Rusk Urges U.N. To Name Leader

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The United States urged the U.N. General Assembly Friday to defy Soviet opposition and name an outstanding world leader as temporary secretary-general.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk issued a statement asking quick action as the 99-nation assembly plunged into opening policy debate.

The situation created by the death of Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold and the Berlin crisis quickly emerged as the two top issues troubling world leaders.

Zentaro Kosaka, Japanese foreign minister, told the assembly his country could not support the Soviet troika plan for a three-man U.N. executive, made up of representatives of the Communist, Western and neutral nations.

"Such a system would bring into the key position in the United Nations, conflicts that exist between different political philosophies and systems, paralyze the functions of the secretariat and destroy the very basis of its international neutrality," he declared.

Hossein Ghods Nakhai, Iranian foreign minister, said troika would deal a mortal blow to the United Nations.

The Iranian and Japanese foreign ministers, along with Brazilian Foreign Minister Afonso Arinos de Melo Franco, all appealed for a negotiated settlement of the Berlin crisis.

The Brazilian expressed hope that President Kennedy and Soviet Premier Khrushchev would reach a compromise on Berlin.

Kosaka said the only way is through negotiations. He backed the Western view that four-power rule over Berlin cannot be set aside by any one power.

The Iranian appealed to both East and West to rule out use of force in the Berlin crisis.

Rusk's views were disclosed in a statement distributed at the United Nations and delivered also in a speech to the Foreign Press Association in New York.

It gave impetus to a move by a group of middle-of-the-road countries who were behind a proposed resolution to name a stop-gap head for the U.N. secretariat. More than 30 countries were reported to have

Reds Detain U.S. Soldiers

BERLIN (AP) — The United States fired off a strong protest at the Soviet Union Friday because of the detention by East German police of two American soldiers.

The two were held by Communist police for six hours Thursday on a trip westward along the road linking Berlin and West Germany. They were released after a Soviet officer intervened and continued their journey to Helmstedt, where they are stationed.

A U.S. announcement said the protest was sent by the U.S. commandant, Maj. Gen. Albert Watson II, to the Soviet commandant in East Berlin, Col. Andrei I. Solovjev.

The Allies contend that under four-power rules the East German police have no right to interfere with the travel of members of Allied garrisons along the road.

About the same time the protest was being filed, three U.S. soldiers were dropped by helicopter into Steinstuecken, a tiny part of West Berlin separated from it by a mile-wide strip of Communist territory.

Gen. Lucius D. Clay, President Kennedy's special representative in Berlin, paid a morale-boosting visit to the Steinstuecken enclave Thursday.

A spokesman of the U.S. Army's Berlin command said the action of dropping the soldiers was "part of the regular patrol of all portions of the American sector border."

Mayor Lewis, 2 Others To Run on C.M.A. Ticket

Iowa City Mayor Mrs. Thelma B. Lewis, City Councilman James H. Nesmith and an engineer in SU's Planning and Construction Department, Phil C. Englert were endorsed as candidates for the Iowa City Council by the Council-Manager Association Thursday.

Ben E. Summerwill, C.M.A. president, said the three candidates have agreed to run on the C.M.A. ticket for the November 7 election. Under this understanding, Summerwill noted, the candidates will run without political affiliation listed next to their names on the ballot.

Mrs. Lewis was nominated to serve the balance of the 4-year term left by the late Norwood C. Lewis, who was elected in 1959.

Nesmith, who has been serving Lewis' term by appointment, and Englert were each nominated for four year terms.

The endorsement of the three raises the total running for the three council positions to seven. There has been speculation that because of the number, a city primary election may be required. It would be held October 24.

The other four candidates are Max Youm, 520 Second Ave., Kenneth Mulford, 813 Rundell St., Howard E. Carroll, 25 E. Burlington St. and Ward R. McCutcheon, 2220 H St.

New Move by Khrushchev Confuses West's Diplomats

Cloudy Hopes Of Congress Adjournment

Foreign Aid Fight, Threatened Filibuster To Prolong Session

WASHINGTON (AP) — A deadlock over foreign aid and a junior-grade filibuster on migrant labor Friday clouded hopes for adjournment of Congress Saturday night.

The Senate-House conferees charged with hammering out a compromise on the chambers' two foreign aid money bills didn't even meet Friday. A session had been tentatively set, but it was called off.

Rep. Otto Passman (D-La.), the head of the House conferees, said he knew the senators were occupied with other appropriations measures still pending there and would find it difficult to meet with the House group.

Presumably, the conferees will get together today but no time was announced.

Lacking anything to act on, the House recessed until Saturday.

However, Sen. Everett M. Dirksen, the Republican Senate leader from Illinois, told newsmen that hours of argument have reduced the difference to about $200 million on the bill which will provide around $4 billion for President Kennedy's new overseas program.

Dirksen was optimistic that a compromise "not too unacceptable" to either side would emerge in time to permit adjournment.

The Senate majority leader Sen. Mike Mansfield (D-Mont.), was in at least qualified agreement with Dirksen but amended the Republican's Saturday night estimate with the phrase "or Sunday morning." This seemed to indicate he is prepared to hold the Senate in session through Saturday night if necessary.

Roaring '20s Star Davies Dies at 64

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Marion Davies, a fabulous star in a fabulous era, died Friday after three years' illness from cancer. She was 64.

At her bedside were her husband, Capt. Horace Brown, a physician and two nurses.

Death came at 7 p.m. at Cedars of Lebanon Hospital, where she had been a patient since last May 18. She underwent jaw surgery June 7 for osteomyelitis — inflammation of the bone marrow.

Twelve days after the operation Miss Davies fell in her hospital room and broke her left leg.

She had been in a coma for two days when death came. Besides those at her bedside at the end, several relatives had maintained a vigil outside her hospital room.

Brown, 62, her husband of 10 years, is a former merchant marine skipper.

For 40 years Miss Davies lived in the grand manner of Hollywood's 1920s. In her screen heyday an orchestra played mood music on her sets.

Champagne flowed in her dressing room during three-hour lunch breaks. For 15 years she occupied a beach home with 55 bathrooms, 37 fireplaces and 32 servants. Mansion and furnishings were estimated to have cost $4 million.

The blonde Miss Davies was a New York judge's daughter who became a Ziegfeld Follies showgirl, a model and then, still in her teens, a movie star.

In the early 1920s the late publisher, William Randolph Hearst, formed International Films and made a star of her.

Miss Davies was a leader in movieland social life. For her an intimate dinner was for 50. The tab for a cocktail party might be $30,000.

She had a fortune in the millions, with real estate holdings ranging from New York City office buildings to California resort hotels.

Her marriage to Brown in October 1931 was her first and his third. Both were party-loving, prank-loving extroverts and their marriage was at times stormy. Twice she sued for divorce, but each time withdrew the actions.

British Sharply Deny Link in Dag's Death

LONDON (AP) — A British government minister Friday night sharply rejected accusations that Britain was somehow implicated in the air crash that killed Dag Hammarskjold. The crash was on British soil in Northern Rhodesia.

The rejection apparently was in response to assertions by newspapers in India and Ghana suggesting Britain had something to do with the death of the U.N. Secretary-General.

The India and Ghana governments have made no such suggestions but British policy on the Congo and Katanga is under fire from these Commonwealth partners.

Prime Minister Nehru last week termed Britain's Katanga policy "scandalous" but did not list specific complaints.

Edward Heath, deputy chief of the Foreign Office, took the almost unprecedented step of issuing a denial of accusations that have not been made officially.

