Gene Veit's West Liberty Comets, in the only home game on the prep schedule tonight. Other action involving local teams pits City High against Dubuque at Dubuque, and Regina against St. Mary's of Marshalltown.

U-High will be trying to bounce back into the win column after last week's 28-0 loss to Wilton Junction. Injuries will play a big part in the U-High effort though, as Jim Bowen, quarterback, and left halfback Ralph Cochran are both out with injuries.

Fred Cooper, right end, will move to the halfback spot with Jim "Red" Hunt filling in at Cooper's position. Sophomore John Spitzer will be the starting quarterback.

Blues coach Bob Hoff said "We just weren't ready for Wilton. It looks like we might have played the best in the conference, but we'll know more about that after tonight's game."

Game time tonight on the University's practice field is 7:30. Game captains will be Mike Luckey on offense, and Cooper on defense.

Little Hawk coach Frank Bates, talking of his team's 18-12 win over East Moline last week said, "They were a dangerous ball club. They were more dangerous than Davenport."

"Our offense looked better even though it rained," said Bates. "We threw quite a bit, and I would say potentially we're better than Davenport. Tony Welt, filling in for John Stevens played a real good game. So too did Jim Stuart, Phil Minnick, and Gary Freeman," said the City High coach.

Stevens remains out of the lineup after injuring both ankles in the opening game against Davenport. Dubuque, unbeaten in two games, is the best balanced team in the Mississippi Valley Conference according to statistics released Wednesday. The Rams are second in offensive figures and first in defensive figures, giving up only 108 yards average per game to its opponents.

Stuart, because of his outstanding play last week, has been designated game captain tonight.

Game time at Dubuque tonight is 7:45.

Regina High meets an opponent tonight which is light and largely inexperienced. The Irish have lost three straight, and have scored in only one. Game time at the Marshalltown High field is 7:30.

"We didn't get anything out of our loss to North Scott last Saturday," said Herman Miskowicz, Regal coach, "and I'm sure they didn't." The game was a 19-18 win for North Scott, played in a steady downpour.

Captain for tonight's game is Mike Gioimo, who has been one of the most consistent defensive players on the Regal squad all season.

Red Blaik On Football

Red Picks Wildcats Over Hawkeyes

The fall of favorites and frustration of experts last weekend are readily explainable. One need merely quote Ed Danforth and the late "Boss" Kettering, Danforth, southern sports pundit, said: "A football expert is only a baseball writer with his vest on." Kettering, prominent industrialist said: "It isn't what you don't know that gets you in trouble but rather what you know — for sure — that isn't so."

Approaching this week's selections, we also quote Louis XV after the defeat of the French and Austrian armies by Frederick The Great in the Battle of Rossbach: "After us, the deluge!"

Northwestern-Iowa. Speaking of Deluges, amphibious Northwestern did all right. Iowa always seems to have a deluge of passing, speed, offense — with a capital O. But the better defense will win. Northwestern.

Syracuse-Maryland. Looks like the Orange have passing — and that's all they needed. Syracuse.

Ohio State - Southern California. Those Trojan horses are far from wooden. But with their quarterback, Willie Wood, out for the year, a slight edge to Woody Hayes, Ohio State.

Princeton-Columbia. Buff ("Bring 'em Back Alive") Donelli is not quite ready to bag the tiger. Princeton.

Southern Methodist - Navy. The Midshipmen line may not be able to put enough pressure on Don Meredith's passing. Southern Methodist.

Texas-California. Speed will usually win over brawn. Coach Darrell Royal has the speed. Texas.

Tennessee - Mississippi State. Wade Walker's Maroons, though beaten, gave Florida fits. They may do the same to Tennessee. One timid vote for the single wing. Tennessee.

Purdue-Notre Dame. The Purdue line is a Mollenkopf cocktail. Purdue.

Pittsburgh-U.C.L.A. The bruin has speed, but the panther is about ready to strike. Pitt.

