Ike To Cooperate Fully With Senate Inquiry

Congressional Leaders Agree—Bipartisan Basis

WASHINGTON (AP)—Over a hearty breakfast, President Eisenhower Thursday assured top Democratic and Republican congressional leaders he welcomes—and will cooperate fully with—a Senate inquiry into the spy plane episode and the summit crackup.

Reporting this, White House press secretary James C. Hagerty told newsmen that "in turn, the entire group agreed that the inquiry should be conducted on a completely nonpartisan and truly bipartisan basis." Hagerty said Eisenhower pledged to consider "any recommendations such as an inquiry might make."

Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas gave a like report after 10 senators, 13 House members and several Cabinet-level officials conferred with Eisenhower at a breakfast of oatmeal, scrambled eggs, ham and bacon.

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois concurred and said Eisenhower made "a plea for unanimity of spirit and feeling."

Sen. J. William Fulbright (D-Ark.), whose Senate Foreign Relations Committee will open an avowedly nonpolitical inquiry, said Eisenhower agreed with him that both parties should stop accusing each other of being soft toward communism and "quit competing with each other" over which would be tougher with the Russians.

Hagerty, who sat in, described it as "one of the best meetings I have ever attended." He said the Democratic and Republican congressmen "were there as Americans and not as party members."

It remained to be seen how long this area of good feeling would last in an election year.

In other developments:

1. Hagerty reported the Russians were going all out in jamming broadcasts to the Soviet Union of Eisenhower's appeal for business-like dealings in the interests of peace. This was the speech Eisenhower made Wednesday night to the American people over TV and radio.

"It is obvious the Russian leaders did not have the courage to let the Russian people hear the President's speech," Hagerty said. He also protested that the official Soviet news agency Tass gave Eisenhower's message short shrift.

2. At the United Nations Security Council in New York, Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko denounced Eisenhower's speech and rejected the President's proposal for an international aerial surveillance system. Gromyko called the plan another scheme to spy on the Soviet Union.

3. Not long afterwards, the Security Council defeated overwhelmingly the Soviet move to brand the United States an aggressor for sending spy planes over Soviet territory. The vote: 7 against, 2 for a 2 nations abstaining.

4. The White House said early public reaction to Eisenhower's report was "just tremendous." Hagerty said that of the first 300 telegrams received, just two were unfavorable.

5. Fifty-five Democrats—8 senators and 47 House members—asked that Adlai E. Stevenson, their party's presidential candidate in 1952 and 1956, be given equal air time to reply to Eisenhower's summit U2 report.

Invited to the White House breakfast were House and Senate floor leaders of both parties, together with Democratic chairmen and senior Republican members of committees dealing with foreign policy, defense and appropriations.

Quad Sets GPA Floor For Council

The Quadrangle Council Monday evening passed a resolution which will require all future candidates for executive positions or membership on the Quad Council to have a minimum accumulative grade point average of 2.0.

The resolution was not retroactive. All men presently holding executive posts or who are section representatives to the council will be allowed to finish out their terms even if their grade points are not up to the minimum standards. The resolution will take effect before next fall's elections.

In other action, a resolution condemning the action of certain members of the Executive Committee prior to the recent dues raise referendum election was passed. A motion to censure Ron Brockman, A2, Westgate, for misconduct during the referendum election was withdrawn when Brockman offered an apology for his actions.

Fine Detail Of Pictures Demonstrated

WASHINGTON (AP)—From 13 miles up, a U-2 plane can take a picture of a military installation in such fine detail that the names of buildings can be read on an enlargement.

This was demonstrated Thursday after the White House distributed clear prints of the picture President Eisenhower used in his television speech Wednesday night.

It was a U-2 which the Soviet Union seized, along with U.S. pilot Francis G. Powers on May 1, with subsequent cries of anguish over being spied on.

The Navy said at San Diego that the plane which took the picture flew so high it went undetected from the ground. But details of construction progress were so clear, officials said, they were able to determine between October 1956 and May 1957.

Eisenhower used the picture as an illustration of how effective an "open skies" inspection program could be, if undertaken under United Nations auspices as a disarmament check.

