

Suspended Sorority To Initiate Negro

A social sorority at Beloit College in Wisconsin will initiate a Negro despite national suspension and a sister chapter at the University of Wisconsin, Madison, may be "in trouble" because of the Beloit suspension.

Mass Polio Immunization Set for City

Iowa City may have a day set aside next fall in which Johnson County citizens will flock in to take Sabin oral polio vaccine, according to Dr. C. E. Schrock, Co-Chairman of the Polio Vaccination Committee of the county medical society.

Dr. Schrock said Friday night that "plans are now being formulated to conduct a mass immunization program in Iowa City in the fall of 1962."

Sabin vaccine has one great advantage over the older Salk vaccine in that it may be taken in different ways according to Dr. Franklin Top of the SUI College of Medicine. He said that Sabin vaccine can be diluted in water or syrup and drunk or can be absorbed into a sugar cube and eaten.

Dr. Top said that Sabin vaccine is taken in three feedings. The reason for this is that there are three different types of polio virus. These are types I, II and III. Types I and II are the most common. For this reason, each dosage of vaccine contains one of these three of virus.

Since type I is the most common, it is given first. Six or more weeks later the next most common, type II is given. About four to six weeks later, type III, the least common polio virus is given.

Dr. Top said that a program started in the fall should provide immunization for the following summer. Polio cases in Iowa have usually started in July or August, he said.

WASHINGTON (AP) — An Oklahoma farmer testified Friday in rich Scandinavian accents that he knew there was "something fishy" about his cotton allotment deal with Billie Sol Estes.

Testifying before the Senate Investigations subcommittee, Swan August Sandstrom, 72, said one of Estes' land agents, Glenn Blake, talked him into the deal. He added that both he and the Estes people knew it was an illegal sale of a cotton-acreage allotment, not the simple land sale and leasing arrangement it seemed on the surface.

The first public admission of wrongdoing by a farmer involved in Estes manipulations of cotton-acreage allotments climaxed the day's prolonged hearings.

A few hours earlier, subcommittee Chairman John L. McClellan (D-Ark.) charged that the whole farm aid program is a loosey-loose operation that broke down badly in dealings with Estes, a boom-and-bust Texas promoter now under fraud indictments.

The subcommittee is trying to determine whether political influence improperly figured in Estes' multimillion-dollar dealings with the Agricultural Department in grain-storage and cotton operations.

The vast program covering major farm crops, relies heavily on state and county committees of farmers, supervised from Washington.

"I'm not condemning the farmer committee system," McClellan told reporters later, "but it has not been supervised properly."

McClellan's Senate Investigations subcommittee has been delving for three days into the role of Texas and Oklahoma state and county committees in transfer of 3,000 acres of cotton-acreage allotments to Estes' lands in Reeves and Pecos counties in Texas.

The Alpha Mu Chapter of Delta Gamma at Beloit was put on probation in April. Some alumni reported that the probation was ordered because the chapter pledged a Negro — Patricia Hamilton of Madison.

Sunday the suspension of the sorority was announced by Mrs. Helen Preston, Long Island, N.Y., national president of Delta Gamma sorority. Mrs. Preston said the suspension was due to the Beloit chapter's "failure to abide by the rules and regulations and procedures."

Mrs. Preston, in a letter to Miller Upton, Beloit president, said "There is no limitation in our constitution, regulations or policies that can be interpreted to be discriminatory in regard to race, religion or national origin."

According to Upton, the Beloit chapter "will continue to be regarded as a regular, full-fledged part of Beloit's fraternity system."

The University of Wisconsin human rights committee and the student life and interest committee are looking into the Beloit suspension, said Leroy Luberg, dean of students.

The University of Wisconsin chapter will be "in trouble" if it is found that the Beloit suspension was due to the pledging of a Negro, he said.

The University's regulations state that chapter charters can be revoked or the chapter placed on probation if local or national organizations discriminate against applicants in regard to race, religion or national origin.

The Beloit sorority was placed on probation ten days after it pledged Miss Hamilton. At that time, Mrs. Preston said the chapter was being disciplined for "various reasons." She declined to elaborate upon them.

In a DI telephone interview in May, Mrs. Preston was asked if the pledging of Miss Hamilton was the reason for the chapter's probation. "I don't know what you are talking about," Mrs. Preston replied.

During the spring semester, Miss Hamilton was tapped for Mortar Board, women's honorary, and was elected president of the Associated Women's Students at Beloit.

MOSCOW (AP) — A group of Western youths, used to free-wheeling, ban-the-bomb demonstrations in their home countries, got a rude shock when they tried one in Red Square Friday. Soviet security police seized their banners.

The stillborn demonstration came as the Soviet news agency Tass, in another East-West statement on nuclear tests, claimed a moral right for Russia to be the last to hold such tests because the United States started the nuclear arms race in World War II.

Two dozen young Westerners, ignoring warnings that they would be deported if they went through with a planned demonstration beneath the Kremlin walls, assembled in Red Square Friday morning. They were not molested until they tried to unfurl their banners. Then the police cracked down swiftly.

The Russian toughness shook some of the youths.

"I had not expected this. I thought they would talk to us," said Wayne Mills, 28, Saratoga, Calif., a graduate student at Brandeis University in Boston.

Most of the other demonstrators were British and Scandinavians.

Philip Seed, 32, a British social worker, said the group had offered to give up earlier plans to demonstrate in front of the American Embassy if they could assemble silently in Red Square. This was refused, he said, and the deportation threat was made.

Whether deportation would be carried out was not known. In any case, the Soviet-sponsored Peace Congress that the would-be demonstrators were attending in the Kremlin ended Saturday.

The Soviet leader of the Congress, Author Alexander Korneichuk, was quoted as having told leaders of the demonstration: "The congress was held here under the condition that there would be free speech inside the hall but no demonstrations outside."

