Cal Bandsmen
Out To Prove
West Is Best

Says Iowa Band Is Better Than Others

By JUDY MAACK
Staff Writer

CEDAR RAPIDS — The "Battle of the Bands," set for the half-time of the Iowa-California game today, shaped up Friday afternoon with the arrival of four busloads of Cal bandsmen here on the last leg of their trip to Iowa City.

The bandsmen expressed a determination to prove their supremacy over their SUI counterparts during today's halftime.

Cal's senior manager, Joe Dickinson paid the Iowans a compliment, "We don't think any other band in California is as good as Iowa's marching band." But he stressed he feels that Cal's band is the best on the West Coast. "We want to show Iowa we're better than Big Ten bands," he added.

"The student body at Cal is proud of its band and feels that this group is the cohesive force with regard to school spirit," explained Frank Jeans, editor of the Daily Californian, University of California's student newspaper.

He continued, "We at Berkeley think we have the best band in the country." The statement that Cal's band was outstripped by the SUI's marching band in the 1959 Rose Bowl was made by the Athletic Director at Cal and isn't the feeling of the whole campus, he explained.

"We definitely believe the band's presence at the game will help the football team," Elton Butler, publicity and public relations manager for the band said. "It gives both vocal and musical support to the team."

"Cal's band plays for some football practices which really picks up team spirit," said Walt Taylor, a bandsman from Berkeley. When the team loses a game, the band takes over and keeps the spirit up, he pointed out.

"We did not plan any special program for the Iowa-Cal game," Butler said. "We have seven different shows for the season and no one program is more special than others," he continued. "Plans were made last spring for the program and rehearsals began Sept. 12."

The Cal bandsmen, well-known on the Berkeley campus for their spontaneous jokes, arrived in Cedar Rapids with an extra member in their party. Howard Ekret, Cal's Rally Committee Chairman, was kidnapped by the band and brought along for the weekend.

Enrollment
At 11,610—
SUI Record

For the second year in a row, enrollment at the State University of Iowa has hit an all-time high, President Virgil M. Hancher reported Friday.

Hancher said a preliminary report on enrollments showed that 11,610 students are enrolled at the institution. Enrollment last fall was about 11,400.

As anticipated, the biggest increase was in the College of Liberal Arts. The preliminary enrollment was 6,645, up 346 from the final figure of last fall.

The SUI Graduate School gained 50 students, to a total of 2,352. Hancher pointed out that enrollment continues to exceed the projected figures drawn up several years ago by the Board of Regents Coordinating Committee of Registrars.

In 1955, this committee predicted an SUI enrollment by 1962 of 10,350. Because actual enrollments were running ahead of the estimates, this prediction was revised in 1958 to 11,400 for the fall of 1961.

Argentina Plot by Cubans Revealed

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — With a demand for hemispheric action against Prime Minister Fidel Castro, an exile Cuban organization Friday showed newsmen authentic-looking documents purporting to outline Cuban government plans to foment subversion in Argentina.

The Democratic Revolutionary Front group, said these documents deal with "consignment of monies turned over to different outstanding figures and groups in Argentina."

CONDEMNED BY CASTRO
KEY WEST, Fla. (AP) — Fidel Castro's firing squads executed two men today and revolutionary tribunals sentenced 46 other persons to long prison terms, Havana radio reported.

The executions brought to 627 the unofficial tally of publicly announced executions since Castro took power in 1959.

2,000 Fans
At Pep Rally

The Iowa Hawkeyes received fitting support last night from the student body, despite the threat of rain.

At the year's first pep rally in front of Old Capitol, a crowd of about 2,000 students turned out to hear addresses by Head Coach Jerry Burns, co-captains Wilburn Hollis and Bill Van Buren, and master of ceremonies Howard Kennedy.

Hollis told his fellow students, "There are more people here tonight than at all the rallies last year. If this is an indication of the year we'll have, we'll do all right." Head Coach Burns set the mood for the rally by telling everyone "It is a thrill to coach for the greatest student body in the country." Burns added, "With student support this will be the fightingest ball club ever seen at Iowa."

Lone dissenter Howard Ekret, chairman of Cal's rally committee, took the microphone and told the assembled SUlowans, "Tomorrow we will try to out yell, out cheer and out play you." His short speech concluding with "Beat Iowa" was nearly drowned out by the booning crowd.

Iowa Faces Cal;
Puts No. 1 Rating
On Line Here

By JERRY ELSEA
Sports Editor

Iowa's heralded, yet untried, football team puts its reputation on the line today against California's Golden Bears, the first opponent to challenge the national consensus that Iowa is the team to beat.

At 1:30 p.m. in Iowa's 59,000 capacity stadium, Jerry Burns, widely-publicized but also untried as head coach, will direct the Hawks in trying to show that Iowa's No. 1 rating is not a mistake and that he is an able successor to gridiron mastermind Forest Evashevski.

Both tasks may be difficult in this first game. Possible gametime showers could slow Iowa's breakout offense. Or a stubborn California defense could prevent the scoring orgy predicted for the heavily-favored Hawks.

Each move made by Burns and his staff will be scrutinized by every fan, sports writer, and Monday quarterback seeing the game.

Simply a win may not be good enough. A narrow escape for the Hawks may be enough to drop Iowa to fifth, seventh or even lower in national polls.

