

Sit-in Demonstration at Office of Student Affairs Planned

3 or 4 Students To Picket Office All Day Monday

By STEVE SANGER
Staff Writer

After Friday's Old Capitol demonstration—the largest so far with a total of 75 picketing—Walter Keller, G. Brooklyn, N.Y., leader of the marchers, revealed plans of a sit-in at the Office of Student Affairs all day Monday.

Keller explained the proposed sit-in, by three or four persons, "will symbolize the spirit of our picketing."

"Part of our aim is to get a response on the investigation of racial discrimination in off-campus student housing," he said.

The Office of Student Affairs is investigating charges of 10 cases of discrimination in off-campus approved student housing arising out of an investigation by The Daily Iowan in late February.

M. L. Huit, dean of students, who is conducting the investigation, is out of town and will not be back until April 23. Keller said he "hopes one of Huit's assistants can make some statement about the progress of the investigation."

The sit-in will be orderly and the group will leave when the office closes. "You might say these people will be waiting for news of the report," Keller said.

Several marchers gave their reasons for joining the picketing:

John Niemeyer, LI, Elkader, former student body president, said, "This picketing is a reasonable thing to do. I decided to start putting my money where my mouth is."

Al Hinton, A4, Saginaw, Mich., a Negro and a football player: "I'm not very articulate, but this picketing is just something you feel is right. Something has to be done."

Nolden Gentry, L2, Rockford, Ill., a Negro and a former SUI basketball player, now a law student said, "I wish the University would come out and take a positive stand. I think it is only right that it does."

Al Lee, G, Louisville, Ky., president of the Socialist Discussion Club. "This picketing is a minor political act which represents a wish to see something done about racial discrimination."

Seymour Gray Jr., A2, Des Moines, member of Student Senate and a Negro, said, "I should hope this picketing will get some results from Huit or President Hancher. There is a need for a definite statement on discrimination and all this picketing ought to bring it forth."

Earlier, Keller had said the picketing "will continue until President Hancher or Dean Huit makes some statement concerning what is to be done against discrimination on this campus and in Iowa City."

The group is also protesting racial discrimination by barbershops and employers.

Also marching were seven Alpha Epsilon Pi social fraternity members, three from Kappa Alpha Theta social sorority, three faculty members, six high school students here for the State Forensic League tournament, Kirk Boyd, G, Iowa City, ex-editor of The Daily Iowan, Karen Branson, A4, Waterloo, a member of Student Publications, Inc., and Peter Donhove, A4, Coralville, editor of the Iowa Defender. Marching will resume Monday.

Paul Kelso, G, Dallas, Tex., who calls himself one of Iowa City's leading cabaret singers, said he "might write a song about the demonstrations."

"Sandy Odetta Co-op," the brown, black, white and yellow pup which wore a picket sign Wednesday, reappeared. Her sign read, "I Don't Discriminate, Why Should People?"

Faculty SPI Members Praise Haefner Report

By DEAN MILLS
Staff Writer

Faculty members of the Board of Student Publications, Inc. (SPI) in general praised the Haefner Report on The Daily Iowan Friday.

Dr. George Easton, acting dean of the College of Dentistry, expressed the general SPI faculty opinion when he said, "I think this is a report that shows careful analysis of the situation." He added that further discussion and analysis of the findings of the report would be necessary for clarification of some points.

Dale M. Bentz, associate director of the University Library, agreed that the "report is basically well written," but he expressed doubt that the plan calling for the addition of two alumni members to the reorganized SPI board is practicable.

Bentz commented that there had been trouble under the present set-up in getting a quorum for SPI meetings. The addition of two alumni, he said, would probably make it more difficult.

Dr. L. A. Van Dyke, professor in the College of Education, said he thinks the report "reflects careful research by the committee and careful weighing of the factors involved."

Van Dyke praised the report's recommendations for closer communication between a publications board and the administration. "I think there has been some lack of such communication in the past," he said.

The three believed the report, if adopted, would not take power away from the students. "I don't believe the intent of the report is to take anything away from the students," said Easton. He added that the report in fact would seem "to give the students more freedom, with associated responsibility."

Bentz agreed that the recommendations would not take away from student control, although he added, "I do feel that The Daily Iowan is not an independent paper. It exists because the University is here, and it is an arm of the University."

Leslie G. Moeller, dean of the School of Journalism and the other faculty members on SPI, expressed essential agreement with the others in comments made earlier this week.

Moeller praised the committee's "thorough statement" and expressed hope for "responsible student performance" and "adequate supervision of the news side of the Iowan" if the report is adopted.

Brown To Speak To Dorm Leaders

About 150 are expected to attend the annual Leadership Training School today in Burge Hall.

The session, sponsored by the Inter-Dormitory President's Council (IDPC), is designed to train newly elected and appointed dorm leaders in their respective areas.

Dr. Dirck Brown, counselor to men, will be the main speaker at a noon luncheon concluding the day's activities. His topic is, "Leadership for Education in Residence Halls."

