(Combined from Leased Wires)
WASHINGTON — The Army ordered Friday that all 110,000 reservists and National Guardsmen called to active duty for the Berlin crisis last fall be returned to civilian life by Aug. 11.

nedy's Administration was intent upon "elimination of the guard."
In other states, adjutant generals took up the rally cry. Army headquarters in Washington said it was besieged with protest calls and telegrams.

President Kennedy previously announced that the reserves and National Guardsmen would be released in August, but left the exact dates up to the military services.

California's Brown said he opposed any Pentagon plan to cut California guard forces by directives from Washington.

U.S. Fires 2nd Aerial Blast

Also Test Low-Yield Device Underground in Nevada

Combined From Leased Wires

The second blast in the new U.S. nuclear test series was fired at dawn Friday, a repeat performance of the initial aerial explosion of two days ago near Christmas Island.
The Pacific tests could be part of this country's attempt to pack more punch per pound into intercontinental missile warheads.

Less than five hours after announcing the Pacific explosion, the Atomic Energy Commission also announced that a nuclear device of low yield — explosive force equal to less than 20,000 tons of TNT — had been exploded underground in Nevada.

The "intermediate yield" device detonated in the Pacific, like the first on Wednesday, had an explosive force lying somewhere between 200,000 tons and 1,000,000 tons of TNT. Most probable, it was in the 100,000 ton range.

This is 5 to 25 times more powerful than the World War II 20 megaton bomb that levelled Hiroshima but it is weak in comparison to some of this country's hydrogen bombs, rated at 20 million tons of TNT power.

The Nevada test was the 30th announced underground U.S. nuclear explosion there since President Kennedy ordered the no-fall-out tests on the heels of Russia's big test series last fall.

Last Tuesday the President reluctantly ordered a go-ahead on U.S. atmospheric tests in the Pacific to keep the United States abreast — or ahead — of Russia in weapons that scientists said could only be fully tested above ground.

The first atmospheric test followed the next day at 9:45 a.m., CST, or daybreak over the mid-Pacific. The second test followed Friday at about the same time, 10 a.m., CST. Like the earlier test, the weapon was dropped from an

SOVIET COMMENT
MOSCOW (UPI) — Tass, the official Soviet news agency, Friday reported the second U.S. nuclear explosion without comment.
Pravda, the Communist party newspaper, called the resumption of testing a "reckless step" that would hamper the work of the 17-nation Geneva disarmament conference.

airplane near British-held Christmas Island.

Explosions are scheduled later at Johnston Island, the U.S. Pacific testing site. They are expected to involve experiments on the edge of space.

The Atomic Energy Commission has given no hint as to the purpose of the Pacific tests to date. But non-Government experts speculated that they were concerned with attempts to get more nuclear yield per pounds of weapon for missile warheads.

Each U.S. explosion could be expected to bring new efforts by pacifist or leftist elements to stir up demonstrations.

The major demonstration Friday — relatively small, however — was in Tokyo, where some 2,000 Japanese students tried to force their way into the U.S. Embassy. In a noisy clash with Japanese police, they were beaten back in kicking, shoving brawls.

In general, neutral nations continued to express disapproval while western Europe backed the President's reluctant decision to proceed with the tests.

In the Senate, Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield, Mont., said he was "somewhat surprised and disturbed" by the reaction of some countries. He said certain nations now criticizing the United States were quiet when Russia broke the test moratorium last fall.

The SUI Student Peace Union and Grinnell Students for Peace are sponsoring a peace demonstration protesting the resumption of nuclear testing by the United States.

The demonstrators will picket at Green Square in Cedar Rapids in front of the Federal Building, the Civil Defense Office, and the National Guard Armory.

American Embassy Attacked in Tokyo

TOKYO (UPI) — Screaming and chanting Japanese students, protesting U.S. nuclear testing, Friday stoned the walls of the U.S. Embassy compound and fought police in an unsuccessful attempt to storm the building.

More than 2,000 students surged through the streets of downtown Tokyo in the largest anti-bomb demonstration since the United States resumed testing in the atmosphere Tuesday. They clashed repeatedly with 700 policemen.