Heath noted that accusations had been made about the circumstances of Hammarskjold's death and declared:

"While of course it is unthinkable that our government could in any way have been responsible for the crash of the secretary general's aircraft — and I utterly deny such wild accusations — I do not think I should say any more until the official inquiry is completed."

Set Ticket Distribution

Tickets for the Iowa-California football game Sept. 30 will be distributed to students beginning Monday at 7 a.m. at the Athletic Department Ticket office next to the fieldhouse, and at the ticket desk of the Student Union.

The following schedule of ID numbers will be used for distributing tickets:

1 to 93000 — Monday 7 a.m. to 12 noon.
 93000 to 114000 — Monday — 12 noon to 6 p.m.
 114000 to 139000 — Tuesday, 7 a.m. to 12 noon.
 139000 up — Tuesday, 12 noon to 6 p.m.

I.D. cards and Certificate of Registration will be required for each ticket secured. The I.D. card and the ticket must be presented for entrance to the stadium.

Students who fail to pick up tickets at the allotted times may get them at a later date.

All student tickets must be secured by 6 p.m. on the Tuesday preceding the game.

FEEBLE WELCOME
 HELSINKI, Finland (AP) — President Leonid Brezhnev of the Soviet Union arrived Friday for a state visit and this capital gave him a courteous, but routine and unenthusiastic, welcome.

Algerian Rightists Break into French TV Waves Again

ALGIERS, Algeria (AP) — The rightist secret army organization broke into the French government TV network's wave length for the second time in 24 hours Friday and called for a noisy demonstration against Gaullist Algerian policies. The responding din in the streets by thousands of European settlers was long and loud.

"Courage, victory is close," declared the broadcast from a clandestine transmitter.

In response to the call for a demonstration, thousands of European settlers turned downtown Algiers into a cacophony of honking and pan-banging.

Hundreds of shiny cars rolled through the streets — including convertibles full of pretty sun-tanned girls — beating out three short and two long horn blasts that rhythmically signify "Algerie Francaise."

Europeans leaning out of apartment windows and balconies beat the same rhythm on pots, pans and bottles.

The army soon moved in with halftracks and water cannons. The soldiers halted cars and searched them when they tried to bypass roadblocks set up in the center of the city.

The cars disappeared and the honking dwindled as the regular midnight curfew approached.

Advances Garbled Friendship Signs

By STANLEY JOHNSON
 MOSCOW (AP) — Has Soviet Premier Khrushchev decided to call off his crisis?

The question was reported keeping cables humming Friday night between the major embassies in Moscow and their home governments.

Claim A-Tests Cause Soviet Popularity Dip

But No Pro-American Upswing Seen Either; Some Rap Both Blocs

WASHINGTON (AP) — A U.S. study has found that the Soviet Union's renewal of atomic testing has caused the worst Soviet propaganda setback since Red tanks crushed the 1956 Hungarian revolt.

But the global criticism of the Kremlin has not been matched by an equal upswing in pro-American sentiment. Asians and Near Easterners generally said in effect: "A plague on both our houses."

That assessment was issued Friday by the U.S. Information Agency following a study of overseas press and radio commentaries on the Soviet resumption of nuclear tests Sept. 1. The United States followed soon after, though its underground blasts did not contaminate the air as have the Soviet atmospheric explosions.

USIA, which dispenses U.S. propaganda abroad and samples foreign opinions about Uncle Sam, found that: "The Soviet resumption of nuclear testing has produced a worldwide reaction more strongly anti-Soviet than any event since the repression of the Hungarian rebellion in 1956."

Overseas critics protested both the threatened danger to the peace of the world and the threatened impairment of health to the world's population, USIA said.

The editorial comments went as might be expected in the West, where Moscow was almost uniformly attacked, and in Communist China, where the Soviet tests were praised as "a powerful inspiration to all the peoples striving for world peace."

In other areas where hundreds of millions of people take a more detached view of the East-West contest, USIA found these reactions:

Near East and South Asia — "Although the 'plague on both our houses' theme has been played generally, no evidence appeared in either the Pakistani or Indian press to indicate any acceptance of Soviet Premier Khrushchev's explanation for the resumption of testing."

Africa — "Although all African areas were shocked at the Soviet test resumption, their comments have been restrained."

Far East — "Japanese media, expressing the most outspoken concern in the Far East, were most critical of the Soviet Union. 'In Thailand, Taiwan, Formosa, South Korea, South Viet Nam and the Philippines, the Soviet Union was strongly denounced.'"

Latin America — "The Latin-American press seemed more aroused by the menace of radioactive fallout than the prospects of nuclear war."

But on the other hand, the passage can be read to say little or nothing different from what Khrushchev has said before. If he had linked the German question with disarmament and nuclear test prohibition, it is possible he was seeking a face-saving way out of the Berlin crisis.

As diplomats here pointed out, once those major questions were linked with Berlin, the time element would disappear and the negotiations could go on for years. There would be no year-end deadline then.

But on the other hand, the passage can be read to say little or nothing different from what Khrushchev has said before. If he had linked the German question with disarmament and nuclear testing at Vienna in his talks with Kennedy, there has been no published word of it.

Navy Pilot Killed In Patrol Crash

SAVANNA, Ill. (AP) — A Navy pilot was killed Friday night when his single-engine patrol plane, on a flight from Moffett Field, Calif., to Glenview Naval Air Station near Chicago, turned over on landing at the Savanna airport.

A second Skyraider landed safely on the unlighted field despite low clouds and darkness.

A witness said the plane apparently ran off the runway and nosed over, landing upside down. The pilot was trapped inside. His name was withheld.

The surviving pilot, Lt. H. R. Taylor, 28, Neodesha, Kan., said the two planes were unable to make radio contact with the ground.

Bomb Threat Causes Quaker Oats Shutdown

CEDAR RAPIDS (AP) — An anonymous telephone caller who said a bomb had been planted in the Quaker Oats Co. plant here brought about a shutdown of operations Thursday night and Friday morning.

The night shift was sent home after the call was received saying the bomb had been set to go off about 3:30 a.m. Friday.

No bomb was found.

Freshmen Must Learn There's No Easy Road

Harold C. Ridlon, professor of English at Tufts University, has a penetrating article in the current issue of the "Atlantic Monthly" entitled, "Why Freshmen Fail." While his analysis is probing and practical and has great merit, we believe there are several other underlying reasons for freshman failure in college that deserve attention and, we hope, argument.

Ridlon traces freshman failures to (1) an inability to read with speed and comprehension; (2) an inability to listen constructively; (3) the natural freshman obstacle of fear, anxiety, selfishness, timidity and lethargy. There is, too, the difficulty of adjusting to classes which do not meet daily, to strict study regimens, and over-emphasis on grades.

While these obstacles are undoubtedly real, we think that a large part of freshman failures are due to a decline in our sense of values, and that these values should be restored by emphasizing: (1) An appreciation of "old-fashioned" industry - the willingness to work; (2) The necessity of making an active, positive approach to learning, rather than a passive one; to form conclusions aggressively; (3) An appreciation of the knowledge to which they are exposed and of the civilization that has built that knowledge.

One of America's most important fallacies in education for the past two decades has been a tendency to "make things easy" for the student. Textbook titles in today's schools emphasize how easy everything is - "Spelling Made Easy," "Adventures in Arithmetic" and a book on personal hygiene called "How to be a Slick Chick." True learning may often be fun and enjoyable, inspiring and enriching but it is not easy and attempts to camouflage it as such is doing both the student and the institution a disservice. There is no way to make the learning of English grammar easy.

