The News In Brief

The Daily Iowan

Iowa City, Iowa, Wednesday, July 10, 1963

The Weather

Path to party cloudy today and early afternoon. Skies will clear late this afternoon and evening. Highs in the upper 80s, lows in the 60s.

Macmillion Warns Reds

LONDON — In a speech Wednesday, Prime Minister Harold MacMullon, speaking at the Labour Party conference in Edinburgh, warned that the Soviet Union was moving toward a state of war with the United States and Britain.

Security Council Gives Cuban Problem to OAS

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. — The Security Council on Tuesday gave the Organization of American States the problem of Cuba.

House-mover Foiled Again; Makes Council Appearance

Iowa City's legendary house-mover, Yves Vanier and two of his employees, are being tried in the Iowa Supreme Court for the alleged theft of a piano from a Key Bank branch in Iowa City.

Pan in paving project was delayed for a short time when a truck carrying paving materials crashed into a concrete wall. The accident occurred at the corner of Sixth and N. "Don't lead us to think that we're doing these things on the road," said Vanier. "We have to do something about it."

Vanier and two of his employees were charged with the alleged theft of a piano from a Key Bank branch in Iowa City. They pleaded not guilty and were released on $1000 bail.

Yves Vanier, local house-mover, and two of his employees, were charged with the alleged theft of a piano from a Key Bank branch in Iowa City. They pleaded not guilty and were released on $1000 bail.

Cite Post-Summit Campaign Activity

NEWPORT, R.I. — The Eisenhower Administration received the Soviet Union's Tuesday of voting an anti-U.S. campaign activity from the United Nations.

Secretary of State Christian A. Herter, who planned the phrase and expressed the slogan "anti-U.S. smear hit" on the Soviet's stepped-up hostility toward the United States.

The combined power of Congress and the Senate in its effort to get the United States ready for a head-on confrontation with the United States will be presented in the Eisenhower Administration's Tuesday of voting an anti-U.S. campaign activity from the United Nations.

Secretary of State Christian A. Herter, who planned the phrase and expressed the slogan "anti-U.S. smear hit" on the Soviet's stepped-up hostility toward the United States.

The combined power of Congress and the Senate in its effort to get the United States ready for a head-on confrontation with the United States will be presented in the Eisenhower Administration's Tuesday of voting an anti-U.S. campaign activity from the United Nations.

Secretary of State Christian A. Herter, who planned the phrase and expressed the slogan "anti-U.S. smear hit" on the Soviet's stepped-up hostility toward the United States.

The combined power of Congress and the Senate in its effort to get the United States ready for a head-on confrontation with the United States will be presented in the Eisenhower Administration's Tuesday of voting an anti-U.S. campaign activity from the United Nations.

Secretary of State Christian A. Herter, who planned the phrase and expressed the slogan "anti-U.S. smear hit" on the Soviet's stepped-up hostility toward the United States.

The combined power of Congress and the Senate in its effort to get the United States ready for a head-on confrontation with the United States will be presented in the Eisenhower Administration's Tuesday of voting an anti-U.S. campaign activity from the United Nations.

Secretary of State Christian A. Herter, who planned the phrase and expressed the slogan "anti-U.S. smear hit" on the Soviet's stepped-up hostility toward the United States.

The combined power of Congress and the Senate in its effort to get the United States ready for a head-on confrontation with the United States will be presented in the Eisenhower Administration's Tuesday of voting an anti-U.S. campaign activity from the United Nations.

Secretary of State Christian A. Herter, who planned the phrase and expressed the slogan "anti-U.S. smear hit" on the Soviet's stepped-up hostility toward the United States.

The combined power of Congress and the Senate in its effort to get the United States ready for a head-on confrontation with the United States will be presented in the Eisenhower Administration's Tuesday of voting an anti-U.S. campaign activity from the United Nations.

Secretary of State Christian A. Herter, who planned the phrase and expressed the slogan "anti-U.S. smear hit" on the Soviet's stepped-up hostility toward the United States.

The combined power of Congress and the Senate in its effort to get the United States ready for a head-on confrontation with the United States will be presented in the Eisenhower Administration's Tuesday of voting an anti-U.S. campaign activity from the United Nations.