Most of the students were members of the militant leftist Zengakuren Federation. Their leaders urged them on with loudspeakers as the students snake-danced their way toward the embassy.

Major Art Collection Given To SUI by C.R. Attorney

An art collection of 50 major paintings and nearly 1,000 prints will be given to the SUI Art Department — if the University can house them adequately, President Hancher announced Friday.

A gift of Owen and Leone Elliott, the collection was gathered over a 40-year period. It includes, in addition to the paintings and prints, rare jade, antique silver and several drawings.

No estimate of the value of the collection was made.

Hancher called the gift of the Cedar Rapids attorney "a generous and significant contribution to the University's service to the arts." It is an aftermath, he said, to the recent modernization of SUI's art exhibition facilities, which are "too small to house a collection of such magnitude."

Hancher said the University hopes to build an addition to the Art Building to house the collection. This would enable both students and visitors to view the collection to best advantage, he said.
The proposed addition would contain gallery space for the collection and additional teaching facilities to replace some now housed in temporary buildings.

The addition would cost an estimated $1.1 million without equipment, Hancher said.

Terms of the Elliott bequest require that suitable housing be provided by the summer of 1967.

"My wife and I do not wish to seem impatient," Elliott said in discussing the bequest, "but we hope to see our collection in its final location during our lifetimes, if possible." The Elliotts will retain a lifetime interest in the collection.

Elliott said he and his wife had chosen SUI as their first choice to receive the collection "partly because it is a center of proven support for the arts and of proven success in that field."

"We like the idea of thousands of young people annually having the opportunity to study these masters from original examples," he said, "and we hope thus to make a modest contribution to the culture of our state."

Paintings in the collection — mostly modern French — include works of Pablo Picasso, Georges Braque, Vasily Kandinsky, Juan Gris, Chaim Soutine, Henri Matisse, Paul Gauguin and Edward Munch.

The print collection has major examples by Rembrandt, Goya and Durer. It has one of the largest private American representations of the lithographs of Honore Daumier.

The Daumier prints were shown here three weeks ago in connection with the dedication of the new Law Building.

Prof. Frank Seiberling, head of the Art Department, said "the Owen and Leone Elliott collection provides a significant base for the enlargement of our collection into one of the nation's most important universities."

"The accessibility of Iowa City to traffic along the new Interstate highway will make it easy for visitors to stop by, and we will expect many of them," Seiberling said.

Relieved of Duty After DAR Talk

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of the Army Elvis J. Stahr Jr. Friday ordered Maj. Arch E. Roberts back to civilian life for making "improper statements" in a speech to the Daughters of the American Revolution.
Stahr relieved the 47-year-old Roberts from active duty on grounds he had "violated traditional standards of conduct" for an Army officer. Roberts will retain his reserve commission after he leaves the active Army on May 7.

Roberts, declaring Stahr's order means loss of his pension rights, said he will appeal.

Will Investigate Local Court Lag

DES MOINES (AP) — The attorney general's office said Friday it is looking into complaints about the lag in disposing of cases pending in Iowa City police and justice of the peace courts.

Solicitor Gen. Wilbur Bump, speaking in the absence of Atty. Gen. Evan Hultman, said Johnson County Attorney Ralph Neuzil has been asked to make a full report on the situation.

Bump said the attorney general's office has been told that 72 cases, several of them more than three years old, are pending in Iowa City police court and that of Justice of the Peace J. Newman Toomey.

Bump said all the cases had been filed before July 1, 1961. He added that Neuzil has been asked to report on the reasons for the delay in disposing of the cases.

Because the law requires the attorney general to supervise county attorneys in all matters pertaining to the duties of their office, Bump said, the attorney general may require reports from county attorneys from time to time on the condition of public business.

Monday Is Cancer Day: Dig Deep

Monday is Cancer Day at SUI. Three hundred students will be beating the drums to beat cancer. When they ask you for a contribution dig deep, and when they give you a pamphlet read it carefully. Your life depends on it.

If present rates continue 2,500 students presently enrolled at this university will eventually die of cancer. Statistically at least one student now at SUI is known to have cancer. Several more probably have the disease and don't know it yet.

