

SDC Votes, 14-9, To Stay 'Active'

Written for the DI
By MIKE PAULY

In a four-hour meeting marked with heated clashes over parliamentary procedure, the Socialist Discussion Club Thursday night beat down, 14 to 9, a motion to revert from an action group solely to a discussion unit.

The motion came during a meeting which dealt with the SDC's question of authorization and backing for a four-page leaflet, distributed on campus Wednesday. The paper, "The Unauthorized Supplement to The Daily Iowan," was published by several club members.

The SDC took action on these points:

- 1.) Passed, 14 to 11, a motion that the leaflet "was not authorized by the club and was a violation of the spirit of the club."
- 2.) Passed, 13 to 9, a motion stating that "considering matters of fact alone, the leaflet was substantially true."
- 3.) Defeated, 17 to 7, a motion that the club "support all editorial opinion and interpretation in the leaflet."
- 4.) Defeated, 14 to 11, a motion that the official SDC reaction be "no comment."
- 5.) Passed, 18 to 10, a motion disapproving of the "editorial comment and interpretations expressed in the leaflet."
- 6.) Defeated 14 to 11, a motion stating, "It is recognized that those who issued the paper were given some authority, that they overstepped their bounds, but that the letter which appeared in The Daily Iowan May 25 was too severe a condemnation."
- 7.) Defeated, 15 to 8, a motion that would have made the above in No. 6 read "Jerry Barrett" instead of "those."
- 8.) Passed, 16 to 3, a motion to reiterate previous SDC policy on committees, specifically that they report to the club before taking action.

9.) Passed, 14 to 6, a motion stating that the letter in the May 25 DI was "too severe."

10.) Passed, 22 to 0, a motion stating that "there were no acts of bad faith on anyone's part in regard to the whole entire publication and distribution of the leaflet."

The motion to revert to a non-action club was made by Jerry Barrett, G. Medical Lake, Wash., who said that actions of the sort which "split the club" could be avoided in the future if the SDC became a discussion club.

"I'm the one that's getting hanged here, you know," he said. He admitted being one of the chief backers of the leaflet.

About 25 persons were present at 130½ South Clinton for the opening of the meeting. SDC President Phil Cummins, G. Cedar Rapids, told the club:

"We have to answer two questions. Were the statements of the leaflet those of the SDC and were they authored with full knowledge of the club?"

Almost immediately, William Bunge, visiting assistant professor of geography, read a lengthy statement, which he was to make available to the press. In it, he told of the background and the printing of the leaflet.

After the meeting, Bunge withdrew his statement.

Bunge did say, though, that the publication cost $220 and that he had assumed all but $50 of that figure. It was printed in Chicago.

The leaflet, and a mimeographed, one-page insert, dealt with information which certain members of the SDC said was inadequately or unfairly treated in The Daily Iowan.

The Dan Kelley case, Daily Iowan letters-to-the-editor policy, Andy Hankins' depledging from Delta Chi fraternity and other stories were presented.

Kennedy Asks $1.7 Billion To Increase U.S. Strength

Urges Commitment To Man on Moon

(From Leased Wires)

WASHINGTON — President Kennedy went before Congress and the American public Thursday with an extraordinary appeal for a multi-billion dollar spending program to strengthen the United States and spread the "Freedom Doctrine" across a troubled globe.

In a televised appearance before a joint session of Congress in the House of Representatives the President asked for new appropriations of $1.7 billion to increase the power of the United States at home, overseas, on the ground and in the reaches of outer space.

"These are extraordinary times. We face an extraordinary challenge," the President said, in an appearance on Capitol Hill that came on the eve of his departure for Europe and a face-to-face summit meeting in Vienna June 3-4 with Soviet Premier Khrushchev.

In the single most dramatic part of his speech, President Kennedy reached for the moon. He asked Congress and the country to commit itself to "landing a man on the moon and returning him safely to earth" and do it "before this decade is out." He said it would cost $7 billion to $9 billion over the next five years.

In an unusual all-or-nothing approach, he told Congress bluntly that it would be better not to undertake the moon program at all, than to try to do it "half-way." Applause began coming when Kennedy departed from his prepared text to interpolate blunt ad lib remarks, with an edge of emotion in his voice.

"It is not a pleasure for any President of the United States to come before the Congress and ask new appropriations that will place new burdens on our people," he said in one such departure, adding: "I believe we should go to the moon."

There also was some talk that the Administration wanted to make a new start, as it were; to revive spirits dampened by the Cuban invasion fiasco.

The President made no mention of that upset, except indirectly. He said:

1. "Any initiative carries with it the risk of temporary defeat."
2. "Our whole intelligence effort must be reviewed, and its coordination with other elements of policy assured."

Of the $1.7 billion initial appropriations requested by Mr. Kennedy, the White House said $724,000,000 would be spent in the coming fiscal year, boosting the anticipated $2.8 billion deficit for fiscal 1962 to $3.5 billion.

Despite this, the President asked for no new taxes. He said the "present tax structure and resources are more than sufficient" to pay for the increases "if our economy moves ahead."

Boiled down, here is what the President asked:

A U.S. man-on-the-moon program, constructed of huge rocket boosters to get him there and back and a lunar space craft. Cost: $581,000,000 to start, and $7 billion to $9 billion in the first five years. Some experts estimate the program would cost as much as $40 billion all told.

An expanded program to develop communications satellites and weather forecasting satellites. Added cost: $125,000,000.

A $285,000,000 boost in military assistance, mostly to southeast Asia, raising the President's total request for such aid from $1.6 billion to $1,885,000,000. A $250,000,000 boost in the President's emergency fund, raising the request for economic assistance from $2.4 billion to $2.65 billion.

Modernization and reorganization of the Army; new helicopters, new equipment; increasing Marine Corps strength to 190,000; expansion of paramilitary unconventional warfare forces and rapid deployment of Army units in the event of war. Cost: $160,000,000.