An unstated point was similarly clear: The United States may be presumed to have taken hundreds of such informative photographs during several years of U2 flights over the Soviet Union.

The White House brought up the picture business again Thursday in clearing up what is described as some confusion about the white lines Eisenhower mentioned in exhibiting the San Diego picture.

He said the lines in the parking strips around the field were clearly discernible from 13 miles up, although they were just six inches wide. He noted these lines might not be visible on the TV screens.

Some viewers and readers thought Eisenhower was talking about prominent diagonal lines in one quarter of the photograph. These lines, a sort of keep-clear traffic symbol for airplanes, are 2 1/2 inches wide.

Yellow, Red Flags To Fly; Newsmen Play Poly Sci.

Red flags will go up. Inhibitions will go down. The journalists will win. Today, Women's Athletic Field, OkayHowie2:30seeletteronpage2. Softball, Poly Sci vs. Journalism. Elmer vs. Fido. The red flags, says Steve Tudor, will exhibit the Poly Sci theme. Ooh, if J. Edgar only knew. Naturally the journalists will exhibit yellow flags—yellow rags, this is.

Not to mention their customary verre and drive and armour de guerre. Spectators are warned to stay away unless they bring dictionaries so they can understand the political scientists' chatter. Football rules will be used out of sympathy with the old Poly Sci grads, so they can use two platoons. Waltzing Matilda will be sung instead of the national anthem. In case of rain there will be ejaculatory verbiage.

7 Injured in 4 Traffic Accidents

Seven Iowa City area persons were injured in four separate accidents late Wednesday and Thursday. Of the seven injured, three required hospitalization.

Apparently the most serious accident occurred about 6:30 Thursday evening when two cars collided near the Iowa City-Coralville city limits, sending three persons to the hospital.

Coralville police officer Paul White said Mr. and Mrs. Ray Douber, 1314 Pine St., Iowa City and Mrs. Everett Ruchotzke, Columbus Junction, were injured in the mishap.

The Doubers were taken by Iowa City Police Ambulance to University Hospitals. Hospital authorities said both were in good condition. Mrs. Douber suffered a bad leg cut, deep facial lacerations and a possible fractured knee. Douber suffered facial cuts.

Mrs. Ruchotzke was taken to Mercy Hospital where she was treated and released. Ruchotzke, driver of the car, and two young children were not injured.

Apparently White said, Mrs. Douber, who was driving at the time and going east, tried to make a left turn and swung into the path of the Ruchotzke car. Charges of failure to yield right of way were filed against Mrs. Douber by White.

Wednesday night, Sam Yee, 432 S. Johnson St. suffered a skull fracture when the motorbike he was riding was involved in a crash with a car driven by Robert W. Whetstone, 7171 F St., about 9:30.

He was reported in good condition Thursday in University Hospitals. Whetstone was charged with drunken driving. At his arraignment in Iowa City Police Court Thursday morning, he was placed under $500 bond and taken to the Johnson County jail.

Police said both vehicles were traveling east when Yee's motorbike was struck from the rear by Whetstone's car near the intersection of Burlington and Gilbert Streets.

It is believed Yee was thrown onto the car's hood and his head struck the right side of Whetstone's windshield, shattering the glass. Police said Yee went over the top of the car lengthwise and fell to the pavement.

The force of the accident lodged the motorbike under the right front wheel of the car, but did not stop the car. It traveled 350 feet, police said, before coming to a halt.

An SUI student, Judith M. Carlson, 41, Maquoketa, was treated and released from University Hospitals after she suffered minor injuries when hit by a car in the intersection of North Capitol and Bloomington Streets.

Police said the driver of the car, Patrick L. Harney, Rural Route 5, Iowa City, a University High School student, was charged with failing to yield the right of way to a pedestrian in a crosswalk.

They quoted as saying another vehicle was coming up the hill and he was watching it and three youths coming from the south. He said he did not see Miss Carlson crossing from the north. The accident occurred about nine Thursday morning.