Clemson-Georgia Tech. Frank Howard ruffles the Grant Field aristocracy. Clemson.

Oklahoma-Colorado. The Sooners will win — but they better start hitting. Oklahoma.

Army-Illinois. The caissons all the way. Army.

I also lean toward the first named in the following games:

Michigan State-Michigan, Indiana - Minnesota, Missouri - Iowa State, North Carolina-North Carolina State, Wisconsin-Marquette, Oklahoma State-Kansas State, Louisiana State-Baylor.

2 Home Runs Kluszewski's Greatest Thrill In Career

CHICAGO (AP) — "It was the greatest thrill I ever had," said Ted Kluszewski in the victorious White Sox dressing room.

Series—

Then came Kluszewski's first homer, barely clearing the 12-foot wall beyond the leaping Norm Larker. Churn immediately ran into trouble. Lollar lifted a high fly to left center, Wally Moon and Snider collided under the ball and Snider let it drop. Billy Goodman promptly singled past Hodges, driving in Lollar.

Al Smith hammered a double to the left-field wall. When Snider's peg toward second rolled wildly toward first, Goodman scored and Smith went to third. Hodges started after the throw, slipped and fell but finally stopped the ball. Jim Rivera rapped back to Neal who went to the plate trying for Smith. But the throw skidded into the dirt and escaped from Johnny Roseboro while Smith scored and Rivera took second. It was ruled an error for Neal.

Just to rub it in, Wynn followed with a long double to the wall in left center, scoring Rivera with the seventh run of the inning.

As though Big Klu had not done enough damage already to his old playmates in the National, he finished off Churn with his two-run upper-deck drive in the fourth. That completed the scoring for the day.

The White Sox who are used to grinding out one-run decisions with a walk, stolen base, infield out and a sacrifice fly must have been amazed at the ease with which they scored. At the end of the cool afternoon they had 11 hits off five assorted Dodger pitchers. Landis and Kluszewski each had three and Smith weighed in with two doubles.

two homers and five RBIs which helped the White Sox wreck the Los Angeles Dodgers 11-0 in Thursday's World Series opener.

"I wasn't sure about that first one (his two-run clout in the riotous Sox seven-run third)," said Kluszewski, former Indiana football star.

"But I knew I gave that second one (another two-run smash in the fourth) the Cadillac treatment.

"I was sure happy to have a day like this before the home folks from Argo. I think the whole town of Argo was here."

Somebody asked, "What's Argo?"

"Throw that guy out of here," laughed Kluszewski.

Argo, Klu's home town, is a suburb southwest of Chicago.

It took the milling mob of writers and photographers about 10 minutes to crash through a cordon of police and ushers into a dressing room that by then was fairly serene.

Al Lopez, manager of the Sox, said: "Wynn's elbow is nothing serious." He was referring to the stiffness in Wynn's pitching elbow which forced the veteran right-hander's removal in the eighth inning.

Wynn, weary, but calm, said: "I was getting tired and the elbow got cool and began stiffening up. I don't think it will bother me any more in the series."

Lopez was charitable to the vanquished Dodgers.

"They just had a bad day," said the Senator. "It could happen to any club."

"But it sure feels good to win my first World Series game."

Iowa-Northwestern Contest Key To Big 10 Title Chase

Climax games come early in modern football schedules and an October example is the University of Iowa's opening home game with Northwestern here Saturday at 1:30 p.m.

Its first conference game for the defending champion Iowans and also for the ambitious Wildcats. Both teams opened their seasons last Saturday with tremendous non-conference wins: Iowa over California in the Rose Bowl replay, 42-12; and Northwestern over Oklahoma, 45-13.

Some 59,000 persons will sit in on the early season spectacle. All tickets have been sold since Aug. 6.

Like the 1958 26-20 Iowa win, the upcoming game shapes up as an offensive battle. Both teams have diversified attacks led by clever quarterbacks and both have a fast left halfback.