Transfer of civil defense to the defense department placing it under Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara; reorganization of the present office of civil and defense mobilization into a new "office of emergency planning;" and a big shelter program to protect millions of people against radioactive fallout in the event of war. Cost: $300,000,000, of which two-thirds might be spent next year.

A strengthened United States information agency and a greatly stepped-up program of Voice of America broadcasts to Latin America and southeast Asia. In South America, broadcasts would be increased from the present six hours a week to 154 hours a week. Cost: $2,400,000.

Witness Tells How Property Values Fixed

Utility Co. Considers Original, Reproduction Costs, Depreciation

A hot verbal battle developed Thursday in the utility rates trial as the city started its cross-examination of William L. Patterson, principal engineer and partner in Black and Veatch Consulting Engineers of Kansas City, Mo.

Judge T. W. Miles, Corydon, who is hearing the case, said that the issue involved in the questioning of the utility company's witness is how depreciation of gas mains is determined. This, connected with original cost and reproduction cost, is used to determine the fair value of the property on which to base rates.

City Atty. William F. Suplee said he wanted to determine how Patterson "develops the idea of reproduction cost less depreciation if material cost (of a piece of gas main) is $100 and reproduction cost is between $216 and $280" (figures quoted by Patterson).

Patterson testified that in determining the fair value of the property owned by Iowa-Illinois Gas and Electric Company he takes the original cost and reproduction cost less depreciation and applies a 70-30 formula to these figures.

The engineer explained that the 70-30 formula adds 30 per cent of the original cost of the property to 70 per cent of the reproduction cost to arrive at a fair property value.

Suplee brought out in the cross-examination that Patterson and his associates inspected two feet out of every mile of the total gas mains in the Iowa City district to determine depreciation.

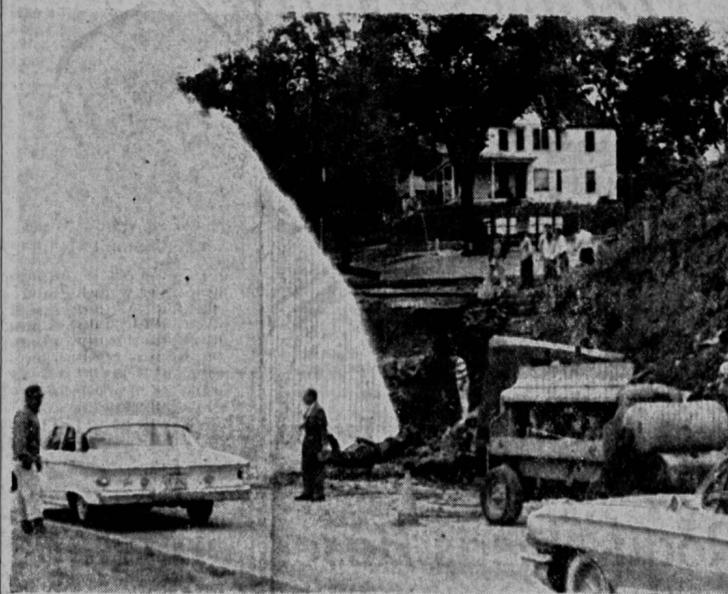

Patterson defended this method of inspection saying that the random sampling shows the extent of pipe deterioration that would be shown by more extensive sampling.

The Iowa City district mains, according to the engineer, are in 76 per cent new condition, meaning they had only depreciated about one-fourth of their new value.

In his cross-examination, Suplee repeatedly used hypotheses concerning a small section of pipe and how depreciation would be figured.

Patterson said that depreciation is figured over the whole system, not on single pieces of pipe. He by Suplee were not real and contended that the hypotheses used were "bordering on the ridiculous."

The city will resume its questioning of Patterson today as the trial heads into its fifth day.

But Not a Drop To Drink...

Despite Arrests, 'Freedom Riders' Continue Struggle

JACKSON, Miss. — Though 34 trail blazers among the "Freedom Riders" spent the day in jail — in Jackson and Montgomery, Ala. — the assault on the Deep South's segregation laws showed little sign of weakening Thursday.

The 27 arrested when their buses rolled into Mississippi's capital city Wednesday declined bail on charges they disobeyed an officer and breached the peace.

In Montgomery, a deputy arrested seven other Mississippi-bound Freedom Riders — four white college professors — one the Yale University chaplain — and three Negroes — and charged them with a breach of the peace.

The arrests came when they tried to eat at the white lunch counter at the bus station.

In Washington, Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy announced withdrawal of all but 100 of the 666 federal marshals sent to Montgomery during last weekend's violence.

(The Montgomery arrests came minutes after Kennedy's announcement.)

The 27 Freedom Riders arrested at the Jackson bus terminal Wednesday refused an offer of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP) to make $1,000 bonds for each of them. Their cases probably will be heard Friday.

From New York came a statement from James Farmer, national director of the Congress of Racial Equality (CORE) who urged Negroes to defy segregation in Southern airway and railroad terminals as well as bus stations.

Farmer telephoned the statement from Montgomery, Ala., Wednesday. He later was arrested in Jackson as one of the Freedom Riders.

Mississippi Gov. Ross Barnett said the state would take the same steps for any future busloads of Freedom Riders that greeted the first two contingents.

"There is too much work to be done in Mississippi," the governor said, "for us to have to put up with outside agitators trying to stir up our people for no good cause whatsoever."

The NAACP said a mass rally would be staged in Jackson tonight to protest the jailing of the 27, which included two white men.

A crowd of several hundred whites — standing silent under the bayonets of National Guardsmen — broke into cheers when the four white men and the three Negroes were led from the Montgomery terminal and into a sheriff's car.

The challenging riders, however, had promised earlier that they would take their places if they were jailed, opposing Atty. Gen. Kennedy's plea Wednesday for a cooling-off period for such rides in Alabama and Mississippi until the situation returned to normal.

Pushes X15 to New Record In 'Unusually Warm Flight'

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. — A pilot rammed the X15 rocket plane to a record 3,370 miles an hour Thursday and said later it got unusually warm in the cockpit.