Two men suffered only minor injuries when a pickup truck driven by J. D. Bontrager, Kalona, and a car driven by Richard Forinash, Richland, were involved in a crash late Wednesday on Highway 1 south of Iowa City.

Highway patrolmen at the scene of the accident said Bontrager was following a horse and buggy when the Forinash car came over the crest of a hill and could not stop in time, ramming the rear of the pickup into the ditch.

Bontrager was only shaken up. Forinash suffered a bruised arm. Both men were treated at a Kalona doctor's office and released.

Chile Expects Toll of 5,000

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP)—The death toll for south Chile's 6-day-old siege of earthquakes, tidal waves, avalanches and volcanic eruptions may reach 5,000, government sources said Thursday. The devastating blows of natural violence that began last Saturday dealt somewhat during the day.

Officially confirmed figures thus far show 2,829 dead and missing. But with scores of communities still cut off by nature's upheavals, officials said a final count cannot be made for weeks.

The Interior Ministry disclosed it was investigating reports that more than 800 Araucana Indians lie buried under tons of snow, rock and other debris in quake-born avalanches.

The Araucanas—Chile's original inhabitants—live in scattered settlements high in the snow-covered southern mountains.

Amid the continuing disaster reports, hopes rose that the country's ordeal soon may be ending. Only two new quakes were reported Wednesday night and early Thursday by the University of Chile Observatory, and both were mild.

The observatory said the seismic violence, already blamed for an estimated 300 million dollars of property damage, appeared to be on the wane.

Eyewitness reports from the stricken cities of Puerto Montt, in the south-central Chilean coast, and Valdivia, about 30 miles to the north, pictured great devastation.

In Valdivia, a city of 100,000, water and food were at a premium, about 40 per cent of the business and residential areas were in ruins, and both power and communications were out.

Food and water also were desperately needed in Puerto Montt, a city of 45,000. Officials who made a check of conditions there reported much of the residential area destroyed.

Soviet Motion Suffers Security Council Defeat

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—The Soviet Union met with overwhelming defeat Thursday in its effort to have the U.N. Security Council condemn the United States as an aggressor for sending spy planes over the U.S.S.R.

The vote came after U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge dramatically displayed in the Council a hand-carved wooden eagle with a listening device hidden in it. He said it was a gift from the Russians to the U.S. Embassy in Moscow, obviously designed to let the Russians eavesdrop on embassy conversations.

Lodge offered it as proof of Soviet espionage during a sharp final clash with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko.

Even the dour-faced Gromyko smiled as Lodge displayed the round spread-eagle replica of the great seal of the United States and said wryly: "You can see the antenna and the aerial, it was right under the beak of the eagle."

In what amounted to a resounding vote of confidence in the United States, the Council rejected a Soviet resolution seeking both condemnation and a Council embargo on any future spy flights.

The vote was two in favor, seven against and two abstaining. Only the Soviet Union and Communist Poland cast affirmative votes. Lining up with the United States were Britain, France, Italy, Nationalist China, Ecuador and Argentina. The abstainers were Ceylon and Tunisia.

After disposing of the Soviet complaint, the Council went on to consider a resolution urging a renewal of Big Four negotiations on outstanding issues with the aid of the United Nations.

This was an obvious attempt to wind up the debate on a conciliatory tone after the sharp exchange between Lodge and Gromyko.

Gromyko said after the vote he would bring up the question again in the U.N. General Assembly, but that he did not wish to say now whether it would be a regular or special session.

Most diplomats felt it would be at the session opening Sept. 20 when the United States plans to bring in its plan for aerial reconnaissance under the supervision of the Security Council, Lodge said. "Mr. Gromyko compared the Council to a court, and it has rendered its decision."

Lodge spoke only 15 minutes in reply to a tough one-hour long final speech by Gromyko in which the Russian said President Eisenhower's speech to the nation Wednesday night only showed Eisenhower personally approved provocative actions against the Soviet Union.

Before going into the Council, Gromyko told newsmen that the speech could only aggravate the tense situation between the two great powers. He said it confirmed "the dangerous policy of the United States in regard to the Soviet Union."