The banners, painted blue on white, in English and Russian, said: "We demand no more Soviet tests," "Condemn Anglo-American tests," and "All people against all tests."

Macmillan Cabinet Shakeup Seeks Voters' Confidence

Parliament Astonished; Lloyd, Watkinson, 5 Others Dropped

LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Harold Macmillan dismissed one-third of his 21-member cabinet in a dramatic effort Friday to restore the voters' confidence in his Conservative Government.

Headling the list of those fired were Chancellor of the Exchequer Selwyn Lloyd and Defense Minister Harold Watkinson.

A Cabinet reshuffle had been anticipated as a result of election setbacks to the ruling Conservative party, but the extent of the changes went far beyond expectations.

Macmillan elevated Home Secretary R. A. Butler to deputy prime minister, a signal that he has chosen his own successor if developments force him out of the Tory leadership.

The policies of both Lloyd and Watkinson have been under constant attack.

Lloyd's pay-freeze program angered wage earners. Critics charged he was favoring the rich.

Watkinson ended Britain's military draft and defended the idea of an independent British nuclear weapons program, even in the face of U.S. doubts.

The other cabinet members dropped by Macmillan are: Viscount Kilmuir, 62, lord chancellor; Lord Mills, 72, minister without portfolio; Sir David Eccles, 58, education minister; Dr. Charles Hill, 58, housing minister, and John Maclay, 56, secretary for Scotland.

It was the most drastic reshuffle by the 67-year-old prime minister since he took over from Sir Anthony Eden — now Lord Avon — in January, 1957.

The charges reduced the average age of the cabinet membership from 55 to 51 years.

The shakeup took Reginald Maudling from direction of the colonial office to Lloyd's job as head of the treasury.

Peter Thorneycroft, a former chancellor and until Friday aviation minister, moved to the Defense Ministry.

The firing of Lloyd, 57, ended an old cabinet association with Macmillan.

Lloyd was foreign secretary before moving to the treasury and he was right-hand man to Lord Avon at the time of the 1956 Suez affair, when Britain and France attacked Egypt. His dismissal apparently ended any personal dream he had of one day becoming prime minister himself.

Political reaction in the lobbies of Parliament was one of astonishment among all parties over the scope of the shakeup.

The Conservatives said they had expected nothing so sweeping.

Liberal leader Jo Grimond said the Government has lost the confidence of the country and it was time for a general election.

Laborites, too, saw the changes as a sign of governmental weakness.

LONDON (AP) — Doctors reported Friday that Sir Winston Churchill has beaten back a bronchial infection which threatened his recovery from a fractured left thigh.

His condition was so improved that a spokesman at Middlesex Hospital said there were no plans to issue any further medical bulletins until Monday.

But, he added: "Sir Winston is by no means out of the woods and will still require careful nursing."

The medical bulletin Friday afternoon said the 87-year-old wartime prime minister had a comfortable night and that his temperature — up Thursday — had returned to normal. It added his coughing also had subsided.

There had been some fear the bronchial infection might develop into pneumonia, always a hazard in a man of Sir Winston's age and bulk when immobilized with injury. But antibiotics apparently squelched the infection.

Lady Churchill disclosed to newsmen after her regular midday visit to the hospital that the stitches inserted after an operation on the injured thigh June 29 were removed Friday morning.

The leg was cut open for the insertion of a steel pin to hold the fracture — near the hip — together. Sir Winston suffered the injury in a fall at a Monte Carlo hotel June 28.

Friday the Thirteenth Brings Gloom to City

Friday the thirteenth brought a black cloud to Iowa City which hung over the heads of all the residents from the cloud-blocked sunrise (we think it rose) to the gloomy sunset (if it rose it must have set).

As of 5 p.m. Friday exactly 3.42717 per cent of Iowa City's average annual rainfall fell in one day. The reported rainfall at 5 p.m. was 1.12 inches. The average annual rainfall is 32.68.

For late sleepers the rain on the roof only lulled them into sleeping longer. For early risers the gloomy climate only encouraged them to become late sleepers.

However, despite superstition and the rather moist atmosphere, Iowa Citizens didn't seem to be complaining. They wandered nonchalantly along the streets with and without umbrellas seemingly thinking to themselves, "At least it's better than the heat."

Umbrella sales in Iowa City went up and shop windows got better viewing as unprotected citizens ran from awning to awning to prevent being too thoroughly soaked.

The life-giving rain brought nourishment to Iowa City's diseased elm trees, work to the street department, increased business to the taxi companies, straight hair to most women, and the change of site of an outdoor dance sponsored by the Union Board.

According to weather reports it will continue to rain all today and tonight.

For those who don't like rain — a point of information — don't go to Chicago, Detroit, Indianapolis, or Minneapolis-St. Paul, — it's raining there too.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Members of the feuding Senate and House Appropriation Committees looked at the peace pipe Friday but didn't smoke it.

However, progress was reported in the latest attempt to break a deadlock over procedure that has held up final action on the regular money bills to run the Government.

They'll meet again Monday afternoon to consider settlement terms again.

"Everybody is in good temper and good humor," Rep. Albert Thomas (D-Tex.) told reporters after a closed meeting of five emissaries each from the two committees. Thomas reported progress was made.

Sen. Richard B. Russell (D-Ga.) leader of the Senate delegation, said: "We certainly haven't lost any ground." He said a number of suggestions were made to end the dispute but declined to go into details.

House members said privately that an agreement they thought had been reached informally Thursday became unstick when some of the senators objected to its terms.

The reported informal agreement would have permitted a House member to preside over about half the conferences where committees of the two bodies of Congress meet to work out their differences over how much money to appropriate for the functions of Government.

Traditionally, senators have presided at all the conferences.

Under the reported compromise, the conference meetings would have been presided over by the senator or House member with the longest service in his own branch of Congress.