Allan Goode, A3, Bloomfield, past president of the Hillcrest Association, will speak for the out-going IDPC.

Registration will begin at 8:15 a.m. Discussion groups will convene at about 9 a.m. and reassemble in the Burge Hall South Dining Room for the 12:30 p.m. luncheon.

Co-chairmen of the training school are Mary Egger, A4, Monticello, and Larry Seufferer, B3, Elk-

Big Steel Backs Down

Administration Delighted over Turnabout

Second Biggest Producer Initiates Back Pedaling

(Combined from Leased Wires)

WASHINGTON — Big Steel's drive for a $6-a-ton price increase collapsed Friday, giving President Kennedy a smashing victory in his battle to hold the economic line.

The giant pace-setting U.S. Steel Corp., under pressure from the Government and from competitors within the industry, did an aboutface and wiped out the price boost it posted Tuesday night.

Other firms that had joined the price rise parade began following suit.

From Cleveland came word that Republic Steel Corp., the third largest producer, was rescinding

WITH KENNEDY ON ATLANTIC MANEUVERS (AP) — President Kennedy said Friday night the decision of the major steel companies to rescind their announced price boosts will strengthen the nation.

"The people of the United States are most gratified," Kennedy said.

The Chief Executive was informed after his arrival in Virginia to watch Navy exercises of the announcements first by Bethlehem and then by U.S. Steel that they were backtracking on price increases.

its price increases retroactive to April 11, "owing to the competitive situation."

The back pedaling began in mid-afternoon when Bethlehem Steel Corp., the second biggest producer, announced it was rescinding the $6-a-ton boost it put into effect Thursday.

A few hours later Big Steel followed suit and took back its increase.

The reversal of the industry trend actually came when Inland Steel Co., eighth ranking producer, and Kaiser Steel Corp., big West Coast producer, announced earlier in the day that they were holding the line against a raise.

This sent a wave of elation through Kennedy Administration circles, but there was no letup in Government pressure to stop the price drive cold. A Justice Department spokesman said "there is no change in our plans" for a grand jury investigation.

Then came U.S. Steel's announcement. Leslie Worthington, president of the firm, said in New York that the decision was made in the light of competitive developments "and all other current circumstances."

These developments and circumstances obviously included the fact that some companies refused to go along with the price boost, others were wavering, and the Government was turning all the screws possible.

Inland Steel's refusal to raise its prices provided the first crack in what until this morning was a solid steel front.

The heavy-buying Defense Department moved in swiftly.

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara ordered steel buying for defense production shifted to companies that have not raised prices. He also announced a Pentagon study to find substitute materials wherever possible.

There was Democratic delight on Capitol Hill at the dramatic turn of events. Sen. John P. Sparkman (D-Ala.) chairman of the Senate Small Business Committee, said the decision by U.S. Steel and Bethlehem was "a wonderful thing."

Sen. Russell B. Long (D-La.) chairman of a small business monopoly committee, said President Kennedy was entitled to congratulations for his "vigorous action."

"I'm sure that's what is responsible for rescinding the increases," Long said.

In announcing their decisions, the big companies placed heavy emphasis on the "competitive situation."

Kennedy in his news conference Wednesday, and McNamara Friday, hit hard on the theme that a steel price increase would hurt the U.S. in its attempt to get markets abroad.

Urge Outside Aid in Hiring New Manager

Iowa City's Council-Manager Association and the League of Women Voters have sent letters to the City Council asking that the International City Managers Association be contacted for assistance in hiring a new city manager.

The city manager's position will become vacant May 15 when the resignation of present City Manager Peter F. Roan, becomes effective. Roan has accepted a similar position in Schenectady, N.Y.

The letter from the league said the council should not accept anyone less than the best-qualified man when filling the position.

Both organizations requested the council to obtain information on available candidates from the City Managers Association.

Democrats' Panel To Talk on Iowa Apportionment

A panel discussion, "The Political Thickets — Federal Courts and State Apportionment," will be featured at a meeting of the SUI Young Democrats 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in the Senate Chamber of Old Capitol.

Featured on the panel will be: Clifford Davis, assistant professor of law; Samuel Patterson, assistant professor of political science; and John Schmidhauser, professor of political science.

The discussion will cover the recent Supreme Court decision concerning state reapportionment and its effects upon Iowa and the nation.

A business meeting will follow the panel discussion. Free coffee and donuts will be served following the meeting.

Local Firm Plans $750,000 Motel

Construction will begin May 1 on a $750,000, two-story motel west of Iowa City on Highway 6. The structure, expected to have about 100 rooms, will be a "Congress Inn" motel, one of a group of nationwide chain motels, but will be owned by a local company, the ABS Corporation.

The Viggo M. Jensen Construction Co., Iowa City, has the contract for the construction. Mrs. Robert B. Anderson, 528 Beldon Ave., wife of one of the stockholders in the corporation, said the motel is expected to be completed some time before Oct. 1.

Other stockholders are William B. Anderson, Denver, Colo.; Earl F. Buckingham, Denver, Colo.; and Ward Schwenk, Rapid City, S.D.