Secretary of State Christian A. Herter, who planned the phrase and expressed the slogan "anti-U.S. smear hit" on the Soviet's stepped-up hostility toward the United States.

The combined power of Congress and the Senate in its effort to get the United States ready for a head-on confrontation with the United States will be presented in the Eisenhower Administration's Tuesday of voting an anti-U.S. campaign activity from the United Nations.

Secretary of State Christian A. Herter, who planned the phrase and expressed the slogan "anti-U.S. smear hit" on the Soviet's stepped-up hostility toward the United States.

The combined power of Congress and the Senate in its effort to get the United States ready for a head-on confrontation with the United States will be presented in the Eisenhower Administration's Tuesday of voting an anti-U.S. campaign activity from the United Nations.

Secretary of State Christian A. Herter, who planned the phrase and expressed the slogan "anti-U.S. smear hit" on the Soviet's stepped-up hostility toward the United States.

The combined power of Congress and the Senate in its effort to get the United States ready for a head-on confrontation with the United States will be presented in the Eisenhower Administration's Tuesday of voting an anti-U.S. campaign activity from the United Nations.

Secretary of State Christian A. Herter, who planned the phrase and expressed the slogan "anti-U.S. smear hit" on the Soviet's stepped-up hostility toward the United States.

The combined power of Congress and the Senate in its effort to get the United States ready for a head-on confrontation with the United States will be presented in the Eisenhower Administration's Tuesday of voting an anti-U.S. campaign activity from the United Nations.

Secretary of State Christian A. Herter, who planned the phrase and expressed the slogan "anti-U.S. smear hit" on the Soviet's stepped-up hostility toward the United States.
The Daily Iowan

Senator Javits Discusses Republican Party -

G.O.P. Liberals: Spending Not Cure-All

By SEN. JACOB K. JAVITS

New York Times

WASHINGTON - I am often asked by students and friends to comment on liberal and conservative policies and programs. I have always been concerned with the current policies and programs of the Democratic and Republican Parties and how they are being implemented. I am particularly interested in how these policies and programs are affecting the citizens of the United States.

On this issue, I would like to discuss the policies and programs of the G.O.P. in the context of current political issues. I believe that the G.O.P. has a responsibility to address the concerns of the American people and to implement policies and programs that are in the best interest of the country.

WASHINGTON - I am often asked by students and friends to comment on liberal and conservative policies and programs. I have always been concerned with the current policies and programs of the Democratic and Republican Parties and how they are being implemented. I am particularly interested in how these policies and programs are affecting the citizens of the United States.

On this issue, I would like to discuss the policies and programs of the G.O.P. in the context of current political issues. I believe that the G.O.P. has a responsibility to address the concerns of the American people and to implement policies and programs that are in the best interest of the country.

WASHINGTON - I am often asked by students and friends to comment on liberal and conservative policies and programs. I have always been concerned with the current policies and programs of the Democratic and Republican Parties and how they are being implemented. I am particularly interested in how these policies and programs are affecting the citizens of the United States.

On this issue, I would like to discuss the policies and programs of the G.O.P. in the context of current political issues. I believe that the G.O.P. has a responsibility to address the concerns of the American people and to implement policies and programs that are in the best interest of the country.

WASHINGTON - I am often asked by students and friends to comment on liberal and conservative policies and programs. I have always been concerned with the current policies and programs of the Democratic and Republican Parties and how they are being implemented. I am particularly interested in how these policies and programs are affecting the citizens of the United States.

On this issue, I would like to discuss the policies and programs of the G.O.P. in the context of current political issues. I believe that the G.O.P. has a responsibility to address the concerns of the American people and to implement policies and programs that are in the best interest of the country.
‘Carmen’ Composer, Bizet Criticized in First Works

By ANDY HOLMANN

Joshua Green's opera "Carmen," the story of Greco-Roman love with music by Georges Bizet, has been the subject of much criticism by some music critics and performers alike. Although it was a huge success upon its premiere in 1875, the opera has been deemed by some a shallow, melodramatic piece that lacks depth and emotional complexity.

Bizet, a society of his time, was known for his experimentation with form and technique, and his music was a blend of traditional and modern elements. The libretto, written by Henri Meilhac and Ludovic Halévy, is based on the novella by Prosper Mérimée.