In any event, Iowa's Burns is under more pressure than any Iowa coach has ever experienced on opening day. In the face of this pressure Burns, who has calmly prepared his team for an all-out struggle against what he considers a team of "fine potential."

Against Coach Marv Levy's Californians, Burns will send his veteran-laden first string which he wouldn't likely trade for any other first unit in the country.

The Hawk's notorious offense will be directed by All-America candidate Wilburn Hollis, a powerhouse runner with newly developed passing skills.

Another top touchdown threat, Larry Ferguson, will run at the left halfback slot. Ferguson, a 1960 All-America, averaged a whopping 7.3 yards per carry last season leading the Big Ten in that department.

Powerful Joe Williams, third star in Burns' backfield galaxy, will be at fullback with mercuric Sammie Harris rounding out the foursome.

Iowa's line is once again big and

Cal's Levy
Enjoys C.R.
Homecoming

By Staff Writer
CEDAR RAPIDS—Smiling Marv Levy, California Bears' head football coach, stepped off a DC 6 here Friday afternoon and said his team has a "tremendous challenge" in playing the number one team in the nation today.

"We're not a strong team," he added. "But we are not awed by Iowa. We have tremendous respect for Jerry Burns and the squad, but we're looking forward to an interesting game."

It was raining, cloudy and cold at the municipal airport when the plane touched down at about 4:47 p.m.

The first thing Mrs. Levy, the former Dorothy Prout of Cedar Rapids, said when she reached the ground was: "This isn't exactly like California."

Her husband gave her a polite jab and whispered loudly, "Don't rub it in dear."

It was a grand homecoming for Levy, for he is highly respected in these parts.

He earned eight letters while studying at Coe here. Three were in football, three in track and two in basketball. He served as backfield coach at Coe for three years upon graduation. Levy is a Phi Beta Kappa, and he earned it at Coe.

Levy was toasted proudly in Cedar Rapids Friday night by Iowa friends and the Cal band at a series of dinners and pep rallies.

India's Nehru
Just Missed
In Explosion

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — Street lights suddenly went off and an explosion rang out in a congested quarter of Old Delhi Friday night just after Prime Minister Nehru motored by, police reported. Five bystanders and a policeman were reported hurt.

A policeman standing nearby said the explosion occurred about a minute after Nehru passed, en route home to adjoining New Delhi from a Gandhi birthday ceremony.

Police sources said it would be difficult to guess a motive for an attack on Nehru but openly wondered if the explosion had anything to do with agitation for a separate Sikh state in the Punjab.

Nehru had appealed to the aged Sikh leader Master Tara Singh to end the hunger strike he started 46 days ago at Amritsar to dramatize the campaign for a state for the militant, bearded Sikh religious community. Nehru also appealed to Hindu ascetic Surya Dev to end his counterfast against establishment of a Sikh state.

Nehru made his twin appeals while inaugurating the Gandhi birthday week celebrations here.

Police were frankly puzzled by several aspects of the Old Delhi explosion. They said street lights went off almost immediately after Nehru's car passed and the cracker was thrown in darkness.

The lights returned almost simultaneously with the explosion, they said, adding it was not known whether the switching off and on of the lights was accidental or done by conspiratorial design.

800 Attend Last Rites
For Charles Wilson

DETROIT (AP) — Charles E. Wilson, former General Motors Corp. president who served as secretary of defense in the first Eisenhower Administration, was honored by industry and the armed forces at a big church funeral Friday.

More than 800 people, including top business executives, military and government representatives, attended rites in suburban Beverly Hills. Wilson, 71, died Tuesday of a coronary thrombosis.

Nasser Troops Out—
Syria Wins Freedom

By WEBB MCKINLEY
BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Syria won independence by force of arms from President Gamal Abdel Nasser's United Arab Republic Friday and a new conservative Syrian regime Saturday promised elections and constitutional rule.

Nasser, in Cairo, yielded with a decision not to fight. It was a tremendous blow to his dreams of an "Arab nation" that would encompass all the Arabic-Moslem world.

The foundation from which Nasser launched his Arab unity goal — the merger of Syria and Egypt in the United Arab Republic — fell apart in less than four years.

The new Syrian premier, Dr. Mamoun Kuzbari, a scholarly, conservative lawyer and law professor, proclaimed Syria independent and declared the government emerging from a two-day Syrian officers' revolt has the Syrian people's full support.

In a 15-minute broadcast over Damascus radio Kuzbari said the revolutionary command in Damascus has "finished its mission at this point and has returned to the normal functions of defending the country."

Kuzbari promised that his all-civilian government will "prove itself true to the aims and support of the people" — apparently meaning elections. He also promised "a true and democratic life" for Syria.

He pledged to "lead the country within four months to a constitutional stage" but did not elaborate.

He claimed that Egypt had dominated the U.A.R. and had "liquidated loyal Syrian nationalist elements, especially in the army."

France OKs
Tunisia Pact
Over Bizerte

BIZERTE, Tunisia (AP) — France signed an agreement with Tunisia Friday night providing for a return to conditions that prevailed in the Bizerte area before bloody fighting broke out between forces of the two nations last July.

The agreement stipulates that French soldiers will be pulled back from sectors they now occupy in Bizerte City and the surrounding countryside. French officials emphasized that France will retain full access to roads linking the big French military base with the city.