Lodge asserted the Soviet Union for undisclosed reasons had seized upon the incident of the U2 plane brought down over Soviet soil on May 1 as a pretext to wreck the Paris summit conference.

"Why the Soviet Union, after speaking of friendship and peaceful coexistence for the last year is suddenly beating the drums of the cold war, I do not know," he added.

"But surely people all over the world must ask themselves this question."

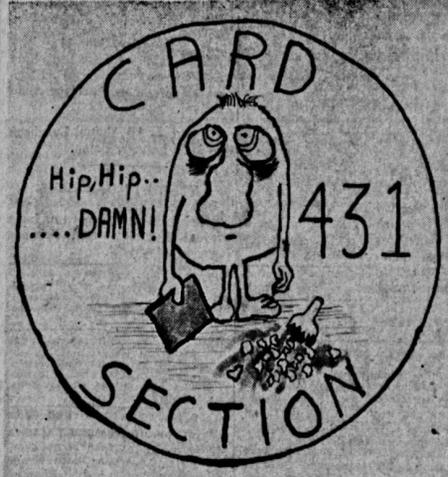

He charged that Gromyko totally ignored "the distrust which Soviet secrecy causes—and which can only be overcome by continuing negotiations instead of breaking them off."

Gromyko said that Eisenhower Wednesday night stressed once more "in a categorical manner that the Government of the United States will continue its espionage against the Soviet Union by any means."

Clerks at City Hall were kept busy Thursday registering voters for the June 6 primary. Approximately 13,000 to 14,000 people are now registered to vote in Iowa City, according to Walker D. Shellady, commissioner of registration. About 200 persons have registered during the past month, he said. In addition to Shellady, Sandra Memler (l.) and Joan Strabala (rear, l.) have been kept rushing lately registering prospective voters.—Daily Iowan Photo

Approximately 13,000 to 14,000 people are now registered to vote in Iowa City during the June 6 primary, according to Walker D. Shellady, commissioner of registration. Shellady said about 200 people have registered during the past month. Registration for the primary closed Thursday at 5 p.m. Shellady said registration has been light in the newly annexed areas to Iowa City. Recently the city annexed Finkbine Park, Stadium Park, a small rectangular strip of land south of West Benton Street and a triangle of land near Procter and Gamble. Iowa City has "permanent" registration, that is, once a person registers to vote, he may vote in any election as long as he casts a ballot at least once every four years. In order to register, a person must have lived six months in Iowa, 60 days in Johnson County and 10 days in the precinct in which he wishes to vote. Deadline for registration is nine days before the election. Therefore, anyone wishing to vote in the Nov. 8 general election must register, if they haven't already done so, by Oct. 27.

Drivers Should Heed 'Yield To Pedestrian' Signs

The signs say "Yield," not "Open Season." But apparently the motorists rocketing past the yellow "Yield to Pedestrians" signs along streets by the SUU campus are going too fast to read them correctly.

The signs were installed early last fall, after an editorial appeared in The Daily Iowan calling attention to the dangerous conditions that exist in places such as the intersection of Washington and Madison Streets, where there is a great deal of automobile and pedestrian traffic.

But the sociologists' contention that you can't change a situation by passing a law against it has once more been proven true. Many cars are ignoring the signs, and people on foot still have to step lively.

In fact, the situation is probably worse now. It is conceivable that a stranger hereabouts, now aware of the local conditions might, with a false sense of security conveyed by the yellow signs, stride boldly onto one of the streets in question and get himself run down just as boldly.

Something must be done before a bad accident does occur. We suggest the careless drivers take a longer look at the message on the signs, and the police might take a longer look at the careless drivers.

Flotsam and Jetsam

By JUDY KLEMESRUD Features Editor

T.G.I.F. and the DI-Poly Sci softball game this afternoon (sans rain) promises to be more than just an ordinary athletic contest. There is a deep symbolic significance to the whole thing, and surely among the many things present will be whiffs of iconoclasm, hints of existentialism, shades of pacifism, Freudian undertones, and wacky Keroisms.