There are two ways we can beat cancer, education and research. Many cancers can be cured if they are discovered in time. This means that you must know cancer's seven danger signals and see your doctor when you discover one of them. The seven danger signals are:

- 1) Unusual bleeding or discharge.
- 2) A lump or thickening in the breast or elsewhere.
- 3) A sore that does not heal.
- 4) Change in bowel or bladder habits.
- 5) Hoarseness or cough.
- 6) Indigestion or difficulty in swallowing.
- 7) Change in a wart or mole.

If any of these danger signals persists longer than two weeks, call your doctor immediately.

The presence of one of these danger signals does not mean that you definitely have cancer. In fact, most of the time cancer is not the cause of the danger signal at all. But, cancer is a possibility, and time is of the greatest importance if the cancer is to be cured.

While many cancers can be cured many others can not. Leukemia, for example, the great killer of children, is 100 per cent fatal. Only research will destroy this menace. And research is expensive. The American Cancer Society spends over $100,000 a year for research conducted at SUI alone.

Progress is being made in the fight against cancer every day. We are developing new methods of early detection of the disease. We are developing new ways of treating cancer, with surgery, radiation, and most recently with chemistry.

Since the beginning of man's stay on this earth cancer has been a constant companion to him. May it be God's will that our generation will be the one to see this killer beaten.

Ultimate Defense

The world is terribly concerned with the big arms race — where nobody seems to be ahead. Happily, we have discovered an arms race in minor key that appears to have been settled.

The electrical industry for many years has faced two formidable offensive weapons in the hands of small boys: BB pellets and rocks propelled in the direction of street lamps.

Now engineers at General Electric have developed the ultimate defense. They have lamp refractors of plastic that are virtually unbreakable. Rocks and BB pellets bounce off them.

We wish world affairs were this simple.

"The Dark Labyrinth" by Lawrence Durrell. The story of a group of English people who take a tour intended to provide mental peace, but whose voyage ends in their being trapped in a labyrinth on Crete. A witty, philosophical treatment of the post war lost soul feeling prevalent at the time the novel was written, 1945. Due to the success of Durrell's later novels, this rather unsuccessful earlier novel has been reprinted.

"The Death of Ahasuerus" by Par Lagerkvist. The symbolism of this latest novel of the Swedish novelist and Nobel Prize winner will hold different meanings for different people. The story concerns Ahasuerus, the wandering Jew, condemned to eter-

Mr. Minow's Award and The General's Junk Pile

By JOHN CROSBY

Broadcasting magazine, which has been described politely as the spokesman for the broadcast industry and by others not so politely as its tool, has erupted in fury at the granting of a George Foster Peabody Award to Newton N. Minow, chairman of the Federal Communications Commission. The citation had hailed Mr. Minow as "the most courageous, responsible, and energetic Federal Communications Commissioner in years."

I COULDN'T AGREE more with the wording of that award if I'd written it myself, which, as a matter of fact, I did. Minow was, to put it mildly, a controversial award winner even within the 13-man committee (of which I'm a member). Those of us who were in favor of giving him an award (he's the first FCC man to win one) felt that he had done a great job in strengthening the news and public affairs departments of the networks. Whenever it is attacked, the broadcasting industry hurriedly throws the public a bone. Much of the increased news coverage and public affairs programming is directly attributable to Minow's tough "wasteland" speech. This was the basis of the award.

Broadcasting hit the roof. "The Peabody Awards committee defiled its purpose and defamed those it sought to honor last week by bestowing a special award upon the chairman of the FCC by Claude Levi-Strauss. Translated from the French by John Russell. Written by an eminent anthropologist, this book is concerned primarily with the study of certain nearly-extinct tribes in the Mato-Grosso area of Central Brazil. Its elements of autobiography, social history and observations of nature give it as much interest for the reader of travel books and the philosopher of society as for the professional anthropologist."

Since Minow was as legitimate as any other winner, that's a pretty low blow. The whole editorial represents the frustration of some elements of the industry at being unable to subvert the Peabody committee, which has been repeatedly attempted. The Peabody Awards are set up like the Pulitzer Prizes and are administered by the Henry W. Grady School of Journalism, of the University of Georgia, as the Pulitzer Prizes are run by the Graduate School of Journalism of Columbia University.