The preliminary agreement opens the way for renewal of diplomatic relations between the two countries. This would permit negotiations on a timetable for evacuation of the Bizerte naval base by the French.

French President Charles de Gaulle has said France cannot give up the base immediately in view of the tense international situation. Tunisian President Habib Bourguiba has in turn said he will not insist on immediate evacuation as long as the world situation is dangerous.

After French troops return to the base, both sides will consider the situation has returned to that which existed before the fighting erupted July 19, the agreement said.

Serraj resigned from the U.A.R. Cabinet Tuesday as vice president in charge of interior affairs and security — an all but empty job. Some observers believe his resignation helped precipitate the Syrian uprising.

Kuzbari, known as a brilliant lawyer and right-wing politician, was quoted by the radio as saying his government is "a product of the revolution backed by the wish of the people."

The new premier and his Cabinet received authority from the revolutionary command to legislate by decree during a transition period prior to promised free elections.

100 Police Here
To Handle Traffic
For Football Game

Over 100 law enforcement officers from Iowa Highway Patrolmen to SUI policemen will invade the Iowa City area today in an attempt to keep the football traffic problems at a minimum.

Fifty Highway Patrolmen will constitute the main policing force with 25 stationed at highway intersections in the city and 25 at intersections in the surrounding area. About 25 SUI policemen will keep things moving in the Iowa Stadium area.

In the local area, 19 Iowa City officers and six Coralville policemen will be out — several planes will also be used to help direct traffic.

Win, Lose or Draw— They're Still No. 1

Today is initiation day at Iowa Stadium. Iowa's new head coach, 34-year-old Jerry Burns who inherited a talent-rich squad from Forest Evashevski, will get his first test today against California.

It's initiation day too for the team which has practiced — almost to the saturation point — for four solid weeks. The players are itching to go — ready to unleash what is expected to be the dangerous power they possess.

It's initiation time for another angle too. For the first time ever, a Hawkeye team is ranked No. 1 in the nation before its season begins. This is only the first of nine rugged tests that the Hawks have to pass if they are to maintain that ranking. Not only California, but Southern Cal, Indiana, Wisconsin, Purdue, Ohio State, Minnesota, Michigan and Notre Dame stand between Iowa and the No. 1 goal.

It has been a long time since so much has been expected from an Iowa team by so many so early. Never before has the "No. 1" talk circulated before the season on the Iowa campus.

The pressure is on. It bears great upon the ball club that is itself potentially great. It bears heavily upon the young coach who is known for plenty of football savvy.

Yet even with the pressure, the cool-headed statement by Burns seems to stand out: "Iowa will concentrate on its opponents one at a time — not on being No. 1."

We are certain the Iowa team and coaching staff will do just that. And in doing so, they will produce their usual top performances each week.

We join with the rest of the student body and faculty in wishing the team and its new coach the best of luck in the coming season.

Regardless of the final won-lost record, to all Iowans, the Hawks are indeed No. 1.

'I Always Like To Have Something To Read While I'm Traveling'

Matter of Fact—

Old Trunk, Moving Men— And the World Goes On

By JOSEPH ALSOP

No sight on earth arouses quite the same mixed emotions as the sight of newly arrived moving vans. The mover cometh in the glum, remorseless manner of Eugene O'Neill's Iceman. Instantly all is anguish and confusion. But this acute present discomfort is shot through, so to say, with bright anticipations of the comfort of the future.

With moving men clumping across the threshold, bearing surprises, disappointments, and cracked china, no ordinary mortal can spare a thought for the great crises of the modern age. But anyone thus forced to renew acquaintance with his possessions, after separation of many months, is driven to think long and hard about curious matters.

That old trunk the movers let fall, for instance, causing it to come to pieces like a rotten melon dropped from a third story window — why on earth did it contain a thick, yard-long hank of quite wonderfully beautiful reddish chestnut hair? You are forced to pause for an answer, even if the dining room table is coming up the steps and looks like getting stuck for eternity in the front door.

THE ANSWER, when finally dredged up from memory's dimmest recesses, turns out to be that Great Aunt Olive had scarlet fever in 1880. Her head was shaven, but her horn locks were conserved.

Can the hair be thrown away now? Certainly not, is the only possible conclusion! For who could bear to consign to oblivion these glorious tresses, which have Aunt Olive by more than 70 years?

Boots worn in Korea can certainly be sacrificed. After a certain age, a surprising shortness of breath tends to restrict front-line reporting. If there is another war, in any case, the front line is only too likely to be right here. But the fake-primitive Chinese bronze must be found a place in the already overloaded storage closet, because what it recalls is valuable, even if it is valueless itself.

THE PLACE was the old city of Sian; the time the spring, when fruit trees bloom and the air of northwest China is soft to the skin but diamond clear to the eye. The bronze was brought there in 1944, on the first leave taken after a year and a half with Gen. C. L. Chennault. The leave was spent in the house of kindly Baptist missionaries.

The missionaries had made only two converts in 20 years, but both of these Sino-Baptists had been wisely trained in the highest perfection of American church cookery. Thus the mere sight of that fake bronze brings back, with astonishing intensity, the sweet, overwhelming pang of satisfied homesickness.