The dispute involving prestige of the two bodies has blocked final passage of appropriations bills to run the government in the fiscal year which started July 1. All federal agencies now are operating under temporary stopgap authority.

No tax funds are involved in the project. Debt retirement will be made from net revenues of Union operations, and from the student union fee of $8.50 a semester and $4 in the summer session.

Low bidders for construction work were: general construction —

W. A. Klinger, Inc., Sioux City, $1,678,842; mechanical — Natkin and Company, Omaha, $483,768; ventilation — Iowa Sheet Metal Contractors, Inc., Des Moines, $223,490; temperature control — Minneapolis-Honeywell Regulator Co., Cedar Rapids, $49,305; electrical — Johnson Electric Co., Inc., Des Moines, $205,496; Kimball Bros. Elevator Co., Council Bluffs, had the low bid of $166,385 for elevators, and the low bid on kitchen equipment was $255,979 by the Illinois Range Co., Mount Prospect, Ill.

Other major items in the project budget are $150,000 for utility services, nearly $250,000 for equipment, $100,000 for remodeling the present building, and $255,000 for a parking ramp on which bids for construction will be taken later. This facility is to be built north of the Women's Gymnasium across the street from the Union.

SUI officials estimate that the new Units IV, V and VI will be complete in 1964-65.

After a three-hour executive session Friday morning, the Board decided to put a new $300,000 item in the proposed SUI budget "to strengthen the academic position."

Talked Into Estes Deal, Says Farmer

The allotments came from farmers who had been forced off their land by public projects.

Local Architect Henry Fisk, Dies
Henry Fisk, Iowa City architect, died Friday after what is believed to have been a heart attack. Fisk was driving on Park Road around 5:30 p.m. when he apparently suffered the attack. His car then crashed into a telephone pole.

His body was taken to the McGovern Funeral Home. Funeral services have not yet been set.

Fisk is survived by a wife, a daughter and a sister.

He was a partner in the Fisk and Wehner architectural firm here.

Contracts Awarded For IMU Additions

Contracts for construction of three additions to Iowa Memorial Union were awarded Friday by the State Board of Regents on condition of the sale of bonds to finance the project.

The Board decided to call for public sale of $3.5 million in bonds, with an option to issue another $500,000 worth. Low bids on construction, elevators, and kitchen equipment total $3,063,256. A revised project budget of $4,200,000 was approved by the Regents.

There is now a balance of $700,000 on hand in Union funds, which includes accumulations since the debt of the Unit III addition was retired in 1959.

July 26 was set as the date to receive and open bids on the initial bond issue.

No tax funds are involved in the project. Debt retirement will be made from net revenues of Union operations, and from the student union fee of $8.50 a semester and $4 in the summer session.

The Opportunity Of a Lifetime

Glancing through the latest issue of "The Village Voice," we ran across an item which might have some interest for SUJ readers.

In "The Village Square" by John Wilcock, he says: "All over America, in colleges large and small, are bright, lovely girls who dream of the day when they'll be free to pack their duds and head for that center of culture and freedom, Greenwich Village. It is with much pleasure, therefore, that this column announces the first annual Scholarship to Greenwich Village."

The "scholarship" offers to the lucky girl who wins a "long week end in the Village on a date of your choice, bus fare to and from the winner's college, accommodation in some girl's apartment while here, and a thoroughly exhausting round of social and sociological activities." (We bet.)

To qualify for this "valuable scholarship," college girls must write a "suitable" letter detailing why they feel that such a week end might be of benefit to them. A photograph of the writer should accompany each letter. Entries must be received by September.

The "contest" will be judged by two "responsible married men" in addition to Wilcock, who, incidentally, doesn't claim either of these qualifications.

We think the post offices of America had better put an extra help to handle the deluge of letters which is sure to come as a result of this magnificent offer.

Laos: Patience Needed

"Americans Angry at Neutralist Prince," said one headline from the Geneva conference on Laos. "Impasse Broken," said another next day, "Americans Pleased."

Both were exaggerations.

Unless something goes seriously wrong, which it hasn't yet, the management of neutralist Laos is going to be a long, hard job. Only some of the ground rules can be laid down by the big powers at Geneva. Already several important questions on which the big powers cannot agree are being left to Prince Souvanna Phouma to work out. Or try to.

What is happening is that the conflict has been transferred from the battlefield, where it was too dangerous because the Communists were winning and the United States was on the point of intervening, to the conference table. This is a good thing. But the conflict is bound to continue. Averell Harriman, chief negotiator for the United States has had to keep the sharpest watch on vital American interests and will continue to do so. It goes without saying that the Soviet negotiator is doing the same for Communist interests.

The rest of us should watch and wait. It is better to reserve judgment than to get worked up over issues that are pretty complex for the outsider to understand.

For example, the pro-Communist Pathet Lao have to be wary about the United States' effort to combine all existing armies in Laos into one group, under the new neutralist Premier. This happened once before and the Communists were routed. There was a deal. They got several seats in the Lao Cabinet in return for having their army units (except for some which escaped to North Viet Nam) incorporated in the Royal Laotian Army.

Some months later the conservative Royal Lao simply dropped the Communists from the Cabinet and left the Pathet Lao with nothing, a condition very pleasant for the West at the moment, but well calculated to cause the Communists to plot revenge which they did. Ultimately they all pushed the Royal Lao out of the country.

On the Western side, there are two points of extreme importance. One is to cut the guerrilla communication lines from Communist North Viet Nam, through southern Laos, into South Viet Nam, through southern Laos, into South Viet Nam where a large guerrilla war is in progress. The other is to get the North Viet Nam troops out of Laos — many thousands of them. Mr. Harriman will have to use every ounce of negotiating skill and vigilance and bargaining strength to bring these about.

