WASHINGTON (UPI) — Soviet Cosmonaut Gherman Titov said Friday his five-ton space capsule was big enough for him to get up from his seat and move about during his 17 orbits of the earth last August.

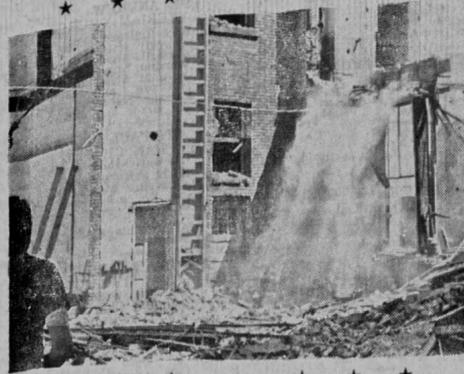

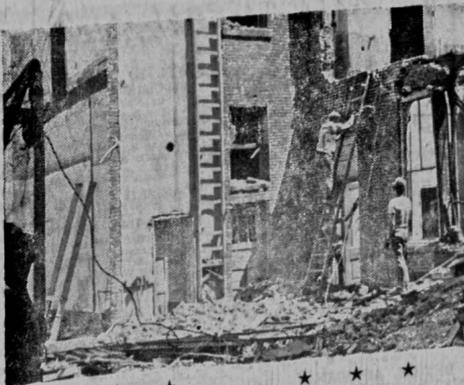

Titov also expressed pride in Russian steel mills and space capsules while touring a Bethlehem Steel plant at Sparrows Point, Md., near Baltimore.

He was greeted politely but quietly by the American steelworkers. He stopped several times to chat with groups of them through an interpreter.

Titov arrived at the plant 18 minutes late when he lost his way and had to be led to his destination by a passing motorist.

The driver of Titov's car missed a turnoff on the outskirts of Baltimore and stopped to ask directions at a filling station. Then they asked the driver of a wire-service car to lead the way. He proved no more adept than Titov's chauffeur and the party finally was rescued by Tony Pawlikowski, a field supervisor for the Baltimore County Elections Board.

Get Final OK On SUI Union Construction

Action Expected Soon On Contracts for Women's Dormitories

DES MOINES (AP) — The State Board of Regents received final legal clearance Friday to go ahead with Memorial Union construction at SUI.

The Regents were notified that a 30-day period in which a State Supreme Court case might be reopened had passed.

Iowa hotel, motel and restaurant groups tried to block construction of a $4.6 million addition to the SUI Union as illegal state competition with private business.

The business groups' attack on the law providing for non-tax financing of dormitories and student unions, failed in both Polk County District Court and the Iowa Supreme Court.

For more than a year while the suit was before the courts, banks and insurance firms refused to make any loans for dormitory and union projects.

Early action to get delayed projects under way is expected now that the court case is finished.

Contracts for construction of the SUI Union addition may be ready for board approval next month. Action is also expected soon on contracts for women's dormitory construction at SUI and expansion of student dining facilities at State College of Iowa in Cedar Falls.

Bids will be opened in Ames Tuesday on a 430-bed new dormitory addition for Iowa State University. The Regents expect contracts for that project will be awarded at the meeting later next week.

Communist Revolt Stirs Venezuela

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP) — A 400-man marine garrison and 50 military policemen revolted in coastal Carupano Friday and passed out arms to Communist and leftist supporters to battle loyalist forces moving in from three directions.

A government source said a loyalist force pushed into the city after nightfall and that fighting had broken out. The extent of it was not reported here. A radio broadcast from the nearby city of Cumana said there were many casualties.

Officials at Miraflores presidential palace in Caracas said earlier reports that loyalist forces had crushed the revolt were premature.

But, they said, Army and Marine Forces were moving in on Carupano — about 300 miles east of Caracas — from the north, south and west.

In New Orleans— Kennedy Warns Choice Remains— 'Trade or Fade'

NEW ORLEANS (UPI) — President Kennedy Friday approved his tariff-cutting program as a cornerstone of a trillion-dollar "Atlantic partnership" to stand as a bulwark against communism. The nation, he said, must "trade or fade."

In two speeches before cheering crowds in New Orleans, the President argued for his trade bill now embattled in Congress and expressed the hope that the school integration quarrel dividing this gulf port city will be settled peacefully.

The President spoke glowingly of a future economic and trade market that would provide more jobs for Americans and hold down inflation, while providing new markets for the goods produced in both America and Europe. But it is a two-way street, he said, and America cannot throw tariff barriers across it.

A labor integrationist picketed the three-hour presidential visit with placards but there were no disturbances.

The President left Friday afternoon for Eglin Air Force Base in northern Florida to witness a demonstration of air firepower. Then he was to go to Palm Beach.