THE COMMITTEE has always been notably independent and honest in its awards and the Peabody is probably the only TV award completely free of industry pressure. Not that these are not attempted. Last year many members of the board were persistently wooed, courted, pressured, flattered, and flagellated in an effort to win an award for David Sarnoff, chairman of the board of Radio Corporation of America, on the occasion of the 25th anniversary of something or other.

THOSE, THEN, WERE two of the reasons behind that editorial fury. First, the committee bestow an accolade on the industry's chief gadfly. Second, it scorned one of its patriarchs. There was a third reason. For several years, there have been attempts to bring the Peabody Awards committee to heel and make it the slave girl (I guess that's the strongest word for it I can get into this newspaper) of the big wheels like Sarnoff and the rest. A few years ago, it was proposed that the Peabody Awards have nominees like the Motion Picture Academy Oscars and that the whole business be put under TV cameras with the opening of the envelopes and all that whoop-de-dee. The committee didn't like the circus atmosphere and said no.

Last year, the Radio and Television Executives Society, which had always picked up the check for the awards luncheon, used all kinds of blandishments and pressures just short of torture, trying to get the Peabody committee to become part of a much larger awards committee. This, we were told, would then be the official awards committee of the industry. (I suppose we'd call Gen. Sarnoff once a year to ask him what he wanted in the nature of an award this year and who else might be permitted to honor.) Being allergic to stomach aches, the committee respectfully declined the honor of being swallowed whole. That is the third reason for the fury of Broadcasting magazine.

We may be poor, but we're honest. And we own our own souls. Which is more than Broadcasting can say about its soul.

Letters to the Editor

Possible Way Of Solving Movie Problem

To the Editor:

I would like to compliment The Daily Iowan on the editorial entitled "Parents Should Know Content of Movies" as it has posed a problem which seems to be prevalent in Iowa City. The theatres in this town offer many good opportunities for fine adult entertainment through its motion pictures, including "art" films. Yet these same opportunities are open to immature youngsters who are easily influenced by what they see on the screen.

The editorial has given a good solution. Parents should be aware of the movies offered, and judge the ones to which their children shall be permitted to go. But this is not enough. Just about any child can go to any Iowa City theatre anytime, whether the picture is recommended for adults only or not. For the price of a 25-cent ticket, any youngster can expose himself to films which could influence an immature mind.

I think there are possibly two solutions. First, the way in which motion pictures are advertised as "adult" could be to blame, because they are advertising for children who want to see these types of films. I feel few parents know to which movies their children are going, and the children can easily spot these films when advertised in this way. If, instead of such advertising, theatre managers would use discretion in publishing the sometimes suggestive pictures and story lines and instead give the main theme of the picture not so blazily displayed, children would not be so tempted as they are now.

My second suggestion is to offer only adult tickets to such movies which have themes that only adults can understand. When I spoke with one theatre manager, he told me that he would offer only such tickets if his theatre showed "art" films. I think that this is perhaps the best solution, for most children do not look old enough to purchase such tickets, and if they could buy them, I feel that anywhere from 65 to 95 cents per ticket is just too much a child would be willing to pay.

I do believe that this type of informal censorship is the best kind. As long as children have easy access to theatres, many will continue to go to adult movies.

Race Bias And Quixote

To the Editor:

While following the recent controversy over discrimination I have been struck by the similarity between Walt Keller and Don Quixote. It was Don Quixote's aim to correct wrongs and protect the innocent, but he tried to do so by tilting with windmills. We can admire the purity of his motives while questioning the usefulness of his actions.

In this light, the forum proposed for next Wednesday night might well serve as a source of useful ideas on how to slay the very real dragon of discrimination.

Milk Boycott For Peace

To the Editor:

Thousands of American mothers will be boycotting fresh milk during the current nuclear test series and for two weeks after.

The idea was originated by the "Women's Strike for Peace," group 1843 Vernon St., Washington, D.C., with a two-fold purpose: (1) To let the Government and food industries know how deeply concerned people are over the accelerating arms race and the subsequent increased fallout contamination of food and milk.