But Joe Walker added: "We could have gone faster."

By midsummer, he told newsmen the X15 should hit 4,000 m.p.h. and soar 50 miles or higher.

Walker's speed was 296 miles an hour faster than the mark for winged craft of 3,074 m.p.h. set April 21 by Air Force Maj. Bob White.

Walker, a pilot for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, said the unusual warmth indicated air friction was heating the plane to record temperatures.

He increased the flow of nitrogen coolant through his pressure suit.

however, and "was never actually uncomfortable."

Heat-sensing devices on the X15's skin have recorded as much as 700 degrees in previous flights. A space agency spokesman said he doubted the skin temperature rose much above that Thursday. A check of instruments later would give the exact figure.

Walker said he shut down his 57,000-pound thrust engine after 73 seconds. If he had kept it wide open for the full 80-second fuel limit he would have gone much faster.

A NASA spokesman called Walker "the first hypersonic aircraft pilot" — meaning he was the first to fly a winged vehicle five times the speed of sound.

U.S. astronaut Alan B. Shepard Jr., hit a speed of 5,100 m.p.h. on his 115-mile-high capsule ride May 5, and Soviet Yuri A. Gagarin reached 17,000 m.p.h. in his orbit around the earth April 12.

Both, however, were in bullet-like projectiles unable to control the direction of their missile-boosted craft.

Walker dropped away from the B52 mother ship at a height of 45,000 feet near Tonopah, Nev., 200 miles northeast. Longest previous X15 flight was 160 miles and lasted 10 minutes.

Walker deliberately kept his altitude low Thursday, nosing over at 110,000 feet for the glide back to this desert test center 100 miles north of Los Angeles. The X15 has gone to 169,600 feet, a record set by Walker March 30.

AID Program Step in Right Direction

The planned tuition increase at the University next fall ($50 yearly for in-state and $100 yearly for out-of-state residents) is certain to create an added financial burden on a number of SUI students. Indeed, it may well mean that due to the additional costs, students who ordinarily would attend SUI will no longer be able to do so. It is because of this that programs must be developed to financially assist needy and capable students in gaining entrance and remaining at the University.

A program for this purpose has been initiated by the Student Senate and its president, John Niemeier. The Senate Wednesday night unanimously endorsed Niemeier's plan to set up a student-organized scholarship fund at SUI. The project has been labeled "AID" — Assist Iowa Development.

The new program will be aimed at assisting students who face financial difficulty and have shown above average academic achievement. It will seek to aid both in-state and out-of-state residents.

Plans for raising funds for the program include soliciting donations from parents of students in the University, appealing to business and service organizations on a statewide basis, and presenting on-campus benefits such as variety shows, carnivals and auctions.

Project AID will be coordinated with similar University sponsored programs. Niemeier has said he hopes to reach a goal of $10,000 in order to have scholarships available by second semester of the next school year.

Further encouragement for the success of the plan stems from the apparent favorable reaction from the Administration. Niemeier reported that the program, which will be administered by faculty and Administration personnel, has been especially well received by Loren Hickerson and Joseph Meyer of the Alumni Foundation. It is hoped that part of the program will be coordinated with the activities of the Old Gold Development Fund.

Now — with the Iowa Legislature adjourned — hopes for increased appropriations are dormant for the next two years. Steps have to be taken in other directions to raise money enough to maintain a strong faculty and University. The Board of Regents was forced to increase the tuition. Now it is the duty of the University and organizations in it to take steps toward finding scholarship funds to help balance that tuition boost.

The Student Senate AID program is a step in the right direction. While it is only in its infant stage, it is apparent that Niemeier has devoted much work and thought to the plan and its development.

We join with him in urging its further success.

A Change in Kennedy

By J. M. ROBERTS
Associated Press News Analyst

President Kennedy has called the nation "born of revolution and raised in freedom," to a war of attitudes as well as of money and physical power.

Gene is the Kennedy who spoke not so long ago of unwillingness among the people to pay his estimated price of victory.

The people, he says now, have responded. "It is heartening to know, as I journey abroad to meet De Gaulle of France and Khrushchev of the Soviet Union, that our country is united in its commitment to freedom — and ready to do its duty."

Gene is the Kennedy who for a time confused even his well-wishers with his emphasis on domestic planning in a world where "fires smoldered around the edges and threatened to set the whole structure ablaze."

Though sticking firmly to his concept of the image which America must present in the attainment of her potential greatness, the President's message Thursday finally achieved a packaging of these elements and those measures required "for a great positive adventure" into the search for human freedom.

Money wove its way throughout the message. Money for space, money for military strength, money — much more money — for the security of the people against possible bombing attacks. Money for economic and educational development not just of Americans, but for the human race.

Many foreigners, asked whether the United States can best spend her money on the dramatic space competition with Soviet Russia on military preparedness of the non-Communist world, or on irrigation and health and economic relief.

"The United States cannot choose. She must do everything," he said. "We stand for democratic revolution of social progress. We stand for diversity, honest disagreements and mutual respect," said the President.

"We intend to go the last mile in patience."