Olen Treadway, the two season sub who has blossomed out as a fine quarterback, will run the Iowa attack. He was a smart operator as the Iowans rolled over California for 475 yards. His counterpart for Northwestern is Dick Thornton, slick passer and a good runner.

Attention also will be centered upon the left halfbacks. Iowa's Bob Jeter is one of the finest in the nation and former champion sprinter Ron Burton is Northwestern's most dangerous runner.

Strength at ends also is one of the assets of each team but Iowa's corps of wingmen is regarded as one of the finest in the nation. The sent a severe challenge to Iowa's 1958 title winners. The Wildcats are looking for their best year in many seasons and this is a key game in their plans.

It will be the 29th game of the Iowa-Northwestern series. The standing now is 17 wins for Iowa, 8 for Northwestern with 3 ties. The Hawkeyes have taken the last four games but the teams have met only five times in the past twenty years.

Iowa's Hawkeyes tapered off Thursday in their preparations for Saturday's Big Ten season opener with Northwestern.

The Hawkeyes drilled in sweat clothes as they began putting the final touches on Saturday's plan of action. The offensive game was stressed with Olen Treadway and Wilburn Hollis directing squads against the Mau-Maus.

Hawkeyes completed 13 of 20 in the win over California but rain prevented Northwestern's air attack from showing its full effectiveness.

Northwestern's three "A's" in the center of the line are anchors for a strong set of forwards. They are the guards, Joe Abbatiello and Pete Arena and Center Jim Andreotti. The Wildcats will outweigh Hawks in the line but only by a slight margin.

Northwestern, ranked among the top teams in the league, will pre-

3 Coeds — 15,000 Homecoming Badges

Sacking 15,000 Homecoming badges is no small task as this group of busy coeds will testify. The coeds are (from left to right) Margo Davis, A2, Des Moines; Jane Lynch, A2, Marshalltown; Kay Nye, A2, Sioux City, and Jan Urquhart, A2, Minneapolis, Minn. The emblems are being prepared for the opening of badge sales Monday, Oct. 5. Funds from the badge sale will help finance activities at the SUI Homecoming celebration Oct. 8-11.

Plans For Miss SUI Contest Set

Final preparations are being made at Iowa Memorial Union for the big Saturday night Union presentation of 22 candidates for the first all-campus elected queen at Homecoming.

The hopeful coeds will be presented to the student body at 7:30 p.m. in the Main Lounge. Students and the public may attend free of charge.

Committee members and masters-of-ceremonies Bill Sutton, C4, Red Oak, and Gary Dunahugh, A4, Cedar Rapids, were busily working out last minute details Wednesday night. "Don't forget the milk," and "That's the wrong spot-light" were among comments heard during rehearsals.

Personal interviews are scheduled for Saturday morning, to end just in time for the girls to grab sandwiches and get over to the Stadium to attend the Iowa-Northwestern football game.

Names and pictures of the 10 semi-finalists to be chosen Saturday night will be posted outside of the Gold Feather Room in the Union, in the Library, and in Bremer's store window.

Three days of intensive campaigning will begin Monday, during which coeds will try to persuade SUI males to vote for this or that candidate. All men attending SUI are eligible to cast their votes for Miss SUI anytime Thursday in Schaeffer Hall, Macbride Hall, or outside the Gold Feather Room in the Union.

The five finalists will be notified Thursday night so they can be ready to appear in the traditional Homecoming Parade and pep rally Friday night. They will again be presented at the Homecoming pre-game ceremonies in a band formation especially arranged for the pageant by Director Frederick Ebbs.

The announcement and crowning of the queen will take place at the Union Saturday night during the intermission of the Homecoming Dance.

'K's' Gift Watch Not Worth $125

PITTSBURGH (AP) — A Pittsburgh jeweler said Thursday that the watch given to a West Homestead millworker by Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev in exchange for a cheap cigar is worth about $14.

