German Visitor at SU

Flach Discusses Divided Germany

By DAROLD POWERS
Staff Writer

The executive secretary of the German Free Democratic Party said in Iowa City Thursday that Germany cannot be reunified as long as both Communist and Western armies remain in Germany.

However, Karl-Herman Flach declared that his party no longer feels that a disengagement from Germany of the two armed forces is attainable. He added there is a real fear in West Germany that the Soviets would attempt to take over the entire country if Western troops were withdrawn.

Flach is in the United States for a six-week tour sponsored by the Foreign Leader Program of the State Department. While in Iowa City he is observing Iowa primary election campaigns. Flach attended a meeting of the Rotary Club here Thursday noon and expected to talk with local candidates during his stay. He discussed journalism education with faculty of the School of Journalism and visited WSUI Thursday.

Flach was in the United States at the time of the U2 incident and summit breakup, but he reported that German newspapers he has read indicated that Germans were not happy with the way the West handled the U2 incident although probably most Germans hadn't expected much to come of the summit.

"If a free referendum were held," Flach declared, "not more than 10 per cent of the people in East and West Germany would vote Communist."

In addition to the separation between the industrial and agricultural areas of Germany which is caused by Germany's division, Flach explained that many German families are similarly separated.

"Most people desire reunification," he reported, "but we don't want to give up our freedom for reunification."

He mentioned that the East German living scale is still below that of the Bonn republic, even though the Communist regime has lately been progressing in industrialization.

Regarding German rearmament, Flach said 75 per cent of the West Germans think that the Allies alone cannot defend Germany and that Germany must contribute arms. However, he added that most people think it is better to keep nuclear weapons in the hands of the United States, Russia and Britain than for countries such as Germany and France to have their own.

Flach reported that although the Allies having atomic weapons on German soil does increase apprehensiveness, Germans feel the positioning of atomic rockets on their soil is a necessary evil.

It has been reported that since the collapse of the summit the flow of refugees from East to West Berlin has increased. Flach said that since 1945, 10 million refugees have come to West Germany.

"The greatest part of these have been integrated by now," he reported. "Ninety per cent of the refugees have their own houses."

"The growth of our economy," explained Flach, "created a need for more workers and helped Germany absorb many refugees."

Flach himself was a refugee, fleeing from Königsberg in 1955 when the U.S.S.R. forced the Germans out of that region and imported Russians to take over their former homes and cities. Flach went to Mecklenburg, where he edited one of the last liberal papers in that area — "North German Youth Paper." He explained that the paper was anti-Communist "between the lines" and that he had to flee again in 1959, this time to West Berlin.

Flach became executive secretary of the Free Democratic Party in Bonn in 1959. He describes his party as the smallest of West Germany's three major parties. Flach, who is 30, explained that the Free Democratic Party is a party of the young and that it is a liberal party. It is a member of the Liberal International, which has branch parties in several European countries.

As part of his U.S. tour, Flach visited national Democratic and Republican headquarters in Washington as well as Congress and the State Department. During his U.S. tour in addition to observing primary elections he is visiting various radio and TV facilities, as well as some public relations firms.

Pre-payment—Summer Work

Summer session students at SU will be required to make a $35 advance payment on their accounts before receiving their registration materials, according to University Cashier Ray Owen.

The balance of the fees and tuition, room and board charges and other expenses will be billed to students or their parents about July 1 and will be payable by July 20.

Students will pay the initial $35 installment at the same time they pick up registration materials, Owen said. Registration materials for the eight-week session will be available in Macbride Hall June 8 through registration day, June 14.

Owen stressed that the advance payments will be accepted only at Macbride Hall when registration materials are handed out. A penalty of $5 will be charged on all student accounts not paid by July 20 and registrations will be cancelled for students who have unpaid accounts on July 25. Any charges incurred after July 1 will be billed to the student or his parents in August, Owen said.

DI Barred from Committee Meeting

Reporters from The Daily Iowan were once again refused admittance to the Committee on Student Life meeting Thursday at which time the subject of women's hours was scheduled for discussion.

Ralph H. Ojemann, professor of child welfare and chairman of the committee, repeated the policy approved at the last meeting which

King Fund Nets Over $450 at SU

Over $450 in SU contributions will be sent to Montgomery, Ala., for distribution to Southern students who have suffered as a result of participation in lunch counter "sit-ins."

SUIowans contributed the amount to the Rev. Martin Luther King in a special two-day campaign on the SU campus May 18 and 19. Graduate student, James Colby, also presented several dramatic readings in a benefit performance May 22 for the King Fund.

The Student Council, which sponsored the King Fund drive, is still receiving contributions through the mail. However, Dick Bagenstos, A3, Holstein, chairman, said he believes the total tabulation won't go much over $450.

The additional contributions came mainly from faculty and staff members who were sent letters concerning the King Fund, said Bagenstos.

The Council originally set a goal of $600, and Bagenstos said he was "disappointed" that the goal was not attained.

Military Holding Alert Exercise

WASHINGTON — U.S. military forces are engaged in a worldwide communications alert exercise.

Secretary of Defense Thomas S. Gates Jr. disclosed Thursday that the exercise began at 11 o'clock Wednesday night and "it is going on for several days."

The exercise involves the activation of some standby facilities and check of their communications setup.

A similar exercise or alert was ordered by Gates from Paris on the eve of the summit conference.

sanctions closed meetings. He cited "freer discussions" as one reason for non-admittance of the press.

The Committee on Student Life was scheduled to discuss a Student Council resolution expressing disapproval of the committee's "closed" meetings. Also on the agenda is discussion of an Office of Student Affairs proposal concerning that office's relations with householders of off-campus living areas.

The Associated Women Students have proposed three changes in women's hours: (1) increase in the number of late leaves for sophomore, junior and senior women (2) elimination of most special privileges and (3) special 1:30 a.m. hours on the Saturday night of Homecoming.

The Committee on Student Life will act on these subjects and will send policy recommendations to President Hancher, who will accept or reject them.

Ojemann said the report of the committee's proceedings will be released to the President's office "as soon as possible" after a decision is reached. A public statement is expected following action by the President.

The Daily Iowan was also refused admittance at the last Committee on Student Life meeting in May when a resolution on discriminatory practices at SU was discussed.

Driver Won't Lose License

DES MOINES — An Iowa driver will not lose his drivers license in this state although he is involved in a fatal accident in Nebraska and is unable to establish financial responsibility.

State Safety Commissioner Donald Statton gave that response Wednesday to an inquiry from Council Bluffs.

Statton said that although the motorist was unable to post $10,000 security or file evidence of having protective insurance and his right to drive in Nebraska was suspended, the suspension does not affect the individual's driving rights in Iowa.

Iowa does not have a law permitting reciprocity with other states on such license suspensions, Statton said, although Iowa also suspends the license of drivers unable to establish financial responsibility for accidents which occur in Iowa.

Crash Kills Two Would-be Pilots

POMONA, Calif. — A screaming power dive into a schoolyard in a stolen plane Thursday fulfilled the vow of two runaway brothers, 12 and 14, that they would "learn to fly or die trying."