Kennedy arrived by plane from Washington and rode in an open-top limousine with Gov. Jimmie Davis and Mayor Victor Schiro in a motorcade from Mouton Airport to the new $12 million Mississippi River wharf that symbolizes New Orleans' links with world trade. Police estimated there were 100,000 cheering people along the path.

At the wharf, Kennedy delivered a major foreign trade address.

"We stand at a great divide," he said, "deciding whether to go forward or fall back — whether we are to trade or fade."

The trade bill before Congress, he said, would provide the tools for an "open partnership among all free nations . . . that will draw the whole non-Communist world together with the strings of economic self-interest." He said the bill also will hold down inflation and create more jobs.

This free world partnership would "present a trillion dollar economy, pledged to grow by 50 per cent in the decade of the 1960's," the President said.

"It will pose a challenge to the leaders of the Communist world, a direct, deep and abiding challenge. Against their system of iron state discipline, Atlantic partnership will present the challenge of a system based on free choice. Against their dire predictions of capitalist collapse, it will present the challenge of free nations working in harmony," he said.

ASKS DOUBLE TIME ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (UPI) — Labor leader Walter P. Reuther Friday called for Federal legislation to force most employers to pay double time for overtime worked beyond 40 hours a week.

Asked whether his Vostok II ship would be used for future Soviet flights, he said it might and added that "It's quite possible that I will take a second flight on it."

But he indicated it was more likely that future Soviet ships would be changed somewhat, or adjusted to particular missions. Maybe Soviet technicians will find something new, he added.

The Weather

Cooler and cloudy today with showers and thundershowers expected in the eastern portion — highs in the 80s and lows in the 40s tonight. Fair weather with temperatures in the upper 60s and lower 70s Sunday.

Concert of Guitar Music Here Sunday

By JUDY SULECKI Staff Writer

A lecture-recital of classical Flamenco guitar music will be presented as part of Choregi's fifth cultural event of the semester in the auditorium of the Art Building Sunday afternoon at 5.

The concert, previously scheduled in the Main Gallery of the Art Building, will be performed in the auditorium since a design show is on exhibit in the gallery.

Clarke Metcalf, a fine-arts graduate student at the University of Nebraska, Lincoln, will present "The Psychic Size of the Guitar," a program in three sections.

Metcalf, who gave informal concerts at SUI two years ago, teaches in his own studio in Lincoln. He studied in San Francisco and also plays the classical guitar.

The lecture-recital is intended to demonstrate the capabilities of the guitar. If time permits there will be a question and answer period.

Admission to the recital is $1. Tickets will be available Sunday at the door. Previous Choregi presentations have been sponsored by individual contributions.

The first portion of the program will be devoted to "Pieces With Musical Titles." Works to be heard will include the "Mazurka in G," by Tarrega, and "Estudios" numbers 1, 2, 5, and 14 by Sor. The Segovia "Prelude," the "Romance de Amor" by Gomez, and the "Danza Española No. 5" by Granados will conclude the initial section of the recital.

Metcalf will continue the lecture-recital with "Pieces with Literary Titles." Four compositions by Tarrega will be heard. These include the "Recuerdos de la Alhambra," "The Creation," "Lagrimas," and "Capricho Arabe." "En los Trilgales" by Rodrigo and "Astorias" by Albeniz will also be played.

The concluding section of the recital will feature "Flamenco" music. Titles of the works to be performed include Soleares, Alegrias, Sevillanas, Zapateado, Granadinas, Farruca, and Danza Oriental.

Choregi officials said Friday that the Metcalf lecture-recital is meant not only to explore the technical qualities of the guitar, but also to demonstrate the instrument's range and amplitude of tones.

Marcus Powell A1, Coralville, a member of the Choregi board of directors, likened Sunday's recital of Flamenco guitar music to a quotation of Beethoven: ". . . the guitar is a miniature orchestra in itself."

About $200 in cash prizes will be awarded to students with top entries.

Petition that Supports Faculty in Circulation

By STEVE SANGER Staff Writer

A petition supporting the faculty petition, which asks for a new inquiry by President Hancher into the Andy Hankins-Delta Chi deploding incident, began circulating among the student body Friday.

Hankins is a Negro student. The student petition, written by Donald Kash, G, Macedonia, and Richard Wells, G, Charlotte, N. C., criticizes the "lack of clear policy and positive action," shown by the University in ending racial discrimination in social units operating under the Administration of the University.

While the faculty petition does not specifically name Delta Chi fraternity, it charges that "in the case of at least one fraternity on this campus, the removal of the word 'white' from qualifications for membership at the national convention of that fraternity was followed by a 'gentleman's agreement,' by which each chapter, 'implicitly agreed to ignore the deletion.'"