So the watchword in Laos is patience. This is a political battle, far less perilous than the recent military conflict. The object is Laotian independence of outright Communist control. It will be a considerable time, long after the Geneva agreement is signed, before the trends will become somewhat clear.

Reason Is Man's Last Resort — Third Power Is Rising

ERIC SEVAREID

Only those deaf to the sound of history can fail to be excited by the French-German rapprochement and the steady movement toward the "making of Europe," which can cool the ancient fire-bred from which western wars periodically arose. Historically, political union over so great a space came only from conquest or from the spread of a common culture. Where, in modern times, Napoleon, Bismarck, Hitler and Stalin failed, reason and mutual necessity are succeeding.

REASON IS MAN'S last resort. Western Europeans have turned to reason because no other avenue remained open after the blood loss and spiritual defeats of two world wars (it required one of the bloodiest of all civil wars to seal conflicting sovereignties within the common American civilization, too) and because the Soviet enemy is physically too close and the American friend physically too far away.

What is beginning to arise in Europe is not a "third force" in the sense of a military show-down, but a third force in the political, economic and psychological senses, so strong a force that the formal, arm-length "partnership" of which the President speaks, now becomes a necessity for America as well as for Europe.

A long period of time may pass before a true "Atlantic Union" binds both sides of that ocean; but in the meantime various grandiose ideas and dreams will die away. One, the post-war idea of the "American Century," seems dead already; it died in 1949 when the Soviet Union canceled our atomic monopoly. Another, the idea of "world government," will remain in a comatose state for the indefinite future, for world government is not possible with out world law, and world law is not possible without a structure of values and principles commonly accepted on a world-wide basis. The Communist structure is not going to prevail in the West and the Western structure will not prevail in the East so far as we can see ahead.

THE "PAX AMERICANA" lasted a very short time, indeed. What we have instead is a Pax Atlantic warhead, a balancing of power in the sense that power is frozen, no matter how many nations possess the warheads.

Nevertheless, the pattern of distribution and control of the warheads will strenuously affect the cross-Atlantic partnership — more seriously, it now appears, than the pattern of the trade and monetary competition which already poses gigantic new problems for the United States.

This whole question of who controls what atomic "push-button" under what circumstances is now so utterly snarled by conflicting political and strategic pressures that, as with the world disarmament question, no one sees a promising way out and there is some danger of drift and the paralysis of boredom.

DE GAULLE'S INSISTENCE on French control of French warheads is confused with the position of Britain. Britain has an independent nuclear arsenal, but it is independent only in theory; by practical arrangements, her weapons are interdependent with ours and neither London nor Washington could press those buttons without the consent of the other. The French argue, alternately, that America might fail to come in if France were directly threatened or struck and that America might force a strike against France by a unilateral initiative.

But, also hypothetically, Americans argue that DeGaulle's insistence can mean France, as the fourth nuclear power, sitting it out were America directly threatened or struck, or France forcing America into a war against her choosing by a French initiative.

Another Political Dynasty?

(Robert F. Kennedy: The Brother Within" by Robert E. Thompson and Hortense Myers. Publication Date: Sept. 24)

If President John F. Kennedy completes two terms, who will be the logical Democrat to succeed him as candidate in the 1968 elections? Will it be the President's brother "Bobby"? Will the precedent-setting Kennedys try to blaze another trail: two in a row from the same family as President of the United States?

ACCORDING TO the authors of "Robert F. Kennedy: The Brother Within," these are among the provocative questions that have been inspired by the high-powered personality, tough-minded political aptitudes, and unique opportunities of Attorney General Kennedy.

In the first book to measure Robert Kennedy in his own terms rather than as his brother's shadow, Robert E. Thompson and Hortense Myers, two seasoned political reporters, have drawn a close-up portrait of the man who in 1968 may be "a logical contender for the Democratic presidential nomination after eight years of service in the retiring Administration."

The authors point out that the end of a second term for JFK would bring RFK to his 43rd year, the same age at which his brother became President. Already a power in the land, certain to remain his brother's closest political partner, and seemingly assured of a vote-getting record on civil rights, trust-busting, organized crime, communist subversion and concern about the American image abroad, Robert Kennedy's future in 1968 will still be before him.

And, they write, if the Kennedys prove to have joined the Adames, Lodges, Tafts and Roosevelts as one of the country's political dynasties, Robert Kennedy could before long move up to the first-ranking position of leadership in his family and the nation.

THE WRITING team of Thompson and Myers tells the story of Robert Kennedy's intensely competitive childhood, his political combat training at his brother's side, his association with the McCarthy Committee, his first clashes with James Hoffa, his strong stands as Attorney General for civil rights and against organized crime, his "war with political lassitude . . . and moral softness," and his guiding belief that "humans must strive for excellence in all they do." The story is told as seen from three angles: that of Robert Kennedy himself, and those of his family and friends and of his critics and enemies.

Robert E. Thompson is a Washington correspondent, formerly of the Daily News and now of the Los Angeles Times. Hortense Myers, of United Press International, is the author of the book "Carl Ben Eielson: Young Alaskan Pilot."

Books in The Browsing Room

"TRISTANA" by Benito Perez Galdos. R. Selden Rose, professor emeritus of Romance languages, Yale University, does this first English translation of the 70 year-old novel of a gifted girl who seeks to become a "free woman" in defiance of the social conventions of her time.

"MASSACRE AT MONTSE-GUR" by Zoe Oldenbourg is a history of the Albigensian (French Cathar) Crusade. The thirty years of crusade and inquisition now seem to have been unbelievable slaughter and martyrdom in the name of faith. The power politics of the popes, sovereigns and warrior knights involved in destroying the Albigensians clearly emerges from the masterful prose.

"IN THE STONEWORKS" by John Ciardi is a new book of poems of the world of childhood and self-discovery and of the special circumstances that lead to a universal insight. The poems reveal a tenderness for the vulnerable citizens of this world and a pre-occupation with mercy.