(2) To afford some measure of protection for babies and children against the short-lived isotope iodine 131 which is known to cause thyroid cancer, especially in children who are 18 times more susceptible. The greatest danger period from this isotope is the eight days directly following the test.

Milk bottle flyers, which graphically tell the story of the milk's contamination, are being obtained for afternoons and evenings and in some cases all day Saturday and Sunday.

Iowa's 4-Mile Relay Team Takes 4th at Drake Relays

Gardner, Williams Place In Hurdles; Uelses Fizzles

DES MOINES (AP) — Iowa's four-mile relay team, running in the fourth field at the Kansas Relays, took fourth place in the rain splattered 53rd Drake Relays event here Friday. Individual standouts for the Hawks were Don Gardner and Jerry Williams who placed third and fifth respectively in the 440-yard hurdles.

While the four-mile relay and hurdles were final events, Iowa's 880-yard relay team qualified for today's finals along with Purdue, Michigan State, Oklahoma, Baylor and Kansas State.

The Hawkeye mile relay team also qualified for today's finals along with Southern Methodist, Baylor, Iowa State, Missouri and Drake.

Iowa's four mile team, made up of Gary Fischer, Larry Kramer, Ralph Trimble and Jim Tucker turned in a creditable 17:17.6 clocking, but Kansas' speedy foursome was way out in front with 16:57.2.

Southern Illinois and a strong Nebraska team took second and third while Michigan State finished behind Iowa for fifth.

In the 440-yard hurdles, run in two separate heats, Iowa's Gardner turned in the third best time of :54.5 and teammate Williams' fifth place clocking was :55.3. Georgia Tech's Ron Ablowich won the event in :53.2.

Names of other Iowans were missing in the long list of results compiled at the end of the day long competition.

In a special AAU pole vault, John Uelses finished in a disappointing second place tie at 14-11 1/2, while the event went to George Davies of Arizona State at 15-6 for a meet record.

Uelses, who hasn't come close to the 16-foot mark since early this month when he cleared 16 1/2 at Santa Barbara, Calif., was matched Friday by Southern Methodist's Dexter Elkins in the special three-man competition.

Texas Southern, seeking a sweep of all six college baton events, captured the distance medley crown in record time and also set a new meet mark in the one mile relay trials.

Florida A&M set a meet record in the trials of the college 440 relay as the two-day Drake carnival opened with some 7,500 rain-soaked track buffs watching finals in three baton and five individual events.

Presaging a sizzling 100-yard dash final in today's 19-event program, Florida A&M's Bob Hayes streaked to a meet record-matching trial time of :9.4 despite a track made heavy by intermittent showers.

The 100 final today should be a corker with Hayes, already timed in :9.2 this spring, pressed by LeRoy Jackson of Western Illinois and Nat Adams of Purdue, both clocked at :9.6 Friday, and defending champion Bill Kemp of Baylor and Ray Knaub of Nebraska, timed in :9.7.

Texas Southern's 12-man tiger squad from Houston sent Melvin Houston, Wesley Blackburn, Ray Saddler and Lester Milburn scotching to a 3:11.4 record in the college one mile baton prelims. The old mark was 3:12.2 held by Central Michigan.

First champion to be crowned in the two-day track carnival was Pat Clohessy, University of Houston senior, who retained his two-mile crown with a 8:59.6 victory.

Before rainfall soaked the track Florida A&M set a new college 440 relay mark of :40.8 in a morning qualifying session. The Florida quartet, anchored by the speedy Hayes, toppled the meet record of :41.1 set by East Texas State in 1959 and equaled by the same school in 1960.

Clohessy, angular Australian, far outclassed the field in a two-mile race which was hit by a cloudburst just as the Houston Phi Beta Kappa runner moved into the lead at the mile mark.

Clohessy loped the final four laps of the quarter-mile track some 75 yards ahead of the clay-spattered field. In a stretch battle, Phil Lorenz of Western Illinois edged John Mulholland of Loras for second place.