Add sentimental association to bad New England habits. Confuse the situation further with the selecting instinct of a pack rat. The problem of selection, of clearance, of banishment of clutter, becomes absolutely insoluble.

BEFORE THOSE VANS made their elephantine appearance, the strongest good resolutions had been taken. This time, with a new family, new house, a new life all to be considered, the bad old ways were to be sternly reformed. What was useless, what was needless, was thus to be resolutely banished. But what has been banished in the end? The new house, which seemed so excessively large when empty, already has the look of an inadequate storage warehouse presided over by a widely-travelled lunatic.

The result, in the end, will not be streamlined, or functional, or at all likely to make anyone trot out that slightly sickening phrase, "gracious living." But the result will be a house to live in as a house in which past and present rub shoulders amiably, a house, in fact, which belongs to us and no one else, most particularly including a gracious living counselor.

It may seem a little odd, to be sure, to be exulting over the prospects of soon having this particular kind of house at this particular moment. But the rule is that you must always be ready for the world to go on, even if you suspect the world may end next week.

Power Duel In Congress Is Dangerous

By J. M. ROBERTS

Associated Press News Analyst

Congress closed on an extremely sour note. An attempt to tote up some of the things that have happened in Washington this year produces a certain sense of uneasiness about trends in American Government.

The House passed the final compromise appropriation bill and then adjourned without allowing time for the Senate to act on it. The Senate was thus left to swallow the House-approved figure or leave the administrative departments without their appropriations. Senators were outraged.

During the last weeks of the session, in the dispute over the foreign aid appropriation, even a Solomon could not have told who was acting within his own conception of the best interests of the nation, and who was trying to harvest political hay to feed upon during the forthcoming election campaign.

There was little or no statesmanlike explanation to the public which would help it pass judgment on whether the Administration had asked more than was really needed in the hope of a favorable compromise. It was just as difficult to assess the opposition to the actual money figure — as opposed to the issue of methods of financing which involved a fight over legislative and administrative prerogatives.

Was it based more on economy, on dissatisfaction with the results of the aid program abroad, or on maneuvering for bargaining positions on other issues, such as civil rights?

There has been uneasiness for years over the transition within Congress from Government under majority and minority party responsibility to Government by bloc. The actions of both the liberal and conservative coalitions this year serve to heighten that unease, regardless of the merits of the issues involved. A strong argument can be made for individual independence in Congress when it represents a conscientious effort at flexibility and objectivity in dealing with the nation's welfare. When it deteriorates into coalitions and a mere fight for the balance of power it can become dangerous.

City Loses
Iowa City came out on the end in District Court yesterday in a seven-month gas and rate battle with the Iowa Gas and Electric Company.

Judge T. W. Miles of ruled that the rates set ordinance in February are sonable and unconstitutional.

The gas and electric co. had contended that the ordinance was so low that the company is sustaining confiscatory property.

The city has maintained rates are reasonable and fair to the company and to consumers.

Judge Miles made permanent injunction issued 24 suspending the ordinance. Rates could be ordered back since that time, but this will delay later decisions.

The case has been in the since the suit was filed in the trial ended Monday. The decision will be appealed to the state supreme court.

Confusion Invites Confusion

Another theory is that the young athlete who couldn't make up his mind as between the State University of Iowa and Iowa State University got confused by the names, as many an older Iowan does.

Over the Table, But Who?

Note that Jimmy Hoffa is campaigning to organize professional athletes as part of the Teamsters. This raises an intriguing question:

When the movement gets to college football players, who sits on the other side of the collective bargaining table, the coach or the alumni association secretary?

Tourism Enlists Aid

DES MOINES — The Governor's committee on tourism decided Friday to enlist the aid of county historical societies, Chambers of Commerce, booster clubs and other organizations in taking an inventory of Iowa's tourist attractions.

Welcome to Students

FAIRFIELD — Fairfield merchants marched upon the Parsons College campus Friday — to welcome students registering for the winter trimester and invite them to a party.

Negotiations End

WATERLOO — Negotiations for a new three-year contract were concluded Thursday night by the Rath Packing Co. and Local 46 of the United Packinghouse Workers of America, they said Friday in a joint statement.

City Loses

Iowa City came out on the losing end in District Court yesterday in a seven-month gas and electric rate battle with the Iowa-Illinois Gas and Electric Company.

Judge T. W. Miles of Corydon ruled that the rates set by city ordinance in February are "unreasonable and unconstitutional."

The gas and electric company had contended that the rate ordinance was so low that the company is sustaining confiscation of its property.

The city has maintained that the rates are reasonable and fair both to the company and to the consumers.

Judge Miles made permanent the temporary injunction issued March 24 suspending the enforcement of the ordinances. Rates collected under bond since that time presumably, for the present, will continue.

Some refund may be made to customers, but this will depend on later decisions.

The case has been in the courts since the suit was filed in March. The trial ended Monday. It is expected the decision will be appealed to the state supreme court.

Local Embezzlement

The manager of the Ford Hopkins Drugstore, 201 E. Washington, was arrested yesterday on charges filed in connection with embezzling sums which may reach as high as $5,000.

Joseph Simcosky, 46, 1025 Fairchild St., is charged with the embezzlement of $1,000 over a six-month period since he was hired as manager. Charges were filed on a complaint by the Ford Hopkins Drug Company.