"THAILAND" a large book of color photographs by Michael Wolgensinger with text by Rudolf Weng and A. F. Som. Both authors have lived in Thailand and are well acquainted with the country and its people.

"THE NORTHERN PALMYRA AFFAIR" by Harrison E. Salisbury. A novel with Russian characters and setting transmitted through the American author's understanding and storytelling power into a head-long narrative of love and yearning, heroism and cowardice.

"THE SIEGE OF LENINGRAD" by Leon Goure. A thorough and scholarly work which includes material previously unpublished, some of which was taken from captured German documents and interviews of survivors.

Reason Is Man's Last Resort — Third Power Is Rising

ERIC SEVAREID

Only those deaf to the sound of history can fail to be excited by the French-German rapprochement and the steady movement toward the "making of Europe," which can cool the ancient fire-bred from which western wars periodically arose. Historically, political union over so great a space came only from conquest or from the spread of a common culture. Where, in modern times, Napoleon, Bismarck, Hitler and Stalin failed, reason and mutual necessity are succeeding.

REASON IS MAN'S last resort. Western Europeans have turned to reason because no other avenue remained open after the blood loss and spiritual defeats of two world wars (it required one of the bloodiest of all civil wars to seal conflicting sovereignties within the common American civilization, too) and because the Soviet enemy is physically too close and the American friend physically too far away.

What is beginning to arise in Europe is not a "third force" in the sense of a military show-down, but a third force in the political, economic and psychological senses, so strong a force that the formal, arm-length "partnership" of which the President speaks, now becomes a necessity for America as well as for Europe.

A long period of time may pass before a true "Atlantic Union" binds both sides of that ocean; but in the meantime various grandiose ideas and dreams will die away. One, the post-war idea of the "American Century," seems dead already; it died in 1949 when the Soviet Union canceled our atomic monopoly. Another, the idea of "world government," will remain in a comatose state for the indefinite future, for world government is not possible with out world law, and world law is not possible without a structure of values and principles commonly accepted on a world-wide basis. The Communist structure is not going to prevail in the West and the Western structure will not prevail in the East so far as we can see ahead.

THE "PAX AMERICANA" lasted a very short time, indeed. What we have instead is a Pax Atlantic warhead, a balancing of power in the sense that power is frozen, no matter how many nations possess the warheads.

Nevertheless, the pattern of distribution and control of the warheads will strenuously affect the cross-Atlantic partnership — more seriously, it now appears, than the pattern of the trade and monetary competition which already poses gigantic new problems for the United States.

This whole question of who controls what atomic "push-button" under what circumstances is now so utterly snarled by conflicting political and strategic pressures that, as with the world disarmament question, no one sees a promising way out and there is some danger of drift and the paralysis of boredom.

DE GAULLE'S INSISTENCE on French control of French warheads is confused with the position of Britain. Britain has an independent nuclear arsenal, but it is independent only in theory; by practical arrangements, her weapons are interdependent with ours and neither London nor Washington could press those buttons without the consent of the other. The French argue, alternately, that America might fail to come in if France were directly threatened or struck and that America might force a strike against France by a unilateral initiative.

But, also hypothetically, Americans argue that DeGaulle's insistence can mean France, as the fourth nuclear power, sitting it out were America directly threatened or struck, or France forcing America into a war against her choosing by a French initiative.

Letters to the Editor —

The 'Bronze' Washes Off

To the Editor:
In reference to Suzanne Montgomery's article in the July 12 issue of The Daily Iowan, I am confused. Is it Iowa the visiting science families profess to "love" or the general V.I.P. treatment they are getting? (i.e. air conditioning, lawn care, pre-arranged car rental service, etc.)

To keep things in their proper perspective, perhaps these visitors should tour the Barracks or Quonsetvilles. Let them view the filthy, decrepit housing that should have been condemned by public health officials long ago. We are sorry we cannot offer incinerators. Will Dempster Dumpsters do? Also, don't be deceived by our "bronzed" children . . . some of it washes off. (When the plumbing works.)

Or So They Say

How materialistic have we become, that a prayer of this kind should be labeled by the highest court in the land as a violation of our constitution?
Oelwein Register

If the highest law body in the land says it violates the First Amendment, why does Congress open its sessions with a prayer?
New Hampton Tribune

We hope President Kennedy's friendship pact with Mexico doesn't include an increase in consumption of tortillas and Mexican dishes by the United States.

Politics is certainly strange. When the farm bill was defeated by a Democratic controlled House, the Administration blamed the Republicans.

Second Park Concert Set For Sunday

Thomas Ayres, associate professor of music, will conduct the Iowa City Community Band in its second concert-in-the-Park of the current season, Sunday at 4 p.m. The customary site of the concert, College Hill Park, is located between College and Washington streets at Dodge.

Before coming to teach at SUI, Ayres had been director of bands at Western Kentucky State College, Bowling Green, and had served on the faculties of the Duluth public schools and the University of Miami. Earlier in Iowa, he had been band director at Wellman.

At SUI, however, he is best known for the variety and excellence of performances as solo clarinetist with the SUI Symphony Orchestra, the Iowa Woodwind Quintet and other faculty ensembles, and with the Community Band.

Sunday's program will include music by Sousa, Mendelssohn, Rachmaninoff, Johann Strauss, Jr., Leroy Anderson, and Victor Herbert. In the event of inclement weather, the concert will be postponed to the following Sunday.

As in the previous four seasons, the Iowa City Community Band's College Hill Park concerts are supported largely by the Music Performance Trust Fund of the recording industries upon authorization of Iowa City Local 450 of the American Federation of Musicians. However, friends of the band are now able to make contributions directly to the band at individual concerts, if they wish, or by mail to: Community Band, Box 673, Iowa City.