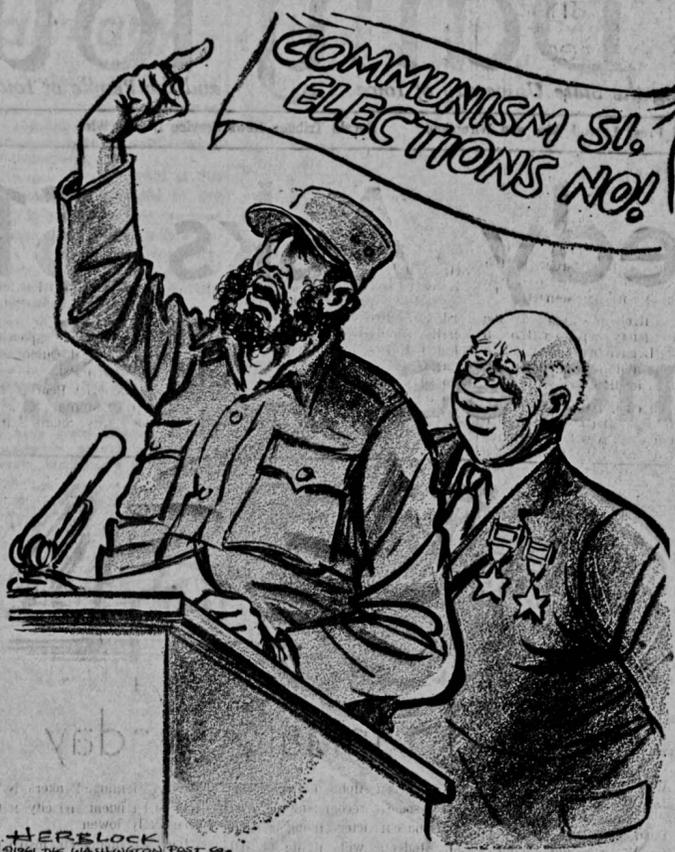

"Preserve the independence and equality of nations and bring about world peace under law."

"Practice democracy at home."

"Whatever mankind must undertake, free men must fully share."

"Seek no conquests, no satellites, no riches."

This is speaking not only of money, not only of rockets, not only of the presentation of an economic and social image in an appeal to the material senses of men; but also of attitudes, and of promise beyond materialism.

Road Needs Based on Gains In Population, Motor Vehicles

By JIM SEDA
Managing Editor

Iowa's highway program has not kept pace with the increase in population and vehicles and the growth of industry within the state.

For more than three decades, a drive for more and better roads has been in progress. Yet in the '60s, drivers must still face tedious drives over stretches of narrow, crooked and cracked highways.

An estimate, based on past trends, indicates that in the next 20 years Iowa will gain 400,000 more people. That means a population of 3.15 million by 1980.

Along with this rise in population will come a 40 per cent increase in the number of motor vehicles. That adds up to 1.8 million cars, trucks and buses.

POPULATION AND MOTOR vehicle increases will also push up the total travel mileage 70 per cent. Drivers will be traveling 20 billion miles annually on Iowa's highways.

How can the comfort and safety be provided for these drivers if we are lagging now?

In an attempt to answer this question, a report was presented to the Iowa Highway Study Committee last November. Entitled "Iowa Highway Needs 1960-1980," it is based on a 15-month study by the Automotive Safety Foundation.

The report estimates that all of the 400,000 population increase will go to cities. This growth of city dwellers will increase the burden upon existing streets.

In addition, as urban areas spread out, more roads and streets will be necessary to carry the traffic to the central business districts.

ness districts.

This is not intended to de-emphasize the need for adequate rural highway service. Although the population trend is shifting to urban areas, rural dwellers still will require travel facilities to market their farm products.

TRAFFIC STUDIES indicate that rural dwellers drive about 36 per cent of the miles traveled in Iowa. The remaining 64 per cent is traveled by people living in incorporated urban towns.

All farm land within the state has attained full development, the report states. Therefore, trends will be toward fewer and larger farms with fewer workers.

Because of this, future emphasis should be on better main market roads, on which traffic is concentrated. The less traveled roads should require less improvement.

Not only will these main roads furnish faster, more economical market roads, they will also provide better routes for transportation of raw materials. Considering Iowa's recent attempts to attract industry, this should be one of the important factors that would induce manufacturers to locate within the state.

HIGHWAY NEEDS for the next two decades are divided into three categories in the report — Primary Road, Municipal Street and County Road. Three alternative financing programs are suggested for each.

Continued reconstruction of two-lane roads to modern standards is the main objective of the Primary Road System needs. Width, curvature and surface of roads will require the greatest attention.

A second objective includes expanding street-widening programs, building new facilities and developing better traffic control. Cooperation between cities, towns and the state would be necessary.

The third objective of the Primary Road System is continuation of the 700-mile interstate program of multi-lane freeways. An expansion of the freeway system — in both rural and urban areas — is recommended to meet Iowa's needs for major routes between metropolitan and regional centers.

Another recommendation is repeal of the existing state law prohibiting diagonal roads to cities with more than 100,000 population. Because of this law, the highway engineers are now prevented from providing the most direct route between two major cities.

Tractors-for-Prisoners Called International Blackmail

The premier of the Cuban Soviet Socialist Republic, one Fidel Castro, estimates that the lives of two and two-tenths Cuban prisoners ought to be worth one bulldozer or one truck with spare parts. He gives the United States 10 days to come through — or else.

The fact that such Americans as Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, Dr. Milton Eisenhower, Walter Reuther, Joseph P. Dodge, and others, instantly volunteer to help raise the money to buy the freedom of the 1,200 Cubans who were captured during the invasion shows that the plight of the Freedom fighters instinctively touches the heart and conscience of this nation. The money is already coming in.

I am not sure this is the way to help Cuba or the United States or enslaved people anywhere. But if we are going through with it — let us recognize what we are doing, name this Castro thing for what it is and not pretend that the U.S. Government somehow has nothing to do with it.

This is crude, brazen, high handed international blackmail perpetrated by a political dictator who is proposing to trade human beings for metal in order to make himself stronger.

This is a dangerous business. Once a nation yields to blackmail, where does it stop? What next? If we yield up 500 trucks and bulldozers to Castro, aren't we inviting some other country to throw a few Americans in prison to trade for a dozen airplanes, a steel mill, or a low-interest loan?

There is no way whatsoever to make this Castro thing a little detached, personal deal between a few private American citizens and somebody or other in Havana — with the Government of the United States involved.

Administration officials would like to keep the government out of it.

It seems to me impossible. After a conference at the White House, Speaker Sam Rayburn reported: "The President said the Federal Government is out of it and going to stay out of it."

Mrs. Roosevelt said: "We have the agreement of the Government. We got permission beforehand."