The single-engine plane carrying James McDonald and his younger brother, Thomas, crashed, exploded and burned after erratically circling a residential district of this Los Angeles suburb for 10 minutes.

Their small brown pet dog died with them.

The boys' only qualifications for flying was that James had read a book about it. They tried unsuccessfully to steal a plane 2½ months ago and James later told juvenile officers: "I just know I can fly." Then he made his fly or die vow.

The brothers, a machinist's brown-haired, blue-eyed sons, were described by authorities as chronic runaways and by their school principal as "quite intelligent boys."

They ran away from home here last Tuesday. A Boy Scout mess kit in the wreckage with bits of food led officers to believe they had camped out since, planning their adventure.

"Wednesday night they apparently 'hot-wired' the ignition of the plane — an old trick of car thieves — and got the engine started at Cable Airport in nearby Upland.

The four-place Piper Tri-Pacer, parked in a shelter-type hanger, was owned by an Upland construction company which valued it at $6,400. The airport is open so private pilots can come and go at any hour.

Melody of Broadway Muted By First Strike in 41 Years

NEW YORK (AP) — Every major Manhattan stage show was closed tight Thursday night, as the vibrant melody of Broadway was muted by the first actors strike in 41 years.

Mayor Robert F. Wagner made his second try in as many days to get Actors Equity and the producers off dead center in a contract dispute.

Wagner proposed a city fact-finding inquiry into the quarrel. When the producers rejected this, the mayor announced at City Hall that not a Broadway curtain would rise Thursday night.

His statement was confirmed by producer Alexander H. Cohen, who said: "There will be absolutely no shows until there is an agreement. Actors Equity is on strike. It looks like a long one to me."

Actors Equity, in a bitter deadlock with producers and pensions, touched off the strike at dusk Wednesday night when the 17-member cast of "The Tenth Man" failed to report at the Booth Theater.

An audience of 450 — kept sparse by advance notice of the Equity maneuver — filed out of the theater, and its marquee lights went off.

Almost at once, producers began posting closing notices backstage at the other 21 shows currently on Broadway. Thrown out of work by this retaliatory move were about 1,000 actors, plus 5,000 theatrical technicians — stagehands, musicians, electricians and others.

Negotiations between Equity and the producers resumed but in an aura of despair.

Producer David Merrick said in advance: "All theaters will be struck. All will close."

Producers estimated that every week of the strike costs them a million dollars. The big hits can expect to recover some of this, but more than one marginal show, with anywhere from $60,000 to $400,000 invested in them, may fold.

Not since 1919 had Equity struck the New York stage. In a month-long walkout then the fledgling union won its first recognition from Broadway producers.

This year, contract negotiations began in mid-April. Minimum wages were an issue. Equity talked the producers up from the old minimum of $103.50 to a new level of $110 — only $5 away from the union demand.

Pensions were another thing. Equity sought employer contributions on a sliding scale of 1 per cent of the payroll the first year to 4 per cent in the fifth year. The League of New York Theaters offered 1 to 2 per cent over six years.

To go higher, the producers argued, would mean a 25 per cent boost in already-high Broadway ticket prices. The top ticket now sells for $9.90 at the box office. Equity readied its strike plan on a hit-and-run basis — with one show to be closed at a time, one night at a time. The producers called these "waterfront tactics" and said a strike against one would be a strike against all, with a total blackout the result.

4 Democrats Get Letter From Nikita

WASHINGTON — Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev says "the present government of the U.S.A." has proclaimed a doctrine of aggression and provocation.

In a letter to four Democratic leaders made public in the Senate Thursday, Khrushchev said this doctrine was not created by the American people and "is not in line with the great democratic traditions of the American nation."

Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, who released the letter, told newsmen Khrushchev obviously was trying to divide the American people.

Johnson was joined in the message to Khrushchev by Adlai E. Stevenson, House Speaker Sam Rayburn (D-Tex.), and Sen. J. William Fulbright (D-Ark.), chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

They told the Soviet leader that all Americans were behind President Eisenhower in a desire for peace and urged Khrushchev not to let the summit conference collapse.

Tall Grass Plagues Married Students

By HAROLD HATFIELD
Staff Writer

SUIowans living in married student barracks would probably be among the first to agree that the grass is always greener on the other side of the fence. "But," they would be quick to add, "we'll bet that it is longer on our side."

"Look at it," Lloyd Bitzer, G, Carmi, Ill., a resident of Stadium Park said. In some places it is at least 30 inches high. "Bitzer's children, Jo Clair, 5½, and Eric, 3, and a neighbor, Tommy Davidson, 3, were barely visible above the grass as they played.

And, on the other side of the fence, are the carefully manicured athletic fields. "They certainly aren't being neglected," Bitzer added.

Bitzer said he had protested to the Office of Married Student Housing. "They explained that they only had a skeleton crew working at the present time and probably wouldn't be able to get around to cutting the grass in Stadium Park for another two weeks."

He said that several of his neighbors had complained about the tall grass. "It stays wet until almost noon, even when the sun is shining. And it is full of bugs, which cover the kids in their shorts and play suits. There is no playground and with the grass as high as it is, the kids have no place to play but in the streets."

It is difficult for the women to hang up their clothes to dry, Bitzer said. Mrs. Tom Davidson added that the clothes drag in the wet grass.

"I know the barracks aren't beautiful, but it would at least improve their appearance if the grass was mowed once in a while," Bitzer said.

Howard J. Yambura, manager of married student housing, said the University would provide mowers if the residents want to mow the grass themselves. He said that finals are making it very difficult to get supplementary help for the grass cutting.

"We are busy moving furniture and preparing places to live for incoming students," Yambura said. "We feel this takes precedence over cutting the grass."

Residents of Pinkbine, Westlawn, and Quonset Parks said their grass has only been mowed once this spring. A student's wife in Westlawn Park said that their lawn reached the "small jungle" stage before her husband mowed it himself.

Another in Quonset Park looked admiringly at her well-kept lawn, and said, "You should have seen it before my husband gave up hope and borrowed a mower from the University to mow it."

Bitzer said he would be glad to mow his own grass if he could use a power mower. He said that it is much too long for a hand mower to plow through.

Nice for Hiding from Parents

It's good for hideouts. It's great for hide-and-seek. And perhaps later on it can be bailed for hay. Married students living in Stadium Park are contemplating the many advantages of the luxuriant grass growing in the housing area. Here, from left, Jo Clair and Eric, children of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Bitzer, and Tommy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Davidson, play in the tall grass.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR— Unconstitutional?

To the Editor:

Perhaps Mr. Radosh and the other students, who picketed the Iowa City chain stores some months ago in sympathy for what they think is unconstitutional treatment of the Negro in the South...

The group did not find this out in time to obtain a permit five days before the day of the picketing, and so could not adequately inform the passerby of the reason for the action in front of the two stores...

The reader is referred to a case involving Lovell V. Griffin, vol. 303, page 444 of United States Reports, Cases Adjudged in the Supreme Court at October Term, 1937...

The appellant, Alma Lovell, had been arrested by the city of Griffin, Georgia for the violation of a city ordinance. Her crime: distributing pamphlets within the confines of the city without the required permission of the City Manager...