Sunday's program follows: "Bullets and Bayonets," March, Sousa; "Ruy Blas," Overture, Mendelssohn; Italian Polka, Rachmaninoff; Tales from the Vienna Woods, Johann Strauss, Jr.; "Tiger Triumph," March, King; La Feria, Lacombe; Jazz Pizzicato, Leroy Anderson; "Naughty Marietta," Overture, Herbert; and "Liberty Bell," March, Sousa.

Sulowan Wins Literary Award

Leonard A. Miller, G. Iowa City, has won third prize in the 1962 Graduate Rehabilitation Literary Awards competition, sponsored annually by the National Rehabilitation Association (NRA).

Miller's prize-winning essay, "A Functional View of Counselor Behavior," will be published in the November-December, 1962 Journal of Rehabilitation, official publication of the NRA.

A research assistant and supervisor of practicum for the rehabilitation counseling program at SUI, Miller was educated at Central High School, Sioux City; Morning-side College, Sioux City, and received his B.A. from SUI.

Good Listening—Today on WSUI

By LARRY BARRETT
Written for The Daily Iowan
IF YOU SHOULD MISS the various talks given this weekend in connection with the Alumni Institute, you may rest assured that WSUI will record them for future broadcast. The series on "Modern Man and His Dilemmas" as well as the sequence on the Common Market, "The New Unity in Europe: Threat or Promise?", have turned out some of the campus's best speakers. All will be transcribed (barring technical difficulties beyond our control) including Dean John C. Weaver who began the Institute's deliberations last night with an address titled "They Also Serve Who Only Stand and Think." (What about we who only sit and record?)

"RICH BABL" (rhymes with Tower of) will be featured on the Musical today at 9 a.m. This touch-

Regents Approve New SUI Botany, Zoology Buildings

Preliminary plans and budgets for a Zoology Building, botany greenhouse, and air conditioning the Hillcrest dormitory dining room and lounge at SUI were approved Friday by the State Board of Regents at the July meeting.

In connection with the proposed Zoology Building, the Regents accepted a matching grant of $352,100 from the National Science Foundation. The 59th General Assembly appropriated $544,000 for the building also.

The Zoology Building will be located south of the present building, which will be retained as such, and will have four stories and a basement. A preliminary budget of $60,000 was approved for the botany greenhouse. This 18 by 103-foot glass shell will be erected on the Chemistry Building room south of the present greenhouse. An 18 by 18-foot potting shed will form the connection between the two segments.

A third project involves installation of cooling devices into the air handling systems of Hillcrest dining addition. A preliminary budget of $228,000 was approved.

Also approved by the Regents were the preliminary plans and budget for storeroom expansion at University Hall. SUI officials propose an underground storage room east of the present U-Hall basement.

Japanese Artist Will Present Dance Recital

A Japanese dance artist, Suzushi Hanayagi, will present a recital in Shambaugh Auditorium Wednesday at 8 p.m. The program is sponsored by the Summer Institute on the Far East.

According to Y.P. Mei, director of the institute, Miss Hanayagi is a traditional dancer well-known in Japan. As a traditional dancer she takes two hours to apply the dead-white make up and dress in the elaborate kimono worn in Japanese dances.

She has performed at various universities in and around New York. She danced at a reception the Japanese Embassy in Washington held in honor of Japan's Prime Minister. Mrs. John F. Kennedy and Vice-President Johnson attended the reception.

The program will consist of five dances: Kurokami (Black Hair), a classical dance; Kojiki, a Kabuki dance; Mitsu-men (Three Masks); Wood Spirit, a modern dance; and a demonstration of symbolic and realistic steps of the Japanese Dance.

There is no admission charge.

Weaver Opens Conference— Must Educate Whole Man

John C. Weaver, SUI vice-president for research, Friday urged resistance to the forces that would "stampede" Americans into an unbalanced educational emphasis on space and technology.

Opening the three-day SUI Alumni Institute, Weaver said that the battle now rises to a crescendo between specialized, scientific, professional education on the one hand, and broad, liberal, humanistic education on the other.

"Of course we shall train specialists and scientists," Weaver continued, "but we must and shall train them without failing to produce whole men and women through well-rounded education."

"In the final analysis it is always the man — the individual man — that counts, and his is human insight, human understanding and human judgment," Weaver added.

Weaver further urged the use of every University activity to the utmost in the primary pressing job of training and disciplining minds to think.

In the University's job of combining creative education and day-to-day serviceability to the state, research is a primary function, Weaver said. The future of the institution must be a changing one if it is to be a great one. "Surely research is a tested instrument of change and advance," he added.

Creative education is the electric stimulation and the disquieting prodding of the mind," Weaver continued. "Worthwhile education is not just the storing away of facts."

"Surely we must concede the very great importance of many forms of applied research, but clearly a university that is to achieve its destiny cannot confine itself to studies of this type," Weaver said.

"Most of the significant contributions of the long run will come from the search for truth which may have no immediate or foreseeable intrinsic value,"

Weaver Selected For Education Committee

John C. Weaver, vice-president for research and dean of the Graduate College at SUI, was named Friday to the State Board of Regents' Committee on Educational Coordination.

The appointment of Weaver as the University's representative on the committee will become effective Sept. 1. He will replace Provost Harvey Davis, who will retire this fall, a member of the committee since 1951 when it was formed.

Arnold Palmer of Latrobe, Pa., raises his trophy for photographers after winning his second straight British Open golf championship Friday at Troon, Scotland. His closing rounds of 67 and 69 gave him a record low total of 276.

Hot Arnold Palmer Wins British Open

TROON, Scotland (AP) — Arnold Palmer shot 12 birdies in two magnificent rounds of golf Friday and retained his British Open championship with a record 276 — a whopping six shots in front of his nearest rival.

"I've never played four rounds of golf like these in my whole life," the U.S. Masters champion from Latrobe, Pa., said afterward.