Freshmen fail often because they cannot stand the shock of realization that the processes of learning are hard work. They will continue to do so, so long as they are taught that there is some royal road to education. That road does not exist.

Weeping from Fear

The free world and the ideal of a peaceful community of unified nations have lost a brilliant, uncompromising and fearless supporter.

Exactly what repercussions will result from the untimely death of Dag Hammarskjold are pure conjecture. That they will be weighty is beyond doubt.

Hammarskjold on many occasions blocked the progress of the swiftly-moving Communist dominion, although his effectiveness was all too often garroted by those nations who most profited from his influence.

The U.N. principle of free neutrality unhampered by fear of dominion, a principle which he so staunchly fought to defend, stands at his death sadly mutilated, mocked by totalitarians and buffeted by free nations, including the United States, which found it "sometimes unpractical." Without his steady hand to influence world diplomacy the U.N., already unsteady on hamstrung legs, stands in danger of falling to its knees weakened not only by Russian attacks, but also by a seeming unwillingness of its member nations to bolster it by compromising narrow foreign policies.

The free world will weep at Hammarskjold's death. But they shed only crocodile tears so long as they weep from fear, not for the passing of the symbol of world freedom and unity - a symbol that gave them strength, but which they steadfastly refused to strongly support.

Better Dead than Red

Physicians who work in East Berlin emergency hospitals report that the suicide rate has risen sharply in East Berlin since the Communist regime closed the intercity border on Aug. 13.

The wave of suicides began about Aug. 17, according to physicians, and there have been more than 25 suicides a day since.

Apparently many East Berliners, while they haven't chosen to fight the Communist regime physically, have decided they would rather be dead than Red. They can't provide the West with propaganda material anymore by using the Berlin "escape hatch" so many are choosing to escape another way. The world is watching, we hope.

'You're Going To Have To Be A Big Man Now' Roscoe Drummond Reports—

Saving the U. N. Is Now In Hands of Neutral Nations

BY ROSCOE DRUMMOND. Except among the Soviet bloc delegates, who are happy at the prospects, the corridors of the United Nations are filled with gloom and despair.

The question is not whether the death of Dag Hammarskjold has brought the U.N. to the brink of impotence - but why. Why does the loss of the Secretary General thrust into the hands of the Soviets their long-sought opportunity to wreck the U.N., or, at the very least, to immobilize it totally?

If its defenders are to have any good chance to thwart the Communist plan to reduce the U.N. to a complete zero - except as a Soviet sounding board - we must see why Hammarskjold's tragic plane crash provides a windfall to the Soviet bloc and creates a situation nearly - but not quite - impossible for the majority of the U.N. members to rectify.

The reason is this: HAMMARSKJOLD controlled the machinery of the U.N. and when the General Assembly directed him to use that machinery, as in the case of the Congo, no Soviet veto could stop him. Only the Secretary General has this power.

Before Hammarskjold's death there was no Soviet veto over his action when the General Assembly authorized him to act and gave him the means to act.

BUT THERE IS a Soviet veto over the election of his successor. For a year now the Soviet Union has been seeking a way to prevent the U.N. General Assembly from doing anything Moscow doesn't like. Its plan was to replace the Secretary General with a three-man committee, any one of which could block the U.N. from doing anything.

But Khrushchev could not impose this immobility on the U.N. because it would require an amendment to the Charter and this could be vetoed. Without a Secretary General measured papers is not possible, but every effort will be made to correct errors with the next issue. MEMBER OF THE ASSOCIATED PRESS. The Associated Press is entitled exclusively to the use for republication of all the local news printed in this newspaper as well as all AP news dispatches.

Much Ado About Emmy

By JOHNNY WAYNE and FRANK SHUSTER. SCENE: The Mermaid Tavern, a fashionable inn, frequented by strolling players, highwaymen, footpads, cutpurses, and agents.

TIME: The day after "Macbeth" won five Emmys.

As the curtain rises we discover England's greatest agent, Sir Melvyn Fynke, seated alone at a table. He is dressed in the conventional agent's costume - black doublet and hose. Suddenly, one of his clients, a balding playwright named William Shakespeare, enters and joins him.

FYNKE: Bard, baby! Great to see you!

SHAKESPEARE (glumly): Hello, Mel.

FYNKE: Sit down, sweetie. What are you drinking?

SHAKESPEARE: The usual. Sack on the rocks.

FYNKE (gives the order to a passing wench and beams at his client): Five Emmys! Billy boy, you got the whole town talking.

SHAKESPEARE: I wish they'd stop talking and start coming to the Globe. We had half a house last night for "Titus Andronicus" and we didn't even break even on "Cymbeline."

FYNKE: Forget it, sweetie. You rang the bell with "Macbeth." You shoulda heard the talk around the court this morning. The Earl of Essex said it was a Scotch "Twilight Zone," and the Queen flipped her wig - literally.

SHAKESPEARE: Well, the next one will be greater.

FYNKE (rubs his hands): You got a new play? Sensational! What's it about?

SHAKESPEARE: You know, I'm not good on story lines. I'm an aphorism man.

FYNKE: Just a short outline, baby. I gotta sell it, you know.

SHAKESPEARE: All right, all right. It's about a French prince -

FYNKE (frowning): A FRENCH prince?

SHAKESPEARE: Yes. His uncle murders his father and marries his mother. His girl friend goes crazy, his mother dies from poison, and he kills his stepfather and gets killed himself.

FYNKE: Sounds okay. Does the hero have to be French?

SHAKESPEARE: Why?

FYNKE: Well, you know, baby. France is a big market. You don't want to offend them. They're still steaming about Joan.

SHAKESPEARE (stubbortly): It's all set. I'm calling him "The Melancholy Frenchman."

FYNKE: Listen, why look for trouble? Remember all that mail from Verona? Make the locale Denmark.

SHAKESPEARE: Denmark? Are you out of your mind?

FYNKE: Look, baby - it's a small country. How many people can get mad? Call him "The Melancholy Dane."

SHAKESPEARE (bitterly): "The Melancholy Dane." That's a good one. Sounds like a sick dog.

FYNKE: Think it over. Remember the trouble I had selling Romeo and What's-her-name -

SHAKESPEARE: Juliet.

FYNKE: You wouldn't rewrite the scene about all that confusion with the positions and we lost that laudum sponsor.

SHAKESPEARE: Let him buy from Marlowe or Kyd. With five Emmys, I don't have to rewrite.

FYNKE (quickly changing the subject): Now have you been thinking about a series idea?

SHAKESPEARE: I told you - no series. I'll do a few specials.

FYNKE: Forget specials - if you can follow up "Macbeth" with a series, you can parlay residuals into a fortune.

SHAKESPEARE: I'm thinking of my career, not residuals.

FYNKE (soothingly): I'm only trying to make you a few quid. You want to move out of that cottage, don't you?

SHAKESPEARE: Well, yes -

FYNKE: You want to be able to take some time off and write sonnets, don't you?

SHAKESPEARE: Well, yes -

FYNKE: Well, baby - that takes money and a series can do it for you.

SHAKESPEARE (weakening): Well, I'll have to think about it. Maybe I'll do a series on the Henys.

FYNKE: Swell, and you don't have to write them all. Just the pilot. You'll get a nice credit: "Created by William Shakespeare" and I'll find some new boy to do the writing.