Critics have often criticized the opera for its gratuitous violence, exaggerated passions, and simplistic plot. However, Bizet's music has endured the test of time and continues to be performed around the world.

Study (continued from page 1)

last but not least, the role of music in society.

"Carmen" is Bizet’s masterpiece, and it has been performed in various forms and adaptations throughout the years. Despite the criticism, the opera remains a beloved piece of French culture and continues to captivate audiences around the globe.

2 Building Projects in Planning Stage Here

Two major BUT construction projects — the first a new dormitory and the second a new library — are being planned at the University of Iowa in Iowa City. The projects are expected to cost $140,000 and will be funded through a state bond issue.

The new dormitory will be located on the north side of the campus and will house 200 students. The design is currently being finalized by architects in Paris.

The new library will be built on the site of the present library and will feature a larger collection of books and updated facilities. The project is scheduled for completion in 1932.

In Fulfillment of Degree Requirements

Weekend Recitals Scheduled

Three recitals have been scheduled for this weekend by the University of Iowa's music department. The recitals will feature solo performances and group recitals.

Conference Warned of Law Control

DICK BRICKER — Two Los Angeles police officers were shot and wounded yesterday morning while protecting the public审查 and sold the public审查 and sold the public审查 and sold the public审查 and sold the public审查 and sold the public review boards and said the board room was devoid of color.

The two are Capt. Edward H. Burch, who directed the Los Angeles Police and Policy Planning Board, and Capt. Charles C. Wood, who served as assistant to the board.

They were here to speak at the annual national Conference of Police Chiefs, which is being held in Los Angeles this week. The police officers said they were unable to attend the conference because of the shooting.

Davis said the police have been fighting crime in Los Angeles for many years, and that the board of review had been operating since 1928.

He said the police have been successful in keeping the city safe, and that the board of review had been operating since 1928.

Last week the police officers said they were unable to attend the conference because of the shooting.

"By maintaining central control over the home, we are able to control the law enforcement agencies," Mr. Davis said.

AP'HYMTHRO 38' Helps Get M.A.

Thursday afternoon, the University of Iowa's College of Music presented a recital featuring the music of American composer Aaron Copland. The recital was held in the Main Building's Grand Hall and was attended by music professors and students.

The program included Copland's "Symphony in F," which was composed in 1931 and dedicated to his father, and the orchestral suite "Appalachian Spring," which was written in 1947 and has become one of Copland's most popular works.

The recital was well received by the audience, and Copland was praised for his innovative use of American folk music in his compositions. The composer himself was also present at the event and took the time to answer questions from the audience.
MAJOR'S GROWTH LOOKS SURE

By JOE ROHELIS
Associated Press Sports Writer

The majors have invited Branch Rickey to be an absolute hero, although Tuesday he showed the fans in Ebbets Field why he was a mug.

Rickey seems to have a hobby, and he admits to it in his new book, "No More Free Lunch." He has been called the father of baseball integration, and certainly there aren't enough big league owners and players to implement his job with the same enthusiasm.

Rickey, the former National League president, was blackballed from baseball for 13 years, and he has accused the league of being hypocritical.

"I never planned to make a fortune in baseball. I planned to do the right thing," Rickey said.

The majors have invited Branch Rickey to be an absolute hero, although Tuesday he showed the fans in Ebbets Field why he was a mug.

Rickey seems to have a hobby, and he admits to it in his new book, "No More Free Lunch." He has been called the father of baseball integration, and certainly there aren't enough big league owners and players to implement his job with the same enthusiasm.

Rickey, the former National League president, was blackballed from baseball for 13 years, and he has accused the league of being hypocritical.

"I never planned to make a fortune in baseball. I planned to do the right thing," Rickey said.

The majors have invited Branch Rickey to be an absolute hero, although Tuesday he showed the fans in Ebbets Field why he was a mug.

Rickey seems to have a hobby, and he admits to it in his new book, "No More Free Lunch." He has been called the father of baseball integration, and certainly there aren't enough big league owners and players to implement his job with the same enthusiasm.

Rickey, the former National League president, was blackballed from baseball for 13 years, and he has accused the league of being hypocritical.

"I never planned to make a fortune in baseball. I planned to do the right thing," Rickey said.