She appealed unsuccessfully to the Supreme Court of the county and the Court of Appeals and the Supreme Court of Georgia. She finally took her case to the U.S. Supreme Court. In a decision delivered by Mr. Chief Justice Hughes, that court reversed previous judgment.

In his ruling Chief Justice Hughes stated: "The ordinance (at Griffin) prohibits the distribution of literature of any kind at any time and place, and in any manner without a permit from the City Manager."

We think that the ordinance is invalid on its face. Whatever the motive which induced its adoption, its character is such that it strikes at the very foundation of the freedom of the press by subjecting it to license and censorship.

The liberty of the press is not confined to newspapers and periodicals. It necessarily embraces pamphlets and leaflets. These indeed had been historic weapons in the defense of liberty...

sort of publication which affords a vehicle of information and opinion. He continues: As the ordinance is void on its face, it was not necessary for the appellant to seek a permit under it (my emphasis).

Board Jobs Examined

To the Editor:

Food riots were quite frequent during the past few months and now I think it is time to examine the situation and see what benefits were gained or lost.

Back during the first semester, students protested against receiving less than one dollar an hour for jobs at the Iowa Union. This action initiated the University to take action to raise the minimum wage to one dollar an hour...

Board jobs are supposed to help the student to work his way through college but in this case it is just the opposite. The main reason for living off-campus is money can be saved by working at such jobs.

Space Project Preview — 'Time' Quoted

By ED HUGHES Staff Writer

To the outside observer, the ever-increasing amount of space research poses many questions, not the least of which is: what good is coming of it?

With this attitude in mind, this week's Time magazine presented a long review and preview of space projects, and suggests strongly that we are getting more good out of space research than many people think.

Characteristic of the progress in space science generally is SU's own progress in instrumentation. This reporter has heard James A. Van Allen, head of the Physics Department and in charge of the instrumentation program, frequently tell of errors he and his group made in the early research.

Typical of such errors was the limited counting ability of the detection instruments in Explorers I and III. Launched in 1958, both of the satellites' instruments were choked off whenever they ran through very heavy radiation areas.

These were, of course, the now famous Van Allen radiation belts. Since then, instruments more and more precise have been designed until, as Van Allen told Time, the United States will soon be able to measure radiation of very low — almost zero — charge.

With the launching last week of Midas II, a 5,000 pound satellite, the United States moved closer to solving the problem, which Russia apparently already has solved, of getting enough rocket thrust in a single launching to carry heavy payloads.

In other respects of the race which began with Sputnik I, the United States has done well. To date, the United States has successfully launched 19 earth satellites and two space probes against Russia's four satellites and three space probes.

More than that, Time noted that United States satellites have been notable for their sophisticated measuring devices, which have yielded information. 'Boy, You Think YOU'VE Got Problems—'

We Have A Right To Know

We've been thwarted again. The press has been refused admittance to another meeting of the Committee on Student Life, a group whose very name would seem to indicate that they should make their views known to all of us.

But the committee chose to stand pat on the policy of "closed" meetings laid down earlier. Once again, issues of importance and interest to the University community will be discussed behind closed doors.

Of course every argument has two sides, and the committee have their reasons. One reason they give is that absence of the press will make possible freer discussions.

These are their arguments, and we see their point, but we don't feel they are a strong enough basis for the continuance of secret meetings.

For one thing, the argument that freer discussion will result from the situation conveys a bad impression. One might easily assume that the committee are saying things that they wouldn't want printed in the newspapers.

really sincere and above-board, as we are sure they are.

Granted that it is only human to say things occasionally that may, out of context, have a bad connotation, but our press is a responsible one. We can separate these natural conversational slips of the tongue from the actual meanings of discussion; therefore, we feel that our presence at the meetings should in no way hinder a free discussion.

For another thing, the policy of not releasing any information until President Hancher has given his final stamp of approval violates one of the basic premises of our democratic system.

At their Thursday meeting, the committee was scheduled to discuss another matter — the Student Council's resolution expressing disapproval of their closed meetings.

We Can't Ignore Red China Forever

By MARGUERITE HIGGINS Herald Tribune News Service

The Southeast Asia Treaty Organization Thursday rapped Red China for a hostile attitude toward the summit and for being an "immediate and direct threat to the cultures and way of life" of its Asian neighbors.

In a final communique issued after three days of meeting of the top ministers of SEATO, the Asian Alliance sounded particular alarm about the "intensification during the past year of communist subversion, insurgency and terrorism in several countries in the Treaty area, as well as to the potential threat of armed aggression."

Earlier, considerable excitement had been generated by reports that New Zealand Prime Minister Walter Nash had told the council of ministers in a speech that time was running out on the policy of not admitting Red China to the United Nations and that 600,000,000 people could not be ignored forever.

An unusual part of the communique was a passage which in effect held Red China partly to blame for the summit breakdown. The SEATO council of ministers noted that "the summit conference had been prevented from meeting by Premier Khrushchev... moreover... the communist Chinese who had not concealed their hostility to a summit conference, have continued their uncompromising attitude."

Space Project Preview—

'Time' Quotes Van Allen

By ED HUGHES
Staff Writer

To the outside observer, the ever-increasing amount of space research poses many questions, not the least of which is: what good is coming of it?

With this attitude in mind, this week's Time magazine presented a long review and preview of space projects, and suggests strongly that we are getting more good out of space research than many people think.

Characteristic of the progress in space science generally is SUT's own progress in instrumentation. This reporter has heard James A. Van Allen, head of the Physics Department and in charge of the instrumentation program, frequently tell of errors he and his group made in the early research.

Typical of such errors was the limited counting ability of the detection instruments in Explorers I and II. Launched in 1958, both of the satellites' instruments were choked off whenever they ran through very heavy radiation areas. This discovery led eventually to the conjecture that there were "belts" of radiation far more intense than had been expected.

These were, of course, the now famous Van Allen radiation belts. Since then, instruments more and more precise have been designed until, as Van Allen told Time, the United States will soon be able to measure radiation of very low — almost zero — charge.

The progress typified by just the one phase here at SUI extends to all phases of space research everywhere.

With the launching last week of Midas II, a 5,000 pound satellite, the United States moved closer to solving the problem, which Russia apparently already has solved, of getting enough rocket thrust in a single launching to carry heavy payloads.

In other respects of the race which began with Sputnik I, the United States has done well. To date, the United States has successfully launched 19 earth satellites and two space probes against Russia's four satellites and three space probes. Of the ten satellites still aloft, nine are the work of the United States.

More than that, Time noted that United States satellites have been notable for their sophisticated measuring devices, which have yielded much valuable information.

Knowledge has been the goal of the United States in space, Time wrote, thanks to the efforts of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA). The United States' program, Time said, has three parts: (1) to build good space research systems, (2) to build "use" systems in space (e.g. weather observation), and (3) to learn how man himself can navigate space.

Up to the present, research has told us things about space as unexpected as the news that the earth is not round, but slightly pear-shaped. We know now that the earth does not bulge as much around the equator as was thought, which indicates the earth's crust is harder than expected. And we know that there are trapped radiation particles in the earth's magnetic fields.