SHAKESPEARE: We'll see. I've got to run. Thanks for the sack. (He leaves almost bumping into Sir Francis Bacon who just enters and is spied by Fynke.)

FYNKE: Francis, baby? Sit down and have a Malmsey. I was just thinking about you. How'd you like to work on a series? (c) New York Herald Tribune Inc.

ICC Bans Race Bias In Buses, Terminals

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Interstate Commerce Commission Friday barred racial discrimination on interstate buses or in their terminal facilities.

Acting on a petition filed May 29 by Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, the commission published rules which:

1. Forbid interstate bus operators from segregating seating on the basis of race, color, creed or national origin.
2. Prohibit interstate buses from using terminals where waiting rooms, rest rooms, lunch counters and other facilities are segregated on such a basis.

In its report adopting the rules, the commission said: "We find that in a substantial part of the United States many Negro interstate passengers are subjected to racial segregation in several forms."

"On vehicles, they continue to be subjected to segregated seating based upon race."

"In many motor passenger terminals, Negro interstate passengers are compelled to use eating, rest room and other terminal facilities which are segregated."

Kennedy's proposal was submitted to the ICC 15 days after a fire bomb was thrown into a busload of "Freedom Riders" on May 14 near Anniston, Ala.

The "Freedom Rides" were protests by Negroes and some white sympathizers against racial discrimination in travel facilities.

Scores of the riders have been arrested in the South.

Under the ICC rules, beginning Nov. 1, interstate buses and terminal facilities must display signs declaring that their use will be without regard to race, color, creed, or national origin "by order of the Interstate Commerce Commission."

An ICC spokesman indicated the rules would not be applied strictly

Esther's All Pooped Out

BOSTON (AP) — Esther, a hurricane which threatened the country's Eastern seaboard for a week, was just another, and more demure storm far out in the north Atlantic Friday night.

The U.S. Weather Bureau in its official language, reported with finality: "This storm presents no further threat to any land area and no longer has tropical characteristics."

And the forecaster added this would be the last advisory.

Esther had been the topic of advisories since Sept. 10 when spawned in tropical waters. Her course had been charted from the Caribbean until Friday.

Rough seas and high tides diminished in Esther's wake. Neither were there any reports of more than minor flooding of some smaller streams.

ROSEMARY CLOONEY Charges Extreme Cruelty

Rosemary Sues for Divorce

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) — Singer Rosemary Clooney stunned Hollywood Friday by suing Academy Award-winning actor-director Jose Ferrer for divorce.

The attractive, blue-eyed blonde charged extreme cruelty.

The couple of divergent backgrounds, had seemed nonetheless ideally happy.

Married eight years, they have five children. After the fourth was born in 1959, Rosemary enthusiastically told an interviewer: "I want all the children I can have. When Joe and I were first married, I thought six would be a nice round number. But, golly, now I realize I only have two more to go, and that isn't enough."

Ferrer, 49, in Dallas, Tex., directing a remake of the movie "State Fair," had no comment.

Puerto Rico-born and Princeton educated, the onetime New York stage performer is best remembered as the poetic, long-nosed swashbuckler in the title role of the 1950 movie, "Cyrano de Bergerac," for which he won his Oscar.

Miss Clooney, 33, was at home in bed, weeping over the marital breakup.

Andrew W. Weinberger of New York, her lawyer, told a reporter: "This has been coming on for two years." He said the actual separation took place Aug. 7.

Weinberger said she'll ask custody of the children, child support and possession of the couple's two-story, Spanish-style home on North Roxbury Drive, a fashionable Beverly Hills street where several stars live.

The radio and TV star's first big record hit was the million-plus-seller, "Come-on-a My House."

Born in Maysville, Ky., she started her professional singing career in Cincinnati, Ohio, at 13.

The couple's children are Miguel, 6; Maria, 5; Gabrielle, 4; Monsita, 3, and Rafael, 1.

President Hancher Says Quality of Freshmen Up

A "steady improvement" in the quality of freshmen entering SUI — as judged by their rank in high school — was reported this week by President Virgil M. Hancher.

Hancher spoke to SUI faculty members at the group's first meeting this semester.

Last year 86 per cent of all entering freshmen had graduated in the upper half of their high school classes, an increase of 15 per cent over those entering five years ago.

While figures are not yet available on the freshmen who registered for SUI classes earlier this week, President Hancher said, admissions officials anticipate that perhaps 90 per cent of the 1961 freshman class will prove to be from the top half of the high school graduating classes.

President Hancher introduced new faculty members and reviewed various changes in the University's programs which have recently gone into effect, including:

The establishment this fall of SUI's new department of Russian, reflecting an enrollment increase from 13 students in 1956 to 114 students last semester;

The establishment last fall, with Federal aid, of SUI's Chinese Language and Area Center, one of 11 such centers in the country;

Plans to offer courses designed especially to meet needs in the fields of higher education, to be taught this fall for the first time by Professor E. T. Peterson, who retired last month as dean of the SUI college of education;

A major change in the basic nursing program, designed to broaden the educational background of student nurses, primarily through requiring a lengthened period of academic study and a shortened program of nursing practice;

Curricular changes which result in earlier opening of classes for medical students; and

Additional computer and data-processing facilities, installed at SUI last spring, which are speeding research on the campus and making entire new research programs possible.

In discussing the University's growth and the consequent changes which have taken place in the score of years since he assumed the SUI presidency in 1940, Hancher cited, among other statistics, the fact that in 1940-41 the University received 21 "outside" research grants which totaled $58,000. Last year SUI was awarded 287 such research grants, totaling $4,517,229, to supplement research funds appropriated by the General Assembly.

Heads Deny Kennedy Plea To Hold Steel Price Line

HYANNIS PORT, Mass. (AP) — Major steel producers have refused to give President Kennedy the pledge he sought to hold the price line.

The Cape Cod White House made public Friday replies from seven additional steel corporations to Kennedy's appeal to forego price increases despite an imminent rise in wage costs.

Executives of most companies assured Kennedy they shared his concern with the dangers of an inflated economy. But some argued their profit margins already are perilously slim. They said a case could even be made for higher prices or that government fiscal policies have more to do with dollar value than steel policies.

One company president, M. A. Cudlip of McClouth Steel Corp., did no more than acknowledge receipt of the letter Kennedy addressed Sept. 6 to the country's 12 leading steel manufacturers.

In that letter Kennedy declared a steel price hike would threaten economic stability. He said his own advisers believed expanding production would maintain a healthy profit level without boosting prices to offset an Oct. 1 increase in employment costs.

I.C. Motorists, Pedestrians, Watch It!!

By BILL STRABALA Staff Writer

Watch your step! This is the substance of a warning recently issued by Police Chief Emmett E. Evans to motorists and pedestrians.

Drivers are urged to step on the brakes a little more and yield the right of way to pedestrians.

Pedestrians are counseled against jaywalking by Chief Evans. Either violation is punishable by law.

Evans said he has become concerned especially with the number of motorists who fail to yield to pedestrians.

According to the Iowa City traffic code, a pedestrian has the legal right of way in any crosswalk, whether marked or unmarked.

Evans pointed out that a pedestrian has "absolutely no legal rights" whenever he crosses the street against the light or crosses in the middle of the block. However, he stressed that this relieves motorists only of their legal responsibility, and that any time a motorist strikes a pedestrian — even a jaywalker — the driver is liable for civil suit.

The intersection of Washington and Madison is an example of the pedestrian-motorist conflict, where motorists consistently ignore the yellow, diamond-shaped "yield to pedestrian" sign.