KING BLOCKS TRAFFIC AMMAN, Jordan (AP) — Jordan's King Hussein obeyed the law while driving through Amman. He stopped to let pedestrians cross. But the pedestrians recognized him, crowded around his car and created such a jam it took several policemen to clear the street so traffic could proceed.

The News In Brief

(Combined from Leased Wires)

ON CAMPUS— Alfred Hitchcock's "Vertigo" will be shown Sunday night in Macbride Auditorium as part of Union Board's free movie program.

The movie will be shown twice, at 6:30 and 9 p.m.

Reed Whittemore, professor of English at Carleton College, Northfield, Min., will give a lecture entitled "The Alienated Poet Insights" Monday at 8 p.m. in the Senate Chamber of Old Capitol.

Whittemore, who taught in SUI's Writer's Workshop several years ago, is editor of a Carleton College magazine, "The Carleton Miscellany."

IN THE CITY—

A self-contained portable home is the main feature at the 10th annual Iowa City Home and Trade Show today in the SUI Field House between noon and 9 p.m.

The portable home contains its own motor and driver's seat, a heating unit and an electric power plant.

A land development company and 50 local merchants will have displays. Political booths, clowns, and two children's rides are also planned.

More than 50 prizes will be given away throughout the show.

IN THE WORLD—

PARIS — A high military tribunal sentenced former Gen. Edmond Jouhaud to die a criminal's death under the guillotine for his activities as second in command of the Secret Army Organization in Algeria. The courtroom exploded with shouts of "Long Live Jouhaud" as his supporters and security gendarmes engaged in fist-fights.

MOSCOW — Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev rejected the Anglo-American appeal for a controlled nuclear test ban treaty with inspections. President Kennedy says the United States will set off nuclear explosions in the atmosphere later this month unless Russia agreed to a fool-proof accord. Khrushchev in effect called the Western stand an ultimatum.

Says Integrated Bar Useful for Lawyer Lobbying

By LAURIE WRIGHT
Staff Writer

The integrated bar can be used as a strong vehicle for getting lawyers' desires lobbied through the legislature, according to Dayton D. McKean, who gave the final Shambaugh Lecture Thursday night.

McKean, professor of political science and dean of the Graduate College at the University of Colorado, spoke on "The Special Case of the Integrated Bar" in the Senate Chamber of Old Capitol.

The integrated bar movement requires that all lawyers who seek to practice in a state that has adopted the plan must join the State Bar Association. The plan also requires compulsory dues.

North Dakota was the first state to integrate its bar in 1921. Alabama, in 1923, did the same. Today more than half the states in the United States have adopted the plan.

The integrated bar movement is being watched with great interest by other professional associations, according to McKean. Dentists in Oklahoma, he said, have already integrated in a similar way.

During a question session, McKean said that the integrated bar exists in some states where the right to work law is upheld such as in Texas.

Some states are waiting for the constitutionality of the movement to be proven before accepting it, said McKean.

Young Actresses

"The Emperor's New Clothes" will be the Children's Theater production today at 2 p.m. and 7:30 p.m. in the Iver A. Opstead Auditorium of City High School. Tickets are available at The Paper Place, Whetstone's, and the Recreation

Need Money, Hancher Says, Debaters To Close Forensic Tourney

By DENNIS BINNING
Staff Writer

AMES — Able people and enough money were cited Friday as the two major problems facing Iowa's three tax-supported universities and colleges.

A discussion of both points came up here Friday during a meeting of the Board of Regents.

While routinely approving promotions, the Regents heard SUI President Virgil M. Hancher say that the "competition for the ablest people" and the "scarcity of administrators" were the two biggest problems he faced at the present time.

Hancher said good administrators were leaving the school to take research jobs paying higher wages and offering "more fascinating" work. He said it was "increasingly difficult" to get competent administrators.

Iowa State University President James Hilton agreed with Hancher, that more money must be found in an effort to hold onto key personnel.

Hilton said the scarcity is the "most crucial I've ever seen," and pointed out that it is "very expensive" to lose a skilled department head. He explained that when "we go out to hire a replacement, we usually pay more to the new person than it would have cost us to hold onto the other man."

The Regents also decided to re-advertise for bids next week on a $1.3 million men's dormitory at Iowa State University.

The Regents named three new members to the SUI faculty and accepted resignations from four others.

Albert Y. Badre was named professor of economics, H. Sidwell Smith was appointed associate professor and acting head of civil engineering, and Barry J. Anson was named a research professor in the College of Medicine.

Resignations were accepted from Professor Boyd R. McCandless, director of the Iowa Child Welfare Research Station; Robert E. Thorne, professor of Botany; Dr. George R. Barnes, professor of radiology; and Myrtle Aydelotte, dean of the College of Nursing.

Donald B. Johnson, associate professor of political science, was appointed chairman of that department effective in September.

Campaigning, reminiscent of the recent SUI elections, was carried on in Schaeffer Hall Friday night to select a student senator from the special session A, student senate division of the 56th All-Iowa Forensic League (NFC) to represent Iowa at the National Forensic student senate.