Emphasis on grades is suggested as the main reason for cheating. My personal opinion is that only students who are weak and selfish and have little compunction about taking unfair advantage of others are likely to cheat, whatever may be the temptation to do so.

The Rose Bowl "decision" has been fumbled around about as much as the football at an Iowa game. Shortly before the recent reversal, an Iowa State Teachers College coed wrote this conciliatory note to her SUU friend: "Isn't it disgusting to what lengths Iowa's state schools will go to 'raise educational standards'?"

Those two hiking British sergeants passed through Iowa City Wednesday. Wonder if they could make it from the Music Building to the Med Labs during one of SUU's "10-minute" class breaks?

An off-quoted source (male) came up with another gem during a recent campus discussion. "After hearing how they were going to take away a girl's senior privileges because she was two minutes late I've decided to join the majority and say that women's judic rules are farcical and ineffective, especially since the girl had a legitimate excuse. The coeds were actually gloating about the thought of faking away the girl's privileges," he added.

LETTERS—Honesty Rests With Student

To the Editor: Your editorial concerning cheating recommends the honor system because "it at least places responsibility for honesty with the student."

But as Rockefeller said, things can and do change rapidly these days. The split between President Eisenhower and Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev, creating a diplomatic vacuum, may have an important impact on the Republican National Convention.

Interpreting The News

The split between President Eisenhower and Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev, creating a diplomatic vacuum, may have an important impact on the Republican National Convention.

Now, with Nelson A. Rockefeller back on the willing list, events within the vacuum during the next few weeks could affect Vice President Richard M. Nixon's nomination chances.

This debate has divided both parties. In trying to take advantage of the administration errors that played into Khrushchev's hands before the summit, the Democrats also must try to sidestep any appeasement label.

Today Nixon's organization is still firmly entrenched. But as Rockefeller said, things can and do change rapidly these days.

Extradited; Fares Worse In Illinois

Lester E. Lathrop, 21, who was held here for over four months awaiting extradition to Illinois, was fined in Illinois after pleading guilty there Wednesday to a charge of petty larceny.

Lathrop was fined $500 by the Illinois court and released to his home in Duluth, Minn., on the condition that he pay the fine and $545 restitution for money taken in a school break-in at Mt. Carroll, Ill., Jan. 12.

Lathrop was arrested here Jan. 15 in connection with a break-in at the Iowa City High School. He pleaded guilty and was sentenced March 10 to 10 years in prison, but the sentence was suspended. Local authorities held Lathrop here, however, until May 18 under warrants from Illinois authorities.

Lathrop refused to sign an extradition waiver, March 10, however, and the signatures of the governors of Illinois and Iowa were necessitated on the extradition papers.

Mt. Carroll authorities reportedly based their case against Lathrop largely on a boot print found near the school there, which allegedly matched the prints of a pair of boots owned by Lathrop.

Good Listening—Today On WSUI

A PRINCELY INFIDELITY is the subject of tonight's opera: "Rusalka" by Antonin Dvorak. According to a hitherto reliable source (Encyclopedia of the Opera), a water sprite, Rusalka, "falls in love with a prince and enlists the help of a witch. The witch transforms the water sprite into a beautiful woman. After the prince and sprite are married, the prince commits an act of infidelity, which results in his wife being changed back into a sprite. When the prince finds her in the lake, he dies in her arms." The theme of the opera, as anyone can see, is that people who are all wet shouldn't get married. The whole thing is in Czech, however, so all you really need be concerned with is the pretty music. (Today's performance is almost an anniversary, for the premiere of "Rusalka" was given on May 31, 1901, in the Prague National Opera. The curtain goes up at 7:30 p.m.)

MUSIC BEFORE INFIDELITY, from 6 p.m. to 7:30, will include: "Therba" by Debussy, Kindertotenlieder by Mahler, and Violin Concerto No. 4 in D Major by Mozart.

SPEAKING OF OPERA, highlights from a Polish opera "Halka" by Moniuszko, will be broadcast at 2:30 p.m. It is an unusual recording which, combined with the Czech offering later in the evening, will give listeners a well-rounded day of opera-going.