This clause has become known as the "Biloxi agreement." The convention was held in Biloxi, Miss. In the Hankins case, it has been charged that pressure from the national organization on the local chapter of Delta Chi forced the Hankins deploding.

Kash said the student petition would be given to President Hancher. He set May 12 as the date for turning copies of the petition to him. Copies will be placed in several business places, dormitories and other prominent spots, Kash said.

Last Appearance For Roan Will Be At C-MA Meeting

Peter F. Roan will make his final public appearance as city manager Wednesday at the annual meeting of the Council-Manager Association (C-MA) at 7:30 p.m. in the council chamber of the Civic Center.

Roan will leave May 15 to become city manager of Schenectady, N.Y. Roan resigned his position here April 3.

This will be the tenth annual progress report that Roan will give to the people of Iowa City. Iowa City department heads will also make reports on the year's work.

People speaking will be Lane Mashaw, public works commissioner; Vernal Shimon, fire department chief; Emmett Evans, chief of police; and Melvin F. Neuzil, superintendent of the city sewage treatment plant.

All interested citizens are urged to attend the meeting. An informal reception, with refreshments, will be held following the meeting.

GOP Candidates To Speak in City

A Republican caravan, including primary election candidates for state, Johnson County and local offices, will be in Iowa City Tuesday at 7 a.m. for a breakfast at the Jefferson Hotel.

The caravan as a whole is sponsored by the state Republican Women's Council, but the stops in each county and district are sponsored by the district organizations.

Each candidate will be given approximately five minutes to speak at the breakfast.

According to Chan Coulter, Johnson County Republican chairman, Herbert Hoover, candidate for U.S. Senator, will be one of those in the caravan. His opponent, Bourke Hickenlooper, is unable to attend, but it is expected Mrs. Hickenlooper will attend in his absence.

Governor Norman A. Erbe will attend the breakfast, along with his Republican opponent for governor, William Nicholas.

After leaving Iowa City, the caravan will go to Washington County, Burlington, Muscatine, and other cities.

Hancher Will Report On SUI Military Plan

President Virgil M. Hancher will take part in national meetings of the State Universities Association and the National Association of State Universities, Sunday through Tuesday in New York.

Camp Wins Contest

Jerry Camp of Western Reserve University won the first prize of $150 in the Midwest universities' Northern Oratorical League contest Friday night in the Senate Chamber of Old Capitol.

The second place was taken by Allan Berson of the University of Minnesota. Berson received $75. The third award of $50 went to Margo Carruth of the University of Michigan.

'Free Rides' to North Draw SUIowans' Fire

By DEAN MILLS and SUSAN L. Z. Staff Writers

"Free Rides" north now being offered southern Negroes by the New Orleans' White Citizens Council drew fire from students and Iowa City residents in a telephone survey by The Daily Iowan.

Negro and white students both from the South and some northern cities, and two Iowa City ministers interviewed by the Iowan had opinions of the rides ranging from "serious misgivings" to accusations of "moral bankruptcy" on the part of the South.

The Rev. L. L. Dunnington, minister of the First Methodist Church in Iowa City, and the Rev. Khoren Arisian, Jr., minister of the Unitarian Society, were the most vehement in criticizing the rides on moral grounds.

"I think it is morally wrong and even vicious," said the Rev. Dunnington, "because it is, in effect, saying, 'We (the South) can send our problem up north and you can deal with it!'"

The Rev. Dunnington added there "is already a problem" with Negroes finding employment in northern cities and said the free rides could only make it more acute. He said the South will "eventually have to come to integration" anyhow, "because it is the law of the land. And there is no solution to the problem by evading it."

The Rev. Arisian called the plan unrealistic. "The whole thing," he said, "strikes me as a callous move on the part of white Southerners and is typical of the Southern approach to the problem."

The Rev. Arisian called the move by the Citizens' Council "another manifestation of the Southerners' essential moral bankruptcy." He said the free rides pointed out the essential difference between Southern and northern attitudes toward the Negro.

The Rev. Arisian said the South looks on the Negro as a "lovable animal and likes him as a person but not as a race. The North, on the other hand, seems to like Negroes as a race but often dislikes them as individuals. They will make liberal statements about the race but when it comes to the individual basis, they often discriminate."

Two Negro students from the South disagreed on the merits of the plan.

Richard Gerald, G, Jackson, Miss., said for the Negro "is really a low blow for the plan who is trying to gain equal rights in the South." Gerald said it was being used as propaganda to suggest that the Negro is running away from the problem.

He added that "on just a common sense basis, I don't see any sense in it," since any Negro could use the buses for a free ride to the north and then come back if he wished.

Malcolm Barnes, G, Tupelo, Miss., however, thought the plan "could be of some advantage to some Negroes — Negroes who are not satisfied and want to go north."