Defending champion Bobby Bernard of Texas Christian, Olympic Decathlon star C. K. Yang of UCLA, Ray Cunningham of Texas and Ron Moore of Nebraska led the 120 high hurdles trials. Bernard had the fastest time, :14.4.

Texas Southern began its quest for a sweep of all six Drake college division baton events by stepping off the distance medley in record time.

Although Walt Hunt 880, Ray Saddler 440, and Maurice Hobson 3/4 mile hustled Texas Southern to a good lead, Major Adams had to unhook a stretch drive to win the anchor mile by two yards over John Camien of Kansas State of Emporia.

The Texas quartet was clocked in 10:01.2. Old Mark was 10:01.9 set by Arizona State of Tempe in 1959.

The university sprint medley title went to Missouri, with sophomore Bill Rawson's anchor half mile of 1:49 flat helping Mizou dethrone Southern Methodist in a 3:19.0 clocking. The Mustangs finished second. Missouri's leadoff man, Jim Baker, ran a :46 flat quarter-mile.

The broad jump went to Bill Miller of McMurray, who completed a spring sweep of Texas, Kansas and Drake relays titles with a leap of 24 feet, 2 inches.

Arizona's Karl Johnstone, runner in the 1961 NCAA meet, captured the discus with a modest throw of 160-10 1/2.

George Davies of Arizona State cleared 15 feet 6 inches for a pole vault meet record at the Drake Relays Friday. In so doing he forced John Uelses of Washington, D.C., into a second place tie at 14-11 1/2 with Southern Methodist's Dexter Elkins in a special three-man event. Uelses has gone as high as 16-3/4.

Beats Uelses' Best Efforts

George Davies of Arizona State cleared 15 feet 6 inches for a pole vault meet record at the Drake Relays Friday. In so doing he forced John Uelses of Washington, D.C., into a second place tie at 14-11 1/2 with Southern Methodist's Dexter Elkins in a special three-man event. Uelses has gone as high as 16-3/4.

Yanks Hand Senators 10th Consecutive Loss

WASHINGTON (AP) — The New York Yankees took a 9-0 lead Friday night but had to hang on and use three relief pitchers before finally handing the Washington Senators their 10th straight defeat, 10-8.

Clete Boyer's grand slam homer and a two-run blast by Elston Howard in the fourth inning gave Bill Stafford a 9-0 lead. Roger Maris hit his second homer in the sixth for a 10-2 margin for the Yankees.

The Senators battled back and had the lead run at the plate in the eighth before Marshall Bridges, the fourth Yankee pitcher, came in to retire the last four batters. Stafford was the winner.

Shaw's 4-Hitter Beats Colts, 2-1

HOUSTON (AP) — Bob Shaw's solid, four-hit pitching performance and an unearned run steered the Milwaukee Braves to a 2-1 edge over a sullenly punchless Houston Friday night.

The Colts, limited to two hits by St. Louis' Bob Gibson Thursday night, now have only six safeties in their last two games.

Iowa Errors Help Michigan Win Big Ten Opener, 9-6

By JOAN ANDERSON Staff Writer

Eight errors helped the Michigan Wolverines to a 9-6 victory over the Hawkeyes on the Iowa diamond Friday afternoon.

The scoring in the game began in the top of the third when Michigan second baseman Joe Jones, was hit by a pitch from Hawkeye Tom George, and scored on a single by shortstop Dick Honig. Another single by center fielder Dennis Spalla scored Honig.

Iowa also received some assistance from Michigan errors. In the third inning second baseman Dennis Henning reached first on an error by Dave Campbell, first baseman.

Then a hard line drive double by Krause scored Henning. Left-fielder Joe Reddington followed with a bunt attempt which was mis-handled by third baseman Harvey Chapman to score Krause and put Reddington on first.

The 2-2 score lasted until the Wolverines big sixth inning. A triple by first baseman Howie Kennedy in the seventh inning followed by a single from pitcher Tom George gave Iowa another run. However, in the eighth the Michigan team on two more Iowa errors and two singles added two more runs to make the score 8-3.

A rally in the bottom of the ninth was crushed when Michigan replaced pitcher Dave Robeck with Wayne Slusher. Robeck during his third of the inning gave a single to second baseman Dennis Henning a walk to George and a solid triple to Krause to boost Iowa's score by two runs.