MORE AND MORE Editorial Page, at 12:45 p.m. (and at 5:45 p.m. on Mondays), looms large in the listening habits of those who would be well informed. A sampling of what are agreed to be the nation's most authoritative newspapers is read by two chaps who are considerably more interested in what is going on in the world than most.

YOU ARE CORDIALLY INVITED to attend a radio presentation of "The Most Happy Fella," tomorrow at 9 a.m. from Studio C. Loren Cocking has put special effort into the program, for he is nearing the time when his service at WSUI will be concluded and he will be on his way to employment in West Coast radio. The Musical is based on the old theatrical, "They Knew What They Wanted." The Frank Loesser treatment is delightful.

Orioles Lose; Indians Move into 1st

NEW YORK (AP)—Whitey Ford's three-hit pitching sent Baltimore skidding out of the American League lead Thursday night as the New York Yankees defeated the Orioles 2-0.

The loss, ending Baltimore's winning streak at four, dropped Baltimore to second, .012 percentage points behind the idle Cleveland Indians, who have first place all to themselves for the first time this season.

It was Ford's first complete game and second victory—both over Baltimore—in four decisions. The stubby southpaw had held the Orioles hitless after losing pitcher Skinny Brown's third-inning single until rookie Marv Hansen blasted a two-out triple in the ninth.

Hawkeye 9 To Close Out Against 1st-Place Gophers

The Hawkeye baseball squad closes its season this weekend, tangling with Minnesota's hard-hitting Gophers in a 3-game series at Minneapolis.

The Gophers (9-2) need only one win in the three games to sack up their third consecutive conference championship.

The Hawkeyes (3-5) are resting in ninth place and would need a sweep of the series to move into the first division.

A single game is scheduled for today and a doubleheader is to be played Saturday.

The Hawkeyes have been getting good pitching from Roger Rudeen, Dick Clauson and Ron Reifert but have been plagued by weak hitting. .186 in the conference. The pitching staff has allowed only seven runs in the past five games.

Sophomore shortstop Bill Bliff has been stroking the ball at a .385

Jordan Fights Paret Tonight In Vegas Bout

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Expert opinion shifted Thursday in favor of Welterweight Champion Don Jordan to retain his world title in a fight with Benny (Kid) Paret of Cuba tonight.

A poll of boxing writers disclosed the 25-year-old champion from Los Angeles was almost a unanimous choice. But the betting line still favored the young Cuban, 9-5.

The 15-round engagement will be nationally televised via NBC-TV starting at 8 p.m. (CST), from Las Vegas' new convention center. A crowd of around 5,000 is expected.

Interest has picked up locally in the bout but it's hard to beat such counter attractions as the 24-hour lure of the big gambling casinos and the world renowned show talent.

Ex-gambling king Mickey Cohen, "Las Vegas' most uninvited guest," is here to see his friend Jordan fight but remains pretty much out of sight.

The fighters took it easy Thursday and neither faces any trouble making the 147-pound limit at weigh-in time.

Burleson, Elliott To Race Saturday

MODESTO, Calif. (AP)—Oregon's Dyrrol Burleson, America's fastest miler, drew support from track experts Thursday for his race here Saturday night against world record holder Herb Elliott of Australia.

It was disclosed Elliott suffers from a sore knee, apparently from a cartilage behind the kneecap that hurts when he runs hard. It was described as somewhat painful but not serious.

The two milers battle Saturday night in the California Relays. A late entry in the relays is shot putter Parry O'Brien, holder of the official world record at 63 feet 6 inches. He'll compete against Bill Nieder, the ex-Kansan who threw 65-7 at the Texas Relays for a pending record.

Still the mile race holds the most interest.

"Of what I've seen recently, I'd have to go with Burleson's big kick at the finish," said Stanford Coach Payton Jordan.

Allow Teams 30 Players For 2 All-Star Contests

NEW YORK (AP) — Thirty players — two more than the previous high — will be allowed each team for the two major league all-star baseball games this year, Commissioner Ford Frick announced Thursday.