He said the "oppression" of the Southern Negro might justify his taking a bus to the north. He added, however, that "they should be cautious and make preliminary arrangements, not just seize the opportunity to leave the South."

"The Negroes who have already gone north show that they have not given the situation adequate consideration."

He also expressed concern for the motives behind the free rides plan. He said it "has been designed by the segregationists to achieve their end. There can be no disadvantage to the Negro."

The most significant disadvantage, he said, could be that Negroes wouldn't get a job in the North. "They might be worse off."

Two Southern white SUIowans said they could see merits and disadvantages to the plan. Wendy Bell, G, Memphis, Tenn., said it "would be a perfectly good idea" if plans could be made for receiving the bus riders when they arrived in the north.

"However," she added, "it is tragic to put these people on the buses without caring for them. There is much unemployment in northern cities and discrimination in housing."

"If they were not guaranteed a place to live or jobs, I would

Soon—A Chance To Make a Fortune

Several American gas station chains are introducing laundry, grocery and hardware services along with the usual gasoline, Insider's Newsletter reports. At the same time, supermarkets in the Southwest are experimenting with roving gas tanks, to refuel parked cars of grocery shoppers.

For some time now, grocery stores have also engaged in selling items previously found only in hardware or clothing stores. They also offer record selections—some as large as power mowers and as small as needle and thread. It used to be the only camera supply found in drug stores was an occasional roll of film. Now they carry even the finest and most expensive photography equipment.

Many drug stores have retaliated, however, and feature daily specials on food commodities. Once a place for pills and chocolate sodas, drug stores now sell items as large as power mowers and as small as needle and thread. It used to be the only camera supply found in drug stores was an occasional roll of film. Now they carry even the finest and most expensive photography equipment.

Photography stores, on the other hand, have added art supplies, mosaic tile kits and sporting goods. Many have thrown in a few gift selections on the side.

What with snacks in movie houses, movies in airplanes, organ music at ball games, art exhibits in banks, sculpture in bookshops and autosales at some railroad stations, it's a little hard to know where to go shopping nowadays.

The trend seems to be toward everything everywhere. Apparently Americans will soon be able to buy anything anywhere, and everything in one place. This new integrated system will probably be called something like "The village market place."

Then, someone will make a fortune with some other new idea—such as a specialty store. —Phil Currie

Mother's Day Visit

Today and Sunday, the Associated Women Students (AWS) organization is sponsoring a "Mother's Day" weekend. Although the AWS event is a week ahead of the calendar-scheduled Mother's Day, it promises to be a happy event.

Not only does it give the students a chance to be with their mothers, it also gives the mothers an opportunity to get a good look at the University.

AWS has selected a weekend when a number of activities are taking place on campus. The SUI mothers will have a good chance to see a cross-section of these activities, typical of the many events that take place during the year.

Of special interest and educational value are the various tours scheduled this afternoon. Mothers will get a chance to see the Theatre and Art Buildings, the Library and Women's Physical Education Buildings, the Television and Communications Center, the Physics Building and Satellite Area, the Home Economics Department and the Psychology Department. These tours too can give the mothers an inside peek at University's workings.

We congratulate AWS on its fine Mother's Day program. And we also extend a welcome to all SUI mothers. It's good to have you here. —Phil Currie

The Last Word

Until this month very few critics had anything good to say about Webster's Third International dictionary.

The dictionary touched off a deluge of protests when it first appeared because it seemingly gave dignity to such words as finalize, wise up, and irregardless. Both Life magazine and the New York Times stated they would continue to use the second edition as the final authority, and they portrayed the third as a scandal and a betrayal which would accelerate the deterioration of the language.

The makers defended the book on the basis it described the way the language is being used rather than attempting to make "laws" of correctness.

This month's Atlantic magazine rallies to the defense of the book and points out that the issue of Life which condemned the new dictionary used 42 expressions which were not in the second edition but were in the third, and the issue of the New York Times which condemned the book used 153 expressions in the same category a total of 300 times.

Perhaps Webster has had the last word after all. —John Birtz

'As I Was Saying, We Must Hasten Slowly'

A Failure in Many Respects

By WALTER R. KELLER
Reviewed for The Daily Iowan

The great play by Henrik Ibsen was done exceedingly little justice in its opening Thursday night at the University Theatre. Director John Terloth had spoken a good deal of balancing the satirical and tragic elements of this work... and thereby hangs the tale of what was, in too many respects, a failure.

If the tragedy of this play is to stand clearly at the end, it would seem that the director must blend the satire and pre-tragic elements so that no sardonic pockets are allowed to fester at the expense of any one character's full development. Unhappily, the latter problem developed last night almost from the opening curtain and carried on throughout the play.