Kel Nagle, 41-year-old Australian, who edged Palmer by one stroke in the 1960 British Open, was second with 282.

It was a case of records all the day for Palmer. He had a record of 67 in the morning over the 7,045-yard par 36-36-72 Old Troon course. His total of 71-69-67-69-276 was two shots better than any previous total in this 102-year-old championship. And his winning margin of six shots equaled the previous record.

The last man to win the British title by six shots was Walter Hagen, another famous American, who whipped Johnny Farrell by six shots in 1929 at Muirfield in Scotland.

Nagle, as rugged a scrapper as they come, finished with 71-71-70-70-282. Then came Phil Rodgers, La Jolla, Calif., with 75-70-72-72-289. Brian Huggett of England also was on the same mark with 75-71-74-69-289.

Bob Charles, the left-handed hitter from New Zealand, was next with 75-70-70-75-290.

Sam Snead, the 50-year-old slammer from White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., and Australia's 1954 four-time winner of this event, Peter Thomson, were tied with 292 in sixth place.

Snead had rounds of 76-73-72-71 and Thomson shot 72 and 71 to go with his first two rounds of 70 and 77.

Scores of the other Americans were: U.S. Open champion Jack Nicklaus, Columbus, Ohio 80-72-74-79-305, and former U.S. Public Links champion Don Essig, Indianapolis, 76-72-79-81-308.

$500,000 Riding With Winners in Top Races Today

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Racing's top stars spread their talent in a chase for one-half million dollars to six stakes from coast-to-coast today.

The richest race of the day is the $162,000 Hollywood Gold Cup. But the most interesting is the $110,150 Monmouth Handicap where Kelso is the 8-5 choice although he will carry 130 pounds and will spot Carry Back six pounds and Beau Purple 13.

The other major stakes of the day include the $75,000-added Arlington Classic at Chicago; the $50,000-added Oaks at Delaware Park; the $84,350 Dwyer at Aqueduct; and the $25,000 Detroit Sweepstakes.

Rex C. Ellsworth's entry of Prove It and Olden Times and Preston Madden's T. V. Lark top the field of 13 in the 1 1/4-mile Hollywood Cup in which the winner is guaranteed $102,000. Prove It, winner of the Ingelwood and American Handicaps in his last two starts, and T. V. Lark share high-weight of 125 pounds, with Olden Times totting a pound less.

Homer by Fairly Ups Dodger Lead

NEW YORK (AP) — Ron Fairly's home run leading off the ninth inning broke a 4-4 tie Friday night, brought Los Angeles a 5-4 victory over the New York Mets and expanded the Dodgers' National League lead to 1 1/2 games.

The Dodgers, who have now won 11 of 12 games with the Mets this season, picked up a full game over second-place San Francisco, which lost to Philadelphia 3-2. The Dodger victory went to right-hander Don Drysdale, the major league's winningest pitcher. He allowed only seven hits in going the distance for his 16th victory against four losses.

Fairly's eighth homer, into the upper right field stands off loser Alvin Jackson (4-10), climaxed an uphill fight for the Dodgers, who had to make up a three-run deficit after the Mets' Felix Mantilla stroked a homer with two aboard in the first.

Gibson, who had failed to go the distance in three previous starts against Milwaukee this season and had defeated the Braves only twice in 10 lifetime decisions, breezed to his 11th triumph as his teammates jumped on an old nemesis, Warren Spahn.

Gibson struck out five and walked four in tossing his third shutout of the year. He surrendered two hits to Amado Samuel, who carried a .187 average into the game, and a harmless single to Eddie Mathews.

Spahn, the 41-year-old southpaw great who holds a 61-35 lifetime record against the Cardinals, suffered his 11th defeat of the season. He has won eight.

Twins Defeat Washington

MINNEAPOLIS-ST. PAUL (AP) — Cuban curve artist Camilo Pascual pitched a four-hitter and Harmon Killebrew drove in three runs with a sacrifice fly and the 150th home run of his major league career Friday night as Minnesota downed Washington 4-0 to snap a five-game losing streak.

Killebrew's liner into the left field bleachers in the eighth with Vic Power, who had singled, aboard was his 20th of the season. Killebrew reached the 150-homer level in four full seasons and parts of four others.

He also drove in a run with a sacrifice fly in the first inning as Bill Tuttle walked and went to third on Power's single.

Pascual, notching his 13th victory in 18 decisions, struck out 10 and walked three.

Other former champions in the field also failed to crack par. Johnny Jacobs of Maquoketa, who has won the Iowa title six times, shot a 77.

Fred Gordon of Belmond and Bob Leahy of Denison each shot 74s.

Runterup honors after the first round in which 165 players teed off were won by Dave Browning of Ames with a 68.

Pete Butler of Dubuque, John Liechy of Marshalltown and Rod Bliss III of Des Moines, son of the defending champion, shared third with 69s on the par 71 course noted for its hilly layout.

Many contenders had little trouble solving the course, with 13 players matching par.

A total of 127 qualified for today's second round, with a score of 83 needed to survive the cut-off. The field will be trimmed to the low 40 and ties tonight for Sunday's 36-hole finale.

U.S. Takes 2-0 Lead in Opening Davis Cup Round

CLEVELAND (AP) — The United States shot into a 2-0 lead in the first round of the American Zone Davis Cup tennis competition Friday as Chuck McKinley and Jon Douglas won four-set singles matches over Canada's Francois Godbout and Don Fontana. McKinley beat Godbout 6-4, 3-6, 6-3, 6-4, then Douglas defeated Fontana 6-4, 6-2, 5-7, 6-4.

Capt. Bob Kelleher of the U.S. squad said after the matches: "It's nice to be where we are now."