Alan Baron, from Sioux City Central High School, after four ballots, was elected as outstanding speaker by the 39 senators in the session. Baron received a gold medal from the Iowa chapter of the NFL and will go to Butte, Mont. in May to compete in the national senate. Craig Shives, from Newton, was selected as superior speaker by the group and received a bronze medal.

Five student senators were named by a panel of six judges as among the five best speaking senators. They are Kerry Alberti, Oskaaloosa; Thomas Fritzsche, Davenport Central High School; Mike Zika, Ottumwa; Baron and Shives. Alberti served as speaker of the senate and Zika was speaker pro-tem.

The mock parliamentary session enacted a bill calling for the removal of five state elective offices from the general election ballot. Proponents of the bill proposed making the offices of auditor, secretary of state, attorney general, secretary of agriculture, treasury and commerce commission responsive to the elected governor as one way of eliminating chaos in the state administration. They pointed out that the corresponding national offices are appointive in nature.

The student senators considered but defeated two other bills calling for adoption of the metric system of measurement and lowering the voting age in Iowa to 18 years. The senate tabled an act calling for legalized horse racing in Iowa to provide added revenue for educational purposes.

A luncheon being held at noon today in the union for the more than 400 students competing in forensic events. At that time Phil E. Connell, assistant to President Hancher, will give an address and announce the winners of all events, including the first four rounds of debate. Several four-year scholarships to SUI, gold keys and public recognition will be the reward for winning events.

The debate competition will be in full swing today as high school debate teams compete for Class A (enrollment over 500) and Class B (enrollment under 500) debate championship titles. Trophies will be awarded to the winning high school in each class at 6 tonight in room 121A Schaeffer Hall. Davenport West won the Class A championship last year and Manson won the Class B title.

He suggested that a "Five-Year Plan" be adopted and said setting "artificial goals" would be quite all right.

Van Allen said that the Iowa Legislature should authorize appointment by the governor of a professional commission that would be paid to work full time on such a project.

"Are we afraid of risking $100,000 against $10 million?" he asked. "Why don't we find out where we are going, what we need to do and then go about doing it? Are we afraid of finding out what we are not doing?"

He called "distressing" the outflow of talented young people from the state. "Some of the best young people we turn out at Iowa go to either coast," he said.

In stressing the need for a statewide plan, Van Allen pointed out that the Soviet Union plans on what it is going to do and "then goes about" doing it.

Rhetoric Prof To Leave SUI

By DENNIS BINNING
Staff Writer

Carl A. Dallinger, coordinator of the Rhetoric Program and associate professor of speech at SUI, has submitted his resignation to Dewey B. Stuit, dean of the College of Liberal Arts.

Dallinger will leave SUI after the summer session to become professor of speech at Illinois State Normal University Normal, Ill.

Dallinger said that a higher salary, a full professorship and the chance to get back into the speech field were some of his reasons for leaving SUI.

He said that his duties as coordinator of the Rhetoric Program were largely administrative in nature and he is looking forward to getting back into speech teaching.

Dallinger became an associate professor at SUI in 1956 and assumed the position of coordinator of the Communications Skills program when John C. Gerber became head of the SUI English Department.

Dean Stuit said that he accepted Dallinger's resignation with regret because he had done an excellent job in the growing rhetoric program. Stuit said, "Dallinger is a person of great ability and integrity" and the job he has done in the program is a "tribute to his administrative ability." Stuit said he could understand Dallinger's leaving because "his job does not offer an opportunity for advance level teaching."

Stuit said a number of people were being considered as Dallinger's replacement, but no one had been appointed yet.

How Decisive Was The C.R. Vote?

Last Wednesday Cedar Rapids voters expressed their sentiment on an issue that has been popping up throughout the state for at least a decade.

By a 9,545 to 8,275 vote, they rejected a proposal that the city adopt daylight saving time for the summer. Many conclusions can be drawn from that vote.

It is not too surprising that there was such a large turnout of voters. This was one of the few opportunities that the people have had to voice their opinion on the issue for the record.

Another conclusion might be that the defeat in C.R. portends the death of the daylight saving time issue in Iowa.

Many Eastern Iowa towns looked toward the C.R. decision with much anticipation, because in it they saw a guidepost for future action on their part. And, so it was that after the election several local communities, including Iowa City, announced they would likewise not adopt daylight saving time this summer.

Undoubtedly the opponents are now satisfying themselves that they have the solution in hand. To them, the issue is probably dead — not only in Eastern Iowa, but over the entire state.

If so, they are right to a certain extent. The C.R. vote perhaps did seal the lid on the issue for a few years. It appears very unlikely that we will see any adoption of daylight saving time either on a large or even minor scale.

But, just how dead is the issue? All of the major cities along the Mississippi border will go on daylight time this summer in order to mesh with their Illinois brethren across the river.

The time-conflicts and snarls in appointments between the river cities and the rest of the state — for instance, Davenport and Iowa City — will continue.