Simcosky told police he took cash from the cash register and juggled the drugstore's financial records.

After taking an SUI lie detector test arranged by the company recently, Simcosky signed a statement admitting theft of $1,000.

SUI Dean Declines Council Draft

Bruce E. Mahan, dean emeritus of the SUI extension division, announced Friday he will not be a candidate for the City Council despite nomination papers being circulated through the city.

Mahan requested that the papers, circulated by friends and signed by 500 Iowa Citizens, not be filed.

The dean said he is unwilling to be a candidate since three experienced and competent persons have been endorsed by the Council-Manager Association for the three council vacancies to be filled.

Nixon Calls Knight's Bribe Charge 'False and Libelous'

LOS ANGELES — Richard M. Nixon said Friday "Mr. Goodwin J. Knight's charge that an unnamed individual representing me offered him a job to stay out of the race for governor is false and libelous on its face."

Nixon, former Republican vice president who announced Wednesday night that he will seek California's governorship, made his remarks in a statement phoned to news media.

Knight said Thursday a Nixon representative offered him the post of chief justice of the California Supreme Court, or any other state job he wants, if he would abandon his candidacy for governor.

Meanwhile at Sun Valley, Idaho John Krebbiel of Los Angeles, California Republican state chairman, accused Goodwin J. Knight Friday of political blackmail in the race for governor.

Reprobates, Krebbiel said, about Knight's charge. "Nixon didn't even tell me or his office staff whether he would or would not run for governor."

Krebbiel, who is backing Nixon, said he didn't know his decision until his announcement Wednesday night.

"There was scuttlebutt a long time ago," he said, "that Knight was going to get into the race for political blackmail."

Republican Knight, a former California governor, said Thursday if Nixon denied his allegation he would name names.

Friday Knight replied to Nixon with this statement: "I accept the challenge of Richard Nixon. I will disclose the name of Nixon's pressure emissary and present my proof and witnesses at a public press conference. I will do so within a very few days."

Nixon added: "I demand that Knight and every newspaper and television and radio station which carried this charge publish a retraction."

"I have never made any promises of any kind to Knight or any other individuals to keep them out of the race for governor."

"No person representing me or authorized by me has made such a promise."

"And no promises or deals of any kind will be made in the future to get anybody out of this or any other race."

Gov. Edmund G. Brown, a Democrat expected to run for re-election in the 1962 race, said if Knight's charges are true "it is the most shocking political scandal in the history of the state."

Sulowan Awarded $125 For Telescope Design

An SUI student, George D. Ashton, E4, Davenport, has received a $125 award from the James F. Lincoln Arc Welding Foundation of Cleveland, Ohio, for his entry in the company's design contest.

Ashton entered a design of a 100-foot diameter movable radio telescope.

Know What's Going on, GOP Official Says

Robert F. Tyson, Executive Secretary of the Iowa Republican Central Committee, set forth three basic requirements for a conscientious citizen to follow in regard to politics and the world situation.

Speaking before 200 SUI Young Republicans Thursday evening, Tyson said the basic requirements were: Vote in a party primary; attend pre-election caucuses; and "know what's going on in the world around you."

Tyson said that these three basic requirements are prerequisites for any American interested in his country, and especially for college and university students.

"Both the Republican and Democratic parties need top caliber assistance in every echelon of their respective parties," Tyson said. "College campuses are the recruiting stations they are most interested in."

He went on to say that in a county in Iowa four years ago, only 4 per cent of the eligible voters turned out for the primary. A Republican was nominated by 1.2 per cent of all eligible voters, and a Democrat by 1.1 per cent. Thus the remainder of voters were dependent on the 2.3 per cent who nominated their candidates.

In a direct appeal to the students, Tyson said "You must understand the precinct caucus because this is where your candidate is chosen; it is the last vestige of the old town meeting; it is the grass roots of politics, and here you have a chance to make your voice heard."

"Campaigns now are run on the basis of slogans, and the average voter does not know what's going on," he said. "You must keep yourself informed with newspapers, public meetings and avid reading of public reports."

In reference to the 1962 election, Tyson said that "The race has already begun and attendance here demonstrates interest in public affairs at SUI."

Tire Blows, Five Injured

Three teenagers are listed in satisfactory condition in Mercy Hospital today following a one-car mishap on a county road six miles west of Iowa City Friday morning.

Hospitalized are 15-year-old Darlene Stahmer, with cuts and back injuries; 14-year-old Will Herdlika, with broken nose and collar bone; and 14-year-old Carol Ann Eggers, with bruises and abrasions.

Six high-school bound young people from rural Tiffin were in the 1957 model station wagon when the accident happened about 8 a.m. Friday. Terry Lee Potter, 18, and Vickie Files, 14, were treated for minor injuries and released. Mary Ann Roger, 16, escaped uninjured.

According to Highway Patrolman Howard Shapcott, the car, driven by Potter, blew the right rear tire and swerved out of control on a downhill graded slope.

There is a fraternity at Lake Forest which is operating locally since its suspension last year for pledging a student of Jewish extraction," he said. "Whether the sororities can operate the same way is questionable."

