Student Council To Meet On Discrimination, Canoeing

By Staff Writer

Two resolutions concerning both discrimination at SUI and canoeing on the Iowa River will be introduced at tonight's Student Council meeting at 7 p.m. in the Pentacrest Room of the Iowa Memorial Union.

One resolution is a request that the Governor's Commission on Human Relations investigate existing discriminatory practices on the SUI campus and submit a report to the Student Council.

The resolution is scheduled to be introduced by Larry Day, A4, Grimes, town men representative.

On March 1 the SUI Young Democrats passed a similar resolution asking the Governor's Commission to look into the problem of racial discrimination on the campus. They were supported in their action by the Council on Race Relations and the Student Christian Council.

Last week Robert Fulton, L2,

Leon, past president of the Young Democrats, received a reply from the Governor's Commission stating that the matter "will be brought to the attention of the executive council of the commission at the next meeting which should occur in a week or so." It also said that any formal action of the commission can only result from a decision of that body.

The second resolution to be introduced before the Council directs the vice president to appoint a committee of three members to study the canoe situation and to investigate the possibility of reinstating the rental of canoes on the Iowa River. Jack Burge, A3, Charles City, IFC representative, will present the resolution.

The canoe-rental business was formerly a private concern. The canoes were sold in March to private individuals and the property to the University which announced that it did not intend to enter the canoe business.

In other scheduled action, Robert Downer, A3, Newton, Student Council president, will nominate two SUI students for appointment to the executive cabinet of the Council. They are Larry Day, who is being nominated for the position of director of public relations and publicity, and Dennis Edwards, A2, Davenport, for treasurer and director of the budget.

A two-thirds Council vote is needed to confirm appointments to cabinet positions.

The Interfraternity Council recently elected its two members to the Student Council, completing the list of the 25 new members of the 1960-61 Council. They are Jack Burge, who was re-elected for a second year, and Dennis Boatman, A1, Bloomfield.

Search for Man Believed Drowned Still Unsuccessful

By GEORGE TRESNAK
 Staff Writer

Police and Fire Department officials are uncertain how long the search for Eugene W. DeLarm, 26, R3, will continue. DeLarm, a city sewer maintenance worker, is presumed drowned after his boat capsized Monday evening between the Benton Street and Highway 6 bypass bridges.

The search was discontinued about 6:30 p.m. Tuesday because of inadequate lighting should one of the search boats capsize.

A companion in the boat, Beryl Baines, 28, 915 Maiden Lane, a city street worker, swam to shore after the accident. He was taken to University Hospitals, where he is listed in satisfactory condition.

Both were seated in the boat, according to witnesses who saw the accident occur shortly after 5 p.m., but it capsized when the men made a cross-current turn. They were trying out for the first time the 10-foot boat which DeLarm had purchased just last week.

Baines told police that DeLarm was swimming behind him after they left the boat, and he thought DeLarm would reach the east bank safely. Witnesses, who saw the men cling to the boat for about 75 feet as it drifted downstream, said that DeLarm went under after the two had swam just a few feet from the boat.

Searching Monday was halted about 9 p.m. because of danger to workers due to river obstructions and inadequate lighting. The search was resumed early Tuesday morning.

DeLarm's family includes his wife Lauretta Joy, a daughter, Susan Kay, 6; two sons, David Eugene, 4, and Edward L., 3; his parents; two brothers, Jerry of Monmouth, and Clifford, of Center Junction; Mrs. Gene Elten, of Monticello; Mrs. Carl Hoffman, of Maquoketa; and Mrs. Robert Heister, of Monmouth.

Bike Ordinance Passed by City

SUI students and other Iowa Citizens owning bicycles will have to register their bicycles at the police station in Iowa City or face a possible fine of $1 to $100 and/or have their bikes impounded for 1 to 30 days.

The cost of registering the bicycles is 50 cents, which entitles owners to a license plate 4 1/2 inches wide and 3 1/2 inches high. The new bicycle ordinance gives owners 60 days to buy and display the license plates.

The Iowa City Council made the bicycle ordinance into law when they gave it its third reading at their meeting Tuesday night.

Aimed at making bicycles easier to identify, the ordinance also (1) requires a bell or horn on the bicycle, (2) an operating light on the bicycle 30 minutes after sunset until 30 minutes before sunrise, (3) prohibits parking on sidewalks or in prohibited zones, (4) prohibits traveling on sidewalks in the business district, and (5) requires cyclists to give pedestrians the right of way on unprohibited sidewalks.

The ordinance specifically exempts vehicles with semi-pneumatic tires (solid tires with an air pocket, such as those used on tricycles).

Council Defers Action on Water Problem 1 Week

By Staff Writer

The Iowa City Council Tuesday night deferred until April 26 taking any action on a special advisory committee's report on the water problem in Iowa City.

The committee report said that water service here is inadequate both in quality and quantity at the present time and made recommendations for the improvement of water facilities.

The Council also voiced disgust with the manner in which railroad companies have maintained track crossings in Iowa City and cited the danger posed to motorists by the deep holes found at many crossings; paid over $739,000 in bills; directed City Manager Peter Roan to investigate the need for a tree program to combat Dutch Elm disease; agreed to install, on a trial basis, a teletype system in the police department connecting it with 17 other police departments in Iowa; and adopted a resolution to serve notice to Charlie Alberhasky for the nuisance existing on his property.

In their report to the Council, the committee studying the water problem urged "immediate and aggressive action" by the councils of Iowa City, Coralville and University Heights.

The committee also urged the councils to reject a proposal made by the water company to drill two deep wells to provide water free from taste and odor.

Oh, in case you're wondering what the nuisance is on Charlie Alberhasky's property, he has been storing old screens and storm windows in a vacant lot he owns, constituting what the Council described as an "eye-sore."

Mobs Grasp Control In Section of Seoul

Herter Rebukes Korean 'Repressive Measures'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Christian A. Herter, in an unusual public rebuke, called on South Korea Tuesday to end what he called "repressive measures" against anti-Government demonstrators.

"Unsuited to a free democracy," Herter said of the crackdown by South Korean soldiers and police.

Herter spoke out publicly after calling in South Korea's ambassador, Dr. You Chan Yang, to express the "profound and growing concern" of this government.

Herter met with the ambassador in the wake of bloody riots in five Korean cities which had left 80 or more dead and more than 300 injured.

Showing sympathy with the demonstrators, Herter called on President Syngman Rhee's government to take swift action to restore fundamental freedoms in the jittery Asian republic.

"Ambassador Yang was informed that this Government believes that the demonstrations in Korea are a reflection of popular dissatisfaction over the conduct of the recent election and repressive measures unsuited to a free democracy," the department said in a statement summarizing Herter's views.

Leaving Herter's office, Yang refused to acknowledge that his Government was guilty of repressive measures.

Authorities said Herter's attitude reflected serious worry over the prospect that North Korean Communists might seize on the riots as an excuse for reinvading South Korea.

North Korean soldiers are reported nearly double the number of the 500,000 man Korean army. Two U.S. divisions, plus supporting units, make up the 50,000-man American garrison in South Korea.

The outbreak of rioting raised the possibility that President Eisenhower might cancel a scheduled goodwill visit to South Korea scheduled for next June.

Yang told newsmen such a possibility was not mentioned during his talk with Herter.

IMU Gets New Coffee Urns

By Staff Writer

The coffee machines went out Tuesday.

Many SUI coffee lovers will be glad to know that the coffee machines, formerly of the Union, are with us no more! Earl E. Harper, director of the Iowa Memorial Union, disclosed that new equipment for automatic coffee was purchased and installed during the Easter recess.

Harper said that the new coffee machines will be made part of rolling carts, which can be taken into conference rooms and will be available immediately to all parts of the union.

Harper stated, "We want students to feel we have gone all out to satisfy. In everything we do, we try to please the largest number of people on campus."

