Settlement May Be Nearing in Algeria

PARIS (UPI) — President Charles de Gaulle ordered drastic action Friday to crush a mounting wave of terrorism amid strong reports that an Algerian cease-fire agreement is imminent.

Sources close to the Algerian rebel Government in Tunis said points at issue in secret peace talks near the Franco-Swiss border had been settled.

In Paris, however, a spokesman for the French Ministry of Algerian Affairs commented: "This is antiicipation. I wish it were correct anticipation. The talks are continuing."

Sources in Tunis asserted that the rebel ministers taking part in the secret peace talks would fly directly to Tripoli this weekend to present the Franco-rebel protocol to the national council of the revolution — the rebel "parliament" — for ratification.

These sources reported ratification would be a formality and that a cease-fire might begin within a few days and certainly before the end of the month.

Clerk Stops Shoplifters

Police reported an attempted shoplifting at Moe Whitebook's Men's Wear Store, 7 S. Dubuque St. late Thursday afternoon.

Jack Burge, a clerk in the store, told police he was waiting on two women when he left for a moment. On his return he noticed one of the women had attempted to hide a suit under her dress. He recovered the suit and refused the women's request to make a down payment on another suit.

Another clerk called police as the women left the store and entered another nearby. According to the clerk, the women returned and one of them shook him violently, then both women fled.

A search by police of the downtown area revealed no trace of the women.

Application Blanks Available Monday for Campus Posts

Application blanks for open positions on Student Senate, Board of Student Publications, Union Board, Associated Women Students, Women's Recreation Association, and senior class officers will be available at the New Information Desk of the Iowa Memorial Union Monday.

In a procedural change, Student Senate presidential and vice presidential candidates will run on the same ticket this year. In previous years, the vice president was elected from the Senate itself.

Candidates running for office must be in good standing with the University, carry enough hours to be considered a full-time student, and have a grade point average which satisfies their college requirements.

Senior class officer applications will be sent to the individual housing units. These positions are open to any juniors in good standing with the University.

All application blanks must be turned in to the New Information Desk at the Union by 4:30 p.m., March 5.

Applications for the Board of Student Publications will also be available Monday at the Journalism Office, 205, Communications Center.

Three positions are open to students, one one-year term and two two-year terms. A candidate must have at least 26 hours in one of the colleges. The Board formulates policy for The Daily Iowan and the Hawkeye.

Swisher, SUI's Mahan Seek House Seats

Bruce E. Mahan, dean emeritus of the SUI Extension Division, and Scott Swisher, Johnson County Representative in the Iowa legislature, today announced their candidacies for the Democratic nominations for Johnson County state representatives.

Swisher, 42, has been minority floor leader in the House for the last two sessions. He is seeking his fifth term as Johnson County representative. There had been speculation that he would seek the Democratic nomination for Governor.

Mahan, 71, has been a legislative consultant for 42 years.

This is his first attempt to seek political office.

In announcing his candidacy, Mahan said "we must face fairly" the problems of education, reapportionment, social welfare and mental health.

"We must work towards cordial relations between rural and urban Iowans," he said.

A member of the SUI staff since 1923, Mahan has been a lecturer in history, and a professor, director, and since 1929, dean of the Extension Division.

He became dean emeritus when he retired in January, 1961. Since then he has been working on research for a history of the College of Nursing and of the University.

For the first time this fall, Johnson County will elect two members of the state house of Representatives because of increased population. Johnson County is one of the nine Iowa counties entitled to two representatives.

Swisher, 917 Bowers St., is a life-long resident of Iowa City and received his law degree from SUI in 1943. He is now a member of the law firm, Swisher and Swisher and Marion R. Neely.

Swisher has served on many interim committees, including the powerful budget and financial control, legislative research, and investigation committees. He was voted the outstanding member of the House by newsmen covering the 1959 session. He has also served as president of the Johnson County Bar Association.

Mahan has written books and magazine articles on Iowa and Mississippi Valley history. He has also contributed articles to many educational magazines.

In 1951 he produced an educational motion picture, "Iowa's General Assembly," which shows the steps by which a bill becomes law and has been used by many educational groups.

He was born in Bedford where he graduated from high school in 1909. He received his B.A. from SUI in 1914, an M.A. in 1920, and a Ph.D. in 1927. He served on the Board of Control in Athletics for 26 years and as secretary of the School of Religion for 25 years.