Charles Roberts, treasurer of John M. Roberts & Sons Co., said the watch "is very poorly made." Soviet officials said the watch was worth about 500 rubles in the U.S.S.R., which is equivalent to $125 in America.

Saturday Classes Start This Week

Saturday will mark the opening of the 1959-60 school year for those enrolling in the Saturday class program at SUI. Students will register and pay fees at their first class meeting.

Thirty-three subjects will be taught in classes which have been scheduled on 12 Saturdays from Oct. 3 to Mar. 12, according to Bruce E. Mahan, dean of the SUI Extension Division. Classes will be held from 9 to 10:40 a.m. and from 10:50 to 12:30 p.m.

Each course carries two semester-hours of college credit, which may be counted toward an undergraduate degree. Candidates for a graduate degree may count a maximum of eight semester-hours of work completed in Saturday classes.

Each student may enroll for one or two courses for two or four semester-hours of credit. The fee is $8 per semester-hour.

Areas of courses offered include education, art, botany, English, geography, geology, history, home economics, library education, physical education, political science, social work and speech.

Persons who wish to enroll in the Saturday program but do not have the classroom schedule, should go to the Extension Division, C107 East Hall, or the Registrar's Office, University Hall, before the first class Saturday.

Iowa Institute Diagnoses Disease In C.R. Area

Twenty-two cases of leptospirosis, a rare disease transmissible from animal to man, have now been diagnosed in the Cedar Rapids area by the SUI Institute of Agricultural Medicine. A Federal medical specialist was expected to arrive in Iowa City late Thursday to assist in the leptospirosis problem.

Thursday Dr. Richard A. Tjalma, veterinarian on the Institute staff, said that four more cases of the unusual disease had been diagnosed.

Ten new cases have been diagnosed this week. Three were reported Monday, three Wednesday and four Thursday.

Dr. Tjalma said that the Communicable Disease Division of the U.S. Public Health Service was sending a specialist from Atlanta, Ga., to Iowa City to assist the Institute in its investigations.

Cases reported Thursday were all children in the Beverly area of Prairie Creek, southwest of Cedar Rapids. Nearly all the cases have involved children between the ages of 11 and 16.

Dr. Tjalma said that the exposure to Prairie Creek was apparently not limited to a particular area as had been originally thought.

He added that possible contamination had been traced from the swimming area first suspected as the source of trouble.

He explained that blood specimens had been collected from children in the Beverly area for laboratory analysis to diagnose the disease which is common among cattle and swine in all parts of the country. It is known also to exist in wildlife.

Transmission to man is mainly by eating food or by contact with water which has been contaminated by urine from infected animals or by direct contact with infected animals.

Human symptoms of the disease have been intensively generalized muscular pain, stiffness of the neck, headache and frequently an abnormal intolerance to light. Some victims also have had stomach distress and diarrhea.

9 Polio Deaths Reported In Iowa; 7 Had No Shots

DES MOINES (AP) — Nine Iowa polio deaths have been reported officially to the State Health Department this year. Several other polio deaths have occurred but haven't been officially reported.

Seven of the nine polio victims had received no polio vaccine shots, according to health department records.

One fatal case of polio followed two vaccine shots; the other involved a person who had received three shots three years ago.

The polio victims ranged in age from 4 years to 39. Four were in Polk county, two in Black Hawk and one each in Cerro Gordo, Harrison and Woodbury counties.

Wife-Slayer Gets Penalty Of 99 Years

ROCK RAPIDS (AP) — Wife-slayer Jack Hoskins, 32, of Ames, Thursday was sentenced to 99 years in the state penitentiary after pleading guilty to a charge of second-degree murder.

Hoskins shot his wife Carol, 22, on Jan. 5, 1958, in a Rock Rapids church.

Hoskins was brought here Wednesday from the Fort Madison Penitentiary where he is serving a 45-year sentence for robbery with aggravation, larceny of a motor vehicle and assisting a felon to escape.