Reddington's sacrifice fly after Slusher took over scored Krause to account for the third run of the inning and the last of the Iowa scoring. Short stop Ron Isler struck out to end the game.

The victory gave defending Big Ten champion Michigan an 8-7 record while evening up Iowa's record at 8-8-1. It was the first Big Ten game for Iowa and the fourth for Michigan. The Wolverine Big Ten record is now 3-1.

Slusher took six members of his squad to a practice session at Bloomington, Ind., over vacation. The Hawks were hurt by graduation, with only three major lettermen — Turner, Mullen and Brandenberger — returning to the 15-man team.

The other members of the team are Don Felt, Dave Naso, Mike McDaniel, Bill Jensen, and Dick Cappel.

Zweiner said he would alternate Mueller and Donovan, playing one in the morning and the other in the afternoon.

Those chosen Friday will make up the team to compete in dual competition the rest of the season, Zweiner said.

Mullen, however, will miss the out-of-town meets because of the demand of his studies in the College of Law, Zweiner added.

He said Indiana and Notre Dame have traditionally strong teams and pointed out that the Hoosiers won the Invitational Tournament at Ohio State over Easter vacation.

Iowa's Tennis Team Defeats Minnesota, 6-3

By BOB HANSEN Assistant Sports Editor

Iowa's tennis team notched its sixth win of the season against four defeats by stopping Minnesota 6-3 in dual play here Friday.

The match was part of an extended weekend of competition for Coach Don Klotz's players who will also see action against Michigan State and Wisconsin today.

The Hawks experienced some trouble early in the match against Minnesota when its top seeded trio of Steve Wilkinson, Dave Strauss and Dennis Ellertson were defeated in singles action.

However, Mike Schrier, Dick Riley and Ray Benton came on to win their games for the Hawks, and all six men combined to sweep the three doubles matches to give Iowa the win.

Coach Klotz commented, "The defeat of our first three men illustrates rather well that, with the exception of a few teams, the Big Ten is an extremely well balanced conference this year, where on any given day anyone can beat anyone."

In other action on the Iowa courts Friday Wisconsin beat Minnesota 7-2, and Michigan State topped Wisconsin, 6-3.

Today's play will see Iowa going against Wisconsin at 9 a.m. and Michigan State at 2 p.m. on the varsity courts behind the Field House.

Iowa will take a break from Big Ten competition next week when it hosts Bradley. On May 8, Iowa will meet Minnesota again at Minneapolis, Minn.

Campbell Leads In Texas Open

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Joe Campbell's ailing back held up long enough Friday for him to shoot a three-under-par 68 and grab the lead at 36 holes in the $30,000 Texas Open golf tournament.

The blond from Pendleton, Ind., who has to be in traction each night in order to play on the tour, took over first place with 135 as Arnold Palmer put on another birdie spurge to climb back from what had appeared to be impending disaster.

The defending champion and favorite was three-over-par on the first three holes as the result of a bogey on No. 2, when he was in a trap, and three-putting the third hole. Then Palmer pulled his game together for five birdies the rest of the way. He swept in with birds on 12, 14, 15 and 16 and his 69 gave him 136 and a tie for second place.

Al Johnston of Montreal, Canada, a virtual unknown to American golf, gave the tournament a lift as he came driving in with a 6-under-par 65. It brought him from nowhere to a spot in the top 10.

Hawk Golfers Open Today In Triangular

By JOE GEHRINGER Staff Writer

Iowa's golfers open their 1962 season today with a triangular match against Indiana and Notre Dame on the South Finkbine course beginning at 8 a.m.

Iowa Coach Chuck Zweiner said he is planning to use nine men against the Hoosiers and Irish, who will use eight and seven, respectively.

Members of the squad are J. D. Turner, Dave Bellman, Chuck Mullen, Bob Gitchell, Bill Brandenberger, Mark DeVos, Herb Knudsen, Jim Mueller and Mark Donovan.