He was chairman of the Committee of Visual Education and Motion Pictures of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers in 1952 to 1958, and is now adviser for "The PTA Magazine".

Dean Mahan and his wife, Edna, reside at 303 Melrose Ave., and have two sons.

Reds To Continue Air Harrassments in Berlin

Minimum U.S. Combat Seen In Viet Nam

McNamara Confers With Top Officials In Hawaii Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—United States officials expressed optimism Friday that the Communists will be defeated in South Viet Nam with a minimum of American combat and loss of life.

This view was given to newsmen coincident with the announcement that Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara will fly to Hawaii this weekend to confer again on the Viet Nam situation with top U.S. officers and diplomats from the Red-pressed Southeast Asian country.

It will be McNamara's third such trip in the past two months, indicating the great importance Washington attaches to saving South Viet Nam from what President Kennedy terms a subterranean war waged by the Reds.

U.S. aid is running about a third of a billion dollars a year.

The official optimism is based on an assessment that South Vietnamese President Ngo Dinh Diem is undertaking sufficient reforms to gain popular support in his land. It is felt also that the South Vietnamese troops are fast learning counter-guerrilla techniques which they will be able to carry out themselves without direct action by Americans.

The present U.S. military contingent in South Viet Nam, reported to number 4,000, is described as assigned for technical and training purposes only. There never has been any thought of sending the GIs out on combat or patrol work, it was stated.

Belief was expressed, too, that neither Communist China nor Red North Viet Nam would attack South Viet Nam with large-scale conventional forces, as Red China did in the Korean War.

Thus the only American casualties foreseen would be few in number, such as might be expected from airplane crashes. And when South Vietnamese helicopter pilots are trained, even that number is expected to be reduced.

President Kennedy has said that Americans are under orders to return fire if fired upon but it is not anticipated that this type of defensive clash will occur often in the sort of duties assigned to U.S. troops.

Two SUIowans Fined $10, Costs

Two SUI students were each fined $10 and costs by Police Judge Jay H. Honohan as a result of a November 10 incident with a parked police car.

Charles Gilderbloom, A4, Des Moines, pled guilty to a charge of intoxication. The court dismissed a charge of intent to injure a motor vehicle.

Martha A. Britton, A2, Sioux City, was fined after pleading guilty to a charge of intent to injure a motor vehicle. A charge of intoxication against her was dismissed.

Police accused the pair of trying to manipulate levers in a police car parked at the station.

No Action Set In 'Keg' Case

M. L. Huit, SUI dean of students, said Thursday that no punitive action will be taken against either Gamma Phi Beta social sorority or Student Senate President John Niemeyer.

They were involved in a dispute when Niemeyer awarded the sorority a keg of beer for their high donation to the Project AID scholarship fund auction in December. Gamma Phi Beta refused the keg.

It is against University rules to possess or consume beer at any student residence.

Huit said he is sure there was no deliberate breaking of University rules on either part. He added that the main harm done was to have Project AID associated with such unfavorable publicity.

Nixon Warns Of Carpetbaggers

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (UPI) — Richard M. Nixon warned the Democratic national Administration Friday night to keep hands off the California gubernatorial election.

Nixon, one of three Republican candidates against incumbent Democratic Gov. Edmund G. Brown, said in a speech prepared for delivery to a rally of GOP precinct workers that he had read that there would be an "invasion of outsiders" pouring into California in the next nine months seeking to defeat him and re-elect Brown.

Quoting "reports in the press," Nixon said Brown already had paid "a political call to Washington, begging for help."

"The strategy has been laid out behind closed doors in Washington to pour men, money and propaganda into California," he said.

"I think that the independent-minded voters of California will resent this kind of carpetbagging, this invasion of outsiders seeking to influence a California election," he added.

He said he did not intend to bring anyone into the state to speak for him in his campaign. "I shall speak for myself," he said.

Peace Group Gets Chilly Reception

WASHINGTON (AP) — College and high school students picketing for peace got a cold shoulder from the weather man, hot coffee from President Kennedy and a chill at the State Department Friday.

The students descended upon Washington early to picket the White House and visit Congressmen and Government officials.

Student leaders said about 1,500 participated, and they predicted nearly 3,000 from all over the nation would be here today for the climax of the demonstration for what they call the "peace race."