He escaped Aug. 15 from the Rock Rapids jail where he was awaiting trial for the slaying of his wife. Hoskins was captured in Poteau, Okla., several days later.

Mrs. Hoskins was killed in the minister's study of the Congregational church in Rock Rapids. She and Hoskins had gone there to have their baby baptized.

Idle Workers Soar Beyond Million Mark

WASHINGTON (AP) — The number of workers on strike or idled by strikes is estimated to have soared beyond one million.

Official figures were lacking but reliable sources said Thursday morning's surprise walkout of 85,000 dockworkers in East and Gulf Coast ports shoved the strike-caused manpower loss past the million mark by a conservative count.

Major strikes already were under way in the steel, meatpacking, ship repair, glass and nonferrous metal industries.

Beyond these, officials said, there is the usual rash of scattered small strikes over the nation. For example, several thousand miners have been idle since early March in a coal industry dispute in Kentucky.

Biggest of the strikes by far is the continuing steel stoppage, now in its 12th week. An estimated 500,000 steelworkers are idle in the basic steel industry as well as 200,000 other workers in industries dependent on steel.

More than 30,000 are idle in non-ferrous metals and in the meatpacking industry over 17,000 employees of Swift & Co. have been on strike since Sept. 2.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Robert Kramer, 46, who has been a law professor at Duke University, Durham, N.C., Thursday was sworn in as an assistant attorney general.

A native of Davenport, Kramer remarked that few law professors get such an opportunity.

Witnessing the ceremony were Kramer's mother, Mrs. Robert E. Kramer of New York City, and his wife, the former Mary R. Gaston of Washington.

Installment Plan Begins For Russian Consumers

MOSCOW (AP) — Long lines formed Tuesday outside 47 Moscow shops authorized to sell consumer goods on the installment plan.

Installment buying went into effect for the first time in the giant GUM department store and other stores. They reported the items in greatest demand were radios, watches, hunting rifles, outboard motors, and silver fox furs.

The new terms call for a 25 per cent down payment, with the balance to be deducted periodically from the purchaser's paycheck by his employer.

Italians Assured Ike Will Uphold 'Basic Principles'

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States assured Italy Thursday that President Eisenhower will firmly uphold basic principles in negotiating with the Soviet Union over the fate of Berlin and Germany.

Secretary of State Christian A. Herter gave this assurance to Italian Premier Antonio Segni during a discussion of the outlook for a Berlin settlement.

Informed diplomats said Herter made it clear that Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's talks with Eisenhower in no way caused a basic change in American policy toward Germany's future.

Eisenhower was reported determined to accept only a Berlin settlement which genuinely protects the freedom of West Berliners while maintaining the goal of a united democratic Germany.

Segni and his foreign minister, Giuseppe Pella, asked questions of Herter about Berlin as a followup to Eisenhower's personal report to them Wednesday on his talks with Khrushchev.

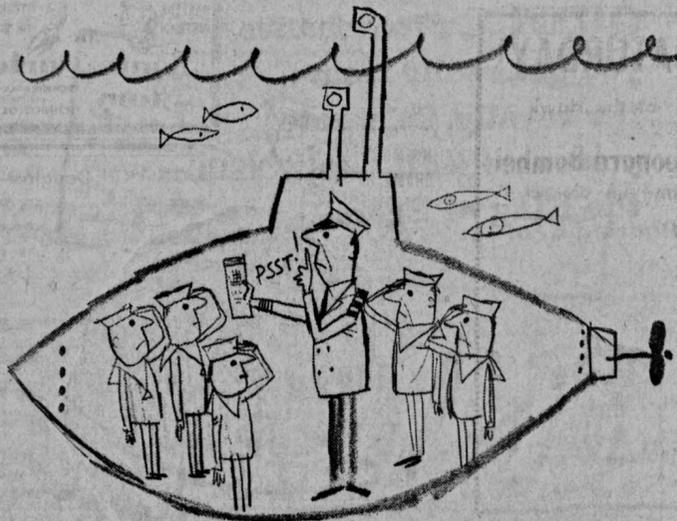

SUI Prof Gets Fulbright Grant

A Fulbright grant for experimental nuclear research in Australia has been awarded to Stanley Bashkin, SUI assistant professor of physics. Bashkin will conduct his studies at the Australian National University in Canberra, Australia, during the 1959-60 school year.