Clarifying the zones of responsibility for intersections where pedestrian signals are in operation, Evans said pedestrians have the right of way only if they have entered the crosswalk while the "walk" light is on.

The Iowa-Avenue Riverside Drive intersection is an exception to the rule of the pedestrian's right of way, he said. Since a pedestrian overpass is provided, pedestrians have no legal right in crossing the highway on that side of the street. Their rights still apply to other parts of that intersection, however.

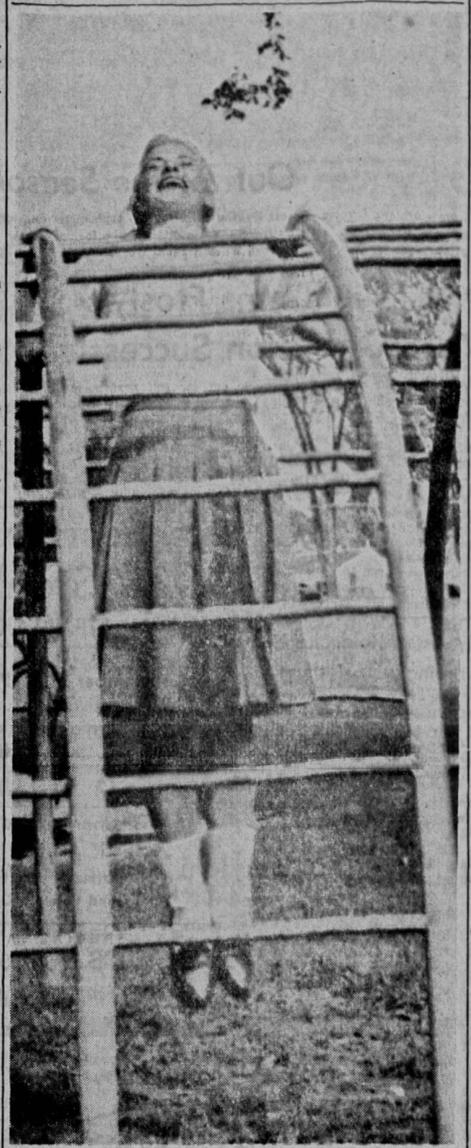

Kennedy Extends Life Of Civil Rights Board

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy has signed a bill extending for two years, until Sept. 30, 1963, the life of the Civil Rights Commission.

The extension, along with $888,000 to finance the commission, was part of a bill appropriating $756,422,550 to run the State and Justice departments, the U.S. Information Agency, and the federal courts in the present fiscal year.

Students Launch Homecoming Plan For Oct. 20, 21

Almost before they're finished unpacking, many students are already beginning to make plans for Homecoming activities.

The Homecoming activities will begin Friday night, Oct. 20, with the annual parade, pep rally and Dolphin water show. Some 45 student organizations are already selecting float ideas which they hope will win prizes in one of three categories — originality, beauty and humor. More than 20 high school bands in addition to the Hawkeye Marching Band and the Scottish Highlanders will also be a part of the mile-long parade.

Saturday's program — in addition to the Iowa-Wisconsin football game — will include alumni meetings and coffee hours in many departments of the University, open house and displays at Iowa Memorial Union, a women's field hockey game, the Homecoming dance, and two more performances of the Dolphin water show.

Co-chairman of the 1961 SUI Homecoming are Professor Wendle Kerr of the College of Pharmacy and Robert E. J. Snyder of the College of Business Administration.

Lava Fountain Bursts Out on Hawaiian Island

HONOLULU (AP) — A lava fountain burst through a crack 25 miles south of Hilo on the island of Hawaii and pushed out a molten flow 220 yards long Friday.

Residents on the southeastern shore of Hawaii reported a red glow and heavy sulphur fumes, driven by the wind. A fier said the crack appeared to be 3,000 yards long.

POSTHUMOUS AWARD

CHATTANOOGA (AP) — The "best all around Key Clubber" of the Kentucky-Tennessee District of Key Clubs is a lad who didn't make the convention. The Kiwanis-sponsored high school service organization voted the honor to Fred Fly, 16, of Shelbyville, Tenn., who was killed in a traffic accident three days before the district spring convention began.

However, no matter what decision is reached in the company's attack on the alleged low utility rates in Iowa City, it is expected to be appealed to the State Supreme Court.

City Atty. William F. Sueppel concluded his final summation Friday saying Iowa City consumers were paying fair utility rates and, "now they are being asked to pay exorbitant rates."

Thanks also for your courteous behavior in our store

As in the past years, you SUI students have been just great. We have tried very hard to serve you in the best possible way and hope that most of you were satisfied with our service.

Every year we plan long and hard to make your initial stop at Iowa Book and Supply as pleasant as possible. However, we know that some book shortages did occur as usual. We are making every effort to cover these shortages as fast as possible and we assure you that when the books can be found, Iowa Book and Supply will have them first in Iowa City.

Please stop in often during the coming school year and let us show you why most students at SUI call Iowa Book and Supply "their school supply store".

Iowa Boasts 2-0 Record Over Cal

"Iowa, Here We Come" could be the twist in the popular song title as University of California makes its first appearance in Hawkeye stadium next Saturday to open the Big Ten football team's 1961 season.

The Golden Bears, who have the unique distinction of losing twice to Iowa in the calendar year of 1959, would be happy to make amends for those two defeats.

In the only games between Hawks and Bears, Iowa won in the Rose Bowl Jan. 1, 1959, 38-12, piling up 516 yards and setting Rose Bowl team and individual records. The 429 yards rushing stands as an Iowa single game record.

Then, in the Iowa opener in the fall of 1959, the Hawkeyes once more ran over California at Berkeley Sept. 26, 1959, 42-12. In this game, the Iowans rambled for 475 yards, 298 rushing and 177 passing.

So in the two games, the Hawkeyes have run up the total of 991 yards scored 80 points to Cal's 24. The Bears were good for a 663-yard total.

Seven Iowans now seniors were in the September California game. Two of Iowa's present star backs played modest roles. Larry Ferguson carried twice for 16 yards as reserve fullback and Wilburn Hollis hit on 5 of 8 passes for 50 yards and one touchdown and carried twice for 10 yards.

Others of the current squad in that game were Sherwyn Thorson and Bill DiCindio, left guards; Al Hinton, right tackle; Bill Whisler, right end; and Bernie Wyatt, defensive back.

Ferguson, Hollis, Thorson, Hinton and Whisler are starters on the 1961 offensive team and Wyatt is a regular on the defensive group.

Until Iowa scouts return with their charts on the Texas-California game played today, the coaching staff has little knowledge of the Golden Bears.

Reports tell of depth problems, too thin especially at fullback, ends and tackles. The Cal line is said to be better on offense than on defense, linebacking is a question mark and containment of a foe's wide running game is the toughest problem.

Coach Jerry Burns of Iowa expects his team must cope with a strong passing attack — and from some of the spotty pass defense work in practice the Hawks may be in for tough moments.

Randy Gold and Larry Balliett, about even as quarterbacks, can both pass and run and they have some other offensive weapons to shoot at Iowa.

These weapons are the running of George Pierovich, all-Big Five fullback, up the middle; counters and reverses of halfbacks Jerry Scattini and Alan Nelson and wingbacks Jim Burress and Rudy Carvajal. Receivers include the wingbacks, plus ends Bob Wills, Bill Turner, Dave Muga and Ron Vaughn.