Police forced students trying to picket the Russian Embassy to set their line of march 500 feet away — in conformance with District of Columbia law.

Snow pelted down for several hours and temperatures hovered near freezing. The pickets kept at it all day in relays.

In mid-afternoon, two White House butlers brought out a five-gallon can of coffee and a table with cups and everything required for sidewalk service.

Student leaders angrily told a news conference they went to a State Department briefing prepared for a sober discussion of issues in the cold war but were received with condescension and sarcasm.

Peter Goldmark, of Harvard, said the delegation of students was greeted by "five lectures with brief question-and-answer periods in between."

The lecturers, he said, "treated us as if we were very, very young . . . and totally in the dark" about issues of the cold war.

State Department officials said some of the questions were naive and seemed to indicate that the demonstrators felt they had the answers to world peace.

Goldmark said, "We come as much in support of President Kennedy's policies as in criticism. We just think there is more the Government can do for disarmament than is being done now."

Defy Allied Warnings on Restrictions

Trouble Also Flares At Border as Mother, Son Flee E. Berlin

BERLIN (UPI) — The Soviets Friday defied a Western Allied warning against trying to restrict Western flights to Berlin and demanded exclusive use of part of one of the vital air lanes. But they failed to send up any Soviet planes to harass Western aircraft.

A Soviet Embassy spokesman served notice, however, that harassing Russian flights in the three corridors to West Berlin would continue.

While tension continued over the air access routes to Berlin, Communist and Western police traded gunfire on Berlin's American sector border during a dramatic refugee escape.

Communist border guards fired more than 60 shots at a young mother fleeing with her five-year-old boy and at West Berlin police seeking to aid the escapees.

West Berlin police said they fired some 50 warning shots to cover the flight.

Police said that mother and child both escaped to the West and no one was hit by the gunfire.

The mother, police said, first dropped her son from the first floor balcony of a border house in the direction of a net held 11 feet away by 17 West Berlin firemen. But the child missed and landed in barbed wire immediately in front of the house.

The mother then jumped from the balcony, cleared the barbed wire and landed on the net. She grabbed her son, who was injured slightly in scrambling through the wire and both fled to safety.

Communist guards fired at the mother as she stood on the balcony and at the West Berlin emergency squad holding the net below Thereupon, Western headquarters said, West Berlin police fired warning shots as cover.

In the air the Russians attempted to bar Western aircraft from low altitudes in one of the three 20-mile air corridors Friday but they did not enforce the ban with harassing fighter flights as they did Thursday, a Western spokesman said.

The weather was cloudy and there were gale force winds. It was thought this might have kept the Soviet MIGs down because the Russians rarely fly in Germany in bad weather.

Even though they sent up no planes the Russians did not drop their campaign against unrestricted Western use of the three 20-mile-wide aircraft corridors to Berlin.

A Soviet Embassy spokesman in East Berlin virtually rejected a protest made by the West in Moscow Thursday against the harassing flights.

Soviet Embassy press attache Alexander J. Bogomolov told United Press International that the flights, "so far as I know will continue as they have."

Forell: Considerable Amount Of Vitality in Russian Church

After a week-long meeting with Soviet churchmen in Prague, Czechoslovakia, a SUI religion professor said Friday that "the church is very much alive, in the Soviet sphere" and there is a "considerable amount of vitality in the Russian Orthodox Church."

George Forell, SUI professor of religion, said his general impression of the situation of the church today in Russia, Hungary, East Germany, Poland and Czechoslovakia is that it is "difficult but hopeful — in East Germany, the most difficult and the least hopeful."

Forell was one of 12 American Protestant leaders, and the only Lutheran, to be invited by the Ecumenical Institute of the Theological Faculty of Prague to attend the late January meeting of East and West religious leaders. The purpose of the meeting was to permit face-to-face conversations between the two groups of churchmen, instead of depending on propaganda releases for information about each other, said Forell.

Forell said that his observations indicate vastly different attitudes toward religion in the different Soviet satellite countries. The difficulties of Christians in Czechoslovakia are less severe than in East Germany and in Poland they are less severe than in Hungary.

An example of the differences, Forell said, is that clergymen in Czechoslovakia are paid by the Government; in Hungary, they are not. Many of the Soviet satellite countries give money to the church, he said, although this is not the case in Russia.

Atheistic propaganda is directed toward the most ignorant part of the Russian population, the SUI professor said. But, at least in Czechoslovakia, there is "no indication that the propaganda has had significant success," he added.