The hard fact is that the deal cannot be brought off without some Government participation. The Logan Act makes it unlawful for private citizens to negotiate with a foreign government "with intent to influence its conduct in any disputes or controversies with the United States."

President Kennedy says he is advised that the Logan Act is not involved because the people-for-tractors deal is not a "controversy." But since Castro has stated that he views the tractor "gift" as "indemnity" or reparations for the invasion, there seems to me a very real controversy here.

I cannot see how the Americans can go to Havana to negotiate the prisoner-tractor arrangement without breaking the law unless they have the authority of the Government. If they have this authority, then the United States makes itself a partner to the deal.

If this deal is to be realized, as its sponsors have described it, then the United States will have to participate at four points: The Government will have to issue export licenses for the machinery issue visas for the negotiators, authorize them to negotiate so as not to violate the Logan Act, and make tax-deductible contributions. The latter action means that the United States would be paying for part of the cost.

All this is why Sen. William J. Fulbright, chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee, has said: "I agree that our Government should not in any way lend itself to this kind of blackmailing operation."

Sen. Styles Bridges of New Hampshire put it this way on the floor of the Senate: "Not since the days of Hitler, when the infamous Eichmann offered to trade one Jew for one truck, has the civilized world been confronted with such a heinous barter. Would it not be far more humanitarian to exchange food and medical supplies?"

The point is that all the Cuban people, not just the captured invasion fighters, are Castro's prisoners. It seems to me that our objective and the objective of the Organization of American States should be to free the Cuban nation, not just a few of its people.

Good Listening— Today On WSUI

A CERTAIN CONFUSION exists about the starting times of operatic presentations at WSUI. Even within the station the time for any given Evening-at-the-Opera to begin may be erroneously inter-communicated. There is, however, a very simple reason for all this uncertainty: confusion.

The fact is that composers of opera have differed a good bit among themselves as to just what may be the ideal length of an opera. Wagner, for example, tended to go on and on just as though the audience had nowhere else to go that week (often they didn't, as a matter of fact); on the other hand, some composers have come up with one-act works so brief as to be missed entirely by an unlucky patron searching for his program under the seats.

From this musicological message you may easily detect the source of the confusion at WSUI: begin two consecutive operas at the same time and everybody assumes that the starting time is henceforth inexorably linked to that particular hour. Tonight, you might say, is another case in point: a new recording of "Carmen" under the musical direction of the late Sir Thomas Beecham. Being somewhat shorter than next week's "La Forza del Destino," "Carmen" will begin later (the longer "La Forza," of course, will begin earlier). Now you're probably wondering, "Just what time will the English language version of Bizet's opera with Victoria de Los Angeles in the title role begin?" Actually, it just may start at... oh, about... I should say...

How does 7 p.m. strike you? AVOID THE RUSH to the dial (to see if the opera really DOES start at 7) by tuning in earlier for our stable, old Evening Concert — which has never begun at any other time than... ah... 6 p.m. I think it is. Tonight's EC will have four small works by four good-sized composers.

IT'S PROBABLY TOO SOON to expect newspaper reaction to the President's address to Congress yesterday; but today's Editorial Page (at 12:45 p.m.) will more than likely derive its substance from the same world and national problems which moved Mr. Kennedy.

NQTA BENE: There will be no more baseball broadcasts.

Flotsam and Jetsam

By JUDY KLEMESRUD
DI Columnist

T.G.I.F., and dissension over a "Unauthorized Supplement" causes a split in the Socialist Discussion Club. Oh well, a purge or two now and then is good for any group.

OFF THE RECORDS

According to John Niemeier, Student Senate president, every Senate member represents 623 students. The Office of Student Affairs lists 628 single graduate and undergraduate coeds living off campus, where they might assume that Brenda Shirley, A3, Perry, newly elected Town Women representative, represents FIVE coeds! The situation could be rationalized by claiming that Janet Spading, the other Town Women representative, and Miss Shirley each represent 314 coeds, but what about the Greek-affiliated girls living at home who are represented by Panhellenic and yet are considered "Town Women?"

George Tresnak, A3, Cedar Rapids, contributes the following verse, and says he was "inspired after being struck with a name-tag pin during the Miss SUI campaign last fall":

STUDENT "BODY" CANDIDATE
Over her eyes a glaze, 't would seem
Behind that far-off gaze a dream:
Will she be queen of that or this?
(She longs to be some organization's "Miss.")
She's the epitome of artificiality,
Preoccupied with triviality,
Although her pulchritude may never be denied,
Her choosing of renown should be decreed,
By acceptance of the sceptre and the crown
She'll play less the role of queen than clown.

ONE SUI prof says he's going to give final grades according to suitans, with the pale students receiving the A's and the bronzed students getting the F's. B's, C's, and D's will be given according to in-between shades. "I will assume the pale students have been in the library studying," he remarked. You have a point, prof, but what about those who study OUTDOORS?

TOUGH DARTS!
"If the Regents force Iowa State to abandon the quarter system, they'll be lucky if they have five students and one professor left," said ISU freshman Bruce Page during a recent SUI visit. "Why do you say that? Both SUI and Teachers College are on semester systems, and nothing drastic has happened to them," replied an SUI coed. "It's not the semester we object to," he said. "It's all the vacation time we'll lose!"

After hearing an SUI male utter a disparaging remark about certain coed cosmetic practices, I was reminded of a hometown acquaintance, Ronnie Harkness, who used to work part-time hauling coal. Ronnie's appearance after a hard day's work prompted the following poem:

"DARK EYES"
You can always tell a freshman girl
By the globs of black on her eyes.
She knows not that shadow, mascara, and such
Give a "Coal Mine Look" that's not worth muck.

CLASS CAPERS
"Civil War newspaper officers were called 'falsies' because of their poor construction," said Prof. Walter Steigleman in his History of Mass Communications class Wednesday. The class chuckled. "I guess the word had a different connotation now," he mused. "Yeah," said a front-row student, "teeth."

In the same class, Moses Beach, early newspaper publisher, and his son were being discussed. "I guess that would make him a son of a Beach," quipped a back-row student.

