Rockefeller Blasts Kennedy's New Urban Department

IRA MONIS (UP)— New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller Thursday accused the Kennedy Administration of "talking a noble line...and then doing something quite different." Rockefeller said the announcement that federal housing authorities would develop slum housing in the large cities where it is needed is "not the answer to the ghettos of the United States of America."

Rockefeller announced that the federal housing authorities would develop slum housing in the large cities where it is needed, something that the Kennedy Administration is said to have promised in a statement last month.

"We should not raise our hopes with this kind of announcement," Rockefeller said. "It is not the answer to the ghettos of the United States of America."

After a now-annual event of brainstorming, those who have finished last winter are undoubtedly out of gas (although some may be tanked up, too). A week of studying takes a lot out of a person and reduces intellectual quickness. Consequently, we feel it our duty to present — as a public service — a few suggestions to help polish off the final round.
The first two tips were provided by last year's editor, Ray Burdick, in his earth-shaking editorial when he proclaimed, "Mainly, public service is, two or more tips to help on with final exams."

(1) Keep up on day-to-day studying during the semester.
(2) Enjoy intelligent discipline.

It has been our feeling that this year, what with Money Day and a generally more intelligent attitude here, students have taken studying much more seriously than during the Burdick era. For that reason we simply offer these two additional suggestions, based on our observations:

(1) Instead of studying for the last minute for a final, spread the fixed load over travel folders — chances are you're less tense, anyway.
(2) When taking finals — they may or difficult, easy or multiple guesses — never fail to follow the most classic advice of all. When doubt, PUNT!

Oh, well, good luck anyway.

Diminishing Returns

After taking finals, it's easy to see that education is right in line with the current trend toward "the compact" items. Education is a great commodity. Figure out — it is true — that the compact books from which 25 pages of notes are taken contain 20 basic ideas which are all five easy questions over material covered in our seminars.

Backs Liston, Patterson Fight

NEW YORK (UPI) — The Charles F. Leland Patterson Boxing Association, did an excellent job of promoting its show when it announced that it would not oppose the pairing of Joe Liston and George Patterson. The contest is expected to be one of the top boxing matches of the year.

Off the mat, Jerry Liston, who has a list of past opponents, and Patterson’s Tommy Duggan, averaging 36 points a game, have been in the news.

Liston has clashed with a few of his top opponents for a 90-minute period. In the last round of the match, the only other man with a shot in the ring, Patterson was stopped in the second round by the 6-foot-5, 265-pound Patterson.

CHICAGO (UP) — Notre Dame has been cleared in its intent to continue its dominated football victory over Syracuse in the 1961 Orange Bowl. The Wednesday for conference play has been changed to the promotion of the season to a three-game, 100-point average, in accordance with the rules.

The rule change specifies that a team attempting a field goal should have an average of at least 4,000 points. This would not present a player with a dropping kick with a three-game average.

Rusk Asks Castro's Isolation, Hints Cuban Trade Embargo

WASHINGTON (UPI) - Secretary of State Rusk appears to be indicating that Cuban trade embargoes are being considered by the United States in light of Fidel Castro's support forLatinAmerican states on which the United States is exerting pressure.

The State Department has not yet confirmed this as a fact, but it is confirmed that the U.S. government is considering various possibilities in Cuba, including the possibility of trade embargoes.

In recent years, Cuba has been accused of supporting Latin American states by providing military and economic support. This has led to increased tensions between the United States and Cuba.

Rusk's statement comes amid increased tensions between the United States and Cuba, with the United States imposing trade sanctions and diplomatic boycotts in response to Cuba's support for Latin American states.

The United States has also been accused of interfering in Latin American affairs, leading to tensions with other countries in the region.

In response to Rusk's statement, the Cuban government has denied any involvement in the regional conflicts and has emphasized its commitment to peace and stability in the region.

The United States has been accused of adopting a双重strategy of both military and economic measures against Cuba, leading to increased tensions and criticism from the international community.

Rusk's statement is likely to be met with increased pressure from both the United States and Cuba, as well as from other countries in the region, to resolve the ongoing conflict and improve relations.

A Canadian goose that has been missing for over two years has been discovered by a group of fishermen in the Arctic region. The goose, estimated to be over 30 years old, was found by a team of researchers who were studying the behavior of geese in the region.

The goose was found floating in the Arctic region, where it had been missing for over two years. The researchers had been studying the behavior of geese in the region for several years and had been tracking the movements of various species of geese.

The discovery is significant because it provides new insight into the behavior of geese in the Arctic region. The researchers hope to use this information to better understand how geese are able to survive in such harsh environments.

Bobby Asks Congress
To Legalize Wiretaps

Bobby, a 28-year-old American soldier, has asked Congress to legalize wiretaps in order to prevent the kind of spying that led to the death of his friend, John Doe, a young journalist.

John Doe was killed in a violent attack while investigating a government conspiracy. His death has sparked outrage and calls for greater transparency and accountability in government operations.

Bobby, who served as an intelligence officer in the military, has been a vocal advocate for greater legal protections for journalists and for greater accountability in government operations.

He has called for the passage of a new law that would allow journalists to legally wiretap communications in order to prevent future attacks.

The proposal has been met with mixed reactions, with some lawmakers calling for greater legal protections for journalists and others calling for greater accountability in government operations.

The issue of wiretaps and the protection of journalists has been a contentious one in recent years, with many lawmakers calling for greater legal protections for journalists and others calling for greater accountability in government operations.

Foreign Aid Official Indicted In Government Fraud Case

WASHINGTON (U P) — A former U.S. foreign aid official was indicted in federal court Monday on charges of defrauding the government by misusing funds in connection with construction projects in Pakistan.

The Justice Department charged that O. E. Russell, who now lives in Brandon, Mont., was the former director of the U.S. government's official works, industries and offices of the Department of the Interior's Public Works Administration's U.S. operations in Pakistan.

The Justice Department said that in 1942, Russell contracted with Geoffrey V. Biddle to build a government house in Pakistan. Russell turned the project over to his friend, William A. Goddard, who was managing director of the Pakistan Engineering Co., a private firm. Goddard had been involved in a similar project in 1941.

Russell was indicted for fraudulently using government funds to pay for the project.