Cole, who has headed the institution 30 miles north of Chicago since last fall, wrote alumni Thursday that the five sororities had lost their national charters. He said the charters were withdrawn because the school's board of trustees in 1958 and last June advocated full freedom for local chapters to choose their associates, regardless of race, creed or color.

The sororities are Alpha Delta Phi, Chi Omega, Gamma Phi Beta, and Alpha Phi and Alpha Xi Delta. Cole said the trustees' action set no deadline and "no threats were made, no ultimatum issued."

E. German Envoys Shunned in Congo

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo — The Congolese government Friday gave newly arrived East German diplomats notice to get out.

A Foreign Ministry communique said they had not been invited and added that the government "does not consider it useful now to establish diplomatic relations with East Germany."

The East Germans formerly were accredited to the rebel leftist regime in Stanleyville and came to Leopoldville with other Communist-bloc diplomats after Antoine Gizenga joined Premier Cyrille Adoula's central government here.

Labor Relations Board Decides— Rule Agency Shop Is Legal

WASHINGTON — The National Labor Relations Board has ruled that the agency shop is a lawful form of union security contract under the Taft-Hartley law.

Under the agency shop, nonunion workers are required to pay union dues usually equal to the fees and dues paid by members as a condition of employment.

The board's 4-1 decision reversed a 3-2 ruling it handed down last February in an Indiana case involving General Motors Corp. and the United Auto Workers.

The current decision may be appealed.

The majority opinion Friday was signed by two new members appointed by President Kennedy — Chairman Frank W. McCulloch and Gerald A. Brown — and by the two members who were in the minority last February, Philip Ray Rodgers and John H. Fanning. Former Chairman Boyd Leedom dissented.

Leedom, Fanning and Rodgers were appointed by former President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Under the new ruling, General Motors is ordered to bargain with the UAW on an agency shop arrangement to cover 14,000 non-union GM workers in nine plants in Indiana.

Indiana is one of 19 states having right-to-work laws which forbid requiring union membership as a condition of employment.

A board spokesman said the decision does not create a binding precedent in the 18 other states with such laws, although it obviously would carry weight. The decision does not create a binding precedent in the 18 other states with such laws, although it obviously would carry weight. The decision does not create a binding precedent in the 18 other states with such laws, although it obviously would carry weight.

tracts now contain an agency shop arrangement. The device has been pushed by labor unions in recent years as a substitute for compulsory membership.

Church Leaders Ask 'Healing Divisions Among All People'

DETROIT — Bishops of the Episcopal Church Friday sounded an urgent call to action for "healing the divisions among Christ's people in all the world."

It is a task, they said, that "in faithfulness to God we cannot evade."

In a solemn pastoral letter, a central document of the Church's triennial general convention, the bishops hailed the expanding ecumenical movement to close the rifts in Christendom.

And they appealed to believers everywhere to "work and to pray without ceasing until by God's grace and in his time the divisions by which we dishonor our one Lord are done away."

It was the strongest Episcopal appeal yet for Christian reunion. "We are committed to the one great Church," the bishops said, "and must know ourselves called to be faithful to it."

hushed, closing session of the two-week convention, voiced hope for a "major breakthrough toward reunion in the United States."

It also noted the wide scope "and the urgency" of the ecumenical wave "among nearly all the separated companies of Christ's people throughout the world as they seek to overcome their separation."

"We are called to take our part," the bishops said.

The letter, which must be read in all the approximately 7,000 Episcopal congregations across the country within a month of receipt, asked courage, forbearance and determination in pursuit of reunion.

The traditional letter, drawn up by the 190-member House of Bishops, becomes a key teaching guide for the 3½-million-member denomination. It was drafted by Bishop Angus Dun, of Washington, D.C.

5 Sororities Lose Charters in Row At Lake Forest

CHICAGO — Five sororities at Lake Forest College have lost their national charters in a dispute with the college over local autonomy and the future of its Jewish students.

College President William Graham Cole said Friday he does not know whether the charterless locals can survive without national ports.

"There is a fraternity at Lake Forest which is operating locally since its suspension last year for pledging a student of Jewish extraction," he said. "Whether the sororities can operate the same way is questionable."

Cole, who has headed the institution 30 miles north of Chicago since last fall, wrote alumni Thursday that the five sororities had lost their national charters. Maris Goes Hitless As Yankees Dump Red Sox
NEW YORK (AP) — Roger Maris went hitless in four tries Friday night, failing to get home run No. 61 while the American League champion New York Yankees were beating the Boston Red Sox 2-1 on Johnny Blanchard's homer in the fourth and run-producing single in the ninth.
Maris now has two games remaining in which to get the homer that would make him the only player in major league baseball history to hit more home runs in one season than Babe Ruth.

Stengel Back in Baseball; Will Manage Mets in '62

NEW YORK (AP) — Casey Stengel, fired last year by the New York Yankees because he was too old, returned to baseball Friday at the age of 71 as manager of the New York Mets of the National League.
Stengel finally agreed to come back for at least one year in an early morning telephone conversation with his old boss, George Weiss, president of the Mets whom the Yanks retired last fall at the age of 65. Stengel was home in Glendale, Calif., where he spent the past year writing his memoirs and tending to his banking business.
No salary terms were announced, as usual. Weiss offered a bribe "no comment" when asked if Casey would get as high a salary as the $80,000 the Yanks reportedly paid him.
"Casey wanted a one-year contract," Weiss said at a news conference in the Met's office. "He told me 'if I like it and you want me, we will have no difficulties after that'."
Weiss said he hoped Stengel would be in New York Monday for a meeting with the scouts to go over the lists of players that will be made available by the other National League clubs. The actual selection will be made by the New York team and the new Houston team the day after the World Series ends.
"Casey is an ideal man to handle the type of team we will inherit," said Weiss. "There are bound to be older men on the way out. We don't expect too many budding Mickey Mantles in this grab bag. You've got to have a fellow they can respect and look up to."