NEUTRALS CONFER

Coelho, to join the Carlo Ambassador Azim Hussain at preparatory talks starting June 5 on the proposed summit conference of neutral and uncommitted nations. U.A.R. President Gamal Abdel Nasser expects to rally 20 nations for the preliminary conference.

For Junior Hobos

A tasty cooked dinner in a one-pound coffee or shortening can will please a young hobo or fisherman and his pals. Oil the cans and place an uncooked hamburger patty on the bottom. Carrot strips, slices of tomato and whole kernel corn go on top. Season with salt and pepper, cover and bake in an oven preheated to 400 degrees for 30 minutes. Tie the cans in red kerchiefs and don't forget the stick. A box of cookies and apples tucked into the fishing paraphernalia will suffice for dessert.

MEMORIAL DAY MENU
Roast leg of lamb, new potatoes and peas in cream sauce, buttered carrots, strawberry and rhubarb pie — a menu that can be cooked early in the morning.

Jim Lemon's 11th Inning Single Lifts Twins Past Tigers 7-6

Pardon Me, Steve

Second baseman Billy Gardner, Minnesota Twins, is balanced on his hands after making throw to first base and falling on Steve Boros, Detroit, who slid into second base in the third inning of a game Thursday. Boros was out on the start of a double play. The Twins won the game 7-6.

ST. PAUL-MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Jim Lemon's single to left field in the 11th inning drove home Lennie Green with the winning run as the Minnesota Twins edged the Detroit Tigers 7-6 Thursday.

Green had doubled to lead off the inning and went to third on a sacrifice by Reno Bertoia. After Harmon Killebrew was intentionally passed, Lemon came through with his blow off reliever Jim Donohue.

Minnesota pinch hitters twice brought the Twins from behind to tie the score.

In the ninth inning, a pinch double by Dan Dobbek and a run-scoring single by pinch hitter Bertoia tied the count 5-5. After Billy Branton's homer put the Tigers back in front in the 10th, Hal Narragon came through with the Twins' third pinch hit, scoring Bob Allison.

The victory went to Paul Giel, his first in the American League.

Detroit scored five runs in the first off starter Pete Ramos on two home runs. Al Kaline hit his third in three days with two on and Norm Cash cracked his eighth with one aboard.

Ramos then blanked the American League leaders on two hits through the ninth.

After scoring three runs in the fourth on Lemon's two-run homer and Earl Battey's solo run, trippler, the Twins came back with one in the eighth on two walks and two singles.

Home runs — Detroit, Kaline (2), Cash (8), Branton (2), Minnesota, Lemon (3), Battey (3).

Baltimore Dumps White Sox 6-4

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Baltimore Orioles scored six runs in the first two innings on two singles and nine walks, and held on for a 6-4 victory over the Chicago White Sox Thursday night.

Chicago's starter and loser, lefty Herb Score, failed to retire a batter in the first inning and left with the bases loaded and three runs across the plate.

The White Sox scored three runs in the fourth on a three-run homer by Sherman Lollar and added another in the fifth on two walks, a long fly which advanced a runner, and a double steal.

Home runs — Detroit, Kaline (2), Cash (8), Branton (2), Minnesota, Lemon (3), Battey (3).

NEW YORK (AP) — Johnny Blanchard and Tony Kubek crashed two-run homers as the New York Yankees defeated the Boston Red Sox 6-4 Thursday night and southpaw Whitey Ford won his sixth in a row with relief help from Luis Arroyo.

Ford, whose lone loss came in the season opener, blanked the Red Sox on two singles until Jackie Jensen belted a three-run homer in the seventh inning. Ford had retired 14 in a row before giving up his only two walks — to Carroll Hardy and Carl Yastrzemski.

A's Beat Senators Despite Long Ball

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Joe Nuxhall pitched Kansas City to a 4-3 victory over Washington Thursday despite home runs by Willie Tasby and Gene Green of the Senators.

It was the second triumph for Nuxhall who has lost once. The defeat was the fifth in a row for starter Dick Donovan of the Senators who pitched six-hit ball through seven innings. Johnny Klippstein finished up for Washington.

The A's scored in the first inning when Dick Howser walked, stole second and went to third on a passed ball before scoring on Al Pilarcik's groundout.

More Players Involved In Spreading Scandal

NEW YORK (AP) — District attorneys and college officials in many parts of the nation buzzed Thursday from the impact of the mushrooming basketball scandal already involving 28 players, 17 schools and 39 games.

Alfred J. Scotti, chief assistant district attorney in New York, refused to discuss any possible future developments except to say, "The investigation is continuing. We still are concentrating on fixes."

Ray Paprocky, New York University star who was one of 12 new names brought into the scandal Wednesday, said in an interview, "I'll never get the big guys."

Dist. Atty. Frank S. Hogan said Paprocky admitted receiving $2,300 to shave points in four games last season.

"After you reach the Hackens (Joseph Hacken, 48, New York, who has been indicted on 17 counts of bribery and one of conspiracy) it goes to the top and no one tells on them," Paprocky continued. "They'd put a bullet in the guy who talks. The ones they have now, they'll never open up. They're afraid."

From Raleigh, N. C., came word that Lester Chalmers, the district solicitor prosecutor said more warrants probably will be issued in connection with the scandals after he makes another trip to New York next week. He said he had talked at length with New York officials after Wednesday's developments.

Pepper Martin Runs Wild

By JOE REICHLER and BEN OLAN

Little Jim Beatty Will Try for Mile Record Saturday

MODESTO, Calif. — A year ago, little Jim Beatty came virtually out of nowhere to win the featured mile at the California Relays here and set an American citizen's record of 3 minutes 58 seconds.

His mark held until Wednesday when Dyrrol Bursleson of Oregon bettered both it and Australian Herb Elliott's U.S. record with a 3:57.6.

Beatty goes out to regain his place in the record books on Saturday when he again races in the open mile at the California Relays. Bursleson isn't listed in the race but on a distance relay team.