Bashkin is now on leave of absence from SUI conducting research on "the capture of protons by nitrogen 14" at the Kellogg Radiation Laboratory of the California Institute of Technology. This process is one of the controlling factors of the production of energy by our sun and other stars. He will continue the same line of research in Australia.

When he leaves California for Australia Oct. 30, Bashkin will be accompanied by his wife, Margaret, and their son, James. Mrs. Bashkin is a native of Australia and has not been home since her marriage two years ago. The couple met in Europe while Bashkin was there attending a scientific conference.

Fulbright grants are awarded under the Fulbright Act, a law which makes foreign currencies or credits owned by the U.S. Treasury in foreign lands available for programs of study or lecture.

Iowa Youth Fools Guards To See 'K'

CLEAR LAKE — An Iowa college student said Thursday he mingled freely with Premier Nikita Khrushchev — even lunched with the Soviet leader's visit to the state without being asked to identify himself.

"I don't know who they figured I was," said Chuck Elsbury, 21, of Clear Lake. "They never asked. They must have thought I was someone important."

Elsbury and another Iowan, Jack Christensen, 29, of Thornton, crashed security lines surrounding the Communist boss during his five-hour visit at the Roswell Garst farm near Coon Rapids last week.

Christensen, who was photographed having his expansive stomach patted by Khrushchev, told his "gate crashing" story in a national magazine, Life, this week.

Elsbury told The Associated Press Thursday that when he started out with Christensen it was just to see the Premier.

"I was driving Christensen's car," he said. "We got into the motorcade from Des Moines to Coon Rapids at a place where Khrushchev made an unscheduled stop, and then continued on through."

He said they were not questioned by security men until they arrived at the farm.

"We had a security agent at the gate clear us through. We shouted for the head of security and this man came over and said 'let these boys through; they're part of the family.'"

"We went to the house where the reception was held and then to a tent where refreshments were served the dignitaries."

"Khrushchev, Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge, who accompanied the Premier on his trip, and security men walked into the tent. We walked in behind them and then other guests followed."

"We sat at the Russian security agents' table and ate with them. Soon afterwards Christensen was discovered and escorted out. I remained and was not noticed."

Elsbury said only once did he identify himself and that was during a half-hour visit with Adlai Stevenson. The Mason City Junior College sophomore said he did not tell Stevenson that he was not a guest.

"I didn't do any good to say who I was," he said.

Elsbury said he and Christensen assumed their same position in the motorcade for the trip from the farm to Iowa State University at Ames.

"We were challenged at the campus by a national guardsman but we yelled for security. A Secret Service agent from one of Khrushchev's limousines came over and said 'let this man through; he is part of the group.'"

Elsbury said he chatted with a security agent about the problems of guarding the premier.

"I still can't realize how we were able to get in," he said.

Polish Minister Of Agriculture To Visit Garst

WASHINGTON — Roswell Garst, Iowa farmer who entertained Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev last week, will have another foreign guest next week the State Department disclosed Thursday. This time he will have Edward Ochab, Polish minister of agriculture as a supper guest.

Ochab came to the United States Thursday, landing at New York. He is due in Washington Friday morning for a two week tour of the nation. He will confer with various U.S. officials in Washington.

Ochab's visit is the latest in a series of visits by Polish authorities signifying friendly relations between the United States and the eastern European Communist country which Washington regards as relatively independent of Moscow's domination.

Tuesday Ochab will fly to Waterloo, Iowa, and will visit the Rath Packing Co., John Deere Tractor Co. and National Cattle Congress.