Just how dead will the issue be with someone who plans to attend a wedding in Davenport, only to be greeted at the church door by the bride and groom on their way out? How settled will the issue be with a person who is to speak at a luncheon there, but finds that he is an hour overdue?

Therefore, it seems the C.R. vote was not so much of a solution as it was a decision to lull the issue into dormancy.

The Cedar Rapids Jaycees, who sponsored their city's election, have accepted the voters' decision as a defeat for daylight time here. However, they have not given up completely. They now plan to campaign for adoption of daylight time for the entire state.

Here seems to lie the real solution to the problem. State legislation that will apply one uniform time for the state is necessary. That legislation, we believe, should provide for adoption of daylight saving time.

New Species: Friendly Iowan

To the Editor:

You have to admire Governor Erbe for sheer tenacity if not diplomacy. We'll get those tourists yet. The friendly Iowan — a new species of man. Pretty sensational! Just picture this scene in the typical American home. "Well kids, where shall we go this summer — Florida, New England, or Canada?" "Oh No Mommy! Let's go to Iowa and see the friendly people."

What a terrific tourist attraction! Then again, maybe Iowans aren't really so damn hostile. They might just be typically hostile people.

I invite the Governor to try hitch-hiking in Iowa sometime. Mr. Erbe should get cynical in a hurry. I'll admit I was slow to catch on myself. After reading about the friendly Iowan, I decided last week-end to try my luck on the road again. Governor Erbe had restored my faith. I even went to the trouble of dressing up. While I didn't completely hide the fact that I am a slob, I daresay I looked every bit as harmless as Whistler's Mother.

With high hopes and a big, friendly smile, I greeted the first motorist. Strangely enough, he roared by like Fireball Roberts at Daytona Beach, leaving a big, friendly cloud of dust in my face. I was so amazed that I sent a friendly curse after him.

But I was unshaken. No doubt he was one of those subversives among us — the out-of-state "un-friendlies". Thirty cars later I began to wonder. Finally an alien shoe-salesman from Wisconsin picked me up. The scene was repeated several times.

I will admit the friendly people did make the decency not to thumb their noses at me. They weren't positively unfriendly, but they sure weren't friendly. Of course maybe I'm all wrong about this; the drivers might have been concentrating so hard on feeling friendly they didn't even notice me.

Let's hope this whole corny business blows over before things get completely out of hand! Next thing you know, someone will be rewriting anthropology textbooks. Besides, in this campaign keeps up, we're all going to get awfully damned tired of smiling. Larry Meisger, A2 332 North Van Buren St.

No Seconds on Milk

To the Editor:

BRAVO for the kitchen! Wednesday night the men of Hillcrest received less milk with their evening meal, that is, an infant with his, that is, the men who ate after 6:25. The men who ate before that time are the privileged few that received all the milk they could consume.

What is the difference between the men who ate before 6:25 and the men who ate after 6:25? NONE! The kitchen merely ran out! And, as heard from a reliable source, this is at least the third time that this has happened during this school year!

Did the lovely Hillcrest queen candidates make the difference? Any fool could see that this is not the answer. Was the kitchen so busy planning a meal that would dupe the "outsiders" into believing the men of Hillcrest ate well regularly, that it overlooked the milk supply? (i.e. Roquefort dressing, barbecued chicken). Well, this is probably a better answer than the first but the truth of the matter probably lies in just plain lousy inefficiency.

Oh, how shattered the men of Hillcrest felt when they asked for seconds in milk and were turned down with a smirking grin! Many were even angry.

Why? Because milk has been the one nourishing food on which the men of Hillcrest could rely for seconds, thirds, fourths, and so on. Is meat ever offered twice? Or dessert? Or salad? Or orange juice? Or eggs? NEVER! NEVER! What then can the men of Hillcrest, many of whom are accustomed to at least two good portions of food per meal, rely on to fill themselves adequately?

Why bread, of course! Good old fattening starchy bread! And tonight we can also rely on water! Wow! Just like prison! Bread and water! But the men of Hillcrest are better off than the inmates of prisons. The Hillcrest men get butter with their bread!!!

Targets or Readers?

To the Editor:

Spring has sprung, The grass has rizz, I wonder where the DI is??? Trite but true? It's rather embarrassing to have to slither under the door, down the steps and across the street (while still clad in a robe and slippers that have already seen too many winters), in order to retrieve a paper that, by this time, is either water-logged as a result of meeting face to face with a mud puddle, or disassembled and wrapped around the fence.

delivery boys who, through rain and snow, tread the streets nonchalantly pitching DI's hither and yon, BUT, couldn't their aim be improved or their wages increased or both, in order that the DI may boast "15,000 SATISFIED READERS?"

The Political Spectrum

By LEE THEISEN State Co-Chairman

Iowa College, Young GOPs

One of the most interesting aspects of our society is that of the extreme elements of the right. These ultra-conservatives are among the most discussed topics in our society.

What, if any is their relation to the Republican Party, and what type of people are they?