For the third straight year the players of the National and American league clubs will select the eight starting players for their respective teams. The rival managers, Al Lopez of the American League champion Chicago White Sox and Walter Alston of the world champion Los Angeles Dodgers, name the 22 other players, including the starting pitchers.

Aside from increasing the number of players — last year 25 were allowed for the first game and 26 for the second — the only significant change in the rules is that a pitcher can work in only one of the games. Last year, Don Drysdale of the Dodgers started both games.

The first game this year is scheduled for Kansas City July 11 and the second at the Yankee Stadium in New York July 13. The games will start at 1 p.m. local time. July 12 and 14 are open dates in case of postponement.

The eight starting players must remain in the game at least three innings, and the pitchers are limited to three-inning stints except those on the mound at the end of nine innings of a game which goes into extra innings. In such a case they can continue at the discretion of the managers.

Last year, at the request of the players, two all-star games were played for the first time, the National League winning 5-4 July 7 at Pittsburgh and the American winning 5-3 Aug. 3 at Los Angeles. The American League now leads the series, 16-11.

ditional Nigerian Sculptor", will include many art objects connected with the Nigerian culture, and will be narrated by the owner of the objects, Roy Sieber, assistant professor of art. He will explain how these objects fit into the Nigerian culture, not as art for art's sake, but as art for life's sake. Sieber recently spent a year in Africa, on a Ford Foundation grant, studying Africa's primitive arts.

Orazio Fumagalli, G. Iowa City, will direct the show, with assistance from Tom Hofer, A4, Toledo. Fumagalli pointed out that the production will be different from other productions done in the Television Center in that the art objects will be the "stars" of the show rather than live characters. He explained that the 30-minute show will therefore be a photographer's show rather than an actor's show, since photography will hold the dominant place in the production.

Original music was prepared for the show by Edwin London, G. Oakland, California. The whole production depends upon the cameraman, Fumagalli explained, who are Franklin Kruse, A4, Vinton; Louis Crist, A4, Clear Lake, and Danny Reams, A4, Joliet, Ill. He said these students will manipulate TV cameras in a manner which will show all the parts of the objects and make them seem alive.

Several organizations have expressed an interest in the production, Fumagalli said. The public is invited to attend. There will be no admission charge.

Last of Lecture Series—

Wickham To Speak Tuesday

Glyne Wickham, head of the Department of Drama at Bristol University, England, will speak on "Playmakers and Landscape Painters in Stuart England" in the concluding lecture of the series sponsored by the SUI Humanities Society.

The lecture will be presented at 8 p.m., Tuesday in the Senate Chamber of Old Capitol. It will be followed by a short business meeting and election of Humanities Society officers for the 1960-1961 academic year.

The SUI speaker has been a visiting lecturer this spring in the SUI Department of Speech and Dramatic Art. His production of Webster's "The White Devil" is now being presented at the University Theatre.

During his present visit to the United States he has also delivered the George Fuller Reynolds Lectures at the University of Colorado and will direct a play in San Francisco in June.

Wickham has been interested in the English drama since his student days at Oxford. As the first post-war president of the Oxford University Dramatic Society, he directed several plays and acted in others. He also studied stage design at the Oxford Playhouse.

At Bristol he became an assistant lecturer in a newly created Department of Drama, the only one of its kind in Britain. He has since been named head of that department. For a long time he has also been associated with the British Broadcasting Corporation, as an actor, script-writer, and critic.

The English drama has also claimed Wickham's scholarly attention. Perhaps the most substantial result of that interest is his widely-discussed Early English Stages, 1300-1600, the first volume of which appeared in 1959.

He was born in Capetown, South Africa, and during the war he served as navigator with the R.A.F. He has traveled widely in Africa and Europe and received a Rockefeller Fellowship in 1953.

Highway 6 Work Planned

Improvement of the shoulders of Highway 6 west from the junction of Highways 6 and 218 to a point west of Tiffin is planned for this summer.