Football bursts into full bloom in Big Ten territory today with approximately 400,000 fans flocking to the seven games involving conference teams.
The Big Ten title race opens with one contest — between once-tested Wisconsin and formidable Michigan State before 55,000 in Madison, Wis.
Six other conference teams engage invading opponents in inter-sectional battles, the biggest draw being the Texas Christian-Ohio State joust in Columbus, Ohio, before a capacity 82,000.
Three contests pit Big Ten teams against contenders from the West Coast's Big Five. Another matches Orange Bowl champion Missouri and Rose Bowl loser Minnesota, while a potent Eastern delegate, Boston College, visits Northwestern. Purdue and Indiana are idle after opening a week ago.
The Midwest's major independent, Notre Dame, tries to rebound from a sorry 1960 season against the one-time terror of the Big Eight, Oklahoma, before 55,000 at South Bend, Ind. This game will be televised nationally, via ABC at 1:30 p.m. CST.
In the Michigan State-Wisconsin conference scrap the untried Sparans are a touchdown favorite. The Badgers were not overly impressive in a rain-pelted 7-0 triumph over Utah last Saturday.
Before 40,000, inexperienced Illinois will try to score a second successive victory by a Big Ten team over Washington's Huskies, who whipped Wisconsin and Minnesota in the last two Rose Bowl games. Last week, Purdue dumped the Huskies 13-6.
Michigan, boasting a fine first unit but lacking in reserves, is slightly favored over UCLA in their Ann Arbor, Mich., meeting which will draw a crowd of 72,000.
Northwestern's rebuilt Wildcats make their debut before 40,000 at Evanston, Ill., against a good Boston College club which opened with a ringing 23-0 victory over Cincinnati.
The day's biggest crowd, 82,000 at Ohio State, will watch the Buckeyes, No. 2 behind Iowa in the AP poll, try to measure up to their

Are Tentative Members—

Highlanders Add 100 Coeds To World-Famous Group

One hundred SUI coeds have been accepted as tentative members of the Scottish Highlanders, the world's largest all-girl bagpipe band. Director William Adamson has announced.

After approximately a month's training period, those accepted as Highlanders will continue to receive instruction on either the bagpipes or drums. Scottish dances and folk songs which the group presents must also be learned. From 60 to 75 per cent of those tentatively accepted will become Highlanders, according to Adamson.

Clad in authentic Scottish uniforms, the Highlanders have traveled more than 100,000 miles and appeared before more than 7,000,000 persons, not including television audiences. The coed group has appeared at the Rose Bowl at Pasadena, Calif., twice and has toured Europe three times. The next trip is planned for the summer of 1964.

Rehearsals for the pre-game performance at the Iowa-California football game Saturday are in full swing for coeds already in the Highlanders.

Named to the Highlanders were Carol Nachazel, Alden; Jeannette Mangler, Bellevue; Judy Collins, and Susan Wilson, Bettendorf; Patrice Hohenshell, Boone; Carolyn Roberts, Burlington; Lynn Van Rees, Charles City; Barbara Barry, Council Bluffs; Janet Franklin, Creston; Sally Neville and Marilee Teegen, Davenport; Linda Bodson, Barbara Early, Phyllis Green, Rosemary McKenna and Charlotte White, West Des Moines; Barbara Doughty, De Witt; Barbara Armstrong and Linda Bowen, Dubuque; Judith Stein, Dyars; Suzanne Cole, Eldora; Julie Robertson, Elm; Linda Booth and Joyce Neisen, Harlan; Barbara Russell, Ida Grove; Wynona Addis, Barbara Birchard, Lona Chadek, Diane Dunlop, Judy Hanfer, Beth Hawkins, Joy Matthews, Ruth Rogers, Susan Schafer and Wanda Wilker, Iowa City; Linda Duroe, Jessy, Diana Wolfmeyer, Kookuk; Sandra Barum, Keosauqua; Karen Beardsley, Kingsley; Mary Helgeson, Lake Park; Elaine Hightis, Lake View; Carolea

Grad Student Becomes SUI's 2nd Peace Corps Member

A second SUI student has left the books temporarily for a two-year term with the Peace Corps.

He is Kenneth C. Ertl, G. of Bettendorf. Ertl, 23, will leave Oct. 6 for the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor where he will receive a minimum of 13 weeks of intensive training before leaving for Thailand. Earlier in the year, Kathleen Schoening, G. Council Bluffs was selected for the Chilean program. Ertl received a telegram Thursday night confirming his acceptance. A 1960 Business Administration graduate of St. Ambrose College, Davenport, he will teach economics and business administration in Thailand.

ERTL

The country, also known as Siam, is located in southeast Asia.

between Burma and Indo-China. Laos, also near the borders, has been the scene of much Communist activity recently, Ertl pointed out.