"Despite all the controversy arising from the presence of the coffee machines, the Union is selling more coffee than ever before," he said.

George F. Stevens, assistant director of the Union, said that the mixture used in the machines was not an instant coffee, but a coffee concentrate, and the finest possible.

A recent rumor circulating around the SUI campus said that the law students had issued an ultimatum that they would boycott the union unless the quality of the coffee was improved.

A law student told the Daily Iowan that he wasn't aware of such an ultimatum. He said that many of the law students frequent Burge for their coffee because it is close and the scenery is so much better.

Regardless of the reasons for replacing the old machines, the quality of the union's coffee seems to have improved with the new urns. Julie Slaymaker, A2, Osceola, Bill Fellows, P2, Bedford, and Charles Nichols, A2, Clarinda, agreed that the coffee had improved.

Reward for Lost Papers Is Offered

Have you seen a missing Ph.D. manuscript lately?

It may sound like a funny question to be asking, but it isn't funny to Kenneth Shoultice, an instructor in hospital administration at University Hospital.

Shoultice is offering a $50 reward for the return of the first three chapters of his thesis titled "Study of the Residency in Hospital Administration," which he reports was lost sometime over the weekend of April 16.

The SUI instructor said the missing chapters represent two years of work and will require six to eight months to replace the information contained in the missing material. Shoultice is a candidate for a doctoral degree this June.

Both the carbon and the original copies of the dissertation are missing from his office at the hospital, Shoultice reported.

Shoultice requested that if anyone finds the missing study that they return it to Detective L. J. Harland P. Sprinkle at the Iowa City Police Department for the reward.

Anti-Rhee Riots in Seoul

SEUL, Korea (AP) — Defiant students and townspeople armed with guns, knives and clubs held mob control over northeastern Seoul today in the bloody, fiery Korean civilian revolt against alleged political corruption. Ruins of public buildings still smoked from mob-set fires.

Korean military forces were moving relentlessly into the capital.

On the international front the United States rebuked the Korean Government for repressive measures.

President Syngman Rhee's Government — now in its fourth year — called soldiers into Seoul and proclaimed martial law here and in four other cities Tuesday night after clashes between police and 100,000 demonstrators challenging the count of ballots in recent national elections.

The soldiers quickly cleared most streets in Seoul and other cities and restored a brooding peace.

But in northeastern Seoul, hotbed of resistance to Rhee's ruling Liberal Party, hundreds of die-hard demonstrators still roamed. Army tanks and truckloads of soldiers moved on that sector this morning.

School boys were in the forefront of Tuesday's swirling battle where tear gas fell thick and police rifles poured volley after volley into the ranks of the demonstrators.

Many victims were seen crawling from the scene or being carried away on the backs of comrades.

Police said 21 were killed, but unofficial totals were 81 killed and 300 wounded.

Seoul was grim and battle-scarred on the morning after.

Sixteen buildings were set afire and destroyed. Among them were 12 police stations and the pro-Government newspaper Seoul Shinmoon and the anti-Communist center.

Ten other police stations were damaged.

Kwangju, Pusan, Taegu, Taejon, all under martial law, were quiet.

Many public buildings, including police stations, headquarters of the Liberal party and officers of the anti-Communist Youth Corps, accused of being a strong-arm organization, were attacked and damaged in Kwangju and Pusan.

A mopping-up operation apparently was in progress in the northeastern section of Seoul. Gunfire was heard in that section early today.

A 14-year-old schoolboy was killed, apparently by a stray bullet, in downtown Seoul. But no other violence was reported in the central part of the capital early today.

Truckloads of troops still rolling into Seoul were from the 15th ROK (Republic of Korea) Division, released from the operational control of the U.N. Command at the request of the Defense Ministry.

The clashes, facing the tough-minded 85-year-old Rhee with his gravest crisis since the Korean War, were sparked by protests over alleged frauds and strong-arm tactics in the March 15 Presidential elections which Rhee's Liberal party won.

Reports that 81 persons were killed and up to 300 wounded in street battling brought rebukes from the United States. Secretary of State Christian A. Herter called the strong measures taken to put down the disorders "unsuited to a free democracy" and asked the Korean Government to put an end to "repressive measures."

The Government listed 21 dead in fighting before Rhee's palace, but unconfirmed reports said the death toll was near 80, with up to 250 wounded.

Censorship blanked out spaces in this morning's newspapers where casualty figures would have appeared.

Heavily armed soldiers guarded key buildings in downtown Seoul where mobs virtually ruled for a time. Peace of a sort prevailed in the central sections.

South African Strike Fails; Police Make More Arrests

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) — A scheduled week's strike by Negroes against the white Government's rigid racial laws failed Tuesday to meet its first real test. It fizzled under the watchful eyes of white police, soldiers and militia, backed by armored cars.

Police reported from all major South African cities that Negroes turned up for work in normal numbers, unhindered by members of the outlawed African National Congress (ANC). The ANC called the stoppage in an attempt to force relaxation of segregation laws and the release of jailed Negro leaders.

The strike started Monday. But that was a national Easter holiday and thus the strike's real test was postponed. The Government had threatened banishment to remote native reserves or unemployment for Negroes heeding the call.

Police raided an African settlement near Port Elizabeth on the Indian Ocean, questioned 200 Negroes and detained 165 as "undesirable elements." In the port city of East London, about 400 Negroes, of 500 arrested Monday, were accused of being in an African settlement without permission. Most were fined about $2.80 each or sentenced to eight days in jail.

Justice Minister Francois Erasmus refused to tell Parliament the exact number of persons arrested under state of emergency powers proclaimed March 30. However, he said at least 422 Negroes have been arrested for failing to produce on demand the hated passbooks they are required to carry at all times. Many received stiff fines or prison terms, he said.

Erasmus said 33 white police and 26 Negro police were wounded and 4 Negro police were killed in the past month's racial violence. Thirty-four churches, schools or other public buildings were destroyed or damaged by Negroes in African settlements, he said. He refused to consider as urgent the establishment of a special committee to investigate the disturbances.

He also said a white city council member in Cape Town, Mrs. Zaimunissa Gool, had been arrested. He said she had strongly opposed all forms of racial segregation in city affairs, but he did not say what charges had been lodged against her.

Eisenhower said his White House office papers alone destined for the library, are estimated to include several million documents. These will be turned over to the library when he completes his term Jan. 20.

The library is under construction near Eisenhower's boyhood home at Abilene, Kan.

In offering it and his papers to the Government, Eisenhower said it is his purpose to make the documents available "for serious research as soon as possible and to the fullest extent possible." Some documents will remain confidential and be put under seal.

Two well-known SUI faculty musicians will present a recital tonight at 8 in Macbride Auditorium.

John Ferrell, violin, and John Simms, piano, will present works by Beethoven, Bach and Franck.

The two musicians were featured last December in a concert in Carnegie Recital Hall, which received praise from New York critics.

The program tonight will include "Sonata Opus 96" (Allegro moderato, Adagio espressivo, Scherzo and Poco allegretto) by Beethoven; "Partita No. 3 for violin alone" (Prelude, Loure, Gavotte en Rondeau, Menuet I and II, Bourée and Gigue) by Bach, and "Sonata" (Allegretto ben moderato, Allegro, Recitativo — Fantasia and Allegretto poco mosso) by Franck.

Ferrell has been at SUI since 1954 and is now an assistant professor of music. He is a member of the University String Quartet and the University Symphony Orchestra.

He is a graduate of the Eastman School of Music and a former pupil of Andre de Ribaupierre. He received his Doctor of Musical Arts degree at the University of Rochester, N.Y., in June, 1959.

Simms, an associate professor of music, is head of piano instruction at SUI. He has been at SUI since 1947.

He holds a Bachelor of Music degree from the Curtis Institute of Music, Philadelphia, where he was awarded a full scholarship. He received his Master of Fine Arts degree at SUI.