Wiles Hallock, Cal's sports information director, says that the Bears "will show, if not a lonesome end in the winged-T, at least a homesick one, some 15 yards wide on the unbalanced side of their own line. He may feel 'wanted' if the Iowa defense permits Gold and Balliett to 'throw to him.'"

All of Iowa's concentration during the first two weeks of the schedule will be on teams from California. Hawkeyes fly to Los Angeles to meet Southern California in the Coliseum Oct. 7 at 3 p.m. (Iowa time) in a nationally televised game. The Big Ten season with its six straight games opens against Indiana at Iowa City Oct. 14.

Football Fanfare

By JERRY ELSEA Sports Editor

Once again the old football swami goes scouting out on a limb in writing one and all to saw away. Most of today's big games are inter-sectional, but I'll begin with the Big Eight headliner.

Iowa State 13, Oklahoma State 7 — The Cowboys are reportedly a revitalized team but won't be able to cope with ISU's charging files of linemen and enterprising single-wing backs.

Purdue 14, Washington 0 — Gone is quarterback magician Bob Schloredt and with him vanished most of Washington's chances of coping with the always tough Boilermakers.

Wisconsin 18, Utah 7 — The Utes are tabbed as also-rans in the Skyline Conference. Such a pre-season rating portends a hard time against a sound Big Ten team.

Missouri 13, Washington State 7 — The Tigers are playing at home and should be good enough to drub the Huskies.

Louisiana State 14, Rice 13 — Rice, playing at home with a high pre-season rating, may be in for a big upset in the first game of a nightmarish schedule.

Kansas 21, TCU 14 — The Horned Frogs are a hard-nosed crew and may give high-rated Kansas a tussle, but the Jayhawkers should escape with most of their feathers still intact.

Mississippi 20, Arkansas 13 — This televised game should be a scorcher but Ole Miss, 9-0-1 last year, should edge the Razorbacks.

Army 28, Richmond 0 — West Point is probably the toughest team Richmond will face all year.

Penn State 26, Navy 6 — The Midshipmen will be in real fast company and should come out a top second.

UCLA 21, Air Force 7 — The Falcons are rebuilding while the Bruins are built solidly and smelling roses.

Maryland 13, Southern Methodist 0 — It looks like another drubbing for the Mustangs who finished with a 0-9-1 state in 1960.

North Carolina State 18, Wyoming 6 — The Cowboys have the home field advantage and Iowan All-American hopeful Chuck Lamson. But the Wolfpack has Roman Gabriel, rated the country's No. 1 quarterback.

Virginia 21, William and Mary 20 — The Cavaliers are the longest team in football with 29 losses in a row. A victory at this point would at least postpone more embarrassment.

Syracuse 28, Oregon State 7 — The Beavers should be first in a long line of Syracuse victims this year.

INDIANS' ATTENDANCE
CLEVELAND (A) — Cleveland General Manager Gabe Paul, disappointed by the turnout of only 725,000 to Indians' home games this season, says he believes the city is ripe for an upsurge in baseball attendance.

"I think the people are all gripped out," Paul said in an interview before the team headed for Kansas City on the final road trip of the season. "The complaints about this and that are starting to lessen and the pendulum is beginning to swing the other way."

Henry Carr To Attend Burlington Temporarily
Henry Carr, Detroit speedster and football star, who attended SUI this summer has enrolled at Burlington junior college for this semester. He expects to re-enroll at SUI in February after completing some basic freshman academic requirements.

If Carr attends SUI during the spring semester, he will be eligible for varsity competition next fall.

Carr has recorded a :09.5 time in the 100-yard-dash and :20.7 in the 220, equalling the U.S. prep record.

U-High Beats Wapello 26-0

By Staff Writer

The University High Bluehawks, playing their first Eastern Iowa Hawkeye conference game, defeated Wapello here 26-0 Friday night. The Blues scored three touchdowns in the first half, most of which was played in a torrential downpour to take a 20-0 halftime lead. The Wapello club was never in the game.

Ron Johnson, scrappy Blue fullback, scored the first touchdown from nine yards out going around his right end. Quarterback John Haefner scored the second TD of the first quarter on a sneak from the three. On an attempted kick for the extra point, the pass from center was bad, but John Barrett picked up the ball and ran wide around left end, giving the Blues a 13-0 lead at the end of the first quarter.

Haefner scored the only second quarter touchdown for the Bluehawks, with his brother Jim going over for the PAT. The Blues allowed Wapello only 12 yards from scrimmage in the first half, and no first downs.

After threatening twice in the third and fourth quarters, the Blues finally punched across their first TD with Barrett going over from the five.

Iowa City to its second Mississippi Valley conference win in as many starts. Clinton is 0-2.

A combination of rain and Iowa City power made it a hapless night for Clinton. It only gained 32 yards rushing and 15 passing while Iowa City ran for 234 and moved another 14 through the air.

The first seven minutes were played in a rain heavy enough to fluster the River Kings and give Iowa City the breaks it needed. Clinton took the kickoff, made one first down, then was forced to punt from its own 28. Iowa City moved right back to the 23 on the punt return.

On the Little Hawk's first play, Skip Hohle carried to the 19-yard line. Quarterback Gary Snook faded back as if to pass, but instead skirted left end and scored with only 4:13 gone. Dave Moss made the extra point, his first of four.

Little time passed before the Little Hawks scored again. They kicked off to the 23 and while Clinton players waited for the ball to roll out of bounds, City High forces pounced on it and took over.

After three City High sprints through the line, the ball rested on the four. Fullback Mike Cain carried a Clinton tackler and the ball over from there.

A third City High march began on the 42 in the first period with the Little Hawks moving to the 10 when the quarter ended. Two plays later Snook burst around left end to score again — this time from four yards out.

Early in the fourth period, the Little Hawks got their most spectacular TD. On third down, fullback Cain, led by a host of protectors, took the ball on the 12, broke around the left side and blazed a weaving path through the Clinton defenders to score the closing marker.

Out for the Season

Physician Terms Frosty's Knee Operation Successful

The operation on Frosty Evashevski's injured knee Thursday was termed a success by the attending physician, who reported that Frosty's knee must be in a cast from four to eight weeks.

The doctor said he believes Evashevski will suffer no permanent damage from the knee injury and operation and should be able to take part in spring football practice.

Evashevski, son of the Iowa athletic director and former football coach, has decided he will not go out for golf next spring and will have three full years of competition remaining as a varsity athlete if he so desires.

Frosty, who was bidding for the No. 2 quarterback post on the Michigan team this fall, suffered the injury during a live scrimmage session Tuesday.

Hawks To Hold Closed Scrimmage in Stadium
Coach Jerry Burns barred the gates to press and public alike for Friday's practice and plans a controlled game-type scrimmage in the stadium today, also closed.

It was the first time Burns held a closed drill this year. He did not say why.

In today's scrimmage, game conditions will be maintained as much as possible in regard to kickoffs, punts, first downs, substitutions and officiating.

BABE RUTH'S WIDOW
NEW YORK (A) — Babe Ruth's widow said Friday she was happy Roger Maris didn't tie the Bambino's record of 60 home runs in 154 games.

"That was one record I didn't want broken," said Mrs. Claire Ruth. "I have the highest regard for Roger Maris, he's a fine hitter. But I must admit I'm glad he didn't equal the Babe's 60."

Kennedy's Plane Hits Bad Weather In Cape Cod Area

HYANNIS PORT, Mass. (AP) — President Kennedy had a bumpy landing Friday when he arrived at Cape Cod for a weekend of rest and work on his Monday speech at the United Nations.