Ertl has been interested in the Corps since the announcement of its establishment was first made by President Kennedy. He took the first tests offered to SUIowans last May.

The Far East was Ertl's third choice of destinations. Europe ranked first with Latin America second. He isn't deeply disappointed though. "The more I read about the area, the more interested I'm becoming, now I'm anxious to get started," he said.

"I have only one regret," Ertl said. "I think Iowa will go to the Rose Bowl and I had hoped to go with them."

After his two-year term, Ertl's probable plans are to re-enter SUI, finish work on his master's degree and then go on to law school.

RAIN OR SHINE, football goes on forever. The symptoms doubtfully became virulent overnight as CUE, from 10 a.m. to 1:25 p.m., begins its fifth year as a WSUI institution. Maintaining a splendid reserve in the face of another outbreak of football fever, CUE will have interviews about the season's offering of concerts and theatre, road reports and reports on a road (Highway 80), and a generous bit of caroling from the Old Gold Singers. Shortly after noon, however, the pigskin portion of the program asserts itself: SUI football scout Kodros, Coach Burns, on-the-field interviews and Sports Round Table will preface The Big Game.

PLAY-BY-PLAY sports broadcasting at WSUI has produced a surprising number of sportscasters of professional calibre at Iowa. All through the Midwest tomorrow refugees from our broadcast booth will be at their microphones to describe one or another of the many important contests. This year, the principals at WSUI will be Bob Nelson and Mike Hoyt. We wish them good luck in a tough job.

SCORES AND JAZZ will follow the game in a sort of montage of sports and music until 5:30 p.m. The scores and game stories will be "finalized" at 8:45. Concert music and popular will follow at 6 and 8 p.m., respectively.

Panhellenic Banquet

Sorority members at SUI who made grade-point averages of 3.5 or better for the entire school year of 1960-61 will be given special recognition Monday evening at the 23rd annual Panhellenic Scholarship Banquet, to be held at Iowa Memorial Union.

John Ross Winnie, associate professor of speech, will speak at the banquet. Active members and pledges of the 14 sorority chapters at SUI, their housemothers and representatives of SUI's colleges and administrative staff will attend.

Names of the three sororities achieving the highest scholastic averages last year will be announced at the banquet, with a scholarship cup presented to the sorority with the highest average.

Lazansky in Life

A four-page picture spread in an issue of the Spanish edition of Life magazine published early this month featured Mauricio Lazansky of the SUI art faculty.

The pictures, taken at "La Universidad del Estado de Iowa," portray Lazansky at work on prints of his own and also with students on their art projects.

Pharmacy Awards

Winners of pharmacy prizes and scholarships at SUI were named Thursday evening by Louis C. Zopf, dean of the College of Pharmacy at a meeting of the SUI student branch of the American Pharmaceutical Association.

Prize winners whose names had not been announced previously included Kenner M. Berry, P2, Onawa, winner of the Jones Prize; Gordon Jossander, P4, Bloomington, Ill.; Kuever Prize; Donald Rehak, P2, Cedar Rapids; Marvin R. Nove Memorial Award; Kenneth Wichman, P2, Grinnell, Rho Chi Prize; Helen Buikema, P3, Audubon, Edward S. Rose Prize, and John True, P3, Buffalo, Mo., Audubon and Scherling Prize.

Two freshmen named to receive scholarships for the current academic year are Robert I. Lewis, Iowa City, the scholarship provided by J. W. Edgerly and Company, Inc., a drug firm located in Ottumwa; and Roger A. Parker, Hawkeye, the William L. Waters Scholarship in Pharmacy.

OH, NO!

LONDON (AP)—Alfred C. Edwards, 59, was sentenced Friday to pay a pound — $2.80 — a week for the next nine years for the murder of 698 chrysanthemums.

The prosecution in Greenwich Court said Edwards had been a loyal and efficient borough worker for 25 years until his night of madness among the mums.

Dag Receives Royal Burial

UPPSALA, Sweden (AP)—Dag Hammarskjöld, secretary-general of the United Nations, was buried at his boyhood home Friday with honors heretofore given in Sweden only to royalty.

Wrapped in the blue and gold flag of his native Sweden, his coffin at the end held but a single wreath. It was that of his king, Gustaf VI Adolf.

Men from all over the world paid homage to the U.N. Secretary-General who lost his life with 15 others in a plane crash on Sept. 18 while flying on a Congo peace mission.

U.S. Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson said: "The name of Dag Hammarskjöld has entered history — and history confers its highest honors for heroes of peace."

America's Ralph Bunche, under-secretary of the United Nations, said of his late chief: "We are like a crew that has lost its captain."

Members and representatives of foreign governments, U.N. officials, diplomats, friends and relatives of the Hammarskjöld family and high Swedish officials were among the 2,000 guests who filled the huge cathedral.

King Gustav VI Adolf and Queen Louise walked slowly to the unadorned coffin, stopped and bowed deeply — a unique tribute from a monarch to a commoner. The queen followed and she too bowed to the bier.

Then, with trembling hands, the 81-year-old archbishop-emeritus of Sweden, the Most Rev. Erling Eidson, took over.

The churchman sprinkled earth over the bier: "From dust thou art come. To it thou shall return."