In answer to the first question, I would say that they have no connection with the Republican Party, and furthermore we don't want anything to do with them. This can be evidenced by the recent Young Republican state convention. The plank in our platform that was the most controversial was number seven: Opposition to Extremists As Republicans, we oppose both the extreme left and the extreme right. We must vigorously oppose Communism on all fronts. Communists should be kept out of all government and public jobs. While we regard Communism as the greatest present threat to freedom, we oppose any other organization which uses totalitarian tactics or makes irresponsible charges. We do not seek the support of the John Birch Society and would not accept such support if it were offered. We condemn the dangerous collectivist doctrines of the so-called "Liberal Papers" and the Americans for Democratic Action.

The SUI Young Republicans, with the aid of the Iowa State YRs, played the key roles in preserving this plank. With the largest single bloc of votes and with members making their views known on the convention floor, the SUI YRs make their views known.

The Young Republicans and the Republican Party as a whole has no use for these "self seeking" elements of the right. While there may be misguided Republicans within these groups (John Birch, etc.) these "ultras" are not part of the Republican Party. They can only hurt us, they cannot help us. They do not and I hope never will speak for the party. Any attempt by them or anyone else to say that they do is entirely false.

NO REPUBLICAN WORTH his salt would refrain from defending his party against these groups. No matter how much effort there is to tie these people in with the Republican Party, thinking people will realize that they are not part of the party. These people could never be a part of a party because they think only of self and not of all. They must realize their simple solutions will not solve today's complex problems. Communism is most dangerous from without, not from within.

Now then, let us analyze what type of people make up these groups that are called ultra-conservative.

For this I turn to the "American Political Science Review" for March of 1958, and a summary taken from the "Marginal Believer Study" conducted in the State of Minnesota by Herbert McCloskey.

"One of the clearest findings in both studies is that contrary to the claim, conservatism is not the preferred doctrine of the intellectual elite or the more intelligent segments to the population but the reverse. Conservative (meaning extreme conservative) are found most frequently among the uninformed, the poorly educated and as far as we can determine the less intelligent."

"CONSERVATISM (ULTRA), in our society, appears to be far more characteristic of social isolates, of people who think poorly of themselves, who suffer personal disgruntlement and frustration, who are submissive, timid, and wanting in confidence, who lack a clear sense of direction and purpose, who are uncertain about their values and who are generally bewildered by the alarming task of having to thread their way through a society which seems to them too complex to fathom.

"The extreme conservatives are easily the most hostile and suspicious, the most rigid and compulsive, the quickest to condemn others for their imperfections or weaknesses, the most intolerant, the most easily moved to scorn and disappointment in others, the most inflexible and unyielding in their preceptions and judgments. They seem inclined to project onto others the traits they most dislike or fear in themselves."

We Republicans must face and are facing the problem of the John Birch Society. And if a Democrat should attempt to label all Republicans as these ultras, point to what we're doing, then ask him what he's doing about the "Liberal Papers."

Band To Perform Sunday

The annual Palm Sunday concert will be presented Sunday at 3:30 p.m. in the Main Lounge of the Iowa Memorial Union by the SUI Symphony Band. Admission is free.

The soloist will be David Wright, A2, Burlington. Wright won the 1960 Major Laundries Scholarship Contest sponsored by the Iowa Bandmasters Association.

WRIGHT

Frederick C. Ebbs, director of bands and associate professor of music, will conduct. Thomas L. Davis, assistant professor of music, will be assistant conductor.

The concert will open with "Commemoration March" from "St. Lawrence Suite" by Gould. Following will be "Euryanthe Overture" by Weber-Godfrey and "Solo de Concours," a clarinet solo by Rabaud-Gee.

Other numbers on the program include "Aylesford Variations" by Kirk, the Mass from "La Fiesta Mexicana" by Reed, Latham's "Silver Anniversary Suite," "Five Miniatures" by Turina-Krance, and Sousa's "George Washington Bicentennial March."

The first concert was held last year.

Tickets Sold Out To German Dinner

The "Fastnachts Fest" — a German carnival dinner sponsored by the Foreign Student Committee of SUI's Associated Women Students — will have a capacity attendance this evening at the First Presbyterian Church.

Committee chairman Patricia Schulbach, A3, Cedar Rapids, said the Office of Student Affairs had sold out all tickets for the dinner by Friday afternoon.

Miss Schulbach said that about 10 German students, several German majors, and a number of American exchange visitors to Germany will be among those attending the feast.

The dinner, she said, will be a buffet arranged in the student center of the church for about 80 persons.

WORLD WAR CASUALTIES
LONDON — World War II was only half as tough on the British army in terms of casualty rates as World War I, an official medical history says. The World War I casualty rate ran 95 per 1,000 soldiers a month from 1914 to 1918 while in 1944-45, after D-Day, the rate was 44.8 per 1,000 per month. The history says the reason was differences in tactics.

Drama Conference At Theatre Today

About 75 amateur actors and producers are expected to attend the second annual Community Drama Conference at the University Theatre today.