The President's Air Force jet was in the air a half hour longer than usual, waiting for a break in the weather.

The plane was brought in by ground control approach, but it was to one side of the main runway and in line with a distant hangar when it broke through the overcast.

It executed a swift turn to make the runway.

The remnants of Hurricane Esther, which skirted the Cape Thursday, left Cape Cod shrouded in fog.

The plane loomed suddenly out of the fog after it was heard over nearby Otis Air Force Base.

As it coasted swiftly towards the runway the plane banked first to one side, then the other as Lt. Col. James B. Swindal, the pilot, lined it up for the runway.

It was moving fast when it touched. Smoke spurted from the main landing wheels and they bounced several feet in the air with the nose wheels still on the runway or just off it.

Then the plane settled for the slowdown run along the runway.

The President and Mrs. Kennedy, along with other guests, went by automobile for the half-hour drive to Hyannis Port.

Obscene Mail Plea Rejected

CHICAGO (AP) — A federal judge rejected Friday a plea in behalf of a Harvard student that he be tried in Boston on a charge of mailing obscene material.

He is Alex Gill, 23, one of 52 persons indicted in Chicago in connection with activities of a pen pal club for men only. He is among 18 of the defendants whose cases have not been disposed of.

Dr. Graham Blaine, a Boston psychiatrist, told Judge Richard B. Austin in U.S. District Court that he has been treating Gill and that Gill twice has attempted to kill himself.

The doctor said the treatment would progress better in Boston and the trial would receive less publicity there.

Judge Austin set Jan. 2 for trial of 14 defendants. He set Oct. 11 for a ruling on objections to a government motion that two defendants, now accused of mailing obscene material, be added to the list of those accused of conspiring to mail such material.

These two men are Jack Mullin, 34, of Algonquin, Ill., and Robert M. Rednebaugh, 55, of Tabor, Iowa.

The court was informed by the government that Horace B. Hart, 44, of Chicago, a defendant, had died since the grand jury returned the indictments in January.

Senate Group Backs Hamilton for Aid Post

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Foreign Relations Committee has unanimously recommended that the Senate confirm the nomination of international lawyer Fowler Hamilton to head of the foreign aid program.

Acting after a 45-minute public hearing Friday at which Fowler promised he expected to be held accountable, the committee approved President Kennedy's choice of the 50-year-old New Yorker.

Hamilton was named to head the new Agency for International Development, which will supplant the International Cooperation Administration now headed by Henry R. Labouisse.

Sen. J. William Fulbright (D-Ark.), committee chairman, told Hamilton during the hearing that there has been criticism of "loose administration" of foreign aid spending and that as the new chief he would be expected to correct this.

Fowler said he had only one financial interest that might possibly pose a "conflict of interest" in his new job and will therefore divest himself of all stock and connection with an international enterprise involved in development of a large iron ore field in Liberia.

He said he also plans to give up association with the international law firm of Cleary, Gottlieb Steem & Hamilton in which he is a senior partner.

Sen. Wayne D. Morse (D-Ore.) cautioned Hamilton that the foreign aid program will be under constant scrutiny for signs of "any attempt to advance the cause of

Police Scatter Rowdies On SUI 'Fraternity Row'

A noisy disturbance along SUI's "fraternity row" on North Duquesne Street was broken up by police early Thursday morning.

Called to the area by nearby residents, police said they found fraternity members yelling across the street at one another. The students scattered toward the houses when they saw the police cars, officers said.

The investigating officers said they confiscated some cans of beer on the lawn of one of the houses and threw them into the river.

U.S.'s Blunt Talk Worries Germans

By CARL HARTMAN

BERLIN (AP) — The U.S. Government apparently has taken a fresh approach in German affairs.

It became known Friday on good authority that high American officials are telling the Adenauer Government that East Germany is a fact of life which is going to exist for years — and that the West Germans must face up to letting the Communist regime share some power over access to Berlin.

This plain speaking started after Sunday's election in West Germany — elections in which Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's party lost ground, although this seems only coincidental. The voicing of the U.S. viewpoint in blunt terms also appears to have coincided with the arrival in Berlin of Gen. Lucius D. Clay, as President Kennedy's personal representative.

The Adenauer Government at Bonn has refused formally to admit that another German Government, run by the Communists in East Germany. But actually, the East Germans have maintained certain controls for several years over the travel of West Germans to Berlin, 110 miles inside East Germany. The two Germanys also have formal trade agreements.

This is the way one American viewed the situation Friday: "Right now there are two German states, one of which will not talk to the other. The atmosphere isn't right for them to talk now, but in five or six years it may have to come. If anyone is going to reunite Germany — and there is no reason why Germans should give up hoping for this — it will have to be the Germans themselves."

In this view, East German Communist authorities would be allowed more power to check the identity of people coming in to Berlin.

Americans expressing this viewpoint are not ready to give in to Soviet demands that Western troops leave Berlin. On the contrary, they seek to emphasize the unity of the city despite the wall the Communists have built through the middle of it.

Such Americans say they would accept an internationalization of the city but would insist that Red-ruled East Berlin be made part of the picture. Supposedly, the Soviet Union would refuse to give up that much of its hold on East Berlin — they have talked only of internationalizing West Berlin.

Some West Germans have reacted sharply to the newly expressed U.S. viewpoint, according to the best available information.

These West Germans consider they have a Western promise to work for reunification of Germany. They contend that even a partial recognition of the Red regime would be a repudiation of that promise.

These West Germans say they joined the North Atlantic Treaty Organization on the understanding that they would get full support for peaceful reunification. If that support weakens, they argue, West Germany will have to think about pulling out of the alliance.

Peoria UAW Votes On Strike Sunday

PEORIA, Ill. (AP) — United Auto Workers Union members at the Caterpillar tractor company are scheduled to meet Sunday to act on union bargaining committee recommendations for a strike vote.

Ray Belcher, publicity and education director for UAW Local 974 said Friday that if the membership approves a strike vote, voting by the locals' 13,000 members will take place Sunday afternoon and all day Monday and Tuesday at the union's headquarters.

Caterpillar offered improved fringe benefits Friday — but no wage increase.

51-Nation Meet Urges Ban on Nuclear Tests

BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP) — The 50th annual conference of the Interparliamentary Union appealed to the atomic powers Friday to "reach agreement without delay on the discontinuance of nuclear tests."

The assembly of 530 legislators from 51 countries, with populations of 1.5 billion, urged all nations to refrain from nuclear weapons tests.

The resolution was adopted by a vote of 379 to 87 with 10 abstentions.

Only delegates from the Communist bloc voted against the resolution, sponsored by Japan and Argentina. Libya, with 10 votes, abstained.

J. I. Paletskis, a Soviet delegate, called the resolution a "propaganda document which represents Western positions as they were given in Geneva."

Rep. Paul C. Jones, (D-Mo.), asked for a separate vote on the paragraph asking all states to refrain from nuclear tests, since only two nations are known to be conducting tests now. But there was no formal vote on his request.

Declaring that maintenance of "peace and international security depends primarily on the Soviet Union and the United States," the conference also addressed a pressing appeal to the great powers "to undertake immediately serious negotiations on outstanding problems."

Kennedy Promises To Call Congress

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy told the top Republicans and Democrats in Congress Friday that he will call them immediately if the international situation requires their attention after Congress adjourns.

The President then took off with Mrs. Kennedy for a brief vacation in New England.