We have discovered powerful current out in space (5,000,000 amperes). We know that solar flares cause much activity in the radiation belts circling the earth. There is evidence that the magnetic fields of the earth extend twice as far as we thought.

This knowledge has been gained through space research.

On the more immediate "use" side of space we have the TV weather-eye of Tiros I. This system has obvious advantages for defense purposes as well.

On the agenda for launching in 1962 is a four-satellite navigational system. This will allow ships to pinpoint their locations on the water within a quarter of a mile, once every 90 minutes.

Satellites are being studied for their use as relaying stations for around-the-world radio contact with submarines, wrote Time.

Finally comes the idea of man in space. Only a few years ago a topic for science-fiction, putting a man in space has led scientists to consider the close — perhaps firsthand — observation of our sister planets.

Time posed the questions science is considering: What are those things we call canals on Mars? What lies under the dense cloud covering Venus? Or does the Moon itself have moonquakes, like the earth has earthquakes?

With all the instruments man has devised, and is likely to devise, there will be a time when man in space will be better than instruments. Great distances, such as would be encountered in interplanetary exploration, make instrument-gathered information a tortuous and doubtful process.

Quoting Van Allen, Time said: "Then, says Van Allen, will come the time when it will be more efficient to send up a man or a party of men to make observations, digest them and transmit back what is roughly equivalent to a monograph on the subject."

Though many of these ideas are yet in the planning stage, they have rapidly become more real to science, and hence to mankind in general. As Time put it, "In the past three years, man's knowledge of his universe has increased more than in the centuries between Galileo and Sputnik I. What tomorrow may hold overwhelms the imagination."

Adolf Hitler's Sister Dies Wednesday

BERCHTESGADEN, Germany (AP) — Adolf Hitler's sister Paula died here Wednesday, police said. She was 64.

Although officially known as Paula Hitler, she had called herself Paula Wolf to avoid identification with the Nazi Fuehrer.

Paula had often said she never got along with the Fuehrer, who had provided her with only a small income while he ruled the Third Reich and never invited her to social functions.

After Nazi Germany was defeated in 1945, Miss Hitler withdrew more and more from the world. In the last few years she lived on a tiny government pension in a small room of the old house where she died.

PENTECOST TRAFFIC

PARIS (AP) — France will put 21,000 police along highways and 11 airborne traffic command posts in helicopters for the upcoming three-day Pentecost holiday weekend in a determined effort to reduce the death toll. The three days of Pentecost last year brought 76 deaths and 2,127 injuries on the roads.

Religious Groups Political Minded

By ANNE STEARNS
Staff Writer

(Editor's Note: This is the second in a series of articles which will discuss recent political events on campus, with a view of giving background material obtained through interviews with students who have been active in local issues.)

One interesting phenomenon of the political activity on campus this year has been interest and concern shown by local religious groups in campus issues.

According to interviews obtained Thursday with many student leaders and advisers in Protestant, Catholic and Jewish youth groups, interest in campus problems is widespread among all denominations, but only Protestant youth groups have participated actively in campus politics.

Newman Club and Hillel representatives stated that their groups did not take action because of policy decisions which prevented action as a group. Some individuals in each group have been active, however.

"I think most of our group thought 'everything is fine now, let's not push for anything further,'" said Pete Landweber, G. Iowa City, a board member this year at Hillel foundation.

"We passed no resolutions because most of our members are in the two Jewish fraternities or the one sorority, and the members felt that they were representing their houses," he said.

Robbin Burns, P2, Burlington, speaking for Newman Club, the Catholic organization, said that the club has had a policy of "washing our hands of campus politics."

"We accept the rule of minding our own business," he said. "When the campus elections came up, some of our group felt a little curiosity about Kaplan, but our group didn't back any one candidate."

"We were invited to attend a meeting to discuss the discrimination problem the night before the Student Council was to vote on a plan for removal of the clauses from fraternity constitutions," he said.

"We told our members about the meeting, but very few were interested," he said. "Our purpose is more religious than political."

WSUI

ENTURY is another subject which bears a close relationship to the probability of war. It is so the title of a new series of programs beginning on WSUI this morning at 8:30 a.m. and continuing daily at that time (except Saturday and Sunday) until the series has run its course through June 14). Both of the second semester radio classroom courses have now been completed.

FREE FROM FINALS, for the moment at least, students at SUI may wish to turn to Tea Time is afternoon at 4. Always noted for its sympathetic programming the week draws to a close automatic days, is especially designed to bring salve and solace to tired psyches.

THE OPERA TONIGHT is Les Cheuchers de Perles (The Pearl Fishers) by Bizet. It will be heard, as usual, at 7:30 with Viril Obrien in her customary role of explanatress.

ROYAL FIREWORKS, music appropriate to their ignition, is the title applied to the first of the Evening Concert selections offered at 6. Then follow: music from Rosamunde by Schubert, concerto for Viola and Orchestra by William Walton and Symphony No. 40 in G Minor by Mozart.

"ACT" IS ONE LETTER short of being a remedy for arthritis. In reality, it is the enticing initials of the American College Testing program. You may find out all about that Iowa City (SUI) enterprise tomorrow on CUE, 10 a.m. to 1 p.m.

Pasternak Buried Thursday; Admirers Pay Last Respects

PEREDELKINO (HTNS) — Boris Pasternak was buried here Thursday at the foot of three wind gnarled pines in the Russian land he loved above life, fortune and fame.

Hundreds of his admirers, including scores of students carrying books of his poetry, dozens of peasants, and a handful of Russian writers paid their last respects and a solemn tribute to him at "Panikhida" (farewell to the dead) ceremonies at his brown and white gabled house in a forested grove at the end of a short country lane here.

Then carrying his open, flower-banked coffin on their shoulders, 12 young men bore him along a country road through a fertile valley, across a white washed wooden bridge and up the slope of a hill to his grave beneath the pines. There were no church services or clergymen for the burial or the ceremony at the home.

The Soviet Government of the Russia he loved ignored Pasternak's last rites. Premier Khrushchev was not at the funeral, nor any other Government or Communist Party officials, nor any leading functionaries of the Writer's Union which expelled him from membership because the world honored one of his novels, "Dr. Zhivago," to which his Government and the Communist Party objected.

At the graveside, the writer was eulogized by one of his closest friends, Prof. Valentin Asmus, who said Pasternak was "an example of one who defended his convictions before his contemporaries, being firmly convinced he was right."

Orioles Top Yanks Again For 11th Victory in 13 Games

BALTIMORE (AP) — Home runs by Gene Woodling powered the league-leading Baltimore Orioles to a 6-5 victory Thursday night, and a sweep of their three-game series with the New York Yankees.

Woodling's lead-off blast before 42,755 in the eighth inning snapped a 5-5 tie, boosted relief pitcher Chuck Estrada to his fifth victory in six verdicts and marked the 11th Oriole triumph in the last 13 games.

Art Ditmar, following starter Jim Coates and Bobby Shantz to the mound for New York, gave up the blow as he suffered his third defeat against two victories.

Gentile's three-run homer well beyond the 390-foot sign on the right-center field fence in the sixth inning chased Coates, who still has not been charged with a defeat since June 21 of last year.