Worst Fall Snowstorm Hits Rockies

DENVER, Colo. — A wave of unseasonable cold chilled Rocky Mountain areas Thursday, pounded by the worst early autumn snowstorms in more than 20 years.

Colorado Springs, 65 miles south of here, was hit the hardest of Colorado communities by the latest of the stop-and-go storms and has had more than 31 inches of snow since the storm first struck Monday night.

Schools were closed there and at Pueblo, Fort Collins and numerous other Colorado towns.

Many homes and business houses still were without electricity or telephones.

The storms have dropped more than 14 inches of snow in Denver, but tapered off to a light, intermittent fall Thursday with the mercury near the freezing mark.

With more snow predicted, Denver's Mayor Dick Battenfield said the situation was critical.

Surprise Twister Kills Ten Members Of Family

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va. — Federal weather experts Thursday sought some scientific clues to the origin of a killer tornado as the body of an 11th victim was found near the wreckage of a home at the nearby community of Ivy.

Shirley Ann Morris, 3, was found dead huddled at the base of a tree.

Nine other members of the Morris family died almost immediately when the twister struck their duplex farm home late Wednesday. The other fatality was a neighbor, killed by a falling chimney.

The child apparently was the one a witness said just seemed to be scooped up into the sky when the tornado, spawned by a dying tropical storm, demolished the Morris home.

The tornadoes, perhaps as many as three or four, struck the area with no advance warning as the former Hurricane Gracie moved northward across western Virginia on a wall of rain.

Why was there no advance warning of the tornado possibility since weather stations were carefully charting the last phases of storm Gracie? Meteorologist Kenneth Rice at Richmond's Byrd Field said the weather wasn't the type that would justify a continuous watch on the radar screen. He said images that denoted squally weather weren't strong enough to indicate tornadoes.

U.N. Fact Finding Team Investigates Aggression

SAM NEUA, Laos — A United Nations fact-finding team reached this mountain-shrouded northern defense headquarters Thursday for an on-the-spot investigation of alleged aggression by Communist North Viet Nam.

The team's twin-engine Dakota was greeted by refugees in this rebel-infiltrated area, 200 miles north of the capital of Vientiane.

Brig. Gen. Amkha Soukavong, northern military commander, briefed the team on the Laotian charges. The team was then to interview refugees from the town of Arcas near the North Vietnamese frontier and Communist prisoners captured by the royal army.

A U.N. spokesman said the team did not know if Laos planned to go ahead with its plans to fly the

Charleston Battles Fire To Avoid Fuel Explosion

CHARLESTON, S.C. — Still reeling from Hurricane Gracie's blows, Charleston settled down Thursday to a desperate battle with an oil company fire which threatened to spread to millions of gallons of gasoline and diesel fuel.

The fire erupted in a thunderous explosion about 5 a.m., at the north edge of the city. Two million gallons of gasoline in a storage tank went up in a blazing sheet of flame, injuring nine and destroying three houses 200 yards away.

The city and county had suffered about 4½ million dollars in damage from the hurricane Tuesday.

The towering fire raged out of control at the Esso Standard Oil Company plant. Fire fighters concentrated on trying to keep it from spreading to 31 other huge storage tanks.

The biggest threat was to a tank of one million gallons of gasoline, linked by a vapor line to the burning tank. Also close to the flames were two tanks containing four million gallons of diesel fuel.

Residents within a quarter of a mile were evacuated. Some attempts were made to smother the big fire by Air Force smoke-eaters in asbestos suits using foam. But major efforts were concentrated on keeping it from spreading.

342 Students Aid At Hospital-School

Some 342 SUI students are engaged in the Big Brother and Sister Program of the SUI Hospital School for Severely Handicapped Children this semester.

Miss Marie I. Tilly, educational psychologist at the school, says that she has a reserve list of SUI students wishing to take part in the program. Registration for the program will not be taken again until spring semester, she added.