The Congressional leaders returned to the Capitol to try to wind up the session this weekend. Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, the Republican minority leader, told newsmen after the White House breakfast session that the President said he would be quick to contact the leadership if a situation arises that would require joint action or a special session of Congress.

Kennedy is due to interrupt his holiday Monday to address the United Nations General Assembly in New York, but Dirksen said there was no discussion of what the President expects to say.

NATIONS AGREE LONDON (AP) — Britain and the newly sovereign state of Kuwait agreed Friday to establish diplomatic relations by exchanging ambassadors.

NEW LENDING IDEA

FREEDPORT, Ill. (AP) — The Freedport Public Library has installed a "Booketeria" in a supermarket. It's an experiment in borrowing. Library card holders may pick up books on display by signing their library card number and the date that book is taken. The card then is given to the checkout clerk. Books are returned at the main library.

Harpichord Artist To Present Concert

Harpichordist Ralph Kirkpatrick has been scheduled to present the first program of the University Concert Course in the Main Lounge of the Iowa Memorial Union at 8 p.m. Oct. 11.

A Harvard graduate, Kirkpatrick makes annual concert tours in the United States, Europe and South Africa. He is scheduled to appear in a small harpichord music festival in New York next season.

Kirkpatrick has authored "Domino Scarlatti," the first comprehensive study of one of the most original 18th century keyboard composers.

Students may get free tickets for the concert by presenting their ID cards at the East Lobby desk of the Iowa Memorial Union Oct. 6 through Oct. 10 from 9 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Student tickets also will be available Oct. 11 from 7 to 8 p.m.

University staff may receive tickets for $1.50 upon presentation of their staff cards on the same dates.

Remaining tickets will be available to the public beginning Oct. 10 at 9 a.m.

Cabinet Carpenters—

With the Pluck of the Irish

LONDON (AP) — "Comrades," said Irishman Alan McCleery, "it isn't every day that our branch can meet in the Cabinet room of the home of British prime ministers."

"Hear, hear," chorused 82 members of the Amalgamated Society of Woodworkers, the carpenters' union, meeting at No. 10 Downing St. Friday.

"I trust that when Labor returns to power, he will be invited here again to sort out our little problems," McCleery added with a wide grin.

"Make him prime minister!" shouted one of the carpenters attending one of the strangest meetings in the long history of No. 10.

British prime ministers have been presiding in that same room for 226 years. But for the day, the carpenters were holding forth.

The famous dwelling — together with numbers 11 and 12 — is undergoing extensive repairs. When time came for a meeting, McCleery, the union's London district secretary, reasoned the best place to hold it would be on location. So the union official — a member of the Labor party — staged it in the vacant home and working quarters of Britain's Conservative party leader, Prime Minister Harold Macmillan.

GM-UAW Attempt New Strike Talks

DETROIT (AP) — The United Auto Workers Union and General Motors made slow progress Friday in joint efforts to speed strike settlement.

UAW officials and GM labor relations representatives met with leaders from more than a score of local unions blocking a return-to-work movement at all of GM's 12 U.S. plants.

Leaders of locals at 24 plants were summoned to Detroit by UAW President Walter P. Reuther.

UAW leaders appeared to be making headway in quelling a revolt at the Fisher body stamping plant in Pittsburgh. John McCarrell, president of the UAW local at Pittsburgh, challenged both the UAW leadership and GM when he showed up at GM Friday morning.

But after a forenoon session with GM staff people and UAW Vice President Pat Greathouse, the stocky, barrel-chested McCarrell cooled off and told newsmen: "We feel that General Motors and our union together can iron out this problem and when the higher echelon of GM gives us the OK we'll go back to work."

The UAW and GM completed agreement Wednesday on a national contract covering wages and working conditions. The UAW's National GM Council accepted the contract but in a surprise move sought to continue the strike because of lack of local agreements at 24 plants. The UAW executive board rejected the demand for a national strike and ordered a return to work at plants where settlements had been made.

INVITES YURI NEW DELHI, India (AP) — Soviet spaceman Yuri Gagarin is flying to New Delhi Oct. 10 for a four-day visit to India as a state guest. A spokesman said Soviet spaceman No. 2, Maj. Gherman Titov, also has been invited and will be coming later.

Hunger Brings New Threat In Katanga

ELISABETHVILLE, Katanga (AP) — United Nations and Katanga authorities launched separate efforts Friday to feed more than 30,000 starving Baluba tribesmen, a new threat to Katanga's precarious peace.

Hunger has been a major factor in the appearance of marauding bands of Balubas spilling out of their big refugee camp a mile from the heart of Elisabethville.

President Moise Tshombe of this breakaway Congo province has vowed to crush the rampaging Balubas by force.

Special U.N. representative Conroy Cruise O'Brien said, "We are trying very hard to supply the Balubas." He charged that Katanga officials are trying to block U.N. efforts.

O'Brien admitted that the United Nations has had difficulty in controlling the camp.

During the day, trucks of the Katanga Red Cross manned by Belgian personnel reached the camp with some supplies.

Gray-uniformed Katanga police fanned out through the city in late afternoon to block the Balubas from coming into Elisabethville.

O'Brien said Katanga soldiers again fired into the camp, wounding an undetermined number of tribesmen.

Tshombe has declared that if necessary, he will send 1,000 police to surround the camp and halt the violence by the fierce tribesmen. The Balubas have attacked blacks and whites, injuring five or more Europeans. Tshombe claims 40 Katangans have been killed.

Tshombe also accused the United Nations of breaking its day-old truce with his warriors and demanded that the U.N. evacuate its hard-won position at the city post office.

UNITED NATIONS (AP)—The United States and the United Nations are working on a new disarmament plan with a new idea: atomic powers agree to shift control of atomic weapons to any

President Kennedy ordered the plan to the General Assembly in a wide-ranging 38-minute speech. The U.S. delegation details to the U.N. second session to be passed around to the member states in the assembly. Disarmament Commission

Kennedy proposed that the Soviet Union 15 minutes without interrupting the entire program for complete disarmament has been agreed upon by the President. He suggested on the new U.S. plan.

The President said would proceed gradually. International inspection "abolished all armies and weapons except those needed for national order and a new force." "And," he added, "that process now, today, the talks begin."

He challenged the Soviet Union to advance with us step by step to full disarmament. A new program included proposals:

"First, signing the treaty, by all nations, be done now. Tests banions need not and should be general disarmament.

Second, stopping the of fissionable materials weapons, and preventing transfer to any nation not nuclear weapons.

"Third, prohibiting the of control over nuclear to states that do not them.

"Fourth, keeping nuclear on from seeding new grounds in outer space.

"Fifth, gradually destroying nuclear weapons verifying their materials full uses; and

"Finally, halting the testing and production of nuclear delivery weapons gradually destroying them.

These points were elaborated in a 2,700-word "declaration of intent" containing a stage U.S. outline proposal for a peaceful world agreement in a peaceful world. The bulk of the documentation is for U.N. distribution.

The third point had not proposed formally before the United States, the United Kingdom, France, and the Soviet Union, Britain and France handling control over nuclear weapons to countries not them.

U.S. sources said that the United States had put forward each stage of disarmament proposals as a basis of take it all or nothing. The government now is to single out the part nuclear weapon transfers other part, and sign an agreement on that. One said the new disarmament "one of the boldest, most far-reaching, one of comprehensive" ever anywhere.

The new plan dropped in the 1960 plan — that progressively reducing military gets and that of setting up of aerial and ground inspection an area including the States and the Soviet Union