George Gunkel (Hjalmer Ekdal) gave a narrow, monotonous performance in his complex, difficult role. He played for sarcasm and he achieved goals of it. In fact, he dripped with it. The result of this self-conscious, fettered performance was a distinct lack of the subtle "other" strains so necessary to this highly complex character. Gunkel's strident, at times grandiloquent, manner vitiated the few intimate moments which were almost generated in Act II.

Generally, Mr. Gunkel was an island on the stage, too-often delivering his lines in the general direction of the floor, and failing to communicate with his fellow performers. His swashbuckling, Valentino-like entrance in Act V might be taken as a kind of barometer of the many out-of-key actions he projected vocally and otherwise. His final cries of heartbreak at his daughter's suicide, coming as they did after this mock-heroic performance, rang out pretentiously as some cackles in a farce-comedy.

Steve Cole's performance as Old Ekdal suffered from a like malady. Mr. Cole played four and a half acts as a puffy buffoon, almost totally disregarding the important tragic qualities so central to his character. And so his final two speeches of the play, which were brilliantly delivered—even with their inaudibility, depended for their crushing tragic impact upon four acts of Cole's Great Gildersleeve guffawing. It would seem that those four acts should have contained, for Cole, more than mugging and clowning. He also garbled many of his lines. A little less attention to strained, old man quality in the voice, and a little more to simple articulation, could easily correct this.

Ronald Willis (Gregers) started off in the first act with no character and a rapid-fire botching of his lines in his important expositional scene with Werle (Parker Zellers).

His performance rounded and grew considerably throughout the evening, although he never achieved the conviction and sincerity one must expect in such a character. Mr. Willis was the unfortunate, repeated victim of some horrendous blocking which placed him with his back squarely to the audience at exceptionally inopportune times.

Mark Harpole, in the important supporting role of Kelling, performed for the most part as if he were a second-rate detective in a third-rate detective story. Any relation was apparently incidental and unintentional. Also his sideburns came across as two gigantic black blotches which served to obliterate half his face. A little less makeup and a little more imagination might help here.

Amidst the debris there were two notable performances. Robert Byers as Gina Ekdal, Hjalmer's wife, performed in a solid, workmanlike fashion. She was one of the few people on the stage who seemed to be listening to and understanding, what was going on. Her performance would have been undeniably excellent were it not for her overly-intellectualized, biting sarcasm in the fourth and fifth acts. Gina is simply not bright enough to engage in the sort of acrimony which Miss Byers allowed to get out of control.

But the most rewarding, winsome performance was turned in by Bonnie McBeth as Hedvig, the 14-year-old daughter to Hjalmer and Gina. Miss McBeth's performance was energetic and graceful. She captured the alternately ebullient, moody, sweet, and innocent elements in her character. This is by far the best performance Miss McBeth has given at Iowa and represents the growth which should occur far more often than it does in this EDUCATIONAL THEATRE setup.

Miss McBeth radiated a belief in, and understanding of, her character which made for a beautiful, convincing performance. It is just these latter qualities which the aforementioned actors so sorely lacked. The difference between an actor who is fully involved in a scene—who is listening and gracefully responding—who is "using everything in the scene", is markedly in contrast to a self-conscious, half-hearing performance in which we are painfully aware of all the "acting" which is going on.

Mr. Terloth's direction left much to be desired. He permitted some of his actors to indulge themselves beyond recall. As a result a number of characteriza-

Letters to the Editor — Defends Gold's Verbal Attack Against Huit

To the Editor:

In the last few days several persons have violently criticized Prof. David Gold for having launched a personal verbal attack against Dean M. L. Huit. He has been criticized for his use of invective, for his lack of decorum, and the like. I get the impression that Gold's attackers either did not bother to attend Wednesday night's meeting or else, if they did attend, did not bother to listen to the substance of his remarks.

Prof. Gold pointed out that (1) the occupant of the position of Dean of Students on this campus has a great deal of power in the area of discrimination; (2) the Dean of Students has not exercised this power; (3) there is nothing in the structure of this position preventing the exercising of this power. (It should be pointed out that Prof. Gold is recognized as one of the nation's foremost students of social structure.)

Therefore the only possible conclusion is that the fault lies not with some abstract thing called "education", nor with an only slightly less abstract thing called "the administration", but rather with the particular individual who occupies the position of Dean of Students: M. L. Huit.

Having come to this conclusion, the only honest thing Prof. Gold could do was to speak exactly as he did. To have sprouted twaddle about educating landlords or similar irrelevancies would have been an act of hypocrisy.

In closing I would simply like to ask one question of those who have attacked Prof. Gold and his remarks either in print or at Wednesday's meeting: When an individual is responsible for the continued existence of a deplorable situation, how can that situation be corrected if blame is not placed squarely upon that individual?