Tickets are still available for all performances of "Santa Claus," an original opera by Edwin London, G. Oakland, Calif. From left is Santa Claus, Tom Ingham, A2, Norfolk, Neb.; and Death, Lila Cheville, G, Iowa City.

The two works will be given Thursday through Saturday nights at the Studio Theatre in Old Army by the Speech and Dramatic Arts and Music departments, with the help of the Graduate College.

The opera, composed and conducted by London, features dances directed and choreographed by Marcia Thayer, a selected chorus of music students directed by Robert Kreis, G, New York City, and a small orchestra.

James Ellis, G, Oberlin, Ohio, is directing the Bach cantata. Tickets may be obtained at the Information Desk of the Iowa Memorial Union upon presentation of student I.D. cards. General admission tickets are 75 cents.

College Education Still Important for Women

Last Saturday the Iowan carried an article by Associated Press Women's Editor Dorothy Roe based on a recent report of the commission on the education of women of the American Council on Education. This article dealt with an urgent contemporary problem and, as it was published during the vacation period, it might be well to review it in this space.

Many parents, the article noted, confronted by the rising costs of higher education, are asking themselves a perplexing question these days: Why send Mary to college if she's going to get married before graduation? The well-worn argument goes that today, when half the women marry before they are old enough to graduate from college, it is a waste of time and money to give them a college education.

The AP article went on to say that while a woman's right to a college education is unquestioned today, there are new and serious doubts arising, among educators as well as parents, about its usefulness. In the past, when women generally married late if at all, a college education had great value in preparing them for a career before marriage. Today, however, with women marrying at a much earlier age, it is felt that this need for higher education no longer exists.

It is exactly this sort of reasoning the committee report attacks. "Yet our greatest waste in brainpower," it notes, "comes from the failure of so many more girls than boys among the best of our high school graduates to go to college. Women will use their college education in the home, the community, and later on the job."

Most young people, the report adds, have not been informed that the role of homemaker can well be combined with other creative endeavors and responsibilities. "Many have not been convinced that in modern life only such a combination of efforts will give their lives full satisfaction. . . Many have not been informed that major responsibilities in bearing and rearing children under modern conditions may consume less than two decades in a woman's life. Statistics show that the average girl who graduates from college today will probably work outside her home for approximately twenty-five years."

The real problem then is how can women get a college education when they marry so young?

A few solutions are offered. Parents and teachers are urged to impress on high school girls the importance of continuing their education through at least four years of college. Another possible solution is for women to go back to college and careers after their children are grown.

On this point the committee report says: "Advice is needed by the increasing number of adult women who are anxious to further their personal development and continue interrupted educations. The lowering of the age of marriage and the new patterns of American home life will steadily augment the size of this group."

It is pointed out that even though more and more girls are getting married in their teens, economic necessity will force many of them to hold down jobs for a major portion of their lives. And — and this is the point that needs to be emphasized — the kind of jobs they do will be determined largely by the extent and effectiveness of their education.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Was Insecticide Harmful?

To the Editor:
This fine morning two men with a red tank-truck (marked "Spraying Service") and a long hose appeared behind Parklawn Apartments. For perhaps fifteen minutes they intermittently played a stream of chemical insecticide under high pressure up through the elm trees. This is a letter of protest against such action.

The before-mentioned area is a nice grassy expanse containing three or four elms and a couple of apple trees. It also contains a fenced-in play area for babies.

This play area is situated among the trees and is a favorite of mothers with small toddlers.

Each burst from the hose brought down new clouds of spray to the grass, a share of it descended into the play area (unoccupied at the time). Many insecticides are dangerous upon skin contact alone (some highly so), let alone when they are introduced into the body, and everyone knows how babies crawl around on the ground picking up things to put in their mouths.

When I made a protest to the men about the play area and the babies, I was told "it won't hurt 'em." But I noticed the man without the hose ran to get out of the way when he suddenly discovered the stuff was raining down on him. I also observed a curious dog that trotted up to watch. Actually, he was a good 25 yards away from the tree they were dousing at the time, but abruptly he snorted, shook his head, and retreated.

As if the spraying weren't enough, the hose seemed to keep dripping. Then just before they left, the hose gushed out a several-second discharge onto the grass, similar to the way gasoline shoots out of a gas pump. I can't be sure, but it seemed the operator was "clearing" the hose on preparation for departure. Either that or he was negligent. In any case, he certainly picked a dandy spot. Yep! Right beside the play area and several feet from the gate!

I am no chemist (if I were, I wouldn't write this for fear of my job) and do not know how toxic the chemical was. But I do submit that it is highly improbable that a detailed and long range analysis of its action upon trees, shrubs, flowers, grass, birds, squirrels, beneficial insects and earthworms, and last but not least, HUMAN BEINGS, has been carried out, not only by the manufacturer but government or independent agencies as well.

We are continually assured that the wide and increasing (and many times flagrant) use of toxic insecticides and herbicides is perfectly all right, but I have an uneasy feeling that we may someday soon awake with a chemical hangover that no antidote will rid; that nature's symbiosis may become irreparably altered with dire consequences for Earth and Man alike.

If my stand makes me stubborn and old fashioned, then I accept that charge. Actually I love Elms as much as anyone, and maybe more than most, yet I love the rest of nature, too.

I also love a blue-eyed daughter who plays behind our home.

Many Campus Problems Are Out of Proportion

To the Editor:
In light of all the fervor which has been evidenced on this campus recently, one might be led to believe that this is a movement by a majority, while actually it is nothing but a highly-organized minority. Everyone is entitled to his or her opinion and The Daily Iowan and Iowa Defender seem proper places to give these opinions.

A concise, empirical report of the situation would be more seriously accepted by the readers than a "colored" or biased approach to the problem. It is time that the student body put an end to this name-calling, unsubstantiated remarks and "bickering" which has become so prevalent. It would seem that our graduate students who persist in giving their opinions to the student body would be more interested in academic problems instead of becoming so articulate as to their opinions of Student Council, CPC, IFC, ROTC, the University administration, picketing and the other organizations and methods which seem to be a morning ritual on our campus newspaper. If there are graduate and undergraduate students who do not hold the same views as those who seem to have their names on page two of The Daily Iowan in each issue, let these students answer, but do so in an educated manner and appeal to the readers intelligence and not just his emotions.

Most members of the student body are paying for an education and are not particularly interested in these campus problems which have been blown completely out of proportion. Our Student Council is not and was not meant to solve all of the problems of the University community. Without the benefit of a poll of student opinion, I would venture to say that most of the student body would not picket Old Capitol, the Armory, local chain stores, go on hunger strikes, write the governor or some of the other tactics suggested by a MINORITY of students.

Each student at SUI should realize that an organized minority can manipulate a disorganized majority. The current battle for votes and positions in the Student Council is evidence of what can and is happening on this campus. There are those who persist in propagating their views, and it is no secret who these people are because they always use page two of The Daily Iowan as a "sound-ing board." It is time that the student body realizes the size of this articulate group whether their motives be altruistic or ulterior, whatever those may be.

No Trivia Makes Joe College Very Dull Boy

To the Editor:
This being a record year for campus controversy (student worker strikes, farcical student elections and government, etc.) it is not surprising that a "brave, new" student faction is now flourishing—Students Disorganized To Abolish Jui Klemesrud.

The purpose of this informal group (not yet approved by Student Council) seems to be rid our troubled campus of both Miss Klemesrud and her DI "Flotsam and Jetsam" column — by hook or by crook.

They cry to anyone who will listen that "Flotsam" is just so much trivia and must be replaced with copy more vital to students. All "vital" news (i.e., discrimination, socialism, and incoherence) and no trivia make Joe College a very dull boy. May Conway Twitty sing in Renny II when SUIowa City has no need for trivia!