Nikita Khrushchev's comment that "Gagarin did not find God when he circled the globe" shows how intellectually feeble this propaganda is, added Forell.

The Russian attitude, Forell believes, is that they hope the church eventually will disappear. However, they seem to realize that this is not the time to make an "incident" over religion, and hope to wean the people away from the church by propaganda. However, thousands of churches in Russia have been closed recently because it was alleged that "not enough people came."

Forell says that we in the West have an exaggerated notion of the efficiency of the Communist system, especially in the satellite countries, and it is the inefficiency and corruption which creates space for "limited freedom." He noted a "passive resistance" in Czechoslovakia — that is, men teaching in the schools do not really have their heart in the atheistic propaganda they must present.

Forell noted a real interest in religion among the young people of Russia and the satellites. Religious leaders meet with groups of students and discuss religion, even though this is frowned on by the Government, Forell said.

Since the de-Stalinization, the church in Czechoslovakia, at least, has been allowed slightly more freedom, he said.

$270,105 in Gifts, Grants Given to SUI in January

Grants totalling $270,105.50 to finance research, department programs and gifts were accepted during January at SUI.

The grants, accepted by the finance committee of the State Board of Regents, mainly were directed toward research study. Some of the grants, however, provide for support of departmental programs, scholarships, and gifts to the patients of the University Hospitals at SUI.

The bulk of the January grants — $110,993.05 — is to be used for research in the College of Medicine. The largest contribution — $75,463 — for the medical research came from the U.S. Public Health Service. A grant of $30,000 came from the National Science Foundation.

Grants for research outside of the medical college include a $42,025 grant for the department of speech pathology. This grant was made by the U.S. Public Health Service.

Rayl, Hoosiers' Fast Break Threaten Hawks at Indiana

By GARY SPURGEON
Staff Writer

Iowa's basketball team faces a tough assignment today when it attempts to break a four game losing streak at Indiana.

The 1 p.m. encounter will pit the Big Ten's No. 2 and No. 3 scorers against each other. Jimmy Rayl of Indiana holds down the second place spot in the conference scoring race with a 31.1 average. Iowa's Don Nelson is the No. 3 man with a 27.2 average.

Averaging 18.5

Stopping Rayl, who set a Big Ten scoring record of 56 points earlier in the season, along with stopping Indiana's fast break attack will be the major problems facing the Hawks.

Iowa Coach Sharm Scheuerman was unavailable for comment Friday morning, but assistant coach Bob King said that the task of guarding the Indiana sharp shooter will be the job of Iowa guard Joe Reddington.

King said, "We will pick Rayl up well out on the court and switch off on him on the screens."

Rayl's outside shooting is not the only threat posed by the 6-2 guard. Rayl has scored over one-fourth of his points on free throws. King attributed this to the number of shots that Rayl gets off in a game. He said, "When anyone takes a lot of shots, he is bound to get fouled a lot."

This may be a special thorn in the sides of the Hoosiers. They have been plagued by foul trouble in recent games. A recurrence could possibly spell out doom for them.

Slowing down the Hoosier fast break will also be a central problem. King said, "We hope to slow down their fast break, which is their strength. We plan to slow down and play a deliberate type of game."

Two other Indiana starters assist Rayl in good fashion. Tom Bolyard is averaging 18.5 points per game and guard Jerry Bass is dumping in points at a 14.3 clip.

Scheuerman will start the same five men that have started most of the last games. Starting forwards will be Doug Mehlnhaus and Matt Szykowny. Andy Hankins and Reddington will be at the guard positions while Nelson will operate in the pivot spot.

King listed Hankins as the only Hawkeye with injury trouble. He has been bothered with an injured ankle the last few games and is still not able to operate at peak efficiency.

King also said that the team's mental attitude was good despite their four straight losses. He said, "The boys think that they can win the game."

A victory for the Hawkeyes would put them in fifth place in the Big Ten standings. They are now 3-5 in conference play. Indiana, currently in a three game losing streak, has a 3-4 conference record.

"I think it will be a real fine ball game," said King. "It probably could be rated as a toss-up." After the Indiana game the Hawkeyes return home for an engagement with Michigan State Monday night in the Field House.