Since then the right-hander has won nine in a row, five of them this year, and 11 of 12 major league decisions. He was unbeat as a starter.

The Cubs jumped off to a 5-0 lead in the first inning, and added two more in the fifth and three in the eighth. The Dodgers tallied once in the first and cut the Cub lead to 7-6 with five runs in the sixth inning.

The score was 10-6 going into the ninth, and the Dodgers scored twice to bring the final score to 10-8.

Cards 4, Giants 3
SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Joe Cunningham smashed his first home run of the season Thursday, bringing the St. Louis Cardinals a 4-3 victory over the San Francisco Giants.

Cunningham's 380-foot solo smash over the right field fence came in the seventh inning. It gave right-hander Larry Jackson his sixth pitching victory and southpaw Billy O'Dell his fifth defeat. Ken Boyer, major league home run leader, hit his 14th.

Temperatures in the 90s set between 20 and 30 of the crowd of 10,584 to the first aid station with heat prostration. The crowd was the smallest yet in Candlestick Park.

Jackson pitched until he walked pinch-hitter Jim Marshall to start the ninth when Manager Solly Hemus brought in reliever Lindy McDaniel who retired the side. Through eight full innings, Jackson gave up 11 hits, walked two and fanned three.

Tony Taylor of the Phils and Felix Mantilla and Hank Aaron of the Braves hit home runs and Bill Bruton and Taylor each had three hits apiece.

Warren Spahn got credit for his third victory in five decisions, although he was knocked out of the box in the seventh inning when the Phillies started a belated rally.

Twice the Phils came within a run of tying the score. In the seventh they rallied to 6-5 and even after the Braves made three in the ninth to go ahead 9-5, the Phils raced home three runs to make it 9-8 and had the tying run on second base. But Bob Rush came to the rescue and fanned Cal Neeman and Joe Koppe.

Believe Musial, Williams Will Retire This Season

NEW YORK (AP) — One of these days, sometime between now and the end of the baseball season, two stories will be banner material on sports pages throughout the country. For baseball fans it will be sad news — for these stories will announce the retirements of Stan Musial and Ted Williams from baseball.

At this stage of the season it seems a certainty that these two diamond greats will not be back next year. The St. Louis papers recently have been charging that the Cardinals are trying to "humiliate" Musial into retiring.

If this is true, then it certainly is an ungrateful way of repaying a man who was seven times the National League batting champion and three times the league's most valuable player.

Musial had an extremely poor season in 1959 (.255 batting average, 14 homers, 44 runs-batted-in) and the writers figured he had had it. But Stan, a very modest man, still had his pride and was determined to bow out with a good season.

Musial hit well in spring training and began the season at first base. In some of those early games he came through with clutch hits and seemed to be well-set in the lineup.

Then he faltered a little and Manager Solly Hemus was quick to pull him out of the starting lineup. This was a couple of weeks ago and Stan hasn't started since. He has pinch-hit a few times, but that has been the extent of his services.

Williams started off the season with two home runs in two games, but suffered a leg injury rounding the bases on the second homer. Since then, his appearances have been limited mainly to pinch-hitting assignments.

Last weekend, the Boston papers were hinting that Williams would be the next Red Sox manager, but Ted squelched this by saying "The only team I want to manage is a Junior Legion team in San Francisco."

As long ago as 1952, stories were circulating that Williams was through. 1952 was the year Ted was called back into the Marines. In all, he missed five seasons during his two hitched in the Marines. Williams batted only 10 times during the 1952 season, but the last time was the most dramatic. In typical Williams fashion, he smashed a home-run and in uncanny fashion, he tipped his cap to the fans who were giving him a standing ovation. Writers termed it his "farewell to baseball."

But Williams came back late in the 1953 season, and since then he has won two more batting titles, hit 170 home runs and driven in over 500 runs.

There is hardly any need to enumerate all the records and accomplishments of Musial and Williams. The record books are full of their achievements and to any baseball fan the names of Musial and Williams have a sort of magic quality — for they are the elite of the game.

And soon they will be gone. Baseball will still have its Aarons, Mayses, Mantles, and Bankses, but

Fernandez And Griffith Clash Tonight

NEW YORK (AP) — Jorge Fernandez, a busy puncher from Argentina, and sharp-hitting Emile Griffith of New York, clash in a 10-round welterweight fight at St. Nicholas Arena Friday night.

The bout will be broadcast and telecast (NBC, 8 p.m. CST) nationally.

Griffith, 22, is the 7-5 favorite although the 24-year-old Argentine has won five straight.

This is a showpiece for Fernandez. The stocky invader stopped Texan Mel Barker in the seventh round of his American debut in a non-television feature at St. Nick's March 4.

Winner of eight of nine bouts last year, Fernandez has a 68-3-1 record including 50 knockouts. His lone loss was on a decision to Argentine Federico Thompson, one of the world's top welterweights.

Griffith, one of the best of the young American welterweights, has a 17-2 record, including six kayos. He split in two recent fights with Denny Moyer of Portland, Ore., winning the first and losing the second April 26.

when Musial and Williams announce their retirements on these days in the not-too-distant future—baseball will not quite be the same.

Norton Traded To LA Chargers

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Los Angeles Chargers announced Thursday they have traded Charlie Powell, former defensive end of the San Francisco 49ers, to the Oakland Raiders for Don Norton, star end at Iowa last year.

Coach Sid Gillman of the Los Angeles squad in the American Football League expressed delight at landing Norton.

Norton, 6-1 and 180 pounds, played in last season's Senior Bowl at East-West games. He ranked ninth last year in pass receiving, catching 30 passes for 428 yards and four touchdowns. He was a fifth-round draft choice of the Philadelphia Eagles.

Ray Jauch Signs Contract with Winnipeg

IOWA CITY (AP) — Ray Jauch, co-captain of the 1959 Iowa football team, has signed a contract to play professional football with Winnipeg in the Canadian League.

Jauch, a speedy halfback, will be the fifth Iowan on the Winnipeg team. Others are Ken Ploen, Frank Gilliam, Frank Rigney and Curt Merz.

Winnipeg will play Vancouver in an exhibition game at Cedar Rapids July 29.

There are four former Hawks on the Vancouver team. They are Randy Duncan, Willie Fleming, Bob Jeter and Don Horn.

VOXMAN GETS AWARD

Bill Voxman, Iowa City senior, has been awarded the Big 10 medal for excellence in scholarship and athletics. Voxman was the No. 3 man on Coach Don Klotz's Hawkeye tennis team and also made up one-half of the No. 2 doubles team.

The Big 10 award is presented by the conference to an athlete from each conference school who was outstanding in scholarship as well as in athletics.

Indians 7, Athletics 6

KANSAS CITY (AP) — The Cleveland Indians laid down an early inning home run barrage but barely staggered home a 7-6 winner Thursday night as the Kansas City Athletics staged a four-run ninth inning rally that reliever Dick Stigman finally snuffed out.

The long ball attack broke a five-game winning streak for the stubborn Athletics.

Woody Held, Tito Francona and Johnny Romano all drove the ball out of the park for the Indians.