David O. Arnold, G

Prefers Lesser

To the Editor:
It's a little surprising that anyone should be very upset concerning Dr. Gold's attacks on Dean Huit. It seems to me to be a matter of simple mathematics—there are more Negro students than there are Dean Huits. If anyone is to be embarrassed, if anyone's character is to be called into question, I should prefer that the lesser number endure.

Rides 'Stink,' Says Student

often hard to determine the real truth. SUIIowans from northern cities, to which the planned bus rides would take Southern Negroes, were unanimous in opposing the plan.

Bill Perkins, AS, a Negro from Jersey City, N.J., when asked about his opinion of the free rides, said: "I think they stink."

Perkins said "It's just another method of segregation. If you don't like to live with them, you just ship them away."

Although he said he has never experienced discrimination in his hometown, he said there would be problems in finding jobs for Negroes arriving there. "It's just displacing people."

Edward Kaplan, G, New York, N.Y., also commented that jobs would be scarce for Negroes coming to New York. "And any jobs that are available," he said, "are such pitiful, meaningless ones."

Kaplan said the plan is "not immoral so much as impractical. I think they're making themselves look silly."

Sidney Cooper, LI, Brooklyn, N.Y., said he didn't consider the free rides plan a "clever move, because if the Negroes can't afford to take the trips themselves, then they can't afford to maintain themselves after they arrive."

William Hancock, A2, Boston, said he thought Boston was large enough to absorb any Negroes sent there. "But it is not a good place because working conditions are bad."

Janet Minx, A3, from Wilmette, Ill., a Chicago suburb, said Negroes coming to Chicago would be "walking out of one problem into another."

She said the cities and houses are already so overcrowded they can't hold more, and Negroes would not be able to get housing in "better" sections because there is "discrimination in Chicago, too."

"If they're going to use money, why don't they use it on education, not tickets?" she added.

T. R. Anderson, acting chairman of the SUI Department of Sociology, said he thought the rides were really of little importance in transporting Negroes north. He said they could "have much direct bearing on the migration which is already taking place."

CLOSES STEEL FURNACES CHICAGO (UPI) — The United States Steel Corp. said it took two blast furnaces and six open hearth furnaces out of operation this week at its South Chicago works because of a lack of orders.

SUI Drama Film Showing Delayed

"The Casket Maker," a drama recorded by the SUI Speech Department and originally scheduled for presentation over KCRG-TV Cedar Rapids, at 6 p.m. Monday, has been postponed because of technical difficulties.

No date has been set for the re-showing. The sound track of the half-hour film was recorded with equipment that was not compatible with the station's and had to be re-recorded.

The play was written by an ex-SUIIowan, Richard P. Stockton, now a staff writer for the United States Steel Hour. It was produced by David Knauf, G, Toledo, Ohio, and stars Marilyn Gottschalk and Holden Potter, A4, Wayne, N.J.

PLAN SUB SQUAD

TOKYO (UPI) — Japan's first postwar submarine squadron will be put into service in August, the defense agency said Friday. The squadron will have four ships

Fergy To See Action In Squad Game Today

By GARY SPURGEON
Staff Writer
Iowa's football team swings into action at 2 p.m. today in a game type scrimmage. Today's session will wind up the high school football clinic held in the Field House Friday and today.
Hawkeye coach Jerry Burns will divide his squad into two teams for today's session. Burns said, "The squads will be divided into four units. The Black team will consist of the first and fourth teams. The second and third units will be called the White team."
The two teams will butt heads in game simulated action. The teams will play four 12 minute quarters regardless of how warm the weather. Burns related, however, there would be no kickoffs during the scrimmage.
Burns stated that no one would be held from contact action. This includes the dwindling number of quarterbacks. The squad has lost most of the quarterback crew that was considered the strongest element at the beginning of spring practice.

Matt Szykowny will be operating in the number one signal-calling spot with Bob Wallace backing him up. Burns said that Szykowny was in fine form and that Wallace has developed surprising ability since the beginning of spring drills.
Captain Larry Ferguson, who sat out all of last season, will see some action. "I would say that he is about 90 per cent ready for action," Burns stated.
Sophomores are expected to play a big part in today's scrimmage. Burns listed center Dave Recher, halfback Willie Ray Smith, guard Bernie Budzic, and tackle Phil Deutch as the boys who have stood out this spring.
The Hawkeye coach also indicated several of the squad members will not see action due to injuries. One of these is Lonnie Rogers who underwent a knee operation during the winter. Jim Winston will also be held out.
Burns said that he would not be holding back any of his new offense. The new attack is basically the same wing-T that the Hawkeyes have used in past years with certain new innovations. The offense will feature more flankers, more men in motion, and a few plays run from a spread formation.
There will be no admission charge for the game which is open to the public.