Thinclads Try For First Victory at Northwestern

By GEORGE KAMPLING
Staff Writer

Coach Francis Cretzmeier takes his Iowa track squad on its second straight road trip of the indoor season today, facing the Northwestern Wildcats at Evanston. The Hawks lost their season opener 73-51 against strong Wisconsin last weekend.

The Wildcats lost decisively to Minnesota, and last week defeated Chicago 79-30 in dual action. In a triangular meet, Northwestern finished third behind Ohio State and Michigan State. This is the final home meet for the Wildcats in indoor action.

Bob Nielsen will be out of high jump competition this week with a pulled muscle. Roger Kerr, second in the 440 last week at Madison, hurt his shoulder in wrestling class this week, and may be sidelined because of the injury.

Other changes in the Hawkeye lineup find Paul Krause and Mike Reilly, both members of the Iowa football team last fall, additions to the Iowa team. Krause will share high jumping chores with Jim Brye, and also may compete in the pole vault. Reilly will participate in the shot put. It is possible another member of last fall's Hawkeye backfield will compete next week against Minnesota, sophomore Lonnie Rogers, also in the high jump.

"The team ran better than I thought they would last week," said Hawkeye mentor Cretzmeier. "They had very little practice time. We will get better, there is no doubt of that."

Distance ace Jim Tucker was the only Hawk to take a first place in last week's dual with the Badgers, winning both the mile and two mile runs. "I thought Tucker's time in the mile real good, with so little running," said "Cretz." Tucker went the distance in 4:16.8, one second short of his best effort in that event.

Northwestern has been getting outstanding all-around performances from junior Elliott Williams and sophomore Preston Love. Williams, the leading point-winner on the squad took three firsts against Chicago — the 60-yard dash, broad jump and low hurdles. Love won the high hurdles, and finished second in the broad jump and the lows.

The Wildcats will be without their number one half-miler, Tom Cerull, the rest of the season. Cerull left the squad to concentrate on his studies. Still with them though, is Jerry Golem, one of the Midwest's finest quarter-milers.

"We could have a real close meet," said Cretzmeier. "I only hope we can take it. Against us is the fact they only have 50-yard hurdles and dashes there. This could hurt us and make a big difference."

Iowa will have its only home indoor meet of the year here next Friday night against Minnesota. This is also the last dual meet on the Hawkeyes' indoor schedule.

OSU Meets Wolverines In Big Ten Tilt

By The Associated Press

Michigan State, lolling deep in the Big Ten's second division, is next to try to ambush incredible Ohio State.

The top-ranked Buckeyes invade Michigan State Saturday night owning a 9-0 Big Ten mark, a 19-0 season overall record and a 71-4 Buckeye career effort by the seniors on the team — Jerry Lucas, John Havlicek and Mel Newell.

Four other Big Ten Conference games are scheduled Saturday. Illinois is host to Purdue (6-4) in a regional TV feature, while in another conference matinee, Wisconsin appears at Michigan seeking revenge for the only Badger Big Ten loss.

In other games, Iowa (3-5) is at Indiana (3-4), also an afternoon tilt, and Northwestern is at Minnesota with the winner moving out of the joint cellar tenancy.

Purdue's Terry Dischinger will be trying to fatten his Big Ten scoring lead against the Illini, who — in five previous meetings — have yielded an average of 38.8 points to the Boiler-maker All-American.

Tankers Face Wildcats In Final Home Contest

By HARRIETT HINDMAN

Iowa's swimming team meets Northwestern this afternoon in the final home contest of the season. The meet, held in the Field House pool, will begin at 1 p.m.

Northwestern will be trying for their first win over the Hawkeye swimmers since 1953. The Wildcats, which have a 1-6 season record, suffer from a lack of depth, a problem which has faced Northwestern coach Bill Peterson for some years.

Today's meet will be the last home appearance for four members of the Iowa team. Les Cutler and Pat Rhodes, Iowa co-captains, and Hawkeyes Binky Wadington and Bill Meyerhoff will be seeing their last action in the Field House pool.

Coach Bob Allen said Friday that Wadington and Cutler may possibly break school records. Wadington swims the 400-yard freestyle, and Cutler the 200-yard backstroke. The Iowa coach said that he feels the 50 and 100-yard free styles will be the best races of the afternoon.

Discussing Northwestern, Allen commented, "They haven't won many meets. They're strongest in the free style. Tom Hickerson is one of their best swimmers. He will probably compete in the 100 and 200-yard free styles, and in a relay event."