Certainly any student is free to express his ideas, but The Disturbed Ones have carried their poor man's version of muckraking into left field. Their scurrilous attacks on Miss Klemesrud include such perverse examples as: 1. Illegally taping a telephone conversation, 2. Shouting obscenities on campus, and 3. Threatening physical violence ("screwing in jest?").

Fortunately, the number of students with so much spare time as to dream up such gems is in the minority (in this country anyway). Otherwise Jimmy Hoffa would have been a write-in winner for Student Council president.

If they wish to really vent their violence physically, here is a challenge to all interested:

Some Sunday all anti-Klemesruders gather on the west side of Iowa River across from the Memorial Union, and all pro-Klemesruders meet directly across the stream. A furious life-of-war will follow, leaving the losing faction to drown in the thin mud. May the losers emerge with their clothes no dirtier than their minds!

Encouraged an Immoral Act

To the Editor:
Permit me to say a word or two about the current wave of sympathy for Professor Koch of the University of Illinois.

Mr. Boyd Critz plans a petition in support of Professor Koch on the grounds that his censure limits both academic freedom of speech and freedom of thought. Well, we can't limit anyone's thinking, and God knows there are enough people who think premarital relations are good without needing any more encouragement.

As for freedom of speech: are there not times when its practice must give way to far more important values? Mr. Critz and many of his fellow students both here and at Illinois seem to have lost sight of a pretty obvious consideration. It does not seem logical that Professor Koch would make such a statement merely for the sake of freedom of speech. We can only infer that he is trying to encourage general practice of an act which is immoral in itself, and which on a large scale would undermine one of the basic values upon which our Christian civilization is founded.

What's Happening—

On Other Campuses

By GARY G. GERLACH
Staff Writer

ANN ARBOR — Because of letters sent to eight Southern governors protesting police clamp-downs on "sit-in" demonstrations in the South, the student government at the University of Michigan has received a blistering letter, containing many acid comments, from the Ku Klux Klan of Alabama. The threatening letter, which was crammed with misspelled words and grammatical errors and played on the "people who live in glass houses shouldn't throw stones" theme, has been sent to the FBI for further investigation. The letter, in part, read: "The Coons in our great State of Alabama, have, at present, School facilities above the whites, and also Employment above whites such as At Goodyear, US Steel, And Allis Chalmers. I have a 358 Magnum Sniperscope bullet with the head of the NAACP's Name on it I am a Sharpshooter with all weapons including the Thompson Sub machine Gun, Grease Gun . . . and the others are Qualified with anything from hand Grenades, and Poison Gas; We say Clean up Detroit, and Michigan, and then tell another State how to run its Affairs; Thank You." The letter closes with a post script that accuses the NAACP of contributing to Communism and Nazism. The last sentence, in bold face type, emphatically declares: "RED BIRDS DO NOT BUILD THEIR NESTS WITH BLUE BIRDS."

LEXINGTON — The University of Kentucky is cleaning up its fraternity system. In an attempt to halt skidding fraternity grade points (which found 11 of 19 fraternities on scholastic probation last semester), the IFC unanimously approved a deferred rush plan that will delay freshman pledging until the second semester. The new system will bar anyone from a fraternity until they attain at least a 2.0. Leaders say house scholastic averages are so low "because pledges flunk out . . . (actives) have to be geniuses to balance the score-boards . . ." An influential leader among the Greeks calls deferred rush a "Good Thing" because "Everyone knows that the freshmen have the hardest work and that's why more of them are on probation. After passing the first year, the student can loaf and join a fraternity without too much intellectual pressure." Whether this "Good Thing" will work remains to be seen.

On further note, apologies are due the University of Kentucky, which is in Lexington, of course, not Louisville.

MADISON — " . . . nothing done here in recent years could have reached the depths of the Kennedy-Humphrey contest," so said the Daily Cardinal, student newspaper at the University of Wisconsin, in an editorial that tore into the candidates in the recent Wisconsin Democratic Presidential Primary. The bitter article accused the two presidential hopefuls of "non-rational" campaigning and failing to "discuss the issues." The "small-scale" Kennedy-Humphrey campus campaign was likened to the annual Campus Carnival, which often connotes evening beer blasts, dancing girls, and hugging and handshaking — all in an attempt to win votes. The Cardinal went on to say: "Thankfully, on campus our (student) candidates have found some issues — regardless of the authenticity of them — to debate . . ."

In another note from Wisconsin, the fraternity system seems to be working out a little better than Kentucky's because the fraternity men averaged 2.53 last semester while non-fraternity men could only manage a 2.44.

LAWRENCE — Kansas University's first "Model" United Nations held an interesting discussion on the "Seat for Red China" issue. During the Friday session, when students voted as the nation they were representing would have, the admission of Red China was refused. Immediately one-third of the assembly disgustedly walked out — mostly the Soviet block. Said an Indian spokesman: "The assembly is completely prejudiced and narrow minded. We will join the Soviet block." On Saturday, however, when students voted in accordance with their own personal convictions, the assembly called for the admittance of Communist China to the United Nations.

Eight from SUI Will Attend 12th IFC Conference

Eight SUI students will attend the 12th annual Big Ten Interfraternity Council-Panellenic conference at the University of Minnesota Thursday, Friday and Saturday. The group will be accompanied by Evert Wallentfelt, fraternity adviser.

The eight are: Linda Brown, A3, Oskaloosa, Delta Delta Delta; Naida Worton, A3, Iowa City, Sigma Delta Tau; Karen Burns, A3, Muscatine, Gamma Phi Beta; Eve Anderson, B3, Clinton, Gamma Phi Beta; Doug Stone, A2, Sioux City, Delta Upsilon; Jim Jones, A3, Mason City, Phi Kappa Psi; Frank James, B3, Grinnell, Sigma Alpha Epsilon; and Jack Gleason, E1, Elkader, Sigma Nu.

The three-day program will be geared to the projection of Greek life in growing universities and will follow the theme "And the Greeks Will Grow."

Two main speeches, "How to Maintain Effective Leadership When Greeks Are Becoming a Minority" and "The Role of the Greeks in Their University," will highlight the program.

Two Men Plead Guilty; Lose Licenses, $300

Two men were fined $300 each and their driver's licenses were suspended in Johnson County District Court Tuesday after pleading guilty to drunken driving charges.

Richard O. Jacobson, 22, formerly of 228 1/2 E. College St., and Eldon F. Wiese, 56, Pocahontas, entered pleas of guilty through their attorneys; neither man appeared in court.

Part of the penalty for a conviction of OMVI is the revocation of the individual's liquor book, but the court reported neither had liquor books.

Atmosphere Lends Little Hope for a Settlement

As Red China's Premier Chou En-lai emerges from behind the Bamboo Curtain for the first time in several years, his every word and every gesture is being watched for its bearing on relations with the Soviet Union and the rest of the world.

No important world figure has been received abroad in recent years with such cold correctness as was Chou in New Delhi, India, Tuesday, British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan did much better at some touchy spots in Africa, and so did French President Charles de Gaulle in Algeria.

Chou said he would like to settle the border dispute with India "in accordance with the principles of coexistence."

"Our relations have been imperiled for the present and future," said Indian Prime Minister Nehru, referring to the shocked Indian people who refused even to display their curiosity by gathering to see Chou.

If Chou has been hoping, as reported, to smooth Asiatic feathers ruffled by Red China's repeated acts of aggression, he could see he had his work cut out for him. Is he as much interested in peace talks in between the Soviet Union and the West is meaningless as long as Peiping is not consulted?

Was his endorsement of Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's pre-summit maneuvers sincere, or a mere political sop?

His words on this point have been accompanied by a reiteration on the part of Communist China's doctrinaires that force-fulfiller or international war as befits the occasion — cannot be renounced as weapons of the world revolution.

The atmosphere of the current meeting offers no hope for a settlement between Peiping and New Delhi. Even an agreement to set up a boundary commission, as was done with Burma, can mean little. The Reds have occupied territory long held by India, and built a military road across part of it. Neither party shows signs of yielding.