Zweiner said he would alternate Mueller and Donovan, playing one in the morning and the other in the afternoon.

of the image of the digest of a book (and thank you, Daniel Boorstin), The Musical today at 9 a.m. is a recording taken from the sound track of the film made from the musical comedy "Oklahoma" based on the play "Green Grow the Lilacs" written by Lynn Riggs. Gordon MacRae is in it; his wife, Sheila, isn't. Charlotte Greenwood plays Gloria Grahame and producer Arthur Hornblow plays the title role. Music by Rodgers and Hammerstein was written especially for the occasion by John Loder-milk. (But don't believe it, folks, until the paperback comes out as a TV spectacular.)

Police Training Course Begins Here Monday

By DENNY PORTER
Staff Writer

A special "basic training" course, the Police Recruit School, opens Monday for all new police officers in Iowa at the Iowa Center of Continuation Study here.

This two week session offered by the SUI Bureau of Police Science consists of 10 class hours a day Monday through Friday. It ends with graduation on May 12.

Subjects to be taught range from the history and development of police to the art of note taking. Special problems, police methods, law and courts and traffic are the general areas of instruction offered.

SUI members on the instructional staff are Richard Holcomb, director of police science; Robert Caldwell, professor of sociology and anthropology; Samuel Fahr, professor of law; Verne McClurg, captain of campus police; Robert F. Ray, dean of special services; and Dr. Robert A. Wilcox, psychiatrist at Student Health.

Past courses have dealt with the special problems of sex deviates, theory of traffic control, public relations, and the use of machines to

Church Conference On Campus Today

"The Church of Jesus Christ and This Brave New World" will be the theme of a conference here today and Sunday sponsored by the Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints.

F. Carl Mesle, director of the program on ministry to college people for the group, said, "These conferences, typical of those held throughout the year in the United States and Canada, are devoted to an exchange of religious thought with students, teachers, professional people and church leaders."

Speakers and leaders for the meeting include faculty members from Graceland College, the church's college at Lamoni.

determine blood-alcohol content. In addition to officer training courses, the Bureau of Police Science also includes lie detector tests and entrance and promotional examinations as part of its services offered to Iowa law enforcement agencies.

The Bureau of Police Science, under the direction of the Institute of Public Affairs, acts as an advisor to Iowa law agencies. In this capacity it administers the lie detector tests for Iowa at the request of law agencies.

Intensive police officer's training courses are offered annually at SUI by the Bureau. Richard L. Holcomb, chief of the Bureau, said that these courses are divided into the following categories:

1. The Command Officers Training School. This school is for commanding officers and operates on the policy and administrative levels.
  2. The Traffic School. This school is concerned with preventive measures in accident reduction. It began 26 years ago and was the first service offered.
  3. The Police Recruit School. It teaches the basic training methods of law enforcement and includes lectures on criminal law, firearms, handling evidence, public speaking and methods of traffic control.
  4. The Police Officer's Short Course. This course deals with special police problems. In the past it has focused on dealing with mental patients, procedures at the scene of the accident, parking problems and handling juvenile delinquents.
- Holcomb said the instruction for these courses is offered by the SUI faculty and experienced Iowa peace officers.

Former State Senator Dies

CERAD RAPIDS, Iowa (UPI)—Former State Sen. Frank Byers, who set a record by serving for 32 consecutive years in the state Legislature, died in Mercy Hospital here Thursday night. He was 78.

Byers, a Republican, served two two-year terms in the state House of Representatives beginning in 1929. In 1933 he was elected to a four-year term in the state Senate and held the seat without interruption until he retired in 1960.

Following his retirement, he practiced law for a short while, but spent most of the last one and one-half years either in Mercy Hospital or its affiliated nursing home, Hallmar.

Byers, who lived near rural Marion, was born in Alden, Hardin County, June 20, 1883. He received his Bachelor of Arts degree from Grinnell College and his Law Degree from the University of Iowa.

The husky voiced legislator was known for his work in behalf of reappointment. But his "trademark" was the carnation that appeared in his suit coat every morning during the legislative sessions.

He is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Alden D. Avery, and two sons, Ganson L. and Frank C. Jr. His wife, the former Myra Lyon, whom he married in 1909, died a few years ago.