Hickerson, senior co-captain of the Northwestern squad, is one of the shortest sprinters in the Big Ten at 5-8. As a sophomore he won 12 consecutive races, but tapered off to only five victories last season when he was switched to longer races because of the depth problem.

Allen cited Jim Highland as another outstanding Wildcat. Highland swims the 50 and 100-yard free style events.

Illini Gymnasts Favored In Meet with Hawks

By JERRY ELSEA
Sports Editor

Iowa's gymnasts will be definite underdogs in their meeting with Illinois today at Champaign, according to Hawkeye Coach Dick Holzaepfel.

"I'm short George Hery and Roger Gedney again and that should explain my dilemma," said Holzaepfel.

Hery and Gedney, who ordinarily perform in free exercise, tumbling and trampoline, have been Iowa's leading point-getters thus far. But Hery suffered a chest injury and Gedney hurt his leg and the Hawks were left vulnerable facing their toughest opponents of the year.

Iowa lost, 66-41, to Southern Illinois last Saturday bringing the season record to 4-3.

The host Illini, who placed fourth in the Midwest Open, are unbeaten with 4-0, three victories coming against Big Ten opponents.

"Breaking the meet down event by event," said Holzaepfel, "They have a very strong free exercise team and so did we, but our two best men (Hery and Gedney) are out."

"We'll outscore them on the trampoline, but on the side horse, they're one of the strongest teams in the country and they will take points from us."

"On the high bar we'll be about even-up," continued Holzaepfel, "and on the parallel bars it's going to be 50-50."

"But they should take points from us in still rings and will probably come out ahead in tumbling."

"Unless something happens I hadn't counted on, I think Illinois will outscore us due to our lack of depth," the coach predicted.

Holzaepfel's optimism in the trampoline event is well-founded since Larry Snyder re-joined the squad at mid-year. Snyder, ineligible last semester, was National Collegiate and National AAU trampoline champion in 1960.

The Illini are paced by Hal

VAN S. AUTHENTICS, CADORO, and other fashion jewelry can be found in IOWA CITY at YOUNKERS FINE JEWELRY

Holmes, unbeaten in tumbling at 3-0, and Bill Lawler, undefeated on the side horse. The most versatile Illinois performer is Ray Hadley, who has amassed 70 points. Hadley has won first places on the parallel bars, horizontal bar and in free exercise.

The only common opponent for Iowa and Illinois has been Minnesota. The Illini overwhelmed the Gophers 82-30, while the Hawks won a 62-50 decision.

Regis Wins Over Regina 67-47

The Regis Royals outplayed and outclassed the Regina Regals here Friday night taking a 67-47 win.

Regis, ranked seventh in the state, hit 28 field goals while Regina was able to connect on only 15, six in the second half. Free throws kept the Regals in the game as they connected on 17 of 26.

Regis moved to an early 12-3 lead and increased it throughout the game. John Cummins was high for the Cedar Rapids team with 23. John Miller had 19 for the Regals.

UELSES TO COMPETE

LOUISVILLE, Ky. — High-soaring pole vaulter John Uelses, recently sidelined by flu, has left the hospital and will compete today in the second annual Mason-Dixon Games here, game officials said Friday night.

Uelses, the first man ever to pole vault 16 feet, was feared out of the games.

Gary Gubner Shatters Shot Put Record

NEW YORK — Gary Gubner of New York University shattered his own two-week-old indoor shot put record twice Friday night, tossing the ball 64-10 3/4, then getting off a mighty heave of 64-11 3/4.

Gubner's 64-11 3/4 toss came on his final throw just as the crowd was settling for the New York Athletic Club Games in Madison Square Garden.

Gubner now needs only to break Bill Nieder's 65-10 world outdoor record to become the greatest shot-putter in history.

Little Jim Beatty, the world's first sub-four-minute indoor miler, won the Baxter Mile in 4:00.9.

Just last Saturday Beatty broke the indoor four-minute mile barrier with a 3:58.9 clocking at Los Angeles.

A lot of responsibility, but he handled it well and earned an assignment as Project Engineer. Now he handles still more complex building projects, each contributing to better telephone service for Chicago. Martin Cawley and other young engineers like him in Bell Telephone Companies throughout the country help bring the finest communications service in the world to the homes and businesses of a growing America.