Students work with the children in Boys' Club, Brownies and Scout activities and the Saturday morning swimming program. Every week each "big brother or sister" talks with the child assigned to him and helps the child with any problems.

Pershing Rifles To Have Smoker

Company B-2 of the SUI Pershing Rifles will hold a smoker at 8:30 Tuesday evening. Regular Pershing Rifles drill will precede the smoker at 7:35 p.m.

All basic ROTC cadets are invited to attend the smoker in the Cadet Lounge in the west end of the Armory. Talks will be given by advanced ROTC cadets and members of the staff. There will be various demonstrations given by the rifle team and the Crack Drill team. Following this will be a chance for questions to be answered and serving of refreshments.

IC Naval Group Receives Award

Iowa City Naval Reserve Research Company 9-19 will receive an award tonight based on military inspection and readiness.

The unit was rated second in the ninth naval district which includes 12 states and 24 companies. Four units are located in Iowa.

The research unit has 14 members, eight of which are SUI faculty and staff members and two of which are students. Captain Arthur Benton, professor of psychology, is senior officer of the group.

The presentation will be made by Captain J. P. Aymond of the Office of Naval Research in Washington following a dinner at the Carousel restaurant.

Official Will Discuss Foreign Service Work

A representative of the Department of State will be on campus Monday to give information to students interested in careers as Foreign Service Officers.

Students are invited to see him in groups in 6 Schaeffer Hall at the beginning of any of the following periods: 9:30, 10:30, 1:30, or 2:30.

The next Foreign Service Entrance Examination is scheduled for December 5.

A letter from the Employment Division of the Department of State includes the following statement: "The Foreign Service urgently requires officers with training in economics, public and business administration, as well as those whose major courses of study include history, political science, language and area studies geography, and international affairs."

Young Democrats Name 2 Members To Head Council

Two members of the SUI Young Democrats have been appointed to fill vacancies on the club's executive council.

Named membership chairman was Richard Wolf, A3, Elkader. Wolf replaced Jack Elkin, L1, Iowa City, who submitted his resignation in August. James Figenshaw, A2, Jefferson, was appointed resolutions chairman.

Tom Wine, L2, Oelwein, has been named to a new position of coordinating chairman of the club's political activities. Wine has served on the council previously as chairman of the Democratic Digest subscription campaign.

Other members of the executive council include Nat Baird, L3,

DeWitt, program chairman; and Nancy Groendyke, G, Pella, and Susan Nehring, A2, Hubbard, co-chairmen of publicity.

All committee chairmen are appointed by the club president, Robert L. Fulton, L3, Leon. Other elected officers who are members of the executive council include Peggy Brooks, N4, Burlington, first vice president; David Miller, L3, Rock Island, Ill., second vice president; Robin Winter, A4, Wapello, secretary; and Gloria Frost, A4, Waterloo, treasurer.

Street Will Open For Game Traffic

Melrose Avenue Saturday will be opened for the SUI football game, police announced Thursday. The street will be opened temporarily for each of the football games this fall from early Saturday morning to before dawn Sunday.

In a trial traffic movement to reduce the number of conflicting moves at the intersection of the street with Riverside Drive, Burlington Street and Grand Avenue, Melrose Avenue was recently closed.

Traffic will move over the street as in the past. Police have routed traffic west on the street before the games and east on the street after each game. Taxicabs and buses will use the reserved Melrose Avenue.

Triangle Club Plans Open House in IMU

The Triangle Club at SUI will hold an open house Sunday from 3-5 p.m. to introduce new male members of the SUI faculty and staff to the club. All club members and the new staff members and their wives are invited to attend the event in the Triangle Club ballroom in Iowa Memorial Union.

The club is a social organization for men on the faculty and administrative staff at SUI. Past presidents of the club will be the official hosts to welcome the newcomers, according to Dale M. Bentz, membership and open-house committee chairman. Other committee members include Louis E. Alley, Karl Kammermeyer, and Neil E. Salisbury.