Marv Throneberry hit a two-run homer for the Athletics in the fourth inning and ignited the ninth inning uprising with a single off Mudcat Grant, the Indians starter and winner.

The second place Indians kept their pace 2½ games behind the Baltimore Orioles.

Tigers 4, White Sox 3

DETROIT (AP) — Charlie Maxwell's second home run of the game in the eighth inning broke a tie and gave the Detroit Tigers a 4-3 victory over the Chicago White Sox Thursday night. The victory snapped a five-game losing streak for the Tigers.

Ray Semproch, who relieved starter Don Mossi in the eighth, retired four of the last five Sox batters to gain credit for his second victory of the season without a loss.

Maxwell hit his first homer and fifth of the season in the first inning with no one on and then drove in another run in the third with a double to right field.

Mossi gave up 12 hits, including 11 singles, in the 7 2/3 innings he worked. He was helped by two double plays when the White Sox clustered three singles in both the sixth and eighth but scored only one run.

Board in Control Meets for 'Route'

IOWA CITY (AP) — The Board in Control of Athletics did not discuss the appointment of a new athletic director in its Thursday meeting at SU1, according to Dr. George Easton, chairman of the board.

The board is seeking a successor to Paul Brecher, who resigned as athletic director in February to become commissioner of the Sky-line Conference.

"Actually, the meeting this afternoon had little to do with selecting an athletic director," said Prof. James Jones, a member of the board's staff committee. "It was a routine meeting, for other matters."

But Jones indicated that the board would soon recommend a director, who then would have to be approved by President Virgil Hancher — subject to final approval by the State Board of Regents.

He said the board hoped to be able to recommend a candidate at the Board of Regents meeting here next Thursday and Friday.

Speculation has increased that the job may go to Forest Evashevski, successful Iowa football coach.

Iowa Team Ave. Was Weak .213

Season-ending statistics for Iowa's baseball team disclose, at least partly, why the Hawkeyes finished in the Big Ten basement and won only seven of 24 games overall.

The Hawks batted only .213 as a team with only one regular, Third Baseman Don Peden, finishing above the .250 mark. Peden, a senior from Keota, averaged .268 and also led the team in hits with 22. Charles Conway, a reserve, compiled the team's best average of .278 but batted only 18 times.

Shortstop Bill Iliif and Pitcher and Co-Capt. Rog Rudeen averaged .250 to finish behind Peden and Mike Lewis the only other regular above .218 with a .246 mark.

Second Baseman Mike Bogdans, the team co-captain, led in runs-batted-in with 17 and also hit one of the team's five home runs. First Baseman Hovie Kennedy and Catcher Jerry Maurer shared the doubles lead with four each and Lewis clouted three triples for the team title in that department.

In team fielding, the Hawks compiled a .912 average.

Rudeen was Iowa's busiest hurler with 63 innings pitched and a 2-8 record, giving up 48 runs, of which only 29 were earned, fanning 49 and walking 25.

MAIL TICKET BLANKS
ANN ARBOR, Mich. — A total of 120,000 season ticket application blanks for the University of Michigan's 1960 home football schedule will be mailed from the Wolverine ticket department today, according to Athletic Director H. O. (Fritz) Crisler.

The mailing will be directed to Wolverine alumni and to purchasers of season tickets last year in seven states covering the Big Ten area, Crisler said.

Board in Control of Athletics Meets for 'Routine Matters'

IOWA CITY (AP) — The Board in Control of Athletics did not discuss the appointment of a new athletic director in its Thursday meeting at SUU, according to Dr. George Easton, chairman of the board.

The board is seeking a successor to Paul Brechler, who resigned as athletic director in February to become commissioner of the Skyline Conference.

"Actually, the meeting this afternoon had little to do with selecting an athletic director," said Prof. James Jones, a member of the board's staff committee. "It was a routine meeting, for other matters."

But Jones indicated that the board would soon recommend a director, who then would have to be approved by President Virgil Hancher — subject to final approval by the State Board of Regents.

He said the board hoped to be able to recommend a candidate at the Board of Regents meeting here next Thursday and Friday.

Speculation has increased that the job may go to Forest Evashevski, successful Iowa football coach.

The board apparently has eliminated a purported requirement that the athletic director must possess a doctor's degree so he could also head the physical education department. Evashevski does not have a doctor's degree. There is speculation, however, that SUU might separate the duties of athletic director and physical education director.

Brechler in the past was the head of the physical education department, but most of the executive duties were performed by Louis Alley, professor of physical education.

Evashevski and two other candidates have been interviewed by the board. It has not been announced whether the board has considered any other candidates.

They are Dr. James Long, 45, athletic director at the University of Toledo, and Theodore Harder, 54, athletic director at the Santa Barbara Branch of the University of California.

Tom Perdue Of OSU Is Batting King

CHICAGO (AP) — Champion Minnesota captured the team batting title and Ohio State's Tom Perdue won the individual hitting crown in the recently ended Big 10 baseball campaign.

In the process of taking their third consecutive conference championship, Minnesota's Gophers batted at a .314 clip and belted the most home runs, 18.

Final official statistics released Thursday credited the Buckeyes' Perdue with a 10-game average of .459, followed by Wayne Knapp of Minnesota with .441; Joe McCabe of Purdue with .438; Ethan Blackaby of Illinois with .436; and Wilbert Franklin of Michigan with .417.

Minnesota which captured the league championship with a 12-2 record also had the leading Big 10 pitcher, Larry Bertelsen with a 5-0 mark.

Purdue's Jack Helmkamp retained the earned run average title with 1.13 as he fashioned a 3-0 record. The league strikeout king was Ohio State's Paul Seitz with 46. Minnesota's Howard Nathe pitched the most innings, 43.

Indicative of Minnesota's plate power, Knapp led in homers with 6 and another Gopher, Cal Roloff, led in RBI's with 14.

Other departmental leaders: runs; Dave Pfeipfen, Minnesota, 21; hits, Ron Causton, Minnesota, 22; stolen bases, Bill Roman, Michigan, 7; doubles, Roman, 6; triples, Blackaby, and Don Foreman, Indiana, 3.

Second Baseman Mike Bogdanos, the team co-captain, led in runs batted-in with 17 and also hit one of the team's five home runs. First Baseman Howie Kennedy and Catcher Jerry Maurer shared the doubles lead with four each and Lewis clouted three triples for the team title in that department.

In team fielding, the Hawks compiled a .912 average. Rudeen was Iowa's busiest hurler with 63 innings pitched and a 2-8 record, giving up 49 runs, of which only 29 were earned, fanning 49 and walking 25.

Young Ron Reifert, Muscatine sophomore, won three games and lost two for the only winning mark. Al Bachman was 1-1, Dick Clauson 1-4 and Howard Friend and Al Klingler 0-1.

Purpose of Tag Day is to raise money for uniforms and equipment. Those who wish to support the program and who are not contacted on Tag Day may send their contributions to the Babe Ruth League, Recreation Office, 130 Lafayette.