The visit also comes at a time which the world has considered crucial for Chou. With vast internal troubles because of attempts to regiment the individualistic Chinese, he needs diversions abroad, beyond the need for demonstrating China's importance to world settlements.

Good Listening— Today On WSUI

VIOLINIST JOHN FERRELL will be heard in recital tonight from Macbride Auditorium at 8 p.m. Both WSUI and KSUI-FM will carry the program. A special intermission interview with Mrs. Rita Benton, curator of the SUI music library, will form a part of the broadcast. Mr. Ferrell, assisted by John Simms, pianist, will perform Sonata, Opus 96, by Beethoven; Partita No. 3 for violin solo, by Bach; and Sonata by Cesar Franck.

Civil Rights Law Boosted; Passage Expected Thursday

WASHINGTON (AP) — A civil rights law centering on protection of Negro voting rights got a big boost toward enactment Tuesday. Final passage is expected Thursday in the House.

The House Rules Committee, its Southern leadership bowing to the inevitable, cleared the compromise bill for final consideration. If, as seems almost certain, the House votes to accept Senate changes, the legislation will go to President Eisenhower without further Senate or House consideration. The committee voted 8-4 to send to the House a bill main provision of which is for court-appointed referees to act on complaints of voting rights denial because of race.

Based originally on an Eisenhower Administration recommenthe referee provision was hammered out in a series of compromises between Southerners and the bipartisan group seeking a tough civil rights law. The Senate added clauses specifying that its provisions could not override basic state qualifications for voting, and that the courts should set times and places for hearings.

The final product was still objectionable to Southerners; but it also was criticized as weak by some leaders of the civil rights group in Congress and of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

The bill would provide penalties up to $1,000 fine and a year in prison for obstruction of federal court orders. The Senate made a major change in this section, which now requires House approval.

Bids on 2 SUI Projects To Be Received May 6

Bids are being received by SUI for two construction projects — re-roofing Children's Hospital and improving the water system.

Bids will be accepted until 1:30 p.m. May 6 at the SUI Office of Planning and Construction for both projects. They will be opened and read at 2 p.m. the same day.

The first project calls for replacing some 45,000 square feet of roofing at Children's Hospital. The 40-year-old roof has deteriorated beyond repair.

The second project calls for improvements to the SUI water system. The work to be done includes construction of approximately 3,200 lineal feet of 12-inch cast iron water main, including valves, fittings, hydrants and connections to the existing water system.

The new water main will be connected to the existing system near Children's Hospital, then go to Elm Street, past the Fine Arts Building, across the Iowa River, and connect again to the present system near Burdett Hall.

Permits Available To Build Docks For Reservoir Use

Persons living along the shore of the Coralville Reservoir may apply for permits to build floating docks on the reservoir for personal use. John Story, manager of the Coralville Dam announced Tuesday.

Story said that only floating docks will be permitted because they must be able to move up and down with the level of the reservoir during flood control operations.

He said that the docks must be under the visual supervision of the owner, or owners, at all times, and permits would be issued to persons living near enough to the reservoir to satisfy this condition. Free permits good for three years may be obtained at the Coralville Reservoir office.

Story said the docks had to be connected securely to the shore by lines, and persons erecting the docks must agree not to charge for their use.

There are certain areas of the reservoir where dock-building will not be permitted, he said, because passing boats could damage the docks or the boats moored to them.

Story cautioned that all boats using these private docks must have permits which may be obtained at the Coralville Reservoir office.

Kennedy Talks Religion; Accepts Humphrey Challenge

WHEELING, W.Va. (AP) — Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.), obviously irked at the persistent needling of Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn.) and his supporters, angrily accepted Humphrey's challenge Tuesday to a face-to-face debate in their Presidential primary fight and made the subject of his religion a major topic in his hop-and-skip speeches.

The two moves represent a complete turnaround from his method of campaigning in Wisconsin, where he defeated Humphrey earlier this month.

"In view of the way the camaign is evolving in West Virginia," Kennedy said bluntly, "I can't accept the current attacks without fighting back."

He said he had refused to meet Humphrey on the same platform in Wisconsin because he felt it would be "harmful to the party and to the candidates to have intense personal debate."

But that's all changed now, he said.

Within a matter of hours, WSATV at Huntington, at the western-most tip of the state, announced the two would appear on an hour-long television show at 10 p.m. (EST) on May 9 — election eve.

At a stop at nearby Bethany College, a heckler who trailed him through much of his Wisconsin campaign and is following him through northern West Virginia, asked Kennedy how he could square his duties as President with those of a Catholic.

"I don't take orders from above," Kennedy replied.

"I am going to go to church where I want, regardless of whether I'm elected President or not," he said.

This drew a long ovation from the students. Bethany is a Disciples of Christ school with an enrollment of 700.

Wheeling, an industrial city on the Ohio River, is the stronghold of Catholicism in the state, accounting for 30 per cent of the population in the general Wheeling area. Over-all, the Catholics make up about 5 per cent of the West Virginia population.

More Water Now Leaving Reservoir Than Entering

Water is still being released by the Coralville Dam at a rate of 270 million gallons per hour, John Story, manager of the dam, said Tuesday. This rate is in accordance with the approved plan of operation for this time of year, he said.

Story said that the inflow into the Coralville Reservoir is about half the amount being released, and the water level of the reservoir is now down to about 702 feet.

The highest level reached during the recent flood was slightly over 706 feet — six feet below the maximum storage capacity of the reservoir.

Story said he did not expect the inflow of water from last week's rain to exceed the amount now being released by the dam.

The present outflow will be maintained until the reservoir level is down to 670 feet, he said. Beginning on July 1, the dam will be operated to raise the level to 680 feet to provide a pool for recreational purposes.

200 Job Openings Available Through Employment Service

More than 200 professional job openings are available through the Iowa City Office of the Iowa State Employment Service. There are seven openings for chemists, three for teachers, eleven for nurses, one for a lawyer, and three for medical doctors. Forty-five openings are available for engineers.

The Iowa State Employment Service, in co-operation with other state employment services and the United States Employment Service, has a clearance system on professional openings that is second to none, said Bernard C. Barber, manager of the Iowa City office. The office matches interested employers with qualified registered job applicants and also notifies the job seekers of companies with openings listed in designated fields.

The office can assist job applicants in locating positions outside Iowa as well as within the state.

Graduating students who do not have job commitments should register for the free placement service at the Employment Office at 302 South Gilbert St. It is open Monday through Friday from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

The Employment Office is interested in male applicants with degrees in any field. However, men with degrees in engineering, chemistry, accounting, and commerce are most in demand. For female applicants the shortage areas are nursing, physical therapy, secretarial, and social work.

70 Gridders Report— Spring Drills Begin

Coach Forest Evashevski got his first look at the "new" and another look at the "old" Tuesday during the first of 20 spring football drills. The sessions will end with the Varsity-Alumni contest, May 14.

Evashevski greeted an estimated 70 candidates to the workout that included old names such as Sherwyn Thorson, Mark Manders and Charlie Lee; and new standouts such as Matt Szykowny, Larry Stednitz, Felton Rogers and Joe Williams.

It will be during these practices that Evashevski will begin to form the nucleus of his 1960 version of Iowa football.

He has termed the sessions as "vital" and said the most attention will be given to the sophomores in an effort to give them some quick experience.

"I believe our player losses are as severe as at any time since I came to Iowa," Evy said before the practice began. "We lost our three top pass-catching ends, two tackles, a guard and a center in addition to the first team backfield. This points up the fact that much development of new men must occur in spring drills," he concluded.

After a short demonstration of the Evashevski version of the Winged-T formation, the veteran of eight seasons at Iowa turned his club loose for a full-scale scrimmage.

Most of the scrimmage time was spent trying out the new men who are considered the top prospects among the yearlings.