Last year, Bursleson was the favored miler here, but Beatty, a 130-pound Carolinian running for the Santa Clara Youth Village in California, surprised everyone with his victory.

They called John Leonard (Pepper) Martin the "Wild Horse of the Osage." He was probably responsible more than any other individual for the St. Louis Cardinal's gashouse reputation. He was one of the most spectacular players the game has ever known.

Barrel-chested, broad-shouldered, with a great competitive spirit, he was a picturesque figure as he charged the bases like an express train or took off in a flying leap on one of his hands-first slides.

He joined the Redbirds in 1931 and forced the club to give him regular work, after spending half the season doing utility and pinch-hitting chores. He burst into Branch Rickey's office one day and insisted: "Trade me or play me. I'm tired of riding the bench."

Pepper became the regular center fielder in mid-season, and for years thereafter he was the club's most colorful figure, other than Dizzy Dean. He was a bundle of energy, couldn't sit still for a minute, and was unpredictable.

When he first reported to the Cards, he wore khaki trousers and a hunting jacket. He had a week's growth of beard, and his face was smeared with dirt and oil. Later, after he became a star on the Redbirds, he often reported to the park looking much the same.

He took up midget auto racing and spent the early morning tinkering with his car. He would just have time to reach the park for batting practice, his face, hair, and hands still covered with grease.

Pepper batted .300 and stole 16 bases in 1931 to help the Cardinals win the National League pennant. That year the Athletics won 107 games, the highest victory total of their history; Al Simmons won the batting title with .390; Lefty Grove had his greatest year, 31 victories against only 4 defeats. Yet, the Cards wore them down in the World Series.

It was in this Series that Pepper Martin, the Wild Horse of the Osage, galloped to national fame. His name became a household word in the nation as he hit .500, his 12 blows including 4 doubles and a homer. And he virtually stole the shinguards from Mickey Cochrane, great Athletic catcher, getting away with five stolen bases.

Lefty Grove whipped the Cardinals 6-2 in the opener, but Martin got three hits, a double, and two singles, and stole a base.

The Cards evened it up the next day as Bill Hallahan hurled a 2-0 three-hit shutout against George Earnshaw. The Cards got only six hits, two of them by Martin who stole second each time and converted the hits into the two St. Louis runs.

In the second inning, he doubled, stole third, and came home on Jimmy Wilson's fly. In the seventh, he singled, stole second, advanced to third on an infield out, and scored on Charley Gelbert's squeeze bunt.

Although he failed to steal, Martin ran wild again in the third game, won by the Cards 5-2. Pepper singled in the second, doubled in the fourth, and scored each time.

Earnshaw tied it up for the Mackmen, hurling a two-hit shut-out in the fourth game, and winning 3-0. Martin got both hits. After singling in the fifth, he stole second, sliding into the base on his stomach.

The only other Cardinal to reach base was Frankie Frisch, who walked in the fourth inning. The A's got to Sylvester Johnson, the St. Louis starter, for a run in the first on a single by Max Bishop and a double by Simmons. Jimmy Foxx homered over the left field pavilion in the sixth. The A's picked up their final run in the seventh on Bing Miller's double and Jimmy Dykes' single.

Hallahan gave the Cards a 3-2 edge, winning the fifth game, 5-1. Martin again turned the game inside out with a homer and two singles; the Oklahoman batted in four of the five runs, but he didn't steal any bases.

After Philadelphia won the sixth game 6-1, the Cards, behind Burleigh Grimes and Bill Hallahan, won the finale, 4-2.

Although Martin didn't get a hit in the final two games, he became a national hero and was engaged for an extensive vaudeville tour at $1,500 a week. After four weeks Pepper suddenly called it off, tossing away $7,500 for five additional weeks, with the remark, "I ain't no actor; I'm a ball player."

Iowa Ranks 4th in Big 10 Standings for 12 Sports

The University of Iowa finished fourth in the Big Ten composite "power rating" standing in sports for 1960-61, as Michigan, winner of five team titles and two second places, topped the league.

Iowa had a power rating of 6.2. The leader, Michigan, had 7.9, followed by Indiana with 7.2; and Michigan State with 7.0.

The standing is figured by giving each team 10 points for first, nine for second, etc. This total then is divided by the number of sports in which a university competed. Twelve sports is the maximum and nine the minimum.

Rankings of the other universities: 5, Illinois, 6.09; 6, Minnesota, 6.0; 7, Ohio State, 5.4; Purdue, 4.8; 9, Northwestern, 4.2; and 10, Wisconsin, 3.4.

Iowa's position was gained by a tie for first in football, tie for second in basketball, second in cross country, third in indoor track, fourth in outdoor track and wrestling, fifth in gymnastics and fencing, sixth in swimming and golf, eighth in baseball and 10th in tennis.

The Hawkeyes at the end of the fall and winter sports season ranked first with 7.44 but the four spring teams pulled Iowa down to fourth since only one, track, finished among the conference's first five.

U. S. COMPANIES SEEK GRADUATES FOR FOREIGN TRADE CAREERS

U.S. foreign trade is booming and so is the demand for college graduates trained in that field, according to international trade specialists at The American Institute for Foreign Trade, world-famed post-graduate school in Phoenix, Arizona, for the training of young college graduates genuinely interested in a career overseas with U.S. business or government.

R. S. Roberts, vice president of The American Institute and widely-known foreign trade authority, who last year completed 11 years in Brazil as a Sears of Brazil executive, as the originator of the first supermarket chain in Brazil, and finally as a consultant to U.S., foreign, and Brazilian firms, said that U.S. international businesses had invested $32 billion overseas as of last year, representing a 17.2% average increase per year. He placed the earnings from these foreign investments at $3 billion, 700 million. U.S. foreign sales totaled $64 billion, with exports at $21 billion and sales by U.S. foreign subsidiaries at $43 billion of the total.