The boys will report 15 minutes prior to their assigned times as follows: AFL-CIO Phillies — 9-10:30 a.m.; Moose Indians — 9-10:30; Jay Cee Red Sox — 10-10:12; Elk's White Sox — 10-10:12; Legion Yanks — 12-1:30; Rotary Dodgers — 12-1:30; Optimist Braves — 1:30-3; Kiwanis Cards — 1:30-3; Lion's Cubs — 9, to solicit in outlying areas. The Coralville Tigers will solicit that area.

The mailing will be directed to Wolverine alumni and to purchasers of season tickets last year in seven states covering the Big Ten area, Crisler said.

Spartans, Wolverines Win Top Rankings in Big Ten

ANN ARBOR, Mich. — Michigan athletic teams led the Big Ten in the number of championships won during 1959-60 with four, and finished second in an unofficial ranking of ten sports, a compilation of Conference records reveals.

The Wolverines topped their titles in swimming, indoor track, wrestling and tennis. Illinois, with the outdoor track and gymnastics crowns, was the only other institution to win more than one title, with Wisconsin taking football; Ohio State basketball, Minnesota baseball, and Purdue golf.

Based on a ten-point scoring system from the first place down to tenth, the Wolverines counted 68 1/2 points in ten sports to finish 1 1/2 points behind Michigan State's 70 for the year.

Fencing, cross-country and hockey were not included in the accounting. Minnesota, which won its third straight Conference baseball crown last weekend, ranked third in the unofficial total with 64 1/2 points, with Illinois finishing in fourth spot. Ohio State finished fifth in the rankings.

Petite Etoile Wins Coronation Cup At Epsom Downs

EPSOM, England (AP) — Petite Etoile, the champion 4-year-old filly from the stables of the late Prince Aly Khan, Thursday decisively defeated two outstanding colts in the Coronation Cup of a mile and a half.

It was the eighth straight victory for the great filly and completed a notable double in two days for jockey Lester Piggott and trainer Moel Murless. Piggott rode the Murless-trained St. Paddy to victory in the Epsom Derby Wednesday.

Petite Etoile, winner of the Oaks for 3-year-old fillies last year, came on strong in the last furlong to beat Parthia, winner of last year's derby, by 1 1/2 lengths in 2:35 1-5. Queen Elizabeth's Above Suspicion, the only other starter, was another 1 1/2 lengths back.

Rosburg's deft touch with irons and putter gave him an edge over the powerhouse golfers. Two strokes back of Rosburg were defending champion Don Whit from Borrego Springs, Calif., with 32-35-67; Former National Open Champion Jack Fleck of Los Angeles with 33-34-67; Don January of Dallas with 33-34-67; and J. C. Goosie of Knoxville, Tenn., 32-35-67.

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP) — Officers Thursday arrested Joe Brown, 34, world's lightweight boxing champion, on an assault charge after another man claimed he was threatened with a shotgun.

Barb McIntire Wins British Women's Amateur Golf Title

HARLECH, Wales (AP) — Barbara McIntire halted a fighting rally by Ireland's Philomena Garvey Thursday for a 4 and 2 victory which added the British Women's Amateur Golf Championship to her U.S. title.

The British-American double established the 25-year-old real estate operator from Lake Park, Fla., as the world's supreme woman amateur golfer. It put her in a class with Louise Suggs and the late Babe Didrikson Zaharias.

The 36-hole final over the Royal St. David's course started as a rout for the American and then took a sudden and dramatic shift as the 38-year-old Irish campaigner launched a comeback.

Eight down with nine holes to play, Miss Garvey won five of the next six holes — four straight starting at the 28th. During this stretch she had six straight one-putt greens and four birdies.

Finally, her bid died on the 34th hole where, playing boldly to stay alive, she three-putted from 30 feet and lost the hole to Miss McIntire's par.

"I've never had golf like that shot at me before so late in the match," Barbara said afterward. "I wasn't playing any worse. It was just that Philomena suddenly hit a hot streak — and it kept going."

Miss McIntire becomes the fourth American to win this aged championship, begun in 1893, and she is the third to win it after taking the U.S. crown. Miss Zaharias did it in 1947 and Miss Suggs followed suit in 1948. Margaret (Wiff) Smith was the last U.S. winner, in 1956.

It was the third defeat in the finals for Miss Garvey, who was runnerup in 1946 and 1953 before winning in 1957.

New York State Suspends Sugar's Boxing License

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York State Athletic Commission Thursday suspended the boxing license of Sugar Ray Robinson until he can make peace with the Maryland commission.

The former middleweight champion was suspended by the Maryland body May 19 for failure to show up for a scheduled fight in Baltimore.

Sugar Ray was slated to meet Pedro Gonzales May 14 but the bout was postponed until May 16. Robinson didn't show up and failed to notify the boxing promoters.

Gen. Melvin Krulwicz, chairman of the New York commission, announced Thursday that Robinson is suspended until his contract in Maryland is fulfilled or until his suspension in that state is lifted.

The decision here is not likely to affect Robinson's scheduled title fight in Boston June 10 when he meets Paul Pender, recognized as middleweight champion in Massachusetts and New York. Massachusetts failed to honor the Maryland suspension.

This Bachelor Is A Duncan Hines?

By MARLENE PERRIN
Former City Editor

With spring comes weddings. And with weddings comes a large group of SU1 brides who can't cook, or at least can't cook anything too edible.

One male graduate student may provide a solution to their problem. Dick Abbey, G, Dayton Beach, Fla., thinks too many girls ignore the bachelor when it comes time to learn the art of cooking.

"It's amazing what you can learn as a bachelor," Dick said. He follows about three standard recipes, changes them slightly for variety, and claims that any new bride, using these recipes can "astound her husband with her culinary prowess."

One of Abbey's stand-bys is chili. He said he makes up "a whole batch of it which will last for several days. In fact, if you keep it long enough, it seems like it multiplies."

The ingredients for this Old Southern recipe include:

- 1 lb. hamburger
- 1 can kidney beans
- 1 can stewed tomatoes
- 1 small can tomato paste
- 1 or 2 pieces of chopped garlic
- 1 good-sized onion, chopped fine
- 1 good-sized pepper, chopped fine

Spices as you prefer
Dick's instructions: Brown the hamburger and drain the grease from it. While the hamburger is browning, throw the onion, garlic and pepper together. Drain and put it into a big pot. Cook the above together with the beans, tomatoes and tomato paste. Simmer one-half to three-quarters of an hour and stir periodically.

Dick said the chili made from this recipe lasts for about three days. "I always make this much because I've never figured out how to cut down the recipe," he said. "And when you are tired of chili, you can always water it down for spaghetti sauce."

When asked if chili is ALL he eats for three days, Dick replied that it is all he eats at home. "I don't eat breakfast, and usually eat a sandwich up-town for lunch," he said, "but I really fang up the food at night. And this chili puts fire in your blood."

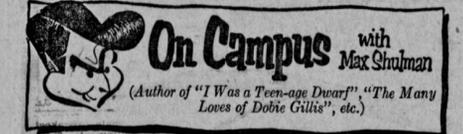

Dick also eats many casseroles which he can make up ahead of time and keep in the refrigerator. His basic recipe is to cook a package of macaroni until it is neither too soft nor too hard. (The way you tell when it is just right, Dick said, is to take a piece of macaroni and pinch it with your fingers.)