In addition to Szykowny, Stednitz, Rogers and Williams, guard Earl McQuiston, ends Jim Galmin, Lynn Lyon and Bill Perkins; tackles, Jerry Swartz and Louie Wilson; center Dayton Perry; and backs, John Calhoun, Sammie Harris, Jim Jones, and Dick Drummond, saw plenty of action.

Also back are a pair of "old" veterans who won letters in 1955, Bill Van Buren and Terry Moran. Van Buren was the starting center in 1955 until he cracked an ankle. Moran started out as quarterback, but was switched to guard.

However, some big names on the Iowa scene were not at the first day of drills.

Captain Jerry Mauren, halfback; and Dick Clauson, end, are on the baseball team. Lloyd Humphreys, center; and George Harrell, tackle, will join the squad for fall practice and Al Miller, end, is forging spring practice to concentrate on his studies. One other letterman, Virgil Williams, halfback, plans to enroll again next fall.

The Hawkeyes disposed of their opponents in short order with no match going over two sets. In the No. 1 doubles event Iowa's Henry Utley and John Nadig defeated Lloyd Brown and Mike Chechval, 6-3, 6-1. The four games won in those two sets were the most the Missouri school gained all afternoon.

The meet was the first outdoor contest for the Hawkeyes. In their first scheduled outdoor meet with Kalamazoo College, the Hawks were forced inside by a 1 1/2 inch snowfall. The same snow prevented a meet with Western Michigan.

Tennis Squad Posts 7-0 Win In 2nd Match

Iowa's tennis squad Tuesday breezed to its second straight victory by gaining a 7-0 triumph over Northeast Missouri State Teachers College. The match was the first home contest for Coach Don Klotz's racquet squad.

Roger Rudeen turned in a masterful 7-inning pitching job for the Hawkeyes after he got off to a shaky start in the first inning.

The big right-hander fanned the first two Luther hitters. Then an error by shortstop Bill Kliff, a walk and singles by Keith Crider and Dave Luhrs gave the Norsemen their runs.

Rudeen was never in trouble after the first inning, allowing only two more hits and striking out eight more hitters.

Will Play Again Today— Hawks Down Luther 6-2

The Hawkeye baseball squad got back on the winning side of the ledger here Tuesday by dumping Luther 6-2. The Hawkeyes had downed the Norsemen 11-4 in their season opener before their 6-game series at Arizona in which they were whitewashed. The second game of the series is scheduled for today at 3:30 p.m.

Luther struck for two runs in the first inning, then the Hawkeyes bounced back for three tallies in their half of the first. The score remained the same until the seventh inning when the Hawkeyes added another run. The final two Iowa runs came in the eighth.

IOWAN HIGH IN ABC
TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Bert Schwing, a 32-year-old Fort Dodge, bowler who is on his honeymoon, rolled the third highest individual game in this year's American Bowling Congress Tournament by scoring a 288 in singles play Tuesday.

Top doubles score Tuesday was 1,203 by Ed Tessmer and Gene Laforce of Battle Creek, Mich.

Fullmer Favored To Retain Crown Against Giardello
BOZEMAN, Mont. (AP) — Sturdy Gene Fullmer ruled a solid favorite over seventh-ranked Joey Giardello in the second defense of his world middleweight title, National Boxing Assn. version Wednesday night in the unusual surroundings of the Montana State College Fieldhouse.

Fullmer, a 13-5 favorite in this area, expects a tough fight but is confident of victory. Asked if he hopes for a knockout, Fullmer said, "I get paid for 15 rounds. I figure any round I can cut off is a bonus to me personally."

their three runs in the first. Jerry Mauren led off by reaching first base on an error. Then Lyon walked Kliff, Al Klinger and Mike Bougdanos after Don Peden had popped out to third baseman Keith Crider. Mike Lewis beat out a slow roller to shortstop, scoring the second run and Lyon then walked Bob Bleakley to force in another tally. The inning was ended when Jack Leabo lined to first baseman Ken Crider, who doubled up Bleakley at the bag.

The Hawkeyes scored again in the seventh on a single by Leabo and a double by Mauren, who was tossed out trying to stretch his hit into a triple.

The eighth inning runs came on a walk by Don Peden, singles by Bougdanos and Lewis, and a double steal by Lewis and Bougdanos.

Al Bachman came in to pitch the last two innings for the Hawkeyes. The stylish southpaw was effective again against his Luther "cousings", striking out four and allowing no hits.

Minoso Hits 2, ChiSox Win 10-9

CHICAGO (AP) — After hitting a grand slam homer in the fourth, Minnie Minoso belted a leadoff homer in the ninth to break a 9-9 tie and give the American League champion Chicago White Sox a 10-9 opening day victory over the Kansas City A's.

A record Comiskey Park opening day crowd of 41,661 saw the wild and woolly opener in which the White Sox blew an early 9-2 lead and then had their sixth pitcher, Ray Moore, save the game with one pitch in the ninth inning with the bases loaded.

The jittery A's yielded five unearned runs in the first two innings and then ex-Cleveland outfielder Minoso celebrated his return to the White Sox with his base-clearing walk over the 415-foot center field mark in the fourth inning.

Minoso's decisive homer in the ninth after the A's scored two runs to tie the score at 9-9 was a shot into the upper left center field stands above the 375-foot mark.

BOSTON (AP) — The New York Yankees, able to solve Boston hurling for only seven hits in three pre-season exhibitions, racked Red Sox pitching for 17 hits Tuesday and an 8-4 triumph.

Roger Maris, a New York newcomer, belted two 400-foot plus home runs and drove in half of the Yankee tallies. Maris also contributed a double and single to the

Tigers 4, Indians 2
CLEVELAND (AP) — A two-run single by Al Kaline in the 15th inning gave the Detroit Tigers a 4-2 victory over the Cleveland Indians before an opening-day crowd of 52,756 Tuesday at Municipal Stadium. The loser was Jim Grant, the third of five Indian pitchers, who left with two men on base and one out in the 15th after pitching 3 1/2 innings in relief. The winner was Pete Burnside, the third Detroit pitcher, who hurled the last four innings.

Tuesday's crowd was the largest for a season's opener here since 1953. Most of the fans still were in the stands at the end of the game, which went 4 hours and 54 minutes.

Kaline's game winning single to center field was his only hit of the game. It was off Bob Tiefenauer, the last Indian hurler. Burnside walked to open the 15th. Eddie Yost was out on a fly to center and Red Wilson then hit a double of left field, sending Burnside to third. Grant was replaced by Johnny Klippstein, who walked the

Dodgers 4, Giants 0
SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Left-hander Johnny Podres, with help from Ed Roebuck, blanked the San Francisco Giants on five hits Tuesday as the Los Angeles Dodgers grabbed the National League lead with a 4-0 victory.

Roebuck came in with one out and the bases loaded in the ninth and got Ed Bressoud to hit into a double-play.

Billy O'Dell, the Giant's southpaw acquisition from the Baltimore Orioles, started his first National League game and gave up only four hits in eight innings. The Giants, besides failing to give him any help at the plate, committed five errors.

night, beating the Chicago Cubs 5-2 behind Wilmer (Vinegar Bend) Mizell's 7-hit, 11-strikeout pitching and Stan Musial's clutch two-run double.

Musial's fifth-inning blow broke up a 2-2 duel between Mizell and Cub left-hander Seth Morehead. Mizell needed help in the ninth from Lindy McDaniel, but his performance gave the Redbirds a much-needed lift.

Ernie Banks homered and drove in both runs for Chicago, now 2-4 in seventh, a game ahead of the still last-place Cards at 1-5.

Phillies 4, Pirates 3
PITTSBURGH (AP) — Jim Owens gave up only three hits — one a three-run homer — in pitching the Philadelphia Phillies to a 4-3 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates Tuesday night.

Owens, starting his first game of the season, struck out nine and walked two. He fanned first baseman Dick Stuart three times.