Hawks Defeat Indiana, 8-6

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. (UPI) — Relief pitcher Jack Wiland hit a two-run double in the top of the 14th inning Friday to give Iowa a 8-6 Big Ten baseball victory over Indiana.
Wiland, the last of four Iowa pitchers, held the Hoosiers to two hits over the final four innings. His predecessors had given up 13 hits. Iowa collected 14 hits off three Indiana pitchers.
It was Iowa's second conference victory against two losses and was Indiana's fourth loss in seven conference starts.

Cardinals Fall To Reds, 3-2

CINCINNATI (UPI) — Jim O'Toole got his revenge Friday night by limiting the St. Louis Cardinals to five hits, while three of his teammates homered to lead the Cincinnati Reds to a 3-2 victory in the opener of a four-game series.
The first homer was by Frank Robinson who smacked loser Larry Jackson's 3-2 first pitch over the center field fence to start the second inning.
Leo Cardenas opened the next inning with a homer off the left field screen and Vada Pinson hit his seventh homer of the season in the fourth inning.
Two more Reds got on base in the fourth, and Jackson just managed to retire the side in the fifth after yielding a single and a walk.
He was then replaced by Don Ferrarese, who kept the Reds hitless until he was lifted for a pinch hitter in the eighth.

Green Saves Phillies In 6-5 Win Over Mets

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — Dallas Green worked out of a bases-loaded, none-out situation in the ninth inning Friday night to preserve a 6-5 victory by Philadelphia over the New York Mets for the Phils' fourth win in a row.
Green, out of action since mid-April with a kidney infection, came in relief in the third when the Mets bombed Jim Owens out of the game and allowed the New Yorkers one unearned run the rest of the way.
Green, whose last appearance was April 18, won his first game of the season with the loser Ken Mackenzie, the third of three Met pitchers.
Thomas hit his eighth homer of the season — the first Mets' home run on the road — with two on in the first to give the New Yorkers a 3-0 lead but the Phils promptly won it back when they chased Roger Craig who failed to get a batter out.
Tony Taylor walked, Ted Savage hit a 450-foot homer, Johnny Callison singled and Wes

Boston Dumps Chicago, 13-6

BOSTON (UPI) — Aroused Boston defeated Chicago 13-6 Friday night on the strength of a wild, 12-run inning, biggest of the major leagues this season, during which Carl Yastrzemski drove in four runs.
Boston paraded 16 men to the plate, facing five pitchers, and frolicked through 6 singles, 2 doubles and 5 walks.
Chicago was riding on a 4-0 lead when the Boston flood came, having been built on an Al Smith triple, Nellie Fox single and a Camilo Carreon three-run homer.

Ridan Favored In Derby; Sir Gaylord Out

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (UPI) — Fate's lightning struck quickly three times at Churchill Downs Friday and eliminated a trio of top horses from the 88th Kentucky Derby. But the biggest bolt was the astonishing injury which eliminated the favored Sir Gaylord and left big and tough Ridan the 2-1 favorite.
His owners said Sir Gaylord would be retired to stud.
A hairline fracture of the sesamoid bone in the right front leg, sustained during an early morning workout, knocked Sir Gaylord out of the $125,000-added roses run today and shattered the hopes of Christopher T. Chenery of Virginia. His champion filly, Cicada, also was withdrawn, as was the California colt Donut King, leaving 15 to battle over the 1 1/4 miles, starting at 4:30 p.m. EST.
With Ridan the new favorite after Sir Gaylord ruled as the early 8-5 favorite, Townsend B. Martin's Sunrise County moved into the second spot at 7-2.

Romano's Homers Spark Indians To 6-5 Win Over A's

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UPI) — Catcher John Romano's second home run of the game, a two-run blast which highlighted a five-run uprising in the eighth inning Friday night, gave the Cleveland Indians a 6-5 victory over the Kansas City Athletics.

Iowa Hosts Badgers, Cadets In Track Contest Today

By HARRIETT HINDMAN
Staff Writer
The top track event of the season, a triangular meet with Wisconsin, Army and Iowa battling for the victory, will be held at the Iowa track starting at 1:30 p.m. today.
The featured performer in today's meet is Dick Plymale, highly publicized Cadet pole vaulter. Plymale won the event at the Penn Relays last weekend, setting a new Penn record of 15 ft., 7 3/4 in. This height bettered the old mark by more than a foot.
Iowa coach Francis Cretzmeyer said Friday that he expects a fine meet. "This is the first time this meet has been held, so there are no records, but I feel sure we'll have some new track and field records set as Army has a fine team and Wisconsin is the Big Ten indoor champion," the Hawkeye coach commented.