If America's doubles combination of McKinley and Dennis Ralston can whip Godbout and Fontana in today's match, the U.S. team will have won the right to meet Mexico at Mexico City Aug. 4-5-6 in the next round of play. Sunday's final two singles matches would not affect the outcome.

Judy Kimball Now 4th in Milwaukee Tourney

One-Hitter by Cubs' Koonce Blanks Reds

CHICAGO (AP) — Cal Koonce, 21-year-old rookie right-hander, blanked Cincinnati on one hit — Don Blasingame's clean single to center field in the fourth inning — to highlight the Chicago Cubs' 1-0 victory over the Reds Friday.

Recording his eighth triumph among 10 decisions, Koonce yielded only one walk and fanned four as he tamed the Reds a third time to offset a single loss to Cincinnati.

After the Cubs scored the only run of the game in the sixth, teammates and umpires restrained Chicago third baseman Ron Santo and loser Bob Purkey, a 14-game winner who suffered his third loss, from engaging in fistcuffs.

Santo returning to the Chicago dugout after delivering a sacrifice fly enabling Ernie Banks to score, exchanged words with Purkey as he cut across the infield.

Seconds later, they charged each other but never reached punching range as members of both teams spilled onto the field to separate the would-be battlers.

Young Koonce made 106 pitches to climax his fourth straight victory and No. 6 of his past seven decisions.

Los Angeles Trims Yanks

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Right-hander Ken McBride, who hasn't lost since April, scored his eighth straight victory Friday night as the Los Angeles Angels knocked off the first-place New York Yankees 5-2.

The loss left the Yankees three percentage points ahead of second-place Cleveland and only a half game in front of the third-place Angels. Only eight percentage points separate the three teams.

Angel outfielder Leon Wagner, who leads the majors in home runs, slammed his 28th with a man aboard in the 5th. But it was a third-inning single by Lee Thomas that brought in the decisive second and third Angel runs.

McBride (9-3) was touched for 12 hits. But only two of them went for extra bases. The Yankees stranded 11 runners.

CHICAGO (AP) — Right-hander Ray Herbert handcuffed the Detroit Tigers on three hits Friday night, hurling the Chicago White Sox to a 4-1 victory.

Detroit's first hit came in the top of the fourth when Jake Wood tripled and scored on Billy Bruton's sacrifice fly. Center-fielder Jim Landis got his glove on Wood's drive but dropped the ball when he crashed into the fence.

Dick McAuliffe singled with two out in the ninth and Rocky Colavito followed with a hit but was thrown out trying for second.

Nailing Down Win

Cal Koonce, 21-year-old Chicago Cubs rookie, bears down against the Cincinnati Reds in the ninth inning of his one-hit, 1-0 victory in Chicago Friday.

Friend, 5 Pirate DPs Throttle Houston, 4-0

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The Pittsburgh Pirates completed five double plays Friday night in support of pitcher Bob Friend as the Pirates shut out the Houston Astros 4-0 for their sixth straight victory over Houston.

Friend, now 9-9, gave up eight hits and repeatedly got out of trouble with the help of double plays. He fanned four.

The Pirates picked up a pair of runs in the first on Bill Virdon's double, Bob Skinner's single and stolen base, and Roberto Clemente's single.

Dick Groat's double and Skinner's single set the stage for another Bucco run in the third. As Clemente struck out, the Pirates worked a double steal with Groat scoring from third and Skinner sliding safely into second with his second stolen base of the night.

Clemente's single, Smoky Burgess' double, and Johnny Logan's single knocked in another run in the eighth.

The Pirates picked up a pair of runs in the first on Bill Virdon's double, Bob Skinner's single and stolen base, and Roberto Clemente's single.

Dick Groat's double and Skinner's single set the stage for another Bucco run in the third. As Clemente struck out, the Pirates worked a double steal with Groat scoring from third and Skinner sliding safely into second with his second stolen base of the night.

Clemente's single, Smoky Burgess' double, and Johnny Logan's single knocked in another run in the eighth.

Friend, now 9-9, gave up eight hits and repeatedly got out of trouble with the help of double plays. He fanned four.

Phils Tumble Giants; O'Dell Takes Loss

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Rookie Dennis Bennett pitched a masterful five-hitter Friday night as the Philadelphia Phillies defeated the San Francisco Giants 3-2.

Bennett, a 22-year-old left-hander from Yerka, Calif., went all the way for his third triumph. He yielded a home run to Chuck Hiller in the fifth inning and the Giants used three hits in the ninth for their second run.

Except for the third inning, when the Phillies scored all their runs, left-hander Billy O'Dell was almost as efficient for the Giants in his eighth mound loss.

All his troubles cropped up in one big cluster. Sammy White led off the third for the Phillies with a scratch hit down the third base line. Bob Wine singled to right and Bennett beat out a bunt to load the bases with nobody out.

O'Dell got Tony Taylor on a force play grounder to the plate, and John Callison popped out. But Ted Savage smashed a single through the middle to score two runs. Roy Sievers followed with another single to bring in the third score.

Mrs. Johnstone Loses Semi-Final

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP) — Mrs. Ann Casey Johnstone, 42, of Mason City lost in the Women's Western Golf tournament semi-finals here Friday, taking a 1 up defeat from intercollegiate champion Carol Sorenson, 19, of Janesville, Wis. and Arizona State.

Mrs. Johnstone's Curtis Cup teammate, Clifford Ann Creed of Alexandria, Va., lost to 22-year-old Barbara Fay White, Shreveport, La., 4 and 2.

Miss Sorenson rifled an 18-foot birdie putt on the 18th green to dispose of Mrs. Johnstone, who won the Western Amateur in 1960 and was the only former champion in the field.

Miss Creed had defeated her Louisiana rival twice in their state tournament, 4 and 3 in 1960 and 6 and 5 last year. Barbara Fay won this year when Miss Creed didn't enter.

Clifford Ann never led Friday.