The only time the Pirates gave Owens any trouble was in the third when they got three runs on Bob Skinner's home run into the right center field stands, his second of the year. Skinner scored behind Don Hoak, who reached first when Ted Lepcio fumbled his grounder, and Dick Groat, who had singled.

The only other hit Owens was in the sixth when Roberto Clemente led off with a single.

Scholarships Offer Solution To Student Financial Worries

By Staff Writer

Undergraduates at SUI who are concerned about finances may well find a solution to this problem with the aid of one of many scholarships offered at SUI.

Among these undergraduate scholarships are the Student Aid Scholarships, available to Iowa residents who have critical need for financial assistance and are entirely self-dependent.

The University Subcommittee on Undergraduate Scholarships, which decides who will receive the scholarships, defines the term "entirely self-dependent" in this way: "We do not have in mind the student who prefers not to call his parents for aid or the student whose parents can lend aid but will not. We refer to the student who has no one on whom to call upon for aid."

In order to receive a Student Aid Scholarship, an applicant must have a C plus (2.5) minimum grade-point average and must have graduated in the upper third of his high school class.

Fifty of these awards, which pay $220 in fees, are given each fall to students in the Colleges of Commerce, Engineering, Liberal Arts, Nursing and Pharmacy.

Charles Mason, coordinator of student aid and executive secretary of the Subcommittee on Undergraduate Scholarships, stresses the point that applications for these scholarships must be submitted to the Office of Student Affairs by June 1.

Applications forms for the scholarships are available in the Office of Student Affairs, University Hall. Other members of the subcommittee are Miss Helen Reich, assistant director of the Office of Student Affairs; Walter Cox, associate registrar; John L. Lach, associate professor of pharmacy; Richard Lloyd-Jones, assistant professor of engineering, and Arthur Mittman, director of Examinations Service.

Hospital Volunteers To Be Given Awards

The Iowa City Veterans Administration Hospital will honor 313 volunteer workers Thursday at a luncheon to be held at the Mayflower Inn.

Each year the hospital awards certificates and pins to the volunteer workers on regular assignment for their services, basing the awards upon the total hours of service they have contributed.

The volunteer workers, who come from 37 communities in Iowa and Illinois and represent over 35 organizations, contributed over 52,000 hours of service during 1959.

Chicago Woman Forfeits $2,500 On Larceny Count

A bond of $2,500 was forfeited Thursday afternoon in Johnson County District Court because Anna Elizabeth Wade of Chicago did not show up for her scheduled March 2 arraignment on a charge of larceny.

She allegedly grabbed a handful of money from a cash register at the Me-Too store here last April 17.

The bond had been posted by Summit Fidelity and Surety Co. of Akron, Ohio. Judge H.D. Evans entered judgment for $2,500 against the company. In March Judge James P. Gaffney ordered that the bond be forfeited but set aside the order on learning the company had not been properly notified of the impending action.

Judge Evans said Thursday Mrs. Wade's whereabouts are still unknown.

Students To Represent SUI at Debate Meet

Four students will represent SUI at the annual spring conference of the Western Conference Debate League to be held here April 28, 29, and 30.

John Niemeyer, A2, Elkader; David Brodsky, A4, Iowa City; Kathleen Kelly, A4, Newton, and Douglas Stone, A2, Sioux City, will attend the conference in which students participate in various speech activities and are evaluated.

Tough Nehru Talk Greeted Visiting Red Chinese Chief

NEW DELHI India (AP) — Red China's Premier Chou En-Lai, looking glum and stolid, arrived Tuesday for talks on the bitter boundary dispute with India. He was promptly told by Prime Minister Nehru that India's relations with Communist China "have been imperiled for the present and future."

This declaration, voiced shortly after Chou stepped from an Indian air force plane, set the tone for one of the toughest speeches

Nehru has ever made to a visiting dignitary.

The usually affable Nehru wore a tight smile.

"When Your Excellency came here three years ago as the representative of a great people conveying your greetings and good wishes to our people, we reciprocated in full," he told Chou.

"Unfortunately, other events have taken place since then which have put a great strain on this bond of friendship and which have given a shock to all our people."

Nehru left no doubts that the "events" were last year's border clashes with Chinese soldiers. A dozen Indians were killed as Peiping enforced its claim to 41,000 square miles of mountain territory.

Nehru's strong words, and the unusually chilly reception, had Chou grim-faced. But the Communist leader read off a prepared speech voicing friendship for India and hopes for settling the border crisis. Such a settlement, he added, should be reached "in accordance with the principles of co-existence."

On his three-nation tour, Chou has been trying to rebuild Red China's image as a peaceful neighbor. This was shattered by Communist suppression of last year's revolt in Tibet.

But his smiling demeanor in Burma, where he even got into holiday water fights with festive Burmese last week, was in marked contrast to the way he looked here.

Chou, whose seven-day visit is strongly opposed by all opposition parties but the Communists, appeared a bit apprehensive as he descended from the plane that brought him from Rangoon, Burma.

Nehru stepped forward and extended his hand but waved away photographers when they shouted for a second handshake. After repeated calls, Nehru reluctantly went through the ceremony again.

The chilly prelude was completely in keeping with negotiations concerning the 2,500-mile border between India and Communist-controlled areas including Tibet.

Chou has declared the entire border area is vague and must be defined by negotiations. Nehru maintains that the border is well defined by history, tradition and usage and therefore only minor adjustments can be considered.

Castro Fascist Comparison Draws Sharp U.S. Retort

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. Government Tuesday came its closest yet to branding Fidel Castro a dictator.

The sharp words came from the State Department after officials here were stung by the Cuban Prime Minister's latest blast in his series of attacks on Uncle Sam.

This time, Castro publicly declared he saw some similarity between U.S. policy and those of Hitler, Mussolini and Spain's Generalissimo Francisco Franco.

In an interview Tuesday with correspondent Richard Bate, of the Columbia Broadcasting System, published in the semi-official Castro newspaper Revolucion, Castro said the Fascists condemned communism while justifying aggression and the United States "appears to have adopted a policy that in other times served to advance Fascists."

State Department Press Officer Lincoln White denounced this as "another of the baseless remarks which the Cuban Prime Minister makes from time to time for reasons best known to himself."

The U.S. spokesman noted that the United States had gone to war against Hitler and Mussolini in World War II. He said America now considers international communism a real threat to democracy and hopes that Castro and the Cuban people will come to realize this.

"If comparisons must be made," White said, "one of the principal hallmarks of a dictatorship such as that of Hitler and Mussolini was the muzzling of a free press."

"It is difficult to understand how the Prime Minister can make such references when 95 per cent of the Cuban press is under government control."

Meany Against Exchanges Between Russ, U.S. Labor

By JOEL SELDIN
Herald Tribune News Service

NEW YORK — George Meany, president of the AFL-CIO, angrily and emphatically beat down Tuesday a proposal by another union leader that the labor federation soften its stand on the Soviet Union and consider exchanges between "average" Russians and Americans to promote better understanding between the two peoples.

The suggestion came from Al Hartnett, secretary-treasurer of the International Union of Electrical Workers, during a discussion period in the opening session of a two-day AFL-CIO conference on world affairs, held at the Hotel Commodore.

Meany had just finished delivering the keynote speech, in which he opposed any settlement at the forthcoming summit conference and warned that "appeasement" of Soviet Premier Khrushchev "would prove as disastrous for the cause of peace and freedom as was appeasement of Hitler at Munich."

"The threat of an atomic war," he said, "stems from one source and one source only — Soviet Russia." He characterized Russia's activities since World War II as "an unceasing campaign of subversion and hostile propaganda against freedom."

During the discussion period Hartnett rose to comment that American labor should "learn to live with" the fact that communism as a world force is "here, and will be for some time." He said a "bad image" of the United States has been created throughout the world and proposed exchanges among "average American workers and average American families" with their Russian counterparts to reduce international tension.