Pour a cup of milk over the macaroni; "dump" in a can of condensed mushroom soup and a can of tuna. (Open the can first, Dick cautioned.) Add a "bunch" of your favorite cheese — chopped, and a bit of Worcestershire Sauce

PTOMAINE DUMPLINGS

Our recipe for Ptomaine Dumplings is a guaranteed success. It was obtained from the finest Cancer Kitchen cooks in town. You too can make these yummy morsels simply by mixing a dump-truck of night-soil, lightly sprinkled with slightly aged hot dog ends; basting with University cough medicine (be careful not too much now); giving it that finishing touch with a fluffy topping of chlorine foam straight from the Iowa River.

TILL WE MEET AGAIN

Today I conclude my sixth year of writing columns for the makers of Marlboro and Philip Morris cigarettes. It has been my custom during these six years to make no attempt to be funny in this final column. (I have achieved this objective many times during the year also, but never on purpose.) The reasons for the lack of levity in this final column are two: first, you are preparing for final exams and, second, of holding you down and tickling you, there is no way in the world to make you laugh at this time; and, second, for many of us this is a leave-taking, and leave-takings, I think, ought not be flippant.

If I have brought you a moment or two of cheer during the past year, I am rewarded. If I have persuaded you to try Marlboro or Philip Morris cigarettes, you are rewarded.

Let me pause here to express my heartfelt gratitude to the makers of Marlboro and Philip Morris. They have given me complete freedom in the writing of these columns. There has not been the slightest hint of censorship. They have never changed so much as one comma in my copy. I wish to take this occasion to state publicly that I am forever grateful to these enlightened tobaccoists and I hereby serve notice that if they find it in their corporate heart to engage me for another year of columning, I shall require a substantial increase in salary.

The money is not what matters—not as money, that is, but only as a token. I want to be assured that they love me as much as I love Marlboro and Philip Morris. And what, indeed, is not to love? Marlboro is a cigarette which proves beyond cavil that flavor did not go out when filters came in. Philip Morris is a cigarette that is pure mildness from lip-end to tip-end. Both of these estimable smokes come in soft-pack or flip-top box. Neither is ever sold in bulk.

You must not, however, despair...

The summer lies ahead. For underclassmen summer will be a hiatus, a breather in which to restore yourselves for next year's resumption of busy college life. For seniors there will be no more college. You must not, however, despair and abandon yourself to idleness. There are other things to do in the world besides going to school—basket weaving, for example, or building boats in bottles, or picking up tinfoil, or reading "War and Peace." Many graduates fall into the erroneous belief that their lives are over when they leave college. This is not so. It is possible to make some sort of life for yourself with a bit of ingenuity... or, if that fails, dye your hair, change your name, and enroll at some other college.

Whatever the future holds for you, be assured that the makers of Marlboro and Philip Morris join me in wishing you the best of everything. We have taken great pleasure—the makers and I—in bringing you this column each week throughout the school year. We hope a little pleasure has accrued to you too.

May good fortune attend your ventures. Stay happy. Stay healthy. Stay loose.

© 1960 Max Schulman

We, the makers of Marlboro and Philip Morris, can only echo the kindly old Max's parting words. Stay happy. Stay healthy. Stay loose.

While at SUL, Mr. Kadgin was a member of the University Rifle Team which was a championship team. He was a Big Ten Rifle Shot. He received a B.A. in general science in 1941 prior to his entry into the Army in June 1941. He attained the rank of captain, and from January 1943 to June 1944 he was an instructor of Chinese troops in India.

After his tour of duty in India, Mr. Kadgin was assigned to the combat area of North Burma where he was killed in action.

On the drill floor of the Reserve Center there is a dedication case of Mr. Kadgin's rifle markings trophies and military decorations. An oil painting of him hangs in the center of the case.

His parents and relatives will be honored guests at the dedication.

Recommend Dues Hike for Hillcrest

A recommendation to double Hillcrest Association dues from $2.50 to $5 next year has been submitted to the Dormitory Office by the Hillcrest General Council.

Further action on the proposal, approved by the Council two weeks ago, is pending a meeting on June 6 between Ralph E. Hillman, A2, Essex, Council president, and Virgil S. Copeland, associate director of the Dormitory Office.

Hillman said the proposal is not fully developed, and that little action would probably be taken until next fall.

He added that Copeland had told him that complete approval of Hillcrest residents would be necessary for effecting the raise in dues.

Council member Robert Dackendorf, A4, Danville, explained that the increase in association dues was being asked because the Hillcrest Association does not have enough money to operate in an efficient manner.

Another reason, mentioned by Hillman, was that the additional money would be used for recreational facilities in the new addition. Such facilities would include television sets, ping pong tables, pool tables, etc., he said.

Student residents now pay $5 a year — $2.50 each semester — for membership dues in the Hillcrest Association. The recommendation asked for a raise to $5 a semester, or a total of $10 for the entire school year.

All student residents of Hillcrest are members of the Hillcrest Association.

Dr. E. M. Jellinek, prominent pioneer and authority in the field of alcohol studies, will lecture and conduct meetings Monday through Friday at SUT's Psychopathic Hospital.

Sponsored by the SUI College of Medicine's Department of Psychiatry and the Psychopathic Hospital, Dr. Jellinek will speak to resident physicians and staff members the first part of the week. On Thursday morning, he will lecture on "Disease Concept of Alcoholism" to staff members of the Psychopathic Hospital and state mental institutions.

Thursday, at 3 p.m. in the Medical Amphitheater of University Hospitals, Dr. Jellinek will lecture on "Cultural Aspects of Alcoholism" to the medical staff, resident physicians, and all interested persons. Clinical discussions will follow on Friday.

Whereas, the above named company has filed in the Insurance Department of Iowa, a sworn statement showing its condition on the thirty-first day of December, 1959, in accordance with the provisions of Chapter 515, Title XX, of the Code of Iowa, relating to Insurance Companies; and whereas said Insurance Company has complied with the laws of this State relating to insurance.

City Officials Warn About Gas Storage

City Engineer Fred E. Gartzke and Fire Chief Vernal J. Shimon warned service stations that sell gasoline for boat motors that they must store the marine gasoline underground.

They indicated the gasoline is highly flammable because it contains no lead and is of higher octane than gasoline used in automobiles.

The underground tank must be spaced a specified number of feet from the nearest obstacle, as prescribed by city regulations, Gartzke and Shimon indicated. It must also have an underwriters laboratory-approved tank and installation with approved wiring.

Applications for such tanks should be made to the city building inspector, Gartzke, and Shimon for approval of plans.

Registration is scheduled for Monday, June 13, from 9 a.m. to 11 a.m. in North Rehearsal Hall. No guarantee can be given that students seeking entrance to the program after that date will be admitted.

Public school music students who wish to enroll should contact Ira Schwarz or Stanley Cobb, and University School students should contact Jack Heller for further information.

KLM CHOOSES HAIRDOS

THE HAGUE — Pigtails and ponytails have been banned as not quite royal Dutch hairlines for stewardesses of KLM, the Royal Dutch airline. The girls and KLM decided in consultation on six basic hairdos — not including the pig and pony — that they may choose from after July 1.