A little more than five miles of the road are scheduled for shoulder improvement. The improvement will include grading of ditches and the widening of the shoulders to 10 feet, the State Highway Commission announced Thursday.

The work will continue through the town of Tiffin. Residents in Tiffin affected by the proposed project may file a request or a public hearing with the hearings engineer of the highway commission at Ames.

The State Highway Commission has scheduled June 28 for the letting of bids for the proposed project.

2 SUIIowans Give Recitals

Two recitals have been scheduled this weekend by the SUI Department of Music.

Three Indiana Students Suspended after Raids

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. (AP)—Indiana University Thursday suspended three student ringleaders of a Tuesday morning raid on two women's residence halls and two sorority houses.

The two freshmen and one junior will receive credit for the semester ending this week, but they will have to apply for reinstatement before they can enroll next February. The fall semester is closed to them, said Dean of Students Robert H. Shaffer.

The raiders broke locks, trampled shrubbery and smashed porch furniture at the four residences.

One of the freshmen was accused of urging on a crowd of about 500 males students, and the other led a charge up the steps of the Sigma Delta Tau Sorority house. No names were released. A fourth student was placed on probation.

7 Killed by Moslems

RANGOON, Burma (AP)—Five villagers and two young children were killed by a band of Moslem rebels during raids on two villages in the remote Buthidaung area near East Pakistan, according to delayed messages reaching here Thursday. Eighteen hostages were seized.

Loveless To Get Iowa Delegation Convention Votes

FORT DODGE (AP)—Don Mitchell of Fort Dodge, Iowa Democratic national committee, said Thursday night Gov. Herschel Loveless will have overwhelming support of the Iowa delegation as a favorite son nominee for president at the party's national convention.

The delegation will be picked at the party's state presidential convention here Saturday.

Mitchell said Democrats of 93 counties have voted to send Loveless to Los Angeles in the favorite son role on the first ballot.

Rag-a-M

At 'Gam

By DAROLD POWERS Staff Writer

The journalists jumped off to an early 2-0 lead over the political scientists Friday afternoon in that softball game of the century.

A small but rabid crowd cheered wildly as journalism's Mick Holmes and John Hanrahan crossed the platter in the third frame.

This set Judy Klemesrud orbiting around in her black leotards swishing her DI banner and shrieking the Tarzan fight song in her homespun falsetto!

While Florie Wild and Rosemary Bougie and Doty Walsh dropped their red flags on the ground and sank disconsolately to their knees . . .

The game almost never got started because the journalists at the last minute discovered that they were in the left dugout, while all the red-shirted political scientists occupied the right side of the field that Lenin built.

However, the journalists agreed to stay on the left side after the opponents made this offer: "Anyone who can hit Judy Klemesrud with a foul ball wins $10. Both teams strove hard to cap the sawbuck, but c'est la vie kept ducking.

During the sixth inning Myrna (KKK) Balk decided to collect more money for the King fund. While scampering about on the field of battle passing the hat she incidentally stole three bases and spared two line drives.

About the sixth inning Florie and Doty and Rosemarie passed out free copies of the "National Guardian, the progressive news-weekly," to unsuspecting journalists. With such titillating stories as "The Ghost of Dulles Stalks Washington" itching in their pockets, it's no wonder that from then on they stood out in the field sucking their thumbs and neglecting the ball game.

Journalism's windmilling pitcher, Mick (Pulitzer) Holmes had been whiffing the opponents with nauseating regularity until he slid consecutively into home plate, second base, and the Good Humor Wagon. After that he wasn't the same.

One journalist for some unmentionable reason got the "Arf-arf!"

Walking Fever

2 SUI Frat Men To Walk-Race to CR

Two members of Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity, 702 N. Dubuque St., will leave on an 11-hour walk-race from the city limits of Iowa City to the city limits of Cedar Rapids at 6 a.m. Sunday.

Michael Lambert, A1, Des Moines, and Tom Dodds, P1, Sioux City, have agreed on a non-stop, no-running race. They will leave the Iowa City limits on old Highway 218 and expect to arrive at the CR city limits about 5 p.m. The winner will receive a case of beer.