Meany, in a heated reply, declared that such exchanges were all right "for artists and business people," but not for labor.

Russian trade union leaders, Meany said, are government representatives, associated with the oppression of Russian workers.

He said he had no objection to talks between agents of the two governments, and that "if they (the Russian union leaders) want to come here, let them talk to representatives of our Government—they're not going to talk to me."

Officers Elected For Union Board

John Timmermans, D3, Inwood, was elected president of the Union Board for the 1960-61 session Tuesday night. Other new officers include vice-president, Bill Hummer, M2, Des Moines; secretary, Nancy Stokes, A3, Elmhurst, Ill.; and Bob Price, A3, Iowa City.

George F. Stevens, assistant director of the Iowa Memorial Union, serves as advisor for the Union Board.

Assignments will soon be made for the following committees: post ball games, games, and publicity. The heads of these committees will be chosen from the board.

The new Union Board will be without sub-committees until the early part of the fall session.

Mountaineers Plan Weekend Outing Along Mississippi

The Iowa Mountaineer Club will go on an overnight outing to the Mississippi Palisades Saturday and Sunday.

Earl Carter, leader of the hikers, advises participants to take sleeping gear, warm jackets, tennis shoes, and food for three meals.

Hikers will meet at 1 p.m. Saturday at the Mountaineer Clubhouse and will leave the Palisades on Sunday at 2 p.m.

Interested persons should register at Lind's Photo Supply by April 21. The outing is open to non-club members. Transportation and camping costs are $2.50. Those who wish to drive and take riders should indicate so when registering.

Part-Time Jobs Open At Student Placement

If some extra money in your pocket sounds appealing this spring, Howard Moffitt, manager of student placement, can help you.

Moffitt has been receiving numerous requests for students to do spring work around Iowa City. Putting on screens, cleaning up yards and other types of work will pay a minimum of $1 an hour and in some cases more, says Moffitt.

Interested students are asked to leave their names, telephone numbers and schedules of free time with Moffitt in his office in the Office of Student Affairs, University Hall.

Fourth Spotlight Series To Discuss 'Apartheid'

WOMEN PROMISE TO PAY TO Government-in-the-Electric-Business $10,000,000,000

DATE SIGNATURE

Would you sign this $10,000,000,000 I.O.U. for unnecessary taxes?

Of course you wouldn't take on such a staggering debt yourself. But you and other taxpayers may have to share this whopping burden in new taxes!

What would it be for? To put the federal government farther into the electric light and power business. And it will be a reality if the promoters of such federal "public power" get their way. Already, such spending for this purpose has cost taxpayers about $5,500,000,000! (That's five and a half billion dollars.)

Is $10,000,000,000 more tax spending really necessary? Not at all. Independent electric companies like Iowa-Illinois Gas and Electric Company are able and ready to fill Americans' growing needs for low-price electricity. And they don't depend on your taxes to do the job.

Unnecessary tax spending for federal "public power" goes on mainly because so few people know they are paying the bill. But it can be stopped as soon as enough people do know. Will you help spread the word?

WHEN PUBLIC POWER WINS . . . YOU LOSE!

THIRD IN A SERIES

Suggested Books of the Week

The Fields of Light
by Reuben Brower
Suggested for Reading by CLARK GRIFFITH, Asst. Prof., English

This is a book of literary criticism, remarkable for both its intelligence and its highly readable style. The first half sets forth a critical method; in brief, it suggests qualities for which the reader may look as he reads and analyzes the literary text. In the second half, this method is then applied to a close analysis of specific texts: a poem of Pope's, A Passage to India, Pride and Prejudice and others.

For the general reader, it is the method which is likeliest to prove useful. Mr. Brower is primarily concerned with language — with ways in which an author communicates to his audience. In the process of elaborating this interest, he offers the fullest and sharpest definitions I know of such troublesome matters as irony, tone, image, metaphor and structure. His comments are free from jargon, and they will shed light equally upon poetry, prose and fiction and the drama.

The Fields of Light is simple and brief in the best sense of those words — simple in that it presents difficult problems with a maximum of clarity, brief in that it says a great deal concisely. The freshman and the Ph.D. candidate — not to mention the professor stand to profit from the results.

Higher Education In Business
by Robert A. Gordon and James E. Howell
Suggested for Reading by GILBERT P. MAYNARD, Prof., & Head of Dept. of Accounting

"A real shocker" to schools of business administration and to educators generally is one magazine's frenetic description of this report on collegiate education for business. Compared by the authors themselves with the Flexner Report of 1910, which reportedly precipitated a revolution in the teaching of medicine in the United States, the report has as its principal target the large business schools at typical municipal and state universities. While the report admittedly will have considerable influence upon higher education for business, a second glance at it is much less disturbing than the first, partially because some 160 business schools have been lumped together and discussed as an average. Nondiscriminating as it may be, businessmen and educators must take notice because of the possible effect of the report upon the main source of tomorrow's business executives. Indeed, the principal value of the report may lie in alerting those primarily concerned to a need for searching self-evaluation.

The New Class
by Milovan Djilas
Suggested for Reading by HUGH E. KELSO, Assoc. Prof., Political Science

At a time when both the Soviet Union and its professed communism are being studied more intensely than ever before, The New Class by Milovan Djilas is required reading. Formerly a chief theorist for the Yugoslav communist party and now in prison, Djilas describes what can happen under communism. "The party makes the class, but the class grows as a result and uses the party as a basis. The class grows stronger, while the party grows weaker; this is the inescapable fate of every Communist party in power." Such analyses help furnish a basis for critical evaluation of the communist system.

Set Scholarships Council

By KAY LUND, Staff Writer

About 80 SUI students crowded the Pentacrest Room of the University of Iowa Wednesday night to witness the Student Council take action on seven resolutions ranging from discontinuation at SUI and cancellation of the Iowa River to scholarship funds for Southern students.

The room was so crowded that several students were unable to get in. The meeting, which continued into a lengthy 3-hour, smoke-filled session, proceeded in a more orderly and co-operative manner than several previous Council meetings. A few weary-eyed audience members remained until adjournment at 10:10 p.m.

After one hour of discussion, the Council unanimously voted to organize a campaign to collect money for Southern students who have suffered as a result of demonstrations against segregation.

The Council members immediately launched the campaign after the meeting by each contributing $1 to the "Southern" fund.

The question of removing recognition from University organizations with discriminatory clauses arose again when Edward Gougeon, A3, Laramie, submitted a resolution with a 1965 time limit for the removal of such clauses. The Council tabled the resolution 11-10.

His resolution stated that in the event that a University-recognized organization has a discriminatory clause in its constitution by September 1, 1963, it will be placed on probation. If the clause was removed by September 1, 1965, the organization would be refused University recognition.

Gould argued that the legislative machinery passed by the 1959-60 Council lacks positive authority. "There is only one way to show progress and that's if the clause is removed," he said. "We should express ourselves . . . take a stand."

Jack Burge, A3, Charles City Interfraternity Council representative, in moving that the resolution be tabled, urged that the Council wait for reports from the Committee on Student Life concerning action taken on the 1959-60 Council's resolutions on discrimination, and also the Governor's Commission report.

The Council also voted to approve the stand taken by the Governor's Commission on Human Relations that segregation, in areas of campus activity, because of race or color is illegal, as stated in the Iowa Code. The resolution

'Basic Right' Violated

Petitions disapproving the action of the University of Illinois in suspending Asst. Prof. Leo Koch, asking his reinstatement, began circulating Wednesday at SUI.

Koch was suspended two weeks ago because of his letter to the Daily Illini condoning pre-marital sexual relations for some young people.

Boyd Critz, A2, 624 S. Clinton said the petition — in the form of a letter to the president of the University of Illinois — was composed at a meeting of students Monday evening.

Critz reported the response to the petition has been fairly good and that about a dozen students are soliciting signatures both dormitories and on campus.