Comedy will be the theme of the conference, and Dr. Lewin Goff of the University Theater, University of Kansas, will deliver a luncheon address entitled, "Divining Comedy."

The spring meetings are intended to provide community theatre and drama club workers with new experiences in the theatre.

The Community Conference follows the High School Drama conference Friday. About 230 high school students attended.

Home Ec Professors Attend Dietetic Meeting

Dr. Margaret Osborn, associate professor of home economics, Mrs. Mabel Parsons and Mrs. Elaine Havel, both instructors in home economics, attended the meeting of the Missouri, Iowa and Kansas Regional Dietetic Association, at Lincoln, Neb., April 12 and 13.

Spring Dance Tonight

The SUI International Center Association is holding a spring dance from 8 to 12 p.m. today in the River Room of the Union.

The dance is open to the public. Tickets are $1 and will be available at the door.

Hawk Relay Team Winner at Quantico With Record Time

By JIM TUCKER
Special to The Daily Iowan

QUANTICO, Va. — Iowa's mile medley relay team ran away from the field Friday to take first place in the Marine Corps Schools Relays here in record time.

The Hawkeye foursome, made up of Bill Frazier, Roger Kerr, Gary Fischer, and Jim Tucker finished 35:40 yards ahead of second place Villanova and third place North Carolina. Their time of 10:06 broke the 10:17 mark set by Western Michigan in 1958.

Frazier ran the opening half mile of the relay and brought the Hawks into third place with a time of 1:56. Kerr, the second lower runner, blazed a :48.2 quarter to bring the Hawks into second place.

Fischer ran a 3:06 three-quarter mile leg of the relay to give Tucker the lead for the anchoring leg. Tucker's 4:15 mile brought the considered the time good . . . Hawkeyes the victory.

Iowa coach Francis Cretzmeyer especially since the track was muddy from rains Thursday.

Iowa's Don Gardner took second in the 440-yard hurdles. Gardner's :54.9 sec. was about one second behind winner Andrew McCray of North Carolina College.

Iowa's Jerry Williams ran :55.5 and missed placing in the event by about one-tenth a second.

Iowa's discus thrower Cloyd Webb failed to place with a toss of 150 feet. Al Oerter, a former Kansas athlete and two time Olympic champion won the event with a record throw of 192 feet.

Iowa's 440 relay team of Bob Kramer, Gary Fischer, Frazier and Kerr won their heat, but failed to qualify on a time basis for the final.

The Hawkeyes are recognized as top contenders in the one and two mile relays today. Running the two mile will be Ralph Trimble, Frazier, Tucker and Fischer. The mile relay team will be composed of Kerr, Richards, Hollingsworth, and Frazier.

Iowa is the only midwest team in the meet. All the other schools are from eastern and southeastern U.S.

Tigers Whip Yankees 5-3 in Brisk Weather

DETROIT (AP) — Yankee-killer Frank Lary beat New York with lukewarm pitching and red-hot batting in frigid weather Friday as the Detroit Tigers won a tumultuous opener in Tiger Stadium 5-3.

A crowd of 29,411 braved 36-degree temperature, blustery winds, rain and snow to see the Tigers come back after spotting the world champions a 3-0 lead in the first four innings.

The Tigers went ahead with three runs in a wild seventh inning that started with Roger Maris, the Yankees' 61-home run hitter ducking a pop bottle.

It ended with Luis Arroyo, the Yankees' reliever, walking across the winning run and Jim Coates walking across the insurance tally.

Maris trotted in from right field, carrying the pop bottle into the Yankee dugout. He briefly refused to return to right field, but did so after he was persuaded by Manager Ralph Houk and the umpires. He received a royal boogie by fans in the right field stands and replied with what appeared to be a contemptuous gesture.

Lary struck the glove in the Tigers' winning rally, lacing a triple past Mickey Mantle in center field and chasing in the run that tied it 3-3. He pulled up lame rounding second base and was forced from the game.

Arroyo, who replaced starter Bill Stafford at the start of the seventh, then walked Jake Wood, Billy Brunch and Al Kaline, forcing in pinch runner Reno Bertoia. Coates then issued a bases-loaded walk to Norm Cash.

Lary ran his lifetime record against the Yankees to 28-10. Jim Bunning held the Yankees scoreless the last two innings.

Elston Howard was the Yankees' big gun. He touched Lary for a run-scoring double in the two-run second and then belted him for a home run in the fourth.

Ron Reifert Hurls One-Hitter As Iowa Defeats Luther 9-0

By Staff Writer

Iowa's baseball game defeated Luther 9-0 on the Iowa diamond Friday afternoon, after the Hawkeyes took command by scoring three runs in the second inning.

Veteran Hawkeye hurler Ron Reifert's bid for a no-hitter was him 19 innings in which he has not allowed an earned run.

Both teams had three up and three down in the first inning, and Bob Sherman getting the only hit of the inning, a single, but put out the right fielder's throw as he tried to steal second.