Roberts, a 1948 graduate of the Institute, applauded the major role played by the 3,000 graduates of this 15-year-old school in the meteoric rise of U.S. foreign trade.

Senator Barry Goldwater, Arizona, member of the Institute board of directors, in a recent speech on the U.S. Senate floor, called American Institute alumni "America's best-trained and most highly-respected corps of goodwill ambassadors." He described the Institute as private industry's training ground for its corps of junior executives in 78 foreign nations.

annually at The American Institute for Foreign Trade by more than 500 U.S. international business and banking firms. Fifty per cent of the 1960-61 graduates had college majors in liberal arts or sciences. Forty-five per cent had majored in business administration.

Cited by U.S. and foreign industrialists, educators, and high government officials, as America's most effectual institution for the practical training of college graduates in foreign trade, The American Institute offers a 3-part curriculum designed to train its potential junior executives in day-to-day foreign trade techniques, the living culture of the peoples of world market areas, and a foreign language. Recruiters from U.S. international firms have made it clear that they equate general cultural knowledgeability, a properly-adjusted attitude toward an overseas career, and aptitude when they select Institute graduates.

About 250 carefully-screened young men are graduated yearly. The post-graduate course of study lasts two semesters and starts from the beginning both in September and in January.

Industry and government officials say there is no institution of comparable stature where determined college graduates may so effectively groom themselves for a lucrative career abroad. Senator Goldwater predicts that most Americans who become business leaders in trade centers around the world in the next few years will have been trained "specifically at The American Institute for Foreign Trade." (For more detailed information, please communicate with The Registrar, The American Institute for Foreign Trade, P.O. Box 191, Phoenix, Arizona; telephone 938-0001.)

Zoning Proposal Discussed

Zoning and redevelopment proposals for the Iowa City business district were reviewed Wednesday night at a meeting of the Iowa City Chamber of Commerce.

In charge of the presentation were Ray W. Vanderhoef, chairman of the chamber's new Redevelopment Committee, and Atty. William V. Phelan, chairman of the Future Planning Committee. This latter group has been studying the proposed new zoning ordinance for Iowa City.

Three members of the Planning and Zoning Commission, Atty. Charles Barker, now chairman, Joseph W. Howe, head of the Mechanics and Hydraulic Department and immediate past chairman, and Allen C. Tester, professor of geology reviewed the background and provisions of the proposed new ordinance.

Vanderhoef said the purposes of the Redevelopment Committee include study and discussion of any proposal which will benefit the business district, beautify it, improve traffic patterns, bring in new retail business and aid in long-range planning.

He pointed out that the committee was established after the presentation of a suggested plan for redevelopment by Robert J. Wheeler, assistant professor of civil engineering.

The committee had discussed the so-called Wheeler report, including malls and one-way streets and has investigated urban renewal plans and projects in other cities.

Vanderhoef cited the program of reconstruction of the central business district at Urbana, Ill. He said members of his committee soon will make a first-hand study of the Urbana plans.

Barker stressed that zoning is a key part of a comprehensive plan for the orderly development of the community.

Zoning, Professor Howe declared, has four purposes: to control land use, to control population densities, to control types of buildings and to protect property values.

The new zoning ordinance calls for five residential classifications, Professor Tester said: two single family, one two-family, and two multiple housing unit areas. In addition there are four commercial areas — basically the central business district, a somewhat more restrictive business district, a shopping center area, and a highway business area.

Also provided for are a heavy industrial classification and a light industrial area. Because of Iowa City's characteristics, there also is provided a University zone and a flood plain area, Tester pointed out.

An $11,000 grant has been awarded to SUI by the National Science Foundation for a research project in mathematics.

Entitled "Complete Ideals in Local Domains" the project is to be undertaken by H. T. Muhly, professor of mathematics, as principal investigator and Motoyoshi Sakuma, a visiting lecturer in mathematics at SUI, as associate investigator. Sakuma is on leave from Tokushima University, Japan.

Work on the new commutative algebra problem will begin this summer.

Test Takes 5 Hours —

Start Peace Corps Exams

Exam week starts early for Iowans who want to become Peace Corps volunteers.

At 8:30 a.m. Saturday these hopefuls will face a 5 1/2 hour testing session at the Post Office in Iowa City in order to qualify for the program.

To take the examination applicants must fill out a questionnaire that is available at the Office of Student Affairs.

Those who have not filled out this information sheet prior to the exam may do so at the testing center and will be allowed to take the test if circumstances permit.

Preference, however, will be given to those who submit their forms early.

The Saturday examination will be for volunteers in elementary education, English teaching, agriculture, animal husbandry, engineering, surveying, and geology. A college degree is not required.

A second test will be given June 5 for liberal arts and teachers' college graduates for teaching English, biology, chemistry, physics, and mathematics in secondary schools.

One or both of the tests can be taken, but those who wish to be eligible for the entire program should take both.

All candidates will take the Entrance Test that measures intelligence and learning ability; knowledge of American history, institutions, and values; language aptitude or achievement; and job competence. A biographical data blank and a health inventory must be filled out by all.

Optional tests will assess specific skills in such areas as teaching ability, farming and animal husbandry, basic mechanical engineering, basic health, and child care. These tests are concerned with job competence. Later tests and interviews will assess personality qualifications.

There will be no such thing as a passing score. Different projects will require different abilities so someone who scores low in one area may score so well in another that he will prove to be the ideal person for an assignment.

Besides Iowa City, other Iowa testing centers will be located in Ames, Burlington, Cedar Falls, Davenport, Des Moines, Mason City, Sioux City, and Waterloo.

ENGINEERING OFFICERS Tau Beta Pi, national engineering honor society, has elected officers for next year.

Elected were: Gerald Moeller, Esq., Davenport, president; Hong Kyu Kim, Esq., Seoul, Korea, vice president; Edwin Houser, Esq., Marengo, recording secretary; Charles Wells, Esq., Iowa City, corresponding secretary; Duane Snyder, Esq., Davenport, treasurer; Kenneth Price, Esq., Sioux City, catalogueur.