Many of the current Iowa track records were set at the Big Ten meet last year.
Iowa has a permatrack runway, as does Army. If conditions are right, the Cadet could be the first collegian to vault 16 ft.; a feat which has been accomplished by only two men, John Uelses who has done 16 ft., 3/4 in. and Dave Turk who has the pending world record of 16 ft., 2 in.
Cretzmeyer cited some other outstanding Army trackmen. Bill Straub will be challenging Hawkeye standout and cross-country All-American Jim Tucker in the two mile run. Sprinter Joe Almaguer, who has run the hundred in :09.6 and the 220 in :21.4, is also expected to be a top Cadet performer.
Wisconsin, holder of the Big Ten indoor crown, will bring about thirty men to the meet. Elzie Higginbottom, Badger quarter-miler is perhaps the top man. Higginbottom ran the quarter in :46.7 off starting blocks at Colorado last week, a time which would break the Iowa track record of :47.4.

Larry Howard, who runs the low and high hurdles, and Billy Smith, who ran a :09.8 hundred last week, are other top Badger competitors.
Cretzmeyer commented, "The mile relay should be a very good race as all three schools have a good team." Army has a time of 3:17.6 in the event indoors, Wisconsin won the conference indoor relay, and the Iowa foursome of Tom Egbert, Gary Richards, Bill Frazier, and Roger Kerr posted a 3:12.7 time at Drake.
Concerning other events, the Iowa coach said, "The high jump looks fairly wide open as there are no really outstanding competitors. Bob Nielson will be Iowa's entry in the high jump. The broad jump also looks wide open."
The Hawkeyes have a host of good trackmen in the meet. Roger Kerr will run the quarter, Bill Frazier the 660, and Ralph Trimble and Gary Fischer the half. Tucker, who ran the mile in 4:11.2 at Drake, and Fischer will be Iowa's entries in the mile run, and Tucker will also compete in the two-mile. Don Gardner and Jerry Williams will be running the low hurdles, and Cloyd Webb will compete in the discuss throw.

Today's meet is the first of two outdoor home meets this season. Iowa will host Northwestern May 12.

Cepeda Boosts Giants To 10th Straight Win

CHICAGO (UPI) — The not-so-sleeper by San Francisco Giants, paced by Orlando Cepeda's five ribi's on a homer, double and single, slugged out a 10th straight triumph 11-6 over the Chicago Cubs Friday.
The first-place Giants, who got to bed about 5 a.m., Chicago time after plane trouble en route, chased a rival starting pitcher for the 24th time in as many games in providing lefty Billy Pierce with his fourth victory without defeat.
However, Pierce was relieved in the seventh by another former Chicago White Sox hurler, Don Larsen, in the Giants' first 1962 Chicago appearance. This broke a skein of seven successive complete games by a Giant pitcher.
After Chicago's Billy Williams smashed a none-out homer in the first to end Pierce's string of scoreless innings at 17 2/3, the Giants went to work on Cub starter Dick Ellsworth.

Cepeda opened the Giant second with his eighth homer of the season, matching teammate Willie Mays for the league lead. Cepeda's five ribi's also sent him into the league lead with 28.
In the third, Jim Davenport's double, Chuck Hiller's single and two walks chased Ellsworth. Cepeda lined a two-run double that just missed being a grand-slam homer off Tom Balsomo.
Another three-run Giant inning came in the fourth with Mays' first triple of the year and Hiller's double being the big blows.

Former Yankee Lefty Gomez Addresses Coaches' Clinic

By JOE GEHRINGER
Staff Writer
"I don't know anything about football, so I have to talk about baseball," Vernon (Lefty) Gomez, former Yankee star left-hander told about 300 high school and college football coaches Friday.
Gomez spoke at the dinner meeting of a coaches' clinic sponsored by the Iowa Athletic Department and football staff at the Iowa City Elks Home.
Confidence, he said, is one of the most important elements in baseball.

Rollins' Homer Gives Twins 4-2 Victory

MINNEAPOLIS (UPI) — Rookie third baseman Rich Rollins slammed a two-run home run with two out in the last of the ninth to give the Minnesota Twins a 4-2 victory over Detroit Friday.
Rollins hit relief pitcher Ronnie Kline's fast ball and drove it 380 feet into the bleachers in left-center field to score Lennie Green ahead of him. Green had reached base on a fielder's choice.
The triumph was the Twins' fifth in their last six games and 10th in 14 contests.
Tiger right-hander Phil Regan was coasting along with a four-hitter when the Twins erupted for two runs in the seventh after shortstop Dick McAuliffe had erred to let Earl Battey reach first.
Bernie Allen's double to right, pinch hitter Vic Power's looping single and Green's double to left center scored two runs and chased Regan. Kline came on to retire the side.