In the bottom of the second, Kennedy first baseman Howard Kennedy walked, and advanced to second on the next batter, Henning's sacrifice bunt. Catcher Jim Freese drew a walk, and Bill Niedbala hit a single into center to score Freese, and pitcher Reifert singled to score Niedbala, before Krause finished the inning by laying a grounder down the first base line.

Iowa picked up another run in the fifth when Paul Krause led off with a standup triple hit to the left field fence. Krause scored on an error on Luther's third baseman as he attempted to field a ball hit by Joe Reddington.

In the seventh inning, the Hawkeyes scored four runs as Luther racked up four errors. Krause doubled to left center, Reddington walked, Sherman flied out to center, and then the fireworks started.

Kennedy hit a ball between the first baseman's legs, and advanced to third, as both Krause and Reddington scored. Next batter Henning walked and then stole second as Kennedy scored, and Niedbala scored Henning with a single.

Iowa scored once in the eighth to bring their game total to nine — Reddington crossed on the plate on Henning's single into center.

The same two teams will meet today at 1:30 on the Iowa diamond in a double header.

DAILEY TO MINORS
CLEVELAND (AP) — The Cleveland Indians optioned pitcher Bill Dailey to Salt Lake City of the Pacific Coast League Friday to make room on the roster for Jim (Mudcat) Grant.

NEW YORK (AP) — Pittsburgh spoiled the New York Mets' home debut Friday by slipping, sliding and walking to a 4-3 victory over Casey Stengel's new National League entry in a soggy rain-soaked game at the Polo Grounds.

A noisy crowd of 12,447 watched the return of National League ball to New York after a four-year lapse.

It was damp and frosty at the historic old park, deserted by the New York Giants after the 1957 season. Rain fell through most of the contest which was played under lights all the way, with the temperature in the low 40s.

Pittsburgh opened up a 2-0 lead on starter Sherman (Roadblock) Jones with the help of some shoddy fielding in the second. Smoky Burgess was credited with a single when Charlie Neal made a fine stop of his grounder but first baseman Jim Marshall was unable to keep his foot on the bag. Don Hoak's double off the right field wall scored Burgess.

Bill Mazerowski's fly to right center fell between Gus Bell and Richie Ashburn for a triple after Bell had signaled for the ball, Hoak scoring.

Although the Mets kept scrambling back in the sloppy game, they never were able to catch

Iowa Open Gym Meet At Field House Today

By GARY SPURGEON
Staff Writer

The first annual Iowa Open Gymnastics Meet will be held today in the North Gym of the Field House. The meet will feature competition in a high school and a college division.

Meet director Dick Holzaepfel expects about 30 entries to be on hand when the high school competition gets underway at 10 a.m. An estimated 25 entries will make up the college division.

The meet is an expanded version of last year's state high school meet, which was held in connection with President Kennedy's physical fitness program. Holzaepfel said he hopes the meet will stimulate more state interest in gymnastics.

Today's meet will be open to any gymnasts of high school or college age. Holzaepfel said, "We are restricting it to only these age groups."

The high school competition will be in five events — the trampoline, tumbling, the side horse, the high bar, and the parallel bars. Holzaepfel said that an all-around champion would be chosen. This will be done by HOLZAEFFEL combining the scores for all events.

The college division will begin at 2 p.m. Holzaepfel said that he expects entries from both Iowa and Illinois schools. The collegians will participate in the same events as the high school group with free exercise, still rings, and the long horse added.

The first two finishers in each event will be awarded medals. The winner of the all-around competition will take a trophy home.

Holzaepfel stated that he was not allowing his varsity gymnasts to compete in the meet. He said that only his freshman squad would take part. They will compete unattached as will all other participants. There will be no team championship.

Even though there will be no team competition, each athlete will be required to have the permission of his school before he can take part. Holzaepfel said he also added that there would be no admission charge to meet.

Rookie Pitches Phils to Win Over Colts

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Rookie Jack Hamilton, shaking off first-inning jitters, pitched the Philadelphia Phillies to a 3-2 victory over the Houston Colt 45s Friday night in his first major league performance.

The 24-year-old farm boy from Morning Sun, Iowa, received offensive support from outfielder Tony Gonzalez who drove in the lead run with a sixth-inning home run and an insurance tally with a 420-foot triple in the eighth.

Hamilton's pitching and Gonzalez' offensive prowess spoiled Houston pitcher Dick Farrell's second major league start since the right-hander reached the majors in 1956, and franchised with his first defeat after three straight over the Chicago Cubs in a season opening series.

Hamilton almost didn't last the first inning even though Houston didn't get the ball out of the infield.

Bob Aspromonte walked to open the game and was forced by Al Spangler. But Roman Mejias dribbled a single down the third base line and Norm Larker was safe when Hamilton booted his roller.

The 200-pound rookie, however, forced catcher Hal Smith to hit into a double-play.

Leading 1-0, by virtue of two walks and catcher Clay Dalrymple's single in the second, Hamilton gave up singles to Norm Larker and Joe Amalfitano in the fourth and then hurled a wild pitch allowing Larker to score. He balked home the second run in the ninth.
